Waco Editor's Post Attacked By West Texas

WTCC Urges Ten Senators To Refuse to Uphold Appointment

STAMFORD, Texas, Jan. 28 (AP)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has asked the ten state senators from its member territory to vote against confirmation of Frank Baldwin's appointment to the state board of education.

Baldwin, editor of the Waco Times-Herald, was a last-minute appointee of Governor Moody, who had previously conferred with the incoming governor, Ross Sterling.

The protest, signed by Charles E. Coombes, president, went to Senators W. R. Poage, Waco; Carl C. Hardin, Stephenville; Ben G. D'Neal, Wichita Falls; Olive Cunningham, Abilene; Walter C. Woodward, Coleman; Frank H. Rawlins, Fort Worth; Ben F. Berkley, Alpine; Pink Parrish, Lubbock; and Clint Small, Wellington.

The message said: "As authorized by its executive board the West Texas Chamber of Commerce protests confirmation of Frank Baldwin. His editorial August 25 in Waco Times-Herald reflects on all West Texas. We are there arranged for starting move for production loans; for having asked and secured reduction in price of over-valued school lands; for pink pigiron situation; for having limited within our borders Texas technological college.

"His editorial further criticizes West Texas for efforts to validate and titles, and accused West Texas of sectionalism. We believe (CONTINUED ON PAGE 4)

Higher Court Reverses C. W. Roberts Term

Holds Introduction of Cloth Experiments Was Improper

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today reversed and remanded the murder convictions of C. W. Roberts, sentenced to 22 years from Wise county, and Joe Hobrecht, assessed a seven year sentence in Bexar county.

Roberts shot his wife while squirrel hunting May 14, 1929. He claimed he slipped and fell, the gun being accidentally discharged. The state contended there had been ill feeling between the couple.

The state conducted a number of experiments, hanging pieces of fabric on brush, and noting the effect of bullets fired at them. These pieces of cloth, together with the bonnet Mrs. Roberts was wearing, were introduced as evidence. The appellate court held introduction of the cloth was improper because the conditions of the experimental shooting were not similar to those of the actual killing.

The court pointed out that the experimental cloth was on brush while the bonnet was on Mrs. Roberts' head, and that various distances were used for the experimental shots while the actual shooting was at a distance of 11 1/2 feet.

The appeals court also found fault with the statement of the trial court characterizing as an "admission and confession" the statement of Roberts explaining how he accidentally shot his wife.

Hobrecht was indicted with three other men and a woman in the killing of Charles Stevens, federal prohibition officer, south of San Antonio, September 24, 1929.

The reversal was granted because of the admission of testimony by a witness named Matthews of a conversation between Matthews and Lynn Stevens, alleged co-conspirator in the killing. This conversation was not in Hobrecht's presence.

The court affirmed the four year sentence of Hugh Wiley for the killing of Rube Huff. Wiley was sentenced in Cass county. The killing was claimed to have been an outcome of an argument in a dice game, last April 2.

The two year sentence assessed Ross Briscoe on conviction for the murder of Hal Bennett on March 24, 1930, was affirmed. The offense occurred in Johnson county.

R. A. Dodd, Tarrant county, sentenced to seven years on conviction of a robbery charge, gained a reversal when the court held the trial court erred by not submitting a special issue to the jury. Dodd was alleged to have robbed Sherman Costner of $15. The case was remanded for a new trial.

Conviction of Jack Davis on his 12-year-old step-daughter was affirmed. He was convicted in Burnet county and sentenced to five years.

He has a wife and two children and has been receiving food from the Red Cross for three weeks. It amounts to about $5 a month.

"We eat one meal a day," he said. "If we tried to get more than that out of the food we get, it wouldn't last two weeks."

"The food is allotted every two weeks."

"We don't get enough at one meal. If I ate all I wanted, there wouldn't be any left for my family so lots of times I do without."

"The people over here, both white and colored persons, have just about killed all their hogs that didn't die. I lost five hogs and was afraid to eat them. I know of others who also lost their hogs. I don't know what was the matter with them—I suppose it was because they hadn't got the right kind of feed."

"Now people are going to have to kill their cows as poor as they are, to get enough to eat."

Miller's children are not in school because he said they did not have clothes to keep them warm. Many others are keeping ed by the Cowboy Band of Simmons University, which gave a 15-minute concert featuring Johnny Regan, trick whip artist, and Will Rogers, slipper dancer, and Jimmy Rogers, singer and guitarist. Rogers is chauffeur in Will in his big high-powered car, and they were to leave at 12:30 for Breckenridge for a 3 p. m. address. An airplane was available here if Will wanted to fly on to Dallas for the night show, but Jimmy Rogers said he would drive the hummer.

"Tell Dallas not to worry, we'll be there on time," he said.

Will looked fresh and undismayed at the day's heavy schedule, with three shows and a 200-mile ride on slippery pavement, and kept the crowd roaring at his wisecracks.

MELLON WARNS SENATE BODY AGAINST DANGER OF BONUS REDEMPTION

Cash Output Would 'Upset Nation's Financial Structure,' Secretary Informs Finance Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Secretary Mellon appeared before the senate finance committee today to warn that cash redemption of the soldiers' bonus would upset the nation's financial structure and "greatly disturb world equilibrium."

The veteran secretary of the treasury said cashing of the adjusted service certificates, which had been urged as a relief measure, would "seriously retard a business recovery, and so prolong unemployment."

To Have Deficit

He testified the treasury would close the fiscal year with a deficit, according to present indications, of not less than $75,000,000 and that cash payment of the face value of the certificates would cost about $3,400,000,000.

"I can say without qualification," he said, "that the treasury department could not sell $3,400,000,000 of bonds at the present time except on terms which it would be very hard to justify and without complete disorganization of the government and other security markets, with the most serious consequences not only to the public credit but to our entire economic structure."

Continuing, he said, "but serious as would be the direct consequences to the treasury and to the public credit, the indirect consequences to the country would be even more serious." Among the "indirect consequences" he listed:

Lower Bonds
Immediate depreciation very materially of the price of all United States bonds, the effect of which would be "equivalent to a capital levy on the holders of all United States government securities."

Destruction of capital values running into hundreds of millions of dollars.

Death of the bond market for any other kinds of securities.

Destruction of the market for foreign securities, which, he said, "not only would interfere with the marketing of our surplus products—but would also greatly disturb world trade and world equilibrium."

Eventually a deeper depression than the one from which the world is suffering today.

"There is no economic merit in the proposal," Secretary Mellon testified. "From the point of view of stimulating business, it is a plan for unmitigated inflation, with the disastrous results of which the world is only too familiar."

"On the investment side it means the extinction of the security markets and the creation of a serious impediment to business recovery both here and abroad.

"To the unemployed it spells further retardation of the day when normal employment will be available."

Bad For Taxes

"From the point of view of the United States treasury it represents complete disorganization of an orderly program for the refunding and retirement of our war debt and a tremendous increase in interest charges."

"To the taxpayer it means the destruction of all hope of the lightening of the load of taxation for years to come and a probable increase in taxes in the very near future."

"How the veterans and their families, who after all are an inseparable part of the American people and whose prosperity and welfare are inextricably bound up with the prosperity and welfare of all, can hope to find relief and improvement in their condition from the universal and destructive consequences which these measures would entail is beyond comprehension."

Congress Will Handle Relief

Robinson Responds To Statement of Red Cross Solon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Responding to a statement by Chairman Payne of the Red Cross that his organization will not accept government relief funds, democratic leader, Robinson said in the senate today congress will set up its own agencies for distribution of relief funds.

The statement by Judge Payne was in testimony today before the house appropriations committee hearing on the senate's $25,000,000 appropriation for the Red Cross. The chairman revealed the central committee of the relief organization had voted unanimously against acceptance.

Own Agencies

"If the Red Cross refuses to measure up to the proper standard in this emergency and refuses to respond to the ordinary impulses that move human hearts," Robinson said.

R-Bar School Pupils Undergo Vaccination

Thirty pupils of the R-Bar school were vaccinated against smallpox Tuesday afternoon, under the supervision of Mrs. M. H. Shawnee, county health authority.

Dr. T. M. Collins administered the vaccinations to the pupils. As messages were presented to the senate urging the bonus payment, Harrison called attention to the Mellon opposition and added "It is my belief, however, that a majority of the committee favors some relief."

Cloudy Weather Continues Here

Residents in search of sunny skies were compelled to look elsewhere than Howard County for them today, as cloudy weather continued to prevail.

For the fourth consecutive day, the sun was hidden behind heavy banks of moisture filled clouds. Although little rain fell Tuesday night, a light mist spread over the county.

The total rainfall since Sunday was .90 of an inch. The rain has been slow in falling, and has given fairly lands a beneficial seasoning. Moderate temperatures existed here today.

Measure Will Go To Senate For Approval

Onal, Weinert Plans In Free Conference Bill

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (AP)—The House today adopted 136 to 6 a tax relief bill submitted by a free conference committee. The senate will take up the bill later today.

The bill was a compromise of the Onal and Weinert plans of tax relief. It included a provision to allow 1930 taxes to go unpaid until October 15 and would make semi-annual payments possible if desired by taxpayers.

Under the plan ten per cent per year would be charged as interest for tax payments after February 1. The delinquent tax penalty would be cut from ten to five per cent on all 1930 taxes unpaid on October 15. All provisions made were for 1930 taxes only.

Thirty Bills Placed In Lawmakers' Hopper

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (AP)—Tax relief continued to hold the commanding position today in the legislature.

The Senate had sent over to the House Senator Onal's second tax relief bill, which would postpone the delinquent tax date until February 21. The bill would allow the legislature more time in which to enact emergency tax legislation.

A free conference committee was appointed yesterday to decide on emergency tax legislation after the Senate had failed to concur with the House on the Weinert bill.

Yesterday's sessions brought out a variety of legislation. In the House the principal floor-up had as its focal point prohibition. The Senate working only half of the day had a rather calm session.

Thirty bills were piled into the hopper yesterday, 19 in the House and 11 in the Senate.

Under provisions of a redistricting bill introduced by Representative Metz of San Angelo the state would be divided into 21 congressional districts. Senator Martin of Hillsboro introduced a bill to permit officials to try persons charged with the sale or delivery of liquor either in the county where the sale was made or in the counties through which the liquor was transported.

Inanity would be a ground for divorce under provisions of a bill introduced by Senator Woodruff of Deatur.

Other bills introduced in the House proposed the preferential primary system; construction of a $500,000 state highway building; abolition of the three day requirement of the marriage license by the convention system; fire, tornado, and hail insurance for schools; licensing of chiropractors and establishment of a state chiropractic board and the creation of the office of building and loan commissioner.

Bills introduced in the Senate included three which called for more stringent enforcement of the state hunting law. Two others would authorize the state to purchase public lands and establish game preserves.

Airport Rates Among 10 Best Sanders Says

American Airways Official Speaks at Business Men's Luncheon

"The Big Spring airport is one of the ten best airports in the United States today," declared Lee Sanders, manager of the local airport and representative of American Airways, Inc., in an address at the Business Men's Luncheon Club today.

Mr. Sanders gave a brief history of aviation, stressing with statistics the leadership of the United States in both civil and military aviation activities. Among the aviation facts which Mr. Sanders mentioned were: the record non-stop, non-refueling flight of 5000 miles; the speed record of 366 miles an hour; the 101 air transportation companies now operating in the United States and flying 117,000 miles each day; the 15,000 licensed pilots in America today.

Lines of the American Airways, Inc., with which Mr. Sanders is associated, extend from Montreal, Canada, to Los Angeles. The company has fourteen air mail contracts.

C. T. Watson told of the history of the Big Spring Airport and of the difficulties encountered in its establishment. The airport is now leased to Texas Air Transport for a 3-year period. He emphasized his belief that while the ownership of the airport was still in the hands of the citizen-stockholders that it should be owned by the city inasmuch as the entire city profits most by the distinction received from being an air mail stop and the divisional point of two air lines.

Guests who attended the luncheon were: Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bull and C. E. Shive. The program was in charge of E. A. Kelley who called on Charles Quereau who said that it was the consensus of opinion of eighty per cent of the travelers whom he asked that business conditions in all parts of the United States are slowly improving.

The program for the luncheon next week is in charge of a committee composed of Cecil Collins, Willard Sullivan and Charles Quereau.

Majority Committee Favor Cash Payment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—The assertion was made in the senate today by Senator Harrison of Mississippi, a democratic member of the finance committee, that a majority of the committee favors some form of cash payment on the bonus insurance certificates.

The Harrison expression came within a few minutes after Secretary Mellon had declared emphatically before the committee against such legislation.

As messages were presented to the senate urging the bonus payment, Harrison called attention to the Mellon opposition and added "It is my belief, however, that a majority of the committee favors some relief."

"If This Keeps Up I'll Miss Bath," Says Will

ABILENE, Texas, Jan. 28 (AP)—"If this here rush keeps up I'm going to miss my bath this coming Saturday night," said Will Rogers, opening his deferred unemployment benefit matinee here this morning. Starting time had been set for 10:30, but it was nearly 11 when the humorist arrived, after a last automobile ride from San Angelo. A crowd of 2,000, filling the hall, had been patiently waiting for him, and he got a rousing ovation when he came on the stage, grinning.

Rogers' appearance was preceded by the Cowboy Band of Simmons University, which gave a 15-minute concert featuring Johnny Regan, trick whip artist, and Will Rogers, slipper dancer, and Jimmy Rogers, singer and guitarist. Rogers is chauffeur in Will in his big high-powered car, and they were to leave at 12:30 for Breckenridge for a 3 p. m. address. Max Schmeling Happy To Be Back In United States, Eager To Get In Shape For Bout With 'Young'

By EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—His broad face beaming, black eyes shining with pleasure, Max Schmeling moved into New York today, genuinely happy to be back in the land that voted him heavyweight champion of the world.

The youthful German with the features of a young Jack Dempsey sailed into Brooklyn late last night on the liner Europa, accompanied by his trainer, Max Machon, a dozen pieces of baggage and a cute little Daschund named Cecile, third in the line of Teuton dogdom aristocracy that is rapidly becoming the favorite pet of the New York box fight writers fraternity.

Perfect Shape Max appeared in splendid physical condition, eager to get to work on preparations for his title battle in June with Young Bill Stribling

Georgia's challenger for the heavyweight crown. He was anxious to explain that, regardless of statements in the papers, he has never made derogatory remarks regarding either the New York state athletic commission which recently stripped him of his title or the German boxing federation with which he has been tilting. He insisted that he wants to fight Jack Sharkey, feels sure that eventually he will face the Boston sailor in a prize-ring, but for the present:

"Cho Yackobs is mine manager. I am der fighter. He manages, I fight. Was he says, goes."

Sharkey has no one to blame but himself, Max insisted, for the muddled state of affairs that envelops the heavyweights today, a situation wherein Sharkey, loser on a foul to Schmeling here last June, is recognized in New York state as the outstanding challenger while the National Boxing Association, controlling boxing in 27 states, believes that Stribling alone is entitled to a title shot.

Fight the Gob

"While Stribling knocks out Phil Scott and Otto von Porat since last I am here," Schmeling argued, "what has Sharkey done? Naming Sharkey should have fought as Stribling did. I cannot ignore Stribling's record. If I don't fight him the N.B.A. suspends me. If I don't fight Sharkey New York suspends me."

"Some day I will fight Sharkey again and I will whip him. I know that I would have beat him last June if he did not foul me in the fourth round. I am not entirely recovered from that punch until last October. In the third round I take all he has and they could not even give me smelling salts after the bell. In the fourth I run out. Sharkey sees me coming. He is a changed man. I feel him weaken. He fouls me."

"Ach, what can I do? I know that if I had fouled Sharkey instead of him fouling me I would not be given another chance at him."

Since no site has been chosen yet for the match with Stribling, although the bout probably will take place in Chicago, Schmeling has no immediate plans for a training camp. He starts Feb. 9 on a nationwide exhibition tour lasting until April 17.

Hold Negro Suspect In Girl's Assault

LAREDO, Texas, Jan. 28 (AP)—Officers here today were holding a negro as a possible suspect in the attack a week ago upon a Brownsville girl, 17 years old, as she knelt beside the grave of her mother. The girl and a Brownsville officer were expected to arrive today to view the man in an attempt at identification. Laredo officers did not reveal until yesterday that the man was arrested Sunday, saying they feared an innocent man might bear the brunt of violence.

Fire Loss At Tyler $200,000

TYLER, Texas, Jan. 28 (AP)—Loss estimated at $200,000 resulted early today from the most disastrous fire here in several years. Naylor's department store and office building was completely destroyed. The second floor was occupied by the Texas Pecan Nursery office and four others.

The blaze originated on the second floor. An automobile laden with bolts of cloth seen leaving town at the time the fire started gave rise to the theory that the store had been robbed and fired, but police discounted the theory since the store was locked and fire men had to break into the building. A fire wall and six hours of work by firemen confined the flames to the one building, though others were damaged.

Tire Drills To Be Directed By Speedway Solon

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Jan. 28 (AP)—Tire drills by mechanics promise to play a vital part in the attempt Captain Malcolm Campbell hopes to make here next week on the world's automobile speed record.

Under existing regulations, the veteran British race car driver must make one run with the wind and another against it at an average two-way speed greater than 231 miles an hour to shatter the present mark. Both runs must be completed in a given 30-minute period.

Every second consumed in changing tires, inspecting the car, replenishing the fuel supply and changing water in the radiator at the conclusion of the first run will be precious.

In 1929, when the late Sir Henry Segrave of England, established the present record his second run was completed 28 minutes after the start of the first.

The 30-minute rule, specified by the international race governing body in Paris, was made to prevent a driver from taking advantage of any change in the wind that might increase his average speed. Otherwise, he might make one run with the wind, then wait until it changed in the opposite direction and run with the wind again.

Campbell plans to put his crew of six mechanics through a series of tire drills, holding a stop watch on each, to determine which four can work the fastest in unbolting the tires and installing new ones. Because of the risk that the tires might be cut or worn on the first run, Campbell will install new ones for the second run. He brought 36 tires with him from England, each tested to stand a speed of 300 miles an hour, and plans to put on a new set even after fast preliminary runs.

How Is Your HEALTH?
Edited by Dr. Ingo Goldston for the New York Academy of Medicine.
VISUALIZING THE KIDNEYS
When the X-ray was first discovered it was viewed as a curiosity of science. Later, it was applied to medical diagnosis where it was found of service in the production of pictures or shadowgraphs of such portions of the human anatomy as had a natural variation in density.
This method of application limited the sphere of usefulness of the X-ray, and physicians soon set themselves to devising means of X-raying the hollow, non-contrasting portions of the body.
By giving the patient bismuth, in a suspension of buttermilk, it has become possible to X-ray the hollow, non-contrasting portions of the body.
By giving the patient bismuth, in a suspension of buttermilk, it has become possible to X-ray the inner outline of the gastro-intestinal tract. Similarly, by the introduction of iodine compounds into the head sinuses, and into the bronchi of the lungs it is now possible to define their shape, size and condition.
The latest application of this principle has been in the diagnosis of kidney and urinary system conditions. The intricate chemical substance used is known as urosalectan. It is given to the patient by injection.
Within a few minutes the substance injected appears in the secretions of the kidney, and after 15 minutes it is sufficiently concentrated to cast a clear X-ray shadow.
This new method of diagnosis does away with a good deal of the need to insert diagnostic instruments into the urinary system, a process which is always unpleasant, and not without some slight danger.
The picture of the entire system, kidneys, ureters, and bladder may be secured at once, and with good clarity. Also, it provides some idea of the "workings" of the kidney, function as well as structure being demonstrated by the rate of excretion of urosalectan.

Cap'n Bill Gets It
THE most refreshing bit of political news out of Austin recently, we believe, was that Priscilla Mullens-John Alden episode in which Governor-elect O. R. Sterling and Ranger Captain Bill Sterling—they are not related—were the actors.
Cap'n Bill called on Governor Sterling to put in a good word for a friend of the captain's for the office of adjutant general. Hardly had the captain finished extolling his friend's virtues when the governor-elect spoke up and curtly informed him that the gubernatorial mind was already made up on the subject.
"And it isn't any of the men you've been hearing about, either," said the governor-elect. "I want YOU in there!"
Cap'n Bill laughed heartily. He thought the governor-elect was kidding him. But he wasn't.
So Cap'n Bill Sterling is the new adjutant general and the Texas counterpart of Captain Miles Standish.
Cap'n Bill is well fitted by temperament, training and background for the office he is to fill. And the fact that Governor-elect Sterling knew and recognized these qualities is a good sign that ability rather than political pull is apt to continue to be the first consideration for appointments in the governor's office. Dan Moody set the precedents and Ross Sterling is carrying them out.

Masked Longing

A ROMANCE OF RADIO
SYNOPSIS: Allecia Gray wins a star part in a new Broadway show with the help of Jimmy Crane, theatrical press agent who loves her. Her younger sister, Vivienne, an artist's model, is jealous of this sudden rise to fame. At a party given for Allecia by Dwight Channing, artist, Vivienne seeks to draw attention to herself by taking a dare to bathe in the fountain. Allecia, trying to prevent her, is disgraced when she falls through a glass door. Vivienne is faced with the task of supporting her sister, who goes into seclusion wearing a silk mask to conceal her scars. Jimmy persuades Allecia to consent to have her voice tested for making phonograph records. In a speaky she sees Vivienne dining with Arnold Kronberg, a movie magnate of unsavory reputation.
Chapter 16
GRIM NEWS—That Jimmy guessed the truth—that Kronberg had met Vivienne while she was posing at Channing's studio. The producer, he knew, was a fast worker when a pretty girl caught his fancy.
Seeing Vivienne there riled him. Allecia would be waiting for her at home; no doubt getting dinner ready. Yet the chances were that Kronberg would suggest their ordering here.
Somebody ought to warn the fool to keep away from him. Not that it mattered to Jimmy what Vivienne chose to do—except on Allecia's account. Just the same, he felt that he ought to break this thing up somehow, to hit on some way of making Vivienne realize that a bit in a Kronberg show is always dearly bought.
One of these days Kronberg would make front page in a whistle of a juicy mix-up. It might be as well to suggest to Viv that she need not figure in it.
Then Crane had an inspiration. Vivienne had not seen him. Two by minutes later, he was sitting before the fire in Channing's studio. Channing listened quietly to Jimmy's story. His code for allecia's mentioning the scene that had passed between Vivienne and himself. He had been certain that Vivienne would get in touch with Kronberg.
Her motive was perfectly plain, and unless he was much mistaken, there was something more than pique in her having phoned to the producer. She was far too sophisticated not to be thoroughly aware of what she was about.
Channing strongly suspected that her underlying purpose was to make him jealous, though he discounted her sincerity in proposing what she had to him.
She would never have gone through with it if his answer had been difficult. She had known what his reaction would be.
The trouble was that it peeved her that his only interest in her charms had been from an artist's viewpoint.
Outwardly, at least, Viv was the type that could not exist without being told she was lovely. By deliberately holding himself aloof he had offended her.
The real secret was that Vivienne needed a man who would care for her as Crane cared for Allecia. With all her deep intensity—as yet only partly stirred—her soul cried for the caresses of a man who would be strong enough to shake her affections.
Perhaps he had been rather

He murmured: "Oh, Pardon Me" ... a hundred times a day...
A HUNDRED times a day he suffered the agonies of embarrassment as his conversation was interrupted by "Pardon Me's," as he turned away to stifle gas. It had been that way for years. No matter what he ate, it caused gas and discomfort. His stomach constantly caused him pain. He could hardly bear the idea of food. He was irritable and nervous—couldn't sleep. A friend suggested Tanlac. He tried it. In a few days the gaseous condition left him. His appetite returned. He began to feel leads better in every way. He slept like a boy.
Stomach gas is not only painful as well as embarrassing but it may be the warning of dangerous stomach troubles. Get rid of it—straighten out the condition that causes it with Tanlac. Few preparations have Tanlac's wonderful record of success in quickly relieving gas discomfort and stomach distress. It has helped thousands and it must help you, too, or your druggist will return your money.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS
After the Depression
Lubbock Journal:
The existing business depression will pass, in the course of time, like all other disasters. Indeed, signs are beginning to appear which indicate that it is already leaving us slowly but surely. But so far no one seems to have thought very much about the problems we shall have when the depression is at last over.
In that connection, a recent report from the Russell Sage Foundation presents some suggestions of considerable importance. It points out, in the first place, that the end of the depression will find us in a reconstruction period which will present a number of difficult problems. As John M. Green, general director of the Russell Sage Foundation, writes:
"While no one can tell how long the present depression will continue, we know from rather full records of previous unemployment periods that the ill effects of the present situation on individuals and families will be felt long after the business situation is improved. The poorer a community begins to organize to counteract these ill effects, the more speedy will be its recovery."
And Joanna C. Coleord, who wrote the Foundation's report, adds:
"Long after factory wheels are again turning, and to the average citizen it seems that things are back to normal, the social agencies will be trying to put together the pieces of human lives which have been shattered by the disaster. People with health of body and mind impaired, people whose courage and independence have been undermined, people at odds with society, broken and scattered family groups, will lie long as a heavy burden, resulting from the period of unemployment. The need of the social agencies for increased public support will be prolonged far past the period of acute distress. An emergency committee should make its report with this fact in mind."
The Foundation then recommends that employment committees continue their studies of unemployment after the depression ends. For we have a good deal of unemployment in this country even in prosperous times—seasonal, technological and otherwise—and we have never yet made any attempt to learn its causes or devise a cure for it.
That, indeed, is the crux of the matter. We have had many periodic business depressions in Am-

Hollywood Sights
Charles Rogers
BY ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—What ho! A musical film on the horizon again! Charles Rogers is to sing songs and have a musical leading lady, the baritone-voiced June MacCoy, in his next picture, "Manhattan Mucksters."
But it won't be a "musical comedy" picture of the old school. While musical films may not yet be said to have made a comeback, producers seem to be making tentative gestures in their direction.
A song or two in a film here and there may be the first step in a return to music in pictures—but fans may rest assured that their movies are not going "music-wild" as they did last year.
It is the musical star that "Buddy" literally "panics" em" on his personal appearances, so while his singing in previous pictures has not been sensational, the hope of doubtless is that their success will be repeated.
AUDIENCE ASSURED
Virginia Cherrill, whose first screen appearance is still to come in Chaplin's "City Lights," already has been signed on contract by another studio.
The history of Chaplin leading ladies in subsequent films, however, has been none too auspicious. Georgia Hale has dropped from prominence, and Merna Kennedy, after a brief flare at Universal, is seldom heard from now.
Fox has used Miss Cherrill in "Girls Demand Excitement," and has more pictures for her. The studio is gambling on Chaplin's judgment as a star-picker, and on the knowledge that "City Lights," the one silent film in a maze of talkies, will gain a vaster distribution than any production of recent years.
Of course she passed the usual screen tests before she won a contract.
NOTINGS
Studios are hot on the trail of stellar material, and are vying for the services of box-office stars—a condition contrasting strongly with last year's, when talk was all of "all-star casts" and the collapse of stellar thrones. Charles Rogers, not "Buddy," is a producer. He has made "Millie" from the novel. Howard Hughes is going to cut much of the combustible dialogue from "The Front Page," Leslie Winton's screen comeback was heard but not seen. He was the voice in the opium cellar in "The Man Who Came Back."
ALPINE—Work on gas line from Lake Field in this line will begin in near future.

A ROMANCE OF RADIO
SYNOPSIS: Allecia Gray wins a star part in a new Broadway show with the help of Jimmy Crane, theatrical press agent who loves her. Her younger sister, Vivienne, an artist's model, is jealous of this sudden rise to fame. At a party given for Allecia by Dwight Channing, artist, Vivienne seeks to draw attention to herself by taking a dare to bathe in the fountain. Allecia, trying to prevent her, is disgraced when she falls through a glass door. Vivienne is faced with the task of supporting her sister, who goes into seclusion wearing a silk mask to conceal her scars. Jimmy persuades Allecia to consent to have her voice tested for making phonograph records. In a speaky she sees Vivienne dining with Arnold Kronberg, a movie magnate of unsavory reputation.
Chapter 16
GRIM NEWS—That Jimmy guessed the truth—that Kronberg had met Vivienne while she was posing at Channing's studio. The producer, he knew, was a fast worker when a pretty girl caught his fancy.
Seeing Vivienne there riled him. Allecia would be waiting for her at home; no doubt getting dinner ready. Yet the chances were that Kronberg would suggest their ordering here.
Somebody ought to warn the fool to keep away from him. Not that it mattered to Jimmy what Vivienne chose to do—except on Allecia's account. Just the same, he felt that he ought to break this thing up somehow, to hit on some way of making Vivienne realize that a bit in a Kronberg show is always dearly bought.
One of these days Kronberg would make front page in a whistle of a juicy mix-up. It might be as well to suggest to Viv that she need not figure in it.
Then Crane had an inspiration. Vivienne had not seen him. Two by minutes later, he was sitting before the fire in Channing's studio. Channing listened quietly to Jimmy's story. His code for allecia's mentioning the scene that had passed between Vivienne and himself. He had been certain that Vivienne would get in touch with Kronberg.
Her motive was perfectly plain, and unless he was much mistaken, there was something more than pique in her having phoned to the producer. She was far too sophisticated not to be thoroughly aware of what she was about.

Dressed in with the gray denim uniform of a convict, he had one last statement: "I don't want any favors of any of the prison officials. I will serve my sentence like a man and not complain." Delay in receipt of the papers had kept him waiting in a hotel since Sunday and when Warden W. W. Wald exhibited them to him, he arose, his face wan and furrowed, and said "well, I might as well start right now as any time." His wife, who had sought to support him since the night he stabbed Miss Highsmith to death in November, 1929, was not there to see him.

Tired When She Got Up

Strengthened by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. St. Paul, Minn.—I used to be as tired when I got up in the morning as when I went to bed. I had fainting spells and palpitation. Three of my neighbors know what it did for me so they are taking it too. I will write to any woman if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help her as it did me. I feel like a young woman now and I thank you.—Mrs. H. C. HENRY, 236 Fuller Ave., St. Paul, Minnesota.

FORD SMOOTHNESS

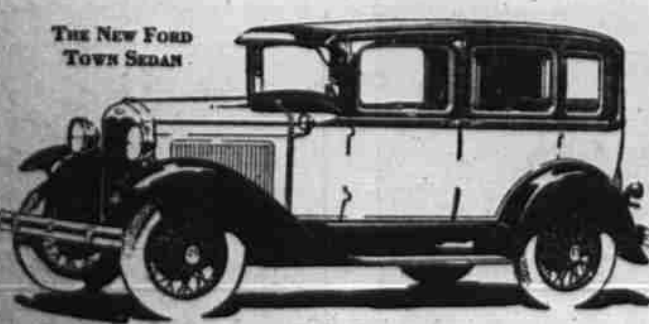

The new Ford has more than twenty ball and roller bearings

EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all—an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points in the Ford chassis you will find ball bearings. At others, roller bearings are used regardless of their higher cost. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gasoline, increases speed and power, gives quicker pick-up, decreases noise, and gives greater reliability and longer life to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

Rain Dampens Texas Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 28 (AP)—Intermittent showers and a wet course at Willow Springs dampened the enthusiasm of some 165 amateur golfers as they prepared to give their best exhibitions in the opening event of the Texas open golf program, the amateur qualifying round.

Simon pure golfers who qualified today will be paired up with the 104 professionals in hand in the amateur event of Thursday at Brackenridge Park, the semi-wind-up to the main event, the open title.

Johnny Dawson, crack Chicago amateur, and Jack Speer, formerly of Houston but now of San Antonio and former state champion, and Jack Dold of Houston were favorites in the amateur qualifying round today.

Layton's Pupil Is Billiard Winner

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 (AP)—Johnny Layton's three-year-old reign over the three-cushion billiard world has been ended by his own pupil. Allen Hall of Chicago, who learned the fine arts of the difficult game from Layton in a St. Louis pool room years ago, last night defeated his teacher, 50 to 43 in a great up and down match that lasted 40 innings.

Pampa Man Shot, Man, Woman Held

PAMPA, Texas, Jan. 28 (AP)—C. H. Taylor, 45, a carpenter foreman, was shot to death early today on the highway near LeFors. Sheriff Lon Blansett arrested two persons, a man and his wife, and a hearing was to be held today.

STEERS BEAT WOLVES IN THRILLING TILT

Colorado Five Offers Hard Contest

Hutto, Pardue, Flowers Shine In Fifteenth Straight Win

Two field goals by Elmer Pardue, who shifted to forward from center on a replacement, two of the same shot from the hands of Tommy Hutto, and a free toss that Bill Flowers made out, combined in the last four minutes of play last night to pull the Steer Cagers out of a dangerous predicament, and gave them a 22 to 14 victory over the Colorado Wolves. It was the fifteenth consecutive win for the Steer outfit.

As the two teams went into the final quarter, Big Spring had a two point lead. With four minutes to play, the Wolves had cut the lead down to one point, the score standing 15 to 14. A beautiful arc shot by Aubrey, Colorado guard, and a free toss by Hicks, accounted for the Wolves' three points in the final frame.

As thrilled spectators—the largest crowd of the year—created a din that kept the referee's whistle from being heard, Hutto dropped in his two field goals, after a quick breaking dash from perfect passing. As Hopper, first string forward, went out of the fray on personal fouls, Cecil Reid, went to center, and Pardue shifted to forward. His two field goals after Flowers had dropped his free toss on the interior of the network, pulled the Steers out of the most dangerous position they have found themselves in all year. Pardue dropped his final one in the last eight seconds of play.

Never Safe
At no time did a quarter end with the Steers holding more than a three-point margin. The first third 12-1, with Big Spring holding the top cards at the termination of each. Hutto with nine points was high point man for the night, with Pardue runner up with five.

Although the Steers did play raggedly at the start, the Wolves were by far the toughest competition they have encountered in this year. Only crack work on the part of Billy Flowers, and the manner in which Pardue kept Aubrey from getting away with his dangerous rise-and-descend shots from the left center of the court, carried the Steers to their fifteenth win of the year. As it was, Aubrey got away with a pair, dropping them in the basket from plenty of feet away.

It was the second time this year that the product of Harry Taylor had fallen before the Longhorn loopers. The Score:

Those who saw the Texas-Baylor maple floor contest, learned about lengthy centers from a lad named Strickland. Not only did the Baylor center outjump Jimmy Fomby, Texas captain, each time, but tallied 23 of the 45 Baylor points.

Fomby, it will be recalled, is some jumper himself, and a demon at the tip off. Before he stacked up against Strickland, the youth is said to have outdistanced Dietzel, the elongated Texas Christian center, and Reynolds of Southern Methodist.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—The famous master mind of John McGraw has evolved a new system for getting the New York Giants into their training camp on time. A player who is late will be fined one day's pay for each 24 hours of his absence after he is due to report at San Antonio.

Butler

Testimony in Butler's trial, along the same lines as that used in the Stanley trial Tuesday, began today after Butler had pleaded guilty. Butler, whose home is at Groesbeck, said on the stand that he had killed two men at Groesbeck, had been tried and acquitted in one killing, and given two years for manslaughter in the other. The conviction was in the district court of Fill county, December 3, 1926, and it was in this case that the pardon was granted.

Hawthorne was killed in the Stanley home last July 26 and his burning body found in a pasture near Lake Worth. Four men were indicted on a charge of murder: A. E. Stanley, father of Herbert Alvin Stanley, also indicted; Butler and

Congress

"Congress will find its own agencies for distribution of such funds as it feels should be used in the emergency."

He said the action of the president and the Red Cross "implies that there shall be no general measure of relief for unemployment no matter how long it lasts or how great it becomes."

He called on all senators who have even an "ordinary" regard for the suffering to "repudiate the policy which implies a refusal on the part of those responsible to the people as a whole to take any action whatever to relieve the distress."

"We all know that $10,000,000 will not be adequate to meet the requirements," Robinson said. "Voicing the threat of an extra session if necessary, Robinson said more important than the general appropriations bills is that congress should measure up to its size and do its duty."

Cites Hoover
Robinson said "Citizen Hoover" had once advocated taking $20,000,000 out of the federal treasury for starving Russians.

He added, however, Mr. Hoover failed to take into account the fact that thousands of Americans who did not serve in the war had made enormous profits from it and that conditions now were worse than at the time the Russian appropriation was made.

Pointing out that Mr. Hoover is president of the Red Cross as well as of the United States, Robinson told the senate Mr. Hoover's insistence that no funds be provided for relief by the government was "incomprehensible to his most intimate friends."

"Before he became president," he said, "Mr. Hoover was recognized as the leader of relief movements in this country as well as throughout the world."

Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, in joining the outburst of criticism, called upon the senate to block all appropriation measures "until this relief is granted."

Wichita Falls Voters To Contest Bond Vote

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 23 (AP)—Formal notice that the voting of $1,000,000 water bonds at an election here last week would be contested was served on Mayor Walter Nelson Jr. here today. A telegram was also sent to James V. Allred, attorney general, giving him notice of the protest and asking that he refuse to approve the bonds in the event they were presented to his office before the protest was ruled upon.

Philanthropic Idea But Checks No Good

CANTON, Ill., Jan. 23 (AP)—Several Canton merchants indulged in a little charitable work yesterday that was as unexpected to them as it was to the recipient.

A well filled basket of groceries and a load of coal were delivered to a poor woman. She was sure she had been singled out for relief by some charitable organization.

The merchants got together today, found that a "William Wright" had ordered the supplies, that he had left town and that none of his checks was good.

Adams Awaits Reply From Smedley Butler

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Secretary Adams waited today for an answer to a letter asking Major General Smedley D. Butler to explain a speech he made in Philadelphia on Jan. 19.

The Marine Corps officer was quoted as making remarks about Premier Mussolini of Italy which drew a formal protest from Italian Ambassador de Martino.

At the Quantico, Va., Marine post which Butler commands, he was said to be absent. He declined yesterday to comment on the protest or the speech.

The Navy secretary, however, expected Butler's version of the speech soon.

Gainesville Man Leaves Officers

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 23 (AP)—George Crisp, whose bond was set at $1,250 on charges of burglary and chicken theft, was at liberty today because no one took him into custody as he left the court room after bail had been fixed.

Crisp was one of three men charged and after the trio was unable to make bond they were remanded to jail. Constable Charles Cochran and City Policeman Bill Johns started to jail with them. Johns stopped in a court house corridor to talk to a friend, leaving Cochran would take the man to jail. Cochran arrived at the jail with two prisoners and decided Johns had the third man. Later it was discovered Crisp walked away.

Ranger Ranchman, Gone 3 Days, Still Missing

RANGER, Jan. 23 (AP)—Further search today for Wes Marchbanks, ranchman who disappeared Sunday, proved unavailing. No clues of any sort had been found since his abandoned automobile was found in a corral. Scores of men continued the search on foot and horseback.

Senators Weighing Merits, Demerits

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (AP)—Members of the senate today were weighing the merits or demerits of Frank Baldwin as a member of the state board of education after a public hearing on confirmation of his appointment had been held last night. Baldwin is editor of a newspaper at Waco.

Two former colleagues of the editor in the House of Representatives presented their objections to the appointment at the hearing before the senate committee on governor's nominations.

Representative Holder of Dallas and Dewolf of Goldthwaite questioned his willingness to work in harmony with other members of the board of education if his views were not accepted by the board. Holder read from Baldwin's editorials criticizing the legislature and certain of its members.

Holder charged that Baldwin was out of step with the state's educational program and that he was eccentric, unstable and given to intemperate statements.

Representative A. P. C. Petach, another of Baldwin's former colleagues, defended him as a self-made man who was honest, courageous, sincere and had the courage of his convictions.

The committee held a long executive session after the hearing but no announcement of its action was made. Senator Pollard of Tyler, the chairman, said the senate would act on the appointment tomorrow.

House Passes Bill Favoring Pro Laws

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (AP)—A resolution endorsing prohibition and asking the people of Texas to support state and federal dry laws was passed by the House today after several hours discussion in which a committee resolution was placed in the discard.

The resolution had been actively before the House since last Friday. Attempt to postpone indefinitely action on the resolution was defeated 85 to 42. The motion to postpone was made by Representative Anderson of San Antonio.

The resolution adopted was by Representative Satterwhite of Odessa. He said prominent political writers were forecasting that prohibition would be the dominant issue in the 1932 election, urging the Texas House to go on record as opposing repeal of the 18th amendment.

Satterwhite's resolution said the law was being openly and flagrantly violated but that the consumption of intoxicating liquor was decreasing and the state as a whole was benefited by prohibition. Satterwhite's resolution was finally adopted, 98 to 30.

Texarkana, Ark., Men Arrested On Charge

TEXARKANA, Ark., Jan. 23 (AP)—Joe Eldridge, Texarkana real estate man, and John Wallace Patterson, president of the Rodgers Furniture Company, which was liquidated last fall, were arrested here today on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. Officers also held warrants for Oavis Nelson, president of the Nelson-Huckins Laundry, on the same charge. Nelson was reported in Memphis, Tenn., where he had gone on business.

Eldridge made $10,000 bond and Patterson posted $1,000 bond. The fraud charges involved the Forest Park improvement district near Texarkana, organized by Eldridge about four years ago. Nelson, Wilson and Patterson were commissioners of the paving district of the subdivision.

The escape was made in the early morning hours and Will Earnest, county jailer and deputy sheriff, who saw the men as they made their way down the jail walk, gave pursuit in his night clothes and fired a number of shots at the pair but they managed to lose him and headed for the Santa Fe yards.

Haley was recently indicted in Lamb county for a filling station robbery and was being held on a similar charge here. Frost was being held on a charge of theft of chickens.
