GRASSHOPPERS SERIOUSLY DAMAGING CROPS

SANTA ANNA OFFERS MANY OPPORTUNITIES TO THE HOMESEAKER

(By Ray B. Mc-Corkle)
Are you satisfied with conditions which exist in your city? If you are, you are in position to recommend your home town to outsiders as a desirable place in which to live. If you are not, it is up to you to take steps to improve conditions.

Of course one will not hope to find all the good things in one city, yet because of our many tastes, we have a right to select as our home town a place that comes very near meeting with our approval. There never was a town that didn't have its good points; there never was a man so mean that he did not have some good trait. But in speaking of towns we think it well to consider some of the desirable points which Santa Anna has in her favor.

As a matter of fact Santa Anna is only a town—not a city. It may be that it will never be a city, and that is well, for there are hundreds and thousands of people who despise city life—people who prefer smaller places. To this class Santa Anna offers many opportunities.

To begin with, it may be truthfully said that her schools, churches and lodges are as good and as well organized as will be found in any other town in Texas; population considered. Her people speak of them with pride—they are worth while institutions, and are in a great way responsible for the presence of her citizenship.

Santa Anna has one of the best water supplies in all Central West Texas, and despite the fact that there is some opposition to certain improvements which are contemplated at this time, it may be said that it is not of a serious nature. The city has asked that residents put up a small deposit on meters, and by so doing enable the department to give better service. This, of course, will be done, and without cost to any one, as the deposits not only draw interest, but will be refunded when service is discontinued.

Santa Anna is fortunate in having two lighting systems—gas and electricity. Electricity is more popular than gas, and the service here is very satisfactory. Rates, too, are to be considered. Santa Anna people are paying less for electric current than most of their neighbors. A 15 cent rate with certain discounts prevails, while in some nearby towns people pay as high as 20 cents flat.

Ice is also manufactured and distributed in the city at a reasonable rate, and the owner of the plant makes it a point to give just as good service as is possible.

As a marketing point, Santa Anna is considered very favorably. One produce firm in Santa Anna last year handled almost $200,000.00 worth of merchandise. Farmers are learning that the diversified crop really pays, and that a few hens and hogs help pay grocery bills during the Spring and Summer when money is scarce.

Just at this time there is considerable building going on. Streets are being graded and paved, and the entire city is undergoing a change in appearance, and we are glad to say that it is for the better.

There are many things worthy of mention, and should one come to this city in search of a home, he will find many attractions—things worth while.

ELKINS AT COLEMAN GETS NEARLY 5 YEARS FOR KILLING WEAVER

In District Court at Coleman Saturday afternoon the jury brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of the State versus John Elkins who was charged with killing Norman Weaver and the punishment was assessed at four years and nine months in the penitentiary. Elkins shot and killed Weaver in the courthouse at Coleman January 2, 1922. In the trial of the case the State was represented by District Attorney Walter U. Early and Mark McGee, while the defense was represented by Critz & Woodward, Judge Baker and Judge Weathered. The case attracted a great deal of attention and consumed practically the entire week in being tried, starting Monday morning and concluding Saturday.

Firemen Will Select Chief At Next Meeting

Members of Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department met Monday evening for their regular monthly meeting. Of the 21 members only 12 answered present when the roll was called.

After a short business session the trucks were taken out, and the boys given an hour of practice. The alarm was sounded, and a number of people gathered in the streets thinking there was a fire. However, they soon learned that it was just practice, and the alarm had just been turned on to remove the cobwebs.

The selection of a new chief to fill the vacancy of Chas. Erwin, deceased, was postponed until the next regular meeting. First assistant chief, Moody Polk is now acting chief.

Farmers Using Crude Oil To Kill Hoppers

Because of the scarcity of poison, farmers in the Santa Anna territory are turning their attention to other methods of exterminating grasshoppers. Crude oil, which is very easily obtained at any of the wells near the city, is considered by many as one of the best weapons with which to fight the pests.

The oil is sprinkled around the edge of the field and where the ground is covered it is found that hoppers are very slow to cross over.

Considerable poison is being used, in fact local druggists have been unable to supply the demand. S. H. Phillips sold 600 pounds of arsenic in 26 hours, and other druggists sold all they had in stock. Paris green is also being used, and with equally as good results as the arsenic.

By waging a relentless warfare, farmers express the opinion that a major portion of their crops will be saved.

B. Y. P. U. Crowd Enjoy Camp Life

Last Tuesday afternoon some of the B. Y. P. U. members and others motored to Home Creek and spent the night. Soon after camping we had a delightful swim, after which a most delicious dinner was served picnic fashion.

Fishing, swimming, "42" and "Rook" furnished amusement for the "Sleepy Heads."

In the morning we had a swim before breakfast that kept us a wake until we could get home.

Those there were: Rev. J. M. Reynolds, T. S. Slaughter and family, Mrs. Ed Bartlett and family, Misses Corine Wallace, Elizabeth Walters, Jewell Harris, Faytina Bartlett, Mary McCorkle, Thelma Martin, Louise Campbell, Mattie Ella McCreary, Bernice Hefner, Messrs Floyd Reynolds, Knox Campbell, Clyde Bartlett, Reginold Owen, Manley Reynolds. The good time we all had has not been forgotten for we are reminded frequently of it by the gentle but cruel "chiggers"—Contributed.

METHODIST CHURCH Sunday School 9:45 a. m.

There will be no preaching either morning or evening. The Board of Stewards have granted the pastor and wife leave of absence to attend the Commencement exercises at S. M. U., Dallas. Regular services the following Sunday.

R. A. Crosby, pastor.

Sunday School To Enter Into Class Contest

Santa Anna Baptists feel that they have as good a Sunday School as there is in Coleman county, and Superintendent D. J. Barnes has asked the News to announce that the Santa Anna school will enter a contest again Coleman Baptists, beginning Sunday. The contest will run for a period of three months, and during that time the Six Point record will be used.

All members of the local organization are urged to be present Sunday, and to enter the contest with a determination to win. It will mean good lessons, good attendance and hard work, but Santa Anna is able to deliver the goods, for her forces are exceptionally well organized.

Baptist Revival Will Begin On Sunday, July, 1

The News has been authorized to announce that the First Baptist church of this city will begin its annual revival services Sunday, July 1st. To date the church has made no selection for an evangelist, though the services of an out-of-town minister will be procured for the meeting.

Pastor Reynolds, in making the announcement, laid particular stress upon the duty of lay-christians of the city, and especially requests that every christian in the city lend his or her cooperation, in an effort to make the meeting one that will be worth while—a revival that will truly revive.

Other announcements will be made from time to time, and all church workers are asked to regulate their affairs to such an extent as to make it possible for them to attend every service.

Birth of a Nation Be Shown Here

Movies are movies, yet some pictures are better than others. D. W. Griffith's "BIRTH OF A NATION," so far as the South is concerned, is a picture in a class of its own. The writer has seen it three times, and even now would enjoy it again. It stands for the South—for southerners, and in no uncertain tones condemns conditions which prevailed shortly after the Civil war when the "colored man," better known in Texas as "nigger," had almost complete control of affairs.

This picture will be shown at The Best Theatre in July, and Mr. Keeling is fortunate in securing such a program. If you have seen it, you will enjoy it again; if you have not, make it a point to do so this time.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES GIVEN PLEASANT HOUR

Twenty-five members of the Intermediate department of Santa Anna Baptist church, were entertained by their departmental superintendent, Mrs. J. E. Ford, at her home one mile south of the city, Tuesday evening. Pastor Reynolds accompanied the youngsters, and reports the affair a most enjoyable one.

Classes invited were those of Edd Bartlett, Mrs. Miriam Prickett and Miss Hollye Reynolds. Refreshments were served.

The gloom in your life is there because you keep it there. The sunshine is always trying to break in.

FARMERS SUCCESSFUL IN FIGHT AGAINST THE PESTS; VICTORY SURE

GARDNER'S FILLING STATION IS MODERN IN EVERY RESPECT

In this city there are a number of first class filling stations—places where one may purchase supplies for the car, and where "service" is a thing most treasured. Yet there is at least one station in Santa Anna that will rank with similar businesses in other cities, many times her size.

The building is of brick, concrete and plate glass; the arrangement ideal. SERVICE is the watchword, and once you visit Gardner's Drive In Filling Station you will realize you are being given the things you desire. The latest model gas pumps are used, and only standard merchandise is sold. Free air, free water and free battery service mean much to the car owner, and at this place they are the disposal of all.

This institution has been in existence for only a few months, but it is growing in popularity. It is an institution that does credit to its owner, and to the city in which it is located.

PRESBYTERIAN INSTITUTE HERE JUNE 27-29

Remember the Institute which will be held here June 27-29 under the auspices of the Texas Synodical Boards of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and COME.

Rev. W. H. McLesky, Dr. Chas. R. Matlock, Mrs. W. F. Langley, and Rev. H. R. Allen are persons worth hearing. Each and every one of them have had experience in the work they are representing and are prepared to be of service to all who will hear them. People of all denominations will be helped by hearing the program to be rendered during the three days given us.

Do not forget to hear Mr. T. J. Scott who is the best song leader of his denomination.

"One-half of the world ought to be doing what the other half is not," says an exchange—yourself excepted.

Farmers from various parts of the county have been in town this week discussing the probability of losing a crop on account of grasshoppers now working havoc in all sections of the state. Various opinions have been expressed, and no doubt every man who has been compelled to put up with the pests has an idea all his own. Yet, there are many things to be taken into consideration.

First, it is a well known fact that grasshoppers are nothing new in Texas. They have been here for years, and at times their work has been very disastrous. It was in 1901, if the writer remembers, when farmers of this section gave up to the hoppers. For a while they fought them, but after the crops were fading from view, they gave up. That fall considerable cotton was ginned in Santa Anna, and very few farmers were compelled to buy feed the following year. Had the battle been kept up no doubt returns would have been much greater.

Today our producers realize that it is possible for them to save crops. They are using every method known to man to exterminate them. It will be impossible to kill them all, but if the fight is continued, it seems safe to say that a fair crop will yet be harvested. It is the duty of every farmer to continue the battle. It is the duty of druggists and other dealers to lend all assistance possible, and so far they have done so.

There is no time for argument. In a way our country is facing calamity, yet many despondent persons may realize in the future that their work was worth while. It is now a matter of continuing the fight.

Optimism is not great, for it never is during a critical period. Yet there is enough sturdy fighters in this community to "hold the Fort." With proper precautions a bumper crop may yet be harvested. It is up to us to make the best of the affair. Let's win.

J. G. SIMS MOVES CAFE TO BUILDING ON MAIN
The American Cafe, owned by J. G. Sims, and for many months located on Depot street, was this week moved to a building on Main Street formerly occupied by the F. M. Jaynes paint store. The change was made, according to Mr. Sims, for a number of reasons, and he feels that in the future he will be in position to render better service to his patrons.
The building has been completely remodeled, and is considered by the owner a very desirable location for such an enterprise.

FORT WORTH MAN 76 YEARS OLD HAS SEEN MANY WARS
Fort Worth, May 30.—B. R. Sprayberry, of one little war and many big ones the little one being the Civil War and the big ones being his matrimonial careers, has called another truce and is trying to make peace terms.
Sprayberry, who is 76 years old, is seeking dissolution from his latest spouse Susie Martin, 14. Two days previous to his marrying Susie he got a divorce from Gladys Lopp, 19, who ran away from him the night they were married.
He says that three days after his marriage to Susie she instituted such harsh treatment that he could not live with her and they separated March 25.
Sprayberry's name is sprinkled throughout the marriage and divorce records of Tarrant county.

MELTON—PAGE
On last Monday morning at nine o'clock at Fredricksburg, Texas Mr. Elish Melton of this city and Miss Lillian Pace of Chicago, Ill., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony; Rev. Billings, a Baptist minister officiating.

DON'T KID YOURSELF
A common expression is, "I won't build now as cost of construction is too high."
Incomes have increased proportionately to cost of construction and the man who does not demand every newfangled contraption can build with his present day income and have a larger margin left than would have been possible in 1913.
Don't blame the present building costs entirely on lumber and labor. Remember that in 9 cases out of 10 your ideas of what you want have expanded with your income and you would not be satisfied today with the 1913 bungalow.
Taxes at $100, insurance at $30, repairs and upkeep at $100 and 7 per cent interest on a $5,000 house amounts to $580 a year.
If you pay $50 a month rent for nine years you have $5400 worth of rent receipts worth nothing. If you put $50 a month into a home for five years even if it was necessary to cut out a few theater parties or clothes to make up interest etc., until the property was paid for, you would have an asset worth probably more than $5400 at the end of nine years and your family would have a roof over its head which could not be taken away from them for failure to pay a month's rent.
Don't kid yourself, you can own a home as well today as you could ten years ago if you want to. It is not the cost of building that will prevent you, it is the cost of satisfying your inflated demands for luxuries and modern extravagances.

SEND or phone Parker Bros. to get your laundry and clothes.

WHAT OF RADIO IN THE FUTURE?
Already it reaches ships in any part of the ocean, the isolated farm can listen to music and lectures in the cities. Medical advice has been sent by radio where it was impossible to reach a patient by other means. Information is broadcasted to the farmer on crop and weather conditions. Fire warnings have been sent out and the way of the crook will be made harder thru ability to broadcast a record of his activities to every community in the land.
The future possibilities of radio are inconceivable. Various principles which will make it more applicable to business and social life are just being worked out. The supreme inventive genius of the country, the greatest organizing ability and the most powerful resources are now at the service of the new art, with the result that radio has made greater strides in the past two years than in the ten years previous.
No other nation has such a combination of air communication resources for the benefit of its people.

TO RETIRE SPEED DEMONS
A Chicago judge gave four speeding motorists their choice to go to jail or quit driving for one year. They chose the latter.
A good precedent. There should be some way to detect the speed fiend before he does any damage, and deprive him of the right to drive. Failing in that, the next best thing is to withdraw his driving privilege when he is found out.
Only it might be better to double the thing up and send them to jail and deprive them of the right to drive too. Something has to be done—that's certain. Fortunately there are a few babies being born—otherwise the population would steadily dwindle on account of the auto slaughter.

Snoring Negro Causes Police to Make Hurry Call Wednesday Night
The police department was given a hurry-up call last night to proceed at once to the Ford School house premises and get a dead negro, whose body had been located by passers-by. On arriving in the vicinity of the "dead" darkey the officers were greeted with a snore, of the continuous variety that would have done credit to "way down in the corn field" on a hot afternoon, in cotton chopping time. The darkey had taken one or two swallows too many and was snoring it off.—Brownwood Banner-Bulletin.

HOW TO JUDGE EACH OTHER
If you must judge us, judge us for what we strive for.
If we are weak, be tolerant.
If we be strong, pray that we become not arrogant.
If our mistakes injure you, tell of us them, and trust in our sense of justice to make reparation.
If we cannot agree on details such as politics and religion, then let us agree on the broader principle of human kindness, for when we put aside the accumulation of opinions that are the children of self-interest, we find a family resemblance in the faces of all men.—Ex.
For two or three years dad has been kicking about the brevity of daughter's dresses and now that they are full blown again he kicks about the additional cloth it takes to make them. Poor old dad never is satisfied, in any way or with anything.
Success in worldly affairs is generally the result of good luck, good judgement, and a little horse sense. Honesty occasionally gets a look-in.
If it is true that the streets of heaven are paved with gold we can understand why a profiteer kicks so strenuously against going to hell.
Energy is most displayed by some people when it is time to quit work.

If you have a poor neighbor, what do you suppose he thinks of you?
If you must be a pessimist put off being one until tomorrow. That will give you a long time for optimistic waiting.

Occasionally we find a man who, is a real town builder.

Anything in a community that creates distrust and suspicion is detrimental to the welfare of that community. Do not all good citizens realize this?

THE IMPORTANCE OF INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

We should have learned the importance of industrial and agricultural growth and development to our community.

Our prosperity rests upon these essential phases in the city's improvement. If a mine, a smelter or a factory in or around our city closes down it cripples the community to the extent of its prominence, and the amount of money it distributes regularly in the place. The schools, churches, professional or mercantile establishments suffer proportionately. The comfortable homes and well paid artisans are affected and a paralyzing influence is felt. Our prosperity rests on the basis of sound industrial and agricultural growth and it behooves us to do all in our power to keep those conditions settled and secure.

For this reason we should guard with care the disturbing elements that creep in to disrupt a quiet and harmonious state. It is the business of every home loving man and woman to protect his or her welfare. It to discourage any attempt on the part of disinterested agitators to break the serenity of our condition.—Henriette, Oklahoma, Standard.

AND SO THEY PASS ON

The launching of another class of high school graduates into the world brings reflective thoughts, some sad, some glad.

Glad, because another group has successfully completed the course of study and is presumably better equipped for life's career.

Glad, because it indicates that the girls and boys are approaching the age of maturity and with their mental training are prepared to assume their share in carrying on the activities of this old world.

Glad, because the workings of an all-wise Providence has provided that the replacement of human units in this world shall be a Progressive one, to the end that the older may instruct the younger and the advancement of knowledge and civilization may continue.

Sad, because these graduates have now passed the happiest period of their lives and from more or less irresponsible creatures have now in the eyes of their fiends become more or less responsible.

Sad, because these few in the graduating class are all that survive of the possible 70 or 80 who started 10 or 11 years ago in the primary grade. They are all who attained the utmost there was to be had out of the public schools.

Sad, because this dropping by the wayside was not an unavoidable thing, it was a survival of the fittest—it was a survival of those whose parents had the vision and determination to keep their children in school through at least the high school.

In this favored section there are few families which could not by small sacrifices have spared the child's services till high school was finished. In the last analysis the failure to complete high school lies with the parents, in all but a few cases.

And the fact that the boy or girl prefers to go to work instead of finishing school has little to do with it. It is the duty of the parent to see that the child stays in school. The parent who truly speaks when he says the boy would not stay in school is confessing his inability to control his own child.

Too often the parent is either indifferent or wants to get rid of supporting the boy or girl. He wants the added income that the partially educated youngster can make.

Once in a long while a case occurs where it seems impossible for a student to finish. This talk does not apply to such instances for they are few and far between.

The percentage of mortality in scholastic life is appalling. We see huge classes in the first grade, smaller in the second and so on up. When we get into high school, the students drop off like flies, till in the senior year there is but a scattering handful of those who began an education.

Every parent should seriously question himself as to his responsibility toward his child's mind, and weigh well the seriousness of handicapping the child by insufficient schooling.

THE CHANGE

"I left the old farm," confessed an Ordinary Man, "to escape the endless work, the long hours, the savage bite of the winter mornings and all the rest of the dull monotony of the treadmill existence; in short to be master of my own destiny. Now, here in the city, I am not obliged to do anything I do not wish to do, except grind day after day humped over my desk, ride back and forth in street cars, with a well nourished booby standing on my foot or feet, as the case may be; melt or congeal, according to the season, in an apartment where I do not know the names of most of my fellow dwellers, but am well acquainted with the subjects about which they upraid each other fiercely, and frequently; get run over occasionally when I stroll out for an airing, or held up and otherwise made little of.

"In other respects I am as free from care as a bonny bird. And by saving up my money carefully all the rest of the year, I am able to go back to the old home neighborhood for two weeks every summer and struttingly run it all over the folks there, most of whom could buy me and never remember they had paid out the money."—Country Gentleman.

High School Graduates You Are Facing the Problem Which Is the Greatest In Your Life

You will find it hard to appreciate the fact that you are right now actually facing the question as to just what you will do in the future—"Just what course shall I pursue in the future?" At any rate, you are aware that it will be necessary for you to support yourself within the next few years, regardless of what your undertaking will be. It is necessary that you make this decision for yourself NOW.

Business offers an opportunity second to none, for within 4 or 5 months time you will be earning money instead of spending it. With this earning you can continue your future plans without a handicap. All business men and women in the U. S. have been educated in a business college, or have had some business training.

As a high school graduate, you have the advantage over thousands of students who are making good in business each year. Those who have not been so fortunate as to complete the high school course have secured a business education, and within a few years after completing this course were satisfactorily engaged in business for themselves. You have more than an equal chance, and should make the decision now to enter The Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, for a thorough and practical business training. Business men do not have time to train their employees, and rely upon the most progressive and modern commercial schools to supply their office help. For this reason, the Tyler Commercial College can easily place you in a good position within three or four months time from the date you enroll. A fair comparison with any commercial school will establish this fact.

A large free catalogue, explaining fully the courses of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Business Administration and Finance, Telegraphy, Penmanship, Cotton Classing, Radio, and Civil Service, will be mailed you upon request. ANOTHER KIND OF WASTE
Occasionally we read a learned article on the subject of the millions of acres of waste land in this country—land that has never felt the bite of a plow.

But that is not the only kind of land that is going to waste in the United States. There are acres of waste land right here in this town, land that could be put to excellent use and at the same time beautify the back yard.

Many people have nothing along their back fence—unless it is rubbish.

But if those fences were in some of the densely populated old, countries you would see them covered with vines and the vines loaded with fruit.

Grapes require something on which to climb, and what is better than a fence? And what is more delicious than a bunch of luscious grapes?

The vines would take a nakedness away from your fence and give it an artistic or rustic hedge effect.

The grapes would be a treat to your stomach, which is continually craving fruit.

And the ground would be covered with something beautiful and profitable instead of being a catch-all for rubbish you throw out of the house or garden.

TEXAS HAS ANOTHER CHAMPION JERSEY

Sophieson Humella No. 445735 owned by Mr. Ed C. Lasaster of Falfurrias, Texas, completed an excellent register of merit record by producing 13,004 pounds of milk and 735.87 pounds of fat in one year, record started at the age of 3 years and 3 months. This is the new junior three year old record for the state of Texas and 44 other states where official testing is conducted.

Grasshoppers are pretty bad but there are many things that are more serious.

THOSE CHINESE BANDITS

When a band of Chinese bandits captured a railroad train and carried off a load of foreign and Chinese passengers for ransom the Christian nations of the earth were filled with righteous indignation. They are still gasping at the audacity of the bandits, although the proverbial nine days have long since passed.

The great army of American consumers has been gasping and wondering for a long time what can be done to curb the activities of our hordes of profiteers and grafters and other common thieves who fill their pockets at the expense of people who have not yet reached the point where they can exist without eating and wearing clothes.

And here's the solution. Let down our immigration bars and admit the Chinese bandits, big chief and all. Then sick them onto the profiteers and grafters and other common thieves, and when they have bagged the lot give them all free transportation back to the mountains of China.

And not one cent for ransom!

PRINTER-CRAFTSMAN

Time was, and still is, when a printer was classed about halfway between a laborer and an ash-cart man. "Printer" to many people still means one who messes with dirty type and still dirtier inks—whose hands are always grimy with dirt and whose blotched finger-prints mars the beautiful whiteness of fresh, uncut paper.

The expression: "Oh, he's just a printer," is still heard now and then concerning the social requirements of a person. To those who pride themselves on their ancestry, a printer is a booze-fighting tramp, not fit to associate with them, not good enough to be on the same social level.

Before the advent of the modern linotype equipped composing room, printers were "boomers," an itch for travel overcoming any home-making instinct, and from New York to San Francisco they traveled, setting their string of type, and drifting on.

But that time has passed. The "Boomer" is no more. A printer now works for years, and sometimes all his life, in one office, owning his own home, and proud of the vocation he has taken up.—Exchange.

DONT BECOME DISCOURAGED

"What's the use of trying?" some people say when confronted by a difficult problem.

And that ends it—for them. They see no use, they never try, and they never accomplish anything worth while.

But there is every use in trying, even though ultimate failure is the result.

The man who tries is giving vent to the spirit of progress that is within him. The effort he puts forth, though it may be in vain, convinces him that he does possess the ability to do things. The partial results he accomplishes go far toward making clear to him the fact that he possibly lacked certain facilities, and a little greater degree of determination in order to achieve a complete success.

And that knowledge gives him faith and courage to try again—and succeed.

LOST TWO SUBSCRIBERS

A farmer wrote the Lynn County News asking for a method of ridding his orchard of the grasshopper plague. In the same mail Editor Haynes received a request from an anxious mother about her twin babies who were having a hard time teething. His stenographer mixed the replies with the result that the farmer received the following:

"Wrap flannel cloths around their throats. Rub gums with castor oil, and massage their stomachs twice daily."

The anxious mother received this stratling advice: "Cover with dry straw, soak thoroughly with coal oil and apply match. The little pests will soon stop bothering you."—Tulia Herald.

Friday, June 8, 1923
J. J. GREGG, Editor and Publisher

Senator Ferris of Michigan advises girls not to marry until they are capable of supporting a husband. With such a prospect in view our marriageable young men ought to take heart and buck up and pop in a hurry—to the right girl.

A campaign is on now for government ownership of railroads, or at least it is trying to crawl into the campaign class. We are not certain whether it would be advantageous or not, but if it comes we enter an advance protest against any further boost in freight rates.

This year the income of the United States, or rather of the people, is expected to reach sixty billions of dollars. Sixty billions looks like a large sum, but in reality it is a small amount considering the personal valuation the average man places upon himself and his time.

We have always been willing to help the under dog, but we have no sympathy to waste on a farmer who buys all his bacon and beans at the grocery store. He should be put on a diet of cottonseed and clabber.—The Poultryman.

It should not be necessary to launch a clean-up campaign in order to get people to put their premises in a condition which would mean for better health and civic attractiveness and comfort. The average woman would resent it should someone start a campaign to get her to clean up her house, but it seems that this special pressure of steam has to be turned on occasionally to get the people to do what is best for themselves.

It isn't the occupation that a man follows that determines his character. It is how he conducts his business and his methods of dealing with his fellowmen. There are crooks and grafters in every calling and profession; and there are, also real men and women engaged in every line of business. The poet says "a man may smile, and smile, and smile, and still be a villain." It is not what we profess to be, but what we are, that we should be judged by.

In its report to the court last week, the Coleman county grand jury recommended that parents "keep in closer touch with their boys and girls and see that they are at home at an early hour at night." And keeping them closer home during the day wouldn't do any harm. If this would be practiced throughout the country the "crime wave" would no longer be a menace to our posterity. In every town and city there are young boys and girls who are to be seen on the streets night and day. Let us remember that the majority of these are the criminals of tomorrow.

The man who can philosophize like the editor of the Palestine Herald gets the most out of life. When it was called to his attention that Henry Ford's income figured $486 per minute, the Palestine editor said: "What does it get him? He's riding in a Ford, while we have a real automobile. He doesn't take much time to play golf, while we take too much. His clothes don't fit him anything like as well as ours, and he still wears a derby hat. He can't sleep any better than we do, and he can't see any more than we can. He can't eat any more than we can. He wants to be president, and can't. We don't want to be president, and can't. He is ten years older than we are and made more than half his fortune in these last ten years. As we see it, we are getting just about as much out of life with our 20 cents an hour income as Henry is getting out of his $486 per minute income."

Another $85,000 was added to Brownwood's building total this week with the announcement of the arrangements for enlarging the Southern Hotel. With the million dollars spent in constructing the Tech college, the total here for the year will be in the neighborhood of two-millions.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The department of justice is still going after corporations and individual contractors who robbed the government by the wholesale during the war. Some of these "birds" operated on a shoestring and cleaned up millions—something no honest or fair-minded man can do. Every man who profited at the expense of his country during the war should be required to serve in the next one, and be among the first to go "over the top and into the jaws of hell," where the devil would be sure to get them. Too many of these Benedict Arnolds are still at large and feasting on your money and ours.

THE HOME PAPER

A few of the reasons why the home folks should support it: Because when you were born, it was the home paper that introduced you to the world.

When you grew up and graduated the home paper gave you another write up.

When later on you found your companion and were happily married, the home paper gave you and yours a nice notice.

When sickness and misfortune invaded your home, the sad news was carried to your friends and neighbors by the home paper.

When you had been successful in business venture, or had been promoted, it was the home paper that heralded your ability.

If you sold out or moved to another location the home paper followed with news of friends and neighbors.

When some unscrupulous person tried to injure your character it was the home paper that came to your aid.

Because the home paper boosts your town and its institutions, its people, its schools, its churches and helps to promote good fellowship in the community.

Because the live merchants offers money-saving bargains and protect you from catch-penny mail order houses.

And last, when you are finally laid away, it is the home paper that prints consoling news of your demise and that extols your virtues so that hearts of those who mourn are made to feel thankful that the home paper stuck by you from cradle to grave.

GRASSHOPPERS

There may be pests which are hated equally as much as the grasshopper, yet just at this time the "hopper" is responsible for much unrest in this and adjoining counties. Successful farmers declare that the 1923 cotton crop is in peril, and even the feed crop may be reduced. Whether these statements be true or not, it is safe to say that grasshoppers are being very seriously considered. Considerable damage has been done, and unless there is a way to check them, calamity may follow.

Many farmers are using poison; some driving them from fields, but on every hand a relentless warfare is being waged.

In some sections the pests are more noticeable than in others. In Coleman county, farmers in the western and northern portions appear to be the greatest sufferers, while in the immediate Santa Anna territory conditions have not been considered as serious. This does not necessarily mean that there are no grasshoppers in this district, but merely that they are not so numerous as in other places, and that few crops have been entirely destroyed. With proper attention the pests may be driven from the country, or killed.

This is not the first time hoppers have made their appearance in this section, but old timers declare that they were never more numerous.

NO ROYAL ROAD TO WEALTH

While it is true that riches never brings happiness, yet everyone keeps striving to obtain them, believing that with the comforts and pleasures that money will secure therewith will come happiness, the great object of all human endeavor.

It all depends upon the object we have in view in making money as to the enjoyment we will get out of the money we make; but there is one thing that we may be sure of, and that is, that nothing is appreciated that does not require some effort and sacrifice on our part to acquire. A man or woman that inherits a fortune will not know the true value of the wealth he possesses and will in all probability waste it or put it into things that will not and cannot satisfy the longings of the human heart or bring real happiness to any life.

There are many so-called get-rich-quick schemes in the world, but it may be set down as certain that if there was anything to them they would never be offered to the public, for those who originated them would take advantage of the themselves and get a monopoly on such glorious opportunities to make a fortune. But real wealth in this life does not consist of money alone; wealth is measured by our ability to help others and to make others happy. This wealth is possessed by the human soul and we are rich only in proportion to our desire and ability to benefit those around us. If we have money that has come to us thru sacrifice, and we have accumulated it with a desire to use it for the good of others, it will add to our own happiness and its possession will be a matter of joy and comfort to us.

But the money we make must come as a result of honest labor, or be acquired through our willingness to take a risk and back our judgement in the investment of what we have already made. We should use our minds as well as our hands and strive to make money, but there is no royal road to wealth, and if we are to have it and enjoy it, we must use our own time and talents in its accumulation.

DISCONTENT

Human nature has been the same in all ages. Man born of woman is not only of few days and full of trouble, but full of dark forebodings. With the best of us something is always wrong. It's either too hot or too cold, too wet or too dry. If the day is clear and balmy it is a sure sign that a storm is coming and all the joy is knocked out of it. We are always imaginary bridges over into the shadowland of doubt. The fear of death is the specter that dogs man's footsteps, no matter where they lead. Shakespeare has truly said:

"Cowards die many times before their deaths; The valiant never taste of death but once."

By far the most of our ills are purely imaginary and never come to pass. We can't enjoy the present for thinking what the future may hold in store for us. When the ground is parched and vegetation is dying for the want of rain, we vow never to complain again, no matter how much it rains. But alas, we forget these vows, and when the rain comes in excess of our needs, we cry out like spoiled children that it is ruining everything. And so it goes all through life, we are never satisfied. No day is so perfect that some cloud does not rise in our mental vision to mar its beauty. We complain of the mountain in the landscape, because it hides from view the dark cloud beyond.

But why should mortal man complain when there is so much to enjoy. If the day is dark and gloomy, God's sunshine will scatter the clouds tomorrow and its light and warmth will penetrate the darkest corner and scatter the mists like leaves before the autumn gale. It's just as easy and far more sensible to be happy as it is to be miserable.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you, Sigh and you sigh alone." Being happy is an art worthy of being practiced by the prince and the peasant, by the rich and the poor, and thank the Lord happiness and contentment are in the reach of all.—McGregor Mirror.

TOO MANY LAWS

One of the strangest political tendencies of our time is the suddenly increased faith of legislators in the power of laws to enforce themselves once they are reduced to writing. No belief has been so continuously and thoroughly discredited, yet none is so alarmingly alive. Every political philosopher from Montaigne's day to this hour has recognized that the best government is that conducted with the least law and machinery.

A multitude of evils attend the native faith of legislatures in the autoenforcement capacity of law as represented by words on a piece of paper. One is an inevitable weakening of respect for a government born of a distasteful and its more outlandish aspects. Another is the uninterrupted encroachment of government on the governed. A third and most distressing evil is the appalling expense attending the creation of multitudinous new bureaus and offices provided for.

The time may come when a candidate pledging himself to nothing but the repeal of two laws for every one created will be generally supported.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In the death of Sov. B. F. Rothermel, we, Mountain Grove No. 633, have lost a faithful member, a true friend and kindly neighbor.

And whereas we deeply mourn with our beloved Guardian, Mrs. B. F. Rothermel, this loss and point her to Him who is the All-wise Ruler of the Universe.

Be it resolved that we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well. That we extend our sincere sympathy to his loved ones, counselling them to look to the Great Creator and mourn not as those who have no hope, for our brother has only gone on before.

Be it resolved that a copy of these Resolutions be sent to the family, a copy sent to the Santa Anna News for publication, also a copy sent to The Tidings and a copy be spread on our Minutes.

Respectfully submitted,
Mrs. J. S. Jones,
Mrs. G. W. Faulkner,
Mrs. J. W. Kirkpatrick,

OPEN GRAVE OF WIFE IN LOOKING FOR GOVERNOR'S

Owing to the uncertain memory of Joe Drew, aged 70, son of T. S. Drew, former governor of Arkansas, a committee from the Arkansas legislature and embalmers engaged to exhume the body of the pioneer governor at Lipan near Grandbury Saturday, opened the wrong grave, which proved to be the resting place of the wife of Joe Drew, who had come from Arizona to attend the ceremonies incident to the transfer of his father's bones to Pochantans, Arkansas.

The baby of Joe Drew was buried in a grave between his father and his wife. The aged son had forgotten which was which. The searchers discovered their mistake when they found an old fashioned tucking comb and the well preserved sole and heel of a lady's slipper.

In the grave of Mrs. Drew were also a few bones including the lower jaw and teeth. These were encased in a strong box and reburied upon the instructions of the husband, who stated that he will later have them disinterred and forwarded to Arkansas.

The bones of T. S. Drews, who was governor of Arkansas from 1844 to 1849, were then exhumed and forwarded from Granbury to Pochantans, Arkansas.—Dublin Progress.

THE KICKER

We are always ready to jump on the fellow who stirs us out of the rut, who disturbs our peaceful slumber or rouses us to a sense of duty and for these reasons we are wont to jump on the kicker.

And yet, what good things have we ever accomplished without the aid and initiative of the kicker?

The kickers in England got for the people the Magna Charta. Patrick Henry, Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, with a host of colleagues, kicked and we became independent. In 1812 we kicked against the high-handed methods of Britain and we made them behave and give our vessels the freedom of the seas. John Brown kicked against the institution of slavery and started a movement which did not die until every black slave became free.

Every reform, every forward movement, is initiated by a kicker.

In our own town kicking got us such improvements as we have.

Of course, sometimes, the kickers are kicking in the wrong direction and then they become knockers. There is a real difference between a kicker and a knocker.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE

State of Texas, County of Coleman—District Court.
By virtue of an order of sale, issued out of the Honorable District Court of Coleman County, Texas on the 8th day of June 1923, by the Clerk thereof, in the case of W. M. Riley Jr., vs. J. L. Parnell, No. 2785, and to me, as Sheriff, directed and delivered, I did on the 8th day of June 1923, levy upon herein described land and will sell same within the hours prescribed by law for Sheriff's Sales, on the first Tuesday in July, A. D. 1923, it being the 3rd day of said month, before the Court House door of said Coleman County, in the State of Texas, the following described property, to-wit:
The West (1-2) one half of Lot No. (3), block No. 58, in Santa Anna, Coleman County Texas, levied on as the property of J. L. Parnell to satisfy a judgment amounting to $840.00 in favor of W. M. Riley Jr.
Given under my hand, this 8th day of June, 1923.—Dick Pauley, sheriff Coleman County, Texas.
By J. D. Harper, Deputy. 23-3t.

LOCAL WOODMEN HAVE SPLENDID MEETING

Mountain Camp, No. 43, W. O. W. is taking on new life, says Clerk J. S. Jones. Quite a number of members who have not been attending regularly are now taking active part in the affairs of the lodge.

The meeting Saturday night was one of the best for several months, and following the regular business session refreshments were served to all present. "The lodge is not dead, but very much alive," says the clerk, "and the work that is done is of a very lasting nature. Hundreds and thousands of widows and orphan are helped every year. Social features for members are worth while, and Mountain Camp is going to push forward in the future as never before."

Mountain Camp has a splendid home and it is unincumbered. The local body has a membership of approximately 200. A few members are delinquent at this time, but they are urged to return, as there is no expense incurred.

FLYER MAKES TRIP FROM WASHINGTON IN PLANE

Lieut. Odas Moon of the U. S. Air Service, is in Santa Anna this week visiting his sister, Mrs. R. R. Lovelady. Lieut. Moon has been stationed at Panama for several months, but will go from Santa Anna to New Port News, Va., where he will take part in certain events planned by the war department, for the near future.

Lieut. Moon made the first lap of his journey, from Washington to Dallas, in a government plane.

WOODMAN CIRCLE NOTICE

The Woodman Circle will have a class initiation Friday June 8, at 8 o'clock. Several Groves have been invited and Mrs. Thomas, State Manager of Fort Worth and Mrs. Witten, District Deputy of Brownwood will be with us. We will also have a school of instruction at that time so let us have every member present. You may invite your husbands to come after we have gone through with the business of the evening. Come.—Mrs. Annie Burden, clerk.

CHILD COOKED IN WASHPOT

A most distressing accident occurred last Thursday afternoon about 2:00 o'clock when Carleen Kirk Morris, living 4 miles out in the country, fell into a kettle of scalding hot water, suffering such severe burns that it died at 5:50 o'clock Friday morning at the local sanitarium, where it was brought for medical care. The child was playing with a wagon and was walking backwards when it bumped into the wash pot, the top of the kettle catching it just at its knees and dumping it backwards into the steaming caldron. The body was literally cooked down to below the knees.—Brady Standard.

Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles . . . and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you.

PIONEER CALLED TO HIS REWARD

B. F. Rothermel, pioneer citizen of Coleman county, and for more than 30 years a resident of Santa Anna, died Wednesday, May 30, and was buried Friday afternoon.

Mr. Rothermel moved to Santa Anna in 1891, and with the exception of three years, during which time he resided in Brownwood, he made this place his home. He was well known by a major portion of the people in Coleman county, and was considered one of the community's most dependable citizens.

For many years he had been a member of the Presbyterian church, and his pastor, Rev. T. W. Davidson, conducted the funeral services which were held in the Baptist church. Mr. Rothermel was also an active Woodman, and members of that order had charge of burial services.

Other than a host of friends and acquaintances, Mr. Rothermel leaves to mourn his loss, a wife and seven children; Mrs. Rothermel and several of the children being present at the time of his death.

The News extends condolence to the bereaved family.

LESSON FOR JUNE 10

NEHEMIAH, THE BOLD BUILDER

LESSON TEXT—Nehemiah 4:1-6. GOLDEN TEXT—Be not afraid of them, remember the Lord.—Nehemiah 4:14. PRIMARY TOPIC—The Man Who Was Not Afraid. JUNIOR TOPIC—How Nehemiah Built the Wall. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Nehemiah Got Things Done. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Nehemiah, an Example for Men of Affairs.

Nehemiah was a cupbearer to the Persian king. While performing his duty as cupbearer, he learned of the distress of his brethren in Jerusalem. Having secured a leave of absence from the Persian court and credentials from the king, he journeyed to Jerusalem. After resting three days without disclosing his purpose to anyone, he made a survey of the walls by night. Having thus obtained first-hand information, he called the representatives of the Jews together and said, "Let us build the walls of Jerusalem."

I. Preparation for the Building (Chap. 3)

The division of labor in this project shows Nehemiah's administrative ability. A wise distribution of labor makes difficult tasks easy. Note some outstanding features of this great work:

1. Stress Laid Upon Indifference (3:5). In administrative tasks it is just that unfaithfulness should be pointed out. Such action will be a warning to some and encouragement to others, in that it shows the integrity of the director.

2. Help Rendered by Women (3:12). Perhaps Shullam had no sons to aid him. It was a fine thing for the women to help, even in building a wall, when there were no men to do it.

3. Stress Laid Upon Earnestness (3:20). If one knows that his faithfulness will be recognized, he will earnestly pursue his tasks.

4. Every One Built Over Against His Own House (3:10, 23, 28). No incentive to exertion is quite so strong as that which concerns one's own family.

5. Certain Gulls of Men Undertook Certain Work (3:8, 31, 32). Wise administration sometimes calls for such alignment of efforts. Men of the same class and craft will surely work better together.

II. Hindrances Encountered (4:1-6:14)

1. Scoffing of Sanballat and Tobiah (4:1-6; cf. 2:19, 20). The opposers of God's servants usually begin by hurling at them shafts of ridicule. They called the Jews a feeble folk and asserted that the tread of a plowing folk would break down their stone wall.

2. Conspiracy for a Sudden Attack (4:7-9). When the enemy saw that the work was actually succeeding they changed from ridicule to an attempt to throw the workmen into a panic. When the enemy cannot succeed by scoffing they resort to intimidation.

3. Conspiracy With the Jews (4:10-23). They sought by means of the Jews from the outside to discourage their brethren by showing that the task was hopeless and that at any time they were subject to a sudden and secret attack.

4. Greed and Oppression of the Rulers (5:1-13). The Jews of that day, like the profiteers of our time, took advantage of the poor and oppressed them so that they mortgaged their land and sold their daughters into slavery. Nehemiah boldly rebuked them for their crimes and ordered a restoration to be made, exacting an oath of them that they would fulfill their promises.

5. Plot to Take Nehemiah's Life (6:1-14). When Sanballat and Tobiah failed in every way they sought by craft to get Nehemiah away that they might kill him.

III. The Wall Completed (6:15-7:4). So energetically did they pursue their tasks that in fifty-two days the wall was completed. When the enemies heard that in spite of all their schemes the work was actually finished they were dejected, for they perceived that the work was of God.

We may learn from this:

1. That God's children are assailed by enemies; but in view of Romans 8:31 they should not fear.
2. That when attacked by enemies we should pray (4:9). Their faith was accompanied by wise precautioning: (1) Set a watch (4:9). (2) Men were permitted to be with their families (4:13) and thus would fight better. (3) Half worked and half watched, all armed for battle (4:16). (4) They worked with sword in one hand (4:17). (5) They slept in their clothes in readiness (4:23). Prayer and faith are not slothful or inactive.

Everything. Everything without tells the individual that he is nothing; everything within persuades him that he is everything.—X. Dougan.

Easier Than to Think. To follow foolish precedents, and wink with both our eyes, is easier than to think.—Cowper.

Tricks of the Wand. The mines of knowledge are often laid bare by the hazel wand of chance.—Tupper.
