PUBLIC NOTICE

For a number of years one of the outstanding business enterprises in De Leon and surrounding communities has been conudcted by Nabors Funeral Home. A tradition of service and thoughtfulness has been established through hard work and dedication of the owners and employees, both past and present.

In order that this tradition be preserved and expanded in vears to come, Nabors Funeral Home and Higginbothams have agreed to join together in their efforts through a purchase of Nabors Funeral Home by Higginbothams. The merging of the equipment and businesses should facilitate the continued ability to the people of this area to be able to purchase a suitable memorial service at a reasonable cost.

Both Nabors Funeral Home and Higginbothams express to a their customers and friends their heartfelt thanks for past businses and courtesies, and wish to notify the people of this area that the personnel of both establishments will be working together to continue an effort to provide the best possible service.

As of October 1, 1974, payments for insurance customarily received by Nabors Funeral Home will be received and forwarded by Higginbothams. Ambulance service and funeral services will be conducted from Higainbotham Funeral Chapel, 1000 South Texas, De Leon, Telephone Number 893-2325. As of this date you may continue to call 893-2331 and you will receive an answer from the funeral home.

We don't intend to leave the next generation with a generation gap. In the years ahead, these youngsters will need enough electricity for their homes, jobs, schools and hospitals—and to take care of the environment. But plants that use these fuels cost a lot more than gas/oil plants. . While this means electricity will have to cost more in the future, the cost won't be as much with At the same time, the availability of the basic fuels used to run our generating plants - natural gas and oil - will continue to decline. gas and oil, even if adequate new supplies were That's why at Texas Electric we're starting to use other fuels, to decrease our dependence on
