LESSON FOR AUGUST 13

ESTHER SAVES HER PEOPLE

LESSON TEXT—Esther 3:1-3:22
GOLDEN TEXT—The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their trouble.—Psalm 34:17.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 20:20-28; Rom. 5:8-10; 12:1, 2.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Brave Young Queen.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Esther, the Brave Queen.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Heroine Worthy of Imitation.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Rendering Sacrificial Service.

I. Haman's Wicked Plot Against the Jews (3:1-4:3).
 1. The occasion of (ch. 3). Mordecai refused to bow down to Haman, whom the king had elevated to the place of prime minister and commanded that reverence should be shown him by all the princes and servants. In order to get rid of Mordecai Haman formulated a scheme and secured the king's endorsement to destroy all the Jews.
 2. Fasting and mourning among the Jews (4:1-3). In their distress they sought the Lord. They did that which all those who believe in God had a right to do (Jas. 5:13).
 3. Haman Checkmated (4:4-10).
 1. Plot made known to Esther (vv. 4-5). Mordecai appeared before the king's gate clothed in sackcloth. This condition was reported to Esther by her maids and chamberlains. Upon her refusal to put away mourning Esther sent Hatach, her special attendant, to find out the cause of it.
 2. Message to Esther (v. 8). This was in the form of a charge that she go into the king and make request for her people.
 3. Esther's hesitancy (vv. 9-12). This was on the ground of a certain law which made it a capital offense for anyone to enter the king's presence unbidden unless the king should extend clemency by holding out the golden scepter. The fact that Esther had not been called to come in for thirty days would seem that the queen was in disfavor.
 4. Mordecai presses her obligation (vv. 14, 15). (1) Her own life was involved (v. 13). She might meet death if she went to the king unbidden, but most certainly she would meet death if she made no effort to avert the danger. Being in the king's house would not save her, for the decree had been made against the race of which she was a part. Her silence on this occasion would mean death. (2) She was not God's last resort (v. 14). He argues that deliverance would come from another source. God's work goes on and His purposes are fulfilled regardless of the decisions of men. (3) Reminds her that she had probably been raised up for this very work (v. 14). Every one has been born and prepared for some definite work. God's providence brings us into the particular circumstances where we can most definitely do His will.

5. Esther meets the call of duty (4:15-5:3). (1) Preparation by fasting (v. 16). She instructed Mordecai to gather together all the Jews in Shushan and fast for her for three days and nights. (2) She with her maids did the same. (3) Went into the presence of the king (5:1-3). Having made the decision to do her duty regardless of consequences, after due preparation by fasting and prayer, she presented herself in royal apparel in the presence of the king. She decided that the best thing she could do was to lay her life on the altar. "If I perish, I perish" ought to be our watchword, when face to face with duty. (3) King's promise to Esther (v. 3). He assured her that her desire would be granted even to the half of his kingdom.
 6. Haman hanged (5:14-17:10). Esther was shrewd as well as courageous. She invited the king and his prime minister to a banquet. At this banquet she proposed another for the following day, at which time she promised to make known to the king her request. Haman went home jubilant, but that night something occurred which turned the tide. The king discovered that no reward had been granted Mordecai for having saved his life. Haman is compelled to exalt Mordecai and at the same time feast the queen revealed his wicked treachery and he is ordered hanged on the gallows which he had prepared for Mordecai.

III. The Jews Delivered (chs. 8, 9). Haman was dead, but the decree against the Jews still stood. Esther pleaded that it be reversed. While it could not be reversed, through her influence another decree was sent out which in a large measure counteracted the first. The Jews everywhere were granted the privilege to defend themselves and destroy their enemies.

FAMILY REUNION OF THE CAMPBELLS AT PALESTINE

(From Palestine Herald, July 18, 1922.)
 One of the happiest affairs for those participating that was ever held in Palestine terminated today at the home of Rev. I. W. Campbell, when the daughters-in-law served a splendid dinner, honoring the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Campbell, mother and father of the Campbells and for whom the reunion was given. The home was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the dinner was served family style. At one table were the honor guests and their children; at another all the grandchildren. A purse of gold was presented as a gift from the children.
 For many months the children of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell had been planning for this occasion, to be staged at the parental home in Palestine, in commemoration of the golden wedding anniversary. The daughters and their children have been here several weeks and the sons began to arrive Saturday with their families, one of the sons coming from Dallas in an airplane.
 At Grace Methodist church Sunday morning a special service was arranged by the pastor in honor of the occasion. The sermon was preached by Rev. I. W. Campbell, a son, and former pastor of this church. His text was "I was my father's son, tender and beloved in the sight of my mother." The songs were most appropriate to the occasion: "How Firm a Foundation," "Amazing Grace," favorite old hymns of the honored father and mother. Words fail in effort at description of this impressive service. The loving tribute of a preacher son to mother and father, and the old home with the family altar, their influence, the sacrifices, their devotion to their children, etc. The home was portrayed as a type of that Eternal Home.
 The home circle on earth has not been broken for forty-five years, it was made known—mother, father and ten children; 7 sons and 3 daughters—all living. The minister spoke with feeling of the joy of this occasion, and of the deep feeling of gratitude for an unbroken family circle, and of their reunion on earth again. But he and the entire audience were overcome with emotion when he spoke of the circle being broken here, and then of another beyond the stars.
 Rev. Terry Wilson, the pastor, sang "Will the Circle Be Unbroken" and spontaneously the family made their way to the altar, shaking hands with the minister, evidencing that the circle shall not be broken over there. "In the Sweet By and By" was taken up by the congregation, and was sung with great feeling. Thus closed what was said by many to be one of the most impressive services witnessed on a similar occasion.
 The daughters served a dinner at the parental home Sunday, and the afternoon and the following day were spent in happy associations and in reminiscences incident to such a reunion of a large family gathered from distant points.
 Monday evening a picnic lunch was served in the country.
 The children of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Campbell are: O. G. Campbell, Dallas; T. R. Campbell, Santa Anna; Rev. I. W. Campbell, Palestine; Ellis Campbell, Wills Point; H. N. Campbell, Palestine; Travis Campbell, Dallas; Edwin Campbell, Palestine; Mrs. O. M. Allison, Nacona; Mrs. J. T. Holman, Roswell, N. M.; Mrs. Chas. Roberts, Vicksburg, Miss.

Victor I. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Harris, is home for a few days' visit with home folks. After serving a term in the U. S. Navy he received his discharge Dec. 27, and has made his home in Boston since. Victor brought with him his "bud-die," Mr. Walter Russell of Boston. Mr. Russell is enroute to his mother, whose home is in Reno, Nevada.

"YOU OUGHT TO DO"
 How many times have you had some one come to you and butt in and say, "Here, I'll tell you what you ought to do?"
 Have you not felt like answering, "Who gave you any license to tell me what I ought to do?"
 The chances are ten to one that the fellow who comes to you with such cocksureness doesn't know anything about your conditions or problems. His idea is half-baked, based upon part information if any at all.
 His suggestion, and his manner, made you mad, of course.
 Well, remember it. And when you go to some one else and offer him advice, or tell him what he ought to do, be sure you know what you are talking about.

CHURCHLESS CHILDREN
(Gorman Progress)

There are twenty-five million boys and girls outside of the Sunday school in this country. Every child in America should be in Sunday school every Sunday morning. Every child should be accompanied to Sunday school by his parents.
The mother who doesn't bring her child into the world dedicated to God has committed a crime against the child. The father who doesn't lead his child to the altar of worship, reverence, and devotion as committed a crime against his child and against society; for he has left out of the child's training the greatest factor.
Parents who refuse to bring their children to church, and who refuse to allow their children to unite with the church and become devout Christian workers are stumbling blocks; they are curses to their children.

There is but one remedy for the condition in this country, and that is salvation by Jesus Christ. There is but one place in which that salvation can be found, and that is in God's infallible Word. There is but one institution authorized to teach that Word, namely the orthodox Christian church.

Every child should be in the Sunday school and church pew on Sunday morning sitting beside his parents.

Children are never too young to be saved. But if they are neglected and grow to be old men and women hardened in sin they may become too old to be saved. It is extremely expensive to the government for a child to grow to be old in sin and crime. It costs millions to save an old man from the error of his way. A child can be saved at the threshold of childhood and thus save his soul and society untold expense.

The father who uses his automobile on Sunday to take his child away from the church not only breaks the Ten Commandments, but he is a curse to the child and a menace to this government.

The father who spends his Sunday on the golf links is a fraud so far as a religious influence is concerned, and he is a menace to the spiritual development of his child.

It is the business of the father to be in the Sunday school with his child, and it is the business of the child to be in the church pew by the side of his father.

Why do people neglect to bring their children to Christ and into the church? Such parents and such neglect are bringing untold sorrow and expense and reflection upon this country. The juvenile courts and the penal institutions are full of the children who come from such homes.

Parents, you are either a curse or a blessing to your children. If you neglect your Sunday duty you are a curse to them. Children ought to be in the Sunday school and church if the nation is to be saved.

STATE TAX RATE IS RAISED TO LEGAL LIMIT OF 75 CENTS

The State ad valorem tax rate was increased from 22 cents to the constitutional limit of 35 cents on the $100 property valuations for 1922 by the State Automatic Tax Board, at a meeting held in Austin late last Saturday.

This increases the entire tax rate from 62 cents to 75 cents, of which 35 cents is school and 35 cents ad valorem and 5 cents Confederate pension. The constitutional limit had already been reached on the school and Confederate pension taxes.

We now are taxed to the constitutional limit and the next steps will be to amend the constitution so as to raise the taxes. Where, oh where, will we finally drift to unless a halt is made in our government waste of expenditures?

It is the business of an editorial writer to make himself read, and it may be set down at once that, if he is not read, he is a failure. Several things are necessary to his success. He must, of course, have knowledge, but a man might be walking encyclopedia, and still not be a success. To knowledge he must add the right spirit, a spirit of optimism and human sympathy, and a will to know and a power to discriminate among the projects of progress. But even that is not enough. To knowledge and spirit he must add a certain literary skill. He must have the ability to present a matter in attractive guise, for it is no less the business of the editorial than it is of the news story to be interesting.—Osman C. Hoopes.

TO THE VOTERS OF COLEMAN COUNTY:

I believe that the people of Coleman county will agree with me when I say that, during my race for the office of sheriff, I have conducted an inoffensive campaign, promising if elected, to serve all the people to the best of my ability, and use every means at my hands to properly enforce the laws. that I have felt would be consistent to promise the people.

Since the run-off campaign opened, it has come to me from reliable sources, that various false charges are being made against me for the sole purpose of injuring me in the race, and the time being short, making it impossible for me to see each and every voter in the county, I feel that I am compelled to refute these charges, though I had much preferred that no unfairness nor misrepresentations would be resorted to in this campaign.

I have been charged with being a Roman Catholic, when every one who has known me all my life knows that I have never belonged to any, other than the Baptist church. I have never made any promise as to who will be my deputies in case I should be elected, given the least hint in the matter. I have been charged with being a Republican, to this I will say that my record will stand for thorough investigation. I have voted in every Democratic primary that opportunity afforded and always supported the nominee. It has been further charged that I belong to the Ku Klux, this is also a false statement.

In conclusion, I wish to say that I have no fight to offer on any one nor on any organization, either secret, political or religious, but as I stated when announcing my candidacy, it is my sincere desire to have the support of the entire citizenship of the county, if elected sheriff to the end that I may be better able to do my full duty. I will thank each and every voter to consider my claim and to take time to investigate any report that they might hear which is designed to injure me.

Yours very truly,
Dick Pauley.

MY CITY

My city is the place where my home is founded; where my business is situated; where my vote is cast; where my children are educated; where my neighbors dwell, and where my life is chiefly lived. It is the home spot for me. My city has a right for my loyalty. It supports me and I must support it. My city wants my citizenship, not partisanship; friendliness, not selfishness; co-operation; not dissension; sympathy, not criticism; my intelligent support, not indifference. TO THE VOTER OF COLEMAN COUNTY:

I wish to thank my friends for their support in the Primary July 22. I made a clean race and went down in defeat with a clear conscience.

THE COUNTY JUDGE'S RACE

WHO IS GID MATHEWS?

Gid Mathews was born May 15, 1887, near Trickham in Coleman County, Texas. He is the son of Drade Mathews, who moved to Trickham about 1857 and Gid Mathews has lived in Coleman County all of his life. Gid Mathews went to school at Trickham until he reached what would now be termed the sixth grade. After school hours and during vacation periods, worked as a farm hand until 1904; with money earned as a farm hand he attended Howard Payne College at Brownwood, attending the school in 1904 and 1905 and running out of funds, he worked in 1906 and 1907, worked on the farm, and with the funds thus earned he again entered Howard Payne College in Brownwood for the 1907 and 1908 sessions, and in 1909 hauled dirt on the Coleman cut-off. During the first two years of his schooling at Brownwood, he did janitor work, cleaning out law-offices, sweeping floors and other odd jobs to assist him in obtaining money to finish his education. In 1910 and 1911 he farmed near Trickham. In 1913 and 1914 he was a blacksmith at Trickham. In 1911 he was married and to that union one boy was born who is now ten years old. His wife died in 1913, leaving Gid to care for this motherless boy. In 1914 and 1915 he worked as a tool dresser in the oil fields and in 1916 he took up the study of law in the offices of Critz & Woodward at Coleman, Texas, securing his license in October of that year and then began the practice of law at Coleman. He was immediately appointed City Attorney and then came the World's War IN WHICH GID MATHEWS VOLUNTEERED HIS SERVICES AS AN AMERICAN SOLDIER, WAIVING EVERY CLAIM FOR EXEMPTION AND ON JULY 4, 1918, HE WAS MADE, AT HIS OWN REQUEST, AN AMERICAN SOLDIER, VOLUNTEERING HIS SERVICES TOWARD MAKING THE WORLD SAFE FOR DEMOCRACY AND FOR CHRISTIANITY, AND TO PROTECT YOUR HOME FROM GERMAN INVASION.

The Armistice came at a time when he was just preparing to go to France, and just after he had been commissioned by the War Department a Lieutenant in the American army. In August 1917 Gid Mathews was married to Miss Ethel Featherston and to this union a baby girl was born.

After the Armistice, after he had served his country as a soldier, he returned to the County of his birth and on June 28, 1919, was appointed by the Commissioners' Court of Coleman County, the County Judge of your County, and he is now asking to be elected for a second term, a time honored Democratic custom. Gid Mathews is now honored and respected by the people who know him best. He is now an honored member of Ray Post American Legion, a member of the Baptist Church and a Mason. He is now First Lieutenant, Company C, 142nd Infantry, 36th Division, Texas National Guards. During his term of office, he has been honest, fearless and efficient. Gid Mathews is now thirty-five years of age, ambitious, energetic and with his future before him. Gid Mathews is a Coleman County boy. His life has been an open book and no man has ever charged him with dishonesty or corruption. He has been fearless and fair, a man of strong convictions, open and above-board, ready at all times to state his position on public questions, stands for the right and the enforcement of the laws and deserves to be honored by the voters of this County by being elected to a second term as your County Judge.

Gid Mathews was a good boy. Gid Mathews is a good man; a good husband and a good father. Gid Mathews made a good soldier and he has made a good County Judge.

Is defeat the reward for Gid Mathews' efforts as a young man to obtain an education? Is defeat the reward for Gid Mathews who toiled as a farm hand, worked as a day laborer and swept floors and cleaned spittoons in order to obtain an education? Is defeat the reward for Gid Mathews who has faithfully, honestly and fearlessly discharged the duties as County Judge?

L. G. MATHEWS CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

NOTE: Next week in this space, we will tell you what he has done as County Judge and what he will do if elected to a second term. Watch this space. We are going to open your eyes.

SHOCKING OUR NEIGHBORS

Some of the movie films exported from America are too "raw" for South Sea Islanders. One sugar plantation owner stopped a film in the middle. He was afraid the American vamp would be an influence for the natives.

Such is the substance of a report by Albert W. Palmer, head of a mission school in Honolulu.

Hawaiians, knowing us only through the movies, consider vamps typical of American women. And Americans think the movie hula dancer typical of South Sea civilization. Both are wrong.

The most profound of all ignorance is "knowledge of distant countries and people."

TO THE VOTERS OF COLEMAN COUNTY:

Referring to the statement published two or three weeks ago in the Democrat-Voice in reference to the report of the Auditor which indicated a shortage of my account of something near $600.00, will say that this report was incomplete and I wish to call the attention of the voters to the following statement at page 4 of the summary of the Auditor's report relating to the County Treasurer:

"Exhibit 'AD' is a statement of commissions retained by Treasurer which reflects an excess of $129.74 over the maximum of $2000.00 allowed under Article 3875 R. C. S. However, the Treasurer cannot be held liable for this amount due to a recent decision of the Supreme Court of Texas in affirming the case of Harris County vs. Charlton, which hold that the maximum of $2000.00 applies to commissions derived from strictly County funds, and that commissions received from special districts such as Road, Drainage and Navigation Districts are to be considered in addition to the $2000.00 maximum."

You will see from the Auditor's report that instead of there being a shortage by me to the County that the County is due me many times the amount of the $600.00 referred to, which, according to the decision of the Supreme Court of Texas, and the opinion of the Auditor referred to, I was entitled to withhold. You will see from the above report, as well as from the holding of our Supreme Court and the legal opinion of the Auditor, that the County is due me and I am not due the county anything and was not at that time, but as stated last week, I have paid into the County Treasury, the amount referred to in order that no question can be raised and so that the difference between my account and the amount claimed by the county can be adjusted later. In the meantime, I am giving the people of Coleman County the advantage of every doubt, although at considerable expense and financial inconvenience to myself. I am willing to stand on my record and my conduct of the office that I do not owe the county anything and that I have faithfully administered the duties of my office.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. Leila Collins.

JACK.

EVERYBODY ON WHEELS

We may be having hard times but we are still able to buy automobiles. The motor vehicle registration in the country in 1921 totalled 10,448,632—an increase of more than a million over 1920.

About half of these cars are believed to be owned by farmers, though there are no actual figures on distribution.

At any rate, the country is on an automobile basis, and those alarming statisticians, who are forever trying to show by figures that the national income is not large enough to buy tires and gasoline, might as well throw away their lead pencils and begin to worry about something else.

We are going to keep these cars and buy more. That is settled.

And if the income can't stand the increasing investment and upkeep, why, we'll have to increase the income. The automobile is here to stay.

Prepare to Make Money Handling Cotton this Year

This year's cotton crop will be at least ten million bales. Prepare to help handle this enormous crop. It requires only 4 to 6 weeks in our institution to become thoroughly familiar with the classing and handling of this most important product of the South. If you act quickly you can be ready.

We have the largest and best equipped sample room in the state with a solid glass wall on the north to afford proper light. This room was constructed on top of our big three story building especially for teaching the grading and marketing of cotton.

With the ever-increasing demand for help along this line, you should prepare immediately. A number are now taking our cotton classing course, because they realize what an opportunity is open to the expert on cotton. Regardless of the price of cotton, the buyer makes his profit. The farmer would make much more than he does if he could grade and staple his product, because he is completely at the mercy of the buyer when he does not know one grade from another.

THE SMALL FARM VS.
THE LARGE FARM.

(Farm and Ranch)

Considerable discussion is being given to the relative merits, from a profit standpoint, of the large and small farm, many contending that if a man can make a profit from fifty acres he can make more profit from a farm twice as large. Some time ago Farm and Ranch briefly discussed the subject of the "Undercapitalized Farm," arguing that many farmers would make more money, or at least a better living if they would reduce their acreage to a point where they could do better farming; that many business concerns have failed because of undue expansion and insufficient capital.

It is true that the Agricultural Department experts have made surveys and have announced that just as large acre yields are obtained from the 200-acre farm as from the 50-acre farm, but that is not true in all cases. It is only true when the operator of the 200-acre farm has the power, the capital and the labor for a 200-acre farm and not true when a man with the means to handle a 50-acre farm tries to operate a farm four times as large. Again, it may be possible to put 200 acres into crop, if the weather conditions are favorable, and produce a heavy acre yield only to have the crop ruined at harvest time because of insufficient capital to take care of it at the right time.

The size of the farm most profitable depends in a large measure on the kind of farming being done. A large farm properly diversified with cropping arrangements so made that the machinery and labor can be transferred from one crop to another in regular succession, can often be operated with the capital and labor required for a small farm where a single crop is specialized in, and where this one crop requires a large amount of attention.

There is no rule or measure to be used in designating the number of acres any farm should contain. There are many fifty acre farms yielding profitable returns to their owners. Such farms are usually kept in a high state of fertility and are given intense cultivation. The owner usually makes it a rule to produce, to a large extent, the poultry, dairy, orchard and garden products consumed at home, and probably specializes in good stock and is an all around good manager and business man. There are also 200-acre farms, and many of much larger acreage that are also producing dividends most years, but in each case the owner or manager follows a cropping and livestock system peculiarly adapted to the conditions of that farm.

One will not go far wrong in making the statement that there are thousands of undercapitalized farms in the Southwest where much effort is wasted in trying to farm too large acreage. The old slogan, "Smaller farms and better farming" will apply to this territory generally. A well equipped, well stocked, all paid for small farm is always more profitable over a period of years than a poorly equipped, poorly stocked, half cultivated large farm with a mortgage hanging over it.

MY FRIEND

I have a friend who is dear to me
I want to live my life for Him,
For He died for me.
He is the dearest friend I ever had.
He gives me blessings every day,
He guides me all the way.
I wasted twelve years of my life
Not knowing He died for me.
Oh, precious Saviour I love Thee,
I will do anything for thee.
Thou who hast ransomed me,
Who gave Thy life for me.
