January 1st, the beginning of the new year, we are adopting a strictly cash policy in all departments of our store. In discontinuing the old method of extending credit and adopting a more modern method, we are keeping pace with the times, doing you and ourselves a favor. But few people now adays expect to buy their supplies on credit, and most people had rather pay cash as they go, thus eliminating the annoyance of Bill Collectors on the first of the month. When you pay as you go, you always know your financial standing. Business will be more pleasurable and satisfactory to both buyer and seller under the modern plan, and all the better stores have adopted the strictly cash system. It eliminates losses, bookkeeping and collecting expenses and also enables us to operate with less overhead. By eliminating losses, cutting down our force of helpers, buying for cash and selling for cash, we can sell goods cheaper and therefore give our customers better values for their money. No uptodate stores use the credit system any more, and we have decided to adopt the more modern method of merchandising. We know we can sell good merchandise as cheap as any store when selling strictly for cash, and we solicit your patronage on these terms.

If his bad, It ought to be equally had for wom-If women are to be ladged as absolutely until for decent society because they "sow wild oats," then men, too, must be held as strictly personal accountable for their morn) yardstick."

"But' I had no idea there was anything but a single standard, thousands of years we have had two moral standards growing out he determined when her conduct be old enough to read about the origin and evolution of the customs of mankind and you'll see just why and how we have arrived at a for of our modern ideas of morals. The very word, you know, comes from the Latin mores, mentalic custom. ever was the castem then of a given people growing out of a long experience, gradually became their morals. Today, the marals of the world are the result of the best ex-perience of utilions and billions of individuals and with man's proggressive apprelicusion of truth and goodness and the new and exalted place of women in society a single standard of morals is dayning. "Why, for instance, should a man, because he is a male, be granted the privilege of running wild for a period of his youth, especially in the realm of sex relalonships and demanding, after he this sown, his 'wild outs,' as they say, that some sweet and pure and absolutely clean woman become his wife and the mother of his chil-dren. History is full, my boy, of the suddest stories ever penned of the horrible consequences of such a standard—homes wrecked, lives thyolided, crippled and blind and diseased children by the hundreds, absolutely innocent of any wrongdoing because society winked its while at the same time the same society would burst into a wild over the presence in their mistake or more often was a victim of circumstances over which she had no control.

"Schools always have had bad boys in varying numbers. Perhans. we should call them ignorant, unfortunate boys. They have just been accepted as in the natural course of events, but let school discover one bad girl in its student body and there are no words to describe the indignation of society. Strange, isn't it? Now, son, I'm in no way making an alibi for the undestrable girl. There were two in my high school in my day that simply spread consternation throughout the city, but I am trying to show you the injustice of the double standard. In the realm of moral conduct there should be no privileged class, in fact there dare not be for the health and

"You expect only to associate with high-minded, clean, morally desirable girls without any past. Girls have exactly the same right to demand of you boys that you be above reproach and that never means being 'sissy.' It means manhood at its very best; big, "strong, vigorous, clear-eyed manhood that is absolutely unashamed because there are no ghosts of nasty deeds haunting.

"And Bob, with the so-called emancipation of woman, it is interesting to note that it is they who are demanding now their full benefits from a slugle standard and many women are saying, 'Why, if it's all right for the men to smoke cignrettes it must be all right for the women and who will say but that such a stand is at teast fust.

"It has always been one of the prides of the Smithhoughs, my boy, that womankind has been respect ed and bonored above all else. There are no family ghosts. can bear the name proudly, but keep in mind that the privilege is an obligation.
