"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

VOLUME LIII

SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPT. 29, 1939

NUMBER 39.

This Week in Our Town

"You have made a lot of improvement in the paper," said E. Kirkpatrick, manager of the local Piggly Wiggly store, Wednesday. "It carries a lot of local news and general news, I like your editorials—they are original and give one something to think about whether the reader agrees with you or not." That's the way we like to hear them talk—like they feel, not for effect. No writer is in harmony with all writers. Thanks, Kirk.

"Returning to Santa Anna to live after about 33 years away," said Rev. C. P. Morgan, who, with his wife, was here yesterday. "Seventeen years in California, in Texas the last two years—down at Primera, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, near Harlingen—Somerset, near San Antonio, now back to where I was the City of Santa Anna's first city clerk and chamber of commerce secretary." Rev. Morgan has bought the Dick West home near the high school and will occupy it about the 25th of next month. He is the son of J. P. Morgan, long-time resident of this city.

"Who has the Legion banners?" Santa Anna Legionnaires are asking. They are needed. Whoever has them, or knows of their whereabouts please notify Williamson or the News editor.

"That's your hard luck!" was expressed by two readers of the News since our editorials were started this week, as a result of our effort to get the dates on the subscription list correct and collect on past due subscription money. Too many people who will use your wares and when pay day rolls around they dodge and beat the bill. Reminds us of an incident in the coal mines at Las Encinas, Coahuila. A brakeman on the Barroteran-Musquiz railroad was boarding at a local restaurant. He paid his first week in advance, ate at the restaurant through the second week, and when the proprietor sought pay for the week, was informed that the brakeman hadn't ordered the meals supplied him during the second week; he just sat down at the table and the waiter brought in the meal. Not having ordered the meals (though he ate them) he did not owe for them and would not pay. In no case has the present management gone back of statements or receipts of subscriber, but has given full credit on the several claimed paid. We do not doubt but that they were paid. So we ask only the same square deal: if you read the paper after your first paid year, we leave it up to the honesty of the individual. Your name will be removed from the list if you desire, whether you pay or not. No hard feeling on our part, but we want to get correct dates on the list even if the subscription isn't paid until next crop season is remunerative to the readers. Luckily most of our readers are straightforward, if they can't do so now, they so advise us when they can, they will pay. We appreciate that courtesy.

"Round About Town" Then there was the young man, who blew a wad of stought chawin' wax into his instrument—it went to Dallas for cleaning out . . . and the office clock that stopped at 10:50 p. m. and caused the editor to arrive for church service as 9:45 Sunday morning. . . and the interesting change in status of a public institution that will not please anybody here. . . and the thoughts the garbage man did not express when his mules became entangled in the chain of a cow parked in the alley down town. . . and the criticism of readers about finding nothing about the pictures at the local movie house, or the big "uns at the county seat in these "colymys" . . . and the red face of the local Big Business Man when he approved the criticism and then realized he was equally unknown as far as these "colymys" are concerned. . . and the surprise certain gas-sippers are in for next time they raid, and the resultant doctor bill. . . and to say nothing of the consternation of local hot check artists over the new hot check law. . . Satisfied readers paying up subscriptions at the News Office.

Brownwood's Huge Irrigation District Is Formally Opened

Dedication ceremony for the million dollar irrigation system just completed in the Brownwood area, were held last Friday afternoon. This project is one of the largest in the state, being exceeded only by one or two systems in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. It is an all-concrete system.

Dedication exercises were held at the $140,000 filtration-water supply plant, a part of the project, which supplies water for the city of Brownwood. A number of state, federal and irrigation district officials were on the program.

From the filtration plant, the visitors were taken on a tour of the distribution system. At the conclusion of the tour a barbecue at Lake Brownwood was enjoyed by a huge throng.

FOOTBALL

Santa Anna football fans and school loyalists are expected to turn out in great numbers to back the Mountaineers when they meet their strong rivals, the Coleman Bluecats, on the Hufford Field in Coleman at 7:45 tonight.

The local eleven are considerably outweighted, an average of 15 lbs. per man, by the Bluecats, but they have a fighting spirit, that will offset some other handicaps. Following is a possible lineup and the weights of the two teams: Coleman: ends, Mc Clesky 138 and Cutler 155; tackles, Harris 205 and Davis 200; guards, Hurst 149 and Quill 159; center, Hinds 146; backs, Martin 135, McMurry 184, Justice 149 and Cobb 165; Santa Anna: ends, York 143, and Wristen 120; tackles, Whitely 163 and West 150; guards, Guthrie 150 and Cupps 145; center, Bissett 145; backs, Garrett 136, Speck 145, Pope 163 and Oakes 150.

Each of the competing teams has played one conference and one non-conference game this season. Two weeks ago Coleman won a practice game from De Leon, with a score of 19 to 13 and Santa Anna defeated the strong Class B Packwood team with the same score. Last Friday the Middle team won a 7-0 victory over the Mountaineers with local fans so near a touchdown during the closing seconds that it was impossible to predict the final score and the winner. The Bluecats won their first conference game 14 to 0 September 22.

The high school Ranger band and pep squad will play Coleman one hundred per cent for the Mountaineers and will perform on the field between halves.

Heart o' Texas News Briefs

A number of second-hand mattresses have been destroyed in Brownwood as the result of a visit by E. G. Wallace, state health department assistant director and chemist, during which an inspection was made of all firms dealing in bedding, which comes under the jurisdiction of the State Health Department through a new law now in effect. Second hand mattresses and bedding cannot be sold or traded to anyone for use unless they have been sterilized to meet the requirement of the new law. At present Texas has no sterilization plant. The mattress firms may only rebuild second hand mattresses for the owner, the product having to be labeled and one of the statements on the tags sewed on by the reconditioner states that the second hand mattress is the personal property of so-and-so and is not for sale. The new law is strict and will cut down many diseases in the state.

Why Make the Job Harder?

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Associate Editor
Farm & Ranch

It takes about five times as much labor to soak and feed milo to hogs as to feed it dry, and the pigs actually make more gal non dry milo than on soaked milo, according to tests at the Texas Experiment Station. Threshed grain fed in a self-feeder, and dry milo heads fed on a clean, dry platform, with a protein supplement, got better results than by soaking the grain and hand-feeding.

Why do pigs do better when the table is set twenty-four hours a day, and they eat free-choice, than when hand-fed two or three times a day? That they do, has long been known. Why does it take less grain and protein supplement to make 100 pounds of pork in a self-feeder than when it is dishd out to the pigs at the extra trouble of two or three daily feedings?

We begin to get the answer when we learn that pigs in these tests made 23 trips to the self-feeder every twenty-four hours, eating a little each time, masticating is unhurriedly, and digesting it thoroughly. Hand-feeding lets them go hungry between meals and they gobble the feed down greedily, swallow whole grain, which cannot be digested. Accurate checks showed the self-fed pigs digested all but two pounds out of a hundred of whole kafir grain, while hand-fed pigs wasted 10 pounds in the hundred. At this rate the self-feeder repays the cost of materials very quickly.

Whatever grain is fed, whole or ground, the self-feeder saves labor and feed. If the feeder is properly constructed, and so placed that dirt does not blow into the feed, the feeding job is done with about two fillings of the self-feeder in the week.

It is understood, of course, that corn and sorghum grains are deficient in proteins. A protein supplement of half tankage and half cottonseed meal should be provided in a separate self-feeder or a separate compartment from the grain. Shrimp or fish meal may be substituted for the tankage. Green pasture is the ideal for getting best results in fattening hogs with grain and protein supplement in self-feeders, but if green pasture is not to be had, a protein supplement made up of 40 parts tankage (by weight), 40 parts cotton seed meal, and 20 parts green alfalfa meal may be substituted. Any good legume hay—peanut, peas, beans, etc.—cured green and ground may be substituted for ground alfalfa hay; with somewhat less digestibility than alfalfa, they are nevertheless high in protein and if cured green carry the necessary Vitamin A, which is lacking in dry grains.

It seems hardly necessary to refer to the mineral mixture, yet a few people still neglect this important factor in good hog feeding. Its lack may not be serious when hogs are running on good alfalfa or clover pastures, but it costs so little and is so easy to provide that it ought never to be neglected. The hog will not eat it unless they need it, but their own appetite is a better index of their nutritional needs than any man's guess.

The Texas Station says "a simple mineral mixture composed of equal parts by weight of bone meal, ground limestone or oyster shell flour and salt will furnish the necessary minerals". This mixture of course should be where the hogs can get at it at all times, and must be protected from rain to prevent the leaching out of the soluble portions of the mixture.

Generally speaking, there are better corn and other feed grain crops in the Southwest than last year. There are also more pigs to be fed. Fifteen percent more sows farrowed in Arkansas last spring; 14 percent more in Louisiana, 35 percent more in Oklahoma, 20 percent more in Texas. Whether grain is plentiful or scarce, however, it pays to buy the protein supplement if necessary, to use a self-feeder, and to furnish green pasture.

Farm and Ranch

Army horse and mule buyers from foreign countries, expected later in the year, will find the largest accumulation of the latter in the Brownwood area that has been on feed in the past ten years. An estimate of 500 head is made. More than 75 head of horses and mules are sold each week through Bohanan & Steele Livestock Auction Sale Co at prices ranging from $35 for yearling mules up to $150 for a span of 2-year-old mare mules.

Robert Beakley and G. B. Bohanan, livestock dealers, have gone to Georgia with a carload of Hereford cattle. The buyers have a ready market in the Southern states for all available good grade breeding cattle.

Charlie Bratton, popular Rochelle ranchman and registered Rambouillet breeder, has furnished five vocational agriculture students with 22 ewes and rams, the boys to supply the feed and receive all the prize money and half of the sales receipts. Bratton to receive the other half of the sales price.

Coleman Co. Feeder-Breeder Ass'n. has just mapped a definite program to promote the improvement of stock and feed, home feeding, boys' livestock activities, and sponsoring two livestock tours each year. Increased membership in the organization is expected. Officers of the group are Ford Barnes, president; Ray Jameson, vice-president; Raymond McElrath, secretary-treasurer; Teddy Stewardson, Hardy Stewardson, John Will Vance and Carroll Kingsberry, directors.

Wool hit a 15-year high Friday when the Sonora Wool & Mohair Co. sold 200,000 pounds of 12mo. wool to Emery & Conant Co. for 45c a pound, highest price since the 1924 of 44 1/4c.

Stallings of Brownwood reports small mohair holdings, most of their stocks having already moved at 50¢/70.

S. S. Thomas Co. also has only small stock of wool to go soon. They sold 50,000 lbs. of mohair last week at 50¢/60.

Farmers have until Dec. 31 to carry out soil-building practices under the current AAA program and qualify for soil-building payments. Last year Texas operators failed by approximately $2,913,000 to earn full allowances for these practices. Further information may be obtained from the offices of county home demonstrator and county agricultural agent.

4-H Club News

Scything an orchard with a little money is not always easy, but lack of capital is a problem 4-H club girls of Texas are meeting successfully, says J. F. Roborough, horticulturist for the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

For example, 6,800 berry sprouts were planted last year by 4-H club girls in Cooke county, and from those over 3,000 berry vines are now growing. These same girls put out over 4,260 grape cuttings resulting in 1,500 grape vines. All this has been accomplished with little or no expense.

Miss Nettie Schultz, Cooke county home demonstration agent, has reported that berry sprouts were given to the club members by the orchard owners when they plowed out their rows. Last summer these girls saved 17,000 seed from peaches which they covered with dirt and kept moist all during the summer months. These were planted after fall rains, and in the spring club members reported 1,000 seedlings, excellent nuclei for home orchards.

Some of the members were able to buy a total of 200 trees and 800 vines, so that they will have earlier production.

Oil Briefs

Lone Star Gas Co. No. 1 L. L. Baker, Coleman county test 3 miles northeast of Santa Anna had drilled late in the week to around 2,200 feet after setting 6 1/2 in. on the Marbles all line. This test is in the southwest part of Marianna Fisk Survey No. 630.

Coleman Oil & Gas Co. - H. M. White test on the Garland Powell land, Moses Little Survey No. 40 had passed 1000 ft.

Anzac Oil Corp. No. 20 Overall in the Overall pool south of Coleman finished underreaming and drilling ahead at 1,185 ft. It is in the southwest quarter of Sec. 12-1 GH&H.

Anzac and D. R. Semmes No. 1-F Morris one mile northeast outcrop of the Morris pool, five miles northeast of Echo, had spudded 100 feet. It is 1,320 feet from the south and west line of HT&RR Survey No. 74.

F H A Applications On Increase After Long Summer Lull

The volume of home mortgage insurance applications received by F.H.A. during the second week of the European country. Mr. McDonald said, "It seems reasonable to anticipate the usual seasonal increase in small home building permits, as well as F.H.A. mortgage insurance applications, in September and October."

Small home mortgages selected for appraisal during the week ended September 22 amounted to $22,341,000. Mr. McDonald said this compared with $17,311,000 in the preceding week when the labor day holiday occurred.

The volume of residential building applications on which permits were issued in July and the first two weeks of August," Mr. McDonald said. "This generally is expected to approach but not to exceed the somewhat higher levels of the Spring building season."

"Thus far this year a fairly normal pattern has been followed, with a Spring peak in our figures substantially above that of a year ago when more liberal financing terms were just beginning to be effective. This Spring peak was followed by a decline during the Summer, and the past few weeks have shown a measurable gain in the volume of new construction applications.

"In the week ended September 16, we selected exactly 5,000 mortgages for appraisal of which 3,328 represented homes to be built under F.H.A. inspection. This compared with 3,205 applications on homes to be built in the same week last year, and was somewhat below this year's Spring peak. In the same week, 2,504 new homes were actually started under F.H.A. inspection, compared with 2,090 the year before.

"The volume of modernization loans reported for insurance totaled $3,873,028 in the week ended September 16, compared with $1,871,614 in the preceding week and $4,816,619 in the corresponding week of 1938. This year an insurance premium is being paid by lending institutions on loans of this type, whereas a year ago no such premium was in effect under Title I.

"It is gratifying that lenders are going ahead making these loans in such substantial volume and that this part of the F.H.A.'s operations also may now become self-sustaining, along with home mortgage insurance under other sections of the Act. These figures on modernization loans do not yet reflect the effects of the world since institutions have a month to report them."

Editorial

A meeting on soil conservation at Coleman Saturday noon, attended by county judge, the commissioners, F. F. A. leaders, county agricultural agent, and several other county and Federal agents, was productive of good results and provocative of a great deal of solid "good for the county" thought.

theory is this: the government enacted some laws to aid the tenant farmers, and when some of the landlords found that the tenant farmer through the government subsidy and his part of the crops was able to live half decently, why the tenant farmer got his walking papers and the landlord worked the farm previously good enough only for tenant farmers, and leased additional land to secure subsidies with. The government should secure a sworn statement that the land has not been worked by tenant farmers priorly during his ownership, and that he was not operating a farm at or since the time he purchased the farm on which he asked a subsidy.

As this issue of The News goes to press, business and professional men and women of Santa Anna are endeavoring to form a chamber of commerce to act for the welfare of both the city and the individual commercial interests of the city. There will be some who will oppose such an organization on the grounds of cost, holding that spending a dollar this year is too much to pay for possible enormously greater increased profits next year.

of the citizens and a commercial unit is formed, experience has dictated several courses of action that should be or should not be pursued. First, a capable man should be selected to head the organization as president—someone with the vibrant enthusiasm and ambition of the late Dr. Sealy, one who can likewise devote time to the organization. The secretary must from his board of directors. A workable program has to be evolved, and finances supplied to meet the requirements, but not for extravagant ideas that have no hope of fruition from the first. Towns and cities receive from their commercial organizations not alone what they put into them in the way of money, but what they put into them in moral support and active co-operation. To operate a commercial organization requires money. And don't figure that after you have made your contribution, or pledge, that all you have to do is set back and wait for results to roll in.

We recently saw an article attributing someone's bad luck to Friday the 13th. Many more people consider Friday an unlucky day. Beyond the fact that about as many people die or have something happen to them as on any other day of the month, and as many have had luck on Friday as on any other day of the week, Friday seems to be different from other days of the week than the 13th is from any other day of the month. In other words this "unlucky day" and "unlucky date" idea is pure nonsense. That isn't so such a simple matter. Chris. Colomb sailed westward on his first voyage on Friday. Returning home he landed on Friday. The Pilgrims sailed into harbor on Friday and made their final landing on Friday. George Washington was born on Friday. Bunker Hill was seized and fortified on Friday. The surrender of Saratoga, the turning point of the War of Independence, was fought on a Friday. The Declaration of Independence was moved in Congress on Friday. There is nothing to prove either Friday or Friday the 13th is unlucky. A single basis exists for the superstition—the Crucifixion.

Business men generally consider newspapers to be against the use of circulars by business houses in their towns. The belief is only partially correct. As to our personal view on the matter, we distributed circulars on Thursday about the chamber of commerce organization meeting last night. The time element made a last reminder desirable. That happens frequently. But newspapers do oppose the huge sales sheets about "firt sales," "cheap sales," "bankrupt sales," "Boston Store sales," etc., be they legitimate or clap-trap sales. Three reasons exist for the attitude: first an enormously high percentage of the circulars fail to reach those most able to buy; people object to having their laws cluttered up with what they consider "junk" not worth going in the newspaper; destructive influence on the newspapers. If your home paper is so rotten your people refuse to read it, circulars are justified: if your paper is worth reading, it is worth supporting. If your paper is not up to the mark, maybe too many of your business men prefer to get their local news out of "Big Sale" circulars: maybe they spend too much on "Big Sale" circulars, spend nothing for advertising, and cusses the local paper for being bum. He overlooks the fact that a few like him can make any small town paper burn. Newspaper organizations assert that small town papers are true pictures of the small town industries: a live paper indicates a live business town; a poor paper a dead one. We know this of Santa Anna: our people with one exception read the paper from beginning to end and if for any reason a subscriber in our trade territory misses a copy, we hear from it. The one exception stopped his paper for reasons unknown without paying up the eight months arrears (Wednesday we got thrown for a six-bit loss by a lady reader). Down at Jack Woodward's post-office the garbage man received about a hundred big circulars from a firm seeking Santa Anna trade, but not sufficiently interested in reaching the majority of those most able to buy from him. He cuts his own throat—and The News's throat also. But as he says, if he can get a dribble of nickel sales from those that do reach the readers, he won't know that he missed dollar bills, V's and ten spots. However, if he wishes to go after the nickels, he has no kick coming if he fails to get the dollars. He's sure hitting what he aims at—nickels. Boil the matter down to common sense, and you find this: your paper is just as good as you want it to be. Good advertising patronage (but not at cut-throat prices), a subscription rate based on the kind of a paper you want (one dollar for a little one, a dollar and a half for a good one, two dollars for an extra good one) and if your newspaper man is failing you, it's his fault. If your business men support the paper well and you get all you are paying for, it is proof that you are co-operating with your hometown merchant, otherwise he wouldn't be able to do the advertising that is the basis of the kind of paper you get.

Our Wildlife

By JOHN E. WOOD State Game Warden

A few years ago there was called to my attention a certain store that had gone broke and had to quit business. Apparently the store had been doing a fair business. A short history of the store and the downfall follows: Two men had gone into a partnership in this business, and after the store began to pay them back for their investment, one of the partners began to steal from the shop. He continued this for some time and kept taking more from the place of business. Soon the store began to show a loss and therefore the partnership had to close its doors to the public. It was not until this time that the partner who was doing the stealing realized that half of the things he was stealing were his, and he caused the partnership to fail. Too many times have I seen this same story play a big part in the downfall of many of our wildlife species. Hunting and fishing is just a big business in which we are all partners. When I say that hunting and fishing is a big business in Texas I mean just this: for this is considered to be a $75,000,000 industry in this State. How many of such businesses exist in Texas today? There are more partners stealing from this one business alone than most of us realize. If the partners in our wildlife resources continue to steal from the business, even if the other partners do not know it, we will have to close our doors to hunting and fishing, and this will be caused by our stealing partners. And you one of the STEALING PARTNERS? Play the game fair and help pay for what you take, so that we can stay in business longer and our industry will pay all of us bigger dividends in the future. Be Careful With Your Fires. Hunters and fishermen are warned to be very careful with campfires. Don't build a fire where there is a chance for it to burn the pastures. Be sure it is out before you leave. Hunters are asked to be sure that your cigarette stub is completely out before throwing it away. After lighting a cigarette in the field, break the match in two before throwing it away. You may be the cause of many acres being burned. Kill all wild house cats. They eat the birds you like to hunt.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Sportsmanship is the quality or characteristic of being fair and honorable in sports. One does not necessarily have to participate in a contest to be a sport. Good sports are found in every walk of life, not only on the football field but in the business world as well.

Just now, we are concerned most with being a sport on the gridiron and in the grandstand. It is quite easy to be a sport and a victor. To understand this statement, one must know the qualities of a good sport. A good sport is one who can lose as gracefully (figuratively speaking) as he can win. He is always boosting his home team, but he does not speak disrespectfully of the opposing team, referee or he is in the stands while the referee is in the center of the action. He realizes that the referee can see the play much better than he can, due to their positions.

The students of Santa Anna High have had the chance to be a losing sport and a winning sport. Have you been a GOOD sport?

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

To Santa Anna the Coleman - Santa Anna football game has always been an important event during football season. Therefore an attempt has been made to gather opinions of the student body and anyone connected with it. The following opinions represent the main trend of thought about the coming game. Mr. Byrne - Our superintendent believes that Friday night's game will be lots of fun, and our boys will play their best game of the season, as Coleman is our strongest rival.

Alice Jane Lovelady: "We're going to mow 'em down!"
 Shag: "We're gonna Beat - all I can say."

L Opine Priddy: "I think it's a cinch!"

Freda: "I think our football boys have somethin' there!"

Coach Mac Donald: This gentleman will tell us more after the game and believes this is going to be a hard one.

Mickie Parker: "Wahoo! Tear 'em to pieces! And when you see a streak of black and gold cross that goal line, you can bet it will be No. 55."

Dorothy Ross: "Kill those Bluecats!"

Betty Sue Turner: "We're gonna beat 'em!"

Adrian Speck: "Coleman will know it's been in the game when we get through with 'em."

Vernon: "We're gonna beat 'em."

Glen Pope: "We're gonna beat!"

J. K.: "We're goin' to tear 'em to pieces."

John S. West: "We're goin' to run over 'em like they was not there."

Louis: "If we really get out and fight, we'll really kill those Bluecats!"

Mrs. McCreary: "I think it's going to be a good scrap."

Norris: "Coleman won't beat us more than six points!"

Jimmie: "Well, we're goin' to win - sure!"

J. T. Garrett: "The chances are good and last week's game will put more determination in 'em. The school ought to back the team more!"

Archie Dean: "We ought to beat 'em!"

THE SANTA ANNA - MOZELLE GAME

Santa Anna and Mozelle played a hard fought game last Friday, September 22. During the first three quarters the ball remained in the middle of the field, a majority of the time, neither side seeming to gain much. With the beginning of the fourth quarter both teams began to make some progress. The Mozelle team marched to within five yards of the goal with a series of pass plays. They were scolded through left tackle. The try for point was good. The score 7 to 0 in favor of Mozelle. Santa Anna received the ball on the next kick off and began passing as the time left to play was very short. Oakes connected with Wristen on a 40 yard pass. Wristen lateraled the ball off, and the ball was placed on the Mozelle 10 yard line. Oakes tossed one to Garrett over center for the last play of the game. However this pass was ruled incomplete, the decision being that it was caught outside of the end zone. Final score: Mozelle 7, Santa Anna 0.
