This is the fourth of a series of special Cosden presentations, recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with Cosden for 15 years and longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of its workers who have contributed to its success through so many years.

G. L. MONRONEY

In March, 1929, a fellow passed through Big Spring, enroute from Illinois to California. He saw a refinery under construction east of the city, and stopped to see about employment.

Garrett Lewis Monroney landed a job, and has been with the Cosden Petroleum Corporation ever since. His first assignment was in the Forsan production fields as a roustabout; later he was made a pumper.

In April, 1930, he was sent to Pettus as a roustabout; eight years later was transferred to the Iatan-East Howard Field; and in 1940 was sent back as a pumper to Forsan, where he has remained since, overseeing wells on the Cosden Monroney was elected to the school board at Forsan in 1940, and has served: ever since. He is a faithful worker in the Masonic Lodge (past master and past secretary); the American Legion (past commander); the VFW, the Eastern Star and the Forsan Service Club.

Native of Yale, Illinois, Monroney is a World War I veteran, and spent a year overseas with a railroad battalion in the Engineers.

He and Mrs. Monroney are the parents of three: Wayne, a World War II vet; Gwendolyn, married and living in New York; and Evelyn, married and living in Forsan.

HOMES LIKE THIS

Are you dissatisfied with your job? Would you like to make some money, be financially independent? Here's the opportunity of a lifetime for you to go into business for yourself and make money doing it.

E. J. Burke & Son, Inc., who recently have built and profitshiy sold more than 700 low-cost homes in the Burkeshire and Highland Hills additions in San Antonio, are looking for ambitious, level headed young men who are financially responsible and interested in going into business for themselves.

NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY

Under the plan of assistance offered by Burke & Sons, you do not need to know anything about home building. Burke & Sons will teach you how to build homes, and supply you with all building materials needed to build. But that's not all. When you qualify, here's what Burke & Sons will do to help you make

- Show you how to select your building sites and inform you about modern land planning techniques.
- Explain how to lay out your building project for FHA
- Advise you on financial masters in connection with your
- 4. Assist you in erecting these homes. Experts will be sent to show you how to build. Their years of experience will
- & Give you on the job instruction in modern building
- 6. Supply you with all building materials, including many critical items. These materials, delivered direct to your building site, offer you a saving on each home of from $300 to $500 in labor costs alone. Mass production methods in the various Burke & Sons yards offer you pre-cut lumber, off-site and truss type construction at a price lower than retail. This is not pre-labricated housing. Those homes you build are to be sturdly constructed, according to strict FHA standards. The plans of these homes have the flexibility of custom home building. If you qualify, you are awarded an exclusive franchise for building and selling Burke-supplied homes in your area.

The assistance, guidance and instruction cost you nothing. Burks & Sons will teach you the home building business so you can make money. In turn, you buy your building materials from

Ezzell Recalls Mass Collision Of Navy Ships

A piece in the August issue of Men's magazine means something to Earl Ezzell.

He was aboard a ship in a convoy which figured in the greatest mass collision in maritime history, and the magazine describes it tersely

It was on May 27, 1945 that a westbound Allied convoy was nearing Newfoundland in a dense fog when one ran into an iceberg. Immediately it sent out a radio warning and the other 75 steered so sharply that they missed the berg but 22 struck each other within 10

Miraculously, not a ship sank and no one was injured. Ezzell said officers did not advise them of what the trouble was at the moment, but the men knew enough to be scared.

HENRY HARREL ... New Orleans Niftie

Wrestling Promoter Pat O'Dowdy presents what he thinks is his best card in months Monday night at his Sportatorium/on East Third street. In the main event, O'Dowdy is sending Billy Weidner, the Boston man of muscles, out against ponderous Frankie Hill Murdock of Fort Worth.

Murdock cleared the decks for a Curtis away last week. He did it after Curtis had won the first fall in something like seven seconds. Weidner is one of the most popular muscle heads ever to work here. He doesn't keep one eye in the buzzard's roost with the thought in mind of pleasing the paying gentry. However, he fights a good, clean fight, a factor which naturally gives him crowd appeal. The Murdock-Weidner duel is only half the attraction, however. In the opener, O'Dowdy has matched Al Getz of Pittsburgh. The financial outlook of the Sher- a year ago, chalked up his 16th Penna., against popular Henry Like Murdock, Getz is an out-

New Swim Class To Begin Monday

Current schedule on the YMCA swimming classes was concluded Saturday and a new cycle will begin Monday.

Bobo Hardy, director of the athletic program for the YMCA, said that a new class for beginners would start at 9:30 a. m. Monday with sessions on Monday and Friday mornings.

At the same time a class for intermediates (graduates of the beginners class which concluded Saturday) will start at 10:30 a. m., the same hour for a class for advanced swimmers. These two classes meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Another new class will be for women, who will receive lessons 14 each Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. Approximately 50 children have learned to swim during the first cycle of the courses. Well over 100 including intermediates and advanced, were enrolled. Those interested in the course, which requires only pool fees and the nomi-

Texas Twins Are Tough

By WILBUR MARTIN

LONGVIEW, July 24 - A couple of sandy-haired, frecklefaced twins are making it double tough in Texas tennis tournaments. Shirley and Sharon Caldwell, two look elikes who think alike on the courts, have combined six weeks coaching, a friendly tip from a pair of old campaigners, and natur-ing marriage of Miss Stripling to Darrell Webb was announced at the tea with large silver covered wedding rings bearing their names. The wedding will be solemnized in the First Methodist church on the evening of Aug. 6 with the Rev. Alsie Carlton officiating.

Other members of the houseparty at the tea were Mrs. Joy Stripling of Levelland, Mrs. John Stripling of Abilene, Mrs. Bernard Lamun, Mrs-Clyde Thomas, Sr., Mrs. L. R. Mundt and Jane Ellen Stripling. Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Sr. presided at the punch service and Jane Stripling registered guests. The receiving line was composed of the honoree, the two hostesses, and Mrs. A. D. Webb, Sr., mother of the bridegroom-to-be.

Miss Stripling was attired in a beige sheer fromal with sequin trim. Her corsage was of pink and white gladioli. All members of the houseparty wore formals.

The lace laid table was appointed with crystal, and pink rosebuds were used as part of the centerpiece which had as focal point of interest the double wedding rings. Dahlias and gladioli were used as the house decorations. Colors of pink and white were used for the color scheme. The marriage of Ada Mary, Patty Bell Hull, dressed in a

Paul Whiteman's Daughter Stars As M.C. At 16

By JEAN MEEGAN AP Newsfeatures Writer Margot Whiteman's entry into radio as a mistress of ceremonies is an accident.

When her father had a head cold one winter Saturday night she pinch hit for him as M. C. of the Paul Whiteman teen age club dance in their home town of Lambertville, N. J.

Margot, 16, slim, blonde, convent-educated, was good. She had an adequate supply of patter. Her voice was clear, her comments crisp.

Whiteman, who made public such talents as Morton Downey, Mildred Bailey, Bing Crosby, both Dorseys, Jack Teagarden, was proud of his youngest. He put her on his matinee program as a special guest on his birthday.

Charles C. Barry, the network's vice-president in charge of pro-gramming, was impressed with her naturalness and sincerity. He hired her for "Tomorrow's Tops," a talent hunt among the teen agers.

"Pops" Whiteman dryly commented when he heard the news: Why she's been studying piano and dancing all her life-and here she is going to work as a talker!' Margot's mother is Margaret ivingston, the former motion motion picture star. Her daughter's dream is to follow in her footsteps. "If I do." Margot said on her first interview, "I would spend my money on a home for girls like Father Flanagan's is for boys."

Cosden Loses 55,000 Barrels In Oil Blaze

Loss of oil in a blazing tank was begged at 55,000 barrels Saturday by Cosden Petroleum Corp.

Recovery of oil from the tank was cut below expectations when the tank collapsed after little more than 20,000 barrels had been drawn off, said R. L. Tollett, president of Cosden.

Contents of the tank, erude oil from the Wasson pool and valued at $2.51 per barrel, were fired when the 80,000-barrel tank (lacking only four thousand of being at capacity) was fired with a bolt of lightning at 6 a. m. Friday. The wooden roof collapsed soon afterwards and Friday night the steel tank buckled.

Hundreds of cars drove past the refinery and large numbers parked on highway shoulders Friday night to watch the inferno hoil out its seething mass of flames and folds of dirty-wool smoke.

The tank, located on the north side of the T & P tracks, was insured for $25,000, Tollett said, the contents fully. \

School Board Is Taking Wise Path

The board of trustees for the Big Spring Independent School district has reached a decision on the way out of the current financial crisis-a hard decision and a hard way. Yet, all factors considered, it seems that refunding of excess tax collections as promptly as possible is the wisest and soundest course.

Many have and many others would have signed waivers on the excess payments, and indeed there is nothing to keep those who feel a sense of compulsion about the matter from turning around and giving their money back. But waivers would not have been a satisfactory answer, for legality of these might have been open to question for years hence. Moreover, as a matter of equitable restitution, the repayment seemed the best answer since many taxpayers-such as stockholder corporations. FHA, etc .- could not have given waivers. Anyhow, the crisis is temporary, but our schools must go on permanently and without eternal uncertainty.

The board voted to pay off in cash the bulk of the tax accounts-which amount to about $40,000 or little less than the $43,000 which will be outstanding for refund. This was taken at the advice of a group of businessmen, whose counsel the board had sought.

This same group of businessmen also advised that the board should confront the district with the facts about its need and ask again for the $1.50 range. The board is going to take this advice, too.

It may be argued that it would have been prudent to await the outcome of the rate election. Perhaps so, but there's not over a month or two difference in the hour of anguish in event the district is not given a more substantial tax base. The issue is to be squarely up to the district. The board can only administer, not dictate the answer.

Now It Can Be Told--My Side

By FRANK GRIMES Herald Special Writer

An inevitable aftermath of any great upheaval in a nation's politico-economic affairs, or of 'a great war, is the freshet of books that pours from the printing presses. When you combine national social and political upheaval with a world war of gigantic proportions, you really start something in publishing circles.

We have read our share of these literary duds and bombshells and we expect to continue doing so, first because we find them fascinating, and second because we consider it our professional duty to go so.

We have knocked off a number of these postwar masterpieces, including Madame Perkins', Jim Farley's, Henry the Morgue's, Vinegar Joe Stilwell's, Elliott Roosevelt's heaven help us-Henry L. Stimson's, John Garner's (by B. N. Timmons) and of course such parts of Winston Churchill's tremendous contribution to history as have been published.

For several weeks now we have been plowing through Harold L. Ickes' story in the Saturday Evening Post, and found it heavy going. Nobody is apt to dispute the Old Curmudgeon's proud boast that he did it all with his little portable. It is badly organized, recking with egotism, and heavy with hate. His special gripe is Harry L. Hopkins, whom he regarded as an interloper. Ickes goes General Georgie Patton one better: Patton broke down and confessed that he committed one error as a commander of troops in the field, but Honest Harold never quite gets round to hinting that he, himself, might have made one little bitmy-witsy mistake somewhere in his career.

Next to Churchill's magnificent prose, the best of the now-it-can-be-told stories we have run across, from the standpoint of organization and literary excellence, is Robert E. Sherwood's "The Secret Papers of Harry L. Hopkins," now current in Collier's.

It is a fine job of organization and co-ordination, for Sherwood is a masterhand at this sort of thing, From these pages Hopkins emerges in far better light than Ickes and others placed him in.

CORPORATION ATTORNEY IS WALLACITE NOW

By HAL BOYLE PHILADELPHIA, July 24. 49-The white-haired old corporation attorney, mad at both the Republicans and the Democrats, had come to hit the sawdust trail for Henry Wallace.

Elegant in a white sharkskin suit blue tie, 75-year-old Arthur Dun of New York City looked a little out of place as he waited to appear before the last public hearing of the New Party's platform committee.

There were more than a score there to testify for causes, old and new. Among them were a Negro surse, a white-collar union official, a farmer, en Illionois patent attorney, a Jewish member of Palestine's extremist Stern Group, an Irish seaman, Writer Muriel Draper, and Rep. Vito Marcantonio. who wanted a plank put in the platform calling for Puerto Rican independence.

They spoke at such length that Mrs. Elinor Gimbel, acting as platform secretary, warned: "If we keep on like this we'll be here until tomorrow. From now on we'll have to limit each speaker to five minutes.

The first victim of the ruling was the elderly corporation law-

"I have been voting for 54 years," Dun began. "I first voted back in 1894 when I was an undergraduate at Princeton. I always voted Republican until 1932. I guess I just didn't know any bet-

The small audience of 75 in the ballroom of Convention Hall whooped lustily. Corporation lawyers are rare here.

'My mother was a member of the slave-holding aristocracy of Virginia," Dun continued. "But my hobby now is fighting the poll tax." The spectators cheered again, and the corporation attorney bowed graciously.

He then began reading the text of his statement. It called upon Congress to enforce the 2nd section of the 14th Amendment, "which requires that if a state abridges the right to vote in any way, the number of representative in Congress from such state must be reduced proportionately.

Because of failure of congress to enforce this provision," Dun said, "the seven poll tax states in the South have 69 members in the House of Representatives, whereas they are entitled to but 28."

Dun said he was sure that the southern states would rather remove the poll tax or other limitations on voting rather than have their membership in Congress re-

"Furthermore-" he read on, and when Mrs. Gimbel interrupted

"Time! Your time is up." "But this is the most important thing in the country today," pro-tested the old attorney. "If this plan is carried out, no civil rights legislation will be required." "I'm sorry," murmured Mrs.

"I'm sorry, too," said Dun sadly. He folded his manuscript and walked back to his seat. But I do wish they had let me finish. It was so important."

Affairs Of The World-

Aid Plan Is Succeeding

That was a cheering splash of rainbow we glimpsed through the international storm-clouds yesterday when from Washington, Lonand Moscow came reports which seemed calculated to encourage hope for peace.

President Truman declared prospects for world peace are goodin fact excellent.

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Bevin both announced that while their countries will not be coerced or intimidated, they will use every possible diplomatic means to get a peaceful settlement of the Berlin imbroglio. And diplomatic sources in Moscow said chances for a four power meeting (America, Britain, and Russia) seemed brighter than at any time since Russia clamped the food blockade on Berlin five weeks ago.

Now of course this doesn't mean the barometer is set at fair-or anything like it. Still this change in the pressure is encouraging, and it must be particularly pleasing to America's Paul G. Hoffman who, as administrator of the European recovery program, is charged with performing one of the toughest tasks the war has producedand one of the most vital.

In great degree, peace depends on his success.

Hoffman, who is in Paris, also issued a statement yesterday and, while it was made without any fanfare, it was of great importance. He said the United States is eager to carry through a fouryear program and get out of Euby 1952. He added that Avrope Harriman, ambassador-atlarge for the E. R. P., has assured him that self help and mutual aid among the 16 participating countries "are becoming very much a reality.

Success or failure in reaching the goal of four years will affect not only the nations of Europe but of the whole world. That length of time has been widely accepted by economic experts as the period necessary to put the war hocked countries on their feet. And, of course, the well being of America and the rest of the Western Hemisphere is interlocked with that of the eastern side of the

Reds Prepare For Concentrations Of Troops Opposite U.S. Zone

WASHINGTON.-Uncensored dispatches from behind the iron curtain have increased the fear that Russia may be ready for war now. Hitherto diplomats felt certain that the Soviet did not want war for at least two or three years-until she could develop the A-bomb. But here are some developments which have taken place behind the iron curtain. 1. The Communist-controlled Czech government has just received orders from Moscow to empty a large number of army barracks in Western Czechoslovakia in prepaution for the early arrival of large Russian troop concentrations. It's important to remember that Czechoslovakia is adjacent to the American zone of Germany. If this report is accurate, the Red Army is moving up units to face U. S. troops in the American zone.

2. The Russians have ordered thousands of billingual signposts erected all the way from the Soviet border to the German border for the use of Red Army divisions. Word that these sign posts are being set up has leaked out through the Czech underground. They all point in the direction of Berlin and Paris.

3. Russia has just occupied 15 new air bases in Eastern Germany, west of the Soviet border. Some of these air bases are staffed with the Russian version of the B-29, copied forom B-29s which were forced down in Siberia during the

4. Russia has quietly summoned home for consultation some of the most trusted diplomats in its foreign service, leaving relative second-stringers in charge of its em-

5. Word has gone out from Moscow for the immediate purge of all dissident and weak elements in the Communist Party throughout Europe. This means any Communist who doesn't toe the Moscow Lne unflinchingly is to be ousted. This order reportedly has the blessing of Premier Stalin. It is interpreted to mean that the Kremlin is gearing for a final showdown.

PROPAGANDA TO RUSSIA Secretary for Air Stuart Symington and Air Force officers are giving serious consideration to the idea of having B-29s drop propaganda messages to the Russian people at the same time that the B-29s reinforce our position in Ber-

Purpose of the idea would be to remind the Russian people that the American and Russian armies battled as comrades to win the recent war, that our right to remain in Berlin was part of that victory, that the American people do not want war with their former comrades-in-arms and that the propaganda fed them by the Moscow radio that we are panting for war is so much poppycock.

Back of the idea also would be the fact that the 14 men in the Politburo alone can put Russia into a war - unless there is a strong negative urge among the Russian people not to go to war. And the only way to give them that negative urge is to go over the Kremlin's head to make them understand that the American people do not want war either.

GOVERNMENT REACTION Here is the first-blush reaction of government officials to the idea of getting these peace appeals via weather balloons to the Russian Weather Bureau - It's perfectly feasible to float small weather balloons from Western Europe to Russia. About 7 out of 10 would. get there. By gauging the amount and she looks mighty trim...

of gas in the balloons it would be possible to fix the approximate point for their landing inside Russia. (The Japs measured the distance across the Pacific during the war to land balloons in the Pacific Northwest.) Best launching place would be Germany or Northern France. They would drift at a speed of from 25 to 50 hour once they reached the upper wind currents. Air Forces - Unofficially, think the idea is good. However, past experience shows that balloons released from planes in flight crash against the fuselage and break. Therefore, it's proposed that the balloons be released from the ground. (Weather Bureau says this is feasible.)

State Department - Unofficially and very cautiously, thinks idea might be all right.

War Assets Administration—Had large supply of balloons on hand but they're now sold out. Army Signal Corps and Weather Bureau have a certain number which could be borrowed and replaced

If it is important to get friendship mesages from the American people to the Russian people, then ways and means can be found for doing it. Various patriotic Americans have volunteered to print the messages free, donate candy wrist watches, etc., to be sent with the messages. The government has plenty of resourcefulness to put across this propaganda-if it

In wartime we make any sacrifice-blood and treasure-to end a war which has already started. But in peacetime we count the pennies when it comes to preventing a war before it gets started. MERRY-GO-ROUND Gen. Omar Bradley, who is a

PRICE CURBS WOULD START CHAIN ACTION

The Nation Today-

By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON, W- President Truman's No. 1 problem when he faces the special session of Congress next week is this:

How to control prices and living costs? He wants power to do that. But what kind of control can he ask of Congress? Last November, when prices weren't as high as they are now, he asked Congress for stand-by price control power.

Which means power he could use if, and when, he thought prices finally had climbed too high. Congress didn't give him the power. Now, it seems, he thinks the time has passed for stand-by power and that prices need to be controlled right now.

But the question is: How can prices be controlled now? He could ask for either of these things: Price control on just about everything, as in wartime.

2. Or, price control on a selected list of key items in American living, like meat, dairy products, poultry, coal, steel. Suppose, say, he asks for price control on meat. Would that mean trying to roll back the price of meat to some figure where it was months ago? Probably not. It might mean trying to freeze the price of meat at the point it had reached whenand if-Congress passed such a price control law.

Could the government attempt to control the price of meat without going all the way back down the line to control the price of some of the things that help boost meat

For example: How could the government control meat pricesand still be fair to meat growers and packers - unless it also controlled the price of the feed cattle eat?

He could hardly ask for price control the price of meat without going all the way back down the control on them unless he also asked the price of meat without the things that help boost meat prices?

But if that happened, the leaders of labor unions in those fields would be sure to protest by say-

This is unfair. The government controls wages in just these few fields. But workers in all other fields can go ahead and get pay raises. They'll be free to make more money while we're stuck." How can the government attempt to control prices and wages in a few industries without controlling prices and wages in the whole country? But there is something on top of all this: It's rationing. Suppose meat prices were controlled but people still were able to go out and buy up meat to suit themselves. That kind of competition among consumers is a pressure that helps boost prices.

To take away such pressure, the logical thing for the government to do would be to ration meat and whatever else it sought to control in the way of prices.

Mother Earth Jack Pearl Is Gets Check BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

EAST LANSING, Mich .- Soil sclentists have wired up Mother Earth for tests like a human patient getting a complete checkup. They take her temperature, in the air above the earth, and from half an inch to 60 inches below the surface. They know how deep the earth is frozen.

They have a finger on her pulse, of life-giving water. They know how much rain or snow falls, how much penetrates, and how deep it goes. They know how much rain has rolled away, and how much precious topsoil was carried with

They know how much energy the sky and sun scatter over the patches of earth they are measuring. They know how much wind, blows.

What they're learning will benefit farmers and city folk all across the frost belt of the northern tier of states. It will help control springtime floods, and tell road-builders, pipe-layers, and construction men things about frost depth that they need to know, in a hurry.

It's done with an amazing set of instruments, which are almost completely automatic. The work is the Michigan Hydrologic Research Project of the Michigan Station in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service. Heading it up are Dr. V. R. Gardner, experiment station director, Dr. C. E. Miller, head of the department of soil science, and George A. Crabb, Jr., Hydrologic Research Project Supervisor. The main purpose is to learn how freezing and thawing of soils affect run-off of water, erosion, and flood flow under different conditions of land use.

The tests are run on three plots, one a woods, the other two bearing different crops in different years. Floods spilled forward this spring because the ground was frozen so deep. When snows melted and the top surface of the ground thawed, the water seeped down. But at a depth of 18 inches the soil still was frozen and the water began to flow downhill. The soil temperature measurements, spread over wide areas, could give warnings of prime conditions for floods. And the soil studies may show how land use in the frost belt can minimize Good dangers.

Rest Cure In The Mountains

One of the biggest bores to be found is the guy who returns from his annual two-week trek across the country and belabors you with all the details of his journey and the fascinating things that he saw and experienced. So put me down as a bore, because, although you won't be particularly interested. I must get off my chest a recital of my own brief recess from the office.

The Whips made it up to Cloudcroft, N. M .. to see that particular part of New Mexico's mountain scenery for the first time. Our neighbor state hails itself as a wonderland, and indeed boasts many lovely spots. Clouderoft is about the most pleasingly picturesque of those that I have seen. In the first place the altitude is somethers over 9,000 feet. It sounds trite, but it's true that we were "sleeping under blankets" every night, and that a fire in the open fireplace felt good. The skies dumped a shower or two on the mountains nearly every day we were there, and if you ventured very far from your cabin without a jacket, you regret-

The matter of natural vistas is something up there, too. From the mountain top on which is located the Cloudcroft lodge, you can look over a vast panorama to the west, and see, sprawled out on the prairie like a great sail lake, the famous White Sands of New Mexico. They're 40 or 50 miles away, and the distance seems no more than 10.

And then, very frequently, little white clouds float over that view, and because you're so high, you're above these clouds and the sun shining on them makes them look like little spots of quicksilver suspended in the sky.

The sunsets up there rate as a natural wonder, and my vocabulary doesn't have enough words to describe the colors that flowed and ebbed in the fading light,

And you know what mountain trails out be like, with big pine and aspen trees covering all the ridges. Doubtless you've heard of the famous gol course at Cloudcroft, which boasts of being the highest on the continent. All I have to say about that is that by the time an old softie like me scrambles down into the valles from the first tee, and struggles back up the mountainside to the last green, he's huffing and puffing till he's black in the face. At that, the course is enough to make anybody want to try a round of golf.

There are some interesting valley drives around the resort area. And in one of those valleys I was surprised to learn that a great produce area flourishes. There were many plots of carrots, cabbages, Brussels sprouts and cauliflower, as well as some tomatoes, The natives said that there's a heavy shipping volume out of the valleys of the Sacramento

You have to want some leisure to enjoy this resort to its utmost. You can play golf, or ride horses, or take hikes. Otherwise you just take it easy. If you want some of that good mountain-air tonic, I can recommend the Cloudcroft resort. It's only about 300 miles from here, and the roads generally are very good. But it sure is hot when you come out of those mountains as you head homeward

Happy Again

NEW YORK-Jack Pearl abandoned his famous "Baron Munchausen" more than a decade ago because he believed the Baron was getting senile. And Jack now has returned to the air after one of the longest layoff in Broadway history.

"About the only one who has laid off longer than I have is Solly Violinsky," Jack said. referring to one of the fine old vaudevillians whose nightly boast in Lindy's is, "I've laid off under four presidents." When you consider that one president alone was in office more than a dozen years, it adds up to quite a

But Jack is happy again, happier than any time I've seen him in the ten years I've known him. He enters a restaurant with a galvanic stride; where once he sort of mosted in, almost apologetically. He has always been a celebrity, for his stratospheric popularity in the old days of radio, roughly comparable to Bob Hope's now, would take more than a decade to make folks forget.

During a great deal of Jack's retired decade he juggled the idea of doing a serious drama and even had a quick try at a couple of Broadway plays. One of them, "All for All", in which he was co-starred with Harry Green, had a sturdy but brief try at the Bijou Theater. Harry Green took it to London, where the Labor Government's policies might take its quasi-socialist preachment more seriously. Harry was right. It ran long and profitably in England under the title, "Fifty-Fifty". But Jack preferred to stick it out on American soil and wait for opportunity to rap

No one had to feel sorry for Jack. A careful fellow in his finances, Jack had put aside large gobs of cash back in the days before the income tax lads sliced so much off the top. As a result, he lives in a fancy Fifth Avenue apartment, has a beautiful wife, Winnie, and scads of friends with whom to while away the long days of retirement. We all envied him, and said so.

"What's the matter with you guys?" he barked at me. "You have a job, and like it, haven't you? Suppose you can't retire tomorrow. You still have something exciting happening every day. You think I'm relaxing all the time. Well I'm not, I'm anxious to work for only one reason: I'm bored. Retirement is shouldn't happen to his dog! It all starts when he loses his job because his company's biggest client, radio station owner J. T. Thorpe, is enraged by his wellmeaning blunders, and Dagwood decides to become a "well-paid" radio engineer-via correspondence school. Blondie, meanwhile, is actually supporting the family by baking cookies on her new stove which isn't paid for. Although Blondie doesn't know his real name, her partner in this enterprise is an eccentric old man who actually is Llewellyn Simmons. President of the Premiere Biscuit Company, the Thorpe radio station's biggest ac-

When Blondie reads a proposed advertisement of her cookies in Dagwood's radio workshop, her voice is accidently broadcast over the air-interrupting the Premiere commercial on Thorpe's stationand then trouble really starts for the Bumsteads, Blondie is apprehended by F. C. C. detectives and brought to Thorpe's office for questioning. Dagwood goes to her rescue and is likewise nabbed. But the appearance of Llewellyn, who claims responsibility for the entire accident, changes things. Thorpe drops all charges and Dagwood is reinstated in his job with a raise and a bonus when Thorpe decides to use his architectural plans for the new radio station.

Of course, Penny Singleton and Arthur Lake again portray Blondie and Dagwood. Larry Simms and Marjorie Kent, as Alexander and Cookie, are likewise, "naturals."
