Many Uses For Ex-Ranger Home

The idea of a building for the Ex-Ranger home is more than that of a memorial hall. This building when completed is not to be locked and left idle from one Ex-Ranger convention to another...

In Memoriam

Tribute to our war heroes is a national observance each year on May 30, known as Memorial Day or Decoration Day.

It is right that we should pay tribute to the dead soldiers. It is our patriotic duty to assist in any way we can...

Memorial day is a sad occasion to many who felt the loss of sons and husbands and fathers in the war and also for the families of the disabled veterans.

Of the soldiers living, not one would want another war. As we pay tribute in flowers and poppies and words of praise and appreciation, let us also pay tribute with a nation-wide resolve to do our part in making the United States a country FOR PEACE.

Miss Trowbridge Gives Demonstration At Shield Club

The Shield Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Howard Arrant Thursday evening, May 18.

Miss Chrystene Trowbridge, county home demonstration agent, was present and gave a demonstration on "Cooking the Vegetables." Miss Trowbridge brought out that vegetables like carrots or potatoes should be scraped to save the food value. All vegetables should be put on to cook in boiling, salty water and cooked until just tender to preserve color and food value, she added.

A committee of three consisting of Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Clyde Vercher and Mrs. George Cobb was elected to help work out plans for the new year book.

Mrs. Arrant served cake and iced drinks with the vegetables that were cooked to three visitors, twelve members and Miss Trowbridge.

Demonstration Given At Buffalo Club Of Vegetable Cooking

The best method of cooking cabbage, carrots, spinach and the making of a spinach salad was demonstrated by Miss Chrystene Trowbridge Monday,

May 16 to the Buffalo Home Demonstration Club, when they met in the home of Mrs. E. A. Munger.

Cabbage should never be cooked over twenty minutes, the county home demonstration agent stated. When cooked longer they contain the same food value as rotting eggs, she further said. After cooking cabbage twenty minutes arrange on platter and pour a cheese sauce over them and serve.

Home Demonstration Notes

To use hooked rugs in the bedroom in order to make the bedroom appear more homelike and attractive will be the aim of Mrs. Glen Gill, bedroom demonstrator in the Who's Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. Gill is making twin hooked rugs for her bedroom floor. One of the rugs will be used in front of the fireplace and therefore will be made approximately as long as the hearth. The other rug will be used beside the bed and will be made larger to be suitable for use by the large piece of furniture.

Mrs. Gill will use colors in the rugs that will blend well into the bedroom. She will use different shades of three colors in her rugs. Two-thirds of the rugs will be a more dull or soft background color, and the other third of the rug will be the brighter colors.

The rugs will match in colors, and the some design will be used on each rug only spaced differently. A simple conventionalized design was selected which will make pleasing rugs suitable for use on a bedroom floor.

Co-Operative Vacation Bible Schools

For several very good reasons the Methodist and Baptist churches will have simultaneous Vacation Bible Schools, beginning Monday June 6. Registration and a combined parade will take place at 2 and 3 o'clock respectively on Saturday June 4 at the two churches. When all are registered, the parades will fall in behind a fire truck which Chief Johnson has volunteered the use of, and with siren open will let all the town know about the work to be done and the fun to be had in the next two weeks. Simultaneous schools will enable both churches to more adequately care for the large numbers who always attend these schools.

No charges of any kind are made for tuition, materials or tools used and many useful and beautiful articles are made by the children. Best of all the Bible is taught in a pleasant and successful manner to all boys and girls from age 4 to age 17. Merchants are always kind to donate white pine boxes and other useful material, while the Banner Ice Company has already offered free ice service to the school. This is one unselfish service that the whole community benefits from and appreciates.

Miss Madeline Porter of Gustine returned to her home Sunday after spending two weeks in the home of Miss Louise Oakes. She attended the high school graduation exercises while here.

THE BROWNWOOD ICE CO.

(By MISS BROWN) THE BROWNWOOD ICE COMPANY, located at 505 Austin Avenue, in Brownwood, Texas, phone 65, are distributors of pure ice. Ice and its steady use, not only in the summer time, but throughout the entire year, is a boon to the housewife whose problem in keeping fresh foods and the baby's milk sweet and pure is solved by the regular use of Ice. Foods frequently deteriorate in the home kitchen because of the lack of Ice Refrigeration and this is not only true during the hot weather months, but during the winter as well. A well iced refrigerator is invaluable in safeguarding health, to say nothing of the preservation of natural food flavors. The money expended for ice service is regained several times in health protection of the family and in the conservation of food supplies. Housewives should give careful attention to their ice boxes and refrigerators and make sure the ice they are using is the purest. Foods kept by the Brownwood Ice is far more tasty than those foods kept by other methods of refrigeration. This company has provided a capacity sufficient to serve even a larger territory. The management merits the praise and good will of the public for their public spirited system of insuring the community against an ice famine. In making this special business stimulating review, the writer wishes to compliment them upon the wonderful service they render the people of this section and suggests that you give their ice a trial.

Domestics Should Have Health Exam

Austin, Texas — "Servants in the home can be a potent source of disease transmission," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, "unless they are examined periodically by a physician so they can be rendered non-infectious of the communicable disease should such diseases exist."
 "There is a State law requiring food handlers in public places to have health certificates but this law exempts domestics. So the responsibility falls upon the employer.
 Persons of all races are employed in Texas as cooks, maids, nurses and laundresses. As such they come in intimate contact with the grown-ups and children in the family. If the servant harbors any communicable disease the health of the employing family is endangered.
 Diseases transmittable in this manner are: tuberculosis, syphilis, typhoid fever, dysentery, diphtheria and other acute contagious diseases. A typhoid carrier can easily infect an entire family. A syphilitic cook or nursemaid is able to transmit the venereal disease through contact with food, unsterilized dishes and in playing with children. Tuberculosis is very easy of transmission.
 The Texas State Department of Health recommends that all employers have their family physician examine their house servants from time to time to eliminate any danger of contracting these diseases. Treatment should be instituted promptly when the servants are diseased. The cost is negligible when compared to the cost of illness and family death," said Dr. Cox.

Interview with Mrs. McFall:
Q. First of all, Mrs. McFall, are you pleased with your electric range?
A. Indeed, I am!
Q. Would you recommend it to other women as the coolest, fastest, cleanest and most economical method of cookery you've ever used?
A. Yes. During the 14 years I've been keeping house I've used most of the other types. After making this test, I know that electric cookery is cheaper as well as cooler, faster and cleaner.
Q. With five in your family, how many kilowatt-hours did the meter show your range used on a monthly average during the test period?
A. 109 kilowatt-hours per month.
Q. You get a special low electric cookery rate on this current, don't you?
A. Yes. All over 50 kilowatt-hours cost only 2 1/2¢ each. Since this same low rate applied to lights and refrigeration, too, we actually reduced our average previous fuel and electric bills by $1.14 a month.
Q. You mean, then, that by using electric cookery, with its lower rate, and by reducing your consumption of other fuel, you had a cooler, cleaner kitchen by far and it actually cost less money?
A. Believe it or not, that is true!
Q. Were there any other savings you noted?
A. Well, during the test period my records showed an average-per-month saving of $3.83 in groceries and incidentals connected with cooking. I give the electric range credit for that, too.
Q. Then your savings totaled $4.97 per month—practically enough to make the monthly payments on an electric range?
A. Yes. But I am prouder of the fact that cooking has been made easier for me and that my kitchen is so cool and clean!

Farmer Spends More For His Clothes Than His Wife Does

WASHINGTON — Farmers spend more than their wives for clothes until they move to town—then it's the ladies' turn.

At least, that's the case in communities analyzed thus far in the national cost-of-living survey being tabulated by the United States Bureau of Home Economics.

Both farmers and their wives dress for less money, however, than husbands and wives in villages and small cities—far less even than their own grown sons and daughters.

The average yearly wardrobe of 2,164 farmers in four Pennsylvania and Ohio counties surveyed cost $29 and that of 2,152 wives cost $28.

Clothing expenditures mounted and the wife's share increased in 46 villages analyzed in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Iowa. Some 2,877 husbands there averaged $38 apiece, while their wives spent $42 a year.

Married men continued to give their wives the edge of the clothing budget when investigators checked expenses in larger towns—those big enough to be rated as small cities—both in the Midwest and on the Pacific Coast. Both men and women spent more to dress.

In seven Midwestern cities, husbands outfitted themselves for a year at an average cost of $52, their wives spent $56

In four Washington and Oregon cities, married men averaged $66 and their wives $76.

All families interviewed were native-born white and not on relief. Their incomes ranged from less than $500 to more than $5,000 a year.

Not until the family income was $3,000 or over did either husbands of wives in villages or cities average spending more than $100 a year for clothes. In no case did farmers or farm wives average that much. Even when their incomes exceeded $5,000, farmers spent only $59 annually and their wives only $45.

Whether in town or country, men and women's total expenditures differed little until their incomes reached higher brackets. In towns and cities, the wives began spending more money for underwear and hose and for coats and wraps when the family income exceeded $2,000 annually. Above that point, farmers outspent their wives by increased purchases of suits, trousers and shirts.

Here's how the average farmer and his wife bought a year's joint wardrobe for less than $30; $2 each for hats and caps; $6 each for footwear, including repairs; $3 and $5 respectively for coats and wraps; $4 and $6 respectively for underwear and hose; $11 for his suits, trousers and shirts, and $5 for her suits, blouses and dresses, and $3 and $4 respectively for all other clothing.

Some farm wives were not listed because they spent no money for clothes during 1935-36, the year of the survey.

Small town husbands making less than $500 a year spent less for clothing than farmers in the same income bracket. They averaged but $12 a year—$1 each month—itemized as follows: Hats and caps, $1; coats, $1; suits, trousers and shirts, $4; underwear and hose, $2; footwear, $3; other clothing, $1.

In the same communities, married men making more than $5,000 spent an average of $155 a year, $69 of it for suits, trousers and shirts.

In the small Midwestern cities, of which Columbia, Mo., a college town, was one, 614 husbands making between $1,500 and $2,000 averaged, $54 a year for clothing; their wives spent $56.

The Dairy Industry In Coleman Co. Grows

Forming One of the Important Links in the Prosperity of a Great Territory!

We have observed with more than passing satisfaction the gradual but steady development of the dairy industry in Coleman County. The income from this source spells the difference between success and failure for many people. With a few good milk cows it is now possible for any farmer to have a steady income each day to take care of immediate requirements in his household.

With a steady and permanent market such as has been provided by the Central Food Products Company of Coleman we join other in prophesying that within a few short years the dairy industry will be one of the chief sources of income in Coleman County, for it is evident that the volume will increase at a rapid pace.

Congratulations

County Appeal Is Made For Relief In China Famine

J. B. Hough, chairman of the Coleman County Chapter of the American Red Cross, is announcing through the press of the county this week a proposed drive for the aid of Chinese Relief. Several weeks ago citizens of the county were asked to aid in securing relief funds, but little was obtained. At the request of the American Red Cross Headquarters this drive will now be pushed and meetings will probably be announced in next week's paper to organize the drive.

Mr. Hough writes, summarizing material sent to him by headquarters in regard to the Chinese distress:

"It has been suggested that mass meetings be held over the county for the purpose of raising funds for Chinese relief. Little has come through in the past reports in regard to the suffering of the civilian population in that country, but the real suffering of the war is among civilians rather than the military forces. John Earl Baker, Director of Chinese Famine Relief has recently advised American officials that the number of persons in all parts of China who face starvation may reach the appalling number of 60,000,000 before September 1933. In addition to the specter of starvation, is the danger of disease where these people are crowded together in concentration camps or trudging over the country seeking places of safety. The Chinese government has expended vast sums in the relief of these people, but their sources have proved utterly inadequate for the relief of these suffering millions.

Vast areas have been devastated by the army and the ordinary crops have not even been planted. Chinese people in other lands have sent millions of dollars back to their homes for relief, some of them giving large percentage of their fortunes.

"Contrary to the ideas of many Americans, these people are thrifty, home loving and industrious. Ordinarily they are self-reliant and independent. They are accustomed in some areas to drought and floods, but nothing like this has ever over-taken them. It is just as new to them as it would be to us."
