Truman Looses Both Barrels At 'Interests'

President Renews T-H Repeal Pledge, Backs Brannan Plan

By The Associated Press
Americans went back to work today from a Labor Day holiday highlighted by President Truman's double-barreled attack on "special interests" who oppose his "fair deal" program.

The President, after spending the night at his home in Independence, Mo., prepared to return to the Capitol from Labor Day speaking dates at Pittsburgh and Des Moines.

In two scraggy speeches reminiscent of his "give 'em Hell" campaign of 1948, Mr. Truman:

1. Pledged to continue the battle against the Taft-Hartley Law until it is "wiped off the statute books," and accused "organized special interests" of trying to block his program with a "scare word campaign."

2. Told a Midwestern farm audience he is convinced Congress will eventually pass the controversial Brannan Farm Plan.

School System Should Function Better Under New State Laws

With public schools opening all over the state this week, our biggest "basic industry" swings into seasonal activity. In another few days the colleges and universities will join the big parade, and from 25 to 30 million Americans will be bending over their books. Add around a million teachers and instructors, plus school boards, boards of trustees, supervisors, building caretakers and others directly or indirectly involved in education, and you have a sizable slice of the nation's population.

The public schools of Texas are operating under many new procedures this year, expressed in the group of Gilmer-Alkin laws enacted by the last legislature.

One of them concerns the procedure for determining the state per capita apportionment. Under the old system each district's apportionment was made on the basis of the scholastic census, without reference to actual enrollment or classroom attendance. This invited abuses, and some backward districts not only made no effort to get pupils into the classrooms, but actually operated wholly on the state's per capita payments without having to use any local-tax money at all. This put a premium on absenteeism.

Under the new law these abuses will be wiped out. Per capita apportionments won't be made solely on classroom attendance, but this does form a vital element in the elaborate and somewhat complex formula by which apportionments to the various districts are arrived at. So, instead of putting a premium on non-attendance, the new law rewards the districts that make a strong showing in daily classroom attendance, and punishes those districts which are negligent in this respect.

The G-A laws are not the final answer to Texas' public school problems, but they certainly lay the predicate for future expansion and improvement. Undoubtedly some bugs will be developed, but these can be straightened out in good time. Meantime, the public school system of Texas faces a brighter future.

Merry-Go-Round-Drew Pearson

Drew Breaks Down And Tells Public What He Did On 'Alleged Vacation'

WASHINGTON. — About the middle of August I finally succumbed to Mrs. P.'s erroneous and unreasonable idea that Washington is hot in the summertime and we went out to California on an alleged vacation.

Usually I have the excuse of filling the silo to stay right on the farm which is the best place in the world to relax. But by August my resistance against Mrs. P.'s arguments had completely broken down. In the first place we filled the silo early, using alfalfa instead of corn. In the second place I wanted to see my grandson who lives in California, and who either because of the California sunshine or the fact that his mother requires a lot of 3-cornered accoutrements and trappings for him when he travels, was not inclined to come to see me. So we departed.

Well, we had a nice time in California. I spoiled the baby only a little bit, we met a lot of nice folks. I didn't get too lonesome for the constant ringing of the telephone, and in fact got almost reconciled to leaving Washington—when suddenly the office called up to report on a number of things.

Mrs. P.'s dog, they said, had had puppies. The kitten had become unhousebroken. The painter who was supposed to redo the kitchen in our absence had got drunk and insisted on working at midnight. Also the bacteria count on the cows went up so high that I will never be able to win any more dairying arguments with Gov. Dewey.

However, at least the pigs didn't get out. But, added the office, Gen. Harry Vaughan was also tapping my wires, feeding information derived therefrom to Westbrook Pegler and doing his best to put me in jail. Otherwise said the office, everything was fine.

ASKED PROSECUTION
Of course, the fact that General Vaughan was trying to put me in jail wasn't exactly new. He tried to do that rather vigorously once before, at the time I wrote the first columns exposing the amazing Mr. Maragon back in March 1947.

I had then reported that Vaughan and Maragon were as thick as an unwashed sump pitcher on its saucer, but I didn't realize how really close they were until the good general appeared in the office of the U. S. District Attorney in Washington to demand that I be prosecuted for criminal libel.

Gen. Vaughan, it seemed as if I had reported various things about Maragon, many of which the Senate Committee has since brought out under oath. Among other things, I stated that "he once pleaded guilty of transporting liquor illegally (7-17-30)." It was three times arrested for disorderly conduct but never prosecuted. Once as recently as last Nov. 29, got into a brawl in the locker room of the Washington Senators where some of the players beat him up.

Gen. Vaughan, appearing before the district attorney, claimed this was not true. His "lovable" friend, he said, had been maligned and he demanded prosecution of the guilty columnist.

Mr. Morris Fay, the district attorney, was a little flabbergasted at seeing the top military aide to the President of the United States turn upon an errand of this kind, but he replied that he would be glad to talk to Mr. Maragon.

However, he subsequently made it clear that there had been no criminal libel case brought in the District of Columbia since about the time of the Civil War, and that he had instructions from the Justice Department to bring none without prior consultation.

This was because, in a criminal libel case, the government of the United States becomes the prosecutor, and undertakes to convict and jail the offending editor or newspaperman without any expense or effort on the part of the party supposedly libeled—in this case Maragon.

VAUGHAN PERSISTENT
This explanation, conveyed to Gen. Vaughan, did not dampen his persistence. It merely increased his efforts on behalf of his "lovable" friend.

With the question of prosecuting Pearson referred by the district attorney to the Justice Department, the good general transferred his pressure higher up, and tried to bulldoze J. Edgar Hoover.

"I thought when orders were given in this government, they were carried out," he stormed. Hoover told him that his job was to investigate, not to prosecute, and that if orders were given him by the attorney general to investigate the Pearson charges against Maragon, he would certainly do so.

Shortly before this, Vaughan had lifted no audible voice of protest when Maragon violated the customs law by smuggling perfume into the U. S. A. In fact, Vaughan had continued to give him White House credentials, even though Maragon had used them in attempted smuggling and had wantonly violated their use.

Nevertheless, Vaughan now demanded the prosecution of one who had exposed Maragon's law-breaking.

FBI INVESTIGATES
And, thanks to Vaughan's persistence, the Justice Department did order the FBI to investigate. The investigation cost the taxpayers a few extra dollars, plus the time of busy FBI agents needed for loyalty tests.

Tarzan Movies Are Good Money-Makers

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 5.—(AP)—At the moment you are reading this—at the same moment I am writing it—an audience somewhere is watching a Tarzan movie. Nearly half a hundred Tarzan movies have been made since Elmo Lincoln first thumped his cameras in 1918. Of these, almost one-half are still in constant circulation.

Some motion picture theaters run each Tarzan picture as often as eight and ten times. Some audiences accept new Tarzan European and South American films studiously—they prefer to see the old ones over and over again.

One theater in Ecuador obtained prints of eight Tarzan pictures. These were strung together and run off without pause for an audience which brought in lunches and dinners, then had to be shooed from the theater at the conclusion of the 13-hour show!

It is safe to say that no character of fiction has ever possessed such universal and enduring appeal. In the 30 years that Tarzan pictures have been produced, 10 actors have essayed the role of the jungle lord, and the popularity of the series has remained good on a steadily rising plane.

The public follows Tarzan, not the actor who recreates the role, although theatergoers are demanding and meticulous about the qualifications of the man who portrays their hero. Lex Barker, currently making his second appearance as Tarzan in "Tarzan and the Slave Girl" probably approaches most nearly the fans' ideal of all the 10 who have enacted the part.

The other nine were, in order of appearance: Elmo Lincoln, Gene Polar, P. Dempsey Tabler, James H. Pierce, Frank Merrill, Buster Crabbe, Herman Brix (now called Bruce Bennett), Glenn Morris and Johnny Weissmuller.

Fans want no matinee idol playing Tarzan. They insist that their hero be portrayed by a real athlete. Almost all previous screen Tarzans have been fine athletes, and the present Tarzan, Barker, with the possible exception of decaathlon champion Glenn Morris, may well be the best all-around athlete of them all.

Barker, a 200-pounder who ran the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds in college and was a fleet-footed, smashing fullback for Princeton, is now one of the best tennis players among amateurs who are not in active competition.

From the motion picture series alone, author Edgar Rice Burroughs has amassed a fortune of $2,000,000, and he still collects a minimum of $175,000 for the right to use his character in each picture made.

Correct Timing Is Important In Kindnesses To The Sick

There's a great difference in favoring people with kindnesses and in favoring them at the right time.

We were talking with a nurse a few days ago. This nurse has a pet peeve and it's sending flowers to hospital patients. Now you may have just recovered from an illness and be very appreciative concerning the floral contributions which you received. But maybe you received yours at the right time.

The prison mentioned says that she has become very disgusted with the bouquets of flowers which arrive before the patient has regained consciousness following surgery. Visitors seem to arrive at about the same time. She recalls that one of her patients was allergic to ferns. Before the patient was conscious, a large floral arrangement containing generous amounts of fern arrived. No sooner had it arrived than the patient began sneezing. The nurse became rather worried before the patient fully recovered enough to tell her that the fern was the cause.

Not only are some people allergic to flowers, but the nurse was explaining that flowers and visitors seem to arrive on the first two or three days of serious illnesses. They can not be appreciated or enjoyed at that time. Sometimes the patients are so ill that they are not even aware that they are being remembered. We've heard stories of visitors going into hospital rooms and even shaking people so they would know they had called and the caller would not need to call again. This, of course, is an extreme. But the sad part of the nurse's story is that too many times, patients do get all of the attention they're looking for while they are too ill to enjoy it and then when they have recovered to a degree of appreciation, the general public feels that they have fulfilled their obligation and leave the patient to recover alone.

There's a time for everything and the hospital tale is only one of many kinds which might be related concerning incorrect timing of kindnesses.—MILDRED YOUNG.

'Percenter' Hearing Recess Is Preceded By Ugly Insinuations

WASHINGTON. —The "five-percenter" hearings have recessed amid a flurry of senatorial bad tempers and unproved insinuations, some of them extremely ugly.

Chairman Hoey, a courtly North Carolina Democrat, gave a free hand to the committee counsel, William P. Rogers, who happens to be a hold-over from the Ferguson committee, a Republican, and an ex-aside of Thomas E. Dewey in the New York district attorney's office. While some Democrats were muttering that it was a mistake to have kept a Republican in such a spot, Hoey maintained his judicial calm and let matters take their course.

On the final day, however, the chairman allowed himself the luxury of slapping back at the junior senator from Wisconsin, Mr. McCarthy, a freshman Republican, who has been having a field day with that other Wisconsin native, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan. The chairman snapped that McCarthy was straying far afield with "chickenfeed" material.

Senator McCarthy says that's not so and besides he wants Frank Costello called before the committee in connection with money received by the Democratic party.

Frank Costello is pitch, no matter who tosses him. His New York reputation is that of being a cool genius who has organized the nation's underworld so it keeps off the front pages and in the big money. The late Fiorello La Guardia rancorously assailed him as "that bum" and kept ordering him arrested for vagrancy but never really managed to interfere with Costello's operations.

It will be a public service to disclose if he has any "in," no matter how tenuous, with Washington officials. The burden of proof now rests with Senator McCarthy. It is his baby and not the committee's. Rogers knows all about Costello from old New York experience; he can exercise an experienced imagination in the matter but as yet he is noticeably not pursuing the McCarthy line of questioning.

Senator McCarthy has a good deal to lose in the situation. Nothing will succeed like success but, if his present headlines collapse he will be correspondingly denoted as a serious legislator by Washington opinion.

Chairman Hoey is also understood to have taken a dim view of another colleague, Senator Mundt. A graduate of the House Un-American Activities Committee, Senator Mundt showed too much of its impatience with waiting for due process to suit the chairman.

It was of course natural for opposition members of the committee to press for disclosures affecting the White House so nearly. Actually, the Democrats at no point fought back effectively.

Vaughan brought personal counsel to the hearing who, to put it kindly, seemed extremely confused. Evidence exists which would have told in the general's favor, such as the thousands of passports obtained by businessmen who sought to go abroad when the Vaughan friends did. No Democratic highbrows reared their heads to watch the Vaughan interests at the hearings.

This was probably deliberate. Vaughan was allowed to muddle through in keeping with the general administration defense that he is just such a muddler, nothing more and nothing less. So far it has worked out that way, but the hearings are still open.

Labor Day Started In U. S. In 1882 By Secret Organization

WASHINGTON (AP)—YESTERDAY WAS Labor Day, but how did it get here?

It was started in this country in 1882 by the Noble Order of the Knights of Labor, of which more in detail later.

The knights were the first huge labor organization in America and in 1882, 1883, and 1884 they paraded in New York City on the first Monday in September.

In 1884 the knights adopted a resolution that the first Monday in September every year should be set aside as Labor Day. Then began efforts to have it made a holiday. Various other labor organizations joined in the idea.

The first state to pass a law recognizing the day was Oregon. It did that on Feb. 21, 1887. This was followed by similar laws in New York, New Jersey, and Colorado.

AND CONGRESS MADE IT A LEGAL holiday in the United States by passing a law to effect on June 28, 1894. Now all states and territories observe the first Monday in September as Labor Day, a holiday. It is also a national holiday in Canada.

In Europe May 1 is celebrated as Labor Day. It had its start there in 1889 when the second Socialist International chose May 1 for international labor observance every year.

The Knights of Labor had a strange history. It was founded in Philadelphia Dec. 9, 1869, by nine tailors.

It won power and followers by a successful railroad strike in 1884 but later got into other strikes that began to cut down its power and membership.

It was dead by the middle of the 1890's. One of its weaknesses was the poor leadership it got after the death of Stephens.

The Knights of Labor had a number of aims—such as the eight-hour day and abolition of child labor, plus other social and economic reforms—which eventually became part of federal and state laws.

Mr. Johnson May Be Too Bold With His Economy Program

The nation gets the biggest and most enjoyable laugh of the year 1949 out of Louis Johnson's latest excursion into the field of applied economy in government, and if Drew Pearson's doesn't award him the brass ring and a free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, he'll miss a good bet.

Johnson, as defense secretary, has been hearkening to the congressional demand for cutting down expenses. Ten days ago he brought howls from the congressional economists when he took them at their word and discharged more than a hundred thousand civilian employees of the Army, Air Force and Navy. Most of the economy-shouters took it sheepishly, and passed the incident off with the dry grin. But others whose districts would be hard hit let out a roar. Johnson never blinked an eye, but smiled like a cherub and remarked in dulcet tones that he was carrying out the will of Congress.

Then the Senate, which had been shouting loudest for economy got a dose of the Johnson roughhouse. Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.), chairman of a subcommittee on appropriations, asked for an Air Force transport plane to take himself and ten other junketeers to Europe. They were to be gone several weeks, and some of the group intended to fly entirely around the globe—at the taxpayers' expense, of course.

I am very sorry, Johnson dead-panned, but there is economy to worry about and it costs $130 an hour to keep a transport plane in the air, and why can't the congressional junketeers go by commercial airline? So, no Air Force plane was available for the gentlemen. To rub it in, Johnson put in a plug for free enterprise, another congressional shibboleth: "I have felt that I could not justify placing the armed services in competition with commercial carriers."

Said Thomas: "I know senators will not be pleased."

Well, Senator, the taxpayers are pleased to pieces. It's the best laugh they've had in years.

British Peer Maintains Old Home By Charging Admission

THE EARL OF DERBY, HEAD OF one of England's oldest titled houses, has announced with evident satisfaction that his ancient home is helping to maintain itself through admission of sight-seers for a fee.

To such a state has high taxation reduced what in the "good old days" was one of the country's richest families. Because of heavy taxes the Earl had been able to keep 400-year-old Knowsley Hall, in Prescott, in good repair on his regular income. So he hit upon the expedient of charging admission for sight-seers — the equivalent of 50 cents for adults and 25 for children. The $22,000 thus garnered in recent months has solved the problem. THE PRESENT EARL IS THE 18TH of his line, which dates back to the 15th century and has figured prominently ever since. The family long has been identified with the turf and Britain's most famous racing classic gets its name—the Derby—from the family.

Time was when the Earl's father made as much as $200,000 a year with his famous stables.

The present Earl never can have the income which his father possessed. Those days are gone forever.

HOWEVER, LORD DERBY APPEARS to be in much more fortunate circumstances than many other titled folk who have been virtually wiped out financially by income taxes and death duties. In some cases where estates have changed hands two or three times in quick succession, they have practically disappeared.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien Is Speaker At WMU Meet

Dr. P. D. O'Brien taught the lesson from the book, "Topical Studies of the Bible," by Alton Reed at the covered dish luncheon meeting of the First Baptist Women's Missionary Union Monday.

The subject for discussion was based on the Biblical teachings concerning "Hell."

Dr. O'Brien said in his talk "that those who say they do not believe in Hell, would do better to say they do not believe the Bible. For the Bible has much to say on this tragic subject."

He showed that "Hell is an eternal prison for those persons who break God's moral laws and never seek forgiveness; that Hell is an eternal punishment and unpenitent persons will have to go there because sin cannot enter into Heaven."

"Hell was especially created for the devil and his angels in the beginning, but unredeemed men will have to go there for they cannot be admitted into Heaven," said Dr. O'Brien.

He further said that "Hell is described as a bottomless pit, as a lake of fire and brimstone, as the second death and as a place where the soul will never find rest and shall be in torment forever."

"The word Hell occurs 150 times in the New Testament and Jesus had more to say about Hell than He did about Heaven. The road that leads there is downgrade, wide, easy to enter, easy to travel

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

It seems to us that the events which have taken place at recent concerts by the left-wing Negro singer, Paul Robeson, are a little un-American. If Robeson is actually harming the United States government and the welfare of its people, then something should be done about it. But the taking of the law into their own hands by some of our Eastern friends resembles earlier days of the "wild and woolly" West. Such actions were a little more becoming then because the law was not always available.

Communism is probably a much greater threat to our government and to our own private ways of living than most of us realize. If we are to keep it from spreading, we must be alert to happenings around us. We must be American ourselves. But there are right and wrong avenues to approach every destination. We should be careful that we do not destroy necessary human rights in an attempt to preserve those rights. There's something in what Governor Thomas E. Dewey had to say in regard to the matter. "Rights of free speech and of assembly are guaranteed to all, regardless of political beliefs. These rights must be respected, however hateful the views of some of those who abuse them." It may seem right to us to take those rights from some, but everytime they are taken away from another individual, it makes it that much easier for them to be taken away from us.

It is time that we got rid of some of our complacent attitudes concerning Communism. It's also time, something was done about the activities of certain individuals. (Paul Robeson may or may not be one of those individuals.) But it is just as timely that all of us look on individual rights with a little more respect. They are the very foundation of our way of living.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Polacek of J. L. N. M. were week end guests of his mother, Mrs. A. Polacek, 103 N. E. 12th. Polacek formerly worked at Fashion Cleaners here and is now owner of the Vogue Cleaners in Jal.

VISITS and VISITORS

Bill Inkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Inkman, will leave Wednesday for Dallas where he will teach English in North Dallas High School. He received his Master of Arts degree from North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, this summer.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Pendleton, 104 1/2 W. 13th were Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Lackey of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Brewton, Jr. of Coahoma, Sue Davis of San Angelo, Kenneth Slate of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Watkins of San Angelo and Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Watkins of Waco. The Pendletons recently moved here from San Angelo.

F.C. James A. Bratman is a week end guest in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bratman, 603 E. 12th. Bratman is stationed at Lackland Air Base, San Antonio and has recently completed his basic training here. He will return to San Antonio following his leave.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulky person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a prolonged period. Within the last year or so several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding recurring aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Baccarat, have been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Baccarat from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

SEE IT and you want it - PRICE IT and you'll buy!

FOLKS take a look at those bumper-guard grilles—built as a unit and proof against "locking horns"—and say "Hmmm! Nice!"

They sweep their eyes over tapering fenders, with a suggestion of jet power in their after contours—and say, "That's for me!"

They eye-measure windshields that are 48% bigger and rear windows with 56% more area—and know without being told they can see the road up closer, both fore and aft.

So they say—"That's for me—IF!"

"What does it cost me to get this handy-sized dandy with the roomiest interiors ever found on a Buick Special?"

"What do I pay for high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power from a big Buick straight-eight engine?"

"What's the tag on that swell Buick ride, with coil springing, extra-wide rims, seats between the axles and all that?"

"And what about Dynaflo Drive—understand I can have that at extra cost—how much?"

Well, sir, the news is good. Plenty good. Because this honey's priced well under your expectations. It's a straight-eight that's priced under a lot of sixes—over the years your investment will be no more than for any other car.

So better not stop with looking. Better price it too—delivered at your door. Your Buick dealer will give you the figures, even demonstrate.

After which you'll do as others are doing—you'll get a firm order in.

Williams Defeats Pfluger, 4 And 3, In Golf Finals

Plainview Lad Gains 1st Title

Plainview's Jack Williams captured the 15th annual Big Spring Invitational golf tournament crown here Monday, a double that eluded him two years ago, by tagging a 4 and 3 defeat on Marion Pfluger of Austin in the finals.

The two went to lunch all even after 18 holes but Williams gained the advantage on 19 and was ahead all the way.

Williams was two strokes to the good as early as the 15th but the University of Texas star won 16 and 17 to pull even just before the recess.

Pfluger sprayed shots all over the course, failing to win a hole after the resumption of play. Williams was three under regulation figures for the afternoon round.

The Plainview lad's par four on the 33rd sounded the end for the popular Pfluger.

Williams had much the harder going on his way to the finals. He was impressive all the way. He beat Bob Malone of Fort Worth, 4 and 2, and Frank Freer, Lamesa, 4 and 3, the first day, then ran into a tartar in Obie Bristow of Big Spring in the quarterfinals. He skinned Bristow, one up, only to run into a torrid Billy Maxwell of Odessa.

A great putt on 18 for a birdie gave the youngster a one up victory over the hard-luck Maxwell, who never has won the title here.

Pfluger started out with a 4 and 2 win over Bill Crook of Big Spring, called past Van Ligon of Midland, 5 and 4, humbled Bill Craig of Colorado City, 6 and 5, and then ousted Raymond Marshall of Lubbock, 2 and 1.

Williams succeeds Bill (Red) Hoden of Odessa, who was not on hand to defend his title. Roden copped the crown in both 1947 and '48 but competed in the National Amateur at Rochester, N. Y., this year and was not able to return in time.

The championship was the third of the year for Williams. He previously had won titles at San Angelo and Midland.

Complete results of the Big Spring Invitational, as designated:

CHAMPIONSHIP
 Jack Williams, Plainview, won over Marion Pfluger, Austin, 4 and 3; consolation: E. B. Dozier, Jr., defeated Cliff Hill, Midland, 3 and 1.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

In the current edition of the Big Spring Broncs the greatest team in the history of the Longhorn league? There are many who think so.

The Hoses had the full-season flag sewed up by the middle of June. They won the title 17 days before the campaign ended and kept adding to that lead.

Manager Pat Stasey was blessed with the fastest team in the circuit, plus a lineup that consistently led in both hitting and fielding.

It has great catching in Al Valdes. If Al could hit .275, he would be in the big leagues. He handles all hurling with remarkable ease, owns a great throwing arm. Backing him is an ambitious 17-year-old, Lazarus Coto, who should develop into a good hitter in a year or two. Coto's backstopping has improved tremendously since the beginning of the season.

Stasey got some great pitching performances out of his staff. He decided to handicap himself by shipping away three top-drawer pitchers, Freddy Rodriguez, Gil Guerra and Lefty Gumbo.

Rodriguez and Guerra went to Abilene, Helba to Havana, Will Roca, another potent loser, was ticketed to come here but instead wound up in Abilene where he's been an outstanding success.

MOUND CORPS DELIBERATELY WEAKENED, STILL GOOD
 Even though the Bronc mound corps was weakened by such complications, it bore up very well. Julio Ramos, the little leftie, was unbeatable during the first three-fourths of the season. When he faltered a bit, Bert Garcia blossomed out as the top hurler in the loop. Bert is still going strong and Julio came onto his own again against Ballinger recently.

They've had plenty of help. Louis Gonzales, after rejoining the Steeds, has won three games in a row, running his aggregate to nine for the year. Great things are expected of him in the playoffs.

Pancho Perez hasn't been himself lately but did manage to win nine games when they counted most. Ed Noreiga has some good baseball in him. Ernie Mayorquin copped nine decisions in a row before getting knocked off.

Bert Baez can pitch in an emergency and, of course, there's Carlos (Petato) Pascual, who registered two wins in recent outings.

Consider the infield. Hector Bonet, an Abilene castoff, isn't the top first sacker in the league but he hustles. If he ever learns to punch the ball instead of fighting it, he'll be hard to get out.

Jorge Lopez, after joining the club early in the season, proved just what the doctor ordered. His big bat played a vital role in the pennant dash and he's hard to beat afield. Baez, invaluable as a handy man, backed him up.

BOTH INFIELD AND OUTFIELD TURNED IN GREAT BALL
 The heat bothered Ray Vasquez in the latter portion of the season, as it does most little men, but he's still the best all-around short stop in the league.

At third, the Broncs have the player of the year. If there's a better man around than Pascual, he hasn't yet shown himself. The rookie fields to perfection, owns the best throwing arm of any infielder in the league and wields a heavy stick.

Felix Gomez in left, Ace Mendez in center and Stasey in right give the Hoses the best picket line in the circuit. Gomez is a 300-plus hitter who goes for the extra base. Mendez covers the middle pasture like the proverbial tent and hits well enough to merit his hold on the No. Two position. Stasey is the team's cleanup hitter, possesses an awesome throwing arm and knows how to play the opposing batters.

ONLY STROUDSBERG CLUB FARED BETTER
 Local teams in future years will always be compared, in our opinion, with that great 1949 club.

Of the hundred of professional clubs in the nation, only Stroudsburg of the North Atlantic league excused greater domination of its league, having moved 22 games in front of its particular pack toward season's end.

Pancho Gonzales Wins Second Net Crown In Row With Uphill Fight

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 6 — Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles still is the amateur tennis champion of the United States—but it is extremely doubtful that Papcho will remain an amateur very long.

At the moment, Pancho isn't talking. He's too happy over the amazing come-back he made in the finals of the National Tournament yesterday to discuss his plans for the future.

Two sets down and facing what appeared to be certain defeat, the 31-year-old champion brought his game to a peak and overhauled Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., 16-18, 7-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

That uphill triumph, as believed by one screaming throng of 13,000 probably will be worth a great many thousand dollars to Pancho in the years to come.

In the stands, watching his every move were Jack Kramer and Bob by Riggs who have made no secret of the fact they want new blood for the professional tour they will undertake next year.

Even if he never comes back to Forest Hills as an amateur, the folks hereabouts will remember Pancho's battle with Schroeder for a long time.

The two Californians fought through 52 games of the opening set without a service break. Then Schroeder cracked through in the 33rd and held on in the 34th to wring it up.

The set, which lasted an hour and 18 minutes and required a total of 205 points, was the longest ever played in a U. S. championship final.

When Schroeder raved through the second set in 18 minutes most of those looking on wouldn't have given a plugged nickel for Pancho's chances, but when Ted chose to relax in the third set Gonzales got his foot in the door. And the 28-year-old Wimbledon titlist never got the jump again.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne DuPont of Wilmington Del. completed a successful "defense of the women's" title by walloping Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., 6-4, 6-1, in the final.

The veterans' title went to Gil Hall of New York for the sixth straight year. He defeated Wumer Allison of Austin, Tex., 6-3, 6-2.

Cardinals Lose Game Of Nat'l League Lead

By JACK HANDB AP STAFF

Down the stretch come the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals, clinging desperately to 1 1/2 game leads that tradition says they should hold.

Only five of the last 20 Labor Day leaders have failed to make the World Series in the last 10 years. . . . But maybe the runner-up Boston Red Sox and Brooklyn Dodgers don't read the record books.

A year ago the Red Sox were on top by the same 1 1/2 game margin, with the Yanks second and the Cleveland Indians, eventual winners after a playoff, third by 1/2 games.

St. Louis lost a game of its lead to the Dodgers yesterday when they split with Pittsburgh while Brooklyn was thumping Boston twice, 7-3 and 12-2.

Red Munger breezed to his 13th win in the Cards' opener as Enos Slaughter drove in five runs in the rout of Murry Dickson, 9-1. The same Munger, trying for the daily double in the second game, lost the decision on a double in the 10th inning when 'doubles' by Danny Murtaugh and Stan Rokj gave Pittsburgh a 5-4 edge.

Brooklyn turned the power loose on the weary Braves who now are only one game above the .500 mark. After Joe Hatten was knocked out in the first inning of the morning game, Carl Erskine and Paul Minner contributed 8 2/3 innings of no-hit relief pitching for the edge over Warren Spahn. Preacher Roe tied the National League strikeout high for the year whiffing 11 in the lopsided second game 13-2.

All four first division clubs swept doubles in the American, leaving the Yanks' lead safe at 1 1/2 games. New York blasted Philadelphia, 13-4 and 5-2, while the Red Sox ran over Washington 5-2 and 12-2.

Joe DiMaggio's grand slam homer broke open the first game for the Yanks when Vic Raschi came up with his 11th victory over Lou Brissie.

DiMaggio was forced to leave the second game because of cramps in both legs after the first inning, but the Yanks put on a four-run spurge in the fourth to win. The game was called by darkness after seven innings.

Mel Pappert earned his 21st win in Boston's 5-2 opening triumph, although nicked for 11 hits. Bobby Doerr's 17th homer off Sid Hudson started the Sox on their way. They cut loose with a 16-hit attack in the second, including Vern Stephens' 30th homer. Walt Masteron, an ex-Senator, silenced his old mates with seven hits.

Appreciation Program Gets Underway At 8 This Evening

A ceremony honoring Pat Stasey and his Big Spring baseball club will be staged at Steer park at 8 o'clock this evening.

Baseball Appreciation Night is the tag applied to the occasion. A group of citizens, headed by Dr. Wofford Hardy, A. Swartz and Joe Flock, has been busy lining up a program that will do Stasey and his boys honor for the fine job they've done in the Longhorn league race this year.

After three years, in which the Steeds finished in first place in regular standings every season, the fans feel Stasey is due a special night. The biggest crowd of the year is due.

Joe Pickle will function as principal speaker for the event. A loud speaker will be set up in front of the stands so that all may hear.

Winner of the Most Popular Player contest, which is sponsored by Lee Hanson's Men's store, will also be announced during the short show.

There'll be music and, oh, yes, a ball game between Vernon's Dusters and the Broncs. The Dusters and the locals are all even after 18 games of activity and each will be trying to gain the edge from the other.

Indications are Julio Ramos will

Staysy To Be Honored

Appreciation Program Gets Underway At 8 This Evening

APPRECIATION—Pat Stasey, genial field manager of the Big Spring Broncs, will be honored during pre-game ceremonies to-night at Steer park. Local fans banded together to plan the "Baseball Appreciation" event immediately after Stasey's Broncs clinched first place for the third consecutive year. The ceremonies begin at 8 p. m. (Jack M. Haynes photo)

Continued heavy workouts and more scrimmages are on the menu for the Steers for the three days remaining before the opening of the 1949 season.

The Longhorns will probably be without the services of letterman-center Lee Asken, who hasn't been out for practice sessions for several days. Dallas Wood has been shifted into the center slot.

The Steer-Building contest will be held in Plainview Friday night.

Steers Work 4 Hours Monday

Heavy scrimmage and drills made up the four-hour workout for the Big Spring Steer gridlers Monday as Coach Carl Coleman continued to whip his charges into shape for the tussle with Plainview Friday night.

Continued heavy workouts and more scrimmage are on the menu for the Steers for the three days remaining before the opening of the 1949 season.

The Longhorns will probably be without the services of letterman-center Lee Asken, who hasn't been out for practice sessions for several days. Dallas Wood has been shifted into the center slot.

Sports Advance Into Deadlock For 4th Spot

By HORACE BOREN AP STAFF

The home run king of the Texas League, Jerry Witte of Dallas slammed his 48th circuit wallop of the year last night as Dallas downed Oklahoma City 10-3. But Shreveport swept a twin bill from San Antonio 3-0 and 7-3 and moved into a fourth-place tie with the Eagles.

Witte has six more games in which to hit seven homers that would tie him with Clarence Kraft's Texas League record. Kraft hit 55 homers for Fort Worth in 1924.

Shreveport now sports a schedule advantage over Dallas in the race for the last place in the playoffs. Dallas moves to Fort Worth for three games with the first-place Cats, while the Sports begin a three-game series with the lowly Houston Buffs tonight.

Mayor Backs Plan For Centennial Clean-Up Drive

Dear Editor: I am heartily in favor of Mrs. William Riedy's suggestion in the Aug. 27 issue of the Herald that as a Centennial gesture a city-wide clean-up campaign be attempted.

This will have to be on an individual basis. There is no other way to clean up the town.

20 Killed In Texas During Labor Holiday

By The Associated Press

Violent death took 20 lives in Texas during the Labor Day week end.

Traffic accidents — as usual the biggest cause of death — took 10 lives. One man was shot to death. Another was fatally beaten to death and another was fatally burned. Two drowned. A woman was electrocuted. A Brownsville widow was stabbed to death. Two were killed in a plane crash. A child was killed when a train hit him as he played with his tricycle on railroad tracks.

A Consolidated Vultee engineer, H. T. Gill, Jr., 28, of Fort Worth, was killed Monday when his car overturned in a Parker County ditch on Highway 90. Scene of the accident was one mile west of the Parker-Tarrant line. Pfc. Robert L. Morton, 19, of Carswell Air Base, Fort Worth, was injured.

Sam Carson of Houston died in the flaming wreck of his oil truck 14 miles south of Victoria Sunday night. The truck crashed into a ditch on Highway 77 while avoiding collision with another vehicle. It burned an hour before Carson's body was removed.

Charles Osborn Higdon, 40, of Odessa, died Sunday in a Del Rio hospital from head and chest burns. Higdon and a co-worker, employees of the Odessa Welding Co., were pouring gasoline into the carburetor of a truck near Del Rio Saturday. The gasoline somehow ignited and Higdon's companion flung the gasoline can away. It accidentally struck Higdon on the chest.

Miss Geneva Klace, 40, who was in a two-car collision at San Antonio Saturday morning, died in a San Antonio hospital Monday.

Miss Betty Bryant, 18, of White-wright, was killed at midnight Sunday night when a car failed to make a turn at an intersection north of Sherman.

Friends Stunned By Odom's Death

TETERBORO, N. J., Sept. 6 (AP) — Friends and business associates of Bill Odom, killed in a crash in the Thompson Trophy Air Race, were stunned by the death of the round-the-world pilot.

"We were listening to the air races on a little radio near my cash register," said Mrs. Mary Dahl, Odom's landlady and manager of Odom Aviation Corp. here. "We were busy and I wasn't paying much attention when all of a sudden the man said something about Bill Odom being killed."

"I couldn't believe it," Mrs. Dahl continued. "It couldn't be true, but it was. I told the others and they were heart-broken, sort of stunned. We all knew him and loved him. He was wonderful."

Odom owned a restaurant and air service at Teterboro Airport. He employed about 20 persons in the business.

Murray Injured Critically In Car-Cab Crash

AUSTIN, Sept. 6 (AP) — Texas Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray, injured in a car-cab collision, is in critical condition in an Austin hospital.

Murray suffered a fractured hip, back injury and head injuries in the collision here last night, hospital attendants said.

Two daughters, Marsha, 5, and Janice, 2, were admitted to the hospital for observation. Attendants said they were not seriously hurt.

His wife was not hurt, and the Murrays' eight-year-old daughter suffered only a black eye.

The Murrays, returning from a plane trip to Houston had caught a cab and were en route to their home. The accident occurred about 200 yards from the airport.

Police listed the driver of the cab as Harold Grady of Austin. He was uninjured. The driver of the other car was Joe Swain of Route 3, Austin, who was treated for a severe gash on his forehead.

Rejected Suitor's Victim Is Buried

DALLAS, Sept. 6 (AP) — Carolyn Schofield, 20, killed by a spurned suitor, was buried yesterday — three days before she was to have been married.

The pretty brunette secretary was shot to death Friday in the downtown office where she worked. Keith Petersen, 23, Southern Methodist University journalism student, surrendered and said he killed Carolyn after she told him she was going to marry another man.

She was to have been married Wednesday to Eugene Scott, Jr., Petersen, who said he loved Carolyn "so very much," was charged with murder and placed in county jail. The district attorney has asked that he be held without bail.

Europe Council Okays Creation Of New Union

STRASBOURG, France, Sept. 6 (AP) — The Council of Europe's Assembly voted by a show of hands yesterday for creation of a European union with definite powers over the governments of member countries.

The 12-nation assembly voted overwhelmingly for a resolution declaring that the new council of Europe should be expanded into a genuine federal authority.

The measure now must go to the ministerial committee, the upper house of the Council of Europe. The council can only make recommendations to the member governments and has no real power.

The vote came after the assembly had learned that Winston Churchill, in a secret memorandum in October, 1942, while Russia was a wartime ally, had urged the unification of Europe as a barrier against "Russian barbarism."

Details of the powers the proposed federal authority would hold were left to be worked out later.

Two Yanks To Be Released By Reds

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 6 (AP) — Two American boys seized in the Russian occupied zone of Germany late in July will be released today, it was learned here.

The youths are Warren Oelsner, 20, of Oyster Bay, N. Y., and Pater H. Sellers, 18, of Philadelphia. They were on a bicycle tour of Germany when they were reported seized in a Russian zone town for taking pictures.

United States authorities have made several demands that the boys be released.

Oelsner is the son of Edward G. Oelsner, Sr., of the U. S. Navigation Co. Sellers is the son of socially prominent Lester H. Sellers of Philadelphia.

Rutledge Still Holding His Own

YORK, Me., Sept. 6 (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Wiley B. Rutledge, victim of a cerebral hemorrhage, "continues to maintain a slight improvement," his doctor reports.

Dr. Elmer Tower also said the 55-year-old jurist took nourishment yesterday for the first time since he sank into a coma last Friday. "Justice Rutledge is coming out of the coma," Dr. Tower said, and was "conscious quite a bit of the time" yesterday.

The jurist has been at York Hospital 10 days.

Peru Government Interns Bolivians

LIMA, Peru, Sept. 6 (AP) — The government has interned more than 50 Bolivians who escaped from prison and fled to Peru.

The majority of the escapees were imprisoned members of the Bolivian National Revolutionary Movement (MNR) which has been leading a revolt in that Andean country.

Others were juvenile delinquents who had been kept in the same Bolivian jail.

Woolworth Grandson Killed In Crash

CROSS RIVER, N. Y., Sept. 6 (AP) — Charles Sumner Woolworth, 2nd, 23-year-old grandson of one of the founders of the Woolworth 10 cent store chain, was killed early yesterday when a station wagon he was driving left a Chester County road and struck two trees.

A male companion was injured. Woolworth, a Princeton University senior, was the son of Richard Woolworth of Salem Center, N. Y., and a grandson of the late C. S. Woolworth, of Scranton, Pa.
