OPA, Friday, October 4, allowed an increase of 15 per cent in restaurant ceiling prices for meals containing meat, effective Thursday, October 10.

The increase came after OPA gave up its attempt to roll back restaurant meat offerings to the levels of last June 30.

Two hundred unidentified Chinese, October 4th, attacked a U. S. Marine ammunition dump near Tangku on the coast about 25 miles southeast of Tientsin.

One Marine was slightly wounded in the attack and one Chinese was killed.

While the Marines identified the attackers only as "unidentified Chinese," there was speculation immediately that they might have been Chinese communists.

United States and Britain split wide asunder on the Palestine issue October 4th with President Truman demanding immediate admittance of "substantial" numbers of Jews to the Holy Land and Britain sharply "regretting" his move.

The British were obviously angered because they said Truman had complied with a British request to hold up his move pending of the study by British leaders.

AFL President William Green has cited John L. Lewis miners welfare fund as an objective of all American Federation of Labor unions as a means of providing security for the organizations 7,150,000 members.

Green also insisted in his keynote address opening the federation's 65th annual convention on an end to price controls, except rent ceilings and that workers must share by fresh wage boosts in greater profits which he said better production efficiency learned in war time is bringing to American industry.

Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, blaming OPA for the meat and housing shortages, has said that a new fight to abolish federal price controls could be expected when congress convenes in January.

The junior senator has announced he would make an extensive tour of Texas to get the public opinion.

Hjalmar Schacht, Adolf Hitler's former minister of economics, was arrested by German police in Stuttgart, Germany, Monday night and locked up in jail to await trial before a German denazification court.

His arrest was ordered by the German ministry of state of Wurtemberg-Baden after the ministry of denazification classified him as a "leading nazi" and one who held a major position in Hitler's government and rendered it extraordinary service.

The fight for decontrol of beef headed for a showdown Tuesday when the beef advisory committee formally authorize filing of a petition to remove price ceilings from cattle, beef and veal.

Haynie, committee chairman, told reporters the petition will be based on a contention that under terms of the price control act, beef is eligible for decontrol.

Two of the Big Four Foreign Ministers joined the U. S. Tuesday night urging adoption of the proposed peace treaty for Italy, drawn up during seven weeks of debate in working commissions of the peace conference. Russia, fourth member of the Big Four, was still to be heard from.

Soviet delegates from Poland and Czechoslovakia also criticized the draft treaty, directing most of their attacks to the Trieste compromise.

Mountaineers Meet Rochelle Here Tonight

Tonight, Friday, October 11, the local Mountaineer 11 will meet a hard fighting squad from Rochelle. The game is to be held on the local Mountaineer field and is to begin at 8:00 p. m.

With the local boys picking up all the time and learning more football than has been known in high school in a long time they are expected to put on a better show than has been here in a long time. The boys have won two of the three games they have played and all the time the competition is getting stronger, and we are winning by a better score. At the game last week the crowd was a little light due to the weather, but the boys need your support in bad weather as well as in good weather. So far this year the crowds have been by far better than they have been being. Let's keep up that spirit. It takes it to win. When they know the people of the town and surrounding communities are backing them like you have been so far it makes them want to win more for you, the ones who are backing the team. Let's be there 100 percent strong tonight.

The men that are to take care of the gates tonight are Ted McCaughan, John W. Taylor, Orville Allen, Eddie P. Voss, Lon Gray, T. B. Gilmore, Dick Bass, and Hardy Blue. Each of you are requested to be at the gate by 6:45 p. m. Mr. A. D. Pettit will be there to assign you to your places.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathew H. Clary of Dallas visited Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Vinson.

Weeks to test the long range striking power of the American air arm. Assistant Symington announced Tuesday.

The mass flight he told a press conference, also will be for the demonstration of the role the B-29s could play as a law enforcement arm of the United Nations.

Nat'l Newspaper Week in October

In connection with National Newspaper Week, observed each week during October, Wright Patterson, editorial writer for the Publisher's Auxiliary, in our opinion, has a very timely editorial paragraph on the weekly newspaper of the small town. It follows:

"To realize what the newspaper means to the small city, the town or the village it is well to compare places of approximate size and general resources with those that have a progressive newspaper and those that do not.

Not all newspapers can be classed as progressive, but to most of them that quality can be attributed. It is that quality that makes the local newspaper something more than a small printing plant. It makes of it a local institution.

Not all newspapers can be classed as progressive, but to most of them that quality can be attributed. It is that quality that makes the local newspaper something more than a small printing plant. It makes of it a local institution.

There are thousands of communities, those of 1,000 or less people, that are blessed with this institution type of newspaper. Pick any one of these and compare it with another in the same section, of approximate size, but which does not have a progressive newspaper. Make a careful comparison of the communities. That will show you, in a definite way, what the progressive newspaper means to a community.

That progressive newspaper welds together the interests of the people of the community. It makes of them a homogeneous whole in their support of better schools, better churches, better stores, a better and more prosperous town with greater attractions for the people of the surrounding farms.

Such a newspaper is an outstanding institution of its community. The people look to it and its editor for leadership which it unostentatiously supplies. Such a newspaper makes of its town and the community it serves, a better, more attractive place in which to live. It promotes both culture and business. In accomplishing such results for its community it is promoting American Ideals for the nation.

In connection with the above, we wish to offer a few observations. Having been a small town publisher for almost 40 years, we have had ample opportunity to observe the relation of the newspaper to the community and we agree with Mr. Patterson heartily. While we are not complaining, we believe that far too many businessmen take the local newspaper as a matter of course, some even looking upon it as a "necessary evil." Through a sense of modesty, the home town publisher is not to "toot his own horn" and does not proclaim the worth of his newspaper from the house tops. He hopes that his fellow businessmen will take notice of the value of the paper to the community and some of them do. As a rule, no town is better than its newspaper. In some cases the newspaper brings up the rear but in most cases these days, the weekly newspaper is a leader. We feel sure that a number of the businessmen can remember when every cross roads town had its community newspaper. They are gone now, due to the lack of patronage, and so are the towns. The villages that once had their own newspapers and who let

Coleman Youth Killed in Wreck

Coleman, Oct. 7.—Funeral was to be held at the First Baptist church this afternoon for Frank Baucum, 18, Coleman student in John Tarleton college who was killed early Sunday morning in a highway collision six miles north of Jacksboro.

He was killed when the auto he was driving collided with a cattle truck. Four other students were injured. They were returning to Stephenville after attending a football game at Wichita Falls.

them fall by the wayside have died a natural death and now once thriving trading points consist of merely a couple of filling stations and perhaps a grocery store.

Without boasting, we believe that we can say that this newspaper has been one of the most virile factors in the growth and development of our town and has contributed a large share to placing our city in the limelight as one of the best and busiest towns of its size in the State of Texas. In our stories of the growth and progress of our city, we have avoided wild statements, confining our stories to actual facts that will stand up. We have always maintained that the truth about the Santa Anna country was sufficient. The News is operated as business institution and does not beg for advertising or circulation. In fact, we have never found it necessary to do so. We try and we believe that we are succeeding in giving both advertisers and subscribers their money's worth and have built our business on that basis. We greatly appreciate the many favors that have been shown us and with the coming of National Newspaper Week, extend our thanks and best wishes to all of you.

Closing Notice

The Santa Anna National Bank will be closed all day Saturday, October 12, in observance of Columbus Day. You are requested to act accordingly. — O. L. Cheney, Cashier.

Mountaineers Win Over Melvin 13-6

On Friday night, October 4, the Santa Anna Mountaineers played a winning game over the Melvin Bulldogs with a score of 13 to 6. The Mountaineers claimed the first touchdown of the game in the second quarter of the game with Gene Sherriod carrying the ball through the line. The extra point was made by Sherriod kicking the ball over the goal. Melvin also scored in the second quarter but failed to make the extra point.

The second score was made by the Mountaineers in the third quarter of the last half when Maurice Kingsbery threw a pass to Pat Gilmore. Gilmore fumbled the ball but it was picked up by Howard Lovelady, who ran from the 30 yard line to the goal.

During the game the Mountaineers made three passes, two complete and one intercepted. Melvin made six passes, two complete, one intercepted and three incomplete.

The starting line-up for the game was as follows:

Gene Sherriod, fullback; Howard Lovelady and Boyd Stewardson, halfbacks; Maurice Kingsbery, quarterback; Jackie Watkins, center; Bob Stafford and Jerry Fulton, guards; Freddie Henderson and Stantly Cobb, tackles and Pat Gilmore and James England, ends.

The line-up for Melvin was as follows: Ortiz, fullback; Fleming and Moore, halfbacks; Fikes, quarterback; Salter, center; Sutton and Martin, guards; Nystron and Vinson, tackles; W. Martin and Toombs, ends.

Although it was cool and looked like rain, there was a large crowd and great enthusiasm was shown by everyone. Coach Whitaker and local fans are very proud of the boys. Show your appreciation for their good works by attending the games.

THE DAY, SAT., OCT. 12, Santa Anna Lions Club Carnival.

It's Carnival time in Santa Anna again as the Lions Club get everything in readiness for the annual gala affair on Saturday evening and night of this week. Lion Arlie Welch says this year's affair will be crammed with more fun and amusement than ever before. Several new booths have been added and everybody is ready to put it on in a big way.

The Lions' carnival has become an institution in the community with the pompous and staid business men "letting their hair down" to realize their suppressed desire to become carnival barkers and concession operators of "the great white way". And it's all done in the name of sweet charity, which in itself brings joy to the hearts of the Lions and the thousands of folks who attend and contribute their loose change to the various booths and games.

This year's carnival will be staged once more in the street between the bank buildings. The block will be roped off to traffic and the gaylights and decorated concession stands, plus the aroma of carnival goodies will be a drawing card that every citizen should enjoy.

The funds derived from the carnival will be used in the welfare of the schools and for underprivileged children in the county. This is one of the most worthwhile programs undertaken here and should be well attended.

State Department Of Health Letter

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, was recently asked to give the duties of the Texas State Department of Health in contrast with those of the general practitioner of medicine.

He stated, "The Health Department is charged with protecting the public health. This it does by education of the people of how they may secure protection against disease, such as vaccination against smallpox and typhoid fever and immunization against diphtheria; by investigation of sources of outbreaks of disease; by quarantine and isolation of those ill with communicable disease; by the prevention of the spread of disease; inspection of water supplies; by advocating the production and use of safe milk and to prevent threatened outbreaks of communicable diseases.

"People will become ill and accident will happen. The cure of sickness and the repair of accidents comes within the scope of the duties of the practitioner of medicine and surgery. The general practitioner of medicine is also engaged in preventive medicine when he advises mothers to have their children protected against diphtheria and smallpox or the family as a whole immunized against typhoid fever before planning travel, such as cross country trips."

The general practitioner and the Health Department alike believe that it is better to remain healthy than it is to get well after becoming ill, but the Department is engaged in the control and prevention of disease as it effects the general population of a community or state. The field of treatment and cure of those ill belongs solely to the general practitioner of medicine.

THE BUSY MAN'S CREED

I believe in the stuff I am handing out, in the firm I am working for, and in my ability to get results. I believe that honest stuff can be passed out to honest men by honest methods. I believe in working, not weeping; in boosting, not knocking; and in the pleasure of my job. I believe that a man gets what he goes after, that one deed done today is worth two deeds tomorrow, and that no man is down and out until he has lost faith in himself. I believe in today and the work I am doing; in tomorrow and the work I hope to do, and in the sure reward which the future holds. — Elbert Hubbard.

Q. At what age should roosts be provided for growing chicks?

A. Tests indicate that best results are obtained by providing roosts when chicks are about three weeks of age. Early roosting reduces crowding, promotes better feathers, and results in more rapid growth. Early roosting is not associated with crooked breast bones.

Q. Someone told me that a calf should hold its head up when drinking milk. What is the reason for this?

A. The Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company has found that making a calf stretch its neck while drinking milk helps prevent scours. The milk bucket should be placed 1 ft. above the floor and tipped toward the calf so that the calf must keep its head up and neck stretched in drinking. This is nearer the natural position for the calf in nursing and tends to force milk past the first three stomachs to the fourth or true stomach where milk should be digested. When milk goes into the first three stomachs, it may sour, causing scours.

Q. We have been getting watery eggs from our hens. What causes this?

A. Watery eggs may be caused by the storage place being too warm, or this may be an inherited condition which can be corrected only by culling the diseased birds.

Q. In our rabbit litters we occasionally have a long-haired or woolly individual. Is this the same as an Angora?

A. No. The Angora rabbit has been purposely developed through careful selection and breeding for fancy points. The occurrence of woolly or long-haired rabbits is a throwback, and this characteristic is an undesirable trait. To eliminate the woolly from the rabbitry, avoid breeding from carriers of the gene.

Q. How hot should water be for picking broilers?

A. The temperature should be about 125 to 128 degrees Fahrenheit, and the broilers should be immersed for about thirty seconds. If the water is warmer, the skin may be scald-blotched.

PROCLAMATION

By the Governor of the State of Texas

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come:

WHEREAS, the forests of Texas are of vital importance in supplying wood products essential to home building and other uses in the State; and,

WHEREAS, an average of 6,500 forest fires annually burn over almost 700,000 acres of woodland at a damage to grass, young timber growth and seedlings of approximately $1,000,000, and the control of these fires and this damage presents a first line conservation job; and,

WHEREAS, the Texas Forest Service, A. & M. College, in cooperation with the U. S. Forest Service is sponsoring a forest fire prevention campaign starting October 1, 1946 in this state:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Coke Stevenson, governor of Texas, do hereby designate Tuesday, October 1, 1946, as the official opening day of the forest fire prevention campaign in Texas and ask that the occasion be appropriately publicized in the press, on the radio, through the schools and by other organizations throughout the state. I hereby designate October 1, 1946, to May 1, 1947, as the official period for the continuing of this campaign and urge the people of Texas to recognize their personal responsibility in preventing and eliminating forest fires which damage forest products vital to the welfare of this state and destroy young forests upon which our children will depend as a source of wood supply, income and employment.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of State to be affixed hereto at Austin, this the 11th day of Sep-

State Department Of Health Letter

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, was recently asked to give the duties of the Texas State Department of Health in contrast with those of the general practitioner of medicine.

He stated, "The Health Department is charged with protecting the public health. This it does by education of the people of how they may secure protection against disease, such as vaccination against smallpox and typhoid fever and immunization against diphtheria; by investigation of sources of outbreaks of disease; by quarantine and isolation of those ill with communicable disease; by the prevention of the spread of disease; inspection of water supplies; by advocating the production and use of safe milk and to prevent threatened outbreaks of communicable diseases.

"People will become ill and accident will happen. The cure of sickness and the repair of accidents comes within the scope of the duties of the practitioner of medicine and surgery. The general practitioner of medicine is also engaged in preventive medicine when he advises mothers to have their children protected against diphtheria and smallpox or the family as a whole immunized against typhoid fever before planning travel, such as cross country trips."

The general practitioner and the Health Department alike believe that it is better to remain healthy than it is to get well after becoming ill, but the Department is engaged in the control and prevention of disease as it effects the general population of a community or state. The field of treatment and cure of those ill belongs solely to the general practitioner of medicine.

THE BUSY MAN'S CREED

I believe in the stuff I am handing out, in the firm I am working for, and in my ability to get results. I believe that honest stuff can be passed out to honest men by honest methods. I believe in working, not weeping; in boosting, not knocking; and in the pleasure of my job. I believe that a man gets what he goes after, that one deed done today is worth two deeds tomorrow, and that no man is down and out until he has lost faith in himself. I believe in today and the work I am doing; in tomorrow and the work I hope to do, and in the sure reward which the future holds. — Elbert Hubbard.

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Q. At what age should roosts be provided for growing chicks?

A. Tests indicate that best results are obtained by providing roosts when chicks are about three weeks of age. Early roosting reduces crowding, promotes better feathers, and results in more rapid growth. Early roosting is not associated with crooked breast bones.

Q. Someone told me that a calf should hold its head up when drinking milk. What is the reason for this?

A. The Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company has found that making a calf stretch its neck while drinking milk helps prevent scours. The milk bucket should be placed 1 ft. above the floor and tipped toward the calf so that the calf must keep its head up and neck stretched in drinking. This is nearer the natural position for the calf in nursing and tends to force milk past the first three stomachs to the fourth or true stomach where milk should be digested. When milk goes into the first three stomachs, it may sour, causing scours.

Q. We have been getting watery eggs from our hens. What causes this?

A. Watery eggs may be caused by the storage place being too warm, or this may be an inherited condition which can be corrected only by culling the diseased birds.

Q. In our rabbit litters we occasionally have a long-haired or woolly individual. Is this the same as an Angora?

A. No. The Angora rabbit has been purposely developed through careful selection and breeding for fancy points. The occurrence of woolly or long-haired rabbits is a throwback, and this characteristic is an undesirable trait. To eliminate the woolly from the rabbitry, avoid breeding from carriers of the gene.

Q. How hot should water be for picking broilers?

A. The temperature should be about 125 to 128 degrees Fahrenheit, and the broilers should be immersed for about thirty seconds. If the water is warmer, the skin may be scald-blotched.

Every year about 350 people are killed and 1000 injured in home fires and explosions due to the use of gasoline and other flammable cleaning fluids.

PROCLAMATION By the Governor of the State of Texas

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come:

WHEREAS, the forests of Texas are of vital importance in supplying wood products essential to home building and other uses in the State; and,

WHEREAS, an average of 6,500 forest fires annually burn over almost 700,000 acres of woodland at a damage to grass, young timber growth and seedlings of approximately $1,000,000, and the control of these fires and this damage presents a first line conservation job; and,

WHEREAS, the Texas Forest Service, A. & M. College, in cooperation with the U. S. Forest Service is sponsoring a forest fire prevention campaign starting October 1, 1946 in this state: NOW, THEREFORE, I, Coke Stevenson, governor of Texas, do hereby designate Tuesday, October 1, 1946, as the official opening day of the forest fire prevention campaign in Texas and ask that the occasion be appropriately publicized in the press, on the radio, through the schools and by other organizations throughout the state. I hereby designate October 1, 1946, to May 1, 1947, as the official period for the continuing of this campaign and urge the people of Texas to recognize their personal responsibility in preventing and eliminating forest fires which damage forest products vital to the welfare of this state and destroy young forests upon which our children will depend as a source of wood supply, income and employment.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of State to be affixed hereto at Austin, this the 11th day of Sep-the Homer Goodgion place. Delburn Rice is moving to the Chleo James lease. The old Tom Jenkins house where Charlie James lives will be wrecked and moved to Bangs. This is another landmark of the early eighties or maybe before then. Dick Cheatham once lived there.

REDDY KILOWATT'S five year war record stands out as one of the great industrial achievements of all time. During this period, more than eleven million kilowatts of generating machinery were installed and $3,000,000,000 was spent for power stations, transmission lines and other facilities.

A total of 300,000,000 kilowatt hours of electric power was generated for war purposes, of which the business-managed, tax-paying electric companies supplied 83 1/3 per cent.

Revenue from the sale of power generated for war purposes amounted to $2,350,000,000 and almost the same amount, $2,194,000,000 was paid in direct federal taxes.

Oh, yes! During this five year period, price of electric services by business-managed electric companies was reduced by 11 per cent.

That's freedom of enterprise at work when all the cards are down.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

What is it? School spirit I mean. Webster says that spirit is "the immortal non-physical part of man"! Well! He also says that it is any supernatural being such as a fairy or ghost. Really, I do not think we have to be ghosts or goblins to have some school spirit, do you?

The next word in his dictionary is spirited and it says "full of vigor or life." I think maybe this is what we are looking for.

It seems as if our interest in school is rather dragging and not full of vigor. You are supposed to have the best time of your life in high school and how can you have fun when you don't get excited about something?

Let's try to stir up plenty of excitement and then maby our achievements in football, baseball, tennis, track and basketball will be a great success!

 Here's to S. A. H. S. Long may she live!

FROM THE STUDY HALL WINDOW

This year, the same as always, in the morning and afternoon, from the study hall window, you can see groups of kids about the campus exchanging gossip, geometry problem and information of last week's football game.

There is a cute bunch of freshmen this year. Did you ever hear some of the girls giggle? It is something never before introduced into S. A. H. S. They seem to be ambitious, trying to make the honor roll, a feat which we hope you don't lose interest in by mid-term.

The sophs and juniors don't seem much different. Maybe a little more refined.

Our football boys must have memorized the "plays." You never see them carrying those little books around. Evidently they don't need to. (Rising Star Melvin).

The seniors are a very competent class. Seems funny to have them the most important.

No matter how you look at it, we are only a group of kids trying to be loyal to a wonderful school, S. A. H. S.

PERSONALIES

Here we have two boys that S. A. H. S. is very proud of that we want you all to know. These boys are part of our wonderful Mountaineer team. Next week we will introduce two more to you.

Bob Henderson
 First we have Bob Henderson. Remember him as No. 84 in the position of fullback last year? We have no doubt in our minds that he would have done much better this year if he had not happened to bad luck. One day in spring training he twisted his knee and was afraid he could not play again. However Coach Whitaker got him a brace to wear. In our game with Rising Star, just before the half, he went in. In the first play as he was carrying the ball, his leg was hurt again. He always seems to have bad luck since he broke his hand last year during the Ballinger game.

Bob is 5' 11" tall and weighs 145 pounds. He has black hair and beautiful brown eyes and is 16 years old. He is one of those juniors this year. He likes to eat, go places, sports and the girl he goes with, who is Betty Ann. His ideal person is his mother. He dislikes silly people and celery.

Here's to you, Bob. May you have good luck from now on.

Gene Sherriod
 We are introducing No. 28 on our ole Mountaineer team this week, Gene Sherriod, who is from Waco. No doubt you have seen him, making two touch downs, one in Early High game and the first one in the Melvin game.

Gene is 6' in height and weighs 175 pounds, has black hair and brown eyes and is 16 years old.

He is the soph parliamentarian. He likes chicken and dislikes school, prefers turnips and onions. His ideal person is Coach Whitaker. His favorite person is his mother.

Gene was letterman two years at West Jr. high school in Waco.

We are really fortunate in having him. We feel that he will contribute much to S. A. H. S.

STUDENT COUNCIL NEWS

The main object of the student council was to reopen the Frontier Inn, which happened Friday night after the ball game. It opened with a boom! and closed with a bang!

The inn was crammed full of students and a lot of visitors, who we were very proud to have. The freshmen this year looked on with a look of disgust at the dignified juniors and seniors.

We have a new juke box with plenty of new records. We still have our ping pong tables and a plenty of funny books in the reading room.

The home demonstration club is selling candy and cold drinks.

OUR TRIP TO THE FAIR

The F. F. A. and F. H. A. chapters left Saturday morning for the State Fair. We arrived there about 10 o'clock and immediately began touring the fair grounds. We spent the morning riding the roller coaster, ferris wheels, flying scooters, airplanes, etc. At noon we met at the stadium and had a free lunch which consisted of barbecued beef, vegetables, cold drinks and dessert.

After dinner we saw an exhibit the largest telescope in Texas, and the iron lung in operation and other things of interest. After having spent a very exciting day we were ready to start for home. We left the fair grounds at 5:30. Twenty three attended the fair with Mrs. McQueen and Mr. Pettit as sponsors.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

If you think you have no faults that is probably your worst one.

PEP-SQUAD NEWS

Did you see our Pep-Squad Friday night? If you did you probably noticed their new uniforms. The girl leaders have gold blouses and black skirts with matching black tights and the boys have gold shirts and black trousers. And believe me they really look nice.

The Pep-Squad and band marched Friday night for the first time and the people in the grand stand said that it looked real nice for us not to have practiced any. We had practiced to make a star, but because of the rain we were unable to do so.

We have heard people say that the Pep-Squad yelled better Friday night than they have yelled this year. Nice yelling girls. Lets see if we can't keep up the good work and get the people around town more interested in our school and football games and also see if we can't get a little more school spirit worked up around school.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 13

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

PAUL MAKES A NEW START

LESSON TEXT—Acts 26:9-18; I Corinthians 15:8-10.
MEMORY SELECTION—This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.—I Timothy 1:15.

All that a man has by nature is not enough. We saw last week the preparation by heredity, education and environment which Paul had for a place of leadership. But it was not enough. The capable, well-born, well-trained young Jewish aristocrat had to be born again spiritually before he could do God's work.

Careful Bible students regard the conversion of Paul and the resurrection of Christ as the two outstanding events of the New Testament. Without the resurrection of Jesus, the conversion of Saul of Tarsus (whom we know as Paul the apostle) would not have been possible, and at the same time his conversion is one of the strongest proofs of the resurrection.

We find him in three relationships.

I. By Nature—Contrary to Christ (Acts 26:9-12).

It is not enough, as some of us suppose, that a man be sincere. Paul was entirely sincere in his conviction that he ought to persecute the Christians. He did it with a good conscience (Acts 23:1), for a man's conscience commends him for doing what he believes to be right, even though he may be wrong in his thinking.

He was sincere, but he was anti-Christian. By nature man is at enmity with God. No good thing dwells in the flesh apart from the redeeming grace of God (Rom. 8:7; James 4:4; Rom. 7:18).

Stirred, probably by the faithful testimony of Stephen, to even greater zeal against the followers of Christ, Paul had to find new worlds to conquer, so he set out "breathing out threatenings and slaughter to destroy the church in Damascus" as he had sought to do in Jerusalem.

He was a bold persecutor, doing all he could "contrary to the name of Jesus" (v. 9), until he met the Lord himself on the Damascus road. Ah, that meeting made him a different man and he became

II. By Faith—Converted to Christ (Acts 26:13-18).

Stricken down by a brilliant heavenly light, he found himself talking to the Lord Jesus. He heard from his holy lips the solemn indictment of those who persecute God's people—"Why persecutest thou me?" He who lays unkind hands upon, or brings untrue accusation against, God's children had better beware, for so closely is our Lord identified with his people that when they suffer, it is he who bears the hurt.

In a single sentence the Lord disposed of the persecuting zeal and the sinful skepticism of this proud young Pharisee, and Saul entered into Damascus not as the haughty persecutor, but as a man trembling and astonished. He spent three days shut in with his own soul and God; not seeing, not caring to eat, but entering into communion with God. By God's grace the old life was pulled up by the roots as it was displaced by the new life in Christ Jesus.

God had a great commission awaiting Paul as soon as he was ready for it (vv. 16-18). He was to be the apostle to the Gentiles, and that includes so many of us. The gospel which had come first to the Jews, was now to go out into all the world and to all people.

The change in Paul was a drastic one. He was as one who was alive from the dead. It was not a case of adjusting or refurbishing the old persecutor Saul—here was a new creature in Christ, ordained to good works (Eph. 2:9-10).

III. By Grace—Confessing Christ (I Cor. 15:8-10).

Twenty years had passed since Paul's conversion. He had been serving Christ, in season and out of season. He had known persecution, suffering and opposition. Now he was writing, by inspiration of the Holy Spirit, about the resurrection, telling of those who had seen the risen Christ. He included himself as one born out of his time.

It is a personal vision of the living Saviour which vitalizes the spirit of a witness and makes his testimony ring true. Paul saw Christ. We too may see Him with the eyes of faith, and by His grace become witnesses Effort and labor are involved. This matter of witnessing is not something which automatically does itself. "I labored more abundantly," said Paul, and yet he knew that it was the grace of God in him which accomplished the result (see v. 10 and Phil. 2:13). That is it! The grace of God working on and in and through a man. And at the same time, that man laboring diligently that the grace bestowed upon him should not be found vain. It is in this manner God's work gets done on earth!

Organ Concert at Methodist Church

There was a packed house at the Methodist church Sunday night when Billy Muth, famous musician, gave an organ concert. Mr. Muth had been here since Thursday installing the Hammond organ which had been given by the Harper family in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Harper. Mr. Muth is employed by the Shield Company of Ft. Worth who sell the instruments. The performer sustained his reputation as an artist on the organ keys, as the tones of the instrument rose from whispering cadences on through melodious crescendos.

One group of numbers rendered Largo by Handel, Lost Chord by Sullivan, Ave Maria by Schubert and Londonderry Air (traditional). A solo, "I Talked With God Last Night" was well rendered by Mrs. A. K. Marney.

The musician played a number of selections called for by the congregation: The Hallelujah Chorus, Messiah, was played as a postlude, and thus ended an evening of enjoyable music.
