Mountaineers Win Over Cross Plains Meet May On Local Field Friday Night

The Santa Anna Mountaineers triumphed over the Cross Plains Buffaloes at Cross Plains last Friday night to the tune of 29-0, with the Buffaloes never getting close enough to our goal-line to be a threat. It was the Mountaineers' first game since they started to play.

This is the second victory for the local team. They also have won two games to their credit in the past week. The Buffaloes, who are the champions of the district, are expected to put up a good battle against the Mountaineers.

Coach McBride reports all the Mountaineers in excellent condition, except our fast stepping Dewey Dunn, who has a sprained ankle, but he is responding to treatment and is expected to be ready to start the game Friday night.

The probable starting line-up for the Mountaineers will be the same as last week.

Remember the parking lot on the West side of the field. There is enough room to park over 1000 cars there. If you do not plan to sit in your car and watch the game, you are requested to park your car on this parking lot.

M. E. Carruthers Buys Panhandle Agency

Mr. Mark E. Carruthers, retired farmer and rancher of Ft. Stockton, has purchased the Price Oil Co., Panhandle Wholesale and Retail Agency here. Mr. Carruthers has also purchased the Phillips 66 Agency in Coleman and will install that product in this territory. The warehouse for this region will be located at the former Price Service Station, and all orders will be taken there. This warehouse is being established in Santa Anna, for the benefit of the surrounding communities, not in the Coleman area.

Mr. Carruthers comes into business here, with high recommendations. He is anxious to serve you, and will practice the same policies as the former owners. Exemptions, orders, receipts, and other matters will be taken care of at the warehouse in Santa Anna.

Mr. Collin Price, who sold his business, due to ill health, will keep his trucks and continue in that line of business. He asks that all his customers try Mr. Carruthers and Phillips 66.

Census Work Well Done

The religious census of Santa Anna, which was taken Sunday afternoon, was completed in two hours with 43 persons taking part. The workers met at the First Baptist Church, which sponsored the effort, at one o'clock, and members of the other churches also participated. In this connection, Rev. T. M. Gillham wishes to thank all the workers and citizens for their cooperation and energy.

God's View of People

Lesson for October 10, 1948

"YOU can learn more about human nature from reading the Bible than from living in New York," said a Yale professor who had tried it both ways.

One great value of the Bible is its plain stories about people, all sorts of people—simple, great, wise, foolish, saints and sinners.

Saints

ONE of the great biographies of the Bible is that of Abraham. If you will read it in Genesis you will see it is not like one of our modern biographies; it does not follow a continuous life, but consists of short incidents strung together sometimes without connection.

It is more like an album of pictures than like a movie. Yet, putting all the pictures together, we get an impression of a remarkable man.

Indeed, Abraham was one of the most remarkable men who ever lived. Without a church, without a Bible, without prophet or priest or tradition, born in a nation and a family that "worshiped other gods," as Joshua said later, somehow Abraham came to know that there is but one God, and not only to know that as a fact but to know that God as a friend. (In fact, Abraham's name among the Arabs to this day is "The Friend.") We must call Abraham one of the great religious geniuses of all human history.

Yet he does not stand alone. The Bible is a book of saints; the letter to the Hebrews calls the roll of some, and ends by saying time is too short to name them all.

Now a saint is not a person who lives totally without sin. A saint is one in whose life goodness is stronger than evil; a saint is one who actually lives as a friend of God, for whom God is the central fact in all his life.

Sinners

THESE are no whitewashed plaster saints, the great and small figures of the Bible stories. They come before us just as they were. Abraham, for example, at times was a coward, a liar, a bigamist, a slaveholder.

We must not suppose that everything any character in the Bible did was right, or is right today. The writers simply tell the stories, seldom using adjectives like "bad" or "good" or "noble" or "mean." We are left to make our own judgments.

We are shown what effects sin has on men, we see how evil spreads by suggestion and imitation, we see how temptation works. God inspired the biographers; but he does not inspire men to tell lies or to cover up evil by calling it good. So do not be shocked to find that even a saint like Abraham had feet of clay. The important things about him are the good, not the bad.

The Light That Shines

FURTHERMORE, when you read these Bible biographies, you can trace a very interesting story through them all; namely the story of the human understanding of Right and Wrong.

But in Old Testament times, as in the case of Abraham, we must remember they were in the dawn-years before the sunlight of Christ had risen. Some of the things Abraham did would get him into jail nowadays; but some of those very acts were then the mark of a gentleman.

Sometimes when you are discouraged and think the world is growing worse, all you need to do is to think back to some of these old Bible stories. What the very best people did then, is now by Chris-
