SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY MARCH 4, 1938

"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

SMOKE FROM THE MOUNTAIN

Paging Mr. Ripley: A sparrow hawk flew in W. C. Ford's Garage Wednesday morning with a chicken in his mouth. The hawk dropped the chicken into the garage and the chicken was still quite healthy late Wednesday and was the center of attraction at the garage.

Ozro Eubank was handing out cigars in the News office Tuesday and we asked him if he was running for office. Time was that candidates did distribute cigars to prospective voters, but we are almost glad the times aren't as good as they were in the "old days." It is worth a lot NOT to get a campaign smoke. But if any of you office-seekers offer the editor a good smoke, of course we wouldn't hurt your feelings by refusing.

Pretty soon the government is going to run out of dimes if every town is like Santa Anna. We have never seen so many people, men, women and children, carrying dime banks or dime "pockets" to put in the old sock or savings account. We are doing it, too, so we aren't poking fun at those who are putting that money aside. Mr. Tate, local theatre manager, said several times on a trip he has gone home without supper because all his money had diminished until it was about all dimes and he refused to spend them for anything so trivial as food.

Rumor had it out that John T. Payne and family had left Santa Anna to make their home elsewhere and according to the word that spread around they were the same as gone to lots of folks. Mr. Payne spent all day Wednesday telling people that he was not leaving, he was here to stay, that he liked Santa Anna, AND HE WAS NOT LEAVING. We are glad to keep him and glad that he feels that way about Santa Anna.

The rabbit drive organizers told us to state that political candidates have a special invitation to attend the big one Tuesday. In fact they were so insistent that we announce this, that you candidates are almost requested to make a "Command performance." We hope that your ability to hunt rabbits and hit them doesn't influence the voters choice of office holder.

Our item about Dick Teague and his specs appeared in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram last Sunday under the heading of "Fleeting the Customers." And Dick said he never got publicity. We'd like to know what more he could want.

Our idea of getting even with Tom Walls for the pranks he pulls on us, would be inviting him to an ice cream supper. He can't eat it because it hurts his teeth, he told us when we offered to get him some. He can go for most anything else though we have noticed.

Softball Teams Organized Here For Recreation

Women and girls softball teams are now being organized with Miss Nell Pope supervising at the Ward School grounds. Those interested in this sport should meet there now, Miss Pope says.

Boys and mens teams are being organized at all playgrounds and competitive games will be scheduled soon. All grounds have been equipped recently with paddle tennis equipment and the new activity is speedily gaining followers.

The community night program last Friday night entertained about fifty guests who enjoyed various stunts and games from 7 until 9 p. m. These weekly gatherings are held weekly and are open to everyone in the community.

Miss Mable Fulton, one of the organizers, reminds boys that the kite, marble and bird contests will begin next week.

Museum Fund Is Getting Pledges Of Cash, Material

Ranger House and Community Center To Be Built When $500 Raised Here

Pledges of cash and building materials began coming into the Ex-Rangers Museum Building Fund this week, showing that Santa Anna citizens do not intend to waste any time in assuring the Rangers of the promised Museum and in getting a community house for Santa Anna. A quota of $500 will be raised by Santa Anna. Donors offering building materials are V. L. Grady and S. A. Millard, both of whom promised building materials on their farms that can be used in construction of the building. The materials are chiefly good native stone, which would make an attractive building.

Pledges of cash given during this first week are as follows:

J. C. Scarborough	$10.00
R. E. Dunham	10.00
S. A. Millard	1.00
Ozro Eubank	10.00
Burriss Dry Goods	5.00

Local Farmers Get Information On New Agricultural Act Provisions

Coleman County farmers will be informed thoroughly concerning details of the national referendum on March 12 to determine whether or not cotton quotas will be put into effect, Ozro Eubank, county committeeman, told the Lions Club Tuesday. Community meetings will be called immediately for explanations of the referendum and representatives of the county agent will assist in answering questions and outlining the new agricultural act. It is very important that every farmer who produced cotton in 1937 vote in this election March 12 and learn as much as possible about the features of the act. Mr. Eubank stated. This bill is a national bill and must carry a two-thirds vote of the entire cotton production area to be put into effect.

Among the questions and answers which farmers will hear at the community meetings are the following items sent out by the Extension Service of Texas A and M College:

College Station — Many questions dealing with the new

Degree advancement is the basis of the individual member's growth in the leadership program of the Future Farmers of America. Certificates of merit are part of the requirements for the several F. F. A. degrees.

The boys are Ray Hartman, who won his certificate of honor in district radio programs, Oran Henderson in district radio programs, Ray R. Lovelady in district radio programs, Bailey Horner in district radio programs, Shag Garrett in establishing terrace lines, H. W. Norris in pig production, Vernon Oakes in cotton production.

farm act, and especially with the cotton marketing quota, were recently answered by Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, in the course of a radio talk over WTAW of the Texas A. and M. College.

Among questions which were answered by Slaughter were "If marketing quotas are approved on cotton, how will they be put into effect on individual farms?" and "Will farms producing cotton in 1938 for the first time in years receive allotments?"

To the question, "How do cotton marketing quotas under the new farm act differ from the quotas under the Bankhead Act?" Slaughter replied, "Under the Bankhead Act each cotton producer received a poundage allotment and paid a tax on all cotton ginned in excess of that allotment."

"Under the new farm act, each cotton farm will receive an acreage allotment and all cotton produced on these acres may be sold without penalty. In other words, the marketing quota places a premium on efficient production, while the Bankhead Act, in effect, penalized it."

Q. If two-thirds of the farmers taking part in the cotton referendum vote for quotas, will they apply to states, counties, and communities where they are not approved?

A. The cotton problem is a national one, and not confined to any one state or county. Consequently, the quotas, if approved by two-thirds of the cotton farmers, will apply wherever cotton is produced.

Q. What are the commodities of which direct control is contemplated?

A. Cotton, tobacco, rice, corn, and wheat. Because of minimum production requirements, corn quotas will probably not apply to Texas.

Q. How does the act provide control of these crops?

A. After supplies reach certain levels, marketing of the crops is regulated through the imposition of quotas. While the act puts the quotas into effect, they are subject to rejection by a one-third vote of a producer's referendum.

Q. How will this control surpluses?

A. By providing penalties on sales in excess of farm quotas.

Q. Will the marketing quotas be put into effect each year?

A. They are put into effect whenever the supply of cotton exceeds the normal supply by more than seven percent, unless quotas are opposed by more than one-third of the producers. The normal supply for 1938 is about 18,200,000 bales, and normal supply is defined in the act as a normal year's domestic consumption and exports, plus 40 percent as an allowance for a normal carry-over. The present supply of

Understand the Cotton Vote

This week and next cotton farmers will be called in community meetings to ask questions and learn details of the new agricultural farm act for 1938 and will be informed on all phases of the act so that they can vote to their advantage in the coming referendum March 12.

The Coleman County agent stated this week that the act is definitely giving more privileges and advantages to the small cotton farmer than ever before. It is to the cotton farmers advantage to learn the facts about the act, before the vote is taken.

The entire south is looking to the time when the decision will be made about this act for the outcome of the referendum will affect business and the farming groups for many months to come.

Rev. Buell Gean Martin, son of Rev. Sid Martin of Fort Worth will not be able to come this week end and preach, as we had planned, hence we will plan to go forward with both our regular preaching services as usual. Rev. Martin will come at some later date.

High Averages For February
The attendance in Sunday school is higher for the same period than for several years. Good weather and especially good leadership has made such gains possible.

Home Mission Emphasis
The Woman's Missionary Union under the leadership of Mrs. Ed Bartlett is observing the March week of Prayer this week with services daily at the church. The YWA and GA are cooperating with the women, as are also the Sunbeam bands.

Mother's Club Meets
Mrs. T. H. Upton, the newly installed Primary Department Superintendent had a splendid Mother's Club meeting the past week. The attendance and interest were both quite encouraging.

Two Important Dates
The two outstanding events in our church life are the Association BTU Revival and Soul-Winning week, March 20 to 27, and the District Sunday School and Training Union Convention to be held at Brady March 14 and 15. Plans to make the most of both are under way now.

Choral Group To Sing
At the opening program of the Baptist Training Union Sunday evening Miss Lula Jo Harvey will present a group of girls from the Spanish Club in a special musical program, according to plans announced by Mr. Lester Newman, the General Director of the Training Union work. We had a goodly number of our people to attend the "Coaching Conference," at the church Monday evening, and the discussion was led by our Conference executive secretary, Rev. John A. Sicehoff, and gave a moving picture on some of our Mission fields. It was very helpful in carrying out "The Aldersgate Commemoration."

The Men's S. S. class will have an hour of social enjoyment and fellowship in the basement of the church next Sunday morning, from 9:00 until 10:00, when all will assemble for the worship service in the auditorium.

Gladhand Class
We were very sorry to lose Mrs. W. R. Clark from our class because of her moving to Cameron. We hope she will return to visit with us some time soon.

The class received a financial report from the secretary Sunday morning and learned that all debts incurred by the improvements of the class room were paid in full and the class treasury had several dollars remaining to carry on the class projects.

There was an encouraging increase in attendance and interest in the services last Sunday. Mrs. Lively and her daughter, Clara, from Ft. Worth were with us and added much to the services.

The Young People's meetings are having an increase in attendance. They are sponsoring the service Sunday night at which time Miss Juanita Wilcox of Brazil will speak. The public is cordially invited.

The Woman's Council had an interesting meeting Monday afternoon with Mrs. Alpheus Boardman leading a study in Christian Action. Mrs. Tom Simpson will lead the study next Monday. All our women and any one interested are invited to meet with us each Monday afternoon in the study of Christian life.

Women Stayed in Dugouts When Men Away Over Half Century Ago

By Miss Luella Chambers
Miss Emma Bond, who lived on the Colorado river, told me this story fifty years ago.

Many of the people lived in dugouts 56 years ago. The men had to go away to buy supplies and were gone several days so the women and children would stay in the dugout, as many as could get in. She was with these people when one of the children got sick and died. They had no way to dig a grave and they had to stay in the dugout three days with the dead body before the men got home. At night the wolves would howl and claw and try to dig into the dugout. The women and children lived in dread and terror until the men returned.

Miss Bond lost her eyesight and I heard she died many years ago.

A number of explanations have been offered as to the reason for the decline in prices of stocks on the stock market. We have read them all, but all we are certain of, from the explanations, is that the stocks went down.

History of Refrigeration Told By Utility Officials Here

When the mercury starts climbing, both men and beast hunt a shady spot.

They've been doing it for many centuries.

Rumor hath it that the cave-man went so far as to douse perishable foods in cool streams of water in an attempt to preserve his next meal from the ravages of Old Sol.

Which leads up to the fact that modern electric refrigeration is a far cry from the first recorded cooling system, tried out by the ancient Greeks and Egyptians before the birth of Christ.

According to W. R. Mulroy, local manager for the West Texas Utilities Company, the first refrigeration was accomplished by filling shallow earthen dishes with water and covering them with sugar cane. This crude apparatus was then placed on a roof, where, exposed to the air currents or fanned by slaves, some of the water was evaporated during the night and with it went some of the heat. Loss of the heat left the remaining water considerably cooler. The chilled water was then placed around bottles of wine to cool them. Clever, eh?

Nero — he who fiddled while Rome burned — is given credit for discovering the preservative powers of snow. Hundreds of his slaves brought bales of snow from the Apennine Mountains down to the emperor's courtyard where it was buried in deep trenches insulated with sod and straw. It kept for weeks and was used for cooling wines, fruits and fish that formed part of the Roman feasts.

In the 16th century, a Venetian, Sanct. Sanctorius, concocted a mixture of one-third salt and two-thirds snow by which he produced a temperature cold enough to freeze water.

It is said that Lord Francis Bacon contracted the pneumonia of which he died while stuffing a fowl with snow to study the effects of such treat-

Home Demonstration Notes

Ten 4-H club girls who are garden demonstrators in Coleman County have their garden work started early as it should be. The ten garden demonstrators have built a hot-bed in which to plant and grow their tomatoes for their gardens. Their hot-beds are now planted and many tomato plants are growing. The girls are putting out sub-irrigation in their gardens using tin cans or cement tile, to use in irrigating their tomato plants when they transplant them to the garden. The garden demonstrators will conserve at least 15 containers of tomatoes, and prepare and serve tomatoes for family meals.

The following 4-H club girls are garden demonstrators: Doris Jean McKee, Brown Ranch; Margaret Billings, New Central; Tavy Marie Stacy, Trickham; Onetta Keeney, Cross Roads; Elouise Calloway, Whon; Dorothy May Medcalf, Echo; Geneva Snetegar, Silver Valley; Katherine Yates, Indian Creek; Ida Ellen Arrant, Shields; and Dorothy Faye Loyd, Stark-weather.

"A hot bed will surely help me in raising tomato plants as well as being an interesting job," said Doris McKee, garden demonstrator in the Brown Ranch 4-H Club.

Doris McKee has made a hot bed 6 x 4 ft. in size that will be large enough to raise a large number of tomato plants and will also be adequate in size for cabbage, pepper, and long maturing plants which can be started in the hot-bed. Doris Jean plans to plant Earline, June Pink, or Marglobe tomatoes in her hot-bed and she plans to plant enough seed to set out at least 100 or more tomato plants, which will furnish fresh and canned tomatoes for her family this year.

Keep Your School Beautiful

Many students do not realize that they are the ones who pay for all the damage that is done to the building and furniture throughout the year. Perhaps, they have parents who do not pay school taxes, but they rob themselves indirectly because the sum spent to repair the school might be used for a better purpose.

In this school system a small amount is set aside in the budget each year for repairs. If this fund is not needed it is used to beautify the grounds or is donated to the athletic fund.

Even the most untidy person rejoices in something clean and beautiful. Keep your school unmarred and you will live to be proud of a better school.

Girl of the Golden West

By Mary John Wade

It was a day which promised to be eventful for old Grandpa Collins. It was the day of the thousand dollar purse for the two year olds at Saratoga. Grandpa was sure his Girl of the Golden West would win, if he only had a jockey.

Poor Grandpa! His very existence depended on the Girl. If she won he could pay off the mortgage on his horse breeding farm and maybe buy a stallion from Hervey Smith. Grandpa sighed and wished he could see California Comet, grandsire of the Girl, run around the track and bring home the purse again. In the old days it was not so much the purse that had mattered. Only the joy of seeing his horse win satisfied Grandpa. He recalled the time when he took Queen Elizabeth clear back to Kentucky to win the Kentucky Derby. That was when he had had to have his left leg amputated because of a wreck.

But the Queen had been safe and had won the race. "Red Streak from the West," the newspapers had called her. Well, she was the dam of the Girl. And the Girl would live up to her heritage—if only she had a jockey. Grandpa's horses were ridden by only the best jockeys, but now perhaps he would have to use an inferior one.

"Suh, Ah've been seein' you around the Girl's stable! Don't she need a jockey? If you know heh ownah speak a kind word for me! Ah've come clear from Kaintuck in search of heh! You see mah pappy rode heh mothah, the Queen, when she won the Derby and he's been trainin' me to ride heh daughtah!" said a colored lad wistfully.

Grandpa was dumb-founded. "Are you—are you old Smoky Joe Bilcock's son! Lad, if you're made of the same stuff as your pa—" Grandpa became inarticulate in his joy!

The boy's name proved to be Gus Bilcock. As the horses were lined up for the start, Grandpa chuckled and said, "It may be the making of the boy and the mare, too! He seemed to see the headlines saying, 'Girl of the Golden West Wins Two-Year-Old Purse, Ridden by a Rookie Jockey!'"

But he couldn't dream long. For there went the Girl on a good start. First lap! Second lap! Third and—Fourth! The next lap told the tale. The White Queen, second cousin of the Girl ran her a close race. Also Diablo, a large roan held the ground!

Grandpa's head swam as they neared the finish line. "Good Girl," he gurgled. And the horse seemed to hear him for she gathered speed and in a final spurt cleared the finish line just two seconds before Diablo.

Pandemonium reigned! But Grandpa was too happy to see anything, but a grinning black face, split in the center by two rows of gleaming white teeth!

A lecturer had been describing some of the sights he had seen abroad. "There are some spectacles," he said, "that one never forgets."

Miss McCreary: "I wish you could tell me where I can see a pair."

State Committee Urges Farmers To Study New Farm Act

College Station — The Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, in the course of its regular monthly meeting of Texas A. and M. College, went on record as urging farmers to make every effort to inform themselves as to the workings of the new farm act, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the committee.

"The referendum for the cotton marketing quota has been set for March 12," Slaughter pointed out. "It is imperative that cotton producers make every effort to determine how the quotas, if approved, would affect them individually, and how they would affect other producers, consumers, and the country generally."

State AAA officers have attended a regional meeting at which the new act was fully discussed, and information as to the details of the program will be placed in the hands of county agricultural agents as soon as possible.

The state committee will cooperate with the Extension Service in an informational campaign which is designed to reach the greatest possible number of farmers, Slaughter said.

County agricultural agents, their assistants, and county and community committeemen will hold community meetings at which the act in general, and the cotton marketing quota in particular, will be discussed.

Articles explaining points in the act will be furnished to newspapers and a number of radio programs dealing with the cotton marketing quota have been scheduled.

A comprehensive list of questions on the act as it is applied to cotton, with answers, is being prepared and will be printed, Slaughter said. Copies of the list should be available for distribution to farmers early in March.

FARMERS' SHORT COURSE TO BE HELD IN TWO SECTIONS

College Station, Mar. 3—The Farmers' Short Course will be held in two sections in 1938, one for 4-H club members and one for adults, according to an announcement made by H. H. Williamson, director of the Extension Service.

"The section for 4-H club boys and girls will meet on July 6-7-8, and the adult section on July 12-13-14, Williamson said.

Heretofore the club members and adults have always met as one group for the annual get-together on the campus of Texas A. and M. College. "The decision to hold the Short Course in two sections was prompted by our desire to permit more farm people to attend," Williamson said. "In recent years our accommodations have been so limited that we have been forced to restrict the attendance."

Williamson estimated that under the new arrangement accommodations could be provided for approximately 8,000 farm people and club members. With less demand on the time of teachers and lecturers, an increase in the quality of the program is also expected.

FFA Trips to Brownwood and Coleman

The six members of the Buffalo FFA Chapter who are trying out for the meat identification team with their advisor, O. W. Myers, went to Brownwood on February 22. Meat markets were visited in the H. and H. and Piggy Wiggly stores. The boys were shown every courtesy and received much helpful information. Both stores invited the boys to come back and at Piggy Wiggly they were told that if they notified the store ahead of time, a half of a beef would be cut into the retail cuts for the boys' benefit. The boys plan to do that and to hold the try out for the team there afterwards.

Boys making the trip were Eugene and Elvin Studdard, James Horseman, Jack Todd, Dave Banks and J. F. Payne. Approximately forty vocational agriculture students of Buffalo and about a dozen boys in the seventh grade attended the Coleman FFA and 4-H Club Fat Stock Show on Feb. 24. The group as a whole and especially those interested in livestock judging, learned several things.

Jack Todd from Buffalo entered a calf in the 700-800 pound class.

News

The students of Buffalo were honored Monday, February 28, by an interesting program presented by a cartoonist who drew several cartoons and gave explanations for them. The children showed so much enthusiasm that he presented a longer and better program the following day.

The play, "Bound to Marry," sponsored by Mrs. Michaels, was presented Wednesday night, March 2, with a great attendance. Everyone enjoyed the successful program and is looking forward to others that will be equally successful.

The Buffalo-Salem Methodist Church is preparing a program including a short play to be given for the Aldersgate work. One of the members stated that it would be given on Sunday, March 13, after preaching services. Rev. Pat Brown will be present for a sermon since that is the day preaching services are to be held.

Oil Interest

The Fry Oil Field, located in the north-eastern part of our community, has brought considerable wealth to our school, community and people. The field was discovered in 1927 and grew into a boom almost overnight. It brought considerable taxes into our school and enabled us to be the first in making improvements to our school such as our gymnasium.

New wells are being drilled in various parts of our community owing to the fact that our shallow wells in Fry are decreasing in production and deep test wells became a necessity. We hope that the deep tests will bring another boom to our community.

Third Grade News

"My Dog"

I have a little dog, his name is Ned
Every time he barks, I wish he were dead.
He chases the cows out of the pen,
Turns right around and catches a hen.

"My Pet"

My dog is gone,
He went away
He liked to run
He liked to play.

Mozelle Beats Buffalo For County Meet Title

Martha Ritchie, Jane McCrary Make County All-Star Team

Buffalo and Mozelle played a very sensational game to close the County Meet for girls basketball held in Talpa for the last two week-ends.

The first game of the county meet was played on Feb. 18 from 7 to 8 p. m. between Buffalo and Centennial. The score in favor of Buffalo was 41-11. The second game, played from 8 to 9 p. m. was between Rockwood and Talpa. The score in favor of Talpa was 42-15.

The third game played at 9 p. m. was between Mozelle and Novice. The Mozelle team won 40-26. Burkett drew a bye for which they did not have to play a game. This ended the first night of play in the county meet.

Saturday night Feb. 19 at 6 p. m. the Buffalo girls played one of the best games of the season. They played Talpa. The score in favor of Buffalo was 24-19. This game was a game between the winners of the first two games the night before. The next game was played between the losers of the night before. Rockwood played Centennial and beat them 33-21. They played at 7 p. m. The next game was between Mozelle and Burkett, the former winning with a score of 33 to 12. The last game for the week was played between Novice and Talpa. The girls all played a hard game. It ended with a score of 35-27 in favor of Talpa.

On Feb. 25 the county meet continued. The first game was between Rockwood and Burkett. Burkett won by a score of 28 to 19. The game was played at 6 p. m. Buffalo and Mozelle played the second game at 8 o'clock, Mozelle winning by a score of 29-13. The last game for Friday was played between Burkett and Talpa, Talpa winning by a score of 35-15.

The last day of the meet was opened by a game between Buffalo and Talpa. The Buffalo girls really had the old home spirit in this game. At the last whistle the score was 32-23 in favor of Buffalo. At this time two games were played between the Boys Commercial teams from Talpa and Mozelle. Mozelle won both games. The last game of the county meet was played at 10 p. m. between Buffalo and Mozelle. This was a very spectacular game but ended with Mozelle leading 29-24.

Immediately after the last game a county All-Star Team was chosen by Mr. Norris from Divide School. He gave a comment on each girl he chose. The girls were as follows: Miss Martin, No. 8, forward from Talpa; Miss Byron, 10, forward from Mozelle; Miss McCrary, 55, forward from Buffalo; Miss Ritchie, 58, guard from Buffalo; Miss Mons, 4, guard from Talpa; and Miss Arnold, 5, guard from Mozelle. Each of the girls were awarded an individual trophy by Mr. Glenn Mitchell, superintendent of the Talpa High School. Mr. Mitchell also awarded the other trophies which consisted of a gold plated, natural sized basketball for first place which was awarded to the captain of the Mozelle team and a trophy with a girl holding a basketball for second place which was awarded to the Captain of the Buffalo team, Miss Drapon Ritchie. Talpa got third place but there was no award.

Gladys Watts saw a good looking man in a magazine and ran up to Jane McCrary and said, "Kid, this looks just like Chuck."

Reader's Column

Editor's Note: The following letter was written this week by readers of the News.

The Trades-Day Meeting Monday at 2 p. m. a Trades-Day meeting had been called, the third attempt to get the business men together to plan a campaign for advertising Santa Anna to draw people into our town since the annual meeting when a new Chairman and Secretary were elected.

The Chairman and the Secretary showed up and one of our new merchants and that was the total out of the possible 30 odd members of the Trades Day Association.

A survey of the town was made and 90 per cent of the merchants were seen about their place of business, but doing nothing; others were seen playing pool and some were visiting other houses.

The members present, not feeling like shouldering the whole burden, when others were not even interested, decided to disband the Trades Day Association and did disband the same; so there will be no more trades days, no fall fair and if this creeping disease of don't care is not stopped the Rodeo and the soft ball league will go the same way.

If physical laziness were a virtue, verily this Mountain City would be a gem among the gems of all time.

If mental lassitude were only capital this little town could finance the Federal Government debts and still have enough to pay the Townsend plan of old age pensions and lower the age limit to 45.

We want something done, but we want it done according to our ideas without putting us to the trouble of expressing the idea. Where do I get all this? Well, we are invited, summoned and begged to attend these public meetings, but we won't. If the meeting is scheduled for daytime, we never have time; if the meeting is scheduled at night, we had much rather play pinochle, ping pong or poker and let the meeting go hang.

Of course we had rather have a booming business without working for it, but how many of you think your business would improve without any kind of work and cooperation to let other towns and our own citizens know we exist. How much better it would be if we all go together and boost to get the traders to our town and then mark our fronts as "THE MAIN ENTRANCE" but we are not going to sell unless people come to our town and the people who are buying are going to other places unless we can convince them that Santa Anna is the place for them to trade.

There are two lines of institutions in every town that should be in the lead for all good things for their town, yes they should be up in arms fighting for their town at all times and these are the Bank or Banks of the town and the City Government, but is our bank or city government anything the lead in advancing anything to uphold the community? Did you notice the list of members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from Santa Anna?

This is not aimed to criticize individuals but what the institution stands for.

The biggest error the City Commission has made so far was turning the lights back on after they had been turned off. The rest of the town is dark and dead so why burn the lights?

The Lions Club is the only organization of a civic nature we have but they are handicapped for lack of membership and money to do things with; however in every emergency the Lions Club is called on to carry through and usually the non-member citizens are the loudest to make the call, yet for various reasons these very citizens can't belong to the Lions and some have even quit the Lions because one of their pet ideas did not go over with the majority of the Club. Most everyone claims to be democratic, but we had rather be "Hitlers" than democratic and helpers.

If we expect our business to prosper, then we have got to see to it that Santa Anna prospers, not only Santa Anna, but our trade territory must be built up.

Then do we expect someone else to do our part of the work and pay our part of the expense in bringing about this desired state? Well, each one of us had better be thinking hard about how we can help and get in and help at every move or attempt to put over a

Extension Cotton Specialists Reach 190 Counties In Drive For Improvement In Cotton

College Station — More than 23,000 farmers, ginners, merchants, bankers, and others interested in the cotton industry attended a series of 190 county-wide cotton meetings sponsored by the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College during 1937, according to Jack Shelton, vice director and state agent.

In the course of the meetings, it was pointed out that at least part of the blame for the falling off of cotton exports from Texas could be traced to the production of inferior cotton of such short staple as to be unmarketable. In the past Texas cotton commanded a premium and was eagerly sought because of its excellent quality and inch staple.

Mr. Jackson: Can anyone tell me what a watt is?

Doc Brand: That's watt I want to know.

Local Farmers --

American cotton is almost 25 million bales, largely because of the record breaking crop of 18,700,000 bales in 1937.

Q. If marketing quotas are approved, how will they be put into effect on individual farms? A. The national cotton allotment of 26,300,000 acres will be allocated to the cotton growing states on the basis of the production of cotton in each state during the preceding five years, and the acres diverted from cotton under previous programs will be taken into consideration. Each state's allotment will be divided among counties on the same basis, but no county will receive less than 60 percent of the sum of the acreage planted in 1937 and the acreage diverted from cotton under the 1937 program.

The county allotment will be divided among farms on which cotton has been planted in any of the past three years as follows: All farms which have not planted and diverted as much as five acres of cotton in any of the 3 years, will receive as their allotments the greatest number of acres planted and diverted in any of the three years. All farms on which 5 acres or more of cotton were planted and diverted in any of the three years, will receive as their allotment 5 acres and an additional amount which will bring the total allotment up to a percentage of the farm cropland (excluding acreages devoted to tobacco, wheat, and rice, which will be the same for all farms in the county or administrative area.

Provision is made for a small county reserve which may be allotted to farms receiving from 5 to 15 acres under the above provisions. Q. Will farms producing cotton in 1938, but which did not produce cotton during the past three years, receive allotments? A. Yes: a reserve acreage will be available in each state to be divided among these farms. Q. Is there a limit to the acreage that may be allotted to a farm? A. No farm will be allotted an acreage greater than the cotton acreage planted and diverted during the past three years except in the case of new cotton producers. Q. What is the marketing quota of the individual cotton farmer? A. It is the cotton produced on his allotted acres, or the normal production on his allotted acres, whichever is greater. This means that he can sell without penalty all the cotton he produces if he does not exceed his allotted acres. Q. Who divides the county allotment among the farmers in a county? A. Community and county committees who have been elected by the farmers. Q. When will farmers vote on the 1938 cotton quotas? A. March 12, when the county committees will select a voting place in each community where cotton is grown and will select three local farmers to hold the referendum. Q. If the quotas are in effect as the result of the referendum, what happens to a farmer if he knowingly overplants his acreage allotment? A. He loses all soil conservation payments, his cotton price adjustment payments, and the opportunity to obtain a loan on the marketing quota for the farm. However, he may receive a loan on cotton produced in excess of his marketing quota of 60 percent of the rate available to farmers who stayed within their allotment. In addition, he must pay a penalty of two cents a pound on the excess production sold, which will be collected by the buyer. This penalty does not apply to cotton produced on any farm which has received a cotton acreage allotment and on which the production is 1,000 pounds of lint cotton or less. Q. Will cotton loans be available under the new act? A. The new act provides for loans at the rate of between 52 to 75 percent of the parity price for cotton on the basis of 7-3 inch middling cotton. However, the loans will be available only if the market agreement is declared in effect as a result of the referendum.

College Station -- More than 200,000 Texas farm people carried on work in cooperation with county agricultural and home demonstration agents during 1937, according to Miss Mildred Horton and Jack Shelton, state agents and vice-directors of the Extension Service of A. & M. College. Figures from the annual reports of field agents, now being compiled at headquarters of the Extension Service, show that 214,639 Texas farm people carried demonstrations under the direction and supervision of Extension workers. Home demonstration agents worked with 7,805 demonstrators and 60,330 cooperators during the year, Miss Horton said.

NOTICE My Jack and Percheron Stud will make season at my barn. All season will be $5 cash in advance with privilege of breeding all season or until satisfied. M. L. Guthrie

The most popular demonstrations had to do with home improvement, and 2,273 farm women and 4-H club girls established demonstrations, while all the other women and girls in home demonstration clubs effected some improvements. There were 1,946 home food supply and 658 yard improvement demonstrations, and again each club member carried on certain parts of the demonstration. County agricultural and home demonstration agents carried on together 217 whole farm demonstrations. This new type of work, which includes the activities of the entire farm and all phases of the home, was inaugurated in 1937. Various phases of agricultural engineering, including terracing and trench silos, accounted for 8,401 demonstrations, Shelton said. Emphasis on the improvement in quality of cotton resulted in the establishment of 8,803 demonstrations in this field. Miss Horton and Shelton pointed out that these figures as applied to demonstrators and cooperators included only demonstrations on which complete records were kept. Figures on the total number of farm families reached by the Extension Service will be available when tabulation of annual reports is completed, they said.
