Race For Governor to be Fought Over Again

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 9.—The battle for the democratic nomination for governor of Texas is to be fought all over again between Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and Attorney General Dan Moody.

In the midst of threats of court action to disqualify Moody and following a heated speech by Moody, the democratic state committee today certified the names of Mrs. Ferguson and Moody to be on the ballot for the run off on August 23.

The committee action followed a canvass of the primary results which showed that Moody lacked 1,770 votes of having a majority over all candidates.

An attempt to have the committee consider a petition asking that Moody be disqualified as a candidate on the ground of alleged irregularities in campaign contributions failed when the committee chairman, Arthur Eidson of Hamilton, Tex., ruled that the matter was judicial and since the committee was not a judicial body it could not determine the questions raised by the petition. The document was received and placed on file.

The petition was read by A. L. Curtis of Belton, Tex., a close personal friend of the Fergusons, who appeared as attorney for Governor Ferguson.

After a fiery address by Moody and the adjournment of the committee, Moody supporters, led by former Gov. O. B. Colquitt, held a meeting, organized with election of officers and decided to hold a mass meeting of Texas voters at Dallas next Saturday morning at 10 a. m.

Wants to Investigate Ferguson

Dallas, Aug. 9.—In an address before the large crowd of Moody supporters that attended the Moody rally here today after adjournment of the state democratic committee session in the afternoon, Lee Satterwhite, speaker of the house of representatives, declared that so far as he was concerned investigation of the Ferguson administration would be launched when the legislature convenes.

Shall We Pave Our Main Streets?

Mayor W. E. Baxter called a meeting of the property owners of the business district Tuesday afternoon in the Queen Theatre for the purpose of discussing the proposition of paving four blocks in the main business district. Several of the larger property owners were present and expressed themselves as being willing to proceed with the work.

If the matter is pushed forward we believe the work can be done, and it would sure mean a lot to Santa Anna. There is no question about the investment being a good one and worth the effort.

New Grocery Store Opening This Week

Alpha Baker, a prominent farmer from the northern part of Brown county, moved here last week with his family, and is very busy preparing to open up a new grocery store in the Riley building on West Depot St., formerly occupied by the Vinson Grocery. Mr. Baker has an ad in this issue of the News, which we call your attention to, in which he invites you to pay his store a visit. The Santa Anna News welcomes Mr. Baker to Santa Anna, and wishes for him a prosperous business in his line.

R. L. Brooks of Bangs, one of the best men in the world, called at this office Wednesday and renewed his subscription to the Santa Anna News. Mr. Brooks has a number of good friends in Santa Anna, especially among those who lived here during the early days when Santa Anna first began to build. Mr. Brooks and family have recently visited their daughter and family at Rising Star, and also made a trip to New Mexico this summer.

R. T. Morgan of Detroit, Texas, and J. S. Morgan and family of Ammona, Texas, visited in the J. M. Morgan home out on Home Creek this week. R. T. Morgan is a brother to J. M. Morgan and J. S. is a son of J. M.

Business Road Markers

Riding along an unfamiliar highway, you have to depend upon the road markers to guide you. Whether you are hitting the bumps in a fiver or soaring along in a costly automobile, they do their work equally well.

Today, as you spend your money to fill your requirements both for necessities and the luxuries of life, advertisements are waiting to direct you. They are the road markers of business, the sign posts along the way. They point the short, straight road to satisfaction in buying. They will serve you well whether you spend much or little.

Do you take the time to read the advertisements? They are published to tell you exactly where to go for what you want. They lead you to values about which you would know nothing if they were not there to mark the way for you.

And remember that advertising always points out goods of unquestioned value. When a store puts its name behind merchandise and tells you all about it, you may be sure that it is worth consideration. It does not pay to advertise unworthy goods.

Let the advertisements mark the way for you in buying.

Bankers and Ex-Cowpunchers Annual Convention

One of the most elaborate, informal affairs we have had the pleasure to attend in many moons was the Bankers and Ex-Cowpunchers annual convention, held in the Meadow Bend in the Colorado River, on the Gill Ranch, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. While Earl Gill was recognized as the host-man or Land Lord, Mr. Gill recognizes that the success of the occasion was largely due to the efforts of Sam Cuthbert, Ben Stone, Bill Harris, Fred Miller and Sam Cole, who prepared the barbecue, Sun-of-a-Gun, coffee and the necessary wherewith to make a camp feed perfect in every respect. Mr. Gill and his splendid set of boys proved themselves equal to the occasion, and the seventy odd who were present could not think of words adequate to express the pleasure of being there. The editor rarely has an opportunity to attend such functions, and we enjoyed it immensely. We hope to receive an invitation to attend the next, and all future conventions.

Among other special guests was Dr. W. A. Palmer of Snyder, Texas. Dr. Palmer is 82 years old, and was the family physician of the Gills in Ellis county prior to their moving to Coleman county.

Tom Mitchell of Fife, in McCulloch county, 71 years born in Canada, has lived in the vicinity of the Meadow Bend 48 years. Joe Turner of Brownwood, 70 years, is another of the old timers. Mr. Mitchell, in talking to the editor, stated he had rode horseback from the Mitchell premises to Dallas, a distance of over 200 miles, right through the heart of the State before there ever was built a wire fence. Such is the truth but sounds unreasonable. Tom and Henry Bradley of Fife, pioneers in the cattle industry also contributed to the success of the meeting.

Following the evening feed Thursday, several interesting talks were made, all of them interspersed with some fun. A number of good jokes were told, and to make the story shorter, lots of fun was had. Even J. O. Martin and Ben Stone had some fun.

Following is a list of those present Thursday night, if we succeeded in getting them all:

Sam Cuthbert, Brownwood; Bill Harris, Bangs; P. P. Bond; Boots McClure, A. R. Brown, D. J. Johnson, C. W. Woodruff, Santa Anna; Dr. E. J. Ashcraft, Bangs; C. A. White, Brownwood; F. W. Miller, Bangs; R. D. Kelley, Santa Anna; Hines H. Baker, Houston; J. O. Martin, Santa Anna; Ben Stone, Clyde Smith, Henry Wilson, Brownwood; Dr. R. E. Lovelady, Lemah Brown, V. H. Grady, Santa Anna; Dr. H. L. Locker, J. R. Shelton, F. S. Abney, Brownwood; Tom Mitchell, H. D. Bradley, Tom Bradley, Fife; L. W. Hunter, Santa Anna; W. L. Thomas, L. J. Honea, Brownwood; F. C. Woodward, Sam H. Collier, S. W. Childers, Santa Anna; W. P. Eads, Bangs; E. M. Davis, Brownwood; W. N. Burris, Owens; C. V. Evans, W. G. Alexander, E. J. Robertson, John Yantis, S. E. Morris, J. W. Latham, W. D. McCulley, Chas. Gill, Brownwood; S. S. Cole, Chas. B. Palmer, Bangs; Dr. W. A. Palmer, Snyder; Jim Gill, Whon; Ford Barnes, Santa Anna; J. T. Jones, Whon; S. P. Mrs. Campbell Dies as Results of Injuries Received in Accident

Mrs. Mary A. Campbell, 56, died in a hospital in Brownwood Monday. Her remains were prepared and brought to her home Tuesday, where the service was conducted by her pastor, A. L. Oeder of the Christian church. Interment was made in the cemetery at Coleman.

According to our information, Mrs. Campbell and her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Auten, were enroute to Ft. Worth, and near Granbury, they encountered an accident wherein Mrs. Campbell was severely injured. She was rushed back to Brownwood, where she died Monday.

Deceased was born in Arkansas, near the town of Fayetteville. She was a devoted Christian and her life was one of service to her family and to her neighbors. She will be sadly missed by the large circle of friends who knew and loved her. She leaves four brothers and two sisters, also the following children:

S. T. Campbell, Oakland, Calif.; Otto Campbell, Santa Anna; Mrs. Clara T. McKinney, Mexia; Mrs. W. L. Auten, Santa Anna; and mother, Mrs. J. E. Ballard, Fayette, Ark. She was a member of the Christian church and Woodmen Circle.

The News joins the many other friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved.

Pastor J. Hall Bowman of the Methodist church, returned Tuesday from San Francisco, Calif., where he represented the Lions Club in their annual Lions International convention while taking his vacation. Pastor Bowman returned by way of Grand Mountain Falls, Colorado, where he visited several days with his good friend, H. B. Furr of Breckenridge, who spends his summer each year in his beautiful lodge there. He reports having a good time, and compliments the delegation of Lions as being composed of high class men. The next convention meets in Miami, Fla.

B. Turner, Lee Guthrie, Chester Harrison, John E. Nabors, Bob Rodgers, A. D. Lee, E. W. Gill, Brownwood; J. L. Cox, Stacy; Glenn L. Gill, Harry McCain, E. W. Gill, Jr., Geo. Hunter, Whon; J. J. Gregg, Jack Gregg, R. L. Lowe, Santa Anna; L. G. Porter, Bangs.

One of the good ones told on Mr. Gill was originated in that famous character, Ben Stone, who called attention to the road Mr. Gill had flagged-out for such fellows as the writer in order that we might find a meeting place. The road passed right thru a portion of the best farm land on the ranch and the crops along the road were fine and well worked, but Mr. Stone informed the crowd that he missed the road on one occasion, and just back a short distance from the road Mr. Gill had staked out, the crops were grown up in grass and weeds and had not been half worked. Mr. Gill took the joke good naturedly, but neither he or Mr. Stone offered to lead the crowd out to the farm and show up.

If we knew which were the largest, an elephant or a whale, we would know better how to express the kind of a time we had, but not knowing, we will just combine the two and say we had a whalephant of a time.

Savings Deposits

There are always some people who defer their visit to the bank because they feel that a small deposit will not be welcomed, and that it is better to wait until they have accumulated a considerable sum. Too often they keep on waiting.

The State National Bank wants you to know that small accounts as well as large ones are welcomed here and that what interests us is not the size of the deposits, but the regularity with which you make them. The frequency with which you visit the bank will mean more to you, also.

Give Him A Better Start

Why not give that boy of yours a better start now than you had when you were a boy? Why not save a few dollars every week or month and let it accumulate for him?

And then, when he grows older, teach him the same thrifty habit.

He may not realize what you are doing for him now, but you may be certain that he will appreciate it ten or fifteen years from now.

Why not give him a chance by opening a Saving Account for him today? Teaching him the thrift habit is more valuable than leaving him a large estate.

Cooperative Marketing For Farmers

Cooperative marketing of farm products is nothing more or less than the methods employed by big business. It eliminates the two great deterrents to progress—lost motion and friction. When the farmer must not only till his soil and raise his crops, but take a hap-hazard chance on selling them at a price not determined by competitive bids and the scientific basis of supply and demand, he finds that his otherwise needless energy has been the cause of his failing profits.

It will not be long until the farmers of this country awaken to the benefits of cooperative marketing on a nation-wide scale. And not only the farmers, but the consumers as well, will learn that a part of the wasted energy of the producers in trying to be both agriculturalists and individual marketers is paid for by them (the consumers) in the cost of foods.

Cooperative marketing has proven successful wherever it has been tried, except in those cases of poor management which did not disprove its fundamental values. One central agency attends to the selling and distribution, leaving the producer free from marketing worries, and enabling him to produce better crops at better prices, but in the end at cheaper prices to the consumer.

How can this be done? Elimination of chance selling and efficient methods of distribution is the answer. No government price-fixing will ever bring home the bacon to the farmer. It will only glut the market, leave the mortgage unpaid, with the world still crying for bread because of lack of business principles applied to agriculture.

The idea of cooperative marketing has not been "sold" to many people because, like many movements looking toward the pooling of resources and energies, it has suffered from lack of leadership and poor management, and in some cases even undergone the smooth slickery of the swindler. But in our most prosperous communities cooperative marketing of farm products is settling down to an established fact and as something taken for granted in the important industry of feeding the world.

NOBODY CARES

One other thing has broken down, in addition to the old-fashioned American home. That is the old American community. Once there was the pressure of community opinion to hold its members to the community standard of conduct.

And there was general acquaintance, to make it difficult to conceal one's doings, or to escape to parts unknown. Now there is, in the larger centers, no one community opinion, but a multitude of groups, none of which much cares what the others think of it. And nobody knows anybody else, and anywhere is "among strangers."

So it is easy not to care, easy to transgress, and easy to hide. The nineteenth century fear of "what people will say" is gone. And a nineteenth century police system can scarcely keep track of the culprits of a twentieth century city. So we need a new study, to meet a new problem.

MEETING AT PLAINVIEW

There will be a protracted meeting at Plainview school house beginning August 28th, 1926. Bro. G. C. McCrow, doing the preaching for Church of Christ. Come, let us help make our community a better place to live in the name of the Christ who died for the sinner. A welcome awaits you at each service. All sinners are urged to be with us and help sing.

Banishing War By Good Works

The League of Nations, the World Court, the various disarmament and peace conferences, and other friendly means of intercourse between nations all have as their apparent design and motive the ultimate ending of war. These institutions may be termed agencies for direct action toward peace. Whatever merit they will have in moulding the minds of nationals to a state of continued friendliness will prove itself as the processes of international relationships go on. But the indirect method of putting an end to international strife will, in the future, play an important part.

Nations are like individuals: we had better say, they are large groups of individuals. Agencies and activities whose participants will never mention war or peace or disarmament will indirectly cause enmity and hatred to dissolve before common intentions and cooperative efforts at restoring economic and social order throughout the world. And this without any nation sacrificing its autonomy or independence. Manifestly it will aid the cause of freedom, for domestic security is the first requisite of national development.

There are too many world problems awaiting solution to admit of nations warring with one another. The Occident and Orient are now only as far apart as wave lengths reach or as the plane may travel by air. Short routes over the top of the earth make us neighborly distant with the other side of the globe. Yet differences exist; and getting down to their adjustment

PARIS' PRETTIEST IN "DANCE MADNESS"

Robert Z. Leonard interviewed all the beautiful French types in Hollywood to appear in the theatre sequence of his production of "Dance Madness," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture which will be shown at the Queen Theatre Monday and Tuesday, with Claire Windsor and Conrad Nagel in the leading roles.

One of the features of the "Folies-Parisiennes," which is included in "Dance Madness," is a group of eight beautiful girls, supposedly the most lovely in Paris, and no end of care was taken in their selection.

"Dance Madness" is a sophisticated farce-comedy, written by S. J. Kaufman. The adaptation was done by Alice D. G. Miller and Federica Sagor.

Ford Passes 14 Million Mark

Another million mark in Ford production was passed on July 21 when motor No. 14,000,000 came off the assembly line at the Fordson plant of the Ford Motor Company.

Some idea of the present enormous production of Ford cars is obtained when it is recalled that it was only a little more than two years ago, June 4, 1924, that the famous Ten Millionth Ford was produced, an event which was celebrated by driving the car across the country from New York to San Francisco on the Lincoln Highway. In the twenty-five and a half months elapsing since that time Ford output increased 4,000,000.

The first Model T Ford was turned out on October 1, 1908, and it was not until seven years later, December 10, 1915, that the first million was reached.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

(By West Texas C. of C.)

Borger—This city has recently voted for the establishment of an independent school district. Only one vote was cast against the issue. Property will be conferred for the building, and the board of trustees has been elected. A committee has been appointed to take the scholastic census of the city.

Slaton—Three additional credits of high school work have been granted this institution by the State Department of Education. The total number of affiliated credits at the present time is 24. Fourth year English is the only course offered without affiliation.

Roswell, N. M.—The construction of a new highway which will connect Roswell with the recently discovered oil field in Lea County, is to begin at once. This road will make the Maljamar field less than eighty miles from this city.

San Antonio—The highway in Bexar County between San Antonio and Converse on the Seguin road, has been completed, inspected, and accepted by the State for maintenance. Its completion gives San Antonio unbroken pavement virtually the entire distance to Gonzales.

Stamford—President Arthur P. Duggan of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and his party, made up of Chamber of Commerce officials will tour the southern districts and two New Mexico sections of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce territory within the next two weeks. Tax revision, diversified farming, and the work of the West Texas organization will be discussed before all local commercial clubs.

Brownfield—Weekly trips are being staged by the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of bringing the farmers and business men together in a social way to create a better understanding between the two, which will aid in a more rapid development of this section of the country in the near future.

Cisco—The Bankhead Poultry Producers Association began functioning in April, 1925, with no assets. $1,800 was advanced by the Cisco Chamber of Commerce to help the beginning of the organization. According to recent reports the Association has $1,600 cash, an equipment worth $400 and no existing debts, although the organization itself was not established for the purpose of money making.

Lubbock—Plans are being made by the directors of the Lubbock Sanitarium to launch a $100,000 building campaign which will give this city the largest sanitarium west of Fort Worth with the finest equipment and the best arrayed clinic in the southwest.

Stamford—Good news for hot weather! Weight rates on ice cream will not be raised 15 percent as was planned by the carriers of this summer necessity. The Traffic Bureau of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in keeping the rates lowered, thus preventing a higher cost of the product.

Amarillo—Election of a proposed school bond issue, amounting to something near $800,000 will be held September 4. This money will be spent in the completion of the senior high school with auditorium, gymnasium, manual training department, and the like; and the erection of a four room building north of Amarillo in Pleasant Valley.

Stamford—West Texas Today, the official organ of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will carry a new cover design on the next issue, which will be printed in colors, portraying the Blue Bonnet, Texas State flower. This is the only magazine known of in Texas which gives due honor to the State flower.

The greatest problem most cities face today is how to deal with the parking sneaker—the fellow that spies the one space left just after you have, and who horns in ahead of you and walks off.

Hatchery Notice!

—We wish to announce that we will start our incubator about August 15, for the fall season, and if you wish to secure trays for hatching, book them any time. Fall chickens are equally as good, if not better, than Spring chickens.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Gaines, M.D.

YOUR KNEES.

A perfect knee is a wonderfully constructed hinge, with its shock absorbers, its firm connecting bands, and its smooth, gliding "bearings." And, the knee-joint is a mighty ugly proposition when it is injured or diseased.

Knee injuries are very common, and even slight injury may result in serious damage. Over-use in heavy patients may result in diseased cartilages and roughened friction-surfaces which will take months or years to cure, even if cure be possible. The cartilages are often crowded out of place by pressure or strain, requiring surgical removal before relief may be had.

Even the knee-cap may be involved in inflammations about the joint; the "Synovial Membrane" lines the joint, and, when inflamed, becomes "synovitis", a most painful condition, and one always hard to cure. It is a serious matter when the synovial fluid escapes from its natural situation, and accumulates in a bag-like cavity, requiring tapping sometimes for relief of the severe pain.

Volumes could be written on the knee-joint and its diseases. I would like my readers to remember these points:

- (1) That all knee affections are serious, or capable of becoming so.
- (2) That rest and heat are among the first things thought of in successful treatment.
- (3) That massage in any form may be positively injurious.
- (4) That a skilled physician and surgeon should be consulted on the appearance of knee-symptoms.

Every successful business is in partnership with the public. The business renders service and the public contributes patronage. Neither can withdraw from their common obligations without injury to the firm and to the community.

COMMUNITY BOOSTING

Manifestly cooperation is impossible unless two or more people join together in any enterprise. One man can't cooperate. He must have one or more who think as he does and who are willing to act along lines on which they can agree.

One cylinder of a motor hitting will not get an automobile very far. All have to be working in regular order. They have to be timed to do their particular job at given intervals. One horse in a team standing still and the other pulling will not budge the load.

These things are all so well known that it seems wasted effort to mention them, but the lesson of cooperation is so essential to the welfare of any community that we refer to these examples even at the risk of being boring.

When half of the people of the community pull backward or refuse to do anything towards community betterment, while the other half are using a part of their time and talents for the common good, an object lesson is not amiss.

No community will go very far if the majority of its citizens think that they have no civic responsibility or obligations. Then there are those who believe that making their money here and saying or thinking a kind word about the home town now and then is enough. But it is not enough.

Everyone must boost Santa Anna materially and actively—a few can do it even with the moral support of the remainder of the community. Cooperation must be something more tangible and less ethereal than just thinking good thoughts and saying kind words, as helpful as they may be.

Community boosting means sacrifices—sacrifice of time and money and pleasure—not by a few but by all in whatever measure is necessary to bring about the desired end. It will not get the real results until action is united and complete cooperation prevails.

SUMMER BATHING TOLL

This is the season when water takes its toll. The lakes, the rivers and the old swimming holes have an irresistible lure for the boy. But we, the elders, know that death lurks in the waters. The answer is not that swimming shall be forbidden. It lies in supervised bathing, in using intelligent caution for the lad who cannot be expected to exercise it in his own behalf.

NOT IN THEIR MAKEUP

Someone certainly ought to commend the judge in South Bend, Indiana who passed sentence the other day on a wife beater. He gave Steve Polich, charged with the contemptible offense of manhandling a woman, his choice of boxing four rounds with a police sergeant or letting his wife name the number of days.

Polich took one good look at the sergeant, and the smile of anticipatory pleasure on the worthy's face sent nervous chills chasing up and down his spine.

"I'll let the wife name the term," said Polich, and the court room echoed with the cry of "Coward!" as he received a 45-day sentence.

Of course he was a coward. No one with even the faintest vestige of courage in his makeup would have hesitated to risk his hide in a boxing match if by doing so he could escape the ignominy of a jail sentence and the greater ignominy of running away from a fight.

But one doesn't expect to find bravery in wife beaters.

BETTER TO WEAR OUT

It is far better to wear out than to rust out. The man who keeps busy until the Reaper takes him away is by far the happiest individual and he lives longer.

The man who accumulates a competency, invests it, and then retires is the one who rusts out. As a general thing he is not a progressive, he is generally against all civic improvements which will benefit others, he is in a majority of cases a crabbed man who is suspicious of all who approach him.

Truly it is better to wear out. To keep up one's interest in business for then one has interest in pleasure. To keep one's interest in the progress of one's city and its betterment. In other words not to die until the old machine is entirely worn out in the service of others which after all is the highest service which one can do for one's self.

The newly-wed bride from the city went to a neighboring farmer to negotiate for a cow.

"About what sort of cow did you think you would like?" asked the stock raiser.

"Well, I thought maybe a condensed or malted cow would be about right—we often use those kinds of milk."

TEXAS AND TEXANS

(By Will H. Mayes)
Banner Wheat County

Floyd County—Floydada the county site—in the Plains country of Texas, is again claiming the championship for wheat growing. In 1924, the county marketed 1,879,988 bushels of wheat, and has this year shipped, or has on hand awaiting cars, more than 2,000,000 bushels. Not many years ago that county was mapped as an arid desert. Now it supports a large population and Homer Steen's splendid newspaper, The Hesperian, which will have something to brag about until another county beats it growing wheat.

Headlight Law Impotent

Representative Williamson of Bexar county, who "daddied" the Texas headlight law, says that it is an "ill-begotten thing," without the necessary enforcement provisions, and that unless the next legislature provides for a State patrol to enforce the law, he will seek its repeal. The law seemed reasonably effective early in the year, when car owners had to have headlights tested and adjusted as a prerequisite to securing 1926 license tags but the headlights soon got out of adjustment on many cars, and glaring lights are now almost as much in evidence as before the law was passed. The driver of a car is the last person to discover that its lights are out of focus, although it may be very evident to everyone he meets.

Wanting Cotton Pickers

All that part of Texas south of San Antonio is now trying to get enough cotton pickers to get the crop gathered as quickly as possible. Appeals are being made to other parts of the state, but as pickers will soon be needed all through Texas, cotton growing sections are slow to advise laborers to go to South Texas, even though the crops there may be a few weeks earlier. Efforts will be made to get help from Mexico, and these, if secured, will be encouraged to follow the opening of the new crop on thru Central and North Texas. No laborer in good health need be idle in Texas for the next six months, for the fields everywhere are inviting all who will work.

Gaudalupe Power Plant

Work is to begin immediately on a dam in the Gaudalupe river four miles below Seguin and another midway between Seguin and New Braunfels, and on a third twelve miles below New Braunfels, to be used in operating a 10,000 horse power hydro-electric plant at Seguin. The cost will be $2,000,000. The company that is financing the construction has already contracted for the sale of all the power it can produce. This is Texas development going forward.

Landmark Hotel Must Go

The Nimitz Hotel at Fredericksburg, built in 1852, and known to almost every person who has traveled in Texas, is to be torn away to make room for a modern $125,000 hotel building. The Nimitz is the oldest hotel in the State, perhaps, and has been conducted all the while, by the father first, and then by the son. It yet proudly exhibits the bed used by Robert E. Lee, before he resigned from the United States army to enter the Confederate service. Many will regret the passing of the Nimitz, but it is the order of progress that the old must in time pass away to make room for the new.

Boosting the Alpine Country

One of the most persuasive publications this writer has seen in a long while is "The Big Bend Resources Edition" of the Alpine Avalanche. It makes a fellow want to trek for that section at once to see and enjoy the many good things of which the Avalanche tells so interestingly. The people out in that country ought to be proud of that paper.

Speaking of Alpine, it seems to me to be a big mistake to move Sul Ross State Teachers College, even if the attendance is as yet lower than was expected. It is growing; that country is developing rapidly; its wonderful climate is fast becoming better known; the college has a well equipped plant, and in a few years it will be even crowded with students from all over Texas. If necessary, the teaching force should be cut down to meet present demands, but the school should be maintained where it is. Texas is filling up and Sul Ross will grow.

Office Seeks the Man

This column carefully avoids politics, but there can be nothing amiss in the statement that in one case at least the office sought the man. S. M. N. Marrs, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, did not make a speech during the campaign, and wrote but few letters. He merely submitted his official record and left the people to decide as to his re-election. The vote that he received was nearly 50,000 in excess of that of both of his opponents. It must be gratifying indeed to receive such an endorsement from an appreciative public.

Grain Yield Large

According to Victor Schaffelsmeyer, the well-known agricultural editor of the Dallas News, the wheat yield this year is estimated at 34,000,000, and the oats production is around 34,000,000 bushels. Wheat is selling at from $1.25 to $1.35 a bushel and oats from 30 to 35 cents. This means about $70,000,000 to $75,000,000 of garnered wealth to Texas from its grain crops alone. Yet there are some Texas farmers who think of these as negligible crops, hardly worth the attention of those who look to cotton as the great money crop. Gradually Texans are learning that diversified farming is safe farming.

Manufacturing Increases

For the information of those who think that but little is being done in Texas in the way of manufacturing, attention is called to a report issued by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce showing that the manufacturing output of Dallas has increased from $15,000,000, twenty years ago, to $200,000,000 a year, at the present time. Perhaps Houston could make as good a showing. Throughout the state interest in manufacturing has grown as the surplus money is not needed to carry on the commerce of the country.

Texas' First Woman Senator

When the newly elected legislature convenes, Senator Margie E. Neal, of Carthage, will be among the number, the first woman in Texas to be honored by a seat in the Senate. Senator Neal has all the qualifications for the position and will be a credit to her district and the State. She has been a teacher, an editor, a stateswoman, a democratic leader, and a member of the board of State Teachers' Colleges. She has travelled extensively and is a close observer. She has always been a student. She has sufficient wealth to be independent of the temptations that sometimes beset legislators, and the integrity to look upon them with contempt. She has well-matured views on public questions and knows how to present them. Texas is fortunate.

Chamber of Commerce Activities

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce, with headquarters at Longview, is making an intensive study to decide the lines along which its major activities shall be conducted. Without being asked, I am going to suggest these: intelligent crop diversification; marketing; manufacturing, including preservation of truck and dairy products; education; road building; improvement of homes; and last, but not least, publicity, publicity, publicity.

Miss Gresham Complimented in New York

Miss Lyda Gresham, one of Brownwood's most talented pianists, who is in New York this summer studying piano under Mr. Friedman, a noted pianist, was offered a year's scholarship under Mr. Friedman for next year. Miss Lyda Gresham, who was an assistant teacher of piano in Simmons College in Abilene last year won in a music contest offered by the Federated clubs of Abilene and later won in the State Federated Club contest, awarding her the summer course under Mr. Friedman in New York. On a program which was presented by Mr. Friedman recently in New York, and on which forty musicians appeared, Miss Gresham was chosen as the one of the number to be awarded a year's scholarship. Miss Gresham is considering the offer and may remain in New York for the winter.—Brownwood Daily Bulletin.

Brown County Fair Dates Set

The Brownwood papers last week carried the announcement stating that the dates for the Brown County Fair had been set for September 29-30 and October 1. Great preparations are being made to make this year's fair the greatest ever held. A County Fair is a wonderful thing for a county to hold.

A cooperator is one who is able to see the other fellow's side of the question as well as his own.

JNO. R. PEARCE WITH-DRAWS FROM RACE

Jno. R. Pearce, candidate for Commissioner of Precinct No. 2, receiving second place in the first primary, requests the Santa Anna News to announce that he is withdrawing from the race and will not leave the running on August 23. This concedes the nomination to Mr. Gilmore, the present Commissioner, and the thing for us to do as citizens is get in behind Mr. Gilmore, back him up, and help him make one of the best Commissioners the county has ever had. An official is a servant of the people, and we believe they strive to serve and are open for opportunities and encouragement.

Don't Miss "Shipwrecked"

For all who like thrilling screen fare, our advice is not to miss seeing "Shipwrecked," a new Metropolitan feature picture featuring Seena Owen and Joseph Schildkraut, which will be shown at the Queen Theatre, Friday, 20. Every scene in this great marine photoplay is worth while. This is especially true of the hurricane scenes aboard a clipper ship which were actually filmed off the coast of California during one of the most severe storms ever known in that locality. The story is interesting, the action dramatic and swift-moving and the general effect decidedly invigorating. The work of the players in the production is unusually clever.

CHANGES MADE IN VOTING PRECINCT

Commissioners Court in session August 10, 1926, moved the voting place from Niwot to the Cleveland school house, and established line between Niwot and Santa Anna voting Precinct as follows: beginning on a subdivision corner, same being T. C. Watson's northwest corner and C. F. Fuller southwest corner and run east on subdivision line to S. M. Russell southeast corner, same being S. M. Polk northeast corner, thence east to Brown county line. Let all interested take notice and vote accordingly. J. S. Gilmore, Commissioner Prec. 2

Hospital Greetings

Since our loved one is gone, and since God in His great loving way has saw fit to take her, we know our loss is Heaven's gain. We thank God for dear Doctor Sealy for using all of his skill to try to help us. He is so kind and tried his best to keep her here, but God said she must go. The Sealy hospital is a place where you will find lots of love. The nurses are so kind and gentle and will use so much kindness in trying to make you feel at home. We learned to love Miss Herring so much for her kindness even until the last, and Drs. Lovelady and Eads were kind and loving. We expect to pray the blessing of God on the Sealy hospital so long as we live for their kindness to our dear wife and mother.

We also thank the dear people at Whon for all of their love and kind words and for their prayers and all other saints and people everywhere. May God's blessings be upon you all in our prayer.

Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. M. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean of Day and Evening Schools, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Lesson for August 15

JETHRO'S WISE COUNSEL

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 18:1-27. GOLDEN TEXT—To every man his work. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jethro Helps Moses. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jethro Gives Moses Good Advice. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jethro's Help. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Organizing for Service.

I. Jethro's Visit to Moses (vv. 1-6). 1. The occasion (v. 1). Upon the receipt of the news of the marvelous deliverance of the Israelites from the Egyptians, Jethro went out to meet Moses. 2. The object (vv. 2-4). It was to bring to Moses his wife and children. When God called him to Egypt to deliver His people Moses did not deem it wise to take his wife and children, therefore left them with his father-in-law. 3. The place (vv. 5, 6). At Mount Sinai where the Israelites were encamped. II. Moses' Reception of Jethro (vv. 7-12). 1. He bowed to him and kissed him (v. 7). Moses not only honored him as his father-in-law, but as a priest of Midian. Jethro, though outside of the covenant people, evidently retained proofs of the true God as Melchisedec before him did. 2. Moses rehearsed to him the wonders which God had wrought through him (v. 8). It is through the testimony of those who have experienced the wonders of God's grace that men come to know the true God. 3. Jethro's response (vv. 9-12). (1) He rejoiced for all the goodness which the Lord had done to Israel whom He had delivered out of the hand of the Egyptians (v. 9). (2) He blessed the Lord (v. 10). He not only praised the Lord for His deliverance of his son-in-law from the Egyptians, but for the deliverance of the people of Israel from their bondage.

(3) He confessed the supremacy of the Lord (v. 11). He said, "Now I know that the Lord is greater than all gods." (4) He offered sacrifices to God (v. 12). We are unable to determine the degree of intelligence of this worship, but he identified out of a sincere heart made this offering. III. The Occasion (vv. 13-18). 1. After Jethro came to Moses he observed how completely Moses' time was taken in judging Israel. When he saw the greatness of the task, he inquired as to why he was doing the work all alone. Moses explained to him that his task was not merely a matter of judging, but of teaching the statutes and laws of God to the people. Jethro recognized Moses' motive, but insisted that his method was not a good one, as it would result in wasting his strength. 2. Jethro's plan (vv. 19-23). (1) Moses was to be unto the people Godward—to bring their causes into God and teach them the ordinances and laws, to show them the way wherein they must walk and the work they must do (vv. 19, 20). (2) Suitable men should be provided as rulers over thousands, hundreds, fifties and tens (v. 21). All great matters should be disposed of by Moses, and all subsidiary matters should be adjusted by these judges. (3) Qualifications of these subordinate judges (v. 23). (a) They were to be "able men," that is, men of strength. They must be men of such intellectual power as to enable them to understand the problems presented, and of such will power as to execute the judgments rendered. (b) "Such as fear God." This is the basis of true strength. (c) "Men of truth." This means men who are able to discern truth, men who love truth, men who tell the truth. (d) "Hating covetousness." These men must be haters of unjust gain. The man who is to be a ruler of the people must be free from the suspicion of following his profession because of personal gain. IV. Moses Accedes to Jethro's Counsel (vv. 24-27). This common-sense advice made a response in Moses' heart. He recognized that God was speaking through Jethro. According to Deut. 1:9-18 the people selected the judges and Moses appointed them. When this work had been done according to Jethro's advice, he took his departure, going into his own land.

Lesson From the Son of God The highest service may be prepared for and done in the humblest surroundings. In silence, in waiting, obscure, unnoticed, in years of uneventful, unrecorded duties, the Son of God grew and waxed strong. Cure for Indolence The only cure for indolence is work; the only cure for selfishness is service; the only cure for inability is to shake off the yoke of doubt by going Christ's bidding.

ORDINANCE NO. 76

OUR CHILDREN

(By John H. Kirby)

The children of America are the choicest possession of our great country in so far as any creature in being can be called a possession. We think of them only in terms of lilac bloom or tinted skies or water softly trickling where wild ferns grow.

They are the dancing sunbeams of the morning; the cheering environments of eventide. Their laughter thrums our heart strings and their gladness joy-shouts fill our souls with peace and contentment. In their eyes we find the light of "innocence" and love; in their cheeks the blush of the dawn.

If it were not for children we would live in a deserted garden. Without them Hope would lose the radiant lilies which beautify it and Faith would die. Their chubby hands hold every key to the kingdom of Tomorrow. Their smiles steal into the secret chambers of the soul like gentle zephyrs which enter an open window and all the shadows disappear.

The nation reposes upon their beautiful little lives. Out of their hearts the America that is to be will come with all the intelligence and all the courage and all the character that our America is to have.

Without these children with flying curls of brown and gold, who kiss their way into our hearts, the capital of the nation would crumble into a pile of rocks; the proud ships of our navy would rot and sink and Old Glory become but a tattered emblem of a lost heritage.

They are our only pledge of greatness and security. What they are the nation will be. In their hearts sleep unborn achievements. In their purpose rests the destiny of the world.

Our Government will not rise above the resolves of these children when they quit the acaedia of dreams to grasp the essential problems of life.

It is only through them that America may live to bless the world. They must hold high our flag or it will trail the dust. They must give to the coming years the great faith of a great people or the way will be lost.

In this hour sordid and selfish and unwise persons would have the Federal Government enter the home and substitute for the affection and solicitude of doing fathers and mothers, a cold official hand and a calculating heart. The proposed 20th Amendment to the Federal Constitution will have that effect. God forbid that it should ever be a part of the organic law of this land.

The best of men are generally men at their best.

HOME OWNERSHIP

Ever since the advent of the automobile the humorists in the newspapers and periodicals have been coming jokes about how the people who have homes do not stay in them any more. And the great boom in apartment houses in the largest cities has added to the belief that the individual home is becoming passe.

Doubtless this condition has been exaggerated, but if it is true that the people as a whole do not care so much about their homes as they used, there is more reason than ever to encourage the "own your own home movement." Every enterprising city likes to pride itself on the fact that it is a city of homeowners, whether it really does and enjoy that distinction or not. And there is a reason for this.

As a general thing the home-owner is a pretty good citizen. And he is more apt to stay in his home than the fellow who only rents parking space in an apartment. This is not saying that the apartment is undesirable. It doubtless fills a necessary place in our city life, but the individual home is still the ideal to be strived for.

The home owner is not apt to become a bolshevist. He feels that he has a little property right in his own city and country, and if he is ambitious, as most home owners are, he wants to increase that property right. He is a taxpayer. He is interested in the improvements in his home city and is very apt to be a very useful citizen in general. Of course the man who rents may be just as good and useful a citizen as the man who owns his home but this is not gainsaying the fact that the home owner has it on the renter in more ways than one.

A city or town therefore cannot do itself or its citizenry any greater good than in encouraging in every way it can the "own your own home movement." It will not do to say that the people do not stay in their homes after they have acquired one, because this is not true. The latest inventions of science, including the radio, to say nothing of the electrical conveniences of which every housewife knows the value, have checked the "away from home" movement, and it is quite possible that there will be a general movement in the other direction, namely—back home.

Why not do what we can therefore, through our banks and our civic organizations, to encourage this home ownership idea? Some would-be home owners are deterred by lack of proper financing, a condition which can usually be remedied. And there are others who are waiting for the cost of building material and labor to come down. But we are not going back to the pre-war standard of prices very soon, and building costs are more apt to go up than to come down. Therefore the time to begin to own

FLYING THINGS

We have a habit of saying that times flies. Literally it does not. But man has come to be quite a flier. There are people who believe that airplanes will some day be as thick as automobiles. Stranger things have happened.

Fifty-seven years ago Heart and Home, a magazine, said, in the course of comment about balloons being shown on a New York stage: "There may be children now living who may yet see balloons up for freights and passages, moved by cords precisely as they were on the occasion referred to. Even at this moment an impression exists that regular trips will pretty soon be made in balloons from Dover to Calais across the British Channel. If it can be accomplished there, a trip can be made just as easily from New York to San Francisco. All that seems wanting now is the discovery of a method of steering them."

Henry Ford displayed on July 30, his sixty-third birthday, to newspapermen for the first time an experimental fabric monoplane of 20-foot wing spread which he indicated might be the forerunner of the long-awaited "flier" of the air.

The diminutive one-seated plane has already attained the speed of one hundred miles an hour in practice flights. It is propelled by a three-cylinder engine of between 25 and 30 horsepower.

Twenty-three years ago an automobile was a luxury. Only a few had a vision of the future as this automobile genius. No one dares predict what the next quarter of a century has in store for mankind in the realm of flying.

Most folks steer clear of cheerful persons because sooner or later they try to sell them something.

Testimony With a "Kick"

Judge Jones, of Seattle, in announcing his plans for conducting a murder trial, said that when the evidence got "smeary" he would order all spectators from the court room.

It has always been more or less of a wonder why people loiter about a trial in which they have no direct concern just to hear a bit of scandal or see someone suffer mentally. It is hard enough for a witness to go thru the ordeal of testifying without being stared at by a group of non-essentials. With the formation of the basic rule of law and practice that trials shall be public, there was never any intention that this fundamental right should be open to morbid curiosity.

GOSPEL TRUTH

Something is always happening in a town that makes it hard for a newspaper to do the best for the interest of the whole community. It is the duty of a newspaper to use its influence to keep down contention and strife. But it is no more the duty of a newspaper than it is the duty of all good citizens.

Controversies arise over the most insignificant matters, which of themselves do not amount to anything, but fanned into a flame, they divide the community and often are far reaching and long lasting in their effect.

It is then that sensible people should use their best influence to iron out the trouble, and not to carry it to the bitter end. There should be people big enough and manly enough to see the folly of such things and, in the interest of the town, use their intelligence to settle such controversies in a fair and friendly manner.

No sane or sensible person wants to stir up contention in a town, would rather give in, overlook and submit to arbitration, peaceable settlement of any and all matters of community affairs, rather than try to force their own ideas upon others, even though they feel that they are absolutely right.

When little things come up that seem to deadlock everything, the best thing to do for all parties concerned, is to give in; meet the other fellow halfway, and sometimes go a little farther than halfway if necessary.

"Phantom Bullet" Good Picture

"The Phantom Bullet," the Universal-Jewel, which will be shown at the Queen Theatre Saturday, is the peer of Western pictures. It is well directed, has plot and good characterizations, beautiful photography and is headed by "Foot" Gibson, greatest Western star in motion pictures. The hero, Tom Farlane, played by Gibson, seeks the slayer of his father. In order to allay suspicion he masquerades as a gentle, ladylike city chap. His apparent innocence and unworldliness lull the unsuspecting villains and after a series of extraordinary adventures, the climax is reached.

With plenty of shade, territory for hiking, a large concrete swimming pool, and big eats, there is no doubt but what the boys will have the time of their lives who attend the camp.

A Message to Mother and Dad

The aim of the Chisholm Trail Scout Camp is to fit the boy, by intensive training and healthful recreation, to develop within himself the elements of self-reliance, resourcefulness, punctuality, cleanliness and discipline with all the other qualities necessary to the best type of boyhood.

The camp will be located near Buffalo Gap with good tested drinking water and a fine concrete swimming pool (owned by the Presbyterian Encampment). In case of necessity you will be able to get in touch with the local phone office at Buffalo Gap. There will be no swimming outside of regular swimming periods. The Buddy System will be used. Red Cross life savers will be on the job, several first aid men and a doctor will be in reach if necessary.

Plenty of good wholesome food will be prepared by professional cooks. Inspection will be held every morning and evening in regard to the welfare of the boy.

Talk it over with the boy and decide if its worth while for him to receive this kind of training.

Sunday will be visitor's day—will be very glad to have you come, but will be unable to serve lunch not knowing how many to prepare for.

What will be required for each boy to bring:

- 1 Folding cot, 2 blankets (sheets and pillow if you want to), Bathing suit, tooth brush and paste, 2 towels, cake of soap, tin plate, cup, knife, fork, and spoon, 2 changes of clothing, uniform (desired but not required).

Some of the things we will do: Swimming, all kinds of water games, nature study hikes, sham battles, camp fire program, Scout craft of different kinds, contests, big field day.

Any registered Scout is eligible to attend the Camp who sends in his registration to Box 375, Abilene, Texas, by August 16th. Registration fee $2.00, $5.00 when entering camp.

CIVIC NEATNESS

If you go to some places where a public event is occurring in the open air you see no sign of disorder. At a band concert in a park or open space in such towns for instance, you will note that few if any of the people have dropped loose paper or refuse around on the grass.

And yet in many places after such an event it would take cleaners several hours to pick up the litter the people have heedlessly thrown around.

Such a contrast shows how much more spirit of neatness some people have, and how there are many who seem to have no idea of their obligation to help care for their public places. After seeing the rubbish that people will leave around in many places it does seem as if the human animal was a good deal of a pig in many cases.

It is said that there are 23 ways of pronouncing Los Angeles, (which includes Hollywood in its official environs) and all of them are wrong. Here is the 29th, which is correct: "Law, single us." Law, as in court; single, as in youth; us, as in matrimony.

The total number of church members of all denominations in the United States is 47,000,000, which would make quite a salvation army if they all worked together.
