Food Stamps to Be Issued Here Next Week

Food stamps bridge the gap between farm surpluses and under consumption and strengthen our national health defenses. The Food Stamp Plan has three major objectives as follows:

1. Aid to American farmers through the creation of larger markets for domestic farm products.
2. Aid to the underprivileged through increasing their food purchasing power so that they may buy more food and have a wider variety of the necessary wholesome foods essential to good health.
3. Aid to business by utilizing normal trade channels for the distribution of food products to families certified for public assistance.

The Food Stamp Plan will be operated by the Surplus Marketing Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture in cooperation with local officials, welfare agencies, food merchants and banks.

Food stamps are issued in two colors, orange and blue. The orange stamps may be used to buy any food product taken home for human consumption. The blue stamps can be used only to purchase farm products which the Secretary of Agriculture has designated as surplus.

Any householder living in Coleman County who has been certified as receiving or eligible to receive public assistance by the Coleman County Department of Public Welfare is eligible to participate in the Food Stamp Plan.

Each eligible person will receive a letter from the Surplus Marketing Administration and the Department of Welfare. This letter, with the envelope, is to be brought to the Stamp Issuing Office by the eligible person. An identification card will be issued to the client at that time.

It is necessary that the person certified sign certain records before the first stamps can be issued. Certified clients may designate a member of the family or a friend to act as agent, if absolute necessary.

Stamps may be received at the Stamp Issuing Office, Coleman County Agricultural Building, Coleman, Texas.

The client then takes the Stamp Book to his retail food merchant, purchase the products desired and give the Merchant the correct number and color Food Stamps. The covers must be returned to the Food Stamp Issuing Office where they were purchased before additional books can be obtained.

Food Program

BALLINGER MEN INVENT DEVICE TO CHECK AIR PRESSURE IN TIRES

Greater safety to persons in automobiles and airplane is the purpose of tire pressure indicator recently devised and patented by four Ballinger men. A small warning light will be installed on the dash board of an automobile or on the instrument panel of an airplane to warn driver or pilot that one of his tires is low. A gauge is to be built on the rim of the wheel, which sets up an electrical contact and causes the warning light to burn when the tire starts losing air.

The main feature of the indicator is safety.

Housekeeping Aid Project To Start

The new Housekeeping Aid project for Santa Anna is to be in full operation by June 1st, according to reliable information.

The project is of great value to our city inasmuch that it employs all local people and the services they render are extended to only local parties, thus making it entirely a home operated and home benefit project.

The purpose of the Housekeeping Aid Project is threefold:

1. To provide employment for needy women who are able to work but for whom private employment is not available.
2. To care for the households of the needy, where the housewife is temporarily incapacitated because of ill health or confinement.
3. To teach the housewife of the needy families to utilize the materials on hand to the best advantage.

Families eligible for temporary free home assistance are those low-income families whose income will not permit them to hire help to take the place of the homemaker in time of an emergency, and/or whose income will not permit them to rehabilitate their homes without instructions and assistance in the use of available materials.

Low-income families within the town where the project operates may be referred to the Housekeeping Aid Project for any of the following reasons:

1. The mother is ill.
2. Other members of the family are ill.
3. The homemaker is absent for a temporary period because of an emergency.
4. Need for instructions and assistance in teaching the homemaker:
 - a. Cooking
 - b. Sewing mending, and renovation of garments.
 - c. Child care
 - d. Home improvement.
 - e. Arrangement of furniture.
 - f. Home sanitation.
 - g. Gardening and canning

The wages of the employees of the Housekeeping Aid Project are paid by the Federal Government. The City of Santa Anna and Coleman County provide for the location of the project site, essential equipment, furnishings, and demonstration materials and supplies necessary for the operation of the project, and the uniforms and health examinations for the workers.

The project site is set up as a typical low-income home, where the women employed are trained in the various phases of homemaking duties by a college graduate with home economics training.

On being assigned to the project, the women are given a five day, pre-service training before they are sent out into the homes to render free, temporary assistance. Once each week thereafter, they return to the project site for further training and experience in all phases of home-making activities. It is through such training that many of the furnishings for the project site are reconditioned and many are made from available materials at little or no cost, so that eventually the house becomes a demonstration of a typical low-income home within the reach of any family.

A meeting was held at the City Hall in Santa Anna, Thursday, May 8th, at which Miss Lura Hank of San Angelo explained the project in full. Chamber of Commerce Secty, J. D. Motley, Mayor Geo. Johnson and Commissioner, A. D. Donham were present together with the following local people, E. H. Spencer, Mesdames J. R. Gilson, Edd

Cotton Week

Trade organizations, growers processors, wholesalers and retailers will participate in programs of National Cotton Week, set for May 16 to 25 and recognized officially in Texas by proclamation of Gov. Lee O'Daniel.

A National Cotton Week Committee has been appointed by the State-wide Cotton Committee of Texas, which represents every phase of the cotton industry and allied interests in the state. The committee of 38 members, will coordinate all the activities and programs surrounding National Cotton Week in Texas, sad Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the State-wide Cotton Committee, in announcing its make-up.

The observance this year will be the eleventh in an unbroken series, begun with the object of increasing the use of cotton and its products at home. In 1931, 14,000 stores in the nation participated, and it is estimated that 150,000 will take part in the movement this year. In 1938 the domestic consumption of cotton was approximately 6,000,000 bales, and if the current rate of consumption in the United States is sustained 10,000,000 will be absorbed this year, Jackson estimated.

An important factor in consumption is the mattress-making program of the A. and M. College Extension Service. Mildred Horton, vice director of the committee, said that the goal during 1941 is to utilize 40,000 to 50,000 bales in the mattress and cotton comfort work.

Fashion shows and cotton balls have been suggested as additional means of making the public more cotton conscious. The committee will ask merchants to feature goods made of cotton during the week, and county home demonstration councils will work with service clubs and commercial organizations to promote larger use of cotton products.

HOSPITAL DAY AT LOCAL INSTITUTION SUCCESSFUL

Due to the cooperation of the Santa Anna News in the publicity donated, the help from the hospital advisory board, the placards painted by Loyd Burris and the beautiful flowers donated and arranged by the Santa Anna Garden Club, the Sealy Hospital Staff considers National Hospital Day a success.

More than one hundred and fifty visitors registered during the afternoon and were conducted through the various departments of the hospital. Rev. Smith, as is his custom, was present to show the visitors about.

Many of the mothers and babies were unable to attend, due to sickness and their familiar faces were missed and we only hope that all of them will be able to attend the next Home Coming.

You, who had any part in making the day a success, either as a guest or in giving your time to help, we appreciate it and take this opportunity to thank each of you. We shall look forward to your visit on National Hospital Day in 1941—Sealy Hospital.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN DROP in every once in a while and arrest a few—an infinitesimal few—of the lawbreakers, traffic obstructors and life-endangers who daily cause everyone but themselves to cuss and rave over the foolish way they park. Almost as sure as the sun rises, if there is one car parked in a full city block, some yap will stop his car in the street right behind that one parked car and get out into traffic on the driver's side and go off for ten to thirty minutes. One adleplate parked his car in the street behind another, locked the doors, with brake on and gears meshed, and was gone almost half an hour. And they don't give a hoot if they endanger life and limb. A good object lesson would be for them to get their car wrecked and their cunks thumped good and hard by the collision. We need a Safety Day in Santa Anna and auto drivers need lessons, worst of all.

It is contrary to the law of averages, but it is not impossible that eight or ten years more, barring accident, may intervene before the circle is broken.

And Then the Warden Slowly Walked Away--

Hunting deer at night with a spotlight has been practiced in the Southern States pretty heavily of late. It keeps game wardens on the jump.

Last season a Georgia warden stopped a man and a woman with two deer strapped to the running board of the car. The warden asked the usual questions, and then he noticed that both animals had been shot midway between the eyes.

"All right," the warden answered quickly. "If you're that good you should be able to hit my watch at 75 yards." He paced off the distance and hung his watch on a tree. The woman objected, but the warden overruled her.

Washington Snapshots
 by JAMES PRESTON
 Washington officials—particularly those connected with defense activities—hope the nation got as much inspiration and comfort as they did out of a recent development which illustrates what a free nation can do.

It involved steps necessary to call into full operation all of the nation's tremendous industrial productive capacity so that the country can be made so strong that no aggressor will dare to attack it.

One reason why American production in but a few short months has speeded up as much as Germany's did in several years is that the United States method has been different up to this point. The men who know what their factories and the men and machines in them can produce are still being consulted.

The recent development is part of an interesting story which begins in 1919. In that year the United States made plans for any future emergency which called for industrial mobilization.

As part of that plan, government officials made continued surveys of some 20,000 major factories to find out what defense goods they could turn out on short notice.

Last summer however it became apparent to some that in these days of mechanized warfare the 20,000 factories alone could not do the whole job.

So the National Association of Manufacturers and some 150 national, state and local manufacturers' associations affiliated in the National Industrial Council decided to do the job.

After a necessarily long period in which all government agencies were consulted about the information they might want, and creation of the machinery necessary to handle the inventory, the job was begun.

OPM Associate Director Hillman told his press conference he was drafting plans with the AFL and CIO for a four-shift day, 160-hour week for all defense industries able to use extra labor.

The War Department announced that only three one-hundredths of one percent of the total time worked has been lost because of labor troubles on its $1,200,000,000 construction program.

President Roosevelt, directing "whatever action is needed" to speed the production of heavy bombers, said in a letter to War Secretary Stimson that command of the air by the democracies must be achieved even if it means "a great strain on our production effort."

Secretary of War Stimson said in a radio speech that American freedom will not be saved "unless we are ready to sacrifice, and if need be, die."

Mr. Stimson said "at least a Cabinet Officers Speak Secretary of War Stimson said in a radio speech that American freedom will not be saved "unless we are ready to sacrifice, and if need be, die."

It is within our power to turn the tide of "darkness back" by using the Navy to "secure the seas for the delivery of our munitions to Great Britain . . . and . . . hold in check the onward rush of the tide of Nazism until the other defense forces of all the democracies are completed."

Mr. Stimson said "at least a Cabinet Officers Speak Secretary of War Stimson said in a radio speech that American freedom will not be saved "unless we are ready to sacrifice, and if need be, die."

Editorial

SANTA ANNA MERCHANTS have the biggest chance in many a day to build up a good trade, promote the welfare of their town, make appreciative friends of their entire trade territory IF they handle the situation right. Most of the business men with whom we have talked this week have a clear understanding of what is ahead of them; a few others think the Good Lord will take care of them and their affairs if they let down and do nothing but depend on the Lord—as seemingly they consider the thing to do. The business establishments of this town have had to fight for their field, and those who have prospered have done so for valid reasons—good or bad. Just now they are all putting up $1.35 a week for two purposes—the second predicated on the first: To bring more people to town and to SELL MORE GOODS. The investment of $1.35 will produce $1.35 worth of business on the AVERAGE for 31 merchants. The live merchant is able to see that bringing the extra people to town will do just that. But they want to INCREASE sales when they get these people into town. Those depending on the Lord will make no effort to induce these extra people to trade with them. Because they fall down on the job they will hurt all the other merchants, and in the end they will be confirmed knockers on all things co-operative. Their contribution to co-operation being one thirty five, they'll get back one thirty five instead of five hundred dollars, and that is going to sour them and endanger the whole proposition. We MUST make a success of this matter, and to make it a success all of the signatories to Appreciation Day MUST DO THEIR PART. Expecting one thirty five to bring the people to the town, tell them what they are offering and INCREASING your sales is too much to expect. Ever hear of a farmer buying acreage, broadcasting seed on top of the unplowed ground and then set back and wait for the crop to cultivate and harvest itself? Some of our contributors to the trade program are DOING JUST THAT. They want to increase their business, they want the proposition to be a success for all, they sincerely hope it will be all that even the least sanguine anticipate, but they say they see no reason to cultivate now, but sit tight and wait for the crop to harvest itself and march into the grainery and barn. Getting the people to town is one thing—selling them a big bill of goods is a different story. People may come to town in droves to look on at "the doings", and then go to other towns where merchants are consistently and persistently pounding it into their consciences that they have something they want to sell to them, hammering home the descriptions and prices and making every effort to capitalize the trade of the crowd that comes to their town. If any other town gets ahead of Santa Anna it is because of two things: large towns affording larger stocks for selections or merchants with the "gumption, git-up and git" to BUILD up business. It's not the getting crowds to town that counts—it's what you offer them when they get there. Co-operate and build our town.

THE STORY THE MEDALS TELL

By R. A. JEFFREYS, Editor
The Santa Anna (Tex.) News

This chapter deals exclusively with the commemorative and campaign medals issued by foreign governments and to which practically every man in the 90th Division, with the exception of replacements shortly before the Armistice is entitled to wear. There were medals issued foreign soldiers who fought in Siberia, Belgium and Italy, but of these we do not have full data. Information on these can be secured from an authorized dealer in U. S. and foreign medals. The list below is proper for all men in the 90th Division who went to the front with the division, saw service in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Arnonne fronts and were in line on the 11th of November. Other divisions are entitled to one or more of them for having served in the same sectors and for the required time.

French Commemorative
Medallion obverse: helmeted Victory, profile, with sword hilt and olive branch surmounted by oak leaf cluster from which the ribbon bar appends, the ribbon passing full width instead of through a ring. Reverse: "Republique Francaise. Grande Guerre 1914-1918." Ribbon: five red and six white stripes. Issued to all soldiers serving in France between the French war dates.

French Interallied Victory
On regular victory ribbon. Obverse of medallion: Erect winged victory holding aloft a wreath in left hand, olive branch in right. Reverse: "R. F. Grande Guerre Pour la Civilisation 1914-1918." Issued to all troops seeing three months' service in the zone of the armies in any capacity, or for approximately three months if at the front on November 11.

The St. Mihiel Medal
The St. Mihiel Medal is issued by the City of St. Mihiel to all soldiers serving in that sector. The medallion: obverse: crowned Victory with flag, pointing embattled poleis forward, and the words "St. Mihiel 1918". Reverse emblematic scroll and background with a brief eulogy in English and French on the operation of the American army. Ribbon three broad stripes, center red, outer golden yellow.

The Verdun Medal
Issued by the City of Verdun, for service in the Verdun and the St. Mihiel sectors, and with names of recipients entered in the Book of Gold in the Hotel de Ville. Obverse: Helmed Victory with sword and clenched fist, the words "On ne pas" on a castle, the name Verdun and the date "21 Fevrier 1916". Ribbon: narrow tricolor red-white-blue on border, broad red center stripe.

White Russian Commemorative
Imperial Cross of the Order of St. Nicholas, issued on the authority of the Exiled Czar of all the Russias, commemorating participation and faithful service by all allied soldiers in the World War; issued in the USA by the American Branch of the Grand Council, General A. J. Elshin, President; in Europe by the British branch in London. The medallion, a Maltese cross centered with a bust view of Czar Nicholas, between the arms of the cross the Russian double-headed eagle supporting the orb and cross, backed by crossed swords. Reverse: plain back of obverse ornaments but in the center an oval with Russian lettering and the date 1914-1917. General Elshin's troops fought side by side with American soldiers in Siberia and embarked with them when the SEP came out of Siberia. The Armistice found them in the State of Washington, where they reside now, not daring to return to their native land.

All of the above medals are procurable on proof of right to wear them. Regulation size of medal and ribbon bar are available. In the miniature medals the Russian medal alone is not obtainable. Miniature ribbons may be had of all of them.

TEXAS WOULD SWAP FLAGS WITH MEXICO

Texas-Mexican war trophies would become symbols of peace under the terms of a resolution introduced in the Texas Senate Wednesday of last week. The resolution proposed that flags captured by Santa Anna at the Alamo and by Sam Houston at San Jacinto be exchanged as a gesture of friendship. The Texas flag captured by the Mexicans is now in a Mexican City museum; the Mexican flag taken by Texans is now in Austin.

Mozelle News

By Mrs. A. B. Johnson

Schools are closing in the Mozelle consolidated school district this week. The seven elementary schools of Voss, Hardin, Elliott, Starkweather, Gould, Brown Ranch and Loss Creek close this week. The high school closes May 18.

Thirty graduates from the high school, and sixty from the elementary schools are listed for graduation exercises, all of which take place in the Mozelle high school auditorium. Baccalaureate services were held last Sunday night with Don H. Morris, President of Abilene Christian College, as principal speaker.

Rob O'Hara of Coleman will speak at the seventh grade exercises and Senator Penrose B. Medcalf of San Angela is to speak at the high school commencement service next Friday night.

Sheep shearing in the Mozelle district is well under way. The shearers are unusually scarce in South Coleman County. The shearers report that fleecing worms are found in almost every flock that has been sheared so far. The average price accepted for wool that has been contracted in the area, previously, seems to have been around 30 to 32 cents, with several contracts at 35c. The few fall lambs that have been sold in this district seem to range in price around five dollars per head. There has been a good percentage of spring lambs.

The new Coleman County Quartette Convention met at the Brown Ranch auditorium, Thursday night, May 8. The purpose of the organization is to promote good singing. The place of meeting will be changed from time to time. The next meeting will be held at the Presbyterian Church in Santa Anna this will be the third meeting. The first was held at Shield, James Dunn of Shield is president, Frank Allen of Mozelle, vice president, and Gene Bell of Fisk, secretary. The second Thursday night in each month has been named as the time of meeting. It is a county wide organization and all interested in good singing are invited.

POSITIONS OPEN FOR SPECIALISTS IN VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

The Office of Education in the Federal Security Agency has positions open for specialists in vocational education in agriculture, paying $3,800 a year. The U. S. Civil Service Commission has just announced an examination to fill these positions. Applications will be accepted at the Commission's Washington office not later than June 17, 1941.

Completion of a 4-year college course in agriculture is required, as well as a minimum of 5 years of appropriate experience. Two years of the experience must have been in teaching vocational agriculture, and 2 years in supervision or teaching or training in a program of vocational education in agriculture, below college level. No written test will be given, but applicants will be rated on their education and experience.

The duties of these specialists will include making studies basic to the development of programs of vocational education in agriculture in States and local communities. This will involve cooperative work in the preparation of material and bulletins and in the development of State and local programs in part-time and evening instruction and in teacher training.

Further information and application forms may be obtained at any first- or second class post-office, or from the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

ADVANCE PAYMENTS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF FARM STORAGE BINS

Wheat farmers who construct new farm storage bins or substantially repair old storage structures will be able to obtain an advance storage allowance of seven cents a bushel from the Commodity Credit Corporation if a loan is offered this year.

The advance rental offer is expected to result in greatly increased construction of farm storage facilities in Texas. The large carry-over of wheat and other grains and the prospects of large crops in 1941, combined with the national defense transportation requirements, may result in grain storage becoming quite a problem this year. Limited available elevator storage space at terminal, sub-terminal, and country points would seriously interfere with the orderly handling of the grain and would deduce the effectiveness of the Ever-Normal Granary.

The advance rent would be in force only if a loan were offered in 1941 crop. If marketing quotas are proclaimed, as is anticipated and voted down, then no loan will be available on this year's crop.

Under the plan, the Commodity Credit Corporation has agreed, if loans are made available, to advance a storage allowance of seven cents a bushel at the time the loan is made to any eligible producer who has provided additional approved farm storage facilities for the storing of the 1941 wheat crop by the construction during 1941 of new storage space or by substantial repairs during 1941 on existing structures which are not now suitable for storage of wheat. The advance would be made only on the number of bushels which would be stored in the additional storage facilities.

who built our town?

WE built our town. We built its streets, its bridges, its water supply system, its offices, factories and its homes.

We built it according to our own needs and our own desires. We didn't model it after any other town.

We used our own local Construction Industry to do the building. Our own carpenters, plumbers, mechanics, electricians, architects, builders and bankers.

We're still building our town the way we want to - with our own builders, our own money.

Every family that lives in our town helps to build it. We're all builders. And whatever you build, you're bound to benefit your neighbors.

That's the way Construction has always worked. Individuals build freely for themselves, their business, for their families. And others benefit too.

The life-blood of Construction is the opportunity to build as we choose, when we choose, where we choose. That's the meaning of individual initiative - free enterprise.

That's the American way of building. And we're still building our town the American way.

Invest now - in your own home - in your own community.

12 YEAR PLAN ADOPTED FOR SANTA ANNA SCHOOLS

The School Board of Santa Anna has adopted the 12-year grade school plan for next year. It will be necessary to use four new text books, arithmetic, English, spelling and writing. Indications now are that all high schools in the county will operate on this plan next year.

About 50% of the larger schools in Texas have already adopted the plan and it is believed that at least 85 or 90 per-centage of schools in Texas will use it by next school term.
