Four Of Five Members Of County Court Favor Optional County Road Law

(This is the last of a series of special articles dealing with the "Unit System" of road operation, as it applies to Howard County).

Four out of five members of Howard County's governing body favor the "Optional County Road Law of 1947."

This is the statute that provides for an integrated operation of the county's road department, under supervision of an engineer who in turn is responsible to the Commissioners Court for budgeting, appropriations and general policy.

It is the statute whose continuance—or abandonment—will be determined at the polls in a county-wide election Saturday.

The fact that the majority of the officials themselves see merit in this "unit system" principle speaks strongly for it. The officials are aware of its possibilities for more efficient road operations; they also have seen some of its shortcomings, and feel that these can be overcome once full-fledged organization is perfected and put into function in accordance with the spirit of the law.

County Judge R. H. Weaver, and Commissioners Ralph Proctor, Arthur Stallings and G. E. Gilliam, all have said they support the "unit system" and feel that the county can make better progress under such a program.

Commissioner Earl Hull has told the press that he favors a "unit system"—the coordination of court members in running the road department, but is not in favor of the "Optional County Road Law of 1947." While the intent of Commissioner Hull's view can be considered to be

Getting Set For The Game

Welcome Sign Is Out

Quarterback Club officials hang on the sign which expresses a double welcome to Loveland fans as they come here this evening for the meeting of the Loveland Lobos and the Big Spring Steers on the gridiron. The sign is to be located at the northern outskirts on U.S. 67. It will be used subsequently, substituting the name of the visiting team, to express Big Spring's gratitude for the visiting fans. Meantime, Charles Staggs, right, co-captain, asked that Big Spring people go out of their way to make the occasion an enjoyable one to Loveland folk. Jerry Sanders, left, publicity chairman, and Elmo Phillips, co-captain, asked local fans to form their line from the clubhouse to the 50-yard gate between the field fence and stands prior to the game at 8 p.m. They asked fans to bring their noise makers and whoop it up.

ALL BOXES OPEN Voters To Decide On Unit Road Law

Angelo Jury To Probe Jail

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A grand jury will investigate reports of irregularities at the Tom Green County jail, including reports some prisoners have keys to their cells.

Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes said yesterday "there has been a lot of talk and the best way to take care of it is to let 12 grand jurors look into the matter."

County Judge Glenn Jenkins said county commissioners had also been told of sexual irregularities among prisoners and that female prisoners have been taken out of cells from time to time by law enforcement officers.

The grand jury is expected to meet in November. Sheriff Cecil Turner contended the allegations were "hatched up by the prisoners."

Skies Clear And Blue Over State

By The Associated Press

Texas temperatures dropped slowly through the night, but began warming as daylight came Friday. Skies were clear and blue over the state. There had been no rain since the temperature range at dawn and none was expected.

Since then, the family lived on 37 worth of food chits provided by a nearby convent.

Baughman, a gaunt, thin man who looks older than his 29 years, said his sons wanted to grow up to be fighters, "like Rocky Marciano."

His wife, a frail woman in a soiled pink dress, tearfully insisted she had done her best for the children.

"They ate in the garbage cans up and down the street," said Mrs. Evelyn Scallan, a next-door neighbor.

Offers to bury the two children poured in after Baughman said he would have to await assistance from his father in Acadia, Tex., because a burial insurance policy had lapsed two months ago.

"I'm a sick man," he said. "I

Howard County voters will decide Saturday whether the county shall abandon the Optional County Road Law of 1947, commonly referred to as the "unit system law."

Any county resident who has paid a poll tax or secured an exemption certificate is eligible to vote.

Polls will be open in all 16 voting precincts of the county. Commissioners court action combining some of the boxes with others failed to take effect through failure to publish notice of the action.

Ballots for the election p e r m i t voters to express themselves as either for or against abandoning the 1947 road law. Some voters have complained that the wording of the ballots is confusing, but the law required that they be printed as they are.

Confusion arises from the "for abandoning" wording. Persons who vote "for" on the ballot will be voting against the 1947 road law and against the mandatory "unit system" of road department operation.

Pauline Petty, county clerk, said most of the election officials had picked up their ballot boxes and election supplies today from the clerk's office at the courthouse.

Polls will open throughout the county at 8 a.m. Saturday and the voting will continue until 7 p.m.

Thirty-seven absentee votes were cast in the election, indicating enough interest to result in a straight turnout for the voting Saturday.

The county's voting boxes and their locations include Box No. 1, City Hall Fire Station in Big Spring; Box 2, Washington Place School; Box 3, 18th and Main Fire Station; Box 4, North Ward School; Box 5, Vincent; Box 6, Gay Hill; Box 7, R-Bar; Box 8, West Ward School in Big Spring; Box 9, Coahoma; Box 10, Forsan; Box 11, Center Point; Box 12, Moore; Box 13, Knott; Box 14, Morris; Box 15, Soash; and Box 16, Park Hill School in Big Spring.

Impeachment Hinted In Jury Tapping

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Eastland (D-Miss.) and Jenner (R-Ind.) left a hint of impeachment today in the wake of an investigation into the "eavesdropping" on jury deliberations as part of a research project.

They proposed turning a transcript of the hearings over to the House Judiciary Committee, saying they thought their own Senate Internal Security subcommittee, "being a part of the Senate, could not properly inquire into the official conduct of a federal judge."

They called also for legislation "to provide severe punishment" for any such future "invading the privacy of the jury room."

A hearing transcript might be useful to a committee considering such legislation.

A University of Chicago research team made recordings of jury proceedings in May 1954 in five or six civil cases in a federal court in Wichita, Kan., presided over by Dist. Judge Delmas Hill. The team placed hidden microphones in the jury room, without letting the jurors know.

Witnesses testified that Judge Hill and Chief Judge Orin Phillips of the 10th Judicial Circuit, embracing Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Kansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, had authorized the recordings under careful safeguards.

McCarthy Ends Trial Testimony

BOSTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) concluded his testimony yesterday in the contempt of Congress trial of Leon J. Kamin, former Harvard research aide, with a denunciation of Harvard President Nathan A. Pusey.

McCarthy declared from the witness chair:

"I have no respect for a man who will harbor Fifth Amendment Communists... I think a man who does this should not be a college president. Pusey should be exposed. An educational institution which harbors Communists should be exposed."

Kamin, now engaged in research at Queens University, Kingston, Ont., is charged with contempt of Congress for refusing to name Communist associates when he testified at a Boston hearing in January 1954 of the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee which McCarthy then headed.

Kamin completed his work at Harvard on June 1, 1954. He was hired on a temporary basis on a research job at McGill University on July 30 of the same year. He later moved to Queens University.

Townsend Keeps Silent On Talk With Margaret

LONDON (AP)—Handsome Peter Townsend drove off to the quiet English countryside today, harboring the secret of whether Princess Margaret has promised him her hand in marriage.

The beautiful princess remained secluded behind the walls of luxurious Clarence House, the buff-colored mansion she shares with Queen Mother Elizabeth.

And 50 million Britons wondered and guessed whether there will be a wedding soon.

Townsend, the 40-year-old divorced Royal Air Force hero, left his quarters in the home of the Marquis of Arbergaveny in mid-afternoon and drove out of town.

"I am going away for the weekend," he said as a surging mob surrounded his small car. "I cannot say where I am going."

Asked for a statement on his romance, Townsend murmured: "I'm sorry, I can't say."

A member of the staff at the marquis' Lowndes Square home said Townsend intended to spend the weekend with his mother at her cottage in Somerset, about 160 miles out of London.

A member of the marquis' staff said Townsend was expected back Monday afternoon.

Meanwhile, excited, chattering crowd lined up outside Princess Margaret's house for a glimpse of the beautiful girl whose romance has captured the heart and fancy of the world's millions.

It was here that she met Townsend last night for the first time in two years. And right or wrong, the conviction spread through Britain like a runaway wild fire that the Queen's 25-year-old sister had agreed to marry him.

While the crowds assembled at Clarence House, a smaller group of reporters and Londoners took up positions less than a mile away, at Townsend's flat in the home of the Marquis of Arbergaveny in Lowndes Square.

Just before noon, the marquis' housekeeper emerged to announce that Townsend would lunch inside and would not be leaving Lowndes Square until at least the middle of the afternoon.

Exactly what went on when Margaret and Peter met again was a deep dark secret. Dead silence continued in official circles.

For all anybody outside the inner circle could tell with any certainty, the princess may have said "Yes," "No," or "Let's just be friends."

But Townsend, asked after his visit whether he was happy, grinned at newsmen and said: "Yes."

With only that and the fact of the visit to go on, much of the British public was sure the lid would come off soon on a happy ending to the reported royal romance.

Over 11,000 Entries, But Not A Correct One

You never can tell. Somebody figuring the odds might have predicted that out of 11,522 entries, one of these would hit the solution to the Cashword Puzzle.

But alas, not this week.

Here again there were some close ones, but none that matched the definition completely. The solution is to be found on Page 9 of today's Herald for your checking.

Only thing left to do is to offer another puzzle next week, and add another $25 in the Lottery. That's the outlook—$25 base prize, $50 to the mail entry using a postcard, plus those rich prizes offered by competing merchants.

Puzzle appears Monday. Have another try!

OFFICIAL BALLOT

FOR abandoning the Optional County Road Law of 1947

AGAINST abandoning the Optional County Road Law of 1947

This is the way you could mark your ballot Saturday to retain the "unit system" for Howard County's road department. Just scratch the top line, or check the bottom line.

In harmony with others' views, it takes the actual law to give definite assurance to the taxpayers of the county that the road and bridge department is completely coordinated and integrated.

Judge Weaver has said that the county's road program is too big not to have it under the direct guidance of an experienced road man who could and should handle a definite program of permanent improvements.

It is on this basis that these articles have attempted to show the desirability of the Optional County Road Law of 1947.

Some explanation of terminology for tomorrow's voting may be in order:

It is the Optional County Road Law of 1947 that means the "unit system." To vote abandonment of this law means permitting the unit system to go out the window, at any time. Thus those who would favor the county-wide basis of operating the road department would vote "AGAINST" abandonment of the Option County Road Law of 1947."

UF Employe Gift Drive Under Way

The United Fund campaign progressed to its first report stage at noon Friday after the big Employe Gift division showed off Thursday.

This set the stage for other divisions to go into action next week when the entire campaign will be pressed on all fronts. Mrs. Neil Norred met Thursday afternoon with leaders in the Women's Division of the drive. Walker Bailey is to meet with his area chairman on Monday.

Another capacity crowd turned out Thursday noon for the Employees kickoff, and they heard two short but stirring appeals for dedicated effort. Dr. Loyal Norman, director of elementary education, told the group that the United Fund ranks right next to the church in importance.

"You need not make apologies for asking for gifts to the United Fund. You are dealing in people and are carrying out the Master's formula that 'it is more blessed to give than to receive.'"

He and Mayor G. W. Dabney, who also spoke, both pointed to the importance of enlisting systematic giving. Dabney raised the question of "what do you value a soul?" for he said in reality most of the things in the United Fund dealt with more than mere physical being.

"You've got to give yourself besides your money before you can really give. We should give dedicated money. We need to discover the startling truth that you cannot give without sharing in return. This venture is an exercise of faith in God and fellow man."

L. H. Shelton, assisting in the campaign, told the group that Big Spring had one of the most civill-minded groups he had been privileged to work with, but that the base needed to be broadened still further. Out of 6,700 employes last year, only 3,100 had been reached. Adolph Swartz, general campaign chairman, urged that this total be increased this year. Invocation for the meeting was pronounced by the Rev. Jesse Young of the Park Methodist Church.

2 Brothers Die After Days Of Begging For Scraps

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two small starving brothers, who each dreamed of someday growing up to be heavyweight champion of the world, died yesterday after days of begging scraps of food from door to door and eating out of neighborhood trash cans.

Six-year-old William Baughman Jr. died with a plea for food on his lips. "Please, may I have a ham sandwich?" he murmured to hospital attendants.

Seven-year-old Lawrence, who died 12 hours later, never regained consciousness after police removed him, frail and convulsed, from the shabby, one-room apartment where the Baughmans lived with their seven children.

The five girls, ranging in age from 1 to 9, were placed in foster homes.

Police jailed William Baughman, a 29-year-old unemployed longshoreman, and his 26-year-old wife, booking them for criminal neglect pending formal charges.

Rev. F. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, has been appointed to the Governor's Committee for Refugee Relief Program as local representative. The announcement was made by John Winters, committee chairman. Dr. O'Brien will act in behalf of the State Committee in Howard County.

Persons interested in sponsoring a refugee may contact Dr. O'Brien for full details. The program is designed to give refugees a chance at a new start in life. The program will need new sponsors totaling 30,000 to 40,000 by 1956. There are less than 500 refugees in Texas now.

Under the refugee act of 1953, 214,000 displaced persons may migrate to this country. There are approximately 43,000 in the country now. Members of the Committee are appointed by Governor Allan Shivers at the request of President Eisenhower.

A sponsor for a refugee must give assurance that the refugee will be provided with employment and housing and will not become a public charge.

Other members of the committee are Rev. Henry Herbst, pastor of St. Peter and Paul Church, New Braunfels; Rev. A. O. Rast, Executive Secretary of the Texas Lutheran Mission Board; Leonard L. Holway, Baptist General Convention of Texas; Sam W. Levy, Houston; and C. W. Pfluger, Coupland.

Cover Crop Suggested Now, To Precede Grass Planting

Farmers who intend to plant grass next spring are being urged by the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District to start making preparations now. In order to get a good stand of grass, a cover crop should be planted this fall. The grass seedlings are very sensitive to weather conditions and will not survive if the ground dries out or the sunshine is too intense. For this reason all grass plantings should be made in land that has a vegetative litter to protect them.

According to Marion Everhart of the SCS, the district has two grass seeders available to district cooperators. The drills are especially made for grass seeding and may be rented from the district for a small fee.

The SCS is also recommending that farmers plant rye or other small grain crop now, which may be planted alone or in a mixture with winter legumes. These crops not only provide winter grazing for livestock but will add fertility to the soil and keep down blowing next spring.

There is a government payment of around $2.00 a acre for growers who plant small grains or legumes for erosion purposes. This is in keeping with the stepped-up soil conservation program which the government has instituted within the last year.

There is very little really poor land, Everhart said, but any land is poor if it is not managed properly. While the deep sandy soils, shallow soils and steeply sloping land may not return as much profit as more fertile land, they can be made to produce within their capabilities.

Information concerning legume or grass crops may be had at the Soil Conservation Service office in the basement of the Big Spring Post Office.

Dates For Bookworms

Can a bookworm lure dates? Yes, definitely yes.

The reason most girls with a generous supply of intelligence sit home on Saturday nights is because they haven't been reading the right books. History and English literature are useful many places, but on a date a knowledge of psychology comes in handy.

Boys don't like to be surprised either in physical or mental strength by a girl. The first is not likely but the second is not only possible, but fatal to romance.

It's not bad to be smart; just be sure you are smart enough to know how to handle boys.

Around them, let your hair down. Forget whether you are ending your sentences with prepositions and just talk. If they're discussing a news story and have the facts wrong, don't interrupt. Listen without correction.

If he knows of your accomplishments and mentions them, minimize them and change the subject. Stay off the subject of yourself and find out what he can do that he is proud of. Be appreciative of his talents and ooh and ah-h-h.

You'll be safe if you'll just remember these two things: 1. No boy wants to hear you brag. 2. They all love the helpless (to a point) girl who looks up to them and makes them feel manly an important.

Probably over 1,200 persons turned out for the Big Spring Concert Association's first production of the season, "Fiesta Mexicana," at the City Auditorium Thursday evening. They were handsomely rewarded with an entertaining and colorful program that may turn out to be the best of the season.

The star of the performance turned out to be not a person but a 10-foot "concert marimba." The instrument closely resembles a xylophone, but instead of metal tubes for tone, the marimba has wooden "bags" of different sizes. Four marimbists played the instrument and it was difficult to believe that an entire orchestra was not playing.

The audience, which had been only luke-warm to the production through the first act, really responded enthusiastically after the marimba number at the beginning of the second act. Applause brought forth an encore from the quartet and they gave a delightful rendition of "Malaguena." At one part in the number, the bass marimbist would start the melody at one end of the instrument and pass it all the way up the scale, each man playing his part as it came in range, never missing a beat or note.

Probably the second best part of the program was a trio of serenaders, playing guitars and singing love songs. The auditorium sound system did not carry the finer bits of harmony very well, but the groups did have good voices and technique.

The better dances were "Los Machetes" by Maria Luisa Zela, Augustin del Razo, and Roberto Molina, and "El Jarabe Tapatio," with Razo and Senorita Lea. The former is a dance with large knives, used to cut sugar cane, each of the men vying for the love of the girl. The latter is the well known "hat dance."

Beautiful Magdalena Roca and Razo performed "La Bamba" which involved tying a bow knot in a ribbon with their feet as they danced. The ribbon was lying flat on the floor.

The performance was certainly good, but the cream of the program was the music, supplied by the Tipica Orchestra and conducted by Miguel Lerdo de Tejada Jr. It was composed of the marimba, two "saxillos," two violins, a trumpet, piano, drum, and a bass. Tejada is the son of the man who originated the Tipica Orchestra and brought it to the United States for the first time in 1910.

The colorful costumes, as pointed out by Producer Clark Getts, were fabulously beautiful and quite expensive. Getts said one of the dresses was completely hand embroidered and probably cost 25 or 30 thousand pesos. The program presented here is already booked into another 125 American cities. Getts said it would probably play for several years. The company recently finished a two-year series on television in Mexico where it presented a one hour program for 104 consecutive weeks without ever repeating a song or dance. This is the extent of the abilities of the group.

The association did well to book in this group. They might do well to investigate the possibilities for a booking next year. With a different program, the group would be as enjoyable as ever.

Defendant Wins $627,000 Suit

COLORADO CITY — A $627,000 suit for damages was resolved in favor of the defendant by a 32nd District Court jury Wednesday.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Marvin Andrew Moats, Snyder, as a result of the death of her husband in a freak accident in August, 1954, near Silver. Defending in the suit was the Musselwhite Trucking Company of Snyder.

The accident involved a Musselwhite Trucking Company truck and three automobiles, all traveling in the same direction — toward Silver. A. E. Smith, driver of the truck, told highway patrolmen investigating the accident, that the three automobiles came up rapidly behind him, with the lead car swerving to the right and overturning in a nearby pasture; the second car, driven by Moats, crashed into the rear of the truck and was struck from behind by the third car. Moats was killed instantly. Mr. and Mrs. James M. Barber of Colorado City were drivers of the third and first cars, respectively.

The jury failed to find negligence in the operation of the truck and awarded no damages.

Defending counsel included Johnny Moore of Colorado City and Howard Barker of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Moats was represented by Charles Butts of Big Spring and Phil Kourt of Wichita Falls.

TSCW Makes Ready For Fall Carnival

DENTON, Tex. — Girls from every part of Texas and many out-of-staters are this week putting the finishing touches on the big Gold Rush Carnival, scheduled for Oct. 18 on the campus of Texas State College for Women.

The largest number of floats to be entered in the afternoon parade in the four-year history of the Carnival are being designed and assembled by dormitory students competing for a silver loving cup. Floats will have as their theme "Tessies Sing" and depict popular tunes and favorite college songs.

Denton merchants are serving on committees with students. Through Denton business firms, tickets entitling Denton County school children to free entrance to carnival grounds and two free rides are being distributed.

The carnival proceeds add funds to the TSCW Foundation, which provides scholarships, memorials, research funds and equipment, and other enriching programs of growth to the college. The event was started during the observance of TSCW's Golden Anniversary in 1952-53.

Typical carnival attractions, including booths on the "midway," set up in the circular drive near the intersection of Sawyer and Oakland Avenues on the TSCW campus; midway shows featuring college talent; and a full larder of carnival confections will entertain students, guests and townspeople.

More Hat

These two wide brim milliner's pieces are made for the new fall straight and narrow lines. They are shown here in velvet.

Fall Silhouette Makes Hat Design Important

By JOYCE CONNAWAY
Looking on top of the fashion story this fall and winter, we see straight and definite lines in hats.

As the dress silhouette narrows down, the milliners have a field day. As the dresses and suits assume less bulk, more emphasis goes to the hat.

Fashionable head coverings range this year to the huge picture hat down to a mere wisp of a veil. You can take your choice to suit your likes and the shape of your face and style of your hair. The last two are very important things to consider in selecting a hat. Style is important, but most of all, the hat should be becoming to the wearer.

The big brim head pieces this fall are seen in high colors of velvet, such as pumpkin or deep blue. The traditional black is very good also.

For the lady that insists she can't wear a large hat, or just prefers the small toppers, can be found lush fabrics and smart styles in the close fitting hats. Small hats are still most popular for after-five wear.

Veils play an important part in the hat story, in fact you can even find a hat that is nothing but a veil. A few years ago the little tie-on veil was introduced, which can substitute for a hat, and then it evolved to the popular clip veils and vellettes.

Women have found veils to be flattering and mysterious since the age of Salome, and today they can even be used effectively to cover up an unruly hairdo.

Many women buy veils in all colors to match each costume. The clip veil is attached to a velvet or fabric band which clamps

Big Jon is in reality Jon Arthur, whose program of juvenile stories and songs, together with the high-pitched, rapid-fire commentary of his partner — a lad from the land of make believe, rocketed to fame over the American Broadcasting Company network. Station KBST carries his "No School Today" program each Saturday morning.

Bovines Underdogs In Levelland Game

Kickoff Is Set For 8 O'Clock

Big Spring	Levelland
12 Andrews	12 Brownfield
8 Yales	28 Littlefield
21 Palo Duro	14 Sweetwater
45	45 Palo Duro
Totals 77	Totals 111

The Big Spring Steers remained the underdogs as the kickoff for their all-important District 1-AAA with Levelland neared.

Johnny Hickman's Lobos seek their second win in three conference starts in tonight's 8 p.m. game with the Black and Gold of Big Spring at Steer Stadium.

The Lobos bring a gaudy record here. The team opened up with 60-0 success at the expense of Brownfield, then humbled Littlefield, 39-7, without working too hard at it.

In their conference opener, the Lobos were tied by Sweetwater, 14-14, but rebounded last week to annihilate Palo Duro, 45-0.

Judging of comparative scores, the Lobos rate as three touchdown favorites over the Steers. Big Spring beat Palo Duro by a score of 33-7.

The Lobos will bring a high-powered set of backs into the local park. Jesse Suddarth, Joe Kennedy and Tommy Derrington have combined to make Levelland a 'go-go' outfit, capable of scoring from any point on the field.

Levelland will be gunning for revenge, having been humbled by Big Spring last year, 20-0. The defeat all but knocked the Lobos out of the running for the championship. Some said they never did recover after suffering the reversal.

Big Spring started very slowly this year, tying Andrews, 13-13; and losing to Yales, 7-0, before finding the victory combination at the expense of Palo Duro.

The Steers were idle last week and will enter tonight's crucial game at full strength.

Johnny Janak, who missed Monday's workout due to illness, was in the thick of things by Wednesday and will be ready to go 45 minutes, if he is needed.

The Longhorns have been hard at work for two weeks for this one and figure to enter the engagement in good spirits. Their coaches, Carl Coleman and Emmett Broderson, have high hopes for them.

This is the first home game for Big Spring since Sept. 9 and a capacity crowd is due to be in attendance. Upwards to 1,000 Levelland people are due to follow their team here.

If they win, the Steers' stock will rise sharply all over the state, for Levelland is rated well in almost every state poll. If they lose, the best the Bovines can hope for is to serve as "spoilers" for some other team in the race.

Held And Gosney Sold To Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles made two moves in as many days in quest of a young pitching staff by releasing 37-year-old Eddie Lopat and buying two minor leaguers, 25-year-old Mel Held and 24-year-old Pat Gosney.

Lopat's contract was offered yesterday to any of the other 15 major league teams for the nominal $1 price. That signified the Orioles' belief that Lopat's major league career is over after 12 years in which he pitched in seven World Series games for five straight years with the New York Yankees. Lopat won four and lost one in the championship games.

Burke And Bolt In Dallas Play

DALLAS (AP)—Jimmie Demaret, Jack Burke and Tommy Bolt, stars of the tournament trail, will be in the field today in the $1,500 pro-amateur at Northwood Club, former of the Texas Cup matches. A total of 164 golfers will participate in the pro-am with 41 of them pros.

Others in the pro-am include Harry Todd, winner of the $5,000 Preston Hollow Open Wednesday; Doug Higgins, Elroy Marti, Billy Maxwell, Buster Reed, Ernie Vossler, Byron Nelson and George Bayer, golf's longest hitter.

The cup matches are scheduled Saturday and Sunday with Burke and Demaret on the Texas pro team captained by Nelson.

Bartzen Advances In Tennis Play

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The favorites were due for some stiff tests today in the third round play of the Southwestern Tennis tournament.

The three top-seeded players, Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, George Dralinger of Los Angeles and Paul Butt of Albuquerque, easily through about like expected in first and second round play yesterday, but look for things to get a little tougher today.

The favored Bartzen, who lost only one game in the first two rounds of the men's singles yesterday, will meet Ed Chew of El Paso today.

Bartzen beat Gene Gallegos of Albuquerque 6-0, 6-0 and then Barry Walraven of Oklahoma City 6-0, 6-1 in yesterday's play. Chew beat David Kent of Lubbock 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

Robinson Says Kellert Was Wrong In Series Decision

A late-sprouting World Series rhubarb has popped up between Jackie Robinson and Frank Kellert—who until last Monday were teammates on the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

Kellert, dealt to the Chicago Cubs by the Brooks, told Sports Editor John Cronley of the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman that Robinson should have been called out when Jackie stole home in the first game of the series.

"I ain't so, according to Robinson. 'The decision was right,' said Jackie. 'I was safe and pictures prove it. But it wasn't vital to the game.' The Yanks won it 6-5.

Jack added: "Kellert is entitled to his opinion, but this rebashing casts a reflection on Umpire Bill Summers, who umpired a wonderful series."

Kellert, at bat when Robinson made his dash, said he cloaked the play by standing in tight at the plate, making New York catcher Yogi Berra reach across the plate to make the tag.

Berra made a big squawk over the call, leading his teammates to observe afterward: "When Yogi gripes, Yogi's right."

Eddie Lopat, long the "junk man" who helped the Yankees to pennants and world championships has been given his unconditional release by the Baltimore Orioles.

Lopat was sold to the Orioles by the Yanks for a reported $10,000 July 30. The 36-year-old left-hander was 3-4 for the seventh-place Birds. His best year was 1951 when he was 21-9 with the world champion Yankees.

Eddie Joost, another veteran, also has been given his unconditional release. The 39-year-old infielder, signed as a free agent by the Boston Red Sox last spring, managed the Philadelphia A's in '54.

Rumor has it the Dodgers have junked their plan to play seven games in Jersey City next season. Source of the report is "a high-placed Jersey City official."

Reason: It will cost the city too much to refurbish Roosevelt Stadium.

Stranger Named Towne Battles Savage Monday

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—The man said he had lunch with Artie Towne. "Who's in town?" his companion asked. That's the way it has been for Artie Towne ever since he started fighting in 1944. Nobody recognized the name.

In Artie's home town of New York, they recall him vaguely as a fellow called Ray Robinson's "policeman." When Sugar Ray wanted to get rid of somebody, he'd say, "Okay, fight Towne first." After that, they didn't seem to bother Ray any more.

By and large, Towne was a stranger in New York rings. He fought in the prelims when Robinson was fighting for the welterweight title or he picked up a small purse—say $250—as a headliner in places like Scranton, Pa., or Binghamton, N.Y.

Things got so tough, Artie finally threw in the sponge in 1952. "The fights came too few," he explained. "I had a wife and I couldn't make enough fighting. So I quit and went to work."

"Robinson was too big then," he said. "They didn't have any time for me." Last winter, an old schoolmate, Ross Harvey, talked him into giving boxing one more try. Harvey had a connection with Dick Begola, an importer, who would back Towne. Begola became the manager and Harvey the business agent.

After winning four fights, Towne, now 28, headed for England. He stopped Willie Armstrong, the Scottish middleweight champion, at Liverpool July 14 in 1:32 of the first and then proceeded to knock out John L. Sullivan, former British and British Empire middleweight champ, in 43 seconds of the first round.

After three victories in England, Towne went to Berlin to box Peter Mueller, who made quite a noise in America last winter. He knocked out Mueller with a right to the head in the ninth round, only to hear the referee disqualify him for hitting on the break. Five days later, Sept. 14, when Towne already was back in New York, the West Berlin Boxing Commission ordered the bout to be officially entered as a "no decision" contest.

Badger-Troy Game Opens Busy Collegiate Week

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The Big Ten conference, always a target for the ambitious and a test for the accepted giants, is smack dab in the college football spotlight again this weekend with sixth-ranked Wisconsin running against Southern California tonight and unranked Michigan State confronting fourth-ranked Notre Dame tomorrow.

Wisconsin and Notre Dame are favored by a touchdown. The Irish contest is the TV Game of the Week.

Coach Jess Hill's Trojans could give the Badgers some trouble. Still nursing an idea of taking the Pacific Coast Conference title, they could well be on the rebound after a 7-0 upset by Washington last weekend.

The Trojans are in top shape for this one. Wisconsin has two limping stars—quarterback Jim Miller and tackle Jerry Crevengros. Michigan State doesn't figure to have things as easy this week as last Saturday in its 26-14 decision over Stanford. Still, the Spartans loom as the best test yet for the Irish, who are unbeaten, untied and unscored upon.

Michigan State has one loss to date — a 14-7 decision against Michigan, the No. 1 team in the nation.

With Wisconsin busy outside the conference, Michigan looks to claim a share of the Big Ten lead after dealing with wireless Northwestern tomorrow. Even with end Ron Kramer, the big man, injured, the Wolverines are favored by three TDs.

In addition to tonight's West Coast battle, Duke-Ohio State and Washington-Baylor add inter-sectional spice to the weekend.

Duke, unbeaten, untied and ranked No. 11, is judged even-up with the once-beaten Buckeyes. Ohio State only yesterday revealed All-America Howard Cassidy injured a leg in practice this week. But Hopalong will be on hand for tomorrow's game at Columbus, Ohio.

Washington, unbeaten in four games and the PCC surprise, has a 1954 defeat to live down at Baylor. The Bears socked 'em 34-7 last year.

Elsewhere tomorrow, Maryland's unbeaten, second-ranked Terrapins figure to upset North Carolina's homecoming plans. Oklahoma, No. 3, is favored to spoil a similar old grad show at Kansas.

One big game looms in Dixie. Georgia Tech, No. 5 and undefeated, bumps into once-tied Auburn in the Southeastern Conference game of the day. The winner gets a big bowl boost. Tech's the favorite by 7.

The rest of the top 10 is scheduled like this: Texas Christian, No. 7 and pushing quarterback Jim Swink for individual honors, plays Texas A&M; Navy, No. 8 and like Notre Dame unscored upon, meets Penn State; UCLA, once-beaten and No. 9, plays Stanford; and West Virginia, No. 10, figures to take all sorts of liberties with William & Mary.

Williams And Gray Called By Bums

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn baseball club obtained seven players from farm club affiliates today in a move to strengthen for the 1956 season.

The front office announced the following deals: First baseman Jim Gentile, pitcher Bill Harris and outfielder Bob Wilson were obtained from Montreal of the International League. In return, Montreal received first baseman Norm Larker, catcher Joe Pignatano and undisclosed cash.

From St. Paul the Dodgers obtained Jasper Spears, a promising shortstop, and catcher Mike Napoli in a trade which sent the American Assn. club catcher Dixie Howell and pitcher Joe Landrum.

Fort Worth in the Texas League, the Dodgers obtained outfielder Dick Williams and third baseman Dick Gray. They sent Fort Worth pitcher Bob Milliken and cash.

BY VOTING AGAINST ABANDONMENT OF OUR "OPTIONAL COUNTY ROAD LAW"

Better county roads definitely are a mark of progress. Howard County can have more improved roads, at a reasonable cost, when its entire road and bridge department is unified under a single, qualified, operating head.

Road engineering, construction and maintenance is a specialized job — and if the proper program of permanent improvement is carried out, it has to be directed by a trained and competent man who knows his work.

No reflection is intended on any county official, present or past. Howard County has made some progress with

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram, which has pulled some boo-boos in the past, probably has made a mistake again in not rating Snyder among the top ten AAA teams in the state.

In its most recent poll, usually aimed at building circulation in this area, the august paper does little for public relations by ignoring all teams in 1-AAA.

The Telly sports staff saw fit to rank the AAA powers this way: 1. Garland, 2. Alice, 3. Texarkana, 4. Kilgore, 5. San Antonio Edison, 6. Lufkin, 7. Cleburne, 8. Grand Prairie, 9. Temple, 10. Brownwood, 11. South Park Beaumont.

Snyder, idle this weekend, has held its two 1-AAA opponents (Monterey and Vernon) scoreless. More impressive still, neither team was able to move the ball within the Tigers' 20-yard line.

What do you have to do to gain recognition?

Levelland, Big Spring's opponent here tonight, has been in District 1-AAA only one season but the Lobos have a long and illustrious record behind them.

The Lobos ruled as district champions in 1932, district co-champs in 1940, regional champions in 1947, district co-titlists in 1948 and again in 1950, regional champions in 1951 and co-holders of the district crown again in 1952.

Incidentally, a one-time Big Spring basketball coach, was at the helm of the Levelland football team from 1934 through 1940. He was Bill Stevens, who developed some of Big Spring's greatest cage teams.

In 1934, the Levelland team, under Bill, won all ten of its starts. Coaches ordinarily have long tenures at Levelland. After Stevens departed there, Gano Tubbs took over as head coach and kept the job for six seasons. Truett Rattan succeeded him and remained for eight years. The present coach, Johnny Hickman, was hired when Rattan departed last year. (Tubbs is still basketball coach there).

In 22 years, the Lobos have won 151 games while losing 60 and playing 12 ties, a great record in any level of football.

Big Spring fans will be on their good behavior tonight, seeing that the Levelland people get the friendliest reception possible.

Last year, a near-riot occurred following the game between the two schools, which was played in Levelland. Neither side was without blame. Both communities probably benefited from the lesson learned that night. Let's hope the incident, unfortunate though it was, served to cement a long and honorable friendship between the people of the two communities.

If we win, let's conduct ourselves as winners should. If we lose, let's pay homage and give credit where credit is due.

Levelland, incidentally, should be salty again next year. Jesse Sudderth, the Lobos' hardest running back, is only a junior, as is the club's quarterback, Jimmy Johnson. Johnson's understudy, Sonny Reeves, is but a sophomore.

Mike Vinyard, another hard-running back, has two seasons of eligibility remaining after this year. Thomas Cowan, 178-pound back, is a junior.

Jesse Ballew, a promising end who weighs 170, is a sophomore. Another soph on the team is Frank Lawlis, 170-pound tackle.

Seniors on the team include ends Eddie Mitchell, Ray Cope, Eddie Hale and Billy Beadles, tackle Kenny Evans, guards Robert Pierce and Bob O'Neal, centers Charles Forehand and Don Miller and backs Joe Kennedy, Tommy Derrington, Fred Brown and Logan Gill.

The Lobos lost 26 men via graduation last season and still came back with a fine ball club. Some say it is better than the one of a year ago.

Yearlings Trample Lamesa, 41 To 13

A well-coached but outmanned Lamesa Junior High football team yielded a 41-13 victory to the Big Spring Ninth Graders before a surprisingly large turnout of fans here Thursday night.

The Yearlings were in command throughout and seemed to be able to spring their thunderous runners, J. B. Davis and Wayne Fields, loose when ever and where ever they pleased.

Big Spring led, 21-6, at half time. Larry Marshall collected Lamesa's first TD on a keeper play that went 20 yards up the middle. The run climaxed a 60-yard drive.

Davis, Fields and Buddy Barnes each scored a first half touchdown for the Yearlings. Davis maneuvered 45 paces, Fields 60 and Barnes 15.

In addition, Davis counted another that was called back. He traveled 55 yards on that one.

Davis also scored two extra points and Fields one in first half play.

On the third play of the third quarter, Fields roared 85 yards for a touchdown, after it appeared he was hemmed in on several occasions. Davis added the extra point and Big Spring's lead mounted to 28-6.

Shortly thereafter, Barnes grabbed the pigskin and churned 65 paces to a score on a nifty reverse that had the Breezes running the wrong way.

In the fourth, a 45-yard pass play, with Terry Stanley on the throwing end and Benny McCrary as the receiver, produced another

Bulldogs Seek Upset Victory

COAHOMA, (SC) — It's "all aboard" for Sundown this evening, where local fans are set to follow the Coahoma High School football team for an important District 4-A game.

Sundown, which has exhibited fine potential all season, is favored. The Roughnecks are the defending champions in the circuit.

Coahoma has the weapons to spring an upset, however. The Bulldogs have lost only one game, that a 19-6 early-season verdict to Crane.

Big Spring score, Charles Preas threw a nifty block that sprang McCrary loose.

Stanley added the extra point and Big Spring's lead mounted to 41-6.

Lamesa came back to get a tally when Marshall passed to Doyle Norris in the corner on a play that covered 12 yards. Marshall booted the point.

Kenny Johnson, Bobby McAdams, Frank Williamson, Charles Sampson, Sam Copeland, Jackie Phillips and Dennis Holmes were among the standouts in the Big Spring line. Blocking was consistently good along the line.

Bill McCoullough, Kenneth Goolsby and Grant Holladay glistened in the Lamesa primary.

Yearling Teams Are Tied, Lose

SWEETWATER, (SC) — Eighth Grade teams of Big Spring and Sweetwater played to a 12-12 deadlock in a game here Thursday evening.

Sweetwater staged a quick count play in the final 30 seconds of play to get the tie.

The game proved costly to the Yearlings, however, since Gordon Bristow, star halfback, broke an arm and will be out for the season. Gordon was tackling a Sweetwater player when the accident occurred.

Freddy Brown scored both of Big Spring's TDs, one in the third period and the other in the fourth. The first was on a run of 20 yards, the second covered ten yards.

Sweetwater led, 6-0, at half time and contained the Big Spring power until the third round.

Donnie Everett, Brown, August Joe Lueddecke and James Harrington all played fine ball in the Big Spring backfield. Up front, Bud Bridges and James Drake were among the Yearling standouts.

Sweetwater's Seventh Graders defeated the Big Spring Seventh Grade team, 27-7, in the first part of the football double header.

Big Spring played without the services of Ronnie Hamby and Bill Copeland, standout lineup. In addition, Quarterback Tommy Whatley was hurt early in the game and had to watch the rest of the action from the sidelines.

A pass from Tommy Polson to Jerry Bowerman was good for 40 yards set up Big Spring's lone touchdown in the second period. Carey King made the final six yards on a lunge and Freddy Pittman added the extra point.

The score was tied at half time, 7-7, but Sweetwater picked up two touchdowns in the third and another in the fourth.

Tim Williamson and Richard Adkins played fine ball up front for the Yearlings.

North And College Heights Collide

Texas Aggies Seek Upset Win Over TCU Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
The Associated Press

Southwest Conference football teams start gnawing at each other almost full-scale this weekend. The Texas Aggies hope to tear off the biggest chew.

The Aggies, traveling like mad along the comeback trail, run into TCU's massive Frogs at Fort Worth Saturday in a game of vast import in the championship race.

There are two other conference games—Texas vs. Arkansas at Little Rock and Rice vs. SMU at Dallas—but the one at Fort Worth has captured the imagination of the crowd.

Texas A&M, which dashed futilely against the stone walls of the conference biggies last season, has shown the greatest improvement of any team in the league. With three well-placed victories against outside foes behind them, the Aggies feel fully prepared to tackle the last undefeated, untied outfit in the league.

So great is the interest in what the young Cadets may do against the veteran strength of nationally seventh-ranked TCU that the biggest football crowd in Fort Worth's history will turn out Saturday afternoon. Tickets for this game, a sell-out of 36,881, are worth many times their market price—if you can find somebody who wants to give one up. The game will be telecast.

TCU has opened the conference race with a 26-0 strapping of Arkansas. It will be the first test in the championship struggle for the

Coahoma Shades Stanton, 46-6

COAHOMA, (SC) — Eddie Allen romped for seven touchdowns as the Coahoma Junior High School Bulldogs ran over the Stanton Juniors, 46-6, here Thursday night.

Allen's TD jaunts varied from 75 to 14 yards. Butch Hodnett and Harold Abernethy each made two extra points for the Pups.

Jimmy Ray Smith, Coahoma coach, became ill during the contest and did not get to see the finish.

Forke Britton made Stanton's lone six-pointer on a 65-yard sprint in the second quarter.

The Pups started off with a three-touchdown first period and were leading, 34-6, at half time. They got a TD in each of the last two rounds.

Up front, Randall Reid, David Burris and Jackie Gaines played outstanding ball for Coahoma.

sophomorph Aggies.

The game at Dallas is the maiden effort of both the Owls and Mustangs. Rice was the conference championship favorite before the season opened. SMU was ranked high but hasn't lived up to its promise. It will be the only night contest on the schedule.

Texas, with three beatings out of four against outside opposition, opens its title bid against an Arkansas team that already is virtually on the sidelines from two conference losses.

Baylor's Bears will be in Seattle playing the Washington Huskies. Baylor, winner of the only conference game it has played—a 25-20 triumph over Arkansas—will be running into another league leader.

Washington, unbeaten and untied, is atop the Pacific Coast Conference.

Baylor gave Washington a hefty 34-7 beating in Waco last year. The Huskies will be out for revenge and they have the guns for the job.

Crowds totaling almost 150,000 will see the four games with the biggest throng at Seattle, probably 40,000. SMU-Rice is due to get 35,000 into the Cotton Bowl and Arkansas-Texas look for 35,000.

Having hit all seven games last week, the feeling is of supreme confidence in this selection:

Texas-Arkansas—Riding with the throwing arm of Joe Clements for a close victory by Texas.

Lakeview Tries Yellow Jackets

Theodor Brown's Lakeview Rockets return to action in an important conference football game here Saturday night, meeting the Lamesa Yellow Jackets in an 8 o'clock engagement in Steer Stadium.

The Rockets were idle last weekend. They were hooked to meet Slaton but Slaton cancelled the game.

Lakeview will carry a record of three wins and one loss into the contest. The Rockets hold a 13-6 victory over Lamesa, having launched play in Lamesa.

Other Lakeview successes have come at the expense of Littlefield and Slaton. The Rockets' lone loss was at the hands of an AA school, Odessa, and that by a lone touchdown.

Probable starters for Lakeview Saturday are Robert Byrd and Robert Allen, ends; H. T. Baker and Lemuel Green, tackles; Billy Weatherall and Don Scaggs, guards; James Connor, center; Willie Roy English, quarterback; Alvin King and Clarence Williams, halfbacks; and Ernest Byrd, fullback.

Starters for Lamesa will be Leroy Gibson and Billy Johnson, ends; Leo Hunter and Henry Brasel, tackles; Willie Gibson and Elroy Henry, guards; Jerry Jamerson, center; Jerry Pennington, quarterback; Milt Conway and Joel Osborne, halfbacks; and Johnny Williams, fullback.

Following their loss to Big Spring, Lamesa registered wins over Slaton and Plainview.

Buffaloes Meet Cats Saturday

FORSAN, (SC) — Homecoming festivities at Forsan High School Saturday will be climaxed with an 8 p.m. District 7-B six-man football game between Frank Honeycutt's Buffaloes and the Water Valley Wildcats.

The reunion of Forsan school exes formally begins at 1 p.m., although there will be visitation all day. A barbecue takes place at 4 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Tickets, priced at $1 adult and 50 cents children, admit holders to both the barbecue and the game.

Bobby Cowley is president of the Ex-Students Association. Mrs. Harley Grant serves as secretary. Last year, a crowd of between 120 and 140 former students attended the Homecoming ceremony.

Forsan is slightly favored to topple the Cats. The Buffs have gathered steam after a slow start, which was caused mainly by inexperience.

Seagram's 7 Crown is American whiskey at its finest

Indiana is famous as one of America's great whiskey producing states. So it almost goes without saying that SEAGRAM'S 7 CROWN is by far Indiana's largest selling whiskey. For wherever people really appreciate the finest whiskey flavor, 7 CROWN is sure to outsell all other brands.

A Split second is the big difference!

A split second's the big difference in snagging a long drive. In your engine it's even more important. Unless it fires on the right 1/100 of a second, power works against you, not for you.

TCP is the Big Difference between Highest Octane Gasolines — gives you split-second "GO"

The more your car's engine needs high octane the more it needs TCP

With the horsepower of today's engines at an all-time high, it's no wonder they'll give you split-second "GO" at the touch of your toe.

But did you know that deposits, which build up in your engine during daily driving, soon cut down this fine response?

In combustion chambers, they glow red hot and fire the gasoline a split second before the piston reaches firing position... resulting in an incomplete power stroke.

On spark plugs, the deposits cause short circuits and your engine "misses"—wasting still more power!

High octane alone can't stop this dual power loss. TCP can.

TCP, the specially developed Shell gasoline additive, neutralizes deposits as they form. It stops both pre-firing and spark plug failure. That's how TCP keeps top octane delivering split-second response.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and top octane. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use! Fill up today at your Shell Dealer's.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and Top Octane!

The Baptism of Jesus

ALTHOUGH HE WAS WITHOUT SIN, CHRIST WAS BAPTIZED BY JOHN THE BAPTIST

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.
IN PREVIOUS seasons we have learned of the birth of John the Baptist, son of the priest Zacharias and his wife, Elizabeth, cousin of Mary, mother of Jesus. We read nothing more of him than that he "waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till his showing unto Israel."
Alone with God, away from the city, from civilization, John awaited the word of the Lord to prepare for the coming of Christ. His was "the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make His paths straight," as prophesied by the prophet Isaiah.
John mimed no words in calling the people to repentance. Rome ruled Palestine, and the rulers in the country and the priests appointed by Rome were mere tools of the Roman powers—collaborators with the state's enemies.
Coming into the country about Jordan, John preached the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins. Multitudes came to be baptized, whether in sincerity, repenting of their sins, we have no way of knowing. John adressed them in stern tones: "O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Bring forth fruits worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham."

The Jews were very proud of their descent from Abraham, so John points out that that is not so great a distinction, as God could create people from the stones lying in the street, if He wished. All asked what they should do to atone for sinning. John told them, "He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise."
Then the publicans—the tax collectors—asked him what they should do, and he answered, "Exact no more than that which is appointed you." These collectors of taxes were quite inclined to line their own pockets by collecting more money than was due for taxes.
To the soldiers John said, "Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely; and be content with your wages."

The quiet and aloneness of the wilderness undoubtedly developed in the youthful John the feeling of the nearness of God and gave him that fearlessness which made him strong to rebuke the sins of the times and to try to redeem them and prepare for the coming of Christ.
In this noise-filled world, it is difficult for us to find a quiet spot in which to commune with our souls and feel our nearness to God and His Son Jesus Christ. We condemn these ancient people for their wickedness, but are we following in the footsteps of our Master, and teaching our children also to grow up followers and worshippers of Christ?

We must not forget to thank God, too, for the millions of good people who are always ready to help others in times of trouble and disaster.

Local Group Will Attend City Session

Approximately 1,000 persons will probably attend the convention of the League of Texas Municipalities to be held at Brownsville, Oct. 24-25, according to Herbert Whitney, city manager.

Whitney, City Engineer Clifton Bellamy, City Secretary C. E. McCleeny, City Tax Assessor-Collector C. E. Johnson, and City Attorney Walter Morrison will attend the convention representing Big Spring. Most of the persons attending the meeting will be commissioners and mayors, Whitney said.

The convention will begin the morning of Oct. 24 with addresses by Congressman Jim Wright and State Commissioner of Health H. A. Holle, among others, Whitney said. Then the representatives will go into other meetings of affiliated organizations, depending on the interest of the individual.

The meetings will have the following organizations represented: Texas City Manager's Association, The Municipal Utilities League, Texas City Attorney's Association, Texas Chapter of Municipal Finance Officers Association, Texas Association of Assessing Officers, Texas Public Works Association, Association of City Personnel and Civil Services Officials of Texas, City Planners Association of Texas, and the Association of City Clerks and Secretaries of Texas.

The groups will discuss such problems as legislation affecting cities, traffic and parking problems, subdivisions and city utilities, among other things, Whitney said.

Uncle Ray: Fear During Eclipse Helped Columbus

By RAMON COFFMAN

After returning to Spain in disgrace, Columbus stayed there for a year and a half. Then he was allowed to take four caravels across the Atlantic. The purpose of this trip — the fourth and last voyage of Columbus — was to discover a water route to the Indian Ocean. Columbus supposed that such a route existed between Cuba and South America.

Q. Did Columbus take his son on this voyage?
A. He took his second son, Ferdinand, on the voyage. This son was born only a year before Columbus reached the New World on his first voyage.

Fernand had many companions on the trip. About 40 members of the crew were boys between the ages of 12 and 18 years!
Q. Was the voyage made in quick time?
A. Yes, it was fast for that period. From the Canary Islands to the West Indies, the time was only 21 days.

Q. Did an eclipse help Columbus?
A. Yes. The admiral and his sailors were marooned, in a sense of the word, on the island of Jamaica. The nearby Indians grew tired of supplying them with food. Looking through an almanac, Columbus saw that a total eclipse was due on the 29th of February. Speaking to the Indians, he said:

"The God of the Christians will punish you if you stop bringing fish and corn to us."
Q. How did Columbus know the exact time when an eclipse would happen, but the Indians supposed that he was just spinning a story. After the eclipse started at the time mentioned, the natives were filled with alarm. They ran to beg the white men to ask their deity to stop the event. A promise was made, and from that time forward the Indians supplied food. A few months later Columbus and 100 of his men succeeded in getting back to Spain from Jamaica.

Jailing Of Negro In Discovery Of Money Brings NAACP Wrath

FORT WORTH (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People may participate in Dallas' $45,000 question. Rights of a Negro charged in theft of the large sum of money unquestionably were violated, NAACP national Director G. D. Flemmings said today.

"We are interested in justice," said Flemmings, a Fort Worth dentist, "and this looks like a case of a man needing some help."

He said he will see U. S. Tate of Dallas, attorney in the NAACP. Jackson Davis, 24, Corsicana Negro arrested several months after he found the money in a thermos jug under the Dallas home of cotton broker W. A. Felder Jr., charged that:

He was held in jail at Dallas eight days. He was told, when released, not to talk about the case. A receipt for $45,170 was taken from his billfold while he was in jail. Flemmings emphasized the NAACP will not take any part in Davis' defense. He said the organization was primarily interested in denial of Davis' civil rights. "There is no question but that the man's rights were violated," he said, "if he was held in jail eight days without a charge or a chance to see an attorney."

Sheriff Bill Decker of Dallas refused yesterday to say even under whose house the money was found. Decker's chief deputy clammed up, saying no one but the sheriff knew anything about the case. A county officer asserted the case couldn't be discussed because FBI and Internal Revenue agents were interested. W. A. Murphy, FBI agent at Dallas, said "we've had nothing to do with the case."

James Cooner, chief of the intelligence division at Dallas for the Treasury Department, said that so far as he knew, "the arrest had been made a week or 10 days when we were notified."

Davis has been charged with theft over $50 from "William Felder." The charge alleged that the theft took place Jan. 26. It was filed Oct. 6.

Felder said, "I assure the money was found under my house. The colored boy said it was."

The broker said it probably had been put there by his father, who died in 1937. "The money is now in a Dallas bank in an account for the estate of my father," Felder said. Davis said he found a thermos jug containing the money when he was digging a ditch for a pipe under a house. Davis originally told the Corsicana Sun he found $48,170 in the jug. Davis said he spent about $2,000 of the money. About three weeks ago, said the Negro, two sheriff's deputies from Dallas went to the Corsicana house and questioned him about having some money. Corsicana Attorney Matt Dawson said he would help the Negro recover the money. Dawson estimated that about a third of it was in gold certificates. The attorney said he will base his action on a decision handed down last year by the Court of Civil Appeals in Waco in a similar case.

Institute Loses Tax-Free Status

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service said today it has revoked the tax-exempt status of the American Institute of Pacific Relations. The Revenue Service said it could not give its reason for taking the institute, long subject of inquiry by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, from the tax-free rolls. In recent years it was prominent in the news in connection with the case of Owen Lattimore, lecturer at Johns Hopkins University who was accused of lying to a Senate subcommittee when he denied pro-Communist leanings or associations.

Wildcat Walkout In Waco Is Ended

WACO (U.S.)—CIO members ended a two-day sit down strike at the General Tire & Rubber Co. plant shortly after midnight today.

FHA Slates More Improvements In Credit Services To Farmers

Further improvements in credit services to farmers are being made by the Farmers Home Administration, Walter T. McKay, the agency's Texas state director, said today.

Improvements in the management of the agency's operations were discussed at a training meeting held in St. Louis last week which McKay attended. A new employee training program, careful scheduling of state and county office work, public information responsibilities of agency employees, and how to get maximum use from administrative funds were discussed.

Farmers Home Administration officials attending the meeting were urged to take every step possible to further increase the participation by private lenders in the insured lending program. These funds advanced by private lenders and insured by the agency along with funds appropriated by Congress are used by farmers to buy, develop and operate family-type farms.

"With the expansion in our activities that has taken place in the last two years it is more important than ever before that we place our operations in high gear and give prompt and careful attention to every loan application," McKay said.

Farmers in Texas are served through 135 county offices located throughout the State, Howard and Glascock counties are served by the local office in the Post Office Building, Big Spring, Texas, with Fred T. Ross as county supervisor.

Suits Filed On Notes, Wages

Two suits on promissory notes for alleged unpaid wages were filed in 118th District Court Wednesday and Thursday.

In one of the suits on notes, Mrs. Eva May Hanks of Abilene and others ask judgment for $111,531.99 plus interest and attorney's fees against the Big Spring Broadcasting Company.

Mrs. Hanks, Bruce B. Meador and T. J. McMahon of Abilene; Conway C. Cralg of Corpus Christi; Houston Harde of San Angelo; Howard Barrett of Abilene, and E. W. Whipkey of Big Spring allege the $111,531.99 is due on four notes executed by the broadcasting concern on Jan. 31, 1949. The suit is described as a "friendly" one for adjudication of interests.

The First National Bank of Big Spring is plaintiff in the other suit on note. Robert Pepper Martin, doing business as the Pepper Martin Bowling Alley, is defendant. The bank asks foreclosure of a note for $2,500 executed on March 15, 1955, and due on Sept. 15, 1955. It also asks foreclosure of a chattel mortgage covering bowling alley equipment and executed to secure payment of the note.

J. D. Benson of Big Spring claims $4,200.59 in unpaid wages and accrued sick leave in a suit against the Railway Express Agency. He claims the wages are due for services he performed, but for which he was not paid, while an employee of the defendant.

Legion's Gone 'Haywire' On UNESCO, Truman Says

NEW YORK (U.S.)—Former President Harry S. Truman today accused the American Legion of going "haywire" in wanting the United States to quit the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

The Legion, in a resolution adopted by an overwhelming vote at its Miami convention yesterday, urged Congress to abolish the U.S. National Commission for UNESCO.

"The Legion doesn't know what it is talking about," declared Truman.

"They have gone haywire in the last three or four years. They don't know what they are doing."

Truman, a Legionnaire himself, voiced his feelings to reporters as he took his usual early morning stroll.

Noting that the Legion's resolution came in the face of action by a six-man Legion committee which gave UNESCO a clean bill of health, Truman asserted:

"Their own committee said that shouldn't be done."

Jess Talkin by Jess Blair

New irrigation areas continue to open up in West Texas. The latest one is near the Garden City-Big Lake road about 20 miles south of Garden City in Reagan County. A man from Brownfield bought three sections of rangeland and is putting it into cultivation.

Farmers who have been down there say the owner intends to put an irrigation well on every 80 acres and sell the land to farmers. Some of the wells already drilled have pumped as much as 600 gallons per minute, observers report.

Some of the farm experts think the 1956 cotton allotment will be cut still further for West Texas. While the reduction is not drastic for the irrigation farmer who can still grow as much as ever by applying more water and fertilizer on fewer acres, another cut or two will put the dryland cotton farmer out of business.

Even now the man on a 320-acre farm can hardly make a go of it, considering the dry years when he makes a short crop or none at all. The 100-acre farmers are already out of business. You can count on the fingers of one hand the small, dryland farmers of this area who are making a living on field crops alone.

Bluetongue took quite a toll of Glascock County sheep last summer, but ranchers think they have a way to stop it now. According to County Agent Oliver West, the new vaccine is very effective. He said very little of the disease had been found after sheep were vaccinated. One rancher vaccinated early last spring before bluetongue got started, and he didn't lose a single sheep.

Around 20,000 sheep have already been vaccinated, West said. Most ranchers plan to vaccinate early enough next year to stop the disease altogether.

In spite of all the changes in farming, cotton is still picked exactly like it was 40 years ago. I have often wondered if it couldn't be made easier by a few innovations. Why couldn't some smart fellow devise a small trailer to place the sack on and pull it up and down the rows? As any cotton picker knows, the hard work in picking cotton or pulling bolls comes in dragging a heavy sack, then lifting from 50 to 100 pounds on his shoulder and staggering a few hundred feet to the scales with it.

A small trailer would eliminate this. It could be motorized and reduce the hard work even more, however, this might be too much of a Major Hoopla idea. But putting the sack on wheels ought to be practical. I'm sure a lot of pickers would like to try out such an invention.

Some of the bracers make good money picking cotton when they can get a run of pretty weather. According to Benny Pena of the Howard County Farm Association, some of the workers can pull a thousand pounds of bolls a day. At $1.55 a hundred this is good money for any kind of unskilled labor.

"These fellows really work hard," Pena said. "They put in long hours, and usually grab a quick lunch from a paper sack and then get back to work."

Last week I received a very unusual book from the University of Texas Press. It is titled "The Midland Discovery" and gives a complete record on what the scientists have found concerning the ancient skull that was discovered last fall. The first skull bones were found in the sand dune area on the Scharbauer Ranch about six miles southwest of Midland. The finder, Keith Glascock, realized the find was of great importance and immediately contacted the Laboratory of Anthropology at Santa Fe, N. M.; and soon the oldest skull ever found in the world was confirmed.

The book is somewhat technical, and besides giving facts about the skull, also delves into the pre-historic times when the area was densely populated with animals which are now extinct. The skull bones are thought to be those of a woman about 30 years of age. About two-thirds of the skull has been pieced together, enough to determine the head shape.

The head is long and narrow and similar to other skulls found in the Southwest. Scientists have not determined the exact age in which the woman lived, but believe it to be from 10,000 to 12,000 years ago or possibly longer.

One interesting part of the book describes the finding of numerous animal bones near the site. They found two species of horses, a camel, elephant, giant sloth, pronghorn, turtle and rodents. One anthropologist said the area may have been near an ancient lake and abounded in wild animals of many kinds.

One of the horse bones showed a sharp cut believed to have been made by a sharpened stone implement. Others were charred, which caused the scientists to believe these stone-age Indians knew how to make fire.

Another thing revealed by their investigations is that the present drought is not unique in history. About 10,000 years ago the whole country went through a general drought lasting for centuries. It was during this time that the sand dunes were likely formed from blowing sand and lack of grass cover.

In addition to the bones of animals and humans, various types of stone weapons were found. Many of the arrow and spear heads look somewhat similar to the ones used by the Comanches of a much later period.

While the book is not easy to read, I believe anyone with a curiosity about the history of this area will find it very interesting. The book sells for $3.50 and may be ordered from the University of Texas Press at Austin.

THE EVIDENCE OF THINGS NOT SEEN

How do you know the sun is shining when the world is steeped in shadow? How can you believe that day is at hand when night seems all around? • The fringe of gold on the darkest clouds, the rays of light streaming over the distant horizon, the shimmering paths of silver across the shadowy waters . . . these are the evidence of what we cannot see . . . the promise of dawning day. • Well did the Biblical writer describe faith as "the evidence of things not seen." For in man's darkest hour faith is his assurance that God is near . . . that God cares. • Religious faith is no panacea to drive away dark clouds. The somber clouds as well as the blue skies belong to life. But faith is man's pathway of promise, beckoning across the dark waters to the bright horizon. • We all need that pathway of promise. Adults need it to meet and overcome the many disturbances of life. Children need it to grow into courageous, moral men and women. • The Church continually teaches faith in God. And regular worship deepens faith. Attend the church of your choice . . . attend it regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

TV Commercials Steal Show In Comedy Field

By LUCILLE PICKLE
Now that we finally got that television set I have been giving a lot of attention to the commercials. Also I have been giving particular attention to those programs concerning how to restore glamour—that is in case you ever had any. Recently there was an hour long program on the merits of correct makeup and hair styling for women who, I presume, are approaching that terrible age of forty. The 'mug' shot of them before was something to behold. Their hair was pulled straight or left hanging, depending on which way was the most unattractive to their particular shaped face. If they had any brows or lashes the picture was left unretouched so as to make them look as much like sombels as possible. The hairs were nothing and not one of them had any semblance of a smile.

LINCOLN FOR 1956

Longest... Lowest... Most Powerful Lincoln of all time!

Here—pictured the way you see it as it sweeps majestically by—is the new one that's been turning so many heads. And no wonder.

Lincoln for 1956—the longest, lowest, roomiest, most powerful Lincoln of all time—is far and away the newest car on the road.

It's a larger, more luxurious Lincoln—obviously. And from hooded headlights to jet-pod exhausts, the refreshing, clean-lined Lincoln look goes beautifully with this great new size. Inside, greater size means more room, and the leg-room, shoulder-room and hat-room (all increased) comfortably belie the snug-to-the-ground lowness of Lincoln's new silhouette.

And that's just a starter. Match this new Lincoln against any other fine car—on luxury, on safety, and especially on performance—and you'll soon find out why we say this car is the finest in the fine car field.

Most important of all, this new Lincoln is never too proud to prove all we say: Come in any time and take a few turns behind the wheel.

The only completely new car in the fine car field
► New 285-hp Lincoln engine with more usable power than any other car ► New Lincoln Turbo-Drive—most versatile, most obedient of all automatic drives ► New firm, yet gentle ride and effortless handling ease ► New individualized interiors—29 to choose from ► New safety all around you: Retracted steering column with Safety-Flex steering wheel . . . triple strength safety-plus door locks . . . optional safety belts . . . largest windshield area in any car.

Unmistakably . . . the finest in the fine car field

A Bible Thought For Today

The Unified Road System—A Principle

Saturday voters of Howard County will decide whether they want to abandon the Unified Road System under the 1947 optional road law...

This paper has taken a stand against abandoning the plan—in other words in favor of keeping the framework of a unified road program as spelled out under terms of the optional road law.

Our position is based on the promise that although not perfect, the Unified System is logically and potentially the most efficient not only for today, but more so for the future.

By the declarations of most members of the court and by past experience, we could assume that some elements of a unified plan would be operated regardless... of 1947 in operation would be the safeguard against this possibility.

The reason we believe that the Unified System is actually and potentially the best plan is that universal experience has taught that the bigger a business becomes the more imperative is its need of more cohesive organization.

The processes of centralized purchasing and direction of men and equipment offer too great a possibility to be left to variable. A principle is at stake.

How do you feel about it? Whether for abandoning the Optional Road Law of 1947 (Unified System) or against abandoning it, you have the civic responsibility of voting Saturday.

Loveliest Time Of The Year

We appreciate and cherish the thousands of newcomers who have made Big Spring their home during the last twelve months.

But we feel they are entitled to a word of caution regarding our climate. We urge them not to assume that October weather is spread out over the entire twelve months.

The lighting is superb, as though the very gods themselves leaned down out of heaven and broadcast just the right shade of blue to arrest the admiration of all mankind...

the whole fairy scene might explode at any minute. This special Texas October blue permeates everything, earth, trees, buildings and sky...

For the benefit of our newcomers we point out that by special permission our Texas astronomers were empowered this October to provide two full moons for the celebration of the state's 5 million-plus people...

We bring these matters to the attention of newcomers as a matter of fair play. You cannot, dear people, expect October weather the year round.

Joseph & Stuart Alsop Will The President Make A Choice?

WASHINGTON—As soon as President Eisenhower is well enough to talk politics he will be urged by influential Republican party leaders to do two things.

First, he will be urged to take himself out of the 1956 race as soon as possible. If he feels he must do so—and despite the good news from Denver, hardly anybody believes that he will run again.

As long as there is thought to be the faintest chance of his running the magic Eisenhower name will kill all other candidacies, as surely as the fabled apple tree kills everything in its shade.

On the contrary, the Republican party managers privately admit that they are badly worried, above all by the evidence that many Middle Western farmers are turning against the Party.

Suppose that the President gives the nod to the man of his choice by March or April—say to Vice President Richard Nixon, whom most of the organization men favor.

As Harold E. Stassen has said, "The man President Eisenhower wishes to have nominated will be nominated." Stassen is certainly right.

Everybody's In The Act

James Marlow GOP Worries Over Nomination Method

WASHINGTON (AP)—Already a division of opinion has developed among Republican strategists over the best method of choosing a presidential nominee in the event President Eisenhower doesn't run in 1956.

Some GOP leaders have been discussing privately the possibility of trying to persuade the President—in case he intends to step aside—to indicate whom he would support for the nomination.

The argument here is that unless Eisenhower makes such a move, the Republican party will be ripped apart by a bitter pre-convention fight between candidates seeking the nomination.

Some GOP leaders, as previously reported in this column, feel that a nod of approval from Eisenhower would have such political force that it could very well prevent a knock-out fight and unify the party behind one man early in the campaign next year.

But Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), Senate minority leader, has declared his opposition to any such pre-convention maneuvering.

The senator said: "The nation will be better served by a wide-open Republican primary."

And then he added without clarification that he didn't regard "a Popesdot smile, a ready quip, an actor's perfection with lines, nor an ability to avoid issues, as qualifications for high office."

He didn't say at whom this barb was aimed and politicians will have to draw their own conclusions.

But his call for an open primary would seem to foreclose any agreement among party chiefs that Eisenhower name the man he wants to receive the nomination.

Thus it appears almost certain that both Republicans and Democrats will find themselves embroiled in convention fights and forced to postpone dreams of "unity" until after the nominations have been made.

On the Democratic side, a contest is developing between supporters of Adlai Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York even before either of them has announced he will be a candidate.

Hal Boyle He Gets Along Without It

NEW HOLLAND, Pa. (AP)—What would life be like if you owned no automobile, never drank a beverage stronger than water, never attended a dance, movie or stage show, and lived in a house that had no electric lights, radio or television set?

"My life is happy," said Dave Huyard, who lives in this manner. He is a well-to-do, 48-year-old farmer who wears a neatly trimmed beard and in good weather likes to go about his acres barefooted.

Huyard is an Amishman, a member of "the plain people," a religious sect whose members are dedicated to simple living and a high standard of conduct.

Although they cling to old-fashioned ways—they usually take their children out of school at 14 to teach them farm and household work—the Amish are highly regarded by their more modern neighbors.

The quaintly-garbed Amish men and boys wear big-brimmed black hats, girls and women wear bonnets—are regarded by tourists to the Pennsylvania Dutch Country with a mixture of awe and amusement.

To find out first hand about their way of life I called on Huyard at the suggestion of a man he knew well.

"We believe in the New Testament and in doing justice to ourselves and our neighbors," he said slowly. "We are against war and strife. We try to live an honest life according to the Golden Rule.

There are not supposed to be any quarrels among us, but—his gentle face relaxed in a rueful smile—"of course, difficulties sometimes do arise."

But they usually aren't decided in a law court. They are settled within the congregation.

Few Amish become doctors, lawyers, policemen or railroad conductors, and none I talked to ever heard of one who was a politician.

"We recommend our people to stay on the land," said Huyard. Those who cannot buy land work on farms or in such trades as carpentering until they can afford acres of their own.

An Amish farmer, since he cannot use electricity depends on horses for his power, usually works from dawn to dusk every day except Sunday.

Although some Amish young men and women are being weaned away from old paths by the temptations of modern comforts, Huyard expressed the belief that the number of traditional or "old order" Amish is increasing steadily.

There are settlements of the sect in Ohio, Iowa, Indiana, Maryland and Virginia.

Steam Threshers

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—Remember the Avery 40? If you grew up in the Midwest wheat belt you may know this was one of the old steam operated threshing machines, now displaced by combines.

More than 4,000 Americans who remember the steam-power harvesters have joined the National Threshers Assn., organized 10 years ago by a handful of old steam operators in nearby Alverton.

They had 30 of the old machines at their latest annual meeting. Focal point of the meeting was firing up one of the venerable machines for a short demonstration of old-time steam threshing—the way it was done 50 years ago.

Four years later, a car he was driving upset and caught fire. He was badly burned. This month a motor boat in which he was riding exploded near Port Clinton.

Around The Rim

Electronic 'Brain' Has Its Limits

Having finished (for the time being, at least) with the Mongols, we are off on another tangent—this time, we're prophets. Our article last week being centered around an electronic brain which could do practically everything with an automobile except backward driving, we naturally were drawn to an Associated Press article on the Weather Bureau's hurricane warning troubles, and the use of a giant electronic brain in forecasting.

All of which brought to fruition an idea that's been floating around in our subconscious since we first started reading science fiction—namely, the truth or untruth of dire predictions that the human race will eventually be replaced by robots controlled by a central giant electronic brain.

We're not a bit worried—at least, not about the electronic brains. The hydrogen bomb may be something else again, but that's not our subject for today. Truth is, the electronic brains are not really brains at all—they're nothing but complicated computers; or, as a scientific wit once had it, "glorified adding machines."

No scientist has yet laid his finger upon the secret of the human brain, but there are some things about it that it is doubtful could ever be built into a computer. Instinct and emotion, for example. And the "hunches" that have so often proved right.

We recall a science fiction yarn about warfare in space—it seems computers had first been built to play an unbeatable chess game, and had then been applied to problems of warfare, which are said to be similar. Outer space was represented as a giant chess board with the spaceships as pawns, rooks, etc. The upshot was that the generals, simply by consulting their computers, could tell if the battle was won or lost—without firing a shot.

And that brings us the clincher—a computer, no matter how huge or complicated, is limited by the knowledge of its makers. And no one has ever probed the limits of the human mind.

Joe College Getting Entirely Too Smart

Amid the encircling gloom with which American youth is perennially viewed by its elders a torch has just been lit in the Ivy League.

To be specific, Yale University has made the embarrassing discovery that today's Joe College is smarter than his old man, a fact that only Joe himself has never doubted for a single instance.

However, official university confirmation is handy when writing home for money. And the current crew-cut are so smart that Yale, after an agonizing reappraisal of requirements for the dean's honor list, has finally decided to raise the sights.

Before World War II, from 25 to 30 per cent of Yale undergraduates, by dint of caffeine and midnight oil, made the honor list. But in the 10 years since that war, nearly half the undergraduate student body has made the list. Like all inflation, this has undermined and sapped the true value of the honors.

The situation came to a pretty scholastic pass last spring when 57 per cent of the Yale graduating class landed on the dean's honor list without half trying.

This alarming state of affairs, indicating the general egg-headedness of the present college crop, forced the university to examine the whole situation. Yale reached the only possible conclusion: Joe College is a ball of academic fire, no matter what his prejudiced parents and the general public think.

To permit Joe, circa 1955, to attain the dean's honor list on the same academic basis as his pa and grandpa, the university decided, was merely to ask Joe to shoot fish in a barrel. It was obvious that what was good enough for his father wasn't good enough for Joe.

So, "to preserve the prestige of the list," Yale has announced that the general average of 80, standard requirement for the list in the old dim-wit past, has been junked. From now on, the junior Einsteins will have to be in the top 25 per cent of their classes in order to land on the dean's list. Things are tough all over, and Joe has certainly made them tougher for himself at Yale.

Now it occurs to me that if this condition of scholastic excellence exists at Yale, it must be pretty universal in college circles. This is a very encouraging thought, indeed.

I base this belief — and I hope I am not prejudiced — on an old assumption of mine that any student body that would voluntarily adopt as its college song any ditty as maudlin and generally puerile as "The Whiffenpoof Song" cannot be very strong in the head.

If collegians who persist in going around in public baa-ing like a black sheep — or a white one, for that matter — can crack scholastic records, then it stands to reason that other colleges and universities are jammed with intellectual giants.

Huey Long never quite succeeded in making every man a king. But, bless me! Yale may yet get 'em all into Phi Beta Kappa.

Business Mirror

Perfect Weather Increases Surplus

NEW YORK (AP)—Perfect weather is bringing an embarrassment of riches.

The nation's second largest harvest is good news for the eating public—but a worry to the politicians.

And today the economists are beginning to wonder out loud how high the surpluses can be piled before they get so top-heavy as to threaten a toppling of good times in general.

The Agriculture Department reports that ideal weather in September increased the prospects of the cotton crop by 8 per cent. The farmers are now expected to pick a crop 2 per cent higher than in 1954—in spite of government controls that cut cotton acreage by 14 per cent.

September's perfect days sent the prospects of corn higher—and the crop will be well above last year's. Farmers can translate that into more meat for American tables. But livestock production is already high, and meat prices are weak in the wholesale markets.

Other crops that September smiled upon are rice, peanuts, tobacco and grain sorghums.

Although the wheat harvest is smaller than last year's, it's higher than the goal set by the government.

Total farm income this year is running behind last year and is about one-sixth below the record set in 1951.

Farmers have been putting new machines and methods into use. They get more production out of an acre of land. And they get more output out of a farm worker. So there are fewer employed on farms now, and more rural workers seek factory jobs. There are five million fewer workers on farms now than in 1920, although the harvests are much larger.

The Federal Reserve Board reports that "the general financial position of farmers remains relatively strong." It notes a rise in farm debts to finance production and to buy more land, but it says this debt is "still fairly low in relation to current levels of farm income, the large volume of liquid assets held by farmers, and the value of farm real estate."

But with the weather boosting surplus crops—and an election coming up—the political question of what to do about over-production and weakening prices seems bound to hit new heights of sound and fury in the months ahead.

Hollywood Review

Time For Fewer Show Biz Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Observation: "Isn't it about time show business stopped being in love with itself?"

This viewer was struck with that thought when viewing the NBC color spectacular, "Show Biz." It was passable entertainment, but how many cavalcades of the show world can the public take?

The same reaction was evoked by the Judy Garland spectacular.

Too many stars have been stricken by the disease of reminiscing about entertainment. What they should do is entertain, not talk about it.

The classic examples are the oldtimers who refuse to quit. Perhaps they are still great performers. But you can't tell, because they keep gabbing about how they wowed 'em at the Palace, rolled 'em in the isles, (sic) smashed 'em in Dubuque.

So what? Can they still entertain this generation? That is the question.

singers and dancers gave her such a build-up that you expected a combination of Sarah Bernhardt and Queen Elizabeth to come on stage. There was bound to be a letdown.

Sammy Davis Jr. is another example. He is a great talent. Groucho Marx once remarked:

"He is the most extraordinary performer I've ever seen. He can sing better than Jolson and dance better than Astaire, and he's a great mimic. He can even imitate me, and that's about as low as you can go."

All Davis has to do is display his amazing talents. But he spends too much time on night club floors describing his early years and eulogizing his dad and uncle, "who taught me everything I know."

So please, performers, no more medleys starting with a rousing chorus of "There's No Business Like Show Business." Just show us what you can do.

As Shakespeare might have said, "The play's the thing, not talking about the play."

Alert drivers are safe drivers. Avoid drowsiness and driving fitters. Chew gum while you're behind the wheel. Chewing helps relieve strain and tension—helps keep you feeling fresh and alert. Chew any brand you like, but chew while you drive. Naturally we recommend refreshing, delicious Wrigley's Spearmint Gum—for lively, full-bodied flavor and real, smooth chewing enjoyment!

Message Failure Causes Shutdown At Shoe Factory

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)—A dispute stemming from an employee's failure to receive a message from his wife that she was ill resulted in a shutdown yesterday of the International Shoe Co. plant, which employs 600 persons.

A company spokesman said the employee's failure to receive the message "was definitely a misunderstanding."

The worker said his wife suffered a miscarriage and was unconscious when he arrived home from work last Thursday. His wife, three months pregnant, had telephoned the plant 20 minutes before he was off duty.

"The employee should have been notified," the spokesman said, but there was a mixup between the foreman and an assistant as to which one was to relay the message.

A shutdown was forced by a walkout of about 50 CIO boot and shoe workers in the employee's department, who had demanded the foreman be fired. The company spokesman said the plant would remain closed until next Monday.

Officials of the union declined comment but said they would have a statement later.

Rancher Brings Babies To U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—Harry Holt, 50, a grizzled pied piper from Oregon, shepherded 12 Korean-American babies through crowded Tokyo International airport today to a plane taking them to new homes in the United States.

Of the 12, eight have been adopted by Holt, a bushy-browed rancher and sawmill owner who has been in Korea since June completing arrangements.

Four of the children will be adopted by three other American families.

The children range in age from 8-month-old Betty to Joe, 3½. One of the children is being adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hobbs, Corpus Christi, Tex.

Sears Stock Given To FFA Members

COLORADO CITY — The Future Farmers chapter here was awarded $123.68 by the Sears Roebuck Foundation last week to be invested in registered livestock and given to deserving Future Farmers. These will return a female animal back to the FFA Chapter to be given to some other boy.

Bob Post, local FFA teacher, said five Chester White gilts and a registered boar had been purchased with the Sears funds and the gilts had been given to Gene Blasingame, Richard Keathley, Don Holman, James Barber and James Barkley. The boar will be kept by the students in turn.

When questioned concerning the effect of the city's new livestock law on school enrollment, Post said that, as expected, there had been some drop, adding that project requirements of the FFA course would probably result in the elimination of youngsters living in the city limits from farm studies.

Under the new ordinance, those keeping livestock within the city limits without a permit or within 150 feet of any dwelling place can be fined $100 per day for the offense.
