

Homemaking Girls Plan Work For The Summer

The Homemaking classes of Santa Anna High School are planning a full and active summer program. Mrs. Earl McQueen will be in the community every day for six weeks from May 24 to July 2, to guide and help the girls.

Twenty girls have signed up for summer projects. They are as follows:

Homemaking I: Julia Bailey, Alwyn Brandon, Patricia Davis, Vada Gober, Pauline Little, Janette Lovelady, Shirley Matthews, Margaret McCaughan, Patsy Seale, Linda Stewardson, Jo West, and Evelyn Zenor.

Homemaking II: Louise Averett, Eddie Edmondson, Mary Catherine Fellers, Lois Haynes, Lea Mitchell, and Kathryn Stewardson.

Homemaking III: Hazel Jean Cupps and Rene Steward.

The summer experiences being taken by the girls cover the following fields:

Clothing Construction, Care of Clothing, Re-Styling Garments, Landscaping and Care of Yards, Home Improvement, Meal Planning and Preparation, Food Experimentation, Food Preservation, Gardening, and Child Care and Guidance.

These girls will do approximately 130 hours of work, equivalent to one semester's work. The experiences will be conducted through individual and group conferences, home visits, field trips and group activities. Records and reports will be kept by each student. The progress of each girl's work will be checked regularly and any help needed will be given.

The summer's work will be evaluated by an evaluation committee, assisted by the Homemaking Teacher. The summer's work will be terminated by an Achievement Day Exhibit followed with a picnic or social.

Review Given Of Homemaking Girls Achievements

The Santa Anna High School Homemaking classes have completed a very successful year of work. The girls' experiences have been many and varied in the field of Homemaking. Each girl is now better prepared to be a more useful person, not only to herself and her home, but also to her community and her nation.

Some of the many fields of work which they have studied include: Wise Use of Time and Money, Personal Grooming, Clothing Care and Construction, Re-Styling Garments, Selection of Clothing, Foods, Meal Planning and Preparation, Marketing and Foods, Food Preservation, Etiquette or Conducting Oneself Properly at Home, At School, and in the Public, Home Nursing, First Aid, Child Care and Guidance, Home Improvement, Home Furnishings, Upholstering, and many other units.

There were fifty-four girls enrolled in the Homemaking classes this year, and seventy girls in the Santa Anna Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America. The chapter has been very active in local, area, and state meetings.

Some of the things the chapter has accomplished this year are as follows: Three boxes were packed for overseas, twenty-six toys were made for local distribution, four trips were sponsored—one to district meeting, one to area meeting, one to state meeting, and one to the State Fair at Dallas.

One of our local girls, Betty Price, was elected to an area office for the year 1948-49. Also, the girls set up an exhibit at the County Fat Stock Show and won fifth place on their exhibit.

The following is a summary of some of the things done: 270 meals were prepared, 75 pints of meat were canned, 150 pints of vegetables were canned, 500 pints of fruit were canned, 75 pints of preserves and jellies were made, 16 pints of pickles and relishes were made, 10 gardens were cultivated, 420 chicks and turkeys were raised, 175 garments were made, 12 garments were renovated, 4 garments were dyed, 10 living rooms were improved, 5 dining rooms were improved, 15 kitchens were improved, 10 bed rooms were improved, 2 bathrooms were improved, 15 pieces of furniture were refinished, 6 floors were refinished, 7 clothing storages were provided, 1 food storage was provided, 1 water facility was improved, and 12 yards were improved.

A still better program is being planned for the girls for the coming year.

Is Your Train Ever Late?

Next time you get hot under the collar because your train is late, think of the Gulf & Interstate Railway passenger train that arrived in Beaumont "two years, one month, twenty-seven days, five hours and 15 minutes late."

This train, as explained by Miss Florence Stratton in "Story of Beaumont", was marooned at Port Bolivar during the devastating 1900 Gulf storm and it was that long a time before service over the track was resumed. The fact was currently unearched by the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railway in preparing for its 75th anniversary celebration scheduled for Galveston June 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Sparks Whitstone and baby of Cactus, Texas, came Sunday for a visit until Thursday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitstone. They have been doing some fishing with good results.

George Rae, Pioneer County Sheepman

In the 15th Annual Wool and Mohair Review published recently in the Standard Times, there was a lengthy and interesting article of George Rae of Talpa, a pioneer in sheep raising. The write-up was accompanied by a picture of Mr. Rae and his dog.

Mr. Rae, 96 years old, began when five years of age, to range the hills of his native Scotland with his father's flocks and has continued to the present to work with sheep.

He crossed the Atlantic in 1873, and after staying three years in Canada, came to South Texas in 1876. In 1883 he moved to Coleman county, where he has remained. Despite his extreme age, he is still mentally alert and physically active and reads without glasses. Though he has leased his ranch, to relatives, he still assists with the sheep.

Mr. Rae is the father of Mrs.

A. Holman of Santa Anna.

Postage Stamp Honors Chaplains Of World War II

A postage stamp commemorating one of the heroic incidents of World War II is being issued by the Post Office Department on May 28, and is being marked by a special ceremony at the White House on that date.

The stamp illustrates the brave sacrifice of four chaplains—one Catholic, one Jewish and two Protestant, who gave their life belts to soldiers aboard the S. S. Dorchester and went down praying together, when their ship was torpedoed. Their act of brotherhood and sacrifice has become one of the epics of American history.

Suddenly the King realized he was going to starve

YOU REMEMBER how King Midas thought he had a short cut to financial security. When granted one wish, he asked that everything he touched be turned to gold. It was fun until he tried to eat, and all his food turned to solid gold. He suddenly realized that he was going to starve to death.

Midas was glad to cancel his wish, and look for a better way to provide for his old age. What he discovered remains true today.

Grass Forecast: Fine Today, Dry And Poor Later

Moral: White Pastures Are Good Is Time To Plant Some More
(Editor's Note: This is a 10th article of a series published as a help to livestock producers.)

When pastures are best is the time to plant some more. Livestock specialists point out that the way to have productive, year-round grazing is to plan ahead so that other grasses are ready for grazing when present pastures pass their peak.

Permanent pastures and native grasses furnish peak grazing about this time of the year. When warmer weather comes in summer months, these pastures will begin to fade and need rest.

Planned ahead, temporary pastures will continue the good gains livestock have made on permanent pastures and increase production and profits.

Sudan grass, especially the new, popular sweet variety, is one of the most practical temporary summer pasture crops in the Cotton South. Planted early in the spring when soil gets warm, it usually reaches peak production when other grasses are no longer productive, and often provides excellent grazing until late fall. Sudan grass is popular because of its wide adaptability, ease of planting, and large volume of forage that is high in total energy value, vitamins, minerals and protein.

Proper stocking and the use of supplemental feeds increase the value of Sudan pasture for livestock. Sudan is most productive when allowed to grow to a height of 8 to 10 inches, and then grazed enough to keep the growth young and tender. Any extra growth should be mowed and cured for hay. Feeding cottonseed meal and dry roughage when grazing is short increases the productivity of the pasture.

It is best to keep some dry roughage always available to stock on Sudan pasture. Dry roughage is especially important when the grass is young and "washy."

When Sudan matures, a protein supplement is needed by livestock. One to two pounds of cottonseed meal or cake, daily per head, will meet the protein requirements of beef cows, dry dairy cows, or growing and bred heifers. The daily amount needed depends on the condition of the pasture, and age and condition of the cattle. When grazing is very poor, increase the protein to two to three pounds, or add one to three pounds of ground grain.

Producing dairy cows on excellent Sudan pasture need a concentrate mixture of 19 to 15 percent protein. With dry, mature pasture, a concentrate mixture of 19 to 20 percent protein is recommended.

Good Sudan pasture will fatten beef steers and calves to a market grade of "good" when supplemented by a daily ration of 3 to 5 pounds of dry roughage, 4 to 5 pounds of cottonseed cake or pellets, and 2 to 3 pounds of grain. When grain is scarce and costly, it may be eliminated and the daily ration of cake increased to 5 to 7 pounds.

When young and tender, Sudan is excellent pasture for hogs and poultry. It furnishes vitamins, minerals, and variety of protein, and helps to improve sanitation and provide exercise.

Brood mares and idle work stock make good use of Sudan pasture. They should have 2 to 4 pounds of dry roughage daily, while grazing good grass. As Sudan becomes dry, supplement it with one pound of cottonseed meal, one or two pounds of grain and five or six pounds of dry roughage. Working animals should have a regular concentrate ration, grazing Sudan at night or during idle days.

A. Preston Bailey, Julia Anna and Tommy were in San Angelo Monday to attend funeral services for his grandmother, Mrs. Kate E. Robinson, who had lived in Eldorado many years. Mrs. Robinson, who was 86 years old, had been ill for several months.

The play was written by Edward Staadt, and directed by Ethel Swanson, head of Speech Department at Daniel Baker.

Visitors in the Burris-Brushenhan home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lunsford of Coleman, Mrs. Clara Gilbreath of Shields, and Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Rathliff of Hillsboro.

Margaret Anne Bruce, Julian Ross Kelley, William Vernon Oakes, and Susan Opal Stockard are four young people from Santa Anna, among 508 candidates for Bachelor degrees at the 22nd annual commencement exercises at Technological College in Lubbock on June 7th. State Dept. Of Health Letter

Austin, Texas. "Although we may not be sick, we may be far from being well. There is a great and vital difference between high and buoyant health and the health of the average person, or of one who is only well enough to be out of bed," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today.

"Unless we have the essentials of health in our daily habits of living, we are as sure to pay the penalty of impaired health, sickness and early death as we are of cause and effect in other situations," Dr. Cox continued. "We should ask ourselves, 'How long do I expect to live?' 'How long can I retain my efficiency, both in work and play?' 'Do I want to become incapacitated soon after middle life?'"

The alternative, according to Dr. Cox's statement is to adjust one's program of living to insure the fundamentals of health and thus, barring accidents, keep young and retain active efficiency to an age of 70 to 80, or more.

The essentials of health are simple: sufficient fresh air and sunlight, good food and food habits, regular exercise and adequate rest. Yet, in checking the health of thousands of individuals who considered their health good, it has been rare indeed to find a single person who did not habitually disregard one or more of these essentials. Therefore, no matter how good or poor our health, we should check our daily program of living for health habits that are essentially faulty but of which we may be unaware.

Willie Gipson and son, Jimmy of Coleman and Mrs. J. R. Gipson visited Monday with Mrs. Willie Gipson in a Brownwood hospital, where she had undergone major surgery last week. NAGGING BACKACHE

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble. After colds, fever, and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, Ask your neighbor!

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination. In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Daniel Stands By His Convictions

Lesson for May 30, 1948

A picket frozen on duty— A mother starved for her brood— Socrates drinking the hemlock— And Jesus on the rood.

SUCH a picture we have before us in Sunday's lesson. All you need to do to get this dramatic picture is to read the first chapter of Daniel. You will then feel anew the meaning of that cherished statement, "This conviction that conviceth."

BRAVE TO DO RIGHT

WE GET the first draught of this tonic in verses 8-9, 14-15, and 17. "But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank..."

Dr. Newton

He was brave enough to take a stand for what he knew was right. Which reminds me of the story of Henry Ward Beecher, when yet a small boy. A teacher in the school he attended asked a boy a question which he promptly answered. The teacher appeared displeased and told the boy to sit down. He asked several other boys the same question, and got the same answer. Finally he asked Beecher, and Beecher gave the same answer, but refused to sit down when the teacher frowned at him. Seeing that Beecher was going to defend the answer, the teacher said: "Boys, you were all correct, but only Beecher was sure enough to stand his ground. I was simply trying to teach you the lesson that you must stand by what you know is right."

DARE TO STAND ALONE

DANIEL knew that he was taking an unpopular position, but he was willing to be alone so long as he knew he was right. He knew that the consequences would take care of themselves. That is the quality of character which America needs today in her youth.

It is easy enough to be popular, if you run with the gang; but remember this—the gang is always heading downhill. Daniel stood by his convictions when it was costly. In the final windup, he was, the head man.

ENDURING INVESTMENTS

DANIEL, winning his point, made every hour count toward victory. He not only abstained from strong drink, but used his superior strength to serve the kingdom in such way that his talents were sought out and brought into larger fields of opportunity.

Standing by his convictions, he had won over those who at first were disposed to poke fun at him. By superb performance, due to clear thinking and high purpose, Daniel made enduring investments that paid off in big dividends. He did not do right for reward, but because he did right, the reward was inevitable. And so it will be with every young man and woman who purposes in his or her heart to do right.

GOD'S FAVOR

I WANT you to look carefully at verse 17. "God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams."

It is impossible to account for Daniel's fortitude apart from his implicit trust in God. Remember the incident of Daniel opening his window toward Jerusalem in prayer?

God never fails those who stake their all on him. He will not—cannot let them fall. It was because of God's favor that Daniel and his companions proved themselves ten times better than the young men who defiled themselves.

"Who sides with God must always win."

Scoffers Stay On

Even those who scoff at the Bible prefer to live in a culture in which the dominating ideas of the Bible have been influential.

The Bible is a very dangerous book—dangerous to all systems based on greed and prejudice and oppression.

secretary would be of interest. Few newcomers escape the housing problem, about which you hear so many stories. I am told that the population in the city of Washington and its environs has practically doubled since just before the war. This is hard to understand when you think that the total number of federal employees has been cut in half since the war ended and vast numbers of military and naval personnel stationed here during the war have returned to civilian life. No factories of any size are allowed in the District of Columbia, and no skyscrapers can be built here. Of all the many beautiful buildings in Washington, the tallest is only about twelve stories high.

One of the least publicized buildings, but one of the most outstanding, is the Library of Congress. The main building, completed in 1897, with its Pompeian frescoes, mosaics in the ceilings and floors, grand staircases with marble balustrades, murals and sculptures, was considered at that time to be one of the architectural wonders of the world. The annex, completed in 1939, is in direct contrast, being completely modern in style and design. The library houses more than 29 million pieces, including books, pamphlets, newspapers, manuscripts, maps and views, microfilms, motion pictures, music, recordings, photographs and slides, posters, photostats and magazines, and is the information center of the governmental agencies and Congress. We often make use of its enormous collection of information in connection with our work.

The work in a congressional office follows a certain routine, just as does the work in any office; however, every day has its own interesting variations. There are four of us now working in this office. Each day, as the mail is opened, we are assigned particular responsibilities, often requiring telephone contacts with the various governmental agencies and departments. We are frequently requested to find out the status of bills and to obtain copies of public laws, reports, etc. Mr. Fisher usually dictates answers to correspondence in the mornings. He also attends committee meetings in the mornings, and frequently goes to the Veterans Administration, the Pentagon or elsewhere for conferences in behalf of his constituents, and at noon, when the House meets, he goes to the floor for the proceedings there. I think a lot of people hesitate to write their congressman because they fear it will take too much of his time. I have read some magazine articles about the volume of congressional mail and the time consumed on incidental matters. Most of these stories contain exaggerations. We have no difficulty in handling our mail, and the more we get the better we like it. We send out about fifty to one hundred letters a day. And we like to have company, too. By all means, don't ever come to Washington without coming by to see us! We like to see folks from home. This always brightens the day for us and we get some first-hand news from Texas. Recent visitors were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lowry of Ballinger, and Lt. and Mrs. R. M. Lowry, Jr. Lt. Lowry was a 1946 West Point graduate, and is now flying jet planes at Langley Field, Virginia.

Of particular interest to visitors in Washington is a visit to the White House. Although we are often asked to arrange for White House passes, it was only last week that I went to the White House for the first time. The occasion for this was a reception given by Mrs. Truman for women federal employees and congressional secretaries. Wearing an attractive navy blue dress topped with an orchid corsage, Mrs. Truman received over a thousand guests in the green room, where she was assisted by Mrs. George Marshall, wife of the Secretary of State. Veterans' News

Veterans Administration has warned veterans, builders and lenders against the consequences of making or accepting so-called "side-payments" in the sale of home properties to veterans with the aid of GI loans.

VA said such side-payments—usually made for the purpose of evading the prohibition against sales to veterans in excess of appraised "reasonable value"—are a direct violation of law and subject offenders to possible federal prosecution.

Many cases have been reported in which veterans have been induced to pay the builder or seller an amount over and above the sales price shown on the loan report submitted to VA, and upon which the Government loan guarantee is based.

Veterans who knowingly conspire to evade the law by making such side-payments risk loss of their rights under all veterans' laws, VA warned. VA said that any lender who submits a loan to VA for guaranty while possessing knowledge of a side payment in connection with the sale—even though the payment was made to a third party other than the lender—will be suspended from further participation in the GI loan program. Also, any guaranty issued in connection with the transaction will be invalidated.

Continuing its efforts to prevent overpayments of subsistence allowances, Veterans Administration again urges veteran-students and their schools to notify VA as soon as a veteran interrupts or completes his training program.

A veteran-student in training under the GI Bill is not entitled to subsistence allowances after the date he interrupts or completes his training. In some cases, veterans stop their training and receive additional payments before VA is notified of their change in status.

All such payments must be refunded to the government. Advance notice is preferable whenever a veteran decides to discontinue his training. However, prompt notice immediately after a break in training will help to prevent most overpayments.

State Renews 4-H Soil Conservation Program For 1948

Announcement has been made that the 1948 National 4-H Soil Conservation program will be conducted in Texas for the fifth consecutive year.

The activity is designed to encourage 4-H Club members to develop a farm family program of soil conservation for present and future production, which will help prevent soil wastage and deterioration on the home farm.

Typical of the achievements of the 4-H soil conservationists are those of Carroll Fowler, 17, of Lakeview, state winner last year. In co-operation with his father, Carroll drew up a complete soil conservation plan for their 1,209-acre ranch. His first task was the construction of stock water ponds and terraces in the cultivated areas, soil tests, the running of contours and strip cropping. Plans call for completion of the terracing job and adoption of a four-year crop rotation plan. Additional stock ponds will be built and diversion ditches maintained. Principal crops on the Fowler ranch are livestock and cotton. Already an improvement has been noted as the result of conservation practices being followed. Gulley control work has been started and Carroll plans to have the entire ranch under a program of soil conservation within a short time.

Merit awards for superior 4-H soil conservation records on county, state, sectional and national levels again offered by Firestone include gold medals of honor for county winners and $50.00 U. S. Savings Bonds for the six highest rating entrants in each state. Sixteen selected state winners each receive a sectional award of a trip to the Chicago 4-H Club Congress next November. Eight sectional winners are chosen for national honors, each receiving a $200.00 college scholarship.

There were 27 county medal winners in Texas last year.

County extension agents will furnish complete information regarding this activity.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh It's Leap Year, Girls! First girl in our town to "get her man" on Leap Year was the Cuppers' daughter, Jane, who wed Bill Webster's boy last Saturday. When I asked Bill Jr. if it was true that Jane really did the proposing, Bill said: No, but she made it plain she'd make an ideal wife. Instead of looking for diversion or excitement every evening, she was content to chat beside the fire. "I could plainly see," says Bill, "that we'd really have a happy home life—which is just exactly what I want from marriage." It's usual for older folks to shake their heads over the younger generation. (It's gone on for hundreds of years, now.) But from where I sit, young people of marrying age today are every bit as commendable as their elders were—in their temperance (a glass of beer for instance), tolerance, and common sense. So to Jane and Bill—the best of luck! Joe Marsh Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation
