Thoughts

OF A COUNTRY EDITOR

BY JOHN C. GREGG

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

The Republican Party is this week holding their National Convention in the City of Chicago. Most likely by the time this newspaper is printed, they will have nominated their presidential and vice presidential candidates. But before that happens we might do a little wishful thinking.

At present it seems Senator Taft and General Eisenhower are having quite a battle over whose delegates will be seated in the convention from some of the southern states, including Texas. Until Monday it seemed that Taft had an inside track — then Monday, the general scored a victory over the senator.

Monday night General Douglas MacArthur gave the Key-Note address to the convention. It was strictly a Republican address and in that sense a good one. He lambasted the Democratic party on most all their weak points and would have led a person to believe there was nothing good in the present administration. There is some talk that MacArthur will be a dark horse candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. We certainly hope not.

In our opinion the best opportunity for the Republicans to win the presidential election this year is for them to nominate General Eisenhower, and give him a good running mate. If the convention nominates Senator Taft, this writer is afraid the Democrats will nominate Harry S. Truman as the Democratic candidate and if they do Truman will beat Taft and then we will have four more years of government corruption and in another four years it is possible for Truman to get a lot more of his Socialist schemes over, that is in case we do not have another World War. If Taft is nominated and then elected, this writer would anticipate a carbon copy of the Hoover administration, with the copy being a little blacker if possible.

We believe it might be possible for General Eisenhower to be elected President if he receives the nomination. But then he is going to have to refrain from letting some of the Grand Old Party big wigs lead him around. There is still a majority of voters who will remember the Hoover administration and they are going to think long and hard before they support another Republican.

At present there is a lot of graft and corruption in the Federal Government. Taxes are awful high and there is good prospects for them to go higher. Yet, the majority of the people have the money, or can get the money, to pay these taxes. There is a great amount of unemployment at the present time and in our opinion, Social Security is a big cause of this. There is employment to be had if a person really wants to work and work for a reasonable wage. Most people seem to remember that in the Hoover administration, there was no work to be had at any wage.

There is a good possibility that a Republican President (General Eisenhower) would be good for the United States. The Democrats have been in control since 1932 and when any one faction controls a nation for so long, they get the idea that they are unbeatable. With the number of persons on the payroll of our Federal Government, it might be impossible to beat them.

President Truman is apparently opposed to private enterprise and is attempting to force a lot of Socialistic schemes down the throats of the American people. In order for the United States to continue and prosper, we must have large private enterprise, such as the railroads,

Important Band Practice Friday Night

All members of the Santa Anna Mountaineer Band are requested to assemble at the high school gym Friday evening at 8:00 p. m. for a very important band practice session. Each member is requested to be sure and bring their instruments. The meeting will be open to the public and if you are interested in hearing the band practice, you are invited to attend.

Ten members of the band have not been measured for their new band uniforms and they are urgently requested to be present.

Money has been raised to take care of the new band uniforms and it is urgent that the order be placed as soon as possible. Forty members have already been measured and their orders are ready. If the band is to get the summer price on uniforms and get them here by the time school starts this fall, the order must be completed by the end of this week.

the steel industry, the electric companies, and others who have large amounts of money invested and who make large amounts of money. We must also have the small private enterprises, such as the little truck farmer, service station operator, small clothing merchants, etc. If taxes continue to soar and government takes over the large enterprises, it will be impossible for the small enterprises to operate and pay the taxes. The large enterprises will be under government operation and everybody working will be on the government payroll. Just where is this leading us? We believe to a nation of Socialists and eventually, possibly to Communism. This we do not want and do not believe the American people want, but also believe the American people do not take time to consider any of these thoughts. Most of them are making a "fair living at the present time and are more or less happy. In army life, it is considered the average soldier is not happy unless he is complaining about something. That may well be applied to the average citizen. They all complain about taxes and government corruption, but never give much thought to what they can do about it. Yet, it is strictly to the American average citizen to see that something is done about it. The average American citizen can control the government of the United States if enough of them would correspond with their Senators and Congressmen. Even though the President of the United States is not actually the choice of the majority of voters some of the time, the Senators and Congressmen are elected by a majority vote and when the majority of the people in their districts demand they do "so and so", they are going to do it for fear of not being elected during the next election. Most of the members of the United States Congress want to do what the majority of their constituents want them to do. But they must be informed as to what you want them to do. They cannot read your minds, and unless you write them and let them know your opinions, they have to do what they think best, which sometimes may not be right according to your way of thinking.

As I stated at the beginning of this, I wanted to do a little wishful thinking. Some are not exactly going to appreciate what I have said and others are going to think well of some of the things I have said. This is a free nation, where freedom of the press, with the right to worship as you please, was a predominate factor in the founding of our great nation. We consider it a great privilege to be free to express our opinion as we see fit. This same privilege is granted to every American and we think it would be a great boon to our nation if more people would express themselves.

Tom Stewardson To Judge Dog Show At Lometa Sat.

Lometa, Texas, July 9 — Border Collies, the famous sheep dogs will be shown on exhibit and at work at the first annual trials in Lometa on Saturday, July 12, announces Willard Potts, general chairman of the event.

Sponsored here, by the local Lions Club, the trials will start at the high school football field at 8 p. m. Saturday night.

Entries have been received from 20 towns. The events will be judged by Tom Stewardson of Santa Anna.

Border Collies carry the breeding from generations back to handle sheep, and they are worth more on the ranch working, driving, cutting and handling sheep than several men.

They seem to sense every move a sheep is about to make, and are able to handle every situation on the range and in the trials with perfect timing.

Clean Up . . . Avoid Polio

Almost every city in the state of Texas is undergoing a campaign to clean up their towns in an effort to avoid, or to decrease, the dreaded disease — POLIO. At present there are more cases in Texas than there has ever been before and more cases are being reported every day.

It has been determined that flies and other insects of this nature are carriers of this disease. It has also been determined that these insects can be controlled. But no one person can do it. It takes cooperation from every individual for the control of insects and the cleaning up of any town.

Thus far this year we have been exceedingly fortunate in that we have not had a case of polio in our little city. But no one knows when we might have one. We have had them in the past and there is no reason to doubt that we will have them in the future, unless something is done

Rain Covers City On July Fourth

One of these well known strange happenings of the weather happened here Friday, July Fourth. Along about six o'clock in the afternoon, almost an inch of rain fell in the city limits of Santa Anna. Outside the radius of about two miles from town in every direction, it did not even sprinkle.

The wind blew hard for a few minutes and did some damage here. The big chinaberry tree on the vacant lot by the side of the Ben Yarborough home — was blown down and it is understood that another large tree in the south part of town was blown down.

Election of officers and directors will be held during this annual meeting. The meeting is for the entire membership and invited guests.

to prevent it. A recent survey of our town showed a large number of places where flies and other insects can and do breed. These places must be cleaned up before control of insects can be accomplished.

This cannot be accomplished unless you, as the citizen of Santa Anna, cooperates.

We could have the mayor declare a certain day for clean-up and have all the stores in town close and the owners and employees go out and help in the clean-up drive, but little would be accomplished in this manner. It is mostly in the residential parts of town and vacant lots that need to be cleaned. This can only be done by the owner or whoever is living on the property. It is up to you, good citizens of Santa Anna, whether you have a clean, polio free town or one that is likely to be stricken with the dreaded disease at any time.

Some people seem to think that because they have no small children they are not likely to be stricken with the disease. Just for your information this week a man in Dallas, who was 39 years old, died of the disease and it has been known to strike people as old as 63. So very few families in Santa Anna can rest at ease where polio is concerned.

After breeding places for insects are cleaned up, other control measures must be taken. Covered garbage cans are needed where every family lives. At least two cans should be used. One for wet garbage and one for dry garbage, such as tin cans, bottles, etc. Over 400 of these cans are needed to be placed in Santa Anna. Response to last week's appeal was very light and so we are printing the same form again this week and requesting all who do not have covered garbage cans to fill out the form and sign it, then mail or take it to the Community Chamber of Commerce.

This is not a profit making proposition. The cans will be sold to the ones who wish to purchase them at the exact cost wholesale. Naturally, the more cans bought, the less they will cost, so we cannot say just what the cost will be, but it should be under $3.00.

It is not good business to force anyone to do what must be done. But force could be used if cooperation is not better than it has been thus far. If you will get out and clean up your premises, you will be proud of what you have done. It makes a person proud of himself to know that his premises are clean and free from breeding places for insects. If he does this on his own accord, it makes him that much more so.

The survey just completed shows where places that need to be cleaned up are. The survey is complete in every detail and if your property needs to be cleaned up, that fact is known by the Chamber of Commerce committee and they will be checking to see what you are doing about it. The details of the survey are not for public use, and will never be released to the public. The survey was made to find these places that need to be cleaned, and it is hoped that owners of vacant lots and other property that needs to be cleaned will get busy and do so — now!

Brady — America was founded upon the principle of Free Enterprise, Rep. O. C. Fisher reminded a 4th of July audience at Richards Park Friday. "And it has achieved greatness in a free economy by the creative genius and productive capacity of the American people. It can be seriously weakened by unnecessary regimentation and the perversion of Constitutional rights," he added.

The Congressman paid tribute to the American heroes through whose gallantry and sacrifices our freedom has been preserved. "It is your job and mine," he reminded, "to vindicate those sacrifices, and that can be done only if we maintain a strong, solvent Free Enterprise Nation under the Constitution. The liberties which so many of our citizens take so lightly today are blood-bequeathed legacies and were paid for by the lives of brave American patriots of the past."

Fisher lashed out at forms of creeping socialism which tends to paralyze initiative. "Why do we have to borrow discredited socialistic schemes, such as socialized medicine, socialized agriculture, Brannan Plan and socialized housing, from the bankrupt British system?" he asked.

This housing policy was borrowed from Britain, Fisher explained, and is now actually in use in this country — and is gaining momentum. More than 800,000 housing units are planned, with 200,000 already built or under construction. Tenants in these government-owned projects often pay only one-half of rental values.

"You, the taxpayers, are paying for this experiment in state socialism," he continued, explaining that he and many other Southern Congressmen have always vigorously opposed it.

"The taxpayers will eventually dig down into their pockets and pay upwards of $20 billion for these socialized housing units. You will help pay the rent bills for these tenants every month for 40 years, just like the British government is doing for their public housing tenants."

Hayes Hefner and family of Lubbock visited at the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hefner.

Hubert Turner, who travels for the state banking department is here for a vacation visit with his father and Miss Mamie.

Shivers To Make Radio Address Friday Night

Austin — At the midway point of his two-week tour through the state, Governor Allan Shivers will make appearances in five West Texas cities and San Antonio during the remainder of the week.

The governor started his tour shortly after being named chairman of the National Governor's Conference by fellow chief executives at the Houston meeting. The honor in Houston, the highest that governors of the United States and its territories can pay an associate, climaxes a long string of achievements by Governor Shivers.

The Texas governor already was serving as chairman of the Southern Governors' conference. His election as head of the National Conference created the rare situation of one governor holding both these important positions simultaneously.

Governor Shivers was chairman in 1951 of the 22-state Interstate Oil Compact Commission and has just concluded a term on the Executive Committee of the National Governors' Conference.

The Governor made appearances in Lubbock and Brownfield Wednesday, July 9, then divided time between Lubbock and Amarillo the following day.

From Amarillo he will go to San Angelo, then to Odessa, where his weekly broadcast will originate on Friday night, July 11. The broadcast may be heard over Radio Stations KBWD, Brownwood; KRBC, Abilene; WRR, Dallas; KRDL, Dallas and KGKL, San Angelo at 8:45 p. m. and WFAA, Dallas at 9:30 p. m. Visits in Midland and San Antonio Saturday will wind up the first ten days of the governor's tour of Texas.

John C White Asks Re-Election As State Ag. Commissioner

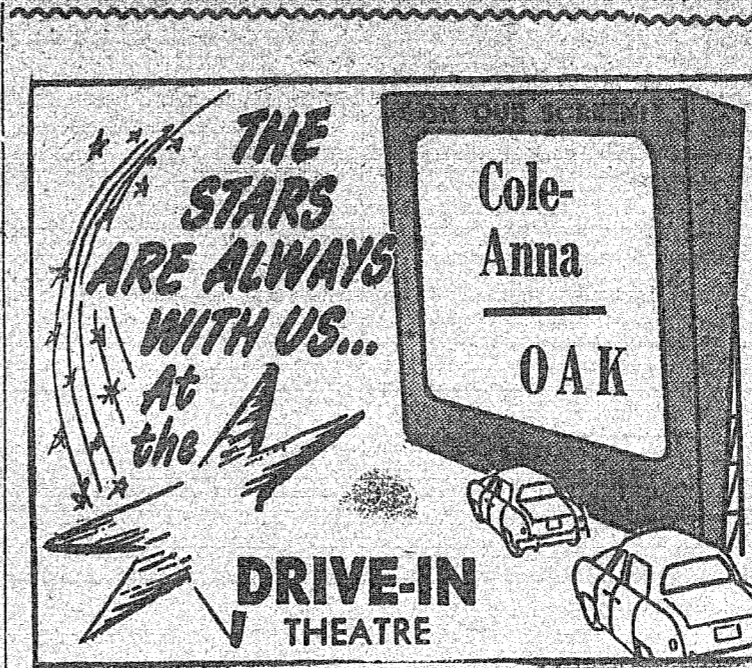

Austin — A recent admission by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that its 1951 cotton crop estimate was "too optimistic" has verified a claim by Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

White, who is now seeking his second term in office, said the U.S.D.A.'s over-estimate by 2 million bales last year resulted in a serious break in cotton prices. His own correct estimate of the Texas crop as early as last August, and his advice, to farmers to hold their cotton saved them millions of dollars, he said.

The commissioner cited his cotton report, which was upheld last week by the U.S.D.A. annual bulletin, as one of the services rendered by his department during his first term in office. He is actively campaigning this year to repeat his 1950 victory at the polls when he unseated J. E. McDonald, veteran politician who had held the post of Agriculture Commissioner for 20 years.

The son of a Clay County tenant farmer, White was formerly head of the Division of Agriculture at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls. He and his wife and three sons have now established their home in Austin.

Measures Used To Combat Polio Spread

It is believed that the majority of adults have at one time been infected by the virus of poliomyelitis, usually without manifestations, says Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. In view of the above it is expected that most of the recognized cases will be among children.

Only a small proportion of infected persons are clinically recognizable. When symptoms are manifested, they usually comprise an acute illness with fever, headache, and almost always a characteristic stiffness of the neck and spine. Some degree of paralysis may or may not occur during the first few days of illness.

During the poliomyelitis season the following measures are recommended:

1. Insist upon safe waste disposal so that human excreta is not exposed to disease transmitting vectors.
2. Insist on elimination of fly breeding sources and do not depend upon community wide airplane spraying or fogging machines as a substitute for basic sanitation.
3. Food supplies, including milk, must be protected against contamination.
4. Always demand safe water for drinking or swimming pools.
5. Insist that garbage be kept in covered containers and disposed of by incineration or sanitary fill.
6. Eliminate all unsanitary conditions on your own premises.
7. Practice good personal hygiene, with particular attention to personal cleanliness.
8. Avoid excessive physical strain during poliomyelitis season.
9. Isolation in bed of all children with fever pending diagnosis by physician.

Sgt. and Mrs. Reuben Rountree Have New Son

Sgt. Reuben T. Rountree, born and reared in Santa Anna, (and still calls it home) is now stationed in Waco, as Non-Commissioned Officer, in charge at the Marine Corps Recruiting Office. A son named Donald Reuben was recently born to Sgt. and Mrs. Rountree and the father hopes he has signed up a new recrut for the leathernecks, furthering the father's idea of "Once a Marine, always a Marine", even to the third and fourth generation. Besides the parents, the new son is welcomed by a sister, Linda, aged 6. Sgt. Rountree is a nephew of Mrs. J. W. Fulton of Santa Anna. Reuben is a family name among them.

While preparing fish hooks to put out in the creek near his home late Monday afternoon, Mr. George Richardson had the misfortune to get a hook embedded in his right hand. The accident required a trip to the Santa Anna Hospital to get the hook removed.

She Led Men

Lesson for July 13, 1952

WOMEN complain that this is a man's world. Well, it's half a man's world anyhow, because about half the grown people in it are men. But that's not the point. Women complain because men are the bosses, men get the big salaries, men run the government. Women are teachers but men run the school board, and so forth. As a matter of fact, it can be doubted whether women actually would like it the other way. Women like men who are leaders, men with minds of their own, who can take hold of troublesome situations and straighten them out.

Wife, Mother, Judge

ANYHOW, Deborah was a woman like that. Her name means "Bee" and she was the sort of woman who would somehow sting lazy or timid people into doing their duty. She is the only one of the "Judges" of Israel who was a woman.

Now some female heroines are a bit odd, to say the least of it. Take Joan of Arc, who was a kind of bee herself, and who took over when the rightful leader hung back. Joan was the kind of girl who could hear voices no one else heard. She was not exactly the kind of girl any man would feel quite comfortable with. And naturally she never married.

But this Deborah was a wife and a mother. She made some man happy, she was a home-maker, children cuddled up in her lap.

When later she became a "judge" she had all the wisdom of common-sense and of normal experience as the basis of her other wisdom. She knew how mothers and home-makers feel. When it says that she "judged Israel" it does not mean that she ran for office like modern judges, or that any king had appointed her, for there was no king to do it. It means simply that everybody respected her judgment so much that when there were problems more tangled and twisted than common, they would go ask Deborah what she thought.

She Didn't Like a Sissy

ON one famous occasion Deborah did not wait for the man to come; she sent for him. He lived far from her home, and his name was Barak. She put an idea into his head, only it was not her idea, she claimed for it the authority of God.

Barak was to be a general, he was to recruit an army. She told him, there under the palm tree, where he was to get his army, where he was to take it and what to do with it when he got there.

Space does not permit the details that would show that Deborah's ideas were absolutely sound from a military point of view. She was a whole General Staff by herself.

But Barak backed off from his great opportunity. He would go, he said, provided she would go along. Now Deborah didn't like that. She liked a man who would go out on his own without having to have a lady at hand to tell him what to do. So she went; but she told him the journey would not be for his honor.

That, however, is another story. The point is that this Deborah was a woman so wise that the ablest man in the country at the time was not willing to do anything important without her advice.

Deborah's Daughters

DEBORAH was not the last woman whose wisdom and whose decisions have led men to success.

There are today in the United States women in congress, both in the senate and in the house; a woman is in charge of manpower; at least one woman is a U.S. circuit judge, the next highest in rank below the Supreme Court. There was a woman governor of Wyoming as far back as 1924.

But for every woman who makes the headlines and who's who, for every woman who has some official position, there are hundreds of others, unmentioned and unnoted, who are known in their homes and in their home towns for their unflinching good advice. "Ask Mrs. _____" is the first thing the neighbors think when something comes up. And sometimes a wise woman's reputation doesn't even get around to the neighbors. Sometimes it is only her family that know how wise she is.

But it is a safe guess that if you took out of our modern life all that women contribute, all the good acts and far-sighted policies that they have thought of first, ours would be a much worse world than it is.

BILL OF RIGHTS GUARANTEES INALIENABLE PRIVILEGES

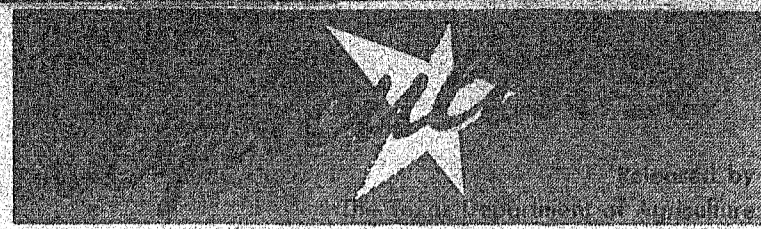

The American "Bill of Rights", consisting of the first ten amendments to our federal constitution, all adopted at one time in 1791 specifies in some detail a number of basic civil rights of the individual citizen. Unaltered by subsequent amendments and jealously guarded by our courts, these privileges must still be respected by our governing bodies today.

Among the most familiar of our constitutional guarantees are those relating to freedom of religion, of speech, and of the press. The same article protects the right of peaceable assembly and the privilege of petitioning the government for redress of grievances.

Another amendment secures our persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, and specifies that no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, and unless supported by oath or affirmation.

The due process of law amendment encompass not one but several guarantees. Every American is secured against being placed twice in legal jeopardy for the same offense; against being compelled to be a witness against himself in a criminal case; against having his private property taken for public use without just compensation; and against being held for trial for a capital (death penalty) or other infamous crime, unless upon a presentment or indictment of a grand jury. And, of course, no person may be deprived of life, liberty or property without orderly court procedures, on due process of law.

The right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury, in the locality where the crime was committed the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, and the rights to compel attendance of defense witnesses and to have the assistance of defense counsel in all

Many thousands of dollars are lost by the Texas consumer each year because of faulty scales and measuring devices. The farmer doesn't get his full 100 pounds of feed, the housewife's pound of meat is an ounce or two short and the motorist fails to receive a full gallon of gasoline.

But the consumer isn't the only one who loses out on transactions based on inaccurate units. The merchant stands an equal chance of loss from devices which have accidentally slipped out of adjustment.

The Weights and Measures Division of the Texas Department of Agriculture is now engaged in the annual blanket check of all commercial scales and measuring units of the state. Ten inspectors are making a circuit tour of Texas in an intensive effort to assure the customer and the dealer of a fair share in all transactions. The job is expected to be completed by mid-summer — and the results, thus far, are encouraging.

Last year, an average of one out of every five scales was found to be in poor working order or out of adjustment. And an average of one out of every criminal prosecutions are secured by another section of the "Bill of Rights."

Excessive bail and fines and cruel and unusual punishments, are prohibited in Amendment VIII. Other articles insure the right to bear arms and ban quartering of soldiers in private homes during peace time.

Then, to make quite clear to our government bodies the underlying intent of the preceding provisions, the Ninth Amendment states: "The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

The Tenth Amendment further emphasizes this basic theory by providing: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Thus, that fundamental philosophy expressed in the Declaration of Independence, that men are endowed with certain unalienable rights, and that "to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed," has been carried forward into the highest law of our land.

(This column, based on the federal constitution, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

4 1/2 gasoline pumps was giving an inaccurate measure of fuel. Preliminary reports from inspection this year reveal the ratio of improvement may be as high as 93 per cent. This is due, in part, by the constant inspection program maintained by the department, in addition to cooperation between city and state weights and measures divisions.

A relatively small percentage of cases are found to be deliberate fraud and these are vigorously prosecuted. Most violations are the result of careless scale and equipment maintenance. Essentially, the inspection program is not a police action to ferret out criminals, but a service of government for the protection of all persons.

The really alarming ration of dollars lost is in the purchase of commodities weighed and packaged in stores such as lunch meat, fresh meat, cheeses and fryers. About every other package checked by inspectors is incorrect as to weight. Approximately 35 percent of these are overweight and the remainder underweight.

But these figures do not necessarily reflect on the honesty of the merchant. The commodities can be properly marked and then placed under refrigeration where shrinkage is bound to occur. Any package that has been in cooling compartment more than 24 hours is almost certain to be wrongly marked. The only solution would be to require merchants to re-weigh the goods every day. This would be a tremendous job for some of our super markets.

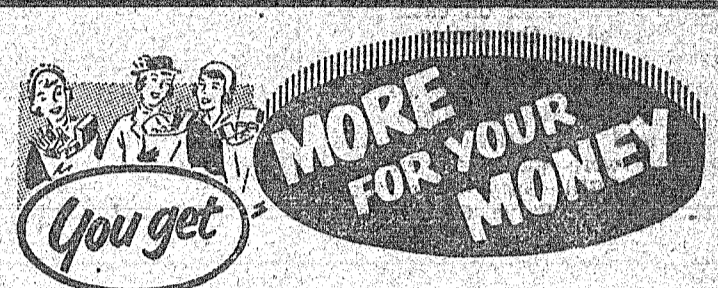

The most practical solution is for the purchaser to request the packaged goods be re-checked at the cashier's stand where he can pay for the current weight.

It is partly up to the consumer to see that he gets full weight and measure of goods. Any person who suspects faulty transactions should report them to the Texas Department of Agriculture in Austin. A check will be made at once.

Protect our forest resources.

To Be Well Groomed Clean Them Often

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How Nervy Can a "Tenant" Get?

"Harry the Hermit" dropped in to see Judge Cunningham the other day and started complaining about that dilapidated house he lives in over near Greenwood Lake.

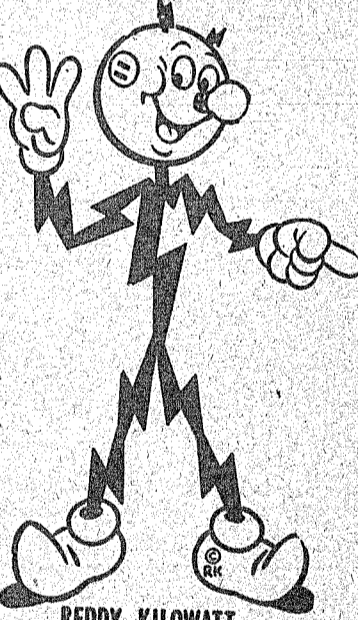

"Who's my landlord?" Harry wanted to know. "Whoever you pay rent to," says the Judge. "Don't pay any rent," says Harry. "Moved into that house twelve years ago and nobody ever came to collect."

"Well," says the Judge, looking mystified, "what do you have to complain about?" "Plenty," replies Harry. "Rain's pouring in my liv- ing room and if someone doesn't fix that roof, I'm moving out!"

Now Harry was only having a little joke, but from where I sit I've seen people act just about as nervy as this sometimes—seriously. Like those who enjoy all the rights Americans have worked for, and yet would take away some of those freedoms from others—for example, our right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer. I say these "leaks of intolerance" have no place in the "home of liberty."

Five Texas Colleges In New Type Reserve Officer Training Corp

Huntsville — Five Texas Colleges and universities — regionally located — are included among the new-type Reserve Officer Training Corps programs recently created by the Defense Department.

To be known as all-branch units, the four-year courses will be started in September on the campuses of Trinity University of San Antonio, Sam Houston State Teachers College in Huntsville, Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Midwestern University in Wichita Falls and West Texas State Teachers College in Canyon.

All are co-educational institutions and the military science courses will simply be added to the existing curriculums of the schools.

Unlike other ROTC programs, the student, when he graduates as an Army 2nd lieutenant, will have a choice in which branch of the army he desires to serve, dependent upon needs of the service and the student's qualifications.

The program calls for two years of basic training and two years of advanced training with pay. Students may take any course leading to a degree of their choosing and will be exempt from the draft while enrolled in the program. After graduation they will be required to serve two years active duty.
