WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP) — Congress put added power behind the bigger-and-better Air Force drive today, temporarily shunting aside plans for universal military training.

The aerial expansion program moved forward in both House and Senate as lawmakers sought to balance manpower and money demands and yet provide the speediest and most effective national defense.

Soviets Rule Out A Berlin Crash Probe

The Russians today ruled out a four-power investigation of the British-Soviet plane collision over Berlin Monday and called the British version of the crash a slander.

Sokolovsky did not say whether he intended to use fighter planes. The British and Americans alerted fighters for escort duty after the Monday incident, but rescinded the order when the Russians gave what the British called "a satisfactory explanation."

The crash killed 14 aboard the British plane, including two Americans, and the Soviet fighter pilot. A few hours later Sokolovsky expressed regret. He assured the British the Russians did not intend to interfere with flights along the air corridor to Berlin.

However, both the Russian investigating commission and the Moscow radio yesterday blamed the British for the crash. Sokolovsky's new line, expressed in a letter to Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British commander, tallied with the Moscow radio version.

Sokolovsky said the Russians will agree to a British-Russian inquiry, but a four-power investigation is not warranted.

Sokolovsky's apparent reversal was the newest development in the Berlin crisis arising from Soviet restrictions on Allied rail traffic to and from Berlin.

U. S. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the U. S. military governor, said in his monthly report today the Russians and their satellites have grabbed the lion's share of industrial reparations from the U. S. zone of Germany—nearly twice as much as was delivered to 12 Western Allied nations.

Pilot's Family Sees Him Crash

THOMASTON, Me., April 8. (AP)—Baby "booties" and an affectionate note, tossed from an Air Force plane, were the unforeseen last gifts of a young father to his wife and 19-month-old son who saw him crash to his death moments later.

Sgt. Francis A. Haraden, 21, of Rockland, and Dow Air Force base, Bangor, died of multiple fractures in the plunge of a light training plane into swampland yesterday.

He had just dropped a parcel containing the booties and note on to a lawn where his wife, Dorothy, 19, and baby, Douglas, waved a greeting.

"I won't be able to get home tonight but will tomorrow," a relative said the note told Mrs. Haraden. It was signed, "Love, Fran."

Eye-witnesses said the plane appeared to develop engine trouble and went into a steep dive. It broke in half on impact but did not burn. Haraden's body was found in cockpit wreckage.

Haraden was a wartime Army lieutenant. He enlisted in the Air Force last January and was assigned to the 14th Airdrome Group at the Dow Base.

A guard was mounted over the plane's wreckage as Dow officials, who said the crash occurred on a training flight, sought to learn its cause.

Seventeen Escape Training School

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 8. (AP)—The Oklahoma highway patrol said today 17 boys, ranging in age from 13 to 18, had escaped from the Oklahoma Training School for White Boys at Helena since Tuesday night.

Four were recaptured. The superintendent of the school, Tom Forsythe, resigned Tuesday. An audit had disclosed a $5,286.61 shortage in the accounts of John W. Trumbull, former chief clerk.

BOGOTA CONFERENCE

U.S. Is Seeking Latin American Oil

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 8. (AP)—The United States, officials said today, wants more oil from Latin America to help overcome a critical shortage.

She is interested in reaching a sound economic agreement in the current ninth Pan American Conference here in an effort to make Latin America one of her leading petroleum suppliers, they said.

The U. S. now depends heavily upon Middle Eastern countries for oil. Informants said, however, that political difficulties in that area and the lack of economical transportation facilities work against boosting Middle East production.

Mexico, Venezuela and Colombia now are the leading Latin American oil producers. U. S. officials believe other American republics offer good possibilities.

Several countries are willing to go ahead with new explorations. But they lack materials and equipment to drill new wells. The oil shortage is complicated by a steel shortage.

The Mexican government has informed the U. S. that if machinery is made available, the oil output there will be raised considerably. Argentina is in the same boat.

Oil is said to be in the minds of many U. S. officials when they insist that Latin American countries open their doors to foreign capital.

Enrique V. Corominas of Argentina told the conference yesterday, "America can no longer tolerate European hands in control of territory belonging to all of us."

He backed up a Guatemalan proposal that certain European colonies in the western hemisphere be eliminated. He called for an amendment to include the Falkland Islands and Antarctic areas. Enrique Bernstein of Chile endorsed Corominas' idea.

Requests Amarillo Hospital Support

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—Rep. Worley (D-Tex.) asked President Truman's support yesterday for a proposed 300-bed addition to the Amarillo Veterans Administration hospital.

Worley said Truman approved the general idea, but pointed out final decision would be left to the VA and Congress.

Former Aggie To Head CAA

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—President Truman today nominated Delos Wilson Rentzel of Virginia to head the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

He succeeds Theodore P. Wright, who resigned as CAA administrator. Rentzel has been chairman of the board and president of Aeronautical Radio Inc.; president and chairman of the board of Aero Radio of Mexico and chairman of the Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics.

He is 39, a native of Houston, Tex., and a graduate of Texas A&M College.

Phinney Is TNG Executive Officer

Appointment of an executive officer for Big Spring's formative National Guard Battery was announced Thursday by the state adjutant general's office in Austin.

He will be Harry L. Phinney, a first lieutenant, and he will be next in command to the Battery's commanding officer, Captain T. A. Harris, Jr.

Efforts are continuing, Harris said, to bring enlistments in the Battery up to operating strength. Enough men have signed to get federal designation for the unit.

WANT A JOB?

Hoffman Is Busy Setting Up Aid Staff

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman today pitched into the job of setting up a staff to get the multi-billion dollar European recovery program into operation.

The new ERP boss has 5,000 or more job applications ready for study. But officials expect him to turn to the State Department at the outset for key assistants.

Congress, in voting $5,300,000,000 to help 16 Western European countries help themselves, ruled that the enterprise should be run by an agency independent of the State Department. But that department is the only one with any sizeable group of workers familiar with Europe's economic headaches.

One top government official commented that the ERP law permits Hoffman to "borrow, transfer or swipe" the people he needs from any government agency.

Hoffman's most pressing problem is to pick a deputy agreeable to both President Truman and the Senate. Speculation has included the names of Ferdinand Eberstadt, New York banker and wartime government official, and Richard F. Allen, a Red Cross administrator who directed American winter relief for France, Italy and Austria.

Acting with unusual speed, the Senate suspended its rules yesterday to confirm Hoffman as the $20,000 a year recovery administrator. The Foreign Relations Committee earlier approved Mr. Truman's choice of the South Bend, Ind., motor car maker by a 13-0 vote.

Plaintiffs File Blast Suits

Suits seeking more than $1 million in damages were filed yesterday in Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri against the federal government as outgrowths of the Texas City disaster last April 16, and another for $50 million was expected to be filed today by the Monsanto Chemical Co.

The suits were filed in Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and St. Louis by widows and children of men killed in the waterfront explosions and by an insurance company.

Other suits have been filed. The explosion left 512 persons dead or missing, 3,000 injured and hundreds of homes and scores of buildings destroyed or damaged.

The suit filed in Fort Worth listed five widows and the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company as plaintiffs. They seek a total of $608,750.

The suit, first filed in Fort Worth as a result of the Texas City tragedy, alleged that the government was negligent and "failed to give such warning and precautions as it had a duty in law to give."

It's Rattlesnake Killing Time Again

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 8. (AP)—Zzzzzz! It's rattlesnake time again in the sunny, undulating gypsum hills of Oklahoma.

From more than 17 states rattlesnake hunters are arriving with their little forked sticks and bulging sacks.

For next Sunday is the ninth annual revival of that fabulous Oklahoma sporting event—the Okeene Rattlesnake Hunt.

Starting tomorrow, hunters will open a three-day convention at Okeene and nearby Enid before heading for the risky climax of the hunt itself. Four hundred are registered for the first day alone.

Men and snakes haven't got along too well since that time in the Garden of Eden, but it's been more or less a you-go-your-way and I'll-go-mine affair.

It required hot-blooded Oklahomans to change all that and take mass vengeance on the serpent. . . incidentally making it pay in hard skin dollars.

For pay it does. If past form is any guide, about 5,000 hunters will come home Sunday (at least most of them will) lugging about 500 highly exasperated rattlers.

To catch a rattler, you have to find him before he finds you. Then you pin his head down with a forked stick. Then you get a noose over his head and gently lift him into a sack. The snake doesn't like this, and all the time is making a noise like a bill collector at the door-buzzer.

If the rattler catches you, it makes a good after-dinner story for the rest of your life. . . maybe.

The handsomer snakes go to zoos to study humanity from behind glass windows. The fat boys wind up as canned rattlesnake steaks or salad to delight the well-fed epicure. Athletic rattlers find new lives in sideshows and circuses.

Last but not least, some go to medical laboratories, for the hunt is not all a gag. The snakes are the only source of anti-venom serum, and also produce a painkiller for cancer victims.

And despite the popularity of a well-known folk remedy, the serum is the only reliable antidote for snake bite.

In all the years of the hunt, only four persons have ever been bitten, and none have died.

Italian Reds Hit Letter Campaign

ROME, April 8. (AP)—The Communist-backed Popular Front attacked today the letter-writing campaign of Italian-Americans urging Communist defeat in the April 18 elections.

Italians in America have sent a flood of letters to Italy, and this attack against them was seen by some as an indication the letters are having considerable effect.

Avanti!, the newspaper of the pro-Communist Socialist Front, gave its entire back page to a multi-colored broadside against the letters. It urged that the page be cut out and pasted up as a poster.

Meanwhile, party members, hitched up their belts for a final week of campaigning for Italy's vital parliamentary balloting.

Reports from both Communists and anti-Communists as well as from foreign observers indicate the final campaign week may bring some surprises. There are possibilities that sensational last-minute efforts to capture wavering votes may develop.

Communists in Rome have been boasting that the "last big electoral coup will be ours."

A poster said the Christian Democrats might be ready to expose an alleged Communist plot to force the Pope to leave Rome if the Popular Front wins.

Rome newspapers said a communist from Allied authorities in Trieste announced that civil government in the British-American zone of the free territory will be transferred April 12 into Italian hands.

Dispatches from Trieste said the British-American government office of the zonal commissariat and all American Military Government communal offices except one will be abolished then. Trieste

STATE CONTROL KEY

Federal School Aid Gains Supporters

By Paul Bolton
Herald Austin Bureau

AUSTIN, April 8—State officials have been less outspoken this year in their opposition to Federal aid to education. In past years, such opposition has been vigorous. This probably is due to the fact that the Senate-approved bill sponsored by Senator Taft so specifically provides that the states and local communities shall retain all policy-making.

In fact, the chief question heard in Austin concerning the measure was why Senator Connally's vote was recorded against it.

Preliminary estimates have been made showing that Texas would receive $11,885,000 in Federal funds under the Taft bill. It is a complicated formula and the estimate is necessarily tentative because it involves current figures which could not be obtained until the effective date of the law—if it is passed in the lower House.

Essentially, the bill intends to make certain that each state get an amount which will ensure the expenditure of $45 per child, but that's just a part of the story. Here's the way it works out for Texas:

The average total income for Texas for the period 1942-46 was $6,025,000,000. One per cent of that would be $60,250,000, to obtain the first figure used in the calculation. The estimated number of children between 5 and 17 is 1,803,000. If the state expended $45 on each child, that would be $72,135,000. The difference between those two figures—$72,135,000 minus $60,250,000—is $11,885,000, the tentative estimate of the amount Texas would receive.

This is to be compared with $8,015,000, the amount Texas would receive under a straight $5 per child allotment. That $5-per-child is the amount many states will get. As an instance, the state of Pennsylvania: In that state, the one per cent of income figure is greater than the amount which would be spent if the state spent $45 per child. Therefore Pennsylvania would be entitled under the bill to only the $5 per child allotment.

The data which was before the Senate at the time of its debate certainly will undergo many changes. For instance, it showed that Texas was spending—with state and local support, approximately $120,000,000 a year on education, about 2 per cent of its income. But state expenditures were sharply stepped up last year, to a point where Texas was spending considerably more than 2 per cent. However that will not bear on the formula under the Taft bill.

The conclusion proved by the percent-of-income figures is that the poorer states must have help to bring their educational expenditure up to a point more nearly in line with the richer states. As an example: Texas' 2 per cent amounts to about $120,000,000 a year. New York spends but 1.7 per cent on its schools, but the money is $324,000,000. Montana spends 3.2 per cent of its income, but the money is only $17,000,000. The poorer state, the more of its income must be spent on schools; the United States average is 1.8 per cent.

With all the national publicity about the wealth of Texas—including pictures of prominent Texas millionaires in LIFE magazine, it was revealing to know that in per capita wealth, Texas ranks 35th in the nation, on the basis of 1945 figures.

According to those figures, the 1945 per capita income payment in Texas was $975. The national average was $1,177; and the several states ranged up to the New York average of $1,588. It was a curious parallel that Texas was 34th, during the same year, in per pupil expenditure for pupils in school: $102.46, compared with $194.47 in New York, and the national average of $125.41.

Art Exhibit Is Held In W. D. Green Home

Mrs. Mary Raley presented paintings by her art students in an exhibit in the home of Mrs. W. D. Green Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. R. Chaney, Mrs. Alton Underwood, Mrs. Robert Satterwhite, Mrs. R. L. Coffee and Mrs. Green. They were all in formal dress. Tommie Hill and Patsy Young presided at the guest book.

The rooms were decorated with lilacs, iris, tulips and violets.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and held a centerpiece of lilacs and white iris. White candles in the crystal holders were on either side of the flowers. A crystal punch service completed the table appointments.

Guests were conducted through the exhibit by Mrs. Raley.

Outstanding in the show were "An Eagle" by Pascal Odom; "The Christ" by Marian Lanum; "American Scene" by Mrs. Robert Satterwhite; "Iris" by Mrs. Lee Nuckels; a life size of "Roman girl at the Fountain" by La Rue Tate; "Land" by Mrs. Alton Underwood; "Fruit" by Ruby Jo Bledsoe and two landscapes by Patsy Young and Tommy Hill, all in oils.

Pastels were "Ship at Sea" by Jim Duggan, "Horses" by Joy Smith; "Lilies" by Mrs. John Chaney.

Academy sketches in crayon, pencil and charcoal received attention.

Approximately 200 persons called during the receiving hours during the afternoon and evening.

SHOVEL and HOE

A Garden Column by Virginia Scott. Presented by the Big Spring Garden Club.

Don't let April fool you, she is not all showers. This is a very busy month, and a very beautiful one all budding and blossoming with Spring.

The condition of your soil will be your guide to garden operations. Wet soil does not work well, it should crumble between the fingers. Where summers are long, dry and hot, special attention must be given the soil. Leafmold or rotted manure, mixed well into the soil about five or six inches deep, will help.

Heavy soils can be lightened with humus, and light soils can be made retentive of moisture with the same medicine. Interesting business, this gardening.

Some of the flowers that can really take summer drought are—cosmos nimbregia, santolina, gailardia, salvia, portulaca, marigolds, zinnias, petunias, and calliopis. If you can water them, by all means do so, but we have grown them without artificial watering.

In most sections, evergreens can be moved all this month. Late planted nursery stock many require more attention during the summer. Two outstanding evergreens for southern states are Arizona cypress and cedrus deodora. Arizona cypress is very large and grows fast. It is doubtfully hardy above the Upper-South. Makes lovely accent points on very large places. Cedrus deodora is more graceful, of about the same bluish-gray color, and has about the same hardiness. Both can stand occasional zero weather but they don't like it. Canadian hemlock and blue spruce are desirable specimen plants for the colder sections.

Gardeners are always looking for something blue. A pretty annual is heteropappus, blue daisy, a bushy, compact plant about eight to ten inches tall with blossoms from one to one and one-half inches across. Cynoglossum firmament is another good blue, dwarf. A taller cynoglossum is Blanche Burpee in mixed colors.

Marigold Yellow Pymy is a fine edging plant. It is dwarf, compact and bears a big crop of lemon yellow blooms. Should be planted to stand eight to twelve inches apart, does not require excessively rich soil.

Keep on planting gladiolus corms every two weeks until July. This will give cut flowers all through the season. Well-drained, sandy loam is preferred soil. Plants should be staked.

Tender bulbs that have been forced into bloom in the house are not worth saving. Tulips, hyacinths and other hardy bulbs can be planted outside for bloom the second year. It takes them a year to recover after their experience in the house.

Keep the spray gun handy. Complete rose sprays are sold at most seed stores. Control bag-worms with arsenate of lead spray when you see them eating the plants. Solution is four table spoons arsenate of lead to one gallon of water.

Dahlias can be planted after danger of frost is over. The miniatures are very attractive, and good in the border. Plant in full sun from eighteen to twenty four inches apart. Need plenty of moisture for best development. Grow in good garden soil. Little Diamond is a good miniature in a nice shade of pink.

Man Blows Self To Bits

LOS ANGELES, April 8, (AP)—A lonely, frustrated old man blew himself to bits yesterday with a crudely-fashioned bomb that wrecked the offices of the State Industrial Accident Commission. Four persons were injured by the explosion. The man was identified as Charles W. Hunter, 65, who lost his left arm in an industrial accident in 1927. The commission was paying him $6.57 a week disability and had under consideration his application for a lump sum settlement, officials said.

The deafening blast shattered scores of windows, blew out a big portion of a wall in the commission waiting room, on the fifth floor of the California state building, and brought throngs from nearby buildings in the civic center.

Referee J. J. Batistich of the commission said Hunter originally had demanded $50,000 for his disability, but scaled the figure down and had appeared at the commission offices nearly every day, disgruntled over his status.

Police investigators said Hunter detonated dynamite sticks that he carried in his trousers pocket. Wire concealed in his clothing ran from the sticks to a series of small batteries and a plunger. The lower part of the man's body was blown away by the terrific explosion.

Moulder Purchased

SAN ANTONIO, April 8, (AP)—After a series of border battles the Chicago White Sox and Pittsburgh Pirates moved into San Antonio for a four-game series starting tonight. Glen Moulder, pitcher obtained by the Sox from the St. Louis Browns, was expected to join his new club here today.

SOIL CONSERVATION

Cooperator Finds Ungrazed Stubble Protects Land More

F. A. Wilson, cooperator with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, found that protection of combine maize stubble from grazing helped keep his land from blowing this year. Wilson kept his dairy cows off 50-acre field of combine maize stubble on his farm in the Fairview soil conservation group and left the stubble unplowed.

He reported last week that very little soil blew on this field during the severe sand storms this year. On another field of stubble which was grazed Wilson said he lost a lot of soil from blowing. Wilson stated that never again would he graze his stubble land.

H. G. Talbot planted 45 acres of Madrid clover on his farm in the Richland group last week. Talbot planted the clover as a part of his coordinated soil conservation program to build up the soil by adding nitrogen and organic matter. The clover crop will also furnish a high quality protein feed for supplemental grazing.

Construction started last week on a 2900-foot diversion terrace on the farm of Ross Hill, district cooperator in the Elbow conservation group. Hill is building the diversion terrace to protect his terraces on a 65-acre field. Assistance in laying out the diversion terrace was furnished by the Soil Conservation Service.

E. W. Brown maintained his terrace system this year on his farm in the North Vincent soil conservation group by plowing to them with a disc plow. Building up terraces by plowing to them each year is important to keep them from working down where they will break. Brown also returned about 200 acres of feed stubble to his land and has 50 acres of small grain cover crop this year.

Albert Davis, who completed a soil conservation plan on his farm west of Center Point last week, has 57 acres of Abruzzi rye and hairy vetch which is doing a good job of protecting his sandy field from blowing. Davis planted the rye and vetch last fall for a cover and soil building crop. He is also getting considerable grazing from the cover crop.

Farm plans were also made out by J. C. Sheppard on the H. D. Bledsoe farm north of Vincent, Bill Layfield on the farm of Mrs. Alice McGregor in the Coahoma conservation group and Roy Bates whose farm is west of Big Spring. Layfield has terraced the McGregor farm this year as part of his conservation program.

Bates terraced part of his land and planted 12 acres of Austrian Winter peas in combine maize stubble this year. He also has 14 acres of Abruzzi rye and Austrian peas for cover crops. Bates is making a trial application of superphosphate on 5 acres of his land to find out the effect of the fertilizer on his crops. He is putting down about 100 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate to the acre.

J. B. Mansfield, district cooperator in the Morgan Soil Conservation group, has 4 acres of hairy vetch planted in rows in wheat stubble last fall. The vetch is making good growth in the volunteer wheat crop, and will build up the soil by adding nitrogen.

J. L. Kennedy has chiseled all his farm land in the Morgan group this year. Kennedy reports that the chisel type plowing put his land up in good shape and left about 30 acres of wheat stubble on or near the surface of the soil.

Lines for terrace construction were run last week on the farms of Ed Carpenter and Pat Harding, district cooperators in the Vincent soil conservation group.

Ball Wants Labor Law Tightened Up

WASHINGTON, April 8, (AP)—Congress will be under mounting pressure next year to tighten up the Taft-Hartley labor act, Senator Ball (R-Minn) said today. Among possible changes he mentioned are revival of the government's power to seize struck plants and application of the anti-trust laws to labor unions.

The chairman of the Senate-House "watchdog" committee set up to observe operation of the 1946 law struck out at what he called administration "bungling" in the current soft coal and meat strikes. In his weekly news-letter to his constituents, Ball wrote:

"The delay in utilizing the procedures of the Taft-Hartley act is inexcusable in these two industry-wide strikes, both of which are a have serious repercussions on all the people and on our economy."

"Steel mills already are shutting down for lack of coal and more will do so the next week. With steel already in short supply, that will really hurt."

He said the meat packing strike has forced farmers to hold animals on the farm after they were in prime marketing condition.

The President's fact-finding board made a report on the coal situation on March 31. Ball said, but after that "the White House sat on it" until April 3.

"All the delay accomplished," he said, "was to give John L. Lewis a chance to indulge his psychopathic craving for amateur histrionics and thumbing his nose at the government and the people of the United States."

Ball said there already are demands for stronger laws to deal with industry-wide bargaining and strikes "and they will grow in volume."

Whyburn's New Job Still A Mystery

COLORADO CITY, April 8. (AP)—Dr. W. M. Whyburn's announcement that he was resigning as president of Texas Technological College at Lubbock posed two questions today.

1. What is the name of the "major university" whose faculty he said he was joining?

2. Who will succeed him as Tech president?

In a letter to Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City, chairman of the board of directors of the college, he asked to be relieved of his duties Aug. 31, expiration date of his contract.

He did not name the university he expected to join, but said that the "new position would place me at the focus of a highest professional level development not only in mathematics, but in the related fields of physics, chemistry, statistics and philosophy."

There was some speculation the 47-year-old educator would join the staff of the University of North Carolina. But Chancellor R. B. House would neither confirm nor deny the report.

The university has been looking for a head for its mathematics department.

Whyburn is a native of Denton County. He is widely known throughout the nation as a mathematician. He has been president of Tech since 1944.

Thompson said the board had not had an opportunity to discuss a successor to Whyburn.

CIO Planning House-To-House Vote Campaign

AUSTIN, April 8. (AP)—A house-to-house drive for votes is the key point in the Congress of Industrial Organization's Texas political action program this spring and summer.

This plan was announced in the current issue of the CIO News Notes, published here. The publication said that the list of Texas cities and towns where CIO workers are building up a precinct-by-precinct and block-by-block organization "reads like the postal guide to Texas."

Chairman J. J. Hickman of the Texas State Political Action Committee and Mrs. Pauline Kibbe, the new Texas director of PAC, have just completed a statewide tour in the interests of getting out the vote.

On their itinerary were San Antonio, Waco, Odessa, El Paso, Laredo, Lower Rio Grande Valley cities, Corpus Christi, Houston, Galveston, Port Arthur, Beaumont, Kilgore, Dallas and points in between.

"From this tour comes one conclusion: Our members are busy getting ready for a showdown at the ballot box," they said. "With poll tax payments that broke all records, we have the means to do it."

The CIO news letter indicated three objectives in getting out the vote: To defeat Texas legislators who voted for anti-labor legislation at the last session, the same for members of Congress, and to assure a big turn-out friendly to labor at precinct conventions.

Cole Is Seeking Glasscock Post

GARDEN CITY, April 8.—Claude B. Cole today announced he would be a candidate for re-election to the office of county commissioner of precinct No. 3 of Glasscock county.

Cole has lived in Glasscock county off and on since 1900 and continuously for the past 12 years. He said "I have tried to serve everyone in a fair and square manner, under prevailing conditions, and if honored with a second term I will continue to serve all to the best of my ability."

He pointed out that he is thoroughly familiar with the needs of his precinct and of the county as a whole and would be found working in the interest of all. Cole said he would appreciate the vote of his constituents.

WAITRESS CAN HANDLE MINERS

JANE LEW, W. Va., April 8. (AP)—A five-foot, 110-pound waitress drove more than 75 roving coal pickets from a tavern here, with the aid of a .32 calibre revolver.

R. E. Burley, manager of the tavern, said from 75 to 100 miners entered the establishment during his absence while Betty Rogers was in charge. The girl considered them "too noisy," refused to serve them, and ordered them to leave.

They refused, even when she went to the back room and reappeared with a revolver. But when she cocked it, they roved elsewhere.

Sweetwater Ponies Play Steers Here Tomorrow

Sweetwater's high school Mustangs, who upset the Odessa Broncs in a game at Sweetwater earlier in the week, advance on Steer park Friday afternoon to do battle in a District 3AA game with Coma Isaacs' Big Spring Steers. Game time is 3 o'clock.

Isacs will probably send James Boatman to the hill in an attempt to put the Longhorns back in the pennant fight. The locals suffered a loss at the hands of Lamesa Tornados Tuesday.

Isacs has been teaching his charges the art of hitting behind the runner in recent practice sessions. The Bovines hit on even terms with Lamesa but could not punch their blows.

San Angelo currently is leading the league with two wins in as many starts. The Angelenos play Odessa tomorrow in Odessa. The other game finds Midland invading Abilene for a debate with last year's league champs.

Abilene dropped a one-run decision to Angelo last week and apparently will have their hands full trying to repeat. Angelo later subdued Midland, 19-16, in a wild slugfest.

All teams appear to be weak in pitching but Angelo, coached by Speedy Moffett, apparently boasts the most power.

Five Vets Lead Masters' Open Golf Turnout

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8. (AP)—Five veterans led a blue ribbon field in today's opening of the twelfth annual Masters' golf tournament.

Two of the leaders have finished first in this stiff and sterling competition, one of whom—Jimmy Demaret, is the defending champion. Demaret won this 72-hole event in 1940.

Bracketed with him as today's favorites were the South African star Bobby Locke, Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum, and Byron Nelson.

The condition of the 6,800-yard National country club course favors the longer hitters because of the soggy fairways produced by recent abnormal rains.

There was little chance for the course to dry. Cloudy weather prevailed during practice preceding the first of four daily rounds of 18 holes. The final round is set for Sunday. Top money in the $10,000 event is $2,000.

Nelson who won in 1937 and repeated in 1942, has been playing well. So have Hogan and Locke. All were consistently under par during tournament rounds.

Mangrum rates a position in the select group as the leading money winner on the winter tour, which ends with this event. He has the tour's best stroke average—69.25—for 43 rounds and won three of the eleven 72-hole events.

Lubbock Club Plays Broncs Here Tonight

Locals Blast Lamesa, 9-4

Lubbock's Hubbers, regular visitors here in other years, descend upon Big Spring this evening for an exhibition baseball game with Our Town's Broncs. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The Hubbers put in here regularly in the late '30's and early '40's when Big Spring was a member of the WT-NM league. Local fans will hardly recognize them this evening, however. Their lineup has long since been revamped from top to bottom.

Skipper of the visitors is Jackie Sullivan, a former Texas leaguer, who is not as bombastic as Hack Miller, the old Lubbock boss, but is considered a competent baseball man.

"The Lubbock team, like Odessa of the Longhorn league, is supplied with players from the Dallas club of the Texas league.

Manager Pat Stacey of the locals will probably use Jimmy Perez, Gerry Rodriguez and either Carlos Cowan or Hubie Sheppard on the hill this evening.

A long triple by Ace Mendez touched off a six-run rally in the sixth inning that enabled the Big Springers to thump the Lamesa Lobos, 9-4, before nearly a thousand of the home folks at Steer park Wednesday night.

The Lamesans had hopped away to a three run lead in the first two rounds but the Hosses pecked away until the sixth, when they drove Leon Hayes, a leftie, from the hill, and kept hammering away at Chris Haskins, ace of the Lamesa staff.

Larry Shaw and Francisco Perez combined to pitch sterling ball for the resident nine. Shaw was shaky and wild at the beginning but settled before he exited in the fifth. Perez looked good all the way.

Stacey inserted himself into the lineup and was tough as a boot with the hickory, as usual. He drove out two doubles and a single in four trips.

George Lopez had two singles as did Jake McClain and Manny Cadalso.

Probing Prof May Not Relish Any Sports That Profitable

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP)—A professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin, one of the few strongholds of intercollegiate boxing, has asked that University's athletic department to survey the sport to find out if it is detrimental. Without knowing the man who made that request, we suspect that he's inclined to be suspicious of any sport that's profitable. Having watched college boxing for some time, this observer is firmly convinced (1) that few of the college kids can hit hard enough to do any real damage and (2) that a college boxer is in much less danger of being seriously hurt than a football player. The precautions taken often come close to being ridiculous. Of course, the prof has pinned one tough rap on boxing—what does it do to maintain and advance cultural standards? Maybe it doesn't do anything in that line, but it does take a kid to take a punch in the nose and come back for more.

Today Guest Star Norris Anderson, Lincoln, Neb., Star: "The Cardinals made fewer errors than any other major league team last summer, but the one they made was bad, oh boy!—fumbling away the National league pennant."

Quote, Unquote
Ben Chapman, Phillies' manager: "I'm aiming for every ball game we play. We will win more

3AA Net Meet Set Saturday

Coach Johnny Malaise takes his boys' and girls' tennis teams to Midland Saturday to compete in the 1948 District 3AA tournament. The netters have fared well in practice matches to date and Bill Montgomery may have the guns to bring home the singles title. Champions will qualify for bi-district play.

McCall Still Socker

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 8. (AP)—Johnny "Windy" McCall still is on the roster of the Boston Red Sox Louisville farm club, but he is earning himself a thorough trial with the Sox. The right-hander allowed only one hit in six innings yesterday against New Orleans and drove in four runs with a double and a single.

Bluejays Swap For D. Sisler

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 8. (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies apparently have solved their first base problem and the St. Louis Cardinals obtained promising shortstop insurance in a deal involving Dick Sisler and Ralph La-pointe.

The swap, announced late yesterday, brings Sisler to the Phillies in exchange for La-pointe and an unannounced sum of money believed to be around $20,000.

Sisler gives the Phils a long-bat hitting left-handed batter who also can play in the outfield. In La-pointe the Cards get a hustling, hard-hitting shortstop as a possible replacement for the fragile Marty Marion.

The acquisition of Sisler, son of George Sisler of St. Louis Browns' fame, also helps Manager Ben Chapman with the problem of what to do with veterans Bert Haas and Roy Cullenbine.

The Philly manager now can go ahead with plans to station Haas definitely at third base and have Cullenbine available for the outfield. Both Haas and Cullenbine were being considered for first base.

One out of every three U. S. children who die during school age is an accident victim.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Sweetwater's baseball Sports may have one of the tallest players in the state manning first base for them this season. He is Tom Orr, a 6 feet 5 1/2 inch youth from Fort Worth, who has been looking to advance in spring drills.

Ken Jones, an infielder from Warrensburg, Mo., working with the Sports, is a brother of LeRoy "Lefty" Jones, the Sports' leading pitcher last year. LeRoy, by the way, is still with Shreveport and will probably start the season with Salty Parker's clan.

Lone left handed pitcher in the Sweetwater camp is Coleman Robinson, a rookie sent west by the Shreveport chain.

MIDLAND ROOKIE A BROTHER TO AGGIE GRID STAR

Dave Pugh, a right handed pitcher bidding for a regular job with Harold Webb's Indians, is a brother to Marion Pugh, the Texas A&M grid star of several seasons back.

The Melillo boys, Henry and Eddie, are back with Webb's troops and apparently have won regular berths.

Fems' Bowling Show Underway

DALLAS, April 8. (AP)—The Women's International Bowling congress starts a month's run tonight as Mrs. Jeannette Kneppgrath of Milwaukee, the organization's president, sends the first ball spinning down the lane.

Bowlers seeking shares in the pot of gold were moving from every section of the nation, from Canada and the Canal Zone, heading toward Dallas and the first congress ever held in Texas and the third south of the Mason-Dixon line.

By May 10 when the tournament ends $2,282 games will have been rolled on the 26 Young street alleys. In addition the National Individual Sweepstakes tournament will be held at the Brantley alleys—these coming on April 19 and 20 when there will be no bowling in the big tournament while the WIBC convention is being held.

The formal opening of the Congress tonight is an all-Texas affair with 26 teams from the Texas State College for Women competing in the booster or novice division. Tomorrow night the out-of-Texas teams swing into action with competitors from Tulsa and Enid, Okla.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Lakewood, Colo.; Wichita, Kans.; Fort Worth, Tex., and Dallas.

During the run of the tournament some 7,000 women will compete for the $52,386 in cash prizes. There are 1,456 five-woman teams, 2,553 doubles teams and 5,076 singles.

The teams will roll 21,840 games, the doubles 15,316 games and the singles 15,226 games. This means 52 teams, 130 singles and 130 doubles will roll each day and night.

Bengals Elect New Manager

The Latin-American baseball Tigers, who have elected A. O. (Pacho) Martinez as their manager, go to Colorado City Sunday to open their 1948 season against that city's Indians.

Martinez succeeded Ynez Yanez as pilot. Yanez re-organized the local club after they had disbanded during the war years.

The club will play its home games on a new diamond owned by Mrs. Denton. The field is situated near the Big Spring compress. Colorado City should provide quite a test for the locals. The Tribe defeated Midland last week.

SISLER

The swap, announced late yesterday, brings Sisler to the Phillies in exchange for La-pointe and an unannounced sum of money believed to be around $20,000.

Sisler gives the Phils a long-bat hitting left-handed batter who also can play in the outfield. In La-pointe the Cards get a hustling, hard-hitting shortstop as a possible replacement for the fragile Marty Marion.

The acquisition of Sisler, son of George Sisler of St. Louis Browns' fame, also helps Manager Ben Chapman with the problem of what to do with veterans Bert Haas and Roy Cullenbine.

OLD MAN KNEW CLASS WHEN HE SAW IT

This tale comes from Florida, where half the major league teams have been in training.

It seems an ancient, who probably had never seen anything but a sand lot game in his life, ankled into the park at Clearwater one afternoon where the New York Yankees were staging a drill. The Gothamites were slugging the ball all over the place and whipping it around the infield with great abandon.

The greybeard finally had a suspicion. Turning to his neighbor, he cracked: "By George, those boys play like professionals."

L. D. (Little Dutch) Meyer, the former TCU football end who turned professional baseballer some years back, will play second base with the Minneapolis Millers the coming season. He was with Buffalo last year.

EXPERTS SAY OLYMPIC BOXERS TOO CUTE TO BE GOOD

According to some boxing experts, the US Olympic fistcuiffers will be up against it in the Games this season. Reason, is, they're long distance scrappers who have been taught it's against the rule to fight in close.

This said the champions would stand little chance against the Golden Gloves gladiators crowned earlier this year.

Incidentally, California Bob Apperson, who won a Golden Gloves title here two years ago and who lost out in the Olympic tryout finals last weekend, almost lost out in the semi-finals but came from far back to end the fight with one punch in Round Three.

Apperson came within a whisker of winning the state crown in Fort Worth after qualifying here. He hails from Long Beach, incidentally.

Colorado City Loses To JC Hawks, 17-7

COLORADO CITY, April 8. (AP)—Howard County Junior college's Jayhawks stamped themselves as one of the teams to beat in the Tri-County baseball league by trouncing Colorado City, 17-7, here Wednesday evening.

Errors contributed much to the Colorado City downfall, that and some determined hitting on the part of the Hawks. The home club made the astonishing total of 14 miscues.

Don Clark of the Hawks, who had a triple and two singles to his credit, turned in the game's most spectacular catch in the fifth inning when he speared a line drive back of third base.

Noble Walker, Colorado City manager, suffered a broken arm in the sixth inning when he collided with Charles Buckner at home plate. Buckner was attempting to score on a passed ball.

Baylor Again Suffers Loss

By The Associated Press

Southern Methodist university at Dallas and the University of Texas at Austin today remained as the only unbeaten teams in the South-west conference baseball race.

Both teams are credited with two wins against no losses.

Baylor university of Waco, for a time highly rated, was rapidly losing pace. The Bears suffered two consecutive defeats at the hands of Texas A. & M. of College Station.

The latest defeat was yesterday. The Aggies won 5-2. Jesse Burditt hit a drive over the left fence in the seventh for the three runs which won the game. Bobby Fretz allowed the Bears nine hits and as many walks.

The day before, the Aggies blanked the Bears 8-0. Conference standing for the Aggies is two wins and one loss. The Bears have won two and lost two within the conference. Neither Texas Christian nor Rice have scored a win. Texas Christian has lost three and Rice two.

Texas meets Texas Christian Friday at Austin in the first of a series. They meet again Saturday.

Other Saturday games pit Rice against Texas A. & M. at Houston and Southern Methodist against Baylor at Dallas.

Cubs Snap Streak

DALLAS, April 8. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Browns moved their series into Dallas today. The Cubs snapped a losing streak yesterday by scoring five runs in the last of the ninth for a 11-10 verdict over the Browns. Manager Charlie Grimm of the Cubs is trying to get his pitchers in shape for a four-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals opening in Houston Monday.

M'ARTHUR'S WISCONSIN DEFEAT IS PUZZLING TO JAPANESE MINDS

TOKYO, April 8. (U.P.)—Japanese appeared surprised today that General MacArthur ran second in the Wisconsin presidential primary. They conceded that the supreme allied commander had lost face in Japan.
"His reputation in the United States does not compare with his reputation here," said one Japanese editor. However, Japanese newspapers have not yet commented editorially.
There still was no comment from MacArthur regarding the Wisconsin balloting. He has said nothing about the presidential campaign since his announcement of availability.

The general's self-appointed Japanese campaign drum beat—P-o-e-t-Contractor Toshiyo Oda—seemed undaunted.
"The idea that they need MacArthur soon will seep through to Americans," said Oda. He added that he would try to go to the United States himself to plead the general's cause.
When MacArthur announced his availability for the presidential nomination, Oda plastered the walls of his "Japan Instant Construction Company" with huge campaign slogans.

Students Wreck Leftist Party's Headquarters

WINDSOR, Ont., April 8. (U.P.)—A group of angered students who objected to their high school being used for Labor-Progressive Party meetings wrecked the party headquarters last night, Windsor police reported.
Officers said three party officials were hurt slightly as more than 500 young people paraded through the downtown area and smashed through barricades to invade the second-floor offices. There they pushed over furniture, dumped files on the floor, and tore up papers.
They were dispersed by 25 city police and five Royal Canadian mounted officers who rushed to the scene to rescue the party members.

No arrests were made.
Police said the students and other youths had gathered first near the Patterson collegiate, a high school, where a Labor-Progressive Party meeting was reported scheduled.
The meeting was not held, however, so the crowd headed for the party headquarters.
Reporters for the Windsor Star said they carried anti-Communist banners and placards bearing slogans such as "Who sent ya, Joe?" and paraded through the streets crying "Give 'em back to Uncle Joe."
Under the treaty of Breda, signed in 1687, the Dutch obtained the Guianas and the British acquired New Amsterdam, later called New York.

Grange Master Fears Depression

LOS ANGELES, April 8. (U.P.)—The master of the National Grange says the nation is headed for the biggest depression ever.
Addressing a group of insurance men, Albert S. Goss, of Washington, D. C., declared yesterday:
"We are piling up a new abnormal food surplus and as soon as we stop furnishing tremendous credits to Europe we will have another collapse of our economy."
"Instead of a depression of the scope of 1929 and thereafter, we will have one so tremendous that it could possibly plunge the world into one of its darkest periods. Communism could flood over the world at that time."

Wallace Planning Speech In Gary

INDIANAPOLIS, April 8. (U.P.)—Henry A. Wallace today headed for Gary, Ind., and a third Indiana speech after telling a cheering Indianapolis audience he is in the presidential race to stay.
His Indianapolis appearance last night, unlike that in Evansville, Ind., on Tuesday night, was not attended by any hostile demonstration. Police patrolled the armory where he spoke.
In Evansville, there was a protest parade, a picket line and a brief fight when some of the pickets attempted to enter the meeting hall. Three persons, including two national officials of the Wallace-for-president campaign, suffered minor injuries.
The third party presidential candidate departed from his text to "clear up a misconception."
"There have been reports I will not stay in if certain Democrats are nominated," Wallace said. "That is not true."

"I will stay in the race regardless of who the Democrats nominate. Principles are more important than men."
"The Democratic party is a war party and will not change its war policy and therefore I am going through," he said.
He accused the national Democratic administration and "the bipartisan bloc" of using Nazi technique in "their psychological warfare against the American people."

Cheese Spoon Bread Helps Add Variety And Flavor To Menus

Let's have spoon bread for a main dish, not just a "bread" dish as we usually think of bread, but more of an egg dish or soufflé. This Peace Plate version is a money-saving main dish that's enriched with cheese for variety and added food value.

Cheese spoon bread is a happy choice all around for it helps us save on meat, which is scarce and relatively high-priced. And if many of us ask for less meat at the market we can help reduce the inflated prices.

Cheese Spoon Bread
2½ cups milk
1-2 cup cornmeal
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon fat
1 cup diced cheese (¼ lb.) Cheddar
2 or 3 eggs

Southern Waffles

Here's the way to make breakfast something special — waffles make even the dreariest morning bright, providing just the necessary energy to get the family off to an early morning start. Serve steaming hot coffee as the perfect companion for Southern Waffles.

Southern Waffles
1½ cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup sweet milk
4 tablespoons melted fortified margarine

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together twice. Separate eggs, beat egg whites until very light, and the yolks until thick. Add milk to egg yolks and stir in dry ingredients, beating well. Add the melted margarine. Mix well. Fold in beaten egg whites. Bake in hot waffle iron and serve with a generous supply of melted margarine or margarine squares. Yields 5 or 6 waffles.

Baked Veal Cutlets

1 pound veal cutlet
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
1 cup crumbs
1 egg
3 tablespoons bacon drippings
¼ cup milk
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon cornstarch
1-4 teaspoon salt
Combine flour, cornstarch and salt. Blend with milk and water. Cook in double boiler until thickened. Season cutlets with salt and pepper. Dip in crumbs, then in beaten egg and again in crumbs. Sauté in hot bacon drippings until brown on all sides. Place in casserole and cover with cream sauce. Bake at 325 F. for one and a half hours.

1-2 teaspoon baking powder
Heat 2 cups milk in double boiler; add cornmeal, stirring until thickened. Add salt, sugar, table fat and diced cheese. Heat until cheese is melted. Beat egg yolks, add remainder of milk (½ cup) and stir into the mush. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which baking powder has been added and bake in a greased baking dish in a moderate oven (375 F.) for 35 to 45 minutes. Serves 4 to 5.

Menu Suggestions: Add flavor to this meal with small, white onions served as a vegetable in creamy sauce. And include green beans for color. Pickled beets on lettuce for your salad will add more color. Spicy apples baked in the oven while the spoon bread bakes might be your dessert. And they'll make even better eating with chopped raisins, figs or dates for a center filling.

Food Tips: Make your cheese for today's spoon bread the American Cheddar type, aged just enough for a nippy flavor. Fortunately, cheese which has been aged is more plentiful now than it was during the war.

You'll find three classes of Cheddar cheese on the market when you go to buy. They're classified on the basis of aging, and you can choose from the fresh, the medium-cured, or the aged. Fresh cheeses are the milder ones and those aged longer are nippier and stronger.

Cheese provides such excellent protein that it demands frequent use at your table, especially when you're cutting down on meats. And the protein value doesn't vary with the length of aging.

Use cheese generously in any dish where you need it to increase the food value. Remember that two ounces of cheese—half a cup grated—gives about as much protein as one-fourth pound of beef that has just a moderate amount of bone and fat, such as rump roast cut.

FOR FEDERAL RESERVE

Senators Predict McCabe Approval

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—A Senate okay for Thomas B. McCabe as a Federal Reserve Board member was predicted today by two senators who voted against him in committee. Chairman Tobey (R-NH) of the Banking Committee told reporters there is no doubt the Senate will confirm McCabe, who is President Truman's choice to succeed Marriner Eccles as chairman of the board. Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) joined Tobey in this forecast. They and Senator Taylor (D-Idaho) voted against McCabe late yesterday. Eight committee members voted for the Philadelphia industrialist: Republicans — Buck (Del.), Capehard (Ind), Flanders (Vt.), Cain (Wash), Bricker (Ohio), and McCarthy (Wis); Democrats — Maybank (SC), and Willis Robertson (Va). Tobey and Fulbright declined to comment on their negative votes. Taylor could not be reached. The appointment of McCabe last January was coupled with Eccles' demotion from chairman to vice chairman of the board. Mr. Truman made no explanation of why he preferred McCabe to Eccles for the top spot, but he did say he was not in anyway dissatisfied with the job Eccles had done. The Senate passes only on the nomination of McCabe to be a member of the board. Selection of the chairman is the President's right. While Tobey was silent on his committee vote, he said at the time McCabe was appointed that he intended to find out "what forces" persuaded Mr. Truman to strip Eccles of the chairmanship. Tobey pressed this line of inquiry at public hearings, but never pinned anything down. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder testified that Mr. Truman consulted with him, that he recommended McCabe as a board member, but that he had no idea he President planned to name him chairman.

Soviet Veto Seen For Italy's Bid

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP)—A Soviet veto appeared in the cards today for Italy's newest effort to become a member of the United Nations.

From all indications, the Russians are ready to flash the red light despite the effect such a move might have on the Italian elections April 18.

There also is a possibility that a Russian veto may block off Finland from UN membership, although Finland signed a new friendship and mutual aid pact with the Soviet Union only Tuesday. Burma seemed to be the only country among a dozen applicants with a chance of winning membership.

Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko insists that Italy, Finland, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary, ex-enemy countries, be admitted in a bloc or not at all. The United States and a majority of the Security Council have turned thumbs down on Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary. The U. S. is pressing for the admission of Italy and probably will back Finland.

Last year Gromyko vetoed Italy and Finland under this package proposal. Yesterday he told a Big Five meeting the Russian position is unchanged.

To be successful applicants must get a seven-vote majority of the 11-nation council and at the same time avoid a negative vote (veto) by one of the big powers. Gromyko also blocked Eire, Portugal, Austria and Trans-Jordan in 1947. Outer Mongolia and Albania, Soviet satellites, were opposed by the western powers and failed to get the necessary seven votes.

Gromyko tossed another trading proposal to the big power delegates. He said he would stop vetoing Trans-Jordan if the others would accept Outer Mongolia and Albania. Britain immediately said no.

Yesterday's fruitless meeting of the United States, Russian, French, British and Chinese delegates was held in U. S. Representative Warren R. Austin's Park Avenue offices. The membership applications now will go to the council for voting, probably early next week.

Solons May Demand Letter About Condon

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—Speaker Martin (R-Mass) predicted today the House will insist that Secretary of Commerce Harriman produce a letter relating to the loyalty of Dr. Edward U. Condon.

Martin placed the House leadership squarely behind an attempt of the Un-American Activities Committee to get the letter. The House will vote next week on a committee-sponsored resolution directing Harriman to hand it over, despite a presidential order to the contrary.

The letter was written to the secretary last May 15 by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. It contains a report on an investigation of Condon as head of the Bureau of Standards, testing agency for many top-secret military projects. The Un-American Activities Committee has ordered public hearings in the Condon case beginning April 21.

Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) has said Harriman will be invited to appear and will be subpoenaed if he fails to accept the invitation.

IT'S GOOD TO KNOW Mrs. Tucker's HOME MAKING HELPS

Looking into the future is much like looking into a mirror... what you see depends greatly on what you've placed in the background.

"Cold Facts" about Queen Strawberry for Locker or Home Freezer:

Select firm, ripe perfect berries, red all the way through. Freezing works no magic, so the fruit must be as good as the finished product you want.

Wash a quart or less at a time to avoid bruising. Handle lightly and wash thoroughly and quickly to prevent water soaking. Remove caps last and rinse once more. Drain, one layer deep, on a tray lined with paper toweling or cloths.

Sliced berries shrink less in thawing than whole ones. Slice berries directly into containers—glass jars, tubs with clip lids or boxes with cellophane liners. Slice in a layer of berries, sprinkle with a layer of sugar (about 1-3 to 1/2 cup to a pint of sliced berries) and repeat until container is filled to within 1 inch of top, shaking down to fill spaces.

For glass or tubs, wipe top and sides of containers and adjust lids. For cellophane liners, use both hands to grasp the cellophane at the top of berries and to press out the air all the way to the top. Fold edges over and seal by pressing with a warm iron, not a hot one. Place containers in home freezer at once. If they go to the locker, place in the refrigerator immediately and chill until all are finished.

They dissolve as the pie bakes, spreading their flavor throughout the filling.

Baking Powder Biscuit

Served piping hot from the oven, golden-brown, flaky biscuits make any meal more enjoyable and bring requests for encores. Here's the formula for a sure success with Baking Powder Biscuit

Baking Powder Biscuit
 2 cups flour
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 3 to 4 tablespoons fortified margarine
 3/4 cup milk (about)
 Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Cut margarine into flour until it looks like peas (do not cut too small—flaky bits about the size of peas will make flakier biscuits.) Add milk sufficient to make a soft but not sticky dough. Turn out on a floured board and knead for two or three turns. Roll out or press to desired thickness. Cut. Bake on ungreased biscuit pan in hot oven (425 F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 1 1/2 dozen biscuits.

Baked Tomato Stuffed With Green Pepper, Corn

4 tomatoes
 1 small can whole kernel corn
 1-2 green pepper, chopped
 1 teaspoon grated onion
 Celery salt
 Freshly ground black pepper
 Butter or margarine
 Remove a slice from the stem end of the tomatoes and scoop out the pulp. Sprinkle the inside of the tomato with salt. Mix the tomato pulp, whole kernel corn and green pepper. Season with grated onion, celery salt and pepper. Fill tomato shells with mixture and dot with butter or margarine. Bake in a 350 degree oven until the tomato is cooked through but is not too soft.

Grounds For Common Support Of Boards

The first two rounds of voting for 1948 has been finished, and a few new faces will be on the official boards. This is the case with the city commission, the local independent school board and the Howard County Junior College. We repeat that so far as we were able to ascertain, there were no burning issues in any of the elections, although the amount of personal industry involved may have varied sharply. There is no reason to anticipate any revolutions in policies or programs for the city, schools or college. These are moving fairly close to controlling fundamentals of finances, demands, and accepted courses.

This is not to say that any and all boards should do any less than their best to constantly advance their programs. An omnipresent need is that for constant re-evaluation. From time to time budgets and policies need to be reexamined in the light of changing times, of changing populations, of changing conditions and changing demands, and sometime of methods. A fitting devotion and alertness by our officials can help us to continue in progressively better and more effective administration of our affairs. In that objective, these men who serve out of a sense of responsibility, are due the support of the public.

Undergirding European Aid Program

The quick and unanimous Senate committee approval of Paul G. Hoffman as administrator of the European Relief Program is a hopeful sign, for it indicates a willingness to get about implementing the terms of the program which has been before Congress these many months. Perhaps there was too much delay in coming to a final decision, but in the full exercise of democratic processes, the rights of debate cannot be crushed out of an expediency of time. Moreover, the appropriation of five billions of dollars is a sobering responsibility and ought not to be entered into with undue haste. But now that the die is cast, it is good to see a cooperative attitude in seeing that the spirit of the act prevails—and promptly.

It is now time for reflection, too, on how the terms of the program can be best effected. In this connection, there is a hopeful sign in the seeming awareness of more and more people that money and guns and even food are not enough to secure the objectives toward which the program points. There seems to be a greater understanding that the conflict is between two ideologies, and that there must be an undergirding of the spirit of democracy if the ERP is to mean anything more than stop gap aid or dollars swapped for time. If we will use a little more humanitarian approach in the distribution of these funds, and a little less inclination to meddle in internal affairs we may get good will and democratic processes out of the deal.

The Nation Today—James Marlow

Hoffman Has A Tough Job Ahead

WASHINGTON, April 7. (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman, who makes automobiles run, now will try to make Europe run. Some job. Before it's over, and through no fault of his, it may blow up in his face. The road is rough, full of tacks. President Truman named him boss of the European recovery program (ERP). The Senate okayed him yesterday. Now Hoffman starts work. He's 37, had been a salesman for years, and is president of the Studebaker Corporation. He has been, since 1935. His ERP job is one of the biggest and most unusual in American history. It's this: 1. Pump ERP help—money and goods and food—into 16 European nations to get them on their feet. It's a major blood-transfusion. 2. By doing this—by stopping collapse—to keep communism from spreading and taking them over. Will ERP work? Hoffman thinks it's a gamble. But he said "to my mind it's a good gamble." ERP is supposed to last four years. Will Hoffman last that long in ERP? The real question is: will ERP last that long? This country, with feeling here toward Russia getting tense, is going to build up its armed forces. If Russia calls our hand and starts pushing hard to take over Europe, and does it, goodbye ERP. Or if, in spite of ERP. Communists within a country take it over, it's goodbye ERP in that country. So in spite of anything he does, ERP still can blow up in Hoffman's face. Everything he does will be watched by Europe, this country and Congress. So he stands a good chance of tough criticism. One of his first tasks will be to build up a staff, starting from scratch, of maybe 1,000 people here, another 1,000 in Europe. The men he picks—and will have to rely on—can make or break the program. He'll have to examine with utmost care the requests of the 16 nations for help. He'll have vast powers over what's shipped abroad. And he must decide what countries get ERP help as a gift, because they never will be able to pay back and what ones get it only as a loan. He'll work with the State Department and other government agencies but the spotlight will be on him. Hoffman is no stranger to ERP. Last fall he was a member of the President's committee on foreign aid.

This was a committee of 19 citizens headed by Secretary of Commerce, Harriman. It made a study of what help we could give Europe. It said we could give a lot. And Hoffman testified before congressional committee that we should try to give this kind of help to Europe. During the war Hoffman headed a group of businessmen from various industries who created what they called the Committee for Economic Development (CED). This CED worked several years during the war planning for full employment after the war. The CED still is active. Hoffman is chairman of its trustees. Hoffman was born in Chicago in 1891 and quit college to work for the Studebaker outfit as a salesman. When the Studebaker Corporation went into receivership in 1933, Hoffman was named receiver. In two years he got the company out of its hole. The receivership was lifted and Hoffman was named president of the corporation. Hoffman has no illusions about the future. Before he got this ERP job he knew there was a risk it might fail. He told Congress the "destructive forces in Europe are strong." But he said there was a greater risk in a do-nothing policy. "What's the country going to use for coal while this is being fought out in the courts?" he asked. After considerable debate, Secretary Krug finally veered round to using the injunction right away. "If we're going to crack down, and that seems to be the only solution, let's do it quick and crack down hard," argued Krug. The interior secretary reminded Truman that the country had only 15 days' supply of coal left. OPPOSITE ADVICE Presidential Adviser Clark Clifford, however, contended that the "dramatic" thing to do would be to let the strike proceed for a time. While others at the secret meeting listened in amazement, the young brain-truster advised Truman that if a real crisis developed from a coal shortage, Lewis would be easier to lick in the courts. This contribution evoked no favorable response. Clifford then added that, in his opinion, Truman couldn't "lose" in a court fight with Lewis regardless of how quick the government moved. If an injunction were granted and upheld through appeals, he argued, the President would gain prestige by putting Lewis in his place. On the other hand, Clifford continued, if the courts ruled for Lewis, the administration could point to the "inadequacy" of the Taft-Hartley law. At this point, the President became quite irritated. "Oh, forget about me," he broke in. "Let's talk about what's good for the country. This is a serious matter. With coal supplies running short, we can't let this strike go on indefinitely. We'll have to do the best we can under the power Congress has given us. However, before making any decision, I want to give further study to the report

Red Apology Doesn't Ease Threat

Russia's quick public apology for the Soviet-British plane disaster Monday in Germany created hope that this might signal a general easing of the dangerous tension which developed recently between the Soviet and the Western Allies in that zone, but this hope has now been largely dissipated. The Russians yesterday blamed the British for the collision between the Soviet fighter plane and the passenger ship, with the loss of 15 lives. The Bolsheviks charged that the British pilot violated regulations by flying over the Soviet traffic zone. The British retorted that the Russian story was palpably untrue. The Soviet authorities not only had apologized but had promised that hereafter Allied planes would have unhindered access to Berlin. As a result, British Foreign Secretary Bevin, while pressing for immediate investigation of the disaster, felt able to tell the House of Commons regarding the general East-West dispute in Germany: "If there is good will, it is capable of solution." Mr. Bevin was smart to put in that qualifying "if."

The Russians are treating the crash as an accident, and while that exact characterization might be questioned, the Allies haven't quibbled over the term. It appears from the testimony of eye-witnesses for the Allies that the pilot of the Red fighter plane was trying to harass the transport by diving at it. However, it would be absurd to claim that he deliberately sacrificed his own life in order to destroy the British plane with 12 Britons and 2 Americans aboard. He just wasn't smart enough as a pilot to do the trick of "buzzing" which the witnesses say he undertook. The Russian apology for the Berlin "collision" was a striking deviation from their usual behavior. It meant, I take it, that they really were greatly disturbed by the bungling of their fighter pilot. It means they were afraid this shocking incident might cause a rupture of the peace, coming as it did when East-West relations already were tense. So they did what they rarely do—they apologized.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippmann

Vacuum In Leadership

IT IS not, I think, an alarmist exaggeration to say that the condition of the Truman administration is a grave problem for the nation, not merely for the Democratic party. The problem is not whether Mr. Truman can be nominated and elected. It is how in the perilous months immediately ahead of the affairs of the country are to be conducted by a President who has not only lost the support of his party but is not in control of his own administration. The heart of the danger lies in the fact that Mr. Truman is not performing, and gives no evidence of his ability to perform the functions of the commander in chief. Yet in a crisis of peace and war our constitutional system vests in the President the responsibilities and the power over the great decisions of diplomacy and military strategy. The Secretary of State, if he does not have extraordinary powers, cannot do this. For the Department of State, as such, has no authority over the armed forces or over the financial and economic agencies of the government. The Cabinet cannot do this. For as a body it has no authority of its own. Ours is a Presidential system of government, and only the President has the authority to make the decisions which co-ordinate power and policy, means and ends, in a crisis of war and peace. The appointment of General Marshall was welcomed by the country as the best possible way to compensate for the fact that Mr. Truman does not have the qualifications that are essential in a commander in chief. There was not only a fine modesty but wisdom in the President's appointment of General Marshall, and it was a fair assumption that Mr. Marshall would not be merely the head of the State Department but in fact, by virtue of his prestige and of Mr. Truman's unlimited confidence in him, a vicarious commander in chief. The traditional objection to a military man in a high civilian office was in his case dissolved by the belief that the peculiar and critical circumstances called for a man who could conduct foreign policy with unquestioned knowledge of military needs and military risks. In fact it has not worked out that way. To have been in effect a vicarious commander in chief was a delicate and difficult assignment, especially for a scrupulous man of high character, used to direct dealing through recognized channels, and devoid of personal ambition for power. It could have been done only if he had remained continually in Washington in constant personal contact with the President. And so, at the very center of the Truman administration, at the critical point where the fateful decisions of the highest diplomatic and military consequence are made, there is a vacuum of authority and responsibility.

Mary Pickford, born April 8, 1893 in Toronto, Canada, was "America's sweetheart" after World War I and, for years, the world's best known and, perhaps, its highest paid woman. She started in early day movies and her sensational rise was climaxed when she formed her own company and put herself down for a $10,000 a week drawing account and half of the profits, said to have totalled more than two million dollars a year. Later she became president of the Artists Alliance Corporation. For years she was the wife of Douglas Fairbanks. After their divorce, she married Charles (Buddy) Rogers, orchestra leader.

Chuckle For Lewis In Cabinet Meet

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis would have got a Falstaffian chuckle out of the big cabinet session to consider what the government should do about him. Cabinet advisers had a hard time deciding how the mine strike could be solved. One group of advisers wanted to bargain with Lewis before slapping an injunction on him. They were: Press Secretary Charles Ross, Administrative Assistant John R. Steelman, Secretary of the Interior Krug, who tangled with Lewis last year, and Federal Conciliator Cyrus Ching, former head of the U. S. Rubber Company, whom Lewis had bitterly denounced a few days before. Attorney General Tom Clark then explained the legal aspects of the Taft-Hartley Act, advising that the government could get an immediate injunction against the strikers. But, he warned, the injunction was sure to be appealed, which would result in a long, drawn-out proceeding. "What's the country going to use for coal while this is being fought out in the courts?" he asked. After considerable debate, Secretary Krug finally veered round to using the injunction right away. "If we're going to crack down, and that seems to be the only solution, let's do it quick and crack down hard," argued Krug. The interior secretary reminded Truman that the country had only 15 days' supply of coal left. OPPOSITE ADVICE Presidential Adviser Clark Clifford, however, contended that the "dramatic" thing to do would be to let the strike proceed for a time. While others at the secret meeting listened in amazement, the young brain-truster advised Truman that if a real crisis developed from a coal shortage, Lewis would be easier to lick in the courts. This contribution evoked no favorable response. Clifford then added that, in his opinion, Truman couldn't "lose" in a court fight with Lewis regardless of how quick the government moved. If an injunction were granted and upheld through appeals, he argued, the President would gain prestige by putting Lewis in his place. On the other hand, Clifford continued, if the courts ruled for Lewis, the administration could point to the "inadequacy" of the Taft-Hartley law. At this point, the President became quite irritated. "Oh, forget about me," he broke in. "Let's talk about what's good for the country. This is a serious matter. With coal supplies running short, we can't let this strike go on indefinitely. We'll have to do the best we can under the power Congress has given us. However, before making any decision, I want to give further study to the report of the fact-finding board that has been studying the issues involved here." With that, Truman abruptly adjourned the meeting. MAKING DEMOCRACY LIVE The American people, if given half a chance, certainly pitch in to work at the democratic principles they believe in. Last week, this column suggested the idea of reaching people behind the iron curtain and on the edge of the iron curtain with radio broadcasts aimed to make the Russian and Italian people think about a democratic peace and friendship with the USA; also that wrist watches plus other things European people covet be offered as prizes for the best letters on how to ensure a democratic peace in Europe. After all, the Russians upon entering Berlin bought up wrist watches by the bushel. And if we could show them what our western world produces while simultaneously getting them to think about a democratic peace and friendship with the USA, then perhaps we could dent the iron curtain. Biggest reason for the iron curtain, of course, is to prevent the Russian people from knowing how well off the rest of the world is. Following publication of this column I was deluged with telegrams from patriotic Americans offering watches and other things coveted in Europe, as prizes for such a radio contest in Italy—where elections are so imminent—and later beamed to Russia. Helrobs offered 100 wrist watches. So did Ingersoll and Harman. The Muskogee, Okla., Broadcasting Company wired in that they would dig up 100. The Kruger Jewelry Company in Austin, Texas, and Martin Gruenborn in Seattle also volunteered, together with offers of 100 Emerson radios, 100 Wings shirts, 100 Clippercraft suits, 100 Lee hats, 100 pairs of Eddicott-Johnson shoes, and one Allis-Chalmers tractor for Italy, not Russia. (Sending a tractor to Russia would only play into the hands of the

Comedies Are Coming

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Here's a film cycle you can see a mile away—the comedies are coming. Film makers apparently think their customers no longer want to shudder or cry, but instead desire merriment. So that's what they're going to get. "If we can't make them think," a top director told me, "we might as well make them laugh." Everybody's getting into the act. Greer Garson is being subjected to mud splattering and trapeze riding out at Metro and wants to do another comedy after her current one. After a diet of drama, Rosalind Russell says she'll do nothing but laugh-getters for awhile. Ingrid Bergman has expressed a yen for her first light role. Bette Davis soon starts her first comedy since "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and she's joined by Robert Montgomery, who has also gone dramatic in recent years. Joan Fontaine's company will make a comedy with her and Jimmy Stewart, and Dana Andrews' first independent film is geared for laughs. Robert Cummings and Hedy Lamarr just finished a farce, and Rex Harrison is learning the pratfall art under Preston Sturges' command. Tyrone Power is currently making two comedies, and Jane Wyman and David Niven are indulging in slapstick at Warners. I could name more, but you should get the idea by now. Let's just hope the pictures turn out as funny as they sound in producers' offices.

Random Thoughts On Road

Random thoughts, while on the road this past weekend: The highway department has scored a bulls-eye with its new don't-pass dash stripes, placed on hills and bad curves. They're yellow phosphorescent paint that glows at night like fresh country butter in the mid-summer sun. A driver just can't miss them. The uniform traffic laws seem to have helped convince the dim-you-remember rule. At any rate, observance of the courtesies seems to have improved since the new code has been put into effect. Certain sections of West Texas highway fit in mighty well with a little vocalizing to break the monotony of travel. For instance "Over the Waves" is appropriate for certain sections of the Big Spring-Abilene highway. And how about "There's a Long, Long Trail A-Winding" for that strip between Ballinger and Coleman? You'd better hurry if you want to try blending notes with surroundings on the latter stretch, however. The highway department is chewing it up pretty fast and putting in a straight away road. The wife, baby and I had only three narrow escapes from death which is about par for us on a 600 mile course in Texas. A large truck and car had a collision about 200 yards ahead of us and we had to burn rubber to keep from getting mowed up in it. No one was hurt. Another time, a car immediately ahead of us slowed down to make a turn-off without giving a signal. We had to skid again (we were too close behind it). The reverse situation occurred a short time later when a car turned into us from a side road with out stopping or slowing down. Worst boner I pulled, in my estimate, was when I moved ACROSS the highway to take another highway cut-off to my left without looking back. That's as neat a way to get killed as I can recollect. We saw only three smashed-up vehicles while on the trip.—ADRIAN VAUGHAN

Bouquet To Shorty

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP)—Members are being stirred in millions of combat veterans this week by Army Day parades and ceremonies across America. Maj. Gen. F. L. Parks, Army public information chief, suggested to former war correspondents that it would be a good time to reprint one of their favorite war stories. Here is mine—a bouquet to the courage of an old professional soldier that time couldn't tame, KIA (killed in action) in the Normandy breakthrough: Shorty came a long way to die—and he came against the will of the Army he had served for 27 years. "Leave me tell you," he used to say, "I'll get those Germans." That was back in the United States. Shorty had what most soldiers regard as a soft touch—a master sergeant's rating on a headquarters operations staff. He had the reputation of eating young "shavetails" for breakfast, and every man in the unit was fond of this sawed-off, gray-haired little man with the salty voice and tough manner. He was a good poker player, and after 27 years of selective competition with the cards he had won the pay of enough buck privates so that he and his wife could afford more than "C" rations any time he wanted to hang up his uniform. But although his health was poor, Shorty had no wish to get out of the Army. He was only five-foot-four, but he was all soldier. When he learned his outfit was going overseas, Shorty had to fight a personal campaign to go along. He was the oldest man in the unit, and his friends didn't think his health would stand up under the strain of field duty. Shorty hated the Germans. He

Jet-Propelled Martin

NEW YORK—At the jet-propelled Broadway show without a collaborator. He is in particularly high demand as an arranger. When "High Button Shoes" was in its pre-Broadway tour, one of its important songs, "Model T," had bogged down badly. Martin and his contrapuntal pulmotor were summoned and he worked to such effect that it now is one of the lyric hits of that period fracas. Most of a whole series of George Abbott shows had Martin-arranged songs, among them, "Best Foot Forward," "Pal Joey," "The Boys From Syracuse," "Too Many Girls" and "Barefoot Boy With Cheek." Illness prevented him from fulfilling the vocal arrangements of "Allegro." From chorus boy to top-flight popular composer in ten years, with time out for a war, is no mean accomplishment even by Broadway's fabulous standards. At this rate he indeed might someday find that elusive rhyme for "orange."

HOUSTON, April 8. (AP)—An additional 40,500 new members in Baptist Sunday schools and 2,000 branch Sunday Schools in Texas are the challenges which are being placed before the 7,000 Sunday School workers and preachers attending the state Sunday School convention in First Baptist Church here.

How to accomplish these goals are being discussed at the convention, which will continue through Thursday. The workers are attending general meetings, conferences led by outstanding Baptist leaders, special sessions on home life.

Water Supply May Get Boost

A new test well recently completed in the O'Barr field in Glasscock county may bolster Big Spring's water supply considerably, City Manager H. W. Whitney reported yesterday morning.

Results of the first day's pumping test indicate that the new well may have a capacity of 300-gallons a minute. However, the test will continue for 72 hours of continuous pumping before a final rating is tabulated.

The new well will be the eighth producer in the O'Barr field. It is located 1,260 feet north of the southeast corner of Sec. 27. Following tests there, the city plans to move approximately 2,000 feet north of that location and begin drilling a new test.

Seven wells already in operation in the O'Barr field are furnishing water at an approximate rate of 250-gallons a minute each.
