NO SPECIAL TRAIN TO LUBBOCK

Pep Squad, Band, Football Squad And Others To Make Trip By Bus

There will be no special train over the Texas & Pacific and Santa Fe railroads to Lubbock Saturday. This was made known Tuesday afternoon by school officials when the Santa Fe railroad officials refused to rectify schedule for the train which called for departure from Lubbock at 10:10 p. m. School authorities desired to leave earlier in the evening, but since the railroad would not 'give in,' the school refused the train.

As a result, the high school band, pep squad members and football squad will go to Lubbock by bus over the South Plains Coaches, Inc. It was learned this afternoon. The bus company is making an attractive rate of $2.35 for a round trip for all passengers to the game Saturday. All who desire to make the trip via the bus line are asked to get in touch with the local bus terminal and advise the management of their intention, so they will know how much extra equipment to send to Big Spring for the crowd.

City Manager Spence, in introducing Mr. Ehrenborg to the commission Tuesday night explained to the body and visitors that the commission has had under advisement for some time the question of making tax values in the city more uniform, that it was not the purpose of this plan to increase values, but to make them uniform throughout. "I have invited Mr. Ehrenborg here tonight to explain his plan to the commission and to the public through the press, and through his expert knowledge in tax affairs, I am sure he will be able to give you an intelligent and informative explanation," said Mr. Spence.

Well, a lot of the wise boys figure it's just a set-up for Amarillo, but they figure wrong. Those drug store cowboys that hang out on Polk street up at Amarillo aren't so bad. It's just the name that's bad.

IT IS TOO BAD THAT LUCK MUST PLAY A PART IN LIFE

There is something more than just a grimly humorous twist of chance in the story of those two paupers at Marietta, O., who struck oil in the back yard of the county poorhouse.

Steer coaches have a bunch of the Amarillo plays, and they are concentrating on ways and means of plugging those attacks. Amarillo not only uses the double-wingback, but the single-wingback and punt formations. Fast wingmen should be able to deal the Sandies misery.

A note from a fan: "It seems to be the impression among some fans around the 'Koffee Kourter' up and down the street that Big Spring will lose to Amarillo. They evidently did not witness the first quarter of the Big Spring-El Paso game.

Commercial Failures Fewer In Texas For Month Of November

AUSTIN—Insofar as commercial failures reflect conditions in Texas business, the situation during November was quite favorable, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

SANDIES REVERTED IN FINE SHAPE

After Cordill And Bucket Hare

By JERRY MALIN Amarillo Globe-News (Special To The Herald) AMARILLO—All members of the Sandie team are in fine shape except Bufkin, who was out of the Ranger game with injuries.

The team plans to arrive in Lubbock in time for a work-out Friday afternoon. Power plays off double-wingback featuring Harlow is their offense. The great line has been a power on defense against ground plays.

The Steers, drilling hard on defense and pass plays, will leave for Lubbock Friday afternoon. They will arrive in time for a work-out. Coach Obbe Bristow was reported slightly ill Wednesday morning.

Rocksprings To Meet Roby Lions

SAN ANGELO (Sp1)—The Rocksprings Bulldogs of Coach N. S. Ward, and the Lions of Roby, coached by smiling Connie Smith, will meet here Friday afternoon for the regional championship of Region 4, on the Bobcat field at 3:00 o'clock.

The Bulldogs are champions of Districts 17 and 12, while the Lions captured the bi-district title of Districts 13 and 16. The game will be the last game for both clubs as the Regional title is as far as the Class B schools go in the state race.

The Steers, drilling hard on defense and pass plays, will leave for Lubbock Friday afternoon. They will arrive in time for a work-out. Coach Obbe Bristow was reported slightly ill Wednesday morning.

Steers Have Best Record

Big Spring Scores 250 Points To Amarillo's 222

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer Of eight surviving teams in the Texas Interscholastic League bi-district championship football race, Greenville, 1933 champion, has the best offensive record. The Lions have scored 302 points in 9 games.

These records may be marred this week-end when four crucial elimination games will be played. The schedule follows: Friday Corsicana at Greenville. Houston Jeff Davis at Corpus Christi.

Saturday Dallas Highland Park at Fort Worth Masonic Home. Amarillo vs. Big Spring at Lubbock.

Corsicana's record of 195 points in ten games, and 6-4 tie against Highland Park, can't compare with Greenville's undefeated and untied record, but unbiased critics give Corsicana a strong chance to upset the defending champion. On a straight through schedule, Corsicana conquered stiffer competition than Greenville.

Houston's Jeff Davis team appears to be the weakest defensively remaining in the race, but a defense that allowed 122 points to be tightened up and ward off Corpus Christi's mighty thrusts.

The Big Spring Steers' 10-game record compares favorably with that of the Amarillo Golden Sandies, yet critics pick Amarillo to cash in with an easy victory.

Shamrock To Play Lamesa

Class B Championship Battle Is Scheduled For Friday

LAMESA (Sp1)—The Shamrock Irishmen will contest the Golden Tornadoes here Friday afternoon at 2:30 for the right to represent the Region One in class B championship honors.

The locals are title defenders from last year while the visitors are bidding for the title for the first time. The locals defeated the Memphis Cyclones last Friday by a score of 20 to 30, while the Irishmen were defeating the Horns of Whitefaces by a score of 33 to 7, for the right to play in the game here Friday.

The teams are well matched and a close contest is expected. The average weight of the Irishmen is 182 pounds while the average weight of the locals is 161 7-11 pounds. Both teams have an enviable record as scoring machines.

Stores in Lamesa will close for the game and the holiday spirit will prevail through the day. Preparations are being made for the largest crowd ever to attend a football game here, according to Coach McCollum of the Tornadoes.

The total score of the Tornadoes is 339 points as against 47 to opponents in 11 games this season while the Irishmen have chalked up 230 points against 78 points for the opposition in nine games.

Cosden Oilers To Play Christoval

Spike Henninger will take his Cosden Oilers, fast amateur basketball team, to Christoval tonight for a game with their old rivals, the Christoval Bats.

In past competition, then by narrowest of margins, the Christoval boys won over the Oilers at Christoval and it was vice versa here. Henninger will have all of his stars available with exception of Jack Smith. The probable starting line-up for the Oilers will be: forwards, Morgan and Hopper; center, West; guards, White and Houser.

P. T. A. Council In Discussion Of Tests

North ward and East ward made nice reports at the Parent-Teachers' Association Council Tuesday afternoon when it met for its usual monthly sessions. Other wards did not report.

Sunt. W. C. Blankenship talked on school attendance and urged the sale of the tuberculosis seals. Most of the time was spent in discussion of ways and means to give out correct information on the tuberculin test which the P. T. A. will sponsor in the spring. Because the consent of parents is necessary to this test, the P. T. A. is undertaking the task of informing all parents and seeing that they really understand what the test is. Many cases of ignorance were encountered last spring and most of the objections did not understand what was to be done officials reported. In order to make the test worthwhile a large majority of children must be tested; it was this topic that the council largely talked on.

Vetilla Wins Over Kodrick

Mexican Champ Takes Deciding Fall In Nineteen Half Minutes

Ramon Vetilla, Mexican wrestling champ, defeated King Kong Kodrick last night by taking the last two falls.

The match, although not quite as big a show as the semi-final, was fast, well matched, and interesting. The little Austrian won the first fall in twenty-nine minutes with a body slam and top body pin, but lost the second in sixteen minutes when the Mexican applied a rocking chair leg split.

Kodrick lost the third fall in 19 1/2 minutes when Vetilla reversed a headlock slam. Dutch Aultman, 154-pound German, was elected captain for the season just closed.

The letter men are Blackie Reese, Herb Smith, Frank Strom, Carl Bowden, H. J. Hill, Tom Shotts, F. M. Wood, Milburn Smith, Lloyd Mercer, Jack Doran, Bill Baker, Robert Russ, J. W. Young, Joe North, C. B. Eiwel, Jack Gregg, Gordon Lowe, Jack Bullock, Mark Nasworthy and Hugh Bent.

man, and Eddie O'Shea, 150-pound errant Irishman, battled to a draw in the 45 minute match. After twenty minutes with a rocking chair split, but Dutch earned the count in sixteen minutes with a head lock slam and top body pin. Neither could gain an advantage in the last nine minutes.

I did not kill Osborne

By VICTOR BRIDGES

Chapter Nine
THE SAVING VOICE

"We have no connection with any newspaper," the man who called himself Stelman said. "What we have to tell you is strictly private and only concerns yourself."

For a second I still hesitated; then my curiosity got the better of me.

"Come along in," I said. "It's more comfortable than talking on the doorstep." I shepherded them through the hall, and closing the studio door after us, I made an inviting gesture toward the sofa.

"Don't you sit down?" I continued. "I am sorry I can't offer you a drink, I only got back a few minutes ago, and I'm afraid there's nothing in the place."

"On the contrary," said Mr. Stelman, "I am inclined to believe these men are not to be trusted."

"Do you not agree?"

With a swift movement the other whipped his hand out of his pocket, and to my unspoken amazement I found myself staring down the barrel of a Mauser pistol.

"Don't move," drawled its owner, "or you'll get hurt. Just you stay quite still, like you are."

With that ugly looking little black muzzle pointing straight at my heart, I hadn't the smallest inclination to do anything else.

"Now, Mr. Trench"—it was the bearded man who was addressing me—"I think that we may as well proceed straight to business. No doubt you have already guessed the object of our visit."

I shook my head. "You overrate my intelligence," I said. "At present I can only imagine that you've both escaped from a lunatic asylum."

His expressionless eyes stared back coldly into mine. "You will not help yourself by being insolent. We have come to recover a document which you stole from the safe in Osborne's house after you had murdered him."

For a moment I was completely dumfounded. So that was it! That was the explanation of the crime, and in some way or other these two extraordinary strangers were connected with the mystery. Who they might be or where they had come from Heaven alone knew. All there could be no doubt about was the fact that they were dead in earnest.

"I hate to disappoint you," I said, "but you're barking up the wrong tree altogether. I didn't kill Osborne, and I didn't steal any of his property."

"See here," jerked in the one with the gun. "We don't take no stock in that fool verdict. You got it right enough, and by Heaven you'll hand it over."

"Better leave him to me," the other moved a step nearer. "What my friend says is correct. Mr. Trench, we know you have the formula, and whatever means we have to use we intend to get possession of it. You will be very foolish indeed if you drive us to extremes."

He spoke quietly, but there was something in his voice which convinced me that he meant what he said. I could well believe that he would stick at nothing.

"I can only tell you the truth," I protested. "I can't make you believe it. I haven't got your confounded paper, and if you're silly enough to shoot me you must put up with the consequences."

The clean-shaven man laughed. "It was not a pleasant sound," said the bearded man. "Say," he inquired, "ain't we had enough of this?"

"Quite, I think," Mr. Stelman felt deliberately in his pocket, and with his eyes still fixed on mine, drew out a neatly rolled coil of thin whiplcord.

"I will give you a last chance," he said. "If you still refuse I shall tie your hands and legs together with this, and then things will happen to you which, believe me, you will not enjoy at all. I can promise you that in a few minutes you will be ready enough to answer my questions."

Before he had finished speaking I had made up my mind. If the choice lay between stopping a bullet or being trussed up and tortured, I had no doubt at all as to which I preferred. I stood as still as death, but every muscle in my body was tense and ready.

The man who was holding the pistol took a step towards me. "You stir a finger," he said, "and I'll blow your guts out."

With a quick jerk Stelman undid the coil. The loops tumbled to the floor, and at the same moment, staggering clear through the strained silence, came the sound of a girl's voice.

"The police, please—as quickly as possible."

"What was that?"

The pistol was still pointing full at my mid-section, but from the half shadowed face above it two startled eyes were searching the studio.

"It came from there—the room over the staircase." Will you please come at once to Queen Studios, Chalk Farm? It's a case of murder."

A foul oath burst from the clean-shaven man's lips. "Some blighted Jane pho—me up the cops. Here take this and I'll..."

"No, it's too late now," Stelman's voice was cut out by a scream. "Whatever happens we can't afford to be found here." He slipped in the coil and thrust it back into his pocket.

COMEDIANS ADOPT BABY GIRL

I stood there breathing quickly and staring up at my bedroom.

"I don't know who you are," I said, "but I should be frightfully pleased to make your acquaintance."

Very quietly the door opened, and a girl stepped forward into the gallery. She wore a small, slender figure dressed in plain black, with a curly mop of copper colored hair. The light was shining full in her face and at the sight of those blue eyes and that sensitive, delicate beauty my heart gave a sudden wild leap.

"My sainted aunt!" I said to myself incredulously.

It was the girl I had seen at my trial—the girl who had sat silent and motionless in the corner seat, looking down at me as I stood in the dock.

"You are sure they can't come back?" she asked in a low voice.

"Not unless they break open the door." I advanced a couple of paces. "It's the police they are going to be the trouble. What am I to say to them?"

"You won't have to say anything at all."

"But..."

"You see I didn't really ring them up," she went on calmly. "I only pretended to."

I drew in a long breath. Then the comic side of the whole thing suddenly struck me, and without the smallest warning I went off into a shout of laughter. The girl stood perfectly still—her small hands gripping the balustrade.

"It reminds me of that text in the Bible," I said. "The wicked flee when no pursuit." I took another step towards her.

"Won't you come down and introduce yourself?" I suggested. "I always like to thank people who save me from being murdered."

"Very slowly she descended the staircase."

"You have nothing to thank me for, I came here with the same object as those two men."

"You did what?" I inquired.

"I came to get my papers which I thought you had stolen from Osborne."

I stood for a moment looking at her blankly. It seemed to me as if the whole world were suddenly going mad.

NOT ONLY THAT, BUT HE JUST MISSED THE TRAFFIC COP'S KNEES, GRAZED THREE OTHER CARS BY A HAIR, AND DID EVERYTHING BUT LOOP-TH-LOOP ALL IN ONE DASH

HE LOOKED AT THE DRIVER - AND THEN PULLED A LARGE HANDKERCHIEF FROM HIS POCKET

"LISTEN, COWBOY," HE SAID TO THE DRIVER, "ON YOUR WAY BACK, I'LL DROP THIS HANDKERCHIEF. SEE IF YOU CAN PICK IT UP WITH YOUR TEETH"

WELL, I THINK THAT WAS AN UNREASONABLE THING TO ASK THE DRIVER TO DO. WHAT WAS THE SENSE IN WANTING HIM TO PICK IT UP WITH HIS TEETH?

OUR OPPORTUNITY

West Texans who want to be patrons of the arts are at a real disadvantage. The largest West Texas cities are able to present internationally known concert artists and dramatic organizations at rare intervals. The large, sparsely populated areas of this part of the state almost preclude the possibility of an organization of note making an appearance in cities whose populations alone will not guarantee a successful engagement.

So it is with some degree of surprise that Big Spring citizens learn that a European musical unit which is now engaged in a very successful American tour will be presented under the High School Pep Squad auspices at the municipal auditorium Friday evening.

Railroad schedules prevented the San Angelo appearance of the Vienna Choir Boys if the company were to keep its El Paso engagement for the following evening. Through the San Angelo contract offered a cash guarantee which certainly will not be realized from the local appearance, circumstances, unfortunate for San Angelo, have favored Big Spring music lovers.

The Wheel ventures the opinion that it will likely be a long while before another company with prestige comparable to that of the Vienna Choir Boys appears before a Big Spring audience again. To hear such a group without the necessity of traveling 125 miles is an opportunity you cannot afford to miss.

By ROBERT HAILEY

Christmas and "What would he like to have for a present?" are simultaneous in the minds of many girls. A few suggestions are offered here for any help which they might give to this feminine group who have presents to think of.

Heading the list as the most useful and probably most highly appreciated items are: Articles of clothing - such as ties, handkerchiefs, shirts, sweaters, socks, gloves, scarfs, or other articles of the like.

Special articles or notions as the pins, rings, belt and buckle combination sets, watch charms, suspenders, have made their appearance in the shops and stores, and will make ideal gifts.

A good book is always appreciated by many boys and men. Shaving sets, wallets, key rings, tourist sets, pipes, tobacco pouches, cigar cases, and such accessories are very good.

If he likes hunting, do not forget that there are many little articles of equipment which are expensive and very acceptable to him.

And if none of the above seem quite right for him or if he needs none of them, do not forget that a picture of yourself is the longest lasting and most highly appreciated article you can present him.

All of these things are nice as gifts, and anyone can be bought for a moderate price in almost all of the better department stores in Big Spring.

School Patrol Effective Here

The South Plains Automobile club, affiliated with the American Automobile association, was organized and incorporated in 1928. This organization's headquarters is in Lubbock. It was opened in Big Spring, June, 1934.

The main purpose of this is to make the motoring safe for the public. In the past week the A. A. A. has organized a school boy patrol, whose duties are to stop the traffic for boys and girls crossing the intersections. Through cooperation of the city manager and chief of police, the boys have permission to take the license numbers of cars who do not obey the patrol's signals.

They are asking cooperation from everyone in regulating the rules. The Association also has an office in the lobby of the Crawford hotel that gives authentic information as to roads from coast to coast to all its members.

Telephone Manager Lectures To Class

Mr. Shoup, assistant general manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, gave a talk on the history of the telephone in the auditorium Thursday morning. Assisted by two operators and a technician, Mr. Kennedy, illustrated his talk with models of earlier inventions, an artificial larynx, and a lapel microphone and sound box.

In conclusion, Mr. Shoup explained what would occur in making a call to Australia. He traced the development of the telephone instrument, explained the steps in the development of modern telephone wires, and described the trans-Atlantic cable service.

High School Sports - By Jim Brigham

Boy! Boy! Boy! That was a game last Saturday! Each side had an equal chance almost, until big Ole Cordill jumped up, snagged that pass, and was off for a touch-down. I hope everybody in Big Spring knows now that we have a real scrappy team. The support the fans gave the Steers at El Paso was swell, and then the crowd at El Paso that met the special topped off everything.

In the fourth quarter when El Paso covered the ball down on the Steers goal line, George Neel said he never touched the ball and he was waiting for a Tiger to kill it; but the officials thought otherwise, and awarded the ball to El Paso on the Big Spring 20 yard stripe. The big break came next when El Paso fumbled and Bobby Mills, scrappy Steer end, recovered.

The game was exciting from start to finish and really looked interesting in the first quarter when the Steers got the jump on the Tigers and ran up twelve points. But from then on the El Pasoans tightened down and came back in the second quarter, to run across a touch-down, as a result of passes and line drives.

Those last two quarters seemed like a year. The score indicates a wide margin for Big Spring but if that El Paso back hadn't fumbled the ball, it might have been completely different. Oh, if we only had a stadium like El Paso; it will seat about 11,000 people comfortably, and the 5,000 that attended Saturday's game were indeed well satisfied.

After the game it was the football boys' time to have some fun and what a dinner they ate at the Hotel Hussman (wish I had been a football player). Dick Ernest said the Steer football team ate more food and drank more milk than any group of like size had ever consumed at the Hotel Hussman.

R. T. Piner, Supt. Blankenship, and Dr. M. H. Bennett, local school board member, inspected the plans for the new Bowie stadium and all were well pleased. Big Spring is sadly in need of a stadium if we get much farther in this football race. It is possible we will have one next year.

When people come to see a football game and do not have comfortable seats they probably will return and without a stadium Big Spring cannot hope to have big gate receipts.

Saturday at Tech stadium in Lubbock the Bovines will go up against a highly touted Amarillo football team. Big Spring will be the underdogs and will have to stage an uphill fight against a line that averages 173 pounds and a backfield that can handle a football like a magician. It will all depend upon the showing of the line on how far the pigskin will be advanced when the Steers have the ball. We only hope that each member of the squad will have a determination to upset the dope and also Amarillo. Big Spring will go into the fray at full strength as a player was injured in the El Paso battle. Amarillo had a tough line with Ranger and was lucky to escape with only two or three injuries.

Amarillo's record this season is impressive:
 Amarillo 27 - El Paso 0.
 Amarillo 25 - West Texas Frosh 7.
 Amarillo 23 - Central 13.
 Amarillo 20 - Norman, Okla. 0.
 Amarillo 12 - Borger, Okla. 0.
 Amarillo 19 - Shawnee, Okla. 12.
 Amarillo 25 - Lubbock 0.
 Amarillo 37 - Plainview 0.
 Amarillo 13 - Pampa 6.
 Amarillo 19 - Ranger 14.
 Total 222 - 52.

Now you can see that Amarillo has not been defeated, that they swamped Lubbock 25 to 0, and the same Lubbock team whitewashed us 19 to 0. But that was early in the season, and we had not shown our true form. Harlow, Slidger and Frye are three outstanding players on the Sadies team; and also a good showing against Ranger.

Let's get together and support the Steers even more than we did at El Paso. We still have a chance to go place and do things.

Pen Squad Sells Tickets To Vienna Choir Boys Show

The High School Pep Squad is selling tickets for the Vienna Choir. The entertainment will be Friday night at 8 o'clock in the city auditorium. Display cards are being placed in the business windows. The choir comes here under auspices of the pep squad.

WHAT DO YOU SAY TO THIS?
 Oh, say, says he; says what, says she; said say, said he; if you say - well, say what, your idea in saying say. Say, are you saying that to me, said he; for should you say that to me, say I say why say why like you say it.

We know not what we say, says she. You say you, and I say "why say say" you, and I say say so that you say so that you say to you, and say why say say in such a way. Oh, what you say - we say in much - let's don't say say more today - what say?

EPISTLES TO SANTA CLAUS

Dear Sandy Claws - Please bring me some lovely gifts, as I have been a very sweet and thoughtful chap all year long. I wish you would bring me a pair of riding pants, size 1, a real, live, toy dog with a tail that wiggles, a nice big roll of plain paper from which I might cut paper dolls to amuse my little playmate, Mary Jane.

My love and kisses to you, Little George Neel.

To you Santie, Ole dear - There isn't much use of telling you, because you, like everyone else, know what a sweet girl I am. Please bring me some oranges and apples but no nuts. (We have plenty of them). Santa, would you be so kind as to bring the Thomas boy a half dozen window glasses for the Ford? If you don't mind I'll take a new tooth brush and a package of loofchee.

Your little "bus eyes,"
 Jam' Lee Meador.

Dearest Santa: It is almost Christmas time and I don't want you to forget me and my little sister, Edyth Dow. We never fuss or disagree, but spend all of our time doing things for each other. So would you please send me a tiny doll to give her. Send a bicycle, an electric train, some marbles, four tops, a conner wagon, and an air rifle to give me.

Thanks, Santa Claus,
 Ole Cordill, Jr.

My Santa Claus - Hi ya! Babe! Popcorn, and don't you know it. I am the sweet Alva Mary of Big Spring, Texas. I want a big Ma Ma doll with sleepy eyes, golden curls, and a short dress. Fill my stocking full of candy and apples. Remember all of my little friends.

Bye, M.D.
 Alta Mary.

Dearest Santa - Please bring me several new "B" sweaters, one at least, with three stripes and two stars. Remember the other poor girls Santa, dear, but get my supply first. Bring me lots of presents from my little boy friends. If you aren't too loaded bring me a new pencil box and some colored pencils.

Good-bye, Santie,
 Francis Stamper.

Hello Santa Claus - I am little Harold, but my friends call me "Sleepy" and "Hally Gal." Bring me a crossword puzzle and joke book. Bring me a tire and a tank of 18 gas for "Huldy." Be nice to my little pals, Judith and Bado.

Forever,
 "Sleepy" Talbot.

Dearest Santa - We are a sweet little couple and we have been awfully good this year. We want lots of things but most of all we want the booklet called "How to keep Love Affairs Under Control." Please fill our stockings to the top.

Bring Out a kitty car please.
 Bring Minnie a little "flea hound".
 Gut
 Remember us, little bright eyes,
 Minnie and Gut

Dear Santa Claus - I'm "Big Arms" what needs a lot for Christmas. I also remind myself Popeye - bring me a pair of dice - red ones, because some gal took my reds away from me. Also bring a bowl of spinach so I can have "Bigger Arms." Remember my ole pal, Harold Boswell.

I'll always be,
 "Babe" Coburn.

Santa Claus - I'm the captain of the Steers and deserve to have first choice on your toys. So I'll say - you bring "My Emma Jo" - a big doll that says "Bob" and you don't need to bring me nothing cause I can get along O. K. "cept" don't forget "My Emma Jo."

Ye Ole pal,
 Bob Flowers.

Students Take Jobs In Holiday Rush

The approaching Christmas holidays have given many students an opportunity to work after school and earn additional money for the Yuletide season.

Leaving school early in many instances, the students go to the various establishments whose increase in business during Christmas opens new positions, and they work until around six or later. Earning like this, many of the pupils earn enough to take care of many incidental expenses which arise around Christmas, and to help pay for their schooling during the remainder of the school year.

CHORAL CLUB XMAS PROGRAM

The High School Choral club will give its annual Christmas program in the city auditorium, Sunday, December 23 at three o'clock. In the program, which will be very unique, the club will bring to the audience a breath of the old world Christmas carols, Scandinavian, Slavonian, Romanian, Moravian, Italian, German and English Carols with some from the early eighteenth century from all some countries around the Holy Land.

This program is a different conception of Christ from anything you ever thought or heard of.

Fans To Follow Steer Team To Lubbock

More than a thousand football fans are expected to follow the Steer squad to Lubbock when they are to make their bid for the football supremacy over the powerful Amarillo Golden Bandoleros. After the wonderful turnout the fans made to go to El Paso, over 300 miles away, there is little doubt in the minds of the officials that a much larger group will trail the herd into the much nearer metropolis of Lubbock. Tickets have already gone on sale for the game, and a sellout is expected before game time at 2:30 Saturday.

EXCHANGES - Wheel -

WHAT PRICE GLORY? The place of the high school student as an individual is well on the way to replacement by the student as a mere incident in the history of his particular high school, not only in scholarship but also in athletics. There is no longer a spirit of comparatively inactive competition in the high schools, but rather a desire that the opinion of the press be favorable and the other high schools be frightened or brought to a state of recognition of one's school prowess.

The victor instead of being applauded as is his due, is subjected to the criticism of his opponents and one must expect a certain amount of investigation, which in many cases is not merely due.

Competition is the life-giving quality to all existence. There should not be a mere survival of the fittest but rather a rejuvenation of the fittest and an inspiration to the less fit.

THE HAMMER It keeps its head. It doesn't fly off the handle. It keeps pounding away. It finds the point then drives it home.

It looks at the other side, too. Thus often clinches the matter. It makes mistakes, but when it does it starts all over.

It is the only knacker in the world that does any good.

THANKFUL FOR WHAT? "It takes a heap of living in a house to make it home!"

How'd 'frazz much that four-letter word should mean to us? When we hear the word, do we think of a place just to eat, sleep, change clothes and leave, or a place of refuge from the crowds of the day and a place of peace, happiness, and enjoyment?

It takes a heap of living in a house to make it home! It needs a mother's and father's gentle care and understanding; it also needs you to be there in your hours of happiness and sorrow. Be thankful for yours.

IS IT WORTH IT? Sororities, fraternities, and all secret organizations are fun, no doubt. But is the enjoyment of attending this type of function sufficient to balance the loss of any school activity?

The moment a student enters a sorority or fraternity or attends any entertainment given by such organization he immediately forfeits all right to take part in a senior play or any school program, to play in the school band, advance to a position on the paper staff, be a member of the National Honor society, or in short participate in any extra-curricular activities.

The school board does everything in its power to discourage all secret relation through clubs, because, if allowed to grow, a sorority or fraternity can become a menace to democratic school life.

There are plenty of social activities attached to school life that are sanctioned and even urged by school authorities. By joining only such clubs as are officially recognized by the school activities will enjoy the experience of being a member of organized social groups at the same time.

Back seat drivers, hitch-hikers, blunders and regular passengers are equating over the wreck of the G. O. P. bus. It's a lot of fun to the New Deal crowd. They figure that by the time the G. O. P. gets started the New Deal will be 100 miles down the road and beyond successful pursuit.

A Musical

youngsters but don't propose to let go the wheel.

Keen eyes are watching the contortions of the G. O. P. in New York State. If such men as Bert Snell are authorized it will be time to loosen up. At present Snell is in the saddle, with the House Republican delegation behind him.

Chairman Fletcher of the national committee says the hubbub by impatient "reorganizers" will get nowhere as a practical proposition unless they bring about a committee meeting. Sixteen members can call the committee together—but there's no sign that a meeting will be held unless Fletcher calls one himself. Demands for his resignation of the committee won't inspire him to do so.

Conferences are going on between Fletcher and stalwarts in the house. Party strategy in dealing with administration proposals is expected to shape the G. O. P.'s course. House Republicans wait to see whether FDR will veer to the right or left.

Housing—
Making allowance for the usual delays in getting large federal undertakings under way, the fact emerges that something more than unavoidable delay is slowing up the Federal Housing administration. New variations of old plans pop up nearly every day—which in themselves reveal that the main spring is not wound up.

Chief Moffett is in deadly earnest and has the support of business sentiment throughout the country. The clog on the wheel is believed to be deep-seated doubt as to the Jekes program and the extent to which FDR is committed to it, even if it spells demoralization of the Federal Housing system. Jekes continues to assert that private industry can't get busy in time—that relief necessities require the adoption of his federal low-cost home-subsidy plan.

Moffett's friends are urging him to stick to his guns and not get discouraged.

Arms—
Bargains between American and foreign armament concerns to exchange information regarding secret processes and improvements are getting the bargainers into hot water. The senate munitions committee is boring into the subject. Members who are aiming at government.

ernment ownership of munitions plants assert that these bargains pave the way for the killing of American soldiers with American inventions that should be kept secret for the national defense.

Sufficient ground has been paved for a lively campaign in congress looking to stricter government supervision of munitions, but little sentiment has developed in favor of government ownership.

Composure—
No use trying to hate FDR—he's too good-natured. He captured the enemy at the Gridiron dinner by taking the upstarts with a smile and a wily realtiatory waltz which incidentally revealed much of what he intends to do.

At the Gridiron dinner all political claptrap is mopped up and all disguises ripped off—right in the presence of the guilty parties and with foreign and domestic dignitaries as witnesses. The New Deal's seamy sides were turned out for inspection and satirical comment. Some of the New Dealers squirmed, but the personification of the New Deal came through with superb composure.

"He's a darn good fellow anyhow," summed up the verdict of political friends and foes alike.

Age—
Twenty-nine-year-old Rush Hold of West Virginia is expected to knock at the senate door on Jan. 3 and demand a seat. "No, he won't," said a capitol aide. "No matter how he compares himself with Henry Clay, he won't dare demand violation of the constitution so that he can take oath to support it. If he does he'll be stopped."

"Yes, he will," retorted a Progressive. "He'll take his seat all right. Who's going to stick at the technicality of a few months' under-age? I can't find any senator who objects to seating Holt."

Notes—
President Roosevelt is pestered by subordinates who are scrambling for greater powers and bigger appropriations. Federal schemes for prevention of stream pollution run up against state powers. West Virginia challenges the Federal Power commission. Secretary Wallace's plan to extend AAA over all farm products meets opposition. The Federal Trade Commission may be the final arbiter of the new NRA.

their recommendation, which went to the district office at Oklahoma City last night.

The citizens of Big Spring and Howard county will be informed of these additions immediately upon their approval in Washington.

"Again I want to congratulate this community for their effort toward retaining this project as they will acquire a park which will undoubtedly be one of the outstanding places of interest of West Texas and I want each and every citizen to feel free to visit this park at any time during its construction and familiarize themselves with what is going on and ever bear in mind that this park is being constructed for them and is their property and designed for their pleasure.

Stroke Fatal To Waggoner

Founder Of One Of Great Fortunes West Of Mississippi Dies

FORT WORTH, (AP)—W. T. Waggoner, founder of one of the greatest fortunes west of the Mississippi river, head of a vast oil and cattle empire, and builder of Arlington Downs, died at his home in Rivercrest here Tuesday night at the age of 82.

Stricken with paralysis at 10:30 p. m. Sunday, he never regained consciousness. His wife and two sons, Guy and Paul, and two grandsons, A. B. Wharton, Jr., and W. T. Waggoner, III, were at his bedside when he died.

His family and two veteran employees of the Waggoners, R. L. Moore of Vernon and Mrs. Phil Keibert of Fort Worth had maintained constant vigil at his bedside since Mr. Waggoner was stricken Sunday.

Funeral services will be arranged Thursday morning. Mrs. Arthur Gordon Bowman of New York City, only grandchild of Mr. Waggoner who was not present at his death, is expected to fly here for the services.

Mr. Waggoner suffered a first stroke in May, 1933, but rallied sufficiently from that illness to take an active interest in all three racing meets at Arlington Downs since then and in other of his myriad business affairs.

Remained Active
Nearly 30 years ago, before the oil derricks began to crowd the cattle on the broad acres of his West Texas ranch, Waggoner left the scene of his early activities and came to Fort Worth. From here, until a severe illness early in 1933 robbed him of much of his physical strength, he kept his finger on the pulse of his wide flung oil and cattle domain.

Here his dependable aid in all worthy civic enterprises ranked him as one of the leading citizens of Fort Worth. As recognition of his contribution to the upbuilding of the city, his name stands inscribed in the Exchange club's "book of golden deeds" as Fort Worth's most distinguished citizen of 1933. At the banquet at which that honor was bestowed—a function which unfortunately he was unable to attend because of ill health—speakers lauded him for his business acumen tempered with scrupulous fairness, his leadership, and his useful aid to deserving city, state and national causes.
