Thoughts OF A COUNTRY EDITOR

BY JOHN C. GREGG

OUR TRIP

Your editor and family returned from their short vacation Saturday afternoon, after visiting from Tuesday night with Mrs. Gregg's father, Mr. Clyde Cole and Mrs. Cole at Joaquin, Texas, which is right on the banks of the Sabine River.

We had thought we might be able to catch a fish or two, but the river level was dropping and the water was muddy all the time we were there — so if any fish are in that river, they are still there so far as we are concerned, but there are not near as many mosquitoes left as there were when we got there. I do not know how many we killed, but it was not enough because there were still enough that they would cover you up unless you kept them brushed off.

We had a very enjoyable time though and had a nice mess of fish, which we bought. We saw lots of beautiful crops. Some small grains were cut and shocked and other was being combined. Field after field had lots of good looking cotton and a lot of them had some of the best looking corn we had seen in several years.

A lot of the highways we traveled are under construction. The road from Goldthwaite to Gatesville is undergoing a complete rebuilding and the other side of Palestine for about 75 miles a lot of construction is underway. We did not have any car trouble and actually did not even have any close calls so far as accidents were concerned. We had a very pleasant time and want to again express our appreciation to all of you for your cooperation in helping us to get our paper out early in order that we could take a few days off.

BEAUTIFICATION CONTEST

How are you getting along with beautifying your property? A lot of prizes are going to be given away this fall to the ones who make the best efforts in the beautification program. Prizes are going to be awarded in four divisions and every family in town is eligible to enter. All you have to do is just get out in the yard and go to work.

We can be thankful that we have plenty of water to use in any way we want to. The City Council has been generous enough to increase the amount of water that can be used for the minimum charge from 3,000 gallons to 5,000 gallons, which with all the prizes being offered, should induce most every family in town to really attempt to beautify their premises.

A beautiful town is always noticed. Any town whose citizens make an effort to keep the city clean and beautiful soon are recognized for their outstanding achievements. We have as good, if not the best, setting for a beautiful town as any place in Texas. The mountain on the north of town is well remembered by most people who travel through this section of the state. A lot of remarks are made about the mountain and a lot more would be made if everyone would join in the program to get the town beautified. But it cannot be done with little or no effort — it takes work and after it is completed it will certainly be worth the effort and you will be proud of our town.

TWO IN RACE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

During the last session of the Texas Legislature the entire state was re-districted. In the shuffle Coleman County fell into Representative District No. 77 with Coke, Runnels and Concho Counties, with a combined population of 41,397 according to the 1950 census.

This is altogether a new district and will this year elect a

A. J. Bishop Is Candidate For Representative

A. J. Bishop, 27-year-old quarter-horse breeder and farmer, announced his candidacy for the office of State Representative from the 77th District, made up of Runnels, Coleman, Concho, and Coke counties.

A. J. BISHOP

Bishop, who is from Winters, states that "After serious consideration of the many important issues that face the people of our district and our state, I have decided to file as candidate for the office of representative, believing that our people deserve and need public servants that understand their problems and will represent them."

"I earnestly solicit the support and the votes of the people of this district, and so that all may know me, I will carry this campaign to all voters of this area."

"Altho this is a new field in which I am entering, it is my sincere purpose to serve the people of this district in which I was born and reared."

Bishop, a graduate of Winters High School and Texas Tech College, is a veteran of World War II. He served with the 42nd (Rainbow) Infantry Division in Europe. After being discharged from the army, he entered Texas Tech College and obtained a Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture in 1950. While he was a student at Tech, he was a very active leader and outstanding man on the campus. Upon graduation he returned to the farm and became an associate in farming and the quarter horse business with his father.

In 1951 Governor Allan Shivers appointed him to serve as a member of the Texas Pasture Improvement Committee.

"I have no selfish interest to serve," Bishop said, "but to represent all the people living within the four counties of this district."

"I am particularly interested and will seek the continuation and support of the important farm and ranch programs of this area, and will work for the elimination of the waste and extravagance that have caused higher taxes."

Bishop is single and a member of the Drasco Methodist Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bishop, of Winters.

Nally - Zirkle Vows Exchanged June 5

Single ring vows united Miss Barbara Ann Nally and Bobby Jo Zirkle Thursday afternoon, June 5 at 3 o'clock at the Church of Christ, Coleman.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Josephine Nally and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Zirkle, all of Coleman.

Dan Fogarty, minister of the Church of Christ, read the impressive ceremony before an arrangement of white gladioluses flanked with large floor baskets of greenery. Wedding music was played preceding the ceremony. The wedding party entered to the music and song "Always".

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, wore a dress of imported Siamese silk. The short fitted jacket over the full skirted street length dress, had designs of interwoven silver thread.

She carried a pink split carnation bouquet with pink ribbon and satin streamers. Her white veil of mist illusion was held by a small white hat. Carrying out the old tradition, she wore something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue and a penny in her shoe.

Miss Shirley Stovall of Coleman, maid of honor, wore a pastel green dress of organdy with a fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried a pink bouquet.

Tommy Don Good of Odessa acted as best man.

For the ceremony the bride's mother wore a suit of oriental silk in changeable green and gold. Her corsage was of yellow carnations. The groom's mother chose a dress of navy nylon with white accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

When the couple left for a short wedding trip and their home in Abilene, the bride was wearing a dress of dusty rose nylon organdy with pink accessories with the flowers from her bridal bouquet as her corsage. Guests were invited by Don and Linda Zirkle to register in the wedding book, which was a handmade gift from Mrs. Paul Wallace.

James B. Duke left $40,000.00 to Trinity College with the provision that it be changed to Duke University.

Plenty Of New Tires Seen For Future

Austin — Texas Motorists can look forward to continuously well-stocked tire shelves, now that the National Production Authority has removed all restrictions from natural rubber production, according to the Texas Division of the American Automobile Association.

The natural rubber supply in the United States has reached such a plentiful level, say Texas Three-A officials, that the restrictions on the use of natural rubber, in effect for many months, are no longer needed.

The NPA ordered them removed in a recent directive, referring to the nation's improved rubber outlook. So, on June first, the Government quit the rubber buying business, and allowed industry once more to do its own buying, the AAA learned.

Funny and Serious

A newspaper publisher and a merchant were arguing over the best medium of advertising.

The merchant claimed the billboard was read by more people than the paper.

When the merchant's daughter got married his wife wrote a very elaborate story of the event and gave to the paper early in the week.

When the paper was in the mail, the merchant rushed to the post office for his paper expecting to see the story of the big event on the front page; but it was not even in the paper.

He collared the publisher and wanted to know why he would treat him that way.

The publisher said: I knew you wanted the most people to read it, so I took it down and tacked it on the billboard.

My Family Get-Together

By Mrs. A. L. Oder
 For the first time in a number of years, it was my happy privilege to have all my six children, five in-laws, and 10 grandchildren together under the home roof on last Sunday. In fact, several of the younger grandchildren were born since we were all together.

Part of the number came on Friday, others Saturday, and the others came Sunday morning. There was an almost 100% attendance of the group at services at the First Christian Church, after which a good dinner was enjoyed in the church parsonage, now used for social and educational purposes, where we had lived happily for nearly 4 years. Much good food was brought by those attending. So, we had a feast of turkey, fried chicken, baked ham, relishes, salads, vegetables, pies, cakes, iced tea and coffee.

All enjoyed being together, looking at old pictures and talking about old times.

My grandchildren, the older ones especially, like to come to Santa Anna because we have mountains to climb, they get to see more trains pass than at their homes, and the little ones get great delight in collecting horned toads. Little Jimmy, who arrived Friday afternoon had 14 to take home, but was generous enough to give some to Sallye, who arrived Sunday morning.

Enjoying the day together was the writer, who probably enjoyed it most, my daughter, Mrs. Floyd Herring and husband, Phil and Janice of Austin; my five sons, Ellis, my bachelor boy of Cisco; Javan and Ella, Victor, Marianne, John Watts and Harry Hies of Waco; Paul Ru Beth and Sallye of Corpus Christi; Harry, Natilie and Lee Beth of Abilene and Clifford, Louise, Virginia and Jimmy of Longview.

Mrs. Randy Brooks Honored With Tea

Mrs. Randy Brooks was honored with a layette shower on Tuesday June 17th from 4 to 5 o'clock.

This pleasant affair, attended by a group of her friends was given by Mrs. Sam Evans and Mrs. Jack Dossey in the home of the honoree's mother, Mrs. S. L. Tomme.

Mrs. Brooks opened the gifts brought by those attending and sent by others, and passed them to be viewed.

Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Dossey served refreshments of cake, punch and cookies.

Home Dem. Club Discusses Warfare

"What You Should Know About Biological Warfare and Survival Under Atomic Attack," was the subject discussed by Mrs. J. F. Goen when the Santa Anna Home Demonstration Club met in her home, Friday, June 20th.

"There are six survival secrets we should keep in mind," further stated Mrs. Goen. "Keep windows and doors closed, do not use the telephone except in extreme emergencies, listen to the radio for instructions, strive for fire-proof house keeping, never lose your head, and keep emergency equipment handy."

We feel safe from such an attack, yet with world conditions as they are, it is well we study and learn these precautions.

The Annual Encampment will be July 28 at the rodeo grounds in Coleman.

The club voted to hold only one meeting in July, as the first meeting falls on July 4th.

Miss Marialyce Smith, County Agent, will be present at that time.

A display of dresser scarves was shown to the members present and two visitors, Mrs. L. G. Bobo and Miss Mamie Turner.

Picnic At Lake Honors Three

Mr. W. J. McClure, Wamon Upchurch, and Anna Kay McClure were honored on their birthdays with a picnic supper at the Santa Anna Lake last Friday evening.

Present for the gala affair were: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McClure; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Upchurch, Wamon and Jesse Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Noble Carpenter and children, Chrystene, Carolyn, Floyd, Delaine and Dorothea of Shield; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. McClure and children, Anna Kay, Leta Fae, Francine and Gary of Brown Ranch; and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bartlett.

All reported a fine time.

New Commandment
 Lesson for June 29, 1952

WHICH of all the commandments is the most important? They kept asking this question century after century, and no one ever quite answered it before Jesus. It can easily be a puzzling question so long as you think of the Laws of God as if they were a set of municipal, regulations or by-laws of a club. They are not like that. They are all of a piece. When your tire is flat it doesn't make much difference where it is flat. If it is flat in one place it might as well be flat in a dozen places. The Ten Commandments are all linked together, indeed one can say much more than that. All the laws of God, everything God desires and orders man to do,—it is all linked in one.

Dr. Foreman

Thou Shalt Love
 JESUS' answer to the old, old question about the "great commandment" was not absolutely original. Shortly before his time, a smart-aleck young man, so the story goes, had come to a great Rabbi named Hillel, and said to him: "The law is much too long and complicated. Can you tell me the law while I stand on one foot?"

"Yes," said Hillel. "Lift one foot up. Now: Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart . . . Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself . . . Now, put your foot down. That is, the law; all the rest is commentary."

So Jesus quoted the same two laws that Hillel did,—from Deuteronomy 6:5 and Leviticus 19:18.

The link of the law is love; this is what ties all the laws together.

Two Kinds of Love
 THE WORD "love" in English has been dragged around till at times it is very hard to tell what it means. If anything. Girls love ice cream and boys love basketball and a movie actress claims she loves her fifth husband, and the preacher tells us we should love God. How can we use the same word for so many different things?

Now a famous Swedish Christian thinker named Nygren has written a book to straighten us out on this. He calls the book "Agape and Eros," this being the two different Greek words for "love." It's the same word in English for two different things; the Greeks knew better, and used two words that don't even look alike.

"Eros" means the kind of love girls have for ice cream or the movie actress has for her fifth husband. It is definitely not the word used in the New Testament where Jesus commands us to love God and our neighbor. "Eros" means possessive love, the love that wants to control and keep, the kind of love some parents have for their children when they do not want them to grow up or to make choices of their own.

"Agape" (Agapay) is a quite different thing. It means self-giving, self-sacrificing concern for another person. You might have "eros" for an ice-cream cone, but not "agape." Yet the great and distinctive point about Agape is that it does not insist on something or anything in return. It is not bargaining love, it is not careful, cautious love, it is free outpouring of life for life.

If you really want to know what "agape" love is, you must look at the Cross and consider that "while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us" (Rom. 5:8).

Love Is the Answer

ST. PAUL, who could just as well be called the Apostle of Love as St. John could, understood these things very well. He says that "love is the fulfilling of the law" or as J. B. Phillips happily translates it, "Love is the answer to the Law's commands." (Rom. 13:10.)

We shall never even want to obey the will of our Father in Heaven unless we first love him. And we shall never really desire to treat our neighbor as God wants us to treat him if we have no "agape" love for him in our hearts.

Love is not a substitute for law. Love is rather the atmosphere in which we begin to understand God and our neighbor. Eros-love will not do; the Bible never once commands it and never commends it. It is only the outgoing, self-forgetting devotion, that Jesus taught and demonstrated, that is like the love of the true God. Whatever we may do, if we have no love, we have still done nothing.

JUDGES' STATEMENTS OF LAW BINDING UPON JURORS

Judges get the law by which they decide legal questions arising in a lawsuit from three sources: federal and state constitutions; federal and state statutes; and from previous judicial decisions and legal writings. Previous decisions state the public standards of rights and duties in matters not covered by constitutions and statutes.

Lawyers say that if judges and juries were not bound by law and precedents — if in each lawsuit, the judge or juror could set up a private standard of rights and duties as a basis for deciding that case — no one would know in advance of the decision how he should have acted in a particular situation. Cases arising out of similar circumstances would not be decided on settled principles but on the personal ideas of the trial judge or juror.

Because cases must be tried and determined on established and recognized public standards of right and wrong, we call ours a government of law and not a government of men.

Judges have access to statements of the law and know which apply to the situation involved in any lawsuit. So that justice may be done according to the law, it is imperative that the jurors in each case accept the law as the judge gives it to them. They are therefore required to base their verdict on his instructions as to the law, rather than on their own notions of what the law is, or ought to be.

For somewhat similar reasons there are rules governing the way a case is to be tried in court. These rules prescribe what must be stated in the pleadings, in what order evidence must be presented, what evidence is proper, what form questions must take, in what order lawyers are permitted to argue, what is permissible and what is not permissible argument.

If it were not for these rules no one could foresee what would happen during a lawsuit. It would be impossible to prepare

CROP SPRAYING
 Despite of the progress made in modern agricultural methods each year, the farmer is often faced in problems as old as recorded history.

One major obstacle with which Texas farmers will have to contend with this season can be traced as far back as Biblical times — the plague of insects. While insect infestations are not expected to actually reach plague proportions in Texas as they have in other parts of the world in 1952, the problem is still a serious one.

Recent inspections reveal that cotton insects, including the persistent and destructive Pink Bollworm, are more strongly entrenched in Texas fields than at any time in the past 40 years. Comparison records of the Pink Bollworm, alone show that for every one of the worms found in South Texas cotton last year, there are ninety (90) this year. The build-up of other harmful insects is almost equally as heavy. As a result, the farmer can expect a higher ratio of crop damage in addition to a greater expenditure on insecticides.

It will be to the Texas farmer's advantage to follow an organized method of spraying crops this season for the best insect control. The best plan will be to get in touch with county agents and study the seven-step spraying program as set up by the Texas Extension Service.

Much of the effectiveness of spraying or dusting is nullified by poor timing. Spraying on a "guess basis" often catches harmful insects in the pupa stage when insecticides and pesticides have little or no effect. It may also do away with some of the useful type insects.

The seven-step program varies over the state but each area has a definite plan set up according to local climatic and insect conditions. This type of spraying assures the farmer of getting the most benefit out of money spent for insect control.

The most effective measure yet found against the Pink Bollworm is strict compliance with planting and plow-up deadlines. These measures are already in effect in areas where the heaviest infestation exists. But the extremely large build-up this season is due partly to the mild winter which failed to kill off the usual number of last year's generations.

The Pink Bollworm can't stand "wet feet" but it does carry over well in dry and mild weather. The farmer will have to practice every control measure possible this year to keep down the present insect "plague".

Take A Restful Vacation This Year

The age of wonder drugs — penicillin, the sulphas, streptomycin — has overshadowed the oldest and still one of the best remedies for mankind's ills — rest.

The Texas Safety Association would like to see restful vacations this summer, instead of the usual competitions to see who can drive the farthest and fastest and play most dangerously.

"A restful vacation is more likely to be a safe vacation," said W. Carlross Morris, Jr., a Houston Attorney and President of the Association. "And the statistics of summer accidents certainly should make all of us think about safety."

A motor vehicle accident is the most likely mishap to spoil vacation rest and fun, but many of them could be avoided with a little advance planning, Mr. Morris said. He emphasized the importance of a thorough safety starting a motor trip.

"Texans now have the opportunity to take advantage of their new motor vehicle inspection system which offers a uniform safety check at convenient locations throughout the state," he said. "What better time to get that inspection than just before the summer holidays? At the same time, you are freeing your mind of worries over the mechanical performance of the car and taking out an insurance policy on the safety of your family

Texas Publishers Demand Accounting Of Public Funds

Texas newspaper publishers expressed strong objection to the failure of state officials to publish accountings of receipts and disbursements of public tax monies at the 73rd Annual Meeting of the Texas Press Association in Houston, June 14.

Resolutions were passed calling attention to the fact that, even though required by law, such publications are seldom made by city, county and school board district officials. Resolutions pointed out that such public notices are required for the understanding, benefit and criticism of the voters and tax payers, and that the light of publicity could place a curb upon the "careless, wasteful extravagance and often corrupt handling of public funds."

In part, the resolutions read: WHEREAS, laws in other states recognize the need of such detailed publication of all expenditures of public monies, wherein said expenditures are listed in the local or regional newspaper, item by item, dollar by dollar; and that experience in other states proves that the cost of publication is more than justified by its enormous saving in the tax payer's money THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Legislative Committee of this Texas Press Association be called upon to study this particular phase of our state law and that said committee be empowered to suggest corrective measures for consideration by the State Legislative body.

J. C. Smyth, publisher of the Liberty Vindicator is chairman of the TPA Legislative Committee.

A second resolution passed by the convention urged the election of officials who will pledge themselves to call a halt to tax increases. A third called for revision of the state election code to "create a basis of equity between and among candidates contending for any one particular office." Another endorsed the efforts of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, in their fight for freedom of information and the peoples' right to know.

Attempts by certain groups to place a curb on advertising for selfish purposes and the TPA's objection to false or misleading advertising also were cited by the Resolutions Committee. Canadian manufacturers of newsprint were condemned for their increase in the price of their product, and domestic producers were urged to maintain their present prices, in another resolution. The association also went on record as approving the work of Weekly Newspaper Representatives of New York City, a new organization formed for the handling of national advertising in the country's weekly newspapers. Michael Colesanto, general manager of Weekly Newspaper Representatives, was a speaker for the Houston meeting.

William Rawland, publisher of the Cleburne Times-Review, was elected president of the Texas Press Association, at the meeting. He replaces Brad H. Smith, Weslaco News publisher. Smith will serve during the coming year as chairman of the Board of Directors, succeeding Frederick I. Massengill, Jr., Terrell Daily Tribune. Arthur H. Koewert, Fredericksburg Standard, was named vice-president, and William E. Berger, publisher of the Hondo Anvil Herald, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Named to the Board of Directors were J. C. Phillips, Berger News-Herald, and O. J. Wilkerson, Port Neches Chronicle.

New Grasshopper Poison Effective

Grasshoppers — which came close to driving western settlers off the Great Plains — are being destroyed by the billion today with new petrochemicals spread from airplanes.

In Iran last year U. S. government experts used a poison called aldrin to subdue the worst locust plague in 100 years. Now they are carrying their air-ground attacks with this petrochemical throughout the "Old Testament" region. They expect to prevent modern repetitions of the locust plagues visited on ancient Egypt in the days of Joseph.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends new grasshopper sprays — aldrin, chlordane, or toxaphene — to supplant the poison bait that formerly required elaborate mixing, storing and spreading techniques. Much easier for the individual farmer to use, and more potent, these new sprays are reported widely available.

A mere three generations ago, repeated grasshopper invasions nearly arrested and reversed the westward course of immigration in this country. Appalling scourges of these crop ravagers during 1874-76 stripped the entire Great Plains bare of vegetation.

This earlier American experience is a far cry from today, when as little as an ounce and one-third of petrochemical prevention in a gallon of water can make an acre of land grasshopper-proof.

Whitey Sure "Rang the Bell"

Telephone woke me out of a sound sleep last Friday about eleven-thirty. "This is Whitey Fisher out on River Road," says a voice. "I just wanted to tell you how much I like this week's Clarion."

"Thanks, Whitey," I told him. "But why in blazes call to tell me at this time of night?" "Simple," he says, "your paper boy just delivered it a short while ago. Been waiting for it all evening."

Next day, Buzzy Wilson tells me he delivered Whitey's paper late because he stayed for the school dance and thought it would be OK to drop it off on his way home.

From where I sit, I can't blame Whitey for his joke. He was just reminding me we owe other people the same respect we expect from them. Since I'm always talking about respecting the other fellow's rights—including his right to enjoy a glass of beer if he chooses, it was only fair that Whitey should "wake me up" to his right to get his copy of the Clarion on time. Thanks again, Whitey!

the next year appeared likely as a result of House action last week. Differences between the House and Senate versions of OPS and WSB will have to be resolved, and the final version will not be known until that is done.

The House tentatively removed controls from fresh fruits and vegetables, and directed decontrols with respect to all commodities that are not in short supply and which sell below ceiling prices. It simplified or removed requirements for reports to OPS on many items and attempted to cut out a lot of the unnecessary red tape and book-keeping that has been required in the past.

On the subject of wages, the House abolished the present Wage Stabilization Board and provided for a new board where in the appointments of all public members would have to be confirmed by the Senate. This was designed to eliminate the "packed board which has been instrumental in causing the present steel strike. In addition, the House set the stage to adopt the Senate amendment which requests the President to invoke the Taft-Hartley law and to stop the present disastrous steel strike. His failure to do this is costing this country 2,000,000 tons of steel each week.

Actually, the OPS is spending a major part of its time in attempting to control prices on items that are nonessential or which sell well below ceiling prices. It costs the taxpayers at least $80,000,000 a year to pay the salaries and expenses of the nearly 15,000 government employees now on OPS payroll. Many of us believe the American people would be better off if the OPS were completely abolished. It has been pointed out that Armour & Co. sell 90 per cent of their meat at prices that are below the ceilings set by OPS. And the same is true of many other important food products.

Another development growing out of the House and Senate actions on controls was the refusal to provide new seizure powers for the President. The President had requested legal authority to do the same thing that he recently did illegally with respect to the steel mills. He wants power to take over and operate the mills indefinitely, with the right to impose wage changes, the union shop, and other conditions if he should see fit.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Winger returned to their home at Oil City Penn. last week, after a three weeks visit here with his sister, Mrs. J. W. Parker and family. While here, the visitors, and Mr. and Mrs. Parker, made a trip to the Gulf Coast and enjoyed some deep sea fishing at Port Isabel. They had fine success.

Electric Cooking is Fast, Safe, Thrifty... It's Matchless!

When summer temperatures soar—electric cooking can help keep your kitchen a cool, clean, pleasant place to work. Controlled electric heat goes directly into the food, not into the room—the oven, insulated on all six sides, cooks the food and not the cook. And there's no soot, smoke or fumes to smudge walls, pots and pans because only an electric range cooks with clean "sealed" heat that leaves no residue of any kind in your kitchen.

Representative for the first time two young men from Winters are the only ones in the race. A. J. Bishop, 27-year-old quarter-horse breeder and farmer, whose announcement we are carrying this week and R. W. Shytle, 26-year-old lawyer, whose announcement run sometime ago, are working for the opportunity of serving this district.

In the Senatorial District, Coleman County was kept in the same 25th District, along with 19 other counties. State Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo is seeking re-election to that office with no opponent.

OUR TAX MONEY

Where does our tax money go? This writer would venture a guess that not one person out of 100 over the state could answer that question with any degree of accuracy. That goes for all tax money beginning at the city level and continuing through the Federal Government.

At the recent meeting of the Texas Press Association, the Texas Publishers passed a resolution in a desperate attempt to get something done about the manner in which our tax money is spent. According to state law, all city, county and school district officials are supposed to publish financial statements, clearly indicating where and what money is spent for what. This is very seldom done, and therefore very few people realize just where their tax money goes.

Art. 1023 of the Civil Statutes of the State of Texas clearly state that City Councils shall publish a complete financial statement at least ten days before the expiration of each municipal year. To my certain knowledge this has not been done in Santa Anna. School districts and counties are also covered by the Texas law.

Some people claim that it would take more of the tax payers money to publish these financial statements in newspapers and so they may as well save that much money. However, they fail to see that unless a financial statement is published, very few people realize where their tax money goes — they also might realize that if the average citizen knew where some of the money might be going — they would be forced to cut some unnecessary expenditures and thus decrease some of our heavy burden of taxes. This does not only include cities, counties and school districts, it includes the State of Texas and the Federal Government.

There is no doubt but what a lot of money could and would be saved if all the people knew where all their tax money was going. Something has got to be done about the ever increasing burden of taxes and the people are the ones who are going to have to do it. If you know where each dollar you pay in taxes goes and when you see where money is being spent foolishly — you are then going to see if you can't stop some of it. When enough of the citizens of the country demand anything it is most likely to be done (except in the case of Harry Truman).

We do not contend that our local public officials are spending our tax money foolishly. This we do not know about. Your editor has studied a number of so-called financial reports, or audits, and so far as them being in a readily understandable form, they were not. But nevertheless we still have not had city, county or school district statements published and according to law they should be.

Following is a copy of the resolution passed by the publishers of Texas Newspapers in annual session recently:

WHEREAS, the cost of Texas state government has increased 255% since 1940 to the astounding total of $582,821,034 for the fiscal year of 1952, according to an estimate by the Texas Economy Commission; and —

WHEREAS, local and federal taxes also have increased to swell the total tax burden to an alarming more than 30% of total income; and —

WHEREAS, we of the Texas Press Association well know that excessive taxation will destroy the incentive for profit and a stable economy; and —

WHEREAS, the members of this Association believe that the places to start practicing sanity in government are in our home communities and our home state; now therefore be it —

RESOLVED: That the Texas Press Association in annual convention assembled this 14th day of June, 1952 demands of candidates for public office this year that they pledge themselves to call a halt to tax increases;

RESOLVED: That since the cost of Texas state government has more than doubled the 120% increase of non-military federal government the successful candidates for state representative and state senator must be men and women who will not only assure economy in government through elimination of waste and duplication of services but will work for a deduction in taxes; and be it further —

RESOLVED: That a copy of this resolution be printed in our respective papers and sent to every candidate for public office in our respective territories.

Mrs. B. R. Wagner, Former Citizen Buried Here Mon.

Burial services beside her husband, who died here in February of 1929, took place in the Santa Anna Cemetery at about 2:30 Monday afternoon for Mrs. B. R. Wagner.

She had died at the home of a daughter, Madge, in Cleburne, on Friday night, June 20. Funeral services were held in Abilene at 10 a. m. on Monday.

She had lived in Santa Anna several years while her husband was pastor of the First Methodist Church. He died in February, 1929, and after his death, Mrs. Wagner and family moved to Abilene and bought a home, where she continued to live until five years ago, when because of failing health, she went to Cleburne to live with Madge, who was here for the service. Another daughter, Martha of Amarillo, also came, and one son, Graves, a Santa Anna High School graduate was here. One son living on Catalina Island and one daughter who had had surgery, could not be here.

While here the Wagners made many friends who will regret her passing and sympathize with the survivors.

Two training amphibious assaults will be made; one at Vieques Island off the coast of Puerto Rico, and another at Onslow Beach, N. C.

A visit to Nassau, New Providence, and the British West Indies is in store for the crew.

Mrs. T. R. Sealy and Misses Ruby and Elsie Lee Harper returned on Thursday of last week from a trip of nearly two weeks. They visited in the home of Capt. and Mrs. Kenneth Knowles and family at Asheville, N. C. They report that Capt. Knowles is considerably improved.

Plans Outlined To Fight Polio

Austin — A long-range battle plan against rampaging polio was outlined Wednesday by the State Department of Health.

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox recommended these eight points of action in combatting the disease which this year is striking harder at Texas than at any other part of the nation:

1. Spot spray insect breeding places after they have been cleaned up and destroyed. Spraying indiscriminately might kill a few insects on the wing, but it won't do the job. It might kill valuable plants and create a false sense of security.

2. Get rid of animal shelters in urban areas. They cannot be kept clean and consequently create a health hazard as fly breeders.

3. Get rid of dump piles, tin cans, old tires, and accumulated debris which breed flies and mosquitoes and provide harborage for rats.

4. Provide a properly operated sewerage system, and get rid of all surface toilets. Dr. Cox believes surface toilets constitute one of the major health hazards facing Texas.

5. Provide a source of pure water.

6. Protect food supplies in wholesale business houses, retail shops, and in private homes.

7. Make regular inspections of all premises to see that no possibility exists for fly breeding. If you have flies, somebody is maintaining a breeding spot.

8. Garbage should be placed in fly tight garbage cans until time of disposal. Tubs, boxes, lidless garbage cans, etc., are of no value.

He urged each home owner to assume responsibility for keeping his property clean inside and out. This will help protect you and your neighbor. More people have been struck down by polio this year than ever before.

He said it takes months and months to clean up a city, and that it "takes forever to keep it that way." The program must be continuous. "It will take from one to five years to really clean up our larger cities," Cox said.

"This is the same program we have followed and published for the past ten years. People have got to get over the notion that spraying alone will keep their city fly-free," Dr. Cox declared. "The only way to kill flies is to do it methodically, block by block, by eliminating their breeding places."

"They carry many diseases — diarrhea, typhoid fever, cholera, trachoma, just to mention a few. I firmly believe that if this 8-point program invoked, we'll see a lessening of polio incidence in the future."

Serving On Destroyer

Gilliam T. Byrom, Seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Byrom of Voss, Texas, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Uhlmann which is presently undergoing overhaul at the San Francisco Naval Shipyard.

The Uhlmann recently returned from a six-month tour of combat duty in the Far East, where she operated off the coasts of Korea, Formosa and Japan.

During the four-month yard period, the ship will be refitted and serviced while the crew enjoys a well-earned tour of shore-liberty.

Complete 2-Weeks English Workshop At Hardin-Simmons

Abilene — Two persons from Santa Anna, Texas have completed a two-week English workshop course this week at Hardin-Simmons University. They are Mrs. Mabel Burrage and Mrs. Maude C. Harris.

The workshop course, slanted for school teachers, introduced new methods, theories, and techniques of the field and provided discussion of the problems of the teacher. The course is offered each summer at H-SU.

Mrs. Burrage is an instructor at the Santa Anna High School. She is currently doing advanced post-graduate work. Mrs. Harris is an instructor in the Santa Anna elementary school. She teaches second grade. She is currently working on the Master of Education degree.

Other summer features at Hardin-Simmons will be a choir school, July 13-19, and a band clinic, July 19-August 2. Both are open to teachers, directors, and junior and senior high school students of music.

New Pasture Bulletin Released

College Station — Every acre of cultivated land in Texas ought to be in grasses and legumes three to five of each ten to twenty years; to hold the soil, to keep active organic matter available to produce profitable crops or otherwise to make it pay. That is a thought for the future and is only one of many listed in a new bulletin just released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service — B-197, Building Pastures.

The author, A. W. Crain, formerly associate pasture specialist for the Extension Service, outlines the steps that should be followed in building pastures. Principles discussed in the bulletin apply to the building job on old cultivated land which is now in broomsedge, needle grass or other low-quality forage; former low-producing bermuda, carpet or other pasture grassland that is presently infested with needle grass or broomsedge; land presently in cultivation; timberland or woodland pasture cleared of timber by machinery or poorly drained, brush or "range-land" — land referred to in this category is "native" land in the Gulf Coast Prairie area.

Copies of the bulletin are available at county Extension offices — county agents. Just ask for the new bulletin on building pastures. At the same time why not start making plans for improving the pastures you already have on the farm. Your county agent can furnish valuable information that can make your job easier for chances are good he can show you demonstrations where the building job is now well underway.
