OF A COUNTRY EDITOR

BY JOHN C. GREGG

BE CAREFUL!!!

Fires can be very disastrous. Especially during dry, hot weather like we are having at the present time, a fire can get out of control in a hurry and they have been known to completely destroy entire cities. Last week the local fire department was called out twice to fight fires and both times had them under control in short order. Either could have been a major disaster for our little town.

Every citizen is urged to be exceedingly careful where fire hazards are concerned. One week in October is usually set aside to observe fire prevention. However, fire prevention should be observed every day throughout the year. Most pastures throughout central Texas are dry and if they were to happen to catch on fire, there is no telling the amount of damage would be done.

Let us urge that every citizen in town and in the rural areas check your homes, out buildings, etc. for any fire hazards and remove them immediately. A good fire prevention is to have a good fire extinguisher immediately available and every member of the family should be taught how to use it. In case a fire does break out, immediately tell the telephone operator where the fire is and also give her your name. Promptness in fighting a fire can decrease the amount of damage it will do. BUT ABOVE ALL — BE CAREFUL.

FOOTBALL SEASON

The football season is just about here again, and we believe we have a good season in prospect. Even though we have lost both the head coach and assistant coach we had last year, the school board has been fortunate in obtaining new coaches that have good records in the past and thus, we feel, our prospects for this season are increased rather than decreased. We mean no offense to any one by the above statement, but we feel the change will be good for all concerned.

The coaches and the boys are going to need a lot of encouragement from all the citizens of the town. They are going to need the cooperation of the parents of all the boys playing football.

To begin the season, we have (Continued on Back Page)

Seven Firemen Attend Hill Country Convention at Miles

Seven members of the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department attended the Hill Country Firemen's Convention in Miles last Tuesday. Those attending were: Lewis Miles Guthrie, M. L. Guthrie, Jr., Bill Stiles, A. D. Pettit, Marshall Campbell, Charles Wristen and Ted Walker.

A parade of all firemen attending was held at 8:30 a. m. and the convention was called to order at 8:45 a. m. Business and entertainment took most of the morning and at noon the ladies of the Miles Methodist Church treated all the men to a very good noon day meal. The Miles Ladies Firemen's Auxillary treated all the auxiliaries to a noon day meal. A memorial service was held at 1:30 p. m. Judge E. C. Grindstaff of Ballinger was the principal speaker for the day. He spoke at 1:30 p. m.

Most of the afternoon was taken up with hook-up races, using 6, 3 and 1 men in the races. Santa Anna failed to place in any of these races, but did better than they had expected to with the amount of practice they had.

On Monday night before the convention they practiced with the Bangs Fire Department. Supper was held at 7:00 p. m. and plans were made for the next meeting to be held in Ballinger in February.

Good Group Attends Monday Night Football Meeting

Approximately 24 football boys and a good number of fathers and others interested in the coming football season attended the first meeting of the boys and coaches at the high school gym Monday night.

Ice cold watermelon was served and a football picture, Abilene Christian College vs. Midwestern University, was shown. The program was an informal occasion for the two coaches, D. W. Behrens and J. E. Pollard, to get acquainted with the football boys and their fathers.

Gin Compliments Firemen With Sunday Dinner

The Santa Anna Coop Gin complimented the members of the Santa Anna Fire Department with a noon-day meal Sunday, showing their appreciation to the fire department for their effort in saving the gin from destruction by fire last week.

The meal was served in the cafe located in the old office building on the gin lot. Members of the fire department expressed their appreciation to the gin and their stockholders for their thoughtfulness.

Revival Meeting At Church Of Christ

L. H. Carter announced this week a revival meeting would begin at the Church of Christ, August 24 and continue through Sunday, August 31. Ollie Cantwell of Brownwood is scheduled to do the preaching.

The church extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend each service.

Lions Den

Three new members and three visitors were present for the weekly Lions meeting this week. The new members are: Walker Tatum, Carl W. Gilkerson and D. W. Behrens. Behrens is a transfer from Mason, Texas. Visitors were: Rev. Robert Waller of Henderson, a guest of Lion Tom Stewardson; A. C. Tenbrooke, a guest of Lion Ford Barnes; and Bert Roberts, a guest of Lion R. K. Green.

Lions Harry Crews and Bill Cupps had charge of the program. As a program Lion W. E. Griffin gave a very interesting talk on the trip he and his family made into Old Mexico recently.

Lions Ozro Eubank and O. A. Etheredge were appointed to have charge of the program for next week. A meeting of the directors was called to follow the regular meeting and the club was dismissed.

Water Mains In City Being Cleaned

Dick Bass, City Manager, stated this week that the cleaning of all the main water lines from the location of the proposed filtration plant and including all mains in the city from the 4-inch lines up, was underway. The project got started Tuesday morning and it is estimated it will take about 4 weeks to complete the job if the workmen do not have any bad luck.

Bass said the lines would be cleaned in strips and no one would be without water any longer than necessary. However, it will be necessary for some parts of the city to be without water for short periods at a time. The only time the entire city will be without water will be early in the morning of the day they clean the line from the storage tanks. This cleaning will be done from approximately 1 a. m. until 3 a. m., so most people will never realize they were without water.

There is about 40,000 feet of lines to be cleaned. The entire cost of this job will come to $4,432, with the company doing the work furnishing all labor, connection and other needed materials. The Flexible Pipe Cleaning Company of Dallas is doing the work.

Bass warned that for a few days during the cleaning time, most of the water would be discolored, or muddy looking. However, it should not last long. Bass said he would like for as many people as had the opportunity to, to watch a part of the cleaning of the lines, and see what is cleaned out of them.

The proposed filtration plant is due to get underway this week also. All the steel, that has been holding up the job, has arrived and all the cement and other materials are on the ground and work was expected to start by Tuesday. Contract on this job calls for completion within 120 days.

First Texas Tech Doctoral Degree To Estus C. Polk

Texas Tech's first doctoral degree will go to former Santa Anna resident, Estus C. Polk, at graduation exercises August 27.

Polk, 44, assistant professor of English on leave from T. C. U., has held the position of part-time instructor in English during his two-year period of work on the doctorate at Tech. He will return to his post at T. C. U. this fall, according to Dr. William B. Gates, dean of Tech's Division of Graduate Studies.

Polk was born in Santa Anna, March 5, 1908, and graduated from Santa Anna High School in 1924. He received his B. A. degree from Hardin-Simmons in 1934, and his M. A. from the same school in 1944. He did some graduate work at the University of Texas before applying for doctoral work in the program which was begun at Tech in 1950.

Polk, a World War II veteran, served as a first lieutenant with the Signal Corps in the North African Campaign and Italy. Prior to his 1947 appointment as assistant professor of English at T. C. U., Polk had served as a faculty member and as a Veteran's Administration training officer at Tech.

Polk's dissertation, one of the final steps in the program that entitles him to the first earned doctor's degree at Tech, is called "The Correspondence of Alaric Alexander Watts". Material on this early 19th century journalist was obtained from the Blackwood papers and the National Library of Scotland.

Dean Gates calls Polk's dissertation a fine piece of work that brings credit to Tech.

Elder C. H. Richards returned home Sunday night from Blanchard, Okla., where he had gone on Thursday to attend the West Texas Association of Primitive Baptist Churches.

Santa Anna Gets First County Bale Of 1952 Cotton

Coleman County's first bale of 1952 cotton was ginned by the Santa Anna Coop Gin Thursday afternoon, August 14. The bale was raised on the Alton B. Taylor farm southwest of Santa Anna. Mrs. Taylor was responsible for gathering the cotton and getting it ginned. Mr. Taylor is employed in the construction of the elementary school building.

Mrs. Taylor and her helpers gathered 2106 pounds of cotton in the field, from approximately 26 to 30 acres. The bale weighed 610 pounds and was sold at auction for 40 cents Saturday afternoon. The Coop Gin bought the bale. The bale was classed as 15/16 middlin.

Ford Barnes, secretary of the Community Chamber of Commerce, made up the premium money for the bale Saturday morning. The premium amounted to $105.75. Entire proceeds from the sale and premium amounted to $364.75.

Following is a list of the contributors to the premium on the cotton: Santa Anna National Bank, Santa Anna Hardware Co., Harvey Grocery, Hosch Bros., Phillips Drug, Ladies Shop, Piggly Wiggly, Purdy Mercantile Co., Sam H. Collier, Western Auto Associate Store, L. A. Welch Garage, Burton-Lingo Co., Parker Auto Supply, South Texas Lumber Co., Santa Anna News, Griffin Hatchery, Santa Anna Farm & Ranch Supply.

Ozro Eubank, Grammers, Loyd Burris Dry Goods, Hunter Grocery, Blue Hardware Co., Overby Tailor Shop, Specks Barber Shop, Service Cafe, B. T. Vinson Grocery, Corner Drug Store, E. A. Densman, Paynes Variety, J. G. Williamson Shoe Hospital, Santa Anna Telephone Co., Goodging & Son Lumber Co., O. A. Etheredge, Shield & Standley Welding Shop, and M. L. Guthrie, Sr.

Local and County Leaders Visit Flood Prevention Project Last Week Near Mercury In McCulloch County

Water conservation and flood prevention! That is what the group in the accompanying picture were interested in when they visited flood prevention projects last week on the Deep Creek watershed near Mercury in McCulloch County. Those who were on the inspection trip included, from left to right, W. E. Chessmore and J. C. Tinney, soil conservationists from Brownwood and Coleman; E. S. Haynes, Roy Stockard and Wm. R. Brown, of Santa Anna; J. W. Vance, soil conservation district supervisor; George Wood, area conservationist in the Middle Colorado river watershed for the Soil Conservation Service; Ford Barnes, Santa Anna civic leader; R. G. Hollingsworth, Coleman banker and civic leader; E. F. Cupps, Santa Anna; Bill Erbe, construction engineer in charge of Middle Colorado projects for the Soil Conservation Service;

Tom Hays, Santa Anna rancher; Oscar Cheaney, Santa Anna banker and civic leader; and W. T. Stewardson, Santa Anna banker and rancher.

The purpose of the trip was to observe completed structures for water conservation and flood prevention which are a part of an overall program for the Middle Colorado watershed. The Middle Colorado watershed includes all the drainage area to the Colorado river below the confluence of the Concho with the Colorado and above the confluence of the San Saba with the Colorado and includes the Jim Ned, Pecan Bayou and other streams draining Coleman County directly to the Colorado.

The project which the group visited last week are the first to be constructed in west Texas under the Agricultural Flood Control Act which was passed by Congress in 1934. Due to local farsighted leaders, who are real enthusiasts for water conservation and flood prevention, a survey was made in 1940 by the Soil Conservation Service with headquarters at Coleman. The Middle Colorado watershed was approved by Congress in 1944, along with the Trinity in Texas and nine other watersheds in other states, for operations as soon as World War II hostilities should cease. Work plans have been developed on several sub-watersheds to date, including Mukewater Creek which lies south of Santa Anna and Bangs. The Deep Creek which the group visited last week is expected to be completed in the near future with some funds left over which may be used on the Mukewater Creek watershed provided landowners in the watershed will obtain the necessary easements for construction.

Gonzales Foundation Operating at Capacity

Gonzales — Reflecting the upsurge in polio incidence in Texas already this year, admissions at Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children have continued at a record-setting level for the last several weeks. Ten patients entered the rehabilitation hospital on July 7 and nine a week later, the largest patient groups admitted in several years.

All but three of the 19 are post-acute polio victims. The rest are other types of neuromuscular cases.

The Gonzales hospital of physical medicine and rehabilitation is currently operating at the maximum capacity its staff can efficiently handle, with admissions each week dependent on the discharges during the week previous. However, hospital officials point out that admissions might be increased if additional registered nurses and physical therapists could be recruited. The extreme shortage of professional personnel of this type, they indicated, makes recruitment most difficult, a problem which faces nearly every hospital in the country.

As soon as additional nurses and therapists can be located and employed, the Gonzales treatment center can increase its patient load substantially. Since this hospital draws patients from all over Texas, it is anticipated that the increase of applications for admission may result in a waiting period before patients can be admitted.

Four of the recently admitted patients are from the San Antonio area, but included in the group were patients from Del Rio, San Angelo, Big Spring, Shiner, Austin, Texas City, Sweetwater, Midland, Corpus Christi, San Marcos, Giddings, Laredo and Seguin, indicating the state-wide aspect of the treatment center's activity.

State Bar For Loan Law To Get Rid Of Sharks

Houston — Declaring that loan sharks in Texas "in numbers and nuisance are now more in evidence than ever before," the State Bar of Texas has thrown its support behind a proposed small loan law.

The measure, modeled from laws already in effect in almost all other states, provides for licensing and supervising the small loan industry, with both civil and criminal penalties, and for a maximum charge for loans "that will be fair to both borrower and lender."

Action by the State Bar at its recent convention in Houston was based upon a year's study of the problem by a special committee headed by District Judge W. S. Barron of Bryan and Tom Reavley, Lufkin attorney. Hearings were held and attorneys and executives of lending companies were heard.

Requirements For Children Working On Farms Announced

Dallas — Amendment of the Fair Labor Standards Act's record-keeping regulations as they apply to children employed on farms was announced today by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Issued by Michael J. Galvin as Acting Secretary of Labor, the amended regulations become effective August 11. Under them, the farmer will be required to record three items for children under 18 years of age who work on his farm on days when school is in session. They are: (1) the child's name; (2) his date of birth; and (3) the address of his permanent home, and where he lives while working if not at his permanent home. These items need be entered only once for each child hired by the farmer.

Galvin's action was taken under the Act's provisions which prohibit the employment of children under 16 in agriculture during school hours for the school district where the child lives while so employed. The Act as now written does not prohibit the employment of children outside school hours and does not apply to the farmer's own children who work on their parent's farm.

Galvin's action simplifies the present requirements applying to farmers.

Complete text of the amendments was scheduled for publication in the Federal Register for July 8. Copies may be obtained from the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour Public Contracts Divisions.

In Texas, such offices are located in Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Harlingen, Houston, and San Antonio.

Classifying Dangerous Grade Crossings

With a view toward future help in the planning of roads and adequate safeguards for motor vehicular traffic at those rail grade crossings where the chances for accidents are the greatest, a study was recently completed in North Carolina in which over 2,000 such crossings were classified and listed.

They were rated, after a survey lasting over two years, as to their potential danger to automobile traffic, the classification being made by the Highway and Public Works Commission of the Tar Heel State.

As well over 60,000 men, women and children have been killed or injured in rail grade crossing accidents in the past 10 years, is it not time that the

UNCLE SAM'S NEW BITE

Increases in the Federal automotive excise taxes — now costing motorists around $1,400,000,000 yearly — are scheduled as part of the new tax program to finance the expanded military program. To this total the Treasury Department proposes to add an extra "bite" of $1,265,000,000.

During the past war, the American Automobile Association, recognizing the need for revenues to offset the tremendous outlays for armaments, temporarily withdrew its opposition to the Federal levies, but strongly renewed its objections in the postwar period.

Now that defense expenditures are again skyrocketing, it appears inevitable that motorists will have to continue to pay the Federal automobile levies, including the 1½ cent gasoline tax for an indefinite period. But in view of the heavy burden imposed by existing rates, motorists have every reason to object strenuously to any increases — at least until the Government's non-defense expenditures have been cut to the bone.

New Night Fashion May Save Life
Austin — New nighttime fashions for pedestrians — to make them glow in the dark — may hold a key to reducing the high percentage of accident deaths taking place after dark, Paul R. Kulp, manager of the Texas Division of the American Automobile Association, reported today.

Special night-glowing gloves, "beanies" and reflectorized trimming for all types of clothing are now on the market, which make pedestrians visible to approaching motorists as far as one-third of a mile away, he said.

"A material surfaced with millions of tiny glass spheres is used in the reflectorized hats, gloves and trimmings," Kulp said. "These minute glass lenses reflect light back to its source, enabling the night motorist to spot pedestrians wearing the reflectorized clothing much more readily."

"Reflectorized gloves worn by the motorist himself would aid other drivers in noticing hand

"Tests have shown that use of reflectorized materials in any form enables a driver to perceive the pedestrians or vehicle ahead even against the glare of oncoming high-beam headlights."

Cars Now Available For Disabled Vets

Austin, Texas — Now disabled veterans can have those cars they've been waiting for. Congress has appropriated the funds with which to implement its program of furnishing cars for disabled veterans under certain conditions, the Texas Division of the American Automobile Association has learned.

Under the law which was passed last October, the U. S. Government would pay the first $1,600 of the purchase price of an automobile for each disabled veteran who met the qualifications. Originally, applications of the vets were delayed because no funds has been appropriated to carry out the provisions of the act.

But now the money is available, and the Veterans Administration says prompt attention will be given to the applicants.

It is about 232 miles shorter from Chicago to New York by air than by automobile. The body loses from two to two and one-half quarts of water each day. We can order a rubber stamp for you at the News Office.

Making of a King

Lesson for August 24, 1952

ONE of the most romantic and heroic figures known to song and story is that of David, King of Israel. Even when Christ came to earth, his fellow-countrymen could think of no grander title for him than "Son of David."

Dr. Foreman

Now David has been idealized almost beyond recognition. The whole story of his life (as seen in the Bible) reveals a man in whom strength and weakness, good and evil, were strangely mingled.

But that is not the main point here. The fact is, David made a strong and successful king; and if there was evil in him, it was more in the older man than in the young one. The story of how he became king is too long even to review here. Let us concentrate on that eloquent little one-sentence portrait of him drawn for a description of him by one of his friends when they both were young. It is found in I Sam. 16:18.

His Family and His Run THE BIG ARGUMENT for strong-David by his friend who was recommending him to the king, is that he was son of Jesse of Bethlehem.

A man's family is not an important fact. Men do not often reach high places merely on the reputation of their ancestors; but having the right parents will make a good start.

This is seriously true; for a man's heredity is what goes into the making of his bone and muscle, brain and nerves. The kind of place where a man lived as a boy, the kind of father he had, spells volumes about the man, ten years later.

Can we forget that David was the son of a sheep-rancher, a boy who grew up working out of doors? That his parents were God-fearing people?

David's friend also mentioned his playing the harp. No doubt David did this as a recreation; he was no professional musician. But his avocation, his spare-time enjoyment, turned out to be the first rung on his climb to fame. It is important to know about any man: How does he spend his spare time?

His Brawn and His Brains DAVID'S FRIEND, recommending him for a position in the royal court, spoke of him as a "mighty man of valor, and a man of war." This was an exaggeration, for David at that time had never seen military service, as the story in Samuel shows.

It just those who need God most, if we can say that any one person needs God more than others. Let us rather say that it is more important for the rest of us that the superior men and women among us be God-fearing, God-loving, God-obeying men and women, than that less important persons should be so.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

ZONING ORDINANCES, RESTRICTIVE COVENANTS, LIMIT USE OF PROPERTY Ownership of property does not carry with it the right of unlimited use of the premises. Certain restrictions upon the use of real estate have been handed down to us through the ages.

With the growth of cities and the increasing importance and value of real estate, it became important to change and add to these age old restrictions. It was found necessary that certain operations on real estate that would be regarded as nuisances in a residential area must have a place in the city where they would not be nuisances. At the same time, they should be prohibited from existing in a locality where they would be not only a nuisance but where they also would detract from the value of the other property in the neighborhood.

This change and addition has been accomplished largely by two methods: (1) Zoning and other Statutes and Ordinances and (2) Restrictive Covenants. The latter are usually placed upon a tract of land by the person who is subdividing and developing it as an addition to the city. It is important for the house buyer to find out exactly how these two types of restrictions affect his property. What zoning ordinances are in effect upon his property and the property in the neighborhood? What restrictive covenants are in force in the subdivision of which his land is a part? If the buyer doesn't have the answer to these questions before he signs the contract of sale, the contract should contain a provision giving him the right to discover the answer and decide whether he wants the property in view of his discovery.

Jones moves into his new house and wants Uncle John to live with him. In order to persuade Uncle John, Jones commences building an addition to the house in the form of a bedroom and kitchenette.

DECLINE OF TEXAS' SMALL FARMS

What has become of the "40 acres and a mule"? Where are those small farms which were passed from father to son and worked by all members of the family? Why is the younger generation forsaking the land to seek a livelihood in large cities?

The modern trend towards a larger metropolitan population and a corresponding decrease in rural residents is being viewed with alarm by many persons. The question foremost in their minds is: "Will the declining rural population in Texas hurt the state's future agricultural productivity?"

A parallel situation arose about 150 years ago when Thomas Robert Malthus a brilliant but rather short-sighted English economist forecast starvation for the human race. The world population, warned the Englishman, is fast outstripping agricultural production.

But Malthus underestimated the farmer's ingenuity in constantly improving his crop raising methods. Because of this ability, and the advantages of mechanization, the present day farmer produces enough food for himself and 3 other persons, plus a vast quantity of goods for foreign export. In Malthus' day, however, it took three men on the farm to feed one man in the city.

The rural population may be room and kitchenette. An enterprising neighbor soon informs Jones that he is violating the restrictive covenants of the subdivision by placing the addition too close to the property line. Jones ignores his neighbor and a city inspector soon appears, who not only verifies the neighbor's assertion but also tells Jones that his block is zoned for single residential dwellings. Also, the restrictive covenants have the same provision. Jones retreats until he sees a store building being erected on a corner lot almost directly across the street from his property. He proceeds to give the inspector a piece of his mind about commercial enterprises ruining a nice residential area.

Then Jones discovers that the lot in question is zoned for business. Furthermore, since it is not within the same subdivision as his house, it is not subject to the covenant restricting the land to single residential dwellings. A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal and other problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Austin 15, Texas. (This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

declining in Texas but the land is not being abandoned. Instead, more land is being farmed by fewer people. While there has been a decrease of some 4,500 farms in the state since 1919, the total cultivated land has increased 31,368 acres.

Farm tenancy was 37 per cent in the state in 1945. Five short years later, the figure was reduced to 30 per cent by population shifts. Yet, during that same time, Texas farm crop acreage increased 4 million acres.

Mechanized farming is largely responsible. The tractor began replacing the mule more than 30 years ago. In 1920, there were 9,048 tractors on Texas farms. This year, the figure is around 250,000. The mule is becoming a part of the past.

We in Texas have nothing to fear in the present trend as long as the farmer continues to increase his per-acre yields, improve his soil conservation practices and work for better plant and animal breeding.

Advice From State Health Department

Typhus fever continues to make its appearance in various counties of Texas, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Like typhoid fever, most cases appear during the summer and fall and all citizens are urged to help control the spread of typhus by assisting in exterminating rats.

"There is only one way in which typhus can be controlled," Dr. Cox said, "and that is by, as nearly as possible, completely exterminating rats in the State, since fleas from infected rats transmit the disease to man. We can begin to visualize the extent of the needed extermination campaign when we realize that there is estimated to be 13,000,000 rats in Texas."

There has been some confusion concerning the type of typhus fever which is occurring in Texas, but Dr. Cox pointed out that this disease is entirely different from the old world typhus which followed some of the armies in Europe. Ordinarily the kind of typhus which makes its appearance in this section of the country is not a fatal disease, although there has been a death rate of about 2 per cent from typhus this year.

The poisoning and trapping of rats throughout the State will help to control the spread of this disease although these are temporary measures. In order to be permanently rid of rats they will have to be starved out, which means that buildings housing food supplies must be rat proofed.

It should also be remembered that rats cost the householder millions of dollars each year in the amount of food they either eat or spoil.

Control Of House Fly Necessary In Every City

The control of the fly menace comes at the top of the list of necessary public health measures which should be applied by every city, community, and individual in the state, declared Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The most effective measure for fly control is to prevent their breeding. Flies breed in filth and about eight days are required to complete a life cycle. During her life time of several months, one fly lays from 600 to 1,000 eggs.

To eliminate flies, the breeding places must be destroyed. Manure piles, garbage, and other organic filth furnish the requirements of warmth, moisture, and food necessary for the propagation of the fly. Flies should be kept from contact with food or drink or utensils in which such food and drink are prepared and served. Likewise, they should be kept from access to privy vaults where they pick up the infections, which they later spread to humans by contact with the food and drink, and by unwashed hands and utensils.

See that your windows, doors, and porches are screened so that the stray fly from some careless neighbor will not molest your family. See that your grocer keeps meat, vegetables, and fruits screened from flies.

The use of DDT and other sprays for the control of fly larvae have come into wide usage. However, their use should be, after all trash and breeding places have been eliminated. Otherwise, spraying will give only temporary relief and a false sense of security.

Keep Linoleum Bright and Clean
College Station — The linoleum on the kitchen floor is more likely to get too much cleaning than too little. This information comes from Minnie Bell, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

To keep linoleum bright and shiny, Miss Bell points out that a mop or soft brush is better than a broom. Oil mops should never be used because they leave an oily coating that catches dirt. Too, oil discolors linoleum. Alkaline soap and abrasive cleaning compounds tend to soften scratch and roughen the surface of linoleum.

It is a good idea to remove surface spots immediately, especially grease. The specialist suggests to clean linoleum use a damp mop with a solution of warm water and mild soap. This removes dirt, grease and old wax. Then use clear water for rinsing.

After the linoleum is thoroughly dry, several thin coats of self-polishing, water-emulsion wax should be used. Paste wax is less satisfactory because it is difficult to get an even coat on the linoleum and once on it is more difficult to remove when time comes to re-wax.

Manufacturers warn that plastic finishes, lacquers and varnishes will dim or yellow the colors in linoleum. To insure the best care, Miss Bell says ask the dealer for printed instructions that manufacturers prepare for the care of their products.

We can order a rubber stamp for you at the News Office.

We are due to have the largest team this year we have had since the end of World War II and indications are that all the boys should be in good condition by the time actual practice starts. Practice will start Monday, September 1st and the first game is scheduled on Friday, September 12 at Junction.

Remember your help and your encouragement to the coaches and the boys will help give them the boost they need. If each of us will do our part, we are sure they will do their part.

When he was nine years old, on August 3rd of last year, a specialist in St. Louis pronounced his affliction leukemia, and gave him 6 weeks to live, but he lived more than a year.

Health Talks

PREPARED BY THE TEXAS MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

"It must be the heat," is a common excuse these days for a run-down, no-good feeling. "The heat saps my strength." "All the starch has been taken out of me" — any number of sad tunes in the same key are offered as an excuse to get out of a tennis game or a dinner date.

These fagged-out persons probably wish they had more get-up-and-go, but they just don't know how to come by it. Since causes for summertime tiredness may be many, each of its victims should look into his daily routine.

First of all, does he get enough sleep? The usual six or eight hours is not enough if it is broken by having to swat mosquitoes, get up and quiet a baby suffering with prickly heat or colic, or yell at the neighbors holding a watermelon party in their backyard. Of course, the obvious thing to do is to get rid of the causes of sleeplessness if possible.

Next, the worn-out fellow might think about the exercise he is getting. Is it enough or too much? Too little exercise can lead to sheep counting. On the other hand, it takes only common sense to know that eighteen holes of golf in the mid-day sun is not good for comfort, much less for sleep. Swimming and sunning between 11 a. m. and 3 p. m., can have the additional danger of sunburn, itself a sleep killer at times.

Diet is important. Because of less physical activity during the heat and because of the heat itself, the appetite may be expected to fall off. This is little excuse, however, for making snacks a regular routine or for "living out of cans." Even though less food may be needed, the right balance of fats, carbohydrates, and proteins is just as important as in cooler weather.

The amount of salt which a person should have during the hot weather worries some unduly. In general, unless one does hard physical labor at extremely high temperatures in dry surroundings, he will not need any more salt than usual. If an extra amount is needed, however, there are any number of methods for getting it; salt can be used more freely in cooking or can be added to tomato juice, soup, broth, or even beer. Salty foods such as crackers and sardines might be added to the diet. Still other ways are to take salt tablets by mouth (which occasionally may cause nausea and vomiting) or to dissolve a small amount of table salt in the drinking water.

A common question is what the temperature of drinking water should be. That is a matter of personal preference, as there is little evidence that cool water itself is harmful. Regardless of its temperature, large amounts of water, as well as other liquids, are called for when the mercury soars. In moderation carbonated drinks and beverages such as iced tea and coffee are helpful. Constipation, which may occur more often during summer, should be treated with an oil or vegetable laxative rather than a stronger medicine such as epsom salts.

Above all, if the weatherman predicts a severe heat wave, sickness such as heat exhaustion, sun stroke, and heat cramps must be prevented by avoiding exercise, especially hard exercise, in the noon-day heat, by making working and living quarters as cool as possible; by taking sufficient liquids by mouth; and, if necessary, by increasing the amount of salt in the diet.
