"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

VOLUME LV.

SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEX., FRIDAY, APRIL 19, 1940.

NUMBER 16.

This Week in Our Town

"Those cards brought results", remarked Bill Griffin Tuesday referring to 300 post cards he had printed and mailed out asking for turkey eggs to be set on a 50-50 basis. "Every turkey in this section must have gotten busy, from the returns". Bill was still getting turkey eggs in by the bushel Wednesday.

"Saw Dr. McDonald down at the skating rink," said a young lady who was in the News office Tuesday. "He was either holding onto the rail or falling during the few minutes I was there. He likes active sports and roller skating gave him lots of activity." Dr. Mac is closing his own project, the bowling alley, for the summer on May 1 and was around sampling the other entertainments of the town.

"Where did you get that big grease spot on your shirt pocket?" was asked of Wilbur Clarke Wednesday afternoon. Wilbur is the local manager of the Coleman Gas and Oil Co., and the story behind the grease spot is a bit humorous, as the friendly group that dines at Baxter's is ready to agree.

"Sold Roy Golston of the Santa Anna Gas Co. a Dodge truck and a Plymouth station wagon," is the report coming from the Mathews Motor Company Wednesday. Evidently Rex finds using a private car is not the right thing, so Roy invests for the office. He bought a couple of extra good cars.

"Work is to start soon on the extension on our building," is the report of Claude Reid, manager of Reid's 5 and 10 Cent Store. The institution certainly needs more space. A large and well-selected stock is crammed into two-thirds the space it is supposed to occupy. The addition will enable Reid's to give better service.

"How long is the new contest to run?" we were asked by several people this week. It will be in two issues of the paper, but only the first issue, this week, will be contested, the second issue carrying the names missing from this week's page. If you intend to participate, get busy this week. Next week will be too late.

"I'm going to work for the Coca Cola Company Monday," said Woodrow Neill, who has been running the west Gulf service station. Neill will serve Mason, Brady and Ballinger. His many friends and patrons here will miss him, but if a fellow can do better by making a change, more power to him.

"We are going to have another big sale," said Dennis Kelly yesterday when placing copy for an advertisement announcing the annual hardware week sale. He has made this year's sale doubly valuable by combining a grocery sale with the hardware offerings. Note the ad on page 2.

People of Texas to Honor John Garner At Chicago Urged

The people of Texas should, and will, pay tribute to a great Texas statesman by sending a solid Garner delegation to the Democratic national convention in Chicago, Myron Blalock, director of the Garner-for-President campaign in Texas, declared in a statewide address in Dallas, April 12.

Mr. Blalock, who is a past chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, spoke over a network of 23 radio stations.

The campaign director explained that a delegation instructed for a favorite son was the normal procedure for any patriotic state to pursue, and declared that every other suggested candidate for the presidency naturally expected Texas to be loyal and stand by its own. He asserted that the third-term activity in Texas was undertaken without President Roosevelt's consent and is being conducted against his wishes.

Santa Anna H. D. Club Meets

Demonstrating the cooking of ginger bread was the central purpose of the program when the Santa Anna H. D. Club met with Mrs. John Lowe, Friday afternoon, April 12.

The homemakers who regard meal preparation as a dull task and who feels she has no talent for this phase of home making, has many interesting discoveries in store for her if she gives intense study to the many useful recipes in quick bread cookings. A recipe for plain cornbread can be prepared as follows: 1 cup cornmeal, 1 cup flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 1 1/2 cups milk, 4 tablespoons lard. Mix dry ingredients, add fat and warm liquid, well beaten eggs, mix with dry ingredients, beat until light. Bake 23 minutes.

Ellen Richards, Mrs. R. P. Watson, Mrs. J. K. Harrison were named as a committee to complete plans to the district meeting at Abilene, April 19, and sponsoring of a show by the club, with Ellen Richards as committee chairman, were the dual purposes of the business hour, Mrs. W. E. Vanderford, vice president in charge.

Mrs. Vanderford won the pot flower as a recreation prize. Refreshments of gingerbread, topped with apricot preserves and whipped cream were served 9 club members, Mrs. Deck Bran, Mrs. Sarah Farrell were visitors.

The next meeting will be April 26 at the home of Ellen Richards, when she will give the program on "The 1940 Outlook For Farm Family Living."

The Cotton Mattress Program Application To Begin

Approximately 50 women, representing 18 Home Demonstration Clubs in Coleman County, attended the opening meeting of the cotton mattress program held at the county agricultural building in Coleman, Tuesday afternoon, April 16.

Miss Maurine Hearn, district agent was in charge of the meeting. In a talk Miss Hearn explained the method of using the surplus cotton under the Triple A, program by furnishing cotton to the low-income families. Farm families, with a total cash income of not more than $400 will be eligible to apply for the mattresses. 120 applicants eligible for a mattress have to be filed before the county can be eligible for the program, therefore Miss Hearn set up work centers and appointed committees to take application Saturday, April 20. The work centers with chairman and two appointed men and two women will be set up at these places:

Santa Anna: city hall, Saturday 10-12 a. m. and 2-5 p. m., Mrs. Roy Stockard chairman. Coleman: agricultural building, Saturday, 10-12 a. m. and 2-5 p. m., Mrs. J. W. Mead, chairman. Term of Court For April Closes Today; Docket Was Light

The April term of court closes in Coleman today. According to Judge E. J. Miller who called at the News office Wednesday afternoon there was an unusually light docket that could have been handled in two weeks.

While here the judge left the following poem with us stating: "Unsigned communications are not unusual but one was received at this term that was unusual in character. It was written in the form of poetry and while I am not prepared to judge of its steps and feet, meter and rhyme and readers will have to judge as to the truth of its statements, the sentiment is pleasing.

Some people think about a judge,

Who sits upon the bench,

As one whose heart would never budge,

Whose soul would never flinch,

Because hard justice he must deal

To those who kill and maim and steal.

But we who know our dear Judge Miller,

Just as a fellowman,

Can feel his pity for the killer,

Although the law must ban him

From his children and his wife,

Or even take away his life.

So let us all be thankful now

That we've a judge so true,

Whose life is his own solemn vow

That he will justice do

With heart sincere. Please help him God

To wield aright, the law's strong rod."

Two years ago Brooks polled more than 400,000 votes in a run-off campaign against one of the most popular men in Texas, Coke Stevenson, who defeated him by only a narrow margin. Brooks was in bed as the result of an accident for most of the runoff campaign.

22nd Annual WTCC Convention To Be Held May 16 17 18

The 22nd annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, May 16-17-18, marks a break with precedent.

Heretofore the convention dates have been at the first of the week. The 1940 convention, in fact, was originally set for Monday-Tuesday-Wednesday in the week of May 13-14-15, but last week it was announced the big show would be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of that same week.

Reason: the theme of the convention, the "American Way of Life," to be dramatized in a great All-Youth Parade set for 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon May 17th. Heads of boy and girl organizations of the territory met with the convention committee in Big Spring and asked for the change in dates. Youths in large numbers can come and participate in the convention at the end of the week. Another factor, very potent, was that Boy Scouts of Buffalo Trail were anxious to combine their annual Roundup with WTCC convention, and this would not have been possible with a first-of-the-week setting. Big Spring is always the host city to the Scout's Roundup, to be held this year on Friday and Saturday, May 17-18, the last two days of the convention.

Besides the Boy Scouts, marchers in the All-Youth Parade will include 4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers of America units, Girl Reserves, Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls and all the convention bands. The marchers will carry banners affirming the priceless heritage and blessing of American citizenship against the bloody background of Europe. The parade will end at the Big Spring Municipal Auditorium, with an address on the American way of life by a nationally known speaker.

There were twice as many rigs up in Coleman County on March 1, 1940, as on March 1, 1939, according to figures released last week by the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association at Abilene.

While there were more rigs up, there has been fewer wells completed this year. In 1939 a total of nine wells has been completed while at the same time this year only five had been completed, one of which was an oil well, two were gas wells and two were dry holes. In 1939 three oil wells and six dry holes had been drilled.

Activity has increased since March 1 this year just as the tempo increased following that date a year ago. On March 1 this year there were 12 rigs up as compared to the six that were up on March 1 a year ago.

Garner, Leader of Peace Bloc, Crystallized Anti-War Sentiment Throughout the United States

Washington, D. C.—Vice President John Nance Garner more than any other man showed the American attitude toward the European war.

When Mr. Garner returned to Washington for the special session of Congress on September 21, there was a sort of fatalistic feeling that somehow or another the United States, sooner or later, would get into war.

Travelers returning from Europe were quoted in Eastern newspapers as reporting that the most frequent question asked of Americans in England and France was "How soon will the United States join us?"

Garner never issues statements to the press, therefore his part in creating the new psychology may not be fully known to the country. But more than forty senators visited the Vice President on the first day he was in Washington.

Here is what he said to them: "The United States is not going into this war. The people are determined that we shall not get into it. We in elective office have got to quit saying that we hope this country can stay out. We have got to start saying 'We are going to stay out.'"

He expressed the same feeling at the White House later in the day, when Democratic and Republican leaders met with President Roosevelt. He expressed it again and again as Senators and Representatives called on him later. And in a few days the Garner sentiment was being echoed throughout Washington and it spread to the country.

Garner voted for war in 1917. He believed there was no way to stay out and he still believes there was no way to stay out. He insisted that his son go to war then.

Marquis James, Pulitzer prize-winning author, in his new book, "Mr. Garner of Texas," tells how it happened.

His son, Tully, had gone to the father's office a few days after the war resolution passed in 1917.

"Son," said Mr. Garner, "how do you feel about going to war?"

"I aim to go, Dad," said the boy.

"I'm glad to hear it—for you've got to go. I couldn't have cast that vote to send other fathers' boys to war if I hadn't known I was sending my own. And just one more thing: your mother and I will want to hear from you every time you get a chance to write, but promise you'll never ask me a favor. I might be in a position to get it, and I don't want to be exposed to temptation."

No member of Congress got a better understanding of war than Garner. Not only was he a member of the Ways and Means Committee active in the framing of laws for the four Liberty Loans aggregating $18,000,000,000 and the emergency tax bills, but he was also President Wilson's liaison man between the White House and the House of Representatives.

Twice a week he went to the White House for long private conferences with President Wilson. The President sent him to confer with the British, French and Belgian missions which came to the United States to discuss methods of waging the war. Garner had for many years been a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives and a student of foreign relations.

In the writing of the new neutrality law it was he who insisted on every safeguard to prevent involvement of the United States in war.

NO PLACE ON EARTH NEEDS government-built hydroelectric plants less than Oregon and Washington. But today, due to the bellyhoo to camouflage the socialistic aims of the Federal power program, many people could gain the impression that Northwest citizens had never enjoyed electric lights. We used to read about Chicago racketeers "muscling in" on the territory of competitors, and were aghast at the ruthless methods described. Now we read about a tax-subsidized, tax-exempt government power plant "moving in" on a local power company, and taxpayers, and nothing is said. Portland, Oregon, is a good case in point. It has long had the services of three private power companies. But the government's new tax-exempt Bonneville dam on the Columbia River must have a market for the great surplus power it creates. The power companies in Portland are ready to use their lines to pass on power from Bonneville dam to consumers as it is needed, under state regulation. But that doesn't satisfy the proponents of socialized power—they want the private companies to get out. They ask Portland citizens to go into debt, millions of dollars for a PUD—Public Utility District—to get something they have had for years without going into debt. If this socialistic idea of production without profit is good for power, it should be extended to the largest instead of the smallest items of family expense—rent, clothing, fuel, food. Cut out private enterprise; let everyone get a job with state of city or Federal government, and let the politicians be our masters instead of our servants. Why mince words? Why not call a spade a spade? If you like socialism, fine—vote for it or go and live where it is. If you like independence and opportunity, vote against socialism under whatever camouflage it raises its head.

DURING THE PAST NINE OR ten years only one thing in the USA has shown any expansion—the US government. Government employment increased 100 percent, expenditures by the government nearly 200 percent, government borrowing increased 150 percent. It has enormously increased its power over our lives and affairs and has to an enormous degree delegated that power to federal commissioners who are not responsible to either the people or to Congress, and these same commissioners have the authority to suspend the constitution at will by the issuing of an order on the typewriter—something Congress cannot do. This deliberate consolidation of power in the hands of presidential appointees is a threat to our democratic form of government—if we have one at present. Never has government so dominated our lives. Creating commissions by the score, vesting in them unprecedented legislative, executive and judicial authority, government bureau today are almost at the point where they will no longer need the services of a president and congress, and can abolish them and "take over" on their own hook. Think it a crazy idea? Think it over and if you still think so, you can get a job with U. S. (Uncle Stalin).

buy with their dollars increased even more—so that the worker could buy 29 per cent more for his money.

An interesting sidelight is that in this same period the return to those whose money bought the machines and paid the workers—the investors—dropped 7.7 per cent.

In spite of the mounting weight of evidence of the sort just mentioned a great cloud of words from Washington on the subject of men and machines still seeks to obscure the real and lasting quality of machine benefits. Unless average citizens—meaning particularly the housewife, the farmer, the factory employee and the white-collar worker—remain able to see clearly through the dust, they may lose some of the things which make them the envy of similar folks in any other nation in the world.

The Washington themong is heard from many places—before the Monopoly Committee from the Labor Department, from Congressional labor committees, and others of similar stripe. Stripped to its essence, the themong in effect is that machines are bad because they do work that used to be done by people.

The argument is that machines which have developed since 1929 are doing the work which once was performed by a million and a half or two million people. Therefore, it is argued we had better curb the machine to keep people working. Basic facts, however, are obscured. It isn't pointed out clearly, for instance, that if a new knitting machine replaces two workers and turns out ten times as much as they used to produce, it takes more workers to make the machines and keep them in repair, more railroad employees to transport the finished goods, more farmers to produce cotton for the yarn, more retail store employees to sell it, and so on and on.

That the objections to machines come from minority groups evidenced by the fact that Washington has just witnessed a celebration of the anniversary of the first Patent Law, which stimulated development of machines. Congress overwhelmingly ordered this celebration. It culminated in a dinner at which only patented foods were served, at which exhibits showed what patents had done for the people, and at which speaker after speaker lauded patents—and the machine.

Farmers may not realize it, but Congress is about to act on a bill which should relieve some of their most pressing problems. It is the Walter-Logan bill, described as designed "to regulate the regulators" or "to make the theorists practical."

For instance, farmers who work through cooperatives have in many instances been ordered by the National Labor Board to make contracts with labor unions, and by the Federal Wage Hour Division to pay their co-op workers 32 cents an hour for a 42-hour week.

The laws creating these two Federal bureaus attempted specifically to exempt agriculture. But those who are administering the laws have tried to make them cover anything and everything.

If the Walter-Logan bill becomes law, despite the objections of agencies like the Labor Board and the Wage Hour Division, it should give the farmers substantial relief for it would hold the theorists, who never turned a furrow in their lives, to a more factual application of the law.

If the bill doesn't pass, then some bureaucrats will interpret that as approval of what they have done. And the farmers probably will get pinched harder in more places.

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sport articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY, the sort of reading matter boys like best.

A marvelous car in 1922... but it cost $2200.00

...but what has this automobile to do with your ELECTRIC SERVICE?

FRANKLY, it has nothing to do with your electric service. We use it here to illustrate a point.

Automobiles were "rich man's toys" not so many years ago. They cost a lot of money and they cost a lot to run. They were gas-eaters and oil-eaters. The hills they could climb in high were few and far between. If you got them up to fifty miles an hour, the noise and vibration were terrific.

Today millions of American families can afford beautiful, powerful cars that outsmart, outshine and outperform the best models of the Twenties in every way, yet cost less than half as much.

This progress has not been confined to the automobile. Time was when electric service provided only your light. Today you can use more lights, a radio, refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, washing machine and other appliances, and the electricity to operate all of these costs very little more than you used to pay for light alone.

Like the automobile, your electric service improves steadily year after year. At the same time, its price comes down. This is possible because of the constant effort of the people of your electric company to improve service and reduce rates. It's an effort that goes on and on. Because of it, your electric service will be better and cheaper in the future than it is today. The credit belongs to a group of people who are never content to rest on their laurels, who strive to do their job just a little better today than they did it yesterday. They're the people of your electric company.

Invite a visitor to WEST TEXAS in 1940

REDDY KILOWATT is singing the praises of West Texas, "the Land of Opportunity." We have many things of which to be proud — opportunities for agricultural and industrial growth; sites of scenic beauty and historical significance; great natural resources; fine highways; splendid educational institutions; and a delightful all-year climate. When you write friends in other states, invite them to visit West Texas on their 1940 vacation trip.

More for your money
 In the last 10 to 15 years, the engineering improvements and operating economies of your electric company have made it possible to cut the average price of household electricity just about in half. Many customers now using more household appliances, lots of light, a radio and refrigerator pay very little more to operate all of these than they used to pay for light alone.
