An additional project on the Comal school bus road was ordered to start with Mat Martin as WPA supervisor and to cost $10,810, WPA to furnish $7,977 and the county $2,835. It is expected the work will continue five months.

Senator Robinson Replies To Smith

Senator Joe Robinson, democrat house leader in the U. S. Senate, and running mate of Al Smith in 1928, replied to Smith's attack on the Roosevelt administration in a nation wide hook-up Tuesday night.

Former Governor Smith was loud and haughty in his attack Saturday night when he addressed the Liberty League, assembled in Washington, but his record, according to his former running mate, advocated the very things Mr. Roosevelt has tried to do. The former governor of New York was proved to be most everything except something decent in the discussion Tuesday night by Senator Robinson.

MRS. G. P. LAYNE DIES AFTER WEEK'S ILLNESS

The people of Florence and community were again saddened Monday afternoon when it was learned that Mrs. G. P. Layne had passed away at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Layne of this place, after an illness of one week. At a performance in Lampasas, of the Mary Layne Vaudeville Co., of which she was a member, Mrs. Layne became ill, and although she had since been confined to her bed the extreme seriousness of her condition was not realized until shortly before the end.

Minnie Smith was born in Bell county January 3, 1898; died in Florence January 13, 1936. She was married to G. P. Layne June 3, 1906, and to this union was born one son, Aaron, who with her husband survives her. She also leaves one brother and three sisters: Robert Smith and Mrs. J. L. Lewis of Heidenheimer, Mrs. S. L. Lewis, Belin, N. M., and Mrs. E. Spraberry, Elna, Texas.

In 1909 Mrs. Layne was converted, and united with the Baptist Church at Santa Anna, and lived a true Christian life. Rev. Roy Dural, Pastor of the Florence Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. C. T. Brockette of the Florence Methodist Church conducted the funeral services at the Baptist Church Tuesday morning at 11:00 o'clock, following which interment was made in Florence cemetery in the presence of a large gathering of sorrowing relatives and friends. Pall bearers were: P. A. Wales, John J. Watson, O. T. Books, W. A. Reynolds, Wm. McDaniel and I. H. Preslar.

SENATOR CONNALLY OFFERS REVISED FARM RELIEF PROGRAM

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—Senator Tom Connally has revived the export debenture farm relief plan as a substitute for farm relief legislation in view of the decision of the Supreme Court holding unconstitutional the Agricultural Adjustment Act. His plan is not exclusive but may possibly be linked with other farm legislation in order to make a complete program.

A bill embodying the export debenture will be introduced in the Senate, by Senator Connally this week.

The export debenture for farm products is based upon the same principle as the protective tariff except that it is made applicable to exports rather than imports. Since the farmer must pay a tariff on manufactured goods and must sell his exportable surplus in a world free market, it is the Senator's theory that on the exportable surplus of farm products the farmer should receive compensating benefits in order to lift the price of farm commodities to a fair level with manufactured and industrial goods.

The bill provides that the Treasury shall issue Treasury certificates for cotton, wheat, and other farm products which may be exported. Such certificates are redeemable by the Treasury and are negotiable and may be used for the payment of duties on imports. The amount of the certificate on each pound of cotton or bushel of wheat will be fixed with a view to giving the farmer an increase of his price. By thus lifting the export price of such commodities the price in the domestic markets will be lifted to the same levels. Tariff schedules would prohibit the reimportation of such exported surplus in order to protect the Treasury and the domestic market.

In commenting on the measure, Senator Connally said: "When the manufacturer cannot compete in the domestic market with imported goods the government gives him an import tariff in order that he may do so. If the farmer cannot compete in foreign markets why not give him an export tariff to equalize conditions and enable him to buy manufactured articles which cost him more by reason of the tariff?"

The export debenture farm relief plan was advocated by Senator Connally when first a candidate for the Senate in 1928. In 1929 the plan in the form of an amendment to the Farm Board Act passed the Senate on two occasions but was rejected by the House of Representatives during the Hoover Administration.

"Agriculture is entitled," said Senator Connally, "to permanent legislation which will put the farmer upon an economic level with industry and manufacturing groups. The export debenture plan is designed to secure that end. It may be used either singly or as a part of a more comprehensive program of farm relief and I am earnestly and aggressively supporting it. At the last session of Congress we were able to secure an amendment to the revised Agricultural Adjustment Act, appropriating thirty per cent of revenues from tariffs on imports as a fund to be used by the Secretary of Agriculture for benefit payments to the farmers. That amendment was carrying partially into effect the export debenture idea. Agriculture must be saved. The export debenture plan will go a long way toward that desirable objective."

Ernest Walters, student of John Tarleton College at Stephenville visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Vinson this week. He returned to school Wednesday to register for the spring term.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Claborn of Okra spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Grady Adams.

Coleman County Trustees Organize

Feeling that they should keep informed with the educational advancement of our county and state, the trustees of Coleman County perfected an organization Saturday. W. J. Curry was elected president, M. A. Richardson, vice president, and M. A. Ford, secretary.

The trustees expressed themselves as feeling that their "job" is one that demands study. That the acceptance of the responsibilities of trustee calls for a sacrifice on the part of a member, and since the community expects an efficient school, the welfare of the children demands that the trustee produce results. Education is changing, and problems must, and will arise.

"The administration of the schools is becoming more complex. The trustee should be prepared to meet every challenge. Investigation and thought should form a background for each vital decision.

Meetings will be held for the exchange of ideas. Speakers, authorities on problems of the trustee, will address the members, and other phases of the work will receive consideration. It is, indeed, a forward move for the children of Coleman County.

Trustees and patrons, not in attendance at the organization meeting, are urged to be present at the next regular meeting to be held the last Saturday in March.

Farmers Approve Agriculture Control

Two hundred and fifty farmers of Taylor county, in a mass meeting here Saturday afternoon, expressed themselves almost unanimously for immediate action on agriculture control, and climaxed their session by telegraphing their desires to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Congressman Thomas L. Blanton and Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard.

With only three dissenting votes the gathering favored the agricultural control program now proposed before congress to replace the AAA invalidated by the supreme court on January 6. Declaring that "agriculture should be given the same protection as other industries," the vote was just as strong for restriction of powers of the supreme court or amendment of the constitution to give congress greater power to legislate for farm control or conservation.

Taylor county farmers, who still are due approximately $14,000 on AAA agreements, were enthusiastic over the house action for an appropriation to pay off the contracts. They voted 196 to 3 in favor of the appropriation.

One speaker brought up the issue of retiring supreme justices at the age of 70, declaring that the replacement of present members might mean the appointment of judges more favorable to agricultural interests. Walter Hammond of Tye, who was chairman, also placed that issue before the gathering. The vote was 167 for retirement at 70, to 6 against.

Sentiments expressed in the meeting, called to determine farm opinion in this county, were embodied in the messages to administration leaders.

Here is the text of the telegrams sent to Connally, Sheppard, Blanton and Wallace:

"Taylor county farmers voted 99 per cent for continuation of the agricultural control program, for payment on all contracts and for restricting the powers of the supreme court or amending the constitution to insure agriculture the same protection enjoyed by other industries. This meeting was called by farmers, and 250 attended. Appreciate your efforts for us."

The messages were signed by Hammond, as chairman of the cotton committee; H. H. Roberts, wheat chairman, and Lee Baker, head of the corn-hog committee.

In addition, 16 individuals sent wires to Washington urging leaders to push an agricultural program through immediately.

The recovery of the commodity tax by processors also came in for discussion during the conference, farmers protesting the return of the tax impounded to packers and millers "The tax rightfully belongs to the consumers. All that the processors did was collect it," declared Alf Bowles of Potosi. He was loudly applauded.

Senate approval of the $298,185,000 appropriation voted Friday by the house to pay benefits to farmers under the invalidated AAA would mean an additional $12,000 to $14,000 to Taylor county farmers. There is approximately $8,000 due on cotton contracts, between $3,000 and $4,000 on corn-hog agreements, and $2,000 on wheat contracts.

To Celebrate 26th Anniversary Of Scouting

More than one million Boy Scouts and Scouters throughout America will celebrate the 26th Anniversary of Scouting in America, Feb. 7-13th. and on February 8th, Anniversary Day, will congregate, and listen to the broadcast of the Boy Scout program. At 8:15 all will stand and repeat the Scout Oath. This will probably be a part of the broadcast program led by the President of the United States and James E. West, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, who has just celebrated his twenty-fifth Anniversary in Scouting.

Boy Scout Troops of the Chisholm Trail Council will hold special celebrations including services on Boy Scout Sunday, February 9th. The theme of Boy Scout Week, 1936, "Carrying On The Traditions of Scouting," has struck a popular note. From all over the country come echoes of enthusiasm and plans for local celebrations.

The Chisholm Trail Council offers the following plans: Feb. 7th — Troop Celebration Day.

Feb. 8th — The Actual Anniversary Day, National Broadcast, Repeat Scout Oath at 8:15 p. m.

Feb. 9th — Boy Scout Sunday.

Feb. 10th — School Celebration Day.

Feb. 12th — Citizenship Day.

It is suggested that window displays be planned for each community. That good publicity be given in each newspaper—that an Anniversary Banquet be held for Scouts and Parents, featuring scout activities. A Anniversary Banquet is a tradition in the Chisholm Trail Council and each year practically one thousand Chisholm Trail Council scouts enjoy this medium of bringing together the scouts and parents for an evening of Scout education, fun, fellowship and good eats. All Scouts know thoroughly the 13th Scout Law, "A Scout Is Always Hungry."

This year, for the first time in the Chisholm Trail Council, will witness the introduction of Cubs, the young boys of the ages 9-10-11. Cubbing is the Younger Boy Program sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America.

January 1936, more than one million scouts registered in the United States of America. Twenty Six years of Scouting in America.

Wristen-Eubank

Miss Vivian Wristen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wristen, and Mr. Martel Eubank were united in marriage at 8:00 Saturday evening. The quiet wedding took place at the Christian Church, with the Rev. A. L. Haley reading the impressive ceremony.

At present the couple are at home in Santa Anna.

SANTA FE EMPLOYEES JOIN SAFE DRIVING CAMPAIGN

All the employees of the Santa Fe Railway company have joined 100 per cent in the National Safe Driving Campaign being organized throughout the country, and their automobiles will carry windshield stickers, showing they have pledged themselves to cooperate with the National Safety Council, calling for a reduction in loss of life and property thru automobile mishaps.

The Santa Fe is the first railway company to take the matter up with their employees and urge a full cooperation. May others follow their example.

Santa Anna News

FRIDAY, JANUARY 31, 1936

J. J. Gregg, Editor & Publisher. Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice, Santa Anna, Texas.

If we were going out to find two of the greatest imbeciles, ingrates, or betrayers of friendship, we would strike a bee-line for New York, look up Al Smith and declare the work finished, for he is equal to any other two we could hope to find. Smith's Washington address delivered before the Liberty League last Saturday night very clearly reveals the insignificance of his loyalty to a friend, in the criticizing of the President and his program. Mr. Smith says "If Mr. Roosevelt is renominated at the Philadelphia convention in June, I will take a walk." Well, it would be a relief to the intelligent people of the United States if he would continue his walk until he lands in Russia, and then just walk on the other way when he decides to walk some more.

President Roosevelt has never posed as a perfect man, and admits that he is just human and subject to error the same as other people, therefore it would be unreasonable to expect his every act to be a perfect one, but his administration has meant a great deal to the people of the United States, and we believe most of his program will some day be put into effect. Personally this writer has taken issue with him in a few instances, but his general program has been intended for the betterment and improvement. Those who criticize him have never offered a solution to his big problems. Instead, they have just criticized.

One of the strangest things about running a newspaper is the fact that a typographical error that escapes detection by every printer and proof reader in the office, as soon as the paper is off the press, looms up like a red traffic light. It is hard to imagine then, how anyone could miss seeing it.

Breaks Pig Bank!

Thomas McGonigle, carpenter, put five cents in the pig bank every day. That is what he figured he saved by doing without a telephone. He had put in $4.35 before he found out that a man had tried to call him first, then paid $19.00 elsewhere for some work. The $4.35 saved had cost plenty of profit. McGonigle broke his pig bank and ordered a telephone today.

SAHS PICTURES ARRIVE

The pictures of the SAHS students arrived January 27. Some were very good, while others were not so good. Naturally some wouldn't be pretty and if you think you will know why, Mr. Dean's picture must not be one of the "pretty ones" because he refuses to show it. Mr. Womack may think his all right because there was a group gathered about him. It isn't the beauty that counts as the old saying goes, "Pretty is as pretty does."

SAHS Four Qualities Necessary For A Success In Life

It is not necessary to be a noted author, a poet, or a preacher to succeed in life, but you can succeed in the way you are inclined to go. You can succeed as a father or as a mother. No matter what way you take there are four qualities that are essential.

The first quality is health. The good health of its citizens is recognized as the greatest asset a country can have. It would be dreary to have to spend most of your life in bed, or to be a weakling. One who has little resistance to illness is continually in fear.

The second quality is education. A person without an education does not have the possibility that a person has with an education. Almost every employment requires knowledge. Today the world needs men with the wisdom of Joseph.

The third quality is morality. The employer is looking for a righteous and honest man. Be a person with high ideals. In building a sound foundation for life, you would certainly include morality.

The fourth quality is perseverance. When we think of perseverance, we think of a person who holds out until he reaches his goal regardless of the difficulties.

Be Strong! It matters not how deep entrenched the wrong. How hard the battle goes, the day how long, Faint not, fight on! Tomorrow comes the song.

SAHS SIMPLE THINGS

Things of life are simple things; Yet people grow so tired. That they want to take up fairy wings

And fly to a higher laird.

Things of beauty are simple things; Yet people are never contented. They take up wings and fly away. And leave what God intended.

And yet, people pass onward Searching and losing time; Never knowing that higher things are not recorded. But it is the simpler things of life.

SAHS FOR SALE

Two good teeth - Mr. Prescott. My way with women - Jack Price. My chances for a diploma - Mary Lee Ford. Car riders - Beulah Tisdell. Science tests - Freshman class. No e ways to make money - Junior class.

SAHS WE WONDER WHY

Gene is so happy today. J. T. rides around with Charlotte at the dinner hour. Maurine thought it was so cold Friday night. Gladys Porter goes to Rockwood for week-ends. Hazel Gilbert seems so happy. Do is Spencer wants a red dress. Students have to take exams.

SAHS "B's and D's"

I think that I shall never see A "D" as lovely as a "B" A "B" whose rounded form is pressed Upon the records of the blessed. A "D" comes easily - and yet, It isn't easy to forget. "D's" are made by fools like me, But only Mr. Scarborough could make a "B."

SAHS NOW AND THEN

H. L. Voss wears a tie. The freshmen get quiet. Mr. Prescott gets quite angry. Quinton Huder is teased about a certain junior girl. Billie Burk Pope wears a beautiful diamond. Picta es are taken of students in Santa Anna High School. Limping Lane.

SAHS WE WONDER WHY IT ISN'T

Mary Policeman instead of Mary Constable. Glenda Williamsdaughter instead of Williamson. Doris Saucers instead of Doris Cupps. Page Corn instead of Page Mays. Robert Hateless instead of Robert Loveless. Loraine P eacher instead of Loraine Parsons.

SAHS Constructive Journalism

No feature of newspaper work is recognized as more important than the constructive force of journalism in promoting good-will and co-operation among all classes and all sections of our country. Harmony and prosperity, and our financial and industrial welfare upon the understanding of one class or section by another.

It is a well established fact of history, that newspapers have enormous latent constructive or destructive power - they can make a war or spoil a peace.

Their influence in either direction is tremendous - possibly greater than many editors are willing to admit.

Newspapers are an institution of democracy, but their power and influence can be no greater than the thought prompting and supporting their editorial policy.

SAHS Clerk: Care to buy a nice letter opener, sir?

Mr. Scarborough: Don't need one. I'm married.

Carrie: Is it true, Ruth, that you are going to be married soon?

Ruth Leady: Well, no it isn't but I am very grateful for the rumor.

Mr. Womack (pointing to cigarette stub on floor): Frank, is this yours?

Frank: Reckon not, you saw it first.

Jim: Robert, I heard Mr. Prescott called you a blockhead. Did he?

Robert: No, he just said "Pull down your cap, here comes a woodpecker."

Mary Tom Jones: Little boy, how old is your mother?

Carson Horner: Aw, she was forty-two, but she's marked down to twenty-seven.

Judge: J. T., I don't ever expect to see you here again.

J. T. Oakes: You ain't resigning the office of being judge, air you?

Annie Nickens: Good morning, sir. Will you take a chair? Instalment collector: No thank you, ma'am. I've come to take the radio.

Voice over the phone: Sarah says she isn't in. Is there any message?

Other end of line: Yes, tell her that E. W. didn't call.

Margaret Jones: No, P. B. isn't rich; in fact, he can hardly raise the money to keep going.

Mrs. Jones: Then I'd tell him not to keep coming.

Max Price: What is more beautiful than having three little words whispered in your ear?

Mary Garrett (a gold digger): Having them in writing, dearie.

Milton Johnson: Have you ever loved before?

Fleda Perry: No, Milton, I have often admired men for their strength, courage, beauty or intelligence, but for you, Milton, it is all love, nothing else.

Mr. Lock: Now, M. L., how much do six and four make?

M. L.: Eleven.

Mr. Lock: Guess again.

M. L.: Twelve, - nine, 13.

Mr. Lock: How about ten.

M. L.: Oh, you can't mix me up that way. Five and five makes 10.

Bill Early was very careless about his personal effect. When Mrs. Early saw clothing scattered about on the chair and floor she inquired: "Who didn't hang up his clothes when he went to bed?"

A muffled voice from under the blanket murmured "Adam."

Mrs. Dean (angrily to her drunken husband): I suppose you expect me to believe you came straight home from the office.

Mr. Dean: Sure, hic - I came home just like the crow flies.

Mrs. Dean: So I see. Stopping frequently for a little corn.

E. W. Polk: I'll drink to the day I win the woman I love.

Max Price: I'll drink to the day I marry a millionaire.

Sam Forehand: G'wan with ye! I'll think to the day I die.

William Mitchell: I want to buy a pencil.

Clerk: Hard or soft?

William: Hard, it's for a stiff examination.

P. B. Lightfoot: Do you like the simple things? Annelo: Are you proposing?

Mr. Lock: Chester, do you smoke?

Chester: Yes, sir; got a match?

Ruby Lee Price: Do you think I can do anything with my voice?

Miss Harvey: It may come in handy in case of a fire.

Miss McCreary: Frank, compare the adjective ill.

Frank McGonagill: Ill, sicker, dead.

Mr. Dean: Did you answer me?

Edward Dillingham: I shook my head.

Mr. Dean: But you did not expect me to hear it rattle way up here.

FOR COMMISSIONER

J. L. (Jim) Harris called at this office Wednesday and placed with us his announcement for Commissioner of Precinct 2, Coleman county.

Mr. Harris came here from Lampasas county about seven years ago. He is a carpenter by trade. Mrs. Harris has been teaching in the Santa Anna Ward School since the family moved here.

Mr. Harris feels he is fully competent and well qualified to fill the office of Commissioner, and promises if elected, to give his very best in service. He is a comparatively young man with plenty of business experience, born and reared in the heart of Texas, and knows something of what is required to fill a public office.

When the call was made in 1917 for men to go into service for the defense of their country, Jim Harris, accompanied by a "buddy" friend, was the first to leave home and enter training, and remained in the service until the world conflict was over, spending more than a year overseas.

He makes his announcement subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in July, and will now state your favorable consideration during the campaign and your vote at the polls July 25th. He will make a personal campaign and further place his claims before you prior to the election.

FOR PUBLIC WEAHER

John C. Newman called at this office Wednesday morning and authorized us to place his name in our announcement column as a candidate for the office of Public Weigher, precinct No. 7.

Mr. Newman has lived here all his life, is fully qualified to fill the office, and states that, if elected, he will give his very best in service and try to carry on the affairs of the office with fairness to all and special privileges to none. John is too well known to need any further introduction at our hands. He will make a personal campaign during the summer and place his claims before you. In the meantime he will appreciate any favors and very kindly solicits your support and influence during the campaign and your favorable consideration at the polls in July.

SCRIBBLERS HAVE RALLY

The Scribblers held their rally at the home of Miss Marilyn Baxter Monday evening. Ex-Scribblers were invited to meet with the club. A peppy social hour was enjoyed, and prizes were awarded to the girls who won first place in the advertisement, movie, and slogan contests staged.

Pineapple punch and cake were served to the following: Misses Mattie Ella McCreary, Gwendolyn Oakes, Elva Lou, Annie Niekens, Mary Lee Ford, Margaret Jones, Gale Collier, Ruth Laverne Irics, Ruth Conley, Emma John Blake, Irma Nell, and Rheta Boardman and May Campbell, ex-Scribblers.

Poultry Hints

1. Not more than 250 to 300 baby chicks should be placed in a 10x12 brooder house. More will mean crowding and this is a great hazard. At least one square foot of space for every two chicks is needed. Corners in the brooder house should be built out so that chicks cannot pack up in them and smother.

2. The heavier or general purpose breeds, such as Barred and White Rocks, R. I. Reds, and White Wyandottes are better for broilers than Leghorns or other light breeds. Usually the heavier breeds will weigh about 10 per cent more at 12 weeks of age than Leghorn cockrels, and the markets will usually pay more for the heavier breed broilers.

3. Because "like begets like," pullets hatched from large eggs (24 to 26 ounces per dozen) will lay larger eggs than those hatched from small ones. Hatching eggs should weigh 24 to 26 ounces per dozen.

4. Hens that lay thin of soft-shelled eggs usually are not receiving the proper kind or quantity of mineral matter. Such hens should have crushed oyster shell kept before them all the time, or a small quantity (not over 1 per cent) of ground oyster shell added to the laying mash.

FFA NEWS

Poultry houses that are cold, damp, dark, drafty, or otherwise uncomfortable or insanitary may often be made efficient and satisfactory at small cost except for the labor.

Drafts due to too long a house can be remedied by putting solid partitions across every 20 or 30 feet, and such dividing up into pens usually helps in managing the flock. From 20 to 24 feet in width makes the house most comfortable, especially when fowls are on the roosts.

In making an addition to a shed-type house, it usually is best to make the roof of the new part slope forward so as to make an uneven span gable roof. This saves in material and avoids carrying the front part unnecessarily high, as would be necessary with a single slope roof. Less leakage and better roof life will be secured if the slope is at least four inches for each foot of span. More and more farmers are putting metal roofing over old composition or single roots that are giving trouble.

Many poultry houses that are cold and frosty will be very materially improved by putting a straw loft about 6 or 7 feet above the floor. This is easily made by putting joists across with slats nailed on the under side or laid on top, and then covered with from 12 to 18 inches of clean straw. Frames covered with tightly stretched woven wire fencing and wired to the under side of the joists will be more convenient for changing the straw. Where the back wall is less than 6 feet high above the floor, the straw loft can be slanted down to meet it, or can be put straight across to the rafters and the rafters celled or insulated from there down.

The great merit of the straw loft is that it lets the moist air work up through and thus helps to keep the building dry, while at the same time it holds in a good part of the animal heat which would otherwise be lost. Experiments have shown that a straw loft keeps a poultry house several degrees warmer in winter and cooler in summer, thus offering worth while protection against sudden temperature changes.

FFA NEWS

Hens That Lay Two Eggs A Day: We are learning many things about birds that we never knew before by keeping them in laying batteries. For instance, the experience of many if not all poultrymen who keep hens in cages and at least one experiment station shows that a certain per cent of all birds lay two eggs per day. Nearly 14 per cent of the pullets we have had in our batteries longest have laid two eggs a day occasionally, but we have none that are phenomenal in this respect.

There are probably at least a few birds in every good sized flock that lays two eggs a day, and this has evidently been true for years, or after hens had been bred for increased production for several years. But heretofore there has been no way of knowing it. At first thought it seems that this trait would have been discovered by trap nesting, but in most cases the caretaker has probably assumed that he had made a mistake when he discovered a bird on the nest the second time in one day. When two eggs a day are laid by a bird each one appears to be normal in size and all qualities. When a bird lays two eggs a day several times a month it increases her production quite considerably, as it does not appear to affect her production immediately before or after she lays them. That is, she does not skip a day or two just because she lays two in one day.

WHON H. D. C.

The Whon Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon, January 28, in the home of Mrs. Ida Herring. Because of so much bad weather and illness, there were only five members present and four visitors. Miss Young, the Home Demonstration Agent, met with the club. Mrs. O. C. Love took charge of the meeting as neither the president nor vice-president was present. The meeting opened with a song, club pledge, and prayer.

Miss Young gave a very interesting talk on the bed room: arranging the furniture, refinishing bed room furniture, the kind of furniture to buy and not to buy, and bed room color schemes. She also talked with the members about their Year Books and explained them. Report cards were given out to help keep the year's records more accurately.

The club's next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Terry Floyd on February 11. Miss Young will meet the club again March 10, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Rehm, where she will demonstrate putting out roses and making rose gardens. She hopes to be able to put out some roses so that the club will get full benefit of the demonstration. -Reporter

(Mrs. William Sheffield) Everyone is tired of the cold weather and would like to see a good rain.

The Home Demonstration Club had a forty-two party at the E. L. Woodward home Friday night. Everyone seemed to have an enjoyable time. The neck of each guest was measured, then the guests were required to pay a penny an inch for their neck measurements. In this unique and comical way, the treasury had a nice increase. Delicious home-made candy was served to the guests.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE

Mrs. J. L. Boggus entertained Saturday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Alton Davis, who was Miss Pauline England before her recent marriage.

As the guests arrived they registered in the attractive Bride's Book. The bride's chair was decorated in pink and white, which was the color scheme used throughout the afternoon.

A number of hilarious games were played, some of which the honoree won first place. She won the first prize awarded, which was a frying pan, and was the only one able to piece her name out of a mad scramble of the alphabet. In the Style Show, Mrs. Dennis Kelley was dressed in an ancient regalia of several combinations, and Mrs. George England won first prize for naming the largest number of articles Mrs. Kelley was wearing. The prize, a potato mash, was presented to the bride.

Maudie Catherine Ashmore gave a clever reading on "Sister's Beau," and Joyce Hill gave another on "Husbands."

As the climax of the afternoon, Beth and Joyce Lock pulled a wagon beautifully decorated, filled with gifts, into the room. On top of the wagon of gifts was a miniature replica of the Plainview school house, where Mrs. Davis teaches. Many nice gifts were opened by the gracious bride, and viewed by the large group of guests.

Refreshment plates were served to the following: Mesdames J. E. Watkins, Reba McCreary, Jack Pruitt, Will Howard, F. B. Hill, Jr., J. E. Ford, Nettie Mitchell, R. D. Kelley, D. R. Hill, R. Afterwards the committees were appointed to carry out our club work for the present year. Our council members gave a report on council meetings. Then Mrs. Todd presented Mrs. Hugh Powell with a surprise shower.

Later in the evening refreshments were served to nineteen members.

Our next meeting will be February 7th in the home of our bedroom demonstrator, Mrs. Dick West.

Our club is increasing in members and we hope it will continue to increase.—Reporter

BARRICADE BANQUET

A Barricade banquet was immensely enjoyed by the Oliver Young Women's Auxiliary members Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. R. Lock.

The girls, all very curious, were not disappointed. After an opening song and prayer, and a duet "The Light of the World is Jesus," by Rosalie Niell and Rhea Boardman, the girls were taken to the dining room, where the table was set for a four course dinner. The menu was as follows: Chicken salad, curried cake, Brazilian nuts, Russian tea, and Japanese cookies.

The chicken salad was cut out paper chickens that had items of foreign missions pasted on the back of them. The girls took turn about reading these articles and then were served the second course—pictures of tea leaves that instructed the girls to have sentence prayers.

On the pictures of cake, the girls found current events which they read in turn. The Brazilian nuts, when broken, were found to contain scriptures and various happenings in Brazil.

The business meeting was then held, and the girls voted to have a Mite Box. The purpose of this is for each girl, on her birthday, to put the number of her years in pennies in the box, and at any time the girls wish, they may add any amount they choose to the box. At the end of the year, the money will be sent to the Reverend and Mrs. A. Ben Oliver, former citizens of Santa Anna, now missionaries to Brazil, and for whom the Y. W. A. is named.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Lock served tea and cake to the following girls: Edith Verne Stephens, Rosalie Niell, Lavada May, Rhea Boardman, Carlene Ashmore, Frances Gregg and Lillie Hosh.
