

Few Protests Made On Paving Contract

Plan Is Apparently Given Green Light After Public Hearing

Clayton Quits Position In State Dept.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—William L. Clayton quit today as undersecretary of state for economic affairs but agreed to stand by as an unpaid adviser to the secretary of state.

His wife's health was given by Clayton as the reason for his resignation, effective at the close of business today.

President Truman, accepting the resignation with reluctance, expressed "great satisfaction" over Clayton's assurance of his willingness to return to the public service if Mrs. Clayton's health improves sufficiently to permit him to do so.

Clayton wrote Mr. Truman Oct. 7: "For at least three or four years Mrs. Clayton has been very anxious, for reasons of health, to return to our home in Houston."

The White House also made public a letter from Marshall to Clayton saying: "I feel duty bound to approve your resignation because of the long service you have given the state department and the efficiency with which you have handled economic aspects of your international affairs."

Government officials told a reporter it is possible no one will be appointed to succeed Clayton. The post of undersecretary for economic affairs was specifically created by Congress and will expire June, 1948.

Next step will be an ordinance to officially order the improvements on the designated streets. Then, after a 15-day period, the city will be authorized to issue a work order to the Brown and Root Construction Co. The construction company must begin actual work in 10 days after the work order is issued.

Big Spring's proposed paving contract involving approximately 50 blocks of city streets apparently had a green light Tuesday night at conclusion of a public hearing during which is surprisingly small number of protests came from some 65 or 70 property owners who attended.

Actually there were no protests which questioned enhancement of property values to extent of paving costs on the various units, with exception of one block. Three local men engaged in the real estate and loan business said they were not certain that paving improvements on 11th street between Main and Runnels would increase the value of abutting property to the extent of $4.28 per front foot, which is the estimated cost of the proposed improvements.

G. E. Gilliam, one owner of abutting property on the street, said he was not quite sure of the amount of value increase which would be derived from paving but that he favored paving the block.

However, definite action cannot be taken until other property owners on the block are contacted. Value increases were not questioned on any other unit embraced by the proposed contract. At the outset of the hearing, City Attorney Charles Sullivan, questioned R. L. Cook, J. B. Collins and Robert Stripling under oath concerning estimated value increases for all property abutting on the various units. They were unanimous in testimony to the effect that paving would enhance values, at least to extent of contract paving costs, of all property involved, except on the single block on 11th street.

After questioning of the three men, who operate local real estate and loan agencies, some 15 or 20 persons made statements to the city commission. Although a few property owners stated definitely that they were not willing to cooperate in the program, none questioned testimony of the real estate and loan men. A number of property owners attending told the commission that they were ready to sign contracts.

Several persons who own property on streets not designated in the proposed contract indicated that they would endorse units on their respective streets if it becomes necessary to substitute units.

Next step will be an ordinance to officially order the improvements on the designated streets. Then, after a 15-day period, the city will be authorized to issue a work order to the Brown and Root Construction Co. The construction company must begin actual work in 10 days after the work order is issued.

Local police officers, who have worked overtime to break two armed robbery cases within the past week, were confronted with still another challenge this morning.

E. L. Daniels, Lometa truck driver, turned up at the sheriff's office to report he had been assaulted and robbed of $8 cash and a $16 check by two thugs approximately two miles this side of Ackery at approximately 1 a. m. today.

Daniels, on his way from Artesia, N. M., to Brady, said he had pulled up alongside the highway for a brief nap when the men, believed to be Americans, surprised him. He suffered no serious injuries, despite a pummeling, but said he believed the pair would have killed him had not another vehicle approached.

Action Is Asked On College Bonds

AUSTIN, Oct. 15 (AP)—The state today asked 128th district court to declare the $60,000,000 college building amendment voted on last August to have been "legally adopted" and to deny all relief sought in a suit brought by a group of West Texas citizens challenging the election's legality.

The request was made in the state's formal answer to allegations made in the court last month which brought a temporary court injunction restraining Secretary of State Paul Brown from canvassing returns of the election. The canvass had already been accomplished but effect of the injunction was temporarily to halt the building program completely since bonds which might be issued under the program are involved in court litigation and can not be approved.

The state's plea in abatement contended that the plaintiff C. W. Whiteside and others, have no "justifiable interest" in contesting the election.

He tried to give chase but discovered one of the thugs had raised the hood of his truck and twisted the choke of the machine, an act which caused the engine to become flooded when started.

Brewers Have New Plan For Saving Grain

Luckman Says Food Program Is Changeable

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Representatives of the nations brewing industry came up today with a grain conservation program they hope will be satisfactory to the Citizens Food Committee.

Meanwhile the committee, having eased the rules for "meatless Tuesdays" to encourage use of such by-products as liver and kidneys on that day of the week, promised further shifts in policy any time somebody thinks up a "better and faster way to save grain."

Chairman Charles Luckman said he does not want the people "to feel that this is an ironclad program and not subject to change."

The brewers planned to outline their grain-saving ideas to Luckman during the day in reply to his demand for "a reasonably substantial reduction" in the use of wheat and corn for beer and ale.

A high industry official who asked that his name not be used said the group would offer Luckman "a definite program."

The chairman had expressed dissatisfaction with previous pledges by the United States Brewers' Foundation and the small brewers committee to:

1. Recommend to individual brewers that they eliminate use of wheat and table grades of rice.

2. Ask them to release all wheat stocks on hand or undercontract.

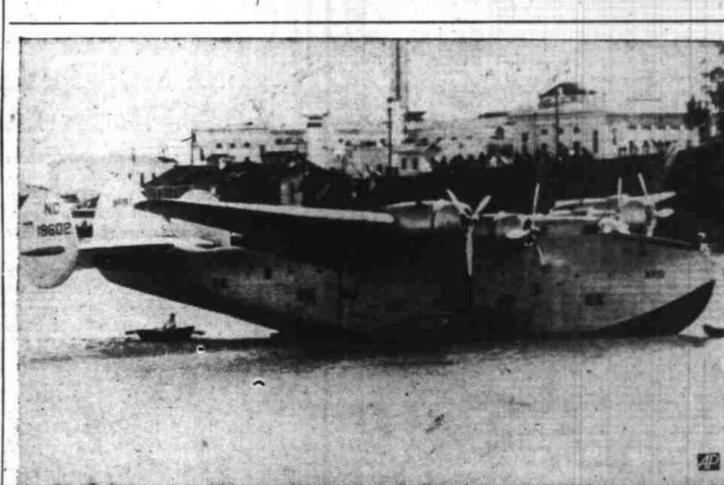

Brewers use relatively little wheat.

Luckman said yesterday that the brewing industry had shown a "very cooperative" attitude in preliminary talks and that he expected it to make some definite commitment within a day or two.

At the conclusion of the public hearing, conducted Tuesday night at the city hall, the regular meeting was recessed until that date.

After the final ordinances are approved and passed, the city will have authority to issue a formal work order to the construction company after a 15-day period. Under terms of the contract, the company will be requested to begin actual work in 10 days after the work order is issued.

PASSENGERS AND CREW ARE RESCUED FROM DOWNED BERMUDA SKY QUEEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—All 62 passengers and the crew of seven have been rescued from the giant flying boat, Bermuda Sky Queen, which was forced down in the storm-tossed north Atlantic yesterday, Coast Guard headquarters here announced today.

Completion of the rescue, which began last night, was reported by radio shortly after 5 a. m. (CST) in a message from Capt. Paul B. Cronk, skipper of the Coast Guard Cutter Bibb, which took the 69 aboard after standing by the stricken plane since it landed in high seas 820 miles off the Newfoundland coast.

The Coast Guard said it had notified the Bibb to destroy the abandoned plane as a menace to navigation and to proceed to Argentina, Newfoundland, with the rescued passengers and crew. The Bibb is expected to arrive at Argentina early Friday morning.

A second message from the cutter Captain fixed the number of rescued at 62 passengers and seven crewmen. Earlier reports had a total of 62 persons aboard the plane.

Seventeen men and a woman remained aboard the wave-tossed air liner last night awaiting daylight and the resumption of the Coast Guard's rescue operations which earlier had transferred their companions to the Bibb.

Yugoslav Lambasts U. N. Overhaul Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 15. (AP)—Yugoslavia charged today that Secretary of State Marshall's program to overhaul United Nations peace-keeping machinery was designed to destroy cooperation between Russia and the western powers.

Dr. Vladimir Popovic, Yugoslav ambassador to Moscow, declared that U. S. Delegate John Foster Dulles, Australian Chief Delegate Herbert E. Evatt and others did not like to see cooperation between the East and West and for that reason were seeking to destroy it.

Addressing Dulles directly the Yugoslav delegate shouted: "You are attempting to impel us, the small countries, to accept a program which would constitute a complete waiver on the principles of San Francisco." This was a reference to the U. N. charter meeting there in 1945.

Popovic spoke before the 57-nation political committee of the general assembly which earlier had heard China and Uruguay support continuous year-round sitting of the 57 member nations as a so-called "little assembly" of the U. N.

Disturbance Continues Across State

Towering Waves Batter Lowly Beach Areas

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 15. (AP)—A hurricane sweeping in from the Atlantic lashed Savannah and its environs with 80 to 100-mile an hour winds today and moved on across Georgia losing force rapidly.

Towering waves whipped up by the wind battered lowly beach areas and high tides caused some flooded streets and roads along the Carolina-Georgia coast.

No casualties were reported here, but an unidentified Negro man was crushed to death by a falling tree near Charleston, S. C.

Winds of gale force were expected to reach inland 15 miles before subsiding.

First reports indicated limited property damage, but the National Guard said Chatham airport had been hard hit. Several hangars there were said to have caved in. At least two C-47's belonging to the National Guard were destroyed.

U. S. Highway No. 90 into Savannah was still open, but was littered with fallen trees. Worst damage in Savannah appeared to be uprooted trees and smashed windows. The brick front of the Rollinson engineering company collapsed into Bay street in the downtown section.

The hurricane, which split the tropical storm which moved across Florida and out into the Atlantic last Sunday, passed over the Georgia coast between 6:30 and 7 a. m. Hunter field reported 95-mile gusts when the anemometer blew away.

Tides were piling over the seawall at Savannah beach and the weather bureau said further high tides were expected to inundate two-thirds of Tybee island, on which Savannah beach is located.

Waldo Spence, reporter for the Savannah Evening Press, said a pavilion was unroofed at Savannah Beach, and several small homes collapsed.

Evacuation of the beach areas was accomplished during the night. The highway linking Tybee island and the mainland was under water. Spence, who crossed the causeway just before it was closed, reported the main blow struck the beach about 5:30 a. m.

At west Savannah airport, Louis Spott of the Fleet Air Service reported two hangars unroofed and several planes damaged.

At Blifton, Ga., trees were uprooted and small buildings damaged.

C-C Manager Is Off For WTCC Meeting

J. H. Greene, manager of the Big Spring chamber of commerce, left at noon today for Lamesa, where he was to attend a West Texas Chamber of Commerce district meeting.

Planks on the ballot of WTCC's referendum were to head discussion at the meeting, which was expected to draw representatives from chamber of commerce organizations in surrounding cities and towns.

City Approves Traffic Lights

Installation of four new traffic lights in heavy traffic areas out of the main business district was authorized Tuesday by Big Spring city commissioners.

Swift action on the problem was prompted by a petition signed by several score of citizens urging that traffic signals be placed at Gregg and 18th streets and Gregg and Park streets. A major portion of traffic in and out of the Park Hills addition moves across those intersections.

Signals also are to be installed at 10th and Johnson and at 11th and Johnson. The latter two are expected to improve traffic safety conditions in the vicinity of the High school.

At their regular meeting, which opened at 5 p. m. and continued after the paving hearing, commissioners also gave local Boy Scouts three barracks buildings at the Army Airfield and promised a similar structure to the local Girl Scout organization, provided a suit.

North Texas Stream Flow Hits New Low

AUSTIN, Oct. 15. (AP)—Stream flow in the northern half of Texas, eastern New Mexico, all of Oklahoma and most of Louisiana approached a new record low during September, the United States geological survey reported today.

In those districts, it was among the lowest 25 per cent of record for any September. If present subnormal precipitation continues, the lowest stream flow of record is in prospect, the USGS water resources survey predicted.

Thus far, no serious water shortage has occurred, the survey commented.

Of the Texas situation particularly, the water reviews said that runoff was below normal over the entire state and deficient in the northern half.

Water reserves in the state's eight principal reservoirs was 21 per cent below last year's at this time. The Red Bluff reservoir on the pecos was deslimed manly tically empty" with the irrigation season drawing to a close.

Flow of the Delaware river in far west Texas in September was the lowest in 14 years.

Stored water in the eight big reservoirs decreased 250,000 acre feet, or 10 per cent of the total, during the month.

HCJC Enrollment Totaled At 225

Enrollment at the Howard County Junior College has levelled off at 225 students, E. C. Dood, president, reported Wednesday.

Of this number, approximately 40 are in evening school classes, the balance in regular day sessions. The number of full time students is greater than last year, giving a greater average per semester hour load for the college.

In addition to this figure, the Howard County Vocational School, operated under sponsorship of the college with Dood as coordinator, has approximately 100 students enrolled in four agricultural and one mechanics course.

Lewis Faces New Battle Inside AFL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15 (AP)—John L. Lewis, stripped of a vice-presidency in the AFL after an historic outburst of name-calling leaders, faced still another battle today over his miscellaneous collection of unions in mine workers' district 50.

His organizers have been stepping on a lot of toes within the federation, ever since his return to the AFL in January 1946. But anti-Lewis forces, cheered by the ease with which their overwhelming numbers set down the UMW President yesterday, went right on with plans to bring the jurisdictional squabbles with district 50 before a tribunal which he could not control.

Burgess Urges World Concern

Deploing the tendency of American citizens to be occupied primarily with personal problems, Chaplain Elvin A. Burgess of the Fourth Army headquarters, Fort Sam Houston, urged an effort for tenacious concern for national and international relations, in an address before the Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

Burgess, who is associated with Fourth Army public relations work stated that each month the Federal Bureau of Investigation looks into thousands of cases of un-American activities.

"If the citizen will not develop an interest in political affairs," Burgess said, "he will automatically lend his energies to situations which contribute to un-American movements."

Burgess is at present on his second tour of five southern states under his surveillance, giving radio addresses, making public addresses to civic groups and appearing as guest speaker in churches.

RATS DESTROY U. S. GRAINS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—The Fish and Wildlife service estimated today that rats are destroying American grains at the rate of 200,000,000 bushels a year.
This is more than one-third of the amount the United States is planning to export for relief of hunger in western Europe this winter.

Wallace Speech In Arkansas Cancelled

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 15. (AP)—The Arkansas committee of the southern conference for human welfare has cancelled an appearance of former Vice President Henry A. Wallace it had scheduled here for Nov. 15.
The Rev. S. F. Freeman of Little Rock, chairman of the Arkansas group, said the committee took the action because the commission supervising Robinson auditorium, where Wallace was to have spoken, insisted on segregation of white persons and negroes in the audience.
Non-segregation of audiences has been a condition of Wallace for all his appearances in the south, Freeman said.

LARGEST FLAG—The largest American flag ever flown whips in the breeze from the New Jersey tower of the George Washington Bridge over the Hudson River in New York City after it had been raised by 19 men using four machine winches. The flag, 60 by 90 feet and weighing 500 pounds was raised in celebration of Columbus Day. The guy ropes on which it was raised weigh 5,000 pounds. (AP Wirephoto).

MAJOR MOVE

Plans Laid For Three Pipelines

HOUSTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Plans for three major pipe lines costing $450,000,000 to transport south Texas natural gas to Philadelphia, New York City and Brooklyn were announced Tuesday by Claude Williams of Austin, president of the Transcontinental Pipe Line company.
The first line, of 26-inch pipe, will cost $150,000,000 with construction to begin in March, 1949, with scheduled completion by November 1950, Williams said.
Williams said the three lines will extend 1800 miles, originating in the Lacey and McAllen gas fields in the Cameron and Hidalgo counties, pass through other south Texas fields and just north of Houston through the Satsuma area, thence to Baton Rouge, La., Atlanta, Ga., Baltimore, Md., Philadelphia, and on to New York City and Brooklyn.
The right of way, Williams said, has been mapped but not yet obtained.
The Federal power commission in Washington is to conduct a hearing on the project October 27.

TRUMAN-RAYBURN TICKET TALKED

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15. (AP)—A Democratic slate of Harry S. Truman for president and Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas for vice president was proposed by former Rep. Robert Ramspeck of Georgia, now executive vice president of the Air Transport Association of America.
He told the 43rd annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters yesterday that rejection of Mr. Truman would protect their civil service, rights, and for vice president: "Sam Rayburn is the man."

The CHIROPRACTOR and You

This is One Of A Series Of Articles Published In The Public Interest To Explain And Illustrate The Practice Of Chiropractic.
WHAT WILL CHIROPRACTIC DO FOR NEUROUSNESS?
The brain is like any other organ in the body. It is dependent for normal function upon the proper supply of mental impulses to it. Tiny fibers convey these impulses from one part of the brain to the other. They pass out from the spinal cord and turn back into the cranial cavity, and are known as recurrent fibers. If anything happens to prevent these fibers from carrying the proper quantity and quality of vital energy then the tissues which they supply become abnormal in their function. Such a condition often exists as a result of slight displacement of the small bones which form the spinal column. When the vertebra is adjusted to its normal position and the pressure upon the nerve fibers is relieved, the cause of neurosis has been taken away. The reason that Chiropractic is of inestimable value in cases of neurosis is that the effects are lasting, and the effects are lasting because the cause of the condition has been eliminated.
CASE HISTORY No. 988.
A child of nine suffering from Encephalitis — a disease of the brain — and pronounced incurable. The child's breathing had become abnormal; she had spasms resembling epilepsy; she was extremely nervous. She was placed in hospital but discharged six months later in even worse condition. Believing that "where there's life, there's hope," the mother tried specialist recommended to her, but without benefit to the child. Eventually she was talked into trying Chiropractic. Spinal analysis revealed a severe nerve pressure at the base of the child's skull, and adjustments were given to remove it. Within two weeks she began to improve and continued improving. Three months later she was discharged as well.
CASE HISTORY No. 117.
A typical case of neuritis. A letter carrier with severe pains in the right shoulder and arm. The pain was so intense he was unable to sleep, had to quit work and was continually seeking relief with this medicine and that. A fellow carrier persuaded him to give Chiropractic a chance, and after his first spinal adjustment he was able to sleep for the first time in weeks. At the end of 15 days he was back at work and able to move his arm in every direction without pain.

Nimitz Says Atom May End Civilization

DALLAS, Oct. 15. (AP)—Another combat application of atomic power might end civilization, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz declared here last night.
The Chief of Naval Operations delivered the principal address at the All-Veterans Day at the Texas State Fair, warning that the United Nations must be augmented by an adequate national security.
"In the evolution of an international society we have reached the comparable position of life in the frontier days, when each family contributed to the maintenance of the police force, but also kept its own guns loaded and handy," he declared.
Earlier yesterday the Texas-born Admiral revealed plans for virtual retirement from the Navy in mid-December.
Nimitz said he had already recommended his successor as Chief of Naval Operations to President Truman. He said he was not able to divulge the name of the man he had recommended.
His future plans include residence in the San Francisco area and numerous visits to Texas, Nimitz said.
Technically admirals of the fleet — such as Nimitz — do not retire, but remain on active status for the rest of their lives.
Nimitz said he was ready to take over any job the President might give him, but added he would not accept a diplomatic post.

An estimated crowd of 200,000 jammed the fair grounds yesterday. Texas' congressional medal of honor veterans were honored in ceremonies, which the speech by Nimitz highlighted.
MOROCCO CRASH
MAZAGAN, Morocco, Oct. 15. (AP)—The French news agency reported today seven persons were burned to death and 12 others were injured in a collision involving a truck and a bus.

Solon Confers With Truman On Airbase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said today he has conferred with President Truman regarding the status of the Corpus Christi, naval air station and is "encouraged" over prospects for its retention as a permanent installation.
The Texan told a reporter he strongly urged on the President "the strategic value of the Corpus Christi station and its splendid record during the war."

Byrnes Says Reds Musn't Get Permanent Hold On Germany

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—Should Russia attempt permanent retention of its present hold on eastern Germany, the United States and other nations "must be prepared to assume the obligation that then clearly will be ours," former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes says in his newly published memoirs.
"Russia must learn what Hitler learned—that the world is not going to permit one nation to veto peace on earth," Byrnes declared, adding:
"I hope, believe and pray that the leaders of the Soviet Union will never force us to this course of last resort."
In his book, "Speaking Frankly," published by Harpers, Byrnes proposed that Russia and other nations be invited to a peace conference to work out a treaty for

Germany and expressed belief that the Soviet Union would not refuse "and thus isolate itself from the rest of the world."
Byrnes wrote that the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt had "grave misgivings" about the future of Soviet-American relations and that one hour before he died he messaged Winston Churchill that although most differences with Russia seemed to "straighten out x x x we must be firm, however, and our course thus far is correct."
He related details of the cabinet controversy over the speech of Secretary of Commerce Wallace last year in which Wallace attacked this country's foreign policy while Byrnes was attending the Paris peace conference.
When he learned of the speech, Byrnes said, he sent a message to President Truman reminding him that he had submitted his resignation the preceding April on the advice of his physician, the resignation to take effect on completion of the treaties.
He added he told Mr. Truman that if it was not made clear to Wallace he must, as a cabinet member, withhold criticism of U. S. foreign policies, he (Byrnes) "must ask you to accept my resignation immediately."

Short-Term Loan Bolsters County Financial Status

Short-term warrants, in the amount of $10,500, squeezed most of the red out of the balances of Howard county during September to tide operations over until taxes begin to come in this month.
This left only the officers salary fund with a red balance of $3,365, which is due to be absorbed by transfers from the general fund when it is replenished by current jury fund replaced a $493 deficit with a $734 balance.
Total resources, including the warrants, for September were $23,241, and disbursements amounted to $18,625, which included $2,887 out of the 1945 road bond series.
Receipts for the jury fund amounted to $2,014, road and bridge $3,129 (approximately $1,500 in fines and costs), general $8,483, officers salary $2,966, permanent improvement $3,922, special road bond $78, road and bridge special $2,70, viaduct warrant $12,50, road bond 1945 series $15, and lateral road fund $5,534.
Disbursements and ending balances were: Jury $787 and $734, road and bridge $7,629 and $4,554, general $2,730 and $10,870, officers salary $4,355 and $3,365 (deficit), permanent improvement $105 and $229, special road none and $2,707, road and bridge special none and $2,70, viaduct warrant none and $760, road bond 1945 series $2,887 and $74,926; lateral road $129 and $5,404; total disbursements $18,625; total balance $96,817.

Portable Operating Units Assigned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—The navy said Tuesday it is assigning operating rooms on wheels to each of the 11 naval districts for use in emergencies, such as the recent Texas City explosion disaster.

The operating units are in special automobile-trailers. They were used during the war by the Marine Corps and the Navy.

Each contains facilities comparable to those of hospital operating rooms, including anesthetic apparatus, oxygen tanks, blood plasma and anti-biotics.

Two Navy doctors, one Navy nurse, one anesthetist and two hospital corpsmen are assigned to each unit.

SAVED MILLIONS OF LIVES

Founder Of Rust-Resistant Wheat Will Receive Honors

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 15. (AP)—A quiet little adopted Texan credited with saving millions of lives in a hungry world is being immortalized in marble and bronze tomorrow in his native town of Webster, S. D.

The man is Edgar McFadden, who produced the first successful strain of rust-resistant wheat, which he aptly named Hope wheat.

From this first breed have been developed the hardy varieties which today make possible the growing of wheat in many parts of the world where grain production would otherwise be impossible.

His discoveries are credited with saving American farmers alone more than $400,000,000 a year, which one magazine article declares that "Thanks to his work, 25,000,000 people are eating throughout the world today who otherwise would be dead or dying of starvation."

Since 1935, McFadden has been with Texas A. and M. College here as an agronomist in cereal crops for the U. S. department of agriculture, working in the Texas agricultural experimental station.

Webster, a little wheat county seat, is celebrating "Edgar McFadden day" tomorrow.

The governor of South Carolina will be one of the principal speakers, while scientists, grain men and government representatives of Mexico, Canada and the United States will join him in paying tribute to the man credited with having made the greatest contribution toward feeding the world.

Farmers of northeastern South Dakota have contributed quarters, dollars and more to a fund for a monument which will be dedicated to the accomplishments of Edgar McFadden. It is a granite column with a bronze plate properly inscribed, set beside the Yellowstone trail on the edge of his native city.

The man about whom all the speeches will be made and to whom the Dakota farmers will point with pride as the local boy who made good in a big way will probably be a bit disturbed by all the commotion. He is a shy little man, five feet, two, with mild blue eyes and a bald head ringed by greying hair. He doesn't care for a lot of fuss and formality.

In 1946 he received the $2500 distinguished service award of the Readers' Digest, for "his exceptionally meritorious contribution to the public welfare." First news any of his Texas associates had of the honor was the magazine article in which it was announced. McFadden had received the check some weeks before and deposited it without saying anything to anyone.

When McFadden entered South Dakota State College he conceived the plan of crossing this sturdy rust-resistant variety with one of the good bread wheats. Older scientists at the time said this could not be done, for a number of very scientific and complicated reasons. Fortunately McFadden didn't know this.

He tried the cross, and after many heartbreaking near-failures accomplished it. His first successful cross brought him only one single stalk of healthy grain. But from this one stalk, replanted and carefully nurtured, he raised enough seed grain to send samples throughout the world to other breeders, who crossed it with their varieties and eventually developed the famous strains which today enable farmers throughout the world to grow wheat in many places wheat could never be produced before.

Special Rodeo For Prisoners Is Scheduled

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 15. (AP)—A special Huntsville prison rodeo performance will be staged here this afternoon for inmates. About 10,000 persons from outside prison walls also are expected to attend.

Prison officials said trucks will arrive most of tomorrow morning, bringing men from prison farms over the state. Guards armed with shotguns will ride in each of the trucks, many of which must pass through heavy Houston traffic.

Tomorrow's performance of the rodeo, which is being staged each Sunday in October, will be heavily guarded both by prison officials and officers of the Texas department of public safety. More inmates will attend than at any of the regular performances.

In the past, many convicts have escaped while en route to the rodeo, many of them breaking for Liberty while negotiating Houston's traffic where guards were unable to shoot.

C. C. Springfield, Huntsville prison official, said the show would start early tomorrow about 1 p. m., to enable officials to "get 'em here early, show 'em a good show, and git 'em home quick."

Flight Trainers To Confer With State Officials

AUSTIN, Oct. 15. (AP)—Operators of GI flight training schools will confer soon with officials of the state approval agency for veterans education on proposed rules and regulations governing their activities, Gov. Beauford H. Jester said Tuesday.

Jester said the flight operators, many of whom have violently opposed a directive issued by Director Charles B. Cox of the approval agency, have been accustomed to the right of accepting, rejecting or amending rules and regulations suggested by the civil aeronautics administration.

A. W. Meadows, director of the Texas Aeronautics Commission, has agreed to act as referee of the discussions between the state approval agency and the flight operators, the Governor added.

Everybody is asking

"Why can't I get more Budweiser?"

Sorry, Europe... Sorry, Asia No Budweiser For You Yet

There was a time when you could get Budweiser in cities all over the world. But demand grew and grew... and we built the world's largest brewery bigger and bigger... again and again. Now we are in the midst of our greatest expansion of all. It will make many more millions of bottles of Budweiser available just as soon as we can complete it.

Meanwhile, we are brewing more Budweiser than ever before and distributing it equitably to thousands of dealers throughout America—only. So we say, "Sorry, Europe... Sorry, Asia. No Budweiser for you yet." It seems that people no longer ask for beer. They ask for Budweiser

How About Deposits Of Good Faith?

Politely speaking, we have been "had" for the second consecutive time on "circuses" within recent weeks.

Most of us like the prospect of the sawdust (not just dust) with strange animals and daring acts well enough to take a chance. This perhaps outweighs our sense of caution, especially when heretofore dependable names and faces present themselves. As a member of the mass, we have no special gift of foresight and consequently are not properly prepared to exercise due reserve.

We wonder if there isn't some device that can be employed to protect us from ourselves. Certainly we are not qualified to argue legal soundness of any proposals, but could there be such a thing as a "performance" bond required of shows coming into corporate limits?

In other words, if a circus, for example, holds out to the public that it has 20 elephants, two tigers, four lions, three trained seals, a giraffe, a span of zebras, 40 monkeys, a gorilla, trained ponies, horses, dogs, a troupe of aerial acrobats, and assorted other performers, it ought to be willing to back up its claims with a substantial deposit of good faith.

Should the organization exhibit all that it advertises and claims, it could have the deposit refunded. If it made a token presentation—which has been the case in the last two instances—then the bond would be forfeited. In such case, those who present stubs might be entitled to a percentage refund out of the deposit; or as an alternative, the fund might go into the public coffers for civic improvements.

Not many reputable shows would shy from such a requirement; the shell-gamers would cry to high heaven and pass us by. Isn't this worth consideration?

Evaluation Foundation Of Experts

Walter Winchell, they tell us, "dramatically" devoted his full quarter-hour (not even breaking for a bit of lotion peddling midway) the past week to a pessimistic and alarmist proclamation that World War III would be here pretty soon.

Maybe so, maybe not. We don't know, and we don't believe Mr. Winchell does either.

In the first place, Mr. Winchell is a Broadway gossip. He has a staff of gleaners who pick up tainted morsels and place them in his hands for an occasionally clever bit of retouching. Mr. Winchell is really a crafty rewrite.

His broadcast gained its following out of the personal application of the qualities which went into the column. Vocal and sound techniques, which are really stock in trade, combined with a characteristic finality and caustic front to give a certain amount of color to the program.

Now none of this makes Mr. Winchell an expert on foreign affairs or international events. It is only human, however, that a person in such a spot should be puffed by fan mail and hollow threats, which result inevitably from brash statements and a light regard for truth. In this instance, it has given birth to an "expert" who talks through his nose.

Unhappily, there are many who would quote from Mr. Winchell more readily than from the Bible (which has to be read and not given in capsules by listening). But it will be helpful to many, regardless of whether the man is right or wrong, to evaluate the source. That evaluation, we are confident, won't put him anywhere near the pundit class.

CIO Majors In Resolutions

BOSTON, (U.P.)—The main job of the CIO convention here for the rest of the week will be passing resolutions.

In most cases they won't amount to much more than this: they give the CIO a chance to go on record for something or against it.

There's a resolution on foreign affairs. It's pretty mild. It says something like this:

"We need peace. The nations of the world should live in peace. So the nations of the world should try for peace."

But here's an example of where the CIO can do something. There's a resolution condemning the new Taft-Hartley labor law. And in its resolution, the CIO pledges to fight the act where, when, and how it can.

Since this resolution is stating CIO policy, the CIO unions will work to try to carry it out. But here's another which seems pretty sure to result in nothing: This is a resolution suggesting that Congress be called back into special session to bring back price controls to cut down the cost of living.

Since there is no sign of any wide feeling in Congress to do anything of the kind, probably nothing like that will be done.

But, at least, the resolution gets the CIO on record as saying prices are too high and something should be done about them.

In all, 36 resolutions have been whipped into shape for the convention to vote on. Here's an explanation of how they got that way:

This CIO convention is a meeting of delegates from the 41 unions, representing 6,000,000 workers, which make up the CIO.

So this year, as in previous years, top officers of the unions met here a week before the convention started.

Special committees were set up to put into shape resolutions upon a number of subjects in which the CIO is interested.

Some of the committee work means compromising to avoid fights later on the convention floor or even splits in the CIO.

Unless some changes are made on the convention floor, the resolutions that come out of the committee will be passed.

CIO President Philip Murray wants to keep peace in the CIO. So, it seems, do most of the CIO officers.

The resolutions which have come out of the committees are not the kind to cause much quarreling in the convention, if any.

Riches Among Poverty In Spain

Nero immortalized his name by fiddling while Rome burned.

Last Sunday his grace, the Spanish Duke of Alba, who is possessed of vast riches and has more titles than any other person outside the royal families of Europe, gave his daughter, the Duchess of Montoro, in marriage to the fourth son of the Duke of Sotomayor in old Sevilla. It was an event whose magnificence hasn't been equalled since the palmist days of the Spanish monarchy.

There were 2,000 guests. The bride's wedding gown reportedly cost about $10,000 and she wore jewels estimated to be worth $1,000,000. His Grace is said to have allocated $370,000 for the wedding festivities. Four hundred waiters served $70,000 worth of food, and the elect ate from the dual gold and silver service. About $4,400 worth of lobster and shellfish were served for one course. The Duke also gave $4,400 to the poor of Sevilla—and made a multitude of other gifts.

Thus runs the glittering tale of pomp and splendor in the darkness of a Europe which in many places is suffering hunger and cold and other privation—of a Europe which is fighting against the servitude of a totalitarianism that thrives on chaos and propaganda against people of great wealth.

Spain, of course, is rather on the outskirts of the great economic crisis but the poor she always has with her in large numbers.

So Rome burned and Nero fiddled himself into history.

Loretta Can Turn Down Parts

HOLLYWOOD, (U.P.)—Loretta Young was listening to her agent recite the plot of a forthcoming movie for which a major studio was eagerly seeking her services. When he finished, she shook her head and smiled, "No thanks." That's how easy it is for her to turn down $150,000 (more or less).

Loretta is now finishing "Rachel" and she told me, "I have not found a story which would induce me to work until next year." This is an unusual attitude in these trying times when many actresses are eager to work in anything, but Loretta went on to explain:

"Several years ago I was stewing over a role which I was going to do, but didn't want. 'Look,' said Tom (Lewis, her husband), 'You're not working to clothe the kids or buy the food or pay for the house, because I provide those things. The only reason you should work is because it's fun.' And that's the way I've looked at it ever since."

Luckman Wins Another Argument

WASHINGTON. — Poor Food Czar Charley Luckman gets it going and coming. First he is roasted by the liquor distillers, the hotel and restaurant men; and now he gets it in the neck from Senators Eight of them—all Republicans—sat down to lunch with him last week and led by Oregon's Wayne Morse and Minnesota's Ed Thye, raised Cain about poultryless Thursdays.

Before the stormy, closed-door session was over, however, tough-tongued Luckman won the endorsement of all eight: Senators without agreeing to any basic changes in his "wasteful—eat less" program.

Senator Morse, former dean of the Oregon University law school, but also something of an expert on chickens, did most of the talking.

"You obviously were unaware of some economic facts when you asked the American public to do without eggs and poultry one day a week," he said. "I'm for feeding Europe and I am sure all my Republican colleagues want to see you attain your objectives, but not at the expense of upsetting our agricultural economy."

"It seems to me that this is a very poor time to ask people to abstain from poultry when cold-storage plants are bulging with it. We have 225,000,000 lbs. of turkey, chicken and other poultry in cold storage and an additional 600,000,000 pounds of turkey will move into the market for Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's business in the next 90 days, plus another 100,000,000 pounds of other poultry."

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who was present, confirmed the fact that this vast amount of poultry was on hand.

"Why don't you send some of this to Europe?" asked Morse.

"Well, I guess the answer is pretty obvious," replied Luckman. "Europe wants grain, because it is cheaper and has a higher caloric content. Also, it might seem incongruous to feed chicken and turkey to starving people."

"Let's not kid ourselves about that," broke in Senator Thye, himself a Minnesota farmer. "I am not trying to belittle our humanitarian efforts, but I think everyone agrees that whatever relief we send Europe will be a gift, which is perfectly all right if you have to keep people from starving."

"But if we are going to write off repayment, let's send what we can best afford, without too much sacrifice to our farm program. A lot of small poultry farmers, including many war veterans in Minnesota and other states, are going to be hurt if you continue these poultryless Thursdays."

"Your program is unfair," continued Thye. "It should have been spread more evenly over our whole economy, so that one segment of the population would

President had made his plea for poultryless Thursdays without consulting the agriculture department.

On the same day Truman went on the air, the agriculture department had prepared to launch exactly the opposite program—namely, encourage people to eat more poultry so farmers would send more chickens to market, thus reducing the grain fed on poultry farms.

Even after the President announced his poultryless Thursdays the agriculture department still liked its program better and quietly went ahead with it. Result: There should be more poultry on the market all week, except Thursday.

MACARTHUR, EISENHOWER

Even in far distant Japan, General MacArthur called the turn on the Eisenhower boom 18 months ago. Sen. Owen Brewster, who was globe-trotting in the Far East at the time, delivered a personal message to the General from President Truman.

"Tell MacArthur," Truman jokingly told Brewster. "That he can have my job any time he wants it."

"Thank the President for me," MacArthur shot back. "And tell him that if any general ever takes his job, it will be Eisenhower."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Washington newsmen covering the state department are told almost daily that a special session of Congress is absolutely necessary because of the world crisis. But when they go a few blocks away to the White House, they are told just as regularly that there is no need for a special session. . . Indian ambassador Asaf Ali had a secret talk with President Truman last week asking aid to India. The Hindu ambassador pointed out that India has $5,000,000,000 frozen in London which the British won't let them cash. . . The atomic energy commission will issue strict blanket regulations to prevent the export of machinery which could be used in producing atom bombs. . . President Truman's council of economic advisers will give him a report this week advising that the Marshall Plan will not prevent a new depression. Inflation, they will report, is the chief thing to worry about. . . Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's new economic czar, says England will need more help under the Marshall Plan soon. However, treasury department figures show England's gold reserves now are close to $2,000,000,000, more than twice what they were before the war in 1939. . . The Administration's top economic policy committee, the national advisory committee, this week will carefully consider Winthrop Aldrich's plan for a war production board to rehabilitate Europe.

Egotists In Oil

NEW YORK—Pal Fried is a portrait painter, recently arrived from Hungary, who wishes the political ward heifers in America had the same egotistical tendencies of the minor officials in Europe.

"Every time anyone in Europe is elected mayor, or even dog catcher, he feels he must preserve the moment for his family's posterity, and immediately summons a portrait painter," says Fried. "Then, in full uniform, with chains jangling and medals gleaming, he sits for his portrait prepared for the wall of the city hall or whatever public building he serves."

Fried, who has painted such varied celebrities as Lord Rothermere, the British newspaper owner; Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg; Hungary's patriot, Ferenc Nagy; various European and African princes and pashas, and even George Sanders of the Hollywood nobility, is the fastest portrait artist in the business. For this reason he is popular with men, as the male temperament resists lengthy sittings. Fried dashes off one of his workmanlike oils in anywhere from two and a half to four hours.

"His technique?"

"Just my own impatience with lengthy sittings, too," he said. "Somewhere along the line I found that the technical problems were not matters of painstakingly extended detail, and that I could speed up the painting process to a point where I eliminated all the impossible bother which makes portraits silly tedium both for the artist and his subject."

Fried, who evaded Hitler by hiding in friends' cellars, was one of the first freed by the Russians after Budapest was recaptured. He promptly set off for the United States, "where I should have come years ago," he said, looking down the nine floors of his apartment to business 37th street.

Unusual Complaint About Taxes

Complaints are a dime a dozen in the offices of those harried gentlemen known as tax collectors, but in east Texas a citizen came up with one the county official would like to have gold plated and hung on the wall.

Edward Shamburger of Hawkins wasn't happy when he received a school tax bill amounting to exactly $1.90.

"Back in the '30s my taxes ran almost $30 and I couldn't pay them," said Mr. Shamburger. "Now I have plenty of money and you want only two dollars."

The collector, anxious to please, invited him to render his own evaluation.

A Tyler amateur detective discovered that circumstantial evidence can be very deceiving.

He entered the Smith county courthouse and noticed that the steps on the right side, were worn deep. The left steps, for outgoing traffic, were not as badly worn.

He checked the other three entrances. There, too, he found the same thing.

This, he deduced, would indicate that there was more incoming traffic than outgoing traffic. That sounded simple enough until he reached his next deduction, to wit: The place must be awful crowded with people who went in but didn't come out again.

A custodian solved the mystery for him, says the Tyler Morning Telegraph: Both doors remain open in summer, but during the winters, the left doors are always closed and both incoming and outgoing traffic use the right side.

Sterling Plays Birds Friday

COURTNEY, Oct. 15 — Courtney's Eagles and George Tiller's Sterling City sextet, who share the lead with three other teams in District VII standings, clash here Friday afternoon in an important contest.

The loser can count itself out of the running for the conference crown, since each team has suffered a reversal. Sterling was upset by Coahoma while Courtney was spanked by Forsan two weeks ago.

Tiller's invaders will be slight favorites to cop the duke, although the Courtney troupe is always hard to beat at home. Sterling expects to have its all-conference back, Jackie Tweedle, in top shape for the tussle.

G. W. Kennemer, Courtney coach, will depend upon such boys as Taylor Cross and Benny Kelly in the struggle.

With TOMMY HART

Odessa students of the great Autumnal sport, never party to flinging flattery toward anything Big Spring, have rated Our Town's Harold Berry as one of the two best backs their Bronchos have had to compete against this year (the other: Jim Dobbyn of Abilene).

Such is mentioned here as a word of warning for those of the manswarm who would sell Pat Murphy's Steers short in their Friday night game with Brownfield.

True, Brownfield knocked the props from under Lamesa, 33-7, without getting up a sweat several weeks ago and the Tornados turned around and shocked Big Spring, six and oh, but the Cubs—and their coaches, Harold Crites and Toby Greer, are striving to impress their boys with this point—will have no easy romp.

Berry was the difference between victory and defeat last weekend. Without Berry, the Longhorns' timing was woefully off. Their offense was impotent and their defense looked spotty. With him, they at least look like a ball team fit to give any opposition an argument.

Harold isn't a great ball carrier and a half dozen backs in the district are his equals as passers. His forte is aggressiveness, that and coolness in the heat of battle. You can bang him down three times running and he'll climb off the mat and swing from the heels the next time.

Too, the youngster gets the most out of his backfield. He builds a fire under Gordon Madison and Moe plays his head off. He has B. E. Lees outdoing himself. And Paul Shaffer seems more confident alongside Berry.

If Harold can go the distance, the Brownfields had best get set for a busy, agonizing evening.

Many a local football fan is wondering why the time clock at Steer stadium hasn't been put in operation this fall. The timepiece was installed shortly before the season got underway at considerable expense to the contributing organization, the Junior chamber of commerce.

Whether it is the responsibility of the school board, the athletic department or the Jaycees, it should be functioning at all the local games for the benefit of the people who pay the freight.

Four choice reserve seat tickets for the Texas A&M-TCU games, which will be played in Fort Worth Saturday afternoon, can be had at cost if the solicitor will call at this department.

The owner purchased the paste boards some time ago only to find he could not make the trip. The ducats retail for $3 a copy.

Harry Todd, the Dallas touring pro, has been named professional at the Northwood country club in Big D. Harry won around $9,000 in tournament prizes last year.

Leon Glenn Bredemeyer, one of Big Spring's better softball hurlers for the past two or three years, is now living in Colorado City. He'll probably confine his pitching to Colorado City circles in 1948. Glenn played in the CC league the past season but maintained a residence here.

Tony Elisondo, a former kingpin, will try to regain the 100-pound state boxing crown in Corpus Christi Monday, Oct. 27, in a slugfest with Jimmy Carl.

BULLDOGS MEET VALLEY FRIDAY

WATER VALLEY, Oct. 15.—Coahoma's Bulldogs, a leading contender for first place in District Seven, comes to Water Valley Friday to play Elvin Mathis' resident six-man football team, last year's champion.

Coahoma has beaten Sterling City and Mertzon while losing to Courtney in district play this year. Water Valley has yet to win a game after three starts.

The home town Wildcats lost all their starters from last year's blue-ribbon club and have been further hampered by injuries to key personnel.

VALLEY KITTENS WIN

WATER VALLEY, Oct. 15.—Water Valley's Junior high Kittens thrashed the Sterling City Eagles, 32-6, in a six-man football game played here Monday.

Morgan Westbrook counted all five touchdowns for the winners.

HEAVIES TO CLASH

EL PASO, Oct. 15.—Arturo Godoy, South American heavy-weight champion, and Jack Marshall of Dallas, Southern heavy-weight fighter, will meet here Oct. 22 in a ten-round bout.

Former Tackle Heads Attack

Big Bertha of the Brownfield offensive game, which runs head-on into the Big Spring Steers here Friday night, is Jerrell Price, a 202-pound fullback who gave the Longhorns fits as a tackle last fall.

Price was converted in spring training by Coaches Harold Crites and Toby Greer and has been filling the bill, according to all reports. He is aided and abetted by such operatives as John Dalton, a 170-pound half; Bob Martin, who barks the signals and who weighs in the neighborhood of 170 pounds; and Bill Tankersly, who goes at 170.

Crites and Greer will bring a strong line to town. In the Cubs' assignments to date, they've defeated Phillips, lost to Midland, humiliated Lamesa and lost to Class A Levelland. They were idle last week and should be in great shape for the Big Spring outing.

The Steers surprised the Cubs last year, thanks to some airtight work on the part of Gerald Harris and Horace Rankin, both of whom have since graduated.

Coach Pat Murphy had the Steers going at it hammers-and-long in scrimmage with the B string Tuesday afternoon. The reserves held the regulars on even terms most of the time but could go no where on the offense.

Harold Berry, our last week, was back, big as life. He may be the difference between a fair and a good ball club Friday night.

Roach Moves Up Fistic Ladder

BROOKLYN, N. Y. Oct. 15.—Lavern Roach, the ex-marine from Plainview, Tex., racked up another victory here last night, outpointing Jack Kenny of Newark, N. J., in the eight-round feature match at the Broadway Arena.

Roach, who weighed 158 1/4 to Kenny's 162, had little trouble in downing the Jersey fighter.

Kenny staggered Roach with a round, but Roach's superior boxing dominated the fight.

Roach's left eye was cut in the bout and Kenny's right eye was cut.

Referee Ruby Goldstein voted five rounds for Roach, two for Kenny and one even. Judge Joe Ryder gave Roach six, Kenny one and one even.

Judge Harold Barnes awarded Roach seven and Kenny one round.

Texans In Tie For Golf Lead

FORT SMITH, Ark. Oct. 15.—Led by Mildred (Babe) Zaharias of Denver and Polly Riley of Fort Worth, nine entrants started a second day of medal play in the Hardscrabble Country club's annual Women's Open golf tournament here today.

Mrs. Zaharias and Miss Riley yesterday shot 78's—three under Women's par of 79—in the first 18 holes of the 72-hole event. Patty Berg of Minneapolis and Carol Daringer of Tiffin, O., were close behind with 77's.

Other first-round medal play scores included: Betty Jameson, San Antonio, 79; Betty Mims White, Dallas, 84; Mrs. R. E. Winger, Fort Worth, 85.

Junior Circuit 'Gate' Helped Set New Record

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—For the second consecutive season, American league teams played before more than nine million fans, helping to set a new all-time high for major league baseball attendance.

The official 1947 attendance for the A. L. of 9,486,069 was a decrease of 135,113 from the 1946 total. The drop was mainly caused by poor weather at the start of the season.

The National league drew an unofficial count of 10,390,289—boosting the overall total to a new high of 19,876,358. The paid total last year was 18,534,444.

The world champion New York Yankees led all clubs by drawing 2,178,937. They took the pennant so easily that it may account for the drop from their last year gate of 2,285,512. The 1946 mark, set by the Yankees third place club, stands as the major league record.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' drive to the National league flag attracted an unofficial 1,807,596 which topped the senior circuit turnstile count. This was a climb of 10,772 over 1946.

Yearlings Play Colorado City

Coach Good Graves takes his eighth grade Yearlings to Colorado City this evening where at 7:30 o'clock they play the Colorado City Junior high Wolf Cubs.

The Yearlings will be seeking their first victory of the year. They came close to achieving a win last week in Stanton when they shoked the Junior Bulls all over the field in the first three quarters only to lose in the last 20 seconds of play, 6-0.

Graves' club is in good shape for the joust with the Wolf pack.

Ortiz To Scrap Ortega Tonight

EL PASO, Oct. 15.—A crowd of 8,000 is expected tonight when Manuel Ortiz, world's bantam-weight champion, meets Manny Ortega of El Paso, ranked eighth nationally, in a 10-round non-title bout.

Proceeds will go to the Damon Runyan cancer fund.

Ortega, who got his start at fighting in Golden Gloves competition, formerly was Texas champion.

Bisons Invade Mertzon Friday

FORSAN, Oct. 15.—Forsan's Buffaloes, on the road back after suffering an early season loss at the hands of Sterling City, journey to Mertzon Friday for a game with Cagle Hunt's Mertzon Hornets in a game that will have much bearing on the District Seven six-man football chase.

The two sextets are tied for the circuit lead along with three other teams and the loser will all but drop out of championship contention.

Frank Honeycutt's Buffs are in good physical trim and will depend on a good running game built around Eldon Prater, Wayne Hussias and Dan Fairchild for victory.

The Bisons threw a monkey wrench into Courtney's title plans by thrashing the Eagles, 41-6, in their last battle. Courtney was unbeaten up until that time.

Corpus-Jefferson Battle Feature Prep Attraction

Odessa Is Host To Amarillo

Thirty conference games bring the Texas schoolboy football race slam-bang into the big middle of the battle for the championship this week-end.

Six of the contests are major affairs, one of them matching unbeaten teams as Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio makes its bid for a repeat as District 15 titlist against favored Corpus Christi.

And while a dozen districts are slugging it out with important conference games, mighty Odessa, the defending state champion and favorite to win again, will be clashing with unbeaten, untied—and possibly underrated—Amarillo in a top sectional battle.

Of almost as much significance as the Thomas Jefferson-Corpus Christi game will be the collision of Waxahachie with Waco in District 10 and Poly's tussle with North Side in the Fort Worth district.

Unbeaten, untied Waxahachie is the District 10 favorite but Waco, which has lost only to Austin, a District 15 powerhouse, is considered a major challenger—probably even more than Corsicans, which is undefeated and untied.

Poly hasn't lost a game, although it has been tied, but won't be expected to lick the fine North Side eleven that has bowed only to Odessa.

Mineral Wells, a favorite in District 9, clashes with Weatherford, which is undefeated; Tyler, a well-ranked team in District 11, meets Texarkana and Goose Creek, favorite in District 14, tangles with Beaumont in other important conference affairs.

This week's schedule by districts:

- 1—Friday: Abilene at Lubbock.
- 2—Friday: Electra at Wichita Falls (conference), Graham at Childress (conference), Quanah at Vernon (conference).
- 3—Friday: Plainview at Sweetwater, Amarillo at Odessa, Brownfield at Big Spring, San Angelo at Lamesa (conference).
- 4—Thursday: Carlsbad, N. M., at Austin (El Paso); Friday: Ysleta at El Paso high (conference); Saturday: Phoenix, Ariz., at Bowie (El Paso).
- 5—Friday: Denton at Sherman, Grand Prairie at Bonham, Jesuit (Dallas) at Gainesville, Sulphur Springs, Paris.
- 6—Friday: Berger at Highland Park (Dallas).
- 7—Thursday: Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) vs. Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) (conference); Friday: Poly (Fort Worth) vs. North Side (Fort Worth) (conference); Saturday: Fort Worth Tech vs. Paschal (Fort Worth) (conference).
- 8—Friday: Sunset (Dallas) vs. North Dallas (conference); Saturday: Crozier Tech (Dallas) vs. Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) (conference).
- 9—Friday: Ranger at Brownwood (conference), Mineral Wells at Weatherford (conference), Stephenville at Breckenridge (conference).
- 10—Friday: Waxahachie at Waco (conference), Ennis at Temple (conference), Corsicana at Hillsboro (conference), McKinney at Cleburne.
- 11—Friday: Nacogdoches at Kilgore, Marshall at Gladewater (conference), Henderson at Longview (conference), Texarkana at Tyler (conference).
- 12—Friday: Bryan at Kirwin (Galveston), Austin (Houston) at Conroe.
- 13—Thursday: Lamar (Houston) vs. San Jacinto (Houston) (conference); Friday: Sam Houston (Houston) vs. John Reagan (Houston) (conference); Saturday: Milby (Houston) vs. Jeff Davis (Houston) (conference).
- 14—Friday: Pasadena at Port Arthur (conference), Beaumont at Goose Creek (conference), Galveston at Galena Park (conference), South Park (Beaumont) at Orange (conference).
- 15—Friday: Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) at Corpus Christi (conference), Laredo at Harlandale (San Antonio), Texas Military Institute (San Antonio) at Kerrville.
- 16—Friday: Harlingen at Edinburg (conference), McAllen at Robstown (conference), Kingsville at San Benito (conference).

Brigham Young Player Leads Nation's Passers In Number Of Completions

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—College football coaches are learning, it appeared today, that the surest way to push a pigskin toward the other fellow's goal is to throw it—provided you have somebody who can propel it in the proper direction and somebody else to haul it down.

This was indicated more or less clearly in the weekly statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, which show that the outstanding forward passers of 1947 are far ahead of their predecessor in the matter of accuracy and that all aerial records are in danger.

Rex Olsen of Brigham Young University, the leading passer at the moment in the number of successful tosses, has completed 51 forwards in four games covering a total of 599 yards.

Behind him in the Bureau's rankings come Charley Conery of Mississippi with 46 completions, Norm Van Brocklin of Orton with 38, Gene Bourdet of Montana State with 34, Johnny Rauch of Georgia with 30, Jimmy Bowden of Texas Mines with 27 and five others with 25 each.

Most of them have played four games, but Perry Most of Illinois has completed 25 passes in three contests and Johnny Lujack of Notre Dame has been on the throwing end of 25 successful pitches although the Irish have participated in only two games.

The terrific pace being set in the aerial department is accentuated by the fact that Travis Tidwell of Auburn was leading the country at this point a year ago with 27 completions and that in the history of college football only two players have completed more than 100 passes in an entire season.

Wilson (Bud) Schwenk set the record when he hit 114 for Washington University of St. Louis in 1941 and Ray Evans of Kansas completed 101 in 1942.

Tidwell completed only 79 passes last year when he led all the passers in the country.

Olsen, or any of a dozen other aerial artists, could wipe out Schwenk's completion record as well as the mark of 1,457 yards gained on passes in a season—set by Davey O'Brien at Texas Christian in 1938 and tied by Schwenk in 1941.

It's a mournful howl that will give you out. But YOU mean just as loud when you think about those unpaid bills—that long overdue doctor bill; the cost of your wife's operation; those little debts, scattered all over town. How much will it take to clean them all up? $370? Think! As little as $28.39 a month repays a $370 Southwestern Investment Protected Payment loan. And if you're laid up, sick or injured, under a doctor's care, those payments are PAID FOR YOU, every month! Pay your bills NOW! Let Southwestern furnish the cash! able site can be obtained.

City Manager H. W. Whitney was instructed to inspect a street sweeper advertised for sale by the War Assets Administration at Oklahoma City. The action was taken after delivery was delayed again on a new sweeper ordered by the city several months ago.

Commissioners turned down a request that the Dallas street paving project, one of the last to be approved in the voluntary plan, be extended to include one block on Matthews street.

A proposed contract by Pioneer Airlines for use of landing facilities at the Municipal airport was discussed, but action was postponed until the next regular meeting.

Ted Groehl, Simon Terrazas and W. J. Sheppard appeared before the commission to urge development of an industrial area in the airport section. They expressed interest in using surplus warehouses purchased from the WAA at their present site and asked the commission to request WAA to leave the railroad spur there intact. Commissioners promised to investigate the possibilities of developing such a project, and also promised their assistance in event results are favorable.

The regular meeting was recessed until Oct. 23, at which time paving ordinances will be submitted.

Rowe To Speak To Realtors

M. A. Rowe, Houston, president of the Texas Realtors association, is scheduled to address an open meeting Thursday for all persons in Big Spring engaged in real estate business.

Those in charge of arrangements have urged all realtors, regardless of any professional affiliations, to hear Rowe's address at the Settles at 7 p. m.

Rowe has served as state director, chairman of the legislative found committee before becoming president of the state association in 1947.

A varied career is back of the state association head. In World War I he was in the service of England, engaged in marine work for two years and then transferred to the U. S. Transport Service for two and a half years. At 24, he was recognized to be the youngest captain of an ocean-going freighter engaged in foreign trade. He retained this distinction for eight of 10 years as a captain.

He left the sea to join the Real Estate Trust company in Houston in 1927, transferring two years later to the City National Bank of Houston where he managed the real estate department for 17 years. In 1946 he set up his own office, specializing in appraisals, sales and leases of business properties, although remaining active in brokerage and loan fields. His experience at Houston encompasses the development of 12 subdivisions in Harris county. He also held many positions, including the presidency, of the Houston board.

Markets

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (A.P.)—Stocks found a lively demand again in today's market and leading shares pushed ahead in an extension of Tuesday's rally.

Buying orders for an assortment of industrials crowded the exchange facilities at the opening and the ticker tape fell two minutes behind floor transactions for a brief period. Subsequently the pace slowed somewhat and selected issues retreated from their best levels. Near military gains of fractions to a point was widely distributed, and scattered losers appeared.

Commission houses reported some entering activity by traders holding short positions while many customers re-initiated accounts in the belief the market's position was consolidated and the list was ready for an upswing. Some switching of funds into stocks from the recently active commodity exchanges was indicated.

Bonds were narrow and commodities mixed.

COTTON
NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (A.P.)—Cotton futures were firm in active dealings today. Mills covered contracts aggressively selling textile sales, with scattered outside buying aiding the advance. Hedge selling appeared only on the scale.

"Spot sales at the ten primary markets hit a new season's high of 86,154 bales on Tuesday.

Strong demand for cotton textile and the tight supply prospects were the principal factors influencing the futures advance.

Pyote Army Airfield Will Have Sale

Marianas Alerted For New Typhoon

TOKYO, Oct. 15. (U. S. A.P.)—The Marianas were alerted today as a new typhoon built up over the Pacific 420 miles east of Guam and started whirling northward at five miles an hour.

The 43rd weather wing, which designated the typhoon "Alice," said its center surface winds were estimated at 100 miles an hour—somewhat less intense than those of the typhoon "Rosaling," which dissipated over the north Pacific after causing widespread damage on Iwo Jima.

Relaxed State Is Deplored By Army Chaplain

High among the contributing causes "which have brought us to our situation is an attitude on the part of many people that 'the war is over,'" Capt. E. A. Burgess, deputy to the commanding chaplain of the Fourth army, told the Lions club Wednesday.

Having gone through the strain of a war, too many people have folded their arms and relaxed, said Chaplain Burgess, who was stationed in Big Spring for seven months in 1945-46.

"The war is not over for millions of people who are homeless, starving and ravaged by disease," he declared. "It is not over for the hundreds and thousands who have been maimed."

Unless the public attitude of unconcern about winning the peace is changed, Chaplain Burgess said that the "blood of 288,000 dead will cry out to us."

He said that public support and understanding was needed by those in the armed services to dispel a feeling that "we are alone." Chaplain Burgess appealed for "your continued support, interest and loyalty." He was introduced by Capt. A. C. Goyer of the U. S. Army recruiting service.

Entertainment was furnished by Jesse Majors, who sang to his own guitar accompaniment. Announcement of the impending Pioneer Night party of the club were made by Bill Dawes, president.

Legion Meeting

A business meeting for members only has been announced for the American Legion post at 8 p. m. Thursday by H. P. Steck, post commander. The meeting, slated for the new clubhouse at the former bombardier school, will feature the appearance of Prince Kimmo, noted young magician, and his wife, a talented dancer.
