WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson told Congress today the Eisenhower administration expects that actual deliveries of military equipment to free nations will be increased sharply in the 12 months beginning July 1. He said the aim is to deliver five billion dollars worth of military supplies to U. S. allies all over the world compared to $3,800,000,000 in anticipated actual deliveries during the current fiscal year ending June 30.

GEN. NATHAN TWINING

GEN. HOYT VANDENBERG

Major Concessions May End Deadlock

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists today offered a new compromise plan to break the Korean truce deadlock, bowing to Allied insistence that no prisoners of war who refuse to go home be taken out of Korea. The Allies immediately asked for top-echelon study. The eight-point Red plan also proposed a five-nation neutral commission as caretaker for 48,500 Red prisoners who refuse to go back to communism. Both sides previously have suggested one nation for that job.

Should the Allies accept the Red proposal, they would drop their previous nomination of Paul Hensy as a single neutral custodian. They first proposed Switzerland and Sweden. The Reds turned down both, but included them in the five-nation commission proposed Thursday. If the five-member commission plan were adopted, India undoubtedly would play a key role. Poland and Czechoslovakia were nominated by the Communists to a separate neutral-nation armistice supervisory commission and Sweden and Switzerland were the Allied choices to the same commission.

IS INVASION OVER? Red-Led Vietminh Units Leave Laos

By LARRY ALLEN HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Sizeable Communist-led Vietminh units were reported withdrawing today from the heart of Laos after over-running more than a third of the Indochinese kingdom. The move may—or may not—mean an end of the 25-day Red invasion of the peaceful little French-associated state at the back door of Thailand and Burma.

VANDENBERG RESIGNS Twining Takes Over As AF Staff Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg is retiring as Air Force chief of staff and will be succeeded by Gen. Nathan Twining. Twining now is vice chief of staff. Assuming the Senate confirms his appointment, he will step up to the top Air Force post June 30, when Vandenberg's term expires.

The new proposal is a reversal of the Reds' earlier demand that these prisoners be sent bodily to the neutral country. Even though the Reds made it clear the Allies must accept all or nothing, this appeared to be the first major break since the truce talks reopened April 26 in an effort to agree on exchange of prisoners, last major barrier to an armistice. Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief Allied delegate, said: "This is an important proposal... that merits careful and considerable thought. Our major decisions must be made by the governments themselves." The next meeting is scheduled for 11 a. m. Saturday. Harrison gave no clue as to official U. N. reaction. He said any

The Allies had proposed a two-month period to settle the fate of all prisoners. The proposal did not make clear exactly when the unwilling prisoners would be turned over to the commission. As it reads, the four-month custodial period could begin immediately after a truce, or could begin after the two-month period for sending home those who want to return. The Communists clung to their demand to send representatives to the unwilling prisoners to make "explanations" and "eliminate apprehensions" about return. North Korean Gen. Nam Il also reserved a right to go back to the Communists' earlier proposal if the Allies do not accept the new one. This called for sending balky POWs to a neutral state. Despite the reservation and some provisions, the new plan appeared at first reading to approach the Allied views more closely than previous Communist proposals. Even should the negotiators agree to it or something close, there undoubtedly would be weeks of working out returns. Almost all the 24-minute session was taken up by Nam Il, the chief Red negotiator, in presenting the new plan. Harrison said only that he noted Nam Il's statement and then requested the break until Saturday. Nam Il revealed the plan suddenly at a time when the new series of negotiations were bogged badly. Only Wednesday, Harrison had termed progress "zero." The Communist plan provided: 1. Within two months after a truce, both sides will exchange prisoners willing to go home. These number about 34,000 North Koreans and Chinese in Allied hands and about 13,000 Allied captives.

Live, Let Live Seems Thoughts In Korea

By MILO FARNETI SEOUL (AP)—U. N. and Communist armies facing each other across the twisting Korean War front seem to be operating these days under the philosophy: Live and let live. The general rule today is to pinch and jab the other fellow only enough to determine if he still lies there—quietly under wraps. There is nothing to indicate that Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and Gen. Peng Teh-huai, American and Chinese ground commanders, are tuned in on the armistice negotiations at Panmunjom. But neither do their infantrymen insist strongly on fighting once they meet on patrols in no man's land. Generally they walk out into the barren rice fields each day and night only to guard against any sudden assault on main lines. American division reported only two brief touchings this morning on the Western Front, the key area on the peninsula for both armies. Incomplete reports from divisions on this front listed only one Chinese casualty. "I think the Chinese doughboys are like our boys," an Allied officer said. "They don't want to get bumped off now. It looks like they're acting on orders from higher up." "But," the officer went on, "you never can tell when they will suddenly change their mind." Other officers reported fewer sightings of Chinese since the truce talks were reopened. One described the lull as "strange." Other Allied officers point out there have been other lulls in the past and insist they can't see any co-ordination with the truce talks on the present lull.

Performances At Drama Guild Show Top Notch

It practice makes perfect and experience is the best teacher, there should be few on the stage better than Arthur Edwards today. Probably some who went to the Municipal auditorium Wednesday night would assert that there is none better.

Edwards is rounding out his 44th year in the theater, and it's a shame there couldn't have been a packed house to witness his performance in "Jenny Kissed Me." He was Father Moynihan, the priest, and by any odds the essential ingredient. It is doubtful that he could have carried off the role any better if he had been commissioned to the task by the Vatican.

We saw him on our local stage as the Senator in "Born Yesterday," but that was only a sample. As a somewhat elderly priest set in his ways, but with a typical Irish sense of humor (there wasn't a hint of mockery in this) he had the audience "on his hip."

Gilbert Reade was quite adequate as Michael, a sort of school inspector who managed to hang around the rectory long enough to claim Jenny as his bride.

And the local audience got the top notch performance it expected from Peeri Ford, another true veteran of the stage who had already established a solid reputation here.

The other three members of the cast were good enough to make "Jenny Kissed Me" one of the stronger performances the Civic Drama Guild has presented here, and it left little doubt that this season's series of three was the best to reach Big Spring over a period of three years.

Beryl Adamson, as Jenny, appeared more at home toward the last after she had been transformed into a real "slick chick."

Vernon Hayes, as Owen, was a realistic Hep Cat, with appropriate lingo and mannerisms, and Mary Watson made an excellent "teenager of the type that is plenty hep to goings on in her own element, but a bit slow on the up-take in other realms."

It was a pleasant evening. W. M.

Tax Fixing Story Revealed In Testimony At Senate Hearing

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A story of tax-fixing attempts in California, with cash as a reward and murder as a threatened penalty, was unfolded today by Sen. McCarthy's Senate Investigations Subcommittee.

The subcommittee filed with the Senate a report containing highlights of testimony it took behind closed doors from Russell Duke, West Coast public relations man, charged with contempt by the Senate yesterday.

The report pointed toward a close connection between Duke and Edward P. Morgan, former general counsel to a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee which investigated McCarthy's charges of Communism in the State Department.

Morgan and Duke, the report said, exchanged "code" messages about tax cases and prospects for more tax cases. It said, however, that Morgan denied having any code arrangement with Duke.

The report said that in the "few cases" it cited "Russell W. Duke received a total of $3,850 in fees and approximately $2,500 in expenses, and Atty. Edward P. Morgan received $13,700 in fees and $450 in expenses."

It said Morgan loaned Duke $500 July 22, 1949, and said that, according to testimony of Duke and Morgan, the loan was never repaid.

The Senate subcommittee for which Morgan was general counsel was headed by former Sen. Millard E. Tydings (D-Md.), a bitter political foe of McCarthy.

The subcommittee in 1950 inquired into McCarthy's charges of Red infiltration of the State Department. Democrats on the subcommittee concluded the accusations were "a fraud and a hoax."

McCarthy retorted "whitewash" and campaigned against Tydings, who was defeated in 1950 by Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md.).

Duke, last reported in Montreal, Canada, was cited for contempt after he did not respond to a summons to appear before McCarthy's investigations group last month. The Senate ordered all facts in the case turned over to the U. S. attorney for the District of Columbia.

The McCarthy subcommittee report described several alleged tax-fixing attempts on the West Coast. One, it said, involved a meeting in 1948 between Duke and David Sullivan, a new employee of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Veteran Came Home Too Early; Must Do It Over Again

COEBURN, Va. (AP)—Residents of this little mining town in Southwest Virginia had made elaborate plans for today to welcome home the community's No. 1 hero—Pfc. Alexander O. Luther.

But somebody failed to get the word along the line.

Luther, who spent 29 months as a POW, arrived home early yesterday.

Things finally were straightened out, though, and the celebration was set to go on today as scheduled.

Luther agreed to leave town, hop a train a few miles down the line and come back home again—the hero's way.

Talks On Spanish Bases Progress

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials today expressed hope that preliminary agreement may be reached in about two months to swap American aid for Spanish air and naval bases.

Authorities said negotiations are proceeding in a satisfactory manner and it is thought the Franco government, after a year of talks, probably has made a firm decision to complete the deal.

The hope here is that this may be reflected soon in a written understanding, even though more time may be required to work out specific agreements covering:

1. U. S. use of half a dozen naval and air bases on Spanish territory as a means of strengthening the defenses of Western Europe.
2. An economic aid program for Spain.
3. A military aid program for Spain.

Secretary of State Dulles told the House Foreign Affairs Committee yesterday that negotiation had recently taken "a turn for the better." He did not explain how this had come about.

James C. Dunn, veteran diplomat sent to Madrid a month ago as the new ambassador there, returned to Washington last week end to report to President Eisenhower and Dulles on agreement prospects. He has been in conference with State Department officials this week.

Dulles said Dunn had brought the latest Spanish proposals but the secretary did not explain what they were. It has been understood in the past that the Franco government wanted the U. S. to undertake a large-scale modernization of the Spanish Army as one condition. Madrid reportedly has been interested also in assurances of future economic and military aid beyond the 125 million dollar program authorized by Congress to date.

The administration, due to ask Congress to reappropriate the 125 million dollars which has never been used, may also propose an additional appropriation for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Last February the Franco government was reported to have raised its asking price for base

Dulles Urges East West Trade, But Not With The China Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday the free world should cut off all trade with Communist China, but not all of that with Iron Curtain countries in Europe.

He told a Senate committee trade with China should be halted "to penalize her for her aggression and make her repent of her ways." But East-West trade in Europe, he added, could show satellite nations the "advantage of closer relations with the West."

South Baptists Due To Elect A New President

HOUSTON (AP)—A new president was to be elected today to head the nation's 7,600,000 Southern Baptists.

Six men were mentioned to succeed Dr. J. D. Gray of New Orleans, who is completing his second year as president of the 22-state Southern Baptist Convention. They were Dr. T. L. Holcombe of Nashville, secretary-treasurer of the convention's Sunday School Board; Dr. Douglas Hudgins of Jackson, Miss.; Dr. C. C. Warren of Charlotte, first vice president of the convention; Dr. E. H. Westmoreland of Houston; Dr. Wallace Bassett of Dallas; and Dr. W. R. White of Waco, president of Baylor University.

Nearly 15,000 official messengers were eligible to vote.

Judge John McCall of Memphis asked the convention last night to approve his remedy for a financial crisis soon to be faced by denominational schools and agencies.

He called for adoption of a "stewardship after death" program in which Southern Baptists would execute wills which specify a given sum for a denominational agency.

With only minor discussions, a proposal to increase the executive committee from 31 to 45 members was approved. The Radio Commission was authorized to continue to solicit contributions from individuals, regardless of denomination.

The Radio Commission last year collected $135,360 of its $247,407 support from private donations. A new executive committee will be selected next year under revised by-laws calling for one member for each state having 250,000 Southern Baptists and one for each added 250,000. No state will be permitted to have more than five members.

Most Of US Weather Is Mild Today

By The Associated Press
There were a few rainy areas but generally pleasant, mild spring weather was the outlook for most of the nation today.

Showers were reported from the southeastern states and around New York City while skies were partly cloudy to cloudy over most of the eastern third of the country. Light showers fell from Eastern Ohio into sections of Pennsylvania and southward into the Carolinas.

In the Northwest, skies were cloudy from the western slopes of the Northern Rockies to the Pacific Coast. Light rain fell in parts of Oregon and Washington.

Light showers also fell early today from Eastern Oklahoma eastward through Northern Arkansas and Southern Missouri. Elsewhere, fair weather prevailed in the western two-thirds of the country.

A Pacific cool front ended the hot spell along the Pacific Coast from San Diego to Oregon. Unseasonable temperatures, however, were reported in the northern tier of states from Minnesota to Eastern Oregon.

Red Cross Plans To Note Founder Birthday Friday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Red Cross will observe tomorrow the 125th anniversary of the birth of Henry Dunant, Swiss founder of the International Red Cross.

Charles Bruggman, Swiss minister to the U. S., will speak at ceremonies to be held at Red Cross national headquarters. Other observances are planned by local chapters, and by Red Cross groups around the world.

Dunant saw the bloody battle of Solferino in the Franco-Austrian War of 1859 and was moved to take the lead in calling an international conference on the care of battle wounded. Out of the conference grew the International Red Cross and the first Geneva Convention, in 1864.

Mexican Priests Welcome To Probe Bracero Conditions

SAN ANGELO (AP)—The president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association says Mexican Catholic priests will be welcome to investigate the bracero and wetback problem in Texas.

The Mexican Social Secretariat, a church organization in Mexico City, made a critical report Tuesday of treatment of Mexicans on U. S. farms.

Mexico City reported the Vatican had ordered Mexican Catholic priests to go to Texas and other U. S. areas to give spiritual and secular aid to Mexican laborers.

Political Talks Due Tonight By The President

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flies to New York City tonight for perhaps his most important outright political appearance since he took office.

Several thousand party faithful bought $100 tickets to hear him address the annual banquet of the New York State Republican Committee. Because of an overflow audience, two dinners were arranged, one at the Astor and the other at the Waldorf Astoria.

The President planned to address both of them, first at the Astor (about 8:25 p. m., EST) and then at the Waldorf (about 9:35). Both talks will be made from notes. There will be a live NBC radio broadcast of the Waldorf address. ABC will carry a recording of the Astor talk (9:35 p. m.) and so will CBS (9:45 p. m.).

Funds raised by the dinners will be divided equally between the state and national committees.

Before today, the President had made only two other political speeches since taking office. Both were informal. One was April 24 before the Republican women's spring conference here and the other several weeks earlier when he addressed members of the GOP National Committee at the White House.

Presidential aides indicated Eisenhower might choose to review tonight some of the highspots of his first 100 days in office. The President will stay in New York a little more than 3 1/2 hours. He is traveling by commercial plane. The cost will be met by the New York state committee because, aides said, it is purely a political journey.

Aspiring Diplomat Needs To Know Bit Of Everything

By ED CREAUGH
WASHINGTON (AP)—Want to be a diplomat? To hobnob with kings and prime ministers? To take tea and crumpets with the homburg-and-striped-britches set?

Then you'd better know, among other things, that the New York Yankees won the 1952 World Series, that Tennessee Williams wrote "A Streetcar Named Desire" and that the earth is the third of the planets in order of distance from the sun.

These are some of the questions, culled at random, from a new booklet which is required reading for would-be ambassadors. It's the State Department's latest revision of sample questions from the examination given to foreign service applicants, and the Government Printing Office will sell you a copy for 15 cents.

You'll learn from this 30-page booklet that an aspiring diplomat is expected to know a lot more than the correct number of buttons on a pair of spats.

Even before he gets to take a stiff oral and physical examination he must pass three general and three special written quizzes testing his knowledge of a whole range of subjects from history and economics to modern languages and the facts of everyday life.

He's given, for instance, 20 minutes to "explain and evaluate the various means by which the Federal Reserve Board can influence the volume of business activity in the United States."

And he has an hour to give his reasons for agreeing or disagreeing with this point of view: "What is being assailed today as the 'intellectual anarchy' of 19th century Western thought, the absence of a single unifying creed, was in fact its chief glory."

Many of the questions, of course, are more down to earth—if not necessarily easy for everybody to answer. See how you'd score on these six typical questions—answers given below:

1. Which of these countries has no seacoast—Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru or Uruguay?
2. The function of the carburetor on an automobile is what?

3. Who was the first Republican nominee for the presidency?
4. Which of the following is not a breed of dairy cattle—Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein, Hereford or Brown Swiss?
5. What does "senatorial courtesy" mean?
6. What composer is associated with the whole-tone scale?

If you're discouraged at this point, remember there's another way to become an ambassador: Be a Clare Boothe Luce—or, in earlier days, a Paris Mestral—and you can make the grade without an examination. Otherwise you'll do well to memorize these answers to the questions above:

1. Bolivia.
2. To mix gasoline with air.
3. John C. Fremont in 1846.
4. Hereford.
5. The President consults with senators of his party on appointments from their states.
6. Debussy.

Mercury Rising Over The State

By The Associated Press
Gradually rising temperatures and clear skies marked Texas weather Thursday.

The warm-up would continue at least through Friday, the Weather Bureau said, and could possibly last over the week end.

A cool front hovering over Nevada Thursday could drop temperatures slightly and cause scattered showers over Texas Saturday and Sunday, if it gets that far south.

Temperatures in Texas at daylight Thursday ranged from Galveston's 70 to Dalhart's 39. Most readings ranged from around 45 in the Panhandle to the upper 60s and 50s elsewhere. Readings included Texarkana 51, El Paso 53, Dallas 55, Waco 56 and Austin 60.

Army Engineers reported good dangers over on the swollen Sabine River in East Texas.

In the Rio Grande Valley, the river's flow was still declining after reaching an all-time low Wednesday.

Lodge, Aides Fight Smear Drive On UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (U. P.)—President Eisenhower's top U. N. representatives have launched a series of hard-hitting speeches designed to offset what they call a "smear campaign" against the world organization.

Chief U. S. Delegate Hays Cabot Lodge Jr. laid the foundation for the series three weeks ago when he vigorously supported the United Nations in a speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington.

Since then Lodge's chief deputy James J. Wadsworth, has made several speeches sharply challenging U. N. critics.

Both Lodge and Wadsworth have a busy schedule in the next few weeks, beginning with a speech by

Girl's Trio Of Personalities Are Unfamiliar

LOS ANGELES (U. P.)—A demure, pretty brunette who turned into a dare-devilish, irresponsible creature in front of her doctor and later into a bright, agreeable, conscientious girl, was described today to the nation's psychiatrists.

This girl now has three different personalities, changeable at will. She is married and has a small child, but she denies her husband and child whenever she turns into anything except the shy young housewife who first sought medical attention two years ago for terrific headaches.

The unusual case was reported to the American Psychiatric Association in a medical report as well as in color movies by Dr. Corbett H. Thigpen and Dr. Harvey M. Clackley of Augusta, Ga. The case is not unique. About 100 such instances of multiple personalities in single individuals have been reported. But Dr. Thigpen's presentation was medically interesting because of the provocative personal relationships involved.

The young woman identified only as Eve White, an alias, changed suddenly about a year ago. She said she had been hearing voices. She asked if she might be going insane. A queer look spread over her face and in a couple of seconds she changed into a coquettish character who winked and said, "Hi, doc."

Dr. Thigpen named the personality involved in this change Eve Black. Eve Black goes to parties, drinks too much sometimes, and occasionally turns back into Eve White and seems horrified at finding herself in the middle of drunken gaiety.

Eight months after Eve Black's dramatic appearance, the girl blossomed out with a third personality, Dr. Thigpen said, which was something more than a blend of the other two.

Eve Black went out with men casually, got a job as a nightclub entertainer, bought and charged expensive clothes. The third personality called Jane, took the clothes back to the stores. Later Eve Black bought more clothes and had them altered so Jane couldn't take them back.

Eve Black and Jane don't recognize Eve White's husband or child as their own. Eve Black admits having been married, but not to Eve White's husband. Jane says she never was married.

The patient left her husband when she realized that there was something wrong and said she was going to stay away until she was well.

Jane is aware of the two Eves but doesn't have all their knowledge and their memories. Dr. Thigpen said, Eve White knows only hazily about Eve Black and Jane, and has a feeling that she is fading out of the picture.

There is no sign of mental abnormality in Eve White or in Jane, but Eve Black's brain waves show slight indication of a pattern that sometimes is associated with schizophrenia, a common form of insanity.

Jane is slowly becoming the dominant personality, Dr. Thigpen said. He has hopes that the two Eves will fade out entirely.

Elaborate tests were made to find out whether the girl was just putting on an act and getting away with it.

Plans Are Complete For Soil Conservation Meet

Plans for the area soil conservation conference to be held here at the Settles Hotel, the afternoon of May 14, have been completed, according to J. H. Greene, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, which is co-operating with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in sponsoring the meeting.

"At this Big Spring conference," Greene said, "we expect to have, and hope to have, Chamber of Commerce leaders, bankers and other professional and business leaders, and supervisors of the soil conservation districts around Big Spring, Lamesa, Andrews, Stanton, Midland, Colorado City and Seminole. As I understand it, the purpose of this conference is to get the business and professional people to meet with the SCS; supervisors and specialists of the Soil Conservation Service, and talk things over and become better acquainted both with each other and with the problems confronting all of us in the vital matter of conserving soil and moisture."

J. C. Porter of Wichita Falls, manager of the Agriculture Department of the First National Bank there, and chairman of the WTCC's Soil Conservation Committee, will preside, Greene said. Porter will be assisted by Loyal H. Walker of Abilene, manager of the WTCC's Agriculture and Livestock Department.

Others who will appear on the program, according to the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce manager, are: James Coover of Lubbock, soil scientist with the SCS; Howard B. Boswell of Tem-

Divorces Legalized In All States Under Bill

WASHINGTON (U. P.)—A divorce legal in one state would be legal in the other 47 under a bill passed by the Senate yesterday and sent to the House.

Wadsworth today before the American Veterans Committee in New York and one by Lodge tonight before the Catholic Press Association in Atlantic City, N. J.

In speeches at Minneapolis and Bismarck, N. D., Tuesday and yesterday, Wadsworth indicated the concerns felt by the administration.

He blamed the attacks on small, energetic groups but said such attacks "have never been bolder or attracted more attention."

Most of the fears, Wadsworth said, are being stirred by "false information which is widely circulated by groups whose past experience in racial hate campaigns has given them great talent in the technique of the undocumented smear." He did not identify these groups.

Wadsworth said it had come to his knowledge that some persons had received letters bearing stickers saying "The United Nations is treason."

"In my judgment," Wadsworth said, "it is time that we considered as moral treason attacks on the United Nations which are based on lies."

Lions Hear Talk On U.S. Defense

Members of the Lions Club heard something about the nation's defense program at their weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday noon at the Settles.

The speaker for the meeting was Major John Beck of Webb Air Force Base. He was accompanied by Lt. D. E. McClendon, public information officer at Webb.

After hearing a brief account of the preparedness program now well underway in the armed forces, the Lions were told about plans for Armed Forces Day observance here. Webb AFB will be celebrating the first anniversary of its formal activation simultaneously on May 16, and the program for the day will include a parade, fly-overs by Air Force craft, exhibits, concerts and other features.

Visionaries at the Lions luncheon were Hank Winn, Joe Watson of Midland, Ike Robb, Dub Dixon and Wayne Bartlett.

Continental Oil Employees Taking Training Program

Eighteen management and supervisory workers for Continental Oil Company are engaged in a supervisory training program here this week and next.

The group, from Midland, McCamey and Forsan production areas, are enrolled for a course in "How to Instruct." Later, they will teach other management personnel some of the finer points of supervisory methods and techniques.

J. R. Chestnolnick, Hobbs, N.M., district superintendent, is in charge of the program here. G. F. Duncan, Forsan, is an instructor. Classes are being held at the Settles Hotel.

A similar school is planned for the Hobbs area after completion of the course here. Previously, the school was conducted at Wichita Falls.

This is the third in a series of training programs held by Continental in Big Spring in the past few years.

LOYAL H. WALKER

J. C. PORTER

Plans for the area soil conservation conference to be held here at the Settles Hotel, the afternoon of May 14, have been completed, according to J. H. Greene, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, which is co-operating with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in sponsoring the meeting.

"At this Big Spring conference," Greene said, "we expect to have, and hope to have, Chamber of Commerce leaders, bankers and other professional and business leaders, and supervisors of the soil conservation districts around Big Spring, Lamesa, Andrews, Stanton, Midland, Colorado City and Seminole. Porter will be assisted by Loyal H. Walker of Abilene, manager of the WTCC's Agriculture and Livestock Department.

Others who will appear on the program, according to the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce manager, are: James Coover of Lubbock, soil scientist with the SCS; Howard B. Boswell of Temple, assistant state conservationist with the SCS; V. C. Marshall of Temple, executive director of the Texas State Soil Conservation Board; John B. Cole of Temple, executive director of the Association of Texas Soil Conservation District Supervisors, and R. N. Pittman of Seminole, a supervisor of the Gaines SCD.

The program, which opens at 1:30 p.m., and to which the public is invited, will also include a panel discussion.

"Every business and professional man in West Texas, and everywhere else for that matter," Greene explains, "has always had a very vital interest in soil and water conservation. We haven't always realized this as fully as we should have done, but now with this drought clinging on, and the terrific soil loss that has resulted from the recent blowing, this interest has been made much plainer to the business people. They look to the farmers and ranchers for business, and they should, therefore, have a better understanding of the problems the farmers and ranchers are facing now. This is the purpose of this conference, to bring the business people, bankers, doctors, lawyers, merchants, insurance agents, car dealers, and everybody else, together to give them a better look at the whole picture and to prove to them that there are things they can do to help improve the situation over this entire area. We hope as many as possible of them will be with us and that they will come prepared to offer their advice and to ask questions. And, while this will not be the largest meeting that has ever been held in Big Spring we believe it will be one of the most important ones ever held here."

it was about you!

says Madeleine Carroll

HAVE YOU EVER HEARD A STORY about someone that made you want to meet him? Well, I've just heard one. A story about a sincere, patriotic citizen who is doing something practical about his future and the peaceful future of his country by investing in U. S. Savings Bonds. A story about you! And one that ought to make you feel proud.

I felt good, too, when I heard what a great success story the U. S. Savings Bond Program has turned out to be. For you see, I'm a Savings Bond owner myself! And when you stop to think about how you and I and millions of our friends and neighbors all over America now own more than 40 billion dollars worth of our country's interest-earning Bonds—it makes you realize what a wonderful country we live in and what fine people our fellow Americans really are!

For no one has forced us to invest in Savings Bonds. We have invested of our own free will until today I out of every 4 men, women and children in America is a Savings Bond owner. That's the greatest success story of its kind the world has ever known!

I believe you'll agree that we've done fine, not only because we have found that U. S. Savings Bonds are one sure way to save money. But because we're convinced they represent a concrete way to help bring peace and security—in a world where we have come to learn that peace is only for the strong! I'm a Bond owner; I hope you are, too!

Peace is for the strong... for peace and prosperity, invest in U.S. Savings Bonds

Great News! New money-earning features for United States Savings Bonds!

FIRST—Thanks to new Treasury regulations, every Series E Bond you invest in begins earning interest after only 6 months. It earns 3% interest compounded semiannually when held to maturity. It reaches full maturity value earlier (9 years 8 months) and the interest it pays is now bigger at the start.

SECOND—Every Series E Bond you own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date—without your lifting a finger!

THIRD—All maturing E Bonds automatically earn interest at the new, higher rate (average 3% compounded semiannually) for 10 more years. Your original $18.76 can now repay you $33.61. $27.50 pays back $67.34. And so on.

FOURTH—If you want to be paid the interest your Bonds are earning every six months, ask at your bank about the new Series H Savings Bonds.

Tighter Money Squeeze Causes Some Concern

By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. dollar is getting harder. The resulting tight money squeeze is beginning to cause some pain.
 The American dollar is now worth as much as the Canadian for the first time in over a year. Tight money and rising interest rates are among the reasons given.
 Corporations wanting money by floating bonds or other securities are finding the cost has risen till it hurts. This week Southern Bell, seeking 30 million dollar in debentures, found it would have to pay at least 3.75 per cent. The company rejected all offers, while it thinks it over.
 Investors who have U. S. government bonds (other than savings bonds) have found that the sharp drop in their prices recently has shaved millions of dollars off their market value.
 The insurance company, for example which has a thousand dollar Victory 2½ and once could get a thousand dollars or better for it, now finds its current market value only about $920.
 Other countries now prefer the American dollar to gold. This is shown in recent weeks by a steady rise in the amount of U. S. dollars and U. S. securities bought by other countries. In that period, however, they have bought no gold from us. Previously, they were buying gold whenever they could.
 Bankers have been complaining that the demand for loans is at a record level for this time of year and they are hard pressed to find the money to lend. They like their interest rates and turn down many loan requests.
 They blame the tight money policy which the Federal Reserve Board has been applying, starting about two years ago. Bankers and some businessmen are saying that if money doesn't ease a little soon, rough economic times may lie ahead.

The Rains Came For The Ramping Males

NEW YORK (AP)—Male students at Columbia University went on a rampage last night, screaming outside women's dormitories, "throw down your panties." About all they got was rain in the face.
 A sudden, heavy downpour, plus a corps of unarmored cops, finally dampened the spring madness, and sent some 800 rambunctious college boys scuttling back to their rooms.
 A few panties, garter belts and brassieres fluttered down before the affair broke up.

Miss Universe Weds

Holding hands like any honeymooning couple are Mr. and Mrs. Virgilio Hilario who were wed secretly in Tokyo. He is a Filipino millionaire and she "Miss Universe" from Finland. They plan to visit the United States, Finland and other countries, later making The Philippines their home. The youthful groom displays a black eye and explained that he "had a little scrap a few days ago." (AP Wirephoto via radio from Tokyo).

Displaced Persons Tell Story Of China

By FRED HAMPSON
 HONG KONG (AP)—Shanghai is a "dead city" where automobiles have all but disappeared and a glass of Chinese tea at a good teahouse costs the equivalent of 50 cents in U. S. money.
 That's the story of a group of 44 displaced foreigners who arrived here recently under the auspices of the United Nations' International Refugee Organization. Most of them were Jewish or White Russians en route to Europe, North and South America, Australia and Israel.
 They said there are still about 4,000 displaced foreigners left in Shanghai and they are having a trying time. About 10,000 more are trying to get out of North China and Manchuria.
 None of the 44 would permit use of his name because of relatives still in China. Most of them were outspokenly critical of the Reds.
 The refugees said entire families seldom are cleared for departure at the same time. Everyone left some close relative behind.
 Communist police visited their homes regularly, always asking the "same stupid questions."
 One woman who had taught Russian to the Chinese said she was visited three times a week by the police, sometimes twice a day.
 "They wanted to know the names of her students, details of their progress, where they lived, what they paid. Once, she said, out of sheer weariness she deliberately gave the wrong answers."
 She was immediately corrected. "You know the answers so why come and bother me," she told the Red police. "I will write to Peiping and report you. I am not afraid. I am not a criminal."
 The threat to write Peiping seemed to scare off the police for a few days, but soon they returned and the questions took a different turn.
 "They would point to a photograph on the wall and ask who it was and why it was on the wall. They knew everywhere I had been and would ask why I went to such and such a place, did I visit friends there and how many were there?"
 "During the last week," the woman said, "they asked me why I wanted to leave China and I told them it was because the police bother me too much."
 An average of about 80 displaced persons per month were sent out of Shanghai last year by the IRO. The pace stepped up this year to 120 per month until April, when it jumped to 300.

Indonesia To Ship Vital Goods To Reds

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia agreed last night to ship 4 million dollars worth of rubber, tin and other raw materials to Communist Poland. In return she will get an equivalent amount of machinery and other technical goods.
 The pact, effective May 1, represents a 50 per cent increase over a previous agreement which expired at the end of 1952.

Last Freedom Airlift Plane Has 12 Yanks

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Twelve Americans flew homeward today on the last plane of Freedom Airlift, a magic carpet from Red captivity in Korea to America.
 These are almost the last of 149 Americans, some sick, some wounded, who only last month were liberated from North Korean prison camps.
 Two remain in Tokyo.
 A four-engine C54 transport left Honolulu last night with the 12 Americans, 2 Canadians and 6 Colombians.
 It was due at this sprawling air base north of San Francisco at 11 a. m. (1 p. m. EST) today.
 Thirty-eight other American repatriates arrived yesterday. Five were litter cases.
 Nine started almost immediately for home by car or plane. The other 29 were being leaving today for military hospitals near their homes.
 A total of three relatives had met the first flight of Freedom Airlift last week. No. 4 was different. Fifty relatives and friends clustered around as the plane halted and the door opened.
 A man walked into the arms of a mother, or a brother, or a girl, or a friend. Cpl. Cecil B. Preston of Sausalito, Calif., found 12 relatives waiting. He was mobbed.
 A mother held a soldier tightly, sobbing. "My son, my son, my son."
 A father smiled and wept.
 The men and their people ate lunch together, steaks again. Speaks have become so common some repatriates are tired of them. Only a few weeks ago they knew too well the taste of rice.
 Then they talked with newsmen, telling of the past and their hopes for the future.
 Pfc. George W. Rogers of Tulsa told how he felt when a Chinese told him he was going home: "I guess I gave him a blank stare. I was shaking like a leaf. I couldn't talk for half an hour."
 And Pfc. James D. Martin of Tulelake, Calif., explained why he missed one Freedom Airlift plane a week ago: "The officers just smiled when I told them we had been out on a beer bust."

Goof Ball Gang In Dallas Sentenced

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas' young "Goof Ball Gang" neared its end today after emotion-packed scenes in Federal Judge Whitfield Davidson's court.
 In a long, dramatic hearing yesterday, Davidson sentenced the teen-agers. They were accused of forging prescriptions to obtain dextroamphetamine as fuel for wild, all-night parties.
 Two of the ten defendants faced court today. Five pleaded guilty yesterday. Another switched from a not guilty plea to one of guilty. The only adult in the group, a man, 29, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. A boy, 17, had his case continued to September after asking to be tried as an adult.
 The Goof Ball Gang's ringleader, polo - crippled Walter Ramsden, 18, was sentenced to two years in the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital at Fort-Worth, where he has been voluntarily taking treatment.

Shivers Plays Golf With The President

WASHINGTON (AP)—What do governors, a senator and a President talk about when they get together on a golf course?
 "It was just a good sociable game, minus any business. We'd just comment on each other's game, such as 'You were in luck on that shot.'"
 So said Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas. The others: President Eisenhower, Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado and Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich).
 "We didn't keep any score," added Shivers after the rain-drenched match at Burning Tree course in nearby Maryland yesterday.

Bridge Across Red River To Be Built

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahoma highway commissioners have agreed to build a million-dollar bridge across the Red River at the Albion Ferry Crossing southwest of Idabel.
 The commission agreed to execute a joint contract with Texas. Each state will pay half the cost not assumed by the federal government.
 Texas will handle all engineering services and supervise construction. Oklahoma did similar services for the last bridge built on the boundary.
 The bridge will connect Oklahoma State Highway 57 with Texas State Highway 37.

Doesn't Need To Be Saved, He's A Marine

SEOUL (AP)—A 210-pound Marine stood watching an evangelist preach to a group of soldiers.
 Someone in the crowd walked over to Marine Cpl. Paul Dansky of Clinton, Mass., and said: "Would you like to be saved?"
 Dansky replied: "Mack, I don't need saving. I'm a Marine."

Purchasers Asked For Data To Determine Supply Of Oil

AUSTIN (AP)—Purchasers of Texas crude oil were checking today into their supply to give a better estimate to the Railroad Commission. Telegrams were sent yesterday to purchasers asking them for data on how many days supply they have on hand for current operations, said Ernest Thompson, chairman of the commission.

The purchasers nominate the requirements for Texas crude at the oil hearings at which allowances on production are set for the following month.

"We want to ascertain how much readily dispatchable crude you have in days requirements," the commission told the companies. "We feel that the old practice of dividing the so-called crude in storage by the daily refinery runs is at the present time inadequate upon which to calculate demand for Texas crude."

"The Railroad Commission recognizes that crude oil in pipe lines, pipeline working tank farms necessary to operate any pipe line of any great length, tank bottoms below tank connections, and refinery fill are really in fact necessary plant facilities just like a pump or the valves or the pipe itself," Thompson said.

"It is necessary to have all this oil in the oil machine before you can put a barrel of oil into the sending end and get a barrel of oil out of the delivery end of the pipe line or a gallon of gasoline out of the refinery."

Atomic Blast Is Put Off 24 Hours

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Unfavorable weather has caused a 24-hour postponement of an atomic blast scheduled for this morning at the Nevada Proving Ground.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced last night atmospheric conditions were such that desired data could not be obtained. It was the first weather-caused postponement of the spring series.

The shot, eighth of the series, is now set for about 8:30 a. m. Pacific Daylight Time, tomorrow, weather permitting. It's expected to be a big one. The 2,000 Army troops participating will be dug in 9,800 yards from ground zero, or nearly six miles away. In previous tests troops have been as close as 2,500 yards.

Wheat Prospect In NW Texas Much Worse

AUSTIN (AP)—Wheat prospects in Northwest Texas faded further last week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) said today.

More grain acreage was abandoned each day because of high winds and no rain, the weekly crop report said. Cattle were being turned back into many fields.

Strong blustery winds and severe dust storms hit all Texas, with severe rains in some parts.

High westerly winds caused serious erosion on land prepared for cotton and sorghums in the southern high and low rolling plains counties. On the northern high plains, erosion was not serious despite higher winds than further south.

Torrential rains in the northern central and eastern areas washed fields badly and will necessitate considerable planting.

In the western low rolling plains much wheat acreage was too far advanced to be affected much by rain. A growing crop and dry winds reduced moisture to a low level in eastern low rolling plains and cross-timbers counties. In North Texas warm open weather is needed.

Light early cotton planting was started in the Northwest, but most farmers are waiting for rain.

Cotton in the Coastal Bend was suffering from drought, with hardy early fruiting. In the Lower Valley, it was blooming, but moisture was needed badly.

Vegetables were retarded in almost all areas, with early sections too dry and later areas too wet. Tomato yields in the Lower Valley were lowered by lack of water and high winds.

An abundant supply of pasture feed was available in northern, central and eastern counties, due to heavy rains.

Since War, Ford Has Spent $900 Millions To Expand Industry

DETROIT (AP)—So far in the post-war period Ford Motor Company has spent $900 million dollars in physical expansion of the industrial empire the late Henry Ford founded 50 years ago with a paid in capital of only $28,000.

Another 500 million is earmarked for similar investment in the next few years.

The figures were cited by Ford executives in connection with the current observance of the company's golden anniversary. A high point in the observance was reached today in the formal dedication of the Ford Motor Company archives, a multimillion-dollar project designed to record in minute detail the career of Henry Ford and the huge company he founded.

Reds Once Had Defense Boss Picked For US

NEW YORK (AP)—House investigators have turned up testimony that the Communist party once had a military specialist lined up for the job of defense secretary in event of Red revolution in America.

Robert Gladnick, an ex-Communist and now an AFL organizer in Ohio and Kentucky, said yesterday he was part of a pre-war Red campaign to build up the party's military resources.

He told the House Committee on Un-American Activities that Irving Charles Velson, a New York iron worker, headed the party's military program, and "was to become secretary of defense, come the revolution."

Velson took the stand later and called Gladnick's story "kind of fantastic." Velson wouldn't answer questions about any Communist connections, past or present.

Gladnick, organizer for the AFL Workers Union, said Communists in the 1930s were encouraged to enter the armed forces to learn to handle weapons in anticipation of revolt.

His own job, Gladnick said, was to distribute Communist literature among men and officers of the fleet. He said pretty girls were used on both coasts to hand out material when the fleet was in.

Members of the Young Communist League, he said, infiltrated the pre-war Citizens Military Training Corps to prepare for eventual entry into the National Guard of the armed forces.

Gladnick said Velson used the party name "Charlie Wilson," and was in charge of this work.

The House committee came out of its third day of New York hearings with an armload of names given by co-operative ex-Communists as people they had known in the party.

The committee got 41 names from Gladnick, 24 names from Mrs. Abe Butrows, wife of the comedian, 66 names from Mrs. Dorothy K. Funn, a Brooklyn schoolteacher.

Canadian Prime Minister Visiting Eisenhower Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The St. Lawrence seaway and power project may get attention when Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada visits President Eisenhower at the White House today.

But a spokesman at the Canadian Embassy said he doubted, in view of Eisenhower's recent endorsement of the St. Lawrence proposal, that it would be necessary for them to devote much discussion to the subject.

St. Laurent is being accompanied by Lester B. Pearson, Canada's minister for external affairs, during the two days of talks, expected to cover cold war and trade policies as well as the seaway.

The United States' stock of corn was 2.5 billion bushels Jan. 1, 1953, which was 9 per cent higher than a year previous.

Negros Take N. C. City Posts

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—At least four Negroes started today as councilmen in as many North Carolina cities. Three of them apparently are the first of their race to have such a position since Reconstruction times.

The only repeater was Dr. William Hampton, re-elected to Greensboro's City Council in one of scores of Tar Heel municipal elections yesterday.

One of the Negroes, dentist G. K. Butterfield, won his seat on the Wilson City Commission by the luck of the draw. Butterfield and incumbent Commissioner Herbert H. Harris Jr. each got 382 votes. The city charter calls for settlements by lot, and 3-year-old Debra Watson pulled Butterfield's name out of a hat as the election board watched.

Sam Barber of Gastonia and R. N. Harris of Durham insurance company official, also won council seats.

Approximately 30 other Negro candidates failed in their bids for city offices.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today the United Nations information service is showing throughout Europe "a motion picture which portrays American life in its shoddiest, basest and most degraded form."

And, he said, some State Department movies designed to spread information and propaganda are little better.

The senator said he is inviting members of the Senate Appropriations Committee to view "some of these typical U. N. and State Department films" before they act on money bills for either.

The dirtiest streets you can find" were chosen for street scene shots in the U. N. movie, he said, and some scenes "show night life in the worst of dives."

McCarthy said the investigations subcommittee he heads will next hold public hearings on the State Department's movie program, as part of its search for subversion in the U. S. cold war propaganda efforts.

Naval Vessels Enter Wonsan, Bombard Port

By WILLIAM WAUGH
SEOUL (AP)—The mighty battleship New Jersey and the cruiser Bremerton steamed boldly into Wonsan harbor on Korea's east coast today and bombarded the base Communist port and communications hub for the second time in three days.

Big guns of the two warships and an escorting destroyer opened up a few hours after dive bombers from the carriers Princeton and Valley Forge heavily damaged an important Red metal processing plant in Northeast Korea, only 100 miles from Siberia.

Sea and air forces provided virtually the only action. Fighting along the twisting 135-mile battlefront was at a virtual standstill.

The New Jersey's 16-inch rifles poured shell after shell into Communist artillery positions ringing the rubbled city. The Bremerton and destroyer Twining bombarded communications targets as well as gun batteries.

Planes from the Princeton and Valley Forge Wednesday demolished the main transformer station at the Komdok silver and lead processing plant northwest of the Communist port of Songkin, the Navy announced.

Corsairs and Skyraiders flew through a curtain of anti-aircraft fire "so heavy we could get out and walk on it" to bomb the key metal plant.

Pilots said bombs landed squarely on several buildings and touched off three secondary explosions which could have been ammunition stores.

Low clouds grounded many Allied warplanes Thursday, but 23 Sabra jet fighter-bombers bombed a Red troop concentration at Singye, northwest of Chorwon in Western Korea. Pilots reported 26 buildings destroyed.

Fourteen Japan-based B-29 Superforts dumped 140 tons of bombs on a 130-acre troop and supply area at Tokchon in Northwest Korea Wednesday night.

The ground front was so quiet an Eighth Army briefing officer said only 30 Communist soldiers were killed or wounded in the 24 hours ending early Thursday. U. N. divisions on the Western Front reported hitting only one Chinese in overnight skirmishes.

Clark was arrested on Jan. 16 by policeman Aubrey N. Standaard and L. A. Hillbruner. They testified he was under the influence of alcohol at time of arrest.

Clark said he had only taken one drink at Wilbanks Brothers contracting firm before driving his car. Others who were present testified the same thing.

While policemen Standard and Hillbruner said they chased Clark from the 1000 block of Gregg to his home, Clark said he entered Gregg Street at 11th. He said he turned east on 18th and proceeded home without seeing any children and without weaving from one side of the road to the other.

De Gaulle Breaks Up French Party

GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle once more was a lone figure on the sidelines of French public life today as he scuttled his ultra-conservative political party after its shattering in recent local elections.

The tall, 63-year-old hero of World War II announced last night that his followers—most important, 84 deputies in the National Assembly—could continue any political actions they wished, but under their own names only.

He emphasized that officially the Gaullist RPF—the Rally of the French People—was no longer a political party.

Instead, he said, he would return to his original crusade for the "regeneration" of France. The RPF now becomes an "advance guard for regrouping the people to change the regime."

The inference was obvious—De Gaulle, apparently, still hoped that eventually the French would get fed up with their multitude of parties and frequent changes of government and would turn to him as the "strong man."

It was not yet known how the 84 still-faithful Gaullist deputies now would line up in the complicated French political picture. The general—up to now the hope of the far right—advised his followers to move left and think more about social problems.

After issuing his statement to the press, De Gaulle returned to his usual isolation at his villa at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises, 180 miles east of Paris. His friends said he would talk with the heads of all political parties and eventually make a new announcement as to his intentions.

The general, who never has bothered to hide his distaste for politics, evidently became completely fed up after his poor showing in the April 26 municipal elections.

In the big cities that Sunday, the RPF drew only 10.6 per cent of the vote. In 1947, when the party was still in swaddling clothes, they racked up 25.8 per cent. An analysis of the runoff vote in smaller towns last Sunday has not yet been made but the trend was expected to continue.

The RPF was the largest single party in Parliament until a revolt within the faction last summer. The autocratic De Gaulle refused to make the concessions required to form the only kind of cabinet—a coalition—that can rule the present hodge-podge of French politics.

Men In Service

WILLIAM MURPHY

Willie Dean Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Murphy, has reported for duty at Camp Pendleton, Calif., after a recent visit with his parents here. The Marine private-first class recently completed four months of training in San Diego, Calif.

The Russian ambassador is going out in public more than he did a few months ago.

Since the death of Stalin, Alexander Kapustin has gone out twice on occasions where it was not necessary. Some diplomatic sources here say they have heard the same thing from other countries: that the Russian envoys are mixing much more.

Kapustin even showed up at the public celebration of Pan-American Day at the Bolivar Monument. Latin-American ambassadors sent a first secretary to represent them. The Russian was the only ambassador present.

He also attended the opening of the art show of pictures by Frida Kahlo, Finnish-Mexican wife of Diego Rivera, Mexico's great mural painter. Frida had little political figure in her pictures.

President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines is going to pass up the official residence of the Mexican president. This is in a swanky compound with a huge garden, called "Los Pinos" because of the pine trees around it.

Ruiz Cortines is still living in his comparatively small house in a middle class neighborhood. Los Pinos has been turned over to the general staff for offices.

Lots More Trash Yet To Be Hauled
About 250 loads of trash have been moved to the dump grounds in Big Spring's annual clean-up drive and B. V. (Skeet) Foreyth this morning reported "We've still got lots of it" to haul off.

The city trucks are hauling around 25 loads of trash per day. They're now covering the city for the second time, removing rubbish residents were late in putting out.

Foreyth said insecticide fogging operations will be started next week in the wake of the clean-up. New fogging equipment has been purchased by the city and is now being assembled.

Cattle Market Rallies At Livestock Auction
The cattle market rallied in most lines at the Big Spring Livestock Auction Company's sale Wednesday, as an estimated 450 cattle and 75 to 80 hogs were processed.

Fat cows brought up from 12.00 to 13.00, butcher cows from 10.00 to 12.00, fat butcher cows and yearlings from 20.00 to 24.00 and stocker steers from 17.50 to 18.00.

Heifers went for 16.00 to 17.00, cows beside calves from 100.00 to 125.00, bulls up to 14.00 and hogs up to 24.50.

Howard Ehrlich New Manager Of Service Station
Howard M. Ehrlich, formerly of Winsboro, is the new manager of the Phillips 66 service station at 3rd and Johnson. He took over operation of the station—formerly Clark Motor Company—on May 1.

Ehrlich came to Big Spring in January with Leroy Tidwell, owner of Tidwell Chevrolet. He has been associated with Tidwell since 1946, when the two worked at Kilgore.

The station will provide usual services such as washing and greasing. It will be open 24 hours a day. Ehrlich stated that no mechanical work will be done there at the present.

The station will also be used as the official storage depot for the Settles Hotel, he said. Storage facilities for other automobile owners are also available.

Tourist Streets In Mexico Get Facelifting Job

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Notes from the Mexican capital:

Capital streets—at least, the ones the tourists use—are getting a face lifting.

New sidewalks are going down along Juarez, the street where tourist shops are concentrated. Because Mexico City is sinking, and unevenly at that, the sidewalks have always been badly broken up. In addition, some stores have raised the walks in front to keep water from running into the shops during the torrential summer rains.

The result: A tourist had to keep hopping from one sidewalk level to another. This meant the dollar-bearing visitors could not concentrate on the shop windows. Now, with a level sidewalk all the way from the Del Prado Hotel to the Fine Arts Theater there is nothing to take a tourist's mind off his spending.

Bowl Pay Will Be Discussed By SW

Host Team May Get More Cash

DALLAS (AP)—The Southwest Conference, in its spring meeting at Fort Worth next week, will consider a change in the distribution of bowl game receipts to insure its representative in the Cotton Bowl as much money as a conference member playing in another bowl game.

Under the plan that went into effect last Jan. 1, the conference champion, host team in the Cotton Bowl, gets $10,000 for expenses and $100,000 for the bowl game. The remainder is split up with three-tenths going to the competing team, one-tenth to the conference and six-tenths to the other six members of the conference.

This also applies to any member of the conference playing in another bowl game.

The point at issue is this: The conference champion travels a short distance to play in the Cotton Bowl. Another conference member playing in another bowl game, say the Orange Bowl, would travel much farther and thus receive much more money for travel expense. The travel allowance could run as high as $40,000 to the Orange Bowl. Thus that team would receive more money for playing at Miami than the conference champion playing in the Cotton Bowl.

The faculty committee, governing body of the conference, is due to consider cutting the travel allowance figure of other bowl games or adopting a flat fee for any bowl game.

This is among the topics on the agenda for the meeting, May 15 and 16. Another one deals with the scholarship rule adopted last winter under which a freshman must have a minimum of 20 hours, a sophomore 24, a junior 24 and a senior a cumulative total of 72 hours plus a C average in his freshman, sophomore and junior years to be eligible for athletics.

Some schools think the load should be lighter for a freshman and also that a boy should not be penalized when a senior for something he did as a freshman. A C average is not required to be eligible as a freshman, sophomore or junior.

The conference also is due to ask the NCAA for a continuance of its plan of televising all football games where there are sellout crowds unless they interfere with other college games in the area. The NCAA allows only one game a week to be televised in the nation but permission may be obtained to televise other games if the conditions warrant it.

Mud Cat

This whopper fish—it weighs three pounds—makes its captor pretty proud. Billy Wayne Jarmon caught the catfish in a pool near Arthur City, Tex., and as far as Billy is concerned it might as well have weighed three ounces. How'd he pull him in? "Kotched him on wums," says Billy. (AP Photo.)

Longhorns Face Rugged Going

Five games this week end will send the Southwest Conference baseball race into its final week. Texas is a prohibitive favorite to win the championship.

The Longhorns beat Southern Methodist, 8-5, Monday to take over the undisputed lead. They must, however, win all their remaining five games to be sure of gaining the title provided Southern Methodist wins its final game— with Texas Christian at Dallas Saturday.

But Texas will be favored to turn the trick.

Thursday the Longhorns play Rice a double-header at Austin while Baylor and Texas A&M, both out of the race, get together at Waco. Friday Texas plays Rice another game at Austin and Baylor and A&M will again be playing at Waco.

Next week Baylor and Texas Christian have two games, Texas and Texas A&M two, and Baylor and Rice one to ring down the curtain.

A single loss by Texas would throw it into a tie for the title with SMU in the event SMU beats Texas Christian. If SMU loses to Texas, Texas could then lose one game and still win the championship.

Rocky May Take Out After Joe In Title Bout

By JERRY LISKA
HOLLAND, Mich. (AP)—If Jersey Joe Walcott decides to hit and run in their coming heavyweight title bout, Champion Rocky Marciano will storm in flailing pursuit to "make him fight."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

A "sick" ball club—in desperate need of outfield help, at least one infielder, a couple of front-line hurlers, and most of all, more enthusiasm for playing—left here this morning for Roswell and a series with Pat Stacey's Rockets.

The Big Spring Broncos, who are committing baseball's grievous sin—that of not being able to win before the home folks—are a long way from being first division material. They give every indication of living up to all predictions made for them before the 1953 Longhorn League race got underway, a seventh or eighth place finish.

General Manager Bill Frank, a worried young man, is desperately trying to repair the weak spots. The necessary parts can be had but, right now, the clubs with which Frank is dealing are playing "hard to get."

Milton (Red) Eller, the former Longhorn League arbiter, is again calling balls and strikes in the Western International League, a Class A circuit boasting ten teams.

Bill Scopetone, the one-time Big Spring (1939), has drawn his release from Paris of the Big State League. He also drew the pink slip at Abilene.

Scopetone, a Californian who married a Texas girl, played winter ball in San Diego.

Why is it every player in baseball named Rhodes winds up with the nickname "Dusty"?

How weird can one's reasoning get? When Max Patkin, the celebrated baseball clown, appeared in a game at Columbus, Ga., recently, the two umpires working the game wouldn't let him on the field before he signed a Columbus contract.

Plainview played to 2,810 paying customers in its WT-NM opener recently, but there is still doubt the city can or will support professional baseball.

MORRISTOWN GOES BIG SPRING ONE BETTER
Morristown, Tenn., of the Mountain States League went Big Spring one better when it opened its season recently.

The city fielded not only an all-Cuban club but had a Cuban manager.

For several years, Big Spring had virtually all-Cuban lineups but did have an Irish boss, Pat Stacey.

Dean Frank, the nemesis of the Big Spring Broncos at the time he hurled for Roswell in the Longhorn League, lost his first three starts for Austin of the Big State League.

He was a 20-game winner there last season.

Abilene Eagles Clinch A Tie For District Crown

ABILENE — The Abilene Eagles clinched a tie for first place in District 3-AA baseball standings by beating the Midland Bulldogs, 2-1, here Thursday afternoon.

The War Birds wind up their regular season in Big Spring Saturday afternoon, at which time they face the Big Spring Stearns at 2 p.m.

Midland contributed to the 'state of affairs' Wednesday by committing 11 errors and yielding seven unearned runs.

The Eagles scored seven runs in the second and followed that with a five-run outburst in the third.

Jimmy Dan Hourland and Don Harber divided time on the mound for Abilene, with the former taking credit for the win. Together, they yielded only six hits.

Abilene's league record now shows eight wins against a single loss. The Eagles are a full game ahead of San Angelo.

Rookie Hurler Faces Big Test After No-Hitter

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bobo Holloman of the St. Louis Browns pitched himself a no-hitter in his first major league start last night and the big test now will be whether he can survive it.

Holloman, a fun-loving Georgian nicknamed after the last Brownie hurler to pitch a no-hitter, jumped from low man in the bullpen to pitching glory in nine hitless innings against the Philadelphia Athletics.

He faced 31 men. Three of them walked and one reached first on the pitcher's own error. St. Louis won, 6-0.

The big right-hander now will have to whip the jinx that befell the only other pitcher ever to open his major league starting career with a hitless performance.

In 1922, far enough back that baseball historians don't recognize it as "modern times," Charley Jones broke in with Cincinnati with a no-hitter against Pittsburgh, although Pittsburgh scored one run.

Jones won only one other major league game and was out of the big leagues by 1894.

In addition to this king-sized jinx, consider the pressure Holloman will face the next time he pitches.

A rookie is on the spot every time he starts a game.

A rookie with a buildup is on more of a spot.

A no-hit pitcher often gets into trouble his next couple of games.

Virgil Trucks, now of the Browns, pitched two no-hitters for Detroit last year but his record for the season was a poor 5-19.

A rookie, such as Holloman, who pitched a no-hitter in his first start will have all of these things going against him the rest of the season.

Holloman's performance overshadowed the rest of the major league activity yesterday but for the record Detroit defeated Washington, 8-4, and Chicago stopped Boston, 6-3, in the American League, and Brooklyn whipped St. Louis, 7-3, and New York whipped Chicago, 8-5, in National League games.

Cleveland and New York weren't scheduled in the American League while rain halted the other two National League games. Philadelphia was leading Cincinnati, 2-0, when the game was canceled after 2 1/2 innings. Milwaukee and Pittsburgh were tied, 1-1, after three innings.

A cozy gathering of 2,473, including Holloman's wife, Nan, and his 6-year-old son Gary Lee, witnessed the St. Louis spectacle and will be able to come back to see another game's free, and the small crowd he was grateful they had defied threatening weather to come out and issued an invitation for them to use their rain checks to come back again sometime.

Coahoma Nears End Of Drills

COAHOMA—The Coahoma High School Bulldogs are nearing the end of their spring football workouts.

The Bulldogs, who are coached by Fred Salling, will play an intrasquad game Friday afternoon.

Next Tuesday, the Bulldogs play an Exes team, composed of boys who finished their eligibility at the school last fall.

Bill Read, Billy Joe Cramer, Gerry Hoover and Johnny Bob Turner are among the players who will see action for the Exes.

Coach Salling still has not completed his 1953 schedule but expects to do so, shortly.

He plans to go to the State Meet in Austin this week end.

Entry Blanks Go To NAIA Teams

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Entry blanks for the second annual National Intercollegiate track and field, golf and tennis meet in Abilene, June 5 and 6, have gone out to the 450 NAIA member schools.

Oliver Jackson, track coach at Abilene Christian College and general director of the meet, said he expected at least 100 colleges to have entries.

More than $2,700 was raised by the Abilene Exchange Club toward financing the meet.

Hemus had obstructed the runner. Stanky catapulted out of the dugout, but argued in vain with Conlan. The expulsion and protest followed.

"I based my judgment on obstruction," Conlan explained later. "The ball was past the infield. I don't say that it was intentional, but Hemus already had a chance to field the ball and Robinson couldn't change his direction."

E. Texas Farm Is No Place For Red Propaganda

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP)—Communists know today that a piney woods East Texas farm—no matter how humble—was no place to spread their propaganda.

Mrs. Maggie Davison, owner of the tiny 17-acre plot of sand and house maid in this tomato-farming center, said, "I put no truck in that stuff a-tall."

Mrs. Davison is the mother of Cpl. Theodore Jackson, Negro soldier who was held prisoner by the Communists for more than two years in North Korea. She turned the letters over to the Red Cross yesterday with a sniff of her expressive nose.

The letters were signed by the "Communist Party of Ft. Worth" and the "Communist Party of Houston." Although Texas has a law requiring registration of all Communists, none has ever registered.

Mrs. Davison received her Red-tainted mail between the time she was notified her son was among the prisoners exchanged and his arrival in Texas last week.

Currently having what a newspaperman called "a high old time" on furlough here, the 33-year-old Jackson told his mother about the Reds.

One of his first statements on arrival was to tell how the Communists tried to indoctrinate prisoners with their beliefs. "I don't think any of the fellows paid much attention to that stuff," he said.

Once, he said, he and every prisoner in his camp signed a letter urging the end of the "futile" Korean War. All signed, Jackson explained, because the Communists paraded one of the prisoners before them and said if they didn't sign, that the prisoner would be beheaded.

"We would have signed anything to save that boy," Jackson said as his mother nodded knowingly.

Letters received by Mrs. Davison were headed: "Brain wash? Hog wash!"

General theme was that American prisoners were well treated by the Reds but that Korean and Chinese prisoners hadn't been treated so well.

The letters also said that American "big business" was afraid of a peace in Korea and that American prisoners in Korea had learned that communism was a fine way of life.

And Jackson? He's still having a "high old time," cutting a wide swath in rural society around these parts and sporting a shiny new auto.

National Guard Unit
To Encamp June 28
At North Fort Hood

The Big Spring National Guard unit, Battery B of the 132nd Field Artillery Battalion, 36th Division, will encamp at North Fort Hood June 28 for two weeks of summer field training.

All members of the battery are expected to participate, according to W-O Billie L. Eggleston, administrative assistant. Strength of the unit now is about 50 enlisted men and six officers.

In preparation for the summer camp, the battery will conduct a week-end maneuver May 25-26. The artillery unit will have a simulated reconnaissance, survey and occupation of position operations somewhere in the area south of Big Spring, Eggleston reported.

Funkley Is Lonely Today;
Most Of Town In Big City

NEW YORK (AP)—The village of Funkley, Minn.—92 per cent of it, anyhow—is in the city of New York, N. Y., to take a few well-earned civic bows.

This is because of what Funkley did with old bed sheets.

Virtually the entire population of Funkley—23 of a village-wide total of 25 (not counting Blackie, a dog, and Skunky, a cat)—arrived yesterday as honored guests of the American Cancer Society.

Only two villagers, an old-timer and a young man (plus Skunky), stayed at home to take care of things, and keep vandals (including rats) from taking over the town's nine buildings.

All the other residents (Blackie too) were here as a tribute for the job village ladies did in making cancer dressings out of old bed sheets. They will help launch a drive for more such dressings.

Village Constable Vernon Stransky, who said there hasn't been one bit of police work for him to do all year, allowed that Funkley is just about as peaceful and law-abiding town as you could find.

"There is just nothing there," he said, "to get a person in trouble."

The populace will see a big league ball game, appear on radio and television, and go sightseeing among other things, during their five days here.

The average value of cows in the United States was $128 per head Jan. 1, 1953 compared with $179 per head Jan. 1, 1952.

Senate Okays Bills On Two Commissions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed and sent to the House yesterday separate bills to establish commissions on federal-state relations and on reorganization of the federal government.

The federal-state commission, asked by President Eisenhower, would give special attention to U. S. grants to the states. It would have 25 members, 15 named by the President and five each by the Senate president and the speaker of the House.

The reorganization group, patterned after the former one headed by ex-President Herbert Hoover would have 12 members. Each would be appointed by the President and by the presiding officers in Congress.

Streamlined Teaching Methods Would Bewilder The Ex-Student

Although teaching methods and procedures have changed considerably during the past few years, school courses have remained largely the same. Big Spring youngsters of yesterday would find a familiar ring to the names of classes being taught today if they returned to school. Such course names as English, history, algebra, government and chemistry still sound through the halls. However, a graduate of the past might not recognize the particular subject just by sitting in on a period of instruction. Teaching methods are so streamlined he would probably feel lost. Although Superintendent of Schools W. C. Blankenship points out that teachers are not regimented, most of them use the new "project" method of instruction. For instance, students will probably become "senators" and "representatives" in a class studying state administration. In math courses students are likely to be out surveying land. Students might enact major phases of history as they go over them. Also history teachers now make good use of "outside work." That is, each student might be asked to make a report on a particular phase of the period being studied. As each student makes his report in class, the teacher knits the facts together. "When each student takes part in a project, the complete class takes more interest," Blankenship said. The superintendent pointed out that individuals learn most from things by "living" with them. To make a course "live" it must be made interesting, Blankenship said. The new method of teaching tries to stimulate interest with each student. "Of course the purpose is to prepare an individual for an objective for which he is suited," Blankenship said. To do this, much individual emphasis has to be placed on modern day education. Guidance directors are available to help students choose the courses suited to their particular outlooks. These directors counsel students concerning their individual problems and vocational choices. "Our overall program consists of teaching students how to give and take and how to be patient when others make mistakes," Blankenship said. There are still teachers—and good ones—in the local system who use what is termed the "old" method of teaching. These teachers deal only with facts. They assign so many pages and expect the student to know what is in those pages," Blankenship said. Courses of instruction here are divided up into departments. English, speech, Spanish and journalism come under the Language Arts department. History, government and economics are in the Social Studies department. The Math department includes algebra, geometry and trigonometry. The Natural Science department has Biology, physiology, chemistry, aeronautics, and physics. The Vocational Department has all the courses related to business. The Home-making department has courses in home economics, foods and clothing. While the student might refer to his courses as "social studies" or "language arts" or "homemaking," he still refers to the same classes taught students in the past under the names of "government" or "English" or "home economics."

AT COLORADO CITY Craddock Comes To Take Chamber Post

COLORADO CITY, — Frank Craddock, new Chamber of Commerce manager at Colorado City has arrived to assume his duties with the local organization. Craddock said the first order of business, would be "to get Mrs. Craddock moved here, and to get settled in Colorado City." Craddock is moving here from Hillsboro, where he was Chamber of Commerce manager for eight years. He succeeds Dub Oliver who resigned in October to re-enter radio work. Tuesday afternoon, Craddock spoke briefly over station KVMC, expressing his appreciation for his welcome and saying "hello" to those he had not met. Plans were going forward this week for a Chamber of Commerce banquet, at the Elementary building on May 14, according to Jeff Taylor, chairman of an arrangements committee. The banquet will be held to honor the new manager. Fred Husbands, of Abilene is to present from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Frank Massad, Chamber of Commerce president, said Tuesday night that he was pleased with the progress of the organization since the first of the year. "Our membership has increased to more than three hundred fifty," said Massad, "and our financial condition is good." The Chamber of Commerce is readying plans to greet the special train, which will arrive May 12, carrying oilmen and others, who plan to attend the celebration at the West Texas Gulf pump station, eleven miles northeast of Colorado City. The high school band will meet the special and a police escort will be given to buses to the plant.

Institution For Crippled Children Has Room For Few

Currently, a few more children can be accommodated at the Texas Elks Crippled Children's Institution, operated by the Elks Lodges of Texas. If there are persons knowing of an eligible child which might need help, they are invited to contact Wendell Parks, at Tate, Bristow & Parks, for application blanks. One Howard County child, Sandra Martin of Forsan, has received treatment there, and possibly will return for further help this summer. The Texas Elks Crippled Children's Hospital is located at Orlene, near Gonzales, and is a non-profit charity institution owned and operated by the Texas Elks Association. The hospital is valued at about $350,000, and takes about $80,000 a year for operation, all of it coming from contributions, bequests and endowments from Elks and their friends. There is no charge for patients admitted in the Elks Hospital for treatment or for additional surgical operations, hospitalization, or braces under supervision of the medical staff. There is no restriction as to the religious or fraternal affiliations of the patients, parents or guardians. Only requirements for admission are that the child must be under 14 years of age and its parents or guardians must reside in the state of Texas; and that the child, upon recommendation and examination by a physician, be found to have a condition that may be cured or corrected by the treatment and facilities available at the Elks Hospital.

Beef Displays Draw Shoppers

Bargain-conscious shoppers headed for the beef displays at their food stores this week amid predictions lamb and pork were going higher. Stores were unanimous in singling out beef as the best buy this week, as for several months. Prices for steaks, roasts and hamburger usually were at the same level as a week ago. Frying chickens were lower in a number of outlets, with cuts of two to six cents a pound. There were no big increases in pork prices this week, but sales managers for several chains agreed the trend was upward. Some specialist said wholesale lamb costs had gone up about seven cents a pound in two weeks. At retail, he added, that might work out at about 11 cents a pound. Egg prices showed changes both ways. Butter was unchanged in most stores. Worthwhile buys in vegetables this week included tomatoes, onions, potatoes, and fresh corn. In the fruit department, strawberries were cheaper, although some stores complained about the quality. Watermelons were lower in price. Some stores said they considered oranges worthwhile purchases. Milk prices were lower in some cities, reflecting record production.

Naturally, It Was The Man's Nickel

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The State Legislature's crime crusader, Rep. Robert O. Cunningham, hit the jackpot the other night. While accompanying police on a vice raid, he shoved a nickel in the slot of a machine which looked suspiciously like an illegal gambling device. Out tumbled 148 nickels. Did he keep them? "Sure," said the legislator. "It was my nickel."

Fear Of Dentist Is Just A Simple Matter Of Proper Training!

BALTIMORE (AP)—Afraid of the dentist? It's just a matter of training, says Dr. Ruth Martin, professor of dental pediatrics at Washington University in St. Louis. To prevent your youngsters from growing up with the same excessive fear, she told the Maryland State Dental Association yesterday, get acquainted with the dentist early. Maybe when the tots have completed filling out their baby teeth.

Treat Mother To Beef Muffins On Her Day

"Mother's work is never done" an old adage goes, but on her day, May 10, why not change that saying and do Mother's work for her?

Preparing dinner can be fun for the family, especially if duties are delegated to various members. Remember that meal planning starts by choosing the meat dish. Why not surprise Mother with clever ground beef muffins? They're a simple ground beef mixture (recipe below); pressed into small muffin pans, then roasted in a slow oven. To add a novel touch, onion rings and designs cut from pimiento may be placed in the bottom of the muffin pans and the meat molded over them.

When purchasing the ground beef for this serving be sure to ask your market man to grind boneless beef stew meat rather than round steak. The latter is too lean for a juicy meat patty. Save it for country-fried steak or Swiss steak. Boneless stew meat usually has just the right amount of fat to produce juicy patties and loaves.

Begin dinner with chilled tomato juice and crackers served either in your living room or at the dinner table. Baked potatoes make a simple addition to your menu, as well as buttered asparagus. A relish plate can take the place of a salad in your menu. Rolls that require only a few minutes browning ease the bread situation. For dessert pick Mother's favorite, which just might be strawberry shortcake.

BEEF MUFFINS

- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 1/4 cup horseradish
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 cup cracker crumbs
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup catchup
- Onion rings
- Pimientos cut as stars or crescents.

Combine all ingredients except onion rings and pimiento stars or crescents in greased muffin pans. Pack the meat mixture in the muffin pans and bake in a moderate

Shortcake Is Easy To Make

Is strawberry shortcake a "special occasion dessert" at your house?

If it is, it's probably because you haven't time to prepare it the old-fashioned way, baking the cake and frosting with hand-whipped cream. Next time, see how good a shortcake you can make in just three minutes. Use sponge cake you buy at the store, slice it in half lengthwise, fill the layers with strawberries and the cream that whips itself as it comes from a can. Pile on more strawberries, top with self-whipping cream, and there you have it!

The cream that comes in a can is thrifty, too—costs only about two cents a serving when whipped, and what's left after your strawberry shortcake feast will keep in the refrigerator for other strawberry treats.

Croquettes Make Thrifty Fish Dinner Sophisticated

Croquettes will transform a thrifty can of salmon or tuna into a sophisticated dinner and this is a main-dish so easy on the cook, too. All the preparation can be done early in the day. Just before dinner, shape and fry the patties.

Now we come to a couple of time-saving and flavor tricks. First of all, instead of shaping the croquettes in small round balls or in the usual cone shapes, pack the mixture into a square pan and cut into eight wedges. Remove the wedges from the pan with a thin-bladed spatula. Then frying the croquettes in a small amount of shortening is easier and quicker than using deep fat and they will have the distinctive crisp, golden crust.

A serving tip which will make the croquettes more interesting and colorful is to accompany them with grilled pineapple slices. After the patties have been fried, place each on a lightly browned slice of golden pineapple. The pineapple makes the serving platter bright and gay to look at and heating the pineapple brings out every bit of its refreshing tang to complement the patties.

FISH CROQUETTES ON PINEAPPLE RINGS

- Ingredients:
- 1 can (No. 1 tall) red salmon or 2 cans (7 oz.) tuna
  - 1/4 tsp. salt
  - 1/4 tsp. pepper
  - 1 tbsp. lemon juice
  - 1 tbsp. chopped onion
  - 1 cup white sauce
  - 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
  - 2 cups crushed corn flakes
  - 1 egg
  - 1 tsp. cold water
  - 8 slices pineapple (No. 2 can)

Method: Remove skins and bones from canned salmon or break tuna into small pieces then mash lightly. Mix with salt, pepper, lemon juice and onion. Mix Worcestershire sauce into white sauce and add to fish mixture. Spread in shallow pan and chill 4 to 5 hours. Cut into 8 wedge shaped pieces. Beat egg slightly and add water. Roll croquettes in crumbs, then dip in egg and roll again in crumbs. Brown on both sides in a small amount of shortening. Saute pineapple slices in same pan and arrange on serving platter. Place a browned croquette on each slice of pineapple and serve immediately. Makes 8 croquettes.

Burrells' New Home Focuses Interests

Plans for a new home in Midland should be an ideal focus for Mrs. Joe W. Burrell's artistic tendencies.

Her interests include painting, crafts, flowers and flower arranging and collecting antique china and silver.

Although she has only "piddled in painting," as she says, she worked in leathercraft, weaving and ceramics when she assisted in occupational therapy at the Veterans Administration Hospital. She was a Red Cross Grey Lady.

Mrs. Burrell was also active in Girl Scout leadership here before she and her husband began a year's stay in Pecos beginning in January 1952. They live at 1803 Main.

Now she belongs to the Garden Club and is enjoying her rose garden. She is looking forward to unpacking the old china and silver she has inherited from her grandmother.

Mrs. Burrell also loves to cook. She and her husband are especially fond of coconut pie deluxe. Mrs. Burrell likes the meringue better than other types; it is made much like seven-minute icing.

COCONUT PIE DELUXE

- Ingredients:
- 1/2 cup sugar
  - 1/2 cup enriched flour
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 2 cups milk
  - 1 cup shredded coconut

- 2 slightly beaten egg yolks
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 baked 9-inch pie shell

Method: Combine the sugar, flour and salt in a double boiler; add milk gradually and stir until smooth. Add 1/2 cup coconut. Cook for 15 minutes over rapidly boiling water, stirring continuously. Mix a small amount of the mixture with the egg yolks. Return the mixture to the double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer. Remove from heat. Add vanilla and butter. Cool and turn into cooled pie shell. Sprinkle with the remaining 1/2 cup coconut.

MERINGUE

- Ingredients:
- 2 eggs whites
  - 1/4 cup sugar
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 3 tablespoons water
  - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
  - 1/2 cup shredded coconut

Method: Place the egg whites, sugar, salt and water in a double boiler, beat with an electric or rotary beater until the ingredients are thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water and beat for 1 minute. Remove from heat and continue beating for 2 minutes or until mixture forms peaks. Add flavoring, pile lightly on filling. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup toasted coconut. Serve at once.

Canned Ham Is Thrifty, No-Bone Buy

Gone are the days when the homemaker who cooked "out of cans" was considered a poor wife. Today's homemaker serves canned food with pride. She knows there's of high quality, economical and time-saving.

Favorites among canned foods are canned meats. Of these, one top choice is canned ham, a no-bone, no-waste meat buy.

Since canned ham is completely cooked when purchased, you can slice and serve it cold as it comes from the can. This makes a canned ham ideal for company buffet service. If you don't want to use the entire ham at one time, it may be cut into pieces for several meals, such as these:

1. Cut one end from the ham to heat and glaze. To heat canned ham, place on a rack in a shallow pan and heat in a 325°F. oven for approximately 15 minutes per pound. Cut several thick slices from the center of the canned ham to broil with cooked sweet potato halves and pineapple rings.
2. Cube the remaining piece to use in ham casseroles, in salads or for ham a la king. Or grind it for ham loaf or ham salad sandwich spread.

Glazes Will Glamorize Canned Meat

A handy item to have on your kitchen shelf is canned luncheon meat. Slice it cold for use in sandwiches, salads and pan-fry to protein-rich warm weather meals or cube it to use in casseroles and salads.

A favorite way to serve luncheon meat is to glaze it. Here are a few suggestions for glazes to use on canned luncheon meat. Remove meat from can and stud with whole cloves; spread with desired glaze and bake in a 350 F. oven for 20 to 25 minutes.

1. Brown Sugar Glazes: Mix brown sugar with enough of one of the following to moisten: Orange, pineapple, spiced fruit, plum, prune, apple, maraschino cherry, or sweet pickle juice.
2. Fruit Glazes: Mix one of the following fruits with a little brown sugar: Cooked prunes, apricots, rhubarb or prunes, canned crushed pineapple or applesauce.
3. Easy Glazes: Spread meat with red jelly, orange marmalade, molasses, cranberry jelly or apricot jam.

Pizza Snacks Are Tasty Party Tidbit

The hostess who can prepare tasty snacks at a moment's notice is always envied. If you'd like to increase your repertoire of delightful tidbits, here's one to add to your collection. These snacks have a rich pizza flavor and take only a few minutes to prepare.

1. Pizza Snacks: 4 small English muffins 8 (1/4") slices tomato Salt 1/2 pound ground beef 2 tablespoons catsup 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt 1/4 pound processed sharp cheddar cheese

Basil, oregano Split muffins; toast. Place on a cookie sheet and top each with a tomato slice; sprinkle with salt. Combine beef, catsup, onion and garlic salt; spread over tomato slices. Place a cross of cheese strips on top of each. Sprinkle with basil and oregano. Bake in a hot oven (400 F.) for 15 minutes. 2 snacks.

Stuffed French Loaf

Cut top from long French loaf. Hollow out center. Place 3 can chili in center. Brush loaf with butter or margarine and place in shallow baking pan. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 20 minutes.

Chili Shortcake

Cut freshly-baked, hot cornbread into two-inch squares. Split squares and arrange them shortcake-fashion with chili with beans, spooning simple chili over top.

Deviled Cheeseburgers Made With Tangy Hot Dog Relish

That new hot dog relish on your grocer's shelf makes just about the best deviled cheeseburgers your family has ever tasted. The relish—a combination of tangy yellow mustard and crisp, chopped sweet pickles—is mixed with ground beef; then the patties are browned in a skillet and smothered in golden cheese.

New Colors Add 'Eye Appeal' To Salt Package

Something new in salt packages makes its debut on grocery shelves this month—the new Carey Salt design, executed by Mr. and Mrs. Ernst A. Spuehler. The Spuehlers are nationally known for a long list of top-selling packages which they have designed, including packaged meats for Swift's, canned goods for Richelieu and the Old Forester gift packages.

The familiar red-white-and-blue color scheme and the basic elements of the old Carey package were retained. But, the Spuehlers added a bright, cheerful, feminine feeling with line drawings and scalloped borders. According to Howard J. Carey Jr., vice president and sales manager of The Carey Salt Company, Hutchinson, Kansas, Carey wanted a package that would have definite "eye appeal" on the grocery shelf as well as in the kitchen.

Capitalizing on the modern trend toward more decorative kitchens, Carey's new package fits this modern decor as an attractive addition to the kitchen shelf. In addition, the new package is far more practical than the old because, for the first time, a salt package has been coated with a moisture-proof plastic which is easy to keep clean and bright. A damp cloth removes all kitchen smudges and finger prints.

Planning Meals, Introducing New Foods Will Help Novice

Meal planning for the novice cook can be a chore. To ease this situation, here are a few suggestions.

First of all, by all means do plan meals. Consider several at one time, rather than working from meal to meal. Begin with your menu disk. When you've decided on a meat cut, add your vegetables. When possible it's wise to take advantage of special meat buys. Likewise, make use of fruits and vegetables in season.

Introduce new foods into your menus. Actually there are more than 200 different retail cuts of meat. Learn to identify them. Study meat charts and ask your

Chili In-Onions

Parboil medium onions until tender. Take out centers, chop them and add to chili. Fill centers with chili and place in shallow baking pan. Over all pour remaining chili from 1-can. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes.

meat man the names of cuts, you do not know.

In planning your menu consider the shapes of the various foods. Naturally you do not want meat balls, boiled potatoes and Brussels sprouts at one meal. They all are of the same shape. Likewise, consider varied textures and pleasing color combinations.

Use your range to the fullest extent. Plan open meats, broiler meats, and range-top meals. And lastly, arrange the food on your platter and on the table in an attractive manner. This finishing touch can make the difference between a mediocre and an outstanding meal.

Justice is not something that belongs to the state, it belongs to God. When civil authorities mete out justice it is indeed admirable and precious. We as individuals, parents, friends should be just in our estimates of others. "The tongue of the just is as choice silver."—Prov. 10:20.

To Stay Alive, We Have To Keep Ourselves And Allies Well Armed

After subjecting the Truman foreign aid budget estimate to the closest scrutiny, the administration has sent to Congress a figure reading: $5,828,000,000. This represented a cut of $1,772,000,000 out of the Truman estimate, but Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, leading off the testimony in behalf of the item, declared if there is any error in the new figure the mistake has been in setting it too low. This is a far cry from previous Republican talk that the foreign aid bill should be cut to ribbons, or eliminated altogether.

our friends and Allies," the President called this division "a measure of the peril in which free nations continue to live." He went on: "The blunt, sober truth is that we cannot afford to relax our defenses until we have seen clear, unmistakable evidence of genuinely peaceful purpose on the part of the Soviet Union." That truism has been repeated so often as to become almost trite, yet there seems a necessity of saying it again and again. This nation of 158 million people simply does not have the manpower to stand off indefinitely a Communist-dominated world now with 800 million population, which would have well over a billion should Europe succumb. But our industrial potential is equal to that of the rest of the world, friend and foe, combined. The weapons we put in the hands of our friends and Allies to fight Communists with offset our own inadequate population, and redress the imbalance between the West and the East. Our survival depends on keeping our friends and Allies alive and well armed.

Whatever The Experts Find Out, We Agree That It's Getting Drier

Weather, that inexhaustible subject of conversation, got a new scientific treatment this week before a meeting of the American Geophysical Union by Dr. Gilbert Plass of Johns Hopkins University. Increased industrial activity, said Dr. Plass, is changing the temperature of the world at the rate of 1.5 degrees every 100 years. It is getting warmer all the time, even if winter is lingering in the lap of spring in the Southwest.

house. It prevents the escape of x x x heat radiation from the ground, but is transparent to the x x x radiation that comes directly from the sun," said Dr. Plass. Presumably if the Industrial Age goes from bad to worse, from a carbon dioxide standpoint, the time may come when there will be little winter and a lot of summer—summer perhaps too hot for the human animal to survive. Meantime, a great many non-scientific people believe the winters generally are growing milder and milder and the summers better and hotter. In West Texas and a great part of the Southwest in general the weather has become drier and drier for the last decade.

Matter Of Fact — Stewart Alsop

Ike Faces Discontent On Part Of GOP Over Cuts In Budget

WASHINGTON — The Republican Congressional leaders are frankly dissatisfied with President Eisenhower's eight and a half billion dollar cut in the Truman budget. According to indisputable reports, it was not at all a happy party at the White House when the new economy program was unveiled for Sen. Taft, Speaker Martin and the others.

It would not assure an immediately balanced budget. It would not give room for the kind of tax reductions Congress wants, especially for next year. It was still just a cut-in a Truman program, and not a brand new Eisenhower program promising this country much more security at much less cost. Such was the litaney of the leaders' complaints, made somewhat sharper by the vagueness that marked the presentation of the President's plan.

Several curious interesting lines of thought are suggested by this highly significant episode. For example, it explains the agitation by Sen. Taft and others for a whole new set of Joint Chiefs of Staff. The present Joint Chiefs have failed to devise a national security system with a bargain basement price tag. The conviction is firmly held that such a system is somehow feasible (hence the demand for an "Eisenhower program"). If the old Joint Chiefs cannot achieve this miracle, then we must get some new ones.

It is the current mood. The existence of this impatient mood in turn speaks volumes about the future relation between the President and the Congress. The President has stated his theory of the right way to deal with the Congress in simple language—"I speak my piece, and then it's up to them." It is of course constitutionally correct that the President proposes and the Congress disposes. But the Eisenhower phrase, "then it's up to them," indicates wide tolerance of any disposition Congress may choose to make. "Harmony" is to be pursued as an end in itself.

Of course if you want harmony enough, you can always have it by letting the other fellow decide whether the tune to be sung is "Sweet Adeline" or "Take Me Back to Old Virginia." But you cannot always have harmony if you will not let the other fellow call the tune. And that uncomfortable choice, about letting or not letting the other fellow call the tune, now seems to be looming ahead for the White House.

The cut in the defense appropriations, although attacked as inadequate, is unlikely to be greatly surpassed by the Congress. It can be shown to be a dangerous cut; and the Democrats mean to show the danger very dramatically. Unfortunately, foreign aid appropriations, although already reduced by 1.8 billion dollars, are much more unpopular than defense appropriations on the Hill. Sen. Milliken, of Colorado, a highly responsible Republican who is also very loyal to Eisenhower, has already commented that Congress will be "merciless" towards foreign aid.

In the Senate Appropriations Committee, moreover, there is a perfect nest of the sort of Senator who regards Secretary of State Dulles as a probable subversive, and would greatly prefer to have no foreign policy whatever. The Appropriations Committee chairman is Bridges of New Hampshire. Sens. McCarthy, Mundt, Dworkshak and Gordon among the Republicans, and McCarran on the Democratic side, are likely to go to any lengths. Sens. Ferguson and McLellan will not be far behind. Sen. McCarthy has long previously hinted that Secretary Dulles would "get what was coming to him" when the foreign aid and State Department appropriations came before this committee. Hence, if the Congressional leaders are not minded to fight all the way for the President's program, Sen. McCarthy's forecast is only too likely to come true.

The leaders' lack of passionate belligerence has meanwhile been indicated in the sphere of foreign economic policy. The White House pleaded for a simple one year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act. The President further agreed to take the recommendations, one year from now, of a special commission on foreign economic policy that Congressional protectionists will quite certainly pack with their sympathizers. This, you might suppose, should have satisfied everyone.

Yet at this moment, the House Ways and Means Committee has pigeon-holed the one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. It is holding hearings on the Simpson bill, which represents the view of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association. It looks as though the House would largely sustain its committee. The Senate outlook is somewhat better, but not a great deal. In short, if the President wants to make the nation's policy—and particularly its foreign policy—he will almost surely have to fight Congress for the privilege of doing so.

Eisenhower's Efforts For Peace Are Dependent On How Badly Reds Want It

By DON WHITEHEAD (For James Marlow)
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is striving today to translate into world peace the victory he won in Europe eight years ago. The man in the White House says that is his basic hope. He won a military victory in Europe. But he found a military victory was not enough. It rarely has been in this world. It was on this date in 1945 that Eisenhower, then supreme commander of the Allied forces in Europe, accepted Germany's unconditional surrender.

He said in a victory order of the day: "The crusade on which we embarked in the early summer of 1944 has reached its glorious conclusion... Full victory in Europe has been attained..." And so it seemed. Millions laughed and wept and celebrated around the world with prayers of thanksgiving. Troops who had come to know war as a way of life looked eagerly toward home, once they could comprehend the fighting actually was ended.

Wife Is Protector When Man Goes To Buy A Suit

NEW YORK (AP)—The man still wears the pants in the average American home—but it is the wife who picks the kind he wears. "My husband simply hates shopping," she says smugly. "He'd never buy a new suit unless I went along with him."

I don't like to destroy any woman's illusion, but a wife who holds that idea is simply kidding herself. Most men love to go shopping and buy purty things to hang upon themselves and cloak nature's errors. Neither sex has a corner on vanity.

is row on row of little suits hung up on racks like headless children your own age. You feel uneasy. You run up to a mirror and peek in and see three boys instead of you. You have never seen a three-way mirror before.

One soldier said: "I've dreamed about this day so long... Now that it's here, I don't know what I feel." But within a short time it became apparent the victory in Europe was one of arms—and not of peace. Communists boldly rode to power in Eastern Europe on the force of arms and it spread fear and distrust among men as the Nazis had done.

Well, I don't! says mother sharply, because she is tired. Oh, oh! Mama and the tall strange man are fighting! Will he hit her? If he does, can she whip him? She is awful strong, but he is awful big. What can you do to help Mama? Bite the man in the leg!

Well, the sharp words end. Mama smiles, the big strange man smiles. You get a nice new suit, instead of being hung up on the rack yourself—as you had feared. But all your life you still have deep in you your childish dislike of the three-way mirror for showing you to yourself as you really are, and your fear of the tall look around and all you can see

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

Death came on this day in 1900 to David B. Culbertson, distinguished lawyer, Confederate officer, longtime Congressman and father of another notable Texan. A Georgian by birth, Dave Culbertson came to Texas in 1856 to practice law. Three years later he became a member of the Texas Legislature, but resigned his seat because he opposed secession while his district favored it. When Texas overwhelmingly voted for the measure, however, Culbertson went along with the majority. He helped raise and organize the 18th Texas Infantry and became its lieutenant-colonel. After two years in the Vicksburg area he suffered some health difficulties and returned to Texas as state adjutant-general.

Culbertson was elected to the 44th Congress in 1874, and thus began an enviable family achievement. The elder Culbertson remained in Congress for twenty-two years—up to that time the longest record of service in the House. Two years after his retirement his son Charles, once governor of Texas, went to the U. S. Senate and stayed for twenty-four years, then the longest record in that branch. The two spent an aggregate of forty-six years in Congress. After retiring from the House, the elder Culbertson was named by President William McKinley as one of the committee to codify the laws of the United States. He held this position until his death.

Whenever The Moon Shines High, Chief York's Police Are Busy

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

If Senator J. McCarthy ever runs out of anything to investigate, he ought to get with Big Spring's police chief, E. W. York.

Chief York may have spotted a real, big-time subversive that'll stand plenty of investigating. He half-seriously thinks so, anyway, and the Big Spring police chief ain't one to chase rabbits and bark at the moon.

This security risk York's worried about, however, is the moon, and since he called attention to it most of the police department keeps a wary eye looked luna-ward. Oh, there are a few skeptics, of course. But it seems like a full moon means trouble around here. The chief has been studying the moon and people's habits for some time, and he's coming to that conclusion. Unlike less objective investigators, he's not a man to go around saying incriminating things, without some evidence, so it has been only lately that York communicated his suspicion of the moon to associates. Came a time, though, when he felt something besides continued investigation was in order. There's a full moon tonight, boys. Better watch out. She's liable to break out all over, he told the evening shift that day. She broke out, all right. Before the night was over there had been a shooting and a cutting. One person was killed and three others went to the hospital as a result of the two outbreaks. Not to mention the family fusses and fist fights officers were called to break up in between the more serious fracas.

It happens almost invariably. Whenever the moon is full, you can look for trouble, violence and usually bloodshed. Wrecks, burglaries and other things police are supposed to prevent generally stack up on the romantic nights. Maybe it's because of the light and more people get caught in places where they have no business. Or maybe a bright, moonlit night just makes a person want to get out and do the things he can't find the drive for on dark, dreary evenings. Chief York admits he doesn't know what the sinister force is. He has heard about how the moon causes the tides and variations in the earth's magnetism. He also has heard the beliefs that the moon has something to do with the weather, and that there's a "time of the moon" for planting, etc.

And watching tears and trouble flow like tides with the moon, the chief is becoming more and more convinced of luna sets the pattern for human behavior. So if McCarthy ever wants to shroud all the new moons with investigative curtains, he likely won't hear any complaints from Chief York. —WAYLAND YATES.

Soviet Visits To U.S. Bring Up Touchy Problem For State Dept.

WASHINGTON — At the outset at least the Korean truce negotiations seem to be started on the same old, weary inconclusive round. But there is a difference this time and that difference will before too long become apparent.

The top policy-makers in the Eisenhower administration have set a deadline. If the Communist negotiators seem to be deliberately stalling, the negotiations will be terminated. It has been agreed that no more than two weeks of stalling will be tolerated. At the end of that time the Communist at Panmunjom will be told that they must get down to business or the negotiations will be broken off forthwith. While the two weeks is not an absolute figure, any extension will be brief.

The previous negotiations began after Jacob Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, held out an olive branch in a speech in the summer of 1951. They went on for months before they were broken off. The American negotiators persisted, on instructions from Washington, in the conviction that if the attempt to reach a truce was broken off on the initiative of the West, the Communists would have a powerful propaganda weapon.

the end of World War II. Invitations have been repeatedly extended by every kind of organization, particularly in the immediate aftermath of V-E Day when many who had no connection with Communism sincerely believed that friendly cooperation with Moscow was possible. Several New York producers tried in vain to get the Kremlin to allow them to bring ballet dancers, folk singers and others for Broadway performances.

The Soviets have placed great emphasis on the game, and matches are reported in detail throughout the country. Champions have the stature of football or basketball stars in America. Nothing was heard until out of the blue came the cable. The matches in New York are to be held from June 10 to 18. This means that red tape must be quickly cut. The decision before the State Department is whether to grant temporary visitors' visas to the 10 Russian players. This should not be a difficult decision to take. The Soviets set an example recently when they permitted a group of small-town American newspaper editors to visit Moscow. On the other hand, the suspicions of certain senators are great and the State Department might be fearful.

The Eisenhower administration believes no such risk is involved this time, since the free world has before it the record of the patience of the West. That long stalemate gave the Communists an opportunity to entrench themselves on a strong line and to build up both air and ground forces.

An important consideration, of course is the viewpoint of Western Europe. Allies with troops in the Korean battlefield. Their insistence on keeping the peace talks going was one of the reasons for prolonging the negotiations. They were critical then of the American approach and similar criticism is now being heard, particularly from London. Important British newspapers are accusing General William K. Harrison Jr. and the other Americans at Panmunjom with being intemperate and hasty.

That old story about the farmhand who broke down under the weight of the decisions to be made when he was set to sorting good seed potatoes from bad applies to the problems confronting the administration as the Soviet peace front widens. Some of the decisions are of major importance, others seem unimportant. Yet, they all have a direct bearing on the politics of peace both at home and abroad. Just the other day a cable came from Moscow saying that Russia wants to send a team of 10 Soviet chess champions to take part in a match with a U. S. team in New York next month. The cable came in response to an invitation voted by the International Chess Association a year ago. Among the 40 countries in that association are all the Western European Powers, along with Russia and several of the satellites.

These beginning gestures in the gray zone of maybe-peace-maybe-not seem strange. If it is really going to happen, it will take a lot of getting used to.

This is the first time the Soviet Union has accepted any such invitation to send Soviet citizens to the United States since

Booklet Says You Cannot Burn Out The Boll Weevils

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—"You Can't Burn Out The Boll Weevil." This fact is also the title of a folder issued by North Carolina State College Extension Service. The cover of the folder depicts a raging forest fire in full color—often the result when farmers burn over their fields. The author, Extension Forester John Gray, writes: "You can't burn out the boll weevil unless you burn down all your barns and outbuildings, burn up all your haystacks and stored corn, burn up all woodpiles and stacks of refuse, and get all your neighbors to do the same." Even then, Gray writes, you would destroy only a very small percentage of the over-wintering weevils. "Fifty years' experience has shown that the only effective way to control boll weevils is to fight them in the field with recommended sprays and dusts," Gray says.

Weapon Had Name Of Onager

Not long ago I showed a picture of an onager, pronounced ON-uh-jur, to several boys and girls, and they asked me these questions: "Does the onager belong to the donkey family? How did he get his name? Where are these animals found? What kind of work do they do? Are they easy to tame and keep? What do they eat? How big are they, and can they kick?" Onagers are natives of south-central Asia, and they belong to the donkey family. The name "onager" came from the Greek language, and means "wild donkey." Onagers run wild in Persia, Baluchistan, Pakistan and a few parts of western India. Some of them wander northward into western Mongolia, but their relatives, the kiangs, are more common in Mongolia. These animals live by grazing, and their food is mainly grass. When they feed near the edges of deserts, they eat the green parts of tough desert plants.

A full-grown onager has a height of about three feet and four inches, at the shoulders. It is a little smaller than the kiang type of wild donkey. Yes, an onager can kick! This is indicated by the name of one form of the catapult. This old-time weapon was named the onager, and was used to hurl large stones at castles which were under attack. It is possible to capture and tame an adult onager, but the safer way is to take young ones and raise them. Young onagers become very much like ordinary tame donkeys. ing August or September. If every irrigation farmer would interplant his cotton or sorghums with vetch, or even small grains, in August or September, soil blowing on his farm the following March or April would be negligible. Not only will these crops retard wind and water erosion but Vetch also offers other values."

These "other values" are explained by Jenkins who cites the experience of L. M. Baxter, who farms near Lamesa.

Recently, and in quoting Jenkins, this column reported that Baxter drilled his cotton middles last September with Vetch, and that a recent survey showed this vetch produced two and one-half tons of green weight per acre.

The clippings taken in this survey were air-dried and again weighed to determine the pounds of nitrogen they furnished to the acre. The air-dried material weighed 1.125 pounds to the acre. Figuring that air-dried Vetch contains three per cent nitrogen this means that 33.75 pounds of nitrogen to the acre was furnished by this Vetch plus many other benefits from turning under 4,500 pounds of green growth per acre.

In terms of commercial fertilizer this means that this Vetch furnished more nitrogen to the acre than would have been supplied by 300 pounds to the acre of 10-10-0 fertilizer.

But — and this is the best news of all — in addition to the soil benefits mentioned, Jenkins says his greatest joy came, when after viewing thousands upon thousands of acres of badly blown land, he went to the Baxter farm and saw that this Vetch-protected land wasn't blowing at all, but on the contrary was catching and holding rich topsoil from other farms.

Among the soil and moisture conservation plans recently approved by the supervisors of the Dawson Soil Conservation District have been those submitted by Jack Felts, whose farm is located three miles north of McCarty; Sybil Mitchell, for her farm just north of Lamesa on the Lubbock road; Glenn Scott, who lives one mile west and a half mile north of Sparenberg, and Paul Morgan, who farms 12 miles south of Lamesa on the Stanton road. Felts plans to build up old terraces and to plant Blue Panic grass and Osar.

Mr. Mitchell plans to plant Vetch in her cotton; apply barnyard manure to her land; install a complete irrigation system, and to plant some alfalfa. Her neighbors say she is well ahead of most men farmers in her agricultural thinking and in taking steps to protect her land while at the same time bringing it to its highest productive state.

Glenn Scott plans to plant Weeping Lovegrass around the homestead to prevent soil blowing, and he also plans to plant Guar for soil improvement, and Blue Panic grass in a lake area for grazing.

Jap Officials Busy Picking Bride For Prince Akihito

TOKYO (AP)—While Crown Prince Akihito is in England for the coronation of Britain's Queen, officials of the imperial household are busy choosing his wife—the next empress of Japan.

The newspaper Asahi said the 19-year-old prince will make his choice from this list. The choice must then be approved at an imperial family conference.

Asahi reported further: Girls considered eligible—members of families that carried titles before the occupation abolished all titles—are being secretly investigated.

The investigators are leaning toward a girl between the ages of 14 and 17. The couple is expected to be engaged at least two years while she is trained to become an empress.

Ben Osborn, work unit conservationist at Midland, says the recent blowing has increased wind erosion damage in Midland County by at least 500 per cent. He says that after touring the farming sections around Midland following last Wednesday's high winds he raised his estimate on the area affected by wind erosion from 8,500 acres to 80,000 acres.

He says this includes 1,000 acres of severe wind damage amounting to at least two inches of soil removal or accumulations of at least six inches or more of sand. Damages on the rest of the land was conservatively classified as moderate. Most of the cropland was ready for planting, he comments, and was very susceptible to erosion when the winds struck. He said that fields which had severely withstood earlier blows suffered from the winds last week. He said some small grain fields in the area, and some land with feed stubble left on the surface, and even some land reseeded just before the winds, stood the blowing very well. He said most Midland County range land had produced enough of a growth of early weeds and grasses to prevent serious blowing.

Osborn said that notable among the fields escaping damage from the winds last week were the irrigated pasture and winter cover crops on the B. E. O'Neal farm, and old stands of Blue Panic grass on Dr. W. L. Sutton's farm.

Bert Badger, field inspector for the Pink Bollworm Control Division, says he reckons he saw more dust last Tuesday than he had ever seen before in his life, either on top of the ground or in the atmosphere.

He was in Lubbock when the blowing started and had to drive all the way home through it. He says there were times when he could hardly see the radiator cap on his car, and that the worst of it appeared to be between Fairview and Big Spring.

After a 30-minute stop here for coffee and something to eat he went on to Garden City where he joined County Agent Oliver West for a trip to St. Lawrence, where they met with about 20 farmers from that area to discuss a 1953 Pink Bollworm control program.

The St. Lawrence community had a heavy infestation last year, and Badger says he believes those farmers are going to make a hard fight against this destructive insect this year.

Four all-girl rodeo events are scheduled this month and Frances Weeg, Big Spring's popular champion cowgirl is entered in all four.

The first of these will be the All-Girls Rodeo at Fort Stockton, May 8-10, sponsored by the Sheriff's posse there. Then follows the All-Girls Rodeo at Snyder, May 14-16, produced by Weldon Johnson. Next is the All-Girls Rodeo at Mason, May 21-23, sponsored by the Mason Rodeo Association.

In between, and on May 17, there will be an all-girls matched roping at Seymour in which 10 cowgirls will contest with four calves each. Good luck, Frances!

Jess Jenkins, SCB work unit conservationist at Lamesa, reports that the recent blowing was the worst of the year in Dawson County, and from the looks of the sand piled up around Lamesa this is easy to believe.

Jenkins says both dryland and irrigated land was badly blown Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

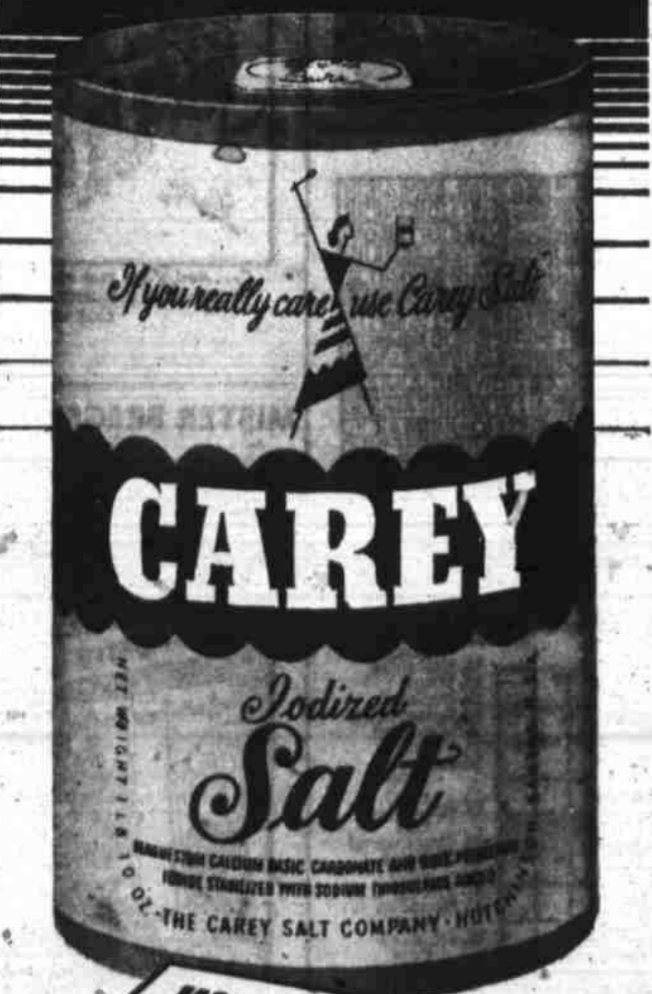

"It hurts to see any kind of soil blow," says Jenkins, "but it is doubly painful to see irrigated land blow because it is so unnecessary. Too many of our farmers are trying to do something about soil blowing in April when the time to get the job done is in the preced-

News From Webb Air Force Base
By A-2C FERD BORSCH

STORY CONTEST
A-2C Simon W. Giesman of 3500 Field Maintenance was chosen winner of the short story contest held recently at Webb. Second place went to S-Sgt. Ted L. Shelton of Air Police Squadron and third place was taken by A-2C John R. B. Rawlings of Pilot Training Group.

The stories turned in by these three airmen have been forwarded to FTAF Headquarters for entry in the contest there.

Judges for the base contest were Lt. D. E. McClendon, Information officer; Bobbie June Bobb, Historian; Maj. Albert E. Horrocks, G. O. Supply Squadron; and Capt. John A. Thomas Jr., Manpower and Management officer.

One hundred AFOTC cadets from the University of Alabama, Municipal University of Omaha and the University of Nebraska will report to Webb June 21 for annual summer encampment. The encampment will officially open June 22 and continue through July 19.

Camp commander of the cadets will be Col. William A. Stephens. Throughout their stay at Webb, the cadets will be indoctrinated in all phases of operations on the base.

CHAPLAIN LITTLE
Chaplain (Lt.) John C. Little Sr., Protestant chaplain at Webb, has been assigned to the Alaskan Air Command.

Chaplain Little has served at Webb since his call to active duty last April. He has been active in church affairs in Big Spring in addition to his duties on the base.

"BOOTSTRAP"
Eleven courses are on the "Operation Bootstrap" summer school agenda at Howard County Junior College.

Classes offered through the Air Force educational program include English literature, algebra, trigonometry, typing, accounting, economics, federal government, physics, leathercraft, office machines and shorthand.

The summer session opens June 2 and closes July 15. Registration starts at the Education Office in Building T-48 May 16 and continues through the first day of class.

BLOODMOBILE
The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at Webb May 27-28 to receive blood donations from base personnel. It will be located at Ward 6, base hospital from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. each day. According to present plans Webb's quota has been set at 250 donors each day.

NURSES SOUGHT
There is a vacancy for general duty nurse at Webb, according to Bud Farrow, Civilian Personnel officer. The vacancy is that of a GS-5 rating with an annual salary of $3,410. Interested persons should apply at the Civilian Personnel office, Building T-48.

CHOIR
Choir practice for Catholic services was started last week, according to Chaplain (Lt.) Henry Dunkel.

Practice sessions are held on Tuesday and Thursday nights of each week at Building 261, 7 o'clock. Personnel interested in joining the choir should see Chaplain Dunkel at his office in Building 261.

SPORTS
Webb's Dusters, inactive last week, have a busy schedule ahead of them. The Dusters play host to Foster Air Force Base on the Webb diamond Thursday and Friday nights, 8 o'clock. Primm Drug of Brownfield will be next on the slate May 12. This contest is still in the tentative stage. Kirkland will arrive at Webb May 13 for a two-game series against the Dusters. On Friday, May 15, the Dusters and Cook Appliance of Big Spring will tangle in an exhibition game as a part of the Armed Forces Day program.

Air Base Headquarters extended its victory skein to seven games last week to take over first place in Squadron Softball League standings. AB now has seven wins in eight outings.

Pilot Training's Tryhards rocketed to a first place tie with Supply last week as the Wednesday Bowling League neared the final two rounds of the season. Both combos have won 8 1/4 games and lost 5 1/4.

23 Mexico Priests To Be Sent To U.S. To Aid Braceros

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Roman Catholic authorities here say 23 Mexican priests will be sent to the Southwest United States soon on Vatican orders to give spiritual and secular aid to Mexican laborers employed on farms in the area.

Dr. D. Pedro Velazquez, director of the Mexican Social Secretariat, a church organization, said the priests will be under the direct supervision of the Roman Catholic Bishop of San Antonio, Tex.

The secretariat also released a report on Mexican workers in the U. S. which claimed the Mexicans—and particularly the "wetbacks" who enter the U. S. illegally to work on farms—were treated as virtual slaves. The report, written by Carlos Diaz de Sollaño, said the workers are imported when they are needed and then kicked aside after crops are harvested.

More than four million kilowatts of hydro-electric capacity were installed by the U. S. Reclamation Bureau in its first 50 years.

Stay 'Way From My Door, Prison Board Tells Lady

SEATTLE (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Boland was turned loose from the State Penitentiary at Walla Walla yesterday on parole and part of the condition of her being given freedom was that she accept it.

Mrs. Boland, now 55, was sentenced in January, 1946, to 20 years for the second degree murder of her husband. She was paroled in September, 1952.

In March she called Warden John Cranor from a bus depot in Walla Walla asking for readmittance to the institution because she liked the climate in Eastern Washington better. Cranor let her in but the parole board released her again with a request that she please stay away from their prison door.
