Crowd Attends Annual Kiwanis Club Banquet

The Kiwanis Club held their annual banquet Monday night at the Bailey County Coliseum. Fifty-one people attended the banquet, twenty-seven visitors from out of town, ten guests from Muleshoe, thirteen Kiwanians and sweetheart Summer Wiley.

Lt. Governor Chuck Parr from Amarillo installed the new officers. Those installed were R.A. Bradley, president; Hugh Young, vice secretary; Bryan Morris, secretary; and Scott Churchman, treasurer.

Past president Larry Parker presented appreciation plaques to vice president, Randy Lewis; past secretary, Eddy Morris; and a pin to treasurer, Scott Churchman. He also presented plaques to Committee Chairman, R.A. Bradley for Flag Chairman; Bryan Morris for Mule Putt Golf Course Chairman; and Hugh Young for Fireworks Chairman.

year, sorghum means a last chance at recovery for farmers who turned to the grain as a replacement for almost two million acres of cotton wiped out by adverse weather. The High Plains alone planted more than a million acres to grain sorghum this year.

The value of sorghum as a food source for people and livestock, as well as the ability to successfully grow it in many parts of the U.S., reflects more than three decades of research by agricultural scientists, says Dr. Darrell Rosenow, professor of grain sorghum breeding with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock. Emphasis of that ongoing research today is to improve the quality of the U.S. crop, he said.

Introduced from tropical Africa and Southeast Asia, sorghum is not native to the western hemisphere, Rosenow said.

The development in 1963 of a cooperative sorghum conversion program between the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) has enabled the United States to utilize the germplasm of exotic sorghums, Rosenow said. The program is aimed at using exotics to improve the sorghum hybrids used on the Texas High Plains.

The need for more genetic diversity was recognized in the early years of sorghum hybrids when little diversity existed, he said. The exotic sorghums grew too tall and matured too late, making them very difficult to use in crosses or to evaluate. The sorghum conversion program was conceived to change the height and maturity of sorghum lines for use in Texas and other temperate areas of the world. Using the knowledge of inheritance of height and maturity in sorghum lines J.C. Stephens and J.R. Quinby, sorghum scientists at Chillicothe, conceived the sorghum conversion program. They theorized that crossing and backcrossing exotic sorghums to appropriate short, early lines would result in a shorter earlier maturing line showing the same traits as the

Flu Vaccine Available, Shots Given Tuesdays

The Flu Vaccine is in at the Texas Department of Health and immunization shots will be given on Tuesday's from 8 to 10:30 a.m. and again from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

In the United States, influenza activity generally peaks between late December and early March and high levels of influenza activity infrequently occur in the contiguous 48 states before December. Therefore, the optimal time for organized vaccination campaigns for high-risk persons usually is the period between mid October and mid December.

Because influenza is usually not life threatening in healthy individuals and most people recover fully, health officials emphasize the use of vaccine for the elderly and people with other health problems which make these individuals more likely to be seriously ill or to die from the flu or its complications.

All people 65 years of age or older and adults and children with long-term heart or lung problems which caused them to see a doctor regularly, or to be admitted to a hospital for care during the past year are among the high risk groups.

Residents of nursing homes, and other institutions housing patients of any age who have serious long-term health problems as well as anyone receiving treatment for kidney disease, cystic fibrosis, chronic metabolic diseases such as diabetes, anemia (low blood) or severe asthma are also at high risk.

Persons with an allergy to eggs, that causes a dangerous reaction if they eat eggs and those who have had a serious reaction to previous influenza vaccination should

The Bobcats kicked to the Mules and the Mules returned it to their own 35 yard line. Ruben Rodriguez connected with Brian Rasco on a 14 yard pass, picking up another first down. Once again they were unable to move the ball against the tough Bobcat defense and were forced to punt the ball away.

Edward Rodriguez punted the ball 51 yards. The Bobcats put the ball into action on their own three yard line. With 4:26 left in the quarter, the Bobcats made it into the endzone. The point after kick was good and the Bobcats led 14-0.

CofC Proposes Beautification Of Mule Lot

The Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture have completed a survey of the Mule Lot and the feasibility of beautifying it as a fall project.

Fall Harvest Underway In Area

Agriculture producers experienced their greatest anxiety on October 8 with the early freeze. The official weather observer recorded 28 degrees for the low in Muleshoe.

Corn and soybean harvest is completed. Yields reported have been fair, especially considering the type of growing season that we had. Corn yields have been very good.

The harvest of irrigated sorghum is fully underway and showing good yields.

Dryland sorghum was adversely affected by the freeze and harvest is just beginning. Test weights or bushel weights will be the main problem confronting growers and hopefully they won't be too low.

Harvest conditions continue to be ideal for the pumpkin and carrot harvest.

News From
U.S. Representative
Larry Combest

Confronting the government's lengthy delays on farm loan applications, U.S. Representative Larry Combest (R-Texas) has successfully guided a Certified and Preferred Lender Program toward becoming law. Combest's provision addresses delays by the Farmers' Home Administration (FmHA) by allowing banks authorized by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture to approve farmers' operating loan applications when FmHA fails to act within 14 days.

When the U.S. Senate attempted to kill the measure, Combest intervened by negotiating a two-year phase-in that will permit preferred banks to approve the applications. As a certified lender, banks will have the opportunity to establish themselves as preferred lenders and make guaranteed loans directly. The policy is modeled after the Small Business Administration's successful lending program.

"Farm and ranch loan applications stack up for months, while the producers need answers to make operating decisions," said Combest. "To free producers from federal redtape, I have moved the program along toward allowing hometown banks to have the final say on quaranteed FmHA loans if the federal government does not act within 14 days. localizing the approval program will ensure responsiveness and credit for farmers and ranchers. The government will monitor the loans as a condition of allowing banks to participate as preferred lenders."

Under the Certified and Preferred Lender's Program, the government would guarantee 80 percent of the loan. Participating lending institutions will be permitted to make FmHA guaranteed loans based on a farmer's creditworthiness and lending regulations.

To Whom It May Concern:

Bailey County's 1992 Food Festival has been a successful program for the American Heart Association due to involvement and support of so many—the newspapers, radio and television services were generous! Food services directors were outstanding: Tawna Webb at Three Way ISD, Kayla Riley at Muleshoe ISD and Robin Dickerson at MAHC Center, Nancy Carlisle and Robin & Josh Tooley conducted food exchanges, Clara Lou Jones helped and many elementary school teachers worked the health guidelines into their required curriculums.

This Kind of Job takes energy & enthusiasm. Thanks!

VA Offers Toll-Free Phone For Vets

Veterans and dependents in Texas seeking information on VA benefits now can call 1-800-827-1000 toll-free and be automatically connected to a benefits counselor at the VA regional office in Waco.

Lois High, Director of VA's Waco Regional Office, said: Veterans benefits information now will be more readily available by phone for veterans and their families.

The single, nationwide number, which goes into effect October 26, replaces a series of 800 numbers and is good anywhere in the United States, Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands.

Benefits counselors in Waco will be available at the toll-free number between 7:45 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

For callers in Waco, the local number 772-3060 should be used to reach benefits counselors.

Dr. High said, "We are doing all we can to bring VA services closer to the people we serve."

Texas Senate Moves

The Texas Senate will meet outside the Capitol's Senate Chamber for the first time in more than 100 years, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said.

Bullock, who serves as the Senate's presiding officer, said the Capitol restoration project will force the Senate to meet in One Capitol Square, a state office building located a few blocks from the Capitol.

"As best we can tell, this will be the first time since the completion of the Capitol building in 1889 that the Senate has met somewhere other than the Senate Chamber," Bullock said.

"Obviously, we will be breaking a longstanding tradition," Bullock added. "But meeting in the Chamber would have meant delaying the restoration, and that delay would have cost taxpayers at least a million dollars."

Bullock said the meeting room on the first floor of One Capitol Square is being expanded in preparation for a November special session to make room for 31 senator's desks, press and seating for approximately 100 members of the general public.

"We will also broadcast Senate proceedings to neighboring rooms via closed circuit television, which should give everyone the opportunity to see the Senate in action if they want to," Bullock said.

Bullock said the Senate will continue to meet in One Capitol Square during the regular session, instead of the auditorium of the new Capitol extension as originally planned.

The church and Dicie and families wish to thank everyone that brought food for the lunch Saturday, for their prayers and everything they did for them in their time of sorrow.

I drove to Odessa Wednesday to visit my daughter and family, Myrtie and Leland Finley. Got to see all the grandchildren, but the grandson, Larry. Saw Donna and Kevin Jones, Christopher, Aaron, and Kayla, Linda and Ernest Burns. As I drove to Odessa, I stopped to visit Winnie Byars in Seminole. Her sister, Ruby Nichols of Lubbock was visiting her. Enjoyed visiting

Know your rights! That's the message from medical experts, who say patients scheduled for surgery have the right to meet the hospital's recommended anesthesiologist several days, if not weeks, prior to surgery for a pre-surgery interview. After the meeting, the patient has the right to request a different physician. The anesthesiologist you choose must have staff privileges at the hospital in which your surgery is performed.

GRILLING TECHNIQUES

1. How to Judge Temperature-Hold your hand at cooking height, palm down. If you can keep it here two seconds, the temperature is high or hot; 3 seconds, medium-high; 4 seconds, medium; and 5 seconds, low.

2. Direct Cooking Method-Foods are cooked directly above the heat source. This method is perfect for fast cooking foods, such as hamburgers, steaks, chops, fish fillets, etc. Foods will sear quickly, like in broiling.

3. Indirect Cooking Method-Ideal for larger cuts of meats, chicken halves, ribs, etc. Build fire in one-half of grill, place food on opposite side of cooking grid from heat source.

For larger cuts of meat, sear meat over coals, then finish cooking by indirect method.

FIRE UP

* For an average fire, place 3 to 4 pounds Jack Daniel's Briquets in a pyramid.

* Saturate briquets with liquid charcoal lighter fluid (about 1/3 to 1/2 cup). Light with match or use an electric starter following manufacturer's direction.

* Allow briquets to burn until they are ashy grey by day or glowing red at night before cooking. (about 20 minutes). Spread out coals and you are ready to cook.

* If fire is too hot-spread out coals and close vents halfway.

* Need more fire-push coals closer together and add additional briquets to outer edges of fire. Open vents fully.

FANCY THAT!

Experts estimate 25 percent of the working population in America suffers from some sort of stress or anxiety disorder.

Most of these people however, don't do anything to relieve their problems. That can be unfortunate. Left untreated the condition can not only get worse, it can have serious physical consequences.

Fortunately, doctors now have anti-anxiety medications that can help relieve anxiety. If you're anxious out of proportion to what's happening in your life, see your doctor.

Breast Cancer Detection Unit Available In Muleshoe

Breast Cancer cannot be prevented, but early detection can save many lives. Breast cancer will strike one in nine American women. The American Cancer Society predicts that about 44,000 women will die of breast cancer this year. Experts estimate that if every woman had regular mammograms according to guidelines established by the American Cancer Society, nearly a third of the women who die of breast cancer would survive. The guidelines are:

- Begin mammography by age 40
- Age 40 to 49 mammogram

every 1-2 years

- Over age 50 annual mammograms
- Monthly breast self examination
- Regular breast exams by a physician

Mammography is the best means for early detection of breast cancer.

Transamerican Diagnostic Services has been accredited by the American College of Radiology since 1989. The American College of Radiology Program is voluntary and designed to insure women who receive optimum quality mammographic examinations. The accreditation is done through evaluation of the faculty's staff qualifications, (technologists, radiologist, and physicist), equipment, quality control, quality assurance, image quality, and breast dose. Transamerican Diagnostic Services is also approved by the Texas Department of Health to accept self referred patients and is approved by Medicare as a provider to the Medicare Mammography Program.

Transamerican Diagnostic Services recently has been contracted by the Texas Department of Health to be an official provider for low income women.

Transamerican Diagnostic Services will have a mobile breast cancer detection unit available to local women on Friday, November 6, 1992. The unit will be parked at

Muleshoe Area Medical Center
708 South First

Awards Offered To Young Wheat Farmers

Young Texas wheat farmers are eligible to enter an essay contest to compete for two leadership development awards of which 40 will be awarded nationally. The program of the Texas Wheat Producers Association and National Association of Wheat Growers is sponsored by Monsanto Agriculture Products Company and the Production Credit Association of Texas.

The awards are designed to acquaint young wheat farmers with the wheat associations organizational structure, leadership development, policy development, and the education aspects of attending wheat organizational meetings, according to Cagle Kendrick, President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association.

The awards which total more than $1000 each are to defray the cost to the winners to participate in their choice of the National Association of Wheat Growers 1993 Annual Convention, held

Any Texas wheat farmer between the ages of 20 and 35 years, who has not previously participated in either of the NAWG meetings mentioned above is eligible to enter. The winners are selected based upon completion of a short questionnaire relative to their perception of the current greatest needs of wheat farmers, how they are or would be utilizing their leadership abilities. Along with a brief 50 word essay, explaining why they would like to receive the educational grant.

Entry forms may be obtained by either writing or calling Rodney Mosier of the Texas Wheat Producers Association office at: 803 Texas Commerce Bank Bldg. 2201 Civic Circle Amarillo, TX 79109 806-352-2282

Muleshoe AARP Hosts Forum To Discuss Health Care Reform

A program on AARP's Draft Proposal for Health Care Reform will be conducted on Thursday, October 29, 1992 at 6:00-8:00 p.m. at the Bailey County Coliseum.

This Draft Proposal, "Health Care America" addresses the critical problems facing the national health care system. This Proposal program gives everyone interested a chance to discuss, make suggestions, and propose modifications. AARP is actively seeking public reaction to the proposal, as well as input.

AARP designed the plan to provide access to affordable, available, high quality health and long term care. The plan incorporates some of the best features of other plans already in place in other nations. America and South Africa are the only two so called, "Civilized Nations" that do not have a national Health Care Plan. There is a growing concern expressed by Americans of all ages that something must be done about our current health care crisis.

The Forum will be led by Poppy

Hulsey of Tulia, TX. She is an Associate State Director for Texas AARP and a State Presenter for "Health Care America". Poppy is Speaker Pro Tem of the Texas Silver Haired Legislature, serving her fourth term in that organization.

Texas has 2 million members in AARP and 25,000 of these members are in the National Retired Teachers Division.

AARP's founding principle, "To serve, not to be served", forms the basis for its volunteer services. Older Americans work in their own communities and volunteer their time, skills, and experience to help others.

Forums will be held until December. Health Care America Draft Proposal Feedback forms will be given to each participant with the hope that they will return to become a part of a nationwide survey of health care needs. Results will be tabulated. A final resolution will be sent to Congress in 1993.

Everyone is invited to attend the Forum October 29.

MULESHOE

Accredited by the American College of Radiology
A Service of

(Providing Mammography Services for over 5 years)
CALL 272-4524 FOR APPOINTMENT

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

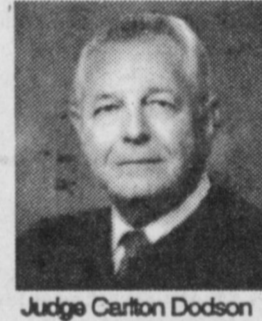

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $70.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

consult a physician before receiving the vaccine.

This year's flu shot contains the strains A/Texas/36/91-like, A/Beijing/353/89-like, and B/Panama/45/90-like to provide immunity against the types of flu which have been circulating in the past year, and/or thought to be most likely to occur in the United States next winter.

Vaccine will begin to provide its protective effect after about one or two weeks.

According to the Texas Health Department, flu shots will not protect all persons who get them against the flu. They also will not protect against other illnesses that resemble the flu.

If you have any questions about influenza or influenza vaccination, you should ask now or call your doctor before requesting the vaccine.

FmHA Assists Texans With Rural Housing

Texas FmHA used 105 percent of the State's 28 million dollars allocation for new construction multi-family housing to assist the housing needs of rural Texas in the 1992 fiscal year, according to an announcement made by Neal Sox Johnson, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA).

These funds will make available approximately 1031 new multi-family housing units and approximately 184 repaired apartment units for families and elderly persons living in rural areas of Texas.

The Texas FmHA also obligated labor housing grants in the amount of 473 thousand dollars to complete renovation to 246 existing labor housing apartments located in McAllen and 289 existing units in Weslaco, Texas. This is in addition to previous loans and grants made to these projects totaling more than 10.5 million dollars in previous fiscal years.

Housing preservation Grants (HPG) totaling over one million dollars have been obligated to benefit approximately 201 households of low and very low income home owners in rural areas of Texas. These grants will allow rural home owners to bring their homes up to minimum housing quality standards and aid in energy efficiency.

Also, a Self-Help Technical Assistance Grant totaling more than 112 thousands dollars was obligated to assist 15 families in the construction of their own homes in Mission, Texas.

President Bush's budget for fiscal year 1993, as recently approved by Congress, has authorized 326 million dollars nationally for multi-family housing to continue to provide funding to meet the housing needs of rural Americans. Texas FmHA looks forward to an allocation of approximately 30 million dollars for assisting rural rental residents in their housing needs in fiscal year 1993.

The Farmers Home Administration assists rural America by guaranteeing private sector loans and by providing temporary, supervised direct loans to farm and housing borrowers who have a reasonable chance for success, and whose current needs cannot be met at reasonable rates and terms by commercial sources. The Agency is committed to excellence in providing its services.

The Mules put the ball into play on their own 38 yard line. They picked up three firstdowns on their way into the endzone. The point after kick was good and the score stood Bobcats 46-Mules 13.

With 3:11 left in the game, the Mules kicked to the Bobcats and they put the ball into play on their own 35 yard line. The Bobcats picked up a first down before the clock ran out. The final score of the game was Bobcats 46-Mules 13.

Next week the Mules will take on the Tulia Hornets in Benny Douglas Stadium and all Mule fans are encouraged to go out and back the Mules. The Mules and coaches work hard and need your support.

By Charles Carlson
Dow Theory Forecasts

Junk bonds, one of the top market performers these days, are back.

For those who missed the '80s, junk bonds are debt securities issued by companies with less-than-stellar credit ratings. Junk bonds were popular with many takeover specialists and empire builders during the '80s.

However, the demise of Drexel Burnham Lambert caused a fallout in the junk bond group.

However, junk bonds have been staging an impressive comeback.

The high yields are drawing investors due to the puny yields on CDs and money markets.

Such issues have high credit risk; if still interested, the best way to invest is through a high-yielding, no-load mutual fund.

of exotic germplasm. Rosenow works primarily with Mali, Niger, Sudan and Honduras in this Collaborative Research Support Program (CRSP).

Many new exotic sorghums have been discovered through this program and entered into the sorghum conversion project to eventually be used to improve sorghums available to Texas producers.

Under the sorghum conversion program, exotic sorghums are planted in short winter days in Puerto Rico by USDA-ARS. These lines are then crossed to a short, early maturing line from the United States. Seed from this cross is again planted in Puerto Rico, and the first generation of offspring from the cross, or the F<sub>1</sub> generation, is grown. The F<sub>2</sub> generation is then self-pollinated. The selfed seed is then planted by TAES in Texas, where the F<sub>2</sub> generation is grown, Rosenow said.

The F<sub>2</sub> generation is the first generation to show segregation in height and maturity. A short, early plant containing the desired height and maturity genes is selected from each cross. Seed from that is sent back to Puerto Rico to be back-crossed with the original exotic.

Official release means the lines are available to anyone, whether they are a private individual or a commercial seed company. The seed company breeders use the lines as new sources of desirable traits in their breeding programs, Rosenow said.

Some converted lines have made tremendous contributions to improving U.S. sorghums. For example, several converted Zerazera sorghums from Ethiopia have been used extensively to improve not only yield potential in the U.S., but also for disease resistance and grain quality.

"The conversion process is a slow process, taking five to 10 years to achieve a converted line," Rosenow said. "But it has provided the only or best source of resistance in many situations." Essentially all the resistance to the sorghum midge have come from the conversion program. The best sources of resistance to downy mildew, anthracnose, grain mold, charcoal rot and lodging are also from the conversion program, Rosenow said.

Since January (1992), 110 newly converted lines have been released by TAES and USDA-ARS.

"The conversion program is the main source of many desirable traits needed to provide the best possible resistance to diseases, pests, drought, lodging and improved grain quality traits for livestock consumption in the U.S. and the export market," Rosenow said.

Essentially all food products made from corn, rice and wheat, except for bread, can be made using sorghum. To enhance exports, the uses of sorghum in other countries needs to be considered, he said. Sorghum is a staple food of many African countries and is used to make tortillas in Mexico. In some countries it is used in fermented and non-fermented beverages. It can be used to make cosmetics and a wide variety of industrial products.

In many countries, white and yellow seeded sorghum are more valuable than the red sorghum commonly grown in the U.S.

Developed in 1980, the International Sorghum Millet program (INTSORMIL) uses funds from the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) to link U.S. scientists and institutions to research organizations in Third world countries. This program is mutually beneficial, Rosenow said. Third World countries receive help in research while the United States gains access to many new sources

Biography Of Congressman
Larry Combest
Nineteenth District Of Texas

Congressman Larry Combest is a West Texan known as a pragmatic and knowledgeable legislator. Now in his fourth term representing the people of Texas' 19th District, the Republican House leadership has tapped Combest to serve on four committees during the 102nd Congress.

Congressman Combest became the first Republican in the 50-year history of West Texas' 19th Congressional District when he won election by more than 58 percent of the vote on November 4, 1984.

He was re-elected to Congress in 1986, by a 63 percent margin, retained in office in 1988 with 68 percent of the vote, and returned by the voters unopposed to his fourth term.

Congressional Quarterly's Politics in America states, "...Combest has the knowledge, desire and electoral security to become a significant figure in House GOP circles." Combest serves on the House Agriculture Committee, the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, the House Small Business Committee and the Committee on the District of Columbia.

A fourth generation West Texan, Larry was born in Memphis, Texas on March 20, 1945, and spent the first 25 years of his life on a farm. In 1971, Larry worked for the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service Office implementing national farm programs.

That same year, former U.S. Senator John Tower of Texas recruited Larry as his agricultural advisor in Washington, D.C. During his seven years with senator Tower, Larry oversaw agricultural policy and programs, constituent services, state office operations and served as state treasurer for Senator Tower's successful 1978 re-election campaign.

A conservative, Larry works to lessen the burden of government regulation and taxation. He believes that the American people are best able to make their own decisions in matters of home and health, without mandated interference from government. His exemplary voting record on issues to reduce federal spending, eliminate government waste and reduce the deficit has earned him recognition and prestigious awards from many public service agencies.

Named the "Taxpayer's Friend" and "Watchdog of the Treasury", Larry has also received the "Eagle of Freedom Award" for his vigilance in national defense as well as "The Spirit of Enterprise Award" from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Additionally, the National Federation of Independent Business gave him high marks for a 100 percent rating in votes to oppose higher personal income taxes and against increased federal regulation.

Larry was named the 1989 "Gerald W. Thomas Outstanding Agriculturalist" by Texas Tech University's College of Agricultural Sciences for his significant contributions to the agriculture industry as a public servant.

Larry received a B.B.A. degree in 1969 from West Texas State University in Canyon. He is married to the former Sharon McCurry. Larry has two children and a granddaughter.

MICROWAVE TIPS

Microwaving wieners is easy. Wrap them in the bun and wrap the bun and wiener in a napkin or paper towel. Microwave on High one half minute to one minute per bun. Rearrange once when microwaving.

Kids Make The Nutritional Grade

"Although it's generally assumed that young children know relatively little about healthy eating, we found that they can apply the basic nutrition principles to individual food selections with an excellent degree of "accuracy", said Claire Regan, M.S., R.D., director of nutritional for the International Food Information Council (IFIC), the sponsor of the study.

When shown pictures of a series of foods, the majority of youngsters were able to distinguish between foods that should be eaten at least daily and those that should be eaten at least daily and those that should be eaten less often. At least seven out of 10 children categorized foods like milk, cereal, bananas, and carrots as foods that should be eaten every day or more than once a day.

Sixty-four percent of respondents believe that it is okay to eat foods like ice cream, cookies, and chips, but not all the time. Only 10 percent said that it's okay to eat anything you want whenever you want it.

"If parents provide a wide variety of foods, young children can make selections that are healthful," said Jennifer Anderson, Ph.D., R.D., president of the Society for Nutrition Education.

"The key element is not to look at foods that parents may consider 'good' or 'bad', but to give a wide variety of foods to children so that they can make the decisions. And this study showed us children are capable of doing that," said Anderson.

Indeed children are knowledgeable of the various food groups that comprise a healthy diet. Results showed that 67 percent of the respondents are familiar with the basic food groups: milk/dairy, meats, vegetables, fruits, and grains/breads/cereals.

As might be expected, knowledge of the nutrition ABC's improved with age. Eighty-eight percent of the nine-year-olds said they were familiar with the basic food groups, in contrast to 44 percent of the six-year-olds. Fifty seven percent of the nine-year-olds could identify all five food groups in comparison with 40 percent of the six-year-olds.

Children of the 1990's may grow up to be the savviest consumers yet, judging from the results of a new survey of six-to-nine year olds.

A total of 400 youngsters across the nation were interviewed in June to assess their nutrition knowledge, involvement in food selections and patterns of physical activity.

When asked to define nutrition, 73 percent of the children described it as "Foods that are good for you" or as something that is healthful to eat. The overwhelming majority, 93 percent, agreed that eating lots of fruits and vegetables is beneficial, and 65 percent agreed that their eating habits can affect their future health.

Even children as young as six years old demonstrated a good grasp of the basics of nutrition-balance, variety, and moderation. Fifty-eight percent said that eating a variety of foods is best; 63 percent agreed that trying new foods is good for them.

Perhaps you sent a funeral spray,
If so we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,

Perhaps you were not there at all,
Just thought of us that day,
Whatever you did to console our hearts,

"Combest, a member of the Agriculture Committee, has gained the reputation of an expert on farm issues. He's also been a tireless fighter against big government, as evidenced by his creation of the FAIR task force (Fight Against Intrusive Regulations). And his call for a spending freeze to stop deficit spending, while admittedly a little ahead of its time, is growing in popularity on Capitol Hill."

EPA Requirements Of Refrigerant In Autos

A new regulation recently signed by the administrator of The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) requires that motor vehicle air conditioning refrigerant

(R-12) be recovered and recycled. Previous practices of venting refrigerant (sometimes called Freon) from motor vehicle air conditioners is no longer permitted by law.

The stratospheric ozone layer, high above the earth, shields this world from harmful ultraviolet (UV) radiation. Scientists worldwide believe that synthetic chemicals such as chlorofluorocarbons (CFC's, also known as Freon) are rapidly destroying this layer of gas 10 to 30 miles above the earth's surface. Ozone loss of 3.5% globally has already been recorded. Ozone loss is believed to lead to an increase in skin cancer, cataracts and weaken the human immune system. Plant and animal life may also be dramatically affected.

One of the single largest uses of CFC's in the United States is as a refrigerant in automobile air conditioning systems. CFC 12 accounts for over 20% of all CFC use in this country. CFC's, when released, rise to the stratosphere where they can remain active for up to 120 years.

The United States joined 75 other countries in a global effort to protect the ozone layer as a party to the International Treaty known as The Montreal Protocol. The 1990 Clean Air Act Amendments require the phase out of CFC 12 by the year 2000. President Bush later pledged to halt almost all United States production of CFC's by the end of 1995.

Section 609 of The 1990 Clean Air Act Amendments gives the EPA authority to establish requirements to implement this:

1. Recover refrigerant from air conditioning systems, rather than release it to the atmosphere, and

2. Certification on each individual repairing or servicing the refrigerant system.

Recovery of refrigerant requires the use of either recover/recycle or recover only equipment approved by EPA. Recover/recycle equipment must meet specifications of SAE Standard J-1990 and have the capacity to purify used refrigerant to SAE Standard J-1991, for subsequent reuse. Recover-only equipment must meet SAE Standard J-2209 and then the refrigerant must be sent to a reclamation facility that can restore the purity of CFC-12 to ARI Standard 700-88.

Technicians who repair of service motor vehicle air conditioners must be trained and certified by an EPA approved organization. Training programs must cover the use of recycling equipment in compliance with SAE Standard J-1989, the regulatory requirements, the importance of refrigerant containment, and the effects on ozone depletion. To be certified, technicians must pass a test demonstrating their knowledge in these areas. One of the leaders in industry providing this certification program is The International Mobile Air Conditioning Association (IMACA). IMACA is a non-profit organization catering to the interests of mobile air conditioning and protection of the ozone layer. More information on the Certification program can be obtained by calling 713/867-9008 or writing to: Refrigerant Recovery/Recycling Certification Program, P.O. Box 664, Pearland, Texas 77588-0664.

Automobile repair facilities that performed over 100 service/repair jobs involving refrigerant in 1990, must already require that only certified technicians service/repair refrigerant systems and use only approved equipment. Smaller repair shops who repaired/serviced fewer than 100 jobs in 1990 or "service their own" do not face this restriction until January 1, 1993. However, to discourage "do-it-yourselfers" who typically do not own recovery equipment, an additional restriction on the sale of small containers goes into effect on November 15, 1992. After this date, the sale of CFC containers under 20 pounds is prohibited to anyone other than certified technicians.

Because of the planned CFC phaseout and tax on CFC's, the price of CFC-12 will increase and its availability decreased. Refrigerant recycling could substantially reduce the need for new CFC-12 and thus help keep costs down.

Several substitute refrigerants are being tested for use in motor vehicle air conditioning and research is being done to see if cars can be retrofitted for these alternatives. Possible replacements include HFC-134a (which will be used in some cars in model year 1992) and other blends of HCFC's. These substitutes cost more than CFC-12, making recycling more economical. By November 15, 1995, all substitute refrigerants will also have to be recycled.

By complying with new regulations, you will help preserve the ozone layer for future generations.

Further information on recovery or recovery/recycling equipment can be obtained from auto parts suppliers and major automotive air conditioning companies. Information on the certification program can be obtained by calling 713/867-9008 or writing to: Refrigerant Recovery/Recycling Certification Program, P.O. Box 664, Pearland, Texas 77588-0664.

Keyboard Casualties

Although modern technology has greatly improved office efficiency, it has also increased the risk of injury to workers. The computer/word processor keyboard has recently been linked to such wrist, arm and hand ailments as tendinitis, repetitive stress injury (RSI) and carpal tunnel syndrome.

According to Robert Carr, M.D., orthopedic surgeon on staff at Methodist Hospital, such ailments occur most often in people who spend hours and hours typing at a keyboard.

"Older version typewriters allowed workers to take a break when the paper had to be changed," said Dr. Carr. "Today, computers are capable of handling all tasks, allowing the operator to type hours at a time without stopping, which often leads to injury."

One such injury is RSI, which occurs when tendons, ligaments and nerves are compressed and overused. The result is pain, weakness, numbness and in some cases long term disability. "Sufferers of RSI are prescribed protective splints to wear while typing, and also should limit the time spent at the keyboard," said Dr. Carr.

A more extreme keyboard injury is carpal tunnel syndrome, which can cause excruciating pain that can last for months or even years. With carpal tunnel syndrome, the tissues in the wrist swell, placing pressure on a vital nerve. Surgery is sometimes required to repair the damage.

New keyboards are currently being designed to help reduce the symptoms associated with these ailments. However, until these keyboards have undergone testing, Dr. Carr recommends that all typists and computer operators maintain good posture, type with wrists relaxed and in a neutral position and take frequent breaks.

MICROWAVE TIPS

When buying beef to microwave, remember that well-marbled beef microwaves best.

It's not true that more tender cuts need less marbling. All cuts of beef microwave best if they have fine white streaks of smooth fat distributed throughout.

During microwaving, this fat melts and tenderizes the lean. But less natural juice is lost microwaving than in conventional cooking.

Zoo Friends

West Texas Wild Life Association Care and conservation of animals, teaching people about these animals and their survival, providing our community and this area with quality,affordable entertainment...ZOO FRIENDS exists to support our zoo here in Amarillo for all these reasons.

All of our volunteers, ZOO FRIENDS membership, the Amarillo City Commissioners, and the Parks Dept. have a very simple motive-to work toward building a great zoo! On October 19th, our zoo was closed to begin renovation and expansion. One of the many reasons for improving our zoo is as a tourism attraction. The zoo currently hosts 225,000-250,000 visitors annually. This makes our zoo one of the largest attractions in this area. The zoo reaches a broad segment of our population. Improving our zoo is a good investment for our city and the Panhandle.

There are many other benefits from improving our zoo. The pleasing experience we do not currently enjoy will be changed. Our animals deserve better and we will enjoy pride in ownership on our visits there and will enjoy taking others to our new and beautiful zoo. We can share with our children responsibility about animals and our world in a more appropriate setting.

The zoo's future is in our hands; it is up to you and me to make a better commitment for better exhibits and increased recreational and educational opportunities. The decision to make zoo improvements may be simple enough, but hard work and funding are necessary.

In over the year that we have been working, ZOO FRIENDS has had the strong support of the Parks Department and nearly 300 in its membership and growing. Our dues are specifically targeted to build an education building on the new zoo site. But we need the support of every citizen! A one-year family membership is only $15 and members receive free admission to all ZOO FRIENDS events as well as newsletters and the opportunity to work toward the goal we all commonly share.

Our next event will be BOO AT THE ZOO! on Friday October 30, 1992, 5:30 p.m.-8:30 p.m. at the zoo. (in the event of bad weather, the event will be held at Western Plaza). During the two weeks prior to this event, we will be giving away approx. 150,000 raffle tickets-FREE! They may be picked up at KLS Radio, all First National Bank Tellers, J.C. Penny's children's department, Blockbuster Video stores, Amarillo Town Club, and Deb's Deli. The seven exciting prizes are: #1 round trip for a family of four on Southwest Airlines to San Diego, CA, 3 nights stay at the LaQuinta Motel, $250. gift certificate from J.C. Penny's, and free tickets to the San Diego Zoo and also the San Diego Wild Animal Park, #2 Amarillo Town Club 3 month family conditioning membership, #3 Wagner's Studio family portrait, #4 Deb's Deli Super Bowl Party for 12, #5 Wonderland Park hand stamps for the family, #6 Blockbuster Video one movie rental per month for 12 months, and #7 $100 U.S. Savings Bond from the First National Bank. There will also be a costume contest with age categories and prizes. J.C. Penny's will be giving the 1st prize in each category. All you need to do is bring your raffle tickets to the BOO AT THE ZOO event and put it in the big fishbowl for the drawing. The winners will be announced on KLS radio morning show on Monday, Nov. 2nd. The cost for the event is $1 per person, 3 years and under FREE, and ZOO FRIENDS members FREE. All activities at the event are free.

We are hopeful that all citizens will move from just saying they want a better zoo to supporting ZOO FRIENDS with annual family memberships for just $15.

Texas Loan Program To Help Home Buyers

Bank of America Texas has introduced a new home loan program, called Neighborhood Advantage, to help make homeownership more affordable for low- and moderate-income borrowers in Texas. The Neighborhood Advantage program is available through Bank of America's 130 branches in 50 Texas counties.

Through Neighborhood Advantage, borrowers benefit from home loans with lower down payments and more flexible underwriting guidelines. Potential borrowers may make down payments as low as five percent on fixed-rate loans of up to $100,000. Applicants who complete a homebuyer education program may qualify for higher debt to income ratios than standard industry guidelines allow and the two-month payment reserve requirement may be waived. This enables borrowers to purchase a home with less initial savings and income than normally would be allowed.

The homebuyer education program must be one that is approved by the Federal National Mortgage Association and must be completed by the borrower within 12 months before the loan closes. The education programs provide general information about purchasing a home and shopping for a loan that meets individual financing needs and provides an overview of what to expect during the purchase and home loan process.

"Lower interest rates and more favorable home prices have created a window of opportunity for low- and moderate-income homebuyers in Texas," said David J. Berry, chairman and chief executive officer of Bank of America Texas.

"Neighborhood Advantage program's more flexible eligibility requirements will allow many more Texans in the 50 county area to take advantage of a tremendous opportunity to purchase a home," added Berry.

Potential borrowers may be eligible to apply for loans under the Neighborhood Advantage program in either of two ways: if their total income does not exceed specified income limits for the county in which the property is located and they plan to occupy the home or if they are purchasing a home in a designated lower income census tract or zip code area.

To qualify for the Neighborhood Advantage program under the income guidelines, a borrower's total income must not exceed 115 percent of the median income for the county in which the property is located. Income limits are based on the 1992 estimates of median income as published by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Limits for maximum county income range from $31,400 in Cameron county, for example, to $37,950 in Baxer county and $51,750 in Dallas county.

The more flexible Neighborhood Advantage program guidelines are also available to credit worthy individuals financing properties in designated lower-income census tracts of zip code areas in the 50 counties without any maximum income limits. These areas are primarily comprised of census tracts with a median income equal to or less than 80 percent of the median income in the metropolitan statistical area in which they are located, based on 1990 census data.

In Dallas county, for example, Neighborhood Advantage guidelines apply to properties in areas of southern eastern, and western Dallas. Areas in Baxer county that fall under lower-income census tract guidelines include portions of east and west San Antonio.

As an introductory offer, Bank of America Texas is waiving certain nonrecurring closing costs including the appraisal, credit report, and application fees on Neighborhood Advantage home loan applications received by December 31. In addition to waiving the fees, the bank will reduce its customary loan origination fee by one half a percentage point.

Under Neighborhood Advantage program guidelines, borrowers may qualify without previous loans or credit cards if they can demonstrate a history of meeting other financial obligations in a timely manner. There is no minimum loan amount. The program is available for owner-occupied properties and is not restricted to first-time homebuyers.

The Board of Directors of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) voted unanimously to support recommendations and comments made by the PCG Executive Committee regarding the 1993 Acreage Reduction Program (ARP) and loan level.

The Board approved the Executive Committee's recommendation that the 1993 ARP be set at no more than 5-percent. PCG comments on these issues had to be submitted prior to the regular Board meeting to meet USDA deadlines.

"The recommendation of the 5-percent set-aside is based on two very important considerations," explains PCG Chairman of the Board Steve Verett. "The first is that producer income is clearly maximized at the 5-percent level after non-payment acres and other aspects of the program are taken into consideration. The second is that cotton prices have proven they simply will not react to acreage reductions as they have in the past."

Verett points out that the 1992 High Plains crop illustrates just how ineffective a large set-aside would be. He notes that High Plains acreage losses of near 1.75 million, 13-percent of all U.S. cotton acres, added to the 10-percent ARP established an actual acreage set-aside of 23-percent with no real effect on weakening cotton prices.

"Faced with this situation producers must do whatever is necessary to maximize their income under the marketing loan program," concludes Verett.

In addition to the ARP recommendation the PCG Board also agreed to recommend that the 1993 loan rate be set at the highest level allowed.

PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson noted that the higher loan rate will hopefully encourage higher market prices for the 1993 crop.

In addition to the ARP and loan recommendations the PCG Board also received updates on a variety of continuing issues. They included the recent effort to reduce payment limits, the Texas Seed Law

Forum held in Lubbock September 29 and a report on the progress of the 1992 Boll Weevil Diapause Program.

Board members were also given an update on the progress of the recently established memorial fund in the name of long-time PCG employee O.A. "Cotton" Fanning. Proceeds from the memorial fund will be used to support the Agricultural Communications program at Texas Tech University.

Anyone interested in making a tax-deductible contribution is encouraged to do so. Contributions can be made by sending a check payable to the Texas Tech University Foundation, for the O.A. "Cotton" Fanning Memorial Fund to the following address:

Seemingly scant public response to recent recalls of child safety seats has prompted state health officials to question how well parents are informed about the safety of their child's auto safety seat.

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) Occupant Protection Program's toll-free phone line, 800-252-8255, has sometimes received hundreds of calls after announcement of a child safety seat recall. But according to Steve Anderson, the program's coordinator, the Oct 9 federal recall of nearly a million Fisher Price seats prompted few consumer inquiries.

"Answering a flood of phone calls, as we sometimes have done is not easy," Anderson said, "but it assures us that the public knows about a serious problem. We think the recent lack of response shows that the recall was poorly publicized nationally."

He said that the current recalls of Fisher Price seats include:
 *Models 9100 and 9101 (424,000 seats) made between February 1989 and October 1989, which have defective buckles. Fisher Price offers replacement parts.
 *Model 9101 (472,000 seats) made between February 1991 and January 1992, which have shoulder belts which can shift into unsafe positions. Fisher Price offers a new part to prevent the problem.
 * Model 9104 (14,000 deluxe booster seats) made between April 24 and Sept. 4, 1992, which have defective buckle assemblies. Fisher Price offers a replacement seat now, or a new buckle assembly when they are available.

Owners of the seats can call Fisher Price, toll-free, at 800-332-3457 for Models 9100 and 9101, or at 800-432-5437 for Model 9104. Callers should be able to give the seat model number and the manufacture date, molded or printed on the side or back of the safety seat.

Anderson said that anyone needing further information about these or other child seat recalls should call a local health department or TDH regional office for the number of a child seat loaner representative. Or they may call the toll-free Occupant Safety line, at 800-252-8255.

The Occupant Protection Program is funded by a federal grant to supply information and education about child passenger safety seats and the state law requiring parents to buckle every child younger than two into an approved seat. All 50 states have similar laws. The program also oversees 320 local child seat loaner programs for low-

Services For Ashley Davis Held Saturday

Services for Ashley Davis, 77, of Lubbock were held Saturday, October 24, 1992 at the Springlake First Baptist Church of Springlake, with the Rev. Steve Branson, First Baptist Church at Shallowater, and Rev. Scott Riling, pastor officiating.

Burial will be in the Springlake Cemetery.

Davis died October 22, 1992 at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

He was born December 13, 1914 in Spalding, OK., and married Tena McNamara March 4, 1936 in Muleshoe. She died January 13, 1991.

Ashley Davis had been a resident of Lubbock since 1991. He had been a resident of Rattan, OK from 1979 to 1991. He lived in Muleshoe from 1962-1979 and Springlake from 1927 to 1962. He retired from Western 66 in Muleshoe in 1979. He was a member of several musical groups, playing the guitar. He was a member of First Baptist Church at Rattan, OK.

Davis is survived by one son, Claude Davis of Lexington, OK; one daughter, Joyce Hicks of Lubbock; one brother, Tut Davis of Antlers, OK; two grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to Hodges Cancer Center of Methodist Hospital of Lubbock, Lubbock, TX.

income families.

"We stress that even a recalled seat is safer for a child than no child safety seat at all. Parents always should continue to buckle their kids into a recalled seat until it can be repaired or replaced by the manufacturer," Anderson said.

"However," he added, "safety seat recalls have two purposes. The first, of course, is to correct defects in products which are meant to save children's lives."

Anderson explained that the second purpose of a recall is to underscore the federal standards for child seats. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) announces recalls when it finds a seat model to be defective or substandard.

"Public participation is an extremely important part of a recall--it returns responsibility for the unsafe product to the manufacturer. It helps to ensure industry-wide quality control for child seats," Anderson said.

NHTSA records show that including the three Fisher-Price models recalled Oct. 9, about 19 million child safety seats have been recalled since 1981, when federal standards were established. But relatively few have been repaired or exchanged for safer models or refunds. "The response rate by owners has been only about 13 percent," Anderson said. "By comparison, the rate of public response to automobile recalls is about 60 percent, according to NHTSA."

Anderson said that although some child seat defects have been minor, requiring small adjustments or easily replaced parts, others have been more serious. The problems with some models have been so irreversible that they have been discontinued and the inventories destroyed.

He added that the TDH Product Safety Branch also needs information about any wholesalers or retailers known to be selling previously recalled seats. Such reports should be made to Charles Branton, director of the branch, at 512-485-7519.

PIRATES NEAR?

The jolly roger, the ancient flag of the pirates, threw fear into every ship that sailed the high seas. These armed robbers sought to raid every ship they came across. None was safe when they were near.

The Bible teaches that there is a devil called Satan who is a robber and a thief, who "goes about like a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour." (1 Peter 5:8) But when the pirate threatens, we need not be afraid. We are encouraged by Romans 8:38 & 39: "For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come; nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

Our faith in Christ can overcome Satan's fiery darts. Through Him we can overcome all. We invite you to attend the Church of our Lord this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

LOUISA'S LETTER

I am very much in love and would like to get married instead of attending college. But my parents are very unreasonable and say they will not help us unless I get an education first. Why should I need a college education if I have someone to support me?

Answer:
One never knows what will happen later in life. Some of us who feel so secure may have to face up to very hard situations later on. Those who have an opportunity of getting an education are very foolish to pass it up. My suggestion to you is that you compromise with your parents and go to college for one year. At that time take the matter up again. It may be that you will agree on your decision at that time.

Address: Louisa, Box 532, Orangeburg, S.C. 29115

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa, I have been married ten years and thought that our marriage was fairly good. Recently, my husband left me for another woman and from what I can hear he seems to be happy. Now my problem is this. It has been eighteen months since this happened and I have dated several men but there is only one that interests me in the least. I think that he is going to ask me to marry him and I don't know what I will say. He is a good catch and a very nice person. I enjoy being with him and going places with him but is this enough for marriage?

Answer:
Be very sure that you are not getting married on the rebound--just because your former husband remarried. However, if this man is all you say he is--considerate, personable, a good companion and a good provider, I'd hesitate to give him up. Louisa.

In Fashion

Having previewed trends in fall shoes last week, legwear introduces a wide variety of styles for fall. Short skirts will remain dominant to display legwear in shadow dot, paisley, plaid, leopard, and zebra patterns. Longer lengths in skirts feature leg-bar ing slits to reveal intricate patterned tights. For evening wear, tights glisten with metallic designs. Lace and mesh leggings continue in popularity.
