As a reader of your newspap- $520 millions. er I always read your column first, and for the most part I have enjoyed your observations and comments. For this reason I felt sort of depressed after read ing your column in the March 11th issue. Somehow it just did not sound like the old Kerne!. the optimism and enthusiasm were missing. In fact, you were downright pessimistic. Can't say as I blame you for feeling disappointed. A prophet is without honor in his own country. If the suggestions you have made from time to time for the betterment of our town and community had been advanced by someone outside (in another town), especially someone with a big reputation, they might have carried more weight and might possibly have been adopted. Now towns make the people just as people make the towns. and Gorman is no different in this respect from many other similar towns. As a whole the people in any town or community adjust to what is and, often regrettably, see little if any reason for changing the situation. 'Often a sudden light affects the sight and causes rapid blinking." Most of our great inventions were scorned when first presented to the public. Now, we have adopted many of them and would dislike being without them. So it is with ideas that are new. In view of the fact that Gorman is almost strictly an agricutural community it would appear to this writer that the introduction of a few factories would be of benefit, especially when crop failures are experienced, as they have been in recent years up to the present year which was better in t his repsect.

Of course, there is the possibil-Continued on Back Page

When Their World Crasned ... RED CROSS HEARD THEIR CALLS

Abide With Me

A sick preacher takes a walk

During the first half of the last century it was not uncommon for the townspeople of Brixham, England, to see a frail middle-aged man stroll thoughtfully along the seashore. The mildmannered man was the town's parson and he had taken his daily walks by the sea for 20 years. That was the way he worked out his

But on a Sunday afternoon in September, 1847, the Reverend Henry Francis Lyte took his walk with a heavy heart. He knew it was the last time he would tread the familiar path. When he was 30 years old he had taken the little church at Brixham because he thought the salt air would help his health. Now he was 54 and his lung trouble had grown worse. Doctors said he would have to go to the warmer climate

Abide with me; fast falls the eventide; The darkness deepens; Lord, with me

When other helpers fail, and comforts flee, Help of the helpless, O abide with me!

Swift to its close ebbs life's little day; Earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass

Change and decay in all around I see;

O Thou who changest not, abide with mes I need Thy presence every passing hour;

At the morning service Lyte had conducted his last sacrament. And now, as he walked beside the sea, he made notes for his farewell message to friends whose joys and sorrows he had shared for nearly a quarter of a century. In Italy he would be among strangers. But the gentle man knew there was one Friend who would go with him . . . "In life, in death" . . . wherever he went. He put his sentiments on paper, gave the paper to a relative who put it away in a trunk. Henry Francis Lyte died in Southern France two months after leaving Brixham. He never reached Italy. In 1861 his poem came to the attention of a London publisher. Composer William H. Monk set it to music . . . thus was born an immortal hymn.

What but Thy grace can foil the tempter's power?

Who like Thyself my guide and stay can be? Thro' cloud and sunshine, O abide with

Hold Thou Thy cross before my closing eyes; Shine through the loom, and point me to the skies;

Heaven's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee-

In life, in death, O Lord, abide with me!

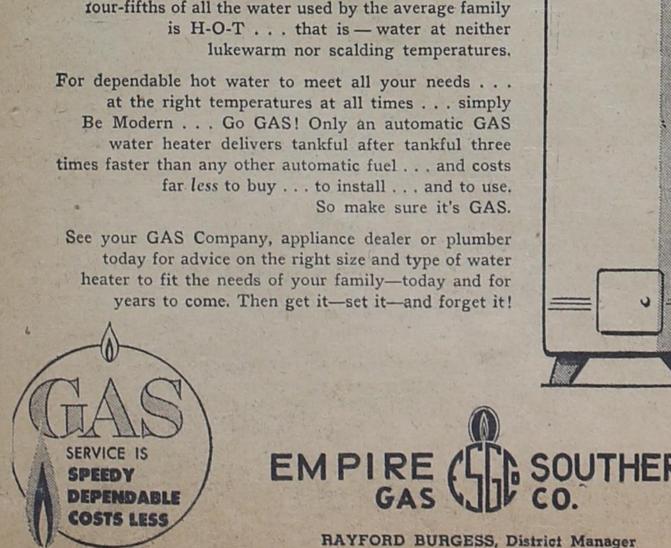

Dollars to Doughnuits

Dollars to doughnuts are pretty steep odds. No steeper, though, than the odds against your financial success unless you start to save some money . . . and keep everlastingly at it! How about reversing those odds? Here's how: Start a savinge account here. Deposit a fixed amount every payday. Don't let anything stop you. You'll then be a "dollars to doughnuts" favorite to win through to the best things of life. As a matter of fact, you can's

SPORTS FLASHES The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

Bill Veeck, baseball's man in motion, is working slowly and quietly on a new and fabulous plan to bring major league ballto the Pacific Coast -- and specifically Los Angeles -- by 1956 "and not later than 1957."

According to a story in the Sporting News, Veeck, it is said, will attempt to raise $4,000,000 from the advance sale of parking space privileges and radio and televison rights for Los Angeles TODAY'S YOUTHS games. This would enable him to HAVE BETTER CHANCE "go into business" in buying out Wrigley's interest in the Pacific Coast League club and satisfy any claims against the territory, and also renovate the park and increase the capacity to 55,000 by the addition of 28,000 seats.

Veeck is reported to have received the assurance of the Amer ican League, possibly through the help of Del Webb of the Yankees, that two more clubs will be taken on, thus making it a tenclub circuit, if the A. L. agrees to place franchises in Los Angeles and San Francisco. The assurance is said to have come to the Sport Shirt, says the Sporting News, despite the fact that the American League was reported to have shelved a proposal, made during SIGNED 13 YEARS AGO the Atlanta meetings, to expand to ten clubs.

. . . if the seller convinces the buyer that he has a good title and no abstract is necessary - then the buyer is entitled to a reduction in the sales price for a sum equal to the abstract's cost. For the abstract is considered by property owners everywhere as being as much a part of the assets of sale as are the land and improvements. Better take the abstract. No real estate transaction is complete without it.

Who wants to be a cow's tail? The last boy in the Swimmin hole knows what he is, and the last boy in Sunday School next Sunday morning is also the same. Well, talk about a shock, you should have heard the yells all around the creek banks, an heard the splashin, divin in:

In a short time, they had to double the capacity of the little Church to hold the people in 0 attendance.

But Uncle Billy, and Aune Sara along with Mrs. English, finally got rid of this preacher and brought on a real preacher, so they said. No recreation on Sunday, septin Domino Parlors, and such things as Uncle Billie liked to do. Young folks of sinful nature should be kept out of churches. No new members wanted. God Bless Me - Uncle Billy, Aunt Sara, Mr. and Mrs. English, Us 1 Four and No More:-

Well, in a few moons, the church needed painting, and the pews were mostly empty as the young folks were made to understand they were not wanted in the church, or anywhere else. The little preacher went on to Greener Pastures as you say. And built | up a congregation where he, and | the young folks were appreciated. If you are powerful enough to keep a young yearling from kicking up his heels and racing around in the early spring, you are big enough to keep young folks from singing and playing 0 and having fun. If you are NOT? Go ahead and have fun with the young folks, and give the kids the kind of life they need.

Now, you may think this Sour Grapes, but it really and truly happened in my Home Town when I was a kid.
