Improvements of Right Kind Being Made in Santa Anna

But few towns in central west Texas are keeping pace with Santa Anna, in the way of making substantial improvements. Have you stopped to think lately just what has been and is being done in this little mountain side city? Five good buildings in the shield block been repaired, and made good as new. A twenty-room unit added to the Sealy hospital and the original unit repaired, and now Dr. T. M. Hays is having the old framed structure torn down just west of the Corner Drug Company building and is going to build a real nice, modern store building on the lot. These are just a few of the splendid improvements of recent additions to our town, and we hope to be able to announce the beginning of a real high school building in the very near future.

Several good homes have been built and modernized during the past few months, but we cannot list them here. It is gratifying to see the good work gradually being done. It is our understanding, the tax renditions have increased more than one hundred thousand dollars the past five years, which represents less than fifty per cent of the actual increase in property values. A real high school building will help to bring about more good improvements in the future. Let's have the school building next.

Green Family Reunion

Sunday, June 27, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Green of Coleman had for their guests all of their children and their families. This was the first time the children had all met in a reunion in six years. The day was greatly enjoyed by all. There were four daughters and two sons present, namely: Misses P. M. Hickman and Will Hall of this city, Mrs. L. M. Scroggins of Abilene, Mrs. W. M. McCulloch of Coleman, Joe Green of Putman and George Green of Paris.

Fats vs. Leans Tuesday Was Close Game

The annual Fat and Lean baseball game was played in the local park Tuesday, and was among the best games of the season. The fats won, as usual, but the score was a little close, 10 to 11. Rev. Sidney F. Martin proved himself to be not only a good preacher, but a real ball player, and Evangelist Frank Morris proved himself to be not only a good preacher, but a real umpire. Several good plays were made and, some say, there were a few errors. The editor was not looking for errors, so we kept no record of them. The gate receipts were satisfactory, but we have not been notified of the exact sum.

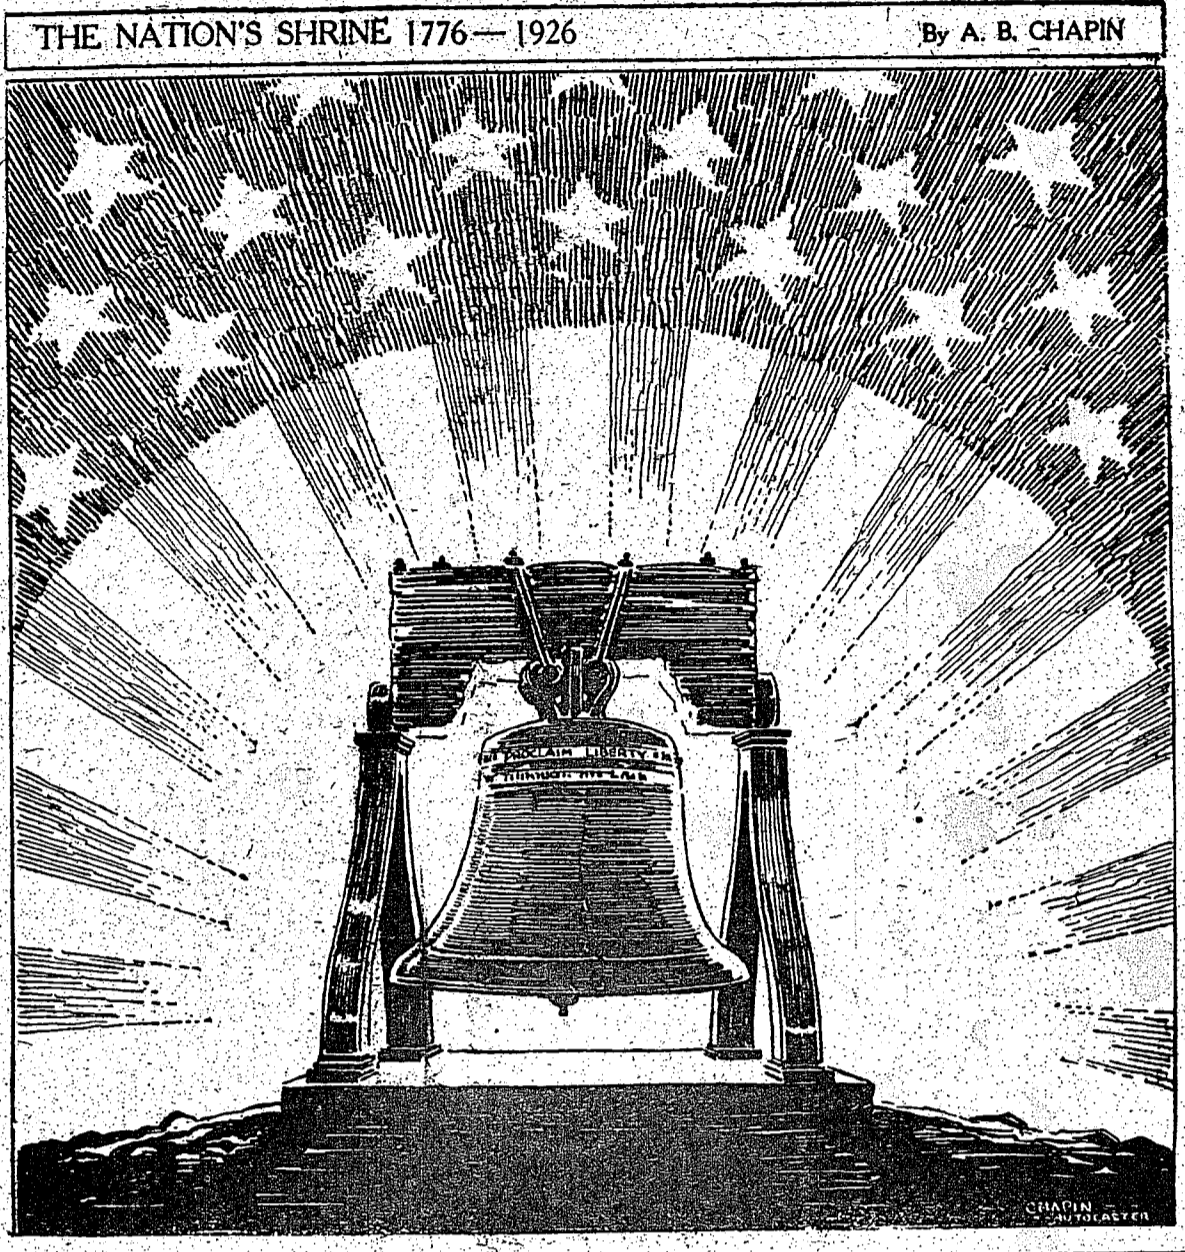

SANTA FE OFFICIALS VISIT SANTA ANNA WEDNESDAY

Wednesday morning of this week, W. E. Maxson, general manager, Galveston, K. S. Hull, superintendent, Temple, J. S. Purdy, division freight agent, Temple, and O. Nelson, traveling passenger agent, Houston, officials of the Santa Fe system, made a brief stop in the Mountain City and paid short visits to several of the business houses. The party paid a nice tribute to Santa Anna.

Miss Ethel Whetstone has returned from Houston where she recently took a stenographic course, and has accepted a position as stenographer at the State National Bank. It is our understanding, Miss Ethel Bowers goes to the Texas Mercantile Co.

Plenty of drinking water will be provided for the crowd.

ABILENE MAN, COLEMAN GIRL ARE VICTIMS

Abilene, June 25.—Evelyn Cate, 18, of Coleman, student at a business college here and G. T. Yarbrough, 49, Abilene carpenter, were drowned late Thursday in Lytle Creek, in the Eastern outskirts of this city.

Ruby Yarbrough, daughter of the drowned man and only witness to the tragedy, stated that Miss Cate was stunned by striking a rock when she slipped into the water. Yarbrough came to her aid and was bringing the girl from the water when his daughter ran for help. She met a man after going about 50 yards and when they reached the creek neither of the victims was in sight. The girl's body was recovered immediately but an attempt to revive her was futile. The man's body was not recovered for several minutes.

The drownings were the fourth here within a week.

ITEMS FROM OLD PAPERS CONFUSING

Here of late we have been publishing a few items culled from copies of the Santa Anna News, published 20 years ago, with comments and notations, calling attention to their dates. To some, these items seem to be confusing, while from others we have heard considerable comments. Permit us to urge that, if you find something in the paper that sounds unreasonable, that you accept it as being one of the items culled from a former issue.

Miss Sattie Bowers spent the week-end with home folks. She came home for the family reunion in her father's home. Santa Anna should be proud of Miss Bowers as she now holds the position of biologist in the Scott & White hospital in Temple.

Rev. Broxton and wife of Rockwood have been attending the Morris meeting this week.

SANTA ANNA'S FIRST EDITOR PAYS TOWN VISIT WEDNESDAY

Judge C. D. Spann, County Attorney of Rankin County, accompanied by Mrs. Spann, made a brief stop in the city Wednesday, enroute home from eastern points. Judge Spann came to Santa Anna with the Santa Fe railroad, and established the first newspaper here, beginning the publication January 1, 1886. The Judge says he always feels kindly toward Santa Anna for several reasons. Coming here from Greenville, Okla., at the age of 17 years, settled here in a pioneer town, married, endured two years drought, 1886-87, weathered the gale and saw the country merge triumphantly and grow into prosperity. In the language of the former editor: "It's a great country."

T. M. Griffis, an old Confederate Soldier, and an old settler of Coleman, passed away Monday, and was buried in Coleman cemetery Tuesday. Those attending the funeral from Santa Anna were John Pearce and family; Frank Pearce and wife, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Teagle and Mrs. S. L. Weaver.

Methodist Revival is Still in Progress; Baptist Begins Sunday

Several times we have called the attention of our readers to revival meetings approaching and while being in progress, and we still take pleasure in doing so. At this time we call attention to the meeting in progress at the Methodist church conducted by Judge Frank Morris and his evangelistic party, which is now in its third week, and we have not been advised when it is expected to close.

Baptist Meeting Begins Sunday

A two weeks revival will begin at the Baptist church next Sunday, with Rev. R. H. Whatley leading. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trussell will have charge of the song and devotional services. Pastor Lancaster of Coleman, preached a fine prelude revival sermon last Sunday, "Be Ye Ready."

Much preparation has been made. There has been cottage prayer meeting for two weeks, and other services have been held planning for the meeting. Rev. Whatley is the Bible Evangelist. He preaches God's word with great power. Joe Trussell needs no introduction to the people of Santa Anna, and Coleman county. Mr. Trussell has few equals when it comes to leading the choir and singing solos. He is to have with him his wife at the piano. Mrs. Trussell is one of the best pianists in this part of the state. Every Christian in town has a special invitation to hear these messengers of God's word.

BARRING BUTTE 1924 VOTERS IS UPHELD

Uvalde, June 29.—Judge L. J. Brucks in Thirty-eighth District Court today refused to enjoin the Uvalde County Democratic Executive Committee from requiring a pledge of faith from voters in the coming July 24 primary election.

Dolph Briscoe, who filed petition for injunction, alleged that this required pledge would have the effect of barring from the primary himself and other Democrats who voted in the 1924 election for George C. Butte, Republican nominee for Governor.

Judge Brucks denied the injunction on the ground that the question involved was purely a political one.

PICNIC AND RODEO AT COLEMAN FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

A two-days picnic and rodeo is staged for Coleman Friday and Saturday of this week. Hackberry Slim is in charge of the feature parts of the gathering, and states he is prepared to give the best performances of the season. All lovers of the picnic sport will find entertainment at Coleman during these two days.

There will be no charges at the gate.

Courage of Convictions

They of 1776 had it—the courage of their convictions.

We of 1926 also have it—should duty call. So we are true to our trust—of National Freedom. But how about your individual Independence? A nation is no more prosperous than its people. Individual Independence is the fruit of hard work and systematic savings—for most of us.

WHERE THEY DO NOT HAVE THE DEATH PENALTY

How the civilized nations of the world have dealt with the vexed problem of capital punishment is set forth in the summary of a report published by the National Prison Reform Association. The chief purpose of this association is to abolish the death penalty. European countries that no longer demand "a life for a life" according to the record are as follows: Portugal in 1846; Holland in 1870; Italy in 1888; Norway in 1902; Russia in 1903; Austria in 1918; Sweden in 1921; Rumania and Switzerland (15 cantons) have abolished, 7 still retain capital punishment.) In the following countries capital punishment is still on statutes but not in force: Finland: No executions for 92 years, between 1829 and 1918; Denmark no executions for 83 years, since 1893; Belgium: no executions for 30 years. Several of the European countries retain the death penalty for attack on the sovereign and treason. Other countries which have abolished capital punishment are: South America: Brazil, Venezuela and Argentina have abolished capital punishment; Central America: Costa Rica, Columbia and Honduras have abolished capital punishment and in Mexico, three States, Campecho, Yucatan and Pueblo, have abolished capital punishment. In the United States the following states have abolished capital punishment: Michigan in 1847; Rhode Island in 1852; Wisconsin in 1853; Kansas in 1872; Maine in 1887; Minnesota in 1911, North Dakota in 1915 and South Dakota in 1915. The above is just a news item and does not have endorsement. The Bridge Club Mrs. A. R. Brown was hostess to the Bridge Club on Friday afternoon. House decorations were pot plants and ferns. There were four tables of players and several interesting games were participated in. Later a salad and ice course was served to the guests. Visitors present were Mesdames Leon Shield, J. O. Martin, McGrudder, Skelton, Leon Shield and Miss Young of Coleman, and Mrs. Gibber of Cross Plains. What has become of the old-fashioned youth who took his girl buggy riding Sunday afternoon and got back in time for church that night?

U. D. C. Chapter Entertained

Mrs. S. H. Phillips was hostess to the U. D. C. Chapter on Friday afternoon. After roll call a business session was held and it was decided that the Chapter would ask for ten percent of gate receipts of all amusements held at the tabernacle, outside of the public school, be paid to them and a committee composed of Mesdames A. U. Weaver, L. W. Hunter and J. R. Banister was appointed to confer with trustees of the tabernacle about this matter. Five new members were received into the chapter. Then a very interesting program on the American Colonization of Texas was carried out. Later delicious refreshments of apricot ice, angel food and devil's food cake were served to the guests. Plate favors were nasturtiums. This was one of the most enjoyable meetings held this year. Mrs. Phillips with her charming personality always makes an ideal hostess. It looks good to see the college boys and girls back home for their summer vacations. They add life and color to the town. Keep sweet. There's sugar even in a lemon, but you've got to analyze it to bring it out.

A Slumber Party

Mary Harriett Simpson entertained with a slumber party for her girl friends on last Wednesday night. The guests were first chaperoned to the picture show by Misses Hallie Simpson and Eudora Garrett. After the show delicious refreshments of cream and cake were served to the following guests: Queenie and Eric Gregg, Mildred June Bond, Viola Creamer, Eileen Barnes, Hettie Faye Todd, Ruth Kearfoot, Mary Harriett Simpson and Era Ghormley of Rising Star. The young people enjoyed and appreciated this party very much. Junior B. Y. P. U. Subject--Because We Love America. John--Buell Jene Martin. James--James Polk. Columbia--Mary Smart. CAREERS FOR YOUNGSTERS

Years ago fond parents devoted winter evenings to deciding the futures of their numerous offspring. Johnny was to be a teacher. Mary would be a trained nurse. Willie would be tutored in the ministry, and perhaps a fourth progeny would be placed in business or kept on the farm. And in the day time the school instructors of Johnny, Mary, Willie and so on believed they had fulfilled their duty if they prepared them for graduation. Few teachers realized that theirs was an exceptional opportunity to help young men and women to pick their life's work on the basis of their individual qualifications and peculiar abilities. All is different in the educational system of today. Vocational guidance is an established science. The public schools and the institutions of higher learning now strive to fit the curriculum to the student, not the student to the course of study. The student at the same time is directed into a life's work for which he is especially suited. Many men and women now failures in life might have been preeminent in their professions or trades had an ounce of direction been exerted in their youth to the selection of a career. A boy with an aptitude for mechanics and the engineering branches should not be forced into a legal or literary career because a parent or an instructor is partial to those latter occupations, yet countless have been and many will be in the future. There is a "destiny which shapes our ends" if it is the power which attracts the individual to that thing in life for which it is most fitted by nature.

ON BEING SATISFIED

Everyone has acquaintances who are never satisfied. In fact, you may belong to this class. Put them in an ideal community where everything that man's genius has devised, is provided, and still they would look upon it in a deprecating sort of way and criticize some fancied fault. They would never lose opportunity to say that if they could go some place else, they would do so but merely remain because they are earning a living there, or other conditions prevent their leaving. No further description is necessary. The type is familiar to all because everyone has some friends who are never satisfied with anything that happens. Contrast this class of people with that represented by the man or woman who, if placed in any old common-place town, would learn to like it, would soon find its good qualities and would hold the community high in their affections. Their loyalty would be a thing apart. They would feel such deep attachment to the community where these ties existed, that they would not change their environment for anything that might be offered them. There are many such people in Santa Anna. To them the community may be rightfully indebted for the progress that it has made. The people who live here because they have to are not an asset, but those who live here because they like to are invaluable. Most every person has a letter they intend to write when they have plenty of time. The greatest jokes are not always on the Fords; they're in them.

MEXICAN IS KILLED; TWO ARE WOUNDED

Pete Ornelas was killed and Juan Samara and Penanio Gutierrez, all Mexicans, were seriously wounded in a gun fight at Bangs, Saturday night. The shooting affray took place at the home of another Mexican, in a rented house, belonging to Harry Livingston, at which a dance was being held.

Elias Luna, also a Mexican, is held in the County jail here, charged with being the slayer of Ornelas, who told his brother and others just before his death several minutes after he was shot, that Luna was the assailant.

The county officers were called to Bangs on the night of the shooting to investigate the affair.

The wounded Mexicans are in a local hospital where they were rushed for medical attention just after the shooting.—Brownwood Bulletin.

"The Golden Cocoon"

The dramatic story of a woman's devotion and sacrifice for the man she loves is the theme of "The Golden Cocoon," the Warner Bros. Classic of the screen, which will meet with enthusiastic response from the audience of the Queen Theatre, Saturday, with Helene Chadwick and Huntly Gordon in the leading roles. Under the capable direction of Millard Webb, Ruth Cross' popular novel gains popularity in screen form, and it is a production with wide appeal.

Hay Ride

Tuesday evening after church services the young people of the Methodist church piled on trucks loaded with hay and motored to Coleman. They returned to the home of Dr. T. Richard Sealy where they enjoyed sandwiches and soda pop. At a late hour they all departed for their homes after saying they had had a fine time. Judge and Mrs. Frank Morris chaperoned the party.

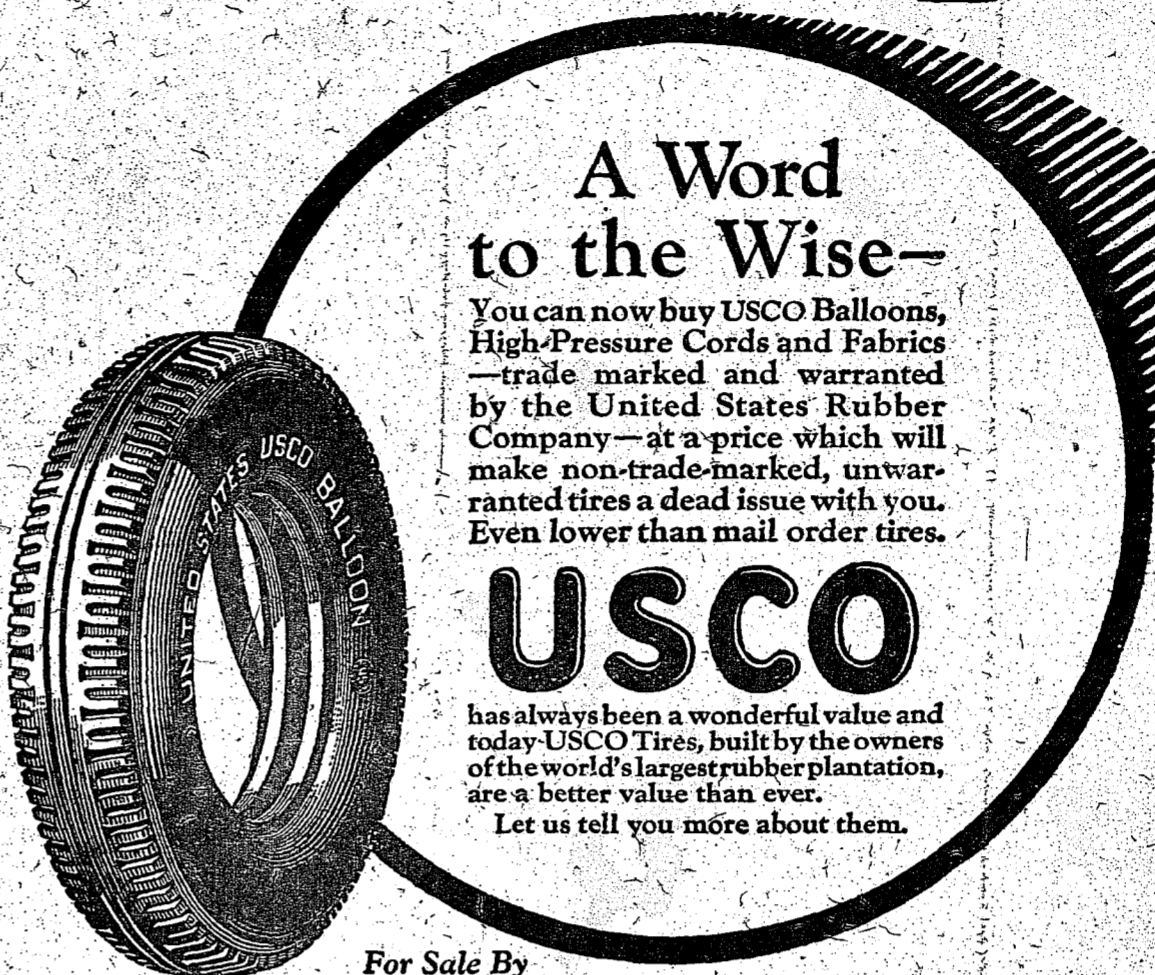

RELATIVE GROWTH OF THE TELEPHONE IN U. S.

An interesting comparison between population and numbers of telephones in the United States is shown by the fact that in 1880 there was one telephone to every 1,064 inhabitants; in 1890, one to every 280 persons; in 1900, one telephone to every 57 persons; in 1905, one to every 21 persons; in 1910, one to every 12 persons; in 1915, one to every ten persons, and today, one to every 7 persons. Even at the present time telephones are growing much faster in the United States than is the population. The population of the country is now increasing at the rate of one and one-quarter per cent a year, while telephones are growing at the rate of about 5 1-2 per cent a year.

ELECTION NOTICE

It has been the custom in Coleman county in the past, in some instances, to permit voters residing in a given District, but inaccessible to their voting box, to vote at the place most convenient to them.

This question was considered by the Executive Committee at its meeting on June 21, 1926, and it was ordered that every voter should vote in the District in which he lives and the location of his dwelling will control.

This rule will be strictly adhered to in the coming election and all Election Judges and Clerks will please govern themselves accordingly.

Pipe Organ for Canyon

Canyon, Randall Co., Texas, June 20.—Canyon soon will have its first church pipe organ. C. R. Burrow has given a fine organ for the Presbyterian church, now nearing completion.

The above item appeared in the Dallas News of recent date, and the C. R. Burrow mentioned as the donor, is a son of our fellow townsman, Rev. J. W. Burrow, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Rev. Burrow is proud of his son, and why not?

"Cohens and Kellys" A Patriotic Drama Riddled With Mirth

If life was made for laughter, whoever attends the Queen Theatre while "The Cohens and Kellys," the Universal-Jewel, is the feature, will live a complete life during the run of the picture. "The Cohens and Kellys" is life jammed with wholesome human touches of pathos and comedy. It is a beautiful painting from the delicate brush of the great artist, Harry Pollard, the director who put Reginald Denham on the road to success. It is not a farce comedy, but it is drama of the relations between the Irishman and the Jew told with an eye always on the comic possibilities of the tale.

When you hear him talking about being too generous for his own good, get it down that he's the stingiest man in town.

Barlett-Rogers

A quiet wedding took place last Wednesday evening at the Methodist parsonage when G. F. Barlett and Mrs. Georgia Rogers presented themselves with the proper credentials to Pastor Bowman and requested him to officially unite them in marriage.

Mr. Barlett is one of our prominent oil men, and is too well known to need any introduction through these columns. Mrs. Rogers' home was in Liberty, in the State of Missouri, and she comes well recommended for her several good qualities. Both parties are good citizens and we predict for them a pleasant and profitable future. The News joins in extending best wishes.

Christian Aid Society

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Church met with Mrs. S. W. Childers Monday afternoon. Mrs. Cecil Walker arranged a good program. Miss Annetta Tyson read the 12th chapter of 1st Corinthians. Mrs. J. R. Gipson gave a book review of Genesis. Miss Inez Marshall rendered excellent piano music, and Mrs. Clara Gipson sang an appropriate solo. Mrs. E. E. Polk of Abilene, Mrs. Wallace Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Ed Baxter read interesting pieces. The hostess served appetizing refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, iced tea, potato chips and cake. There were 18 present including Mrs. J. M. Childers, Mrs. Jim Robin and Mrs. E. E. Polk as visitors. All were glad to see the hostess looking so well after her recent "vacation" in the hospital.

Many Real Apaches Act in Goulding's "Paris"

Although French was the prevailing language during the production of "Paris," Edmund Goulding's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production which will be shown at the Queen Monday and Tuesday, the principals didn't speak the gallic language. Almost every extra in the Apache cafe scenes was French, while Charles Ray and Joan Crawford played the principal roles, with Douglas Gilmore as the second male lead. Mme. Rose Dione, of course, is French. The new picture is a vivid drama of the Paris underworld, in which Ray as an American tourist is enmeshed in a strange plot.

Methodist Missionary Society

Mesdames D. J. and George Johnson entertained the Missionary Society on Monday afternoon. The house was very artistically decorated throughout with shasta daisies and ferns. Mrs. Smoot of Comanche, one of the District officers of the Brownwood district, was present and gave an interesting talk on her work. Mrs. Frank Morris gave two readings which were very much appreciated. The usual program which was on the moving picture show was well discussed, Mrs. Haney Voss leading the discussion.

Misses Ozella McKissack, Lily Davis, Ethelene Herring, Vera Mae Banks, Opal Tomilson, Naomi Biggs, Ethel Jones and Mrs. Minnie Latham enjoyed an outing on the mountain Friday evening. After a splendid supper they all departed for their homes.

Lesson for July 4

ISRAEL ENSLAVED IN EGYPT.

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 1:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord will not cast off His people.—Ps. 94:14.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Wicked King Is Cruel to God's People.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Israelites Become Slaves.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Israel Oppressed by a Despotic King.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Modern Forms of Oppression.

I. The Increase of the Chosen Seed (vv. 1-7).
This miraculous increase seems only to have begun after the death of Joseph and the passing of his generation. After this Israel quickly grew into a nation. This amazing increase "is expressed as is usual in Hebrew by a climax of verbs: where fruitful is taken from the vegetable world in which the increase varies from the multiple to several hundred fold; increased (spawned)—swarmed) is borrowed from the fany tribes in which the rate of increase rises to many myriads; multiply is a general word referring to number; and waxed exceedingly mighty is a similar phrase alluding to the strength which numbers confer, composed of verb and adverb repeated and therefore well adapted to complete the climax."—Muppy. This increase can only be accounted for by admitting the hand of the Almighty to be in it.

II. A New Dynasty Appears (vv. 8-10).
Joseph's elevation as prime minister in Egypt was during the reign of the Hyksos kings. Being of Semitic origin, they were not hostile to the Hebrews, but when "there arose up a new king which knew not Joseph" (v. 8) their troubles began. This affords a striking illustration of God's providence in history. His purposes include the means to carry them out. The amazing growth of the Israelites excited the envy and fear of the king (vv. 9-10). Fear was twofold—

1. In case of war they might join the enemy and fight against them.
2. Lest they should remove from the land, thus cutting off a vital source of revenue and also exposing to danger the eastern border of the land.
III. Measures to Check the Growth of Israel (vv. 11-22).
These measures with their outcome expose the folly of world wisdom (I Cor. 3:19). If they could have annihilated God from the affairs of men their policy would have been a good one, but it proved to be altogether vanity. The greatest mistake a man can ever make is to leave God out of his calculations. God had promised that His people should become mighty in power as well as great in numbers.

1. Placed under cruel taskmasters (vv. 11-14).
The first measure he adopted was to put Israel into cruel bondage by afflicting them with heavy burdens. Cruel taskmasters were placed over them, who forced them to labor in building treasure cities and all manner of service in the field. They exacted of them hard service, but this measure was ineffectual for "the more they afflicted them the more they multiplied and grew." This rapid growth resulted in more intense burdens being heaped upon them. The Egyptians meant this for evil to the Israelites, but God blessed it to their good. It was part of His plan for them (Gen. 15:13, 14). Indeed, the righteous may expect such treatment of the world (II Tim. 1:12; Heb. 12:6). Prosperity and adversity constitute God's teaching and discipline. While their burdens were heavy and their sufferings very intense, they had the consolation that it would not last forever. The presence of Joseph's dead body was a guaranty that they would one day be delivered. Though the Christian's burden may be heavy and his sufferings keen, he has the guaranty that they shall not last always.

2. The authorized murder of the male infants by the midwives (vv. 15-21).
This measure also miscarried as the midwives feared God and chose to obey Him. Because they refused to destroy God's people He gave them homes and children and the joys thereof.
3. The drowning of the male children in the river (v. 22).
The king having heretofore been baffled, he now gave the heartless command to cast the male infants into the river. This mandate seems to have been given shortly before Moses was born. This plan likewise failed, and the very child who ultimately upset Pharaoh's throne, was sheltered and nurtured in his own palace.

The Values That Abide
We acquire, discard and cherish; and the things that we retain are those which can endure the light of the presence of God. And these are the things which are eternal.—Isaac Edwards, sen.

Studying the Bible
We have been studying the Bible in the light of modern scholarship. The line has come for us to study modern scholarship in the light of the Bible.—A. C. Dixon.

REPEATING WHAT IS SOUND

Since newspapers have been established, since towns and cities have been built, since commerce has unfurled its sails on the high seas and turned its wheels upon the land, the idea of community loyalty has been kept before the people in changing phrases. The trade-at-home idea has been exploited for all that it is worth. And it is worth a lot because what it expresses is economically sound. Being sound it has lived and thrived. It is good business for "any community" to encourage local business. It is the community asserting itself for every citizen within its boundaries and trading zone.

No merchant, newspaper or civic body desires to impose upon the people of the community any impractical program or scheme of development. But the mathematical certainty of a trade-at-home campaign to foster community thrift and enhance the wealth and stability of the home town is the assurance of a right motive.
Remember this: the eagle on the dollar is symbolic that the dollar is capable of flying away. A domesticated fowl is the one that stays at home. Let's keep our dollars domesticated as much as possible by keeping them at home.

Organization and Progress

Organization can be either a benefit or a detriment. There is such a thing as "over-organization" afflicting a community. But in this day and age the projects that have the greatest chance of realization are supported by organized efforts. The Government itself is a result of organization. In fact there could be no schools, no churches, no cities, without some kind of organization. Even home life is a by-product.

The great danger in organization is that of stifling individuality and preventing democracy of thought. An organization maintains its highest ideal when, instead of using its power to crush the right of private opinion, it enables private opinion to be asserted and multiplied and affords a means thru which individual ideas can be put into action. An organization that does not and will not preserve and give freedom to this democracy of thought does not deserve to function and eventually will die of its own cumbersome weight.

"Friendly Santa Anna"

There have been slogans and more slogans adopted by cities and towns all over the country. Some of them have been catchy and well phrased; others unmusical, untrue, and next to impossible. However, there is one slogan that Santa Anna can approve with the assurance that it carries a goodly measure of truth. That slogan is "Friendly Santa Anna."
It seems to us that, with all the wealth and material resources a community might possess there is nothing to compare with pure and genuine friendliness. Real friendship is not feigned. There is no studied or stereotyped courtesy in true affection; it comes naturally and pleasantly; and its never-ending stream carries the life-giving elements that make for happiness and contentment.

The friendly town is the home town, where the neighborly spirit exists. And despite our local ups and downs we cling to the belief that Santa Anna is one of the friendly places of earth.

KNOW TEXAS

The fifty thousandth telephone has recently been installed in Houston. The only plant in the world that produced helium gas in quantities, is in Texas. Texas public utility power plants use more natural gas for fuel than those of any other state. Texas produces more mohair than any other state and a large percentage of the country's wool. Two giant power plants using powdered Texas lignite for fuel will soon be in operation in Texas. Texas has lignite enough to supply the states; fuel feeds far into the future.

Takes the Place of "Drastic" Calomel

Never take another dose of the old style "raw" calomel. There is a newer and more improved kind known as Pepsinated Calomel. It does not tear through your system like a streak of lightning. People who are ill or suffering with biliousness, constipation, indigestion, and especially with backache, headache and torpid liver can secure immediate and complete relief with this new mild Calomel. Hereafter when you buy calomel, always demand the "pep-sinated" kind. It is better for you, for it is purer, milder and more beneficial to your entire system. In 25c and 50c packages. For sale by

Millions For the Public Welfare

When a man makes money in legitimate business he necessarily renders service according to the accepted standards of financial success. When he shares his profits by charitable acts and thru philanthropic institutions he has rendered a double service.
To the long list of wealthy benefactors is added the name of Sebastian S. Kresge, who has announced a donation in the staggering sum $23,000,000 to be used in research and social service.

There are those who discredit benefactions sponsored by great wealth. But so long as the system of private capital remains there will be multi-millionaires; and the people may as well get some of their money back thru the donation route.

Austin, Texas, June 21.—A total of 2,604 students registered for the first term of the University of Texas summer school. Of this number 481 registered in the Graduate School as compared with 388 last year. It is expected that 600 individual students will enroll in the Graduate School during both terms of the summer school, according to Dr. Frederick Eby, director of the summer session.

You can't teach an old dog new tricks unless you are smarter than the dog.

JAYWALKING

Statistics compiled by public safety experts in the larger centers of population in the United States show that during the past year approximately fifty percent of the juvenile vehicular deaths were caused by jay walking. It is to be assumed that the remaining fifty percent of these deaths were from causes beyond the control of the children. With this fact in mind it is apparent that this death rate could be cut in half if a successful educational campaign were carried out among the juvenile population. Eliminate jay walking as a childish habit, and it is apparent that the total of this habit would be greatly decreased.

BABSON'S ADVICE

In a letter to "the sons and daughters of my clients," Roger Babson, the well-known business authority writes: "The fun of life is in growing rather than possessing. Every successful man will tell you this. We really enjoy only the things which we ourselves make or earn."
"When you get married be content to start in a humble way, as your parents did. Don't try to start where your parents now are.

"Honesty is not only the best policy but it is the foundation of civilization."
"The time to save money is when you are making it."
"Keep out of debt. Be generous in giving; but avoid accommodation loans, and never endorse."
"Boost the other fellow and he will boost you, as we are usually repaid with our own coin—and judge not."
"Don't try to buck either the Ten Commandments or the Multiplication Table."

More than 1,000 cities laid concrete streets in 1925

Mayor Harry Mason of Vernon, Texas, Says:

"We believe we have the very best." He is talking about their concrete streets.

And Vernon has reason to be proud of its streets. Main Street was concrete paved in 1913. Twelve years have fully demonstrated the economy and durability of concrete. The maintenance cost has been negligible. Any taxpayer in Vernon will tell you that this pavement has paid handsome dividends in satisfaction and service.

Concrete pavement meets the challenge of twentieth century traffic. It is a safe pavement because it is skidproof. And it is cheapest in the long run because it costs least to maintain.

If you keep these facts in mind, you will make certain that your streets are paved with portland cement concrete.

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

WHAT PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT TUBERCULOSIS

(From State Board of Health)

"What the People Should Know About Tuberculosis" was the subject of an address given recently before the North Texas Medical Association by Dr. C. E. Durham, director of the Bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health. Some of the points brought out by him are as follows:

Tuberculosis kills 1 person every 5 minutes, or 100,000 annually in the United States. Of this number, Texas furnishes 4,000 to 5,000.

From 1-8 to 1-6 tuberculosis victims are between the ages of 18 to 45, or at the most productive age.

More men die of this disease than women, and more negroes than whites.

From 1904 to 1914, the death rate in the registration area of the United States declined from 200.7 to 146.8 per 100,000.

Estimated financial loss in Texas from tuberculosis is $100,000,000.00 annually.

Predisposing causes of tuberculosis are weakened physical condition, lack of proper food, colds, influenza, pneumonia, pleurisy, measles, typhoid, and bad living conditions.

The commonest early symptoms are persistent cold or cough; loss of weight and appetite, run down, tired feeling, persistent pain in the chest, night sweats, blood streaks in sputum, persistent subnormal temperature mornings with slight rise of temperature in the afternoons.

When any of the above symptoms occur, consult your family physician at once.

To prevent tuberculosis—get plenty of fresh air, outdoor life, sunshine, wholesome food; and avoid overwork, continuous fatigue, and intemperate habits. Have a periodic health examination.

Children are especially susceptible to this disease, and should be kept away from sources of infection.

About the only things that come back to the people from a political campaign are the election returns.

Communities don't go forward when a majority of the citizens go backward.

CALIFORNIA CHURCH SLOGAN

Slogans have come into usage everywhere and the advertising value of a well-selected slogan has been found worth something to all classes of business men, as well as to the political campaigners.

The best thing which has been noticed in the way of a slogan recently was used in the advertising of a certain church in California:

"Why not come to church before they bring you in a hearse?" Most of us are eventually brought to some church in a hearse, and somebody ordinarily makes a speech over our dead bodies and tells the people how good we were.

This church's slogan is sure to have "pulling power" if it is widely enough circulated. Certain it is that it will set most anybody thinking.

A flower for the dead is not as important as flour for the living.

117,000,000 people joke a Congressman, yet 99 out of every 100 would like to be one.

Pains, cramps or callouses there are sure indications that the arch across the ball of the foot has broken down. Thousands of people suffer intense pain, cramps and burning callouses in this part of the foot without knowing the real cause.

Dr. Scholl's Arch Supports will quickly and permanently relieve this condition by gently but firmly supporting the depressed bones, and removing the strain and pressure on the weakened parts.

Perhaps you have some other form of foot trouble such as corns, bunions, weak ankles, cramped toes, painful heels, etc. If so, come in and let us give you a Free Demonstration. You will find that it is no longer necessary to suffer foot aches and pains.

A LOOK INSIDE THE WALLS OF THE PEN

Some weeks ago several Kansas City youths were convicted in the local courts on minor charges and as an effort to impress on their minds the punishment meted out to men who continue to commit crime, these youths were sentenced to serve one day in the Kansas state penitentiary. The hope was expressed that after these boys had seen the awful life led by men convicted of various high crimes, they might be led to cease evil companions and quit their meanness. A Kansas City paper tells of the visit to the state penitentiary as follows:

So for a day they went to the earthly hell where men are caged. On the way they passed green fields where birds were singing. Other men had gone that same way, years before, heard the birds and reveled in the gorgeous beauties of field and stream, for the last time. In the house of despair and silence, a train robber gave them the best advice a man can give.

"Boy's I'm telling you the truth," said Bill La Trasse, "crime doesn't pay."

The boys looked out over the barren prison enclosure, where men broke rocks and rocks broke men. They saw still others sitting in cells, the light of sanity gone from their dull eyes. They have learned that bandit Bill La Trasse was right. Their eyes have been opened. "If some of the Texas youth," says an exchange, "who find a lure in a life of crime could spend one day at Huntsville, before they become deeply steeped in evil, if they could see the bare bleak walls and bare courtyard of that prison, see the dark narrow cells and the armed guards over them, if they could spend a day on a prison farm where a calloused overseer drives men to task often beyond their strength, if they could do this while still at an impressionable age perhaps the eyes of more Texas boys would be opened to the folly of crime."

"Perhaps from an economic point of view as well, such one-day courses would be a good investment.—Hamilton-Herald-Record.

A town sometimes reaches the growth where the town bosses does not want it to progress any further. He is afraid it will get from under his control.

Does This Apply to You?

A man was out hunting one day when a terrific thunder storm came up. It began to rain in torrents and he looked about for shelter, but all he could find was a hollow log, into which he crawled, and found it very snug fit.

The rain lasted for hours, and the water soaked through the log, and the log began to contract. When the storm was over he could not get out! He struggled and strained to free himself with all his might, but the log held him tight. Exhausted he gave up the struggle and resigned himself to his fate. He knew that, unless released, he would starve to death.

Like a drowning man, he saw his whole life flash before him, especially his mistakes, and among them the one which stood out the most prominently was the fact that he always borrowed his home paper from a neighbor.

This made him feel so small that he was able to crawl out of the log without difficulty.

Nervous hot flashes. SOME time ago when in a very nervous, run-down condition, says Mrs. Martha F. Marlow, of Broken Bow, Okla. "I tried numerous remedies to try at least to keep going, but I could not. I was weak and tired—just no good at all. My back ached and I had hot flashes until I was so very nervous I smothered. I couldn't sleep and I was never hungry, and I kept getting weaker. I couldn't stand on my feet. This was an unusual condition for me as I had been pretty strong all along. I knew that I would have to do something, and that pretty soon. Some friend suggested that I take Cardui, and it certainly was a good suggestion, for after taking one bottle I could tell I was stronger and better. I didn't quit. I kept it up all through the change and did fine. I felt like a different person after I began taking Cardui. Cardui has helped thousands of suffering women. Sold by all druggists. A LITTLE FUN Jokes to Make You Laugh

MISUNDERSTOOD.
Man (rooting at the ball game): "Come on home, you darn fool."
Wife: "Why, John, we only just got here."

DOC HAD HIS NUMBER.
"Doc," said Mr. Boozer, "I'm all run down. What do you advise?"
"Get out in the sunshine more and keep more of the moonshine out," replied the doctor.

A COUPLE OF IRISHMEN.
Pat: "I hear yer wife is sick, Mike."
Mike: "She is that."
Pat: "Is it dangerous she is?"
Mike: "Divlle a bit. She's too weak to be dangerous anny more."

Teacher in New York City School—
"Make a sentence with the words 'defense,' 'defeat' and 'detail.'"
Tommy Levinsky—"De cat jumped over de fence and de feat got tangled up wid de tail."

EXPERIENCED.
A lady was entertaining the small son of a friend.
"Are you sure you can cut your own meat, Tommy?"
"Oh, yes, thanks," replied the child politely. "I've often had it as tough as this at home."

BOUNCING BABY.
"Well, Tommy, what do you think of your new bouncing brother?"
"Something's the matter with him, Pa. I dropped him on the floor, but he wouldn't bounce."

JUST A STIMULANT.
"Mother," said a young cockroach, "the lady is sprinkling that powder round again out of the box marked 'Guaranteed Roach Killer.'"
"Never mind, my son," answered his parent. "It's a bit nasty, but a fine stimulant. I've raised seventeen hundred families on it and never lost a child."

ASK CONGRESS.
The teacher was giving a lesson on gravity.
"I want you to understand," she said, "that it is the law of gravity that keeps us on this earth."
"Please, miss," asked little Nellie, "hey did we stick on before the law was passed?"

ALMOST PERPETUAL MOTION, TOO.
Old Gent—"Hey, boy, stop abusing that dog!"
Boy—"I ain't abusin' no dog."
Old Gent—"Well, what are you doin'?"
Boy—"I'm fixin' it so he can run the windstone. You hain't no idy the power that goes to waste when he starts a scratchin' his fleas."

Marshall Latschaw says the council has instructed him to enforce the ordinance against chickens running at large and riding bicycles on the sidewalks. News item in an Omak (Wash.) paper.

FIFTY-FIFTY.
Please send me one of your razors at 50 cents for which I enclose post office money order.
P. S.—Have forgotten to enclose 50 cents, but no doubt a firm of your standing will send me one.
The reply:
We had to acknowledge your esteem—no order. We are pleased in sending the razor to you. Trust you will like it.
P. S.—I have forgotten to enclose the razor. I will send you a fellow with your stick down the line.

ATTENTION S. P. C. C.
Why take chances on injuring your child on an electric washing machine when the same result can be obtained for less? (Wet wash 5c lb.) City Steam Laundry.—Ad in a Wyoming paper.

"Do you think it healthy to keep your hogs in the house?" a social investigator asked.
"Waal, I dunno," was the reply. "But I been a-keepin' my hawgs there for fourteen years and I ain't never lost one of 'em yet."

STRICTLY WATER WAGONS.
"Dey is a mighty good temperance sermon in a freight train," says Uncle Mose. "No matter how much de cars dey gets loaded, de ingine what does de work gets along strictly on water."

LITTLE BROTHER'S FATE.
Pullet: "Oh, mother, little brother is dead!"
Mother Hen: "Dead! How did it happen?"
Pullet: "Why, while you were away, the farmer's wife friend him for the minister's dinner."
Mother Hen: "How sad! But we should at least be glad that he entered the ministry."

FIGURED OUT.
"Statistics," muttered the tired man, "hore me beyond words. If all the fellows who quote figures were hanged it would take seven thousand eight hundred acres of full-grown trees to accommodate the ceremonial committee."
"And," added the statistical chap, "it would be necessary to use nineteen thousand four hundred and sixty miles of hemp."

THREE SETS!
Hardware Dealer (to applicant): "I am inclined to give you the position if you understand double-entry keeping."
Applicant: "I do, indeed! At my last place I had to do a triple-double-entry—a set for the active partner, showing the real profits, a set for the sleeping partner, showing small profits, and a set for the income tax officials, showing no profits."

Here lies the body of John McPlunk. He died digesting the vitamin bunc. He studied and read till his head did buzz. But he never could learn what a vitamin wuz.

GOT IT AT LAST.
A mountaineer school teacher corrected a boy who had said, "I ain't Swine thar."
"That's no way to talk. Listen: I am not going there; thou art not going there; he is not going there; we are not going there; you are not going there; they are not going there. Don't you get the idea?"
"Yessur. They ain't nobody gyine."

A NEW ONE ON THE COP.
Shortly after Detroit's motor ordinance went into effect a motor cop hailed a lady driving a limousine on the boulevard and ordered her to report at 9 o'clock.
"The very idea, why?" exclaimed the lady.
"I'm sorry, ma'am," insisted the blue-coat, "you were going 40 miles an hour."
"Impossible," exclaimed the lady indignantly, "why, I haven't been out an hour yet."
The cop said it was a new one on him and marked it off his tab.

AUTO HINTS

"Dollar a mile" policy has been adopted by the police in Atlanta, Ga., in a campaign against automobile speeders.

When valve stems become badly worn it is almost a certainty that the valve stem guide or hole through which the valve stem fastens is worn out of round. This allows air to be drawn through the intake valves when they are open, resulting in poor starting and noisy operation.

Sharp stones and pieces of glass, tin, or the sharp edges of a switch point will cut into the toughest kind of a tire tread. The flexing action of the tire enlarges such cuts. Road dirt and moisture enter and eventually cause separation of the rubber tread from the fabric carcass of the tire. Look your tires over at least every week. Clean such cuts and fill them with plastic patching rubber, which you may get from any tire dealer.

Shifting gears by means of the fingers rather than with clasped hand is considered the best practice, according to automotive engineers. The properly made gears and gearshift lever are sensitive to the touch and with a little practice the driver can feel the position of the gears.

Safety inspection of the car does not end with testing out the brakes and greasing the steering gear. It has to do with every part of the car, including the battery, the carburetor and the electric wiring. A dead battery would prevent a driver from going into low gear and using the starter motor to pull the car off the tracks should the engine stall on a grade crossing. An unreliable carburetor or one adjusted for too lean a mixture would fail when sudden acceleration was essential. Neglected wiring carries the possibility of having a fuse blow out some night when hitting it up along the highway, leaving everything in total darkness.

So Fast
Cook a hot breakfast

QUICK QUAKER cooks in less time than it takes you to prepare plain toast.

That means a hot, nourishing breakfast in a hurry.

It means an excellently balanced ration; combining protein, carbohydrates and vitamins—plus the "bulk" to make laxatives less often needed—cooked and served without muss or bother.

HOME PROBLEMS
A FRIENDLY TALK WITH YOU.
(Do You Know, Neighbor?)

In going over the letters about the wild fruit recipes last month, after the judges had made their decision, I ran across a very interesting letter that gave me a new idea for the Woman's Page. You all know that I am constantly on the lookout for new ideas that will help me serve you in the great art of housekeeping. I love my home and I love to build new ideas for it and then put them into action. I believe every true housewife is of the same opinion.

Mrs. Ida Barnett, R. F. D. No. 1, Lanesville, Texas, made the following request: "Will someone write a recipe for canning English mulberries, a small, purple berry which grows in clusters around the limbs of shrubs." As we are all one big family on this page and have united for the purpose of being of mutual benefit I want my readers who may know of this recipe to please send it to Mrs. Barnett at the above address. Don't think "She'll get so many she won't need mine," because this might not be true. We are all going to help our neighbor and I hope this department will grow in helpfulness each month. Of course, it will be important for you to help your fellow women by answering their questions, if you can do so. Any one of you having a problem you would like answered, do not hesitate to write to me and I will publish the question and address. I feel certain the read-

GETTING READY FOR THE FALL GARDEN.

Now, that the spring and early summer garden is gone, and it is too hot and dry to plant anything else for a while, we can put the in-between-season to good use if we do a little planning.

Peas, bean and similar vines should be left in the garden. Early some morning take a sharp hoe and cut them up as finely as possible.
During the spring when I am hulling peas, etc., I throw the hulls and waste into a small pit and cover them with dirt. They will rot and make a fine fertilizer. I never throw anything that is green out to let the sun ruin it but bury it with a shallow covering of dirt at some special compost pit. I now take this mud and spread over the garden. Grass cuttings are very good, too, if they do not have any roots or runners. If brushing is over, some of the straw is fine to spread over the garden space, if the grain was not foul with weeds or Johnson grass. Let this mulch lay until after one good rain and then turn it under as deeply as possible with a plow or fork.
After the plowing, it is well to harrow or rake until all the clods are broken up and an even bed is prepared. Keep all weeds cut down and burn the dead weeds under the fence and around the posts.

Between the first and middle of September begin to plant. If only a small garden is to be put in you can wait until it looks as though

PRUNING SHADE TREES.

a man. Many persons do not realize that trees breathe, eat, live and die on the same general plan as do men. Trees bleed the same as we do and die from neglect and mistreatment the same as we do. You wouldn't think of amputating a man's leg or arm and not giving him proper treatment, yet you will ruthlessly cut off the limb of a tree and leave it to bleed to death, or worse yet, leave open wounds that become infected and eventually kill the tree. All of which is done thoughtlessly and without regard for the magnitude of the crime.

There is no sight that fills me with such horror of man's ingratitude as to see beautiful, graceful shade trees slashed and hacked by some well meaning but misinformed person, into ghastly, mangled forms. Somehow, they reminence of wounded, helpless animals left to the mercy of the elements.

Some years ago there was an ancient elm in Washington, D. C. that was in danger of destruction caused by vibrations on the busy streets. The best tree surgeons in the United States were called into consultation and it was found necessary to prune it very heavily along with other treatments. But the work was done by experts and the life of the tree was prolonged.

June and July are fine months to prune because the shape of the tree can be more definitely determined. Heavy pruning is rarely ever needed.

It is always advisable for two persons to work together.
One to do the cutting and the other to direct the work from a distance sufficiently far to well observe the shape of the trees.

Anyone should be able to do his own pruning if a few simple rules are followed. The first essential is to have proper tools—a pole pruner, a short curved saw securely bolted in a saw-cut at the end of a one-by-three-inch pine board, and a good hand saw. One of the most important points in pruning is to remember to have your tools as sharp as possible so as to cut the limbs off perfectly smooth.
Each cut should be made with a downward slant so the water will run off freely.

The next important step in pruning is to have the paint pot at hand and paint each spot on the tree, as the limb is cut off. Do not use any paint that contains white lead, as this will kill the new growing bark. Cresote, therefore, is a splendid disinfectant for the first year. Asphalt paint, thinned with turpentine, should be used the next year and applied every third year thereafter. It is a safe rule to follow to paint every wound on the tree that is as large or larger than a quarter. Paint acts as a germicide and also keeps insects from entering a wound and causing decay.

Young trees may be shaped when setting out; also by snipping off the small branches as they grow in the wrong direction will prevent heavy pruning later. When the trunk has reached a diameter from six to eight inches the tree should be thoroughly shaped and then it is only necessary to remove off branches that overlap and rub each other, dead branches, etc. By just tipping the top branches from time to time a wider tree may be had. The elm branches point upward into the shape of a vase. This may be emphasized by cutting out the scraggly under-branches. The natural trend of the tree should be followed and allowed to grow; for instance, if the tree is of a variety that the branches grow with shoots straight up, the branches at the side should be thinned out where they are likely to grow too thickly. Nature has designed each variety of tree to a definite shape for the purpose of producing the best results for its kind of tree. We should always assist nature, but never go against fundamental rules, or we will defeat our purpose.

Trees are the friends of man; they give him shade
when he is weary, they give him food when he is hungry, their long swaying branches harbor the homes of his greatest ally—the birds—while their yearly leafing reminds us of the life eternal. So have a heart, my friend, when you prune this summer.

Deviled Chili Meat and Macaroni.
(Small serving.)

1/2 pound macaroni.
1 cup strained tomato juice or soup.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 can deviled chili meat.

Cook the macaroni in boiling salted water. Drain and cut in small pieces. Grease a baking dish, put in a layer of macaroni, cover with deviled chili meat, then another layer of macaroni, and another of meat until all materials are used. Pour the tomato sauce over it and heat. Place in the fireless cooker. This will make a meal in itself.
