For Miss Juliette Castles

A hospitality of widespread interest and of marked beauty and elegance was the bridge party given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. R. A. Harrison at the Elks Club, she entertaining a few friends ostensibly in compliment to her sister, Mrs. W. T. Withers. However, she had another and deeper inspiration for her hospitality developed into a matrimonial announcement of much more than ordinary interest for it made known the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Juliette Castles to Mr. Bonner Barnes of Port Arthur, the nuptials to take place on October 21, at high noon, at the St. Andrews Episcopal Church. This interesting bit of news came as a complete surprise to all present. Although Dame Rumor has pleasantly associated the names of the two young people, they had no intimation that Dan Cupid would hold sway on this particular occasion. This affair in novelty and charm takes pre-eminence rank among the hospitalities of the season and adds further honor of Mrs. Harrison's ability as a charming entertainer. A pink and green color scheme was observed throughout each appointment. The handsome and spacious ball room was transformed into a glorious flower garden for at every available place were baskets of artistic design and floor vases holding clusters of long stemmed gladoli of a deep pink shade, while here and there were handsome ferns on pedestals. Six tables with covers of green were arranged in semi-circular position, the guests finding their partners by a means of exquisite score cards featuring the pink hue, while the score pads were mounted on pink satin ribbon and the green pencils tied with green and pink ribbon. Concluding the game dainty little Miss Bettie Withers looked like a fairy dressed in a lavender ballet costume, representing a powder puff, as she gracefully danced amid the guests. She held a pink and green satin bag and as she danced she recited these lines: "Here in my bag are powder puffs so dear, to hold for you a secret sincere, so please read aloud, as one comes your way, and you will learn what I have to say." As she threw the puffs each contained a verse that eventually led to the love secret and making known the date of the nuptials. The first contained this line: "A pat and a dab is not for me, but to tell you something else you see." On the second puff was "It's about a girl whom we all know, and something nice about her beau." Then on the third puff: "She gave up 'Castles' for Barnes—'as fate." But on the next puff: "Oh! Just wait." While on the fourth puff: "And now you wonder what it's about, this little secret just let out. On Oct. 21, Juliette C. will marry the lucky Bonner B." These close friends were lavish in their expressions of good wishes and they were liberal with their confidings of the love which they held for her. "Juliette," as every one knows and loves her best, is the daughter of Mrs. Mabel Castles and is one of Bryan's loveliest young girls, a sincerity and charm of manner winning for her friends of every age. Miss Castles has a splendid education, and, in addition to travel in her own country, she has toured Europe. She has been honored by being asked to be Queen or Maid at the various Fairs, etc., over the State, and at the Cotton Palace in 1922 she represented A. & M. College as Dutchess. She is not only a popular social favorite in her home city, but is well known in social circles in other states. Mr. Barnes is a bright young man of likeable disposition that has won him hosts of friends wherever he goes. He possesses splendid traits of character and ability and holds a responsible position with the Gulf Refining Company at Port Arthur. He was a great favorite when a student at A. & M., and was Colonel during his senior year in 1922. This nuptial will be of statewide interest as both young people are universally popular. Mrs. Harrison served her guests with cream moulded as bridal slippers; the white cakes were ornamented with pink and green hearts; the mints also featured the color tones. The refreshments were served on bamboo trays covered with Madeira cloths. Tiny satin bags of pink and green filled with rice were on each plate. The high score prize, a silver flower receptacle, went to Mrs. J. S. Caldwell. Mrs. Withers was presented a bronze urn. To Miss Castles the sweet bride-elect, was given a beautiful breakfast cost. Those attending were Mesdames F. Seale, J. B. Bagrey, E. H. Astin, Harry Hood, M. L. Parker, Guy Adriance, O. S. Johnson, Robert Armstrong, J. S. Caldwell, Allen Carr, John Lawrence, Jr., G. S. Parker, Columbus Seale, Floy Dansby, D. W. Howell, Donald Carnes, J. T. S. Park, R. L. Hearne, Hettie Currie, Mable Castles, W. T. Withers, Misses Lila Wickes, Lois Bethea, Lucy Harrison, Louise Cline—Bryan Eagle.

Why Black?

The following beautiful article written by former Gov. E. W. Heck, of Kansas, is going the rounds of the Middle West press:

Why do people hang black crepe on their doors and clothe themselves in black garments when a loved one takes departure to that "undiscovered" country from whose bourne no traveler returns? Black suggests nothing tender or sweet or beautiful. It is not an emblem of purity or of hope. It is a symbol of night in Scripture and in all literature is a symbol of danger and despair. One of the best things the Bible says of heaven is that, "There is no night there." Really, the world needs no emblem of mourning. Nature heals, and hides her scars as soon as possible. Every soul knows its own sorrows, and that is enough. But if the world must have a symbol of sorrow, let it be white, unless indeed, the sorrow be without hope. White is the emblem of purity. White is the symbol of peace. White is the garb in which angels are said to be robed. White is the color of the Great Throne around which we love to think our loved ones are gathered. White is typical of the eternal day which it gives us joy to believe has dawned upon them—Grapeland Messenger.

A flatterer is one who believes in the return of compliments.

HORN BLOWING

We all like to "blow our own horn." It is human nature to enjoy singing our own praises. The shrilling violet type is rare. But if overdone, it gets to be a bore. There are folks who forget that if they deserve to have nice things said about them, somebody is saying them.

Commendable deeds seldom go unnoticed. When it may seem sometimes that enough praise is not bestowed, just remember that if we were engaged in "tooting the horn" of one person, there would be no time left to "whoop it up," for other deserving ones.

Be satisfied with the lion's share and give the lambs a chance to get some recognition.

Firestone

Double the Mileage at Half the Cost

Only a few years ago a 32 x 4 cord tire listed over $50.00. Today, you can buy the highest quality 32 x 4 tire—a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord—for about $26.00.

Last spring crude rubber cost tire makers around 40 cents a pound. Today, it is over 90 cents a pound.

It was not so long ago that 7,500 miles represented the average life of a cord tire, while today, 15,000 miles—and more—is only the usual performance for a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord.

Due to large, concentrated production, specialized machinery and simplified factory methods, together with economical distribution, Firestone is able to keep tire prices low—no matter where the price of crude rubber goes.

And, because of special Firestone processes, chief among which is Gum-Dipping, motorists are today getting thousands of extra miles by using Gum-Dipped Cords.

Gum-Dipping is an exclusive method used by Firestone. It is an extra process, carried out in special Gum-Dipping plants, after which the cords are put through the usual calendaring machines. Gum-Dipping insulates and impregnates every fiber of every cord with rubber, and practically eliminates internal friction and heat, and builds strength and endurance into the tire.

In the day-in and day-out service of taxicabs, buses and trucks—on the cars of hundreds of thousands of motorists everywhere—Gum-Dipped Cords are giving unheard-of mileage, dependability and satisfaction.

Get ready for the coming months of slippery pavements and bad roads. Assure yourself of greater safety, comfort and economy by equipping now with Firestone Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons.

West Texas Fair, Abilene Opens Monday, Sept. 21

Abilene, Texas, Sept. 14—Plans are maturing this week for opening the West Texas Fair here on Monday, September 21. It runs one week. No expenses has been spared to make it the largest and best exhibition ever promoted here. Three new buildings have been erected and the grandstand enlarged, at a cost of $40,000. The entertainment features, the premiums to be paid, and the program as a whole approximate a cost of $50,000. The people of this city are getting ready to extend the "glad hand" of fellowship to all visitors who come.

The high points of the program include a historical pageant, with all of the educational institutions of Abilene participating, on Monday night, Sept. 21. An estimate indicates an attendance of 25,000 school children on Public School Day, Sep. 22. There will be two football games on that day; Abilene Hi will play San Antonio Hi, and Winters Hi will play Anson Hi. Wednesday and Friday, automobile racing days, will see three of the world's fastest drivers on the local track, with many others. There are none faster or more renowned than De Palma, Lockhart and Shafer. Friday is also Shrine Day. All the Nobles of West Texas are invited, and will be served with a barbecue on the grounds. A special train, bringing the Fort Worth Nobles, is already arranged for. In collegiate football, Abilene Christian College will play Howard Payne College of Brownwood on Thursday and Simmons University will play St. Edward's University of Austin on Saturday. Saturday is Traveling Mens Day and the "peddlers" who sell everybody in West Texas are headed for Abilene on that day. On Friday night a sham battle in which 500 National Guardsmen will participate will be staged. Some of the boys who went "over the top" will take part, in order to show just how it was done. The Red Hussar Band will furnish music for the week. The regular grandstand program includes the best Hippodrome acts available. The Agricultural show, the Manufactures exhibit, the Livestock exhibit, the Dog Show and the Womens Departments are all overflowing, and thus promise to be the best ever seen in this section of the State.

Wrong Conception of Diversification

The meaning of diversification as applied to farming, is often misunderstood. Talk diversification to some with a lifetime experience in one-crop farming, and they assume that you mean the planting and sowing a large number of crops, checker-boarding the farm, as it were, with anything and everything that will grow, without regard to the value of the crop or the need of a market.

Lynch Davidson, in an address delivered at Amarillo, issued a warning against unintelligent diversification. He declared that Texas soils were made for cotton, and that it would be a mistake to abandon the crop to the extent that some advocated and advised. His remarks on this subject were incorrectly reported, according to Mr. Davidson, and many were made to believe that he was opposed to the diversification principle. Such is not the case, however. He is for intelligent diversification.

Just what is intelligent diversification? It means the planting of sufficient feed for the livestock on the place, and a good farmer always has a few good cows, a brood sow or two, probably some sheep and goats, and a flock of chickens. It means the production of vegetables, fruits, and other foodstuff for the home use wherever conditions permit, and it means providing permanent as well as temporary pastures. Intelligent diversification, in a few words, means "living at home and boarding at the same place," and enough of a variety of crops that will permit crop rotation and the maintaining and building up of the fertility of the soil.

No farmer ought to depend on the returns from one crop. His first concern should be to produce enough food for home use and enough feed for livestock. After he has provided for himself and family and his livestock he should plan his cropping so that he can keep his soil productive.

Cotton is and always should be the major crop in most sections of Texas, but it will continue to grow less profitable unless Texas farmers practice intelligent diversification. One-crop farming is poor business. It is robbing the soil and stealing from posterity. Its general practice, if continued, will bankrupt the South.—Farm and Ranch.

The Vogue For Flannels

It takes many forms this fall—this popular fabric for sport and street wear. Bordered materials are again favored and flannels come forth in a delightfully varied array.

They make stylish pleats in the front or back of skirts; they trim themselves with cuffs and collar cut from the border pattern; they sound the last note on Fashions scale with smart little capes of plaid or stripe, which fall from shoulder to waist line to meet the edge of the lower border. Such is their adaptability that they are acceptable for any time of the day.

Bordered Flannels 56 inches wide, an exquisite quality—
Yard $6.00
