Yanks Even Up Series With Five-Run Blast

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—A five-run explosion in the first inning, highlighted by Bill Skowron's three-run homer and Whitey Ford's four-hit pitching gave the New York Yankees a 5-1 victory today and tied the World Series at 3-3, a knee injury forced Brooklyn's Duke Snider out of the game in the fourth inning.

The final game will be played at Yankee Stadium tomorrow at noon (CST). Left-hander Tommy Byrne, winner of the second game for New York, will oppose south-paw Johnny Podres, victor in the third game.

Snider, slugging star of the series with four homers and eight hits, injured his left knee in the third inning when he stepped in a hole in the outfield while chasing Skowron's fly. He was replaced at the bat by Don Zimmer in the fourth inning.

Back in the friendly confines of Yankee Stadium after losing three straight at Ebbets Field, the Yankees wasted no time in driving young Karl Spooner from the mound in the first inning. They blasted the 24-year-old left-hander for five runs on two walks and three hits and it didn't matter that they were stopped cold thereafter by Russ Meyer and Ed Roebuck.

FIRST INNING
DODGERS: Gilliam lined the second pitch to Howard in left. Reese was called out on strikes. Snider also looked at a third strike. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES: Rizzuto walked on a full count. Martin struck out and Rizzuto, breaking fast on the hit and run, stole second as Gilliam was late covering the bag. McDougald walked on 5 pitches. Youl bounced a single over Spooner's head into centerfield, scoring Rizzuto and sending McDougald to third. Bauer singled between third and short, scoring McDougald. Berra stopping at second.

Skowron hit a home run into the right field stands scoring Berra and Bauer. Russ Meyer, a right-hander, replaced Spooner. Skowron's homer was the 17th hit by the two teams in the series, tying a record set by the Yankees and Dodgers in 1953. Cerv bounced a slow hit ball wide of first and beat it out for an infield single when Meyer was late leaving the mound for Hodges throw. Howard was called out on strikes. Ford filed to Amoros. Five runs, three hits, no errors, one left.

SECOND INNING
DODGERS: Campanella filed to Cerv. Furillo was hit with a soft pitch. Hodges walked. Robinson rapped into a double play. McDougald to Martin to Skowron. He was the 17th double play of the series, a new mark. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES: Rizzuto popped to Robinson. Martin struck out swinging. McDougald fouled to Reese. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING
DODGERS: Ford snagged Amoros' hot shot back to the box and threw him out. Meyer struck out. McDougald made a nice stop of Gilliam's grounder to his left and threw him out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES: Berra walked. Bauer dropped a single in short left. Berra stopping at second. Skowron filed to Snider. Cerv bounced to Robinson who tagged Berra on the base line and threw to Hodges for a double play. It was Brooklyn's 11th double play, a record. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

FOURTH INNING
DODGERS: Reese beat out a high chopper behind second for an infield single. Don Zimmer batted for Snider and was called out on strikes. Campanella walked on four pitches. It was believed Snider had injured himself going after Skowron's fly in the third. Furillo drilled a ground single past Rizzuto into left field scoring Reese. Campanella stopping at second. Rizzuto took Hodges' grounder and threw to Martin forcing Furillo, as Campanella stopped at third. Robinson forced Hodges at second Rizzuto to Martin. One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

FIFTH INNING

SIXTH INNING
DODGERS: Joe Collins went to first base for the Yankees. Zimmer walked. Campanella struck out. Furillo bounced a 3-2 pitch to Rizzuto who threw to Collins for the out as Zimmer slid into second. McDougald threw out Hodges. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

SEVENTH INNING
DODGERS: Robinson filed to Cerv. Amoros dropped a Texas League single into center. Frank Keller batted for Meyer and popped to Martin. Amoros raced all the way to third when Ford let loose with a wild pitch with Gilliam at bat. Gilliam walked. Collins made a nice stop of Reese's tough bouncer to his right and threw to Rizzuto forcing Gilliam at second. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

EIGHTH INNING
DODGERS: Zimmer was called out on strikes. Rizzuto tossed out Campanella. Furillo struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING
DODGERS: Noren went to left field. Hodges bounced out. Rizzuto to Collins. McDougald came up with Robinson's hot smash and threw him out, another fine play by the third baseman.

Amoros went down swinging. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Ike Has Good Night Following 'Tired' Spell

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower "slept soundly" for more than seven hours last night after his physicians had reported him "a little tired" and not feeling "as well as usual."

The doctor's bulletin at 8:55 p.m. Denver time Sunday stirred new anxiety over the Chief Executive's condition and brought to an abrupt end the string of encouraging reports which had come from the hospital bedside more than a week.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced a few minutes after 7 a.m. today that the bulletin usually issued at that hour would be delayed because the President was sleeping later than usual.

"The President went to sleep last night at 8:45 p.m.," he said. "He slept soundly until 4:25 a.m., when he awoke."

"At that time his temperature and pulse were checked and found to be normal."

"He went back to sleep within the half hour and is presently sleeping."

Hagerty explained that the President's physicians decided it would be better not to awaken him, to assure him maximum rest.

Eisenhower received a sedative, second, before retiring for the night. No additional dose was given him when he awakened at 4:25 a.m.

A formal medical bulletin was expected later in the morning.

"The President is a little tired this evening and did not feel as well as usual. Otherwise his condition is good. His temperature, pulse and blood pressure are normal."

It was the 35th Fitzsimons Army Hospital bulletin on Eisenhower's condition since he entered there a week ago last Saturday—and the first, since the early hours after his "moderate" heart attack that day, that failed to report he was making satisfactory progress "without complications."

Christmas 'Trim' On Square Ok'd

Christmas decorations proposed for the courthouse square were outlined this morning for county commissioners, who quickly approved the project.

The decorations will include a 45-foot Yule tree in the war memorial recess at the east side of the square, a giant neon star to be placed atop the building, neon "season's greetings" signs at each end of the courthouse, and streamers of colored lights around the top of the structure.

Tentative plans also call for Santa Claus to park his sleigh near the Christmas tree for a week's stay in Big Spring. Santa will be available for interviews with all Big Spring youngsters at that point, if his schedule permits him to spend a week here.

The decorations were discussed with commissioners by three members of a Big Spring Garden Club committee—Mrs. W. D. Caldwell, Mrs. F. W. Luttinger and Mrs. Ennis Cochran. They will be handling that phase of the Christmas program for the Chamber of Commerce this year. It is planned to start putting up the decorations about town early in November.

Commissioners approved the plans for decorating the square and also promised to furnish a workman to assist in repairing the regular street decorations.

Peron Sweetheart Ready And Willing To Follow Lover

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—The newspaper O Globo today quoted the 16-year-old girl friend of exiled Juan D. Peron as declaring, "If he calls me, I will go anywhere in the world to be at his side."

Nelida Haydee Rivas, the school-girl linked with the fallen dictator was interviewed by O Globo's Buenos Aires correspondent at her parents' home near Peron's weekend hideout in Olivos, a Buenos Aires suburb.

She told the reporter: "I am at the disposition of my great friend and benefactor, Peron. If he goes to Paraguay, as he said in the letters intercepted by the police, and if he calls me wherever it be—I will go resolutely to make him happy for the rest of his life."

Nelida's connection with the former President was discovered through letters he wrote her after he had taken refuge on a Paraguayan gunboat.

The O Globo correspondent, Eurilio Duarte, said the girl's parents, Jose and Maria Rivas, were present during the interview.

Actor Killed

James Dean, 24-year-old actor, was killed in a head-on highway crash while riding in his German sports car near Paso Robles, California.

Till Witness In Care Of Negro Paper

CHICAGO (AP)—A man reported to be a potential witness who never appeared at the Mississippi trial of two white men acquitted of murdering a Chicago Negro boy is said to be in the care of a Negro newspaper.

Enoch Waters, executive director of the Chicago Defender, said yesterday Leroy (Too Tight) Collins, had been brought to Chicago by a reporter for the Tri-State Defender of Memphis, Tenn.

Waters said the reporter located Collins in Mississippi. Collins, a Negro, disappeared before the trial of Roy Bryant, 24, and his half-brother J. W. Milam.

Milam and Bryant were acquitted of murdering 14-year-old Emmett Louis Till. They are awaiting trial on charges of kidnaping the boy.

Princess May Make Statement

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Sketch said today that weekend talks between Prime Minister Eden and Princess Margaret may lead to a public statement about her rumored romance with group Capt. Peter Townsend.

Margaret, 25 in August, is now free under British law to marry the 40-year-old Royal Air Force officer without the permission of the Queen. But as "protector" of the Church of England—which frowns on the remarriage of divorced persons, the Queen could hardly grant such permission to her sister.

Romania Red Premier Back In Driver's Seat

LONDON (AP)—Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej, Romania's Red premier, has stepped back into direct control of his country's Communist party. The Bucharest radio announced that the Central Committee of the party had made him first secretary again.

U.N. MEETING Delegates Decry Boycott By France

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. delegates speaking in the General Assembly's final round of policy debates today deplored France's absence from the hall in a protest boycott over the Assembly's Algerian stand.

Osten Unden, Sweden's foreign minister, led off with "deep regrets that the deliberations of this Assembly last Friday have caused the declaration by the French government which has just been published. I feel we all hope a solution will soon be found to this abnormal situation."

Pakistan was the first country to express such concern among those that voted Friday in favor of an Assembly debate on Algeria. That vote led to the French walkout.

The French declared a boycott of the Assembly and its committees in protest against a 39-27 vote ordering a debate on French administration in Algeria.

FARMERS WORRIED

More Rain Falls In Dawson County

LAMESA—Rains continued to fall over most of Dawson County, causing some apprehension among farmers but on the whole producing benefits that outweighed damage.

Over the weekend the amount was measured at 1.84 here. Of this .62 of an inch came in Saturday showers. Then Sunday at 2 p.m. another brisk rain set in and added another 1.2 inches. By mid-morning another drizzle has added .02 of an inch.

Most of the county reported similar amounts, a few spots lighter and several heavier. Around Ackery there were reports of half an inch, but then several spots in that vicinity had as much or more than two inches.

Lightning twice struck lines near here. Saturday afternoon a bolt burned out a quarter of a mile of line, south of town cutting some 25 to 30 homes off power. The radio station also was off the air and two drive-in theatres were darkened until around 9:30 p.m.

Sunday, in the southside of the city, another bolt temporarily left several houses without power until linemen could repair the damage about three hours later. Texas Electric Service Company officials described the trouble of a routine nature but more severe than normal.

Saturday the north and northeast part of Dawson County received

West Texas Reservoirs Overflowing

West Texas farmers got more rain than they wanted Monday as relentless downpours closed schools and highways over a wide area.

Reservoirs and stock tanks already lip-full from last week's rain spilled the new downpours into swollen creeks and streams and out over cropland.

The new rains apparently were heaviest in the Meadow area between Lubbock and Seagraves, where more than 7 inches fell in the 24 hours ending Monday morning. Heavy rains in the Wichita Falls area held out a threat of some lowland flooding.

Schools were dismissed at New Deal, Seagraves and Plains because of impassable roads. School buses serving Abertown, Wilson, Wellman, Cooper, Meadow, Ropesville and Slaton operated only on paved roads.

The increase came from heavy rains along the Howard-Borden border Saturday night, and in the Bull Creek shed on Sunday.

The increase was 1.35 feet so far. The lake now contains nearly 180,000 acre feet of water. The gain over the weekend was about 12,000 acre feet.

Lake Kemp, southwest of Wichita Falls, had two inches in 38 hours and the lake's level had risen by 8 inches Monday.

A high pressure area centered over the Great Lakes was credited for the rains. Winds circulating in a clockwise motion around the high pressure area scooped moist winds from the Gulf across the state.

Rain was falling at mid-morning at Childress, Lubbock, Salt Flat, Mineral Wells and Wichita Falls. Because of heavy spring rains much Plains cotton was not planted until the last of June with the result that most of it has not yet opened. Good maturing weather—that is, hot, dry weather—is needed.

Lowland flooding in the Wichita Falls area was feared because Lake Wichita, into which the new rains were draining, already was chockfull.

The five inch rains were reported at Dundee, Pleasant Valley and Mankins. Wichita Falls had 1.19 inches and the rain still was falling Monday.

County Tax Bills Go Out This Week

All Howard County tax statements should be in the mail to property owners by the end of this week, Viola Robinson, county tax assessor-collector, said this morning.

Mrs. Robinson's staff is preparing the statements as quickly as the roll of assessments is received from Fritchard and Abbott, the county's property valuation engineers. Valuations have been received on all but oil, utility and similar properties, and these should be on hand by Wednesday, she said.

6 Feared Dead In Mid-Air Collision

TATUM, N. M., (AP)—A B47 Stratofortress bomber and an Army Liaison plane collided in the air over this southeastern New Mexico oil town early today, and first reports said five or six were feared dead.

Incomplete reports from sheriff's and state police radio said at least one was dead in one plane and another injured.

The injured man, brought to Lea County General Hospital at Hobbs, was identified as 2nd Lt. William D. Borgen, 63rd Bomber Squadron, stationed near Tucson, Ariz.

Heavy rains in the area prevented early attempts to reach the wreckage of the second plane. Some 5 1/2 inches of rain had fallen at Tatum, closing schools and roads at 7:30 a.m. and was still coming down.

The wreckage was about 16 miles west and two miles south of Tatum.

Clovis Air Force Base said the air search and rescue service had been called in to reach the isolated wreckage.

The Hobbs News-Sun said one sheriff's department radio report had warned officers to keep persons away from the "black plane with the red nose" which might be carrying radioactive material.

Red nose and tail markings are sometimes used to designate planes carrying radioactive materials, but none of three New Mexico Air Force bases could confirm the plane was there's or that it was carrying a "hot" cargo.

Walker Air Force Base at Roswell said it was sending an investigation party, headed by Lt. Col. Clyde H. Camp Jr., deputy base commander.

Kirtland AFB in Albuquerque, which handles the bulk of the atomic material transported by air in the southwestern United States, said none of its planes were missing.

American Envoy Meets Egyptian Premier

Into The Barbecue Machine

Virgil Talley, above, places a choice selection of meat in the new Toby's Drive-In at 1600 E. Fourth Street. Both the No. 1 Store, at 18th and Gregg, and No. 2 on East Fourth, provide Big Springers with barbecued beef, pork, chicken, ham, ribs and other specially prepared foods. They also carry a complete line of groceries and are open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day.

Toby's Drive-Ins Handy To Every Section Of City

Toby's Drive-Ins are ideally located for your convenience in quick shopping. Plenty of parking space is available at each of the locations. Toby's No. 1 is located at 1800 Gregg and the No. 2 store is at 1600 E. 4th. Specially prepared cooked foods is the specialty of both stores, according to owner Toby Cook. Care is taken to see that all the goods give the utmost in taste enjoyment. The Toby's Drive-Ins prepare barbecued beef, barbecued pork, barbecued chicken, barbecued ham, barbecued ribs, delicious brown beans and potato salad. A complete selection of fresh fancy meats is kept on hand at all times, Cook said. This includes K C strip and extra fancy rolled prime beef, and all cuts of heavy choice beef. If you are in a hurry, just drive into the parking area of either of the drive-in groceries and a helpful attendant will take and fill your order quickly. Or, come into the store and browse around, making your choices personally. Besides the large meat selections, both Toby stores have complete lines of fresh produce, dairy foods, and picnic supplies. Many drug-store items such as school supplies and magazines are also in stock.

"We carry a complete line of groceries, beer, and ice," Cook said. Ice is available in blocks or crushed.

Cook manages the No. 1 store personally and Dohard Soechting is manager of the new store on East Fourth.

The Toby Drive-Ins are open from 7 a.m. until 10 p.m. each day, seven days each week.

Toby's Drive-Ins are conveniently located and are open during the hours when you will want to do your shopping. Everything has been planned to meet your requirements for shopping comfort and convenience.

Add to this, the fact that you can shop from your car or make your own selections. And you can always stop by for that forgotten item you meant to pick up earlier. Next, at Toby's you have a complete selection from which to choose your food items. Especially re-

S. M. Smith Butane Co. Has Answer To Heating Problem

Need a fuel system to heat your home in the cold weather ahead? Could you use a cheaper, safer, more durable fuel for your pickup truck or farm tractor? How about a tried and tested method for keeping your egg incubator at the required temperature? You can solve any and all of these problems by consulting S. M. Smith, owner and manager of the S. M. Smith Butane Company, which has its principal offices on the Lamesa Highway at the edge of the city limits in northern Big Spring.

For years, Smith and his employees have specialized in the installation and upkeep of butane and propane systems in areas where other kinds of fuel are not available. Butane can serve any number of purposes around a house, from providing living room heat to warming water. Down through the years, it has proved to be one of the farmer's best servants. It has helped make his home as modern and livable as any urban dweller's. In addition, it puts it to use in member those especially prepared meats for special occasions.

All these things make Toby's Drive-Ins the ideal place for your next shopping trip. Try it next time you go out for groceries.

his barn and in his farming equipment. In short, it has played a major role in speeding up work on the farm, when speed is very necessary.

Any size butane system can be installed by the S. M. Smith concern, which has been a Big Spring business institution for many years.

A limited amount of household appliances are also stocked by the Smith concern and can be seen in its showrooms. Call 4-5981 for a demonstration of equipment.

Typhoon Nears Japan

TOKYO (U.S.)—Packing 100-mile-an-hour winds, Typhoon Marge roared toward south central Japan today amid fears it will rip a path of destruction through Japan's largest industrial areas.

Rescuers Seek Pilot's Body

YUMA, Ariz. (U.S.)—Rescue teams probed the muddy waters of a reservoir today for the body of a B-57 demonstration pilot who swooped to his death as more than 1,000 picnickers at an Air Force barbecue gasped in horror.

John Birt, 28, was demonstrating the plane just above the treetops yesterday when one of his two jet engines failed and the craft skidded into the 20-foot-deep Yuma Air Base reservoir. He worked for the Martin Aircraft Co. of Baltimore, manufacturer of the craft. He was the only one aboard. The barbecue was being held to celebrate the Air Force's worldwide rocketry shootoff, which began today.

Tones Actually 'Spelled Out' On Popular Hammond Organ

The Shield Company, Inc. of Fort Worth, which is represented in Big Spring by Mrs. Champ Rainwater, is now celebrating its twentieth year as a dealer for the Hammond organ.

During this 20 years, the easy-to-play Hammond has become one of the more popular instruments in West Texas. Hundreds have been installed in churches and homes. Quality of the Hammond organ is reflected in the descriptive phrase — "music's most glorious voice." It is noted for its versatility of operation.

Tones are produced on the Hammond organ electrically, making it possible for the musicians to create an unlimited variety of registrations. Mrs. Rainwater asserts this is one reason for the popularity of the instrument.

One advantage of The Shield Company's offering in Central and West Texas is the convenient time-payment plans in effect for organ buyers, she stated.

Though the Hammond organ is a fairly expensive instrument, the time-payment plans bring it within the financial range of more and more people. The firm's ultimate aim is to make it possible for every church and home in this area to enjoy the Hammond.

The Shield Company employs eight staff organists who devote their time entirely to the Hammond. Mrs. Rainwater's firm also maintains a complete installation and service organization to assure ever organ being properly installed for a lifetime of enjoyment.

The latest two developments on the Hammond organ are the new Selective Vibrato and the Touch Response. The vibrato is standard equipment on all new instruments. Hammond organs occupy less space than grand pianos and offer

Religious Freedom Hearing Postponed In Backstage Fuss WASHINGTON (U.S.)—A Senate subcommittee's scheduled hearing today on religious freedom has been postponed indefinitely, partly because of disagreement over the wisdom of such a public hearing. A spokesman for the Constitutional Rights subcommittee said the backstage controversy figured in the postponement decision, which Chairman Hennings (D-Mo) announced Friday. At the time, Hennings said the delay would give added time for analyzing replies to 10,000 questionnaires which had been sent out.

The spokesman said no single religious faith was involved. He said Protestants, Catholics and Jews have taken both sides on the question of holding the hearings. Some persons have contended hearings might unnecessarily open up scores between religious faiths, he said, while others have contended they would clarify and promote understanding of religious issues that have caused controversy in the past.

Indonesia On Border Line Of Communism In First Election

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The vote in Indonesia's first general election piled up on the border line of communism today as the Nationalist "Proletarian Front" party increased its commanding lead over its major opponent.

Mohammed Natsir, general chairman of the Muslim Masjumi party, in effect conceded defeat. He told newsmen: "We no longer can expect to get a working majority in the new Parliament."

With more than a third of the estimated 34 million votes counted, unofficial results gave the Nationalists 3,988,954, Masjumi 2,710,951, Communists 2,069,616, and Moslem Orthodox Radicals 1,660,314. The rest were scattered among the other 186 parties on the newspaper-size ballot.

Although the Nationalists were far short of a majority in the popular vote, they could count on the support of the Communists, whose backing kept Nationalist leader Ali Sastroamidjojo's Cabinet in power for the past two years.

The Reds had high hopes of top Cabinet posts should Sastroamidjojo again take the helm. Previously the Communists had said they would form a coalition government if they were victorious.

The Nationalist organ Suluh Indonesia headlined: "Proletariat Winning Java." The key central island will elect 168 members of the 260-seat Parliament. The final outcome will not be known for weeks as voting continues by stages in the 3,000 islands of the archipelago.

Nationalist leaders, whose platform on key points dovetails with the Indonesian Communist party's, demanded that President Soekarno immediately order Masjumi Prime Minister Burhanuddin Harahap's caretaker government out of office.

The Communists joined in the demand and also urged the immediate dissolution of the appointed provisional Parliament of 230 members, in which they hold only 17 seats.

The Indonesian News Agency said Masjumi headquarters had admitted the Nationalists so far had won 44 Parliament seats and the Communists 24, to 31, for the Masjumi and 30 for the Orthodox Radicals.

Masjumi Chairman Natsir warned that Indonesia was in danger of being engulfed by Communism.

The big Nationalist vote amazed the non-Communist Indonesian press and business community, who helped to force the Sastroamidjojo government out nine weeks ago with complaints that nothing was being done to halt spiraling inflation, the worsening economic and financial situation and the rising national deficit.

All the parties promised continuation of Indonesia's "active independent" foreign policy and no tieups with either the West or the Communist bloc. But the Nationalists came out strong for the welfare of the peasants and workers and said they had no objection to communism if it remained an at-home movement, without tying the nation to Moscow and Peking.

French Chiefs Visit To Russia Is Postponed

PARIS (AP)—The French Foreign Office announced today the proposed visit of Premier Edgar Faure and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay to Moscow has been postponed. The announcement was made after Pinay had received the charge d'affaires of the Soviet Embassy to give him the news.

The Foreign Ministry said the French government thought it preferable to put off the visit to a later date. The explanation was that the government considers, in view of recent events in the United Nations and the reaction of French opinion, the atmosphere is not favorable now for a trip of this type.

The trip had been scheduled for Oct. 14-16.

Russia voted the majority last Friday in the U. N. General Assembly to debate troubles in Algeria. France insists Algeria is an integral part of France and Assembly debate about it would be a violation of the U. N. charter provision barring interference in the internal affairs of any member state.

As a result of the 28-27 vote, the French government withdrew its delegation to the Assembly, and also its permanent delegation, but kept one foot in the U. N. door.

The Cabinet last night announced withdrawal of its U. N. delegation and an end to participation in all activities of the international organization except those of the Security Council, its Disarmament Commission and subcommittee and its Military Staff Committee.

Thousands Washed Out In Mexico Floods

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Floods in the wake of three disastrous hurricanes besieged much of eastern Mexico today. Pleas for relief taxed the capacity of the government.

Damage to the Mexico City-Laredo highway apparently was more serious than first reported. The main tourist route may be closed for some time.

Tamazunchale, a favorite tourist stopover usually pronounced Thomas-and-Charlie, was reported completely inundated by the raging Moctezuma River. The big steel bridge there was said to have been washed out. A messenger walked the 70 miles to Ciudad Valles with a note from the mayor saying the city of 25,000 was under water and running short of food.

Ciudad Valles and nearby Tamuín, a tourist resort, also were under water and officials asked for helicopter aid. Thousands were homeless.

Four more persons were drowned near Martinez de la Torre, bringing Mexico's death toll from Hurricane Janet to 290. More than 1,000 were injured and some 100,000 homeless.

Relief and rescue work continued at top speed in the two hardest hit areas—around the Gulf port of Tampico and on the Yucatan Peninsula.

U. S. helicopters from the aircraft carrier Salpan, anchored outside Tampico, were in almost constant operation to transfer food, medical supplies and doctors from the carrier. Ten U. S. Air Force transports shuttled from Texas bases with food and clothing. Other U. S. aid ships were expected.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Mon., Oct. 3, 1955

The flooded Panuco River went up another foot and a half at Tampico, pouring still more water into the city of 110,000 now caring for an estimated 50,000 refugees.

Word was received that Sacxan, on the Yucatan Peninsula in the territory of Quintana Roo, was destroyed by Janet. Chetumal, Bacalar and Xcalak were also wiped off the map with a death toll estimated at near 200. The area's chicle crop, from which chewing gum is made, was reported destroyed.

Flooding also continued throughout mid-Mexico, with no immediate relief in sight.

HUNDREDS 3 Organizations Import Braceros

As cotton picking gains headway in this area, hundreds of Mexican National workers are being brought into Big Spring every week. At least three local labor associations are hauling laborers from the Mexican border and trying to keep up with farmers' requests for cotton pickers.

The Howard County Growers Association keeps its big 80-passenger truck making regular trips to the Rio Grande. In addition, they have a pick-up truck equipped to haul several men, and also hire trucks to supplement the ones owned by the association.

The Howard County Farm Association has a 75-passenger truck which is making from three to four round trips weekly to Eagle Pass after braceros. The men are brought to Big Spring, then picked up by farmers from several counties in this area, according to Ralph White, Farm Bureau president.

He says the trucks must leave Eagle Pass in time to reach here by 11 p.m. A labor law specifies that laborers must be unloaded before that hour of the night.

A third labor recruiting organization, the Texas Harvesting Association, is handling cotton pickers for a 42-county area. Most of the workers are first brought to Big Spring, however, then sent on to their destination.

According to recent estimates, there are several thousand Mexican Nationals in this trade territory, and the flow will continue steadily for another two or three weeks. By that time the demand for new workers is expected to slacken.

Since native workers are scarce and the area's cotton crop possibly the largest in several seasons, the number of braceros needed has greatly increased over previous years.

Most of the workers will return to Mexico after the cotton is harvested, though a few might possibly have their contracts renewed and stay to make next season's crop. The present contract for all braceros will expire on Dec. 31, when a change in requirements is expected from the Mexican government.

Rumors are being circulated that Mexico will at that time demand the minimum wages be raised from 50 to 65 cents per hour. Also Mexican labor officials are expected to ask that a change be made in the occupational insurance carried on the workers.

Both these problems were recently discussed by El Paso cotton officials who met with Sen. Price Daniel and the aides of Senator Lyndon Johnson.

Doing Yourself A Favor

Among the special weeks, few are more worthy of observance than Employ the Physically Handicapped Week.

Attention of employers is being called this week to the possibility of filling a vacancy on their staff or of creating a place for some physically handicapped person. No degree of sympathy ought to prompt such a course of action; on the contrary, hiring of an individual with a physical infirmity likely would be a wise investment.

Over and over, employers who have utilized these people have found that once they are fitted within their capabilities, they make as good or better workers than the ordinary individuals with no impairments.

This is not at all surprising, for those who have suffered disabling injuries or diseases or who have congenital physical limitations have found a compensating ability to concentrate better than the average person. As a result, most of them have been able to develop their peculiar talents to a greater degree. By the same token, they are not subject to the distractions which would lure their more mobile fellows from their work. Thus, they have strengthened the ability to stay with a job until it is finished.

The physically handicapped are, as a class, perhaps the most loyal of all employees. They possess the quality of appreciation which is expressed in steady service. Their attitude to their work is wholesome and grateful. Their approach is positive and productive. That's why you will be doing yourself a favor to hire someone with physical handicaps.

Politicians Versus Nature

Many human vital organs bear the scars of various wounds from which their host completely recovered, in many cases without even knowing when he acquired them. It is entirely possible the average person bears more scar tissue inside his body than outside; for the human body is a marvelous piece of machinery, possessed of vast recuperative and curative powers. "I dressed his wounds; God healed him."

The doctors attendant upon President Eisenhower have insisted all along that two weeks must elapse from the time of his heart injury before they can tell for certain just how much damage was done, and can call him past the danger point. That is because, as the great Boston heart specialist Dr. Paul Dudley White explains, it takes two weeks for the heart to discard the damaged tissue and repair the damage with scar tissue.

People have been known to live for years in comfort and happiness after nature has effected one of these built-in cures. Men have even thanked their Maker for a heart attack, because it taught them how to take care of themselves. It imposed a new way of living upon them, and they found happiness and contentment.

But length of life, freedom from pain and enjoyment of living are only possible by adopting and sticking to a rationing of activity and a limitation on the output of energy.

If the President passes safely through the tissue-dissolving and scar-forming phase of his ailment, as multiplied millions of people are praying and hoping he will, there is no reason why he shouldn't finish out his term by carefully husbanding his strength, rationing his time, and avoiding the hurlyburly of White House duties. He can take care of all the essential chores of his office without missing a cue, simply by excluding all but the absolutely unavoidable human contacts. This will call for great sternness on his part—the President is a man who likes company—and the willing and unbreakable resolution of his subordinates and political personalities to leave him alone.

That will be his greatest danger — the wellnigh physical impossibility of making the politicians leave him alone.

David Lawrence

Ike May Be More Ready To Run Now

WASHINGTON — It may sound paradoxical, but there is some ground for believing that President Eisenhower now may be more readily persuaded to run for a second term than he was before the heart attack came.

This theory was expounded to the writer by a politician of national standing who happens to be a Democrat. It is based on the fact, which my informant knew about, that Mr. Eisenhower has had one or two experiences over the years with what have been called digestive disturbances of more than ordinary severity but which are believed to have made him feel uneasy about accepting a second nomination. One of these occurred while Ike was in military service. It gave him and those who knew about it considerable concern. The medical record says these were not heart attacks, but they were enough to make him a bit dubious about his future health.

The important point in the theory is that Dwight Eisenhower has been worried over accepting a second term without public knowledge about his possible impairment. Few men in robust health at the age of 64 talk about getting old and how they might not be able to accept a responsibility in public life which might carry them to the age of 70. Yet Ike has made several references to this without amplification.

With the knowledge that Winston Churchill went back to the post of Prime Minister in his late 70's and that Adenauer is functioning as Chancellor though 80, it is hardly plausible that Ike, at 64, would have talked publicly about his own health as a possible barrier if he had not been mindful of his previous experience with what he was told were digestive illnesses. With a secret like that on his conscience, he naturally would want the people to know about it before they considered him for a second term.

But now that the heart attack of last weekend has been given the widest publicity, the basic question is out of Ike's hands and off his mind. Do the people want him for a second term despite what they know about his health? It is for the people to answer.

Senator Barkley ran for office in Kentucky at the age of 76 after leaving the vice presidency. His age was an issue in the campaign but it didn't prevent his victory at the polls. Senator Green of Rhode Island, Democrat, now 87, won re-election only last year. Age was also an issue in that campaign.

If the ticket were Eisenhower and Nixon — and up to the time of the President's illness this was accepted as the probable slate and the commentators generally were saying it would be a winner — then the electorate would be in somewhat of the same position anyhow but with the added knowledge it has now about the President's health. The voters would know that, in the event anything happened to Mr. Eisenhower during a second term, his successor would be Richard Nixon. If they were willing to accept that setup before the illness — as the public-opinion surveys showed — it will be asked why they wouldn't accept it now?

The appraisal must then turn on what effect the awareness of the President's heart condition would have on the voters. Would they preferably vote for a robust Democrat who might "rock the boat" and bring on a depression by a reckless attitude toward business? Or would they favor continuation of Ike even with a heart condition that might, if it took a fateful turn, bring Nixon into the White House to continue the Eisenhower policies? The chances are that personalities would not in those circumstances influence the voters as much as would the assurance of a continuity of the Republican administration which had brought them peace and prosperity.

There remains the other question: Would Ike himself consent to run and wouldn't the members of his family strongly urge him to retire? But would he be happy to go into retirement? Would the psychological effect of this on an active man be harmful?

The decision most certainly will be made by Ike himself. He is a soldier. All his life he has obeyed the call of duty. A soldier who volunteers to go to war and face death leaves behind as a rule a much younger family than Ike has, but he goes nevertheless and takes the risks because of a sense of duty.

And who is to say that the situation today is any different: More perilous than any "hot war" in history is the "cold war" of today and the duty of any man to make any sacrifice he can to try to prevent the "cold war" from becoming a nuclear war.

The American people want to have the benefit of Ike's mind and judgment — they are not asking him to engage in physical combat. They accepted four times at the polls the mind and judgment of Franklin D. Roosevelt though he was able to walk but a few steps and then only with the aid of braces.

Knowledge is widespread of the many persons throughout the world active in their professions despite earlier heart attacks. If Ike consents to run, the issue will not be whether he could serve out a full term but whether there was a chance of such signal service to the world as would warrant the risk of continuing him in the presidency for as long a time as the Lord might spare him. The electorate also is well aware that presidents have died in office and vice presidents have come in to take hold and continue their predecessor's program without harm to any vital policy of national or international importance.

Ruffin residents long ago had the old type of wall phones that had to be rung with a hand crank and these formed a fairly complete network for the town.

Sitting On Top Of The World

James Marlow

Sherman Adams Quietly Takes Over

WASHINGTON — A gray-haired, square-jawed fellow who tips the scales at only 150 pounds has moved into the presidential headquarters at Denver to take charge during the convalescence of President Eisenhower. His name is Sherman Adams.

Quietly and with his usual off-stage manner, Adams has shifted from Washington into his accustomed place of authority near the President.

This single action, more than any other perhaps, has dramatized the decision by key administration officials to keep things moving as nearly as possible along accustomed lines pending the President's return to active duty.

He's one of the most interesting figures in government, this man Adams, whose actual size doesn't reflect his heavyweight influence. It is generally agreed it would be difficult to say where Adams' influence at the White House ends and the President's begins in the day-to-day decisions of government.

The reason for this lies in his position as the President's unofficial "chief of staff" and in the fact that the President obviously places complete trust in him. Almost everybody who sees the President during working hours must arrange it with "Sherm," whose official title is assistant to the President. Adams is the man who sees Eisenhower from day to day more than anyone else. He interprets the President's wishes to Cabinet members and to others. He is in a position to encourage or discourage a course of action proposed to the President.

Adams has said he regards himself merely as an instrument to relieve the President of as many burdens of his office as he possibly can. He works long hours, usually arriving at his desk at 7:30 a.m. every weekday. He rarely shows up on the Washington cocktail circuit.

One Washington hostess has said: "What can you do with a man who gets up at 5:30 and goes to bed at 8:30?"

It probably is significant that the 5-foot-8 Adams once successfully boosted more than 600 lumberjacks in the Vermont woods. And he made his authority stick.

In one brief span of time, a log knocked out his front teeth; a horse kicked him in the face, fracturing his frontal sinuses; and a piece of pulp wood fell 60 feet, smacking him behind the left ear, and partially deafened him.

A less determined man might have become discouraged with the lumber business at this point, but Adams went on to become one of the company's top officials. He entered politics in 1940 and served two terms in the New Hampshire Legislature and one term in Congress. He served two terms as governor of New Hampshire.

Adams was one of Eisenhower's early supporters for the presidency and helped mastermind his nomination and election. Then he moved into the White House with Eisenhower.

Adams tries to be as anonymous as possible but he long ago was pegged as a potent influence in government. And there's no sign this influence has waned.

Moslem Women Leaving Home

CAIRO — Wives are getting scarcer every day in the Gaza strip.

Living there are 250,000 refugees who fled Palestine homes at the outbreak of hostilities between Arabs and Jews in 1948. They are on U. N. dote in camps in the Egyptian held part of Palestine.

As soon as the maturing refugee girls receive their school diplomas they are off to seek jobs in distant Arab countries where demands for teachers, nurses and secretaries are great.

Inflation of dowries has resulted from the shortage of eligible maidens. Bachelors have complained of the fabulous sums demanded as dowry. An average figure reached recently is equivalent to $3,000.

This desire of the refugee teenagers to support themselves is revolutionary in this part of the world. In the rest of the Arab countries the sons often remain dependent on their parents until they are well in their 20s. The girls after their schooling remain home until they are married.

But apparently the last thing this generation of educated refugee girls want to do is to marry a fellow and live in poverty.

Almost all the refugee girls of age attend schools financed by the United Nations. Passing in examinations is in many cases 100 per cent.

As soon as the girls receive their diplomas they apply for jobs in Kuwait, Iraq, Libya or Saudi Arabia.

Demand for educated people and the heat which discourages people from working in these underdeveloped but oil-rich countries keep wages high. Salaries are often tenfold those for similar jobs in Cairo, Alexandria or Beirut.

Many girls plan to work two or three years in these desert countries and save enough money for a college education. Some plan to go to the United States. Most of these girls send money to their parents back home—a novelty in the Middle East.

Candidate Claims $125 Expenses On Long Campaign Trip

AUSTIN, Oct. 10 — C. T. Johnson, testifying in a tension-packed district court proceeding, claimed today that his travel expenses amounted to $125 while covering "12,000 to 15,000" miles in his unsuccessful race for lieutenant governor last year.

Refusing to answer many questions on the advice of his attorney, the Austin real estate and insurance man testified he operated his personal car during the campaign at a cost of less than a cent per mile.

Johnson was on the witness stand in 98th District Court for talking of his deposition by Everett Looney, attorney for the Texas Press Assn. and the TPA's general manager, Vernon T. Sanford.

The proceeding stemmed from a Johnson suit for $24,000 damages from Sanford and the TPA. The suit alleges violations of the Texas election code in placing of political advertising last year for Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey.

Looney probed into Johnson's own statement of campaign spending filed with the secretary of state.

3 Kinds Of Industrial Smoke Called Deadly

BOURNEMOUTH, England, Oct. 10 — Dr. J. L. Burn told the National smoke abatement Society smog, amaze and smol "are all deadly."

He defined smog as smoke and fog, amaze as the heavy, acid haze that hangs over industrial towns and smol as the smoky haze produced by burning oil.

Germans Negotiate For Archives Return

BONN, Germany, Oct. 10 — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government is negotiating with the United States, Britain and France for the return of German archives seized at the end of World War II. Personnel and consular documents have already been turned over to the Bonn government by the Big Three, but they are holding 400 tons of material of the Third Reich and the armed forces.

Around The Rim

Abused Housewives Issue A Decree

A Coral Gables, Fla., housewife, Mrs. W. P. Taub, obviously fed-up with being pushed around, has started what she calls SPAH, meaning "Society for the Protection of Abused Housewives."

Furthermore, she's taken the time to frame a constitution for the maligned organization, the preamble of which reads: "We, the Housewives of America, in order to protect and preserve our almost perfect Unions, insure domestic tranquility, establish justice, and provide the blessings of occasional liberty from raising our posterity, do ordain and establish the Constitution, to become the basic law in the Households of America."

The Florida woman then proceeds to set down four articles to the Constitution and suggests that the new organization adopt as a motto the following:

"Semper Housewifus; Semper Fidelus; Semper No Temper" which, she says, means "We may protest, but we'll keep on lovin' every member of our families."

The SPAH president, she says, must be female and mother of any children in the household and an individual who discharges the duties of Secretary of the Interior, Dietician, Arbitrator, Secretary of the Treasury and myriad other duties too numerous to mention.

Article IV of the SPAH Constitution deals with "credit" and states that each member of the family shall give to other members of the family full credit when due, this applying only to accomplishments and not necessarily to money.

The Constitution also adopts 11 amendments, to be known as the Bill of Housewifely Rights.

Amendment I is Freedom From Want, or getting money without misery. Husbands, says she, should not be required to bring home unopened pay envelopes . . . however, sufficient money to more than meet all requirements should be provided without complaint.

There are also amendments concerning (1) Freedom of Speech ("All members of the family will be free to express their opinions. There will be no indiscriminate criticism of the Executive Department, however, as this will be considered libelous.")

(2) Freedom of Assembly ("The 'girls' will have the privilege of taking over the living room for Bridge, Canasta, Mah Jong or similar activities once a week, during which time the man will look after the kids")

(3) Freedom from Bellyaching (self-explanatory).

(4) Protection Against Search And Seizure ("No member of the family shall burrow into nooks, crannies, cookie jars, old sweaters or kitchen drawers without express permission of the President.")

(5) The Right of Relaxation ("Once a week the Family shall take over the duties of the Executive Department for at least eight hours, cooking its own meals, settling its own disputes, washing its own dishes and wiping its own nose. This will give the housewife a mere 100-hour week, instead of the 108 she now works.")

(6) Guests ("House Guests or Dinner Guests may be brought home at any time, after obtaining approval from the Executive Branch.")

(7) Chores ("In return for the concessions, the Housewife contracts to assume the following duties: Cook, chauffeur, Arbitrator, Launderer, Treasurer, Administrator, Purchasing Agent, Nurse, Janitor, Seamstress, Tutor, Decorator, Secretary, etc., all of which she does, anyway.")

Sibelius Was Right About Finland

HAMEENLINNA, Finland — From the moment, at the age of 12, when I first heard Jean Sibelius' heroic and moving tone poem, "Finlandia," I have longed to see the country that inspired this haunting and beautiful musical tribute.

For a long time it has seemed to me that no country ever inspired a more magnificent outpouring of love, faith and somber courage. One has only to glimpse this indomitable country and its people to realize that the genius of Sibelius was able to capture both in "Finlandia."

Here, in the district where the composer was born 90 years ago, is the union of "the forest primeval" and the innumerable lakes (60,000 of them!) that characterize Finland, and endow her with great beauty. Of her land area, 71 per cent is covered with the dense and towering evergreen forests, high-lighted by birch, which are her lifeblood in world markets.

This is a big and old farming section as well as a logging district. Yet the farm land has the new and impermanent look of fields just wrested from the forest. It—the forest—stretches everywhere, in all directions. And I have the odd feeling that if I only closed my eyes for a few moments and then looked again, the forest would have reclaimed its own and the fields and the cattle would be gone.

It is typical of the labor shortage in Finland that now, in one of the longest and most pleasant Indian Summers in the history of Scandinavia, there are fields of rye and barley still uncut. There has been insufficient labor to get in the harvest. The weather has been so mild and all the flowers, including the roses, have been on such a wild, final spree that it has taken a universal sight to remind me of the long winter just ahead.

That universal sight is the biggest, longest and most neatly stacked woodpiles I have ever seen. Every home, whether on a farm or in town, has an enormous woodpile as close to the back door as possible.

In town or country, the houses are good, but not elaborate. And everywhere, new homes are going up as fast as carpenters or do-it-yourself householders can manage. The housing shortage, which seems to plague the whole western world, is acute in Finland.

The ravages of war have left Finland the poorest country in Scandinavia. Yet her standard of living is good. I have yet to see a slum or a bum in this country, or in Norway or Denmark, for that matter. I don't think Dior cuts much ice here, but Finland's people are well-dressed (and the Head of Clan Robb says the women are knockouts).

Finland may be poor, but she buys and reads more books per capita than any other country in Europe; illiteracy is unknown and would not be tolerated. Her new school buildings, by the way, are a tribute to the architectural genius that resides in the Finns.

What the Finns lack in money they make up in bootstrap. No people ever had more bootstrap or pulled on it more valiantly. They merit "Finlandia."

Business Mirror

Lots Of People Eye Stock Market

NEW YORK — American stock markets are watched today by millions of persons around the world who don't own a share of stock. Why?

Because they feel in their bones that broad trends of stock prices may foretell what will happen to their business, their job, their savings, their prospects.

Others say: "So what? I don't own any stock." They may dismiss the daily ups and downs of stock prices as the mere carrying on of speculators — the pros who constantly are in and out of the market looking for a fast buck. The detractors hold that the old tradition of the market's importance as a barometer or as a direct influence on business is outdated.

But the way the market rates the shares of one corporation, or of most corporations, still can be of real importance to many people.

Workers get nervous if the price of their company's stock continues to sink. So does the board of directors.

Price weakness could mean — although not necessarily — that stock traders believe either that management is lax, or that the company's products are slipping in public favor, or that its competitive position is being undermined by rivals.

If the stocks of an entire industry rise or fall, it may be the public's first intimation that the economic pattern is changing. This can affect job and earnings prospects, or telegraph a blow to an entire community or region.

When the entire market mills around the way it did last week, with a sharp break followed by rallies and hesitance, it could mean either one of two things:

1. That the world and domestic political situation is such a touch-and-go affair that the health of one man, the President of the States, could color overnight the prospects of good times or bad, of peace or conflict — that stock traders believe that management is lax, or that the company's products are slipping in public favor, or that its competitive position is being undermined by rivals.

2. That the public is already nervous about "how high is up," and is fearsome that stock prices are due for a reevaluation anyway.

In either case the initial impact is psychological. It tends to make some individuals think twice about their own plans. Paper profits take on the look of tissue.

New York merchants report that in the past a bear market has coincided with a slump in store sales. Elsewhere in the nation this is much less likely, since New York seems more prone to emotional ups and downs about business.

When last week's sharp market break didn't turn out to be "another 1929" as a few may have feared, there was great and obvious relief.

This relief was felt by the many Americans who don't own stock and don't stand to make or lose a dollar immediately. But many of them felt that a prolonged market break would make their employers nervous, cut work schedules, perhaps imperil jobs. The market's rally the following day just as surely reassured many that the economy appeared sound to the investing segment of the public.

Time Is Valuable

KALISPELL, Mont. — At 101, William McKinley took a plane to his Seattle home after visiting his former Kalispell home, said McKinley.

"That's the only way I care to travel. I'm not in a great hurry but that's no reason for frittering on a journey."

"I dunno—the road map doesn't seem to show it..."

1930 Hyperion Group Hears Club History

The 1930 Hyperion Club, whose theme is "Through The Years" is celebrating their 25th anniversary this year.

To promote interest in all intellectual growth and to stimulate and strengthen individual effort among its members have been the objectives of this club that was organized in 1930.

The only charter member and president, Mrs. H. C. Stupp, gave the members of the 1930 Hyperion Club a resume of the organization since its beginning until the present when the group met Saturday.

First was a luncheon at Morales, followed by a meeting at the home of Mrs. E. V. Spence, 508 Dallas. The dining table was centered with an arrangement of Mexican sunflowers around a light blue world globe to emphasize the theme of the meeting, "Where Have You Been?" Placecards were pictures of places to visit.

In reviewing the history of the club, Mrs. Stupp stated that the club was federated in 1931 and had twelve charter members.

"Courses of study, worked out each year by a program committee from the club, have included Texas history, foreign countries, social and political problems, drama, art, and book reviews," she explained.

For five years the club sponsored public book reviews as a measure to raise money to start a juvenile department in the Big Spring library. In 1937 and 1938, the library needed funds to keep it open, and the 1930 Hyperion Club gave money to build portable shelves, buy books, repair materials, and help pay for janitor service and utilities.

"We voted to sponsor a reading room for underprivileged children in the West Side Recreational Center and supplied it with several hundred books. Also club members conducted a story telling hour twice a week for two years," the charter member pointed out.

Through the years, the members have donated to various charity organizations and aided with the USO and Red Cross work during the war. The present membership was reported as 27.

"This year we plan to give books to the West Side Recreational Center and to assist in community projects for the State Hospital," Mrs. Stupp announced.

After her talk, the 23 present at the meeting gave reports of where they spent or visited the summer. The activities ranged from vacations to the Bahamas to the West, to those who stayed at home and moved the water hose in the front yard.

Officers for the year include Mrs. Stupp, president; Mrs. E. V. Spence, vice president; Mrs. Roy C. Sloan, recording secretary; Mrs. Vic Alexander, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, treasurer; Mrs. Marie Carter, City Federation Board Member; Mrs. R. W. Thompson, critic; Mrs. Maurice Koger, parliamentarian; Mrs. B. L. LeFever, reporter; Mrs. Cowper, Texas Federation Secretary.

La Juan Horton Becomes Bride Of Jerel Fleming

In an informal double ring ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church at 2 p.m. Saturday, La Juan Horton became the bride of 2nd Lt. Jerel D. Fleming.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the church, read the vows before an altar decorated with white gladioli and mums.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Louise Horton, 1316 Nolan, and C. A. Horton, 1211 W. 3rd. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Fleming of Holdenville, Okla.

Traditional wedding music was played at the piano by Mrs. Jack Everett.

The bride chose a white knit suit with a collar trimmed with seed pearls. Her hat was of white seed pearls and sequins. Her shoes were also white. She carried white veil.

To uphold tradition, she wore a blue garter, and a borrowed penny in her shoe. Her attire was new. Frankie Marstrand, maid of honor, selected a navy taffeta dress and pink carnation flowers.

Best man was Ray Horton Shaw. When the couple left on a wedding trip to San Marcos, where Lt. Fleming will be stationed, the bride was wearing a brown two-piece suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was from the bridal bouquet.

A graduate of Big Spring High School, the bride was a member of the Rainbow Girls, High School Band, Future Teachers of America, the Corral Staff and the stage band. While she attended TCU, she was a member of the Brushes Club, Women's Sports Association, the Presbyterian Student Association and the TCU Band.

Lt. Fleming is a graduate of Holdenville High School and the University of Oklahoma. He is now with the U.S. Air Force.

IMPORTANT Medical Facts For Every Man Who Has Passed His 40th Birthday

Men, Too, Go Thru "Change of Life" DOCTORS CALL IT "MALE CLIMACTERIC"

New Safe Discovery Compensates For Counteracting Effect on Body and Blood Changes Due To Sexual Deficiencies That Often Occur During Middle Age.

Doctors, physiologists and scientists all agree that after the first 40 years, the human body undergoes important normal changes. This change occurs in MEN as well as WOMEN. If you are over 40, in good health... but feel nervous, physically weak in legs, back and arms, can't sleep, find it difficult to make decisions... are quick-tempered, always tired and suffer from that terrible "what's the use" feeling... chances are you are going through "change of life," or as doctors call it, MALE CLIMACTERIC. And of this time it's more important than ever that your system isn't deficient in the very vitamins and minerals nature created to counteract and offset the distressing symptoms of these "after 40" body and blood changes. Amazing new power-packed capsules called AFTER 40 CAPSULES, have been created especially for men and women over forty... each hospital recognized its greatest carefully chosen and carefully compounded for its benefit on every man and woman... Yes, one potent AFTER 40 CAPSULE daily feeds your system a special and particular combination of Vitamins and Minerals to supply your blood, body organs, glands and nerves, including blood-building red Vitamin B-12, the vitamin B-complex of Wheat E, stimulating B-1, Iron, Calcium, Phosphorus, Iodine and other potent Vitamins and Minerals. Don't be deprived of life's pleasure by these nutritional deficiencies when science has given you a second chance to recharge body and blood this new easy way.

Amazing New "Health in a Capsule" Discovery You've Long Heard Was Coming. Every Ingredient Works Instantly To Help Strengthen Body and Blood.

Just recently a well-known scientist perfected AFTER 40 CAPSULES. He combined a group of the RECOGNIZED VITAMINS AND MINERALS most often needed by men after 40. Common sense, and your doctor... will tell you vital organs often require the supplement of different vitamins and minerals in different amounts of maturity than they do during younger years. Amazing AFTER 40 CAPSULES were created specifically to provide a rich source of these essentials, made by nature man and woman. ORDER TODAY!

A Change Helped

Changing the color of her hair was just the lift Ann Robinson needed, the star of the new NBC-TV "Thunder" series tells Lydia Lane. "Seek professional advice" is her advice to those who would like to try dye.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

There Are Times When Dyeing The Hair Helps

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Ann Robinson believe she never would have got the lead in the Warner Bros. movie, "Dragonet" with Jack Webb if she hadn't dyed her hair red. She's been much sought after for both movie and television roles ever since and has been signed to star in "Thunder," the new NBC-TV series scheduled for October.

"It's been very lucky for me," she said referring to her red tresses. "It provided me with just the lift I needed.

"There are very few plain girls today, and especially in Hollywood the competition is so high that you have to be individual to be noticed or remembered.

"I've had my hair various shades of blonde, auburn and brown but not until I came up with this crazy red did the columnists start mentioning me when I attended some big party or premiere. Now I'm known as 'that redhead Ann Robinson' and it suits me fine."

"How do you manage to keep it a consistent shade?" I wanted to know.

"I went to a local hair coloring clinic and they taught me just what mixture and proportions to use to get this shade," she replied. "I'm able to do it at home now and though it takes a bit of time and trouble I think it's well worth it."

"Changing the color of my hair has changed my life. It was interesting how the transition from drab brunette to blonde or bright redhead also caused some psychological changes. You find you just can't say the same old you when you find more compliments and attention coming your way. Your personality seems to pick up some of the brightness of your hair."

"Then I assume you would recommend it to others," I remarked.

"Yes," she replied. "I think any woman who feels she needs a complete change, or even a temporary lift, would get a great deal out of it. But I would urge that she seek professional advice and instruction first. I believe most large cities have salons which would be able to offer this help.

"One thing you'll find if you make a drastic change is that your make-up will have to be entirely different and many of the colors that were becoming before will no longer suit you."

7 Persons Die In Headon Crash

EUDORA, Ark. (U.S.)—Seven persons are dead of injuries received when their auto, rammed headon into a bus returning a football team to Little Rock, Ark.

Seven occupants of the bus were injured. Eugene Reed, the driver, and Charles Sanders, a football player, were in serious condition at University Hospital in Little Rock. Both are students at Philander Smith College.

Eudora Police Chief W. H. Mathis said the auto swerved into the path of the bus on U.S. Highway 65 just north of here.

The dead, all Negroes, were identified as James L. Stanley, 22, Little Rock; Jesse Stanley and Curtis Stanley, 35, both of Parkdale, Ark.; James Hoof, 20, Little Rock; brothers Sonny Jenkins, 18, and Bubba Jenkins, Wilmet, Ark.; and Margie Ann Tatum, 18, Wilmet.

21 Injured Recovering

ALBUQUERQUE (U.S.)—Hospital authorities and physicians say 21 persons hospitalized after a bus carrying Lionel Hampton's dance band crashed Saturday are recovering.

One of the members of the nationally known band said a front tire on the special bus blew out, and the big vehicle plunged off a bank 22 miles south of Socorro. Hampton was among the injured.

He was placed in a "Truth or Consequences, N.M." hospital, where the attending physician said he had a broken ankle, but was "out of shock and doing well."

One of the more seriously injured was the bus driver, George Alliston of Newark, N.J. His condition was reported "poor" and a doctor in the Truth or Consequences hospital said he still was in shock and had a severely injured leg. Crumpled metal had to be cut away to get him out of the wreckage.

Leaves Belgrade

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U.S.)—Robert Murphy, deputy U. S. undersecretary of state, left Belgrade today after a week of talks which Yugoslav circles believe launched closer American-Yugoslav cooperation in economic, military and political affairs.

U.S. Payroll Up

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—The federal government added a net of 482 employees during August for the seventh consecutive monthly increase in its civilian employment, Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) announced today.

Berbers Retreat In Bloody New Uprising

RABAT, French Morocco (U.S.)—Berber tribesmen were reported in retreat in the Atlas Mountains today after a series of weekend and guerrilla attacks in eastern Morocco and along the Spanish Moroccan frontier.

French authorities said 11 Europeans, including three women and two children, were slain in a ferocious attack at Imouzzer des Marnouchas, 65 miles southeast of Fes.

Several hundred Berbers in the band of 2,000 were reported killed before the tribesmen began their retreat in the face of French tanks, planes and troops. The tribesmen were friendly to the Sultan who left his throne Saturday.

Four other outposts defended by Moroccans in French uniform were attacked Saturday night and Sunday and two were temporarily given up by the French.

Officials said the post at Tizi Ouzil, a former fort of Abd el Krim in the 1925 Rif war, was still under attack, and another, Bou Zined, was on fire late last night. Both are along the Spanish Moroccan frontier. Bou Zined is within the Spanish zone and is reached from the French zone only by an international road.

The outbreaks came on the heels of Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat's departure from his palace in Rabat to a villa in the international zone of Tangier.

His going was the first step in a French plan to meet the demands of Nationalists in the turbulent protectorate, but he left new problems in his wake.

In leaving, Moulay Arafat delegated his seals of office to a cousin, Moulay Abdallah Ben Moulay Abdel Hafid. This apparently was a concession to French colonialists who had bitterly fought the gov-

Truck Driver Gets Reward

LOS ANGELES (U.S.)—The truck driver who found and returned that $42,000 is getting a reward after all—$5.

Veal Valentine stopped his truck and picked up a purse last Thursday near Ann Arbor, Mich. He turned it over to a woman who drove back in a big car and correctly told the amount of money in the bag.

"Well, thanks," she said, driving away with the money.

The Los Angeles Times received a $5 bill Saturday along with a note signed "anonymous" asking that the bill be sent to Valentine as a reward.

Backstage Fight Delays Probe Of Religious Freedom

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (U.S.)—A backstage controversy over the wisdom of conducting public hearings on religious freedom is behind the indefinite postponement of a senate subcommittee's plan to start such hearings next week.

This was disclosed today by a spokesman for the Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights as Dr. Israel Goldstein, president of the American Jewish Congress, protested the postponement.

"American democracy is based on the assumption that the people can be trusted in a discussion of all public issues," Dr. Goldstein telegraphed the Senate group.

"It is unthinkable, therefore, that the committee should now reverse this course and yield to pressures from whatever source to suppress the open consideration of so fundamental a question as religious liberty."

Subcommittee Chairman Jennings (D-Mo) announced the postponement in a brief statement yesterday, saying it would give committee members more time to analyze replies to questionnaires the committee staff has distributed on religious freedom. More than 10,000 were sent out.

Three LS Teams Still Unbeaten

The race for the football championship of the Lone Star Conference starts this week with three teams entering the fight for the title with unbeaten records.

Stephen F. Austin has the only perfect mark—undefeated and untied—while Southwest Texas State and Sam Houston State is unbeaten but has been tied.

Stephen F. Austin meets Lamar Tech at Beaumont Saturday night. Southwest Texas State plays Texas A&I at San Marcos and Sam Houston State hosts Sul Ross at Huntsville.

East Texas State battles Trinity in a nonconference test.

Stephen F. Austin beat Anglin College 14-6 last week. Southwest Texas State played Howard Payne to a 7-7 tie and Sam Houston State whipped Texas Lutheran 26-7. Lamar Tech triumphed over Corpus Christi 29-2.

Sul Ross was beaten 15-12 by McMurry. A&I was walloped 34-0 by Trinity and East Texas State took a 20-15 drubbing from Southwest Louisiana Institute.

The 1956 U.S.G.A. Amateur Public Links championship will be held July 7-14 at the Harding Park course in San Francisco.

Thief Takes Wrong Plates

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 3 (U.S.)—The person who stole the license plates from a Madison car probably won't use them.

The car is the state-owned vehicle used by Gov. Kohler. The plates carry the only number "11" issued and naturally attract attention.

The governor reported the missing plates yesterday.

Uncle Ray: Book Of Dead Came From Writings In Old Coffins

By RAMON COFFMAN
One strange custom of ancient Egypt had to do with rolls of paper, or papyrus, which carried writing. These rolls were placed in the coffin by friends and relatives at the time of the funeral.

An ancient artist made this picture of three priests and three women mourning the death of an Egyptian.

The rolls were purchased from priests, and contained prayers and words which were expected to produce charms and magic spells. Drawings of various kinds were placed in the midst of the writing. Rolls of that kind have been found when ancient coffins were opened. Several rolls were translated into English, and were combined in a printed volume known as the Book of the Dead.

The ancient Egyptians knew nothing about printing. If one of them could come back to life, he would be amazed to see a printed book. Perhaps most of all he would be astonished to find Egypt's holy writings from several coffins in a single volume.

Q. Why were holy writings placed in a coffin?
A. The relatives and friends wanted to supply the dead person with a guide to help him to meet dangers and win a happy future life.

Q. Did they believe that a soul lived after death?
A. They believed in something like a soul. This may also be described as a spirit or double. It was supposed to look like the person who had died.

Q. What dangers did a spirit meet?
A. Among them were lakes of fire and huge serpents. The spirit was expected to repeat magic words at the right time. If that was done, there would be escape from the flames, also from the bite or crushing power of a serpent.

Judging by one picture in the Book of the Dead, Egyptians felt that they needed something besides magic words. In this picture a spirit is shown striking the head of a mighty serpent with a spear. For HISTORY section of your scrapbook.

Learn To Dance

Alice, strolling uncertainly through her wonderland, was invited by the Mad Hatter to join their tea party.

"Would you care for some tea?" she was asked.
"Yes, please," she answered.
"Sorry we don't have any," came the blunt reply.

In a story book this situation is funny and a trifle silly, but in real life it's no laughing matter. At school gets under way once more and the parties begin, there are going to be many disgusted girls who will accept dance invitations from strapping, good looking boys only to learn, too late, that they can't dance.

Whether it is a tea party without tea or a dance without dancing, the situation is frustrating. Particularly so if you've looked forward to the occasion and spun dreams about it.

A girl may have the unerring rhythm of a metronome and be able to demonstrate the waltz, tango, foxtrot and mambo, not to mention a little jitter-bug all in polished perfection, but no matter how great her skill, on the dance floor she can be no better than her date.

Even a girl who is a mediocre dancer can seem much, much better when gliding across the floor guided by a boy who knows what he's about. The kind of a dancer the girl is, depends largely on the talent of her partner.

Girls who buy pretty frilly dresses and glittery evening gowns only to spend the evening sitting on the sidelines, instead of gayly whirling across the ballroom floor, know how Alice felt when she was offered the invitation to the non-existent tea.

Dances are for dancing. Music, rhythm, and flying feet speak a special language of excitement and bring a special glow to her eyes. It is an art and a talent. Don't be embarrassed if you don't know how. Learn! Jerking the two-step and treading atop her golden slippers isn't fun for anyone, but dancing is.
"On with the dance; let joy be unconfined."

Juan Peron Begins Exile In Paraguay

By ROMAN JIMENEZ
ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—Juan D. Peron, the toppled Argentine dictator, took up residence in exile here today behind a guard of police and Tommy gunners.

The weary one-time strongman was flown here yesterday in a Paraguayan amphibian plane 13 days after he had taken refuge aboard a Paraguayan gunboat in the river Plate of Buenos Aires. His departure had been delayed while Argentine and Paraguayan officials straightened out the technicalities of his asylum.

The new Argentine government of Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi obviously hoped Peron would not tarry long in Paraguay, just across the Plate River from Argentine territory. A communique from Lonardi's regime said it was "confident" Paraguay would prevent Peron from "being an obstacle to friendly relations" between the two countries.

There have been suggestions that he might go ultimately to Spain or Switzerland.

Peron's pilot on the flight was Cmdr. Cosme Migliori, an Argentine who went into exile after an unsuccessful revolt against Peron in 1951.

The former President was greeted as he emerged from the plane by a jeering insult from another Argentine exile.

He paid no heed. Looking somewhat wan, he saluted to the right and left and smiled at the few officials who greeted him at Campo Grande military airport. He entered a black Lincoln automobile for the nine-mile ride into the city. A few townspeople were gathered along the route to watch the procession, but there were no cheers.

Later today he planned to hold his first news conference since he was ousted.

He was housed in a new three-story residence belonging to Ricardo Gayol, Argentine textile importer. The property has a small garden and swimming pool.

Peron's only companions on the flight to exile were Juan Chaves, Paraguayan ambassador to Argentina, and Maj. Ignacio Cialceta, the fallen dictator's aide.

In Buenos Aires, the press and the government were still busily uncovering angles of Peron's secret love life and financial affairs.

The newspaper La Razon quoted Neida Haydee Rivas, 16-year-old high school girl who has been linked to the dictator's love life, as saying he liked to call himself "The Man."

She said Peron, who will celebrate his 60th birthday Oct. 8, was a generous lover who gave her some of the jewelry of his wife Eva, who died of cancer in 1952. Police said they had found jewelry and cash worth $46,000 in Neida's apartment.

Signal Light Changes Due To Speed Up Traffic Flow

You will be able to drive about six miles per hour faster on Second, Third, Fourth, Scurry, Main, and Runnels beginning next Sunday. And if you are a pedestrian, you will have 7½ seconds longer to get across the street.

These will be the effects of a change in traffic lights approved by city commissioners in last week's meeting. City Electrician Roy Rogan has worked out the details of the changeover and he said the change would be made in the early hours of next Sunday morning.

Lights on the above streets are now set at 14 miles per hour. The lights change alternately, that is, while one light is red, the light at the next block is green. A car moving at 14 miles per hour can make all the green lights without stopping.

The new system will have the lights changing to the same color two blocks in a row in other words, the lights will change in pairs. By making the change, cars will be able to travel through the city at 20 miles per hour.

By increasing the length of the red and green lights, the pedestrian is given longer to get across the street, Rogan said. On the present system, a pedestrian has 17½ seconds to get across the streets at all the different intersections. The new plan will give him 25 seconds to get across the street.

The plan should work better for everyone, Rogan added. Various plans with different intervals will be tried out on the lights while most Big Springers are still asleep Sunday morning. The plan that is adopted will be on an experimental basis for a few days and changes made to suit the needs of the traffic.

At any rate, you'll be able to get to church much faster next Sunday.
