Does The Shoe Fit - If So, Trade It Off

(Editor's note: The following article appeared in a recent issue of the Brownwood Bulletin, and, in our opinion, there are persons in our locality that the shoe fits better than it does our coach. We are reproducing the article here in the hopes that it will enlighten a lot of people who seem to think that editors and reporters are immortal beings, and should know everything that happens, sometimes before they happen. We urgently request that you read the article carefully, and if the shoe fits, please try to trade it off to someone else.)

We'll admit that the contents of this article, or rather most of them, have been on our mind for a number of years. We're glad now that we never got around to writing the story. It's told much to well by another scribe.

Collier Parris, who does a daily column for the Abilene Reporter, borrowed and published this same article late last month. The first quotes are his; the rest was written by Don Scannell, sport publicity director of Iowa State Teachers College, and which is entitled "Public Relations For The Coach."

Parris opens the story in such expert manner we'll quote him verbatim.

"Would that every high school and college coach in the nation would digest the words of wisdom contained in a bulletin booklet entitled Public Relations For The Coach. It is issue No. 11 of Educational Service Publications published at Iowa State Teachers College."

"Scannell interviewed scores of sports writers and radio men to get the 'material' for the booklet, and Mr. Scannell is really on the beam with the results. It contains sensible, sane suggestions to coaches on how to get the most out of public relations and 'treatment' of persons engaged in covering the sport news."

"It is aimed directly at high school coaches, particularly those in smaller towns whose schools do not have an organized public relations department. But many of the points are applicable to college coaches, too, and especially the prima donna type."

"If all the coaches whose ignorance of public relations, or who, intentionally or unintentionally snub, antagonize, and withhold valuable information from sports writers and radio men were laid end to end on the Sallara desert, it would be a good thing. All this and more is brought forcefully forward in the Iowa-bulletin."

The rest is Scannell's story. He hits the nail on the head when he writes: "Why isn't the score of our game in the paper? There's not a thing in the paper about my half-back being hurt. How come?"

"Many a time a coach has asked these questions, either aloud or to himself. Often he comes to the conclusions that men in the newspaper 'have it in for me' or are just too lazy to get the story."

"But there is another side to the problem. The sports reporter is not a mind reader. He does not have a crystal ball that brings him news of recent events. He must have the information brought to his attention before he can publicize it."

"It is the dream of every sports reporter to be able to give adequate coverage to every team in his area. However, sports staffs are nearly always undermanned—consequently the reporter must let many things wait until another day. It isn't that he is lazy or doesn't want to give good coverage to every team. He just doesn't have time to do it."

"If a coach would take it upon himself to supply the news dispensers with the information about his team, the result would be better coverage. The coach would be happier because his team would get more of the attention that it deserves. The reporter would also be pleased because he would feel that he was doing a better job. One of the finest things you could do for sports reporters would be to keep them posted in your team's activities—such as injuries, promotion, and plans for the next opponent."

"Would you be simply tooting your own horn? The reporters would not think so if you just gave them the facts. If you continually remind them that you are a swell fellow and a wonderful coach, they will probably get sick and tired of having you bother them. But if you stick to the facts, they will be more than happy to hear from you at any time."

"Why should you, as a coach, take the time to do these things for the press? In the first place, it would put information about your team in the hands of the very people who can give it the publicity it deserves. Remember that when you talk to a reporter, you are speaking to the public through him—actually coaches and reporters have lots in common. Each in a field where second guessing runs rampant. Every spectator has his own idea of what the coach or his team should have done in the crucial play. Likewise, the same spectators are likely to disagree with some of the reporter's views.

"Still they are inter-dependent. Without the press and radio, sports would not attract the attention and crowds they do now. Likewise, a well coached team is necessary if the public's interest is to be aroused. Actually it boils down to the fact that both are essential in present-day athletics—and both can do a better job by cooperating with each other."

Author of the booklet then goes into detail in 'what can be done' by the coach, or by his appointed agent to correct the situation. Principal points are: Prepare a dope-sheet at the start of the season, and see that it is kept up to date during the season; telephone, or have someone call in, the results of all home games; keep, or have kept, statistics; report spot news event quickly; correct mistakes made by the press and radio as quickly as possible; supply photographs; keep reporters informed about changes in uniform numerals; BE FRIENDLY. Adopt an understanding attitude toward reporters.

That "be friendly" suggestion is one of the best in the book, and it certainly applies to all coaches, young and old, high school or college.

Quoting the author again:

"The reporter represents your best way of communicating with the public. If you adopt a short and gruff attitude, you are actually using that approach toward the entire public, the people who are interested in your school, your teams, and you as their coach. To offend these people is like biting the hand that supplies your bread and butter. Yet that is exactly what you do if you set up a cold and hostile attitude toward the reporter."

"And don't challenge his integrity. To ask a reporter to keep a story quiet is a direct insult. The reporter seeks facts for the purpose of reporting them. If he would deliberately hide or change facts about your game or practice, it is a good guess that he won't stay in his job very long. Most reporters discourage 'off the record' interviews. If the story is worth telling they want to tell it. If you ask a reporter to not mention an important fact in his story, you are asking him to shirk his duty to the public. Any reporter worth his salt would rather make a permanent enemy than distort the facts. So don't ask him to."

(Editor's note. Again I say if the shoe fits—give it to someone else—somewhere else. Perfect cooperation can and will help our school and town.)

District 11-B Football Summary For Coming Season

Following is a summary of the teams composing the District 11-B for the coming year.

Fairly accurate summaries on all the teams in District 11-B have been released, except Gorman. So far we have not been able to get much dope on what they are expecting this year.

SANTA ANNA

The Santa Anna Mountaineers started work-outs last Friday afternoon, under the direction of Coach D. W. McBride. Three top lettermen of last year's season have returned to the squad, and the team is shaping up around them. Several other lettermen have returned and about 12 squadmen are out for training. Also a number of boys from the Ward School, who are freshmen this year, are out for football.

Even though Santa Anna is the newest member of District 11-B, they have made a good name for themselves the past two years, and this year are expected to be on the top rung of the ladder when the last game is over. Some of the ones doing the predicting in the district have not placed Santa Anna where we think they should have. We are predicting they will be on top, with Early High, Cross Plains, Rising Star and May fighting for the next 3 places. There are 30 boys out for practice now, and others are expected later. The Mountaineers start their season Friday night, Sept. 15 at Rochelle.

So far not any information has been obtained from the group at Rochelle, but this game will reveal a lot to the Mountaineers.

BANGS

Bangs lost a heavy toll of their best men at graduation last Spring, but are expected to have a rugged outfit before the season is over. They also have a new coach, Bill Hamrick, an all-Texas Conference line-man for two years, from Howard Payne College, who is expected to operate off a T-formation. They have 10 returning lettermen and a number of squadmen. Bangs has been predicted, as the darkhorse in this district this year, and will bear watching. They open their season with Richland Springs on Friday night, Sept. 15.

MAY

Coach Preston McCleskey, going into his second year with the May Tigers has 6 returning lettermen and several promising squadmen returning this year. His team will average about 157 pounds and his prospects are good. Last year near the middle of the season May started taking on top form and beat the Bangs eleven and almost beat Early High (score was 13-7), then gave Cross Plains the scare of a lifetime, being eked out by a score of 6-0. We think the May bunch will not be the underdog they have been in the past, and they are no cinch for any of the other teams in the district. They open their season Sept. 22 with Carbon.

CROSS PLAINS

Coach Frank Rundell of the Cross Plains Buffalos has 11 returning lettermen and 13 squadmen, who are expected to furnish some strong replacements for the starting line-up. Cross Plains is predicted to be one of the top powers in the district this year. They were plenty powerful last year, and have the best prospects from the number of returning lettermen of any of the teams in the conference. They open their season Sept. 15 with Aspermont. It should be a good, close game, and reveal some of their strength.

EARLY HIGH

The one team in the district that has been powerful for the past 11 years is Early High. In graduation last Spring they lost nine of their outstanding starters, but still have 11 returning lettermen, boasting two good men at every position except at center and quarterback. Their line will average 185 pounds and the back-field will average 146

Leman Brown Buried In Coleman Wednesday

Funeral services were held at the J. E. Stevens Chapel in Coleman at 4:00 p. m. Wednesday, for County Judge Leman Brown. The Judge died at 10:12 p. m. Tuesday in Coleman.

Rev. M. L. Womack, retired pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Santa Anna officiated.

Judge Brown was a resident of Santa Anna for many years, before moving to Coleman. He was in Santa Anna Monday of this week visiting among his many friends here. He is a former mayor of Santa Anna and formerly connected with the old State Bank.

Judge Brown, age 78 years, 5 months and 29 days, has served as County Judge for the past 7 1/2 years.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Leman Brown, of Coleman; one son, J. Odgen Brown and one daughter, Mrs. Odell Collins, both of Coleman; a brother, T. I. Brown of Lubbock; two sisters, Mrs. Lorena Brown and Mrs. Effie Marler, both of Mineral Wells.

Burial was in the Coleman Cemetery.

Boy Scouts To Meet Monday

The local troop of the Boy Scouts will have their first meeting of the school year at their den, near the high school, on Monday night, September 11, at 7:00 p. m., according to the Scoutmaster, Bill Adams.

All the Scouts are urged to attend. Plans will be made for future meetings and also for other activities for the coming year.

A lot will be known about the Longhorns after Friday night, when they open their season with an old rival, Eden. The game is scheduled at Brownwood High School Stadium at 8:00 p. m.

RISEING STAR

Coach Ray Nunnally seems to be taking a gloomy outlook for the starting of the season for his Rising Star Wildcats, two-time winners of the Regional Crown. The coach says he has only two boys from his last year's starting line-up, but has 11 lettermen returning and a number of other squadmen. Nunnally says that Cross Plains, May and Bangs will be the power in the district this year, but watching his team for two years, your editor would say that he will not be so gloomy after the season starts. They also open their season on Sept. 8, against Valley Mills at Rising Star, which will be another good game and will determine where a lot of District 11-B power will be this fall.

BLANKET

The Blanket Tigers have had tough studding in District 11-B for the past two years. They have ended up on the bottom of the list, but they are a hard fighting bunch. Coach Harold Bentley states he has 11 returning lettermen and 13 promising squadmen returning this year that helps his spirit some. Blanket is boasting the dedication of a new lighted football field this year that may also encourage the boys along and help them some. However, Blanket does not have the number of boys to pick from that the other schools in the district does, and they are not expected to be much of a threat to most of the powerhouses of the district. They open their season Sept. 15 with Carbon.

Tom Penn, sports writer for the Brownwood Bulletin, picks Early High, Bangs, May and Cross Plains for the top four places in the district, but says he has been wrong a number of times in the past. Naturally, he would be expected to pick Early for the top bracket, but we think he made a big mistake when he failed to put Santa Anna near the top.

No Injuries In Three Weed-end Traffic Accidents

Three traffic accidents in and near Santa Anna over the Labor Day Holidays did not injure any persons, but did considerable damage to several automobiles and nerves.

Two accidents happened just about the same time Sunday night. According to Mr. Josie Joiner, who investigated both the accidents, they both happened at about 10:40 p. m. Charges of not granting the right-of-way, were filed against Alton Townsend of Rockwood, after a collision near the entrance to the Ex-Ranger Park. The Townsend car collided with a car driven by Mr. William Priddy of Coleman, when he attempted to turn into the park in front of the Priddy car. Both cars were damaged considerably, but Priddy was able to drive his car on to Coleman.

The other Sunday night accident happened at the intersection of Wallis Avenue and North 1st St. A new Mercury, driven by Clyde Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Watson, crashed into the right rear of a Buick, driven by Mr. Phillip Lindsey of Dallas. Lindsey was making a left turn onto Wallis Avenue at the time of the accident. No injury to persons in either car were reported, but both cars were damaged pretty badly.

Another accident Monday afternoon, at about 5:30, involved Dr. E. R. Huckleberry and Allen E. Carraway of Coleman. Dr. Huckleberry was going west, passing under the traffic light, that was out of order, when he broadsided the 1940 Ford driven by Carraway. The Carraway car skidded around and into a 1949 Ford, driven by Mrs. Leonard Wright, who was parked waiting for an opportunity to enter the main highway. The grill on her car was badly damaged and both the other cars apparently had damage to their frames and bodies.

Both the driverless accidents were deemed as manslaughter accidents by the investigating officers and no charges were filed. All three accidents were caused by carelessness on the parts of the drivers.

Co-op Gin Members Have Annual Meeting Monday

Over 400 persons attended the annual meeting of the Santa Anna Cooperative Gin on Monday night of this week. These members and visitors were escorted through the gin and were shown the more than $10,000 worth of new equipment that has been installed through the summer months. R. R. Terry, Manager of the gin gave a brief outline on the progress of the gin, and the reasons for the installation of the new equipment. A very enjoyable evening was had by all who attended.

Over 100 members were added to the membership rolls as new members, which brings the total membership to 287 members.

Two directors, William Brown and H. O. Norris, whose terms expired with this meeting, were re-elected for another term. The other five directors are: T. N. Evans, G. N. Powell, N. P. Rowe, Emzy Brown and Ezro Enbank.

The primary purpose of the annual meeting is for a friendly get-together and to enable all the members to listen to the audit report. The audit gave a complete report on what all monies had been spent for during the past year.

After the meeting closed 80 ice cold watermelons were served the group.

Miss Peggy Featherston of Alpine, spent several days last week in the T. E. Horton home.

Our Camera Gone

Last week we had to send our new camera back to the factory due to some mechanical failure, and we do not have any hopes of getting it back for at least a month.

Just what was wrong, we do not know, and not being a person who knows very much about cameras, we decided it was best to have the factory do the repairs.

So, for the length of time it takes the factory to repair the camera, we will not be able to have any pictures of local interest, unless we can manage to get them from some other source. We hope you will bear with us until we can get the camera back.

Incidentally, we still do not have the help we have been trying to get for the past few weeks. We have an opening for a young lady, who is interested in learning, and training for a business career, and also for a linotype operator.

Until we are able to acquire this help your editor will continue working day and night in order to bring you the kind of paper you want. However, we need your cooperation in turning in

Good Rains Fall Over Week-end

Rains Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of this week amounted to a little over four inches here in town and amounts varied in different sections of the county. The best reports we can get seem to indicate that good rains fell all over the county though.

The Sunday rain fall amounted to a little over one inch. It fell in showers nearly all day long. The Monday rainfall amounted to 3/4 inch according to the gauge at the Coleman Gas and Oil office and a little more than two inches fell Tuesday morning. More rain is predicted for this area before the week is over.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rae of Lubbock, the former Mrs. Annie Childers of Santa Anna, and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gipson of Coleman, visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. J. R. Gipson and Mrs. A. R. Brown.

Your news items and local happenings as soon as possible, each week. Your cooperation will help us to bring you the paper on time each week.

National Guard Return From Camp Sunday

The Heavy Tank Co., 142nd Infantry, of the Texas National Guard, located at Santa Anna, returned to their home Sunday morning, after spending two weeks of extensive training at Fort Hood, Texas. Thirty-six enlisted men and three officers attended the training camp from here, under the command of Capt. Jesse K. Barton.

Reports indicate that the company did an extra large amount of firing, large and small weapons, and did extensive training in other lines while in the camp. It was reported as the best National Guard Camp ever attended.

Quitter Makes Good

Lesson for September 10, 1950

UNLESS THAT boarding house in Antioch was different from other boarding houses, you could hardly have a private quarrel in it. There would be some inquisitive people who would notice when voices were raised, and who could not resist the temptation to listen.

One of the quarrels was none other than the famous Apostle Paul, and the other was his best friend, Barnabas. At least, Paul and Barnabas had been good friends up to that day.

Dr. Foreman

After that day's argument we do not know that they ever saw each other again. Paul never mentioned the incident, but the story got around, and Luke put it into his book of Acts.

Young Man Seeks Position

THE ARGUMENT was all about a young man named John Mark. Young people do not always realize how often they are discussed by their elders, or how much those discussions affect their lives. A young man applies for a job (which he would rather call a "position") and he either gets the job or he does not. But he never sees the files. He never hears the conversations about himself. He never knows just what remark got him the job—or cost him the job, as the case may be. So John Mark may never have known just what Paul and Barnabas said about him.

The facts were plain. John Mark was a native of Jerusalem, son of a woman at least well-off enough to have a large house of her own. He was some relative of Barnabas, perhaps a nephew. Tradition says he was the young man in embarrassing circumstances described in Mark 14:51-52. When Paul and Barnabas set off on their first missionary journey together, or, this John Mark went with them as a general assistant.

All went well at first. But when the party landed on the hot steamy shore of Pamphylia, and when the missionary expedition was about to take off over the high lonesome ranges through bandit country, John Mark left the party and took the first boat back to home and mother.

Two Bosses

WE HAVE no idea why he went. Maybe he had good reasons, maybe not. Anyway, we do know that he quit. And that was all Paul wanted to know. A new missionary party was being made up, and Barnabas wanted to take his young relative along again. But Paul could not see it.

Why take a man who had already fallen down on one job? Why take an assistant that could not be depended upon? The argument between Mark's two bosses boiled down to this: Paul judged their assistant on past performance. It was all he had to go by. Barnabas judged Mark by his love for him and his belief in him. The quarrel was sharp, and the two old friends could not agree. Finally the incredible happened: Paul and Barnabas parted company, and each went his separate way from that time forward.

What happened to Barnabas we do not know. But we do know that Barnabas was right about John Mark. Years later we read in more than one letter from Paul that Mark was a real help to him. We find that another great leader, Simon Peter, called Mark his "son." These leaders of the Christian church, though they might differ on some things, agreed about Mark, that he was a man to rely on.

What This Goes to Show

ALL THIS GOES to show several things. For one, it is clear that even an Apostle may be wrong. No man can be an infallible judge of another man. And another thing: You can't judge a man on his record alone. There may be more in the man than the record shows.

On the other hand, people do judge others by their records. The dubious young man does not always have a relative who will give him the benefit of the doubt.

If your record is bad, you must realize that there are numbers of people, even good people, who will judge you by that alone.

Julia Ann Bailey read and discussed an interesting article titled "Sally, Sarah and Sue", which told of church problems and suggested solutions.

Decorations were used in the colors of rose and white.

Miss Jo Dunn, sister of the honoree, presided at the register. Greeting the guests were Miss June Parker, hostess, Mrs. Jim Dunn, mother of the honoree, the honoree, and Mrs. Arch Hunter, mother of the groom.

Misses Sue Gillham, Paula Holt, and Betty Goen alternated at the piano. Fifty guests registered and many more sent gifts.

International Crisis Has Bearing On Traffic Accidents

Austin. — The International crisis has a direct bearing on this Country's traffic safety record. That was the opinion expressed today by Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, in appealing to Texas motorists for an immediate check on the mechanical condition of their vehicles.

"It is imperative," said Garrison, "that each Texan do his utmost toward helping to maintain and conserve the resources of this Nation." An important portion of those resources he indicated, is the thousands of motor vehicles which are operated daily in this State. He urged all car owners to have their vehicles inspected regularly for mechanical defects.

Worn out and defective automobiles," the Director emphasized, "are conducive to increased traffic mishaps. By periodic inspections we are serving a dual purpose. First, we assure ourselves of continued transportation in case controls or restrictions are placed on motoring, and second, we make a decided contribution toward greater traffic safety, thus assisting in the conservation of our human resources."

LAST WEEK the House worked on conference reports, passed a bill to authorize the drafting of certain doctors and dentists, approved a strong anti-communist measure, and took a swing at slot machines. I voted for all the measures.

The doctor draft will enable the armed services to obtain the necessary number of medical men and dentists to serve the increased number of men being called to duty. At present we have 6,226 doctors and 2,358 dentists on active duty. But by July 1, 1951, we will need a total of 12,500 doctors, and 5,000 dentists. Most of these will be obtained from young doctors and dentists who got all or a portion of their professional education at government expense during the last year. They were enrolled in so-called ASFP and Navy V-12 programs.

This latter group, who served less than 20 months during the recent war will be the first called. They will those with similar service but who didn't get their education at the expense of Uncle Sam. Then will be others provisions that will add to the general in the order of length of service.

For matchless perfection, ever-treasured mahogany against a background of green and white stripes! Charm in the grand manner demands no magic formula once you have discovered the potent enchantment of striped wall paper.

It adds up to that unbeatable combination of smartness plus practicality. Nothing lends an aura of sleek style to an interior setting as readily as a striped background, and with the vertical tradition, you can create an illusion of soaring height to diminish the scourge of low ceilings.

A bill which will make life more miserable for our domestic communists was passed in the House with but 20 dissenting votes. It was much stronger than was recommended by the President and it favored also by the Senate, some observers think Mr. Truman will veto it. But if so, it can probably be passed over his veto.

This measure is in addition to other anti-sabotage and anti-espionage bills, previously enacted. It clamps a heavy penalty upon a government employee who transmits, or on a Commie who obtains, security information. Secondly, it would bar Communists or members of the communist front organizations from holding non-elective jobs in government.

A third provision makes it a crime for an officer or employee of the government to contribute money or services to a Communist organization, and it is made compulsory for a Commie to apply for renew a passport.

The bill requires the Communist Party to label all literature which it publishes or distributes and to identify Soviet-sponsored radio and television programs. And there are a number of other provisions that will add to the discomfort of these traitorous

BACK TO SCHOOL

© REDDY KILOWATT Your Electric Servant

There's a Great Day Coming—

Yes, it's a great day when thousands of West Texas youngsters go back to school. Whether they are beginning their first year in kindergarten or their senior year in college, their education is proof of the American heritage of equal opportunity for all.

Our youths of today are intelligent and ambitious. All they need is the full opportunity to develop their ideas freely and market their talents as each sees fit. We must guard that "full opportunity" so that when the "individual initiative and energy" of American youth fathers an idea, they may call upon the American system of free enterprise to make realities of their ideas and ambitions.

It's a Privilege—

Reddy Kilowatt helps students study faster, easier, and better by providing ample light in class rooms and at-home. Make certain the eyes of your children are protected from strain—check their study-lights now!

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Squint's Drumming For Fair Play!

Squint Miller's mighty proud of the lot he owns that fronts on River Road—one of the prettiest spots around here.

He's been in a stew about it lately, though. Seems that trash-dumpers take one look at his property, stop their car or truck, and out goes a load of rubbish, spilling all over his place and the roadside, too. Wouldn't that make you mad?

Last night Squint dropped by the house. Over a friendly glass of beer, he tells me what he's done. "I put a couple of empty oil drums out there," he says, "with a big sign reading: 'If you must dump trash—use these—I like to keep my property clean!'"

From where I sit, Squint's sign should make any would-be roadside trash-dumpers pretty darned ashamed of themselves. Now and then some folks just have to be reminded that they ought to have as much regard for their neighbors' rights as they do for their own.

State's Affairs Badly Organized; TEC to Study

By JOHN BEN SHEPPERD
Secretary
Texas Economy Commission

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles on the background, purposes and work of the Texas Economy Commission.)

It's a mess!

Your Texas state government is accurately summarized in those three words. In a nutshell, they speak of disorganization and widespread confusion.

The Texas Economy Commission has been appointed by Governor Allan Shivers as an advisory body to examine the state government and recommend a practical program for efficient reform.

Let's take a look at what the TEC will have to examine:

There are nearly 200 separate agencies of the executive branch of the government. These are run by nearly 150 administrative groups or individuals.

The state conducts its financial affairs out of more than 230 separate checking accounts. Some have less than $50 in them. Some have tens of millions of dollars in them. Many accounts are earmarked for special purposes and are not available as a general fund. A true general fund provides the logical, the practical, the economical means of carefully controlled government spending.

Texas, unfortunately, has no such arrangement.

As further illustration of how sad is the state of affairs, consider all these nearly 200 agencies. Many of them are supervised by the appointees of as many as three different governors.

This simply means that if one of these agencies fails to do a good job, the voters are too far removed from control of the situation. They cannot correct things by voting out the current governor; he didn't appoint a majority of the supervisors of the offending agency. They cannot vote the supervisors out of office because the supervisors hold office by appointment only. The governor himself cannot do anything about the situation because he can only appoint a minority of the supervisors.

The result of all this division of authority and disconnected funds is simply a mess.

What, then, is the answer? Shall we take this governmental house of cards, throw it into the scrap heap, and rebuild from scratch? Obviously, this is neither desirable nor practical.

The Texas Economy Commission proposes, not to toss the cards aside, but to look them over and work for their rearrangement in logical order.

If the TEC should find two Jacks or Diamonds, or four deuces of clubs, why then, in the interest of economy, efficiency, and fairness to taxpayers the TEC will recommend that the surplus cards—duplicate services and overlapping agencies—should be combined or eliminated.

The TEC is not out after anybody's scalp. It is not a political organization. It has no "special interest" to serve. It simply hopes to awaken the people of Texas to the need for impartial and practical reorganization of their state government, their public business.

That is why you will find businessmen, farmers, ranchers, industrialists, laboring men, professional men and women, homemakers, people in all walks of life among our active members and supporters.

In succeeding articles in this series, you will be informed of past efforts to reform the government, why these efforts failed, and how the TEC proposes—with God's guidance and a public-spirited citizenry behind it—not to fail.

The next article will discuss an earlier attempt to bring some order out of chaos. The writer will be John Redditt, of Lufkin, former State Senator and former chairman of the Highway Commission. Mr. Redditt is now state chairman of the TEC.

Local Baptist Church News

The Key to your problem can be found in the church. Christ is the answer! He is the answer to the world problem. He is the answer to the disturbed mind. Come to Church Sunday.

Mr. Louis Newman and Rev. Harry C. Wigger attended a meeting of the State Executive Board of Texas General Convention on Tuesday at Round Rock. One of the thrilling things of the meeting was witnessing a young couple give to the Baptist complete properties for a children's institution. The properties consisted of 3 modern buildings adequate for 20 children each, a superintendent's home, and an office building (all new, made of Austin stone) located on a beautifully surveyed 110 acre tract of land. Other outstanding business was transacted by the board. Mr. Newman is a member of the Board.

The local Brotherhood meets Tuesday, Sept. 12. All men are urged to attend.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of Coleman County will be in the First Baptist Church, Santa Anna, Tuesday, Sept. 12. It will be an all day meeting, starting at 10:00 a. m. The local women will serve the noon meal.

Local Methodist Church News

On the first Sunday special recognition was given those who are leaving soon for college, as well as those of our local schools. It was indeed a beautiful sight when the entire group knelt at the altar to receive the Communion together. In keeping with the thought of "Back to School", the pastor used as his subject, "For We Are Labourers Together With God". He spoke of the teachers unusual opportunity.

The subject for the evening hour, "The Morning of Life", also emphasized the theme of the day. "Living for Jesus" was beautifully sung by Miss Sandra Shields and an interpretation of the annual church-wide hymn for youth was given, interesting facts on the ancient use and meaning of litanies being included.

The W.S.C.S. report an interesting program and a splendid attendance when they met in the home of Misses Elsie Lee and Ruby Harper recently. Those attending the supper for

Marine Recruiter In Coleman Each Tuesday

Travel Adventure Education? Yes, they are still available in the Marine Corps. That's what Sergeant S. B. Collins is prepared to tell all interested and eligible men when he comes to Coleman on Tuesdays of every week.

Sgt. Collins is stationed in Abilene but every week visits the Coleman Post Office between the hours of 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. Tuesdays. The sergeant tells us that the reason for these visits is to make it more convenient for both young men and women to inquire into the duty with the United States Marine Corps.

Attention is invited to the fact that men may now volunteer to join the Marines for a 12-month period of training. This is discharged after the present 12-month period. However, it is pointed out that this training will be accepted for 2 or 4 years.

In order to obtain the high caliber Marine required during the present expansion of the U. S. Marine Corps, no lowering of standards is anticipated and enlistments will continue on a voluntary basis. Not every man can become a Marine. Sergeant Collins frankly tells his applicants, "out if he is between the ages of 17 to 28, inclusive, and feels that he can meet the physical and educational requirements of the Marine Corps he is invited to inquire about his possibilities with the "Soldiers of the Sea."

Several detailed and interesting booklets on life and opportunities in the U. S. Marine Corps are now available and may be had by contacting Sgt. Collins on Tuesday or by writing direct to Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Abilene, Texas.

Gift Tea Honors Joyce Bartlett Last Thursday

A beautiful courtesy was extended Miss Joyce Bartlett, bride-elect of H. L. Biggs, when Mrs. Jack Mobley, Mrs. Bill Price, Mrs. Buster Woodard and Mrs. Arthur Casey entertained for her with a gift tea, in the Mobley home, between the hours of 3 and 6 p. m. Thursday August 31st.

Mrs. Mobley received the guests and also in the receiving line were the honoree's mother, Mrs. W. W. Bartlett, and Mrs. Linnie Biggs, mother of the groom-to-be.

Those serving at the tea table, the register, and directing guests to the gift rooms were: Miss Dorothy Casey, Miss Sarah Frances Mobley and Mrs. Bill Campbell, Mrs. Charles Reese, Mrs. Jo Ann Reese and Miss Earlene Elledge of Brownwood.

The lace covered table, from which white cake squares and punch were served, had an arrangement of orchid dahlias with white ribbons.

Orchid engraved napkins with this inscription "H. L. and Joyce, September 16th" revealed the wedding date.

The display of gifts, both useful and beautiful, was very profuse.

The register contained the names of 160, attending and sending gifts.

College Group Has Picnic, Outing

Mrs. T. R. Sealy, Secretary of Student work, assisted by other members of the W.S.C.S., was hostess to a group of college students and their parents on Coleman Hill one evening last week. A bountiful meal and an hour of fellowship were enjoyed by all. Among the first to leave were Miss Coyita Griffin and J. L. Owens, who are enrolling as Juniors at McMurry. John Hardy Blue will enter Texas U. again and Harper Hunter will resume studies at Texas Tech next semester. Different types of ivy were also recommended.

Mrs. Grant gave an informative report of the State Home Demonstration Association Annual Meeting, held in Big Spring August 23-25, which she attended.

Refreshment plates were served to 14 members and three visitors, Mrs. L. M. Weathers, Mrs. Joe Copeland and Mrs. Richard Copeland.

Garden Club Has Luncheon Program

The Santa Anna Garden Club held its first meeting of the year with a luncheon, at the Service Cafe, Friday, Sept. 1st.

The President, Mrs. Maggie Culver, presided, and Mrs. Chap Eeds, as program chairman, distributed the year books and had charge of the program.

The year books were very attractive with garden sketches by our artist member, Mrs. Neal Oakes.

For the program, Mrs. W. Ford Barnes told highlights of her recent trip to Europe, and in addition told impressions of people and places not so well known.

Mrs. Harry Wigger sang "Trees", accompanied by Mrs. E. R. Huckleberry, wife of our new doctor. The Secretary, Mrs. J. E. Watkins, collected dues for the coming year.

The club's project for the year is "Building an Entrance to the Local Cemetery." Mrs. J. E. Bartlett is in charge of that, and she reports enough funds on hand to start work soon. She also reported a donation by the City Council, of $200.00 for the project, which was greeted with cheers by the members.

Mrs. Culver reported that all meetings will be held in the Community Building, north of the City, which has been donated to the various clubs by the City Council.

The decorations were beautiful. Mrs. C. V. Drennan grew most of the gladioli at her country home, just west of Santa Anna. Mrs. J. R. Gipson also grew some of them and she, assisted by Mrs. S. H. Collier and Mrs. Culver, arranged them.

About 30 members and guests attended.
