NUMBER 45

Looking 'round

BY THE EDITOR

Tuesday afternoon of this week a meeting was called of all the business men and ladies of the town. A good number of the business people attended and some of the members of the Garden Club were able to attend and all appreciated this very much.

So far as this writer knows, every place of business in town was notified of the meeting and at what time it would be, but it seems that some of the people in this town just can't get to things of this sort. Regardless of whether you were able to attend this meeting or not you still can do your part to help put over the plans that were made for the Christmas season. Elsewhere in this issue of the News are the different committees that were appointed to accept the responsibility of getting the things in shape for a grand time in Santa Anna during the month of December.

All this is being done to make our town more pleasant for people who are coming to town to do their shopping. If these named committees have the cooperation of all the business houses in town we can get back into the saddle like we used to do. We have, in the past, had some of the best programs for this season of the year to be held anywhere in this part of Texas and we can do it again. All it will take is just a little bit of time and a little bit of work on the large majority of the town's people and we can really put our town on the map so far as the season is concerned.

We would like to see every place of business in town actively cooperating in this Christmas program. We will assure you that it will mean something to you to be among the ones that put the program over.

H. O. Horton Dies Monday

Mr. H. O. Horton, long time Coleman county resident, passed away at 6:30 p. m. Monday, Nov. 3 at the home of his son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Snodgrass. He had been seriously ill for six weeks.

The body was taken to Sand Hill near Comanche Wednesday at noon, where the funeral and burial services were held at 3 p. m.

He is survived by the widow, several children, grandchildren and other relatives.

Mrs. Tom Wheatley and her grandson, Lloyd returned Wednesday from a visit since Friday with friends in San Antonio.

Miss Ann Stiles of Amarillo is visiting this week with her mother, Mrs. Ella Stiles.

Mrs. M. E. Walker has had a complete redecorating job done on the interior of her home. While the work was in progress she visited with her sister, Mrs. M. L. Taylor at Bangs.

Mabel Armstrong of Grosvenor is visiting this week with Mrs. R. P. Crum, with whom she formerly made her home.

J. P. Woodruff is recovering nicely from a major operation performed in a hospital in Brownwood two weeks ago.

Mrs. Irl Staples has accepted employment with the Santa Anna Hardware Company and began working Saturday, November 1st.

Mrs. Lee Boardman spent Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. Newman Upton and family in Brownwood.

Legion Auxiliary To Sell Poppies

On Saturday, November 8, all of us will be asked to wear a little red poppy on our coats or dresses. The day will be "Poppy Day," when once each year we of America pay tribute by wearing the memorial flower to honor those who gave their lives in America's services during the World Wars.

Volunteers from high school girls will assist the American Legion Auxiliary in distributing memorial poppies on Friday night, November 7 at the ball game on the local gridiron. Also on Saturday the groups will be on the streets throughout the day to distribute the memorial flowers. "We are very grateful for the work of these girls and young women," said Mrs. J. R. Gipson, poppy chairman. Their unselfish service will do much to help make the observance of Poppy Day a success in Santa Anna. I hope everyone they meet on Poppy Day will recognize the patriotic spirit in which they have volunteered and respond in the same spirit when offered a poppy.

The poppies, made by disabled veterans at Legion Hospital, Legion, Texas, have paper petals carefully attached to the wire stem and shaped to resemble the blooms with which nature decorated the battlefield graves. The work gives the men something interesting to do during the long hours of hospitalization and convalescence. It also enables them to earn money which builds their morale and makes things easier for themselves and families.

All workers will serve as unpaid volunteers and contributions made to them will go entirely into the rehabilitation and child welfare funds of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Home Demonstration Tour On Tuesday

Members of the Home Demonstration Club of Santa Anna who went on the achievement tour Tuesday were Mrs. W. E. Vanderford, Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Mrs. Doug Moore, Mrs. Claude Conley, Mrs. John Perry, Mrs. B. W. Douglas and Mrs. J. F. Goen.

The tour included Coleman, Silver Valley, White Chapel and Burkett. The other tour planned for Santa Anna and communities south and west, postponed from last week, will be held on Thursday, November 13.

Santa Anna and vicinity have been having much building and improvements of late months. One of the nicest homes erected in these parts in a long time is the recently completed and occupied home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Casey, built on their farm southwest of town in the Red Bank community. This lovely 7 room home is of brick construction and is thoroughly modern throughout with hardwood floors, venetian blinds and new furnishings. Mr. and Mrs. Casey and their daughter, Doretha Faye have just reason to be proud of their new home.

Mrs. Virginia Blocker of Ft. Worth and Afton Pieratt of Amarillo spent the week-end here visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curran Pieratt and their brother, Billy Pieratt and wife and their new daughter, Virginia Louise.

Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson of Corpus Christi are visiting her mother, Mrs. E. W. Bible and other relatives and friends here this week.

Mrs. W. S. Stacy left Saturday for Dallas, where her husband had gone earlier in the week, and accepted employment.

Mrs. Jim Cobb of Killeen visited over the week-end with a relative, Mrs. Lois H. Niell.

Mountaineers To Meet Lake View Chiefs Here This Friday Night

The Santa Anna Mountaineers will tangle with the Chiefs from Lake View on the Mountaineer Field Friday night at 8 p. m.

The Mountaineers and the Chiefs are figured about the same on paper. The Mountaineers have lost both the conference games they have played and the Chiefs have lost all three of the conference games they have played. Both teams have won one game each this year with Santa Anna winning from May by a score of 31-0 and the Chiefs winning from Dublin by 6-0. According to figures both teams will be out to see if they can't get off the bottom of the list. However, you never can tell what kind of upset may happen in a football game. Both teams have other games to play this year and both have chances to win other games, besides the one Friday night.

Except for one man, Goodwin, all the Mountaineers are in first class condition and should really show the fans from Santa Anna a rip roaring football game Friday night.

Town To Close November 11

In observance of Armistice Day, November 11, the town of Santa Anna is going to close its doors and observe the day as it should be.

All the schools will also be closed for the day.

You are requested to take notice and act accordingly.

B. M. Stewart, recently of Balinger, has leased the Dutch Evans Shoe Repair Shop and moved it into the Blue Bonnet Cafe space of the Santa Anna News building, where he is establishing himself in the boot and shoe repair business. Mr. Stewart has an ad elsewhere in this paper, announcing his business and inviting the public to come his way when in need of shoe repairing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gregg went to Rising Star last Friday where they spent the day with friends of former days and attended the annual meeting of the Trail Blazers Association. The Greggs started their married lives in Rising Star, and lived there ten years before moving to Santa Anna. It was a pleasure to return to their former home and spend the day renewing friendships of good friends of former years.

Mr. E. E. Stephens of Shawnee, Oklahoma, is here this week. He was born near Trickham in 1893. His father, Holland Stephens, came to this county in 1881 and left in 1894. They were subscribers to the Santa Anna News in the early years of its publication. Mr. Stephens is writing a history of his people and is here seeking material. His father worked for a time for members of the Stewardson family.

Mrs. Ida Perry Jones and her daughter, Mrs. Hollis Watson of Shields visited Sunday afternoon with Miss Louella Chambers.

New Traffic Code Laws Not Being Obeyed

Reports from the State Highway Department this week say some of the laws of the new Traffic Code are not being abided by and that some arrests have already been made and that others will be made all along, as long as the laws are not taken seriously and abided by.

One of the main things in this part of the country is the lack of lights on trailers. The Highway Department says the lights and reflectors are available now and must be put on immediately. Trailers are supposed to have two reflectors, one on either side and a light on the left-hand side. At night this light is supposed to burn. The reflectors and lights must be on the trailers, regardless of the fact that you may not be on the highway at night. In other words, if you are going to be on the highway at any time, day or night, you must have all the lights and reflectors required by law on the trailers.

Also on a car pulling a trailer you are supposed to have the proper lights on the car. There are also a number of cars that do not meet the state requirement yet and they are being watched for too. Most of the material to put the cars in proper condition is getting where it can be purchased and all vehicles must be put in the proper condition as soon as possible, and then when you get them in the proper condition, keep them that way.

Colds Worst Cause Of Job Time Loss

Winter months again bring the reminder that the common cold is actually a serious disease that is responsible for the loss of more time on the job and more hours in the classroom than any other single cause. Adults and children are warned by the National Conservation Bureau, accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies.

Competent medical authorities say the danger of colds may be greatly reduced by avoiding excessive room temperatures and having adequate ventilation in winter, the bureau stated. Drafts should be avoided, however.

Steer clear of persons already infected, and protect others by covering your sniffling, coughs and sneezes with a handkerchief.

Plenty of sleep is one of the best defenses against colds, the bureau said. If you catch one anyway, fight it by resting indoors, keeping warm and drinking plenty of liquids. If the condition is serious, see your physician at once.

Mrs. Kenneth Brusenhan visited from Friday until Monday with her brother, Jesse Burns and wife in San Antonio. She also visited with her husband's brother, Robert Brusenhan and family, while there.

All the business men and women in town along with the Mountain City Garden Club were invited to attend a meeting this week to formulate plans for a big Christmas Opening and Programs during the month of December. The meeting was pretty well attended and December 5 was set as the day for the unveiling of the town in its Christmas dress.

Discussions were held as to what should be planned for the town during the holiday season. The Mountain City Garden Club will have the responsibility of decorations in the residential district of the town and they will make their plans at their regular meeting Friday of this week. Announcements of their plans will be made next week. Mrs. A. D. Donham was appointed chairman and Mrs. Rex Goldman was appointed vice chairman to work with her.

With the compliments of the Queen Theatre there will be a FREE SHOW on the afternoon of December 5. The exact time of the showing and the name will be announced later.

Tentative plans were made for each of the business houses to have their stores decorated and their window displays ready for the night of December 5. All the windows should have veils on them until that night and then at the appointed time all will be unveiled at the same time. The street lights will be turned on and a Christmas program will be held on the street.

Plans are for one of the biggest Christmas openings we have ever had in this town. Let's all work together and make it one more gala event for Santa Anna.

Weekly WAA Surplus News

Marking a new era in Texas industry, the multi million dollar Lone Star Steel plant near Daingerfield, completed near the end of World War II, rumbled into continuous pig iron production last week under privately managed, independent operation. At ceremonies commemorating the start of production, Robert M. Littlejohn, administrator of WAA, hailed the operation as particularly gratifying since pig iron is in such short supply throughout the country. The company holds a three year lease with option to buy the plant. All the first iron output of the plant is destined for the Federal Housing Authority and will go into new housing through the country, according to F. B. Germany, company president.

Simple sales procedure will mark the sale of 122 surplus buildings at the Blackland Army Airfield near Waco, November 13. The public is invited to buy structures eight by eight feet to 20 by 40 feet including storage type buildings, laboratories, quartermaster warehouses, squadron operations, lumber storage shed, administration building, post exchange, barracks and various other types. It is announced by WAA as a free-lined sale where would-be purchasers only have to be at the sale, bid, pay and receive title, then and there. Buyers may remove buildings the day of sale and shall remove them within 60 days. Inspection continues until November 12 between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 4:30 p. m., Saturdays and Sundays excepted.

WAA is preparing to clear airfields throughout the country of 405 surplus aircraft, including 29 Stearman trainers at the Dallas Naval Air Station, by means of a fixed price sale to veterans and other buyers opening November 12. Veterans may buy from November 12 through December 3. Remaining planes will be offered to other priority groups until December 11, when the residue will go on sale to the general public. Public inspection of the planes at all locations has been scheduled for November 10 and 11. WAA has lowered prices on virtually all of the surplus aircraft in order to speed the transfer to private owners. All of the aircraft is divided into two categories, set aside planes which may be purchased by anyone possessing a honorable discharge earned during World War II, and non set aside planes which may be purchased by veterans who have been discharged from the service.

Seven buildings from the Dallas Army Airfield and two auxiliary buildings were recently purchased by West Texas and Panhandle public schools and cities in a separate sale of structures. The sale was held by the WAA Office of Real Property Disposal. Schools purchasing were Dallas Center in Hale county, Grantham high school and Dallas public schools. Cities purchasing were Dumas and Scurry. At a later date, the remainder of the buildings will be advertised for public bidding and sale for off-site use.

Instead Of Meat, What

Homemakers are as anxious as anyone else to help out in the government's food conservation program, but when it comes right down to planning menus for meatless days the questions that are hard to answer are "What will take the place of meat? Will the family like it?"

Louise Mason, food preparation specialist of the Texas A. & M. College extension service, says that meatless Tuesdays may develop into more of a problem in the home than poultryless Thursdays, because most families plan two and sometimes three meals a day around meat. Take the meat away and the gap that is left in the menu is mighty hard to fill.

Wholesome menus for meatless days are not impossible, however, and to prove her point, Miss Mason has several suggestions. Irish potato pancakes can be substituted at the breakfast table for the usual main dish—they are delicious with either honey or syrup, and take the place of toast, flour pancakes or bacon or ham and eggs. For a noonday meal there is macaroni with creamed salmon. The 3-oz. can of salmon will serve six, which is an important thing to remember in these days of high prices. For supper, few people can resist the sizzle of a juicy, piping hot cheese omelet.

The addition of fruit, fresh and cooked vegetables to each of these main dishes will provide appetizing as well as nutritious meals.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Griffin and children from South Camp Hood were here last Saturday visiting and attending to business.

Methodist Ladies Have All Day Meet

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church had a pleasant and profitable all day meeting at the church on Thursday, October 30, in observance of the annual week of prayer. A liberal offering was taken for the missionary work of the organization. Following a program along these lines an enjoyable covered dish luncheon was served at the noon hour.

Those attending were Mrs. Tom Hays, Mrs. Jim Daniel, Mrs. T. R. Sealy, Mrs. Emma Kirkpatrick, Mrs. O. A. Etheredge, Mrs. Hardy Blue, Mrs. Henry Price, Mrs. C. C. Meyers, Mrs. O. L. Cheaney, Mrs. Dan Blake and Misses Betty Davis and Elsie Lee Harper.

Mrs. Chap Eeds was hostess on Wednesday night, October 29, when she entertained members of the Glad Hand Class of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Bill Griffin presided over the business session at which time there was held the annual election of class officers. Mrs. N. C. Watson was elected president; Mrs. Jack Mobley, vice president; and Mrs. Harry Caton secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Chap Eeds was unanimously chosen class teacher with Mrs. Jim Daniel as her assistant. Games were enjoyed during the evening and delicious refreshments were served. Social Security Doesn't Tell

Like the daisies, the Social Security Administration won't tell. This Federal agency keeps its mouth shut, and some of the 38 million Americans who hold Social Security cards would be mighty unhappy if it didn't.

Concentrated in the Accounting Operations Division of its Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance in the Candler Building in Baltimore are more personal facts and figures about more Americans than in any other place in the country.

Just how old is your mother in law? The Social Security Administration might know, but it won't tell. How much did your ex-wife earn last year? The record is there, but only she can get that information—and she already knows.

When the Social Security Administration asks for and gets from a worker the information necessary to set up and identify his account, it pledges itself to regard such information as confidential and to withhold it from all but authorized persons.

The worker whose boss thinks he is ten years younger than he is need have no fear that his secret will come to light. It is guarded from prying eyes at all times of the day and night by guards whose sole job is to keep the records safe.

The Social Security Administration's local office receives numerous requests each week for aid in locating missing husbands, absconding treasurers, and persons who find it easier to move than to pay bills. Manager Ralph T. Fisher reports, and it is a dull week which does not produce some five or six telephone calls from people who cash checks on the basis of social security card identification.

"In every case," Fisher stated, "we must tell the caller that our records are for social security purposes only and that we are not permitted to release any information. Without such protection to individuals, we would no longer get the accurate information necessary, and we would soon be spending more time giving information than we now put on the bookkeeping the law requires."

WOODWARDS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Woodward and Mary Lela returned last week from a more than three weeks vacation trip to California and other points of interest in the west.

They were in Los Angeles for several days where they attended the National Postmasters convention. They also spent some time in San Francisco.

The trip was a pleasant one as the weather was good and all stayed well and they had no car trouble.

During their absence from the post office everything was carried on in a fine way by the regular workers, Jack Mobley and Mr. Strother and Mrs. Erwin Day, who substituted for Mary Lela.

Mr. Woodward says the Santa Anna post office has the best patrons to be found anywhere and we will reciprocate by saying most people in this vicinity think we have a postmaster as good as the best to be found anywhere.

NATIONAL GUARD ENLISTS 8,023 MEN IN A WEEK

National Guard enlistments rose to 8,023 bringing the total new enlistments to 38,174 since the nation wide recruiting campaign started September 16, 1947, at the direction of President Truman.

This is the highest weekly total so far and indicates that the recruiting campaign is gathering momentum. Maj. Gen. Kenneth L. Cramer, Chief, National Guard Bureau, has announced.

Mrs. H. O. Blair returned home on Friday of last week from a two weeks visit with her son, Floyd Blair and family at Goldthwaite. While there they attended the funeral of their cousin, Miss Lome Wellen at Marlin on October 18. The deceased had visited for a month last summer in the home of Mrs. Blair.

A fantastic idea?

We have here a telescope with extraordinary powers.

All you have to do is point it in the right direction and you'll see that South Sea Island you've always dreamed about. Or those gay, flower-filled streets of Paris in the Spring. Or any other place you've always had your heart set on going some day when all your heavy responsibilities are over.

Sometime a device like this might really be fact instead of fancy. But, extraordinary as it will be, there's one thing it won't ever be able to do. And that's provide the means for you to get there.

That's something you'll have to do for yourself.

For most people, the easiest—and often the only—way to do it is by means of a constant, regular savings program like the Payroll Savings Plan. Having a specific amount deducted from your salary regularly for the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds is one of the simplest, safest ways of accumulating money.

The special Bond-A-Month Plan for those who have checking accounts is another convenient way of saving money.

Either way is safe. And rewarding—both in security and return. A Bond that costs you only $18.75 now will be worth $25.00 in ten years.

Just make sure now that, if and when your opportunity comes, you'll not only be ready and rarin' . . . but able to go.

SCRIPTURE: I Peter: Daniel 1.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 24.

A Call to Right Living
Lesson for November 9, 1947

SUNDAY'S lesson is based on the First Epistle of Peter and the first chapter of Daniel. It is a temperance lesson. It is suggested that we read the 24th Psalm, in which we find this question, "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? And the answer, He that hath clean hands and a pure heart."

Dr. Newton

Peter gives us the spiritual basis of temperance. Daniel gives us a shining example of temperance. And the 24th Psalm gives us a dramatic concept of what it means to face God in the right attitude of life.

How to Grow Strong

OUR doctors tell us how to grow strong, sound bodies. We are to eat the right food, sleep regularly, breathe deeply, etc., etc. Daniel did all of these things, and something more—"Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's wine which he drank; therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself," Daniel 1:8.

Daniel was challenged by the prince of the eunuchs. He predicted that Daniel and his companions would become pale and weak if they refrained from eating the king's meat and drinking the king's wine. Finally he agreed for them to refrain from meat and wine for ten days, and at the end of the ten days, behold, Daniel and his companions appeared fairer and fatter than those who had eaten intemperately.

Every Youth Must Choose

AS DANIEL chose to grow strong through temperate habits of eating and drinking, so must every youth choose between right living and lustful living. We have laws against drunkenness, for example, but legislation alone cannot produce a generation of temperate young men and women. Each boy and each girl must choose for himself and herself between temperance and intemperance.

And this lesson sets out the ways by which such choices can be made and sustained. I find a helpful word in I Corinthians 10:31: "Whether, therefore, ye eat or drink or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God."

As we make the choice between drunkenness and sobriety, let us remember that we are choosing between God and Satan—between the example of honorable parents and the example of people who have decried every sanctity. This lesson is a call to right living.

Disciplined Lives

WHICH calls into mind a word that we have not always treated fairly. I am thinking of the word "discipline." Too often we have regarded this word as something very austere, when, as a matter of fact, it is one of the really fine words of our language. It means "one taught." It is the word which, with slight difference in spelling, gives us "disciple."

The immediate followers of Jesus were called disciples. They were young men, gathered up from the everyday pursuits of life. Most of them were fishermen—men who faced hardships every night as they confronted wind and wave. And yet these rough and tumble fishermen became "the taught" ones of Jesus. They yielded to his discipline. They were pupils in the school of Christ.

That is what this lesson is aiming at—to enlist many, many pupils in the school of Christ.

The Test of Time

MAKE this test in your community, whether you live in the city or in the country. Look at the lives of the men and women about you, and draw your own conclusions regarding the worth of temperate living. Study the lives of the drunkards against the lives of the men and women who have refrained from strong drink. Study the lives of the gamblers and see if they have really won.

BOYCE HOUSE

After campaigning for years against books with footnotes, I'm a footnote in John Gunther's best selling "Inside U. S. A." He does not, with credit to the book, "I Give You Texas", some six or seven jokes in the main part of the volume.

Incidentally, "I Give You Texas" is now available in a news stand edition, about the size and appearance of Time Magazine, at half a dollar.

A new song contains a line with this marvelous information, "Tomorrow — The day after today."

Perhaps the longest name for a Texas town, population considered, is Sutherland Springs. Nearly as long a name is Tennessee Colony.

I appeal to the verdict of history—the test of time. Not only in the case of Daniel, but in the lives of the men and women in every community in America is daily borne out the truth of Sunday's lesson—that God giveth us richly all things to enjoy, but we must use his gifts with disciplined minds.

guests who want to see the old missions, have been known to drive by one of the railroad stations (which are constructed in mission style) and point it out as one of the historic landmarks. Thus the visitors went back home up north happy at having seen — as they thought — San Jose and their hosts were happy, too, at having saved some time.

Bert Williams was the most famous comedian of his day. It is related that while he was at the height of his fame, he saw a sign, "Amateur Night". In front of a cheap theatre, so he entered the contest, went out and sang one of his comic songs in his inimitable manner and won — second prize!

There ought to be some sort of moral in that but I haven't time to figure it out.

The national house and senate talk about free "enterprise" — and then pass a law that restricts the amount of sugar that the U. S. will have for the next three years to 36 per cent of the pre-war amount and at the same time assures the price will be higher.

Remember they told us consumers that if the government would just remove the controls we would have lots of houses for the veterans and plenty of meat and an abundance of new cars and of course the newspapers would have all the paper they needed — also that prices would level off?

Hans Christian Anderson isn't the only one who could make up fairy tales.

At the recent Palo Pinto county old settlers' reunion, I met Sam Savage, who, when a boy, was carried off by the Indians and lived with them about a year before being freed.

Also at the reunion was Gib Abernathy, veteran peace officer. One day, while I was a reporter on the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram and Abernathy was a Texas Ranger, he walked into the office and asked for me. Told it would be several hours before I reported for duty, he declined all efforts to get him to talk, but just said, "Tell Boyce to get in touch with me". I did — and obtained a scoop, in fact a double one. A hermit who lived in a tent had been murdered and Gib not only told me about that but he also had the slayer under arrest — a quick clean up of a mystery.

"I'd rather know a little less than to know so much that ain't so."

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Pritchard visited last week with relatives at Brownwood, Rising Star and Eastland. They left Sunday to visit with their son at Slaton and with other relatives in the plains country.

Mrs. Jimmy Felham and Randy were here from Brownwood visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Baker.

The club ladies who were scheduled to make a tour of the southern part of Coleman county failed to make the trip because of the heavy rains a few days before. Owing to the disrupted telephone service, it was almost noon before the club ladies heard that the trip had been called off. The following ladies went on to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Boenicker's with their covered dish lunch and their exhibits and had a very enjoyable time together. Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Boenicker were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Whitley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stacy, Mrs. Bond Featherston, Mrs. Bud Laughlin, Mrs. A. J. Martin, Mrs. John Pentecost and Miss Alice Evelyn Stearns. After lunch they drove over to see Mr. and Mrs. Bond Featherston's new home.

Mrs. J. B. Weathers of Shield spent last Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. L. E. Page.

Mrs. Leona Cozart spent last Friday at Norice with her father and her sister.

Mrs. Madeline Wilson and her sister, Mrs. Bettie M. Cole visited Mr. Kimbenton last Thursday afternoon.

Those who attended the Halloween party here last Friday night reported a jolly time with 80 or more present.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tucker visited Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Page last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haynes visited their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lancaster of Leadville one day last week.

Ruth Dean spent last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kit Casey.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Martin and son, Hollis of Coleman, spent the week end here with his mother, Mrs. Martin and Hollis attended Sunday School and church.

Mrs. Fred Haynes and sons spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Bowden of Cherokee. Her brother, Cecil Bowden, and family brought them home Saturday, staying over the week end here.

Mr. and Mrs. John McClatchy of Coleman spent Sunday with their granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Stevens and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Felton Martin of Forsan and Mr. and Mrs. Ray McSwain of Brownwood visited their parents, Rev. and Mrs. Howell Martin Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stacy and Mrs. Zona Stacy were shopping in Brownwood Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Pearl Purl left here last Thursday for her home in Brownwood.

You may wonder why I quit mentioning anything about Mrs. C. F. Shield. In fact, I didn't know anything to tell but Mary said this morning she expected her to come home by the first of next week. Robert is coming with her and Mary doesn't think she is any better.

Mrs. Zay Shirley and Mrs. C. A. Thompson visited Mrs. Kingston Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Howell Martin gave his answer Sunday night as to this recall for pastor for another year and said he would accept the recall and asked the people to cooperate with him. We all know the misunderstandings we have had in our community. Why not let's bury the hatchet, forgive one another and try by God's grace to co-operate with the pastor, Sunday School supt., the teachers and any and all church organizations to make people love to come to our church and Sunday School. I answer for myself. By God's grace, I will.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley McClatchy and Mrs. W. J. Richardson were dinner guests of the Stearns Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Richardson, district missionary from Brownwood brought us a great message here Sunday morning and you who were not there missed a spiritual blessing. Do you know I have noticed in my past life as a Christian that every time I fail to go to church I miss a blessing and I always think of the scripture where it says: "And Thomas was not with them when Jesus came." John 20:24.

Louise and Carnell Roberts of Brooksmith and Patsy Richardson spent Sunday afternoon with Verna Mae Stearns.

Gus Fivensh and family of Coleman visited his sister, Mrs. Leta Price and Truman Sunday.

Visitors in the Lige Lancaster home Sunday were Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Hickerson, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lancaster and Mr. and Mrs. Linton Oakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Boenicker, Mr. and Mrs. Chleo James attended a meeting of the Farm Bureau at Coleman last Thursday night. Say, you farmers, why don't you join this Farm Bureau? You know in united effort there is strength. Oscar would be glad to receive your membership.

H. and Mrs. Joe Love and his mother, Mrs. A. J. Petric of San Antonio spent the week end here with Mrs. Petric's sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Martin. These are the people who lost their only son a few weeks ago with the new disease, typhus, and of course they are very heart-broken. A

Q. How can a poultry raiser overcome dirty eggs?

- A. To insure clean eggs from your hens, be sure to observe the following practices: 1. Provide one nest for each seven hens. 2. Keep floor covered with good litter. 3. Keep nests well littered with shavings, excelsior or straw. 4. Keep under-side of perches covered with 1 1/2 inch mesh 16 gauge wire. 5. Keep hens in house when yards are muddy. 6. Have hands clean when gathering eggs. 7. Pack eggs in good cases with clean fillers and flats.

Q. What percentage of pigs that are farrowed are raised to market? Can this percentage be increased?

A. According to the U.S.D.A., normally only 56% of the pigs that are farrowed reach market age. This high mortality figure means an increase in production costs, including feed for those pigs that fall by the wayside. At the Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company where a program of breeding, feeding, management and sanitation is followed, about 79% of the pigs farrowed are raised to market.

Q. Should broilers fed an all-mash ration be given grit?

A. No, grit is unnecessary. Chickens can digest such a ration without use of grit just as well.

Q. What causes milk to becomeropy after it has stood a while, and how can this condition be prevented?

A. Ropy milk should not be confused with stringy curdled, curdy milk from mastitis infected cows. Ropy milk may look normal as it comes from the cow and usually the ropery condition is not apparent until it has stood for several hours during which time the types of bacteria responsible for this condition have had a chance to multiply. Bacteria causing this condition are usually found in stagnant water and the trouble is apt to occur when cows get out on pasture and wallow in ponds or swampy places. The proper sterilization of milking utensils with luke-warm water may cause contamination. This trouble can easily be overcome by improved sanitation practices.

utes and it so happened that Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Burney came at the same time and they soon found out that Lt. Laza was at Java when Willis Burney was killed. While Lt. Laza could not recall Willis by name, yet he knew the day their plane left out and failed to return. He said those were days of such anxiety you could hardly recall anything but that he probably talked with Willis before they left out. He also said that if he should yet contact any of the boys who knew just how Willis met his death he would let the Burneys know. They attended Sunday School and church while here and gave $100 on the building fund, in memory of their son. (They don't know that I am telling this). We thank them so much.

We hear that Mr. and Mrs. Lanham Cole of near Santa Anna have moved to their new home in the Mt. View community. Mrs. Cole was reared here and Mr. Cole at Mt. View so they will probably feel that they are back at home.

Rev. Misses Nellie Hill and Laura Dolan of Whon were up visiting members of her church who live here. She insisted much that we come to Whon Friday night the 7th to hear Dr. and Mrs. A. S. London, who spend most of their time out in the interest of the Sunday School work. They travel all over the U. S. and reports are that where they go people's eyes are open to the value of getting all children into our Sunday School. Why not all try to be there?

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Harley Stearns on Friday night were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cottle and Sandra of Brady. Also Sunday at lunch were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene James of Taylor ranch, Mr. and Mrs. Willie G. Stearns and Charlotte Ann and Joyce Raye Holland of Ft. Worth.

Mrs. Page visited Mrs. Stearns Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sharp and Mr. and Mrs. Loyell Richardson

ARMY CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

The Army's new preselected school plan and leadership training program provide exceptional opportunities for intelligent and ambitious young men to qualify for career service in the Infantry, Artillery or Armored Cavalry, according to Gen. Jacob L. Devers, Commanding General of

The preselected school plan makes it possible for a man between the ages of 17 and 34 inclusive, with a high school education or its equivalent, to select one of the Army's 60 specialist training courses before actually enlisting.

EDITORIAL

The last day of this school week is Friday. No, it is not Friday 13 nor a holiday. It is not the birthday of some famous person. When that day rolls around, some students will be glad; others will be in doubt or even sorry. That day marks the passing of one fourth of the school year. Some grades show that many of us will be sitting in the same class room at the beginning of next year that we are sitting in today unless we wake up and start working harder. Do not work Friday only, but every day as each day counts.

Let's all start today making each day count and not tomorrow as tomorrow never comes. With this in our minds and determination we shall all make this a successful year.

A FACULTY PERSONALITY

Now to introduce a favorite personality of the campus — our band director and science instructor, Mr. T. K. Martin.

Mr. Martin was one of five boys, four of which play some instrument. Mr. Martin began his musical hobby at the age of twelve, playing an alto horn. He later took up the baritone and when he began his college work he occupied the chair of first cornet.

His academic work, Mr. Martin received at McMurry College in Abilene. He continued his studies at Texas Tech, receiving his preparatory band instruction there where knowledge of all instruments was required.

Previous to his directorship in Santa Anna, Mr. Martin has been on the faculties of Hermaleigh and Cross Plains.

All of the students became acquainted with Mr. Martin when he was employed at the Phillips Drug Store.

As a member of the Santa Anna high faculty, Mr. Martin also has classes in general science and biology in addition to the band classes, both seniors and beginners.

One of the recent activities Mr. Martin is organizing and directing is the "Mountaineer Echoes," the Santa Anna high school choral club. We are very proud of our choral club and feel very fortunate in having Mr. Martin as our sponsor.

OUR TEAM

Gene Rice, who alternates with David Hunter on the first string, plays a sparkling defensive game at center. Gene's position will be pretty hard to fill next year.

"Warm up, Little". Coach McBride calls on Albrus Little almost every game. Albrus plays a hard, rough game of football every time he plays. Albrus will be here for two more years and we are certainly glad of it.

Wayne Walters played his first full ball game against Ballinger and now we expect to see more of him in the last three games to be played this year. He will also play for two more years.

R. D. Hartman is expected to play right guard for most of the remaining games this year. R. D. is only a freshman this year which makes him all the more remarkable. A warning to Lake View is, "Watch that freshman whiz, Hartman."

One of the smallest men on the team is Dewey Dunn. He plays a game that really spells out "Football." Dewey's only disadvantage is his mere 130 pounds. However, he throws it around with such a vengeance that people dodge when he runs at them.

If we had touchdown twins, they would be Dunn and Studdard, even though they haven't made one yet. Deraki Studdard plays a skittish and scampering game of football.

Big, hussy Junior Cruger just has to get mad and he really is just beginning to find a place for himself on the football field. He will really be a war horse next year if he continues to work as hard as he did this year.

A little fast and passing man called R. L. Mackey has as much promise for the backfield of 1948. He has played rough and clean football all this year.

Long legged Dick Humphries is a husky and rugged man to have on anybody's team. What he has played this year shows that we will see more of him next year.

Hefty Herbert Straughan is waiting for his chance to show his speed. He really showed some cleverness and much interest in football in the May game.

Harold Mills knows his football and really tries very hard. It is too bad that this is his last year.

Perhaps the most disappointed boy on the team is Johnny Parker. He entered school late and had to wait to get to play ball until November 7, the Lake View game. However he will really play when he gets his chance.

Billy Mills will be the man to watch from here on out. He has just found out that when he hits someone he really mows them down.

The last to recognize the Italian Price. He is tiny and hasn't played much this year but he still tries and comes out every day. He'll be in there slugging, though, in the next two years.

The team is very ably and competently managed by Don Woodruff and Kenneth Vance. We are very sure that should the outstanding coach of the district were to be selected our own coach, D. W. McBride would certainly have the honor.

YOUR I. Q.

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

Honor and shame from no condition rise; Act well your part, there all the honor lies.

JOKES

A young man dashed madly across the dock toward the ferry. With a frantic leap he spanned the three feet of water and crashed onto the deck.

"Whew," he exclaimed when he had regained his breath. "I made it after all."

"Made what?" asked a deckhand. "This boat is just pulling in."

Coach McBride: "Francis Scott Key was famous for what?"

Helen Day: "He knew all the verses of the Star Spangled Banner."

Olin Horton and Arthur D. Talley were shaving when Olin remarked, "I say, Talley, have you got a good memory for faces?"

"Yes," replied Talley from behind his towel.

"Well, see if you can remember your own when you shave it, I've broken your mirror."

Dewey Dunn: "Do you know that paper can be used to keep a person warm?"

R. L. Mackey: "Do I? My latest report card kept me in a stew for two weeks."

Mr. Green: "You are positively Peter."

the laziest boy I know. Isn't there anything you are quick at?"

Joe Sellers: "I get tired awful fast."

Mrs. Evans: "Gene, if you had five dollars in your pocket, what would you think?"

Gene Sherrod: "I'd think I had somebody else's pants on."

Mrs. McQueen: "If I lay four eggs here and six eggs here, how many will I have?"

Nancy Holt: "I don't believe you can do it!"

Gene Smith: "Why they call money 'dough' is hard to understand. Dough is something that sticks to the fingers."

Mrs. Singleton: "Give me a sentence with an object in it."
 Stanley Cobb: "You are very beautiful!"

Mrs. S.: "What is the object?"
 Stanley: "An 'A' grade."

Mr. Martin in biology class: "Tell me, Lynn, why do women live longer than men?"

Lynn Pittard: "I don't know, teacher, unless it's because paint is a great preservative."

Mrs. Singleton: "Kenneth, what is your favorite flower?"

Kenneth Vance: "Chrysanthemums."

Mrs. Singleton: "Spell chrysanthemums."

Kenneth: "Come to think of it, I like roses better."

"Well, do," was my operation report card kept me in a stew for two weeks."

"Sorry," said Lynn, "I'm Saint."

OUR PLEDGE ON ARMISTICE DAY

On that day—November 11, 1918—when the war which was then termed the most destructive of all wars ended, we in America pledged ourselves to the task of making and keeping a lasting peace. Because we withdrew from the world's efforts towards peace, because we, with all the other nations, refused to recognize the real threat to peace when it appeared, we failed in that task.

The result was a second World War—far more terrible and disastrous than the first. Now, more than two years after the end of that second World War, we face again the task of making and keeping the peace.

Let us this time pledge ourselves to the greatest possible degree of cooperation with our world neighbors in every effort to make peace a reality.

Let us pledge ourselves to the task of spreading the doctrine of real, vital democracy in the world.

Let us pledge ourselves to work and build as we never worked and built before, that civilization may rise to new heights of glory and that war may be forever outlawed for all time.

In memory of the men of all nations who have given their lives in two wars within our time, we pledge ourselves to new and determined efforts to create a world in which all men shall live together as brothers.

Central Colorado Soil Conservation

E. E. Pinson started planting 70 acres to hairy vetch and rye last week on the Dr. Ray Hallum ranch in the Lower Leedy conservation group south of Santa Anna. The soil is a sandy loam where the vetch and rye are planted, and superphosphate, at the rate of 200 pounds per acre; was applied with a fertilizer drill at the time of seeding. The field native grasses and the vetch is planned for seeding back to being grown to improve the fertility of the soil before seeding to grass.

Clyde Thate completed 2.5 miles of terraces last week on his farm in the Marshall Branch conservation group near Burkett. Also, Vernon Bullard has 8 miles of terraces under construction which he expects to complete this week.

Buddy Neff has recently completed six miles of terraces on his farm in the Junction conservation group near Coleman. Also Oscar Gould has started five miles of terraces on his farm.

Fields where crop litter was left on top of the ground has less run off and suffered less from washing than fields that were plowed with a breaking plow and harrowed smooth, during a recent rain, on the Harold and Hugh Wheat farm in the Mozelle conservation group near Voss. The practice of plowing to leave crop litter on top or in the surface of the soil is recognized as being a great aid in causing the soil to absorb more moisture and in reducing soil washing.

Grasses planted last spring on the Mike Parker farm at Novice, are producing a light crop of seed this fall. Most grasses, that produce new growth from the same plant year after year and do not have to be replanted, make a slow growth and mature slowly and do not produce seed the first year except under the most favorable conditions. The mixture planted on the Parker farm included blue grama, slender grama, weeping lovegrass and little bluestem. The blue and slender grama have not grown here before and both show excellent promise of being good short grasses for use in mixtures.

David Powell of Los Angeles, California, visited over the week-end with his sister, Mrs. Jack Shields and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Watts and Carol Sue of Austin were week-end visitors of her mother, Mrs. Zetha Thomas.

IN FLANDERS' FIELDS

By Colonel John McCrae

In Flanders' fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That marks our place: and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.

We are the dead,
Short days ago we lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved and now we lie
In Flanders' fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you from falling hands we throw
The Torch-be yours to hold it high;
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders' fields.

Square Biscuits,
Yet!

I see by a neighboring paper, that the round biscuit is on the way out. Yes, sir, home-management specialists have found that the square biscuit lends itself to assembly-line production and easy storage better than these customary ovals.

Well, we're all for progress, but that's one new idea we just don't cotton to. A round biscuit, spread nicely amidst snappy country cheese, looks like a biscuit! And accompanied by a mellow glass of beer, it's a combination that you can't improve on!

So at the risk of being called old-fashioned, I'm voting for round biscuits, that fit a hungry man's mouth like no square imitation ever will... and for American beer served in the good old-fashioned way, in tall, cool mugs or ordinary glasses, with frosty sides and bubbles winking at the brim!

Think I'll step out to the kitchen for a snack right now!

October 25, 1947

The Great American Reserve Insurance Co.,
Dallas, Texas.
Gentlemen:

The Coleman County Medical Society approves the plan that every family should have a prepaid hospital and surgical insurance policy with a reliable company to make it easier to pay hospital and surgical expenses. We do not, however, recommend any one insurance company.

Your contract is as broad in coverage as most policies of this type and promises prompt handling of claims. It is to be stressed, however, that this plan like many others does not cover the entire hospital or surgical bill but does reduce the bill to a small balance.

This community like all others needs an adequate prepaid plan of hospital and surgical care to aid in relieving financial stress caused by sickness. Such prepaid insurance follows the American way of life in offering the individual a free choice of doctor and hospital.

Yours truly,
THE COLEMAN COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

State Dept. Of Health Letter

Commenting on the food conservation program now being stressed throughout the nation, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, today emphasized the importance of including the proper food requisites in the daily diet, as being important to the maintenance of health.

"Food conservation is an absolute necessity and all Texans are eager to assist in this program; but eliminating needful basic foods will only result in undernourishment and illness, which can be avoided by observing the Texas food standard in daily meals," Dr. Cox said. "This food standard will enable Texans to utilize available foods, eliminate waste, cooperate in conserving food and spend their food dollar wisely."

The Texas food standard, recommended by Dr. Cox, provides all necessary food elements and for each individual includes daily servings of: 1 pint to 1 quart milk; 1 egg or substitute; 1 serving meat, poultry or fish; 1 serving potatoes; 1 serving green or yellow vegetables; 1 serving citrus fruit or tomatoes; 1 serving other fruit; 1 serving whole grain products; other enriched cereals or breads; small amount butter or margarine with vitamins added; some sweets or desserts in moderate quantities.

"Good nutrition is based upon the observance of good food habits, practiced every day," Dr. Cox declared. "This is important at any time, but especially now, when it will not only maintain good health but assist in the conservation of food supplies."

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Hagler of Holland were week-end visitors with her brother, J. D. Henderson and wife. The Hendersons moved recently to the home they had purchased in the north part of town known as the Bissett place.
