

Meat Scarce; Housing Too, Survey Shows

Meat is the scarcest food item in the nation's cupboard; hundreds of thousands of workers are unemployed in strike-hit cities, and the housing shortage has reached critical proportions in many communities. These facts were disclosed today in a nation-wide survey conducted by the Associated Press.

Sampling of conditions in cities from coast to coast also showed that the family larder was short of sugar, soaps, fats and oils.

In the housing field, Public Housing authorities said they had long waiting lists from applicants for practically non-existing living quarters, and that apartments were "impossible to find" in some places.

This is how the situation stacked up in the various cities: New York—Food: OPA investigators found only about 55 per cent retailers had meat for sale. Housing: highly critical, according to local authorities. Strikes: largest port at standstill through maritime strike. Truck strike cutting food supplies.

Washington, D. C.—Food: meat fast dwindling, with sugar and shortening equally scarce. Housing: individuals needing adequate living quarters estimated "in excess of 100,000."

An Francisco—Food: meat scarce. Strikes five, 14,000 on strike affecting 280 firms with an estimated 184,000 laid off. Housing: chamber of commerce estimates housing is short 35,000 family units.

New Orleans—Housing: acute. Chicago—Food: meat scarcest food in this important livestock center. Strikes: 12, involving 1-675 workers.

Denver, Kansas City, Birmingham, Ala., and Jacksonville, Fla., were among the other cities in the survey which reported similar conditions.

Cigaret Firm President Dies In Canada

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—George Washington Hill, 61, who rose from a $5-a-week helper in his father's tobacco firm to president of the American Tobacco company, died today at his fishing camp in Matapedia, Quebec Province, Canada.

Announcement of his death was made here by the company. He had been ill for a short time but the cause of death was not announced.

The American Tobacco company was George Washington Hill's alter-ego. He grew up with it and it with him. He injected his ideas—many of them challenging, provocative—into the company, and the company made him reputedly the highest paid corporation executive in the United States. For years he averaged, as president, more than $450,000 annually.

An advertising man at heart, Mr. Hill reputedly spent more money advertising a single product than anyone in history—around $200,000,000 by 1944. In a single year the advertising outlay was $20,000,000.

Beliegent, controversial slogans were conceived and made to permeate the land—emblazoned in newspaper and magazine advertisements and on billboards and broadcast by radio. Many of these slogans were his own inventions, such as the "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet" phrase that stirred up reverberations from candy manufacturers.

Seeking a radio vehicle for his advertising message, Hill decided on music and the weekly "Hit Parade" was born.

Born at Philadelphia Oct. 22, 1884, Mr. Hill attended Williams college for two years, then joined the American Tobacco company of which his father, Percival S., was head.

In the summer of 1935, in London, he married his secretary Miss Mary Barnes of New York. By two previous marriages, he had two sons, George Jr., and Percival S. II, and a daughter, Mary.

86th BIRTHDAY FOR PERSHING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Gen. John J. Pershing is 86 today and an old artilleryman who helped him whip the Germans in 1918 has a date to say, "Happy Birthday."

President Truman arranged to call in mid-afternoon on his old A.E.F. commander. Mr. Truman served with a Missouri National Guard artillery regiment in the first World war.

Pershing, retired with the rank of general of the army, has lived at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital here since he suffered a severe illness in 1938.

Wallace May Have Stirred Up Controversy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Diplomatic authorities frankly predicted today that Secretary Wallace's foreign policy speech will stir a hornet's nest of controversy over American-Russian relations.

Despite President Truman's assertion that no departures from established United States foreign policy were involved there was wide speculation that it might also result in a sharp split between Wallace and Secretary of State Byrnes, now at the Paris Peace Conference.

Calling for frank recognition of Russian and American spheres of influence, Wallace at the same time denounced any "get tough with Russia" policies. He demanded too that this country abstain from close cooperation with Great Britain in controversies involving the Soviet Union.

The cabinet officer delivered the speech in New York last night at a meeting sponsored by the National Citizens Political Action Committee and the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions.

The initial reactions of State Department officials appeared to be one of stunned surprise at Wallace's blunt advocacy of policies which they evidently considered to be in conflict with those Byrnes has been following.

AFL Seamen Get Boost; CIO Strikes For Same

Approval Seen On Parity Demands

By The Associated Press
The CIO National Maritime Union went on strike at 10 a. m. today to obtain the wage increases striking AFL seamen won last night in a White House ruling as the nation's deep-water ports remained strike-bound.

Despite the NMU action, hopes of settling the maritime crisis were high with indications that the government was prepared to grant the NMU wage parity.

In Washington, J. Godfrey Butler, labor relations director for the Maritime Commission, told a reporter he believed the commission "would seek to extend to the CIO the same increase as were given to the AFL."

However, when the session broke up after more than an hour and a half of deliberations, a spokesman for the commission told reporters that today's meeting was a "purely informative" one, that no action had been taken and that no further session was scheduled during the afternoon.

Meanwhile, on the west coast AFL seamen ended their eight-day walkout by accepting the government proposal restoring a wage increase vetoed by the Wage Stabilization Board. On the east coast, a spokesman said they only awaited official notification of the White House ruling.

The NMU council said its men were striking because of "deliberate creation of inequities which result in different rates of pay for men doing the same work on the same type of ships." NMU President Joseph Curran said the strike would be supported by 200,000 members of the six CIO and one independent union comprising the committee for Maritime Unity. The NMU has 90,000 members.

John R. Steelman, who is both reconversion director and economic stabilizer, signaled an end for the AFL stoppage by giving the strikers the raises they wanted.

Labor men in Washington interpreted his action as meaning the government decided against a "get tough" policy in this crisis.

The CIO National Maritime Union, led by Joe Curran, struck today to persuade employers to match the AFL wages. Should the employers agree, a government okay presumably would follow in accordance with the Steelman plan.

The Steelman plan gives AFL seamen in the able-bodied class $5 to $10 more a month than the Wage Stabilization Board was willing to approve. The money will come partly from the pockets of private ship-owners and partly from the federal treasury.

The Steelman plan upheld the WSB ruling in one respect. In private shipping, the operators must absorb the $5 to $10 themselves, without passing it on to the public in the form of higher shipping rates.

In government shipping—still nearly half of the industry—Steelman simply changed the rules to permit the Maritime Commission to finance the higher wages with out WSB approval.

The CIO union wants $10 more for its able-bodied seamen, to add to the $17.50 basic wage rate it received in June.

Little Change Seen In Oil Allowables
AUSTIN, Sept. 13 (AP)—Little change was in prospect today for allowable oil production in Texas in October.

Oil men gathered for the monthly statewide hearing, at which testimony will be taken upon which to base a production order effective Oct. 1.

Purchasers' nominations announced on the eve of the hearing were for 2,433,482 barrels of crude daily, up a relatively small 27,482 barrels daily.

The United States Bureau of Mine estimate of market demand was for 2,120,000 barrels daily, unchanged from September.

Drive Underway In Senate To Kill OPA By April 1

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—A drive to kill OPA next April—three months ahead of its scheduled death date—is shaping up among senators.

Discussed quietly by some members of both parties, the proposal was brought into the open by Senator Taft (R-Ohio). He told the Ohio Republican State Convention at Columbus Wednesday that price and wage controls should be "completely abolished" by April 1, with rent control, not to exceed one more year transferred to the National Housing Administration.

Expanding on the plan in an interview, Taft noted today that under the current OPA Act all food subsidies must come to an end by April. He said he saw no reason why the Price Administration could not be liquidated at the same time.

An influential Democratic Senator, heretofore closely allied to the Administration, told a reporter on the condition his name not be used that "the greatest mistake" he had made in his long Congressional career was to vote for extension of the Price Control law last July.

He predicted a successful drive to abolish OPA as soon as Congress reconvenes next January. There is no indication that President Truman would accept willingly the abolition of OPA ahead of the present June 30, 1947, deadline.

The chief executive was asked at a news conference yesterday if it could be assumed that the combined chiefs of staff—the group of high military and naval commanders of the two nations who collaborated in planning and prosecuting World War II—would continue in existence until the war's end was proclaimed officially.

Sure, answered the President. But he disagreed with the questioner's phrasing—whether the visit of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery "points up the fact" that the combined staff still exists. There is, said the president, nothing significant in the visit of the British chief of staff to the United States except that it is a friendly gesture.

Officials say that obviously the wartime functions of the combined staffs are not being carried on in the post-hostilities era but only those applicable to peacetime conditions or necessary to close out the wartime activities.

Since American land or naval forces still operate in geographic regions where British forces are located or where British transportation or supplies are involved, the combined chiefs have a continuing interest.

San Antonio Garbage Workers Ask Raise
SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 13 (AP)—The San Antonio City Council has decided to defer action on pay increase demands of garbage drivers and collectors until Monday, the day set by union officials for a walk-out of the employees.

N. C. Alexander, union chairman, said the strike will take place if the city fails to come to terms. The union has been told by Commissioner Henry Hein that the city could not meet the dollar-per-day pay raise demand but could offer a boost of ten cents a day. The union has rejected the city's proposal.

Seaman Sped By Plane For Appendectomy
SHANGHAI, Sept. 13 (AP)—A Navy seaplane picked up S2-C B. F. Hammaek, Weston, Texas, from the USS Curtiss and sped him to Okinawa for an emergency appendectomy. Navy headquarters reported today that Hammaek's condition is good.

LT. Cmdr. Clement Demaree, Piedmont, Calif., piloted the Marine plane, which landed along the Curtiss midway between Tsingtao and Okinawa. The mission was necessary because the Curtiss medical officer was hospitalized before the ship left Tsingtao.

Mexico Reaches Inflation Peak

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 3 (AP)—Mexico has reached the peak of its postwar inflation, and the present tendency, though not yet reflected in retail prices, is downward, Eduardo Suarez, Secretary of Finance, said today.

In an interview published this morning by Excelsior, the secretary declared wholesale prices, not only in Mexico but in the US and other countries, were already declining. The position of the Bank of Mexico, he added, and will be even stronger when the government carries out its plan proposed for this year to liquidate entirely its debt with the bank.

Meanwhile, a private weekly index of retail prices (1939 at 1000) showed general cost of living at 325 with clothing 450, food 340, and domestic articles 230.

The opposing groups include the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railway, The Texas and Pacific Railway and Motor Transport; Johnson Motor Lines, Northeast Texas Motor Line and Phillips Motor Lines.

The Central Line seeks to serve from Dallas to Denison, by way of Sherman and Pottsboro.

Periods for priority holders are as follows: Sept. 25, federal government agencies; Sept. 26 through Oct. 10, veterans of World War I; Oct. 11, RFC for resale to small business; and Oct. 12, state and local governments. Beginning Oct. 13 the remaining gliders will be for sale to the general public.

Palestine Meet Almost Doomed

LONDON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Arab and Jewish sources agreed today that only a major swing in Britain's approach to settlement of the explosive question of Palestine's future can save the current London conference from "total failure."

As delegates to the conference—which is being boycotted by Palestine's Jews and Arabs alike—began a three-day recess, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Colonial Secretary George Hall arranged to confer with Prime Minister Attlee on possible modifications in the British-American committee's federalization plan, which was rejected unanimously yesterday by the seven member states of the Arab League.

That made opposition to the federalization scheme practically unanimous, with Jews, the US government and now the Arabs against it and only Britain still on record as for it. Conference observers said it appeared likely that Bevin, in his reply to the Arab declaration next Monday, either would present a newly-formulated scheme or ask the Arab League to submit its own solution.

In Jerusalem, reports spread that three elder statesmen of the Arab world would meet soon in Bagdad to seek a formula which might bring success on the London parity. King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, according to these reports, was to confer with Nuri Said Pasha of Iraq and Ahmed Helmi Pasha of the Palestine Arab executive.

Meanwhile, British and Jewish undercover efforts to meet for informal conversations without loss of face continued.

DONKEYS WIN THE FIRST GAME

It's Too Simple (?) Say Legion Men; Will Send Girls Into Affray Tonight

Haughty over having demonstrated a closer affinity for mules than opposition, the American Legion announced Friday that in view of the runaway (?) victory over the Lions Thursday in the first of two football games, the Legionnaires would replace the ex-doughnuts this evening.

The return engagement is ticketed at 8 o'clock under the lights at the rodock grounds. A crowd estimated at 1,500 to 2,000 saw the Legion stumple across two or three runs—there was never any way of knowing—while the Lions practically made a meal of the dust.

Jack Y. Smith belted with the volume of one of the donkey clan that the Lions had been mule-skinned out of the game. He loudly complained that a ringer from the Legionnaires had done the Legion scoring.

"Why those Legionnaires didn't know what end of the donkey was which," he sported. Smith sheepishly admitted he had trouble telling top from bottom of the mule's horns.

There were some wild demonstrations afield that kept the stands roaring for almost an hour and a half. Avery Falkner bounced so many times they were calling him the "rubber man." Joe Burrell's epochal mounting and unceremonious dismounting elicited great mirth from the stands. Neal Barnaby lost his balance abruptly, and Judge Cecil Collings had no way of overruling his mout on way of bucking got underway.

There were a dozen or more of others, too, who were convinced that "wild jacks" was more than a literary phrase.

One movement on foot Friday (as to get Bill Dawes out of the speaker's stand, from which he in complete safety, chortled over spills and childed players on the field of combat).

Legion officials disdained to play such "harmless opposition as the Lions" in view of Thursday evening results, claiming that the Legion girls could easily handle the situation.

"The truth," to quote Jack Smith, "is that the Legion has ducked behind a skirt to whisper 'cal-rope'."

Was the case Thursday evening, a western dance will follow after the game this evening.

Anglo-American Collaboration Still In Effect Truman Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—President Truman's offhand disclosure that the wartime military collaboration of the United States and Britain is to remain intact for a time produced little surprise in this capital today.

But what significance, if any, might be read into it by other world powers remained an open question.

The chief executive was asked at a news conference yesterday if it could be assumed that the combined chiefs of staff—the group of high military and naval commanders of the two nations who collaborated in planning and prosecuting World War II—would continue in existence until the war's end was proclaimed officially.

Sure, answered the President. But he disagreed with the questioner's phrasing—whether the visit of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery "points up the fact" that the combined staff still exists.

Clark Blasts Reds In Report

VIENNA, Sept. 13 (AP)—Sharp criticism of alleged Soviet efforts to hamper the Austrian government, enlarge the Russian power to veto and "cramp transportation by withholding petroleum products is contained in a monthly report on the Austrian occupation released today by Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters.

Clark is now in Washington for conferences with war and state department officials.

"Especially important during August," the report said, "were efforts of the Soviets to disapprove the nationalization law, passed in late July by the Austrian government, and to unmake the new commercial agreement in such a way as to eliminate a large part of the freedom of action which this agreement gives to the Austrian government."

It added that the Russian element of the Quadruplet Control Council also had attempted to change the definition of constitutional law in Austria in such a way as to enlarge the Soviet power of veto over legislation.

Concerning transportation the report commented: "Soviet delinquencies of deliveries of indigenous oil products to the US zone resulted in serious curtailment of essential highway transportation."

"Five hundred tons of gasoline were released from US military stocks to release a shortage due to delay in deliveries from the Soviet zone," the report declared.

Agents Close Session Here

A two-day meeting of agricultural and home demonstration agents from four counties was due to close here this afternoon.

Joe L. Matthews, planning specialist, and Helen Swift, sociologist for the rural women's planning organization, both from the A&M college extension service, presided at the meetings.

Held in the form of a training school for the formulation of plans for work in 1947, discussions were conducted on problems of rural people and closer co-ordination of joint activities for agricultural and home demonstration agents.

The programs of work are to be developed as indicated by chief problems of farm people. Matthews said. The county agents also studied methods of working in close co-operation with other individuals and agencies interested in farm and rural work.

W. I. Marschal, district agricultural agent, and Mrs. Myrtle Negy, district home demonstration agent, of San Angelo, took part in the discussions. Present were agents from Coke, Concho, Howard and Mitchell counties.

Markets

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Selected steels, motors, rubbers and industrial special stocks today led the market on a relatively slow-going recovery faint with dealings the smallest of the week.

From the start the direction was upward although the ticker tape frequently faded. Gains generally ranged from fractions to 3 points with a few "thin" issues adding 4 to 12 on meager transactions. While extreme advances were shaded in a number of instances at the close, assorted favorites ended at the day's best. The pace quickened a bit in the final hour. Volume of around 1,700,000 shares compared with 1,990,000 the day before.

County Gains 200 Scholastics

Howard county has 5,487 scholastics on the approved 1946 census rolls, a gain of approximately 200 over last year.

According to the rolls corrected and passed by John Olson, in charge of the census division of the department of education, the Big Spring Independent school district had 3,793, Coahoma Independent school district 364, Knott Independent school district 329 and common school districts 999.

These figures were before transfers of official revised figures with transfers shown by districts: Big Spring, 3,885; Coahoma and Knott, 361 each; common schools 828. The Coahoma total, however, would reach 467 when 38 students from Vincent and 48 from R-Bar, contracted to Coahoma, are included. These would come off the common school district totals.

Last year the approved census total for all the county was 5,274.

FSA Has Increase In Loan Applications

Case load at the Farm Security Administration office in the postoffice basement, already is pointing upward. E. A. Miller, district supervisor, said Friday.

Since showers have fallen in parts of the county, some 20 applications have been received, and await action at the next county committee meeting.

Without exception, said Miller, these are operational loans—for feed, seed, essential machinery, etc.—on which to make another crop.

Similar conditions prevail in Martin county. In these two, he estimated, a 50 per cent increase in case load was not improbable. The increase will not be substantial in Andrews, Ector, Midland or Glasscock counties, others in the district, since they are predominantly ranching areas.

Missions Perform Raggedly In First Home Appearance

By The Associated Press

Fort Worth and Dallas, who finished in one-two order in the Texas league regular season, will be out for clinchers tonight as they tackle Tulsa and San Antonio for the fourth straight night in the championship playoff.

Catcher George Pfister scored a ninth-inning homer last night to break up a 3-3 ball game and give the Fort Worth club a 4-3 victory over the Oilers at Tulsa. The Cats had shutout Tulsa, 5-0 and 1-0, in the two previous games.

San Antonio's Missions performed raggedly in their first home appearance in the playoff and six errors all but handed the Dallas Rebels a 2-1 win. Ninth-inning homer had given the Rebels a couple of 4-3 games in Dallas to open the series.

The clubs remain at Tulsa and San Antonio for games tonight and tomorrow.

Fort Worth's first tallies were made in the second inning as Eddie Snider led off with a homer. Bassgall doubled to left and scored on a Texas leaguer by Butch Woyt. Tulsa had scored a single tally in the first when Henry Schenz beat out a bunt and then scored on a wild throw to second by Pfister.

The Oilers went ahead, 3-2, in the sixth with a couple of runs on a single, two errors and a long fly.

A single by Woyt, a sacrifice and another single by Lewis Ruchser tied the score for the Cats in the eighth.

George Dockins was the winning hurler and Tom Warren the loser. Two unearned runs accounted for the Dallas win over the Missions. Errors in the second and sixth innings sent two Rebels across the plate.

San Antonio scored its lone run in the eighth. With the bases loaded, Andy Anderson hit into a double play that scored Ray Coleman from third.

Jelly Sorelle, hard-luck Mission hurler, allowed the Rebels only four hits before being relieved for a pinch hitter in the seventh. The Missions collected eight hits off H. K. Perry, who went the route for Dallas.

Tonight's schedule:
Dallas at San Antonio.
Fort Worth at Tulsa.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

(Trust) Thomas is guest columnist today.

HUNTING—Doves have left this vicinity in amazingly large numbers due to a shortage of feed. In Mitchell, Scurry and parts of Dawson counties they are plentiful. Hunters making trips to these parts are having no trouble bagging their limit. With a feed crop next year, they will be here in bunches once more.

Quail are plentiful this year considering the fact that things have been drier than in the past generation. Large coveys are in evidence over most of the county.

FISHING—Some of the finest fishing days that any Isaac Walton ever enjoyed are due the latter part of September and all of October. If you have never had an "October Bass" on a 12-pound test line, then you have never enjoyed the finer things offered by the piscatorial tribe. Bass in October are more vicious than at any other time of the year. October also is the best month for the yellow cat.

GOLFING—Something I quit just as soon as I convinced myself of what everyone else knew from the start—that I rated just as a DUB.

THINGS TO COME—Big Spring Steers will win one conference game this season—Lamesa University of Texas will win the Southwest conference. Brooklyn Dodgers will lose the World Series to the Red Sox, four games to one. (I am being heckled over my shoulder at this very instant by a persistent partisan who wants to bet the Dodgers won't even be in the series. But who is writing this column, anyway?)

THINGS THAT SHOULD HAPPEN—Texas Tech should be in the Southwest Conference. Big Spring should have a member on the Game, Fish and Oyster commission. (A couple of appointments are coming up on this board next year. It's time for spade work.)

The traffic lights at E. 3rd and Benton and at Galveston and W. 3rd should change more than once each five minutes. If you are in a hurry, take a sandwich along and eat it on the red light at either intersection.

Higbe's Failure Spurs Hopes Of Cardinals

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

More than ever today it looks like the St. Louis Cardinals will be the Boston Red Sox' World Series opponent next month.

Not so much because the Cards beat the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday in the opener of their "Fight For The Flag" three-game series to increase their National League margin to two and a half games, but because of the easy manner in which they bowled over the flock.

The game was barely five minutes after it started. Kirby Higbe, the Dodgers ace righthander and possessor of the best won and lost record in the league, retired the first two batters to face him, but then the roof coveled in over his head. Stan Musial doubled, Enos Slaughter walked, Whitey Kurouski and Dick Sisker singled, and Rookie Catcher Gene Gasiola homered to make it 5-0 for St. Louis before Howie Pollet, who was to gain his 19th triumph, made his first pitch.

The victory was number 14 for the Cards in 20 meetings with the Dodgers. Manager Eddie Dyer plans to give George Mungler, who rejoined the club last month after two years in the Army, a chance to seek his third straight win today. He will be opposed by lefthander

Joe Hatten, who won two victories over the Cards.

The pennant-bound Red Sox failed again to clinch the American League flag when they bowed to Bobby Feller and the Cleveland Indian 4-1. It was the sixth straight defeat for Joe Cronin's frustrated nine which needs a victory plus a Detroit defeat to cop the championship.

The Tigers moved two games in front in their battle with the Yankees for second place by defeating the New Yorkers 6-4 in Detroit.

The Chicago Cubs earned a split with the Phillies in a doubleheader in Philadelphia, winning the second game 5-4 in 19 innings after the Phillis had come from behind to cop the opener 4-3.

After losing 1-0 to Pittsburgh, the Boston Braves edged out the Pirates 2-1 in the second game of a double bill.

A six-run eighth inning gave the Washington Senators a 9-6 victory over the Browns under the lights in St. Louis.

Rookie Monte Kennedy yielded only two hits in pitching the National League cellar-dwelling New York Giants to a 4-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Cold weather in Chicago forced the postponement of the White Sox—Philadelphia Athletics game

Blue Sox Fold Up In Fourth

By The Associated Press

Lubbock's Hubbers will have an opportunity tonight to eliminate the Abilene Blue Sox, first place finishers in the West-Texas-New Mexico League full season standings, from the league's championship playoff.

The Hubbers took their third straight game from the Blue Sox last night, 7-3. A win tonight would give them the right to meet the winner of the Amarillo-Pampa series next week.

Rain caused postponement of the game at Amarillo last night. Pampa holds a two-game lead over the Gold Sox.

Games are scheduled tonight at Lubbock and Amarillo.

Ernie Nelson, veteran lefthander hurled six-hit ball as the Hubbers pounced on three Abilene pitchers. Lubbock took the lead in the first inning and then drove Bill Werbowksi, Abilene's starter, from the mound in the fourth with the final four runs of the game. Abilene had tied the count in the first of the fourth on a homer by Danny Ozark, with Ray Anderson score. Anderson had singled to score Manager Hayden Greer.

Lubbock ... 120 400 000—7 11 3

Henderson, Texarkana Maintain 2-1 Leads In Eastex Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Henderson and Texarkana today hold two-to-one leads over Greenville and Tyler in the semi-final round of the East Texas League playoff.

Henderson received its first defeat of the series last night, bowing to the Greenville Majors, 5-3, at Greenville, while Texarkana was winning over Tyler, 8-5.

In each game the winner had to come from behind.

Tonight, Henderson and Greenville tangle again at Greenville. Texarkana and Tyler will take the day off and resume their series in Texarkana, tomorrow and Sunday.

Trailing by a score of 2-3, Greenville's Majors pushed across two runs in the sixth inning, on three hits, and added another in the seventh to overcome a two-run Oiler advantage.

Josie Phipps was the winning Greenville hurler, besting Eldon Davis. Phipps was rescued from trouble, however, in three innings as his infield support pulled fast double plays.

An estimated crowd of 5,000 attended the game, first of the series to be played at Greenville.

The Bears of Texarkana iced their game in the seventh with a four-run spurge. Two scores came when Catcher Joe Kracher singled with the bases loaded.

Johnny Wood was the winning pitcher.

Steers To Be Honored At Pre-Season 'Feed' Next Wednesday Night

Big Spring high school's Steers, at work for a grid schedule opening Sept. 20, will get a season sendoff in the nature of a dinner program tendered by the Big Spring Athletic association.

Directors of the association, meeting Thursday evening, fixed next Wednesday, Sept. 18, as the date of an open program honoring the Steer squad and its coaching staff. The affair will be at the Settles, beginning at 7:30.

The event will be free to all, and supporters of the Steers are urged to attend. Reservations should be made in advance with either Lou Baker or Ted Groehl.

Tonto Coleman, Abilene Christian coach has accepted an invitation to be principal speaker at the program. Other program numbers will be arranged.

The Athletic association is anxious to get a big turnout to demonstrate.

strate to the gridders that they have full backing from the town as they go into the 1946 wars.

The association directorate also voted to offer services to the school system in advance selling of season tickets, and said members are prepared to make a sales campaign if they get the go-ahead signal. The association also offered to maintain a downtown selling office for all individual game tickets this season.

Larkin-Joyce "Go" On KBST Tonight

Tippy Larkin (above) of Garfield, N. J., and Willie Joyce, Gary, Ind., aim to put each other on the neck for keeps when they clash in Madison Square Garden's twelve-round welterweight headliner tonight.

The fight brings together two of boxing's foremost exponents of the fistic science. Larkin and Joyce are skilled boxers equipped with rapid-fire left hands. Both are smart, cagey.

Larkin has always shown to best advantage against stylists. But if the Garfield Gunner has an edge over "Will o' the Wisp" Willie, it's because he also packs tooth-loosening right. Joyce makes up for this by his ability to alter his style from round to round—a talent that has proved baffling.

Problem Points To Another One

The fact that enrollment in the Big Spring schools has exceeded estimates has aggravated a situation which was not totally unexpected. The difference is in degree. In some instances, the influx of youngsters in the lower grades has almost reached the point where actual seating space is a problem. It certainly has brought into focus the matter of teacher loads. In turn, this has brought up the matter of additional teaching force, and this the matter of finances. One of the inconveniences of the problem is that the system is obliged to conduct what is known as double-day sessions. There is a distinction between the double-day session and the half-day session. Under the double-day plan, the hours of instruction are equal with regular sessions. Half day instruction is what the name implies. There are two ways to handle this matter. Teachers may be expected to handle two double-day sessions, or they may be expected to devote their full energies to one session alone. The first offers certain economies. The second offers advantages in instruction by placing emphasis on the child. After considerable discussion, the board of trustees has inclined toward the second alternative. This, as we said before, entails additional financial considerations. This is the immediate effect. Yet there is danger that as perplexing as this may be, we may lose sight of another underlying problem. It is the fact that Big Spring actually needs more school buildings. At the moment one building might help bridge the gap, but the answer more likely is two. But it is acknowledged generally that building is a remote prospect at the moment. In the first place building costs are inflated. In the second place, the system, always constricted financially, has not the capacity on its present base to support a building program and properly staff these buildings. But the problem is there. We may temporize through a year or a few years. If we continue to grow, and there is good reason to believe we will, some of these days we shall have to come face to face with the issue of whether we want to spend more money on the schools. When the people speak on this issue, they will have spoken in a great degree as to the quality of schools they are willing to support.

Shortage May Be A Harbinger

Our community is beginning to feel the effects of a meat shortage. The particular instance is occasional withdrawal of a major source of supply due to the slaughterer having exceeded slaughtering quotas in May and June and having to absorb it in September. No doubt this exacts financial loss on the slaughterer's part, but it has the double effect of penalizing the public in a degree. It is true that the public ate this meat ahead of time, so to speak, but this does not alleviate the pinch. Likely there is little to be done about it unless OPA should suddenly reverse its policies and permit excesses to be absorbed gradually. Meanwhile, consumers may have to broaden out in seeking supplies. While this is a temporary matter, it may well be the harbinger of a tighter situation in general in subsequent months. Locally, our livestock population is down nearly 50 per cent and that cannot but help be reflected eventually at meat counters. That won't be so temporary.

The Nation Today—James Marlow

Why US Cancels Italian Reparations

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The United States has stated it wants no reparations — payment for the money it cost us to fight her and the damage she did us — from Italy. This country estimates that, of the $335,000,000,000 we spent on the war, $20,000,000,000 went into the Italian campaign. Then why cancel out $20,000,000,000? Because Italy is broke and we don't think she could ever pay us. The British figure Italy owes them $11,000,000,000 for reparations, but they are not going to ask for it. Here's the story: At the Paris Peace Conference — where yesterday we said we want no reparations — the claims for reparations by the various countries which fought Italy are being worked out. When the final figures are agreed upon they'll be written into the peace treaty which the United Nations will sign with Italy. Then it will be up to her to pay off during the years ahead. The nations asking reparations, and the amounts, are: Russia, $100,000,000; Yugoslavia, $1,300,000,000; Albania, $684,200,000; Greece, $2,000,000,000; E. G. P. L., $519,000,000; Ethiopia, $738,900,000; Mexico, $50,000,000. Total $5,390,100,000. The only claim worked out so far is that of Russia, for $100,000,000. Italy won't have to pay in cash, but in these three ways: 1. If Italy has any surplus munitions or machinery for making munitions — machinery useful for peaceful purposes — Russia will get them. 2. Russia will take over all Italian assets — like banking or insurance or oil or forests — in the Balkan countries. This will all be property or businesses owned by Italians. 3. Russia will send in raw materials and Italian factories will turn them into finished goods for shipment back to Russia. Italy not only is bankrupt but will need help from the outside, and in this way: For a number of years she won't be able to make much money abroad by exporting goods for sale. For a number of years she will have to import food and raw materials to keep her people and machines going. In order to pay for those imports of food and materials, she'll have to borrow money abroad. Where? This country, richest in the world, could lend her money. But if Italy borrowed money from us, might it not be used to pay off the reparations being demanded now at the Paris Peace Conference? It might. So the US spokesman on this subject in Paris, Willard Throp, said this country does not propose to pour help into Italy only to have it go out as reparations to other countries. If any loan is made to her, it probably will be iron-clad that none of our help goes to pay off Italy's debts to others.

McGlory's OK At RKO

NEW YORK — Sean McGlory, as the name suggests, is Irish, not the brash and extroverted Irishman of accepted tradition but a soft-spoken young gentleman of 23, the laces of Galway trickling softly through his speech, who is honestly and unabashedly amazed at being in New York. He was signed three weeks ago to a modestly hountful RKO contract and rushed here to take tests for Dudley Nichols' production of Eugene O'Neill's "Mourning Becomes Electra." Sitting amid such gossip-column notables as Eddie Duchin, Ben Hecht, Phil Silvers, Ethel Merman and Ralph Bellamy, Sean was quietly agast at his assimilation into the celebrity sweepstakes. Sean said he couldn't get used to big meals, the fast New York "pave and potatoes." "I ordered potatoes and got some sort of yellow mash," he said. It seems that Sean is used to Irish spuds, which are the usual white boiled or baked variety, and had never come up against sweet potatoes. McGlory was discovered by Jack Votion, RKO's European talent scout, who told the tall — six-foot-one — Irish lad that he thought he could sign him without a screen test. Believing this to be the same blarney as given him by previous screen scouts, American and British, Sean nodded politely and swan off on a holiday. Within a few days, confirmation of Votion's decision came by cable from Hollywood and Sean was hooked back in a hurry from his rest and packed forthwith onto a plane New York bound. "Born in Dublin, the lanky lad was reared, or 'rared," as I heard my own Irish grandparents pronounce it, in Galway, and he talks with the soft Galway brogue in which sets him down definitely as and watchtowers, often 50 feet high, of tribesmen whose building materials are extremely scarce. This is in order "to keep them busy and out of mischief for the next few months." These sources related this sequence of events in the latest "incident" in the innumerable frontier series: A large band of heavily armed tribesmen attacked and captured a party including Major J. O. S. Donahoe, political agent of the chief commissioner, in southern Waziristan. The party was held prisoner within four miles of Razmak, where a full brigade is stationed; but might as well have been 400 because of the terrain and the fact that it is considered fool-hardy for troops to attempt to dislodge even a few tribesmen from their rocky mountain perches. A couple of days later the agent sent a note saying that he was being reasonably well treated and that he had been abducted because the Shari Khel tribesmen of the Division of Hahsud felt that they had been treated unfairly in the distribution of cloth and sugar by the British. The Hsabi Khel were told that they could expect punishment commensurate with the length of time that the prisoners were held. The hillmen replied promptly that they would kill their captives if they were attacked. Lengthy negotiations through the village headman finally won release of the prisoners, but the British claimed that the Shari Khel had failed to comply with certain unspecified demands by the government of northwest frontier province. As a result, planes and artillery were sent — after due warning — to attack the hill villages in early August, but still there were no overtures from the hillmen. Punitive action was resumed in the last two weeks in August and nearly a dozen villages were wholly or partially destroyed. But the rough and ready tribesmen have not given in yet — and that's how it stands.

Irish without the especially indiscriminate use of "begorra" and "sure, pow." He has had a strenuous training, first with the Gaelic Theater in Galway and later with the Abbey Players in Dublin. When the talk got around to girls, as I suppose every movie interview must, Sean showed me a scar on his arm about an inch long. The places he said, once was occupied by a girl's name which he'd had tattooed there (in the midst of a 15-year-old amorous flurry, the amf which was a young lady named Phyllis Devery. The adolescent Sean showed this romantic mark to said Phyllis, who'd been oblivious of the callow worship that had grown so swiftly and graphically from Sean's heart to his forearm. Phyllis thereupon got mad and in a strange fury, even for a Galway gal, turned young Sean about and booted him neatly in the posterior. A MEDICAL student in Galway several years later, Sean decided it was time to remove the irritating sign of this early amour and had a simple surgical erasure. The scar remains. "Every time it rains it hurts a little, and I consider it a good sign," he said. "As long as it rains regularly, I'll watch out for feminine pitfalls."

War Doctors.
CHICAGO—The war will have produced a bonus of 7,214 extra doctors by 1947, the American Medical Association says. By that time all the scheduled extra gradations resulting from war-time speed-up training will have been completed. Forty per cent more meat was produced during 1941-45 than in the 1935-to-1939 prewar period.

John L. Lewis Plans PAC For AFL

WASHINGTON — For years the American Federation of Labor has traditionally refrained from political entanglements. It has supported neither the Democratic nor the Republican party in a national election, but has backed individual candidates on the basis of their labor records. Astute Sam Gompers pioneered this policy. He always contended that the federation's business was "trade unionism, not politics," and warned against alignments with either major political party. "We will support our friends and defeat our enemies," he used to say. Gompers' non-political policy has been in effect for half a century, but the next AFL convention, opening in Chicago on October 7, may see its end. A move is secretly afoot in AFL top circles to set up a political unit similar to the CIO's Political Action Committee. Chief promoter of the scheme is the gentleman who contributed half a million of miners' money to elect FDR and who switched to Wendell Willkie in 1940 — John L. Lewis.

Sugar Shortage Will Continue

Incidentally, there just isn't going to be any improvement in the sugar situation for another six months, possibly longer. It will be at least April before sugar ration cards can be thrown away. Chief reason is it takes more than a year to rebuild sugar production in the war-ravaged Philippines, Java, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sumatra. Also labor and farm implements are still tight. Also US officials got too generous with sugar last year and let the American public eat into our stockpile. Finally, growers claim that the government should have raised grower subsidies last year. Because subsidies were low, sugar-beet farmers raised beans and potatoes instead — crops which were more profitable and which US food authorities considered more essential anyway.

Sugar Purchased

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 13. (AP)—Excelsior reported today that Mexico will purchase another 1,000,000 tons of Cuban sugar to cover current shortages. Jose Angel Cerezo, Mexico's Ambassador to Havana, has instructions to negotiate the purchase upon his return to Cuba, the newspaper asserted. A machine loader for loading sacked potatoes in the field has been developed by the North Dakota Agricultural College.

High-Handed Mr. Lundeberg

Frank ("Bring 'Em Back Alive") Buck never had a tougher time trying to bag big jungle game than did Assistant Labor Secretary Philip Hannah last week when he went to San Francisco on orders to "bring back" Harry Lundeberg, rough-tough boss of the striking AFL Sailors' Union of the Pacific. Hannah spent two days trying to entice Lundeberg on a plane for Washington, in order to discuss the nation-wide Maritime strike. He might as well have been talking to a lamppost. "We're not going to get anywhere while you remain out here," pleaded Hannah. "Why don't you come back with me and see if we can't work this thing out?" The blustering Lundeberg hemmed and hawed most of last Saturday and Sunday; finally said he would put the matter up to his "committee."

Top Dog Lewis

Lewis has seriously discussed his plan with several AFL big shots, including President Bill Green, and intends to place it before the Chicago convention. If his political committee is approved — and there is every indication it will be — John L. will then be top dog of American labor. Lewis is counting on several influential executive council members to support him, among them big Bill Hutchison, boss of the carpenters, who once engaged in a fight with Lewis at an AFL convention, and George Harrison, president of the railway clerks. The project may not be given a political name, but its mission will be purely and simply that — namely, to counteract and compete with the CIO's PAC.

YESTERDAY

War was on. Hundreds of Howard county boys were in the thick of the conflict. Thousands of strange faces were seen on our streets of men here for training who had come from the four corners of our nation. The sight of these men in uniform served to remind us of our own lads who were far away in uniform training or fighting. Then we were very humble and afraid; We dreaded to see a messenger boy approach our homes. We prayed day and night and probably most of us made some very solemn promises to God about what we would do if He would spare our boys and let them come home again. If He would allow the war to cease and peace to come.

TODAY

The war is over. Most of the boys came back. The boys who were here in training have gone home and our own loved ones have taken their places in our homes and community life. Have we all kept the solemn promises we made to God during those dark days? Have we attended church, looked after our Bible reading and prayer life as we should? Have we made our financial contributions to Red Cross, Y.M.C.A., relief movements for the distressed countries, and the church as God has prospered us?

TOMORROW

We shall meet and have to face our record in judgment. We trust there will be no broken vows for any of us to face. What He will be able to say to us: "Well done good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy Lord."

Edna Ellis Feted At Gift Party

A bridal shower complimenting Edna Ellis, who will marry Odell Womack Saturday, was held this week in the W. M. Gage home with Dolores Gage, Mrs. Tommy Gage and Alta Mae Ramsey as hostesses.

Guests were received by Miss Ramsey, Miss Ellis and Mrs. Stewart Womack, mother of the bridegroom-to-be. Miss Ellis was attired in a streightlign frock of gold colored crepe and had a corsage of gardenias. Guests were registered in the bride's book by Lillian Hurt.

The refreshment table was spread with a cloth of linen cut-work and the centerpiece was a colorful floral bouquet formed of mixed pastel blossoms. Pink tapers were placed in double crystal candleabra set on either side of the center arrangement. Marjorie Lagswell and Dorothy Dean Sain presided at the refreshment table, and Mrs. Harold Hall served in the house party.

The entertaining rooms were decorated throughout with arrangements of mixed autumn flowers.

Approximately 75 called during the receiving hours.

Byrnes Confers With Greek

PARIS, Sept. 13 (AP)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes conferred today with Greek Prime Minister Constantine Tsaldaris at the headquarters of the American peace conference delegation, a United States spokesman said.

No information on the meeting, which lasted nearly an hour, was made public, but it was believed it was held at Tsaldaris' request to discuss Greece's demands for frontier rectifications at the expense of Bulgaria and Albania.

Byrnes, meanwhile, had no comment on a speech in New York last night by Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace, who said that "British imperialist policy" in the Near East, combined with Russian retaliation, would lead to United States intervention, "unless the United States formulates a clearly defined and realistic policy of her own."

Duck Zone Plan Turned Down

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The interior department says "no" to proposals of North Texas duck hunters that Texas be divided into two zones for hunting waterfowl.

Scores of sportsmen in the Dallas area and elsewhere in the north central and eastern parts of the state have written to Senator Connally (D-Tex) in the past few days complaining of the present situation.

They pointed specifically to the circumstances in connection with duck hunting on Lake Texoma, formed by Denison dam on the Red River between Texas and Oklahoma. The Oklahoma season opens Oct. 26 and hunters there can fire away, while their Texas brethren on the opposite shores of the lake must await the opening of the Texas season Nov. 23.

They proposed that Texas be divided into two zones, observing that there are two duck hunting zones between Texas and Canada, a distance no greater than that between the Red River and the Rio Grande. They would have the North Texas season run concurrently with Oklahoma.

When the stranger got up and questioned the restaurant manager, Murphy listened with even greater interest.

1,000 EGGS IN EVERY HEN IF YOU KEEP CHICKENS OUT THIS OUT

The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of the hen was too short, said Henry Trafford, nationally famous Poultry Expert, for nearly eighteen years Editor of "Poultry Success."

The average pullet may lay 150 eggs or more in a second year, may lay 100. Then she goes to market. Yet it has been definitely established that every pullet hatched from 1,900 to 3,000 minute eggs from her system—and met in many instances, be made to lay on a highly profitable basis for as long as five years—if given proper care.

How to work to get up towards 1,000 eggs from hens instead of discarding them after one year of laying; how to keep up high production from fewer birds, save or upkeep, cost of breeding, rearing and feeding, and so get more profit from every dozen eggs. These and many other money-making poultry secrets are in Mr. Trafford's 1,000 EGG HEN PLAN of poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent to any reader of this paper who keeps poultry. Eggs this year, will again be in great demand—at good prices—take the place of hard-to-get meal. Means real profit to the poultry-keeper who can make his bird reproduce. Mr. Trafford's plan tells how. If you keep chickens any want them to pay with EXTRA EGGS, cut out this notice and mail name and address to: FEN'S POULTRY SERVICE, Suite 477, 33 North 15th St., Philadelphia, Pa., and free copy of the 1,000 EGG PLAN will be sent by return mail. Pioneer Air Lines Trial Of Feeders

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board is watching a new Texas enterprise to learn how feeder airlines will get along. The appropriately named Pioneer Airlines, formerly Essair, is the first airline of its type in the United States to be authorized by the CAB and to get into operation. Its route is from Houston to Amarillo, via Austin, San Angelo, Abilene and Lubbock. Recently the company's president, Robert Smith of Houston, and attorney, O. R. McGuire, appeared before the aeronautics board asking for amendments to their operating certificate, which was issued Dec. 1, 1943. Inability to obtain planes and pilots because of the war forced a delay in inaugurating service until Aug. 1, 1945, so Pioneer asks that the certificate be dated from 1945 and that the time be lengthened to 5 years, contending the longer period will more readily attract capital and competent personnel. They ask an amendment in the certificate so turn-around flights may be given segments of the route as round-trips between Houston and San Angelo. The certificate now provides that all flights shall be over the entire route from Houston to Amarillo, with stops at all intermediate points. Under a temporary waiver, round-trip flights currently are permitted between Houston and San Angelo. Braniff Airways, with whom Smith formerly was associated as vice president, opposed Pioneer's request. They argued three years was sufficient to test the feasibility of the feeder service, and that to permit Pioneer to fly only segments of its route, except in bad weather, would lead eventually to the skipping of intermediate points and creating of direct competition with trunk airline traffic. Throughout the hearing members of the board observed several times, as they questioned airline attorneys, that fundamental policy affecting relationship of feeder and trunk airlines was to be determined in deciding the Texas case. They gave no indication how soon they would reach a decision.

WAA To Dispose Of More Goods

Additional quantities of surplus government property will shortly be available for disposal by War Assets Administration in the Fort Worth region as the result of a new order issued by WAA in Washington today, according to Hamilton Morton, regional director. "The new order removes the authority of owning agencies to dispose of small lots of surplus items in 'special cases' which are now ordered to be turned over to WAA for disposal," Morton said. "The new procedure will channel extra quantities of surplus items to veterans, since the regulations governing WAA, certain items can be set aside exclusively for veterans. Under the former procedure, owning agencies disposed of these small lots of surplus and no preference was given the veterans of World War II," he added. The new regulation provides that certain small lots of surplus items valued at less than $100, which owning agencies formerly were authorized to dispose of, will now be declared surplus by the owning agency and offered for sale by the WAA. The orders specifically list items on the veteran set aside list; small lots of cafeteria, child play, clinic and infirmary equipment, firefighting equipment, cleaning units or alarm systems, small lots of tool and repair kits for machinery and small lots at any location where preparations for a sight sale have begun.
