SANTA ANNA BOY SCOUTS JOIN IN OBSERVATION OF ANNIVERSARY

During this week the Santa Anna Boy Scouts, together with thousands of boys throughout the nation, have been observing the twentieth anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. For the boys themselves there is a touch of pride in the fact that they are members of an organization that has had the phenomenal growth of the Boy Scout movement during the twenty years of its existence. For the boys' parents and supervisors the observation of this anniversary has had a deeper significance as the realization comes to them of what those twenty years have meant to the boyhood of America. The boys of twenty years ago are the civic leaders of today. In a few short years the boys of today will take the helm of leadership in religion, education, politics and industry. Boys who have instilled in them the basic principles of the Boy Scout creed will fit into these positions naturally, whereas without the training of Scoutcraft they might become drifters. E. B. DeGroot, Scout Executive of Los Angeles, gave a comprehensive expression of Boy Scout work when he said, "Scouting reveals the way, quickens the pace and illumines the path that leads to the truest and noblest Americanization of American boys."

Character building is the real objective of the Boy Scout movement. Every step in the Scouting program is but a means to this end, which manifests itself in health, efficiency, civility, loyalty, patriotism and good citizenship. Before becoming a Scout a boy must make the following promise: "On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

Scoutcraft includes instructions in first aid, life saving, tracking, signaling, cycling, nature study, seamanship, camp craft, woodcraft, chivalry, and all the handicrafts. No expensive equipment is required—all that is needed is the outdoors, a group of boys, and a competent leader. Scouting means outdoor life and thus health, strength, happiness and practical education. In Scouting the boy does not stand still. The opportunity and incentive for progress are always at hand, new goals being offered for each one attained.

To an unknown English Boy Scout who volunteered to guide William D. Boyce, the Chicago publisher, when he was lost in a London fog in 1909, goes the credit for giving to the American the inspiration which brought the Boy Scout movement to the United States in 1910. Guiding the publisher to his destination, despite a heavy London fog, and then refusing pay for his services, explaining to Mr. Boyce that he was a Scout, the training of the lad so interested the American that he visited the office of the founder of British Scouting and familiarized himself with the movement as conducted by Sir Robert Baden Powell.

James F. West, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, says that the Boy Scout Movement does not pretend to take the place of either the home, church, or the school, although it supplements the work of them all. Its purpose is to help parents by imparting to boys the many ethics of Scouting. It seeks to help boys to help themselves to gain physical, mental and moral training. Every Boy Scout takes a pledge to help others. He has taken as his motto, "Be Prepared." The Boy Scout is given an education in camps which could not be given in the classroom. The Scout movement is an effort to start boys between the ages of 12 and 18 in the right direction; and the wonder of it all is that the movement functions under volunteer leadership.

"Too few people have a clear realization of the real purposes of the Boy Scouts. In the popular mind the program is arranged for play, for recreation, is desired solely to utilize the spare time of the boy in such a way that he may develop physically while engaged in pleasurable pursuits. This is but a faint conception, one almost wholly misleading. The program is a means to an end. Its fundamental object is to use modern environment in character building and training for citizenship."

Coleman Depot Safe Is Robbed

COLEMAN, Feb. 10.—Burglars sometime Sunday night crashed in a window at the Santa Fe passenger station, broke the knob off the safe and made a getaway with about $80. The robbery was not discovered until about 2:30 this morning when the crew of a northbound freight train noticed the window broken, the door to the safe open and the cash box on the floor of the station. No clues were left by the robbers.

Census Report For Absent Families

The Fifteenth Decennial Census of the United States will be taken during the month of April. The enumeration will be made by a force of about 100,000 enumerators who will go from house to house and secure the information required for the census. Every person is to be enumerated, so far as possible, at his "usual place of abode" or the place where he usually lives. Where individual members of the family are away from home at the time the census is taken they will be reported to the enumerator by other members of the family.

For cases where it is known that the whole family will be away from home at that time, special provision has been made by the Director of the Census in the form of an absent family schedule which is to be filled out by some responsible member of the family and in advance of the census date and transmitted to the local Supervisor of the Census. A copy of this schedule can be secured by application to Mr. W. L. Turner of Brownwood, Texas, who is the Census Supervisor for this District.

Families planning to be away during the month of April, leaving the home closed or with no one in charge who is qualified to give the census information to the enumerator, are urged to obtain one of these schedules at once and fill it out and send it to Mr. Turner at the earliest possible date. Or if the house is left in charge of a servant who will be sure to be at home when the enumerator calls, the schedule may be left with such a servant for delivery to the enumerator. The information furnished on this schedule will be treated as confidential and will be used only for the tabulation of statistics which will not reveal any information with regard to individuals or families.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rush of Valera were Santa Anna visitors Wednesday.

Noby Lobenstein and Dick Clegender of Coleman visited in the Claude Cole home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Page and son of Cherokee are visiting relatives here.

Trickham Home Demonstration Club Meets

The Home Demonstration Club at Trickham met with Mrs. C. F. Shild February 4th. The following members were present: Mesdames McIver, Lancaster, Martin, Driskill, Jones, Story, Boenleke Mathews, Boyles Miss Shild and the County Demonstrator, Miss Brent.

The members were very enthusiastic as they planned their future program. Such subjects as gardening, poultry, dairying, clothing, food preparation, home improvement, food preservation, etc., were discussed, then Miss Brent told of other new things she would present to us in the future.

"My can't you see what's meant, when we speak of Miss Brent?"

The knowledge she has in store of everything, it seems galore. Will help us to be thrifty housekeepers and wives, and keep us busy all the rest of our lives.

And her patience is most divine, that's needed to fill craniums like mine.

Here's to our most worthy County Agent Miss Brent. A glorious catch for any gent.

P. S. Now if she happens to run across this, that last word I surely hope she'll miss."

LIONS CLUB ENJOYS ENTERTAINMENT AT REGULAR LUNCHEON TUESDAY

Santa Anna Hatchery Destroyed by Fire

About ten o'clock Friday night the Santa Anna Hatchery was discovered to be on fire, and the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire company was called. The firemen made a quick run and soon extinguished the flames, but the large incubator was reported to be ruined beyond repair. Mr. Neely Evans, manager of the hatchery, states he had been out and inspected the incubator, and everything was apparently all right, and he had retired for the night when the fire broke out. The cause of the fire has not been determined, unless it was caught from a short circuit in the wiring. 900 eggs were in the incubator and 2,500 more had been engaged for this week. The loss was partially covered by insurance and another incubator will probably be installed soon.

PASSES RESOLUTION OF REGRET AT DEATH OF E. E. CHAMBERS

At the regular meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday at noon, Misses Marie and Letha Blewitt furnished a splendid musical entertainment to the pleasure of all present. The piano and violin were the instruments used and the renditions were excellent.

The Lions Club was requested to endorse general clean-up campaign, and it was agreed to take the matter under consideration at the next meeting, when some action will be recommended. Dr. D. A. Bitzer was elected to membership and other business was transacted.

The following resolution was read and adopted by the club.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY

Whereas God has seen fit to remove from our midst one of our fellow Lions, E. E. Chambers, and in his going this club has lost a true and worthy Lion, the town has lost a good citizen and his family has lost a true and loving companion and father—therefore, be it resolved that:

We sympathize with Mrs. Chambers and her children, and also Grandma Chambers, the deceased's mother, in the loss of their companion, father and son, and commend them to God who giveth and has the power to take away, for condolence. Be it further resolved that his family will miss his affectionate love, friendly counsel and much valued support, and this club will miss him in all their activities. His welcome hand and friendly smiles will be missed in his home, the Club and in the town. We reverence his memory and are grieved because of his departure.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, copy furnished the family and published in the Santa Anna News.

Respectfully submitted by the committee:

Rev. J. I. Patterson
DELIVERING SERIES OF
SERMONS ON "HOME"

Rev. J. I. Patterson, of the Methodist church, delivered the first of his sermons on the general topic of "The Home," last Sunday. In his first sermon he viewed his subject from the standpoint of "The Man." At the evening service on February 23rd, "The Woman" will be his subject, and finally, in closing his series, he will preach on "The Successful Home."

There is no need, of course, of reminding you that the failure of a large per cent of the marriages of the last few years has caused considerable agitation and comment on the part of the country's leading thinkers and social workers. The divorce rate has increased alarmingly during the last decade. We feel sure that Rev. Patterson's views on the subject of what makes a successful home will be interesting and possibly of much help to many of us.

Rev. Patterson has the following to say in regard to his sermons.

Are you concerned about the home life of America? Does it disturb you to note that divorces in America are becoming as frequent as one to every five marriages? And had you thought that for our homes to fall is for our country to fall?

What can be done about it? This much has already been done by our legislature. A law has recently been passed that requires the marriage license to be applied for three days before the marriage ceremony is said. This helps because it gives more time for thought, and at times an opportunity to get sober, and for both parties to change their minds. And the provision of this law that requires the young man to have a certificate of health is a step toward happy and successful marriages.

But the aim of the law is short in establishing successful homes. Law can help, but it cannot do it all. There is need for wide-spread education on the subject of successful home-building. And we need some fresh convictions on the matter of making homes livable. People in general, especially the young and unmarried need to know what it takes to make a home happy. Our policy too long has been to lock the stable after the horse has been

LEE ANNOUNCES For Re-election

R. Q. Lee

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 17TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF TEXAS

In this issue of the Santa Anna News will be found my announcement for re-election to Congress from the 17th Congressional District of Texas for a second term, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, July 28th, 1930.

About two years ago the then Member of Congress from our District having announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election, I announced for the Democratic nomination for that position and was nominated and elected.

For that nomination and election I have a feeling of the deepest gratitude to the people of the 17th District and I have tried to demonstrate that gratitude by rendering the best service of which I am capable to all the people of my District and to the country at large.

There are two sorts of members here, one who does sensational things to attract outside notice and newspaper publicity, the other sort who, by solid devotion to his duty and straightforward dealings with his colleagues, wins their confidence and respect, and inspires in them a kindly concern for his people and for their interest.

To be the latter sort of Congressman has been my ambition and toward that objective I have worked, not only because it is in line with my disposition, but as I see it, it is in line with useful service. I have been elected for now less than eleven months. If you will inquire you will find that I have the confidence of my colleagues here, and you will find that I have been diligent to take care of the duties of my office from the uttermost of smallest concern to the individual citizen to the largest matter of national interest.

I am a candidate for my second term. I had hoped I might have it without opposition. It is impossible to go into the campaign now without a neglect of important duties. Under these circumstances, since I cannot be in the District, I feel that I have a right to appeal, and I do appeal, to the Democrats who believe in the time honored principle of our party to give a man a second term, unless he has done something to forfeit their confidence, and who appreciate the handicap which a new man here labors under during his first term, to give me the fair and usual chance which it is a Democratic principle to give, and I hope it is not asking too much to ask that you take care of my interest until I can get home and have an opportunity to give to you in detail an account of my stewardship.

As soon as I can do so without neglecting the business which you have employed me to attend I will return to the District and make as vigorous a campaign as I can for my second term.

Having lived in the 17th Congressional District for nearly forty years, and being a close student of the needs and development of West Texas, I feel that I can serve my District in a creditable way.

On the basis of faithful service, I most earnestly solicit your vote and influence in the July Democratic Primary.

R. Q. LEE, Member of Congress, 17th District, Texas

IN MEMORY OF MRS. S. E. COLE

One precious heart is gone; The voice we loved is stilled; The place made vacant in our home Can never more be filled.

Our Father, in His wisdom, called The boon His love has given; And though in earth the body lies, The soul is safe in heaven.

Oh, Mother, thy gentle voice is hushed, Thy warm, true heart is still; And on thy pale and peaceful face Is resting death's cold chill.

Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast, We have kissed thy marble brow; And in our aching hearts we know We have no darling mother now.

There was an angel band in heaven That was not quite complete; So God took our dear Mother, To fill the vacant seat.

Through all pain at time she'd smile, A smile of heavenly birth; And when the angel called her home, She smiled farewell to earth.

Heaven retaineth now our treasure, Earth the casket keeper; And the sunbeams long to linger Where our dear Mother sleeps.

Oh, what would I give to clasp her hand, Her dear, kind face to see, To hear her voice, to see her smile That meant so much to me.

Gone is the face we loved so dear, Silent is the voice we loved to hear, Too far away for sight or speech, But not too far for thought to reach.

Sweet to remember her who once was here, And who though absent is just as dear. —"By a dear friend"

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. F. E. FITZGERALD, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, (© 1930 Western Evangelical Union.)

Lesson for February 16

JESUS HEALING AND HELPING

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 9:1-14. GOLDEN TEXT—Himself took our infirmities and bore our sicknesses.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Healing and Helping. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Healing and Helping. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Friend of the Needy. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Meeting Human Needs.

I. Jesus Heals a Leper (9:1-4).

1. The dreadful disease (v. 2). Leprosy, the most loathsome and hopeless disease known, in the Jewish ritual, was regarded as a symbol of sin. As leprosy was incurable by man, so only the divine Physician could cure sin.

2. The leper's faith (v. 2). His cry was most pitiable, but his faith was strong. He fully believed that Jesus was able, but not certain that He was willing to heal him.

3. Jesus' power (v. 3). He put forth His hand and touched the leper, bidding the disease depart, and instantly the man was cleansed.

II. Jesus Heals the Centurion's Servant (9:5-13).

The victim of paralysis is helpless and disqualified for service.

2. The centurion's humility (v. 8). He first sent the Jewish elders and then his friends (Luke 7:3, 6), because he felt his unworthiness.

The case of this servant was so grave that his master brushed aside his timidity and personally appealed to Jesus.

3. The centurion's faith (v. 5, 9). He believed that if Jesus would but speak the word, his servant would be healed.

4. The wonderful power of Jesus (v. 13).

He did not need even to see the helpless man, but only to speak the word and it was done.

III. Jesus Heals Peter's Mother-in-law (9:14, 15).

She was sick of a fever. Jesus was invited into Peter's home to heal this woman. Upon entering the home He touched the hand of the patient and the fever left her, and she arose and ministered unto them.

IV. Jesus Casts Out Demons (9:28-34).

After stilling the tempest, Jesus crossed to the other side of the sea into heathen territory.

1. Met by two men possessed by demons (v. 28).

These men were in a desperate condition (see Mark 5:1-17 and Luke 8:27). So fierce were they that no one could safely pass that way. They wore no raiment and no chains were strong enough to hold them.

2. What they knew about Christ (v. 29). They knew that He was the Son of God and that He had come to destroy the devil and his work. Among the demon there is no doubt as to the deity of Jesus Christ and as to the judgment to come.

3. Christ's power to deliver from the devil (v. 30-32). The demons quailed before Him, not daring to dispute His power.

V. Jesus Heals a Woman With an Issue of Blood (9:20-22).

1. Her helpless condition (v. 20). She had been a great sufferer for twelve long years, not only from the disease, but at the hands of the physicians (Mark 5:26).

2. Her faith (v. 21). Her faith was so strong that she believed contact with the Master's garment would secure the needed help.

3. Her confession (v. 21, cf. Luke 8:47). She thought secretly to get the blessing, but Jesus perceived that virtue had gone out from Him, and had her make a public confession.

4. Christ's words of encouragement (v. 22). He told her that it was her faith, not her touch, that saved her.

VI. Jesus Opening the Eyes of Two Blind Men (9:27-31).

1. Their persistence of faith (v. 28). These poor men had heard of the wonderful works of Jesus. This wrought in them a desire to be healed.

2. The intelligence of faith (v. 27). They cried unto Him as the Son of David, which showed that they recognized Him as the promised Messiah. The prophet had foretold such to be the works of Messiah (Isa. 29:18; 35:5; 42:7).

3. The challenge of faith (v. 28). In reply to His challenge, they gave Him a definite answer.

4. The triumph of faith (v. 29, 30). Their faith brought them into touch with the Lord of life who revealed His power by opening their eyes.

The following were here Sunday to visit D. J. Johnson, a patient in the Sealy Hospital: Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Denney, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Clark, Mr. and Mrs. John Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pettis, Mrs. H. E. Jackson, Mrs. Curry Jackson and Mrs. Irene Griffin, all of Brownwood, and Marvin Atkins and sister, Griffee, of Ballinger.

Mrs. Allison Weaver who has been visiting relatives in Dallas for several weeks returned to her home Monday.

John W. Patterson

John Walter Patterson, 57, died at his home last Sunday very unexpectedly. According to reports Mr. Patterson came to town Sunday morning to consult with the doctors, but failed to find a doctor and returned home. He was complaining but not thought to be seriously ill. About the noon hour he was suddenly overtaken by death, with no one present, except his wife. Neighbors were soon called and Mrs. Patterson found herself surrounded with plenty of friends, though she had lived in Santa Anna a very short time.

According to data at hand, Mr. Patterson was born in the state of Mississippi, March 15, 1872. He came to Texas at the age of twenty and has lived most of his life in Brown county. His home for a number of years was at Winchell, where he raised a family. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson moved here in December and due to the holidays and bad weather since, they had not had an opportunity to get out and form very many acquaintances. Deceased leaves his wife and the following children to mourn his untimely passing: one son in New Mexico, one son in California, one daughter in Big Lake, one daughter in Lamesa and also one step-daughter in Lamesa. All the children are married and living respectable lives. He also leaves a brother in San Antonio, one in Houston and three in the state of Mississippi. Three sisters, Mrs. Ada Cozart, Mrs. C. B. Smith and Mrs. L. C. Hill, are living in Coleman county, and if correctly informed, all live in the vicinity of Tricketham and Whon.

The remains were carried to Brownwood late Monday evening, where interment will be made upon arrival of the children who live at distant points.

TEACHER TO EXECUTIVE IN TWO YEARS

A few years ago he was a country school teacher, drawing a meager salary six or eight months out of the year, and discouraged with the outlook for the future.

Two years later he was Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Arkansas, with an all-the-year-round salary many times that which he had drawn as a teacher. "I'm just beginning my career," he says.

One decision, a little determination, and the encouragement of a far-sighted little wife made this wonderful change in the course of his life. His story may prove helpful to hundreds of others.

Raised on a farm, and having attended country school until he had completed a two-year high school course, Lonzo A. Ross was twenty-one years of age before he "struck out for himself" as a country school teacher. For five years he followed this profession. Then, having taken unto himself a wife, he decided to fit himself for a business position and enrolled at Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

The editor learned while calling at the home Monday evening, that we at one time knew Mr. Patterson and his family and several times have enjoyed the privileges of their good home while they lived at Winchell. One night in particular do we remember being in their home—the night that Zephyr was destroyed by a cyclone, in April 1909. In talking with the grief-stricken Mrs. Patterson, she remembered the occasion, though we had not met before in more than twenty years. The News extends sympathy to the bereaved.

Mission Study

Mrs. Clinton Lowe was hostess to the Presbyterian Mission Study Class on last Monday afternoon. Officers were elected for the year, after which Mrs. W. R. Kelley and Mrs. Van Zandt rendered three chapters from our new text book, "Roads to the City of God."

All members are urged to be present at our next meeting for the study of the remainder of this book. The meeting was profitable and pleasant.

lege, Tyler, Texas.

His first position upon graduation paid him a yearly salary more than three times that which he had drawn as a teacher. The following year he was appointed Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue—a position which he could never have held but for his thorough T. C. C. training.

"At any cost, get a T. C. C. graduate," is his advice to employers. And to teachers and other ambitious young people: "Get a T. C. C. training."

In the big illustrated book, "Achieving Success in Business" are printed scores of stories of men and women who have reached success as a result of training. The book is free. No obligation. Won't you let us send you a copy? Just clip the coupon below and mail it today.

WILL YOU JOIN US IN A CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN?

The writer has travelled over several different states, and has been in most every nook and corner of the great State of Texas, and we don't hesitate to say that no town we have ever visited is more ideally located from nature's own provision than Santa Anna. The physical geography of the town, situated just south of that beautiful mountain for a background, the soil formation and natural drainage, give Santa Anna an advantage, that but few, if any, towns in Texas, or any other state, has, and if the people living here will do their part, Santa Anna can be made one of the most attractive places in the central part of Texas. Our mind at this point reflects back to a statement we heard a lady, who has only been living here for a short time, concerning a letter from a relative in another state. As we remember, it was about as follows: "I wrote a friend in Kansas after moving here to tell them about my new home. And they wrote back and said they also passed through Santa Anna makes an unfavorable impreseight years ago and it impressed them as being a splendid little town but badly neglected from a civic standpoint." This further reminds us of a remark made in our hearing while visiting another west Texas town last year. It was an occasion where several people were gathered from over the country, and of course, every one was speaking of their home towns, especially featuring some of their home town environments and advantages. When we overheard a remark in the assembly that was not directed to us but came as a side-glance. Something like the following: "Gregg lives in a good little town and they are making some very much-needed improvements but apparently most of the people living here have a poor sense of civic pride and attractiveness. It would take every man, woman and child in the town a week to clean it up and haul the junk out and burn it." Now such remarks as that is not very favorable advertising. It is advertising all right, but not the kind we to be appreciated. We would certainly like to have the united support of the town in a general clean-up campaign. Tourists pass through here every day, bound for the west, east, north and south, and the general appearance of the town indicates the kind of people who live here and make up the citizenship. An attractive town certainly makes them about my new home. And a good impression on strangers, they wrote back and said they also passed through Santa Anna makes an unfavorable impres-

son. People see before they speak and usually speak their sentiments.

EXCESSIVE MODESTY

Perhaps you think there is nothing you can do for Santa Anna during the coming year. If so you are modest—by far too modest. First, you can improve the appearance of your own property by inaugurating a weekly "clean-up" system. You'll be surprised at the difference it will make. A few touches here and there will often transform a place. When you see your neighbor doing the same you can encourage him by complimenting him on the improvements he is making. He will feel that his work is appreciated by others and will be more disposed to continue it. Then again he may pass this spirit of fraternity along with like results in other places. You can do much toward instilling a neighborly feeling and comradeship on the part of the people by simply extending a little of your own sunshine to those around you. A pleasant smile on your face invariably brings another one to some other face. How simple it would be to make an endless chain of these smiles and keep them perpetually on the move! And what a wonderful difference it would make in the home life of Santa Anna. There is much that you and everyone can do during 1930—if you will. Modesty is commendable, but one should not carry it to excess.

RADIO-FAN GETS MIXED PROGRAM OVER NEWLY INSTALLED RADIO

Here's an anonymous tittle going the rounds that may remind you of your own experiences:

A man had just installed a radio. He tuned in, getting three stations on the same wave length. One was a minister, one man was telling the condition of the roads, and the third was lecturing on poultry. Here is what he got:

"The Old Testament tells us that your baby chicks should detour one mile south of Salina and listen to the words of the prophets Pysyfy.

Be careful in the selection of your eggs, and you will find hard surfaced roads on to the Garden City. We find in Genesis that the roads are muddy just west of the henhouse and clean straw is essential if you would save your soul. After passing through Leavenworth, turn north to Jerico. The wise men bought a large sized incubator on account made detour. The baby chicks were troubled with the pip and a bond issue is being talked in the Holy City. Keep the feet clean and dry, give a life of righteousness and turn south one mile east of the schoolhouse. Much care should be used in commanding the sun to stand still as there is a wash-out on the bridge just south of Paola, and the road to salvation is under repair, making necessary for 70 degrees in the broodhouse at all times. After you leave Winfield, unless you do these things, the wrath of the Lord will cause pin leathers to fall out and detour one mile south. Many are culled, but few have any luck unless the graveled road between Topka and Lawrence are mixed with the feed. Out of 500 eggs one should get good roads from Coffeyville to Tulsa and He commanded Noah to build the Ark just one mile west of Wichita. It rained forty days and nights and caused an eight mile detour. Just west of the broodhouse many tourists from the House of David are trying Plymouth Rocks mixed with concrete and the desire to do right.

—Joplin Globe.

"HOME-TOWNLETS"

Water seeks its own level. So does civic work. If the aim is high the results will be likewise. Every little improvement, it matters not how little, even a shingle on a roof, a repaired gate, a sidewalk, a house painted, or a new rose made to bloom where once was a weed—any one of these inexpensive little additions to beauty or usefulness might be—who knows?—the tiny straw of decision of someone to come and be one among us as a fellow citizen. Like attracts like; and a good town usually attracts a good citizen.

Quail if left to themselves will lay about twenty eggs for hatching each season; whereas if the eggs are gathered before hatching the birds will lay about sixty eggs in the season.

UNITED STATES COAST GUARD TO HOLD EXAM FOR APPOINTMENTS

An exceptional opportunity is offered young men of the right caliber between 18 and 22 years of age, to complete their education at government expense and to become commissioned officers in the United States Coast Guard, one of the military services of the United States afloat and ashore. Cadets are trained and educated at the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., and each summer are taken on an extended practice cruise. Cadets receive the same pay and allowances as midshipmen in the navy ($780 per annum, quarters, subsistence and medical attendance.) Upon graduation, after completing the prescribed course at the academy, a cadet is eligible to be commissioned an Ensign. Commissioned officers in the Coast Guard rank with officers in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, and receive corresponding pay and allowances, grade for grade.

Educational examination for cadets precedes the physical and takes two days. Applicants for cadetship of the required moral character who present satisfactory certificates that they have completed the equivalent of a four year high school course and have received fourteen credits in subjects prescribed by Coast Guard headquarters are required to take a written examination in mathematics (algebra and geometry), English and history. A high school graduate should be able to pass the examination.

The examination is strictly competitive and is open to young men who possess the qualifications with respect to age, education and character. Examinations will be held at such places throughout the United States where it is found practicable to have examining boards, and the number of candidates warrant.

The successful candidates who are tendered appointments will be required to report to the superintendent of the Coast Guard Academy on or about August 15, 1930. They will be allowed five cents per mile to cover travel expenses from the place of appointment to New London, Conn. Upon arrival at the academy a cadet will be required to deposit the sum of $200 to be applied to the purchase of necessary uniforms and equipment. Pay and allowances received are adequate to cover all expenses while at the academy.

FOR WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN AND LEE

For a few hundred years past, at least, birthday anniversaries of public men, and of all the men and women who have outstanding public accomplishment to their credit, have been selected either as holidays or as events calling for celebration and tribute. Custom and precedent have been the main reasons why this is true.

The question of why the birthday anniversary is thus chosen may be asked. Would not the selection of any other day which marks the culmination of some noble effort serve just as well or better for the closing of banks and public offices and for the general observance in schools and by organizations? For example why not celebrate the calendar day of Washington's inauguration as President? Or why not commemorate Lincoln's Gettysburg address by making a holiday of the anniversary of its deliverance? Or, why not declare a time for observance of the day of one of the greatest sacrifices of history, namely, the day on which Robert E. Lee took command of the Confederate armies? All of these events took place because of noble characters and after great struggles. One answer may be that it would be difficult for all people or enough people to agree upon the one greatest event. With such a difference of opinion and variation of sentiment confusion undoubtedly would result.

Many of us mentally celebrate and commemorate the many happenings in the lives of those of high achievement at various times of the year. Indeed, if the only time we are reminded of the men and women who have been makers of history is on the respective occasions of their birthday anniversaries, it would seem that their accomplishment do not reach very deeply into our hearts nor serve very strongly to impress upon us the ideals for which they stood and worked and lived.

"HELLO, WORLD!"

"Doggone These Chain Stores"

There is lots being said about Chain Stores, and I endorse everything Mr. Henderson is doing and I am going to join him in this, the biggest campaign that has ever been launched in behalf of the people.

Who would want to live in a community dominated by foreign corporations, sapping it to death, by taking all the money out of the country and not putting one cent back?

I understand that some of my friends have been misinformed, or, are under the wrong impression as to the kind of store I am operating, and it gives me pleasure to avail myself of this opportunity to call your attention to my slogan—"A Santa Anna Institution" owned and operated by me, personally—and it has ever been a pleasure to me to give of my time, means and service to the upbuilding and progress of Santa Anna and surrounding community. I also wish to take this opportunity to thank my many friends for their loyalty and patronage for the past 20 years.

The difference in the system of the store I am now operating and the former system is just a step forward in modern merchandising, which enables me to sell merchandise cheaper and meet any chain store prices.

Baptist Church

Sunday was a good day with us even though the night crowd was smaller than usual. We had four additions Sunday morning.

I would call every member of this church and every lover of righteousness to prayer for our revival meeting which will begin March 16. I feel a deep need for a thorough-going community wide revival that will touch the lives of men and women and make them what they ought to be. This kind of meeting comes as an answer to much prayer. When we become dissatisfied with our lives and low standard then—and only then—will we pray with importunity. God is living and will answer prayer.

Regular services next Sunday with the pastor preaching at both hours. Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening.

The life of Christ in pictures will be shown at prayer meeting Wednesday evening, February 19. A general invitation is hereby extended to all to attend this service.

NEW YORK—Educators of Columbia University have drawn a picture of the perfect child.

According to their ideas, some of the qualities of the perfect youngster of from two to six are: Goes to school willingly. Knows a funny story when he hears one. Knocks down little girls who snatch his hat. Hangs up his clothes without being told. Sometimes pretends he is a fire engine or a bear. Can lace his own shoes and tie a bow. Says "please" and "thank you" without urging. Voluntarily shakes hands if he likes your looks. Accepts punishment without

One cow producing 500 pounds of butterfat a year is just as profitable as 14 cows each producing 100 pounds a year—and one cow means considerably less work. A study of the record of 152,000 cows on test in 1928 in dairy herd improvement associations showed a rapid gain in income over cost of feed as butterfat production advanced from 100 to 500 pounds a year. The cows in the groups having an average production of 100 pounds a year returned an average income over cost of feeding of $15. At 200 pounds the income above feed cost was $64; at 300 pounds, $113; at 400 pounds, 165; and at 500 pounds, $215.

CELEBRITIES OF STAGE AND SCREEN JOIN FORCES IN NEW SOUND FILM

Four of the biggest personalities of stage and screen are responsible for the success of "His Glorious Night," John Gilbert's latest starring vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which will be at the Queen Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, as a new dialogue feature.

Ferenc Molnar, who wrote "Olympia," the play of Continental intrigue, from which "His Glorious Night" was adapted, is one of Europe's foremost stage craftsmen and a playwright of international note. Wilard Mack, who adapted it for the talking screen, is a veteran actor, writer, producer and director of the New York theatre. Lionel Barrymore, distinguished actor, and now pioneer talkie director, is responsible for the splendid direction of the picture, and John Gilbert, perhaps the screen's most popular star, played the leading role.

Katherine Dale Owen is the leading lady. In the supporting cast are Nance O'Neil, Hedda Hoper, Richard Carle and others.

How Ford Methods Cut Cost of Distribution

Lower profits in selling save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in manufacturing

TWENTY-SEVEN years ago the Ford Motor Company was formed to provide reliable, economical transportation for all the people. That original purpose has never changed. The constant effort in every activity is to find ways to give you greater and greater value without extra cost—frequently at lowered cost. This applies to distribution and similar important factors, as well as manufacture.

For the Ford Motor Company believes that its full duty is not only to make a good automobile at the lowest possible price, but to see that there is no waste, extravagance, or undue profit in any transaction from the time the car leaves the factory until it is delivered to your home. It is obvious that hard-won savings in production will be of little value if they are sacrificed later through excessive selling costs.

EVERY purchaser of a motor car has the right to know how much of the money he pays is for the car itself and how much is taken up by dealer charges. If these charges are too high, one of two things must happen. Either the price of the car must be raised or the quality lowered. There is no other way. The money must come from somewhere.

In the case of the Ford, the low charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories mean a direct saving of at least $50 to $75 to every purchaser in addition to the still greater savings made possible by economies in manufacturing. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

The profit margin on the Ford car has always been fair to both the dealer and the public. Within the past three months, it has been possible to effect still further economies. Today, the discount or commission of the Ford dealer is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

The business of the Ford dealer is good because he makes a small profit on a large number of sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales. He knows, too, that the extra dollar-for-dollar value of the car makes it easier to sell and more certain to give satisfactory service after purchase.

Consider also that the Ford car is delivered to the purchaser equipped with a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, an extra steel-spoke wheel, and bright, enduring Rustless Steel for many exterior metal parts, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes.

If for any reason you wish to buy certain small accessories, you will find that these, too, are sold at the usual Ford low prices. Replacement parts are also available at low prices through Ford dealers in every section of the country.

THESE are important points to remember in considering the purchase of a motor car. They show why it is possible to put so much extra quality into the new Ford and still maintain the low price. They are also the reasons why more than 35% of all cars sold today are Model A Fords.

Helping Build Texas

Some turkey raisers are turning over to chickens as the result of unsatisfactory prices received last season, and interest in the poultry industry in Texas continues to grow. The Imperial Poultry Farm at Odessa, representing an investment of $100,000 to its owners, is one of the largest in the Southwest. J. T. Lassiter, Fort Worth, and J. T. Donnell, Odessa, are the owners. J. T. Simmons, Denton, started in the poultry business in 1928. At the beginning of 1929 he had 1,700 hens. At the end of 1929 he had sold $3,600 worth of chickens and eggs, but his flock had grown to 2,900. His business showed a net profit of $1,200 for the year. The Smithville all-electric hatchery, capacity 15,000 eggs, is ready for the 1930 hatch. Central Power and Light is providing to take care of 100 carloads of perishables with a new cold-storage plant at Brownsville. One department will be to conduct experiments on preservation of food products grown in that territory.

In 1929, Texas brought in 5,101 producing wells and 874 gas wells. Dry wells numbered 3,333.
