THE WEATHER

Boy, we are sure having it. Our staff is having a time trying to gather enough news to fill the columns of the paper this week. It seems that there is almost no one trying to go anywhere with the weather being as it is. Well, I don't blame them. Our linotype operator lives in Ballinger and comes over Monday morning on the bus. We were without an operator all day Monday, due to the fact that no buses ran. However, he came on the train Monday night and reported that at least nine persons in Ballinger had received broken bones from falls that day. Mrs. Oder, our local reporter, has not been able to be out this week due to the weather. She started to town Monday morning and fell, but said she did not hurt herself. She is remaining at home until the weather moderates some.

Your editor thought until shortly after noon Tuesday that he was doing pretty good. I had made several trips to the post office and to different places in town and had skidded some, but had not lost my balance enough to fall. Tuesday afternoon I started to come to town, after taking some papers and other items home, and just as I started to leave the house my wife said something and I looked back to see what she wanted and my feet went right up in the air and I sat down on the porch. It has three steps and on the way down I sat on all three of them pretty hard—bump—bump—bump. Well, it was not funny.

Another of our staff, Patsy England, had a few falls on her rounds Monday morning, six of them in all. However, she was not hurt very badly either. She has a sore hand from letting it hit the ground so many times.

In one of the exchanges received in this office, I read last week where they had had a good sized snow in one of our East Texas towns. The editor stated some of the younger generation had big times playing in the snow and said it was great to be young. Tuesday morning I was in the Chamber of Commerce office and while there I watched some of the younger generation sliding on a sled and others of them just sliding up and down the street on the ice. I agree that it is great to be young (and I'm not old) but seeing these young boys and girls out in the cold like they were almost made me cold.

Numerous other things have happened on the streets this week. Most of them because of the ice. At this writing, I have not heard of anyone being hurt very bad as the result of falls, and hope that we do not have any reports of such.

Reports from different sections of the state indicate that a look out of any window will just about give you the weather condition over the state. Most all hospitals are working overtime trying to take care of patients with minor accidents. A later report to this office indicates that only one has been reported from our local hospital and that was not serious.

It is hard to say what the weather is going to do. Reports indicate that conditions may be about the same for the rest of the week, but one late report Tuesday said it might moderate some Wednesday afternoon.

Reports state that schools all over the state are closed. The schools here dismissed Tuesday due to the buses from the rural districts not being able to run. The schools at Pt. Arthur had to close because all the residents of the city had turned their water on to keep it from freezing.

Santa Anna from the air. The mountain just north of the city forms a very beautiful setting for this city with a population of about 2,500 with some of the richest farm lands in Texas surrounding the city in all directions. Three interesting features of the town are (1) the City Hall, (2) the Sealy Hospital, and (3) the Santa Fe Depot. The arrow marks highways 67 and 84 that run through the city. Highway 16 junctions with highways 67 and 84 in the west part of town.

and it had drained the city supply so low that they did not have enough water to fill the boilers at the school to heat the buildings.

Clyde Bartlett and son, Ralph, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baze and Mrs. Roberson of Merkel were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edd Bartlett Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hoover of Santa Fe, New Mexico, spent Tuesday night visiting Mrs. Hoover's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chap Eeds.

Billy Mulroy, student at N. T. S. T. C. in Denton, arrived home by train Wednesday morning to spend the mid-semester vacation with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mulroy.

Miss Evelyn Bruce, who attends John Tarleton College, was home Saturday to attend the Stock show in Brownwood. Due to weather conditions, she had to wait until Monday night to return.

Willard Allen and Louie Guthrie attended the stock show in Brownwood Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

Jack Woodward, local postmaster, attended a committee meeting of postmasters in Brownwood Sunday.

The original name of Santa Anna was Santanna, named for a brave Indian chief who used to roam and fight in the vicinity of the Mountains. Through an error in the Post Office Department in Washington, an extra "A" was added to the original name and the town was named Santa Anna. William Brooks was the first post master and he was succeeded by W. J. Crosby. The original birthday of Santa Anna was in May, 1835. The Santa Anna News was established in January, 1936 and has been served by approximately 12 editors since that time, the present editor being here since June of 1920.

The officials of the Gulf Colorado & Santa Fe Railroad receive the credit for getting the town of Santa Anna started to grow. In the early days they held an auction sale of lots here with the idea of getting white men to locate here. Apparently their intentions were to make this headquarters for their roundhouse which is now located in Brownwood. For what reason it was never put here, this writer is unable to say.

Santa Anna has grown and prospered since the time it was created. A convincing yardstick is the Santa Anna National Bank, which on December 31, 1947 showed deposits of $2,049,703.75 and loans and discounts of $606,880.90. The capital stock is $50,000 with a surplus of $90,000.00.

The city is in very good financial condition. Until the $65,000 bonds were voted in December for improvements in the city water works and other improvements, the indebtedness of the city was only $25,000 outstanding tax bonds and $26,500 in revenue bonds. $14,000 of this was issued in June, 1947.

Santa Anna is fast becoming one of the principal livestock producing areas in Central Texas, with the production of small grains increasing every year. In 1946 shipments of small grain from Santa Anna amounted to cars of oats that sold for $351,000, 12 cars of wheat brought $38,000, 160 cars of maize sold for $450,000, 350,000 pounds of wool brought $175,000, 200 truck loads of sheep brought $480,000, 300 truck loads of cattle brought $900,000 and 25 truck loads of hogs brought $78,500. In 1947, despite one of the driest years we have had in several years, shipments of small grains amounted to the following: 150 cars of oats brought $375,000, 100 cars of maize brought $305,000, 350,000 pounds of wool sold for $175,000, 28 cars of wheat brought $85,000. To date complete reports as to what has been hauled out by trucks is not complete.

Santa Anna has one of the largest Lions Clubs in the West. The present membership is near 90. The membership of this club is composed of business men of the town and farmers and ranchers of the trade territory. All work in unison for the betterment of Santa Anna and vicinity.

The members of the Santa Anna Independent School District Board of Trustees are working hard to get some very badly needed buildings for the ward school and a physical education building for the high school. All these buildings have been promised by the time school starts next fall. We have several fine churches and one of the best hospitals in Central Texas.

In looking back through some of our old files we find a Santa Anna News dated December, 27, 1901. This is believed to be the oldest Santa Anna News in existence. In this issue of the News we notice several names that are familiar to this writer, and I am sure that some of the names that are not familiar to you would be to others of you. In his early issue of the News the editor stated that with this issue the News was 16 years old. V. L. Grady was calling a meeting of the W. O. W. Mountain Camp, Ben Melton was at home from college, L. W. Hunter operated a lunch counter in connection with his grocery store, Ed Bartlett was visiting friends and relatives in Rice, S. H. Phillips had a number of reader ads in the paper, H. W. Kingsbery had seed oats for sale at 60 cents per bushel, correspondent news was carried from Rockwood, Nixon and Madge communities, W. R. Kelley & Co. wished everybody a Happy New Year, and last but not least, to quote an article from this old paper: "Applicants to rent farms are quite numerous. Indeed our local real estate agents have to turn many away on account of not being able to supply the demand. The same state of affairs exists in Santa Anna in regard to tenement houses. A dozen new houses could be rented within two weeks after completion. Such an investment would pay, and if we desire our citizenship to increase as it should provisions must be made to accommodate them with shelter."

This newspaper has very few of the files of papers that were printed before 1920, but we have a few papers that were printed in 1902 and it would be interesting to note some of the happenings during that time. Politics is the talk of the day. So it was in the Santa Anna News of February 7, 1902. Some of the announcements that appeared in this issue of the News were B. A. Fowler and B. A. Sweet for legislature, A. B. Martin for county attorney, R. B. Hollingsworth for commissioner, precinct 2, for district clerk, John D. Mann and W. D. Coleman, for county judge, B. F. Rose and J. A. B. Miller, for county attorney John E. Brown and J. B. Laws, for county treasurer James Williams, for county clerk Squire Boone and R. V.

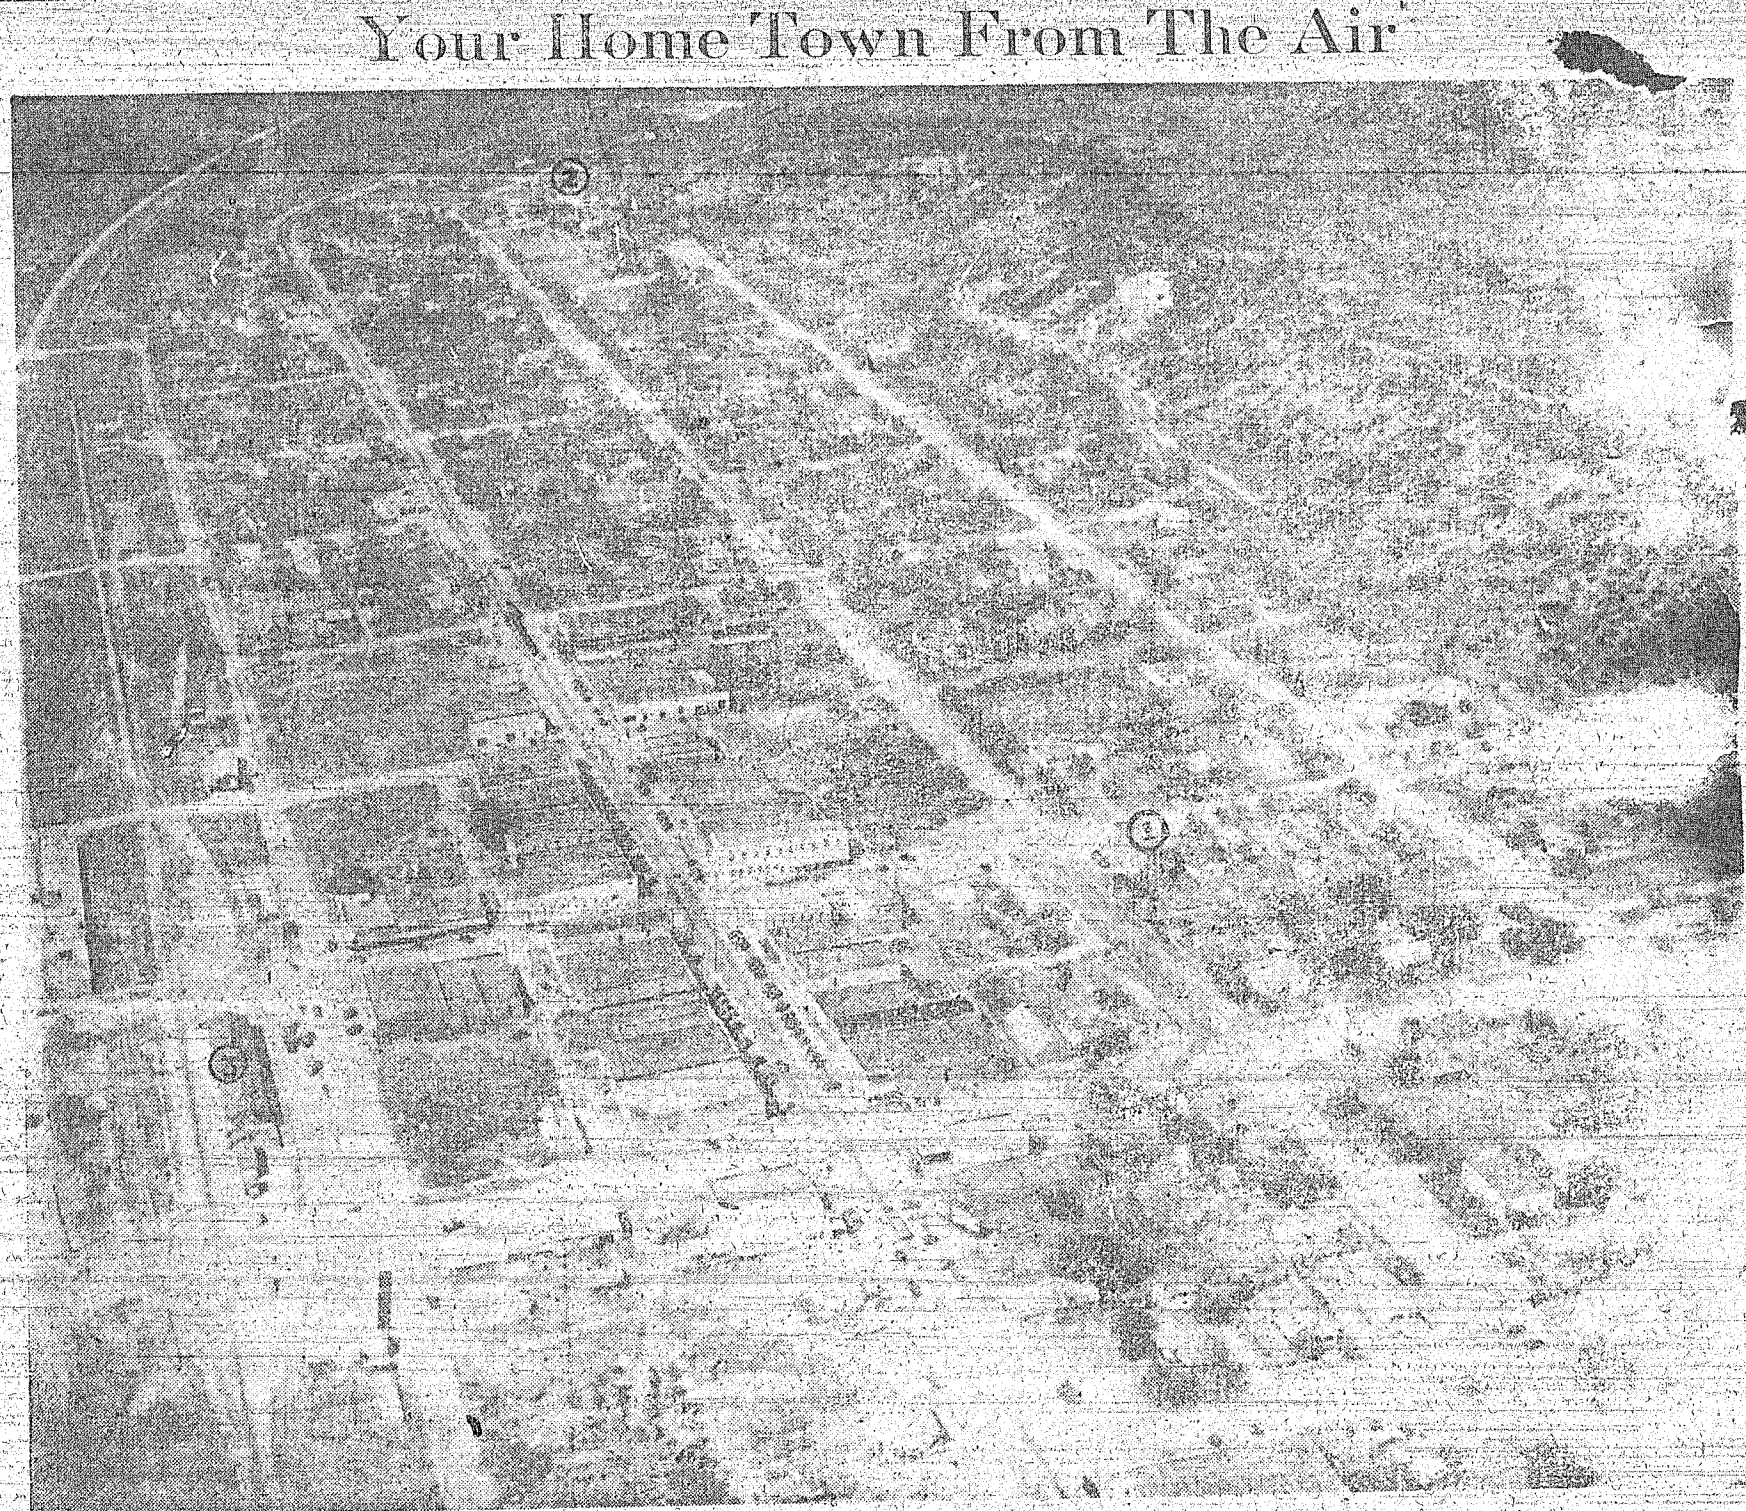

Wood, for sheriff Robert Goodfellow, for tax assessor A. J. Brown, Robert M. Hall, C. A. Hemphill and D. P. Simmons, for tax collector John C. Jones and J. T. Sanders, for hide and animal inspector, Don Parker. The late J. D. Sompson was the local depot agent at this time and seemed to be having trouble with his bicycle. R. V. Cupps reported the arrival of a new girl at his home Saturday, February 1. It seems that a lot of prickly pear was being burnt at this time for the feeding of cattle.

Another interesting quotation in an issue of the News published May 30, 1902, states: "There are in nearly every town a few old mossback soreheads who seem to delight in antagonizing every enterprise that has for its aim the upbuilding of the town. We are proud to say that this element is very small in Santa Anna. The majority of our citizens are enterprising and public spirited and have great faith in the future greatness of our little mountain city. Lack of capital is the only thing that prevents Santa Anna from at once becoming the leading town in West Texas."

We could go on and mention several other old papers that we have and sometime in the future this may be done. This office would like to have a complete history of the town of Santa Anna. Needless to say, most of the old timers are going on to their glory and carrying some of the history of Santa Anna with them. We would like to have this history to be kept on file so that our future generations may have a correct version of how their town became a town and most of the interesting histories that have caused present day happenings.

It seems that most everyone has different stories to relate. We would like to have them all.

Boy Scout Week February 6 to 12

This is rather blunt. We hope, however, that you will take it in the spirit intended.

The Boy Scouts of America will be 38 years old on February 8th—a date to remember. The boys, their parents and leaders will celebrate Boy Scout Week with them.

Will we? If, as so many of us do, we take the Boy Scouts for granted they'll mark the occasion by themselves. For nearly four decades we have seen the Scouts quietly performing their noble service. Have we really watched and appreciated?

Certainly the boys themselves ask for no specific recognition. Their "Daily Good Turns" have always been without any reimbursement. "A Scout is Helpful." Nevertheless, do they not merit more than a friendly, distant approval, or a casual acceptance of their efforts to be better citizens—a model for all?

Their theme this year is "The Scout Citizen at Work, In His Community, His Nation and His World."

Let's focus our thoughts on them now—give them our whole-hearted support now—add help them succeed in their character building mission the year round.

Baptist Workers' Meet In Coleman The Coleman County Baptist Workers' Conference will meet with North Coleman Baptist church, Thursday, February 25. The services will begin at 10 a. m. and continue until mid-afternoon.

A good program will be offered. Please announce in your church Sunday. S. R. Smith, Moderator.

Correction

Last week the name of the White Lily Cafe was accidentally left off the list of names that donated to the Santa Anna Livestock Show. We are sorry this happened, but had to make the correction.

Miss Elizabeth McClain of Plainview arrived Wednesday to spend a few days visiting her aunt and grandmother.

Car Accident Occurs South Of Santa Anna

Mr. J. W. Newberry, 39, of San Antonio, was traveling to Abilene Sunday evening on business, when he started to pass a truck near Home Creek bridge. He decided not to pass, and put pressure on his brakes. The car skidded on the icy road and slid into the truck. The car turned over two or three times, throwing Newberry clear the first time. The accident occurred in front of the Bailey Ranch House. He is in the Santa Anna Hospital being treated for two fractures of the right leg and a back injury. His wife came by bus and is with him now. Mr. and Mrs. Newberry have one child.

The Southern Air Santa Anna's home town band, held a concert at the Wind or Howl charity benefit, the March of Dimes Annual Dance.

Rev. S. R. Smith of Santa Anna conducted the services Monday at 2:30 in Coleman. Survivors include Mrs. Goodman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bilyrey of Santa Anna, a son, Fannie in the Air Corps, one small daughter and son of Coleman, two brothers of Santa Anna and one sister.

George M. Smith For Re-Election As County Clerk

County Clerk George M. Smith announces this week that he will seek re-election to that office and authorizes the News to announce his candidacy subject to action of the Democratic primary.

Smith says, "During my tenure of office as county clerk I have tried earnestly to render the service that the people have a right to expect of their public servants, and I hope I have merited their approval in handling the affairs of their office."

"In seeking re-election to the office of county clerk, I will fully appreciate the support of each and every one. I hope to contact as many people as possible between now and the primary election, but in case I fail to see all, I take this opportunity to solicit their support, with the assurance that it will be fully appreciated."

John Hardy Blue, student at McMurry in Abilene, has been snow and ice bound for the past few days. He was to report back to school Sunday, but bus schedules were canceled, and train connections do not reach Abilene.

Miss Coyita Griffin and Miss Joyce Bartlett visited in Brownwood Sunday and were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Reese and family.

W. E. (Billy) Allen Seeks Re-Election As County Attorney

W. E. (Billy) Allen authorized The News to carry his announcement this week for re-election to the office of county attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

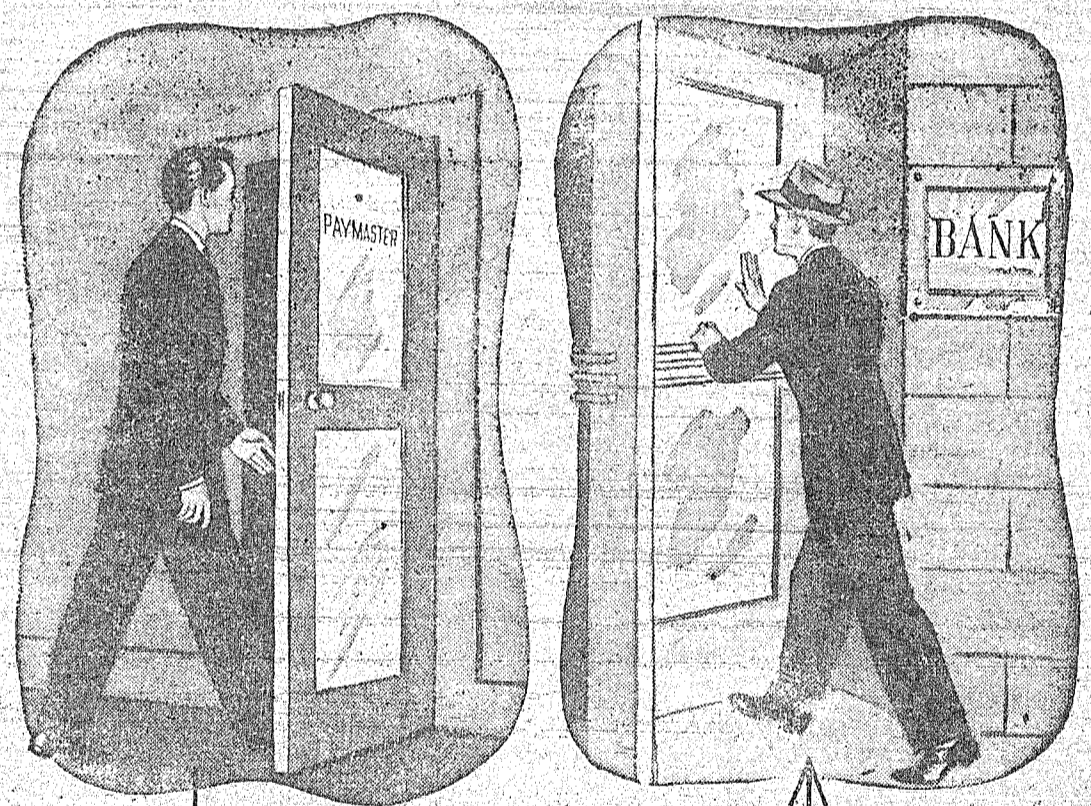

Mr. Allen is serving his first term as county attorney and in asking for re-election to the office for the second term states that he is asking to be re-elected on the service he has rendered to the public during his first term as county attorney. His plans are to contact as many as possible while taking care of the duties of his office, and he will appreciate the vote and influence of all.

The goal will be to create an association that will, by means of contributions, be able to hire the entire cemetery cleaned regularly. Mrs. Joe M. Stacy, Secretary.

Word has been received here that Mrs. Ollie Pierce Weaver, who is in the hospital at Marlin, is improving somewhat. It is very slight but she is considered better.

The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill amending the Articles of War as they relate to courts martial. There has been much criticism in the past, from both civilians and army officers, of the procedure set up for military trials of men in the service accused of offenses. Evidence of miscarriages of justice has shown up in some cases. The bill just passed is intended to improve the procedure and provide with more certainty that justice will be meted out.

While the new proposal does not go as far as the American Bar Association had recommended, the new system is sure to be more democratic than has been the case in the past.

The bill provides: That local commanders shall not have control over the members of courts by taking Judge Advocate General officers out of "line of command." That officers as well as enlisted men may be tried by special courts for minor offenses. That both the defense counsel and the prosecutor in general courts be attorneys. That lesser penalties than now provided may be imposed in many cases.

That accused men may not be confined with prisoners of war or otherwise punished (except to be confined) prior to conviction.

That the members of courts be instructed as are juries in civilian courts, that the accused be presumed to be innocent until proven guilty and that the burden-of-proof shall be on the government.

Finally, the bill establishes a much more comprehensive system of review of convictions. A new board will review all convictions and will consider questions of fact as well as of law. I am convinced this bill will go a long way toward insuring the service men fair and impartial trials.

In Washington last week on business were Walter McKay of Fredericksburg and Forrest Kyle, newspaper publisher of Bangs. Mr. McKay, with our State Agriculture Department, is concerned over the threat of the spread of the pink boll worm in Texas cotton. Consideration is being given to the use of DDT spray along the Rio Grande at vulnerable points, provided necessary funds can be provided. The pink boll worm menace is a most serious one to our cotton farmers and an effort will be made to increase the appropriation for use in that fight.

In the capitol corridors are many statues of the great men of American history, including representatives from each of the 48 states. For Texas, the likenesses of Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin were chosen years ago and are located in Statuary Hall. Oklahoma very appropriately picked the late Will Rogers. It is said the cowboy humorist once wisecracked that if his statue should ever be placed in the capitol, he wanted it located at a spot where he could "keep an eye on Congress." Sure enough, his wish was granted, and his huge-bronze statue now faces a door opening into the House Chamber. There it is admired by thousands of visitors.

Lions Club To Sponsor March of Dimes

The Lions Club voted to sponsor the March of Dimes program for Santa Anna at their regular meeting Tuesday. Just what the program will consist of is not complete at this time, but a committee was appointed, consisting of Lions R. K. Green, Weldon Chambers and Dow McBride, to get the ball rolling in the schools and Lion Bill McDavid will have some announcements later about dates that the March of Dimes will be featured at the theatre.

We are a little late in getting started on this program and it may continue after the national March of Dimes is completed, but all contributions will be handled in the same manner and the division will be the same.

One of the largest crowds attended the Club this week that has been there in some time. It may have been due to the bad weather that so many of the Lions came to the Club, but we are always glad to have a large number present and would like to see other members of the Club come out for each meeting.

During the month of January the Lions Club has their annual drive for new members. This Club is supposed to get 12 new members during that time. Eleven names have been turned in so far as new members and one Lion said he had the other member and would turn in his name before the last of the month. Ed Jones was the only new member at the Club this week, but several of the new members for the month were in attendance. One guest was present, Mr. F. B. Hill was a guest of Lion Emzy Brown.

Mrs. Cox is a graduate of Santa Anna high school and has been employed at Sam Collier's office during the past months. She will continue working there for the present.

Mr. Cox is formerly of Waco, Texas, where he attended school. He is considering a job in South America at the present. The boat does not leave until February. If he takes the job, Mrs. Cox will follow him.

Jordan Grocery Will Move To New Location

Mr. J. W. Jordan announces this week that he will move his grocery store into the building next door to Sam Collier's office sometime this week. He intended moving the first part of the week, but due to the weather condition he has had to postpone it until we have a little more suitable weather.

Mr. Jordan plans to enlarge his stock in his new location. He will have a large building and will be able to better serve his customers. He cordially invites the general public to visit him in this new location.

Mrs. E. H. Wylie left last Friday morning for Whitesboro, where she was called by the serious illness of her aged mother.

Charlie Bruce of Santa Anna, Bennett Mace of Coleman and Sid Jernigan of Goldthwaite were judges at the stock show in Brownwood the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Epeneer and granddaughter, Eugena Smith, visited from Sunday to Wednesday with their daughter, Mrs. Duke Walters at Ingram. Mr. and Mrs. Walters gave a surprise birthday dinner honoring her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer

3 Unions Block Labor Peace—Refuse Wage Boost Already Accepted by 19 Other Railroad Unions!

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, representing 125,000 railroad employees, have refused to accept the offer of the Railroads of a wage increase of 15 1/2 cents an hour.

This is the same increase awarded 1,000,000 non-operating employees by an arbitration board in September, 1947.

This is the same increase accepted by 175,000 conductors, trainmen and switchmen by agreement on November 14, 1947.

Agreements have been made with 1,175,000 employees, represented by nineteen unions. But these three unions, representing only 125,000 men, are trying to get more. They are demanding also many new working rules not embraced in the settlement with the conductors and trainmen.

Incidentally, the Switchmen's Union of North America represents only about 7 1/2% of all railroad switchmen, the other 92 1/2% being represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and covered by the settlement with that union.

Strike Threat The leaders of these three unions spread a strike ballot while negotiations were still in progress. This is not a secret vote but is taken by union leaders and votes are signed by the employees in the presence of union representatives.

When direct negotiations failed, the leaders of these three unions refused to join the railroads in asking the National Mediation Board to attempt to settle the dispute, but the Board took jurisdiction at the request of the carriers and has been earnestly attempting since November 24, 1947, to bring about a settlement. The Board on January 15, 1948, announced its inability to reach a mediation settlement. The leaders of the unions rejected the request of the Mediation Board to arbitrate. The railroads accepted.

What Now? The Unions having refused to arbitrate, the Railway Labor Act provides for the appointment of a fact-finding board by the President.

The railroads feel it is due shippers, passengers, employees, stockholders, and the general public to know that throughout these negotiations and in mediation, they have not only exerted every effort to reach a fair and reasonable settlement, but they have also met every requirement of the Railway Labor Act respecting the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of labor disputes.

It seems unthinkable that these three unions, representing less than 10 per cent of railroad employees, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employees.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 125,000 employees than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the opposition of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employees represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

FADS AND FANCIES OF S. A. H. S.

Nothing has been said this year about the fashions of our school but I will begin now and tell you about that new look here on the campus. As you all know, Santa Anna has the most exclusive, co-ed high school in this section of the state, so naturally, very exclusive fashions originate in the heads of these young gentes.

Speaking of lovely things, you can't help but see the red shirts worn by Duane Moredock and Stanley Cobb. These are first choice to many bright plaid shirts worn by both boys and girls.

WHO'S WHO OF THE SENIOR CLASS

Our 1948 Who's Who begins with a girl everyone likes. This girl is none other than Joyce Bartlett, that sophisticated senior. Joyce was born in San Saba on August 3, 1931 and the first school she attended was in Blanket. After Joyce's fourth year in that school she moved to Brooksmith where she remained in school until this year.

come: She has hazel eyes, brown hair, 5 feet 2 1/2 inches tall and tips the scales at 126 pounds. As a representative of the student body, I say: "We're glad Joyce is attending Santa Anna high. She's a swell person!!" The second senior to be introduced is that girl who everyone thinks is bashful, but she's really not. She is on the basketball team and is really a good player. She gets mean when she is in the game and keeps on trying. You know by now that it is Lillian Brandon that we are talking about. Lillian is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 134 pounds and has light brown hair and blue eyes. She attended her first year of school at Silver Valley. The second to fifth were spent at Newman, in Fisher county, the fifth to seventh at Sylvester, Texas and the seventh to tenth in Merkel. She has spent two years at Santa Anna, which we hope have proved to be the best school days. Everyone likes Lillian and we are proud to have her in Santa Anna high, a member of our senior class and a player on our basketball team.

F. H. A. NEWS

On January 21, after completing a semester of study of both luncheons and dinners, the Homemaking II class prepared and served dinner to their faculty guests, Mrs. Evans, Mr. McBride, Mr. Chambers and Mr. Green. The girls tried their best to show their skill. The dinner included every course the group had studied. Also displayed were the tables with their center pieces, and the correct setting of the tables.

When the booth was finished the girls were all very proud of it, but the real thrill came when the booths were judged. Our booth received sixth place, a green ribbon and $10.00.

BAND NEWS

The band had the opportunity to go to Coleman January 21 and rehearse with the Coleman band for a concert. The group left Santa Anna at 2:30 and was at the band house for practice from 3 to 4. Transportation to Coleman was furnished by several of the band members and parents.

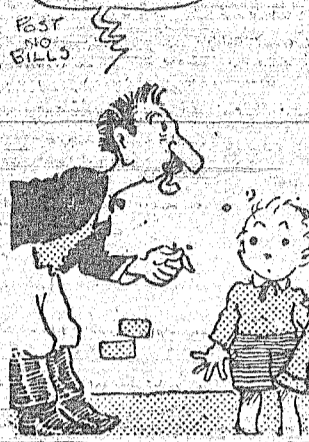

This forthcoming concert is to be presented at a high school assembly in Coleman soon. Several numbers were rehearsed with Mr. King, the Coleman band director, and Mr. Martin alternating as the director. The band enjoyed this very much and are looking forward to further practice the following week when they will be hosts to the Coleman band.

CASE HISTORY NO. 233

A child of eight years who had never walked since birth. Both legs were paralyzed. The case had been described as "hopeless". Chiropractic analysis revealed nerve pressure which was interfering with the flow of nerve force to the limbs. A series of specific adjustments relieved the pressure. Today the child can walk normally.

CASE HISTORY NO. 279

A youngster who had begun to take epileptic seizures when 2 years old. At the age of 3 he was taking as many as 30 to 40 spells a day, at which time he was brought to a Chiropractor. Within a few days after analysis and spinal adjustment the spells began to decrease. After two months they had seemingly ceased. However, 10 months later he took one more spell, a further adjustment was given, and since that time this boy has enjoyed a normal healthy life. WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC?

The Chiropractor teaches that the brain and nervous system is the root of health. From the brain, nerve energy is distributed through the nervous system to control all parts of the body. When this nerve energy is shut off even slightly between brain and body (by displacement in the spine) one or more body functions are interfered with and ill health results. By X-ray, a delicate instrument analysis is used to pick up the major nerve wave interference and specific spinal adjustment the Chiropractor is able to relieve nerve interference and restore normalcy to the affected part.

SCRIPTURE: Isaiah 53:4-6; Matthew 1:21; 5:17; 20:28-29; Luke 10:1-10; He brews 4:15, 16. DEVOTIONAL READING: Isaiah 53: 1-12.

His Work of Salvation

Lesson for February 1, 1948

PROFESSOR WILLIAM JAMES was once asked to give a definition of Christianity. He replied, "I doubt if there is a satisfactory definition of Christianity, but I can give you an example of it - Dr. Phillips Brooks."

Dr. Newton

Our lesson for Sunday tells us many things about Jesus, his work of salvation chiefly. But before we can understand what he does, we must look again at who he was and is. We begin with Isaiah 53:1-12. Who can read those majestic words without tears? And then we come to Matthew 1:21. "And thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins." Then go on to read Matthew 2:1-12; Luke 19:1-10, and Hebrews 4:14, 16.

The story of Jesus seems to me, in Sunday school, to be like 19:10. "The Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost." Hold to this key, and every door will open in this lesson.

JESUS HELPS ZACCHAEUS

IN THE first two verses of the 19th chapter of Luke we have the fascinating story of Jesus calling Zacchaeus down from the tree, forgiving his sins, and entering into his house. The story is so plain that Jesus had gone to lunch with a man that was a sinner. It was then that the Master declared, "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

Zacchaeus is but an illustration of what Jesus seeks to do for every man. He has not come to save a few, but "whoever will." He will not force himself upon any man, but he waits in hope of saving every man.

The "weird" boy in your community may be saved, will be saved - if only he will do as Zacchaeus did, come to Jesus, just as he is, confessing his sin and believing on the Lord Jesus Christ.

HOW JESUS CHANGES PEOPLE

JESUS saved Zacchaeus by forgiving his sins and putting a new attitude in his heart. He had harmed many people, or at least they thought he had. They would not forgive him.

He may not have asked them to forgive him, but when he met Jesus and was changed by the redeeming grace of the Saviour, he proposed to restore fourfold wherever he may have wronged anyone. More than that, Zacchaeus offered to give the half of his goods to the poor. He gave convincing evidence that he was a changed man, so will every man who believes in Jesus.

But we must remember this, Zacchaeus bared his soul to the Saviour in repentance of his sins and believed on him as the Son of God before he manifested a changed attitude.

THE PURPOSE OF JESUS

RECALL again the words of the angel to Joseph, "Thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins." It was to save sinners like Zacchaeus that Jesus came down from heaven and died on the cross. That was and is his purpose.

"He went about doing good, for God was with him," Acts 10:38.

We shall never understand the work of Jesus until we come to see him at work in every age and amongst all mankind to do the will of the Father in saving any and all who will come unto him in faith believing.

SO SEND I YOU

JESUS calls upon you and upon me and upon every follower of his to accept as the central purpose of our lives this mission of winning lost souls unto him. "As the Father hath sent me, so send I you."

I sat in a boat with two prominent business men, fishing in a private lake one afternoon last November. Mr. Asa G. Candler of Atlanta and I were guests of Mr. Carr F. Collins of Dallas. We were at his Wild Briar farm, a few miles from Dallas. We were talking about the plight of the world. Mr. Collins said, "What is money worth if we think of it apart from the purpose of God? Until we come back to the words of Jesus, 'So send I you,' we cannot hope to

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Are You "Hobby Happy?"

Funny thing about hobbies... When Ed Carey started making a model of the "Flying Cloud," it was only to rest his eyes from reading. But now he spends every spare moment ship modelling!

Some wives might have resented a husband suddenly shutting himself in the attic every night. But not Ed's Prudence. When she found him working late, she brought him up some beer and crackers... showed a real interest in his hobby... until finally Ed had her helping with the rigging.

Wasn't long before they were working side by side on Ed's bench, sharing a common interest. Instead of keeping them apart, Ed's hobby brought them more together.

From where I sit, a husband's hobby can often be a wife's as well. In fact, I've got the missus interested in tying trout flies—and, along with that mellow glass of beer, it makes the evenings go by mighty pleasantly.

HATE

Rising Star Record

Hate is a hard word, but many people go through life hating people, souring their own dispositions and making life generally miserable. In our own opinion life is too short to go through it with hatred in our hearts for fellow men. You may fancy that someone has done you wrong, but nothing is gained by putting them on your "Hate List." We think now would be a good time for everybody to rub out those old hate lists and see how much happier you are during the new year. One of the best things we have seen on this subject was a guest editorial in the Rotarian magazine, written by Strickland Gillian. In fact we think it equal to a good sermon and herewith reproduce it.

Hate is a luxury no one can afford. In the ordinary span of a busy human life — from the crib to the crematory, the layette to the layout — there isn't time or energy to do all the useful and necessary things we should. So why should we waste any of our precious ergs of emotions on such a super-useless thing as hating?

Actually, it's worse than impractical. Hate always hurts the hater worse than it hurts the "hatee." The latter feels discomfort from it only on the customarily rare occasions when he contacts the hater. But the hater has it forever with him as a putrid and loathsome companion — like the Old Man of the Sea riding on Sinbad the Sailor.

The man who hates reminds me of a village drunkard. While he was in a deep sleep, a wag anointed his unshorn upper lip with overripe Limburger cheese. Ignorant of what had been done to him, but knowing all was not well, the sot wandered frantically about the town, then tacked back to the bar where the gentle but fragrant assault had been made. As he entered the room, weeping copiously, somebody asked what was the matter.

"The whole darn world is rotten," he sobbed.

Yes, the hater carries the obnoxious stuff right with him wherever he goes. Look at the plight of the world today! It is the gangrene, the malignant streptococcus bug, the colon bacillus that is skepticism, the blood of humanity. Stop hate and universal peace would arrive instantly and automatically.

But before we sneer at diplomats or condemn them for failures, let us be sure we have learned how to extirpate hate in our own lives. Will power helps — but the best way I know is to drain off into other channels the energy we would devote to hating.

Let's say you find yourself getting all worked up for a gorgeous hate fest toward somebody who has proved himself a misanthrope and a heel de luxe.

Wait! Don't start hating yet. Take a quick glance over your memories. Search your mind till you begin glowingly to remember the friend who came to you once when your back was against the wall; when apparently you had exhausted every known resource and possible device for getting the needful. Remember the chap who came then, a benevolent bolt from the blue? Recall how he laid a hand on your shoulder and whispered — so that others might not hear and guess your plight — those sweetest of all words: "How much do you need?"

Is there — has there ever been, even when the morning stars sang together or when an angel choir welcomes a redeemed soul to the supernal delights of Heaven — sweeter music than those five little words spoken in our lives?

When there was a time when you were up against it for a job. Remember the person who valiantly and vigorously went to bat for you just as though it was his own job he was seeking. It was he who stood to his guns and yours until you landed the job.

Dig far back into your memory. There was that teacher, now lonely and old, who saw in you promise that others did not. And the neighbor woman who took care of your sick wife and small children during your absence. Surely you haven't forgotten the boy who found your wallet and returned it with every penny still in it?

Are you going to take time off — yes, steal the time — from the worth while task of remembering and liking such people in order to smear somebody infinitely less important and valuable?

Your life and mine are studded with gems of thoughtfulness and kindness. In a whole loving lifetime we could never do justice to the decent souls we have known. We know we have never — and will never — adequately repay those unearned favors. The memories of those one friends and their deeds are more than enough to fill to overflowing every waking hour.

But I do not need to tell you about the treasures in your life. You know them better than anybody else. Muse over them and then ask yourself this simple question:

"Where am I going to get the time for my hating?"

It's a thousand to one probability that you're far behind in thankfulness and appreciation for the kindnesses received. From which of your moral creditors would you embezzle time to hate?

1948 Chevrolet is Massive

The over-all simplicity and massiveness of the new, 1948 Chevrolet is well shown in this three-quarter view of the Fleetmaster Sport Sedan. Fenders, hood, body and door panels all blend; and the crease moulding, below the windows, is wider than that used in previous models. Note the new T-shaped chrome center bar on the radiator grille.

BOYCE HOUSE

I have a friend whose nickname is "the terrible tempered Mr. Bang" from the character in the comic feature. One day his car was almost side-swiped by another machine so he whizzed around and gave chase. He got up to 60 miles an hour and overtook the other car and signaled the driver to stop.

My friend sprang out and began to yell out the other fellow. The driver had a high pitched voice and he said, "Don't worry, very sorry I didn't mean to do it." But Mr. Bang was still sore and continued to raise sand. The other car was still there. He was sorry he got out of the car and they were round where it occurred. The driver of the second car who was a little older than Mr. Bang, said, "The thought flashed through my mind's mind. And I thought of a boy. I've chased a man five miles in order to get myself kicked."

Mr. Bang said, "You say you're sorry. He came to let you off the line but he more careful in the future." and Mr. Bang looked behind his car around and dashed off down the road.

Similar but different is this true incident. Two boys were playing in a city when they had a "Bump" collision. The driver of the second car popped out and began blaming the other driver and at last said, "I would hit you one but you're too little." The small driver's friend clambered out, straightened up, then was a couple of inches above six feet and growled, "Pardner, am I big enough?"

The other man snapped, "I believe you are," and banging again the big fellow's jaw went the army man's fist and two front teeth fell out!

Bob Hope, part owner of the Cleveland Indians, said the team gave a tryout to a young infielder from Texas but every time a Texas League was batted, instead of going after the ball he just stood there saluting, so they had to let him go.

Santa Fe Almanac Ready To Distribute

Do you know anything about "tunn-punkaka" with "gradd-sas" or "elime" and have you forgotten about "Gordium?"

You can clarify this and many other situations through the old-fashioned but up-to-the-minute Santa Fe Railway Almanac for 1948 which is being distributed free to the public by its local representatives.

The small booklet contains many of the answers for the cross-word puzzle fans and supplies basic information with which to cope with the growing volume of practical quiz tests. Perhaps more important are the farm and household hints it carries.

It contains weather, wisdom, health hints, recipes for cuisineries and foreign dishes, hymns, prayers, proverbs, sunrise and sunset calendars for each month, and statistics and tables galore.

It tells why "tunn-punkaka" with "gradd-sas" is a most delicious Swedish dessert and that "elime" is a type of ice formation on aircraft wings. "Gordium" is that ancient Phrygian city where Alexander the Great assumed to solve the prophecy that whoever untied the Gordian knot would become ruler of all Asia. But instead of untying the knot, Alex took a short cut with his sword.

Gas Precautions Should Be Followed To Prevent Accidents

In view of recent and growing tragedies due to misuse of gas stoves, Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, today listed precautions that should be followed to prevent further loss of life in Texas.

Damage amounting to well over $100,000 has resulted from nearly 200 fires, in the four month period from July through November, involving improper use and care of gas stoves and appliances, gas stoves too close to walls and gas explosions.

Carelessness causes over 90 per cent of gas fires and explosions in homes, he said, adding that gas is one of the safest heating fuels that can be used.

Hall especially warned against leaving a gas heater burning all night. However, he said that if Texans should choose to invite this kind of trouble, they should not go to bed in a closed room with the heater burning for not only will the heater burn up all the fresh air in the room, leaving the occupant with a headache in the morning, but should the flame go out due to the gas pressure being lowered during the night the person could be asphyxiated. The door and at least one window in the room should be left open. Also should the flame go out and the escaping gas be ignited, an explosion could result. A heater should never be left burning if the home is to be left for any length of time.

Gas equipment should not be tinkered with, advised Hall. Call the gas company or a service man the moment any trouble is encountered.

If the odor of escaping gas is detected, the leak should never be looked for with a match. Soap suds should be used for a safe test. If gas is escaping, large soap bubbles will form. Doors and windows should be opened, no matter how cold it is outside, for fresh air.

If the leak cannot be found, a gas man should be called immediately and the gas turned off at the meter until he arrives.

Another excellent precaution around gas is never to use cheap rubber gas tubing which quickly becomes loose at the ends and allows gas to escape. Hall recommended, "A good grade of flexible metal tubing is safer. But best of all is a rigid iron pipe put on by a competent plumber. Care should be exercised in connecting heaters to the source of gas supply, and the fittings should be properly joined and tightened."

Only heaters bearing the American Gas Association seal of approval should be purchased and used. This association checks heaters to see that less than one-half of one percent of carbon monoxide comes off the flames and that there is sufficient heat to protect floors. Heaters approved by the association only for use with vents, should never be used unvented. Heaters should be set well away from walls, curtains and other flammable material. Wet clothing should not be placed in front of an open heater to dry. Adults, as well as children, should take care that they do not stand so close to a heater to warm themselves that their clothing is in danger of catching fire.

Fort Worth Stock Show And Rodeo

Between 275 and 300 Rodeo Cowboy Association members will compete for $300 per event per performance plus entry fees in the 1948 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show rodeo, January 30 to February 8.

Todd Whitley of Bethel, Oklahoma, recently named 1947's best all-around cowboy, and Toots Mansfield of Big Spring, RCA president and expert calf roper, will be among the outstanding cowboys in the competition.

The rodeo was approved for RCA members' participation after a misunderstanding on the part of RCA officials concerning the non-profit nature of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show was cleared up. The RCA had previously denied approval, asking higher premiums per event.

Finishing touches are being applied to the six new livestock buildings on the show grounds, readying them for the opening of the show, January 30. Housed in the $1,500,000 structures and the newly remodeled horse barns will be nearly 5,000 entries from 22 states, including 722 horses, a record entry total for the horse show. Horses entered are 290 quarter horses, 46 cutting horses, 126 show horses, 94 walking horses and 105 palominos.

Fifteen states have one or more teams entered in the junior and senior college livestock judging contests, revived after a five year wartime discontinuance. States entered are Michigan, South Dakota, Pennsylvania, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Nebraska, Missouri, Mississippi, Louisiana, Kansas, Colorado, Arkansas, Arizona and Texas.

The annual breed association meetings to be held during the show are the National Cutting Horse Association, Feb. 1; Texas Hereford Association, Feb. 2; Texas Polled Hereford Association, Texas Shorthorn Association and Texas Swine Breeders Association, Feb. 3; Texas Purebred Sheep Breeders Association and Texas Aberdeen-Angus Association, Feb. 4; American Quarter Horse Association, Feb. 6, and Texas Palomino Exhibitors Association, Feb. 8.
