Texas Contributing $270,000 To Cancer Fund This Month

Dallas, Tex. Texans are contributing $270,000 this month for cancer control work in their own state, Karl Hoblitzelle of Dallas, state campaign chairman for the April drive of the American Cancer Society, has announced.

A total of $450,000 is being sought in Texas during the April educational and fund-raising drive of the American Cancer Society. Of this total, 60 percent will be used in Texas. The remainder will go for a national research program ($112,500) and the national education program and operational costs ($67,500), Mr. Hoblitzelle pointed out.

The money used in Texas goes for the following cancer measures:

- (1) To help county medical societies and local hospitals operate 10 tumor clinics in nine Texas cities, and in other ways to help the Texas cancer patient.
- (2) To help three Texas medical schools instruct future doctors in cancer and otherwise to help Texas doctors know more about cancer through films, literature, post-graduate studies, talks, and other mediums.
- (3) To warn Texans of the danger of cancer and inform them of the danger signals that foreshadow cancer, emphasizing "fight cancer with knowledge." There are nine cancer information centers in Texas.
- (4) To make studies and surveys to help in future cancer control work.

"It's all part of a program designed to tell Texans that many cancers can be cured, if caught in time," Mr. Hoblitzelle said. "The members of our society feel that persons who have cancer now should not wait for present-day research to find a cure, but should act immediately. If any cancer danger signal appears, they should go to their doctor at once.

There are three accepted methods of removing cancers—surgery, x-ray, and radium—and, to date, only those three. Our program of cancer control

Take Your Family To Sunday School

By James L. Kraft
Chairman of the Board, Kraft Foods Company

Almost everyone who has occasion to meet and work with young people, as I have had the privilege of doing for a good many decades, is struck by one eternal quality recurring in the youth of every generation. That quality is eagerness: eagerness to do, eagerness to achieve; eagerness to learn. It is a veritable Niagara Falls of energy and potential power.

The boys and girls of today have this wonderful quality, this new hope for the world. Within themselves, they have the potential power to rebuild the world nearer to heart's desire. If they will it so, they can make this a productive and peaceful world. But young people can utilize their tremendous energies to produce good in the world only if they are able to harness them and put them to work efficiently and intelligently. Helping to turn these mighty energies into the true power of spiritual adulthood is the work—the sole work—of the Sunday schools of our churches. Nowhere else are the training and spiritual education and lessons in self-discipline and self-realization available to our young people. The work of our Sunday schools therefore becomes a primary consideration of every responsible adult in this nation.

Our public schools do an important job of helping to train young minds. There are countless civic programs which help to train young bodies and coordinate young muscles and teach some of the lessons of good sportsmanship. These have the deserved support of most of our citizenry. Yet without spiritual education, a sound background of moral and religious training, all other courses of training fail.

In this most important of all the responsibilities of education, that of training the mind and spirit, countless millions of adults are woefully neglectful or indifferent or both. To provide for the schooling of a child's mind, to provide for his physical health, yet to neglect the health and growth of the soul within him is to rob him of his birthright, and cripple his spirit.

Until every boy and girl, and every man and woman in this nation has become an active participant in a Sunday school and church program, we are neglecting our most important national resource, the spiritual power of our people.

It is not enough merely to send your children to Sunday school. TAKE them to Sunday school this Sunday—take them regularly—join in the work of the church of your choice—help to make that work more far-reaching and significant—put your own faith to the test—and you may discover in yourself new spiritual strength which will bless your own life, that of your family and the community in which you live.

Common Housefly Disease Carrier

Austin, Tex. Countless thousands of lives are lost annually throughout the nation, from diseases that are transmitted by the common housefly. Dysentery, diarrhea, typhoid fever, tuberculosis and many other disabling and even fatal diseases are spread by flies, and the control of houseflies becomes of great importance when considered in the light of public health.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that in order to protect our families we should make sure our homes are fly-proof through proper screening, and then concentrate on eliminating filth, garbage, and other breeding places for flies.

"See that your windows, doors, and porches are screened so that the stray fly from some careless neighbor cannot molest your family," Dr. Cox said, "and make sure that your grocery observes proper sanitation standards and keeps your meat, food and vegetable supplies screened from flies.

"Then direct your efforts to eliminating all fly breeding places such as open garbage pails, open privies and other filth that offers the fly proper warmth, moisture and food. Flies thrive on filth, and inasmuch as one female housefly will lay from 600 to 1000 eggs per season. It can easily be seen that one breeding place left available in a community, can be responsible for a tremendous horde of flies."

Dr. Cox recommended organized community efforts as being effective in ridding a community of flies, and emphasized that no matter how clean one family's home and premises are, they are still not safe if another home down the street leaves exposed filth where flies can breed.

Mrs. P. B. Snook, of Gladewater, who came on Monday of last week to be with her sister, Mrs. Basil Gilmore, who had surgery at the Sealy Hospital on Tuesday, returned home Sunday. Mrs. Gilmore is reported to be getting along quite well. Another sister, Mrs. Norval Wylie and family, of Lamesa, were here for the week-end to be with them.

Mrs. Joyce Peyton visited over the week-end with Mrs. Ires Jones, and in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Kirk, in Abilene. Mrs. Jones returned home with her for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williamson visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lee at Eden. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee, of San Angelo, met them there and visited with them.

First Sergeant and Mrs. P. B. Lightfoot, of Brownwood, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lightfoot were in San Angelo Sunday, to see Mrs. Marcus Lightfoot, of Miles, formerly of Santa Anna, who is in a hospital there. Mrs. Lightfoot, who had surgery three weeks ago, is still in a rather serious condition.

Recent visitors in the Homer Burden home were members of their family: Mr. and Mrs. John Clark and daughter from Corpus Christi, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burden from Lubbock, and Mrs. Alvin Burden and daughters from Benbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck West and children left Monday for Fontana, Calif., after visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Woodward, and his brother, Roy West.

Make Plans For 4-H Dairy Food Program
Plans for the 1949 National 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstration

program are under way in Texas, according to the State Extension Service. This is the only nationally sponsored 4-H Club program devoted entirely to demonstrations. Members enrolled in a 4-H Food project may participate.

Last year Texans named the following county winners: Melba Becker, Atascosa; Mary Jo Galbis, Tommie Ruth Gattis, of Grayson; Ynell Egger and Helen Hasley of Mills. Based in a survey of 41 states conducting the 1948 program an average of 32 persons attended the 3,758 dairy foods demonstrations given by 4-H'ers. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises the program.

The program seeks to show the value of dairy products to general health. Uses of dairy food and skills in preparing tasty dishes are demonstrated. Subjects relate to the preparation, manufacture or use of dairy products including fresh or evaporated milk, malted milk and ice cream.

Eight new awards based on demonstration records and general achievement are offered by the Carnation company this year. They are trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 27 to December 1. County winners will again receive a gold filled medal, while individual and team champions in each state will get a 17-jewel gold watch.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
How We Licked The Parking Problem
For a while it looked like we'd have to put up parking meters. Folks working in town—including some of the store owners—were taking up all of the space along Main Street.
Farmers coming in to shop never found a place to park, and sometimes had to lug stuff a half mile or so. Some started to do their buying in other towns. Finally, store owners and farmers had a get-together—with the result that the empty field near the depot was fixed up for all-day parkers.
Now farmers get their shopping done comfortably, and the merchants have a better place to park than they had before. Just took a little friendly co-operation to make everybody happy.
From where I sit, most differences can be ironed out by just talking things over—maybe with a cup of coffee or glass of beer—and seeing the other person's side of it. Next time you have a problem or a little difference to settle, why not try just that?

Jesus Is King

Lesson for May 1, 1919

IT IS A SIN to tell the truth out of season. So declares a famous Protestant creed. It is not always good nor wise to tell everybody everything you know. Keeping your mouth shut may be one of the best things you ever do. Jesus himself knew how to keep a secret till time to tell it. He never uttered an untruth about himself, but for a long time he did not openly declare his conviction, in spite of being pressed to say 'Yes' or 'No' about it.

Dr. Foreman

ROYAL ENTRANCE BUT WHEN the time came, Jesus did declare himself king in a spectacular way. We know the story as the "Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem," the story of Palm Sunday, now so fresh in our minds. Jesus lived in a nation of people who were familiar with the meaning of symbols, both in word and action.

When Jesus rode into the ancient capital where his forefathers reigned, astride a mule colt, the people knew, and he knew they would know, that this was not just somebody riding a mule on a Sunday morning. In the history of the Hebrews, mules were the steeds of kings.

King's honor was crowned riding on a mule. There was a famous prophecy (Zech. 9:9) that when Jerusalem's great king should come, he would be riding on just such a royal steed. So when Jesus rode into Jerusalem, the people threw their palm branches and shouted their welcome, not to the teacher and prophet, but to the King.

TEARS IN TRIUMPH IT WAS NOT altogether a victorious occasion. Jesus knew too well how cheap and easy "demonstrations" can be. In his mind's eye he could see a cross standing outside Jerusalem, and in his inner ear he could hear this same dusty-throated mob, now shouting "Hosanna!" yelling instead "Crucify him!" Tears stood in Jesus' eyes. But they were not tears for himself; he never wasted energy in selfish pity. They were tears for that blind city, tears for its coming destruction — the city that did not know the way to peace.

MASTER OF THE TEMPLE BOLDER THAN JESUS' triumphal entry was what he did inside the city. It was one thing to claim royal rights over the nation; but at the temple Jesus' claims reached far higher. It should be remembered that in the eyes of all Jews at that time the Temple was absolutely sacred. It represented the dwelling-place of the invisible God. Now the priests at that time were more profiteers and politicians than priests. They carried on what today we call a "racket" in the sale of animals for sacrifice and in changing the ordinary money of all countries into the local Jewish shekel (in which coin alone could temple offerings be paid).

The racket was notorious; every decent Jew hated the priestly profiteers. But no one had ever done anything about it, for that would mean assuming an authority over the temple that no man dared to assume.

But Jesus took it on himself. His direct and even violent action in smashing the racketeering ring was a mark of something more than ordinary self-confidence. He laid claim to being no less than the Master of God's Temple. He was acting in the name of God and with the authority of God.

Linton Oder has one outstanding ambition for his home town. Abilene. He would like for it to lose its reputation of being the "wettest dry city" in Texas.

Patrolman Oder, whose boyhood ambition was to be a railroad engineer, is now rounding out 13 years of service with the State Highway Patrol. He has spent 10 years of that time in Abilene and Taylor County.

Oder, a native Texan, was born on January 24, 1910, at Center. He attended school at Santa Anna, graduating from High there in 1928.

Before taking a job with the Highway Patrol, Oder worked for a Santa Anna Bakery for five years. He joined the Highway Patrol on February 20, 1936.

Patrolman Oder was married to Miss Ru Beth Moore of Anson on November 20, 1939. The ceremony was performed in Dallas.

The Oders, who make their home at 1017 Rogers Street, have one daughter, Sally Jane Oder, age 4.

Thirty-four of Patrolman Oder's 39 years have been spent in his native Texas. And true to Texas form, Oder's favorite pastime is fishing.

However, in the spring, baseball, which is his favorite sport, shares the attentions of Patrolman Oder. Recent rains have been hard on his baseball, but fishing prospects should take a big jump within the next few days.

Now his number one problem is to find enough time to fish, and at the same time see all of the ball games that he would like to see. Too, there's that job with the Patrol that takes some of his time.

Plans For Handling '49 Cotton Classing Announced

Plans for handling the 1949 cotton classing and market news services available to farmers without cost under the Smith-Doxey Act were announced this week by Mr. H. J. Matejowsky, in charge of the Abilene office of the cotton branch, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, which serves this area.

"Farmers should apply for these services just as they did last year," Mr. Matejowsky said.

To be eligible for the free cotton classing and market news services, he pointed out, that farmers must meet these requirements: 1. belong to a group of farmers organized to promote the improvement of cotton; 2. plant part of his acreage in the variety of cotton adopted by the group; and 3. file an application as soon as the cotton is planted.

Groups in this area should mail their application to U. S. Department of Agriculture, PMA, P. O. Box 2001, Abilene, Texas.

"To make sure farmers secure all the benefits due them under this program, their group application should reach our office by July 1," Mr. Matejowsky said. However, applications will be accepted until August 1.

Mrs. Kate Deer, of Kelso, Washington, arrived last week for a visit with friends in Santa Anna and other parts of Coleman County. She and her family lived in Santa Anna before moving to Washington 17 years ago. In Santa Anna she is visiting in the homes of Mrs. Annie Knox and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williamson.

Mrs. Fred Rae, of Lubbock, and her daughter, Mrs. Willie Gipson, of Coleman, with whom she was visiting, visited in Santa Anna Sunday and attended services at the Christian Church, where both were former faithful members.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Boman, of Abilene, formerly of this vicinity, visited on Thursday of last week with the Preston Baileys.

TAFT-HEARTLEY REPEAL?

From the standpoint of legislation, the current Easter recess is just a "lull before the storm", due to be turned into a full-grown tempest during the week of April 24 when the House takes up the bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley labor law and substitute for it the old Wagner Act.

It will be a grand climax to a huge build-up that has been in the making for months.

The Big Union business agents, on the one hand, have been sparing no effort or expense in attempting to stir up anti-Taft-Hartley sentiment; while, on the other hand, the American Small Business Association, joined by the National Grange, the Farm Bureau, and others, have plugged for retention of some semblance of union controls.

Old John L. Lewis always refers to the Taft-Hartley law as the "NAM law", meaning the National Association of Manufacturers. This is a technique designed to imply that the law which set the stage for the big fine against John L. and his union last year for defying the sovereignty of the U. S. Government, is a Big Business law.

Actually, the Taft-Hartley law restrains Big Business just as much and possibly more than it restrains Big Labor. And the NAM has taken no more part in plugging for retention of T-H than the Farm Bureau, for example.

The main difference between the Taft-Hartley law and the old Wagner Act is that the latter controlled ONLY Management, while the T-H law applies controls to BOTH Management and labor unions.

When the repeal bill comes up, a substitute by Rep. Wood of Georgia will be offered in its place. The Wood bill will amend the present law to meet valid objections to it and to make it more workable in the light of two years of experience. I plan to support the Wood substitute.

An interesting technique widely employed these days by certain union Business Agents is to refer to all who oppose Taft-Hartley repeal as parties to "an unholy alliance between Southern Dixiecrats and reactionary Northern Republicans". They use that old bromide repeatedly. They hope it will scare a few of the wavering Members into line.

Pursuing that theme, a left-wing Congressman from California released a statement the other day, saying:

"I will guarantee you that if the Southerners and the Republicans get their coalition working against the Taft-Hartley repeal bill, then about 100 Administration Democrats will be ready to fight every bill affecting the South that gets to the House floor. The House will get on opportunity to vote directly on repeal. And if it refuses to carry out that pledge of the Democratic platform, then the war with the Southerners will be on."

Shades of Grapes of Wrath!

What the pseudo-democrats overlook, in venting their spleen on the South, is that for many years back, there in the 20's it was the Southerners who held the Democratic party together when practically all the rest of the Nation was in the other column.

The fact is that in the mind of some people, if a Member dares oppose the dictates of a minority pressure group, and if it happens that a few Republicans vote the same way, then there is, willy-nilly, an "unholy coalition".

Which reminds me of an expression attributed to the late Senator Norris, a Republican of Nebraska. He was once challenged for voting with the Democrats. The Senator's answer was: "The Senator from Nebraska is not voting with the Democrats; the Democrats are voting with the Senator from Nebraska".

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sudarth and children, of Kerrville, were week-end visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Taylor and other members of the family.

Ruth Meeks, Rankin McIver Wed in Brady

Miss Ruth Meeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Meek, of Grosvener, and Mr. Rankin McIver, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. McIver, of Trickham, were married Thursday morning at 11:00 o'clock, in the home of Rev. E. P. Neal in Brady.

The bride was dressed in a blue wool crepe suit, with black accessories, and wore a corsage of white carnations.

The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reed, of Bräoke-Smith.

Mrs. Reed wore a grey suit with black accessories, and also a white carnation corsage.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony for San Antonio where they attended the Fiesta activities.

Mrs. McIver is a graduate of Coleman High School, and Howard Payne College, and for the past years has been teaching in the Brady public schools.

Mr. McIver is engaged at stock farming at Trickham, where they will make their home.

A most interesting meeting of the Self Culture Club was held on Friday afternoon, April 22, in the home of Mrs. A. D. Donham, Jr., when a program on "The Club Woman Looks at Health" was given.

Roll call was answered by stating rules of good health.

Mrs. J. Edd Bartlett's subject was "Cancer," which she discussed from a well prepared paper. Recent announcements of cancer researchers, indicate that progress is being made, as to the cause of this mystery malady.

Mrs. Hardy Blue's topic was "Rheumatic Fever, one of the major afflictions of Childhood." In this, as well as a number of other diseases, plenty of rest is recommended.

Mrs. F. Z. Payne's subject was "Health Education in the Home," on which she gave interesting suggestions, and stressed the importance of accident prevention.

The year book committee is hoping to have the year books ready for distribution soon.

Those present were Mmes. C. L. Eds, L. O. Garrett, R. C. Gay, Hardy Blue, M. D. Pinkerton, J. Edd Bartlett, Preston Bailey, A. L. Oger and F. Z. Payne.

Attends South Texas Press Association

Last Thursday your publisher, accompanied by Mrs. Gregg and son, Jack and wife, Aleche, who are here for a thirty day leave from the U. S. Army, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, Pa., left for San Antonio, to attend the 22nd annual convention of the South Texas Press Association, held each year in connection with the Fiesta de San Jacinto Association.

Santa Anna was pretty well represented in the Fiesta program, having our high school band, composed of some 50 members and their sponsors and directors, who made a very creditable showing in the parade and other affairs of the proceedings.

It was said that five hundred thousand people witnessed the parade Friday afternoon, and personally, this observer would not alter the saying.

It was a bit odd to this writer to be back in the convention hall with several hundred of our buddies for several years, after not being privileged to be in such a meeting since the war years, but the ring of the old convention folk who speak our language, "printing office language—so to speak," soon rung out in familiar tones, and we were made to feel somewhat at home again in a convention of newspaper folk.
