Rival Greek Factions Clash On Eve Of Crucial Plebiscite

Royalists Claim US Warships To Return King

ATHENS, Aug. 31. (AP)—New Communist-Royalist clashes killed 31 persons in the last 48 hours; the government announced tonight on the eve of the plebiscite on returning exiled King George II to his throne.

The Ministry of Public Order charged that Communist hands in the latest two attacks killed 10 soldiers and civilians. Hundreds of persons have died in recent months in Communist-Royalist disorders.

The Royalist-dominated government, confident that Soviet blasts loosed against it had only assured the king's victory, tomorrow, began preparations to welcome the monarch, whose arrival has been set tentatively for Sept. 14. Royalist circles said the king would fly to Alexandria from London, and come home aboard a Greek warship escorted by British and American warships.

In Washington, neither the State Department nor Navy would comment on the report that US warships would escort the Greek king. However, officials who declined to be quoted by name said privately they knew nothing of such a plan.

The government declared that in the latest violence a Communist band attacked a gendarmerie station at Platycambo in Thessaly. The station was set ablaze and three soldiers, one gendarme and two civilians were killed, the reports said.

Reviewing The Big Spring - Week - Joe Pickle

It didn't rain—very much—but cooler weather is here. In the north of the past week qualifies as the first northerly under C. H. McDaniel's first frost forecast system, we can't be due a freeze until the last week in November. Without more rain, however, it could hold off until March without frosting and not help anyone but the hay fever fans.

There is always some consolation in adversity. The Soil Conservation Service reports one of its cooperators happily admits his terraces haven't broken once since being constructed in the spring. We wouldn't mention it hasn't rained.

When police picked up a man on suspicion here last week, they contacted Odessa to see if the car in his possession was stolen. Police there awoke the owner, who didn't even know it was missing. That's a pleasant way to lose a car.

Lions and American Legion members will contest each other on Sept. 12-13 in donkey softball games. In case you don't know, fielders are mounted on the indifferent beasts while batters are obliged to grapple with fractious ones in running bases. For convenience of the audience, Lions and Legionnaires will be labeled.

All indications point to a record enrollment in schools when they open Tuesday. High school alone may have more than 1,000 students. Some schools will be so crowded that double day (one section of a class mornings, one afternoons) will be necessary. Teacher supply is still a critical point.

Now that the Big Spring By-Products company, a rendering plant and new industry, has begun operations, the need for another industry—a feed mill—is emphasized. While tankage from the process can be utilized by individuals in feed mixing, it should be

Stormy Congress Probes Cost Of Living Riots Breaking Out In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 31. (AP)—The Brazilian congress raged through the stormiest session in history tonight to inquire into the cause of the current cost of living riots which already have taken a toll of one death and more than 100 casualties, and was informed that a Communist deputy, arrested in connection with the disorders, had been released.

Molotov Heads Home; Russian Claims Approved

PARIS, Aug. 31. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov left the peace conference today by plane for Moscow, French Foreign Ministry circles said tonight. It was believed the Russian leader would spend a few days at a Kremlin meeting before returning to the conference, which today approved Big Four recommendations on Soviet reparations from Romania and cession of Franco-Italian border areas to France. The Russian embassy, where Molotov has been staying, could not be contacted late tonight for confirmation of the foreign minister's departure.

Molotov failed to appear at any commission meetings today and said news agency representative said he believed he had left for consultations in the Kremlin. In the most harmonious sessions of the 20-nation conference, the economic commission for the Balkans endorsed Russia's claim for $300,000,000 in reparations from Romania and the Italian political commission approved award of the Mont Cenis and Briga-Tenda regions to France.

BATHING SUITS NOT NICE, SAYS MISS TENNESSEE

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 31. (AP)—Miss Tennessee of 1946 will take her bathing suit along to the "Miss America" contest—but she still doesn't like the idea. "If the judges want me to pose in a bathing suit I will do it," said 18-year-old Wilda Bowman.

"But frankly, I don't think it's nice." The redheaded beauty yesterday refused to pose in swimming trunks for a news photographer. She said she never had posed in a bathing suit and hoped she never had to.

Wilda said she had an "understanding" that she wouldn't have to wear a bathing suit at the contest. But Lenore Slaughter, director of the Atlantic City Beauty pageant, said she had telegraphed the Tenn. entrant that failure to appear in a bathing suit would disqualify her.

Said Wilda: "I'll abide by the rules. But I still don't like it."

Caso March To Teach Law Course At Baylor FORT WORTH, Aug. 31. (AP)—Caso March, defeated candidate for Texas governor, had nothing to say about his future political plans here today but announced that he would teach law at Baylor University this coming year. "From then on don't be surprised at anything," March said and refused to elaborate.

Brazilian Army troops took strategic stations throughout the city to prevent the municipal turbulence from reaching the violent pitch of last night and early today when mobs roamed the streets smashing store fronts, battling police shock troops and causing damage estimated at thousands of dollars.

Sen. Getulio Vargas, former president of Brazil, fiercely answered charges that his regime—which ended last October—is responsible for Brazil's crisis. He challenged his accusers to meet him outside the building and then stalked out.

While one deputy was accusing the Vargas regime of responsibility for the disorders, the Rev. Arruda Camara, a Catholic priest, and congressman, arrested Deputy Mario Lins in the nose. Some sources said that living costs had increased 300 per cent in Brazil since 1944 and that irate white-collar workers had joined high school students and overall wearers in the original demonstrations that led to the riots.

Final Election Results Released

DALLAS, Aug. 31. (AP)—The final tabulation of the Texas Election Bureau released today, with all of Texas' 254 counties complete, showed that 1,061,356 votes had been cast in the Aug. 24 runoff primary in the governor's race, Beauford Jester receiving 700,178 to Homer P. Rainey's 261,178.

Rainey carried four counties. They were Lavaca, Loving, Travis and Zapata. Of the four, only two had given him more votes than Jester in the July primary—his home county, Travis, and Lavaca county. Loving and Zapata switched to him in the runoff.

Sixteen counties had given Rainey more votes than Jester in the July election. They were Atascosa, Aransas, Austin, Brooks, Dickens, Ector, El Paso, Fayette, Howard, Hutchinson, Jefferson, Kleberg, Lavaca, McLennan, Travis and Willbarger.

Carpenters Race To Build Vet Home

HOUSTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—Thirty carpenters started a three-day building marathon today which they hope to wind up before sundown on Labor Day by presenting to war-blinded James Sanders a home of his own.

This will be the house that Houston built. One month ago Sanders, 36-year-old cabinet maker who suffered complete loss of sight when a mine exploded in Holland, was to be evicted from the rent house where he lived with his wife and 15-year-old daughter. Under the leadership of the disabled American Veterans, people throughout the city began donating sums of money to finance a home for the family. A $4,000 goal was soon reached.

Walter Gentry Drops Dead Of Heart Attack

Walter Gentry, 64, night clerk at the Tex Hotel, dropped dead suddenly of a heart attack about midnight Friday night. Only known survivors is a son, Morris "Reuben" Gentry of Las Vegas, Nev., who is on his way here to claim the body. Arrangements are in charge of the Nalley Funeral home. Gentry had lived here in Big Spring about three or four years.

Nelson Appeals To Stalin For Policy Statement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—Donald M. Nelson, wartime chief of production in the United States, has sent Marshal Stalin a personal plea for peace based on trade and a "more complete expression of policies and objectives" between this country and Russia.

Nelson made the appeal in a letter to Stalin. He wrote it as a hypothetical letter, then decided actually to send it. It was dispatched through the Russian embassy more than a week ago. No reply has been received.

The former war production board chairman proposed that a commission of American businessmen go to Russia—an idea he discussed with Stalin on a wartime visit to Moscow—study Soviet needs, plan with Russian agents a method of payment by barter if necessary, and develop trade, "on an unprecedented scale."

His proposal was based in part on the replenishment of war-depleted American stocks of some important raw materials, out of Russian surplus.

Harking back to a conversation with Stalin at the Kremlin, Nelson recalled: "I think that we shared the conviction that nothing could be more catastrophic than a conflict between the only two great powers which had never fought each other."

CITY TO TAKE FULL HOLIDAY

Big Spring knocks off Monday for a full holiday on Labor Day. Banks, public offices, most business houses, and other institutions were planning to close shop at the end of Saturday's business until Tuesday morning. No formal activity was planned here. Only planned recreational event was the annual Big Spring Invitational golf tournament in progress at the Country Club. Some rodeo fans likely will go to Midland Monday afternoon for a matched roping event. There will be considerable picnicking, but more rest and quiet. The Herald, too, is taking a holiday, and there will be no paper published Monday.

Ukraine Attempts To Influence Vote, Greeks Charge

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 31. (AP)—The Greek government today charged Dmitri Manuilsky, Ukrainian foreign minister, with attempting to influence tomorrow's plebiscite in Greece in violation of the United Nations charter. Ambassador Vassili Dendramis, Greek representative to the UN, said in a sharply worded oral statement that Manuilsky's aim in bringing a complaint against Greece and Great Britain before the UN was to influence the plebiscite. He then quoted the charter as saying that the United Nations "are not entitled to interfere in the internal affairs of a member."

Dendramis termed the Ukrainian complaint a series of "wild accusations put forward for propaganda purposes." The ambassador also charged that "bands of anarchists in close connection with the enemies of my country received arms and ammunition from abroad and are seeking to overthrow the government and enforce a regime of terror."

While delegates questioned whether the complaint could muster enough votes to reach the council floor in its present form.

New Mexico Congress Goes Into Power

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31. (AP)—Mexico's congress dissolved itself today and a new one is ready tomorrow to hear President Avila Camacho review his sixth year in power. Both houses will continue examining credentials until the 58 senate and 174 chamber seats have been accounted for.

Once the chamber is complete it will organize as an electoral college to canvass the vote for president. Returns announced by the Official (PRI) Party gave Miguel Aleman a four-to-one majority over Ezequiel Padilla.

DENIES HE IS A CORPSE—Paul F. "Nat" Goodwin, 43, shines his car, very much alive at his Boston home after it was revealed that he was supposedly buried in the family plot in Milton, Mass., six weeks ago after his "death" in Bridgeport, Conn., July 4. Goodwin lacks a toe on his left foot, so did the dead man. The live Goodwin recalls that his wallet and identification papers were stolen four months ago and thinks the dead Goodwin, who gave the name Goodwin to police before he died, may have impersonated. The mixup came to light when friends from Milton met Goodwin in Boston. Now the other man's relatives want the other body removed. (AP Wirephoto).

Investigators Blame Official Interference For Prolonging War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—The Senate War Investigating Committee today blamed "interference" by military procurement officers and "conflicts" between government officials for administrative weaknesses which it said prolonged the war.

In its fifth annual report reviewing five and a half years activity, the special committee asserted: "More businesslike administrative methods in the armed forces during the emergency would have brought the war to a victorious conclusion at an earlier date, with less cost in life, dollars and natural resources."

The senators urged that the government profit by the experiences and mistakes of the past war in planning for any future emergencies. To achieve a strong national defense the committee offered eight recommendations:

1. Organize a highly trained armed force equipped with the most modern weapons, capable of rapid expansion in emergencies, and stressing quality rather than quantity.
2. Establish an Army-Navy promotion system to insure that the best qualified men get the most responsible positions.
3. Develop a workable "M-Day" mobilization plan for war industries.
4. Draw up a guide for the operations of governmental controls of war production.
5. Stockpile strategic materials.
6. Institute an immediate program for the acquisition or use of strategic overseas bases.
7. Establish a superior intelligence agency in both military and non-military fields.
8. Improve administrative procedures in the armed forces, eliminating weakness in procurement and supply.

Hitt Named Coach Of Coahoma School

EX-WARLORDS TIRED AND MOSTLY FRIGHTENED

Nuernberg, Aug. 31. (AP)—Twenty-one henchmen of Adolf Hitler will learn their fate Sept. 23, the International Military Tribunal announced today after hearing them rant defiantly or plead for mercy in their last gestures to escape the gallows. Defense attorneys said 12 of the defendants expected to be hanged, three thought they would escape, and six still have hopes.

Some in their final statements turned savagely on Hitler, branding him the only real criminal. Others reaffirmed belief in the Fuehrer. Some asked that even if they were not spared, the German people be acquitted so that Germany

Recommends No Control On Tobacco Products, Poultry Or Eggs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson took price ceilings off a long list of fresh, canned and frozen fruits and vegetables today, at least for the month of September.

Beyond that, Anderson recommended in effect that the decontrol board not put ceilings back on poultry and eggs or tobacco and its products.

He kept hands off the issue of whether dairy products should be put back under curbs, reporting merely that there are not enough of them to go around.

He took brandy out from under ceilings. And he sent OPA thumping through lists of thousands of processed items and by-products to see which of them also come out from under ceilings. Such an item, in order to be held under ceilings, must contain at least 20 percent of a product which itself is subject to control.

All this the agriculture secretary accomplished without directly affirmative action. All he did was put out the department's first monthly list of "agricultural commodities in short supply" as required by the new price control law.

The law itself did the rest by its requirement that ceilings automatically come off any farm item which does not appear on that list.

The "short supply" list itself included, among many other commodities, hogs and cattle, milk and butterfat most fats and oils, jams and jellies, and fish. That listing made them eligible for controls. These items appeared on the ceiling-free list:

- Fresh lemons, grapefruit, peaches, apples and tangerines.
- Fresh snap beans, cantaloupes, carrots, lettuce, onions, spinach, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.
- Canned peas, lima beans, asparagus and mixed vegetables.
- Frozen lima beans, corn, green peas and asparagus.
- Canned apricots, plums, and prunes.
- Frozen fruits.
- Dried apples, and other apple products, except canned apples, apple butter and apple sauce.
- Cranberries, Concord grape products, hay, tobacco, wool, edible tree nuts, hops, popcorn, broom corn, gum rosin, beeswax, peppermint and spearmint oil, peanuts and peanut products, except oil and meal.

OPA officials said tobacco, poultry and eggs still might go back under ceilings. Dairy products from which Congress also lifted price controls, were left ceiling-free after Decontrol Board hearings. But Anderson included milk and butterfat in the "short supply" list. Also on that list were wheat and corn, leaving a product containing 20 percent of more of those grains eligible for control.

The car rolled over twice. Patterson was hurled 15 feet. Wayne Allen, 20, of Los Alamos, N.M., was injured. Patterson's wife is from Marshall, Texas.

Industries Near Production High, CPA Announces

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—The country's basic industries, straining to catch up with public demand for goods, have nearly reached the limit to their capacity. The civilian production administration in reporting this last night said that having attained "continuous, high level" output, steel, coal, rails and the power industry cannot push much higher in the near future.

Even so, CPA Chief John D. Sall said "what means that industry is within sight of full production of finished goods if industrial peace continues." On durable-consumption goods, here are the figures for July and June and the pre-war (1940-41) monthly rate:

Local Prescriptions Available To Vets In New Contract

The Veterans Administration has signed a contract with the Texas State Pharmaceutical association to provide "home town" prescription to veterans with service-connected disabilities, Ray Boren, local VA officer, announced Saturday.

Under the contract, authorized druggists will submit their bills to the state association which in turn will be reimbursed by the Veterans administration.

Dr. Oza J. La Barge, Chief Medical Officer for the West Texas VA Regional office, stated recently that the VA had been furnished with a list of local pharmacists authorized to fill prescriptions for vets. Designated physicians are, in turn, being sent a list of the authorized pharmacists. The service is available only to veterans with service-connected disabilities, he emphasized.

The program is designed to reduce the reported delays which arose when all prescriptions from fee-basis physicians had to be mailed to the nearest VA office and then sent to the veterans by mail.

Under the new project, eligible veterans simply take the prescription to their neighborhood drug store and the VA pays the bill.

Neff Had Personal Touch--Took Campaign Into Virgin Territory

PAT M. NEFF

(This is the 26th in a series of articles based on the lives of governors of Texas.)

By PAUL BOLTON

AUSTIN—Pat M. Neff made a campaigning "like courting." He made it an individual contest and he had the personal touch. Neff was the twenty-sixth governor of Texas.

Patrick Morris Neff, like James (Farmer Jim) Ferguson, stumbled into the race for governor on his own hook.

Neff, himself says that no one asked him to run, that he didn't ask anyone's permission, that he was just a free-born American and a native son of Texas without a conference with or advice from anyone. He says that he had no political alignments, that no political leaders had any interest in him and that he knew no wires to pull or buttons to push to make him governor.

Neff did have the human touch and that's where he pulled wires and pushed buttons. Pat M. Neff really campaigned in Texas. He recognized the fact that it was a long way from Texarkana to El Paso and he set out to cover it. Neff drove his car 6,000 miles and without few blowouts. He spoke approximately 850 times and stopped to shake hands at every place he passed where Texas life stirred. He was serious but at the same time the campaign proved a lark for Neff. He says frankly that the whole campaign was a "big bright day."

Pat Neff took his speech making to virgin territory. He spoke in 37 counties where there had never been a governor or a candidate for governor. At Laredo, Neff was told that the town was 200 years old and had never had a candidate for governor there until Neff showed up. And in Leon county, he was told that he was the first candidate for governor to speak there since Sam Houston more than 65 years before.

That was the way Pat Neff campaigned for governor in 1920. The opposition dubbed him "the wild man from Waco" but Neff talked to the people whom he termed as those who think straight and vote right and they made him governor in the run-off against Bailey by more than 179,000 votes of the 448,777 cast.

Neff was inaugurated on Jan. 18, 1921. Neff obtained his first schooling in a neighborhood school house between crops. He graduated from McGregor high school and from Baylor University in 1893. He taught school a couple of years and then entered the University of Texas to get his law degree.

Neff served as a member of the legislature for several sessions and house in 1903. McClellan county knew him as prosecuting attorney for six years. He was President of the Conference for Education of Texas for a number of years and was Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Texas in 1918 and '19. In 1920 Neff was offered the presidency of the University of Texas but turned it down because his ambition was turning him towards the governor's office.

Neff's only campaign pledge was unique and certainly interesting. He simply promised to "make Texas a better place in which to live." Neff had little trouble in getting a second term and probably could have had a third had he wanted it. He held the office of governor sacred and believed that he had much to do to live up to his predecessors, especially James Hogg. His text was: "Governors may come and governors may go, but the governor's office should go on forever in its pristine purity and power."

Neff's administration was not spectacular. He championed a system of state parks, preached economic progress, abolished the pardon board, worked for harnessing Texas rivers, the building of cotton and woolen mills and believed wholeheartedly in keeping Texas money in Texas. He never vetoed an appropriation bill for education.

When Pat Neff delivered his farewell address to the legislature, he delivered part of it to Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, the only woman ever to serve as governor of Texas, who was following Neff into office.

Neff said to her: "When you go down to the office, the people's office which a few moments ago I vacated, you will find I cleared it of all except three things. I left hanging above your chair for that hope, help and inspiration that come from lofty ideas and sacrificial service, the portrait of Woodrow Wilson. By your side you will observe a white flower, emblematic, I hope, of pure motives that will prompt your every act. On your working desk

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT 1:

Accept my thanks for the support you gave me in the recent election, and for the support you have given me in the past. It has been a pleasure to serve you, and for all of your co-operation I am very grateful. Sincerely yours,

J. E. (ED) BROWN (Pd. Pol. Adv.)

Whitney Dam Held Up By Curtailment

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Lt. Gen. R. A. Wheeler, chief of army engineers, notified the office of Rep. Poage (D-Tex.) today that the recent government order curtailing public works would prevent immediate construction on the proposed $20,000,000 Whitney dam on the Brazos river in Texas.

Both Poage and Sen. Connally (D-Tex.) had written Wheeler emphasizing the urgency of flood control on the Brazos and pointing out that congress has appropriated $2,000,000 to begin work.

In his reply, Wheeler said the war department "clearly recognizes the importance of the Whitney dam and reservoir project" and had made plans for beginning work soon, but that the curtailment order will prevent commencing such work now.

More than half of the proved oil reserves of the United States are concentrated in Texas.

VA Clearing Problems Through Lubbock Office

Problems relating to Veterans Administration work are now being cleared through the Lubbock Regional office, according to Ray Boren, local VA officer.

Veterans of 81 counties in West Texas are included in the territory extending from the Panhandle border on the north to the Big Bend country on the south, and from Abilene on the east to El Paso on the west.

Robert W. Sisson, manager of the West Texas VAV Regional office, has said, "We want the veteran who lives in the farthest parts of this region to feel that this office is as much his as the veteran who is living in Lubbock. Our services go out equally to the veteran from the forks of the creek and the veteran who works in the First National Bank."

Of the eleven divisions in the VA regional office, the Adjudication division is possibly of most interest to those veterans who have suffered a service-connected disability, or service-aggravated disability. It is this division that decides the amount of compensation the VA may pay to those victims of war, and it also determines a veteran's eligibility for VA hospitalization.

Within this region there are some 28,000 veterans in receipt of disability compensation from this office, and new claims are coming in at the rate of 30 to 40 daily.

Palmer Appointed Postmaster At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 31.—Official announcement was made here this week of the appointment of Sims Palmer as Colorado City postmaster. Palmer's appointment is effective Sept. 1. He will succeed Joe Y. Fraser, veteran post-office worker, who died suddenly at his desk last February. Fraser had been with the US Postal Service since 1905, had been in the local post office since 1913, and had served as postmaster since 1934.

The newly appointed postmaster, Palmer, is a native of Forrester, Ellis county, and has lived in Mitchell county since 1906. A former student of Texas A&M college he is a veteran of World War I, and a former County Agricultural Agent at Anson, Crosbyton, and Seymour. In 1933 he became Land Bank appraiser for the Tenth district of Texas and through the recent war was secretary-treasurer of Colorado National Farm Loan Association during the leave-of-absence of Harold Bennett, USN Chief Petty Officer.

BENJAMIN O. MURPH

The responsibility of handling this tremendous task rests on the shoulders of Benjamin O. Murph, as Adjudication officer. He is a veteran of both World Wars I and II, having served in the first war with the infantry and signal corps in France. He was recently separated from the Army after six years service in the last war. College Plans Vet Courses

In order to meet the educational needs of many returning GIs, the Howard County Junior College is undertaking to develop a series of non-college credit classes for young men who lack high school diplomas.

During the past week there have been a number of young men in this category who have approached E. C. Dodd, president of the Howard County Junior college, for help.

As a result, said Dodd, plans are underway to set up special instruction for these students. Tentatively, it is contemplated that such courses may be taken with the understanding that final examinations also will constitute college entrance credit.

Thus, it would be possible for the student to satisfy requirements for high school credit while taking work in college with students of like age and maturity. The way likely would be opened for the student to progress as rapidly as possible, rather than being retarded by class levels.

Saturday brought word from the US Engineers that the college finally had been granted right of entry and four engineers, together with two War Assets Administration representatives are due here Tuesday to confer with Dodd. Another bright spot was word that final approval for GI training had been granted the college as of Aug. 23.

On other fronts, the college is shaping up for the opening on Sept. 30. Dodd announced acquisition of 200 tablet arm chairs from the bombardier school, and others are on order.

Among instructors due over the weekend are Leon G. Bush, Greeley, Colo., instructor in social studies; Betty Hoyer, Coleman, home making (part time with high school); M. J. Field, Austin, formerly with state board of education, to be dean. J. F. Jones, head of the department of business administration, and Stanley Cameron, coordinator of on-the-job training, are already here.

Record Crowds Due In Midland For Roping Event

MIDLAND, Aug. 31.—Midland's fifth annual Labor Day world-championship calf roping contests will get underway here at 2 p. m. Monday, with a record holiday crowd expected.

Officials of Midland Fair, Inc., sponsors of the event, said all arrangements are complete, the stock is in the pens and the arena and grounds are in perfect condition for the big attraction.

Toots Mansfield of Big Spring and Rankin, present world's champion calf roper, will defend his title against Homer Pettigrew of Grady, N. M., runnerup to Mansfield for the calf roping championship in 1945. Mansfield, one of the top ropers of all times, has held the world's championship the last five years.

The two champions will rope and tie 12 calves each for a purse of $2,000. Wild Brahma calves from the Haley Ranch at Seymour will be used in the championship match.

Howard Westfall of Sheffield will meet Jim Espy of Fort Davis in a special matched roping event which is attracting wide attention. Wild Mexican steers from the Caruthers Ranch at Ozona will be used in this contest. Westfall and Espy are two of the world's best-known steer ropers. A purse of $1,000 is offered.

The Colorado City high school band, under the direction of R. P. Rose, will furnish music for the holiday attraction.

A jack-pot calf roping contest, open to all cowboys, is attracting ropers from a wide area of West Texas and New Mexico.

Discrepancies In Receipts Reported At Sanatorium

AUSTIN, Aug. 31 (AP)—State Auditor C. H. Cavness today reported that an audit investigation has disclosed a deficiency of "specials" laundry receipts at the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Sanatorium, Tex.

Cavness said the matter had been brought to the attention of the office of the state board of control "for any further investigation and action they deem necessary."

In his audit report covering the period Sept. 1, 1941, to Aug. 31, 1945, Cavness declared that no record was being maintained of the production of the sanatorium's laundry.

The major part of production is for the hospital, but in addition the laundry employees were also doing a considerable amount of cleaning and pressing for patients known as "specials," the report stated.

By questioning several employees we learned that a portion of these "specials" were done for others without charge.

The western hemisphere has supplied 77 percent of the world's oil production since 1859.

Coahoma School To Open Tuesday

Although short a grade school principal and an elementary teacher, the Coahoma schools will open Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. when E. C. Dodd, president of the Howard County Junior college will address a combined assembly of all grades.

M. R. Turner, superintendent, has 16 instructors engaged, including one for the restored vocational agriculture department.

First faculty meeting is set for 9:30 a. m. Monday.

Turner announced H. J. Hitt as high school principal; J. V. Thompson as coach and math teacher; Mrs. Thompson, English; Frances Kelsey, commercial; Marie Kelsey, band; Mrs. M. R. Turner, home-making and math; Ralph Marshall, science and assistant coach; Paul Sweet, vocational agriculture (the department is resuming full time after being inactivated since 1942).

Elementary school instructors are Mrs. Swan Cramer, first; Mrs. Showalter, second; Mrs. Grady Acuff, third; Mrs. Hitt, fourth; Miss McCollum, fourth; Mrs. Minnie Birkhead, fifth; Mrs. Blanche James, sixth; Mrs. Eleanor Garrett.

The eighth grade will be moved to the high school and taught by the high school faculty. At least another third grade teacher is needed and perhaps still another to care for first and second grade overflow, said Turner. Housing difficulties have complicated efforts to complete the faculty.

Coahoma will run four buses of its own and a fifth runs from Borden county to bring children to the school. Coahoma has contracts with R-Bar, Vincent, and Green Valley districts.

School Teacher Assignments Listed; Ten Elementary Positions Unfilled

There's no holiday vacation this week end for school administrators who are preparing to ring the bell heralding the opening of the fall term of school for hundreds of youngsters in Big Spring Tuesday.

Not only must they plan for the usual busy days of registration and revising of schedules during the first week, but also this year they are still combing the area for eligible teachers. Ten elementary positions are still open while one place is as yet unfilled in high school staff.

Walter Reed, principal of the high school, repeated his rambling Saturday for sophomore, junior and senior students to meet in the high school gym at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning for orientation and eighth graders and freshmen to meet at 1 p. m. in the gym Tuesday. For last minute schedule changes or registration, the office of the principal will be open Monday.

At 9 a. m. Monday at the high school a meeting of all teachers in the Big Spring Independent school system has been called. Superintendent W. C. Blankenship will be in charge.

Parents and students are reminded that classes begin at 9 a. m. In all schools in the system; however, school building doors are not open until 8:30 every morning. Teachers are due at 8:30.

This year there are no handicapped students, who would require special tutoring, in the district, Blankenship said.

Instructors and assignments in the school include: Agnes Currie, freshman English; Ione McAllister, senior English; Clara Pool, sophomore English; Elouise Haley, public speaking, dramatics, and coaching of interscholastic teams; Mrs. Marie Frost, junior English; George Mizell, freshman English and history; Mrs. A. W. Steward, (new) journalism and publications; Elizabeth Ackers, junior English and Bible; Lillian Shick, Latin;

Jo Hestand, (new) Spanish; Zeda Brown, head of the guidance program and geometry; Mrs. Laveda Eggleston, algebra; Letha Amerson, geometry and algebra; Mrs. Earl Brownrigg, algebra; John Mallaise, algebra and basketball coach; Mrs. A. M. McCormick, chemistry and algebra; Conn Isaacs, physics, aeronautics and asstant coach; Ruth Beasley, biology; Mrs. Frank Johnson, general science; Mrs. Charles Abele, government and economics; Mrs. W. C. Blankenship, American history; Jim McWhorter, (new) social science and coaching; Herschel Stockton, junior business and track coaching; Mrs. W. O. Low, commercial; T. E. Bailey, (new), commercial; Mrs. Edna McGregor, home-making; Betty Hyer, (new) home-making; Stanley Cameron, (new) diversified occupations; Mrs. Mickey Boyvey, library; Joe L. Hadden, (new) band director and general music; John Dibreil, physical education and football coach; Arab Phillips, physical education; Marguerite Wood is attendance officer and dean of girls and Charles Romine is assistant principal; Vivian Peek is secretary in the principal's office.

Head teachers for the elementary schools include: Dean Bennett, Central Ward; Mrs. Martelle McDonald, East Ward; Mrs. Clara Miller, North Ward; Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, Kate Morrison; Mrs. H. H. Rutherford, West Ward; and no head teacher designated at South Ward.

New Industry Now In Operation Here

A new industry—the Big Spring Bi-Products Company—is now in operation here.

Housed in a galvanized iron building on welded steel frame, the two-story plant already is performing a rendering service on stock and slaughtering refuse.

Owners and operators are Marvin Sewell and Jim Kinsey.

Collection service will be available within a 50-mile radius of Big Spring simply upon call. In addition to picking up unskinned dead animals, the plant also takes "soapers," livestock (principally horses) which has passed the stage of usefulness.

The plant involves the use of several major pieces of equipment, including 100-horse power boiler, a grinder, cooker, press, hide vat, grease vat, and tankage grinder.

Dead animals or refuse from slaughtering operations are unloading on a concrete basin on the second floor. Here hides are removed and dropped into the bin below. Large animals are cut down into half a dozen or more pieces and dropped into the grinder, turned by a 50-hp motor. In less than an hour, the mass is pulverized.

The material then is lifted on an electrical hoist to the cooker with 5,000 pounds capacity. While it is steam cooked, paddles rotate to keep the matter stirred constantly. After eight hours, the new tankage is turned into a vat and then subjected to grease extraction in a 300-ton hydraulic ram press.

This leaves the residue tankage virtually dry, because the cooking process dehydrates the mass, leaving only grease and tankage.

Grease will be sold to companies for use in manufacture of soap, glycerin, etc. Tankage will be ground again and then sold.

Since it is the base of poultry feeds and a necessity in hog feeding, tankage will be made available first of all to local people, said Sewell and Kinsey. The material is rich in protein and minerals.

Location of the plant is on a tract leased from the city south of the dumping area and north of the disposal plant. It is regularly steam cleaned. Three men are required to operate the service.

Crude Imports At High Level

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Imports of crude petroleum and petroleum products are running at the highest level in many years.

In the first six months of this year, reports of the Bureau of Mines showed today, 66,874,000 barrels came in. This compares with 54,050,000 barrels in the corresponding period of 1945.

Imports averaged about 390,000 barrels on a daily basis, the highest since 1922.

The bureau said one small shipment of petroleum came in from the middle east in July, but that no company has yet arranged for definite, regular shipments from that area.

The bureau described the July shipment from the middle east as experimental, to determine cost factors and how the crude works in American refineries. Venezuela continues to be leading supplier of petroleum and petroleum products, with shipments of 39,029,000 barrels in the first six months of the year. Other shipments came from Netherlands West Indies, 19,981,000 barrels; Mexico, 3,145,000 barrels; Colombia, 4,690,000 barrels; Trinidad and Tobago, 15,000 barrels. All other imports totaled only 14,000 barrels.

Casein is processed into paper coatings, wall paints, adhesives, buttons and other products.

Since it is the base of poultry feeds and a necessity in hog feeding, tankage will be made available first of all to local people, said Sewell and Kinsey. The material is rich in protein and minerals.

Location of the plant is on a tract leased from the city south of the dumping area and north of the disposal plant. It is regularly steam cleaned. Three men are required to operate the service.

Ceramics art attained a high degree of perfection during the reign of Nebuchadnezzar. Motor vehicle mileage in the United States in 1945 was about 249 billion vehicle miles.

Car Strikes Truck, One Dead, Six Hurt

CLARKSVILLE, Aug. 31 (AP)—One person was killed and six seriously injured early today when an automobile crashed into a parked truck at an underpass near here.

James Lee, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee of Clarksville, died shortly after being taken to a local hospital. He had been discharged from the Navy recently.

Injured are Regan Mikel, 26; Tylden Mikel, 21; Miss Elizabeth Anderson, 18; Miss Melba Nunnelly, 18; Miss Hazel Parks, 18, all of Clarksville and all occupants of the car and Leo Roten, Boxelder, occupant of the truck.

B. A. Booth, Boxelder, owner and driver of the truck, was slightly injured.

Sees $300 Increase For School Teachers

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 31 (AP)—State Sen. Penrose Metcalfe believes that a $300-per-year hike for teachers in state aid schools is virtually assured since Gov. Coke Stevenson has agreed to submit the bill providing for the increase either at a special session or at the state legislature in January.

A member of the sub committee which prepared the bill in Austin this week, Metcalfe said yesterday it would provide $75 more monthly for the last four months of the coming school year for the teachers. The measure also would give the increase to superintendents and other administrative school officials. Vocational agriculture and home economics instructors will be included, too, he said.

P-84 Sets Mark Of 608 Miles An Hour

MUROG, Calif., Aug. 31 (AP)—An unofficial speed mark over a measured course at Murco Army Air Field—608 miles an hour—has been set by an Army P-84 Thunderjet fighter.

But because the Republic jet didn't surpass Great Britain's record of 606 MPH by more than 5 MPH, it will not be recognized.

The army declined further information, including the pilot's name.

IT'S ALL FIXED ALPHABETICALLY

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 31 (AP)—The healthy 11-day-old Tinger quadruplets all got new names today.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Tinger decided it was too confusing to have all four infants' names—originally Joe, Josephine, Jessie May and Jerry—all begin with the same letter. The initialed bibs would get mixed up.

The boys were retitled August Joe and Dee Jerry, the girls Carole Jesse and Beatrice Josephine, so that their initials run A-B-C-D. Mrs. Tinger went home from the hospital today, but the quads, born a month prematurely, will stay on a while.

What It Means—

The Lack Of US Air Agreements Restricts South American Trade

WASHINGTON (P)—The second failure of the United States to reach an aviation agreement with Mexico spotlights the difficulties in formalizing our air relations with Latin America.

The people of the south no longer welcome Yankee aircraft flying with open arms and expressions of joy that business is literally their doors. They want not only the new business, but also the job of carrying it.

Washington officials concerned with our international flying problems see the British share-the-traffic principle in the new Latin American attitude. They are convinced that the British aviation agreement with Argentina, completed in May, was a major factor in the failure at Mexico City.

There is considerable disappointment in the United States over Britain's reversal of freedom of the air principles which it accepted at the Bermuda conference in February.

The British attitude, if it prevails in South America, will restrict air operations by requiring an even division of traffic through equal schedules and capacities. It already has slowed down American carriers somewhat, since Argentina showed reluctance to permit Pan-American Airways to fly in a 53-passenger DC-4 instead of the DC-3s which had been used. State Department officials have spoken informally to British representatives, asking a clarification of the about-face by the United Kingdom since the Bermuda conference. At Bermuda Britain and the US agreed each nation should be permitted to fly as much as the available traffic justified.

The United States has no formal air agreements in Latin America, except with Colombia. Before the war none was needed. The countries to the south welcomed the air services.

But the new accent on aviation calls for formal pacts between the countries. Airline operators need such assurance to justify the investment in new routes and services.

Here is the thumbnail history of the Mexican negotiations:

The Mexicans came to Washington in October, 1945, but went home with no agreement. Their demands for routes to almost every important American city could not be granted.

An American delegation went to Mexico City in June, but just when it appeared that the route differences might be adjusted, the Mexicans unexpectedly demanded a 50-50 division of schedules and capacities. That is, they insisted that the United States limit its operations to the Mexican ability to carry passengers and cargo. The Mexicans pointed to the agreement with such provisions reached between Argentina and Great Britain.

The conference broke up after President Avila Camacho backed up his delegation's demands in reply to a direct appeal from the American ambassador.

The result is that three airlines—Western, Eastern and Braniff—which have been certificated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to fly new routes to Mexico must postpone their plans. Pan-American and American Airlines will continue to fly their routes. Cia. Mexicana de Aviacion will continue its service to Los Angeles.

Safety Suggestion For Sneezing Season

NEW YORK (P)—Hay fever sufferers should never let themselves get so burned up they set fire indiscriminately to ragweed patches. The fire hazard in such a practice, is not to be sneezed at. To get rid of weeds, the institute advises, telephone the health department and get directions for making a weed-killing spray.

If you must burn the weeds, first get a permit from the fire department. Take a fire extinguisher along. Burn a little patch at a time or mow the weeds and burn them in a pile. When the fire dies down, put out all embers.

The United States is making inquiries in numerous countries about the prospects for civil aviation agreements embodying the principle of regulated competition. It has signed 18 such pacts, but needs more to complete its world air service program.

The British turnabout since Bermuda is increasing the difficulties. The United Kingdom has made restrictive arrangements with both Ireland and France. Its attitude has not eased the American air path through the Middle East and for the present has stymied in India.

New Guineans Seek To Keep War Luxuries

AP Newfeatures

SYDNEY, Australia—An economic and social revolution is in progress in the Australian mandated territory of New Guinea, where Australians, Americans and Japanese waged some of the most bitter struggles of the Pacific war.

It amounts to a struggle between the handful of white administrators, planters and traders trying to restore pre-war standards and 1,000,000 unorganized natives trying to retain the comparative luxury standards they had during the war when working for the armed forces.

The natives were paid about $6,000,000 during the war in wages and compensation money. They now are sitting back on this money and resisting calls for labor unless offered good wages.

Before the war they were paid $1.25 a month, but during the war, they were paid up to $2.50 a month, and want this rate continued. During the war, they were fed on such European foods as tinned meat and fish, and developed a liking for them. Now they show no inclination to get back to their pre-war diet of sweet potatoes.

Before the war, they were provided with lap-laps, a wrap-around skirt costing about five cents. During the war the Australian Army provided them with lap-laps of good English cloth costing up to one dollar. They now have the taste for good quality cloth and will not easily change back to the cheap pre-war quality.

They have gained an exaggerated sense of money values. American and Australian soldiers would often pay them up to one dollar each for a tropical fruit, for which they were lucky to get one cent before the war.

Chest Participants Move For Budget Unit

Representatives of participating organizations took steps Friday toward setting up a budgeting committee for the Community Chest.

They authorized K. H. McGibbon to organize a committee of five, not connected with the various agencies, to serve as a budgeting committee. As soon as the committee is accepted, proposed budgets will be presented for analysis.

Sold To China

SHANGHAI, Aug. 31 (AP)—The United States today sold China the bulk of surplus US civilian property in the Far East, a transaction which Chinese communists had asserted would only intensify civil warfare.

Notices Sent Out

Notices of projected increases in valuations will be mailed out from the city hall Tuesday or Wednesday, C. E. Johnson, tax assessor-collector, estimated Saturday. After notices are mailed, the board of equalization, sitting jointly for school and city, will announce dates for interviews.

4-H Club Delegates Return From Parley At College Station

Accompanied by adult sponsors, representatives from Howard county 4-H Club boys and girls returned Saturday morning from a short course at College Station.

Most of the program centered on panel discussions directed toward recommendations for improving 4-H work in the various localities. Delegates also were conducted on tours of A&M College facilities which fit into their program of work.

Floodwaters Inundate Land Near Two Rivers

By The Associated Press
Floodwaters along the Guadalupe River were expected to reach a crest of 24 feet at Cuero at midnight last night, and an 11-foot crest on the Nueces River was expected at Corpus Christi by the middle of next week.

However, no major damage was expected in either area unless more heavy rains fall.

I JUST PUT A WEEK OF LOAFING IN THE SAFETY DEPOSIT BOX!"

No—I'm not kidding. That's how I figure the money I save through U. S. Savings Bonds—one bond equals one week of loafing ten years from now when I'm retired.

every time you add one, you add a week of leisure to your life. And subtract one of work.

And, say—best way to handle getting the bonds is through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. That's regular and automatic—you can't miss.

Your U. S. Savings Bonds pay fat interest—

4 dollars for every 3 put in—after 10 years. And all the resources of the United States Government are behind them.

Boy—is it ever fun to count 'em over, realizing each bond means a week of loafing. Better keep your Payroll Savings Plan in force—and maybe even boost the ante just a little!

Texans Predict Continued Rise In Prices, Little Wage Changes

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, Aug. 31.—The great majority of Texans are gloomy as they view the cost-of-living and personal-income situation.

In a survey completed late in August The Texas Poll found that people in all walks of life are feeling the pinch of higher prices since the lapse of OPA June 30 and its modified revival. Most people expect prices to continue rising. And only fifteen out of every one hundred say they have faster pay checks in sight.

This economic pessimism spreads all over Texas, cuts through all income brackets of the population. People who are better off financially, of course, seem less concerned over inflation, but even among the wealthy a majority say prospects appear cheerless.

These are the questions posed by the Poll's interviewers to a cross section of the state:

"During July and August, do you feel prices generally in your community have gone up a good deal, just a little, or not at all?"

Only 2 per cent of those interviewed were unable to answer the question and only a fraction of 1 per cent said prices had not increased at all; they are not included in this tabulation.

Heffington Rites Scheduled Today

Funeral services for George Franklin Heffington who was found hanged in a Lubbock jail Friday morning are scheduled to be held at the Nalley chapel this afternoon at 2:30.

The Rev. W. R. Hutchings, pastor of the Church of God, will officiate.

Pallbearers will be Lester Gibbs, W. H. Bagwell, Cliff Vaughn, Jerry Thornton, Jack Godby, Virgil Patton, Dick Williams and A. White.

Burial will be in a local cemetery.

Sportsmen Invited To Game Conclave

Local sportsmen have been invited to attend a special meeting of sectional game enthusiasts in Lamesa at 8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 19, at which time preliminary plans for the South Plains Sporting Club will be drawn.

One of the objectives of such an organization is the restoration and preservation of wild life in this area, according to F. H. Stovall, district game warden.

Among game authorities who will attend the parley are H. D. Dodgan, executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission; H. E. Faubion, Dodgan's chief aide; Frank Cowser, Assistant Director of (Game) Law Enforcement; Grady Hill, president of the West Texas Game association; and J. H. Maggard, Game Warden Supervisor.

The conclave will be held in the district court room of the county court house at Lamesa.

Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District News

W. L. Wilson of Wilson Bros. ranch said this week that this drought emphasized the importance of maintaining a range in good condition. He further observed, although dry, were still providing sufficient feed for cattle but that ranges in poor conditions had necessitated the removal of livestock early in the season or a heavy feeding program. As a portion of their conservation program, Wilson Bros. have seeded 100 acres of small grain to supply winter pasture high in protein content.

Maintaining his terraces on a 50-acre field with a one-way disc was being done this week by Norvin Smith. Maintenance of terraces by plowing to them each year is one of the practices Smith Bros. have set up in their conservation plan. Smith plans to seed the field to small grain for winter pasture. He said that due to the likelihood of severe wind erosion next winter and spring he will leave all of his combine maize stubble unrazed on sandy soils to provide protection.

Another interested alfalfa grower is Alvin Shroyer who is cooperating with the district in carrying out a soil and water conservation program on his farm and ranch located in the Vealmoor conservation group. Shroyer plans to seed several acres in September to determine its possibility as a soil building and grazing crop in this area. As a feature in providing as much vegetative cover as possible for wind protection and moisture conservation, Shroyer will seed 300 acres of wheat in combine maize stubble leaving the stalks.

A number of district cooperators are preparing to seed arbutus on sandy soils in September. The district supervisors advocate using this crop for winter cover on sandy soils subject to blowing and also to supply grazing.

Turkeys Plentiful For Thanksgiving

AUSTIN, Aug. 31 (AP)—There will be turkeys plenty for Thanksgiving dinners this year in Texas.

The United States Department of Agriculture reported today that Texas farmers are raising 4,468,000 turkeys, five percent less than the record bird crop last year but still 13 percent larger than the 1938-42 average.

Daniel, Blalock Plea For Harmony

HILLSBORO, Aug. 31 (AP)—Plea for party harmony among Democrats in Texas were made today by nominee, and Myron G. Blalock, Democratic national committeeman from Texas.

Daniel and Blalock spoke at a luncheon here given by Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro cotton man.

"I'm glad the people wanted a middle-of-the-road, honest to God Democrat for governor," Blalock declared.

Fledging his office to support harmony in the interest of a greater state, Daniel declared, "the Republican party will spend the most money in history to elect the president in 1948. Let's be ready for the fight."

Unsanitary Conditions Slowly Corrected

Progress, although slow, is being made in correcting certain unsanitary conditions in the city, Lawrence J. Wells, city-county sanitarian, said Saturday.

Although work on installing sanitary pit toilets in areas too far removed for sewer connections has been dragging, a few are being constructed. Wells is devoting one day a week to contacts on this program.

Similarly, the task of helping livestock owners to conform to the new livestock inspection ordinance within the city limits is a slow process, but during the past week four others satisfied regulations. Wells said that the plan was to seek to work out problems with affected persons.

Mitchell Wildcat Readies For Test

With broken pay from 2,700 to 2,765, bottom of hole, C. E. Beaver No. 1 S. R. Coleman, northwest Mitchell wildcat, prepared to drill plugs Saturday and test.

The test, undertaken on a farm out from Cosden, gave prospect of being a light producer. Contract depth was listed originally for 3,250 feet. Five and a half inch string was cemented with 75 sacks at $785. Location is 330 feet out of the southeast corner of the northwest quarter of section 70-97, H&TC, five miles north of the Westbrook field.

Derrick reportedly was up on the Santa Fe Petroleum Co. No. 1 M. T. Christian, rank north center Howard wildcat, and spudding is due over the weekend. Contract depth for the rotary test is 4,500 feet. Location is 680 feet from the south and west lines of the west half of section 49-32-2n, T&P, eight miles northeast of here.

In central Glasscock county, Shell No. 1 Clark, deep exploration, was reported below 10,359, possibly in the Ellenburger. It is in section 5-24-45, T&P, eight miles north of Garden City.

AT THE YMCA

Fiscal Year And Summer Program Come To An End

Plans are in the making at the YMCA for the beginning of fall activities, and projects now that the summer program is definitely at an end, Bill Dawes, executive secretary said.

The first fiscal year which terminated today, means a change of officers for the local organization and a committee to suggest a new slate has been appointed by Jack Smith, president. The directors will come together at a called meeting Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the basement of the First Methodist church to finish up the year's business and prepare for the coming months.

Attendance at the regular open house at headquarters remains steady with a number on hand for the Saturday night party.

Schedule for the coming week includes:

MONDAY—Tennis to be held at the city tennis courts under the direction of Mrs. Wayne Pearce at 8 p.m.

Archery with Jack Thompson at the Retention, Dam on Gregg Street at 6 p.m.

TUESDAY — Golf, 10 a.m. Munny links.

Boxing with Travis Griffin in Munny amphitheatre at 7:30 p.m.

Archery at 8 p.m.

WEDNESDAY — Archery and tennis both at 8 p.m.

THURSDAY — Tennis and archery at 8 p.m.

Craft and skills night at Y headquarters at 8 p.m.

FRIDAY—Hi-Y club in the basement of the First Methodist church at 7:30 p.m.

Social night with square and folk dancing at Y headquarters at 8 p.m.

AAA Officers Due Here For Cotton Insurance Meeting

Approximately 60 AAA administrative officers and clerks are due here Tuesday and Wednesday for a district No. 7 meeting on the 1947 cotton insurance program.

O. H. Briggs, College Station, state cotton insurance director, will be in charge of the parley; in order to have more time for educational programs concerning the program, details are being announced considerably ahead of the schedule in previous years.

Howard county farmers who participated in the program this year may receive around $133,000 for cotton losses. Less than 15 per cent of the county's farms, however, were covered.

Disabled Vets Ask About Special Cars

Inquiries have been made but no applications handled for automobiles for disabled veterans of World War II here, the Veterans Administration said Saturday.

For one thing, no definite information has been received by the office, only that gained through press reports. Details on how handicapped veterans will be able to qualify for specially constructed cars are lacking at this time. In certain instances, the government will bear the cost of these automobiles.

Markets

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)—The stock market stepped out of another bad week and depressing month with few signs of recovery in evidence and the overall average hitting a new low for almost a year.

The list was able to negotiate only one feeble and irregular comeback during the final five days of August and that was Thursday when volume tapered to just about half that of the preceding Wednesday's selloff.

Managers Name Donkey Ball Nines, Throw Taunts, And Flee The Town

The American Legion and the Lions club have matched a brace of donkey softball games.

The opposing club managers announced their starting lineups Saturday—and left town.

Chances are that they were away, however, only to think up new taunts and jeers to hurl at one another, because each was claiming that he could field and super-delux club of burro-riding ball-shagging experts eye to nurse body bruises on the morning after.

The tilts are scheduled for Sept. 12 and 13, which give the players themselves some time to get into condition. Authentic reports say that the donkeys already are that way.

Bud Tucker, who will pilot the veterans (meaning war vets) faced one of his problems candidly, when he made a request that Legionnaires appear at the field wearing their caps, so that spectators will be able to identify players from mounds. He opined that no sort of wearing apparel will provide any distinction for the Lionsmen.

Tucker also pleaded for ALL members of the Legion to show up, in event replacements in the lineup will be needed.

Examinations Open For VA Employment

Civil service examinations for Contact Representative for employment with the Veterans Administration are now open according to a statement made today by the Local, secretary of the Board of US Civil Service examiners at the post office, where forms are available.

Applications must be filed not later than Sept. 10, with the Executive Secretary, Board of US Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 10, 1301 Santa Fe Building, Dallas. Starting salary for this position is $3397.20 per year. Employment will be in various Veterans Administration installations in the states of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

BIRDIE BUSY AT GOLF TOURNEY

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 31 (AP)—A birdie kept Dr. J. H. Robbins busy while competing in the Abenaqui Club invitation golf tournament yesterday.

It was the stork.

He was called from the course thrice during the day to deliver babies, one girl and two boys.

June became popular as a wedding month gets its name from Juno, the faithful wife of Jupiter and the goddess of marriage.

Jac. Smith, a tall, taciturn sort of fellow, just tossed a list of names to the press and fled after appearing confident, however, that he had a lineup that will be in its prime.

He, after much weighing of talents, has established the following roster:

Pitcher, Clyde Thomas, Sr.
Catcher, Burke Summers.
1st Base, Jimmie Greene
2nd Base, Chub McGibbon.
Shortstop, Luke LeBlue.
3rd Base, R. H. Snyder.
L. Field, Hack Wright.
C. Field, Dan Conley.

R. Field, Cecil Collins.
Tucker came right back at him with this stellar aggregation:

Pitcher, Joe Burrell
Catcher, Jack Miller
1st Base, Elliott Yell
2nd Base, Sam Goldman
Shortstop, Ira Thurman
3rd Base, Mutt Hanson.
L. Field, Harold Steek.
C. Field, Dewey Martin.
R. Field, Russell McEwen.

The games will be played at the rodeo arena, beginning at 8 o'clock. Members of both organizations are selling advance tickets, 60c for adults, 30c for children.

Six-Man Clubs To Work Out This Week

Coahoma, Forsan Squads To Greet New Instructors

Full training at District Nine six-man football schools will get underway the early part of the coming week with new men taking over coaching jobs at more than half the schools.

Coahoma, regional champion in 1945 and favored to repeat, is coached this fall, blossoms out with two men at the coaching helm, J. V. Thompson of Dallas and the University of Texas replaces John Albers as head coach and will be assisted by Ralph Magshell, a former Coahoma high school athlete who later attended Texas Tech.

Frank Honeycutt succeeds Joe

Holladay at Forsan and reports from that South Howard county community insist that the Buffaloes potentially have a powerful ball club, perhaps the strongest in the history of the school.

Gordon Griggs returns as head man at Garden City. He has nine lettermen with which to work. They are Jerry Currie, c; Henry Calverly, b; Billy Roberts, b; Charles Joe Shafer, e; J. C. Pyc, e; Joe Cunningham, c; Basil Keithley, e; John Robinson, b; and Leroy Linney, c. At 180 pounds, Calverly is the heaviest man on the team.

L. C. McDonald, one-time ACC athlete, takes over at Sterling City. His squad is of unknown strength but he has five lettermen returning. He takes his team to Tankersly Monday for a week's training.

When Diddle Young resigned as Water Valley coach, Elvin Mathis of Crews and McMurry College stepped into his shoes. His letter men include Oscar Dorsey, Gene Cope, Gordon Westbrook and Bob Turner, all backs; and Robert Bannister, Dick Myers, Bobby Brown and Jackie Cates, linemen.

H. H. Deck, Courtney (Martin county) superintendent, is still looking for a coach. If he doesn't put one under contract, he'll take the job upon his own shoulders. He'll have half a dozen numerical-wearers for the '46 job.

Homer Barnes is all set to resume football at Knott school Tuesday. He's had a time accumulating enough material for the sport, since Knott did not field a team in 1945. He'll be assisted by Cecil Winterbauer.

Schedules for the respective schools were being drawn up at the six-man football school here and will be announced within the near future.

Oilers Defeat Redcaps, Lose On Protests

Cosden's Oilers won handily from Doc Wilkinson's Redcaps in the feature Muny softball league at the city park Friday night but a ruling by League Presy Dewey Colburn denied the Refiners the second half title.

Colburn, returning from a business trip Friday, announced that two protests filed with him against the Cosden club had been reviewed and found to hold water. The protests had been entered by Big Spring Motor and the Redcaps, both of whom claimed the Cosden management was using ineligible men in the final week's campaign.

"I did not make a decision on the protests," Colburn said Saturday. "The managers did that themselves when they convened in regular session in July to arrange the legislation for the second half race. I can but merely quote from the record on the present situation. The Cosden management was present at the time."

Dike Tolbert, manager of the Big Spring Motor team, and Doc Wilkinson of the Redcaps filed claims against the Cosden team on the grounds that Leamon Botlick, a shortstop, was not eligible to compete during the final two weeks of the season.

The league czar's ruling gave the second half title to the Redcaps but no playoff will probably be arranged for the 1946 championship since the Cosden management has intimated it would not recognize the decree. Cosden won the first half title.

Behind the expert pitching of L. D. Cunningham, who seemed to get stronger as the game progressed, the Cosden Oilers slammed out a 9-1 decision over Doc's Redcaps here Friday night.

Red Womack and Leonard Morgan spiked the plate for the Refiners in the initial round and the Cosdens coasted in from that point.

The edge might have been greater had not Cheek Smith robbed Morgan of a hit with a great catch in the third inning. Two runners were on the sacks at the time.

Bill Greider, who in his previous outing had pitched a perfect game, was no mystery to the Oilers. They broke loose for five runs in the fourth inning, dropping hits all over the field. He had trouble with his control throughout the contest.

Berg, Jameson To Clash In Finals

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 31. (AP)—Patty Berg, Minneapolis professional, defeated Betty Jean Rucker, Spokane amateur, 3 and 2 today in the semi-finals of the National Women's golf tournament.

Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Tex., pro, defeated Dot Kieley, Long Beach, Calif., 1 up in the other semifinal match.

Three Other Visitors Get Par; Pairings For Tournament Are Fixed

Ivy Martin, Fort Worth, fired a blistering two-under-par 70 at the field in the 15th annual Big Spring Country Club invitational golf tournament Saturday to cop medalist honors and establish himself as a favorite to grab the title.

Opening with a birdie four on the first hole, Martin played even par out and was abreast of regulation figures until the 16th when he dropped a birdie four and then rode par to the finish.

Three others battled with even par golf — Jim Smith, Midland, Jackie Vaughn, Lamesa, and Bob Haeffle, Fort Worth.

Martin's round was the best medalist score since the course went to grass greens in 1941. This was the way he did it:

Par 343 444 534-72
Martin out 493 444 534
Martin in 543 444 434-70

Pairings (contestants from Big Spring when undesignated) follow:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

Local Motorcade To Lamesa Set

Approximately six cars of fans have been pledged to leave here Tuesday evening to help Lamesa fans root for the Loboes in their last home baseball game.

Promotor of a motorcade to Lamesa in advance of the game is in charge of Elmo Wasson and Ira Thurman.

All persons who can go are urged to meet at the chamber of commerce office Tuesday at 8 p. m. It will be helpful, said Wasson, if those planning to take a car to Lamesa will notify him. Thurman or the chamber of commerce office. The Tuesday game will be the last West Texas-New Mexico league game of the season in this area.

Loboes Trimmed In Friday Bout By Pampa, 8-3

LAMESA, Aug. 31. (AP)—Pampa's Oilers copped a lop-sided 8 to 3 triumph over Lamesa here Friday night as the Loboes opened their final home stand of the season.

Foster White pitched faultlessly for the victory, letting the lackadaisical Loboes down with 6 hits and limiting them to one earned tally. He helped widen his winning margin by slapping a home run over the centerfield wall to open the seventh chapter.

The Oilers rapped Lefty Walter Condon's twirling for 15 hits, scoring four quick runs in the opening inning on 5 hits and 2 errors. Lamesa counted first in the fourth, Tom Mabry doubling to right and scooting home on Bob Johnston's scratch single through Harriman. The Loboes scored twice more in the seventh when singles by Johnston and I. B. Palmer coupled with a pair of walks by Oiler Right Fielder Joe Fortin brought home two gift counts.

Condon issued only one pass but he was hit freely most of the way. His mates committed four errors, but a duo of double plays pulled him out of a couple of crucial spots.

White was never in serious trouble, walking only 3 and whiffing a half-dozen.

Tony Range and Grover Seltz led the Oilers at bat with 3 hits each, and former Oiler Bob Johnston led the Loboes with a pair of singles.

Fanning In Open Meet At El Paso

Foy Fanning, professional of the Muny golf course here, departed for El Paso Thursday night where he planned to take part in an Open tournament there this weekend.

Other pros from this area who are competing in the meet are Lloyd Watkins, Midland; Shorty Hornbuckle, Odessa; and J. T. Hammett, Colorado City.

Bobby Layne Must Meet Draft Board

DALLAS, Aug. 31. (AP)—Blond Bobby Layne, whose running, passing and kicking wizardry brought the University of Texas Southwest Conference and Cotton Bowl football championships last fall and who was key man in plans for what was considered Coach D. X. Bible's greatest team this year, returned from his honeymoon today to be greeted by a draft notice.

Layne, who will report to his Austin draft board Sept. 19, said philosophically: "If I have to go it is all right with me. Of course, I had rather finish my college education first but I am ready to serve just like all the others who have been called into the service."

Layne, who was classified 1-A last April after first being rejected for the Army because of high blood pressure, will be re-examined when he reports Sept. 19.

Loss of Layne would relegate the University of Texas in football championship forecasts. All of the Longhorns' offensive plans have centered around this big former Highland Park (Dallas) All-State star. With him Texas would undoubtedly be ranked No. 1 but without Layne would not be accorded an equal chance of beating out either Rice or Texas A. & M.'s veteran teams.

The draft notice, mailed Thursday, arrived at Layne's home here yesterday afternoon but he knew nothing about it until today upon his return. He had been to Grand Lake, Colo., since his marriage Aug. 17 to Miss Carol Ann Krueger of Lubbock.

Layne will go to Austin tomorrow and will report for football practice at the University Monday.

Layne, who is 19, served in the Merchant Marine for nine months in 1945. He returned to the University of Texas where he had starred in football as a freshman, and played the last month of the football campaign, leading Texas to the conference championship. In the Cotton Bowl game with Missouri, Layne either scored himself or passed for all points made by the Longhorns in their 40-27 triumph over the Tigers.

He was called up for Army examination in March but was rejected. A month later he was accepted.

Kidd Lauds ABClub For Launching Six-Man Football Coaching Clinic

Tribute to Big Spring as the cradle of six-man football in Texas high schools was paid by Rodney J. Kidd, athletic director of the state interscholastic league, in a talk Saturday at the ABClub luncheon in the Settles hotel.

The banquet provided noon-time interlude for the first annual ABClub Six-Man Football school which attracted 43 coaches and officials from throughout West Texas.

Ralph Marshall, Coahoma; J. W. Cliff, Water Valley; G. D. Kennedy, Foran; L. C. McDonald, Sterling City; Cagle Hunt, Mertzon; Norman Craft, Toyah; W. K. Scudday, Garden City; M. T. Jenkins, Garden City; Gordon Griggs, Garden City; V. E. Hickman, McAdoo; Phil Smith, Garden City.

Conoco Defeats Gaugers Again To Win Title

Capitalizing on loose playing by the Cosden infield, the Continental Oilers defeated the Gaugers, 7-3, at Foran Friday night to clinch the Community softball league championship.

Wes Roberson's brigade made one more earned run off C. B. Long, Cosden hurler, but benefited by six Gauger boots, two of them by the hurler, himself.

The Gaugers took a brief lead in the initial round with a single tally only to have the Oilers break loose for three markers in the second. Another pair in the fourth led the verdict for the Conoco nine.

Bobby Asbury hit the game's only home run, a first inning clout for the Cosdens.

Lefty McCabe, who was out of the Continental lineup Thursday night, returned to get three base blows and denied the dish twice.

The enrollees spent the entire morning in classes at the Settles hotel, then adjourned to Steer stadium for demonstrations in defense and offense given by Norman A. Craft, Toyah coach, and his team.

Craft served as instructor on offense at the morning session and was succeeded on the astrum by Joe Holladay, formerly head mentor at Foran high school.

Walker, Bailey, Big Spring, ejected with the officials for a general discussion of rules and legislation. Cagle Hunt, Mertzon, addressed the entire gathering on rules interpretation prior to the field demonstration.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

A mild feud which had been brewing for some time came to light when Doug Jones of Abilene declined a special invitation to take part in the country club golf tournament here, instead went to Ranger for a Labor Day meeting . . . Jones, a former resident of Big Spring, told intimates he decided against coming here because of the unfriendliness of some few in the gallery that always followed his matches . . . Most of the golf enthusiasts here are good sports and extend the little courtesies that mean so much to a linksman, according to Jones but, rather than court the enmity of the other few, he elected to pass up our show . . . It is Big Spring's loss . . . Frank Freer, who qualified for the tournament Friday with a neat 74, used to caddy for A. J. Barnard, Sr., the Lamesa, veteran . . . The entry list here wasn't as big as expected due to the fact that Wichita Falls, El Paso, Pampa and Ranger are holding simultaneous meetings . . . Lib Coffee, formerly of Our Town, is currently located in Big Lake but isn't golfing . . . He was one of the country club's best patrons at one time . . . Warren Cantrell, the ex-Big Springer who's now the manager of the Midland course, is planning an amateur tournament for 1947 that may rank with the very best in Texas . . . Cantrell, incidentally, has canned six holes in one in his 22 years of golf, three of them since the first of the year . . . One was scored here the past spring.

Greider's Recent No-Hitter Was His First

A. G. Barnard, Jr. of Lamesa, a member of Ivey Martin's "for-siegn" team for the Hall and Bennett Trophy matches, says the golfer didn't have a chance in the Intercollegiate tournament held at Princeton, N. J., because of the features of the course peculiar to the East . . . Barney performed for the University of Texas, returns there this month . . . Bob Malone, another of Martin's visitors, was the state's left-handed champion in 1941 . . . Norman Rowland, BSI entry from Fort Worth is the son of Smiley Rowland, Cow-Town professional . . . Jim Tidwell, Frank Barton and Billy Womack, Big Spring boys in school, at Sul Ross, are back for the week end . . . They just completed their first two weeks' training with the Lobo football team, which will appear here in October . . . Bill Greider, the local softball hurler who fashioned a perfect ball game at the expense of the Veterans of Foreign Wars last week, played only two ball games last season, both with an Army outfit in Manila . . . Prior to that Bill hadn't picked up a baseball since 1941, when he toiled for Camp Grant, Ill. . . Greider is originally of Racine, Wash. . . When he victimized the Vets, it was the first no-hitter he ever threw . . . One of the better baseball players in the American Association this year is Dave Phillips, a Texan . . . He's hitting around .340 for Milwaukee, is a certainty to get a big league trial in 1947.

Fox Planning Gigantic 1947 Coaching School

Clarence Fox, Jr., who ramrods Big Spring's annual (11-m) coaching school, says he might be able to arrange a grid exhibition between Texas Tech and Texas Mines as a feature of the clinic here next February . . . Jack Curlica of Mines and Tech's Del Morgan have tentatively agreed to handle the school in '47 and may bring their squads along . . . Several coaches have let it be known that they got more out of the Big Spring course last February than they did the recent Corpus Christi school, which is a credit to Tonto Coleman and Burl Huffman, the instructors . . . Fox may have a basketball clinic here immediately after football season and bring in two of the best known mentors in the state to serve as instructors . . . Bill Garbe, the one time Big Springer, is currently hitting .347 for Yakima of the Western International league and should get another chance with Hollywood . . . Newman, Ga., a village of 8,000 souls, has a baseball club in the Georgia-Florida league that has drawn ten times as many customers as the population . . . Jake Suytar, the ex-Midland first sacker who reminds one of Hank Greenberg, was recently signed by Victoria of the Western International circuit, after opening the campaign with Yakima . . . Lubbock's backstop of other years, Vince Castino, is now with Elmira in the Class A Eastern league.

Six-Man Football Legion To Play Angelo's Chicks

The American Legion girls' softball team, which had disbanded temporarily, will return to the practice field this week to prepare for a Saturday game with the improved Red Chicks of San Angelo.

Plans announced by Manager T. J. Dunlap this week call for the Legionnaires to invade the Concho city for the contest. The debate will be played at Kiwanis park.

No Open Season On Game Fowl, Warns Stovall

A 80-day open season on doves gets underway in this and other counties of the "trighth" zone of Texas at day-break today but Floyd M. Stovall, district game warden, warns the nimrods not to confuse the game bird with prairie chicken.

According to Stovall, there will be no open season on prairie chickens this year. He adds it hasn't been legal to shoot the fowl since 1934 and probably won't be for some time to come. Reason is an alarming scarcity of the birds.

Persons violating the law are subject to a $50 fine for each bird found in their possession. He adds the accused can be penalized for even attempting to fell the chickens.

Possession limit for dove is 10 a day. The season runs through Oct. 30. Duck season opens up on Nov. 23 and continues through January 6. Seven is the possession limit. It becomes legal to fire on quail on December 1 and that season continues through Jan. 16. Quail possession limit is an even dozen.

Fun League Race Winds Up In Tie

Scrap for first place honors in the second half race of the Church girls' softball league wound up in a stalemate, with the YMCA contingent and Church of God boasting identical records.

Each club had won eight times in ten starts. League officials voted not to have a playoff due to the fact that the lasses will be busy with school work beginning Tuesday.

The YMCA girls, who won the first half title, defeated First Baptist, 13-4, for their final victory last week while Church of God was thumping First Methodist, 17-3. Wayne Pearce tutors the Y fems while Elyr Phillips serves as mentor of the Church of God aggregation.

Hogan Stays Ahead In L. A. Tournay

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31. (AP)—Ben Hogan, golf's mighty atom, continued to pulverize par today in the second round of the Golden State open golf tournament, posting a two-under 69 to go with his first round 66.

Newhouser Gets 23rd Victory, Whiffs Ten

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31. (AP)—Hal Newhouser turned in 10 strikeouts tonight in winning his 23rd victory this season, an 11 to 3 drubbing handed by the Detroit Tigers to the St. Louis Browns, playing for the first time under Zach Taylor, newly-appointed acting manager succeeding Luke Sewell.

YANKS BLANK SENS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—Floyd (Bill) Bevens pitched the New York Yankees to 4-0 shutout victory over the Washington Senators today. Bevens allowed only seven hits in chalking up his 16th triumph.

SOX DOWN A'S 4-2

BOSTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—Bill Zuber pitched and helped bat the Red Sox to a 4-2 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics today for Boston's third victory in the four game series. Zuber singled across two runs in the second.

KEITNER GETS 14TH

CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (AP)—Ken Keitner's 14th home run of the season in the ninth inning today gave the Cleveland Indians a 3 to 2 victory over the Chicago White Sox and broke a tie for fifth place.

Jim McWhorter New Grid Aid

Jim McWhorter, who boasts the unique distinction of having played football at four different colleges, has been named coach of the Junior high school grid team here.

McWhorter replaces Pete Merchon, who signed a contract to take the job but later asked for a release to assume a similar post with Gene McCullom at Port Neches.

The newest member of the Big Spring coaching family played college ball for Texas Christian university, NTSTC, Oklahoma Baptist college and ACC. He rated the All-Texas Conference team as a tackle while playing for ACC in 1941.

For the past four years, McWhorter has been in the U.S. Army. He performed for the Eubbock AAF eleven for three seasons and was selected to play for the strong Randolph Field team two years ago.

McWhorter will help Coach John Dibrell with the high school varsity squad until the team is weeded out. The Yearlings will play a full schedule under his tutelage.

Grid Season Ducats Available To Public

Season tickets, good for reserved seats at six football games the Big Spring High school Steers play at home this year, are now available through Walter L. Read, principal.

The ducats sell for $5.40 and are said to be the finest bargain ever offered local fans. Lubbock's Westerners, the Cisco Lobos and the North Side (Fort Worth) Steers have been booked to appear in Big Spring in addition to three District 3-AA teams, Odessa, Abilene and San Angelo.

A sales booth will be located down town later in the week. Read stated.

Dwight Painter, Bob Yarbro Lead Hitters In Playoff Series

Championship series of the Foran Community softball league, which resulted in a 8-1 edge in games for the Continental Oilers, produced some hefty hitting.

In statistics released on the four-game set by Jack Lamb, statistician, Dwight Painter of the Continental troupe and Cosden's Bob Yarbro set the pace with the mace, each with a mark of .500.

Lefty McCabe, who missed one game, brought his mark up to .461 last night as he hit three times in four tries for the Continentals.

The averages:

CONOCO
Dwight Painter .500; Lefty McCabe .461; Gene Huestis .333; Burl Griffith .294; Cleo Wilson .294; LeRoy Dolan .286; Harley Grant .213; Tilman Schultz .140; Buster Seward .125; John Caldwell .000; Wes Roberson .000; and Wally Hiedeman .000.

COSDEN
Bobby Yarbro .500; Lewis Heuvel .400; C. B. Long .333; Wayne Monroney .288; Bobby Asbury .266; Art Barton .250; Rayford Liles .214; Del Bardwell .200; Fred Lonsford .200; Jack Keith .181; Carleton King .000; and El Ray Scudday .000.

Greer WT-NM's Most Valuable

ABILENE, Aug. 31. (AP)—Manager Hayden Greer of the leading Abilene Blue Sox was named the most valuable player in the West Texas-New Mexico League for 1946 in balloting by league sports writers. It was announced here today.

Greer, who plays shortstop, nosed out First Baseman Gordon Goldsberry, the 19-year-old sensation from Albuquerque, Yurdon Gilchrist, bespectacled Berger second baseman, was third.

EYES OF PAPER-HUNGRY NATION TURNED ON NEW LUFKIN PROCESS

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff. The eyes of the nation—not just the eyes of Texas—are upon an industry at Lufkin, Texas. It's the Southland Paper Mills, Inc., and it makes newsprint (the paper newspapers are printed on) and kraft board, used to make frozen food containers, and other items. The Southland paper mill started at a gamble, and it's paying off. During these days of acute paper shortages, it's a godsend to 40 newspaper publishers in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma. Thirty Texas papers obtain about half their necessary paper from Lufkin. Later they'll get more, because the plant is doubling its capacity. Work on a new unit started in January, and will be completed in 1947. One reason for the national interest is the new process being used. Once the industry said southern pine couldn't make newsprint, Dr. Charles Hery of Savannah, Ga., proved that it could. He developed a process that uses all pine, 80 percent mechanical pulp and 20 percent chemical pulp. Mixed together they make good, strong newsprint. The Lufkin plant was built and in operation in January, 1940. Its head is E. L. Murth, Lufkin, president. R. W. Wortham is vice-president and W. L. McHale is mill manager. The man who keeps the plant rolling 24 hours a day, three shifts, is Charles Carpenter, general superintendent, a young handsome and enthusiastic. He was trained by Dr. Hery. It's an all-Texas plant. Most of the 600 employees, getting $120,000 a month in salary, are Texans. A few skilled paper men had to be imported. The timber is cut in East Texas, which has an inexhaustible supply. Water, of which 10,000,000 gallons are used daily, is from deep wells nearby. Salt cake comes from Monahan, in West Texas; chlorine for bleaching from Corpus Christi; lime from Houston; fuel is natural gas, from Texas and some from Louisiana. They pay the former OPA ceiling of $9.75 per cord of wood, and a neat source of revenue has been opened to East Texas. Selective cutting insures a steady supply of timber—they just don't go in and level a forest. Texas uses about 125,000 tons of newsprint a year (1940 figures) and the plant produces about 80,000 tons a year. Later, with a new plant, it will be producing well over 100,000 tons annually. Its present daily capacity is groundwood 140 tons, sulphate pulp 200 tons, bleached sulphate pulp 50 tons, and newsprint 125 tons. The process is so fast that a lumber man can cut down a tree in the morning, haul it to the mill, and then read his afternoon paper on paper made from his own tree. The wood is debarked, ground, and made into huge rolls of paper in a matter of hours. A string of boxcars waits at one end of the mill—ready to take the paper immediately to southwest plants, entire nation. Texas, truly, is developing a new industry—watched by the entire nation.

Week's Business Business Steady, Stockers Higher

Business held steady during the past week, on the basis of key transactions, but it was under the earlier, summer tempo. Real estate trading picked up slightly. Instruments being filed in the amount of $46,625, about a $16,000 gain for the week. This boosted the year total to $2,457,625. Rains in other areas, and better prospects locally, cut down on the volume of livestock trading, but at the same time stocker classes showed greater strength. Ranchers showed less disposition to unload in hopes of late fall and winter grazing. Total head volume was 1,810 in two sales here for an estimated $125,000. This was about 190 head less than for the previous week. Building permits remained in the doldrums with six permits accounting for $9,285, about $700 less from the previous week and still abnormally low. In fact the August total stood at $45,475 on 40 permits. Of these, 25 for $37,050 were in new construction, eight for $3,485 for additions, four for $1,935 for moving, five for $1,205 for remodeling, and one for $300 for demolition. Total for the year stood at $947,866. New car sales were gradually increasing with 14 passenger vehicles being delivered along with two new trucks.

Prison Echo Publishes Facts Of The Trade

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

The Texas prison Echo published in the prison print shop at Huntsville by and for the inmates of the Texas prison system believes in keeping the boys posted on latest developments in the trade.

In a recent issue it told how a negro thief cleverly bilked A. J. LeMaire of Houston of $151. LeMaire was in the back yard at the time. The negro walked up on the front porch. A neighbor was watching. The negro removed his hat, rang the door bell, bowed, laughed and began talking. Then, still bowing, he entered the house.

The neighbor saw him leave later. It wasn't until LeMaire found his money missing and called police that the neighbor remembered the incident. But thieves who took a 55-gallon barrel of used cooking oil from E. T. Morgan of Houston may have regretted it.

Morgan had put 10 pounds of lie in the oil, for use on hogs. "If they eat that stuff," Morgan said, "We won't have any trouble finding them. They'll end up at a hospital."

Officers in Lubbock were asked to find someone. This time it was love, not larceny.

A young Philadelphia swimming instructor who had trained at Lubbock during the war asked District Attorney Burton S. Burks of Lubbock to find a young Lubbock woman, who, he said, could cook eggs better than anyone he ever knew.

He said he ate six of them at one sitting, they were so good. Burks said he would try to accommodate.

Waco police had to investigate an embarrassing robbery. Someone took several hundred dollars worth of radio-testing equipment and replacement parts from their short-wave transmitter station.

During 1945, accidental deaths in the United States totalled 96,000—an increase of one percent over 1944.

Chamber Commerce Books Several Meets For Early In Week

Chamber of commerce activities will feature a round of committee and board sessions the forepart of this week.

Regular directors meeting is being delayed from Monday, which is a holiday, until Wednesday at 5 p.m. The health and recreation committee is scheduled to plan for a clean up campaign Tuesday at 10 a.m. The goodwill committee is organizing a motorcade to leave at 5 p.m. Tuesday to help Lamesa baseball fans root for their team in the last home game of the season. Wednesday at 7:30 a.m. the Round Up club (membership committee) will hold a breakfast session at the city park. H. W. Wright and D. M. McKinney are in charge of the meal and Matt Harrington and E. P. Driver, team captains, are pressing workers for membership contracts in advance of the meeting.

Jester Names Hill As Democrat Head

CORSICANA, Aug. 31 (P)—Beauford H. Jester, governor-nominatee of Texas, said today he recommended Robert W. Calvert, Hill county attorney and former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, as chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee to succeed H. L. Seay of Dallas.

Jester listed his desires as to officers for the State Executive Committee and for the State Democratic Convention in San Antonio Sept. 10 in a statement issued here late today.

CATALYTIC PLANT BROKEN IN HOUSTON, Aug. 31 (P)—Breaking-in operations have started on a new $16,000,000 catalytic cracking plant here, first in the world built specifically to use the newly-developed microspheroidal catalyst, Shell Oil Company announced today.

Pick-Up Routes Announced For Clean-Up Drive

Pick-up routes and dates were announced Saturday in anticipation of the September clean-up campaign.

At the same time, B. J. McDaniel, chairman, convoked his chamber of commerce health committee for 10 a.m. Tuesday at the chamber of commerce to map final plans for the city-wide effort.

This is the order in which trash will be picked up free by city trucks:

Monday, Sept. 9, 7:30 a.m., trucks begin in alley between Runnels and Johnson at 4th and work south to 24th street and east to Goliad. Then they work Goliad south first to Eleventh Place and then go to the city limits.

Wednesday, Sept. 11, 7:30 a.m., trucks begin in the alley at 4th between Main and Runnels, working south to 24th street and west to Lancaster. This will include Edwards Heights and Park Hill addition.

Friday, Sept. 13, 7:30 a.m., trucks will begin at 3rd street between Lancaster and Bell. They will work south to 10th street and west to city limits. They also will start from alley at 2nd between Goliad and Austin and work south to 6th street, then east to city limits. Concluding part of the route is from North 1st and Benton west and north to city limits.

Trash and rubbish will be picked up during these six days. This includes paper, old clothing, rubber, pieces of wood, barrels, crates, feathers, weeds, tree limbs, bottles, glass, scrap iron, tin, wire, etc. These are to be placed in small boxes or crates to facilitate handling and put inside at the edge of the property line in the alley.

One trip will start Monday, Sept. 16, Tuesday, Sept. 17, Wednesday, Sept. 18 to pick up heavy accumulations, brick, rocks, etc.

Gladys Smith To Marry C. E. Hutchison Today

In a ceremony to be read in the parlor of the First Baptist church today at 12:30 p. m. Gladys Smith, daughter of Mrs. Alberta Smith, will be married to C. E. Hutchison, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hutchison of Graham.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien will read the double ring ceremony before a large single basket of picardy gladioli.

Given in marriage by her brother, Alvin H. Smith the bride will be attired in a street length dress of "white smoke" wool, fashioned with cartridge pleats extending from a yoke at the shoulder to the waistline. The circular, bias-cut skirt is designed with gathered front fullness. Her accessories will be brown. White carnations arranged with bovardia and satin streamers will be placed on a white Bible belonging to Mrs. James C. McWhorter.

Attending Miss Smith will be Ina Mae Bradley, wearing a gold gabardine dress with brown alligator accessories. Her corsage will be autumn gladioli.

Raymond Lee Hutchison of Graham, brother of the bride-

Brides Choose August

August seems to be vying with June as the traditional bridal month with scores of girls selecting a date during the last month of summer to don satin and veils or a more informal costume, for that all important day . . . Today at 12:30 in the parlor of the First Baptist church Gladys Smith, left, will be married to C. E. Hutchison . . . Mrs. Dean Miller, the former Wynelle Wilkinson, below, and her husband are traveling in New Mexico following their wedding Saturday evening in the Bart Wilkinson home . . . Vera Vivian Cooper, right, of Ranger, and James Horton of Big Spring were married in formal ceremony in Ranger on August 18. The couple is now at home here.

Vera Vivian Cooper Wed To James Roy Horton

In a double ring ceremony performed Sunday evening, August 18, in the First Methodist church in Ranger, Vera-Vivian Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Cooper, Jr., became the bride of James Horton of Big Spring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Pincian of Big Spring.

The service took place before an altar decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and fern and baskets of pink roses. Seven branch wrought iron floor candelabra held white tapers, Rev. Dale Medearis read the service.

Nuptial music was given by Frances Ruth Hagaman, pianist, who also accompanied Rosemary Bruce, violinist, as she played "Ave Maria", Jacqueline Edwards, sang "O Promise Me" and "Because", Miss Hagaman played the bridal marches.

Candles at the altar were lighted by Dorothy Penn, dressed in a pink formal gown, and Norma Jean Heinlen, in a pink frock of the same design as Miss Penn's.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father wore a bridal gown fashioned with a tight fitting lace bodice with a drop shoulder yoke of net outlined by a fold of net. The full skirt was of net and fell into a long train which was overlaid with a veil of bridal illusion attached to a coronet beaded with seed pearls. She wore a double strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. The bridal bouquet was of colonial style of white gladioli, stephanotis and fern, centered with a purple orchid.

Amelia Walker attended the bride as maid of honor, and was attired in a blue net dress with a headdress of blue net falling from a Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of red gladioli.

Jimmie Kelly attended the groom as best man and ushers were James Ripley of Blum, Sam Hall of Fort Worth, Raymond Scott of Little Rock, Ark., and Ronald Pruet of Ranger.

Bridesmaids were Myra Sue Ice, Mary Guess, Pat Yonker of Houston and Mary Helen Henson of Brady. They wore identical dresses of taffeta and net in pastel shades and had headdresses of matching colors designed with caps and shoulder length veils. They carried arm bouquets of pink and purple gladioli. Anna Beth Deffebach was flower girl and was escorted by Bill Creager.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of

Miller-Wilkinson Rites Read Saturday Night

In a single ring ceremony read Saturday evening at eight o'clock in the home of her parents, Wynelle Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bart Wilkinson, was married to Allen Dean Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Miller of Espanola, N. M.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien read the marriage vows under an archway of fern with tall baskets of peach gladioli at either side. White tapers were placed in tall twin graduated candelabra. Candles were lighted by Joanne Rice, wearing a frock of navy blue crepe with pink metal trim and a corsage of pink gladioli. She lighted the tapers with a candle decorated with blossoms matching those of her corsage.

Mrs. J. E. Hardesty, violinist, played McDowell's, "To a Wild Rose," preceding the ceremony, and accompanied Stewart Smith as he sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly." She then played Lohengrin's wedding march. Mrs. Hardesty wore a dress of light blue wool crepe with a corsage of pink gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length frock of platinum gray sheer crepe embellished with an all over satin stitch design. The dress was designed with a sweetheart-neckline and cap sleeves and with shirred fullness in the bodice. The bodice extended into a small peplum pointed in the front and back, and the straight skirt was accented with a draped bustle effect. She wore a veiled half hat of black corded silk and all accessories were black. She had an orchid corsage. For something old she wore a bracelet belonging to her aunt, Miss Lorena Higgins, something new a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and something blue was a bit of ribbon. She had a penny in her shoe.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. James Edwards, who wore a dove grey silk crepe dress designed with three-quarter length sleeves and diagonal tucking on the bodice. She wore a corsage of peach gladioli.

W. G. Miller attended his son as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The refreshment table was laid with a white linen damask cloth and was centered with the two tiered wedding cake which was decorated with a colonial type bouquet of pink and white spun sugar rosebuds. Mrs. Lorena Lynch served the wedding cake, and Mrs. Franklin Nugent presided at the crystal punch service.

Mrs. Wilkinson, mother of the bride, was attired in a black sheer frock with a peplum of black faille, and wore a corsage of purple asters.

The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Miller, wore a tailored frock of black crepe and had a corsage of purple asters.

After the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to El Paso and New Mexico. After Sept. 9 they will be at home at Bryan where he will attend Texas A. and M. For traveling the bride chose a brown gabardine suit with cardigan lines, with which she wore a white sheer blouse. She wore a hat and gloves of sky blue and other accessories were brown.

The bride was graduated from Big Spring high school in 1945 where she was a member of the Sub-Deb club and served on the student council. At the time of her marriage she was employed at Cosden Petroleum corporation.

Miller is a 1942 graduate of Big Spring high school, and attended Texas A. and M. prior to his entry in the service. He served with army air corps for 30 months and saw six months duty in the Pacific. He received his discharge in April.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Miller, parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. W. Leatherwood, and Wendall from Tecumcari, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilkinson of Dallas, Mrs. W. M. Wilkinson of Stanton, Thelma Joyce McIntosh and Nancy Thompson of Fort Worth.

Etta Ruth Pierce, Perry Genrin Wed In O'Brien Home

Etta Ruth Pierce and Perry Clyde Genrin of Stanton were wed Saturday morning at eight o'clock in the home of Dr. P. E. O'Brien.

For the single ring vows read by Dr. O'Brien, the bride wore a navy blue frock. For something old she wore a ring four generations old, something borrowed was a brooch, something blue was a ribbon and she wore a penny in her shoe.

The couple was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Lurline Genrin, and the best man was Joe Car. Also present were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Pierce of Stanton, formerly of Big Spring. Genrin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Genrin of Stanton. He served for three years in the services and spent two years overseas in the European theater.

After a short wedding trip in the western states the couple will be at home in Stanton.

WHAT GIVES 'ROUND TOWN

By LEATRICE ROSS

High school students have been flocking home from vacation this week and are sitting back wondering how on earth the summer passed so quickly. Tuesday 3rd marks the end of the three-month period of grace for them. Scholars bound for widely scattered sections of the state, on the other hand, can be free until the 15th or thereabout. Best of all, enrollees in the H.C.J.C. can saturate all the added vacation days 'til Sept. 30!

Among those back for the old grind is Lex James, who had been away some six weeks rail-roading through Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Tennessee. Lex was impressed with the amusements offered young people in Memphis. Especially the skating rink which was decorated like an elite night-spot and where skaters dressed in appropriate tights and brief skirts and skate-boots, all glittering with silver dust. Costs 50 cents to perform in this arena, Lex declares, and adds that all rest-skaters in Memphis skate like professionals. Also, says he, youths in that town really go in for the live folk. Among other new experiences for "Ted" were touring the famed Ozark Mountains in Arkansas, catching up with a new dance, the Camel Walk, in Memphis and floating through a much-known but rarely-seen amusement in large fairs, the Tunnel of Love—

Jim Wilkes, who is in Colorado spending the weeks remaining before entering A.M., apparently yearns for home because he writes back that the state is "just too daddummed cold!"

Burke Summers was here this week for a brief stop. Burke is a senior A&M man. Patsy Sue McDaniel boosts her first air-junk-et, having ridden home by plane from Abilene last weekend. Jimmy Smith and Red Collins sited in some time Thursday following look at Carlsbad Caverns.

Jimmy Meador has been in San Angelo this week. Mary Ellen Felts is home from an excursion to Harrison, Ark. Callie McNew's vacation was through New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma and Utah. It was raining, we understand, every night but four of the 20 nights she was away. Several local young persons have told of running into Betty Baird whenever they are in Dallas. Betty is affiliated with the telephone company there. She can be expected back here for a visit before long.

Ran into Jimmy Tamsett in a grocery one day this week. And he was out too overjoyed with the idea of shopping for food; his sister Lillian had failed to turn up for the task so he was forced to do it himself. Gerald Harris, Jackie Barron, R. L. Heath were observed at Tingles Monday talking to Ramona Weaver, who is employed there. Wilda Watts, Colleen Davidson, Eugene Jones, Sonny Hargrove, Toar Bryan, and Sam Thurman heaved the bowling balls Tuesday night.

Norma Jones, James Sims, Babe Lewis, and Ann Smith were among the audience at the Lyric Tuesday night. Billie Chelf, Ladd Smith, Ed McLaren sat through a feature in the same theater Wednesday night. Wednesday night at a late show at the Ritz: Bonnie Dempsey, Culin Grigaby, Jerry Houser, Billy Coleman, Sue Nell Nall, Donald McAdams. Same night the following drifted in and out of the J&H drug: Bobby Hollis, Tip Anderson, Jimmy Peden, Jim Bill Little, Jimmy Jones, James Brooks, Tommie Staton, Hugh Cochran, Mary Davis, John McIntosh.

J. C. Horn, former Big Spring resident who is visiting here from Fort Worth, offered prayer service Monday night for close friends in the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Calvin. J. C. is studying to become a minister, already has given sermons in his own church. Guests for the occasion included Dolores Hull, George and Joyce Worrell, Ellen Dean Eastham, Corky McDonald, James Roy Odom, Lindell Gross.

At the YMCA Monday night: Robert Hobbs, Billy Carlisle, Billy Eppier, Keith Slaughter, Barbara June Greer. H.C.J.C.'s new catalogue has completely impressed Dot Day with the school's properties.

Lynn Jeffcoat, out of the USN about three weeks, tells us that he will be at ACC this fall studying pre-law. Pat Kenny should feel almost native to Fort Worth by this time. He moved there several weeks ago. Have you noticed how everybody still does a quick about-face to stare after one of the new Studebakers—to figure it is going or still coming?

Bill Merrick is recuperating in the Malone-Hogan Clinic from injuries incurred in a performance during a recent out-of-town rodeo.

Cecil Heath, former student at Tech, has volunteered for 18 months with Ye Old Army. Adrian Gates also signed up for the same length of service last week. Billy Joy Horn, who has lived in California for the past several months, came home this week by plane for a visit, perhaps for good.

Nidra Williams spent two weeks in Ruidoso on vacation. Jimmy Black has been assigned a seven-months course at radio school in San Francisco. Billy and Franco Meier are on a motor trip to visit relatives near Los Angeles, Calif. Joe Robert Bosdie is back with us again. Bennie Byrnes is in Colorado visiting kinfolk. Babe Lytle gave a shimmerless party Wednesday night and guests included: Carolyn Hill, Donnie Roberts, Fay Rice, Jane Rice, Tommy Hill, Reba Roberts, Bonnie Dempsey, Joyce Beene, Alpha Page. The gang went en masse to the show and spent the rest of the night over a forty-two game.

Mamie Jean Meador also held a nocturnal session Wednesday which incidentally was her 16th birthday. This gathering went to the baseball game and followed up with long hours of relating horror yarns. Their night-long vigil ended at 6:20 a.m. Awake most of the time were Jean Corvillion, Emma Slaughter, Betty Bradley, Worell, Helen Smith, Joyce Jean's cousin, Dolores Hull, Ann Meador. Just think of us who had to come to work at 8 the next morn.

Some of the dancers at the farewell affair honoring Pat, Nina and Leon Curry Wednesday night at the country club: Frances Wilson, Paul Shaffer, Scooter Terry, Dickie Cloud, Beverly Stulting, Billy Satterwhite, Cella Westerman, Horace Rankin, Mary Gerald Robbins, Joe Fowler Brooks, Helen Montgomery, Bobo Hardy, Dot Cauble, Mickey Casey, Jimmie Hooper, Jack Ewing, Billy Whittington and a score of others.

Expect to see Betty Bradley in the Crawford coffeeshop for lunch Sunday afternoon: Frances Weir, Mary Ann Goodson, Mamie Jean Meador, Ann Meador, Billie Bates, Dot Day. They also plan to take in a movie.

Jean Ellen Chowms gave a dinner party Friday evening for Nina Curry, who left Saturday with her family to take up residence in Wharton. Guests staying for a slumber party included Patsy Thompkins, Mary Louise Davis, Beverly Stulting, Dorothy Satterwhite, Bobby June Bobb, Patsy Sue McDaniel, Helen Bhumt, Mary Nell Cook. Caught a glimpse of Sewell Cash as he sped by in a car Friday. Sewell is home loafing between duties on ship-board with the Merchant Marines.

Billie Chelf is back from vacationing in the middle western states. Tuesday night at the Scout Court of Honor, Corky McDonald will come in for the Eagle badge, supreme scout award.

Parent-Teacher Officials Meet To Make Arrangements For Year

Several of the local Parent-Teacher organizations had meetings of their executive boards last week in order to fill last minute vacancies in the offices and to complete plans to be presented to the entire units for the coming year.

Executives of North Ward P-TA met Friday afternoon in the home of the president, Mrs. Truett Thomas, to make plans for the year's work. Tentative arrangements for a school luncheon and improvements for the playground were discussed. Mrs. T. F. Horton was named budget and finance chairman.

A plan was evolved whereby a member of the executive committee will be in each of the classrooms when school opens to greet the mothers of new students.

Attending were Mrs. Alvin Vieregge, Mrs. F. F. Horton, Mrs. A. L. Cooper, Mrs. B. E. Winterrowd, Mrs. C. E. Suggs, Mrs. R. D. Sallee and Mrs. Truett Thomas.

South Ward P-TA has announced that its first meeting of the year will be held on September 5, when Mrs. Will P. Edwards, president of the Big Spring P-TA council, will speak to the group on plans for the coming year. Mrs. Jimmy Mason, program chairman, announced that it was the aim of her committee this year to have interesting programs which last only one hour. Mrs. Joe Pickle is the unit president.

A get-acquainted tea will follow the first meeting.

Mrs. Zollie Boykin entertained executives and committee chairmen of College Heights P-TA last week when plans were made for activities for the 1946-1947 school year. Mrs. Boykin declared that a stronger feeling of fellowship will be the aim of the unit for the year, and closer relationships between old members and new members will be emphasized. The first meeting of the unit will be held on September 12.

In a meeting of officers of Central Ward P-TA recently in the year, Mrs. Boykin declared that Jenkins several changes were made in the executive board. Mrs. J. C. Lane, was named vice-president, Mrs. H. D. Stewart, treasurer, Mrs. Jim Ewing budget and finance chairman and Mrs. H. J. Coyert, luncheon representative.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blot disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Instructors In Arts To Begin Fall Lessons

With the reopening of public schools, Big Spring music teachers are again resuming classes, and most will open their studios this week for scheduling of lesson periods.

Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser will open her studio on September 3 to begin registrations for the season's work.

Associated with Mrs. Houser this year will be Cecilia Westerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Westerman, former residents of Big Spring. She is a former student of Mrs. Houser's and last year studied at North Texas State college with Dr. Silvio Sciolti. There she had classes in music appreciation, sight singing, ear training, harmony, organ and instruments. During the summer she studied under Dr. Krone at the University of Southern California with instruction in piano class teaching and church music. She will conduct both private lessons and classes in piano.

Realizing the necessity for class theory lessons, Mrs. Houser and Miss Westerman both will teach that course to all students. There will be classes for all ages.

The Houser studio is located at 1005 Johnson street.

Mrs. Nell Frazier will open her studio of piano and voice the second week in September. At that time schedules will be made, and actual work is to begin on Monday, September 16.

The Frazier studio is located at 205 East 10th street.

September 7 will be the opening day for Miss Elsie Willis' studio of piano. During the preceding week registration will be held and schedules will be arranged. In addition to private lessons Miss Willis will instruct classes in musicianship.

During the summer Miss Willis has had her studio redecorated and a new piano has been installed.

Beginning her 15th year of teaching music in Big Spring, Mrs. S. H. Gibson will open her studio at 1015 Johnson street on September 3. She will have lessons in Hawaiian and Spanish guitar, violin, voice, piano and dramatic arts.

Before coming to Big Spring Mrs. Gibson was head of music departments at Clinton college, Clinton, Ky.; Millersburg college, Millersburg, Ky.; Hillman college, Clinton, Miss.; and Jonesboro college, Jonesboro, Ark. Classes will begin when schedules are completed.

When public schools open on Sept. 3, the Farrar Pre-school will

Undercover Men War On Smugglers' Trade

By FRANK L. WELLER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON — There were three men in the automobile. They appeared to be idle tourists ambling across Peace Bridge at Buffalo en route from Canada.

U. S. Customs officers stopped them for routine inspection, but something about them seemed just too innocent.

It was, they were trying to bring in 120 silver-fox pelts appraised at $6,000 without paying the duty.

Small-fry stuff beside the fabulous professional diamond smuggling of several years ago. Customs officers relate it merely to emphasize that since the war smugglers are rumping anything and everything that will sell at high prices in the U. S.

They even try to smuggle dog-food from Argentina. The Bureau of Customs estimated revenue loss would have been $25,000 on the last batch it headed off. The forfeiture value was $269,034.

Customs Commissioner W. R. Johnson's patrolmen on the Canadian border constantly catch smugglers trying to bring in butter, hides, wool, grain and other bulky commodities, and even livestock. On the Mexican border they have to look out for smuggled horses, cattle, liquor and narcotics.

Frequently patrolmen haul saddle horses in motor trailers so they may quickly change to horseback should the trail of smugglers lead into rough country.

There are 362 uniformed border patrolmen and 140 customs officers in plain clothes. The uniformed officers are armed. Theirs is a dangerous task. They get shot at.

So far, they say, there has been no evidence of organized gangs of smugglers.

In the last year of record Customs made 9,644 seizures. Violations included evasion of laws controlling importation and exportation of currency and foreign exchange, and of laws respecting censorship of communications.

U. S. Customs was authorized by Congress in 1789. Its revenue tax collections have increased from $2,239,764 in 1790 to a high of $600,000,000 in 1929. That was the big year. In 1944, the last year of record, Customs collected $434,241,045.

Aside from a needle of radium, a diamond probably is the most concentrated bit of wealth on earth, except maybe a girdle, some of which agents say sell for as high as $500.

Customs officers have found smuggled diamonds hidden in the backs of hair brushes and the hollowed out handles of shaving brushes.

Smugglers usually are caught on a tipoff from people who do not like them. Customs agents discover smuggled jewels by weighing articles which seem to be a bit too heavy and using the new "spectroscope."

A short time ago customs agents found $1,000,000 worth of Swiss watch movements smuggled into this country concealed in earthenware and bronze casts.

Jewelers Got The Ring

FALLS CITY, Neb.—A 16-year-old girl and her 25-year-old suitor called off their engagement. A quarrel developed over the $75 diamond ring.

Sheriff Vern Atkins induced the girl to return the ring, but the suitor didn't get it. The jeweler claimed there was $28 due on it. The jeweler got the ring.

COACHING ASSIGNMENT IN AA SCHOOLS SET TO BEGIN WORK

By The Associated Press
Coaching assignments all have been filled, with a 33 1/3 per cent turnover from last year, and the twenty-seventh annual football campaign of the Texas Interscholastic League will start next week. Seven hundred and eighty-one schools—Class AA, Class A, Class B and Six-Man football—can open fall training under rules of the League on Sept. 1.
The Class AA race, only one going through a state championship, will have 101 teams—two less than last year.
Here are the coaches of the Class AA teams in Texas:
Amarillo, Howard Lynch; Borger, T. E. Ward; Brownfield, Harold Crites; Lubbock, J. G. Keyes; Pampa, Otis Coffey; Plainview, W. C. O. Harris; Childress, M. B. Graham; Electra, W. E. Joe L. Haddon

Band Director Assumes Duties

Joe L. Haddon, who takes over the Big Spring high school band with opening of school here Tuesday, has a long record of professional achievement to support him in his work.
For several years, Haddon conducted private classes in San Angelo and was a member of the widely-known Lions club band of that city, which toured the North American continent as official Texas entertainers for Lions International. He also taught at Ozona.
At Lubbock, Haddon had outstanding success with the Junior high school band while still a student at Texas Tech. In the spring of 1940, the band was the only one rated in division I in the regional national contest at Waco. Previously the band had won three firsts in the national contest besides winning qualifying rounds at San Angelo, Amarillo, Plainview and other places.
Haddon was commissioned a warrant officer band leader in the army in 1940 and served at Camp Bowie, Brownwood; Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells; and in the Philippines. When he received his terminal leave on Dec. 19, 1945, he returned to Texas Tech to work on his masters degree in psychology and music.
For six years, he served as the summer faculty at Texas Tech as instructor for the brasses. He also was assistant director at Tech last spring and was in charge of the "B" band.
The new Big Spring director is a member of the Texas Music Educators, a life member in the NEA, a Shriner, member of the Kappa Kappa Psi and Phi Beta Mu band fraternities, a Lion, American Legion member, and experienced in Boy Scout work. He is married and he and Mrs. Haddon have two children, Judy, 5, and Joe Douglas, 3.

Support, Influence For Schools

If there is anything gravely wrong with our educational system, it largely is due to the fact that too many of us take schools for granted. Thus, we hope that the reopening of schools in the city and county on Tuesday will be the occasion for dispelling this lax attitude.

In the popular mind, the function of a school system is to teach the children how to read and write, how to figure and get a smattering of history, and to use the hands in special ways to type or sew clothes. On the side, it is assumed that a certain amount of rah-rah will be tossed in.

This occasion misses the mark. If this is all that education hoped to accomplish, it would, by financial standards, be a poor investment.

Our notion of the objective of an educational system is to develop children and young people into stable, contributing citizens.

Obviously, the biggest job is to teach youngsters the art of reasoning. All these other things are means to the end, for if a person learns to think clearly, he or she will arrive at the conclusion that privileges are contingent upon responsibilities and that every real personality must actively embrace the ideal of service to others.

If youth grasps this, it will have learned the art of living as well as how to make a living.

One of the greatest obstacles in the path of achieving this type of educational program is in parental indifference.

No matter how talented the instructors or how modern and extensive the program and facilities, the school cannot function with maximum effectiveness if it lacks support from its patrons. Every parent therefore owes it to his child and to his community and nation to be more than passively interested in the new intellectual adventures of the student.

There are a lot of youngsters blessed with such a high degree of native intelligence that they will make good grades and good students regardless. There are vastly more who make the upper brackets or enjoy satisfactory progress because someone at home helps to stimulate ambition, curiosity, enthusiasm, and pride. On the other hand, school becomes a drudgery for others—mostly because of lost interest. The tragedy of this is that it is quite as easy to maintain interest as it is to lose it—if parents do their part. It's difference between making a youngster attend school, and inducing him to attend.

Aside from the moral responsibility toward schools, patrons also have a real financial obligation. Two things are clear. Education pays in every way, and it is not possible to get something worthwhile without paying for it. None of us would expect to acquire a new automobile for a mere pittance. We needn't expect to get something vastly more important than any of our material possessions by stinting on financial support.

To use a perfectly good political term, what schools need is our "support and influence."

Rights Of Employers

WASHINGTON (AP)—How freely can an employer speak to his employees about a union they are thinking of joining?

It puzzles many employers because of two things:

1. Freedom of speech is guaranteed by the constitution.
2. The national labor relations act, passed in 1935, says an employer shall not engage in unfair labor practices against his employees.

Mull Resigns Cosden Post

Cosden Petroleum corporation Saturday announced the resignation of J. B. Mull as vice president in charge of refining. His active duty with the company was concluded at the end of August.

Mull joined the Cosden company as a refining technologist in September, 1940, was named manager of refining operations shortly afterward. On January 17, 1944 he was elected vice president in charge of refining.

Resignation of Mull was accepted with "sincere regret" and announced by R. L. Tollet, Cosden president, and said that Mull's service will be available to the company in the future on a consulting basis. Mull has made no definite plans, but may remain for the present in Big Spring, the announcement said.

Scout Honor Court Scheduled Tuesday

Court of honor for Big Spring Boy Scouts is slated for Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the high school gymnasium, W. Blankenship, chairman, announced Saturday.

Presentation of the Eagle badge, highest award to scouts, will be made to Carl McDonald. Several second class and camping awards are on tap.

During this week, according to H. D. Norris, field executive, several troops will begin a program of invigoration following lighter activities during the summer.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Draw Pearson

Production Outlook Heartening

ED. NOTE—While Draw Pearson is off on a brief vacation, his column will be written by several distinguished guest columnists—today's by Commodore John D. Small, administrator, civilian production administration.)

By JOHN D. SMALL

WASHINGTON—One of the most unexpected things that has ever happened to me has been to be invited to write a column for Draw (Obfuscation spelled sideways) Pearson. There is no point in my trying to compete with the crack-making expert so I will write about my own field—production—and try to give you a clear picture of the progress industrial America is making back to free enterprise.

Our country's industrial production recovered sharply in June to a new post-war peak and in July production climbed still further to a point higher than our best pre-war year. In August production has steadily increased. The outlook is heartening if nothing occurs to rock the boat, and if production is allowed to continue without interruption for at least the next five or six months.

In the case of many products we are now producing far more than pre-war, and in the case of others we are producing less. Products being produced at high speed are those which do not require the use of scarce materials. Industry is still plagued with shortages created, or intensified, during the widespread labor-management disputes throughout the first half of this year, and these shortages are slowing down production of many things we need the most.

For example, there simply isn't enough steel to go around in spite of the fact that steel is now being produced at a very high rate. As a result, considerably fewer automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, and many other consumer items are being produced. Similar shortages of copper and lumber are also slowing up production.

Rumors crop up every week or so that goods are being withheld from the market, that speculative hoarding on a wide scale is going on. It simply is not true. On the whole, over-all inventories at every level—manufacturer, wholesaler, and retailer—are lower today per dollar sale than they were pre-war.

Every now and then someone starts a rumor that enormous quantities of scarce goods are exported again—it simply is not true. All the agencies of government that are concerned are watching exports of scarce materials very carefully, and are alert to stop any undue drain that might be harmful to our economy.

Retail sales are continuing at record-breaking high levels. The public is ravenous for goods it was unable to obtain during the war years. In consequence, retail stores are drained of scarce items as rapidly as they are put on sale.

Take men's suits, for example. The demand is terrific, yet the facts are that in the first six months of 1946 there were produced about 11,500,000 men's suits, plus 3,500,000 separate coats, and 1,000,000 separate pants (a total well above pre-war peak production). The veterans are still having a tough time getting outfitted. The situation would be greatly eased if every man who does not absolutely have to have a new suit would refrain from buying for the next two or three months, and give the veteran a chance to get outfitted for college or a job.

Answers Critics
 Upon occasions, we have been criticized for not stopping construction which was under way prior to the issuance of our order. In my opinion, for the government to step in and stop construction already legally under way would not be fair or equitable. Many veterans with whom I have discussed this matter agree with CPA's position.

So long as building materials are scarce every citizen who wants to help veterans' housing can do it by referring all the construction, repair, or maintenance that he possibly can. In the aggregate the deferring of small jobs that require scarce materials would greatly ease the situation.

During the war industrial America had its problems—plenty of them—but they were evolved. People were reasonable and tolerant and reconciled their differences. As a result, production soared to amazing heights.

Today industrial America has different, and in many ways more difficult problems. Yet the need for production, for steady, sustained, all-out production: for a flood of goods at competitive prices, is greater now than ever before. Give us that flood of goods for the next five or six months, and we will have licked inflation and be on the high road leading toward sound prosperity, and the highest standard of living in the history of mankind.

We need not, we must not, fumble our country's golden opportunity and I, for one am convinced that we will not.

Facing The Fundamental Music

By FRANK GRIMES
 Herald Special Writer

This writer received a touching letter not long ago from a young U. S. navyman stationed in Shanghai. He told of the dangerous situation in which U. S. units find themselves in Shanghai and elsewhere in China, and closed with the frank plea that a movement be started to get them out of there before they are overpowered and perhaps wiped out.

This is a pretty hard thing to answer. A simple answer can be given but it would not satisfy this young man and his family, and it would not convince them either. But it's the only answer we can think of, and here it is:

The presence of U. S. troops in China, as in various parts of Europe, is part and parcel of this nation's hope and desire for a stable world and a peaceful world. We had our choice of playing a man's part in ordering the world and preparing the peace, or withdrawing as we did after the first world war and thus leaving the way wide open for another and infinitely more terrible war in 15 or 20 years.

The President and his advisers, on whom responsibility for our part in the postwar world devolves directly, decided that the presence of U. S. troops at strategic points in China would have a stabilizing influence on the situation there. By those familiar with the situation it is agreed that the only reason China did not immediately plunge into a gigantic civil war was that our troops exercised a restraining influence, particularly on the communist elements, who fear that an all-out attack on the Chinese nationalists, or on U. S. troops, would result in our all-out material support to the nationalists against the communists. The communists know this would spell their ruin, and result in the firm establishment of the nationalist authority over all of China. Incidentally, the communies were the first to raise the cry of, "Get the Americans home!" It originated in Moscow and it has been echoed by American communists. What the communies want is a free hand in China, and Chiang's government stands

In their way, and so do the Americans.

Suppose we do get out, and let the Chinese fight it out among themselves? That would be tantamount to abandoning China to Russia, and instead of 400,000,000 fairly friendly allies, we would have 400,000,000 potential enemies there, led and egged on by the same unprincipled force that has turned the traditionally friendly Balkans against us.

China is a danger point, not merely to our troops quartered there, but to the peace of the world and the safety of the U. S. in particular. That is where the second world war started. That is where a third world war may start, unless we do our full part in trying by every means in our power to stabilize that unhappy country.

General Marshall has been trying for months to bring order out of chaos, and while he has not succeeded in getting peace between the nationalists and communists—probably their differences are hopelessly insoluble—he has at least staved off a general war for the time being.

If you want our opinion, it is that the U. S. should arm and equip Chiang's armies and let them knock the communists for a row of star-spangled bungalows, once and for all.

While we need not cut ourselves that Chiang's outfit is "democratic"—even the Soviets call themselves "democrats"—it is at least anti-communist, and, if we don't think this circumstance is important to our future safety and well-being, we haven't been paying much attention to what is cooking in Europe, particularly in Southeast Europe.

We have got to build a dike somewhere against the communist deluge, and if we can build one in China it will go a long way toward keeping the Moscow operatives out of our own henhouses.

That's the way it stacks up as far as we can see. We sympathize with the boys under the guns over there, we wish we could bring them all to places of safety; but the surest thing in this world is that we can't enjoy peace by digging a hole and pulling the hole in after us. We've got to protect the peace that the blood of 300,000 American fighting men bought and paid for. If we don't face the music, we will have made a monkey of their sacrifices.

An estimated 28,000,000 food parcels were shipped during the war to Americans and Allied prisoners of war.

Gondola Rides Change

By JOHN P. McKNIGHT (For Hal Boyle)

VENICE (AP)—It is a sad thing to have to relate, but this tourist rode the waters of Venice in a gondola for a solid hour—under a full moon, too—and heard not a single snatch of "O Sol Mio."

Over the satiny surface of the Canale Della Grazia and the Canale Orfanello, there floated in that hushed hour only the whistled strains of "One O'clock Jump," and a sandpaper-extended voice singing Hoagy Carmichael's "Stardust" in heavily accented English to a two-chord guitar accompaniment.

When the gondolier, one Virgilio Scarpa, was asked the reasons for this break with hoary tradition, he contrived to create the illusion of spreading his hands and shrugging his shoulders the while he continued to heave at his paddle and replied laconically: "Le Guerra, Signore."

Take it from Virgilio, the gondola business, which has been his for the 21 years since he was 15, is shot.

"There used to be 600 of us licensed gondoliers," he said sadly. "Now there are only 460. The old men have been pensioned off. The young men went off to the wars and some have not come back. And there are many who see no future in it and have found other work to do."

"No more do the tourists come as they used to do. The allied soldiers? They spent much at first, especially the English, but not so much now. However—"

His face brightened visibly in the moonlight.

"However, the Americans have come (the wives and families of many of the American officers and men in allied-occupied Venezia Giulia are quartered in requisitioned hotels in Venice) and the American always spend."

Next year? Virgilio shrugged again, philosophically.

Gable, Garson Romantic Leads In State Film

"Adventure" is MGM's welcome home reception to that studio's and the industry's over-all champion box office personality—Clark Gable. In it he meets for the first time on the screen and in billing the same company's top-ranking feminine attraction. And that means a good show for any moviegoer's money at the State Theatre today and tomorrow.

"Gable Meets Garson" could be the title of the picture, for that is principally what occurs. The narrative makes of Gable a hell-raising boatswain in the merchant marine and of Miss Garson a learned librarian with whom he comes in contact by reason of his pal having literally, as he believes, lost his soul. They meet in San Francisco, where she lives and where he arrives after being picked up at sea after his ship had been torpedoed, and they attract and repeat each other, alternately fighting and loving throughout the long and embattled courtship, a deliriously happy three-day marriage achieved in Reno, a nine-month divorce obtained by the bride when she learns her husband has no intention of giving up the sea, and through the climax of the film.

Gable has somewhat the better of the principal roles, a swashbuckling characterization full of off-hand fisticuffs and disdain for "womankind, and plays it with more, rather than less vim than in the past. Miss Garson, allotted somewhat less long prominence and brought into the picture after it has been going quite a while,

COMING EVENTS IN COLLEGE PAPER

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—College just isn't what it used to be. The Indiana Daily Student, undergraduate newspaper at Indiana University, recently carried its first advertisement of attire for expectant mothers.

Olivia DeHavilland In Ritz' Romance, "To Each His Own"

Widely heralded as one of the greatest love stories ever filmed, Paramount's "To Each His Own," arrives today at the Ritz Theatre. Starring Olivia DeHavilland and introducing John Lund to the screen, "To Each His Own" is reported to be a superb emotional drama, created by a beautifully functioning team of players, director, writers and producer.

The plot of "To Each His Own" is a tender, moving depiction of a woman's ecstasy, heartbreak, and sacrifices as she lives the years between starry-eyed young girlhood and lonely middle-age. It is the story of Jody Norris, dreamer of romantic dreams, who believes that one great love must come to all women.

Jody's comes to her in the person of a dashing flying officer of World War I, and, together, they take the little happiness left to them in the few hours before he must return to duty. After she learns of her lover's death, a son is born to Jody, and, rather than have the child suffer at the hands

A LOVE STORY TO BE REMEMBERED—Newcomer John Lund and Olivia DeHavilland play dramatic roles as the stars in "To Each His Own," opening today at the Ritz Theatre.

GABLE MEETS GARSON—Clark Gable as the tough and ready boat's mate and Greer Garson as the sedate and intellectual librarian clash in MGM's thrilling "Adventure", featured at the State Theatre today and tomorrow.

ROMANTIC MUSIC FROM THE GOOD OLD DAYS—Ann Richards and Randolph Scott, shown in a scene from the Lyric feature, "Badman's Territory," play a fiery newspaper editor and the sheriff.

FIRE CHIEF IS JOHNNY-ON-SPOT

Fire Chief H. V. Crocker didn't have to go out of his way Saturday to give service.

While he talked with Arthur Caywood at the Ritz Saturday morning, an unidentified woman dashed up excitedly, asking where she could report a fire.

"Report it to the chief," said Crocker. "This is he."

Crocker, parked two places from the woman's car, jerked out an extinguisher and had it out in a jiffy.

Firemen made a run Friday evening to 710 Scurry to extinguish a trash fire. No damage resulted, from the blaze.

CAA Approves Private Port For Training

Announcement of Civil Aeronautical Administration approval of the U.S. Flying Service facilities for GI flight training was made today.

As a result, said Johnnie Underwood, operator of the private port northeast of the city, applications are being taken for private certificate instruction under the GI program. As rapidly as certificates of eligibility are cleared by the Veterans Administration, classes can start.

To date some 25 have made tentative applications, said Underwood. In order to accommodate students and to meet CAA specifications, a classroom has been added, runways extended, and concrete floors installed in hangars. Several instructors may be required, including one exclusively for ground school work, said Underwood.

Offering of the training represents another important step for the port, which was opened originally on Nov. 20, 1943. At that time it had two runways, a small hangar and two Cub planes. Today the port has four runways from 2,400 to 4,000 feet, stores from 14 to 18 local planes, accommodations one to five cross-country lanes daily, has 8,884 square feet space in two hangars, shop and arts building, clearance house, fuel facilities, classrooms.

During the three years of operation, according to Underwood, approximately 300 students—ranging from youths to middle aged persons—have been soloed from the private school.

WILLBANKS RETURN
Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Willbanks and Charles returned Sunday afternoon from Wichita Falls where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ellis, Thursday and Friday, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rutherford Saturday.

There were 16,000 occupational deaths in the United States in 1945.

Stray Shots Reported In City Cemetery

Authorities have been seeking to find the source of stray shots reported in the cemetery.

At least two complaints have been lodged by people who said that shots whistled past them while they were inspecting family plots in the cemetery. Officers felt that youngsters hunting in the area might be responsible and warned persons using targets in pastures in that section to avoid shooting in the direction of the cemetery or across roads.
