By KERNEL GENE, aPe

Have you seen a copy of the April issue of Texas Farmer-Stockman Magazine. On the front cover is a large picture of Ross Wilson, "Southwestern Peanut Leader". Congratulations, Ross, and while it's on our mind, I, personally, want to thank you for the fine job you have done for mayor. You have also given un- Leon after a lengthy illness. stintedly of your time to all civic projects. for the Progress Library in Jack of Del Rio; one sister, Mrs. Grace key is available in the Progress children and eight great-grandoffice.

Don't know why it is but the Kernel seems to be the only one in Gorman who is always late hearing about activities. For several weeks I have noticed a lot Elected To School of unusual activity around Jay's Grocery and after a bit of sleuthing uncovered the fact that Thurman is in the process of renovating his store, inside and out. If grocery store in this area.

The reason I say Thurman's store is that Grandpa Dick seems to spend most of his time entertaining grandchildren (as the picture elsewhere in this issue shows). Dick has my condolences because grand-brats can really get in your hair — and heart.

Andy Hudson of De Leon, new butcher for Jay's, is offering some extra fine specials in the market department.

Thurman requested that I ask you folk to bear with him for a couple of months as everything is going to be topsy-turvy when he starts putting in new shelves, refrigeration boxes, etc.

YUM! YUM! This is a new peanut recipe the wife got from our daughter-in-law while we were visiting in California recently. I thought maybe you would like to try it.

TOWER APPROVES VOLUNTARY STUDENT PRAYER IN SCHOOLS

I have joined as a sponsor of a key measure being presented to Congress for consideration this spring, a bill allowing voluntary student prayer in schools.

Few actions by the Supreme of Ranger. Court have raised as much controversy, posed as many un- and girls of Crane visited with answered questions, or fostered Mrs. Mary Overstreet. such legislative activity as the series of decisions concerning school prayer.

This decision and its successors have had the effect of forbidding the free exercise of prayer in public schools, where the action was formerly part of the daily activity by our Nation's youth. It is extremely unfortunate that this decision has had such an effect. It was clearly not the intention of the framers of our Constitution to forbid the populace to publically practice religion. For instance we here in the Sneate open every day the a prayer to give us spir guidance.

The President of the United Tunnell. States must take the oath of office with his hand on the Bible, and part of his oath is an affirmation to Almighty God.

One of the mottos of our Nation is "In God We Trust"; certainly our forefathers did not mean to say that for a period of time it was all right to have public religious affirmations, and Lydia Thurman after a point, it was not.

WASHINGTON, D. C. - THERE ARE REPORTS FROM VARI-OUS sources describing shortages of supplies to our fighting men in South Viet Nam. A number of people are writing to either state as a fact that our men are not being properly supplied, or making inquiry as to whether they are CONGRESSMAN OLIN E. TEAGUE, a World War II combat veteran (and incidentally, wounded six times) has made two trips to Viet Nam and just returned from the last one recently. Teague did not sit around in Command Headquarters or in some hotel lobby in Saigon. He was out with the combat troops as near the front lines as he was permitted to go.

HE HAS THESE OBSERVA-TIONS: We are not short of any critical supplies such as ammunition, medical and clothing. The Department of Defense has recently issued a new type of jungle uniform with jungle boots. All men have at least one of this type of new gear and everyone will soon have two. Some prefer the old uniform since the new type is of nylon and some say it is hotter.

NEW PIECES OF ELECTRON-IC EQUIPMENT BEING USED by our troops are preventing many of the ambushes which occurred earlier in the fighting. For instance, one enables a man to use the light of the stars to see a far distance into the darkness. This is brand new, and although not all the troops have one, they are on the way. Teague, who is an inquisitive observer and who recognizes the quality and quantity of combat equipment, says that there is no shortage of crit-

THERE IS ALWAYS A PRO-BLEM OF GETTING guns, ammunition, food and other combat necessities at exactly the right place at the right time. This has always been true in all wars and will likely be true in all others. The fact remains that we have the most mobile forces in anybody's history.

THOSE ON THE SPOT DE-SCRIBE A RATHER DESPER-ATE situation with harbor facilities in South Viet Nam. Every ship must go 60 miles up the Saigon River to unload at Saigon. The harbor is jammed with ships thicker than those at the channel at Houston. This 60 miles traverses through Viet Cong Territory. A new harbor is being built near DaNang, another one in Thailand. The delivery of supplies is a real problem but will be greatly relieved when these wo new facilities are ready.

CONGRESSMAN TEAGUE SAYS THAT INSOFAR as the use and effectiveness of planes is concerned, it depends on whom you talk to. There is every type of aircraft there, and the people who fly them even disagree. The old T-28, a propellered craft, seems to be the most effective because it is slow and the pilots contend that for the purpose of working over the jungle, it is best. There are the old C-47s, equipped with Gattling guns, which fire out the side doors, and the guns are controlled by the pilot. At 6,000 rounds per minute, they can cut through a lot of jungle. These aircraft are called in to protect small camps attacked by the Viet Cong, and most of
