Moody Is Nominated By Large Majority

In the run-off primary last Saturday, Attorney General Don Moody was nominated for governor over Governor Ferguson by more than 200,000 majority. The last report gives Moody 486,464, and Ferguson 268,290. Pollard seems to be nominated over Allred for Attorney General. Hatcher defeated Ball for State Treasurer. In the county election Mr. Collins defeated Mr. Weaver for Tax Assessor; Mr. Hamilton defeated Mr. Martin for Sheriff and J. B. Flores was re-nominated for Public Weigher in Precinct No. 7. Thus ends an eight months campaign and Texas is still on the map.

Foursquare to the World

Everyone has the utmost contempt for any anonymous letter. All the world likes a man who signs his name to what he writes. But did you ever think that unknown merchandise is anonymous? Nobody to vouch for it. No name signed to the bottom.

Notice the advertisements in this paper. There in bold print are the names of those who stake their reputations—stake your good will towards them on the truth of what they have written. They stand foursquare to the world—ready to back up every statement they make over their own signature.

The dealer who advertises realizes that he might fool you once but never the second time. His success is dependent upon your continued confidence in what he says in his advertisements.

Read the advertisements with confidence. They tell the truths that you should know.

The measure of satisfaction is larger in advertised products.

Local Marine Wins Praise of Major General LeJeune

Washington, August 30.—Upon the completion of his studies in the Marine Corps Institute here, James Harvey Hood, of Santa Anna, Texas, was awarded a diploma of proficiency in the Railway Postal Clerk's course. The diploma was accompanied by a letter from Major General LeJeune, Commandant of the Marine Corps, praising the student's excellent work in completing the course and passing the final examination. Major General LeJeune also directed that the presentation of the diploma be made an occasion of ceremony. James lived at the home of his mother, Mrs. Pearl Hood, Rural Route 2, box 52, Santa Anna, before he joined the Marine Corps at Fort Worth, in June 1924. For a while he was stationed at Parris Island, S. C., later being assigned to duty with the U. S. Marines at Washington. The Marine Corps Institute gives free instruction to marines, through the correspondence method, in the arts, trades and sciences, preparing its students for civilian occupations. More than 7,000 students are enrolled for courses.

COINCIDENCE

Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 1.—An extraordinary coincidence in connection with the drowning of two boys here Monday—Edward Collins and J. M. Jones, Jr.—is the fact they were both born on the same day, May 23, 1915. They were in the same classes at school, attended the same Sunday school and their homes adjoined. When their bodies were removed from the lake their arms were locked around each other.

Mrs. J. K. Gipson Entertains

The Loyal Women's Bible class of the Christian Sunday school was pleasantly entertained in the home of their teacher and president Tuesday afternoon. There were 15 present. The lesson for next Sunday was read and discussed followed by prayer. Five captains were appointed, each with six or seven names to invite regularly to Sunday School. The building of a room or hut for the women's class was discussed and most likely ere many moons these busy bees will have a hive all their own, in which to do more efficient work. The hostess served delicious cake and fruit punch.—Reporter.

COTTON REPORT

Yard receipts Thursday at noon showed 366 bales of cotton weighed from the present crop, and by the time this paper goes to the post office, over 400 will have been weighed. Mrs. K. I. Davis and little daughter Dorene, returned to their home in Los Angeles last week after an extended visit here with Mrs. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Perry and other relatives. Mrs. H. T. Caton accompanied them to Sweetwater.

The District singing convention held at Trichham Sunday was a success. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Hugh Merrell; Vice-president, Joe B. Flores; Sec. Treas., J. D. Center. The next convention will be held at Trichham on the Fifth Sunday in October.

SMALL GRAINS AS WINTER COVER CROPS

(A. K. Short, Director)
Agricultural Service Bureau, Robt. Nicholson Seed Co.
Small grains are used very extensively as a winter grazing and cover crop. Owing to their many fibrous roots, that form a network throughout the soil, they gather in all the plant food that becomes available throughout the winter, and when plowed under the entire mass of stems and roots soon decay and give back the plant food they contain to the crop that follows in the spring. Owing to the rooting system of the small grains, they are very desirable to prevent winter washing of the soil. Winter barley and oats are grown successfully as a winter cover and grazing crop over most of the state. This is especially true throughout all the central section. Oats are possibly the most popular as a winter crop in the eastern and southern section, while wheat is the leading winter grain in the northwestern section. Rye will prove the most successful winter grain crop on any poor land. It makes better winter growth than does the other grains in the poor sandy section of east, west and central Texas, and also produces the best growth on the poor clay soils of this state. When planted for winter cover crop and grazing alone, small grain may be sown at least twice as thick as when sown to produce seed. Wheat and rye may be sown at the rate of 2 1/2 to 3 bushels per acre at the rate of 4 or 5 bushels and barley 3 or 4 bushels per acre. Thick planting will give more grazing per acre and produce more roots and stems to be turned back as humus in the spring. If the grain is sown with drill, it is best to sow one-half the amount in one direction then the remainder at right angles to this. This method will insure an even distribution of the seed and will make a closer sod. If it should be desirable to leave the thick planted grain for seed, it may be thinned out in the spring by streaking it off using small sweeps or back beams of cultivator. Planting winter legumes with the fall grain increases the amount and quality of grazing, and increases the amount and quality of humus turned back into the soil.

To the People of Coleman County

I am deeply grateful to my friends who so magnanimously and beautifully aided me in securing the nomination for Tax Assessor in the second primary. It will be my earnest endeavor to serve all the people and render the very best service in my power. To those who did not prefer me, I bear no ill will and trust you had no unkind feelings toward me. I prize very highly the vote of esteem and confidence as manifested by the people in their action in the recent primary. (Signed) L. E. COLLINS.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Walker returned

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Walker returned Tuesday from Brownwood where Mr. Walker has been confined the past two weeks in the Central Texas Hospital, where he underwent a series of surgical operations. We are glad Mr. Walker is able to return home, and hope he is soon fully recovered.

Public Schools To Begin Sept. 13th

The Board of Education of Santa Anna Independent school district gives out the following information, which will be of interest to every body. The public schools will begin Sept. 13th with the following faculty: High School—J. C. Scarborough, N. H. Gottwald, A. Ben Oliver, Mrs. Retta Bartlett, Mrs. J. C. Scarborough and Miss Mamie Smith. Elementary School—Herbert Hopper, Mrs. Chas. Evans, Miss Dora Kirkpatrick, Miss Rosemary Bowman, Mrs. C. B. Verrier, Miss Grace Pleasant, Miss Ruby Volentine, Miss Opal Laxson, Miss Florence Niell, Mrs. Dewey Pieratt, Miss Frances Vinson, Mrs. Ruth Stephenson-Baker and Miss Corinne Wallace. Several new faces will appear in the faculty this year. Mr. Gottwald, Principal of High School and Vocational teacher of agriculture has been in our city for several weeks and has already established himself in the minds of his coworkers and patrons. Mr. Ben Oliver, English and Foreign Language, comes into our midst with the recommendation as being one of the best students and scholars Simmons University ever graduated. Miss Mamie Smith of Mason takes the place vacated by Miss Cora Stockard who recently resigned to accept similar work in Houston City Schools. It is with much regret that Santa Anna gives up Miss Stockard who established Home Economics in our school and who has so efficiently built up that most excellent department. Our loss is Houston's gain and our very best wishes attend her in her new endeavor.

Misses Pleasant, Vinson and Niell, and Mrs. Baker are alumni of S. A. H. S. and have the distinction of being honor students in former classes of their Alma Mater. They have spent the interim since graduation in some of the best colleges and universities, and have now come back to the old home town to show their appreciation of what the old school has done for them in giving them their best education.

The Board announces the following calendar: Institute convenes Sept. 6; Compulsory Attendance begins Nov. 1; School dismisses for Christmas holidays Thursday, Dec. 23, and resumes work on Jan. 3. Thanksgiving (two days) and San Jacinto Day will compose the holidays. Commencement Sermon will be on May 15. Elementary school graduation on May 19, and High School graduation on May 20. Tuition and laboratory fees will be the same as last year. Owing to the dire need of library and reference books in both schools and the dearth of funds for the year the board has authorized the Superintendent to collect a library fee of $5.00 per pupil enrolled in elementary school, and $1.00

Coleman Youth Shoots His Father

Coleman, Sept. 1.—On the verge of a nervous collapse, D. F. Sanderson, 18, charged with the murder of his father, was under guard here Wednesday in a private home. D. F. Sanderson, Sr., was killed yesterday in his home following the filing of a divorce suit by his wife. The son surrendered, and told officers he shot his father because the latter beat and threatened his mother. After the shooting the boy got into an automobile and drove downtown. He met Constable Bishop on the street, handed the constable his gun, saying, "I have killed papa." Sanderson was taken to the court house where he collapsed. After being given a stimulant, he revived, and was formally charged with murder. He was carried to the home of Mrs. Annie Stubblefield, nearby, where he was under guard today, but in a serious nervous condition. Officers were called to the Sanderson home Monday night to quell a disturbance. The elder Sanderson was arrested and released yesterday afternoon, when a divorce citation was served on him. He returned home and according to the son, began abusing Mrs. Sanderson when the boy said he fired two shots from an automatic pistol. Young Sanderson's examining trial will be held tomorrow. Sanderson's funeral was held this afternoon. He is survived by his widow and two sons and two daughters.

Former Editor visits Santa Anna

T. W. Hunter, son Frank, and daughter, Mrs. Paul Woodruff, of Hartshorn, Okla., visited Mr. Hunter's brothers, L. W. and C. K. Hunter last week and this. T. W. Hunter will be remembered by a number of people, as an employe of Mr. Hubert on the Santa Anna News about thirty years ago. Also Mr. Hubert and Mr. Hunter established the Coleman Democrat after leaving Santa Anna, 25 or 26 years ago.

Dr. and Mrs. Holland and son Duane left Wednesday for Christoval where they will join Judge M. B. Harria and family and Prof. and Mrs. George Harria of Fort Worth on a ten days pleasure trip.

per student in high school. The object of this fund is to make available more and better reference works for all students. A faculty meeting has been called for Saturday afternoon, Sept. 4th, and all the faculty members will attend the Institute in Brownwood next week. An interesting program has been arranged and the week should be one of much benefit to the teachers in this district.

The Proverb of the Farmer and the Seed

The farmer is very careful to sow his seed upon the richest soil, where he knows it will bear the richest crop. Of course some seeds fall upon poor soil and bear very little. A few seeds fall upon the rocks and barren places and are lost.

What would you think of a farmer who deliberately sowed the greatest part of his seed among the rocks? "He must be crazy," you would say.

Yet as you walk thru life you sow your earnings. Be wise, sow your dollars in rich soil. Avoid the rocks and barren places, where fools' dollars are wasted. Sow your dollars in the Bank.

CHILDREN AND COMPLEXES

(By Wesley Peacock)

You know someone who is unreasonably afraid of a cat, but I know a young man who is unreasonably afraid of a chicken. Under no inducement will he touch one, or even touch a feather. It is unkind to call him foolish, or to try in the usual way to overcome the fault. Will power will not help any more than force, and no teacher or parent can do it, because it is a psychological phenomenon called a complex. However, it is possible for him to overcome it by self-analysis.

Do you know anyone who is the victim of a complex? How about yourself? Of course, you wouldn't know it. If you understood it, it wouldn't be a complex, for you would free yourself of it. Complexes are sometimes so serious as to impair one's health, to affect one's usefulness in business or one's happiness in society.

The young man mentioned had been terribly frightened as a baby by a chicken placed by its side in an automobile. I shall never forget the paroxysm of fright that seized it when the fowl squawked and struggled for freedom. Did the child soon forget it? Seemingly, yes; and that is what caused the complex. The father lost the opportunity at once to show the child that the chicken was harmless, and not a bogey. Therefore the little fellow did forget the chicken, but not the bogey. A complex never lets up, never leaves one entirely. It has more lives than a cat, and it returns like a thief in the night.

Every person has two minds, the conscious mind and the unconscious mind called the subconscious. Every child lives largely in the subconscious, while the adult lives largely in the conscious, except in sleep. The memory of a painful experience, real or imaginary, is harmful, and sometimes unbearable, that something has to be done to keep one happy; therefore, the conscious mind consigns to the subconscious the recollection of the disagreeable experience in order to forget it and have peace in the family. But it is like hiding a dead cat in the cellar. The conscious mind keeps watch over the subconscious to suppress conflicts. When suppressed they are called repressions, consuming energy, and always trying to emerge into the conscious life to start family quarrels. But there is a solution, and a release.

Cheaters in Public Office

A certain amount of perfect sentiment may favor lax enforcement of prohibition, but the public is not going to continue forever its toleration of cheaters in public offices. Public wrath sometimes rises slowly, but it is forceful when once aroused. Eventually it will help to educate a lot of double-crossers who are paid from the public coffers for duty they do not perform.

Among the important things going out now are straw hats.

MONEY IN CIRCULATION

The total amount of money in circulation in this country is $4,858,473,503, according to government statistics, meaning that sum is held by the people of the United States.

Divide by the population of the country, the per capita wealth is found to be $42.01, compared with $41.32 a year ago.

Prosperity is measured by the amount in circulation. Whether you are getting or have your share depends upon your initiative. It is here to get—that we know.

Not many years ago people indulged in a bit of boasting when it was discovered that there was $28 in circulation for every man, woman and child in the United States. It was looked upon as extravagance and was injected into politics.

The highest circulation per capita in the history of the country was in the flood tide after the war when it reached the dizzy height of $52.36 in 1920.

Big Company Helps Local Merchants Keep Business at Home

How one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the country cooperates with their dealers to keep local business in the hands of local concerns, was interestingly brought out in a talk with one of our leading tire merchants last week.

The company to which he pointed particularly for its work in this direction is The United States Rubber Co., which has perhaps gone further along these lines than any other tire concern.

There are several reasons, aside from the very good point of keeping home money at home, why our own local tire stores are the logical place to buy tires rather than the mail order houses.

Tires need looking after by an experienced tire man. He must have a well equipped and well stocked shop and be able to tell whether a tire is doing its work properly, and if not, why not.

For instance, an expert tire man can tell whether tires are wearing unduly because of the wheels being out of alignment and can correct the trouble in time.

If improperly equalized brakes are causing tire wear, the tire man can tell that and warn the owner.

This sort of service you cannot expect when you buy tires from mail order houses.

The United States Tire Company started eleven years ago to educate people to their interest in supporting the legitimate home town tire dealer.

In addition to running its own educational campaign in local papers without interruption for eleven consecutive years, the Company encourages the dealer to supplement it with advertising of his own and helps him do it. Under certain conditions it even shares the expense of the dealer's own advertising.

Recent improvements in production methods now enables the United States Rubber Company to market, through the local dealers, tires of known quality, bearing the Company's trade mark and full warranty, for as little money or even less than the cost of mail order tires or off-brand tires of uncertain value.

Making Life Worthwhile

The important things in our lives are not the spectacular, the material accomplishments of which we make much. These are but the vehicle by which humanity advances, the road over which civilization advances. The important things are beauty, and joy and hope. And the one who contributes even a little to the making of these has done a big thing in the world. A garden of flowers, a beautiful picture, a good book—all help to make life worthwhile.

BRASS BUTTONS

For so many years that they are almost past counting the British fighting man wore brass buttons on his uniform. Bright brass buttons, polished and polished, gleaming brighter than gold in the sun. And in the brightness of those buttons was reflected the pride of the British soldier in his country and himself.

War came in 1914. Twentieth Century efficiency in the War College looked at those brass buttons and frowned. How foolish, said the experts, to send a man into the field with that kind of gleaming target stuck on his breast for the enemy to spot afar. Away went the bright buttons, covered up under a drab coat of bronze varnish. And away went the buffer and the can of metal polish that for so many years had been a necessity in the kit of every Tommy.

And with the buffer and the can of polish went a large slice of the valued morale of the British fighting man. For generations in the British army the meticulous shining of those buttons had epitomized the iron discipline that required every British soldier to look as well as act like a soldier. When he quit shining his buttons, he quit shining his shoes, quit cleaning his clothes, quit washing his face. Discipline slumped and morale slackered. And for want of a brass button to shine, the driving force of those great British armies wavered and slowed.

So came swiftly an order from headquarters. And off came the bronze varnish. Back came the cleaning rags and the buffers and the polish. And rain or shine, through mud and dust and filth—through grimy billet and stinking trench, the British Tommy shined his way back to glory and to victory.

Well trimmed lawns and hedges; well kept flower beds; neat, clean buildings with shining, clean windows and well scrubbed floors; tools and equipment bright and orderly and well tended—these things intrinsically have no part in the production of the kilowatts of electric energy you use. But they have a very important part in the morale and the efficiency of the organization that day and night, is serving you.

This company believes in BRASS BUTTONS.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas statisticians have figured that the value of Texas manufactured products in 1926 will be almost as great as the value of Texas farm products.

There are about 440,000 farms and more than 4,000 manufacturing establishments in Texas.

Exports through the port of Galveston in 1925 were valued at $455,858,451.

The value of railroads in Texas is more than $700,000,000.

The capital of Texas has been at Austin since 1843. Prior to that time it had been at Washington, Harrisburg, Galveston, Velasco, Quintana, Columbia and Houston.

To the Voters of Precinct No. 7

I wish to express thanks and appreciation to the voters of Precinct No. 7 for their continued support they gave me in the run-off primary, and for the small majority which I got. I assure you I will continue to give service and do the duties of the office the best I can.

JOE B. FLORES.

The Primary and the Big Purse

Political factions when financed by men of great wealth can reduce the nomination of the United States Senators under the present law to a shameful exhibition of vote getting, that would be laughable if it were not so wanton and degrading in its effect. Let no trusting soul imagine that the "popular" primary has solved the difficulties of selecting United States Senators, without the intervention of the Big Purse.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

(By West Texas C. of C.)

White Deer—A contract for a new forty-five room hotel has been closed here recently. Each of the rooms will have an outside exposure and will be equipped with all modern conveniences. This building will also be used for a number of offices, which will also have the advantage of an outside exposure.

Lubbock—Lubbock's new $500,000 six-story hotel will be opened Sept. 7, according to the manager. The hotel is modern in every particular. There are 124 guest rooms, a large lobby and coffee shop on the main floor, a banquet hall, and three private dining rooms. There will also be an open court for dancing and for public gatherings.

Big Lake—This city's paving program is to be gotten under way soon, following a recent meeting of property owners relative to carrying out the program which has been arranged, calling for paving from the Orient Ry. north on Main and one block each way on all streets at their intersection with Main Street.

Rising Star—Work on the Brownwood-Rising Star state highway is making good progress. The right of way, which will go through fields will be delayed until crops are gathered. Three crews are at work on this project at present.

Clyde—Answering the call of Secretary W. H. Shanks of the Chamber of Commerce the Callahan County Sheep and Goat Raisers Association has recently been organized. The organization plans to build ware houses at Clyde and make the city a market center for their products.

Plainview—An incubator with a 12,000 egg capacity will be installed in Plainview by the Bonner-Price Co. of this city. The firm will have baby chicks to sell in season. M. M. Bonner believes that there will be a good market for the custom-hatching. The incubator to be used is one of the largest type sold.

Alamogorda, N. M.—Work on the new power and light plant for this city has begun. C. M. Einhart of this city is to be manager of the new plant. A total of 2300 volts of current will be generated by the plant. Lines are to be built immediately to Tularora and to shallow water pumping belt. They will be constructed to other cities later. The cost of the entire plant is to exceed $200,000.

Sweetwater—Agitation is being started here for the establishment of a local creamery to be owned and operated by local dairy-men. This project was started soon after the recent organization of the Nolan County Dairy-men's Association.

Slaton—The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. expects to spend an amount of $77,000 in new building, new outside equipment, and the installation of the new common battery system here soon. The completion of the new system is expected early in the new year.

Stamford—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been instrumental in aiding the farmer to kill the leaf worm which has recently made its way into the bumper cotton crop of West Texas. The Chamber has put those communities needing calcium arsenate or other poisons for this pest in touch with places where supply was in excess of the demand.

OH! WHAT A SWINDLER!

This clipping was printed in a paper in Boston 61 years ago and reprinted in the Iconoclast:

"A man about 46 years of age, giving the name of Coppersmith, has been arrested in New York for attempting to extort funds from ignorant and superstitious people by exhibiting a device which he says will convey the human voice any distance over metallic wires so that it will be heard by the listener of the other end. He calls the instrument a "telephone," which he obviously intended to intimate the word "telegraph" and win the confidence of those who know of the success of the latter instrument without understanding the principles on which it is based. Well-informed people know that it is impossible to transmit the human voice over wires as may be done with dots and dashes and signals of the Morse Code, and that, were it possible to do so, the thing would be of no practical value. The authorities who apprehended this criminal are to be congratulated and it is hoped that his punishment will be prompt and fitting, that it may serve as an example to other conscienceless schemers who enrich themselves at the expense of their fellow creatures."

We Should PROTECT Our Credit

There is another thing to which we women must give more thought, and that is our credit. When I say our, I mean the husband, just the same as the woman, because any well regulated family is interested in both sides of the question—and women do most of the buying.

When we say to our merchant "Charge it Please," that is our promise to pay. Every time we say those three words, or others that mean the same thing, we are making an implied contract to pay for what we are purchasing within 30 days, unless it be an installment account. It is as much of an obligation as if we had a promissory note. Unless we do pay up according to our agreement, the merchant is in much the same position as our banker would be—he holds our overdue note.

TEXAS AND TEXANS

(By Will H. Mayes)

More and Better Hotels

The mention of Junction's new hotel in this column recently appears to have started something, for in one way or another my attention has been called to the fact that hotels, and good hotels too, are going up all over Texas as if by magic. Here are just a few to which my notice has been called during the last week:

Hillsboro has just formally opened a four story, 52 room hotel that cost $150,000. It is described as admirably located on the line of the interurban railway, and the Colorado to the Gulf, the Meridian, and the King of Trails Highways.

Harlingen will give over the week of September 14 to celebrating the opening of the Rees-Wilmond Hotel, which is to be a sort of joint celebration of the completion of the hotel and the Southern Pacific's building into Harlingen. The hotel is a big, costly one, in keeping with the Rio Grande Valley way of doing things.

San Benito, also in the Rio Grande Valley, has started construction of a $200,000 hotel, which will have 80 rooms.

Weslaco, in the same section of the State, is to have a $250,000 hotel, a five story, 100 room structure.

Bay City, in Matagorda county, near the coast, a place which many Texans think was finished 50 years or more ago, but which is really a live town, is preparing to build a $125,000 hotel.

Uvalde builders have accepted the plans for a three story brick hotel to cost $125,000.

Marathon is going to have a new hotel, the cost of which is not stated, but which the writer says will be "modern, up-to-date and ample."

The Big Spring Herald still carries a front page streamer, which says: "The greatest need of Big Spring is a First Class Hotel. Let's get it."

All of which goes to show that Texas is prospering, else it would not be building expensive hotels. It takes money to build modern hotels and a paying patronage to sustain them.

Brownsville's Bond Issue
Brownsville is Texas' southernmost city. It was once regarded as a sleepy, lifeless burg with a manana spirit from which it could never be aroused.

But something awakened the old town about a decade ago, and since then it has been trying to make up for its long sleep. Its latest proposal is for a $500,000 bond issue for storm and sanitary sewer lines, city water and light extension, and street building. The city is to put $300,000 into street paving on a plan of requiring the land-owners to pay two-thirds of the cost. In that way more than a million dollars in improvements will be made with its half million dollar bond issue. All of which proves that Brownsville is now much alert.

Olney's Construction Program

Olney is in Young county, of which Graham is the county site. Its newspaper is the Enterprise, with Ralph Shuffler as the guiding spirit. There is something in the name of the paper and the editor that suggests activity. That Olney is active is shown in the fact that it now has on hand a $250,000 construction program, of which half will go into a high school building and the other half into the improvement of Olney Lake, into a sewage disposal plant and other public improvements that go to make a small city a desirable place in which to live.

Teachers Are Resigning

Following the announcement that the scholastic apportionment had been reduced to $11.50, after the tax rate reduction, 35 Travis county rural teachers feel that, however much they may love their work, they can't afford to teach five or six months in the year at salaries of about half that paid to ordinary day laborers. The people of Texas want good rural schools, taught by competent teachers, and they are able and willing to pay fair salaries for satisfactory service.

Another Texas Railroad

If the Interstate Commerce Commission will agree to the proposal, a railway will be constructed from Ardmore, Okla., to Lubbock, Texas, according to a statement recently issued by the promoters of the line. The road will extend through Wilbarger, Foard, Cottle, King, Dickens, and Crosby counties to Lubbock and will help in the development of a section with rich agricultural resources.

Brown County Oil Wells

Brown county has a new oil field seven miles out from Brownwood and it gives promise of being the best yet developed in that county, which has become the leading oil county of the Central Texas Territory. It begins to look like all of Brown county is underlaid with oil and that the only thing needed is right development. Most of the oil found is in shallow territory ranging from two or three hundred to 1,500 feet in depth.

Community Fairs

Community fairs have become quite popular in Texas. The expense of such fairs is small, the essential thing for their success being the co-operation of the people of a community. The community spirit, created by the people joining together to make the community fair a success is worth a great deal to any people. People who work together over their common problems usually come to like each other. The community spirit is worth much to any people. Texas needs more of it—a return to the old neighborly feeling of pioneer days. Let's cultivate it and restore it. The community fair is a good beginning place, and from there it may be extended to the county and the state.

Ward County Stone

The stone with which to build San Antonio's new court house is being quarried in Ward county, near Barstow, on the Texas Pacific railroad. The stone is being furnished by a Houston company and is to be dressed at Cisco. It is a very beautiful red sand stone, the original court house at San Antonio being constructed of some from the same quarry. It is the same stone seen in many of the stations along the Texas Pacific railroad. Texas has building material in enough variety to meet any architectural taste.

Publicity Agents Wanted

With Marcellus Foster writing about the enticements of Hollywood and O. O. McIntyre telling about the allurements of Broadway, and both of them using the columns of Texas Newspapers every day, this State is badly in need of some real press agenting.

LABOR DAY

"Every day is lady's day with me" ran the tuneful ditty of the old sea dog in the light opera of our grandfathers. Similarly, since every day is labor day with most of us, it is well that we should have a Labor Day with a capital "L" now and then.

Labor Day like most of our other holidays is supposed to have a very grave and significant import, but for the vast majority it means the last holiday fling of summer. Unquestionably Labor Day is a popular holiday. It fits very nicely into the scheme of things. It always comes conveniently on Monday and so those who get away early on Saturday are able to have quite a time before showing up Tuesday morning for the big offensive of the year.

Pretty much of every one is satisfied with the individualistic celebration of the day. Organized labor thinks it is peculiarly its day and everybody else is willing they should have it so long as everyone else may do as he is a mind to and not have it complained about.

Four Stars Appear in "The Runaway"

When a girl runs away from home—that's bad. But when she leaves a hotel apartment after a man has been shot, and heads for the hills—that's a whole lot worse. Yet that's what Cynthia Meade, the heroine of Charles Neville Buck's novel, "The Flight to the Hills," did. The story has been transferred to the screen, and the title changed. Albert Shelby LeVino prepared the screen play and William de Mille directed "The Runaway," as it is now designated. Clara Bow, Warner Baxter, William Powell and George Bancroft are featured. "The Runaway" will be shown at the Queen Theatre, Friday, 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomson of Coleman visited relatives here this week.

Resolutions of Respect

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Ovalo Lodge No. 850 A. F. & A. M.

Your committee appointed, to draft resolutions of respect in memory of Brother Fletcher Pope ask to submit the following:

Whereas that on August 1926 at his home in Santa Anna, Texas, Brother Fletcher Pope departed this life and his spirit returned to God who gave it, and that in the death of Brother Fletcher Pope, Ovalo Lodge has lost another link in its chain of friendship, though a non-resident most of his Masonic life, we feel deeply our loss and will cherish the pleasant memory of his life while in our midst. Therefore, be it resolved that in the death of Brother Pope, Ovalo Lodge has lost a good man and true Mason, that we offer our condolence to his wife and children in their deep sorrow and point them to our Heavenly Father who can best comfort them at this time, that we commend them to the love and protecting care of the Masonic Fraternity everywhere.

Be it further resolved that we extend our thanks to Santa Anna Lodge No. 661 for their assistance to Bro. Pope during his sickness and for officiating for us at his death.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the window of our deceased Brother, a copy furnished the Santa Anna paper for publication, a copy sent to Tuscola paper and a copy spread on the minutes of our lodge.

Price, although important, is not the only thing to be considered in buying merchandise. Every day we have chances to buy so-called bargains which have nothing to recommend them except price, and when passed on to the customer would be a disappointment, and therefore expensive.

We insist on quality along with price when we buy and we give our customers the advantage.

MRS. B. J. RATCLIFF

(Contributed)

Mrs. B. J. Ratcliff, wife of B. J. Ratcliff, of Marshall, died this morning after a lingering illness of several years. Her condition was not thought serious until she developed influenza last winter, since that time the doctors have held out little hope of her being well again. For several weeks she has been growing weaker, but it was not until yesterday morning when she took a very sudden turn for worse, that the end was thought to be so near. She died this morning at 9:15, surrounded by a large family circle, and a host of sympathizing friends.

Mrs. Ratcliff is survived by her husband, and eight children: Mrs. P. L. Heneghan, J. L. and Lewis Ratcliff, Mrs. Cliff Wommack, all of Marshall; Mrs. W. T. Wallace, of Munge; Mrs. O. V. Pringle of Coolidge; Mrs. J. H. Elrod, of Palestine, and Mrs. W. B. Hancock, of Santa Anna, all were present when the end came except Mrs. Hancock. Mrs. Hancock will arrive in time for the funeral. Funeral services will be held in the Worth Marshall Baptist Church, Saturday at 10:00 a. m. conducted by the Pastor, W. E. Ray; interment will be in Algoma burying ground.

Dated August 20, 1926.

Humorous Suggestion

George Ade, writing in Hearst's Magazine, advocates the establishment of a Returning Day to be observed throughout the country upon which every person is to be expected to return to the proper owners all of the things he or she may have borrowed during the past year. It is quite natural that such an idea should be advanced by a humorist.

Unique Company Appears In "Fascinating Youth"

Sixteen new faces. Plus just as many famous ones. Such is the unusual cast of "Fascinating Youth," a Paramount picture which comes to the Queen Theatre Monday and Tuesday. The Paramount Junior Stars provide the new talent. These students of the Paramount Picture school were selected from 40,000 applicants before being allowed to take an eight month course of study. "Fascinating Youth" serves as their screen debut. In supporting roles—guaranteeing an "al-star" cast—are Ralph Lewis, James Bradbury, Sr., Joseph Burke and other well known actors and actresses. Part of Byron Morgan's story is laid inside a big motion picture studio and one sees just how movies are made.

To the Citizenship of Coleman County

I appreciate, and now publicly express my appreciation for, the splendid vote I received in the run-off primary, in which I was nominated for Sheriff of Coleman county. I renew my promise to the people and pledge them my very best efforts to the enforcement of law. I believe the people have confidence in me and are convinced that I am not the kind of man described in the recent political advertisement in this paper.

Again thanking the people for my nomination, and asking your support for law enforcement, I am,

Yours very truly,
W. R. HAMILTON.

Lesson for September 5 THE TENT OF MEETING

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 33.
CHILDREN TEXT—And the Lord spoke unto Moses (see to face as a man speaketh unto his friend).
PRIMARY TOPIC—God's House in the Wilderness.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Moses' Worship in God's House.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Friendship With God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Communion With God.

1. The Divine Command to Possess the Land (vv. 1-6).

The abiding purpose (v. 1).
They were to go up and possess the land despite the fact that the calf worship had broken the bond between them and their God. God spoke of them as the people whom Moses brought up out of Egypt, not as His own people. They had not shown any true penitence for their awful sin, therefore God could not claim them as His own.

2. Divine aid promised (v. 2).
Though their sins made it impossible for God to go with them, He still agrees to help them by sending an angel before them to drive out their enemies.

3. The threatened withdrawal of the divine presence (vv. 3, 5).
God said, "I will not go up in the midst of thee, for thou art a stiff-necked people, lest I consume thee in the way." The presence of God in the midst of a sinning and impenitent people would mean death unto them.

The mercy of God is often strikingly shown by God's withdrawal from His people.
4. The effect upon the people (vv. 4, 6).
(1) "When the people heard these evil tidings they mourned."
They had not understood the seriousness of God's threatened withdrawal. They knew that no angel could make up for the great loss of the personal presence of God. They called it "evil tidings." Surely no tidings are so evil as those which tell of the withdrawal of the divine presence.

(2) They stripped themselves of their ornaments, showing that the articles which indicated gladness and joy could not be consistently worn when God had departed. We must be stripped of all that pertains to self and carnal pleasures if we be clothed with the divine blessing.
11. The Tent of Meeting (vv. 7-11).
1. It was pitched outside of the camp (v. 7).
As a token of the severed fellowship, the symbol of God's dwelling place, the tent of meeting was placed without the camp. While this showed the excommunication of His people, it showed also God holding out an opportunity to such individuals as sought the Lord to continue in fellowship with Him.

2. Moses in communion with God (vv. 8-10).
Because Moses had not transgressed God's law, he still had fellowship with God. The visible sign to the people that God honored Moses was the descent of the "cloudy pillar" as Moses entered the tent of meeting.
3. Moses the friend of God (v. 11).
This is one of the most beautiful expressions of personal fellowship to be found in all the Bible, if not in all literature. Friendship implies mutual confidence and sympathy, a disposition to share each other's secrets.

4. Joshua at home in the tabernacle (v. 11).
Joshua was not involved in the rebellion of the people. Because of his fidelity he was privileged to abide in the tent in the divine fellowship.
III. Moses' Prayer (vv. 12-23).
Moses' mind was somewhat perplexed, therefore he came to the Lord for the solution of his problem. God had said that He would send an angel to carry out His covenant obligation concerning the people in the possession of the land. Moses desired fuller knowledge of this angel so that he might act intelligently with reference to the matter. He asked for three things:

1. Fuller knowledge, (vv. 12-14).
In order to lead the people he needed to know more fully his God.
God graciously responded to this request by assuring him that His presence would go with him and that He would give him rest.

2. "If thy presence go not with me, carry us not hence" (vv. 15-17).
Moses was convinced that no substitute could take God's place even though that one be an angel. He argued that it would be better to perish in the wilderness than to attempt to go into Canaan without God.

3. "Show me thy glory" (vv. 18-23).
Manifestly Present
Never in all the world's history has God been more manifestly present in it than when Jesus died upon the cross. We can all see that now, God was there, if He was ever anywhere in the world of men.

The True Prayer
The true prayer in time of great trial, care, or sorrow, is not that we shall be delivered from the experience, but that we may pass through them unharmed.

GETS WEDDING AND AUCTION A BIT MIXED

(From Winters Enterprise)

If this don't make you laugh, you're hopeless. It was sent in by a friend of The Enterprise:

One thing at a time is well even in radio. Recently a reporter on the Floodwood "Bugle" tried to receive news messages from two country correspondents at the same time. One was broadcasting news of a wedding and the other a public sale advertisement. Following is the receiver's finished copy:

Beginning at nine o'clock amidst attractive decorations of spring flowers, Mr. Asa Draw and Miss Heifer Eaton were disposed of at public auction on my farm, which was one of the most charming events, one and one-half miles east of her father, who is located at a vantage point near the Logan-Nelsonville pike.

The bride was gowned in a becoming tarpaulin 100 feet by 15 feet, with large oval shaped moulds of good baled straw and the following property to-wit: One Jersey bull 2 years old led the procession down the aisle and scattered other articles too numerous to mention, before a background of farm implements and cathedral candles of pink. The impressive ring ceremony was said by six Poland China hogs, registered and tubercular tested, pastor of the First Baptist church of Floodwood. One set of single buggy harness with loop effect of trailing arbutus and her bridesmaid complete with tugs and bridle made it one of the most complete and charming events of this kind that will work single or double of the season. The groom was handsome in seven tons of clover and alfalfa mixed with hay and diamond studded dry harrow with forty five teeth. His best man was one of the DeLand ewe, a former schoolmate at Ohio State University.

Only intimate friends of sixteen milch cows were present including fourteen registered Holsteins, the father and mother of the groom, six mules and one good road scraper. Many beautiful and useful household articles such as sixteen quarts of tomato preserves, one brass kettle, beautiful cut glass tin cans of all kinds, one church, one baby crib, one electrical toaster and six bushels of eating potatoes, was received by the beautiful and charming auctioneer. The decorations were one six-cylinder uncle and two white calves will be served on the grounds by the members of the Ladies Aid of Floodwood high noon and will last until the goods are sold. Terms. Nine months time with approved security as is the custom at sales of this kind, with interest at six o'clock at the Ambrose Hotel, Logan.

After the nuptial had been tied with 200 feet of hay rope, the happy couple on one good John Deere spreader, for an extended trip thru sixty shocks of good fodder to be hauled by purchaser. After a honeymoon through the east they will be at home to their friends with one good hay buggy, sixteen Rhode Island Reds and thirty bushels of corn in the crib. All sums under five dollars cash, but no time will be given the groom who is the son of one dapple gray, weighing 1,100, age 7 years, well broke and work any place. They have one coy covered wagon, with three inch tires and dump bed fitted for housekeeping on Mulberry street.

Keeping Up With Lizzie

Remember Lizzie, grandmother of the present-day flapper. Your grandparents thought she was pretty fast for the day, and her goings and doings heralded the going to the dogs of the coming generation. When Lizzie showed an ankle to the main street audience, strong men with strong breaths ducked the swinging doors to report her passing. The spinster ladies of the sewing circles gave one horrified look and swept the dust from the postoffice steps as they hurried home to report. Horses reared back from hitch racks and life in general was electrified with her presence and passing.

There was nothing wrong with Lizzie any more than there is anything wrong with her grand-daughter, Betty, who wears silk hose, dances the Charleston, and refuses to get excited about the future life as she does about the present one. Times change, and the world keeps moving ahead. The progressives of yesterday are the standpats of today.

Youth is the priceless heritage of a town, city, or a nation. Let a community or nation lose its youth and it begins to decay. The viewpoint of youth is the fresh viewpoint that discovers and builds something new. The town band, baseball team, Fourth of July celebration, lawn festival, pageant; these are all expressions of youth, hope and ambition. They mark the youthful effort to express progress in a community.

Progress marked by paving, lighting, better water supplies, better schools and buildings, all help lift a town or community with its youth and preserve it for service to its people.—Lewisville Enterprise.

SAFETY EDUCATION

Safety education is conducted in schools with admirable results. Older children carefully taught the dangers of the highways and the proper method of crossing them, many times are able to imbue the younger ones with their caution. But the instruction should not begin there nor end there. It should be continually emphasized in the home. No street, no stretch of country road is any longer safe. That fundamental should be impressed upon every child. There would be less chances taken, less accidents on the highways if it were fully grasped.

To the Voters of Precinct No. 7

I wish to extend a word of thanks and appreciation for the large vote given me in the run-off primary last Saturday. I lacked a few votes winning the nomination, but I assure you I am grateful for the splendid vote I received.

Indigestion

bad spells relieved

"NOTHING can take the place of Theford's Black-Draught with us because we have never found anything at once so mild and so effective," says Mrs. Hugh Nichols, R. F. D. 4, Princeton, Ky. "When the children have spells of indigestion and upset stomachs, I always straighten them out with a dose or two of Black-Draught."

"Several times I have suffered with bad spells of indigestion myself and found I would soon get relief if I took a course of Black-Draught. I was troubled with a bad accumulation of gas and severe pains across my stomach and lower bowels. Now when I feel a spell of this kind coming on, I head it off by taking Black-Draught—a dose every night for a few nights will prevent the trouble and save me much pain and suffering."

"My whole family uses Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation."

"It is a splendid medicine." Sold everywhere. 25 cents.

BOYS, GIRLS, HOW WILL YOU ANSWER THIS QUESTION

(Tyler Journal)

School time is just around the corner, so to speak. What choice are the boys and girls going to make about it? The smaller ones, of course, will enter school and make average grades just as smaller boys and girls always do. But many of the larger boys and girls may remain out of school. If they choose to do this, granting that there is any possible means whereby they may continue their school studies, they will make a mistake.

In the minds of some boys and girls is the idea that education will enable them to get thru the world without work, or less work. That is erroneous. Work is the lot of every person who wants to live an honest, useful, successful life. Education is a necessity to proper living. Success comes now and then to those who are not educated in the sense of having much book learning. But you will not find one of this type who does not wish that he had had in his earlier life the advantages of greater school training. Education will not enable one to get along without work; but it will enable him to work more effectively at whatever job he commits himself to. The chances to obtain a useful and honorable place in the world of affairs, a place where one can serve himself and his fellowman in the largest way, are more than a hundred to one in favor of him who has a good education.

So boys and girls, don't let the lure of getting a job and earning money now keep you out of school—unless there is no other possible way by which you can get into school. If you desire an education, really and longingly and zealously desire it, you can make your way. You can provide the means. The best time for you to acquire the necessary cultural equipment to assure your success is now. There will be plenty of jobs and positions waiting for you when you shall have finished your school career. You will always find the world ready to provide a job for you if you are really well equipped to put over a job—and if you have common sense to begin with, the culture, the training, the education you obtain now will never impair, but will assuredly enhance your chances of future success.

Another thing. The world takes off its hat to the boy or girl who, in the face of adverse circumstances (which often are only seemingly so), acquires an education by his or her own efforts. This is so because in the first place getting an education under such circumstances challenges us to our very best efforts; and, in the second place, one who thus puts aside the temptations to "take a job" today that he may thereby the better equip himself for a larger usefulness tomorrow shows a judgment in his choice which excites the interest, the admiration, the confidence of those who have positions to bestow. Moreover, you do not lose, in the long run, by depending upon your own efforts to obtain an education. The training you must thus impose upon yourself will teach you the most valuable lessons in self denial, in economy, in thrift both of time and money, and no less so in the ability to tackle and solve life's larger problems as they come to you in all your future years.

Boys and girls, stay in school—stay at any cost of personal effort, at any cost of self denial. Don't let ordinary financial embarrassments nor the temptations to take a job today blind you to that better choice implied by more years in school and college by and thru which a larger and better equipment for really successful, useful life must come to you.

Story Won't Go

A Tyler newspaper man claims that when he was a boy before the time of ice and refrigerators, that when the boys stole watermelons they took them to the old swimming hole and sunk them in the deepest place and let them cool for a day before eating. Now that man never stole any watermelons. He just wants it to appear he was wild and wayward when he was a boy. In fact he didn't know anything about watermelons if he thinks they will sink in water. They will float, brother, for we tried when we were a boy to do exactly what you said you did and the melons floated. Your story won't hold watermelons.—Marshall News.

That Tyler newspaper man she is wrong. You can't sink a melon without tying rocks to it. But we're sorry you boys can't find something different to talk about. The subject brings up sad, sad memories of a hot day in August when we stole a fine melon, toted two miles to the swimming hole and after letting it float awhile we tried to eat it, only to find that it was a citron that couldn't be split asunder with an axe.—Mineral Wells Index.
