NOTICE OF CEMETERY WORK

Tuesday, March 28th, 1922
We have decided to call for another day's work at the Santa Anna Cemetery next Tuesday, March 28th, for the purpose of finishing up the work which could not be done the first day. We fully appreciate the whole hearted spirit of co-operation and interest manifested by so many people of our town and surrounding community in the movement to clean up, keep clean and beautify our cemetery, and let us urge those who did not have part in the first day's work to be on hand at the City Cemetery next Tuesday, March 28th, ready to do the things that need to be done.

If you do not have loved ones buried there you have friends or acquaintances, and if not even those, you should certainly be interested in this work because you know not how soon some of your loved ones will have to be carried to the City Of The Dead.

We want hoes, rakes, shovels, picks, grubbing hoes, crow bars, sledge hammers, and a half dozen wagons and teams.

Bring your dinner and come to do a day's work.
Don't say, "Let George do it," but do it yourself.
Remember the date, TUESDAY, MARCH 28th.

PUBLIC SPEAKING SATURDAY

The News has been requested to announce that Hon. Curtis Hancock of Dallas and Hon. Henry Sackett of Burkett will speak here Saturday afternoon and at Rockwood Saturday night. Come out and hear them.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor, Elder A. C. McMillan will preach Saturday and Sunday at 11 o'clock. Elders Richie and Slate will preach at 11 o'clock on Wednesday, March 29th. A cordial invitation to all.

RELIGION WINS

A marked increase in the enrollment in the theological schools of practically all the Protestant denominations is reported for the past year. More young men and women than ever before are studying for the ministry. Although the records for other religious denominations are not at hand, there is little doubt that there is a like awakening among them.

There has been great dread in many quarters that the trend of the American people was away from spiritual things. The young have been scored severely for embracing carnal pleasures and material interests too eagerly.

Opposed to those who feared too great materialism were among people who believed that one of the great and good results of the world war would be to interest people more deeply in matters of religion. It is reassuring to find that the latter had such excellent reason for the belief.

COUNTY CONVENTION TO MEET AT TRICKHAM

We have been requested to announce that the Coleman county singing convention will meet at Trickham on the Second Sunday in April. All singers and lovers of music are requested to attend.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend to our neighbors and friends our heartfelt thanks for their kindnesses and many favors shown us during the recent illness and death of our husband and father, Geo. W. Williams.
Mrs. Geo. W. Williams and children.

LETTER FROM EFFIE BAKER: MISSIONARY IN JAPAN

141 Koya Machi,
Kokura, Japan,
Feb. 12, 1922.

Dear Santa Anna Friends:
Perhaps you would like to hear from me in regard to my first impression of Japan and its people. Since I landed on this beautiful island of the ocean I have met with many varied and interesting experiences. Recalling to mind now a few outstanding instances I shall try to describe them to you in broken pictures or ideas.

Our monstrous boat of the ocean, "Hawkeye State," quietly dropped anchor outside the Yokohama harbor on the afternoon of September the eighth. Our trip across had lasted ten days, and after not having seen land for the said number of days, of course now as we were waiting outside of the harbor for the Japanese pilot to guide us safely in, we were glad to gaze upon land, mountains and trees again. The sun seeming very beautiful than ever before was again peeping his shining head of gold over the high peaks of the mountains of Japan. The sky was tinted with the most perfect blue. The whole world seemed happy now as we waited patiently near the shore of the land which we so much desired to step foot upon for our first time.

At eight o'clock we were safely piloted into the harbor. What do you think of it? Indeed we had friends to greet us. There were twenty Americans standing on the wharf waiting for us. I called Miss Lancaster, my college friend, from mail and she answered and I could see her with the other Americans standing among hundreds of peculiar foreigners as they seemed to me.

Soon we hurrying down the narrow streets of Japan in Kurumas or Rikashas. (Can you imagine how I felt being pulled down the street in a two wheeled carriage drawn by a man?) Presently we reached the hotel and received lodging for the night. Our friends entertained us by having us sit down on the floor on our feet like Japanese. Now the tea and cakes were served and stories of America were told and discussed by all. Our beds for the night were made of "Futons" or thick quilts spread down on the matting floor. (The floor being covered with "tatami" or padded matting about two inches thick.)

The next day at one o'clock part of the crowd started to Kokura, which was seven hundred miles away. As I traveled on and on, more and more I was realizing that indeed I was in a strange land. At the different stations the male boys would call out in peculiar tones, "Tea, ice cream, milk, Ocha," "Ice cream," "gruun." I wondered, "Shall I ever learn such language?" After two days and nights travel by "Kisha" or train we reached Kokura, where I now live in a pretty American home.

I am studying Japanese now and have passed the examination on three months work and will soon be ready for another three months' session. Can't you imagine you can hear me speaking the language? Soon after I came I learned these two expressions, which are almost the same. "Ikura de gozaimasu ka. (meaning, How much is this worth), and "Ikaga de gozaimasu ka. (meaning, How are you?)" So at prayer meeting one night, meeting one of my Japanese lady friends, I, trying to ask, "How are you?" said in all earnestness, "Ikura de gozaimasu ka?" One night I wanted to tell a Japanese girl that in America instead of bowing when we meet a person, as they do, we shake hands. I couldn't say it as my Japanese vocabulary is limited to a few words, so I asked Miss Lancaster to please say it for me. So she descended to do so, but the word for shake hands and hug is almost the same. So of course, instead of saying the right word she said the wrong word accidentally, and there was indeed great laughter until the sentence had been remedied. Every day we make blunders but we remember the saying, "If you wish to learn you must make mistakes." So we keep trying, and the Japanese are so lovely to help us.

I am so glad that I am here. I am so proud that I have the opportunity and privilege of helping a few lives in a land where Buddhism has reigned supremely and where the thousands of shrines and temples now at the end of every road, on the tops of the highest mountains, and all along the sea coast, where gods are found on all sides made of stone, or bronze, where almost daily you can see aged men and women standing before a shrine with bowed heads, mumbling in a monotone their wishes and hopes for present satisfaction.

Almost daily if you walk down the streets, you can see a funeral procession in gay attire, headed by priests dressed in royal purple and gold. They are taking the body to the temple for the Buddhist ceremony. Passing thru the crowded cemeteries with their tombs of granite, marble and stone on almost every grave there is a tiny shrine.

Only last week one of our Christian girls died with influenza. Before her death she requested that she might have a Christian funeral from non-Christian parents. They granted the request, so all of her relatives were present. After the service her aged grandfather said, "I am a Buddhist. This is the first time I was ever in a church, but we were treated so kindly I am going back to my home in Izuka and study the Bible." The father and mother are also attending church now. Last night they entertained the church (as is their custom after a death) with tea and cakes. Recently there has been a great change it seems. There are so many searching for something better. Our church here at Kokura is growing fast. Since I have been here seven people have been baptized. Today four boys and girls stood up, as "Ksshinha," or believers.

I am now teaching an English class for girls, and am hoping, as do the other missionaries who have classes, that with the help of our faithful and wonderful pastor, "Kataata Sensei," to draw many more people to our church. Mr. Kataata keeps every member in the church busy and they all enjoy their work. At present we do not have more than fifty members in this church, but they are faithful and we know that we shall get many more to become Christians. Only last week our Japanese teacher, Mr. Tamura, decided for Christ, but as his father and mother are great Buddhists he is afraid to be baptized, but he goes against their wishes and should he go against their wishes they would probably disinherit him. He is waiting until his parents move away, (which will be soon, he says,) and then join the church and let them find it out gradually.

Day before yesterday, which was a new holiday in honor of the late Prince Yamagata, who died. Our pastor planned a picnic for all of us, about thirty miles from here. After traveling on the train for about two hours we reached a beautiful pine grove near the sea shore, with small hills all around. We made our way to the summit of a hill that had been turned into a lovely park, with tea houses and stands all around to rest under from the sun. In front of us was a river running out into a sea of azure blue, with sail boats here and there and many fishermen with their nets. After taking a few pictures our Japanese pastor called us together and we sang a song and had prayer. Then each one ate his "Obento" or lunch. After lunch we decided to walk around the rock bound sea shore. Such a wonderful view. We could see for miles and miles out at sea, great sea birds were flying and lighting upon the waves. Near us were shrines and great "Tariis" or gates leading or pointing the way to a temple near by where the travelers might go for worship of Buddha.

At four ten in the afternoon, we took the branch train to catch the main train for Kokura, but after reaching main station we found that we would have to walk about three miles to Ario and take the street car home. We were still full of life so we walked thru the fields and mountains and crossed a small river on a boat just as the sun was setting. Finally we reached Ario and took the car for Kokura. Soon parting greetings were given by bowing politely several times and thanking each other with such words as, Kyo wa amashiro gozaimashita; Doma arigata gozaimashita; Yoku Ogasumi nasai; Sayon nara.

Am I enjoying my work? Indeed I am. I love it more daily, and only hope and pray that I can be able to fill my place successfully. Indeed we are all alike anyway. We have different languages and customs but after all they are like us. They are different in their work and are reaching out daily for higher and better ideals. Still there are many Christians that need the prayers of those who have work that we alone can not do, Jesus must be with us, and leading us. We must be with us, and leading us. Our work of helping win the world for Christ. Jesus died for us bearing the sins of the whole world. So we must do something for him; when there is a land of darkness so near our door. Where Jesus is hardly known. Just last week a little boy came and said, "Please teach me Christianity." I was reading in an American history about the discovery of America and have found out something about it, I want to learn. So we must have etact and precise in dealing with our daily problems, and daily joys.

I have been elected as music teacher in our new girls' school which will be opened in April. It is called the "Seinan Jo Gakuin" or Southwestern Girls' High School. It is located upon three joining hills, overlooking four cities, on one side is the great strait thru which the large steamers pass, on the other side is a beautiful lake and the high mountains peering high into the sky all around. We shall have eight buildings in the compound. We are praying that our school shall do wonderful work for Japan.

Thanking you again and again for your many kindnesses toward me before I left Santa Anna.

I would be glad to hear from all of you.

Your friend,
Effie E. Baker

WIZARD OF MAGIC COMING

Davis, the Greatest Magician, Presents

Most Elaborate Program.
Davis, popularly known as the "Master Magician," is to unloose his bag of tricks before local people here on the evening of Tuesday, April 4th, at Best Theatre. Davis is the exception disproving the rule that there is nothing new in magic. There is more new stuff in the Davis program than the usual whole evening given by the ordinary magician. What Davis does is wizardry, and his manner of doing it is artistry of the highest type.

There is one strange thing after another, and fun all the time. You'll laugh at his wit and humor, as well as his wonderful magical feats. You'll want to watch him closely, for when you think he has finished a feat of magic—and it would be the end with the average magician—he is just getting to the interesting part; in fact, nearly all his tricks have three points to them instead of one.

Davis performs twice as many feats as the average magician. There is no delay with useless "patter" and his talk is as interesting as what he does. With a splendid stage setting, lots of paraphernalia, and an excellent assistant, the entertainment runs smoothly and without waits. You will say he is the cleverest magician you have ever seen, and you will enjoy his program from beginning to end. There is not a dull moment.

ATTEMPTS TO BREAK IN STORE; LANDS IN JAIL

A young man by the name of Griffin, who is said to have lived in Santa Anna several years back, and was looked upon as a somewhat undesirable, was arrested here about 7:30 Wednesday evening while trying to break into the back door of the Santa Anna Mercantile store, carried to Coleman Thursday and placed in jail.

It is said that young Griffin is wanted in Camron, Texas, for breaking into a store there. The next place he breaks into will be the state penitentiary where all such characters should be, however, only a small per cent ever make the landing.

COLEMAN COUNTY EGGS GO TO CUBA

This week the Potter Produce Co. of this city shipped a carload of eggs to Havana, Cuba, the freight charges being almost $500. Unless conditions have changed since the editor of this paper visited Havana, a car of eggs will not last long, unless they have some way of keeping them locked up from the snakes and rats.

SOPHS OF S. A. H. S.

We have failed for several months to put a report in the paper, but to let the people of the town know we are still alive, we are going to have the following reported:

When we finished our Algebra test a few days ago we all had this attitude:

"Twenty-third Psalm in Algebra." Mr. Eaves is our Algebra teacher, we shall not pass, he maketh us explain hard laws and exposes our ignorance before the whole class. He restoreth our sorrow and causes us to work problems for our ownakes; yea though we study til dawn, we shall gain no knowledge, for problems and principles sorely try us. He prepareth a test for us in the presence of the whole class; he gives us problems on the board our sorrow runeth over, surely sadness and misery shall follow us all the days of our lives and we shall remain in this class forever.

In history, according to Mr. Holt's opinion, "sometimes" we have this feeling about it.
My history 'tis of thee,
Short road to lunacy.
O'er thee I rave,
Another month or so of studying
Thee I know, will send me straight below,
Into my grave.
Sam: "Where shall I sit Mr. Burleson?"
Mr. Burleson: "Oh, anywhere on your thumb."
Sam: "I can't there's a nail on it."
If you can't laugh at the jokes of the age, just laugh at the age of the jokes.

Precinct No. 1 of this county has recently sold $436,000 worth of road bonds, and let considerable contracts for road work in that precinct. The work, as we understand, is mostly being done with local labor, thus giving employment to many citizens who need work at this time. People living in this precinct should open their eyes and take a little notice.

CEMETERY WORKING A SUCCESS

Tuesday morning, according to former announcement, a large number of men and women met at the Santa Anna Cemetery and did some much needed and effective work. Men, women and children were present, and the work they did was worth while.

The cemetery is now rid of weeds and other unsightly growths, graves are rounded up and in every way the premises are in much more inviting condition.
At the noon hour, after lunch was served, an organization was permeated and we now have an association to look after our cemetery work, composed of a large list of members. W. E. Baxter was elected President, Mrs. T. R. Sealy Vice President and Mrs. J. R. Gipson Secretary-Treasurer. It has not yet been decided whether or not the members will be called upon to make monthly contributions, and employ someone to keep the premises in shape, or just have workings and clean up as occasion demands. We would suggest that a man be employed to take charge of the premises and keep them up, and if he gets behind with the work invite a working and all go out and help him until the necessary work is done, but if this does not meet with approval let's have monthly workings and keep our burying ground in better condition than it has been kept.

A. U. Weaver, owner of the Santa Anna Telephone Exchange, is attending a state convention in Fort Worth this week. Mr. Weaver is alert to the needs of his customers, and never fails to take advantage of an opportunity to better his business, which is already one of the best independent telephone exchanges in Texas, and is now planning to install a wireless station in Santa Anna. In talking with the News editor he informed us that if he installed a wireless station it would not be a makeshift, but a real up-to-date plant, and we bet he does.

W. L. Day, of Liberty, an old timer in Coleman county, and one of our very best citizens was in Monday and left a couple of dollars to be paid into the Cemetery Fund, as he said he could not be here in person Tuesday at the working. Mrs. J. R. Gipson is the newly elected secretary and treasurer, and any one having an interest in the burying ground of this city and their circumstances are such they can not look after the graves of their loved ones, can mail such contribution as they wish to make to her and the same will be properly used.

INDIFFERENCE TO LIFE

The warm weather and the approach of spring, when motoring becomes a pleasure, recalls the necessity for a more stringent enforcement of all the rules regulating motor traffic. There are statutes, both state and city, to cover all violations of the law, but if a public abroad in motor cars is indifferent to the rules of the road, then there must be some drastic action to enforce them.

There are times when a pedestrian takes his life in his hands when he ventures on the streets. In the larger cities, especially, the man or woman on foot, even with their faculties alive to the situation, are in danger, while the child playing in the street, indifferent to everything except the exhilaration of youth, is often the victim of a careless driver.

The speedster should be treated as a murderer, for by the mere act of speeding he endangers human life.

Too many drivers are brutally insolent and wholly indifferent to the safety and convenience of pedestrians.

There is something weak and wrong about a government with a pedestrian majority that permits such an enormous outrage to continue.

THE ABSENT-MINDED PROF.

Prof. Stout was hurrying with Harold last Sunday night in Santa Anna to catch the train, when he stopped suddenly and exclaimed: "There I've come away and left my watch at the hotel."

"Let's go back and get it," suggested Harold.

"No, I don't believe we shall have time," replied Prof. Stout. Then he drew the lost watch out of his pocket, looked carefully at the dial, counted the minutes, and added: "No, we won't have time enough."

FARM POULTRY

CRESOL GOOD DISINFECTANT

Added to Water It Makes Excellent Solution for Spraying Houses or Premises.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The kerosene emulsion which is frequently used to destroy mites may readily be converted into a disinfectant, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. The emulsion is made by shaving one-half pound hard laundry soap into one-half gallon "soft water." Boil the mixture until soap is dissolved and then, after removing it to a safe distance from the fire, stir into it while hot 2 gallons of kerosene. This makes the stock mixture. When it is to be used as a louse-killer, 1 quart of the emulsion is mixed with 10 quarts of water. When it is to be used as a disinfectant, stir well and add 2 pints of crude carbolic acid or crude cresol.

Poultry House That Can Equally Be Disinfected.

The compound solution of cresol is one of the best disinfectants that can be purchased ready to use. It contains 50 per cent of cresol and a pint of it in 10 quarts of water makes the right solution to apply to houses or spray over the ground. A 5 per cent solution of carbolic acid (1 pint carbolic acid, 10 quarts water) is about equally efficacious.

ESSENTIALS OF INCUBATORS

Chief Point, Whether Small or Large Machine is Used, is to Have "Air Fresh"

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Incubators are operated successfully in a great variety of places. Small machines generally are set in a room or the cellar of the house. A special cellar or incubator house should be provided where the incubator equipment is extensive or where mammoth machines are used. The chief points are to have a room which is not subject to great variations in temperature and which is well ventilated, so that the air is fresh and pure, according to Farmers' Bulletin 1106, Incubation of Hens' Eggs, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

If built above ground the walls of the incubator house should be double and the entire building well insulated. Incubators may be operated in buildings with single walls, especially in mild climates, but a well-insulated room is preferable. Good results in hatching are secured in incubator cellars and in incubator rooms which are entirely above the ground level.

The incubator room or cellar should be large enough to allow the attendant to work around the machines conveniently. Many incubator cellars are provided with some system of ventilation in addition to the windows, while in others the ventilation is controlled entirely by the latter method. Muslin screens on the windows provide good ventilation without draft and at the same time keep the direct rays of the sun from the machines. Many incubator cellars have cement floors, which are easier to clean than dirt floors and neat.

EXPERIENCE MOST ESSENTIAL

No Great Difficulties Offered in Operation of Modern, Improved Incubators.

Modern, improved incubators offer no great difficulties in order to achieve success, yet like running almost any other machine, the better they are understood by the operators, the easier they can handle them. This ease and simplicity is only attained after a thorough knowledge of the principles involved and a familiarity formed from a frequent employment of them; in other words, experience.

DOULTRY NOTES

- Spade up the yard frequently.
- Build a cheap house or shelter.
- Grow some green crop in the yard.
- Neglected colds are the forerunners of roup.
- Keep hens free from lice and the house free from mites.
- There is this to say for the incubator: You need not wait for it to get to the hatching notion.

TEST OF AN INTERVIEW

"Did I report your remarks correctly?" asked the interviewer.
 "Yes," replied Senator Sorghum. "I expect to read them with pleasure when I get time."
 "You indorse the interview without having read it?"
 "Fully. The comment on it by my constituents has been so favorable that I'm sure that it's entirely satisfactory."

Generous.
 It was the luncheon hour, and Joe was deep in the paper.
 Along came Jock, the Scot.
 "Can you loan it to us a second?" he asked.
 Joe, ever obliging, complied, and Jock cut out the football coupon, and hearing Joe protest said: "All right all right my mannie; if I win the prize I'll gie ye tuppence."—Answers.

Neighborhood Rivalry.
 "Every time I buy anything new, Mrs. Gadspur goes straight to town and gets something just like it," said Mrs. Twobble, fretfully.
 "I don't know what we are going to do about that, my dear," said Mr. Twobble. "Still, if we had a place to keep it, I might buy you a cassowary. I understand they are hard to duplicate."

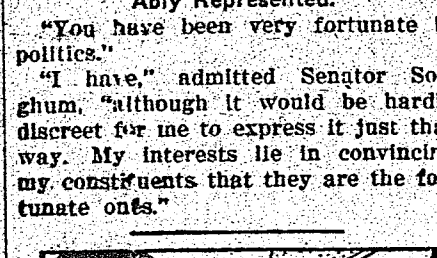

NO, INDEED
 "But father, he's my soul mate."
 "Tut, tut, daughter, don't be foolish. Just because two young people happen to like the same phonograph records it doesn't necessarily mean that they were made for each other."

True.
 They say that money is a curse, but still I like it in my purse.

Mutual Forbearance.
 "Do you claim to know all about finance?"
 "No," admitted Farmer Corntossel. "I'm free to confess some of us farmers who talk about finance don't know any more about their subject than some of the financiers who talk about farming."

The Passive Politician.
 "I am in the hands of my friends," said Senator Sorghum.
 "What do you mean by that?"
 "If they regard me as a good political risk and want to back me with all kinds of money, that's their business. But I don't want to know a thing about it."

Ably Represented.
 "You have been very fortunate in politics."
 "I have," admitted Senator Sorghum, "although it would be hardly discreet for me to express it just that way. My interests lie in convincing my constituents that they are the fortunate ones."

WHERE HE LEARNED IT.
 "Goodness, gracious, where did you ever hear such language?"
 "I was in the car with Pa the other day when the traffic cop bawled him out for missing his signal."

Simple.
 I cannot sing the old songs because they are forgotten; I cannot sing the new songs because they are so rotten.

Would Split the Expense.
 "Do you think you can support my daughter in the style to which she has been accustomed?"
 "I don't know, sir, but I can certainly save you 50 per cent of her present cost to you."

Great House Mystery.
 "Well, I succeeded in leasing a house."
 "What on earth is the matter with it?"
 "Dunno, but it must be something terrible. The landlord voluntarily offered to paper it throughout."

LESSON FOR MARCH 25

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is righteous in all His ways, and holy in all His works.—Psalm 145:17.
DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalm 120.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Favorite Stories of the Quarter.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Israel's Heroic Prophets.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Estimate of Elijah, Elisha, Jonah and Amos.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Social Teachings of the Quarter's Lessons.

The method of review will largely be determined by the taste of the teachers and the grade in the school concerned. To the writer's taste, two good methods are available: the biographical and the summary. In using the biographical, the lives of four great prophets, Elijah, Elisha, Jonah and Amos may be considered. These four men are connected with nearly all the lessons of the quarter. This method can be used to good advantage in nearly all the grades of the school. In the summary method the principal fact of each lesson with its leading lesson should be set forth. This method can be used to good advantage in the adult departments. The following is a suggested summary:

Lesson I. Rehobam refused to grant the request of the people for the lightening of the burdens of taxation. Because of this ten tribes under the leadership of Jeroboam revolted and formed another kingdom. The most effective cure for social and political unrest is justice by the rulers to those ruled.

Lesson II. Elijah, after announcing to Ahab the withholding of rain for a term of years, fled and was fed by the ravens and by the widow at Zarephath. God adapts himself to the circumstances of His servants, and sometimes in the most unlikely ways provides for His own.

Lesson III. At the request of Elijah, Ahab called the people together to witness a supreme challenge of Baal worship. Faith in God will stand the most severe test. The fire of God is the unerring sign which differentiates true from false religion.

Lesson IV. Elijah, though brave before the 450 prophets of Baal, fled for his life from Jezebel. God dealt most gently with his discouraged servant. We should learn from this that frequently we fall in our strongest point.

Lesson V. Naboth refused to sell his vineyard to Ahab, whereupon through Jezebel's plot he was murdered, and Ahab took possession. Nations and kings should respect the rights of individuals.

Lesson VI. When Elijah's work was finished, God took him to heaven by a whirlwind. Elijah had once requested death, but God had a better way for him to go to heaven than by way of death.

Lesson VII. The Shunammite woman, seeing Elisha passing by on errands for God, was moved to provide a comfortable lodging for him, whereupon Elisha sought to recompense her by promising that God would give her a child. Not infrequently has the prophet's chamber brought blessing to the home.

Lesson VIII. At the command of Elisha, Naaman dipped himself seven times in the Jordan and was healed of leprosy. In order to be healed of the leprosy of sin, human pride and vanity must be put away and obedience rendered to God.

Lesson IX. The king of Assyria sent a great army to apprehend Elisha because he had repeatedly informed the king of Israel concerning the movements of the Assyrian army. When the Lord opened the eyes of Elisha's servant, he beheld the mountains filled with horses and chariots of fire. "The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them." "Lord, open our eyes!"

Lesson X. At the preaching of Jonah, the wicked city of Nineveh repented and God showed mercy. God's mercy and forgiveness should move us to preach the gospel to the heathen.

Lesson XI. The children of Israel prided themselves in their security and gave themselves to luxury and sensual indulgences. God sent Amos to warn them of the judgment which must follow. The Lord will bring the ungodly to judgment for their ungodly living.

Lesson XII. In due time the prophecy of Amos came true. The Assyrians came and carried the children of Israel into captivity, from which they never returned. Rejection of God and the despising of His worship will be followed with judgment and destruction.

Praying.
 Some think that because St. Paul said, "I would have men pray in every place," it is therefore unnecessary to pray in any particular place, but that it suffices to interlace our prayer with the rest of our works. And a good thing it is to pray in all places, but that will not suffice us if we would imitate Jesus Christ our Lord, and practise that which His saints have done in regard to prayer. For he thou well assured that no man will be able with profit in every place unless first he have learnt to pray in a particular place and to employ some space of time therein.—Juan de Avila.

EVEN CAREFUL CALOMEL USERS ARE SALIVATED

Next Dose of Treacherous Drug May Start Misery for You.

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury; quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Advertisement.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble. Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

Light in Walking Stick
 A cigar lighter in a walking cane is a novelty that is being introduced in France. The lighter is operated by compressed air.

A long steel rod attached to the handle and extending into the hollow of the cane carries a briquette of highly inflammable material, the chemical composition of which is secret. When the handle is thrust into the cane quickly, the air compression is said to ignite the composition. The substance glows like a pocket light. It is extinguished by thrusting back the steel tube.—Popular Science Monthly.

Definition of Contentment.
 Little Irene Moore lives on the south side and has just passed her ninth birthday. She carries the News for exercise, and takes piano lessons for the benefit of her teacher. The other day her teacher started her on a new piece called "Contentment." "Now, Irene," she said, "what is the meaning of contentment?" Irene puckered her forehead for a minute. "Oh, I know. It's when everything is going just right and you don't feel disgusted with nothin'."—Indianapolis News.

Cabby's Comment.
 Ethel had arrived home from the party and was telling her mother about her adventures.
 "And did you enjoy the ride home, dear?" asked mother.
 "Oh, it was thrilling!" exclaimed the child. "Down at Mason street the horse stopped suddenly and backed right onto the pavement. The cabman had to get down and drag it back onto the road."
 "Yes, dear," said mother, wisely; "it must have been what they call a jibbling horse."
 "That wasn't what the cabman called it," replied Ethel, thoughtfully.—Tit-Bits.

Wishing for sleep is a poor way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

HOUSE CLEANING MADE EASIER BY ASSEMBLING TOOLS IN ONE PLACE

A Homemade Closet is Inexpensive and Convenient.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
For generations housekeepers have taken pride in their orderly linen closets, well-stocked preserve and jelly closets, and their neat kitchen cupboards. While not so attractive to look at, the cleaning closet is just as important. By grouping together brooms, brushes, dusters, mops and all the many things needed in cleaning, and keeping the closet in order, the housekeeper need not waste time or take extra steps in collecting these things when she wants to use them. It is a more sanitary and tidy practice to store cleaning tools in a place by themselves than to leave them in a corner of the kitchen or pantry, as is often done, the United States Department of Agriculture points out.
The cleaning closet should be convenient to the whole house. Sometimes, especially in large houses, a good arrangement is to have a cleaning closet on each floor with a supply of the things most frequently used. A built-in closet is not available, an wardrobe may be fitted up. Sometimes the cleaning closet opens off the hall or the combination laundry bathroom, which is found in almost indispensable room in many houses. This, also, is a good arrangement.
The cleaning closet should be ventilated by having holes in the door or window, or a transom. Shelves should be arranged for the cans and brushes, and there should be hooks at proper heights for brooms and mops. These should be hung so that the weight rests on the straws, bristles, or heads, and not on the handles. The carpet sweeper, also, should be set or hung so that the weight does not come on the brushes.
Tools More Economical.
Durable, durable tools are generally most economical in the end, they may cost more at the outset, but in the long run, they are well worth the cost. A set of tools and materials for cleaning the many kinds of materials in a house, but this does not mean a large collection should be assembled. Some cleaning de-

VICES will not be used often enough in the ordinary house to justify their expense or the storage room they occupy, and the housekeeper will do well to consider these points before buying.
The oily cloths used in polishing floors and furniture, especially if moistened with linseed oil, are a serious fire hazard unless kept in a covered fireproof container. A tin or galvanized-iron can with close-fitting lid is good for this purpose.
Tools last longer and work better if put back in the closet clean and ready for use the next time.
Care of Various Kinds of Mops.
Once a week, or oftener, if necessary, the box of the carpet sweeper should be opened over dampened newspaper, the dirt emptied out; and hair and lint cleaned from the brushes with a buttonhook, coarse comb, or old scissors. The mechanism should be kept properly oiled. A vacuum cleaner should be looked after in the same way, except that in addition the bag should be emptied.
Dry or oiled mops should be well shaken each time after use, and occasionally should be washed in hot soapsuds, rinsed in clear hot water, and dried as quickly as possible. Oiled mops may be renewed by pouring on a few drops of kerosene or floor oil and leaving them stand until the oil spreads through the strings. If too much oil is used, the floors will be darkened, and a surplus of oil will be left on the surface.
Dust cloths should be washed frequently, because a little dirt comes out more easily and because dirty cloths often leave as much dust as they take up and may scratch highly polished surfaces. The oil in "dustless" cloths may be restored by adding to the rinse water a little kerosene or floor oil (about one tablespoonful to a quart of water), or by pouring a few drops of oil on the dry duster, rolling it tight, and letting it stand until the oil spreads evenly.
House cleaning often seems a hard task and it pays to plan the work carefully and to keep the home clean rather than labor to make it clean.

Happy Man Gets Rid of Trouble by the Simple Process of Burning Them Up.

"By George, but this is a fine day," exclaimed one man as he set another on the street.

"What has occasioned your happiness?" was asked.

"Why, it is a very simple thing. All I had to do was to put the bills in the fire, and forget all about their arrival. Yes, sir, it is a mighty pleasant day. When you have trouble on your mind the best way is to burn it up."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

FRUITS FOR CHILDREN

Fresh Produce Should Be Cleaned to Remove Dirt, Bacteria and Residue.

Children should have fruits, also, and salads not only in their school lunches, but to supply the vitamins and elements necessary for their agree nutrition specifications. When they eat any of the cooked foods at home it is that the mother has washed or vegetable properly before it. All market produce needs washing to remove dirt and dust, bacteria, and sometimes particles of spray residue. The best fruits and usually the best-looking fruits are those from trees which have been properly sprayed while the fruit was in its early stages and sometimes the spray may not have weathered off the fruit before harvest. Children should not be given money to buy their own fruit from hucksters or stands unless there are facilities at school for washing it. They should be drilled in the practice of washing what they eat of these uncooked products, as a matter of ordinary cleanliness.

OYSTER DRESSING MIXTURE

Scalloped Kind Are Preferred by Many Cooks Because Flavor is Lost in Cooking.

An oyster dressing is made by adding to a highly seasoned bread stuffing, oysters equal in bulk to the bread crumbs. Mix thoroughly one quart of soft bread crumbs, a cupful of butter, melted in two-thirds cupful hot milk or water, one-half teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful of spiced poultry seasoning, and a beaten egg. Omit the egg if the dressing is to be eaten hot. A cold dressing slices well when the egg is used. Add oysters and stuff the turkey. As long cooking detracts from the flavor of oysters many cooks prefer scalloped oysters served with turkey.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Almost decorative are tiny enameled kitchen scales.

Paint can be removed from window panes with hot vinegar.

Keep a pencil and pad by the telephone to take down numbers.

Fine blankets and shawls are best dried on curtain stretchers.

A hammer and nails should be a part of every kitchen equipment.

Chicken fat is excellent for cake baking and shortening generally.

Cucumbers are nice served in a little vinegar and cream mixed together.

Charcoal powder will clean knife blades which have become stained.

Vegetables should be cooked just long enough to make them tender, and no longer.

Do not keep partly soiled garments in an unaired space. They are likely to become discolored.

Columbus depended on chance—but times have changed

The stranger who traveled from New York to Fort Worth was told that there was as much country on ahead as there was behind.

YOUR JOB

A five-year old child the other day asked, "Daddy, where does corn come from?" "Well," replied daddy, "a man in the country plants some seed corn in the spring, when the leaves begin to come on the trees, and the seed grows into stalks upon which the corn grows. In the autumn, when the leaves fall off the trees, the man gathers the corn and takes it to the grist mill, where another man grinds it into meal. Then other men take it on a freight train and carry it to the city, where it is placed in the stores. And when daddy wants any corn meal he goes to the store and buys it, and that is how we get corn meal."

And here the child uttered a great economic truth, for he remarked, aren't people good to us, daddy.

The father had never thought of it in that way, but that is how every man's job works out, though he may be thinking only of the reward that comes to him. Every man's job is one of serving not so much himself as it is of assisting others. Every worker is performing a service to hundreds of thousand of other people, and the better he does his job the better he is to the multitude that benefits from his work, whether he is digging a ditch for a water main or endeavoring to reduce armaments.

- Young girls who paint and powder like hardened women of the street.
- Men and women who come late to the theatre in order to "show off."
- People who cough loudly in church or other places of public assembly.
- People who constantly knock other people.
- And aged women who try to kill all the joy for others by trying to act like sixteen-year-olds.

GOING TO CHURCH

It is a common impression that people do not go to church as they used to go. Yet a religious census shows that almost 46,000,000 Americans are regular church attendants. That is not so bad in a population of about 106,000,000.

There are 200,000 ministers in the United States, including all denominations.

If every member attended church regularly, the congregations would average 230.

Of course, many are still outside the fold. Attendance is irregular. Nevertheless, the churches are making headway.

In the last five years more than 4,000,000 new members have been added to the churches in this country. What news could be more important than this?

Real civilization begins with Christ. Real progress is measured by the extent to which His teachings are lived up to in daily life.

Then, too, think of what a fix we would be in if prohibition didn't enable us to save the money we used to squander on strong drink.
