D. F. Eaves Family Attend Wedding and See Sights in Virginia

Delmon and Joyce Eaves of the Kokomo community and their son, Mark Eaves of Dallas, and their daughter, Deliah Eaves, and fiancé, Randy Lewis of Ennis, departed DFW Airport on Wednesday, March 18 for Poquoson, Virginia. They are Mark's wedding to Margater Jo Lamkin on Saturday, March 21st. They landed at Norfolk, Va., rented a car and drove to their hotel in Hampton, Va. They spent Thursday touring Colonial Williamsburg, Va., the restored capitol of eighteenth-century Virginia, seeing the original and reconstructed homes, Governor's Palace, shops and buildings of the 1700's. There were craft programs that preserve and demonstrate over thirty eighteenth-century trades and a program of living historical interpretation that brings the colonial past to life. They were dinner guests in the Lamkin home on Thursday evening. Other guests were Mrs. Lamkin's mother and sister and children. On Friday, Joyce and Deliah enjoyed a shopping trip while Delmon, Mark, Randy and Pops Lamkin played golf at the Hampton Country Club. At 6 p. m. on Friday Mr. and Mrs. Eaves hosted the rehearsal dinner for the wedding party in the Sheraton Hotel in Hampton. After the wedding and reception at the Emmaus Baptist Church in Poquoson at 3 p. m. on Saturday, they visited in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon E. Lamkin, Jr. in Poquoson.

Sunday was another day of touring historical sights at Fort Monroe, Va. on Chesapeake Bay and the Visitor Center at the NASA Langley Research Center, a journey into the past and the future. The center was the home of the first U. S. manned space program, Project Mercury, and the original seven astronauts received their training there. Programs now underway are developing the technology for an advanced aero-space plane and materials and methods for constructing large structures in space. Leaving Norfolk at 6 p. m. on Sunday, they arrived back at DFW about 8 p. m., took Deliah and Randy to Ennis, and then on home to Kokomo from the happy occasion of the wedding and a wonderful vacation trip. —GP—behind Baird Elementary School. Baird had 105 points and Gorman had a close 95 points.

Gorman Junior High School won the overall District Literary Championship trophy with 75 points. Baird was second with 65 points.

Because of conflicts with athletic events, Gorman High School did not have entries in many of the contests and fewer entries in the remaining contests. However, those students who did participate did an exceptionally fine job. After thirteen straight years of winning the District Literary Championship trophy, Gorman lost the title this year and came in third behind Baird High School and Eula High School. Baird had 203 points; Eula had 165 points; and Gorman had 120 points. Gorman had as many first and second place points as Baird, but had no third place points because of the fewer entries. There were 10 school who had entered the meet.

Teachers who took the students were Martha Harrington, Shirley Good, Janda Taylor, Rowena Wilson and Linda Glover.

Edna Smith Class Meeting

The Edna Smith Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church met in the home of Gearidene Wright on March 24th for their business meeting and social.

Irene West, a guest, asked the blessing on a supper of various salads, chips, green onions, celery and carrot sticks and punch.

We went into our business meeting with Louise Brown presiding. Minutes were read and all reports given which was a very good report for February.

Louise Brown brought a very inspiring devotional from the book "Streams in the Desert" by Charles Crowman entitled "The Ministry of the Lamp" and "The Bible is a Beautiful Palace".

We adjourned after a season of prayers.

We were then served cake and mugs of hot coffee. Those present were Louise Brown, Hazel Smith, Gladys Chambless and hostess Gearidene Wright and Irene West as a guest.
