PRINT PAPER MAY GO TO $400.00 PER TON

The Herald-Record has recently received the following advices from our wholesale paper dealers:

"We are compelled to advance our prices on printing paper $2.50 per hundred weight over last month, effective at once. We regret that this is necessary but it is the best we can do now."

This advance places print paper in the Herald-Record office at $300.00 per ton. This time of year we were getting it at $80.00 per ton. Four years ago at $60.00 per ton.

A prominent advertising specialist in New York City, who represents weekly newspapers in the foreign advertising field, writes the Herald-Record under date of July 7th, as follows:

"If publishers are not able through friendly interests or cooperative measures to purchase mills or to buy their paper in bulk at certain mills, there is small doubt that by the first of the year you will be paying over $400.00 per ton for your print paper." Continuing this specialist says: "The situation is very grave and in my opinion due entirely to the fact that you are at the mercy of a giant trust."

In addition to the extremely high price for print paper the Herald-Record is also advised that on account of depleted stock only one-half of our contract allowance for August can be shipped at this time. So it seems that in addition to the high prices there is a scarcity which but adds apprehension and uneasiness to the situation.—Hamilton Herald-Record.

At the Methodist Church, Santa Anna.

I am thankful to be at home again. My vacation was not what I intended it should be, I was sick and part of the time in the hospital. No sick man ever received better attention than I, doctors, nurses, preachers, including my own precious boy did everything possible for my comfort. I arrived home the third day of this month and although it was about eleven o'clock at night I had no sooner reached the terminus of my journey than Comer Blue had me by the arm, and he and his wife brought me home in their car, and from that moment to the present I have been lovingly cared for by my friends, some of whom are not members of my church. Mr. editor, your space is too precious for me to intrude upon it to give the names of those who have been to see me and offered their assistance, just think of the best people in Santa Anna and you have the names and I will say here that Santa Anna has as many good people as any city of her size in the world.

There will be preaching at the Methodist church next Sunday morning and evening. I believe that under the care of Dr. Sealy, I will be able to preach for you. I hope to meet a large congregation Sunday morning. You are invited.

Josephus Lee, Pastor.

W. O. W. INSURGENTS LOSE RATE FIGHT

Woodmen of the World insurgents have lost their fight against the rate advances, according to a message received from headquarters in Omaha, Neb., Saturday. The message, which came from insurgent headquarters and was sent to Mrs. Ida Heck, guardian, and Mrs. Alice Watson, clerk of Maple Hurst Grove Woodmen Circle, read: "Suit decided in favor of Sovereign Camp. Will appeal to Supreme Court."

Though the decision was adverse, those engaged in the fight express confidence that their contentions will be sustained when the Supreme Court of Nebraska acts on the case.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Prepare to Help Handle Ten Million Bales of Cotton This Year.

The Government estimates this year's cotton crop at ten million bales. Prepare to help handle this enormous crop. It requires from four to six weeks to qualify. If you act quickly you can be ready. We have the largest and best equipped sample room in the state, with a solid glass wall on the north to afford light. This room was constructed especially for teaching the cotton work. There being such a difference in the grades of cotton and with the ever increasing demand for help along this line, young men and women should prepare themselves immediately. When we say women, we say so based on the fact that there are several women taking our cotton classing, realizing what an opportunity is open to them and the State admits women to the cotton examination the same as men.

A special summer course is given for $40.00, including tuition, samples and material for cotton grading.

In order to get in time to prepare for the coming cotton season, write, wire or phone for information and our free catalogue.

One Way of Looking At It

The esteemed Hico News-Review gets at 'em in this style: Did you ever think about it? Suppose every business man in a town took as much interest in the upbuilding of a city as the newspaper man? He works for railroads, manufacturers, better roads, churches, good streets and a hundred and one other things for the general good; he urges, pleads, badgers, and cavorts around generally until he gets what he sets out for. Imagine his feelings, then, when some lame, string-halted kind of a fellow reproaches him because he does not boom things enough, and nine times out of ten that same fellow has never paid one cent toward supporting the paper, and the paper he reads with marked regularity is either borrowed from his neighbor or picked up from the counter in the store at which he trades.

COMMISSION IN FIRMER STAND PLUGGING WELLS

Austin, Texas.—Because of the receipt of many complaints that wells have been improperly plugged, the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission is demanding stricter enforcement of the conservation laws. As a result of conditions growing out of poorly plugged wells, the commission has ordered that tools be moved back to the well and same be replugged in accordance with the requirements of the commission.

In numerous instances the improper plugged wells have been closed when a representative of the commission was absent. The field men demand the log of the well and in that way are able to make suggestions as to the best method of proceeding with the work. Notice has not been given the adjacent leaseholder of the intention to plug in many cases and this has contributed to carelessness in plugging.

It is suggested that delay and trouble will be avoided if notices are given the commission and adjoining leases and file a log of the abandoned hole with the deputy supervisor in the field. In such instances immediate permission to plug is given, together with suggestions as to procedure.

Woodward-Millhollen

A wedding of much interest was the uniting in marriage of Miss Ina Millhollen of Comanche, to Mr. Alva C. Woodward, on Sunday night in Brownwood, in the presence of the brides mother, Miss Clara Childers and Mr. Holley Allen. The party motored to Comanche, after the bride and her mother in Mr. Woodward's Oldsmobile Sedan, in which the marriage took place. Mr Woodward is Manager of the City Garage, one of the leading business of its kind in the county and is a steady young business man. The bride is one of Comanches most popular and charming young ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodward will make their home here. The News joins their many friends in congratulations.

"I Wouldn't Go Camping Without Rat-Snap," Says Ray White.

"Wife and I spent our vacation camping last summer, smell of cooking brought rats. We went to town, got some RAT-SNAP, broke up cakes, put it outside our tent. We got the rats alright—big fellows." Farmers, storekeepers, housewives, should use RAT-SNAP." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by Corner Drug Store and Adams Mercantile Co.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ewing and daughter, Grace, with Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner and family, left Saturday for a motor trip through New Mexico and Arizona.

Cotton in Texas Looking Good; Farmers Happy

Washington.—An increase of over a million bales in the prospective production of cotton over the yield indicated a month ago is forecast by the Department of Agriculture with a total of 12,519,000 estimated from the condition on July 25th, while 11,450,000 bales was forecast on the condition of June 25th.

The condition of Texas cotton on July 25th was 74 per cent of normal, and of Arkansas 78 per cent.

Good growing weather during July caused much improvement in the prospects for the crop, the condition advancing from 70.7 per cent of normal on June 25th to 74.1 per cent on July 25. This is seven points higher than last year and slightly below that of ten years ago.

Swelling caused by insect bites can be reduced by using Ballard's Snow Liniment. It counteracts the poison and relieves the irritation. Three sizes, 30c, 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Sold by Corner Drug Store.

PUREBREDS COMPETE FOR $65,000 PURSES

Livestock Division at State Fair of Texas Breaks All Records For Amount of Prizes

With the State of Texas looking forward to one of the most prosperous cattle years of its history, the State Fair of Texas is not over-optimistic in predicting that the season of 1920 is going to be the greatest year in its history so far as the Livestock division is concerned. A total of $65,000 in premiums, breaking all past records for this department, is the prize dangling before the eyes of the owners of show herds of America. In addition to this, tens of thousands of farmers and stock raisers will attend the Fair eager to pick up purebreds to improve their own cattle strains. This is a great apportunities for the show cattle owners, and they are coming—stronger than ever before.

The Hereford and Shorthorn breeds lead the field in the allotments for beef cattle, with $15,000 each. Aberdeen-Angus come next, with $5,000. Then the dairy breeds "out in" for their share, which is $7,500 this season. Swine easily make way with $6,000, while horses, mules and jacks will draw $7,000. The sheep and goat section, with the dozens of incidental classifications, absorb the remainder.

All premiums are generous to a degree this season, and exhibitors are exceedingly enthusiastic. The fact that the State Fair is building two new livestock barns, both of modern fireproof construction, which will give plenty of accommodation, is bringing fine animals that never made the southwestern swing before.

COMMENTS OF THE STATE PRESS ON THE RACE FOR GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

Cox Declines to Take Hand. (Taylor County Times.)

Neff forces have asked Democratic Nominee Cox to take a hand against Bailey in Texas. Not only has the democratic nominee refused but he welcomes to his ranks the former Texas Senator and the Cox forces are going to use Bailey where the heavy weights are needed. We haven't heard them brag about how much Neff will do to help elect Cox and we have been listening for it.

Mr. Neff and the Liquor Bogey. (Ft. Worth Star-Telegram)

"If you elect Joe Bailey your Governor, there will be a little distillery in the back yard of many a Texas home," declared Mr. Pat Neff in his Dallas speech.

The inference which Mr. Neff seeks to have his hearers draw is that prohibition will be invalidated in some fashion if Mr. Bailey is elected. And yet, in South Texas, where there are still some anti-prohibitionists, the Houston Chronicle, which is supporting Mr. Neff for Governor, attempts to make votes for its candidate by making precisely the opposite argument.

"To those men who think that a Bailey victory would bring back the saloon," says the Chronicle, "we say that the liquor question is closed, and as Governor of Texas Joe Bailey could not reopen it. Bailey knows that, and you ought to know it. Voting for Joe Bailey will not bring you any nearer a drink than you are right now."

That's what the Chronicle tells the South Texas voters. But Mr. Neff seeks to have North Texas prohibitionists believe that the liquor question is not closed and that as Governor of Texas, Mr. Bailey could reopen it.

The Chronicle, of course, is correct. The liquor question is closed. Mr. Neff is seeking to keep it alive for campaign purposes. Mr. Bailey has declared repeatedly that he could not bring liquor back if he wanted to, and that he would not bring it back if he could. But Mr. Neff makes a deceptive appeal to the prohibitionists in North Texas in order to obtain their votes. He is using the prohibition question in the same manner that he is attempting to use the Wilson administration. But neither prohibition nor the prestige of the Wilson administration is involved in the election. "Mr. Neff knows that, and you ought to know it."

Bailey at Brownwood. (Brownwood Bulletin.)

Facing an audience in front of the courthouse and speaking from a large truck, former Senator Joseph W. Bailey, Thursday night addressed an audience which W. M. Thornton of the Dallas News, special staff correspondent traveling with Mr. Bailey, estimated at 5,000 people. His estimate was concurred in by representatives of other big dailies at the press table. It can be truthfully said that it was a great crowd and the largest perhaps that has been seen in Brownwood at a political gathering in a long time. The music which was of a most excellent character, was furnished by the Brownwood band. As Mr. Bailey approached the place of speaking the great throng rose and burst into cheers, waving hats, umbrellas, handkerchiefs and anything else available the courtesy being acknowledged by the speaker of the evening with a nod and a smile. It was a Bailey evening and his friends proceeded to make the most of it.

As Mr. Bailey took his seat in a large rocker which had been provided for him little Miss Julia Claire Harper approached and presented him with a large bouquet.

(Taylor County Times.)

"We are proud to put before you for governor of Texas a man who is as pure as your wife or your daughter," said one of the speakers in a recent Neff rally in Abilene. Well, we are not running a eunuch for governor. Our choice perchance has sometimes so far strayed from the virtuous path that he went fishing; and horrible though it may seem, we'll venture he forgot himself and fired a gun sometime in his young life. He is a head man and he never sold his dead friend's lifelong friendship for thirty pieces of silver, either.

The Opposition to Mr. Bailey. (Brownwood News.)

The best evidence of Mr. Bailey's probable success in the next primary is the scare and anxiety that his unlooked for success in the first primary has thrown into the camp of the opposition. This opposition to Bailey, who have endorsed and supported the repudiation of the expressed will of the people of Texas by the Legislature, are now beginning to realize that the expressed will of the voters of Texas is again about to exert itself in retaliation against those who would bury Democratic principles in this State for the sake of autocratic rule in determining public policy.

The opposition to Senator Bailey realize that the 200,000 voters who did not express themselves in last Saturday's primary, presents an embarrassing obstacle to all their calculations as to the outcome of the second primary.

The opposition to Senator Bailey realizes that the bulk of the supporters of Thomason and Looney in the recent primary are in unalterable opposition to many of the socialistic policies of Mr. Neff, and in bitter antipathy to the denominational pool that has been formed and unified to place Neff in the Governor's office.

The policy of Bailey's enemies is now to throw aside the issues on which the recent campaign for Governor was fought, and they are going back to bring against Bailey the repudiation charge of the May campaign.

But Mr. Bailey has endorsed the nomination of Governor Cox, and Bailey's best enemies in Texas realize that in the nomination of Governor Cox, and the defeat of McAdoo over the efforts of the Texas Democratic machine, that the national Democratic party has repudiated the political ring in Texas, has disowned the socialistic policies known under the title of progressive democracy, and has come back to conservative Democratic principles as advocated by Jos. W. Bailey.

The opposition to Senator Bailey in the run-off campaign will exert itself to be fog and be-cloud the issues. Their newspapers and speakers will practice a deliberate misrepresentation. But the citizen who stands for himself and who is the master of his own opinions, will know that the issues of the campaign are whether Democratic conservatism and economy, as urged by Bailey, or whether socialistic radicalism, and a tax-eating hurrah, as preached by Neff, are to be the dominating factors in the future government of Texas.

Mr. Neff's Highway Plank as Presented in Speech at Coleman

In his speech at Coleman, discussing the exodus of boys from the farms to town, Mr. Neff stated, in substance as follows: "I am in favor of good roads and highways from one end of the State to the other, so that the country boys can learn to drive their autos with one hand and do their courting on the highways."

What do good men and women who have daughters, and those who have none, think of a man running for governor of a great State, that would make such a statement and who nursed in his mind such unchaste and licentious thoughts and would seek to convey such ideas to the young boys and girls of the country?

Union Labor League Effort for Control of the Affairs of Texas

Persons who may think the Open Shop is not an issue in the United States as well as in Texas has only to read the magazines and papers to find out. The Literary Digest, a magazine of nation-wide prestige in its issue of August 7, says:

The Open Shop in Politics.

"The closed shop is on trial before the American people and until the question of the open and closed shop is settled the other issues cut little figure. Coincident with the publication by the Department of Labor of figures showing that there were a total of 3,374 strikes, affecting 4,000,000 workers, in 1919, come dispatches dealing with the open shop question, which has not been actively with us since 1917. Chambers of Commerce, and industries in Seattle, Galveston, Baltimore, New Orleans, Cleveland, Jersey City and other cities urge the return of the open shop. That the open shop is in politics is indicated by the fact that Senator Bailey, of Texas, who led in the recent Democratic primary election for Governor, was a strong proponent of the open shop plan throughout the campaign."

Says the New York Mail: "Against the chronic interruption of the productive industry a wide and deep national feeling is developing, and it is a manifestation of the drift of public sentiment that Union Labor in its own interests cannot ignore."

The Philadelphia Press says: "The open shop is a true industrial democracy which will promote harmony in industrial relations, put a stop to the continuous labor strikes, increase both the quality and quantity of output of manufacturing plants and help to decrease the cost of living."

The Buffalo Commercial says: "Forcing the closed shop principle upon industries means that employers cannot exercise their rights to hire whom they please and that workingmen cannot get work at all unless they are willing to give an oath of allegiance to a Labor Organization and pay dues to MAINTAIN AGITATORS IN IDLENESS—or worse, in trouble making."

Senator Bailey's Position.

While Mr. Neff has consistently refused to state his position on the open and closed shop when publicly requested to do so, Mr. Bailey has stated his position from the stump. He says: "The closed shop is a shop in which no man can work unless he belongs to a labor union. No matter what may be his skill in his particular craft; no matter what may be his patriotism; and no matter how hard necessity may press him, he cannot find employment in a closed shop, unless he carries a union card. He may be brave, honorable and patriotic; he may have been one of the splendid young men who answered his country's call to arms, and he may have won a cross for his courage on the battle field—but if he does not carry a union card he will apply in vain for leave to work in the closed shop."

"The closed shop is a place from which they will turn the man who tendered his sword, and with it his life, to the Government of his country, unless he belongs to the union, and into which they may receive the cowardly deserter if he carries a union card. The closed shop is a place in which a brother who belongs to the union is not permitted to work by the side of his brother who does not belong to the union. The non-union brother may remind his union brother that they are the sons of the same father and mother; he may recall those sweet and tender memories which cluster around childhood in every home.

"He may tell his union brother that his wife lies sick at home and that his children are hungry; he may tell his union brother that he has searched everywhere to find employment, but only in this closed shop do they need his services, and in it alone can he hope to earn, by honest toil, the money with which to buy medicine for his sick wife and bread for his hungry children—but against all this stands that inexorable regulation which exalts the interest of the union above the sacred family tie. Such a shop is, in my judgment, an un-American institution, and the welfare of my country compels me to resist its permanent establishment without stopping to calculate whether it shall make me Governor of this great State or retire me forever to the obscurity of private life.

Union Labor's Red Circular.

"Labor's Non-Partisan League, was organized by the American Federation of Labor; it is financed by the American Federation of Labor; it is controlled by the American Federation of Labor; and to all intents and purposes it is the American Federation of Labor, divested of its industrial character and invested with a political character. This organization does not profess to be Democratic; it includes men who hold every variety of political opinion; it is made up of Democrats, Republicans, Socialists, Anarchists, and Bolsheviks; and yet it obtrudes itself into a primary election of the Democratic party.

Labor's Political Campaign Committee is circulating a red circular in Texas. The front page of this circular, in bold type, reads as follows: "MR. FARMER, JOIN WITH LABOR. VOTE FOR AND WORK FOR PAT NEFF FOR GOVERNOR. IF MR. NEFF IS DEFEATED, JOIN AGAIN WITH LABOR AND VOTE FOR MCGREGOR, OR THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR IN THE GENERAL ELECTION. A VOTE AGAINST BAILEY WILL PLACE TEXAS ON THE CLOSED SHOP MAP OF THE WORLD. It will place Texas after defeat of Baileyism on the Farm-Labor Bank Plan. It will place Texas in the field to open co-operative Farm-Labor business institutions."

Other pages of the Red Circular is given over to the political activities of the American Federation of Labor throughout the United States, and closes with a final appeal as follows: "Labor appeals to you, Mr. Farmer, to join with Union Labor, as in other States, to defeat Bailey, to defeat the Farm Land Grab Owner, to defeat, as other States have done, the so-called Banker and Business Politicians, to defeat the open shop, and this will bring the eight-hour day in Texas."

Replying to Jack.

In last week's Santa Anna News our former citizen A. J. Brown published an article so filled with fine patriotic sentiment that we feel impelled to continue the good work and say in reply:

That it is a shame to dwell so much at length upon Mr. Bailey's war record and pass up that of his opponent, Mr. Neff. If the latter had been seized with the fine patriotic fervor his champions would have us believe he now possesses, the war would doubtless have been finished long before it was. He was inside the enlisting age and if he had only seen fit to go over there and made the Germans know of his presence there isn't a question but what the Hindenburg line would have been only a shifting barrier easily broken by the intrepid Mr. Neff.

For our part, it occurs to us that Mr. Bailey is now showing the quality of his patriotism and of his manhood, as he has so nobly done throughout his career. He is coming out in unmistakable terms in opposition to the foreign conceived and un-American policy of the closed shop, and in so doing is standing in favor of the great mass of the American people—the ones who have made this country what it is, the old settler, the pioneer, the original American, if you please. Last year there were 3900 strikes in this country, affecting four million workers. Will any well informed man deny that these strikes are largely led by semi-foreigners? And will anyone attempt to say that they are a benefit to the producers in this country? Who ever heard of a strike advancing the price of cotton? Isn't the contrary true—don't the prices always go down on strike news? And is Mr. Bailey lacking in nerve or patriotism to come out openly and defy the power of union labor, and stand for the good of the people of Texas, of you and me, A. J.? They would have us believe that this issue is not in this campaign—it is the campaign itself, and if we are so blind ourselves to the real issue, will we not have only ourselves to blame if the Gompers monopoly finally chokes us all out of existence?

Come, Jack, a rumor has drifted down from Childress County that the result of this coming primary will decide who receives the proceeds of a good sized election bet—is it possible that you would so scathingly condemn Mr. Bailey for mercenary motives during the war and then allow those same motives to influence you in an election?

It's not the town men—it's you.

Of course if a man starts out looking for trouble he will always wind up by finding a wife.

Night keys are not half as popular now as they were before John Barleycorn was put on the blink.

A man running for office always believes that the people are calling him. But on election day he finds out that central gave him the wrong number!

Beginning September 1st, 1920, the advertising rates of the Santa Anna News will be changed to 25 and 30 cents per inch. Readers 10 cents per line.

The News will install its new Intertype next week. Part of the big machine arrived this week. We are planning on having one of the best equipped shops in this part of the state.

For the past two weeks we have been having some fine showers over the county. The crops are all looking fine. This country is in fine shape and the farmers are expecting bumper crops. The maize and corn is almost assured and feed stuff is plentiful. Keep your eye on this country.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Polk Jr. went to Brownwood on business Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Careidine and Mr. Careidine's mother of Childress, who was a milliner in Santa Anna several years ago, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Pieratt.

Mrs. J. R. Hewitt and daughter, Marie, of San Angelo, have been the guests in the Volentine home.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

By Miss Ozellma Standly -- Phone 57

One of the most attractive social events of the mid-summer season was given on last Thursday evening when Mrs. Earnest Polk entertained with an announcement party and shower for the bride-elect, Miss Sallie Kirkpatrick.

The home throughout was a bower of beauty, the reception hall being quite attractive with an artistic arrangement of bride's roses, featuring the color scheme of pink and white. The punch table was a bower of flowers presided over by Misses Madora Kirkpatrick and Ederyn Tyson, each guest registering with a recipe for the bride's book which were placed in a dainty little basket to be tied together later. The guests were then ushered into the spacious parlor where a musical program was rendered by the gifted pianist, Miss Elsie Lee Harper. Little Misses Marion Polk and Dorothy Baxter, all dainty and fairy-like in their airy white dresses, announced that quite a bit of excitement was being gained in the dining room by a gushing oil well. On their arrival the guests found an oil derrick built to rest in the center of the dining table was loaded and "gushing" with numerous lovely gifts for the bride. Plate-favors for the guests were miniature bride's bouquets and the plate favor of the bride-elect was a miniature cupie bride. In the top of the derrick hung a bucket, and each guest was requested to draw a card from within which all but one held toasts to the bride-to-be and groom, and one being drawn by Miss Ruby Harper bore the wedding announcement of Miss Sally Kirkpatrick to Mr. P. B. Snook for Wednesday evening August 1. The guests were served with delicious pink and white brick cream and angel food cake.

The guests were then ushered back into the parlor for congratulations and a word with the bride-elect, after which Miss Sarah Ramsauer sang "Because" quite beautifully.

Numerous gifts were given, showing the popularity and esteem with which Miss Kirkpatrick is held by her many friends.

Mrs. R. C. Gay was hostess to the members of the Merry Wives Club last Thursday afternoon. The afternoon hours were whiled away quite merrily, each member indulging in their usual manner of entertainment, handwork until late, when the hostess served a very refreshing ice course.

A merry house party was given last week from Wednesday until Saturday at the spacious home of Dr. and Mrs. Sealy by the Harper girls. The days were filled with numerous gay events, the two most pleasing and attractive hospitalities being a "42" party on Thursday evening and a lawn party on Friday. On Thursday evening the spacious veranda was adorned with many brilliant lights, the tables being under these, making the scene quite festive. The interior of the home and tables for the game of "42" were quite entrancing and artistic with daisies and ferns. Later, after the hours of merriment, the guests were served with delicious cream and cake.

On Friday evening the house party was made quite gay by a lawn party. The lawn was lighted by the lights from the porch and iced watermelon was carried out on the green lawn, much fun being gained by the guests. Later in the evening the entire party enjoyed a car ride, making the evening one of much pleasure. The house guests of the party included Misses Sarah Ramsauer, Dot Mobley, Annie Bell Andrews of Brownwood, Lily Rose Couch of Magnolia, Ark., and Elsie Lee, Ruby and Ora Mae Harper.

Added 50% To Tire Mileage

A Boston tire dealer, for three years, has gathered data on Miller Tires. And he reports as follows:

Users find their tire mileage increased from 50 per cent to 75 per cent.

Blow-outs have been eliminated.

Uniform mileage has been accomplished.

Only six tires in 1,000 come back for adjustment—only five Miller Cords in a year.

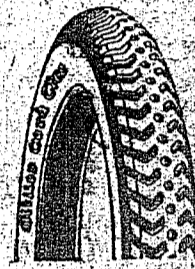

A Louisville dealer compared wear and mileage on 116 styles of tires which he repaired. The constant Miller supremacy has caused him now to handle the Miller Tires only.

A California stage line made million-mile comparisons with 21 leading makes. And the Miller won by long odds.

You owe yourself a comparison on your own car. The Miller is the tire of the day.

JOSEPH WELDON BAILEY

"I have been employed by the Association opposed to National Prohibitions to argue in the courts of the country the validity of the prohibition amendment. That association is not affiliated with the distillers or brewers in any way—all the money in its treasury could not hire me to make one political speech. I take fees for making speeches in court houses and nowhere else."

Mr. Carrington Phelps, publicity agent of the association opposed to National prohibitions in a letter dated November 1, 1919, addressed to Mr. James Arthur Seavey, Managing Director of the Association opposed to National Prohibitions, said:

"You assured me in employing me that your Association had absolutely no connection, direct or indirect, official or unofficial, with the liquor interests. I did not need your telegram to me to consult with Hale, secretary of the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of America or that gentleman's statement that his association had contributed $60,000 to the Association opposed to National Prohibitions, or the very recent meeting of the liquor interests, represented by Riley, Vance and Leopold in your office to select the candidates your association would support in the election of November 4th, to convince me that you had employed me under absolutely false representations. In the first place, I do not believe for a minute that a public movement promulgated and subsidized by sinister interests can live and, Heaven knows your movement has the sinister interests behind it. Anybody of any intelligence knows perfectly well that your association is not only backed but controlled by the liquor interests. Your membership, which you told me was nearly a million when I first went to work for you, is a farce. Your greater New York membership is not 2,000. Your total membership is not over 3,000. On the other hand I find your efforts are backed by a small ring of liquor interests principally the saloons of America and your principal moves co-ordinating perfectly with the other big liquor interests such as the brewers, distillers, etc.

(Signed) Yours truly,
Carrington Phelps."

Now, Mr. Voter, the above letter was written by the publicity agent of the Association opposed to National Prohibitions. He ought to know what he is talking about. Mr. Bailey admits he is an employed attorney for that Association. Mr. Bailey does not deny that he has never appeared as the attorney in any case for that Association. Do you believe in electing a man for Governor who admits he is the employed attorney for an association opposed to National Prohibitions and which is now, through other attorneys, seeking to declare National Prohibition void before the Supreme Court of the United States, while Mr. Bailey is making political speeches in Texas denouncing National Prohibitions and urging his opposition to it?

WHO ARE THE GERMANS GOING TO SUPPORT?

The following, appearing in the daily papers, answers the question:

"Ballinger, Texas, July 30.—Two election precincts in this county which refused to participate in the primary last Saturday, reserving their strength for McGregor, announce that the polls will open in the second primary, and the voters will support Bailey. The boxes are in a German settlement in the southern part of the county, where only two votes were polled for the Democratic nominees in the last general election."

"Gainesville, Aug. 7.—Muenster and Linsay are two large boxes or voting precincts, in Cooke county. These towns and precincts are German-American settlements. Administration Democrats have made an interesting discovery. Muenster and Linsay returned majorities for Hughes over Wilson in the November election in 1916. Thomas carried Cooke county over Bailey by more than 500 plurality in the July primary, notwithstanding that Muenster and Linsay rolled up heavy majorities for Bailey. This is the vote of the two precincts:

Muenster—Bailey 106, Thomas 8.

Linsay—Bailey 68, Thomas 1.

Muenster and Linsay are almost unanimously wet. Muenster and Linsay are almost unanimously of Teutonic origin and temperament. According to the files of Cooke county newspapers of 1916 these two boxes repudiated Wilson, the Democratic nominee for President, and voted for Hughes, the Republican nominee."

Mr. Bailey said at El Paso, April 3, 1920:

"It is very true that I was one of the men who did not believe that the United States ought to go into that war—but when the war came I closed my mouth. While the war was on I kept my peace, but now that the war is over I am saying some of the things I had locked up in my heart and mind through those trying years."

Mr. Bailey admits he refused to make speeches to encourage people to buy Liberty Bonds. He did not open his mouth to help sell Thrift Stamps, War Saving Stamps, nor did he assist the Red Cross, The Salvation Army, the Y. M. C. A. or any other religious organization which so nobly aided us in winning the war.

Do you endorse his course of conduct? Will you help him now when he refused to help you now when he refused to help you "through those trying years?"

Col. B. F. Marchbanks, seventy years old and a Confederate Veteran, introducing Mr. Neff at Waxahachie, said:

"When I came out of Appomattox I said I did not want any more war, but in all these years I have always been for my country, right or wrong, and I have not criticized our presidents, either Democratic or Republican, much less I did not criticize our great President, Woodrow Wilson, who led our boy to war. My wife and I bought a $50.00 Liberty Bond, the bank carried it and we paid it out on the installment plan. It never occurred to me whether I would get a dollar out of it or not, and I never cared. The man who was too scrupulous about that ought to have told his fellow countrymen that they might go down but to buy them so we could win the war. My boy put as much as he could of his poor little $30.00 salary into Liberty Bonds and he never asked how much they would be worth or whether they would carry a premium. He did not shut his mouth but went on, willing to give his life for his country. I am not willing to trust a man who was not willing to trust his country during the war. I am not willing to trust a man who was silent when death and danger swept over his country."

Mr. Bailey, at Wichita Falls, March 30, 1920, said:

"Viewing the whole thing, taken from top to bottom, not one single achievement of the entire Democratic Administration meets with my approval."

He therefore condemns the following constructive features of the present administration, to-wit:

1. Election of Senators by direct vote of the people.
2. Tariff Commission.
3. Federal Reserve Banking Law.
4. Re-establishment of Merchant Marines.
5. Cotton future act.
6. Federal Farm Loan Act.
7. Federal Aid in building public roads.
8. The act of the President in compelling Germany to acknowledge our rights to the freedom of the seas.
9. Our entry into the war, after our citizens were being murdered upon the seas, our flag insulted; our honor assailed, our rights disregarded and our liberty and freedom endangered.
10. The selective draft act, which made it possible for our army and navy to win the war and compelled the rich man's son to fight side by side with the poor man's son.

1. The Peace Treaty and the League of Nations which has been recently endorsed by the National Democratic Convention at San Francisco, endorsed by Mr. Cox the Democratic nominee for President, and which is the paramount issue in the coming election.

12. The Child Labor Law.

13. The Amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of whisky.

14. The Recommendation of President Wilson to reduce and simplify taxation, which has been defeated by Republicans who now are in the majority in Congress."

Mr. Bailey, in his Covington speech, further said:

"As long as I live I will never vote for any man for office who holds to the political conventions of Woodrow Wilson and Morris Sheppard."

Mr. Voter, do you realize that Mr. Cox, our Democratic nominee, has the same political convictions as President Wilson and Morris Sheppard? That Pat Neff has those same political convictions? Many firms in Texas prefer organized labor to the open shop. Joe Bailey can't interfere. Others insist upon the open shop in the employment of labor. Joe Bailey can't make them any more "open." All he can do is to array capital against labor to create dissatisfaction, to arouse prejudice.

Mr. Neff is for the open shop. He and Mr. Bailey agree upon that question. Do not be deceived by statements to the contrary. Mr. Neff's views are specifically explained in his San Antonio speech on August 9th, when he said:

"I am glad to state that my views in regard to labor and capital are in hearty accord with the declaration of principles set forth in our national Democratic platform. I believe that labor and capital has the right to organize, each has the right to bargain collectively, each has the right to deal with the other at all times through duly designated representatives."

Every man who toils with either brain or brawn has the right to quit work whenever he wants to, but let it be understood that when he quits his job any other American citizen has the right to do the work his neighbor did not want to do. Every man should be left free to make whatever contract he desires as to his employment, both as to compensation and hours of service. The employe should be left free to join either the open shop or the closed shop or stay out of both, just as he sees fit. The employer should be permitted to employ whomsoever he pleases and on whatever terms are satisfactory to the two contracting parties. In the peaceful conduct of capital's business and in the peaceful pursuit of labor's trade the Government should grant to each equal protection.

Program for Labor Troubles.

When I am elected Governor, neither labor nor capital or employer or employe shall rule in Texas. High above them both I shall place the law of the land. Corporate power should never ascend so high that the strong arm of the law could not reach it and labor should never descend so low that its voice could not be heard in the temple of justice. I am a friend of both capital and labor, to the employer and the employe."

If the above is not a declaration for the open shop, then the English language cannot make it plainer.

COLEMAN COUNTY PAT NEFF CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

(Political Advertising.)

Strong for Joe Bailey.

The following is another extract taken from the Childress Index by the undersigned for the purpose of showing that in the town of Childress a strong union town that Senator Odell was howled down in an effort to explain to the people of Childress county the platform of Senator Bailey.

The Childress Post, July 28th, had an article of more than a full column commenting on the speech made recently on the streets of Childress by ex-Senator Weldon Odell, and the disturbance, also the effects on the voters caused by the disturbance as compared with the effects on the voters had Senator Odell finished his speech.

I agree with the editor of the Childress Post as to the condemnation of the disturbance made by a very small per cent of the crowd at the speaking and every man I have talked with also deplores their actions. It was unfortunate, and I do not doubt, that at least some of the parties who assisted in howling down the speaker now regret their action for they were wrong and everybody knows it.

I, the undersigned, A. R. Brown, wish to join A. J. Brown in the above article.
