History Of Santa Anna Told By Roy Holt; Town Is Named For Comanche Leader

(Editors Note: The following article was prepared by a Santa Anna Citizen, Mr. Roy Holt, Mr. Holt has spent a lot of time doing research work about Santa Anna, and this historical information was gathered by him upon the request of the Santa Anna Chamber of Commerce.)

It gives the original origin of the name of "Santa Anna". Your editor, and numerous others had the wrong impression. Let us suggest that you study as to how the name originated this article, and keep it where you may refer to it often.)

Santa Anna, located in Coleman County, Texas, is near the center of the state. The present population of the town is approximately 2,000. The town is surrounded by a fertile farming and livestock producing area.

The town of Santa Anna can well boast of one of the most beautiful locations in Texas, for back of the town rises twin peaks which are visible for many miles in all directions. In addition to the scenic beauty of these hills a pure white glass sand has, for many years, been taken from the mountains as a paying commercial venture.

Maps of more than one hundred years ago show the twin peaks in this area as "Santa Anna's Peaks." Authentic historical records of the same period show the Comanche Indians lived in this area and numerous streams and other landmarks bear their names today. These same records tell the story of Chief Santa Anna, head Comanche war leader, who lived in this section and was well known as a friend of the whites. It is known that he once made a trip to Washington to visit the Great White Father and that he also made numerous raiding trips into Mexico. After such a trip, in the year 1849, this old Red warrior died of Cholera which he had contracted on a trip into Mexico a short time before. He was buried within a day's ride of the Santa Anna Mountains. It is logical to suppose that this Old Indian took the name Santa Anna, after learning that this was the name of the President and Emperor of Mexico, where the Comanches loved to raid so much. It is also reasonable to infer that the Santa Anna Mountains received their name from this old Comanche chief.

The Santa Anna Mountains have been famed landmarks for more than a century. The Comanches camped here at springs near the foot of the mountains and used the elevated peaks as lookout and signal points for many years. Early surveyors used the mountains in running their lines. In 1837, Camp Colorado was established as a U. S. frontier military post on the Jim Ned Creek, a few miles north of the mountains. Soldiers and scouts came to the Santa Anna Mountains and maintained a lookout post here. During the Civil war, Frontier Rangers on Home Guards patrolled the frontier and established a camp at the foot of the mountains. In 1862, Lieut. John Sparks, later governor of Nevada, Frank Alexander, John Guest, R. C. Morgan, and John Sinclair spent Christmas here, feasting on wild turkey. The old military road extending from San Antonio to Fort Mason and Fort Belknap, passed through the gap of the mountains, leading on to Camp Colorado. Soldiers, scouts, and frontiersmen camped here often.

During the seventies and eighties, the Western Cattle Trail passed through the gap of the Santa Anna Mountains. Rollicking Texas cowboys drove wild Longhorn steers along this trail by the countless thousands. The trail led from South Texas by way of San Antonio, on to Fort Mason, Brady City, Thickham, the Santa Anna Mountains, and Coleman City, thence northward to Baird, Fort Griffin and on to the Red River.

In 1879, a little store was started in the gap of the Santa Anna Mountains and for some time it was called "The Gap." A few settlers moved in—Duke Jackson, J. D. Simpson, W. C. Brooks, Lewis Taylor, Henry H. Brown, W. J. and Tom Crosby, Bill Brannan, Miles and Frank Wofford, and the McGonagills, and others.

During the early eighties numerous families settled in the surrounding country. Barbed wire fences appeared over the range, with G. W. Mahoney enclosing a large body of land immediately southwest of the town. In 1879, a post office was established under the name of Santa Anna. Tradition and legend have it that the name should have been "Santanta" but there is no historical basis for any name except Santa Anna. Before long the little town could boast of two stores, a livery stable, a drug store, a hotel, a schoolhouse and a church. Dr. J. P. Matthews was the first doctor and Sam H. Phillips the first druggist.

Old timers tell of immense herds of buffalo in the area in the early days. Antelope by the hundreds could be seen near the town. Wild mustangs ranged the country in bands in all directions from the Santa Anna mountains.

In 1886, the Gulf Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad extended their rails westward from Temple and, in May of that year, two town lots were sold in Santa Anna. The town was moved from the gap to a position immediately south of the west mountain. In March of 1886, the first train reached the new town. L. V. Stockard was the first station agent and the depot was an old box car. Early day merchants who moved to the new town were: L. L. Shield, Miles Wofford, W. R. Kelley, Hunter Brothers, Sam H. Phillips and numerous others. Con Rowland published the first edition of the Santa Anna News in a dugout and this paper is still being published under the same name, now in its 64th year.

In the course of a few years, the Santa Anna trade territory developed into a prosperous farming and livestock producing area. Cotton became the chief crop with oats, wheat, corn and sorghum grains as important crops. Oil, natural gas, cattle and sheep later became more important sources of income.

Rev. E. H. Wylie Injured In Fall

On Friday morning of last week Rev. E. H. Wylie received head injuries, and several broken ribs, when a scaffold on which he was working at the Bunk Wagner home fell. He and Mr. Wagner were both on the scaffold. Mr. Wagner fell first and Brother Wylie fell on him. Mr. Wagner was only slightly hurt. Bro. Wylie was taken to the Sealy Hospital for treatment and observation where he was unconscious for awhile. He was able to be moved to his home Sunday where he is getting along fine.

Rev. E. H. Wylie asks us to announce that he has recovered sufficiently from injuries received last week to fill the pulpit at the First Christian Church next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Buren Elkins and Jimmy and Glenda, of Big Lake, visited over the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Lois Henderson, and her sister, Mrs. Raymond Teague and family. Patsy Teague returned home with them for a visit.

Santa Anna Mountaineers Getting In Shape For First Tilt On September 8th

E. V. Campbell To Operate Old Farmers Gin No. 1

Mr. E. V. Campbell announces this week that he purchased the Old Farmers Gin No. 1, on August 11, from Mrs. M. E. Wallace, and that he is in the process now of repairing and remodeling the gin to operate it this year. He states that he hopes to be ready to run about the 5th of September.

The Gin has laid idle for the last several years and it is taking a lot of work and material to get it ready to operate. When the gin is ready, it will be in first class condition and will be able to take care of a good amount of cotton.

Mr. Campbell states he has had 24 years experience in the ginning business. He will also buy cotton and cotton seed right at the gin.

There will be only seven gins operating in Coleman County this year. Two of these gins will be in Santa Anna, one in Rockwood, one in Gouldbusk, and three in Coleman.

Three Names Added To List Of Honor In Paving Project

A lot of progress is being made in the paving of Bowie Avenue with the curb being put in to Crockett Street now, and preparations being made to put it on the last block. Work is also in progress on getting the Cemetery street ready to be paved.

The land that has been donated to widen the street is in the process of being cleared. The new water main to the cemetery is being laid and everything is being made ready to start the paving.

We are still short approximately $1500 toward the donation of $3500 for the paving of the street. This week we added $36.00 to the paving project, which makes a total of $1997.00.

Due to other pressing business of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Barnes has not had time to get out and do any amount of work on the donations to the cemetery street. However, again we request that if you feel that you can make a donation to the project that you take it to the Santa Anna National Bank and deposit it to the Cemetery Street Paving Fund and you will receive the proper credit for it.

Mr. Green stated the bus routes were in the process of being worked out for the convenience of the students using the buses.

Pre-registration for the High School is something new for the school system here, but according to plans it should work out fine. The registration will be held from 9 to 12 and from 1 to 4 each of these two days, Friday and Saturday, September 2 and 3.

During the last few weeks general repairing has been completed on all the buildings located at the Ward School. The pre-registration of the High School is being held this year so as to be able to give more time and individual attention to each student. It will help them work out a more definite schedule for all their subjects, and give the teachers more time to work with the students in planning their schedule.

Other announcements concerning the opening of the Santa Anna schools will be carried next week.

The B-36 probe has bogged down. It all began as a result of rather sensational charges made by Rep. Van Zandt of Pennsylvania a few months ago when he charged in a speech on the House floor that the B-36 was probably no good, that it cost too much, and, besides, that Secretary of Air Symington and Secretary of Defense Johnson were both controlled by ulterior motives in advancing the program of the world's biggest bomber.

Following the Van Zandt charges, the House Armed Services Committee, of which I am a member, decided to conduct a full-dress investigation of the entire subject. That hearing has been going on for two weeks and will probably continue for as much as a month or more.

But already the charges have fizzled out. Van Zandt, when challenged to produce proof of some of his accusations, fumbled around in his files and produced a clipping from a newspaper which contained some loose talk by a Broadway gossip columnist. Aside from that, he had no proof to offer except an anonymous letter which the Congressman had apparently used in his blast at the Air Forces.

In the meantime, the history of the much-talked-about B-36 was unfolded step-by-step before the Committee. It was put on the drawing boards back in 1941 when it was feared Britain might collapse and we might eventually be faced with absolute dependence upon long-range bombers to carry on a war. As time went on many changes were made in design in order to speed the plane up and make it airworthy. More recently four jet pods have been added which give the plane temporary speed of more than 400 MPH.

It was developed that a jet engine, the plane has been built for more than 10,000 miles with a supply of 10,000 pounds of other words the B-36 according to actual tests, has flown 5,000 miles, dropped the bomb load and returned to its starting base. It flies at a 40,000-foot altitude which is considered by the experts as being reasonably safe at night time against enemy interference. In other words, the plane, equipped with heavy armor and its capacity load, can fly to any target in Soviet Russia, do its damage and return to a starting base in the United States.

Lieut. General Curtis LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command, described by General Vandenberg as the most experienced bomber in the world today, in his appearance before the committee, declared: "If called on to fight, I'll order out the B-36 crews and be in the first plane myself."

What is true is that the B-36 is costing a lot of money. Already around one billion dollars have been spent in the costly experiments with this giant bomber which has made the B-29 obsolete. Nearly a hundred of them have been built, and the additional ones will come from the Fort Worth plant during the next few months. There are very few, however, who will say the expense has not been money well spent if America is to have that much-needed advantage in event another war is forced upon us by the Russians.

Airplane development costs a lot of money. It takes five or six years to draw plans for a new design and finally get the finished product. The B-17 used so extensively and with so much success during the recent war, has long since become obsolete. The B-29 which dropped the atomic bombs on Japan, was six years in the making and is now considered obsolete. And, already, a new bomber to take the place of the B-36 is on the drawing boards and will be ready in a few more years.

But as the world stands today, the B-36 is undoubtedly the world's best inter-continental bomber. It is undoubtedly the only bomber in existence which can fly 10,000 miles with a 10,000 pound bomb load and at an altitude of 40,000 feet, with a cruising speed in excess of 300 miles per hour.

In an atomic age, the future belongs to those who hurry. And that means constant research and development of airplanes which will undoubtedly play a controlling part in any future war that may occur.

So the B-36 has thus far survived the tests—both in the air and in the Congressional hearing rooms. It is America's Number One symbol of power and security in this Air Age.

Local Baptist Church News

The services of the church were well attended Sunday but the pastor in his message called attention to the fact that over two-thirds of the population of Santa Anna was not in any church.

The women of the W. M. U. through the circles did some visiting as part of Community Mission service. The Girls Auxiliary had their regular meeting with nine present.

The following were elected Sunday as officers for the church school: Superintendent, Louis Newman; Emzy Brown, Sunday Newman, Choir Director; Claude Laneford, Brotherhood president; Aubrey Brewer, Training Union Director.

Emzy Brown, Louis Newman, J. B. Howington and Harry C. Winger attended District 15 Brotherhood roundup held at Roundrock, August 23.

The main news for men is the coming Brotherhood Jubilee. Leading laymen and pastors are scheduled to be on the program. Such outstanding men as Joe C. Evans, H. L. Wren, Dr. J. W. Marshall and Rev. L. D. Ball will speak. Joe Evans is a cattle man from West Texas who is devoting much of his time speaking to laymen and at camp meetings.

Mr. Wren is a Lydvare merchant in Snyder, but perhaps he is out speaking and winning the lost more than he is in his place of business. Dr. "Bill" Marshall is the youthful president of Wayland College. Rev. Ball is pastor of First Baptist Church Greenville, Texas. All of these men will be on the camp grounds for the entire period to talk with the men. The 1500 men expected will be led in great singing by the great song leader, Joe Trussell.

The men of Santa Anna and Coleman are preparing the barbecue for the first evening meal as is their annual custom. J. B. Howington is over seeing this preparation. Preparing the barbecue and attending the Jubilee is always a high light in the lives of the men.

Mr. J. W. Jordan returned home last Thursday from a weeks vacation visit. He spent several days at Mabank, in East Texas, and came back around Milan county, his old home, for a few days visit with relatives and old friends.

Mrs. W. A. Standly, who has been quite sick lately and entered the Sealy Hospital last Thursday for treatment, was able to be moved to her home Monday afternoon. Her daughters, Mrs. George Ralstin and Mrs. Boyd Rambolt, of Fort Worth, are here with her.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Boman, of Abilene, formerly of Santa Anna, visited Thursday of last week, in the Preston Bailey home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford Barnes returned home on Wednesday night, of last week from a trip of nearly three weeks to the Pacific coast. On the way to California they stopped two days at the Grand Canyon. From California they went to Newport, Oregon, then they crossed over to the Yellowstone National park, and enjoyed stops at Salt Lake City and Denver. The weather was pleasant on all the trip, and the temperature went as low as 40 at times. At Bend, Oregon, they were interviewed by a reporter for a daily paper, and have received a copy of the paper with a write up the interview on the front page.

God's Map for Me

Lesson for August 28, 1949

Have you ever read the Bible... We can get a better understanding of the Bible by looking at it as a map for our lives.

The Psalmists' Bible... In reading Psalm 119:1-14, it is interesting to notice many different things the Psalmist says about the Word of God.

The Book of God... What the writers of these Psalms said about the partly done Bible of those times is, of course, even more true of the completed Bible which is our heritage as Christians.

The Bible in the Heart... "I have I hid in my heart" (Psalm 119:11) is the clue to the right use of the Bible.

When a missionary asked him about it, the boy said, "I have to be slow. First I learn a verse, then I go out and live it. I can learn the words in a few minutes; but it takes longer than that to live it."

Double Pay

Many fine well drillers completed their contracts with Drake just for the fun of it. After more than a year Drake finally obtained the services of "Uncle Billy" Smith.

On an inspection trip the following day, "Uncle Billy" was amazed and overjoyed to find thick, black oil within a few feet of the surface of the pipe.

"Drake's Wonder" Once underway, drilling progress was slow but steady, averaging about 3 feet a day.

"Drakes Folly" overnight had become "Drakes Wonders" a new era and a new industry were born.

Knowledge - today's best weapon against cancer - is as close to you as the Santa Anna postoffice.

It's not on the table at the postoffice. The postmaster doesn't have any cancer literature on the shelves.

But, if you'll just address a postcard or a letter to: Cancer, Care of Postmaster, Santa Anna, Texas, in just a few days you will receive in the mail a free booklet about cancer, which may even save your life, should you ever develop this disease.

Here's how it works. Last year the Postoffice Department in Washington decided to send the lightest booklet, authorizing a simple mailing address for all requests for cancer information.

The Postmaster General instructed all postmasters to forward all mail addressed to "Cancer" to the state headquarters of the American Cancer Society.

In the early summer of 1859, Drake and his crew erected a derrick near an oil spring and began work. He demonstrated his ingenuity by driving a pipe down to bedrock and drilling inside it and by using a steam engine to furnish power.

Regardless of the newest developments in atomic energy and radiation therapy... Early suspicion prompt investigation, and treatment are still the most important weapons against cancer.

Regardless of what is being learned through research... Regardless of the tremendous advances being made in medical science and in the care of the patient.

But if a person is able to recognize the early symptoms of cancer, and will see his doctor at the earliest sign, and if he makes regular physical check-ups a habit for life, he has in his possession the surest insurance against this disease.

Mr. Neff warned Texans to beware of advertised "cure alls," patent medicines, and such quack remedies. There are only three accepted methods of treatment - surgery, x-ray, and radium.

Take Your Family To Sunday School

There has never been a period in the world's history when we have greater need for religious training and spiritual strength than today. Everybody believes in physical training for the development of the body and in mental instruction for the improvement of the mind.

The Sunday school aids tremendously in providing the culture for the whole family. We cannot afford to neglect church attendance for old and young, and by the same token we should not fail to avail ourselves of the golden opportunity of Sunday school attendance.

The Sunday school is not just for women and children, although it is the literal handmaiden of the church in this respect, but it offers just what men of the church need - spiritual training and development.
