

County Moves To Aid Relief Agency

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK

by Jon Pickle

If you want to exercise your right as an American citizen to vote in the democratic primaries and general election this year, pay your poll tax now.

This is to be "Write-A-Will Week." You may be in the same boat with us. You haven't been endowed with too great a portion of the world's goods.

Used car dealers and others dealing in moderately priced "luxuries" may well take notice of the figures given in The Herald last week.

Add another death to the traffic toll in Howard county. We seem to be sliding from under the lucky star which has protected us from fatal accidents.

County and city officials might look to the northwest part of town once in a while to satisfy some needs.

While on this line of thought, why not include the western part of Big Spring in some park programs? The people in that part of town want and are entitled to some sort of conveniently located playgrounds, and community building.

Purpose of the campaign is to familiarize readers of The Herald with the importance and necessity of making adequate arrangements of their property, through proper drawn wills, after death.

Search Is On For Agent's Abductor

DALLAS, Jan. 18. (AP)—Federal and state officers watched snow-swept Oklahoma and Texas highways tonight for a youthful fugitive who unwittingly swapped a possible short prison term for the threat of a death sentence by abducting a United States secret service operative.

Mayor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, the provision of a sound and valid will, properly disposing of their estates, should be a matter of interest and concern to all citizens; and, WHEREAS, the settlement of estates, of whatever size, may best be effected by the holders thereof through legal wills, thus avoiding possible costly and grievous litigation, confusion and dissipation of property; and, WHEREAS, The Big Spring Daily Herald is sponsoring "Write-A-Will Week" in the city of Big Spring, January 19-25, with the cooperation of attorneys, underwriters and others; and, WHEREAS, such program is one in the interest of public welfare, in that it relates particularly to the home and family affairs of our citizens; and an undertaking calculated to be of general benefit;

THEREFORE, I, as Mayor of Big Spring, do hereby proclaim the week of January 19-25, 1936 as "Write-A-Will Week" in Big Spring, and direct that due publicity be given this proclamation, to the end that all citizens may realize the importance of such occasion, and give same due consideration.

Passage Of Bonus In Senate Delayed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. (AP)—After turning down by a decisive margin a proposal to pay a soldier's bonus in new currency, the senate late today deferred until Monday virtually certain passage of the coalition bill to discharge the two-billion-dollar debt in cashable small bills.

Another 15 minutes probably would have disposed of the issue. Just as Senator King (D-Utah) arose to present the final amendment, to pay only the cash surrender, or present value, of the adjusted service certificates, Senator Borah called attention to the hour and remarked that since the bill was to be passed anyway, nothing would be lost by putting off the final vote.

Democratic leaders conferred hurriedly and the signal "no decision today" was given. The new currency amendment proposed by Sen. Thomas (D-Okl.) was rejected 64 to 27, with many senators who previously had favored a similar method of payment.

Only three republicans, 22 democrats and the two farm labor members voted for the amendment. Nineteen republicans, 41 democrats and the progressive, LaFollette, answered "no."

Over the Thomas new currency amendment the roll call included: For the amendment, democrats: Connally; against the amendment, democrats: Sheppard.

Cross Transferred To Wewoka Hotel

Jimmy Cross, for three years associated with the Settles hotel here, will leave Sunday for Wewoka, Okla., where he will become auditor and assistant manager of the Aldridge hotel, a unit in the Settles, in the National hotel system. Cross, who has served as night clerk here, will be replaced by L. D. Cook, who arrived here Friday from Cisco.

Dallasite And Clark Victors

GALVESTON, Jan. 18.—Jimmy McGonagill, Dallas, and Barney Clark, Houston, moved into the finals of the Galveston winter invitational golf tournament Saturday by scoring 36-hole victories under trying weather conditions.

Freeze Is Due To Extend To Brownsville

Big Spring Sector Gets Snow; Temperatures To A Low Of 18

Freezing temperatures were forecast Saturday night for Brownsville, near the mouth of the Rio Grande, and for the Texas coast, as a driving snowstorm enveloped more than half of Texas.

A low of 28 to 32 degrees was predicted for Brownsville and the lower Rio Grande valley, the Texas citrus area, as the temperature dropped there in a few hours from 75 to 55 degrees at 5 p. m.

Big Spring was mantled with snow for the first time since Nov. 28, 1934, as the thermometer dropped to a season's low of 20 degrees at 11 and 12 a. m. and 1 p. m. During the afternoon the weather moderated but with dark the temperature began a steady decline until it had dropped to 18 degrees at 9:30 p. m. Snow was reported over all the northern portion of Howard county and over most of the southern part.

Heavy snow blanketed the West Texas plains as far south as Big Spring. Livestock suffered severely from the cold but ranchers were jubilant over the moisture. Matador had five inches of snow.

Weather bureau observers said the temperature would fall even lower tonight, possibly as low as five degrees in the Panhandle.

The worst snowstorm since 1933 whitened the Dallas area. Starting with sleet shortly after daybreak, the storm turned to snow as it fell steadily for hours.

Snow and cold weather Saturday forced postponement of meeting in which cattlemen of Howard, Martin, Borden and Glascock counties were to discuss the formation of an organization to combat the theft of livestock.

Sheriff Jess Slaughter, who called the meeting at the request of several ranchers, announced that the meeting would be held Jan. 25 at 2 p. m. from the county courtroom.

Cattlemen in this area have expressed a desire to set up some agency devoted exclusively to the prevention of livestock thefts and the prosecution of cattle rustlers, flourishing once more due to increased prices.

Four Killed In Alabama Tornado

Anxiety Deepens Over Condition Of King George

Monarch Shows Symptoms Of Heart Attack

SANDRINGHAM, England, Jan. 18. (AP)—King George was sleeping peacefully, a bulletin shortly before midnight stated, and there had been no change in his condition since the 10 p. m. bulletin which also reported no change.

SANDRINGHAM, Jan. 18. (AP)—Anxiety over the condition of King George V deepened tonight when it was announced he had shown further symptoms of a heart attack.

The 70-year-old monarch is ill in Sandringham house, the royal residence, of a bronchial ailment. His illness caused growing concern throughout his empire and the world.

A crisis may be expected in about 48 hours, a high source said tonight. Bronchial catarrh has affected his majesty's lungs and nose, causing hoarseness, feverishness and sore throat. A pulmonary inflammation, it was said, has affected the lungs and been carried to the heart, causing cardiac weakness.

A group of anxious-eyed country folk waiting at the palace gates read with sinking hearts a late bulletin which told of a grave turn in the condition of their beloved neighbor "his majesty the squire."

"His majesty the king has had some hours of restful sleep. The cardiac weakness and embarrassment of circulation has slightly increased and give cause for anxiety."

"Embarrassment of circulation" was interpreted to mean that heart action was growing weaker.

Rotary Clubs To Meet Here

Scout Chiefs Of Area Will Meet Monday

Representatives From 30 Towns Expected At Council Session

Scores of scouters from more than 30 towns in the Buffalo Trail council are expected to arrive here Monday afternoon for the annual area meeting to be held 2:30 p. m. from the Settles hotel.

A. C. Williamson, area executive, predicted Saturday that the council meeting would draw the largest attendance in its history and added that a well balanced program has been arranged for the affair.

Registration is to start at 2:30 p. m. with the first session scheduled 15 minutes later. After a brief introductory parley, the meeting will be broken into three groups, one for scoutmasters and assistants, another for troop committees, and a third for district and council scouters.

The scoutmaster group meeting is to be conducted along different lines than in former years. Scoutmasters will be given more latitude in the discussion of problems dealing directly with operation of troops. Joe Pickle, Big Spring.

Voting Strength Increased By 141

Voting strength of Howard county increased 141 votes Saturday. Poll tax payments and exemption certificates brought the total to date to 1,490. Of this number, 1,395 were poll taxes and 95 exemption certificates. Eleven days remain in which to secure poll tax receipts.

County Terracing Program Started

With Work On Farms In Luther Area

First steps toward an extensive terracing program in Howard county were taken this week when County Agent O. P. Griffin and helpers ran lines on 15 farms in the Luther area.

By no means all the farms inspected by Griffin have needed terraces. Most of those which do need the work need it for only a portion of the farm, he said.

Would Yield Funds, Work To New Unit

Red Cross Bureau Would Handle Charity; City Help To Be Asked

First step toward unwinding the snarl of dispute and delay that has entangled the local relief situation for months was taken Saturday when the County Judge, J. S. Garlington, and members of the commissioners court agreed verbally to turn over the county's entire charity appropriation to an independent welfare agency that will administer all relief work.

Two Hours of Talk The decision came with unusual suddenness after nearly two hours of talking, at a meeting sponsored by representatives of the Howard county chapter of the Red Cross had accomplished exactly nothing. It was not said definitely when the change in charity administration will be made, but the assumption is it will be soon.

Nor was there any time limit set on operation of the agency. Indications were, however, that the independent office will operate as long as it can do the job satisfactorily and economically.

To Appeal to City To add to the sum, Red Cross representatives were expected to go before the city commission with a request for financial assistance from the municipal government.

Under the arrangement, as it was reached hurriedly Saturday just when the conference appeared to be breaking up as a failure—as has previous parleys on the problem—the administering and distribution agency will be the home service division of the Red Cross, considerably expanded.

Independent Donation If the city contributes to the welfare agency, its contribution will be on an independent basis. The old controversy of "50-50" or whatever other percentage of contributions the county and city each should make, was brought into the talks from time to time, but in each instance was shouted down as being irrelevant to the problem at hand.

County Terracing Program Started With Work On Farms In Luther Area

First steps toward an extensive terracing program in Howard county were taken this week when County Agent O. P. Griffin and helpers ran lines on 15 farms in the Luther area.

By no means all the farms inspected by Griffin have needed terraces. Most of those which do need the work need it for only a portion of the farm, he said.

The county has offered to lend its road machinery this autumn and winter after WPA projects have been completed.

Cagney, O'Brien, McHugh Appear Together Again In Picture At Queen

The three-man team of James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Frank McHugh, which scored success in "Here Comes the Navy," and "Devil Dog of the Air," is back again in a feature called "The Irish in Us," which plays at the Queen Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

And Cagney and O'Brien are fighting again. "The Irish in Us" is mostly comedy, a story in which Cagney is seen as an irresponsible fellow who manages broken-down prize fighters, greatly to the distress of O'Brien and McHugh, who are his serious-minded brothers. There's an intra-family row from start to finish, and Cagney causes more trouble because of his interest in Pat's girl.

Because it is a picture of Irish life in New York, the story jumps from tears to laughter, from bitter family brawls to evidences of brotherly love, from romance to drama and from thrilling action to broad humor.

Mary Gordon makes a hit as the Irish mother of the three stars, and Alan Jenkins turns in a great performance as a broken-down prizefighter. Olivia de Havilland is the center of the picture's love interest. Others in the supporting cast are J. Farrell MacDonald and Thomas Jackson.

WITH ROGERS

Billie Burke, a talented comedienne in her own right, plays opposite Will Rogers in "Doubting Thomas," at the Lyric Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. As Will's stage-struck wife, she causes him a great deal of concern.

Marx Brothers Farce, 'A Night At The Opera', Offered At Ritz

Good Music, Broad Humor Combined In Picture

Those mad maniacs, the Marx Brothers, spent two years in preparation for the filming of their latest comedy, "A Night at the Opera," and from all accounts, the farce which plays Sunday and Monday at the Ritz is worth the effort.

There are three of the Marxes this time, Zeppo, the good looking one who never had much to say, having dropped out of the lineup. But Groucho, Chico and Harpo are busy every minute in creating a laugh riot.

"A Night at the Opera" is not only the broad comedy to be expected from the Marx brothers, but it is a picture built around an interesting story, and contains some brilliant singing by two Broadway stage favorites, Kitty Carlisle and Allan Jones.

The action romps along as Groucho, Chico and Harpo go into the grand opera business in Italy, dash across the Atlantic and stage an opera in New York that panics the metropolis. It is an opera such as has never been seen before, as the Marxes become matchmakers to further the romance of two unknown opera singers.

Original comedy, sparkling dialogue—made up of the usual quota of Marxian puns—entertaining music, and of course the outlandish pranks of the Marxes, are included in the funfest.

Supporting the brothers, in addition to Jones and Miss Carlisle, are Walter King, who has a singing role, Steffried Krumann, Margaret Dumont, Edward Keane and Robert Emmet O'Connor.

NOTHING SERIOUS HERE

...reuniting the brothers Marx, Groucho, Harpo and Chico, who go in for foolishness in a big way. Their farcical antics reach a new high in "A Night at the Opera," which plays at the Ritz Sunday and Monday.

Martin County Woman Succumbs

The body of Mrs. Willie Rutherford Haislip, wife of Tom Haislip, Martin county rancher, was taken overland Friday to Stanton, Tex., her former home, where the funeral services were held at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Haislip, 28, died Wednesday at the home 14 miles northwest of Stanton.

Survivors include her husband, her father, W. T. Rutherford of Stanton; two sisters, Mrs. D. M. Brunett of Norman, and Mrs. Bryan Clanton of Pullman. Her father-in-law is L. G. Haislip of Stanton and Harry Haislip of Stanton is a brother-in-law.

An infant who died Monday was interred with the mother.

Instructions On Drivers Law Are Mailed Out

AUSTIN, Jan. 18. (UP)—Instructions of administering the new drivers' license law, which becomes effective April 1, were mailed to county tax assessors and collectors today by L. G. Phares, director of the public safety department.

The act provided that county tax assessors and collectors be agents for administering the act in counties under 75,000 population and that the public safety department name agents in larger counties.

Phares said the safety commission had decided to use tax collectors in all counties as agents.

Those who administer the license law must furnish bond, Phares said. The act becomes a law Feb. 14, but drivers will not be required to secure driving licenses before April 1, same date that 1936 registration tags must be used on automobiles.

Rogers Film Opens Run At Lyric Today

Popular Humorist Seen In Comedy Of Home Life, 'Doubting Thomas'

Another of the late Will Rogers' pictures, "Doubting Thomas," in which Will essays one of his broadest comedy roles, is the feature at the Lyric for three days beginning Sunday.

The film is based on the popular play, "The Torch Bearers," and presents some of the best laughs of any of the long list of Rogers successes.

Rogers portrays the role of a simple, home-loving sausage manufacturer, whose home life is suddenly jossed into a turmoil when an amateur impresario, Allison Skipworth (who played the same role on the stage) persuades his wife, Billie Burke, that she has been suppressed all of her married life and that she really belongs to the stage and her public. You can imagine how Rogers would like this.

Rogers' son, Frank Albertson, finds that his sweetheart, Frances Grant, has also become a stage star. Father and son have their troubles after wife and fiancée appear in an amateur charity show—the scenes of which are the high points in the comedy. But Will, as you may have guessed, finally effects a solution to the problem.

Plan Program Of Conservation

AMARILLO, Jan. 18. (UP)—Federal soil conservation officials mapped plans today to prevent a recurrence this spring in the Panhandle "dust bowl" area of further disastrous dust storms.

H. H. Fennell, director in region six, said a committee appointed yesterday at a meeting here would gather data on available funds and make tentative plans for use of information gathered by the soil conservation service in the 67 counties of region six.

Fennell said the vegetation cover was much better this year than last and such serious "blows" as those of 1935 were not expected. He credited methods of erosion control, the use of cover crops and prevention of over-grazing of pas-

Houston Ships Millionth Bale

HOUSTON, Jan. 18. (UP)—The millionth bale of cotton since Aug. 1 left the port of Houston yesterday, 88 days in advance of total shipments for the same period of 1934-35, the port commission reported.

The millionth bale sailed aboard the British freighter Myrtle Bank of the Bank Lines, bound with 17,829 for Japan.

Last year the millionth bale was shipped on the West Chataia, Lykes Brothers-Ripley freighter, on April 12 among 3,270 bales bound for Liverpool.

Einstein Applies For Naturalization

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 18. (UP)—Dr. Albert Einstein, world famous German mathematician, applied as unconditionally as a storage immigrant yesterday for naturalization as a United States citizen.

The application was regarded as his climactic gesture of protest against persecution of Jews, of which he is one, in his homeland. But Einstein apparently told no one of his intention in advance and, after slipping almost unnoticed into and out of the federal naturalization bureau, refused to see anyone at his Princeton home.

Einstein has been exiled and his property confiscated because of his leadership of Jewish protests against the Nazi program.

Students To Get Final Semester Reports Tuesday

By Tuesday of this week high school students can breathe easier for another six weeks, for their final report cards will be given out.

Students are to report to their home room for their cards and with the aid of the home room teacher will work out the schedule for the coming semester.

It is hoped, Principal George Gentry said, "that it will be necessary to change only a few of the schedules. In cases where it is possible there should be no change at all."

A third year of home economics will be added to the usual schedule, and there is a possibility that a course of community civics for freshmen and sophomores will be offered.

Miss Helen Peters, credit manager for the local Montgomery Ward store, was expected to return Sunday from Fort Worth where she has spent the past week.

While there, Miss Peters contacted various credit associations and individual credit managers, and informed the local retail merchants' association by letter Saturday that 25 or 30 representatives from Fort Worth will attend the district meeting of credit groups to be held here in March.

She attended a meeting of the Fort Worth Credit Women's club, and also a session of the merchants' association. At the latter session she heard an address by L. S. Crowder of St. Louis, editor of "Credit World."

Mrs. Grover C. Schurman is confined to her bed on account of illness.

Lime Production Proven In Hawley Field, Northeast Extension Seen; New Strike Made In Fisher County

ABILENE, Jan. 18.—Proving of lime production in the Hawley field, indication of a northeast extension to the field, and completion of the Merry Brothers & Perini and T. D. Water No. 2 Mary Howard in northwestern Fisher county held interest in this area's oil activities for the week.

N. H. Martin & Son No. 4 Henry Dorsey estate, in the Hawley field 16 miles north of here in Jones county, proved the possibilities of producing, though in comparatively small quantity, from a saturated lime formation which shows oil in all tests in that area. It was acidized through the structure, from 1,925 to 1,950 feet, with 2,000 gallons last week-end, and was gauging this week at about two and a half to three barrels per hour. It was drilled by the Wichita Falls operators midway between two sand producers from different pays as an experimental well. Location is 250 feet from the north and west lines of the east half of section 5, Manuel Bueno survey

No. 197. Extension Showing as a possible northeast extension to the Hawley field, the Fortex Oil corporation and Danziger Oil & Refineries No. 1 Henry Dorsey estate was testing for production after filling 300 feet when two feet of the Bluff Creek, or upper Hawley, sand was drilled at 1,950-52 feet. It is approximately 300 feet northeast of the discovery well of the pool, drilled about six years ago. Redrilling of the area last summer spread exploration to the southwest, and this is the first near test to be drilled on the northeast side of the field. Structure on the upper sand shows it running 20 to 30 feet higher than wells in the proven limits. It is located 175 feet from the south and 700 feet from the west lines of the north half of section 20, Manuel Bueno survey No. 196, and is directly north of the Tom D. Humphrey No. 1 Dorsey which extended the field southeast.

Ungren & Frazier No. 1-C Dorsey was showing as a small producer in the second Hawley pay after cement plugs were drilled at 2,037 feet, and operators thought it likely the test would be continued to the 2,150-foot horizon. It is an offset to the Martin No. 3 Dorsey which opened the new production at the lower level. It edges the field on the south, and is located 800 feet from the north and west lines of the east half of section 4, Manuel Bueno survey No. 197.

Fisher County Well Merry Bros & Perini and T. D. Water No. 1 Mary Howard, six miles northeast of Rotan in Fisher county, completed a 24-hour pumping gauge at 362 barrels this week to make the second strike of oil in the area opened by the two companies last February.

No water showed in this well, and structure ran about 10 to 15 feet higher than in the discovery well. Nineteen feet of saturated lime had been acidized with two treatments of 1,000 gallons. Top of saturation was 3,647 and total depth was 3,665 feet. The original well completed from a total depth of 3,677 feet for 122 barrels of oil and 222 barrels of water, pumping. No other locations have been made. The test is in section 180, block 2, R.&T.C. survey.

To Resume Work On Youkum Test; Complexions In Howard

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 18.—Most interesting oil developments this week in the West Texas Permian Basin included encountering of brown lime at 4,690 feet in Wahlenmaier and York & Harper No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, northwestern Gaines county wildcat; the setting of Feb. 5 as the date for the resumption of operations at C. J. (Red) Davidson and Honolulu's No. 1 L. P. Bennett, promised opener of a new pool in south central Youkum county, and the striking of an estimated one-half million cubic feet of gas daily at 4,537 feet in Anderson & Fritchard and others No. 1 Borders in northwestern Cuberson county.

Phillips and Pure No. 3 Clyde Cowden indicated moving of the Goldsmith pool in Beter county two locations southeast by developing heads from saturated, porous lime from 4,173-53 feet. It is 440 feet from the north line and 1,250 feet from the west line of section 26-44-18-T&P. Testing was underway.

Midland C-C Holds Meeting

300 Attend Annual Banquet; Ken Regan Is Chief Speaker

Activities of the past year were reviewed, a program of work for 1936 discussed, and officers elected at the annual meeting of the Midland chamber of commerce, held at the Scharbauer hotel in that city Friday evening. A number of Big Spring people attended the affair.

Clarence Scharbauer was elected president of the organization, to succeed Dr. W. E. Ryan. Paul Barton was named first vice-president and Ralph Barron, treasurer. Mrs. Carl Covington is secretary of the Midland chamber.

The list of tests seeking Ordovician production was lengthened by the spudding of Humble No. 1 J. E. Tubb in west central Crane county. Wildcats that started slightly earlier were Paul C. Texas No. 1 J. B. Stewart in southeastern Edwards county and Titan Oil Co. No. 1 Lee Murchison in south central Menard county.

Howe Poole Completions The Howe pool northeast of the north end of the Hendrick field in Winkler county topped all West Texas producing areas in the number of completions this week, including seven wells with total daily initial yield of 3,900 barrels. Ward county finished three wells for 2,057 barrels, Howard county two for 1,380 barrels, Andrews county one for 731 barrels, Pecos county one for 720 barrels and Upton county one for 131 barrels, a total of 10,919 barrels of new production daily by 15 wells in six counties.

and of the Texas revolution, has accepted the place as chairman of the contest committee. This appointment was made by George Waverly Briggs, chairman of the exposition's historical committee. Miss Harriet Smith, state archivist, will be vice-chairman.

Every county in Texas will be searched for historical relics, photographs, pictures and documents. The state has been divided into 10 districts for this research work and substantial prizes will be offered in each district. The contest will be open to every Texan and details will be announced later through the newspapers of the state.

"The best of the historical examples submitted ought to be prominently displayed during the Texas Centennial celebration for the gratification of Texans," said Miss Burleson. "I have become interested in this historical contest because I believe it will aid every patriotic Texan citizen in the study of the glorious history of the Lone Star state. It will bring back remembrance of the self sacrifice and devotion to the cause of Texas shown by our forefathers. Texas has the most splendid history of any state in the union. It is upon this great history that the Texas Centennial celebrations and exposition are based. I am glad to play a part in conducting a contest which will make the proud prouder of Texas and Texans proud of their state."

DALLAS, Jan. 18.—The Texas Centennial exposition today announced a state wide contest for the collection of Texas historical data for which many valuable prizes will be offered.

"Go ahead, kids... that car's got BRAKES!"

NO one needs to be reminded that safe driving in winter, more than at any other season, calls for a car that is safe. Then why not start this new year with the "safest car on today's highways?" Terraplane—with more new and important safety features than any other low priced automobile ever had!

None but the best brakes are good enough. And no other low priced car but Terraplane meets that demand with Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for). Latest and best hydraulics with a separate safety braking system that takes hold automatically if ever needed.

For added safety on the highway—greater steadiness on curves—two more 1936 improvements: Tru-Line Steering and the Rhythmic Ride.

Safer Bodies! Safer Chassis!

The world's first safety engineered chassis is now combined with America's first bodies all of steel, and seamless roof of solid steel.

There is extra safety, too, in Terraplane's record-breaking performance, to take you out of traffic "tight spots." And in the Electric Hand, an optional extra, for easier gear shifting and safer driving.

Oil was struck Sept. 25, 1935, from 4,088 to 4,090 feet, the total depth, and rose 800 feet in 20 hours. Seven inch pipe was cemented at 4,651 feet and after plugs were drilled and the hole cleaned out to the bottom oil rose to a depth of 4,000 feet.

The wildcat is in the center of the northwest quarter of section 67B, block D, John H. Gibson survey. It is 40 miles northeast of the Hobbs field in Lea county, New Mexico, the nearest production, and slightly farther north of the Means pool in Andrews county. Three days after the oil was struck L. P. Bennett of Abilene saved his 8,900-acre ranch from foreclosure of mortgages by sheriff's sale through the sale of one-half of the royalty to J. J. Davidson. Davidson subsequently sold royalty to a number of firms and individuals and the sale of other royalty and leases in the large area has continued brisk.

Taylor & Stogner are reported planning to drill a wildcat in Youkum county on the Goggin land about 18 miles northwest of No. 1 Bennett.

The Means field in north central Andrews county added a producer this week in Humble No. 6 J. S. Means, completed at 4,555 feet for a flow of 731 barrels daily following a 640-quart shot from 4,322 to 4,548 feet. It is 1,982 feet from the north line and 695 feet from the east line of section 8-A35-pat. in Howard County Ambassador Oil Co. No. 8 Road

The candles and small candy holders, which were the banquet place cards, were furnished by the P.T.A.

W. C. T. U. Plans Definite Program On Temperance

The W.C.T.U. met recently at the First Methodist church for their regular monthly meeting. The meeting was opened with a song after which Mrs. Cora Holmes gave a very interesting devotional, choosing the 46 Psalm as the scriptural reading. Prayer was by Mrs. Richbourg.

In the December meeting it was decided to appoint a woman in each church, to be known as the "church vice-president," and whose duty it would be to see that a definite program on temperance was carried out by the various departments of the Sunday school and the church. Mrs. Holmes suggested a number of things to be done by these women in cooperation with the department superintendents and their pastor.

This program can have some very gratifying results, with the proper cooperation, and it is the prayer of every member of the W.C.T.U. that this will be given wholeheartedly by every member of the different denominations.

SATANTA
by Clarence Wharton
(Banks Upshaw and Co.)

Texas who knew the Indian chiefs of a by-gone day are dying out. Those who knew them seem to have been impressed with these men in a fashion that we moderns cannot understand. It is as though the present-day Indian and the chief of yesterday were not related.

A few men with willing pen and dagger-sharp memories are now beginning to put down stories of events they remember so vividly, siding their recollections with the little that history has recorded of Texas' border warfare. Among these is Clarence Wharton.

In eight thrilling chapters Judge Wharton goes underneath the surface events that made Satanta one of the most hated and most feared of the great Indian chiefs of his nation of the country. As the publisher says, "in Satanta's career one is made to see the whole tragedy of the American aborigines—their strength and weakness, nobility and savagery."

This chief is the same chief of whom Edwin Lanham told in his recent "The Wind Blew West." Mr. Lanham related the story of the chief's attack on a military supply train as the pioneer settler experienced it.

Mr. Wharton tells that story again—the chief himself looked, giving the motives that inspire the action.

The two extremes are as far from each other as the east from the west and as irreconcilable. For that reason Judge Wharton's book presents an interesting point of view.

"THESE I HAVE FOUND"

by Udley Jones Wheeler
(The Kaleidograph Press)

The poems in this book cover a wider range than the voices of many of our Texas poets seem able to cover. They deal with the simple, familiar homey things that most of us know. We like them, however, for their clear thought and direct expression.

The poem that gives the book its name is one to be clipped and saved and quoted. It runs: I have found joy upon the traveled highroad; I have found beauty all along the way; I have found peace that comes of lasting friendship. Around warm hearths where little children play.

I have found sorrow, lightened by the sharing; I have found laughter, gay and sweet of sound; I have found faith, time-tested and abiding. I looked for these, and these are what I found.

The following reprints of formerly high priced books have been included in this list. They are: "Marie Antoinette" by Zweig.

"Life of Christ" by Papini. "Henry VIII," by Francis Hackett.

In addition to this group, the library has ordered a group of other books that are now coming in. Most of these have been ordered on request of the readers. They include: "Mrs. Astor's Horse," by Stanley Walker.

"Brothers Three," by John M. Oskison. "We Who Are About to Die," by Lansom.

The juvenile shelves have been rearranged so that the books are conveniently reached in a double shelf. Old shelves have been made over to accommodate demands of increasing number of volumes. The drapes will be hung as soon as the ceiling is repaired.

Memberships in the library are 50 cents for six months, one dollar for a year. The library invites newcomers to drop in and inquire conditions of membership, which are extremely reasonable. The library is open every day except Sunday from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas Coffee Hostess to E.S.A.'s

Mrs. Sawtelle was program leader and reviewed "The Cloister on the Hearth," as well as presenting the program topic.

The members voted to put on a Centennial pageant later, also to hold a make up meeting at Mrs. J. M. Maddy's, Jan. 31. Mrs. McAdams will give a book review.

Present were: Misses Ruth Althart, Ira Driver, W. J. McAdams, J. M. Maddy, G. G. Sawtelle; Misses Mary Burns, Edith Gay and Lellene Rogers.

World Bridge Olympic To Be Held Next Month

All local bridge players are being invited to participate in the fifth annual World Bridge Olympic to be held throughout the entire world on Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 8:01 p. m., according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Ashley Williams, who has been selected by the Olympic committee as game captain for this city.

The World Bridge Olympic is regarded as the most unique and interesting event in bridge activities. Last year sixty-five different countries were represented among the 200,000 people who played the game sixteen hands at the same hour and the same minute. This year's hands have been selected by 22 of America's foremost bridge players. For each of the sixteen hands these master minds of Contract Bridge have decided correct bidding and play, and if a player reaches the correct final contract, and plays his cards correctly, he has scored a par. Players do not compete against opponents, or any of the 200,000 entries in the event but against a par result. Past Olympics have proved that it is impossible for anyone, whether a skilled player or a beginner, to play these hands without improving his game.

Foremost among the attractive prizes are the two famous $10,000 world championship trophies. In addition to these, 532 beautiful silver trophies will be awarded prominently to those who win the championship of every country, state and province.

Another feature of the event, the Olympic committee announces, will be an analysis of the correct bidding and play of every hand by Ely Culbertson. Following the Olympic Mr. Culbertson's analysis will be sent to everyone who took part in the Olympic regardless of the part of the world in which they participated.

All players who are interested in further details of this annual bridge classic are invited to communicate with the local game captain, Mrs. Ashley A. Williams, 1611 Main street.

Miss Jeanette Barnett is very ill with a severe cold and cough.

Trip Through Holy Land Related By Dr. McConnell for Hyperion Club

Dr. D. J. McConnell gave a travel lecture illustrated with colored slides on his trip to the Holy Land Friday evening before the members of the Hyperion study club and their husbands, and a few friends invited by those whose husbands could not attend.

The lecture and pictures began with the departure of the ship from America, showed a view of the Azores and the Madeira Islands. Scenes of Constantinople and its vicinity and the Bosphorus, followed. The trip into Syria, including the port of Joppa, and travel down the coast to the Dead Sea, and from thence into Palestine introduced the main lecture.

Dr. McConnell showed scenes of the River Jordan, Samaria, the Sea of Galilee, Nazareth, Jerusalem and geographical events in the life of St. Paul. The primitive civilization of the people was excellently illustrated by the slides.

Proceeding to the lecture, Charles Seegin sang "Holy City," accompanied by Mrs. Bruce Frazier. A group of musical selections after the talk was given by Mrs. M. H. Broughton playing on the accordion and Cornelia Frazier at the piano.

Delicious refreshments were served to: Messrs. and Misses J. T. Brooks, H. S. Faw, Albert M. Fisher, V. H. Flewittell, Bruce Frazier, Homer McNew, R. Reagan, Van Gleson, D. F. McConnell, Turner Wynn, and C. W. Cunningham; Misses Shine Phillips, Roy Carter, Lee Hanson, R. C. Strain, B. F. Wills, W. F. Cushing.

Self-Denial Week Program Is Outlined

Presbyterian Auxiliary Announces Monday Speakers

The Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will observe self-denial week next Monday with its annual Home Missions program at the church at 3 o'clock. Mrs. W. C. Barnett, secretary for this department, will be the program leader.

Mrs. Barnett extends a cordial welcome to all members of the auxiliary to attend and make the meeting a success. She has prepared a program embodying the highlights of self-denial weeks and home mission study as follows:

Around And About

The Sports Circuit

NOTE-In the absence of Mr. Beasley, who was finally forced to seek exclusion from the wintry blasts that descended upon Big Spring Saturday morn, Hank Hart was elected to fill up in this space and these remarks, dots, dashes, semicolons, et al, are of his own making and not those of Ed-Edie Britz, Damon Runyan, or Walter Winchell even if the punctuation marks do resemble the above named.

Unless our memory fails us, Olie Cordill is the first local athlete to ever receive eight letters from the Big Spring high school. Olie first broke into the news back in 1932 when he raced some 60 yards for a touchdown against the Amarillo Sandies. The longest run of his career came in the game against Austin High of El Paso in 1933 when he returned a kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown a minute before half time. He later went on to score again and give the locals a 15-13 tie. Ray Salome, the brilliant little lightweight who probably is as shifty as Bobby Wilson, counted both the Austin maroons and many people thought Salome was of Mexican blood but he was a Slav. He received many of publicity in school but like Red Rattigan of Chicago several years ago he dropped out of the sport pages when he took a fling in better company.

For an even money bet, we'd take the New York Yankees and the five other clubs against Boston and Detroit in the coming American league race. With any of the luck that Mickey Cochrane has experienced during the past two years, McCarthy and his men are going places this year. We think Monte Pearson will prove to be a better pitcher than Johnny Allen and Ruppert has Joe DiMaggio coming up to put between Ben Chapman and George Selkirk. If nothing else, that will be the fastest and hardest throwing outfield in the majors. It is said that Joe can stand 100 yards away from the plate and throw a strike into the mitt and that is throwing.

We doubt if Kay Morrison takes that Tulane coaching job but if he does he will have some real material to work with. Bill Flowers, who failed to lead under Ted Cox this year, would find it hard to fit into his style of play. Morrison did wonders at Nashville last season and with practically his whole team coming back may not want to leave.

Critics rate the TCU line of 1932 the greatest forward wall ever to play in the Southwest conference but we stoutly maintain that the SMU line of this year was just as good. Spain and Orr, we think, were better tackles than Roswell and Evans while the superiority of J. C. Wetzel is unquestioned.

Of that championship 1934 crew of the Steers, which lost to Amarillo in the state quarter-finals but who tallied 20 points in doing so, only Bob Flowers is playing football now. James Vines and Bobby Mills are both in school, James in Texas Tech and Bobby in A. M., but neither came out for football. Five members of that eleven played for the '35 edition of the Longhorns while George Neel, Buckle Hare, and Jack Darwin are still around.

For a real basketball game, we'd like to see West Texas Teachers and Hardin-Simmons get together and although Coach Medley of McMurry said he believed that the Cowboys could win, we'd lean toward the Canyon quint.

We are glad to hear that Chester Fowler may land an umpiring job in the Texas league during the coming season. Chet, you know, made Big Spring his home during 1933 and played softball with the Settles Hotel aggregation.

Techmen Quit For Exam Work

LUBBOCK, Jan. 18.—Following games with Sul Ross Teachers college Thursday and Friday nights, the Texas Tech basketball team interrupted their cage season and for the next two weeks will prepare for final exams. No organized workouts are scheduled during the exam weeks, Coach Bert Huffman announced today. The Matadors start their conference grid again Feb. 3 and 4 in Albuquerque, N. M., where they are slated to tangle with the New Mexico Lobos a second time this season in conference games. Feb. 7 and 8 the Matadors return to the Tech gym to play the New Mexico Aggies in two conference games. The following Monday Coach Huffman's three-year Barker conference champs embark on a 10-day road trip through the conference.

Excluding the series with Sul Ross, the Tech quintet has done about as well as could be expected from a green ball club. Thus far, the Matadors have defeated Cosen, divided a series with New Mexico, won six, and lost two.

TED TWOMEY IS APPOINTED TEXAS LINE MENTOR

Olie Cordill Closes Career As Steers Take Sweetwater Mustangs, 36-22

MICK STAR WILL TAKE JOB SOON

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—The University of Texas board of regents approved the appointment of Ted Twomey, former Notre Dame star, as football line coach. Twomey is now line coach at the University of Kentucky.

Twomey was advised of the action immediately and ordered to report at the earliest convenience. He will participate in spring training. His appointment was approved by the board of regents in a telegraphic poll. Twomey succeeds Tim Moynihan, former Notre Dame center, who recently resigned. Under Chet Wynne, Kentucky head coach, the Colonels enjoyed a better than average season and in almost every game the line played stoutly. Against the hard running attacks of Francis Schmidt's Ohio State eleven, that Kentucky forward held the invaders to a close victory.

The Sportsman

By LARRY BAUER A great, silvery fish leaps skyward, shimmers a moment in the sun glare and returns to battle. To novices having a go at sea angling for the first time, the beauty and thrill of that flash over blue water may make them forget momentarily that on the end of the line is a king of the deep—the tarpon.

There will be newcomers, of course. And by next year these recruits will be returning veterans. There is perhaps no sport in the world that converts one so quickly and completely. Many of these fishermen old and new at the game, will head for Port Aransas, Texas, where right now guides are overhauling boats and gear for the 1936 season.

The first time a reel whines with the vicious rurs of a big fish there comes a new tarpon enthusiast. It is a fight that requires finesse as well as stamina. Imagine a fish weighing 100 pounds or more being brought to boat on an 18-pound test line. The thrills provided are enough to send addicts to the far corners of the earth.

And deep sea fishing on the Gulf coast is such as to cause Dr. Richard L. Sutton, noted sportsman, to write from New Zealand, where he has been lured by Zane Grey's praise of the fighting qualities of the antipodal marlin: "Port Aransas fishing is the best in the world."

To Dr. Sutton must go the distinction of having been knocked out by a fish. It happened last summer and serves to illustrate the power behind a tarpon's leap. When the big fellow came into the boat it struck the doctor or blow on the head that smashed his tropical helmet and injured vertebrae in his neck. The doctor has motion pictures of the combat that are most interesting.

Tarpon Battles Plane

In the summer of 1934 Pilot Bill Hunt was lifting his flying boat from the calm waters of Neusee Bay. As he cleared the surface silver flashed over his right wing and the ship staggered in flight. Setting the craft down again, Hunt investigated. A tarpon had jumped completely through the wing fabric. The ship had to be hauled ashore for repairs.

W. G. Kinsolving, Corpus Christi publisher and sportsman, confessed that big-game fishing is more hazardous than big-game hunting. Gaffing a tarpon after some 20 minutes of play, he brought it aboard. Once in the boat the fish started the fight all over again. In the struggle the gaff was driven through Kinsolving's hand. Fortunately, the gaff was one of the barbed variety.

Element, deep-sea fishing presents an element of danger that inland fishing lacks, but the regulars and initiates always go back for more.

SAM FLOWERS LAST OF CLAN

Flowers is a football name around Big Spring high school, and now it is synonymous with the unusual. Instead of choosing the conventional sweater, Sam Flowers, captain the past year, picked a blanket. In each corner of the blanket will be the names of Jack, Bill, Bob and Sam—all bulwarks in the Big Spring football mechanism since 1927.

EASY BILLIARDS By Willie Hoppe

(Willie Hoppe won his first world championship billiard match in 1906 at the age of 18 and has remained in championship circles ever since. Today, 30 years later, he holds three world titles in 15.1 ball, cushion carom and 3-cushion. The "Boy Wonder," in his first months, brought to billiards an entirely new style of play which eventually provided the fundamentals upon which, to a great extent, today's game is based. Hoppe has prepared a series of articles for The Associated Press outlining his method of play and designed to assist not only beginners but advanced amateurs. This is the first of the daily series.)

Monk Moscrip Is Given Test

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18. (UP)—A youth whose name has been familiar on sports pages of the nation for three years may shift suddenly to the drama pages if screen tests of James (Monk) Moscrip, Stanford All-American football player, prove successful.

Young Moscrip, who entered Stanford from the state of Ohio, stayed behind in Hollywood when he and his mates finished with Southern Methodist university in the Pasadena Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer scouts had informed Moscrip they liked his profile and wanted him to pose for the camera.

The football player is said to have replied that after three years of grid warfare he could imagine nothing better than earning his living by the simple expedient of making love to beautiful film actresses.

Lacks Drama Experience Like other football players who have crashed the movies, Moscrip, if he makes the grade, will have little to start with but natural good looks and willingness to work. As in the case of Johnny Mack Brown, Alabama Rose Bowl player of a few years ago, football took so much time that Moscrip could not participate in college dramas.

Brown had several good years in the films, but now his screen appearances are less frequent.

The most recent gridiron figure to make the grade in Hollywood is John McGuire, who was graduated two years ago from the University of Santa Clara. McGuire played quarterback for the Catholic college, which is located only a few miles from Stanford. He is the second Santa Clara product to gain screen recognition. Edmund Lowe, veteran of the movies, was a Santa Clara baseball player.

Appears With Nevers Moscrip, according to M-G-M officials, films well. He appeared for the facial test with Ernie Nevers, assistant coach at Stanford. Moscrip, who has faced some tough opposition on the gridiron during the last three years, explained he felt a touch of "buck fever" and brought Nevers along to bolster his confidence before the camera.

Voice and other tests will be taken later by Moscrip, whose diction suffered as a result of a broken jaw suffered in the U. S. C. game this fall. Only recently a fine wire, which held the athlete's jaws in place, was removed by physicians.

Moscrip is about six feet tall. He has dark eyes, black hair, and all in all falls into the "Clark Gable School of Sex Appeal."

Golden Miller Nat'l Favorite

NEWBURY, England, Jan. 18. (AP)—Golden Miller, Miss Dorothy Paget's steeplechaser which caused such disappointment in the last Grand National, has staged a comeback here and is likely to be the Grand National at Aintree, March 27. He won the event in 1934.

Carrying topweight of 178 pounds he easily won the "Andover Handicap Steeplechase" over 2 miles, 50 yards and gave what sporting writers describe as a "flawless performance."

Among the horses Golden Miller defeated were Delapax owned by J. B. Snow and Drintyre owned by Captain Brownhill.

Five United sportsmen have entered six horses in the 1936 Grand National. The owners are J. B. Snow, Alvin Untermeyer, G. H. (Pete) Bostwick, John Hay Whitney and Jesse Metcalfe.

Golden Miller, last year's favorite, fell at Valentine's Brook. It was the fall that saved many a bookie from ruin.

Tourney Is Planned In Indiana For 800 Teams

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 18. (UP)—Popularity of basketball among high schools in Indiana—long a stronghold of the sport—has caused adoption of a new system of play for the 1936 state tournament.

With an entry of approximately 800 teams expected this year, the Indiana high school athletic association, sponsor of the tournament, has added a fourth week end of play to the championship event.

Previously, the championship was decided in three week ends of play, with 16 finalists meeting here at Butler fieldhouse in grueling two-day competition in the final round.

Sixty-four sectionals are scheduled March 5-6-7, with from eight to 16 teams playing at each of the tournaments. The meets will reduce the huge starting field to 64 teams.

Sixteen regional tournaments, with four teams each, will be played March 14. Formerly, winners in these tournaments went directly to the state finals.

This year the survivors will play in four semi-final tournaments to determine the teams to compete in the championship event March 28.

Jones Offers His Views On Farm Policies

Agriculture Committee Chairman Favors Allotment Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Pointing out the need of a farm program in view of the tariff, Marvin Jones, chairman of the house agriculture committee, is advocating a domestic allotment plan, linked with a soil conservation program, according to a statement issued today. The statement follows: "Our tariff system makes a farm program necessary in the interest of the entire nation. Complete and permanent recovery can be had on no other basis. "No one wishes this country to sink back to the depths it had reached in 1932. "The decision of the court in the AAA case is a far-reaching one. "However, I cannot believe that a national tariff is legal and that a national farm program which merely restores the price balance cannot be made legal. "I cannot believe that the cotton farmers and the producers of other world market crops must purchase their supplies in a higher-priced protective market and that there is no constitutional means by which they may be given an even break. "The greatest fundamental in our system of government is equality in the operation of its laws. "I am sure a constitutional method of putting all our citizens on an equal footing can be found. Certainly in the interest of simple justice the effort should be made. To this task the house committee on agriculture is devoting its earnest attention. "Personally I favor a domestic allotment plan linked with a soil conservation and rebuilding program and also including the seeking of new and additional outlets and markets, domestic and foreign. "While proper adjustment is desirable, we should of course produce all the market will absorb, both at home and abroad. "The legislation should be broad and flexible so as to permit different plans for different commodities, thus fitting to each commodity the plan best suited to its peculiar production and marketing conditions. "Such a program will be to the advantage of both producer and consumer. "The congress added the domestic allotment plan, the soil conservation and market expansion features to last year's legislation. However, as other plans were already in operation, these had not yet been brought into full effect. Since the domestic allotment, soil conservation and market expansion plans were not involved in the decision of the supreme court, these were probably not affected but as they were linked with some of the provisions that were held invalid, it would probably be wise to carry them forward in a new act. "The domestic allotment plan is peculiarly suited to cotton and wheat, but other methods will probably be better suited to some of the other crops. No simple plan would be suited to all of the different commodities. "These are merely my own views. Legislation will be worked out by the congress to accomplish the desired end in so far as it is possible to do so within the limits set out in the decision of the supreme court."

LIGHT HOME SCHEDULE AMES, Ia. (UP)—Iowa State football fans will see the football team in action on the home lot only twice next fall unless two open dates can be booked with teams willing to play here. The schedule now includes seven games, five against other members of the Big Six conference, all away from home. The two home games are against State Teachers, Sept. 26, and against Drake, Nov. 21.

Committee Is Named To Pick School Tests

Matter Discussed By Howard Co. Teachers In Session Here

Final decision on the choice of a standardized test for seventh grade students in Howard county rural schools was referred to a committee Saturday morning after it had been brought before teachers in their first meeting of the new year. The meeting, originally scheduled for the courthouse, had to be held from the Crawford lounge since both court rooms were occupied.

Named on the committee to select the tests were Miss Arsh Phillips, Moore, Miss Floy McGregor, Knott, Mrs. J. F. Sellers, Cabbie, Edward Lauderdale, R-Bar, and G. Hanaford, Lomax. They will decide this week.

H. F. Rallsback, director general of the county interscholastic league, called a meeting of the county directors for Thursday at 5:30 p. m. from the county superintendent's office. Directors include: W. F. Talley, Coahoma, debate; Mrs. George Boswell, Coahoma, declamation; Ralph Houston, Big Spring, extemporaneous speaking; J. S. Lamar, Chaik, spelling; Ted Phillips, Moore, athletics; Ala B. Collins, Chalk, essay writing; N. Y. Burnett, Elbow, arithmetic; Elizabeth Coffee, Coahoma, music memory; M. L. Blackwelder, Forrest, choral club singing; Floy Johnson, Forrest, picture memory; and Edith Wright, Coahoma, tiny tot story telling. Teachers unanimously favored bringing their pupils to town to inspect the "Wonder Car" here Jan. 22. They planned to hold practice on the chorus at 1 p. m. at that date and allow the children to see the car and contents later.

Credit Assn. To Hold Meeting At Midland Monday

The Midland production credit association is endeavoring to approach 100 per cent attendance at its annual meeting which will be held in Midland Monday, according to H. C. Barnes, secretary-treasurer. Quite a little rivalry has developed among the 36 associations over the state, each trying to beat the other in the percentage of members in attendance at the meetings. Every member has been asked to bring at least one guest.

In addition to the election of directors for the coming year, an interesting program will be given, including an address by an officer of the production credit corporation.

Evening: "Christ, Our Perfect Example." Special music at both hours.

of Houston. The manager and directors of the association will report to the members on the 1935 operations of the association, telling them how many farmers and stockmen have been served, how much income the association has received, the amount of expenses for the year, and the net savings available for reserves. The address and the reports of the men in active charge of the association's affairs provide a good opportunity for members and other farmers and stockmen to learn more about the purposes of the association and the services which it is prepared to render to agriculturists. They will learn just how the association makes loans and the approximate cost of these loans to borrowers.

A MAN AND HIS ESTATE: We know a man who, during the course of a casual conversation not long ago, was asked if he had prepared a will.

Now this fellow is a typical Texas business man. He works regularly at a modest salary. He is interested in, and works for, his church and his community. He loves his family and sees that his wife and children are provided for comfortably.

But the idea of a will was so far from his thoughts that the question left him a little nonplussed. "Why should I, whose estate is so modest, be concerned about a will?" was his first reaction.

Then he thought further about the matter. He realized that he knew but little about the business of making a will, less about directing how his estate should be administered, and that his survivors would know even less about taking care of the estate after his death.

We say he was typical. On every hand is the man busy at the job of making a living and devoted to the task of providing for his family, and yet who is defeating his own purpose in neglecting to see that the same family is taken care of when the income is cut off.

And the same man, through thoughtlessness or blind trust, goes along believing that what he leaves after death will be properly and fully used to the benefit of his immediate survivors, while at the same time he knows that continually before the courts are cases in which estates and properties are being disputed—litigation that is costly and damaging. He knows too, by observation, that too many estates are quickly dissipated because no provision was made for their perpetuation and administration, and because those who inherited the property did not know how to protect it.

This litigation and dissipation is not limited to large estates. The man of modest means should care for what he has accumulated even as must the man of large fortune.

No matter the size of his estate, one owes it to his family to see that the property and money left is justly distributed, adequately protected and wisely used.

Provision of a proper will meets these ends. The man who neglects to leave a will is jeopardizing his own estate, thwarting his own efforts in providing for his family and failing in his duty toward his loved ones.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Wilfred Lawson, the actor, doesn't think much of American taxis, so he hops around on a bicycle, just as he does in his native London. The bicycle, which he kicks around considerably, is named after an English actress, but he declines to define her further than to say she is known both here and on Piccadilly.

Recently, after one of his expert performances in 'Label', Lawson accepted an invitation to a smart Mayfair party and, as usual, peddled happily out on his wheel. Thinking him a stranger who had no business whizzing into her drive at that time of night, the hostess almost had him thrown out. She was somewhat bewildered to recognize her guest of honor.

Too, there is this situation which puzzles Burgess Meredith. More and more frequently is he reported this place and that after theater hours, leading the gay-life and wending his way from one night spot to another.

Actually, says he, the moment he clears grease paint from his face he departs for his place in the country, where he remains until curtain call next day. Someone, he thinks, may be trying to "build up" his reputation after then again he may have a double who, unknown to him, likes to loiter in the lights. Meredith doesn't know which, but it's a trifle baffling.

This is how Caruso died, or what comes of teaching your cats to be smart. Recently during the holidays a lady novelist arrived in Manhattan with a trained cat which was her constant companion. She called him Caruso because he sang so divinely. One of Caruso's pet stunts was to leap through hoops. The novelist taught him, as a kitten, to leap through the ring of her arms. Later she got him some wooden hoops and let him jump every day.

After she arrived in Manhattan the novelist invited some friends to dinner. Caruso, of course, practically monopolized the conversation—until his mistress chanced to open their 28th story window. There was, unfortunately, a holly wreath in the window, but to Caruso it seemed merely another hoop. With a magnificent spring, he plunged through and downward for 28 stories of space. To spectators on the street it was just an unfortunate incident, but in that room on the 28th floor it was a major Christmas tragedy.

The adolescent tendencies of adult actors are costing the Group Theater some money. In the drama "Paradise Lost," Walter Coy plays an ex-Olympic champion reduced to selling mechanical toys. These toys are no trival knick-knacks, each being a costly prize.

But between performances the actors fight over them so that half a dozen are destroyed weekly. That's why you don't see members of the cast rushing out into the street after the matinee performances. They're all back stage playing with electric trains and jumping jacks.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND. By DOUG PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN.

WASHINGTON—Confidential reports received from American diplomatic representatives and military attaches bear out press reports that Mussolini is waging a losing battle in Abyssinia.

Two conditions are behind the Italian losses. In addition to the ever-present handicaps of mountains and transportation facilities. One is the weather, the other the fact that the Abyssinians now have received fairly substantial supplies of British arms.

Ordinarily, the rainy season does not begin in Abyssinia until late March, when the little rainy season starts, continuing until June. Then begins the big rainy season, which lasts until October.

But sometimes the big rainy season comes in where the little rainy season should be. And this year it has begun to pour even in January.

Abyssinian Commander: Commander of the Abyssinian forces which are harassing Mussolini's men in the south is Ras Desta Demtu, son-in-law of Haile Selassie.

Shortly after Roosevelt was inaugurated Ras Desta Demtu paid an official visit to Washington as special ambassador of his father-in-law.

The visit caused some perturbation on the part of the state department, which, after canvassing capital hotels, found none anxious to entertain a gentleman of color even though he was the son-in-law of an emperor destined one day to inflict a mortal punishment upon white Italian troops.

Finally, however, the state department made a special plan to the Mayflower, and this hotel agreed to entertain Ras Desta Demtu on one condition. At all times His Excellency was to be—which included a lion skin over one shoulder.

When Ras Desta Demtu paid his respects to President Roosevelt, he unwrapped, as a special gift from the emperor, a box which emitted an omnivorous aroma.

The box contained two untanned lion skins.

State department attaches held their noses and even the president appeared slightly sniffed.

One of his friends was unkind enough to suggest that the green lion skins were fitting reciprocity on the part of the emperor, inasmuch as the United States had sent him, as an official present, only an autographed photo of Herbert Hoover.

Policy Secrets: Hidden away in the mass of charts and tabulations that accompanied the president's budget message are numerous tell-tale items which throw a revealing light on a wide range of secret White House plans.

Here are some of the most important of these budget secrets: No new funds are asked for NRA—indicating abandonment of plans to revive it.

No appropriation is recommended for the office of federal coordinator of railroads—indicating that the president is bowing to congressional opposition to a continuance of the position after it expires in June.

Complete absence of provision for the FERA—disclosing that when the president sends to congress his recommendations for relief funds there will be no request for roles but only for work relief.

An $800,000 increase for the bureau of investigation of the justice department—adding several hundred new G-men to the present staff.

An additional $225,000 for the secret service (treasury department)—to enable it to wage more effective war against counterfeiting, which has boomed since repeal.

A boost of $400,000 for the securities and exchange commission—for enlargement of its staff, particularly in the legal division, in order to cope with the numerous attacks being made by utilities on the holding company act.

A substantial increase for the food and drug administration, presenting a determined drive by the White House to push through new legislation in this field.

Increase for the forest service—indicating the president's plan to push work on his Western tree belt.

Modest: The afternoon session of the senate-municipal investigation had been dull and tedious. On one occasion during the dragging hours J. P. Morgan, the chief witness, dozed peacefully.

When the hearing finally concluded, he encountered, as he was leaving the chamber, Mrs. Thomas W. Lammie, wife of his senior partner. "Oh, Mr. Morgan," she exclaimed, "I want to congratulate you on your brilliant performance."

The portly, world-famous banker smiled a little sheepishly. "Thank you," he said, "I did the best I could."

action was the commission's precipitous adventuring into the perilous field of price-fixing—that brought so much grief to the NRA and was a major factor in its final downfall.

In a newspaper several weeks ago, Cummings read a brief story that the commission had issued an order fixing prices in a western district, covering Colorado, New Mexico, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

The Guffey act, under which the commission operates, provides for an investigation before such price regulations are promulgated.

Quiet inquiry by Cummings revealed that the commission had acted without holding hearings. With this information before him, he wrote a letter to the commission which, in effect, said: "I read in a newspaper that you have issued a price-fixing order. I have found no record of a hearing preceding this step. How come?"

Cummings' letter brought to a head a hot divergence of view among members of the commission. One group, bowing to the high-voltage pressure of certain mine-owners, has pressed for immediate price-fixing measures. Another, while not opposed to such share of post office patronage, reassures, has urged against hasty action. The first faction had its inspector's badge, walked into the

by David Garth

SHORT AND SHARP

"The man took the girl's hand. 'Oh, don't be a nuisance,' said Puff. Willett stood up. 'Behave yourself,' he directed. 'Who're you?' 'Nobody you know, but I think I've seen enough of your face.' That started it. The three at the bar piled in. Willett saw that he was being mobbed and broke a chair over Christy's head. Ned tried to tackle him football fashion and nearly had his brains knocked out. Willett fought as he had in the Coliseum in Prokonore, grimly, deadly, ruthlessly.

Walters came running, people yelled above the glare of the orchestra, and finally all the members of the orchestra deserted their music and stood on their chairs to see better. Police came in and the four football players went grudgingly off to Night Court. Puff, Terry and the manager went along too. Names and addresses were requested. Puff gave her as Jane Brown, Hotel for Women, to cover any possible embarrassment to the United States Senate.

On the manager's testimony the four football players were stuck with charges of disorderly conduct and everybody else dismissed. And the Manhattan sky was tinted with crimson as they rolled homeward. Puff's head upon his shoulder, "Have fun, darling!" she asked sleepily.

"Sure," said Terry. "Lots of fun." But he hadn't. Two lousy evenings in a row, that's what it had been. Even the fight hadn't been particularly exciting. He guided Puff to her room and she stood on tip-toe to kiss him good-night.

"Still Galahad, darling? Yes, I see you are. Oh, well, night!" In his own room Willett lit a cigarette and stood thoughtfully at the window, smoke curling up between his fingers. The first flow of the new day's traffic was beginning and the sun was creeping up the facades of the buildings. And somewhere a girl was asleep who'd made him feel he was missing something in life.

Missing what? He'd been offered a lot of things today. Or, was it yesterday? Yes, it was yesterday. Today was tomorrow. That didn't sound right either. Go to bed, you fool, you don't know what you want."

Rayburne West had dodged unpleasant issues all his life. His standard was comfort and he had been equipped to maintain that standard by reason of a good constitution, a reckless carefree nature, and a fortune.

A sizeable corps of doctors and his health and a legal staff absorbed any worries about his estate.

But the arrival of Rapson LaMarr that morning should have been definite proof to Ray that he couldn't dodge things he didn't like forever.

LaMarr had discovered where he was through the butler at Westlands and when he walked into Ray's suite at the Raquet Club it could have been considered a piece of unmitigated insolence.

LaMarr had been in constant attendance on Nell West all through South America and Ray knew it; he'd been indifferent because he'd found a great deal to interest him as far as he was concerned, and because he and his wife had long since followed their own separate inclinations.

But when LaMarr told Ray what he had to say his insolence was absolutely unmistakable, recognizable even to a man who's been previously indifferent. He tried to freeze LaMarr out as though he were an impudent valet, but LaMarr held his cards and played a smiling, unruffled game.

"You're one of those things that crawl through muck, LaMarr," he said finally, as coldly angry as he'd ever been in his life. "But it's your damned gall that gets me. I always knew you were an adventurer and gigolo, but I didn't dream you were such an out-and-out swine."

LaMarr sighed with weary patience. "We accomplish nothing, is it not so?" he said. "Please do not be melodramatic, Mr. West. I have something to sell and it is worth a great deal to you. I have sketched a situation that could be very unpleasant. Your daughter has killed a man. Do you or do you not want that to go out?"

"Really?" said LaMarr. "I had thought I made myself clear, but you will ask her yourself, perhaps? And be quick, Mr. West. For my own reasons I am giving you but two days to decide."

"How damned noble of you," said Ray scathingly. "If suppose you realize this has to be taken up by my lawyers?"

"That, I presume is a natural course. Shall I communicate with them or with you?" "With them, of course. I don't want anything to do with you. No—wait. I'll see Allaire first."

"And then?" "Then I'll tell you what to do. Now, clear out."

Nye Replies To Connally Attack

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (UP)—Defending his charge that President Wilson "falsified" the record on the world war, Senator Nye of the senate munitions investigating committee today characterized Senator Tom Connally's attack yesterday as a "flow of brilliant gutter English."
 Connally had asserted yesterday that Nye, to further his own political interests, "flagrantly, wantonly and without justification insulted" President Wilson.

Traffic Violators Must Attend School

AUSTIN, Jan. 18. (UP)—Five Austin traffic law violators must go to school tonight, the first pupils sentenced by Corporation Court Judge J. W. Maxwell here. Only first offenders are given school terms instead of fines and must "serve" two nights a week for 30 days. At the end of that time, Judge Maxwell will look at their report cards and see whether they still should be fined.
 The school is being conducted by the traffic bureau of the Austin police department, aided by local safety organizations.

Mrs. Roosevelt Not To Campaign

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. (UP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is planning no election campaign speeches, by radio or otherwise.
 "It is too far ahead to know anything about the campaign, but I doubt if I'll be making any speeches," she said today.

Local Officers Are Back From Course

Sheriff Jess Slaughter, Deputy Andrew Merrick and City Police-man Denver Dunn returned Friday morning from Dallas where they took part in the three day short course on modern crime fighting methods. In addition to a series of lectures by authorities on crime detection, they also heard talks and demonstrations on fingerprint classification.

R. L. Martin, veteran Texas & Pacific conductor, running between El Paso and Big Spring, passed through this city Saturday morning en route to the Texas & Pacific hospital at Marshall for treatment. Mr. Martin was taken suddenly ill recently while on his run.

Continued from page 1. The issue was the providing of the suffering needy, and that the hands of dividing the cost between city and county could not be decided at the Saturday meeting. There were no representatives of the city government present, since Red Cross group had sought an audience with the county court.

Politics? Tempers flared on occasion during the preliminary talks, and the suggestion that politics was entering into the situation was heard. That was before the city-county ratio issue could be thrown into the discard—an issue that has been considered the chief stumbling block in the path toward local relief administration. Several attending the Saturday conference expressed the belief, afterward, that the way had been cleared toward an eventual solution.

The Red Cross offer to have its home service division serve as the relief "clearing house" was made by Mrs. Charles Eberley, president of the Howard county chapter, who said the organization could operate the agency provided adequate financing were secured. The plan was explained by G. H. Hayward, who presided at the meeting.

Commodities Available Another factor that may enable the agency to extend its relief is the possibility that surplus commodities now held by the Texas relief commission, may be secured for distribution. Mrs. Ora Wood, district relief administrator here, told of the commission's rules that commodities will be offered where approved agencies are set up to handle the distribution, or where competent case workers are available to investigate applicants.

The Week

Continued from page 1. plant is. Consider that it handles 250,000 barrels of locally produced crude each month and pays out at the same time $23,000 to its employees. A handy thing to have around.

There have been rumors that the old Richardson refinery, which now belongs to the Couden unit, may be restored and put into operation. Indeed, there are better than rumors. There is reason to believe that two months may see this become a fact.

Perhaps you have wondered how farmers and home owners have managed to pull through the worst of the depression after bank credit had been exhausted. Then check the figures on annual statements made by the National Farm Loan association operating in Howard, Glascock and Borden counties and the First Federal Savings and Loan association. They throw light on the subject. The former has handled $234,000 in loans to more than 300 farmers and stockmen since 1933. The latter, in six months operation, has loaned $20,000, mostly to distressed home owners. They have been a big help.

That Big Spring is interested in beautification is demonstrated by the purchase of most of the 500 trees offered at cost by the chamber of commerce here last week. In seven years, more than 3,000 trees have been planted here as a result of this program. "Only God can make a tree," but there's no harm in letting them grow in the right place.

News that the federal communications commission had granted a construction permit for a police radio transmitter here was received last week. Some accepted it as good news, others professed to be a bit skeptical. What they wanted to know was how police could gain benefit from the station if they were not in their rare listening to the broadcast. As we see it, the station would be of greatest benefit at night when the police are constantly patrolling the town in cars. There is the additional consideration that the station could serve not only Big Spring but much of the surrounding territory. That would make it more difficult for law-breakers to "beat the rap." Certainty of capture and punishment make crime less attractive.

Critics Assert Hoffman Has No New Evidence

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 18. (AP)—Critics of Governor Harold Hoffman, openly skeptical of his "new evidence" in the Lindbergh case, wistfully waited tonight for him to show what he's got. "It's up to the governor to produce it," was the sentiment of those who aided with Attorney General David T. Wilentz in the belief that the chief executive "hasn't got a thing."

Mexican Gets 2 More Years

Loses Suspension When Convicted Here In Burglary Case

Jose Nunez, youthful Mexican, Saturday was sentenced to serve a total of four years in the state prison when a 70th district court jury found him guilty of burglary. The jury was out only a few minutes before returning the verdict of guilty and recommended his sentence be fixed at two years. Nunez was free on a suspended sentence passed on a guilty plea to a charge of burglary in May, 1934. Judge Charles Klapproth ruled that the two terms should be cumulative and that Nunez forfeit a $500 recognizance bond.

He was charged with burglary of a box car here July 15, 1935. Plates and dishes found in his possession were identified as being taken from the car. His mother-in-law and sister testified that stolen material found in their possession came from Nunez.

For the second time the case of J. E. Tarry, charged with driving while intoxicated, resulted in a mistrial when the jury could not agree. It was reported that the jury stood 8 to 4 for acquittal.

Two other criminal cases are called for Monday. First will be that of John Johnson, indicted for the death of E. O. Best near O'Donnell in 1933. It will be the fourth time Johnson has gone to trial on the indictment. The other case, subject to the Johnson trial, is that of Robert Ray, charged with an assault to murder J. R. Bond. Bond suffered serious knife wounds as the result of a family argument on the west side of the courthouse when an assault charge brought by Mrs. Ray, Bond's daughter, was continued.

New Farm Bill Will Be Offered

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. (AP)—Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) announced tonight he would introduce—probably Tuesday—legislation for a new $350,000,000 farm program representing his interpretation of the administration's views. Explaining that his bill would "broaden and enlarge" 1935 soil conservation acts, Bankhead declared it would "accomplish in a large measure the same results that have been secured under the AAA." The southern senator said an appropriation of $350,000,000 would be sought to finance "drafts to farmers, based upon their compliance with plans promulgated by the secretary of agriculture."

Markets Steady During The Week

Despite a volume of nearly 16,000,000 shares for the week, the markets created no sensations in the last six days of trading and closed the week slightly off. Cotton bobbed up and down but managed to level off with the close of last Saturday. Wheat enjoyed a similar position, and was a bit stronger. Most stock issues were off a point or two points on brisk trading, but Cities Service furnished the surprise by jumping over the 4 mark and staying there. It was up over last week's close.

To Confer Monday On Poultry Work

George P. McCarthy, assistant poultry husbandman for the state extension service, is to confer with County Agent O. P. Griffin Monday on record of production poultry work in Howard county.

A start has already been made toward a poultry organization for the county and one of 18 regular record production flocks in the state is being raised under the care of Mrs. T. A. Roberts. By trap nesting, Mrs. Roberts is able to ascertain the record of each hen in the flock. This eventually leads to flock-improvement. Carried over a period of years it is calculated to be reflected in the general improvement of poultry strains in the county.

Records of productions have been kept on the flock for the past year. Under the system it is possible to carry on a highly selective system of culling, reducing the flock to the best producers.

151 Surrender Tax Certificates

One hundred and fifty-one cotton producers surrendered cotton tax exemption certificates on $80,875 pounds to the national pool Friday, M. Weaver, adjustment assistant, said Saturday.

The pool, closed since the supreme court held the AAA unconstitutional, was reopened Thursday and Friday but few learned of the offer until Friday.

Saturday there was a steady parade of farmers to the county agent's office attempting to surrender their surplus certificates to the pool. They were too late—the transmittal had to be on its way before midnight Friday.

Weaver said that the poundage covered approximately 761 bales and brought the total number of bales in the pool from Howard county to about 4,761.
