Campbell Home Destroyed By Fire Early Saturday

Fire, of undetermined origin, broke out in the Vernon Campbell home about 5 a. m. Saturday, and by the time the fire was discovered and reported the entire house was ablaze.

The Campbells were not at home, having spent the night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCrary, and do not have any idea what might have caused the fire to start. The house and all the fixtures were reported as a total loss and the larger part of the family of four's clothing was also destroyed. The house was partially covered by insurance.

The fire department showed just how they could handle a fire of this sort by bringing it under control in short order after they arrived. The fire apparently started in the bath room, and the wall and roof about the bath room fell in but the rest of the house walls were saved from complete destruction. Fire was in the attic of the house and was hard to get to, but after cutting holes in the roof, this fire was soon extinguished.

A shower will be held at the home of Mrs. Edd Gilbert Thursday afternoon for the Campbells, and an invitation is extended to everyone.

Polio Pointers Free For The Asking at News Off.

The News office recently received a good supply of Polio Pointers, from the National Foundation in New York. These pointers, are printed on cardboard and are easy to read.

One of these should be placed in every home in Santa Anna and in the rural areas. We have a supply that should take care of this, and a representative from every home is requested to drop by the News office sometime when you are in town and get one of these.

These Polio Pointers give details of what to do and what not to do if you think that polio might be in your neighborhood. Be sure to get your copy as soon as possible.

Over Inch Rain Looks Good, But More Needed

More than one inch of rain has fallen in the Santa Anna area since early last Sunday morning, with .55 falling on Sunday and .75 falling Monday night. Rains measuring from .35 to well over an inch fell in different sections of the county, with the southern part of the county getting the most.

The farmers are still in need of a good, slow soaking rain of over 2 inches. In some areas where grain sorghums had already been planted these rains will be a big boost to them. It seems now that some of our county farmers have received enough rain, that they can start their planting.

The Santa Anna Band placed third in concert playing; first in sight-reading; and first in marching. Mason and Haskel tied for top honors with two first places and one second place. Ozona tied with Santa Anna for the next honors, thus making the Mountaineers Band one of the top four of the 19 entered in the Regional contest.

Know Your School

This week, we should like for you to become better acquainted with the work being done in the commercial department of the Santa Anna High School.

The commercial department this year offers the students training in three beginning business subjects — bookkeeping, typing and shorthand. Other commercial subjects in which the school has earned affiliation and which are scheduled when it is possible or desirable are Business Arithmetic, General Business, Secondyear Typing, Commercial Law, and Occupations.

Bookkeeping, typing and shorthand are elective courses. They are chosen usually by junior or senior students who expect to go into office or other business work following graduation, or who plan to continue with more advanced study in their preferred line of business work. Many students have gone into business offices and have done successful work without further training. Others who continue their study in business school or college find that their advanced courses are shortened or made less difficult by the foundation work done in high school. Though some may not intend to follow business careers, all realize the value of this training for their own personal use, no matter what their chosen profession may be.

Classes in this department are held in two adjacent rooms, each well equipped for its particular work. In these subjects, in which students learn to do by doing, the good equipment is necessary for efficient practice.

Typing classes, therefore, are very proud of the eighteen new individual typing tables, new chairs and five new typewriters added to their equipment this year. The other typewriters are standard, late model machines, all kept in good condition. In their practice of typing, students strive to acquire both accuracy and speed. A minimum speed of 33 words a minute is required in this course.

Drill on correct letter and manuscript writing, tabulated reports, and other business forms, gives a practical application of their typing ability.

Future bookkeepers and secretaries do their practice work in an adjoining room, where large tables provide the needed space for their papers, and new chairs add to the comfort of their work. Pupils learn bookkeeping and accounting principles by practice on the fundamental procedures of the work. Two workbooks and two practice sets with business papers are completed during the year. At present, the class members are working on a practice set in which they are employed as bookkeepers for a partnership retail store. Using journals, ledgers, invoices, and other papers necessary for various transactions, they complete the recording of two months' transactions of the store. Thus, they learn to carry out the complete bookkeeping cycle from the opening entry to adjusting and closing the books and making final statements for the fiscal period.

Shorthand students use the bookkeeping room for reading and dictation practice, and go to the typing room for the transcription of their shorthand notes. They are required to attain a minimum speed of 33 words a minute in dictation.

Commercial students who represented the school in the Inter-scholastic League contests this year were Paula Holt and Joyce Rowe in shorthand, and Jane Bryan and Evangeline Mulroy in typing. At the District Meet, first place was won by Paula Holt and second by Joyce Rowe in shorthand, and third place by Jane Bryan in typing. At the Regional contest, Paula placed second, and Joyce fifth in shorthand. Paula will go to Austin to compete in the State Meet finals in shorthand on Saturday, May 5. Last year, Joyce Rowe placed second in the Regional Meet in typing and went to Austin for the finals.

Mrs. I. Williamson, the teacher of commercial subjects, attended Texas State College for Women and taught in the Bartlett High School before her marriage. She received her B. A. degree from Howard Payne before beginning teaching here. She has, since done summer school work at Howard Payne College, the University of Texas, the University of California, and Santa Barbara Business College in California.

She worked several years as a bookkeeper and store manager and finds this practical experience of great value in her teaching of business work.

With the increased demands for office and other business employees, the commercial department of our school should undoubtedly continue to fill a need in helping to train the young people of the community in the skills they must have to qualify for this type of work.

Persons Losing Money By Not Filing S. S. Claims Now

Some persons in the Abilene area have already lost one month's benefit by not filing their claims before the end of March, according to Ralph T. Fisher, Manager of the Abilene Social Security office.

Mr. Fisher explained that many persons became eligible for monthly old-age and survivors insurance benefits when the new social security law went into effect on September 1, 1950. Since the law permits retroactive payments for only six months prior to the month in which a claim for benefits is filed, an eligible individual who did not file his claim before the end of March has already lost his payment for September. However the loss can be held to one month by filing application this month, since a claim filed in April can be retroactive to October of last year.

Among those who became eligible for benefits last September are dependent children, widows, and parents of deceased veterans of World War II. Also, retired workers who have reached the age of 65 are eligible for benefits if they have worked at least 18 months under social security. If the worker is 75, it is not necessary for him to retire in order to qualify for payments.

Anyone who was made eligible by the new law should file a claim before the end of April to prevent further loss of benefits, Mr. Fisher said. Claims should be filed with the nearest office of the Social Security Administration. The Abilene office is at 308 Post Office Building Abilene, Texas.

Retailers Have Until May 7 To File Under Regulation No. 7

Retailers selling consumers goods covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 7 who need more time to prepare the pricing chart required by the Regulation now have until May 30 to file their charts with the Fort Worth District Office of Price Stabilization.

Even though the filing date has been extended thirty days, merchants were urged by Ellis H. Boyd, District Director, to file their charts as soon as possible. Boyd explained that frequently, charts are improperly made out and must be returned for proper adjustments by the merchants.

The District Director urged businessmen having questions concerning the price charts to write the Fort Worth District office as soon as possible.

Meanwhile, until a retailer has prepared and filed his chart, his prices continue to be regulated by the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

CPR 7 was issued originally on February 27, covering apparel, furniture, lamps, floor coverings, yard goods, and other items. That regulation established a deadline of March 29 for filing price charts, a date which subsequently was extended to April 30 when it appeared that insufficient time had been allowed for retailers to familiarize themselves with the regulation and to prepare and file their charts.

Then on April 10, OPS brought many additional items under the regulation, housewares, notions, luggage, sporting goods, silverware, chinaware, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks. Due particularly to the addition of this wide range of items to the list covered by CPR 7, and because many retailers who have failed to file charts will incur the penalties of the regulation. After the filing deadline, no retailer may lawfully sell any item covered by CPR 7 unless he has filed his chart with his OPS District Office.

Let's Preserve Our Heritage

Since the days of the Romans, scales have been used in weighing merchandise to be exchanged, in order that both the buyer and the seller would be assured fair treatment. Because scales are honest and impartial, they have come to be the symbol of justice.

When a man is on trial his fate depends on the scale of justice in the form of a jury of 12 persons. It has been said that the choice of the number, twelve, is unquestionably based upon scriptural precedent. Just as there were 12 prophets to foretell the truth, and 12 apostles to teach the truth, 12 jurymen are chosen to ascertain the truth.

As American citizens, we all have the right to trial by jury. We have the assurance that we will not be deprived of life or liberty without just cause. Even though we know the fate of every person who is accused of a crime—large or small as it may be—is dependent upon a jury, it is often difficult to find 12 men who are willing to serve as jurors.

In a survey made recently among district and county judges and attorneys by the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar of Texas, it was indicated that in some localities, two out of three persons summoned for jury duty offer excuses to be released. Some of the excuses deserve consideration, but more often they do not. It is this lack of interest in the democratic system of justice and in the rights of one's fellow man that has prompted the American Citizenship Committee and the Texas Press Association to designate May as "Jury Service Month".

The bar and the press have joined in urging that no Texan ask to be excused from jury service during May. The far-reaching objective of the campaign is that a reawakening among the people of this state to the urgent need for intelligent and willing jurors will help discourage all excuses in the future.

$25 and $50 E Bond Sales Highest In Year

Defense Bond purchases by workers on Payroll Savings Plans rose sharply during the first quarter of 1951, Vernon L. Clark, National Director of the U. S.

Savings Bonds Division, announced.

The number of $25 and $50 bonds sold added to 13,794,000—10.7% more than during the first three months of 1950.

Of these 10,787,000 were $25 pieces—the largest number of $25 bonds sold in any first quarter period for the last four years. Compared with the first three months of last year the increase was 133%.

The $50 bonds marked up a five-year record for first quarter periods, with sales of 3,007,000 pieces, an increase of 33% over the first three months of last year.

The upward increase in the popular $25 and $50 payroll savers' sizes is highly significant. These denominations account for an increasing proportion of the total dollar volume for Series E. In the first quarter of 1951, $25 and $50 bonds accounted for 35.2% of total dollar volume; for the same period a year ago, the ratio was 25.6%.

Having a good aim in life is fine, but you must know when to pull the trigger to get the best results.

What Is Greatness? Lesson for May 6, 1951

WHAT is a great man? Some men have been called great who were not so; they were only prominent. Hitler, for example, was certainly prominent enough; but he was not great. Men can truly be called great for various good reasons. Some may be artists, some may be soldiers, others statesmen or prophets. Once in a while a man is born who is great in many ways than one.

Dr. Foreman

David, the Ideal King

SUCH a man was David, King of Israel and one of the world's most famous men. The United Kingdom of Israel had a short history, only three kings reigning over it: Saul, David, and Solomon. Of the three, David was by all odds the greatest man and greatest king.

Neither Saul nor Solomon was capable of holding for a lifetime to a high ideal. Neither was capable of whole-hearted devotion to God. Neither one could gain and hold the loyalty of the nation.

It was only David who could do these things. It is no accident that forever after, when a Hebrew thought of the ideal king, he would think neither of Israel's first king nor of the wealthiest, but of David the best and most beloved.

Military Genius DAVID was great in part because of his power in battle. What no one since Joshua had been able to do, David did: he welded the quarreling, jealous, weak tribes of Israel into a "single sword." The times called for military genius, and David had it. He gave Israel the military might that was essential for their peace and prosperity.

So, often since David's time, there have been great soldiers who have used their military genius not for conquest in itself but in order to win some place in the sun for peace-loving nations. One thinks of Charles Martel, who saved Europe from barbarian conquest; of William of Orange who set the Dutch free from Spanish tyranny; of Washington, "father" of a great nation; and of many others.

Lovable Leadership IN OUR times Hitler brought the word "Leader" under a shadow, because his leadership was in the wrong direction. But there is such a thing as noble and wise leadership, and David had this quality in a high degree.

Mrs. J. W. Wise, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. true, success has something to do with it. Men will flock to a winner who would have nothing to do with him if he were a loser. But still it is a fact that most of the world's great leaders who have come up from obscurity, as David did, have arisen at the head of groups of devoted men who have followed them loyally through the darkest times.

So it was with David. During his years as leader of the "underground," literally so, since for some time his headquarters were in a great limestone cave, he developed the hard core of the army he commanded at a later time, a core of men who would rather lose with David than win against him.

Leader in Faith DAVID had yet another quality of greatness, and for this he is perhaps best remembered. He was a man of deep religion. But religion for him was not merely a personal matter; he carried his faith into public life, he made his faith contagious. He did his best to make faith in God central, as it had never been, in the life of his nation.

Religion for him was not a stick with which to beat other people about the head, but a rod and staff to lean upon. It was not a secret locked in his own heart but something he desired to share with all his people. It was not a device to keep his subjects contented; it was an acid test for his own life.

And though he sometimes slipped and terribly fell, he could always rise again, for his religion gave him that rarest of all qualities in great men: humility before God and man.

Whooping Cough Not Big Killer As In Past

Whooping cough, which once took many children's lives every year, is being brought under control by modern medicine.

In 1915 about 15,000 people in this country, mostly children, died from this virus-caused disease.

Trade in Santa Anna.

In 1950, an estimated 1,200 people died, according to latest insurance company statistics.

This dramatic decrease in the mortality rate was brought about through use of new drugs for prevention and treatment. Whooping cough occurs most often in children under five years of age and at one time 20 per cent of infants under six months who contracted the disease died. The American Public Health Association recommends immunization between the third and sixth months of life.

All children are exposed to whooping cough. Once contracted, this disease can have complications which affect the future health of the child. Most common complications are severe inflammation of the middle ear, kidney disease, toxic brain complications, abscess formation, and bronchopneumonia.

Until recently, medication did little to relieve the coughing spasms which accompany the disease. However, this is changing. Recent observation of cases of whooping cough treated with the antibiotic drug aureomycin, showed that it greatly reduced the number and severity of coughing spells, as compared to a group not given the drug. In the laboratory, aureomycin indicated that it will decrease the severity and duration of the illness. Patients receiving the antibiotic showed immediate and steady relief.

Quite people aren't the only ones who don't say much.

What this country needs right now is day clubs for night workers.

It was decided that now is the time for members to plan and discipline themselves what they may not become "problem" grandparents.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

WHILE THE TRUMAN-MACARTHUR tangle simmered, the House proceeded with disposition of appropriation bills last week, trimming them of surplus fat, and the Senate Armed Services committee set the stage for a full-dress hearing on the Far East military policies.

Meanwhile, there is an increasing evidence that General Ridgway, MacArthur's successor, and General Stratemeyer, Air Force Commander in the Far East share many of the views of General MacArthur regarding strategy in Korea. The Senate hearings should reveal basic agreements and disagreements relative to policies in the use of Chinese Nationalists and what should be done about the "privileged sanctuary" in Manchuria.

Along with this was the announcement that the U.S. will send some 600 military experts to Formosa to help train Nationalist troops there to be bolstered by $50 million in aid and equipment to that strategic island.

THERE ARE FEWER NEGROES in Texas now than there were 10 years ago, according to a recent Census report. While our State upped its total count six and a half to nearly seven million, the colored population had a net loss of 4.5%. There are now 886,000 Negroes in Texas.

What happened was that vast numbers of colored people moved away to greener fields. They went north and west. Nonwhites in Ohio, for example, increased by 37.8%. In Illinois it was the same story. The nonwhites gained by 59.8% while the white folks increased by only 19.9%. Similar results are noted in Pennsylvania, New York and California. While the Census Bureau has not released details covering the other southern States, it is evident the exodus was general from the southland.

Rev. H. Marshall Smith, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church of Kerrville recently completed a two-week revival at the Petworth Baptist Church in Washington. While here Mr. Smith was honored in the House of Representatives by being invited to give the prayer at the beginning of one of the sessions.

A Texan who is doing "right well" by himself in Washington is Ward Johnson, a Baylor graduate and former Manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Lampasas. He came to Washington earlier this year to take a post-graduate course in Foreign Affairs at Georgetown University. By arranging his courses for evening and night sessions, he has been able to accept a position with the Washington Board of Trade as Manager of the Foreign Travel, Business Development and Transportation department.

The political crisis in England's labor government has attracted a lot of attention on Capitol Hill, particularly the darts at the United States and its foreign policy by blazing-eyed A. Bevan, resigned left-wing Labor Minister. We can only hope that Bevan speaks for but a disgruntled minority in venting his spleen toward a benefactor that has been endorsing Britain's checks since the end of the war.

Bevan's huff and resignation resulted from rebellion against Britain's increased preparedness budget which would mean less money for social welfare. Winston Churchill has pointed out that most of the $4 billion post-war U. S. loan (gift) to Britain (which I voted against) has been "filtered away" on welfare projects and uses not conducive to permanent economic improvements.

But Britain's $10 billion three-year rearmament program, despite Bevan's outburst, is a sign of John Bull's cooperation under the Atlantic Pact.

Back to Bevan's reason for resignation--it provoked when the Attlee government a few weeks ago broached a disturbingly old-fashioned plan. It would require patients to pay for at least half the cost of their false teeth and specs, thereby saving an estimated $70 million a year.

Mr. Bevan, who wants more socialism instead of less, has been ranting about it ever since. He complained that the rearmament expense would seriously cripple his beloved welfare state.

At least it seems fitting, and heartening that the Britain's free false teeth finally put the bite on a would be socialist dictator.

New GI Insurance Act Explained

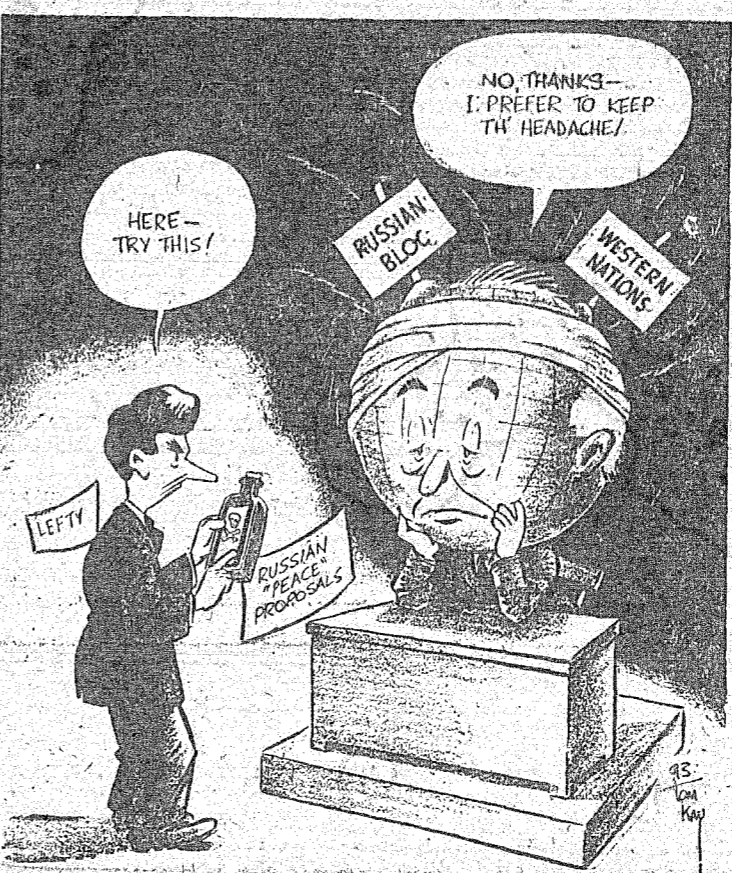

The new insurance act signed into law on April 25 by President Truman has ended the right of veterans to apply for new GI insurance. In commenting on the new law, Mr. John W. Ruff, Acting Manager of the local Veterans Administration Center, pointed out that the new law does not affect existing NSLI policies in any way, and if lapsed, any permanent plan insurance may be reinstated at any time upon payment of delinquent premiums and interest, provided the veteran can meet the necessary medical requirements.

Mr. Ruff also stated that veterans who had GI insurance on the term plan in service and later dropped it, may reinstate it by payment of two monthly premiums, if they meet medical requirements, provided the term period has not expired. Term GI policies issued prior to 1946 were for an eight year period. Those issued later were for only a five year period.

Plans Being Made For Horde Creek Scout Camporee May 11-12

Plans for the Southern District Spring Camporee to be held at Horde's Creek Lake, May 11 and 12, are nearing completion. Boy Scout troops from North Runcells, Coleman and South Callahan Counties are expected to gather at a selected spot on Horde's Creek Lake as early Friday afternoon as possible to camp overnight and to compete in Scout Skill events on Saturday. Each Troop is composed of two or more patrols of about six boys each and these patrols will vie for top honors instead of troops. Awards for the top three Patrols of the camporee have not been announced as yet.

The Southern District Committee wishes to invite the public and parents of Scouts to visit the Camporee Friday evening and to attend the campfire program at eight o'clock p.m. The program will consist of Campfire stunts of the different patrols, installation of District Officers, and a Court of Honor for the presentation of awards and badges the boys have earned during the past few months.

Also planned for this Camporee will be the first meeting of the thirty explorers (Scouts 14 years or older) making the Minnesota-Canada Canoe trip in July. This group of young men will camp together as a step to getting acquainted with other meetings of this group being held later for organization into Crews election of officers and extensive training in water safety. Those Explorers working to earn their way on the trip will not be expected to attend if it will interfere with their jobs.

Homesteaders Eyed For War Duty — Rotation of Army combat veterans from Korea began this week on the scheduled announcement April 5th by the Secretary of War, Frank Pace, Jr. About 400 men left Korea this week for the United States. To equalize the amount of overseas service performed by enlisted personnel the Army is studying means of shaking loose the considerable number of "homesteaders" from Stateside billets they have held for many years and getting them overseas.

College 'Final Term' Program Now Open to Qualified Airmen — All airmen and officers presenting a certificate from an accredited college stating they can complete requirements for an undergraduate or graduate degree within six months are eligible for this new program set up by the Air Force. The plan is to place airmen on temporary duty at a college or university during a six-month period.

Army and Air Force to Pay Pre-Recruit Travel to WACs and WAFs — Both branches of the service increased the area of WAC and WAF selectivity this week with the announcement that prospective female enlistees will travel at government expense to recruiting "main stations" for final interviews and tests. The move is expected to attract many women applicants and may be the forerunner of a larger program to boost the size of the Woman's Army Corps.

College Classes Start at Tennessee Air Force Base — Middle Tennessee State College will offer classes at Seward Air Force Base starting about April 26th, carrying resident credit with the college. The Air Force through an appropriated fund, will pay 75 per cent of the tuition. All classes, other than those requiring use of laboratories, will be conducted at the base. This is an outstanding example of what the different branches of the service are doing to help the man in uniform complete his education.

White Asks For Fight Against Pink Bollworm in Texas

Austin. — John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, today called for the most stringent measures against the Pink Bollworm, which has been called the cotton industry's Enemy No. 1.

The worm today infests 171 Texas counties. Forty-four of these are new infestations, recorded last year when a wet summer and an extended plow-up deadline in the Coastal Bend hindered control work.

The pest costs farmers millions of dollars a year by destroying cotton and lowering grades. The farmers' expense in infested areas is increased because of treatment required at the gin to prevent spread of the "pink peril."

Commissioner White said that the answer to the pink bollworm menace is early planting and early plow-up of cotton stalks. This method works, he explained, because the insect cannot live unless there are cotton or okra stalks upon which it can feed. It can live on nothing else, and if these two plants are destroyed after the crop is made, it starves.

Early plowing of fields is always successful in fighting the pink bollworm, White said. He added that plowing up is also good cultural practice because it helps to destroy boll weevil and other pests, and puts plant material back into the soil and helps to conserve moisture.

Wherever the rules of early planting and early plow-up have been observed, White said, there has been an increase in lint yield and an increase in total production of cotton. On the other hand, if plow-up dates are extended, there is always an increase in pink bollworm infestation and a decrease in yield.

It may be necessary to extend some planting dates because of unfavorable weather conditions.

In the Lower Rio Grande Valley, special permits have already been issued to individual farmers who were unable to meet the April 15 planting deadline. Special permits to plant as late as April 25 were granted to farmers who were able to show hard ship caused by drought, blowing sand, or hail.

White emphasized, however, that there will be no extension of plow-up dates except in cases of extreme emergency.

Texas is fortunate, he pointed out, in that this state usually has little rain in the late summer and early fall, when fields in pink bollworm infested areas should be plowed up.

Plow-up deadlines are set in more northern sections of the state.

Life is full of ups and downs. But the most difficult of all is keeping appearances up and expenses down.

Over Population Of Biting Animals May Cause Rabies

(Editor's note: The following article concerns the eastern part of Texas mostly. However, due to an increasing number of foxes and skunks in this section of the state, we feel that the advice offered here by the State Health Officer is of interest to all concerned, regardless of whether it be in East Texas or Central Texas.)

Wherever there is an over population of biting animals whose natural defense is their teeth, and which travel along the ground, there is a potential danger of a rabies outbreak.

This is the word from the State Health Officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, concerning the disease which is currently flaring over East Texas.

Wild foxes and skunks are chiefly responsible for the East Texas trouble, Dr. Cox said, and urged residents to take strong measures against them.

There's a law prohibiting the sale of pelts during December or January, but there is no law to prevent killing them anytime they can be caught in a rifle sight," the health official declared.

He describes rabies as being of two types — "dumb" and "furious." Either type is one hundred percent fatal to animals and humans once the symptoms develop. And, he added, any warm blooded animal, including birds can contract the disease.

Disclaiming the classical mad dog with its frothing jaws as "misleading," he explained that a rabid dog's appearance frequently lead the owner to suspect a bone lodged in its throat.

"More than one owner has forced open a dog's mouth to investigate, and made himself liable to rabies' exposure," Cox said.

He urged that suspected animals be put in care of a veterinarian for observation, and declared that a definite change in behavior is usually the first symptom of infection.

Livestock losses have been high in the eastern section of the state, the health official said, but indicated that they are heightened when wary farmers kill valuable stock because they suspect rabies.

He said of the 127 cow headcount laboratories for examination so far this year, only 38 of them were positive indicating the others had been killed without allowing sufficient time for observation.

First Baptist Church News

Sunday, May 6, will be the last Sunday of the Loyalty Campaign. The church membership is being called upon to make this the best Sunday of the Ten. A number of the Sunday School classes are endeavoring to reach their goal of attendance. The attendance and all phases of the work have been up during these ten weeks.

The week of May 6-13 will be recognized as Christian Home Week. The pastor, Harry C. Wigger, will use as his sermon subject for the morning service, "The Bible in the Home".

In the evening at 8:00 p. m. the pastor's subject will be "Behind the Curtain of Time". The public is urged to attend the evening services. The lights must stay on in the churches of our community. You can help to keep them on by attending some church every Sunday evening.

Local Methodist Church News

Some were out of town the fifth Sunday and several were absent because of sickness. We hope all can be back during the month of May, which concludes our Conference Year. "The Hidden Treasure" was the pastor's theme for the morning hour. In observance of Rural Life Sunday at the evening hour the pastor discussed some of the problems, values and challenges of rural life. A most appropriate song service was enjoyed. With thoughtful preparation it is possible to have a fitting hymn service for any theme since our hymnals contain such a wealth of song.

Our W. S. C. S. are enjoying a most timely study "Toward a Christian Community", to which all women are cordially invited.

As a part of our observance of Christian Family Week, all classes are asked to assemble in the main auditorium at 10 o'clock next Sunday. At the evening hour an appropriate picture is to be shown. Young people from one of our neighboring communities are to be our guests. Other special features beside the picture are being planned. A cordial invitation is extended to all who care to come.

Tuesday, May 8th, is an important day for all interested in our Vacation Church School. On that day at 10 a. m. a Vacation School Institute is being held at Coleman. Workers are urged to make plans to attend. The preachers of the district are also meeting on that date, at which time they are to give approximate totals along all lines of their work for the year. The report our pastor gives will be the one each member helps to make possible. Each is expected to do his best.

There are several other important dates during the month. Let us be present each time. Especially do we urge parents to be present with their children next Sunday, which is recognized throughout our church as "Childhood Sunday".
