Versatile Motif

Pattern No. 415

Our idea of an attractive tablecloth or bedspread is one that doesn't take you forever to make. So this lacy design is just right, for it's made of knitting and crochet cotton, and can be finished in a very short time. The motif itself measures about 5 inches across, and can be adapted to chair sets and luncheon sets as well as cloths and spreads.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy to understand illustrated directions, also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 415 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address:

Reading AND Writing

By John Selby

"NEW HAMPSHIRE NEIGHBORS," by Cornelius Weygandt (Holt; $3.50); "AWAY TO QUEBEC," by Gordon Brinley (Dodd, Mead; $2.50).

There is a slight flavor of the over-ripe winesap about Cornelius Weygandt's "New Hampshire Neighbors." The book describes New Hampshire sights and smells and people and habits and animals and all that. And some of the stories, like certain apples in our experience, have been left down cellar a little over long.

Or perhaps it's Mr. Weygandt's persistent jollity. Everybody is lovely to him, just lovely. He not only remembers where he dug up the flowers which now decorate his place (called "The Line Storm")—but he takes space in his books to tell his reader, which is rather an imposition. Unless, of course, this book is really a private matter and the public isn't expected to horn in.

Come to think of it, this may be the case. A number of the chapters have separate dedications—one called "The Maine Man and the Minister" is dedicated to George Weed, for example. Hope and William Hacker get "A Selectman of Sentiment." And Herschel Brickell, who is a book reviewer on one of the New York newspapers, gets one called "A Mite Odd." This looked like such a good chance that I read it. There was no innuendo.

Gordon Brinley's "Away to Quebec" is just an out and out travel book, one of the best of its kind. As in the case of the several "Away" books which have preceded this one, Putnam Brinley does the drawings and they are (also as in the other books) excellent. The Duchess makes the road notes, Sally is the trained motor car, and things are much as always they have been.

Anybody wanting to explore Quebec would find the Brinley's new one a help. They do the province pretty thoroughly, including Murray Bay, the Saguenay, Peribonca, Bale St. Paul and the rest of it. They do it with the greatest of good humor, as if they genuinely are amused to spend each summer preparing a guide for hundreds of others to use the summer following.

One might spend a summer much less intelligently.

ELECTRICITY KEEPS THEIR FOOD FRESH and WHOLESOME

- Summer sunshine helps build sturdy bodies, but summer heat may cause food illnesses in children unless their food is kept fresh and wholesome. Your electric service will remove all doubt as to the freshness of food your children eat, for food in an electric refrigerator is kept below 50 degrees, the food safety zone.

Regardless of how hot the weather, you can depend upon your electric service to keep your refrigerator temperature in the frigid temperature zone which is necessary to keep milk, meat and other foods free from harmful bacteria. The reserve capacity that is built into electric refrigerators to cope with Texas summer heat is always ready to give constant protection to your food. And yet the cost for electricity that gives you this food protection amounts only to a few pennies a day.
