BAPTIST PLAN BIG MONEY RAISING CAMPAIGN

(By J. M. Dawson, Publicity Director, Baptist General Convention of Dallas, Texas.)
Baptists of Texas will undertake to raise $1,500,000 in cash between now and the meeting of the annual convention in Waco, about the middle of November.
Next week, September 12, a great rally of pastors, missionaries, and laymen will be held in Fort Worth, to which a rate of one and one-half fare for the round trip on the certificate plan has been granted by the railroads.
Following this meeting an All-State Motor Tour is being planned, during which more than 2400 churches will be visited within a single week, beginning September 25th.
The district associational meetings are now being held throughout the state, more than 120 in number, and these are discussing the big objective set by the Baptist State Executive Board to care for the program of state missions, schools, hospitals, orphanage and other enterprises fostered by Texas Baptists.
Three years ago the Baptists of the State pledged sixteen million dollars to be paid in five years and the amount now sought will apply as part payment on these pledges.

P. P. Cook Lost Hand
In O'Hair Gin Thursday
P. P. Cook, an employee of the O'Hair gin in Coleman, lost his right hand in the saws of the gin Thursday morning.
The four fingers of the hand were badly lacerated and almost amputated by the saws. The patent was removed to the Coleman Sanitarium where amputation of the four fingers was made. The thumb on the hand was saved.—Democrat-Voice.

Farm Bureau Meeting

Tuesday With Bankers

A meeting with the Coleman County Farm Bureau board, with county bankers, was held in Coleman Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was held for the purpose of bringing about a better understanding and closer cooperation between bankers and the farm bureau.
Mr. Overstreet of Lubbock, who is connected with the state organization of the Farm Bureau, addressed the meeting and pointed out that the Bureau had made several changes in its marketing program that would be beneficial to both bureau members and bankers. He also called attention to the $55,000,000 loan through the War Finance Corporation, which amount was now available for advances to within 60 per cent of the market value of cotton, and to aid in the orderly marketing of the staple.
All the Coleman bankers were represented at the meeting. Santa Anna banks were represented by Mr. Leman Brown and Mr. Chas. Woodruff, and Valera by Mr. B. F. Gray.—Democrat-Voice.

If it were not for the fools the wise men would not be given the credit that is their due.

Speeding Up Farm Work

In no other business is it quite as important to do the right thing at the right time as it is in farming. It has been demonstrated through years of observation that the best grain crops are grown when the stubble, or other field to be planted, is properly plowed the latter part of July or the first of August. But, in the Southwest, it often happens that the land is hard and dry in the summer, or else the farmer and his help find it necessary to be in the cotton field. Under such conditions, the tractor with plows, harrows and other equipment adapted to tractor work, solves the problem.
Power on the farm is becoming more of a necessity. It is also more easily available than a few years ago and more reliable. Good horses will find a place on practically every well-regulated farm, a tractor purchased with care and consideration for the work it will be expected to perform, will often-times save its initial cost in making possible a speedy performance of work at a time it should be done.
There's a word of logic in not letting the right hand know what the left hand does. It might feel ashamed.

Once there was a time when brotherly love was known, when a spirit of fairness was in evidence, when a willingness to live and let live prevailed.

But that was yesterday, and yesterday is forever of the past.
We dream of the days that were, but make no effort to restore them to the time that is.
We pity the ancients because of the many things that they did not possess, and the Lord judges us because of the many things that we reject.
It is life, as we make it, and for which we must pay.
Thunder makes a big noise, but does no harm.
Family jars are both like and unlike thunder. They make a big noise, and they also do a lot of harm.
We listen to the rumble of thunder, and forget it.
We wrangle in a family jar, and remember it.
Though we live in an age of wisdom and accomplish great things, we stoop to the little things that cloud our greatness in others.
Never lose sleep over the things that you don't know. Find 'em out.

BAPTIST REVIVAL CLOSED

SUNDAY-NIGHT
The revival meeting that had been in progress at the Baptist church for the past two weeks, closed Sunday night after a two weeks campaign by the pastor and Rev. Jeff Davis. The first week of the meeting was held at Live Oak school building, and was said to be of much interest to the community.
Due to extreme hot weather, the early picking of cotton and other unexpected drawbacks, the meeting was not so well attended the last week, and the results were not what were expected by the pastor and the helper, but the meeting resulted in considerable good being done. Seven were baptized Sunday afternoon in the baptistry of the church, and several others were added to the church during the meeting.
For some cause, it appears, the church has reached a crisis and it is a standstill apparently, and it is going to take a united effort on the part of the church to arouse interest and get the church movement renewed. What is everybody's business is generally nobody's business, thus, without enthusiastic and influential leadership the crisis will never be overcome.
The pastor of a church is only human being like other men, and often has more responsibilities thrust upon them than they can bear and remain in a hale and enthusiastic attitude for efficient leadership. Church members often neglect their duty toward their pastor and take too much for granted and the pastor becomes embarrassed under the load. Prayer and consecration will alleviate the burden and embarrassment to both the pastor and the church, without them the crisis will never be overcome.
This article was written Monday morning and the writer admits his faults as well as seeing the faults of others, and the article may not be appreciated but no one can deny the truth of it.

SOMETHING GOOD AHEAD

We accept the prediction of financial writers and prophets that better times are ahead, but we would like to know how far away they are.
Optimism is our creed, because it is to the optimists we must look for restoring the world and our particular portion thereof to something near the stability of pre-war days.
This old globe is in a sad state of confusion, bordering almost upon collapse, but there is comfort in the fact that it might be worse. There is even encouragement in the fact that conditions generally are steadily improving.
Something good ahead!
Let us make that a slogan, and labor unitedly, and unceasingly until we can triumphantly announce that "something good is here."
Our numerous strikes and idle trains and shut down mines and all of the other annoyances have a tendency to create a spirit of pessimism in even the stoutest of hearts.
But pessimism does no good, and it does do a lot of harm.
A strong heart surmounts many difficulties before it accomplishes its purpose, but in the end it prevails where the weak heart falls by the wayside.
Yes, there is something good ahead.
Let's get it.

C. A. BIVINS

C. A. Bivins died instantly at his home in the Plainview community last Thursday morning. It is reported that Mr. Bivins slept out in the yard Wednesday night on his cot, got up Thursday morning, put on part of his clothing and started toward the house and fell, death following in a very few moments. Heart failure is supposed to have been the cause. His remains were buried in the City cemetery Friday afternoon.

Ten Young Texans Sail For Foreign Mission Service In Distant Lands

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Porter and young daughter (1) of Waco, who will do educational work at Sao Paulo, Brazil; Miss Josephine Ward (2), Austin, who will do educational work in Kaifeng, China; Miss Louise Willis (3), Waco, who will do educational work in Kaifeng, China; Miss Lo's Howard (4), of Brownwood, who goes to North China; Miss Jennie L. Swearingen (5), Bellville, who will do educational work at Bellohorizonte, Brazil; Rev. J. R. Mashburn (6), DeKalb, who will do evangelistic work in China; Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Meredith and young daughter (7), of Pecos, who will do medical work at Oghonoso, Nigeria, Africa; Miss Nell Hall (8), Hightower, who will teach home economics in Kaifeng, China.

WITH the sending out this season of fifty new missionaries by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, 250 new workers have been sent to foreign fields during the 75 Million Campaign, or one-half the goal that was set in the number of workers to be provided during that movement. It is anticipated the remaining 250 will go out during the remainder of the Campaign period that will expire in December, 1921. The workers going out this season will enter the fields of China, Japan, Africa, Palestine, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Chile and Mexico.
Inasmuch as the largest missionary effort of the denomination is centered in the Orient, the larger portion of the workers sailed from Seattle Saturday, September 2, on the Admiral. Liner President Jackson for stations in China and Japan. The missionaries for fields on other continents sail from New York on various lines and some of them will not depart until September 30.
Varied Types Workers Sent
Included in the list of missionaries are preachers and evangelists, teachers, doctors, nurses, one architect, one expert in domestic science, and special workers among women and children. William Earle Hines of Spartanburg, S. C., who goes to Shanghai to supervise the construction of all missionary buildings in China, enjoys the distinction of being the first architect ever sent out by the Foreign Mission Board, and his appointment indicates the vast extent of the Southern Baptist work in that country. More than half of the total number of missionaries in the employ of this board are located in China, where the results of their labors are very gratifying to the officers of the Board.
Large interest centers, also, in the launching of an intensive missionary work in Palestine, to which country there go Rev. and Mrs. Fred Bunyan Pearson of Moulton, Ala., and Rev. and Mrs. J. Wash Watts, of Laurens, S. C. Some native missionaries are already at work in Palestine, and the outlook there is considered very encouraging, despite the present complicated political and racial controversies.
Campaign Brings Enlargement
In addition to the sending out of 250 new workers to foreign fields the 75 Million Campaign has made it possible to increase the number of native workers from 771 to 1172, to practically double the missionary equipment in the older fields of China, Japan, Africa, Italy, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay and Mexico, and to enter the new fields of Spain, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Roumania, Southern Russia, Palestine and Siberia. Southern Baptists now have a practically unbroken string of mission fields encircling the globe, and a possible mission audience of 900,000,000 people, or one-half the total population of the globe.

And the results on the field have kept pace with the larger investment in the work and number of workers. Since the outset of the Campaign the Foreign Mission Board reports the organization of 117 new churches, 21,723 baptisms, 211 new Sunday schools with a gain of 17,576 pupils, native contributions to Baptist work of $1,603,390.68, and 529,642 treatments administered by missionary physicians. Churches on the foreign fields, exclusive of the new territory in Europe and the Near East, now number 622 with 64,251 members. There are also 971 Sunday schools with 53,691 pupils, and 694 mission schools of all grades with 26,547 students.
Expense Rate Is Low
More than $6,250,000 net has gone from the Campaign into foreign mission work, and so economically have these funds been handled, the Board reports, that 96.24 cents out of every dollar has actually reached the foreign fields, only 3.74 cents out of each dollar being required to care for the total cost of administration. But with these larger receipts and economical administration the Board is unable to meet the demands upon it, and at its last annual meeting it was compelled to reduce the requests of the outstanding of mission fields encircling the globe, and a possible mission audience of 900,000,000 people, or one-half the total population of the globe.

THE COMEBACK

I find that the way I am treated in the day's work depends upon the state of mind I bring into it.

If I enter a circle of men whom I take to be superior to me, I am likely to be snubbed. If I impute to them the feeling that I am inferior I will not fail to be inferior.

If I am self-confident, I awaken confidence.

If I cringe, I make others want to step on me.

If I am cheerful, cheerfulness is handed me by others.

If I am grouchy and snappy they will bite me.

People go at me about the way I go at them.

There is a law in physics to the effect that action is equal to reaction. The ball rebounds from the wall with the same force with which it was thrown against the wall.

And if I approach a man with politeness, I usually receive politeness.

I get from this world a smile for a smile, a kick for a kick, love for love, and hate for hate.

Of course, there are exceptions to this rule. But if there were no rules there would be no exceptions.

And the difference between the man who knows how to play the game and wins regularly—any game, including poker, business, and the game of life—and the man who steadily loses, is that the wise man sticks to the rules and the law of averages, and the fool "has a hunch" and stakes his all on the exceptions.

A good definition of a fool is one who thinks that this time does not count.

My tablets, therefore! Meet it is that I set it down that I am getting what is coming to me.

This is a word of law. Chance is not to be found in the dictionary. In the bright lexicon of fact, there's no such word.

If I am petulant, unrestful, irritable, unsatisfied, wretched and bored—I know the crop and might have expected the harvest when I sowed the seeds of self-indulgence, lack of will, moral cowardice and general selfishness.

If I am lonely it is I who drove hearts away.

If I am bitter, it was I who skimmed the sugar bowl.

If I am persecuted, it was I who brought it on by my cantankerousness.

The loving are beloved.

The generous are helped.

The considerate are considered.

The bully, by and by, is bullied; the smasher smashed.

And the end of a hog is the slaughter house.

There are no victims of fate. The hero always rises above tragedy. The noble soul is never more serene than when all creation thinks it has downed him.—Exchange.

PRIZES FOR

BEST KEPT PREMISES

At the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliery of the American Legion Tuesday of this week, the members voted unanimously to encourage civic pride in the city by offering a substantial prize on the first of March next year for the best kept premises between now and that time.

Committees will be appointed to inspect the town at intervals and keep a record of those who are making efforts to compete for the prize, and at the close of the contest the prize will be awarded.

The News is more than gratified to know that we have at last been joined in the movement for a cleaner and more attractive town. We will never let up on this subject, for after the town has been cleaned and made one of the most attractive places to live in Texas, we are going to laud it to the skies as being such. We have more hopes now of getting the town cleaned up than we have ever had, due to the fact the good ladies of the town are beginning to wake up and take an interest, and if they will just command it the work will be done.

FALL SINGING CONVENTION

DR. W. F. HOLLAND ATTENDS MEETING OF STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Dr. W. F. Holland, the newly appointed Assistant Health Officer has just returned from a call meeting of the Board which was held in Port Arthur, Texas.

The object of the meeting was for the receiving and confirming reports of the past quarter and planning work for the next year.

Dr. J. H. Florence is State Health Officer and he has under him a number of men in the several departments looking after the conditions that affect the public health of the state. It is wonderful to see the amount of good work they are doing.

Department agents reported they had visited 304 towns for food inspections and had inspected 4593 samples of food, found 1194 samples were unfit for human consumption, therefore they destroyed 291,649 pounds of meats, canned goods, etc. Also twenty-six thousand eggs were destroyed.

114 cases were filled for violation of the food and drug act. Of these there were 92 convictions with fines to the amount of $3,438.

Dr. Florence reported to the board that the federal government had appropriated $15,000 to be used for maternal and infant welfare. The appropriation depending on a fifty-fifty basis by the state.

The board discussed the laxity of the physicians and undertakers not reporting the births, deaths, and communicable diseases as provided by law. (But on investigation it was found that Coleman county had made good in making their reports).

And still, the fact that the other fellow is a man after your own heart may not be to his credit.

LEARNING THE VALUE OF DAIRY PRODUCTS

Occasionally we hear of some person expressing the fear that the dairy industry, with all the boasting it is getting, will soon be overdone. To such persons we call attention to the following Government statistics:

There were 400,000 more dairy cows in the United States in 1921 than there were in 1920.

The production of milk in 1920 was 89,658,000,000 pounds and in 1921 it was 98,862,000,000 pounds.

This increase in production was taken care of by an increase in consumption.

In 1921 the per capita daily consumption of milk was 1.08 pints, the largest on record.

In 1920, even date of June 1, there were 21,682,000 pounds of butter in storage and in 1921 only 12,973,000 pounds as against a five-year average of 17,328,000 pounds.

The American public is just beginning to appreciate the health value of milk, cheese and butter. A more thorough education on the subject of dairy products will greatly increase the consumption. If the consumption of dairy products was doubled in the United States, we would have a healthier, stronger and longer-lived people.

There is no danger of overdoing the production end of the dairy industry if the selling end is properly taken care of. What this country needs is more good cows and fewer scrubs to make dairy pay.

LAST INDIAN FIGHT IN BROWN COUNTY

By C. H. Jenkins

The last fight with Indians in Brown County occurred in the spring of 1874, on Clear Creek, near where Ike Smith formerly lived, in which is now Sears' pasture. The Indians were coming into the settlement. Capt. Maltby's company of rangers heard of them and started after them. The rangers pursued and killed two at the place above stated. There were eighteen rangers and about the same number of Indians. The Indians ran when they saw the rangers. The rangers pursued, and killed two Indians, one a small one and one a large one. Jake Hand tied the larger one across a mule and brought him to town. Some one took him across the slough and hanged him on the road side. After he had hung there a few days some of the citizens of the town concluded that an Indian hanging on the road side did not offer much inducement for immigrants to come here and so they took him down and threw him in the slough where he was devoured by hogs. The smaller Indian was scalped and left where he fell. He likewise was eaten by hogs.

The early settlers of Brownwood like most of frontier people, were fond of a practical joke. Some years after Indians had ceased to come within several hundred miles of Brownwood, a drummer, who had never before been in Texas, came to Brownwood. He expressed a desire to obtain some Indian relics. He was told about the Indian being hung by the road side and that some of the bones of his feet had dropped on the ground. The drummer wanted to get them. Some of the boys volunteered to come after supper and go with him to where the Indian was hung. After crossing the slough, one of the company remarked that when the Indians made a raid they always came by where this Indian was hung and left an arrow sticking in the ground. They then began discussing the last raid, which they said was the last moon and suddenly remembered that the moon was right for the next raid, and had about concluded that it was not safe to go any further. Just at this time several guns were fired and a wild yell was heard. The Brownwood boys cried, "Indians!" and ran.

The drummer headed for town as fast as he could run. He missed the crossing on the slough and went off the bank into water about two feet deep. He reached the hotel out of breath and covered with mud, and reported that some of the party were killed by the Indians as he had seen one of them fall.

A similar joke was played on a drummer at Comanche some years later. He drove into town in a new buggy, with a pair of fine horses and a driver. This was more style than the drummers of that day affected. It was soon discovered that he was a tender foot from Boston, who had never before been in Texas. They told him that there was a country dance near town that night where they could have a fine time. He was "rarin' to go." Soon after starting they began to talk about Indians, telling of their last raid about a month before in which they killed and scalped a family nearby. It suddenly occurred to one of the party that the moon was right for another raid. The drummer suggested that it might be well to go back to town and arm themselves before going further. To this they consented. Just at this time shooting and yelling began. They cried out "Indians" and turned to run. As the drummer came into the road near town a man on horse back dressed in Indian costume came in behind him yelling and shooting arrows. The drummer did not throw off in that race, but fell painting in the first store. He reported that some of his companions were certainly killed as he saw them fall. They came in later and reported their falling was a ruse; that after falling they crowded into the brush and that the Indians passed by without seeing them. The supposed Indian was captured by some men coming into town on horseback at that time. He was brought where the drummer could see. The drummer wanted to kill him at once. But they told him that they would lock the Indian in jail and hold him as a hostage to recover a child that the Indians had captured.

The drummer announced his intention of returning to Fort Worth the next morning, but was told that there was danger of being attacked by the Indians as he passed through the timber which extended to Dublin. To avoid this danger, the jokers furnished him an armed escort to Dublin. When the drummer reached Fort Worth and told his experience and narrow escape, he learned that he had been made the victim of a practical joke and that there had been no Indians in that county for several years. He never came back to Comanche.—Brownwood Bulletin.

BURGLAR SHOT AFTER BLOWING SAFE AT BANGS

Oklahoma Trapped Following Safe-Blowing Job in Bangs Establishment.

(Brownwood Bulletin, Sept. 4.)—A man giving his name as J. C. Wood was shot, seriously wounded and captured shortly past 3 o'clock this morning as he fled from the Barnett Cash and Carry store at Bangs, the safe of which he had just blown open and robbed of cash to the amount of about $115.

The man was brought to Brownwood and after an X-ray examination of the wound, which was in the leg between the knee and hip, the bone being broken, he was placed in a local surgical institution for treatment. As soon as he is able to be moved he will be transferred to the county jail and formal charges of burglary and robbery will be preferred.

It was shortly past 3 o'clock this morning when an explosion awakened several people in the vicinity of the Barnett Cash and Carry store at Bangs. A. R. Moore, formerly of Brownwood, now of the National Bank of Bangs, and Deputy Sheriff Medcalf at once started an investigation and arrived on the scene so quickly that they decided the party or parties who blew the safe were still in the store. The alarm was quickly spread and as men arrived the store was surrounded.

Burglar Was Trapped.
Woods who had remained in the store following the explosion, no doubt figured that the excitement would die down and he would make his get away, but seeing his mistake he rushed from the store in his effort to escape and was called upon by McIntire, who was close to the man when he ran out of the store, to halt. Wood failed to heed the order, and seeing the burglar was about to get away McIntire fired upon him with a .38 calibre pistol, the ball striking Wood in the leg between the knee and hip joint and breaking the bone. On being questioned by the officers he said he was an Oklahoma man, on parole, and gave his age as 32 years. When shot he still held to the money which he had taken from the safe and which amounted to about $115.

Sheriff Pugh was at once notified by telephone and he and Deputy Bert Isaac went to Bangs and, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Medcalf, returned to Brownwood with the prisoner.

UP SALT RIVER

Saturday night Sheriff W. R. Hamilton and Mrs. Leila Collins boarded the Salt River boat early after closing of the polls at seven o'clock, and set sail. They had not proceeded far when a second boat took to the river and bore close behind the first boat. In the second boat the sheriff said he could make out the dim figures of Marlin Smith and J. C. Jones, one of them wielding a paddle and the other holding water. The voyage was proceeding calmly with hardly a ripple on the water, said the sheriff, when suddenly he heard a splash down stream, accompanied by a resonant voice which said, "Where do we go from here, boys!" and shortly after the commotion had subsided he noticed that County Judge Gid Mathews and Commissioner George Pauley had taken to the water on a raft.—Democrat-Voice.

J. J. GREGG, Editor and Publisher

Friday, Sept. 8th, 1922

Paper stock has taken another rise in prices, the average rise during the month of August being about 20 per cent. This is attributed to scarcity of coal and fuel to work with, plenty of help and raw material are available but fuel is getting scarce, all of which may be true but we are unable to see wherein it causes so much difference.

Several of our regular readers and a number of new ones have called recently, subscribed and renewed for the News, which we appreciate more than we have words to express. We could not begin to numerate the compliments on the news columns of our paper during the past few weeks, all of which is encouraging to us, and if we can manage to keep up an advertising interest we will not only furnish our readers with as good but will get better as times fly by.

The News is now carrying a different class of advertising to any we have carried this year. We are very much pleased with the interest the merchants are taking in their advertising. Note the originality expressed in the body of the ads, also the several specials being offered. Our merchants have bought heavy this season, the stocks being much larger and better selected than they have bought in several seasons. Come to Santa Anna, to sell your cotton and do your fall trading and you will not regret it.

Business is picking up in Santa Anna, people are beginning to smile and a more hearty welcome is extended in general. Let the welcome ring louder and reach further, what we want is more people, more business and more satisfied customers. This will be a class of advertising, worth having.

In this issue of the paper you will find a lengthy article on the care and quality of poultry. As we see it a henless farm is next to meatless smokehouse for eats and pin money. A few good hens and a little extra care of them will add considerably to your annual income, and the beauty of it is the income always comes at a time when it is most needed. 100 pure-bred hens and 3 to 5 good milk cows on every farm in Coleman county, properly cared for will produce more cash returns annually than the cotton crop on a five year average. This is not bunk it's the truth, and just think, the women and children can do most of the work when the premises are stocked with poultry and milk cows?

Stafford Baxter, the congenial manager of the Santa Anna Motor Company, demonstrated a Fordson tractor on the Duggins farm in the Liberty community Tuesday and before leaving closed a sale with Mr. Duggins. The Fordson furnishes a lot of power and it appears to us would be worth the price on most any farm.

Uel D. Crosby came in last week from Dallas where he spent the summer in the summer term of S. M. U. He will be at home with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Crosby for a few days before returning to his studies in the same University for the ensuing term.

Mrs. C. W. Terry came in last week to join her husband who has been here for several weeks with the C. K. Hunter Drug Store. Mr. and Mrs. Terry are boarding in the C. K. Hunter home and we predict they are good citizens.

Dr. Jewell Dougherty who suffered a heavy loss last December when his sanitarium burned at Brownwood, has purchased the Barker Hotel property at Brownwood and is having it converted into a sanitarium. He will install a modern hospital equipment and be open for service in the near future.

Things are beginning to come to light that have been kept hid from the editor for several months that have been of no little concern. We have known for some time there was something wrong or some of the business men of this town would line up with us better and give us a better support, and we are beginning to find some of the obstacles. There is not a man in Santa Anna that will do more for the progress of the town than the writer, and there is not a man here that will go any further to bring about a unity of purpose and a spirit of co-operation than will we, but we are not responsible for some of the things that have been noated around among certain merchants reported to be statements that we have made. The fact is, we have not fought no firm here in no kind of a way, but instead have treated all alike and given all the same opportunity to patronize our paper however, we have quit calling on certain stores every week soliciting advertising because it was too much a waste of time. We consider our business just as important as any business in the town, and we are trying to make it such, and we are not fighting any man or firm. We are boosting our customers and making it pay them to patronize us in an advertising way. Others will find it profitable to join us and help their business as well as stimulate ours.

Your attention is called to the nice line of advertising columns. Bring your cotton to Santa Anna where we have ample ginning facilities, a good cotton market and several stores filled to overflowing with the season's latest production in new goods. The prices are right, too.

Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Braley left this week for Olden, Texas, to visit their son, after spending several days here with their daughter, Mrs. H. J. Parker. After visiting their son at Olden they will return to their home in Polytechnic. Rev. Mr. Braley request us to express their thanks to their friends and former neighbors here for the courtesy they received while here.

If all the people in this world were as little and contemptible as some few we meet, we would want to move to some secluded place where we could spend the remainder of our days in perfect seclusion, but thanks to the Creator of all things, there are only a few of such people as the editor has in mind just at this particular time, and in fact, they never come into our thoughts except on occasions like the one that occurred last Saturday when the editor was out distributing handbills and soliciting new subscribers for our paper. We don't know the man and neither do we care to know him, for a man that will act as contemptible as the party referred to is beneath our notice. What he did only revealed his ignorance and littleness and was not appreciated by even his own associates. God was wise in His creations, but some of the things He created have always been a puzzle to us for they are so worthless the devil himself does not appreciate them.

Death and taxes are certain. However, we can only die once, while we must pay taxes every year. Taxes are so burdensome that one almost wishes to die annually also.

We are reminded that there is still another advantage in going without a coat or vest in hot weather. We don't have to carry many things around in our pockets.

Prof. J. B. Burleson sends a request for his Santa Anna News to be sent to Ralls, Texas, in the future, stating that he had accepted a position as teacher of Science in the Ralls school.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

Many a home that should be ruled by happiness is swamped in misery.

And why?

The perpetual fault finder is an effective home destroyer. Happiness can not exist where there is no contentment, and contentment will not survive where either party resorts to continual bickering and fault finding.

Watch your tongue—or don't let it wag.

Swearing in the presence of children is a reprehensible habit which reacts as a boomerang to the man who does it.

A child respects its parents and others for what it finds them to be. It judges them from their acts as it sees and hears them.

When a mother teaches a child that swearing is wrong, what must the child think of the father who rips out an oath when something goes wrong?

Control your cussing—or don't cuss.

The world is hopping along at a rapid pace and has no intention of stopping.

The fellow who keeps up gets something, while he who lags behind gets left.

Step lively, or it may be useless to step at all.

Some people spend a lot of time in bemoaning their fate and damning their luck.

The same amount of time and energy if spent in some useful pursuit or in endeavoring to locate a profitable occupation, would preclude the possibility of even thinking of luck or fate. Think of the bright side of life—or don't think.

Perhaps you have noticed the fellow who is continually making a noise with his mouth.

He rambles along for an hour and at the end of that time nobody even remembers what he has said.

Wise men talk to a purpose. Others should not talk.

Every person has a reputation, and some are worth keeping.

Hens Have Saved More
Homes Than All Cotton
And Corn Says Expert
(By F. W. Kazemier in Fort Worth Star-Telegram.)

Hens as home makers may appear a rather odd title, and by some even crude. Yet the fact remains that in Texas the hens have made and saved more homes than all the cotton and corn grown. In west Texas, especially is that true. I can well recall a time several years ago, when the drouth was putting the farmers out of business; all that was necessary to do to understand the real conditions of affairs was to spend several weeks in the country on the farm where no chickens were kept, on the henless farms, and one could not help but note the destitute shape of many of these farmers.

I repeat, the henless farmer had about absorbed all his credit with the bankers and merchants in his home town, unless it rained very soon the future was none too bright. On the other hand, the farm stocked with a flock of standard bred poultry, without an exception still had credit and the daily returns of the poultry flock paid for many of the family necessities. Too much cannot be said in favor of preparedness. In west Texas, when plenty of rain had put added life in the farming business, now is the time to stock up each farm with a flock of standard bred fowls. The drouth or bad times have no great effect on the poultry business. In fact, the past two years' experience clear-proved that the poultry business is a hard times business.

All farmers will do well to stop and read these few lines: It is the egg basket that supplies the groceries on the tables. The same basket also provides for the small shoes and dresses, hats, and books and pencils. Yet that is not all, this same basket supplies the very comforts and necessities of life. If there are any homes conveniences, in the majority of cases the poultry flock paid for them. If there is music and books, the chickens on the farm made them possible. If the farm wife has her own bank account, you can depend on it the hens did it.

A flock of hens is a home maker in every sense of the word. The backyard flock does much to add home life to those working long hours in offices and shops. The backyard flock has prolonged the life of many a hard working business man. The change, outdoor exercise, fresh air and contact with living things is a benefit to any man or woman.

Many people are still of the opinion that chickens need no home or protection. That they will do just as well roosting in trees. This is true in all sections of Texas. To these people we can only say, you are not going to make anything out of the poultry business, better go in the drug business, some other profession or line of farming. Chickens are entitled to a home and protection and must have it to produce the best results. The chicken house need not be expensive, in fact, it is much better to build a $50 hen house and put a $100 flock inside than vice versa. Any kind of a shelter will do, just so it has a good roof and two or three sides. Not so with the kind of chickens they must be of the highest grade.

How many flocks of mongrel chickens are there? We can only answer that approximately 95 per cent of all poultry in Texas is still of a mongrel origination. This is indeed a sad state of affairs, and there is really no good reason for such a condition. It is undoubtedly a fact that scrub or mongrel chickens are not as profitable as a standard bred poultry. Some claim that mongrel fowls are stronger, that is not true; in fact, it is a far from the truth as anything can be. Carelessness and shiftiness are the only reasons that have any foundation. A flock of standard bred hens is three to four times as profitable as a flock of mixed, or just eating chickens. We sincerely hope that this fall many farmers and others will make an honest effort to get good chickens and place them in a properly constructed hen house. Let us sell the mongrels and invest the money in half as many standard bred fowls and realize more and greater net returns. The mongrel, be it a chicken, cow, horse, sheep, goat or dog, is out of date. We must resort to the most up-to-date methods and the highest grade stock on our farms if we hope to be able to remain in business in the future.

Many poultry flocks at this very time are being literally eaten up alive by virmine, like mites, lice, and blue bugs. In Texas it is very important to realize and believe this and before warm weather sets in to go out into the hen house and investigate. Warm weather causes these vermin to multiply very rapidly, in fact to such an extent it is almost unbelievable. We have found simple remedies the best to control these insects.

For lice that remain on the fowl all the time we have found nothing better than to dip them in a dip made as follows: One ounce of sodium flouride (a white powder that may be purchased in any drug store) to a gallon of water. This will kill all the lice on the fowl and the nits that will hatch later. We have found it by far the greatest method. It is recommended by the highest authorities.

For the ever present and rapidly multiplying red mites we have found nothing better than the weekly application of crude oil, kerosene or Beaumont oil. Paint it over the entire inside of house thoroughly. Other more expensive methods are advertised, but they are no better.

Then we come to the blue bug, a particular pest in west Texas, although he is rapidly speaking to all sections of Texas and is even invading Oklahoma. He originally, like the boll weevil, came from Old Mexico, and is taking much the same route. The blue bug or fowl tick acts and lives very much like the red mites, and must be attacked in much the same way.

In fighting and killing blue bugs the liberal use of carbolineum, we have found the most satisfactory. The carbolineum is painted over the inside and outside of the house about twice a month. This same product is also known as wood preservative and may be purchased from poultry supply houses, drug stores and lumber yards. We have not been able to locate anything strong enough to kill the bug by dipping the fowl without injuring the bird.

We have not been able to locate anything that may be feed to chickens that will kill the bug, notwithstanding many old remedies that are claimed to do this; also some new ones. They may do it on paper, but not out in the poultry yard. We have fed sulphur to chickens until you could smell it 100 feet away from the coop, and yet the hens were full of lice and the houses and hens full of blue bugs.

In spite of this many people still cling to this old idea that you can kill vermin on chickens by feeding them something like sulphur or blue bug killer and expect results. We know that it can not be done. To kill any kind of poultry vermin the only safe and sure way is to put something on the bug strong enough to put him out of business.

In feeding the chickens, let us remember they like a variety and appreciate some regularity. The plan practiced on some farms of expecting the hens to scratch their entire living out from the waste grains and manure yard is not quite satisfactory to the hens. They should be fed regularly of good wholesome feeds like the rest of the farm stock. Especially would we like to call attention to animal food.

Chickens are different to other kinds of livestock in this respect, in that they demand something to take the place of bugs and insects, in order to make good growth or give good egg production. We have fed skim milk and meat scraps to advantage. Rabbits or other animals may also be fed. But in the summer is best fed cooked to prevent poisoning. In this article we can only ask that poultry keepers study the question of feeding. If you belong to the class that don't feed their chickens at all or make a practice of once a week throwing out some feed for the chickens, without any regard for kind, quality or amount, I hope that you will at least be fair minded enough not to expect the chickens to make something out of nothing. They are stock and must be fed with some care to produce results.

Runnels County Priest is Flogged by Unmasked Men
 Fort Worth, Sept. 5.—Rev. Joseph Meiser, Catholic parish priest at Olin, Runnels county, was taken from his parish house Sunday night by ten unmasked men and flogged, according to a report received here. He was accused being un-American and opposed to public schools, it was reported.

Father Meiser was reported to have told the sheriff and physician who were summoned to his residence about midnight that the leader of the floggers informed him he was being beaten because of his alleged un-American attitude and charged further that he had been forced to leave a previous parish for the same reason.

Parents! That Son or Daughter What About Their Future?

Their ability to think, to do, to act, accordingly to the laws of a well trained mind will measure their success and prominence.

Poultry Will Need Protection

Many farmers have taken up poultry as a side-line. Many others have increased the size of their flock. During the summer months poultry has not been in need of very much shelter. They have been very comfortable roosting in old sheds and even in trees. Winter is now approaching. If you expect to have your chickens pay for their feed this winter, you will have to provide comfortable quarters for them. If you have not already done so, it is time you were making your plans and getting busy.

Plans for poultry houses can readily be secured from the Bureau of Animal Husbandry, Department of Agriculture, Washington, or from the A. & M. College, College Station, Texas. When you build, make your poultry house a permanent structure. The better it is, the more economical it will prove to be in the long run.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE ADOPTS RESOLUTION August 26, 1922.

Dear Editor:
 The following resolutions were passed unanimously by the Anti-Saloon League of Texas at the annual meeting of the Board of Managers held at Dallas Aug. 24th.

I would appreciate it if you will not only give it place in your columns, but also write an editorial endorsing it, and if so will you be kind enough to send a copy to my office. Thanks.

Atticus Webb.
 RESOLUTION

Whereas, during the three years of National Prohibition the newspapers have admitted to their columns a superabundance of jokes at the expense of the Prohibition law; cartoons ridiculing Prohibition and the Prohibition Amendment, Prohibition Enforcement officers and articles concerning the violation of the law, written designedly to destroy respect for the law; and

Whereas, the moving picture shows have all too often shown upon the screen slurs, jokes and innuendoes and positive statements designed to create disrespect for this law. And

Whereas, prohibition is written into the fundamental law of both State and Nation and must and will be respected by every loyal American. Therefore, be it

Resolved that the Anti-Saloon League call upon the loyal American publications to exclude from their columns any further jokes or articles calculated to break down respect for the Constitution of the United States.

Resolved, second, that we call upon these publications to cease to refer to the Federal officers charged with the responsibility of enforcing the prohibition laws as "Hooch-Hounds," "Sleuths" and other terms lacking in respect for the position of one thus commissioned by the Federal Government.

Resolved, third, that we respectfully request the moving picture shows and legitimate stage to exclude from their programs everything that is calculated to create disrespect for the law and the officers charged with the responsibility of enforcing it.

Resolved, fourth, that we call upon the citizens of Texas to manifest their loyalty to the Government by personally showing respect to the law, refusing to be a party to its violation and to render every assistance toward the enforcement of the law and create the highest respect for the officers commissioned to its enforcement.

Let every member of the Parent-Teachers club be present Friday afternoon, at school building at 3:30 for first meeting of the new school year. Also social meeting Friday night for every patron of school—be present.

Life, it seems, is just one joy after another with other people. Some people never consciously commit a wrong. It is always right with them.

And Now—Profit in Farming Without the Drudgery

FORDSON power makes more productive seed beds and the tractor does its work so rapidly that farm drudgery is passing. Expenses are reduced. Better crops are grown.

For the job of plowing tough or sticky soils, Fordson farmers use the OLIVER DISC PLOW and do the work easily and well. The thoroughness of its work has made this plow standard equipment with the Fordson.

Penetration in the toughest soils is assured by the design of the plow which throws its weight to the cutting edge of the discs where they enter the ground. This penetration is easily varied for different soils. By simply turning a crank screw, the penetrating power is increased or decreased.

Improved scrapers give a mouldboard effect. They leave a well pulverized seed bed and cover all trash.

To farm the new way means so small an investment that it is within easy reach of every farmer. Come in and see the Fordson and the OLIVER SPECIAL DISC GANG for the Fordson, and you, too, will decide to be a Fordson farmer.

It's easy to judge a girl by the company she keeps—if you are able to judge the company.

No young man is ever responsible for his parentage, though some of them act as if they were.

If we could all go on a strike it would help some. Then everybody would have to go back to work.

A stiff upper lip may be all right, but who wants to be burdened with such an affliction?

There's a place in every head where knowledge is supposed to be. Sometimes it is there.

There are many things in the Bible that we do not understand. We do not read it enough.

If it be true that every man is the architect of his own destiny, there are many who don't know how to draw.

If we didn't get it in the paper we accept your apology. You neglected to tell us.

Don't laugh at your own jokes. Others may wonder why you are making so much noise.

They tell us that renewed prosperity is just around the corner. But where in heck is the corner?

Winter, however, may not trouble to knock at our doors. It can always slide in through the cracks.

The good deeds of our neighbor invariably appeal to us—if she is young and pretty.

Beware of the fellow who tries to regulate the morals of the world. He has no time to cultivate his own.

Some reformers lose a lot of sleep over the manner in which the modern woman dresses—when she dresses.

Don't coax your wife into telling you that secret. It may be one you thought you had kept under cover.

Never mind what the other fellow thinks of you. He may be too courteous to say it.

Even a criminal kisses the Bible—when the judge tells him to.

Keep in touch with the world if you don't want to get touched by it.

THERE IS ONLY ONE

There is only one who can save you;

There is only one who died for you;

There is only one Savior to save from sin;

Oh why not let his kingdom come in?

There is only one Son to give;

There is only one to save;

And that is Jesus, your best friend;

You will long for Him in the end.

There is only one, dear brother,

To save your sinful soul,

You go on in darkness with Satan

Some day you will long for another.

Train Your Child To Save Money

There are many spendthrifts in this world, but it isn't always the spendthrift himself who is most to blame.

Adults are generally the result of their early training. If they are taught the value of saving money while young they will continue the habit of saving in after years. If they are allowed to "Make it Fly" as a child the chances are there will be nothing left to fly when they reach the decline of life.

A savings account in this bank is one of the best teachers your child can have, regardless of its age. Open an account for it now, and teach it while teaching is best. A dollar starts them on the road to thrift.
