Three Million Feet Capacity Gas Well Blows in at Trickham

(Wednesday's Brownwood Bulletin) The well drilled by Jim Mann and Bevans, two young men of Brownwood, came in as a big gasser, a day or so ago, at the depth of 948 feet, blowing itself clean, and sending derricks, timbers and other impediments sky-high. The capacity of the well is estimated at three million cubic feet every twenty four hours and it is regarded as a fine commercial proposition. It is understood that it will not be further developed in the effort to find oil, but attention will now be turned to the big gas features and the gas will be utilized.

This is the largest gas well that has been brought in for quite a while in this vicinity. The well is 2 1/2 miles southwest of Brownwood and is just over the line in Coleman county. Bevans and Mann stated today that they will proceed to make other locations within the next few days on the tract where the big gasser is located—the J. L. Vaughan tract, and in event it is not found a big gas field will be developed, and in view of the fact that every gas well is now being handled commercially, the proposition is a good one and at the same time is of attractive proportions. The well is located on the outskirts of the town of Trickham.

Lindell James Died at Home at Trickham Saturday Morning

Lindell James, 23 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. V. T. James of Trickham, died early last Saturday morning and was buried in the Trickham cemetery Saturday afternoon, Rev. A. M. Pleasant of this city conducting the funeral. Lindell was sick only a few days with flu and pneumonia.

The Santa Anna News joins other friends to the family in offering them sympathy in their sad bereavement.

Mrs. Lee Millhollen spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Woodward and family in Lamesa.

Lions Club to Push Agricultural Program

At the regular weekly meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday, the members voted to hold meetings over the trade territory Friday night of this week, for the purpose of trying to bring about a better understanding and create more interest among the farmers. Several hundred dollars is to be given in cash prizes for the best crop produced this year, and what the Lions Club is most interested in is to encourage the farmers to produce more of their feed and the things they use on the farm at home, thus giving a better profit on what is produced to sell.

Clean-Up Campaign Endorsed

The Club also voted to endorse the City officials in a general clean-up campaign for Santa Anna, and the week of March 28th to April 3rd was designated as Clean-Up Week. Mayor Baxter has a clean-up proclamation in this paper, and we hope he has a united endorsement from the entire citizenship of the town. Aid from other clubs will be enlisted. Let each family see to it that their premises are thoroughly cleaned up.

MRS. COMER BLUE'S FATHER DIED AT HOME IN KAUFMAN

Mrs. Comer Blue was called to her former home, Kaufman, Texas, last week, to attend the funeral of her father, Mr. R. E. Mitchell, who passed away at the ripe old age of 89 years. At the time of going to press Mrs. Blue has not returned, and data is very limited. The Santa Anna News joins other good friends in extending sympathy to Mrs. Blue in her bereavement.

Sam Collier, R. E. Mobley, J. O. Martin and Mr. Raney returned Monday from the Winter Garden District, where they prospected in the famous truck growing district. The editor enjoyed some of the vegetables the party brought home with them and pronounce them fine.

The Point of Contact

There's a simple catch in the familiar phrase that tell how the world beats a path to the door of the man who sells a better mouse trap. Any salesman, if he is to be successful, must not only have a superior product, but also must let folks know about it. He must point out why his mouse trap, his auto or his service is better than his neighbors. He must advertise.

Advertising is the point of contact between the man who sells something and the man who wants something. Through an advertisement, a dealer can tell you in a few short minutes all you want to know about articles or service he has to offer.

This newspaper is constantly full of ideas that other men and women have thought out for your personal benefit. Fail to read the advertisements and you remain in ignorance of countless products that have made life easier, happier and more interesting for you and your entire family.

Advertising gives you news of the latest and best things made, with a word as to what they will do, what they will cost and where to get them.

Improvements Being Made In Santa Anna

To Shield has a bunch of men working on the buildings in the Shield block. We understand several of the buildings are to be repaired beside the one that is to be used for the post office.

The State National Bank has had some repairs made on the north wall and the roof of their building.

W. H. Ragsdale is adding several hundred dollars worth of improved machinery to his Bakery, and the building has also undergone some repairs.

The West Texas Utilities Company is completing a several weeks job for a number of men, installing new street lights in the business and residence sections of town. The new electric lights are an improvement over the former system.

Taylor Wheeler is busy with a crew of men, building a splendid brick-vever residence on West Main street. When completed, the house will be one of the best residences in town.

PEAR TREE 22 YEARS OLD BLOOMS FOR FIRST TIME

A beautiful pear tree standing in the corner of the yard at the L. W. Hunter home is in full bloom and promises an abundant yield of fruit. According to Mr. Hunter, the tree is 22 years old and this is the first time it has ever bloomed.

A PROCLAMATION

To the People of Santa Anna: The annual state-wide Clean-Up Campaign sponsored by the State Board of Health has been set this year for the week March 28th to April 3rd.

The benefits to be obtained from clean-up activities are too evident to need very much comment.

All rubbish should be burned or removed from the premises and tin cans should be placed where they can be picked up by the garbage wagons.

All weeds should be cleaned off the yards and the vacant lots should be cleaned up and all rubbish which cannot be buried will be picked up by the city wagons.

I hereby request all civic organizations of the city to join in this movement for a thorough clean-up, and that all pastors of the city preach a sermon Sunday March 28th on the importance of cleanliness. Sunday, March 28th having been designated as Health Sunday.

W. E. BAXTER, Mayor City of Santa Anna.

R. L. Todd returned last week from Pampa, Texas, where he spent a few days working for Lee Woodward, who has recently installed a gas system in the Panhandle-city.

Fordson Demonstration At Boyd Farm, 1 Mile South of Town

The advantage of tractor power on the farm, not only in lessening labor but in reducing farming costs, will be demonstrated for farmers of this section on Saturday, March 27th, which has been designated as Fordson Day.

The demonstration will be held on the Boyd farm, 1 mile south of town on the Whon road, and the Santa Anna Motor Company will furnish free transportation to all who care to go out and witness the demonstration.

Prizes Offered In Clean-Up Campaign

The Parent-Teachers Association has authorized the Santa Anna News to announce the Association has joined in the Clean-Up Campaign, and will offer the following cash prizes for the cleanest premises in town.

$5.00 for the cleanest premises among the business houses, second prize $3.00, third prize $2.00.

$5.00 for the cleanest premises among the residence sections, with $3.00 for second prize and $2.00 for the third.

All premises will be inspected shortly following Clean-Up Week.

The Cleveland Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. M. F. Blanton. Miss Brent met with us and demonstrated on the making of different kind of sandwiches. The girls work was on bungalow aprons. We had two visitors present. The hostess served cake and fruit salad. Miss Brent will meet with us next at Mrs. W. L. Baugh's, the first Tuesday in April. Our work for the evening will be on the different ways of fixing eggs.—Reporter.

Eggs For Orphan's Home

The Santa Anna News has been requested to announce the ladies' organization auxiliaries of the Baptist Church will pack boxes of eggs Friday, Saturday and Monday, March 26, 27 and 29 for Buckner Orphan's Home at Dallas, and all who wish to contribute to the orphans bring your eggs to the Concho Produce Company either of the above days mentioned. Contribute as liberal as you like.

The Christian Aid society met with Mrs. Gipson Monday afternoon. There was a good attendance and an interesting meeting. Plans for the anniversary meeting next Sunday were discussed. There was a Bible quoting contest. The hostess served angel food cake and fruit punch. Lilac blooms were the plate favors.

Mrs. Nannie McDonald and son, Bert, of Hillsboro, and Mrs. H. B. Blath of Breckenridge, spent Sunday in the home of J. T. Garrett here.

Santa Anna Track Men Win Many Points at Ballinger Saturday

In the triangular track meet that was held at Ballinger last Saturday Miles High School team came out best with 77 points to their credit. Santa Anna track stars piled up 60 points for themselves while Ballinger was able to score only 11 points.

The Santa Anna cinder artists took off five first places in the meet and many second and third places. Of these five first places H. M. Smith won four, Charlie Burris winning the other in the high jump. Smith tied with Echols of Miles for high point man, each having 22 points to their credit. Burris won second place with 19 3/4 points. No records were broken at this meet but several fair records were made considering the slow track and cold weather.

The results:

Revival Meeting to Begin at Presbyterian Church Sunday

Rev. M. Luther Branham of Anderson, Mo., one of the leading Evangelists of the Presbyterian church, will begin a series of revival services at the Presbyterian church next Sunday. Pastor Burrow requests the Santa Anna News to announce this meeting, and state that all are invited to attend. Other churches are especially invited to worship with them.

Carl Adams Trial Set for April 5th in District Court (Brownwood Bulletin)

In the report of the grand jury, made Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, an indictment was returned billing Deputy Sheriff Carl Adams with the murder of W. G. Wetzel in front of a Renfro drug store on the public square on the afternoon of December 9, 1925.

Deputy Adams had been under $7,500 appearance bond before the grand jury and immediately after the indictment was turned over to Sheriff Bert Hise, Mr. Adams made another bond of $7,500 to appear for trial.

The trial will be called for Monday, April 5. Critz & Woodward of Coleman, represented by Walter Woodward and McCartney, Foster & McGee of Brownwood and Ft. Worth, represented by Mark McGee, will defend Mr. Adams. Walter U. Earl is prosecuting attorney.

A special venire will be summoned for the trial.

Three Big Features in Our April Magazine Section

The Santa Anna News' April Magazine Section will contain three especially good features—as follows:

"Tale of a Texas Cowman"—Some of the hardships of early trail-driving. By Ollie Pearce Weaver.

"Texas Lignite Coming Into Its Own"—Development of one of the State's greatest natural resources. By John W. Palmer.

"Living to a Ripe Old Age"—Learn how to maintain health and lengthen life. By Dr. A. C. Jacobson, Associate Editor "Medical Times."

There will be other reading matter that you should not miss in our April Magazine Section. Something for each member of the family—special pages, brimful of news items and departments, sparkling with interest. Remember the date—April 2nd.

Attention Christian Church Folks

Don't forget we celebrate our 25th anniversary next Sunday and all our folks are expected to come and bring dinner. There will be three interesting services—beginning at 10 in the morning, 2:30 in the afternoon and 7:30 at night. Hoping for and expecting a number of former members with us, several visiting preachers, etc. Bring all your family and in-laws and stay for all of it if possible. Come for some of it any way. Let's make it a day never to be forgotten and don't forget the date.

A. L. Oder, minister.

The Bank That Backs the Farmer

That loans money to farmers for purposes of production, with the harvest as security, is vitally interested in seeing more intelligent Diversification employed on the farms of this section, thus insuring safety and added profits to our farm customers.

"Vanishing American" Story of Disappearing Indian

"The forced retreat into the desert wastes, marked by a trail of blood, is one of the major transgressions of the white man against the red man."

These words of Zane Grey, the novelist, who wrote "The Vanishing American," tell the crux of the story of the Indians which Paramount has made into an epic picture, due at the Queen Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday. The bitter, courageous, determined but hopeless stand of the Indians against the white enemies, their retreat from the green fields and well watered country they had called their home for centuries, into the barren desert is a powerful episode in "The Vanishing American." The story was filmed in the heart of these very same wastes, on the present Navajo reservation, 165 miles from a railroad. The tale is told in the sincere, direct, dramatic manner that characterizes all of Zane Grey's works. It is not a tragedy but it does not gloss over the impositions and transgressions of the white man against the red. The company which remained on the Navajo reservation approximately four months, included Richard Dix, who plays the role of the Indian hero, Lois Wilson, the heroine, Neah Beery, Malcolm McGregor and scores of others.

BUT DON'T TELL HIM

A wise old minister, before parting with a young couple he had joined in matrimony, used to slip a card into the bride's hand, on which was printed this advice: "When you marry him, love him. After you marry him, study him. If he is honest, humor him. If he is generous, appreciate him. When he is sad, cheer him. When he is quarrelsome, ignore him. If he is slothful, spurn him. If he is noble, praise him. If he is confidential, encourage him. If he is secretive, trust him. If he is jealous, cure him. If he likes society, accompany him. When he does you a favor, thank him. When he deserves it, kiss him. Let him think how well you understand him; but never let him know that you manage him.—Detroit Free Press.

FOR COUNTY CLERK

Added to our announcement column this week will be found the name of Fred Henderson, who is a candidate for the office of County Clerk. Fred is another one who is too well known to need any introduction through our columns, as he has lived in the county 22 years, served as County Clerk 3 terms ending in 1920, and has spent the greater part of his time since in a bank at Coleman. Fred is an honorable citizen, thoroughly competent to fill the office, and will appreciate your favorable consideration and your vote. He expects to make a personal campaign over the county and place his claims before you.

Miniature Battle to be Staged on Rifle Range

(Brownwood News)

A miniature battle will be staged on the rifle range of Brownwood with all the National Guard companies in this section of the state participating prior to their annual encampment. The Machine Gun Company of Stephenville, Trench Motar Gun Company of Santa Anna, and the Rifle companies of Brownwood will participate in the battle.

It will be the greatest military demonstration ever staged in West Texas. It will show in detail the battalion as a whole in attack, with all troops using live ammunition. There will be about 40,000 rounds of ammunition, approximately 500, 1 pound artillery shells and the same number of 4 inch trench motar shells fired in the battle.

MEN WHO WANT TO BORROW

Three kinds of men, says a banker, come to banks. First, the man who is unable to meet his immediate obligations, and wants a loan; second, the man who is fired by dreams of wealth, and wants a loan; third, the man who has formed a modest program for conserving his surplus and building a competence, and may want an occasional loan, but is never so insistent as the other two. Which of these is most likely to get the money? One guess is enough. It is the third, who stands with his feet squarely on the ground who doesn't seek a loan until he has thought it over carefully, who knows exactly what he is going to do with the money and how he is going to pay it back. He may want funds to build a home, to purchase investments, to expand his business or merely to finance his current operating expenses and get them on a sounder basis. The other classes, however, have their side, and often succeed in getting the loans that their proposals may not seem so sound. Sometimes the man who can't meet his obligations as matters stand becomes a very good risk when he has the money he needs. Sometimes the man who has a grand idea of getting rich is right. In either case—in fact, in all three cases—a principle enters in that many persons never consider. The banker, they say, like the husbandman in the scriptural parable, is "a hard man." Yet the banker, as almost any member of that profession will testify, makes loans more on personal character than on security or any other factor. Often the man of approved character can walk into a bank and get cash for the asking, where the man with visible assets may get nothing, because the banker knows he can depend on the former and may have to coerce the latter to get his money back.

An effort is being made to increase the number of seats in the league of nations, when some people over there thinks the seating capacity is too large now.

JIM LOWRY IS UNEASY

The question of whether long or short skirts should be worn is one that has never been settled, and we fear it never will be. In order to satisfy all parties some women of the East have adopted a plan of placing their skirts on rollers, like window curtains. In crowds where short skirts meet approval, the skirts are rolled up; where long skirts are demanded, the skirts are rolled down. This ought to quiet all parties. The only fear that we entertain is that the springs in the rollers may not be dependable. We know our window curtain turns lose of its own accord occasionally.—Honey Grove Signal.

Man Visits Niece After 47 Years

Novice, March 21.—W. S. Speegle, who taught the first school in this section of Coleman County, returned Thursday to view the old school ground after an absence of 47 years.

Speegle was born in Morgan county, Ala., Aug. 28, 1857. He came to Texas in 1878, landing in Coleman county the latter part of the same year.

He helped to erect a log school house known as Shady Grove, one and a half miles southeast of this place. He taught a subscription school the first year, 1879. By the help of Speegle, the citizens received a little public money, and he taught another session in the year of 1880.

Speegle received $24 per month for his service. He has not been able to hear of but one of his scholars, a woman by the name of Gorman, who is living somewhere in Coleman county.

Jefferson's Home Should Be Shrine

(From Moss Feature Syndicate)

There should be no more trouble about raising the money to buy Thos. Jefferson's home and make it a national shrine than there is about securing a normal man's consent to hang his own father's picture in his home.

The fact that Jefferson's home was not made a shrine long ago is an indication of nation-wide sleeping sickness.

Here is a world hero, an apostle of freedom and justice, one whose words now find their echoes in human betterment in the ends of the earth.

Here is the author of the Declaration of Independence, the most important document in modern history. Here is the author of the statutes of religious freedom. Here is one who added an empire of marvelous wealth to the early colonies.

He held that popular government was the wisest government when tyrants were everywhere when the doctrine of political equality was more radical than anything which now issues from Soviet Russia.

This man, Jefferson, was a political philosopher, and from his retirement from public life until his death, he was revered as a prophet throughout the world and in this country he was regarded almost as a saint.

Monticello, his classic Virginia home, was a shrine toward which the feet of multitudes turned. His guests were so numerous he had to withdraw servants from productive fields in order that they might wait on the invited and the self-invited.

This hospitality, together with business disasters, reduced Jefferson to want, and he sold the library he loved in an effort to place his financial house in order.

He refused to avail himself of technical escape from obligations which crushed him.

He was a gentleman in retirement as he had been a giant in active life. This proposed memorial will be a human thing, no cold, impassive pile of marble, but the place where this American immortal lived and died.

For the plan to finance this memorial to be attended by any difficulty whatever would be a reproach upon the great Republic, whose cradle was rocked by Thomas Jefferson.

The Merry Wives

Mrs. W. B. Mitchell was hostess to the Merry Wives on Thursday afternoon. The house decorations were of pansies and plum blooms and were pretty. This was a St. Patrick party and games and contests on old Ireland furnished the diversion of the afternoon. There were several Irish songs too. Later plates containing green perfection salad, green sherbet and tiny white cakes with a green emblem of shamrock were passed to the guests. Visitors outside the club were Mesdames Purdy, Jerry Simpson, Doll Brown, Walter Kirkpatrick, Sid Martin, Shrader, Paul Childers, Todd, and O. C. Petty. All report a very pleasant afternoon.

Melvin Lamb went to Coleman Saturday.

A. L. Oder preached at Millersview Sunday, also held a funeral for a little Wells boy at Trickham Monday afternoon.

FIFTY YEARS OF TELEPHONY

March marked the completion of fifty years of telephony. It was half a century ago that the first complete sentence of speech was transmitted over a wire electrically.

"Mr. Watson, come here; I want you," said Alexander Graham Bell to his assistant in an adjoining room, over the telephone, and telephone history was made.

There were then two telephones, a transmitter and receiver, today there are more than twenty-four million instruments in existence.

The line over which these memorable words were spoken stretched only from room to room; today the organization which bears the great inventor's name owns and operates a vast network of local and long distance lines with a total wire mileage of over 44,500,000 miles. Bell and Watson were then the world's only telephone workers; today a veritable army of employees—about 290,000, of them—are enlisted under the Bell banner alone.

The telephone is an American invention, its usefulness has been developed and its popularity extended by American enterprise. Today the United States, with only 6 per cent of the world's population has 63 per cent of the world's telephones.

There are roughly 24,000,000 telephones in existence, and more than 15,000,000 of them are in the United States. We have in this country nearly two-thirds of all the telephones in the world.

The other great powers—Britain, France and Germany—lag hopelessly behind in telephone development.

Included the whole of Europe, with a population roughly four times that of the United States, has but one-quarter of the world's telephones. All other countries combined, including the entire continents of Asia, Africa, Australia, South America and North America (outside of the United States), have only about 12 per cent of the telephones in existence. The fact that the remaining 63 per cent of the total telephones in use throughout the world, are concentrated in the United States, is convincing evidence of America's undisputed leadership in the telephone field.

The Bridge Club

Mrs. Ira Williamson was hostess to the Bridge Club on Friday afternoon. The house was beautifully decorated with tulips and the decorations carried out the Dutch idea very nicely. There were three tables of players and these were also decorated in the pastel shades. (There were two tulip shaped cups on each table filled with pecans. Hand painted Dutch shoes were matched for partners. Score pads were hand painted Dutch girls. Later delicious refreshments of shrimp salad, wafers, cheese sandwiches, cakes, olives, iced tea and potato chips were served to the guests. This is reported as one of the prettiest parties of the season.

After the program the society was invited to the dining room where Mrs. Kingsbery poured coffee and the guests were served with sandwiches, potato pudding, topped with whipped cream, mints and coffee. Then the committees for the bazaar held meetings. The dinner committee wishes to announce that they will phone each member of the church the foods which they wish them to prepare for the dinner. There were twenty-five present and all had a very enjoyable time.

The BULL'S EYE

Editor and General Manager
 WILL ROGERS

You Can't Smoke History

A fellow from Carolina wants to know where I get the idea that "Bull" Durham and George Washington come from the same state. He says, "Why don't you write and give the people the real History of 'Bull' Durham in its native State, South Carolina, that people would appreciate that more than these Bull Legends of yours."

Now thanks, Sir, for your good-natured suggestion. If I knew History I wouldn't be able to write "Bull" Durham Ads. I would be a College Professor, get everything right, and get nothing for it. Everything you suggested me telling the public about when and where "Bull" Durham originated, has been told for 66 years by typical Advertising writers. That's the only thing the Company asked of me was "please don't tell again where it came from, or how." You see you didn't read their Ads, but you did read mine and remembered it, because it was wrong.

Writing Ads that will be remembered is a queer game. This is an Ad, not a History. I selected Ads over History on account of the pay. (American Tobacco Company's pay is as good as its tobacco.) Where "Bull" Durham comes from or where it goes to is left for the starving Historian.

Will Rogers

P.S. You notice I named in this article the WRONG Carolina. That's so North Carolina will get sore because I named South Carolina, and South Carolina will get sore because I didn't name North Carolina. A true Southerner never forgets.

P.P.S. There will be another piece in this paper soon. Watch for it.

WHY WORRY?

(Editorial in Temple Daily Telegram)
 Paid writers and lecturers throughout the country are making a good living by telling a downhearted public to cheer up and not worry.
 At times there are few things quite so useless, however, as the word of cheer and the gentle tap which every good friend is glad to give you when you are depressed and worried but there is no question but that cheer and optimism are good things. The sad part about it, though, is that the broad, benevolent smile and the assurance that the first 100 years are the hardest seldom serve to help the afflicted one. It must be granted at the very outset that there is much in life that is taxing.

These thoughts are brought out in a recent radio health talk by Dr. Iago Gladston of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. Far too often, he says, we worry about things of small importance, and frequently worry over problems that do not exist. There are some who worry at the least provocation; others worry but seldom never.

To remedy depressing emotions, Dr. Gladston urges mental hygiene. It is interesting to quote from his lecture, and it may be helpful to many who have been giving more time to worrying than they should:

"Say that you have suffered a slight, someone has snubbed you or someone has disparaged you; your reactions are mixed, you resent the insult; your pride is hurt. Perhaps deep down within you, you suspect that the slight was justified. Your sense of inferiority may be awakened. In consequence you are depressed, irritated, and worried. Like a dark cloud in the sky that shuts out all of the sun's bright rays, so this feeling shuts out the greater part of the joy of living. Unchecked the sensation will grow and grow until it pervades your entire being. But, now instead of surrendering to your feelings, suppose you analyze the situation. Ask yourself: Why did the man slight you? Did you provoke him? If you did, you got what you asked for and you should be content. But suppose, as it often happens, such is not the case. The slight was unprovoked. Then perhaps the slight was only a gesture in self defense on the part of the other person—a sort of 'I'll-strike-you-strike-me'; or perhaps, you deserve to be disparaged, perhaps you pretended too much, perhaps you were put in your place quite justly. Such an unemotional analysis of the causes behind the unpleasant incident should in time lead you to an understanding of the matter and in turn should rob the situation of all its worry. Having thought about it you will find what there is to be done about it, and you will do as much.

"You will see from all this that much worry is due to a surrender to our emotions and fears. In the language of psychologists, emotions are subjective (personal), they are within us, a part of us, they are as our own skin, flesh and bones. On the other hand, our intellect is objective (im-personal). In classical mythology, reason is often represented as a mirror, the expression, 'reflection,' used for thinking, springs from this.

"Emotions are quick and run to extremes; reason is slower, more judicious. I neither advise nor think it possible to outroot the emotions. Good mental hygiene requires a mixture of emotions and intellect. One may not be able to add a cubit to one's stature by taking thought, but by taking thought one can keep from exaggerating the significance of little unpleasant happenings. In other words, one can, by taking thought, avoid unnecessary worry. This taking thought is an essential part of mental health.

"And when you take thought what will you find? In general one of two things—either that your worry has a basis in reality, or that it arises out of groundless fear. If the basis is real, then there is something to be done to correct the condition, and you will do that thing. You may of course not succeed, for it is not in the power of man to arrange all things to his liking or comfort. But then at least you will be comforted in the knowledge that you've done what you could, and of no man may more be asked. Should you, however, find that your worry arises out of abstract fear, that realization alone should go far to remove the fear.

"In taking thought, too, you will find how much of worry is due to purely physical condition, that is—conditions affecting one's health. Consider the matter of over-tiredness. Have you not noticed that things look their darkest as the day ends, and their brightest when a night's rest has added strength to your being? The robust individual is seldom subject to fits of depression, the delicate one hardly escapes it. In the light of this fact, I have often felt that the habitual worry of the housewife and mother is due to her poor health habits, her long day's work, her numerous and exacting duties and her lack of adequate recreation, exercise and play. Any condition which saps one's vitality paves the way for worry, and in the vicious cycle, worry itself saps one's vitality. Care of one's body, good health habits, plenty of rest, exercise and recreation are good medicines for the chronic worrier.

 "Thus we see that, though the cheering word and the gentle slap may not of themselves lift from our shoulders the depressing weight of worry, yet there is a way out in most instances. That way out is good mental hygiene. It means an effort to get behind the cause of our worry. Where the cause resides in some actual undesirable and irritating condition, we make every effort possible to remedy or remove the condition, and having done as much, we adjust ourselves to the result as best we can; or finding that behind our worry there is nothing more than groundless or exaggerated fear, then the remedy is half found. A control over our emotions helps much in avoiding worry.

"We notice, too, that our vitality is a good bar to worry, and hence it seems wise that we should so order our lives that our physical and mental strength be not too soon spent or dissipated. And there is the hobby to be considered. Ask yourselves the question, 'why worry?' And you'll find in the vast majority of circumstances that there is no good reason."

ARE THEY REALLY HAPPY?

Can you see how they can be happy? They're being the people who are perpetually in debt. Perpetually hounded by creditors asking them to settle some bill. Perpetually on the verge of a financial precipice, over which illness or any untoward circumstance would push them.

Truly, it's a gift. A carpenter told me yesterday of a bill that has been owed to him for two years by people in his home town. The man who owes it is always putting him off with small payments. "You ought not to press me," he says. "I'm a poor man, my money comes in slowly the way yours does. I'll pay you as soon as I can."

But this 'poor man' bought 2 years ago a car in the $1,500 class, drove it a few thousand miles and then traded it in for a $2,000 car. He has an expensive radio and has wife, has a new fur coat.

Maybe he's paying for them all on the installment plan. But could he not pay the carpenter in regular payments on the installment plan? If I were the carpenter I'd insist on definite payments. And I'd go around and sit on his doorstep every month until he paid me the installment. And I'd let people know about it and shame him into paying.

I think the people who don't make a vigorous effort to collect their bills are partly responsible for the laxness of people who spend $1.50 for every $1 they earn. "Why don't you insist that he pay that bill?" I asked the carpenter. "Oh, well, I've known him for a long time," says the carpenter, "and I hate to be disagreeable about it."

Most of us dislike to be disagreeable except to our families when we are in an irritable mood but there are times when that's our job, to be done like any disagreeable job.

There is no one in the world I have more sympathy for than the hard pressed family man who has a small income and several children, and who is constantly harassed by the struggle to make that income cover rent and food and necessary clothes and care, and the inevitable incidentals.

When men like that sit down at the dining room table Saturday nights and go over the bills and try to decide which ones must be paid, and which can wait a little longer, one has only the profoundest sympathy for them. Of course they ought some how to manage not to go into debt, but who are we to say that pushed and harassed by as urgent needs we should do half as well?

These people belong to one category but the people deliberately make the carpenter and the grocer and the butcher wait while they buy luxuries belong in another. I suppose like the rest of us they are after happiness but I must say I can't understand how they can find it that way.—Ruth Cameron.

The average husband has more sense than his wife thinks and not as much as he thinks.

Dollars are supposed to be well made, but they won't last. You have to keep making new ones.

CASH IN ON YOUR VACATION

The progressive young man or woman of today is the one who is planning now to make life worth while. One of the best proofs that you want to take advantage of your vacation is that you're reading this article. Desire and determination are the corner stones in the building of success. You will not waste your summer months. This time properly invested will increase your chances for success 100 per cent. You wish employment that will produce cash and will enable you to rise to the place of trust, responsibility and profit in this great world of business. A good business education in a good business school is essential to accomplish this end. Many, who at the close of school last year entered Tyler Commercial College for the Summer months, are now holding good positions or paying their expenses thru University by using the course studied during the summer vacation.

Every year hundreds of students are finishing during the summer months, taking good positions during the big fall business. Wouldn't you rather be with a big, enthusiastic student body, full of young life, ambition and purpose than be elsewhere. Our Private, Secretarial, General Business, General Banking, General Railroad, General Western Union, Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Telegraphy, Business Administration and Finance, Penmanship, Cotton Classing, Radio or Civil Service will prepare you for a good position during the time you would otherwise waste.

Write for a large illustrated book published by Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas. Read of the advantages of the splendid courses of instruction. Read what those who have graduated and are now holding positions say of the College, also what their employers think of their efficient training, and how pleasant and profitable their short stay was in Tyler. Read how some have worked their way thru school, how others borrowed the money to pay board and gave the College their note for tuition and made it pay big dividends. How others quit jobs at small salaries, completed their course with us and went back to the same firm on better positions at two or three times their previous salaries. Some who were unable to come to our school finished our Home Study courses and never quit drawing a salary. Make arrangements to enter as soon as your school closes. You will enjoy your stay at T. C. C.

There is always a demand for trained office help. When you can do some one thing well, you will be the one who will draw a good salary. Why handicap yourself for the rest of your life by working without a business training, when a few months' time at a small cost will give you a training that will insure promotion. Fill in and mail the coupon today for the large 208-page book, "Achieving Success in Business."

Night Coughing Relieved At Once

Why suffer continually from a persistent weakening night-cough when you can get almost instant relief, and usually break the cough completely in 24 hours by a new method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery?

Here is the method: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. As a result even the worst cough usually disappears quickly.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, safe and effective. Very economical. Ask at the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

On Friday night, March 19, the Juniors entertained the Seniors with the Annual Banquet, given at the armory.

The building was decorated in the Senior colors—gold and white. At regular distances banks of ferns and cedar gave a pleasing touch to the hall. The shaded lights also gave a distinct tone to the assemblage.

Music was furnished by the "Gypsy Trio", composed of Miss Lois Adele Adams—at the piano; Messrs. G. A. Ragsdale and Forrest Marshall with violins.

As the curtain was drawn the guests were ushered into the general hall by seven pretty waitresses—dressed in the Senior colors.

Here, an enjoyable, peppy program was rendered. The toastmaster, Mr. Byron Joiner "Out Heralded Herod" in his clever announcement of each feature. Numbers of toasts and "suggestions" were offered and enjoyed by all.

The following menu was served to the guests:

- Fruit Cocktail
- Baked Chicken Dressing Gravy
- Cream Peas Potatoes Olives
- Daisy Salad
- Brick Cream Angel Food Cake Iced Tea

Dolls, in the high school (gray) cap and gown, were given as favors and with the last course Easter whistles were brought in, thereby creating another form of jollity.

Those present were: Misses Faye Adkinson, Clide Bobo, Myrtice Graves, Druzell Hudler, Grace McMinn, Mon-dean Nabours, Ola Polk, Leta Ragsdale, Alice Rainey, Cora Rothermel, Lila Bell Smith, Lorena Burris, Doris Center, Olivia Land, Lucille Lowe, Obera Mercer, Mabel Newman, Johnnie Wilks, Willie Williams, Elizabeth Greer, Lula Harvey, Thelma Hines, Vonola Johnson, Ora Martin, Maggie Mills, Era Oakes, Eureka Pleasant, Arby Rainey, Velma Strickland, Ouida Vanderford, Eula Mae Wallace, Lucille Keeling, Bessie Wallace, and Beulah Williams; Messrs. Abundance of Beauty in 'The American Venus'

Picture goes, who visit the Queen Theatre next Friday to see Paramount's gorgeous comedy-spectacle, "The American Venus," are certain to find the feminine members of the cast soothing to the eye. Not only are the principal players plentifully endowed with good looks, but the supporting cast includes seven of the prize-winning beauties in the Atlantic City pageant. The woman's side of this spectacular story by Townsend Martin is acted by Esther Ralston, the fetching blonde screen star; Louise Brooks, a diminutive brunette charmer from Ziegfeld's Follies; and Fay Lanphier, who was designated the most beautiful girl in America at the Atlantic City bathing beauty contest and was awarded the title of "Miss America." In addition to the bathing beauty show, the picture boasts a magnificent fashion display in which some of New York's loveliest mannequins wear the latest modes before the camera.

REVIEW—THE GOSPEL OF JOHN

REVIEW—The Gospel of John. GOLDEN TEXT—These are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye may have life in His name.—John 20:31.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Beautiful Stories Told by John.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Greatest Things in John's Gospel.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Great Scenes in John's Gospel.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Great Teachings of John's Gospel.

Happily we have come to one time at least when the quarterly review is easy and a pleasure. The teacher's supreme aim should be to make Jesus as real to his pupils as He was to the disciples when here upon earth, for the "Word made flesh" is now dwelling among us "full of grace and truth" revealing God.—(John 1:14, 18). The best way to reveal the quarter's lessons will be to grasp the central purpose of John in writing his book, gather the central teaching of each separate lesson and use it in proving the central proposition, John clearly states his purpose in 20:31. Two things are set forth in this verse.

1. That Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God.

2. That through believing in Him, eternal life is received.

It should be the teacher's aim to establish this truth and to accomplish this glorious purpose in the lives of all his pupils.

January 3.—In this lesson Jesus is presented as the eternal Word existing with God before all worlds, the almighty Creator, the source of light and life, made flesh in order to reveal God to man.

January 10.—John the Baptist testifies that Jesus is the Lamb of God. This truth was certified unto him by a voice from heaven and the descent of the Holy Spirit upon Him (Matt. 3:16, 17). Andrew, Phillip and Nathanael corroborate John's testimony by declaring that Jesus is the Messiah of whom Moses and the prophets did write—the very Son of God.

January 17.—Jesus is the bestower of eternal life. He is the only begotten Son of the Father, who gives eternal life to those who believe on Him. Since God alone can give life, Jesus is divine.

January 24.—Jesus testifies to the Samaritan woman that He is the Messiah. His ability to disclose the secrets of the woman's heart and life convinces her that He is divine.

January 31.—The creative act, by which five thousand men, besides women and children, were fed from a few small loaves and fishes, with a superabundance left over, demonstrates the deity of Jesus.

February 7.—Jesus is divine, because He opened the eyes of the man born blind. So unusual was this miracle that such a thing was never heard of "since the world began." The man whose eyes were opened, confessed Jesus and worshipped Him as the Son of God.

February 14.—Jesus is the Messiah, the Son of God, because He is the God, Shepherd. In the Old Testament, Jehovah is set forth as the True Shepherd (Ps. 23, Ezek. 34). The true shepherd devotes his life to the welfare of his sheep, even to the extent of laying down his life for them. This Jesus did, therefore He is the promised Messiah.

February 21.—Jesus is divine because at His command, Lazarus, a man dead four days, was raised to life.

February 28.—Undivided love to God is man's supreme obligation. The Second Commandment is like unto the First, in that it centers in love.

March 7.—Jesus is divine, because He came from God and went to God (John 18:3). Though Jesus boldly claimed to be the Lord, yet He stooped to render the most menial service to His disciples.

March 14.—Jesus claimed equality with God and therefore asked His disciples to place their faith in Him as the divine being, just the same as in God.

March 21.—Jesus proved His deity by coming forth from the grave. This is the unquestioned seal of His deity.

Water of Life

If ye know what He is preparing for you ye would be too glad. He will not, it may be, give you a full draught till ye come up to the well-head and drink, yea, drink abundantly, of the pure river of the water of life that proceedeth out from the throne of God and from the Lamb.—Samuel Rutherford.

Moody on Enthusiasm

Enthusiasm means "in God"; and I can't understand how any man can realize his standing before God and not be on fire 365 days in the year. Any man who goes into business and doesn't throw his heart into it doesn't succeed. Now, why not go into the Lord's work as earnestly as into athletics?—D. L. Moody.

Purpose of Prayer

The purpose of prayer is to get God's will done.—S. D. Gordon.

Senior B. Y. P. U.

Subject: Abound in This Grace Also Scripture reading: 2 Cor. 8:1-7; Mal. 3:8-12.

Introduction—Fay Adkinson. The call to consecration—Mondelan Nabours.

Who will be Master—Arby Rainey. Stewardship—J. E. Ford.

The Tithes a practical minimum—Ola Polk.

Paul's program for Christian giving—Glenda Ford.

Paul's plan should appeal to the Christian—Korine Ragsdale.

Conclusion—Eureka Pleasant.

County B. M. S. Met Here

Wealey Adult No. 3 Entertained

The County B. M. S. held their quarterly meeting in Santa Anna Tuesday. There were a large number of visitors from the various churches in the county, Coleman, Talpa, Coleman Junction and Rockwood were well represented. The various reports were read and approved. A beautiful and delicious dinner was served by the B. M. S. of Santa Anna to the visitors. A very encouraging and good report of the Santa Anna B. M. S. was made. These ladies deserve much credit for the great work they are doing.

Mrs. Elmer Easley was hostess to Wealey Adult No. 3 on Friday afternoon. The house was very pretty in its artistic decorations of cut flowers the pansy predominating. The time was spent very pleasantly indeed in conversation and piecing quilts. Later delicious refreshments of whipped cream, cherries, sliced bananas and ice cream were served to the guests. Plate favors were pansies. The class enjoyed the afternoon very much and hope that Mrs. Easley will entertain them again as she proved to be an ideal hostess.
