TRICHINOSIS IS CAUSE OF SEVERAL DEATHS SAYS GEO. W. COX.

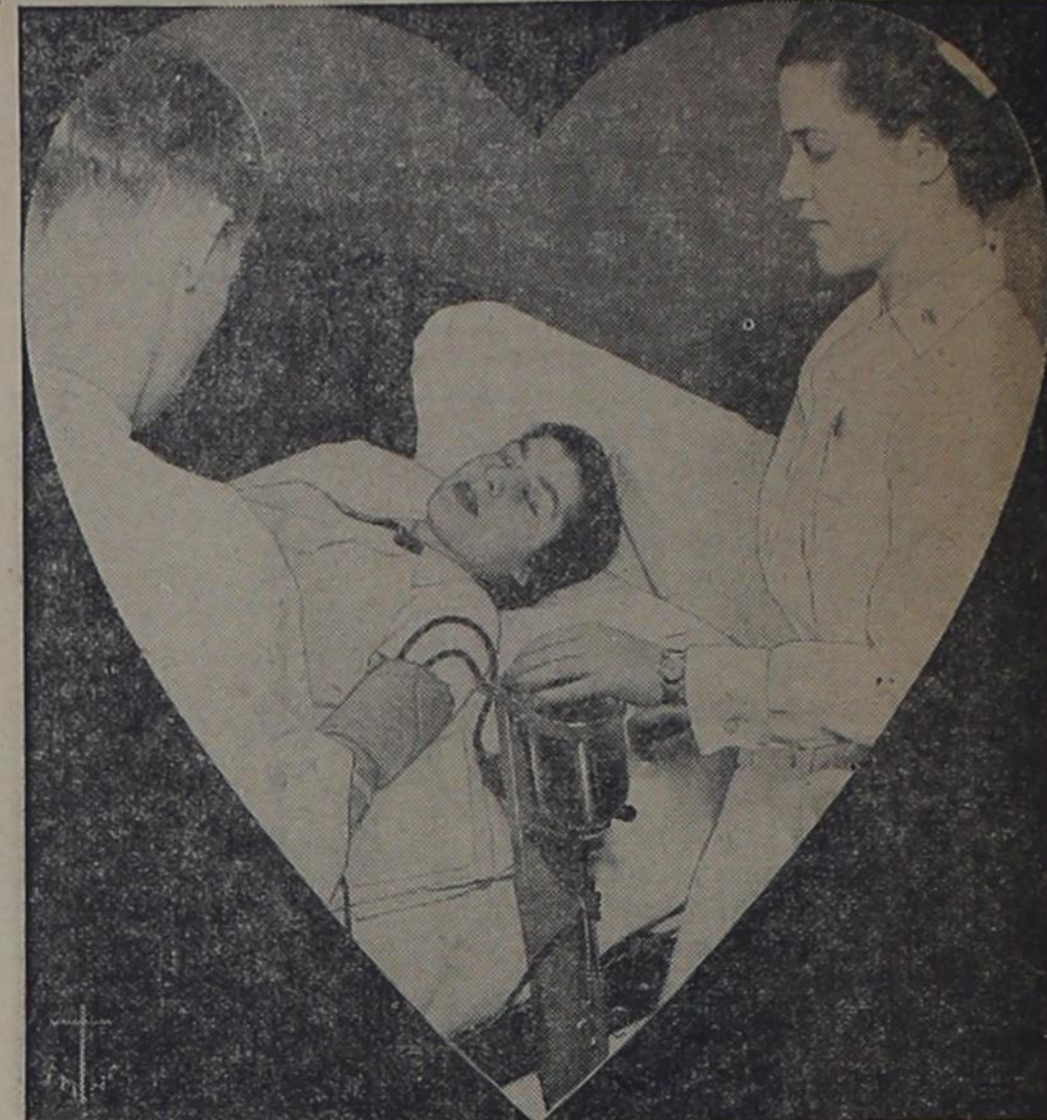

Austin, Texas - Feb. 12 - "Trichinosis is a disease caused by eating raw or partly cooked pork which contains the trichina worm. This disease as a rule causes several deaths and an undetermined amount of illness in Texas each year," states Dr Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Definite symptoms and signs of illness are associated with trichinosis. In the beginning there are abdominal pains, nausea, vomiting and diarrhea, lasting about a week. Migration of the embryos in the blood stream causes fever and severe muscle soreness, especially in the diaphragm and the muscles of the arms and legs. The third stage, during which cysts surround the larvae in the muscles, is the critical one. If infection is severe, there may be edema, or swelling of eyelids and elsewhere, marked loss of weight, weakness and delirium.

The prevention of trichinosis depends primarily upon the thorough cooking of all pork. Most cases follow the indigestion of wieners, sausage or other pork products, eaten in raw or partly cooked form. The hazard of this disease is greater in connection with home butchering, unless safeguards are exercised. Rats should be exterminated because they play an important part in the spread of infection among swine. Prolonged refrigeration, as carried out under the federal supervision, destroys trichina larvae. Thorough cooking and the use of meat which bears the stamp of federal inspection are safeguards against trichinosis.

WANTED — All men at 10:00 A M on Sundays by the Friendly Fellows Class in the Methodist Kitchen.

America In Mirror Dedication Week FEB. 15-22 Opens Lenten Season

On Sunday many Christian people will begin the reverent observance of the Lenten Season by participating in Dedication Week.

The week according to T Otto Nall, Editor of the Christian Advocate "starts us on our Lenten Pilgrimage" to the Christ and the Cross.

Fittingly, this week follows Race Religion Week. February 1st through the 8th, and World Brotherhood Week, February 8th through 15th.

It is most important that the Christian individual work out with God "just what is the Christian attitude toward people of every race for me." The mass of individuals failing to adjust themselves to the Christian attitude can bring about "enslavement of the white race."

Its later than you think. The time has passed when Christian people can say, "Things will work out if the negro stays in his place," or "That isn't our problem we have no negroes here." There are others besides negroes who have colored skins.

Christian must make a choice. The choice as many farsighted people see it, is between "non-discrimination with Christian Brotherhood" or "Discrimination with the successful barbaric advance of Communism."

A Christian can not be narrow. He must be a World Citizen. Dedication Week will signify

LINCOLN'S SIGNATURE COMES TO SHELL CHILDREN

Imagine our reaction here in the office of the Gorman Progress in finding ourselves able to touch his signature on this, his natal day, February 12th, penned by Honest Abe, the twenty-eighth day of March, 1861.

Papers coming from the estate of the late Green Shell of Batesville, Arkansas, grandfather to Melvin Shell, Wilbur Shell, and Elva Shell Kirk, show deeds to land in the Northeast corner of Arkansas purchased from the Federal Government.

The dates read in the 1861st Year of Our Lord and the 85th year of the Independence of the United States.

Our president of the Gettysburg Address and the 13th Amendment wielded his pen or quill with a studious movement that left a beautiful and legible signature, Abraham Lincoln.

We are proud to have touched where the ink flowed from his pen and we are glad we live on the peak of history where we can view the years behind without prejudice and those of the future with a trust that the God of the infinite will help in solving the problems yet to come.

Make regularly weekly deposits in The First National Bank of Gorman and have cash when you need it.

Prayers for World Peace and Christian Brotherhood. Special Offerings will go for World Service.

Washington

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURLISON
Congressman
17th District

President Eisenhower in his first Message to the Congress said in effect, "We are going to fetch our city halls and court-houses away from Washington and send them back to Main Street, U. S. A."

In that simple declaration is expressed a feeling which many of us have shared for a long time. Almost everyone has had some thing to say about the Message. One of the shortest comments came from a Southern newspaper editor who became so wound up on what the President had said that finally he threw up his editorial hands in despair and wrote a one-word column, "Amen Brother."

Although my space here is short, I would not be content to simply add another "Amen" with out qualification. While a few of his points are not entirely agreeable with my own views, his dominant and hopeful theme should bring encouragement to the hearts of all of us who seek relief from the "gimme" attitude and the "something for nothing" philosophy of Federal Government which has taken roots in this Country in recent years.

In short, the President has promised to work for a far-reaching program of decentralization of Government authority and responsibility. He stressed the need and necessity for each political subdivision - community, county, and State - to assume the authority which it has to look after its own needs, and for each citizen to do the same. He left the multiple problems of decentralizing Government squarely in the hands of the American people.

As everyone knows, at least a part of the responsibility for the enormous transfer of Governmental authority from local and State hands into the Federal Government has come about because of the willingness of many to sacrifice the old American principle of self-reliance, initiative, opportunity, and reward, for the sake of security. In the last several years the Congress has gradually yielded much of its power and responsibility to the Executive Branch of the Government in the name of expediency.

Generally, we have been so willing to "let George do it," — and in this case, George is Uncle Sam — that we have reached a high state of dependency on Federal aid, controls and intervention of various kinds and sorts. Cases and instances can be cited on which a fair conclusion can be drawn that our Constitution itself has been endangered.

As self-government in the States, counties, and cities has diminished and moved to Washington, there has been a related decrease in participation by the individual citizen in his Government. We cannot transfer authority and responsibility away from home without in turn losing interest, and ultimately, participation in Governmental affairs.

Now the President promises to soft-pedal the Federal Government's role in many fields - agriculture, labor, business, social welfare, and even foreign aid. The program he outlined in his speech is not the expression of theory alone, but is practical, because it calls for a wholehearted resumption of responsibility by the individual citizen.

Examples of the President's resolution to reduce big Government are found in numerous places in his address to the Congress.

In the sphere of labor relations, for example, he made it plain that "American labor and American business can best resolve their wage problems across the bargaining table. Government should refrain from sitting in with them unless, in extreme cases, the public welfare requires protection."

He exhorted State and local groups and organizations of citizens to "restrain themselves in their demands upon Congress for funds."

Abandoning his earlier concept of "full parity" for farmers, the President said in his speech that "full parity" must be sought "in ways that minimize Governmental interference in the farmer's affairs. . . and encourage farmers to use initiative in meeting changing economic conditions."

In foreign aid programs, the President called for greater initiative on the part of our allies whom we have sought to help. "The needed unity of Western Europe cannot be manufactured from without," he declared.

The President's address reminded us that man throughout the ages has sought security, and upon attaining it, has wound up losing some of his freedoms. The oyster, enclosed in its shell, has the highest degree of security. On the other hand, the eagle exists by his own initiative and self-reliance, foraging for food and building his own nest in the rocks. One has security. The other has not. Yet when our founding fathers sought an appropriate emblem for the young United States, they chose the eagle — not the oyster.

Illness In Gorman

Mrs Eula Lindley and Judge Smith, who have suffered from attacks of the flu, are reported to be in an improved condition. Miss Eusa had scarcely recovered from the flu until she found herself a nurse for her mother and uncle.

Mrs Lewis Andrus is reported to be doing as well as could be expected. She gets about in a wheel chair.

Mrs E A Speck continues to be a patient at Blackwells.

O D Bibby was treated for the flu this week at the hospital.

Mrs Odie Brightwell, who has been in a critical condition due to a blood clot and high blood pressure, is reported to be improved. But the seriousness of her illness requires that she continue to be a bed patient for several weeks.

Mrs George Cooper was listed as a patient on Tuesday.

Mrs A L Jumper and Mrs Nancy Maupin continue to be patients at the hospital.

Other Gorman folks registered on Tuesday at Blackwells were R H Watson and Billy Taylor.

Mrs Ida Hooker continues to be confined to her home and her condition remains unchanged.

MRS. E. E. TODD SPEAKS ON HOLY LAND FOR PSC

Mrs E E Todd was the speaker for the Progressive Study Club on Thursday night last when the club met in the home of Mrs James Jobe.

The speaker chose a discussion of the people, their occupations, their customs with the religious significance of the Holy Lands. She discussed briefly existing political conditions. One club member expressed the opinion, "It was the best program I have heard."

Many bits of interesting information were given at the roll call titled, "Bible Settings."

Mrs Francis Barker was a visitor.

The club will hold a bake sale on Saturday in Jay Grocery beginning at 9 A. H. The proceeds will be used for their project of covering the Fire Hall kitchen and the drain board.

A delicious plate with Valentine appointments was served.

CHEANEY BAPTISTS HAVE SPIRITUAL AWAKENING

The Cheaney Baptists on Sunday last felt a spiritual awakening in their church. Rev Dixie Clement in speaking of the service said, "I knew all the time and now I feel the people are convinced that we don't have to wait until summertime for a revival. We can have one all the time."

There were three conversions, four joining the church and three dedications.

Rev Clements, who is a clerk at the Jay Grocery, preaches on the 2nd and 4th Sunday's for the Cheaney congregation and the 1st and 3rd Sunday's for the Oliver Springs Baptists.

Mr Clement has many friends who wish him well and pray for him success in his dual career.

For over sixty-eight years it has been our privilege to render a service to this community.

By steadily prolonging the life expectancy of polio patients in iron lungs, March of Dimes research has intensified the problem of long-term patient care. Now the March of Dimes seeks to win release for patients condemned to these iron homes. The past two years have seen progress in this direction with many more patients being freed from "lungs."

Petty-Cash!

Some loose change — a few dollar bills — in a little box. In business they call it "petty cash". Every home has its 'petty cash' too . . . maybe in Mother's sugar bowl . . . maybe in Dad's back pocket. And isn't it amazing how low "petty cash" gets by the time next payday rolls around? If you figure on saving "what's left, you may not get very far. Try this better way: Deposit a fixed amount in your savings account FIRST, then spend "what's left". Before you know it, your cash in the bank will be far from "petty"!

helped in molding what little editorial ability I possess. Progress advertisers have been cooperative. Even when I was too lazy to go after ads they would bring them in. Errors have been overlooked with a bit of good-natured kidding. This I appreciate because it is so easy to make an error when you are trying to meet a dead-line. Thanks again folks for your cooperation and if the Lord is willing I hope to celebrate many more anniversaries with you. Seeing Mr and Mrs J E Foster in church Sunday I thought of the many years they had enjoyed together and how appropriate it would be to name them the Sweethearts of the Week for Valentine. A visit from C L Rasberry and W A Morgan, Soil Conservation Service Technicians for the Leon District, with offices in De Leon, visited the Progress Office Monday. They were enthused over the range and pasture land display sponsored by the Texas Electric Service Company which goes on display at the First National Bank this week end. Soil Conservation men are diligent workers, especially when they can see the possibility of helping some farmer stop his land from blowing or washing away. These men spoke of the way our population is increasing and our productive acreage decreasing. Aside from erosion, there is the growth of cities. For instance, on the road to Ft Worth, after passing Benbrook, one use to see cattle grazing - now, all one sees is houses. I also understand that if the lake project goes through near Proctor, thousands of cultivated acreage will be covered with water. This not only affects you and me, it also affects that man working in the top of the tallest sky-scraper. When Vardi Huff asked me to run an announcement of a musical at the Fire Hall I didn't think too much about it. To me he didn't exactly look like the musical type. This is going to sound almost like that old music teacher's ad, "when he sat down at the piano, everybody laughed." Vardi took his seat at the piano, C O Huff tuned his fiddle, Alvin Frazier and Joe Belyeu tickled their guitars and the foot tapping started. I also learned that Burton Henry is a Hill Billy crooner with a mike personality. Buddy McClaren, standing nearby, always goes with the group to help them out. All of this happened Monday night at the Fire Hall. Joining in the fun were the Leon Valley Boys from De Leon, Truman, Boen and his sons, Jackie and Leon, Herman Hardin and Gayle Broughton. These boys are tops with harmony. Don Steele's Ramblin' Texans from Comanche were the cream in the coffee. These four boys, around 17 years of age, should be called Ramblin' Rascals or Heart Throbs. With perfect harmony they play, sing and joke with the ease of professionals. Don Steele, Kent McGlouthlin, Norman Mauldin, and Lloyd Williams form the quartet of music makers. Mr. Broughton who has a music store in De Leon is sponsoring these musicians. Watch for the next meeting. It will be announced in the Progress.

PEANUT BUTTER SANDWICH MIXES

Abraham Lincoln, the 18th President of the United States, was partial to peanuts, says a biographer, Stanley Kimmel, but the Great Emancipator never knew the joy of eating sandwich mixes. This modern day dish is flavored with peanuts. It came to grace the American table because Americans like to vary their dietary forms. Sandwich mixes provide the answer.

In a sandwich mix, if properly made, you relish some of the tastes that make mouths water-deviled ham, for instance, and Boston baked beans. Imagine getting these, blended, with peanut flavor, too. All this and heaven, eh? The kids just go wild about it.

To give this dish an added fill ip, a pickle relish does the trick, giving it a twang that makes the peanut butter base seem like something out of this world. Here's the way it works.

Here are a few peanut butter sandwich mixes.

1/2 cup peanut butter blended with 1/2 cup chili sauce, whole wheat bread.

1/2 cup chopped celery, 1/4 cup diced canned pimiento, 1/2 cup peanut butter, bread, bottes or margarine.

1/2 cup peanut butter, 1 cup grated raw carrot, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, bread, butter or margarine.

1/2 cup peanut butter, 1/2 cup jelly, bread and butter.
Peanut butter, mayonnaise, chopped crisp bacon, sliced tomatoes, lettuce, bread.

1/4 cup deviled ham, 1/4 cup peanut butter, 1/4 cup chopped sweet pickle, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, bread, butter or margarine.

3/4 cup peanut butter, 1/2 cup pickle relish, bread, butter or margarine.

1/2 cup peanut butter, 1/2 cup chopped pitted dates, bread, butter or margarine.

Peanut butter, baked beans, pickle, salt, pepper, milk to moisten, bread, butter or margarine.

Mrs C L Beckle of Vienna, Virginia is visiting her parents, Mr and Mrs A B Rankin, and other relatives.
