

Martin Draws 99-Year Prison Sentence

Fort Worth, El Paso Men Support T. & P. N. Application

HOME TOWN TALK

By Betty

Again today we urge you to pay close attention to Herald advertisements.

For the first time the housewives of Big Spring are given the benefit of some real competition between grocery stores in regard to prices of items used daily in their kitchens.

Heretofore the grocers of Big Spring have held to the medieval belief advertising cuts profits. They have persisted in clinging to that statement in the face of the fact that grocers in ninety per cent. of all towns in the country of four or five thousand population or more have advertised consistently—and put prices in their ads.

It was one of those "they're all out of step but Johnny" things.

Now these merchants have snapped out of it. They are going to be competitors from now on. If you will appear. Heretofore dealers in groceries could have tumbled one catalogue to customers and prices of the more popular items would not have had to be changed. Indeed, grocers of the city made no bones that practically all of them had entered into an "agreement" not to advertise prices.

With one or two exceptions it appeared whenever one dealer got a little "out of line" in his advertising he immediately was "waited upon" by some of the other dealers and told to cut it out.

Meanwhile Big Spring housewives looked in vain for any material difference in prices between stores.

While dealers in dry goods, ready-to-wear, shoes, hardware, automobiles, tires, radios, furniture, and other merchandise were advertising consistently the grocers, verified the rest of the grocery world was wrong and stayed out.

Every housewife will be glad. The grocers whose advertisements appear in this issue may rest assured a lot more people will know what they have to expect for Saturday than has ever before been the case.

Yes, the Herald makes its money by selling advertising, just as every other newspaper does. The Herald is glad of course, from a purely selfish standpoint. It is glad, too, because this decision by the grocers will make the paper more serviceable to the people of the city and territory.

If advertising were harmful to the grocers we would not favor it, but the whole grocery industry knows such is not true.

Past President Of International At Kiwanis Luncheon

O. Sam Cummings, one of the leading life insurance men of the country and past international president of Kiwanis International, addressed the Big Spring Kiwanis club at its regular meeting of Thursday noon in the Crawford hotel.

The program was in charge of Kiwanian L. Coffey, who is representative of the Kansas City Life Insurance company, of which Mr. Cummings is in charge in the southwest.

Mr. Cummings is one of the most widely informed Kiwanians in the country. His advice is sought by clubs throughout North America and his engagements as an after-dinner speaker run into the hundreds annually.

Ray Cornehan will be in charge of next week's program.

STANTON, Texas, Dec. 12 (AP)—A body of a man killed in an early accident near here, the night of December 1, in which Oscar Lewellen, farmer of Blackwell, also was fatally hurt, was buried yesterday with the victim.

Carelessness Aiding Thieves Says Smitham

Business men here are exceedingly careless of the way in which they leave rear doors and windows open for any would-be burglar, El Paso Mayor V. R. Smitham declared Friday after explaining that police have over their beats the last evening.

Mr. Smitham entered a strong appeal for merchants to bar doors and windows at the rear of their stores and to take any other precautions possible.

The city manager made a personal inspection through downtown alleys after robbery Wednesday night of the J. & W. Fisher department store, which was entered from the rear and from which more than $500 in merchandise was taken.

"I found business men very careless of the way they leave back doors and windows," said Mr. Smitham. "I just wanted to say myself about the matter and to let a good part of the night in the alleys. Many windows in buildings which are not back from the alleys are not sufficiently barred. In these places darkness makes a model place for the thief to work. At one large store we found the back door secured so weakly that I could have run through it easily."

"It makes no difference how many policemen you have, they cannot be at both ends of their beats at the same time. I certainly hope merchants will put certain substantial bars over rear windows and doors."

Service Not Satisfactory I.C.C. Is Told

LUBBOCK, Texas, Dec. 12 (AP)—Representatives of Fort Worth and El Paso, which would not be on the proposed Texas & Pacific Northern Railroad, but which claim they would share in its benefits, testified today.

Haskell C. Davis, examiner for the interstate commerce commission is conducting the hearing on the application of the T.&P.N. proposed subsidiary of the Texas & Pacific, to build from Big Spring to Amarillo, Lubbock and Vega. The hearing started Monday and promised to run into next week.

Both Fort Worth and El Paso maintain they would benefit as a result of construction of the road through lower rates, shorter mileage, a direct outlet to them and faster service. Representatives of Dallas already had testified in support of the project.

"We are a patient and long suffering people," Ed P. Byars, manager of the traffic department of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, stated. "But we are tired of seeing the Santa Fe advertise two-day service from St. Louis into Fort Worth territory and doing nothing to give us like service."

Byars pointed out that neither the Santa Fe, nor the Rock Island had the pickup and store door delivery service which the T.&P.N. would inaugurate.

Comparison "The territory to be served by the T.&P.N. does not have half as many railroads as west Oklahoma—a similar section," the witness testified.

Byars said he had no "kick" on the speed in shipments given by the Fort Worth & Denver; to points in this section which he reached. "E. B. Tamm, traffic manager of the chamber of commerce at El Paso, told of the reciprocal advantages to El Paso and this territory in the event of building the new road."

A. H. Priest of Fort Worth, representative of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association of Texas and the Fort Worth Livestock Traffic Association, expressed his enthusiastic approval of the project.

Priest said the restrictions which the Santa Fe imposed in the matter of joint through rates and routes caused Fort Worth to be discriminated against in livestock shipments from this territory, and Kansas City and Wichita, Kan., to be favored. The Santa Fe restricts the routing to give it the longest possible haul, the witness stated.

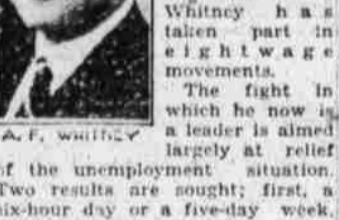

Other roads are liberal in their joint through rates and routings he added.

Fort Worth has been getting only 10 per cent of the cattle shipments from this territory while Kansas City has received 55 per cent and Wichita, Kan., 12 per cent, the witness said, in the territory south of this, served principally by the T.&P. and the Southern Pacific. Fort Worth has been getting 60 per cent, he stated.

D. P. Harris of the Acme Brick Company at Fort Worth and Rodly Harwell, Vega grain dealer, were other witnesses today.

Veteran Leads In Campaign For Six-Hour Day

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12 (AP)—A veteran of rail disputes is leading thousands of railroad workers in a fight for a six-hour working day. He is A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen with headquarters here.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen with headquarters here.

Since obtaining a job as freight broker at 16, Whitney has taken part in eight wage movements. The fight in which he now is a leader is aimed largely at relief of the unemployment situation.

Two results are sought: first, a six-hour day or a five-day week, and second the stabilization of rail employment.

Whitney was born in 1873 at Cedar Falls, Iowa. To achieve his childhood ambition of becoming a railroad worker he started as a news agent when 15.

In 1889 Whitney became a brakeman for the Illinois Central. After working for three railroads he was appointed freight conductor for the Chicago and Northwestern. In 1896 he became a member of the Eagle Grove, Iowa, chapter of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and since has been leading rail laborers in their long series of fights for better conditions.

Whitney served as trustee and vice-president of the national Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen before being elected president in 1928. That year he took a leading part in the western wage movement sponsored by conductors and trainmen.

In the last two years Whitney has made more than 200 speeches in United States and Canada, stressing the necessity for a shorter working day as the only cure for the unemployment situation which he says has resulted largely from introductions of automatic machinery.

American Airways Engineers Here; Lights Improved

Three members of the engineering staff of American Airways Inc., of which Southern Air Fast Express is a subsidiary, were here Friday inspecting lighting facilities at Big Spring airport.

They planned some rearrangement of border and flood lights here. New cables for the system have been installed by the Texas Electric Service Company and connections are to be made presently.

A new platform for transformers is expected, will stop trespassing by stock, which in the past have imperiled the lives of pilots and passengers.

Vealmoor And Bisco People At Road Meet

A large crowd of residents of Bisco and Vealmoor communities heard Big Spring citizens Thursday night speak on the county road bond issue to be voted on December 23. The meeting was held at Bisco school, Harvey Rix, Mrs. Alice Phillips, Tom Ashley, Lester White, Sam Lamar and others attended the meeting from Big Spring. A picture show was given at the conclusion.

Rix, Lamar and White spoke in favor of the bond issue. Questions were asked by residents of the two communities regarding costs and locations of roads included in the proposed measure. No sentiment against the passing of the bond issue was expressed. The meeting was held at the Bisco school.

"I told the crowd the Big Spring delegation had 'no axe to grind,' and it was not the purpose of the committee to tell anyone how to vote."

"We are here," he declared, "to lay the facts before you and explain the proposition as well as possible. We want you to weigh the evidence and vote your sentiments."

Rix explained that state and federal aid amounts to two dollars for each one contributed by the county. He also went into detail, explaining the history of Highway No. 9, from its designation as a highway to the present time.

He declared he was in favor of the bond issue "because we must build roads and it is folly wasting time chewing the rag about it." He cited Lubbock and Mitchell county as examples of waiting years to construct highways.

White told the crowd rough roads were hard on cars, tires and expensive in other ways. He declared he was in favor of the road, but added, "I'm not trying to tell anyone how to vote. This is a free country."

Lamar declared he was in favor of the bond issue, because it would improve business conditions in rural and urban sections.

"I am not," he declared, "depending upon the county. I like you farmers and a few years ago knew every family in Howard county. I've been on every section of land in the county."

"The bond issue is up to you, it will raise my taxes, but it will be worth it. But if you vote against it, I will still think as much of you."

No one from either of the communities spoke for or against the proposed bond issue.

Tonight's deliberations of Big Spring persons will go into rural sections sponsoring the bond issue. One party will go to Vincent, the other to Gayhill.

Jury Reaches Verdict After Brief Session

A jury in district court today required only 20 minutes to assess a 99-year sentence against Jim Martin, 35, teamster, for the murder of LaVelle Gipson, 22, American Maricabo oil well pump.

The case went to the jury at 2 p. m. and the verdict was returned at 2:20.

Three ballots were taken by the jury. The first established his guilt. The first ballot taken as to punishment stood 10 for 99 years and two for the death penalty. On the second ballot the vote was unanimous for the 99 year term.

Defense counsel did not announce whether an appeal would be made. Martin, who has been in jail since Gipson was fatally wounded the afternoon of Oct. 20, was taken from the courtroom and another trial started. He was emotionless as the verdict was read after Judge Fritz R. Smith had warned against any demonstration.

The pretty 19-year old widow, Mrs. Connie Gipson of Breckenridge, her eight months old baby daughter, Dolores, Gipson's father and mother and step father, sat in the courtroom this morning and heard state attorneys ask the jury to send Martin to the electric chair for Gipson's murder.

The young mother of Gipson's child, and his mother and father sobbed audibly as James Little, county attorney, told the jury, "Young Gipson was loving life, he had just started living, when he was shot down."

A number of other relatives of Gipson were attended the trial. The red-haired baby slept through the arguments this morning. District Attorney George Mahon closed for the state. He spoke thirty minutes this afternoon, bringing the trial to a close. Judge J. B. Littler and C. P. Rogers represented the defendant. Clyde E. Thomas was special prosecutor in the case.

The defense closed its case Thursday afternoon after a number of character witnesses had been placed upon the stand. Martin took the stand in his own defense, testifying he shot in self defense. He declared Gipson attempted to hit him with a wrench after he (Martin) had "teased him about being a pumper and pulling tubing."

He also testified that Gipson told him the afternoon of the fatal shooting, "I've got you where I want you and I'm going to beat your head off."

Rebuttal testimony offered by the state declared no wrench was found near the scene of the shooting and that burned marks on both arms near the wrist indicated Gipson had been shot when his arms were folded.

On cross examination Martin declared he was not indicted in Oklahoma for shooting a man, causing a "ball wound." He also declared he was not indicted for "pulling a man off a lease with a runaway horse" or "hitting a man with a hatchet."

Judge Fritz R. Smith charged the jury not to consider the latter evidence except in a suspended sentence agreement.

Miss Brandon, Formerly of Midland, Cross - Examined In Murder Trial of Shepard

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 12 (AP)—Miss Grace Brandon, star witness for the government in the trial of Major Charles A. Shepard for the alleged poison murder of his wife, today underwent a grilling by the defense as to her love affair with the elderly army medical officer.

Harry S. Class, Denver attorney, led off with a barrage of questions concerning Shepard's first meetings with the girl, a San Antonio stenographer, for the love of which she left her home in Midland.

Miss Grace Brandon, on the witness stand in Kansas City in connection with the sensational Shepard case, lived, according to the Midland Reporter-Telegram, in Midland for many years before she left there in 1921 for San Antonio to take a business course.

"She is now the principal witness for the prosecution in the Shepard murder case. Major Shepard is accused of murdering his wife with poison in order to be free to give his attentions to Miss Brandon."

She is described by those who knew her in Midland as "quiet and reserved, and somewhat ambitious." Ranch life offered few advantages so she left Midland for San Antonio, a business course and in a few short years the front pages of almost every newspaper in the country.

When the major is charged with poisoning his wife at Fort Riley, Kas., in June, 1929. Asked if Shepard had not always conducted himself as a gentleman, the girl replied: "Yes, he was a perfect gentleman."

Referring to her relations with Shepard while he was stationed for several months at San Antonio prior to his wife's death, Class asked if the major ever had attempted caresses.

"No," was the answer. Miss Brandon was attired in a black dress and black hat, in contrast to the green ensemble she wore on the stand yesterday. She seemed composed, but was rather a hesitant witness, insisting that Class repeat various questions before an answer was given.

Pendleton Held In Odessa Jail

ODESSA, Texas, Dec. 12 (AP)—Wanted by authorities in Pampa, Texas, Purrell, Okla., and other cities of the southwest, Ace Pendleton, with a long criminal record in three states and much sought as an alleged bank robber, was held in jail here today after his identification had been established by fingerprint records. He was arrested Monday night.

Sheriff E. S. Graves of Gray county notified officers here last night that Pendleton was wanted there on a warrant charging robbery of the First National Bank of Pampa on March 31, 1927, when about $22,000 was taken. The man was identified as a participant in the robbery when viewed by L. R. Haggard, bank customer, at Fort Worth, two years ago, where Pendleton was held in jail before being taken to Eldorado, Ark. He escaped from jail at Eldorado.

Sulphur Springs Woman Freed On $5,000 Bond

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Texas, Dec. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Lydia Robinson, 40, was under $5,000 bond today on a charge of murder filed yesterday after Dr. R. M. Payne, 55, dentist, was shot to death as he entered his office.

Mrs. Robinson was Dr. Payne's secretary and assistant for a number of years and officers said they had had trouble previously. Dr. Payne was a native of Hopkins county and Mrs. Robinson also had resided here all her life.

Dr. Payne was struck by a charge from a shot gun, Mrs. Robinson walked across the street to the sheriff's office where she surrendered. She refused to make a statement other than to tell officers: "I killed a man."

Inspector Explains Method of Obtaining Health Certificates

Explanation of differences in methods of obtaining health certificates for handlers of butter and of milk sold in the city was made Friday by Jimmy Williams, city inspector.

Those handling butters only may go to their family physicians for the examination and receive the required certificate in that way. Those handling milk may also go to the family physician but his statement must be accompanied by a report from a laboratory showing that a test has disclosed the person is not a carrier of typhoid or of any other disease that may be spread through milk, said Williams.

The laboratory test is not required of those handling butter only.

OKLAHOMA BANK ROBBED

WHEATLAND, Okla., Dec. 12 (AP)—The First National Bank here was robbed of between $2,000 and $2,500 early this afternoon by four well dressed men who locked Miss Flossie Stewart, assistant cashier, in the vault and escaped.

Recipes For 'Left-Over' Turkey

15 Suggestions By Winners Of Week's Contest Include Interesting, Varied Uses

Mrs. D. E. Bishop, Mrs. D. W. Jones Win Prizes

IN this bountiful season when turkey is the choicest meat one can serve, there is the much mooted question of left-overs.

"How can I serve the turkey today?" you ask in exasperation. For a small family the question is twice as important, for the turkey lasts twice as long.

Plan your left-over campaign before you start. Among the delectable things that may be made of a left over turkey are the following: turkey fricassee, stuffed turkey legs, pressed turkey, turkey patties, turkey salad, turkey and asparagus, turkey gumbo, hot creamed turkey, turkey and olive salad, turkey sandwiches, turkey cream soup, turkey short cake, and the final favorite, turkey hash.

Never say again that you don't know what to do with the left-over turkey! Surely that list will keep you busy through many seasons of left-over turkeys.

Our first prize for the above suggestions goes to Mrs. D. E. Bishop. It is a six month's subscription to the Big Spring Daily Herald. Mrs. David Waldo Jones of Monahan wins the second prize of a three month's subscription.

Following are some of the recipes submitted:

Mrs. D. E. Crouser
1208 Main Street
TURKEY HASH

Cut bits of turkey into medium small pieces. Use turkey stock for moistening. Make it soupy. Dash of sage, paprika and other seasonings. Cut three or four stems of celery the same size as the turkey bits. All one half teaspoon of celery seed. Onion may be used if preferred. Use a cup full of cold dressing for a thickening. Serve hot.

TURKEY FRICASSEE

Cut bits of turkey very finely and moisten with stock. Cut six hard boiled eggs into small pieces and add three or four stems of celery and a dash of pepper. Add paprika. Garnish with slices of hard boiled eggs and celery stems. Serve very hot on dry hot toast.

PREPARED TURKEY

Cut bits of turkey very finely or run through meat chopper. Use stock for moistening and add two cups of nuts, cut finely. Add celery seed and put in jelly mold. Over night, on ice. Serve cold with a hot sweet pickle, nuts, parsley and olives as garnish.

TURKEY PATTIES

Run turkey left-overs through meat chopper and add two beaten eggs, a tablespoon of meal, two tablespoons flour. Roll and dip in whites of two eggs. Then dip into cracker crumbs. Fry brown. Serve hot with cranberry sauce.

TURKEY SALAD

Cut into medium large pieces. Dry and chop together the following: 1 cup nuts, 1 small glass pimientos, three or four pieces of dry celery, 1 small carrot, 1 apple, 1 cup mixed cabbage, raw, use any preferred salad dressing sufficient to moisten. Use celery stalks and parsley with olives and crackers as a garnish. Serve cold.

TURKEY AND ASPARAGUS

Use one can of asparagus. On a flat deep baking dish, glass preferred, lay smoothly. Then slice and place on this odd pieces of turkey. Make one layer and season. Beat two eggs, mix cracker crumbs and spread over the whole. Bake quickly. After its nicely browned pour a good thick turkey gravy over the whole. Serve on toast or rice bread.

TURKEY GUMBO

Run the turkey through the meat chopper and add four hard boiled eggs cut into small pieces. Add one bell pepper cut very finely, two pieces of celery, black pepper, paprika and serve hot with biscuit.

HOT CREAMED TURKEY

Run through the meat chopper and make a good rich cream gravy.

FRESH
as piping hot pop-overs...

THAT'S Hills Bros Coffee

It is air that destroys the flavor of coffee. And even air-tight tins will not keep coffee fresh. That's why Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum tins as fast as it comes from the roasters. By this method, air is completely removed from the can and kept out.

The bacon should be removed before serving and the stitches taken out. The bacon may be cut up finely and added to the tomato sauce.

TURKEY SANDWICHES
1 cup of cold turkey, chopped fine
1-3 cup mayonnaise dressing
1-3 cup ripe olives, chopped fine
1-3 cup grated cheese (Swiss or Eastern)
Few drops onion juice
1-4 cup celery heart, chopped fine
Salt and pepper to taste
2 hard cooked eggs (chopped fine)
Mix together into a paste and spread between slices of buttered whole wheat bread. The same mixture may be packed in small moulds and served on lettuce leaves or shredded lettuce as a salad.

TURKEY AND PEAS
Use turkey mediumly diced. Add one can of small English peas. Lay the turkey pieces on the bottom of a glass baking dish. Drain and put dry peas over them. Then add a layer of cracker crumbs and pour turkey sauce and gravy over the whole. Brown and serve while hot.

TURKEY CREAM SOUP
Cut the meat from the bones and chop fine; boil the bones in enough water to cover, until boiled down to about 1-2 cups of broth, strain and season. Put three tablespoons of butter and three of flour together into a smooth paste; stir into the broth and when well blended add one cup of cream and one half cup of milk, when slightly thickened add the minced turkey, serve very hot, with three of four tiny cubes of toasted bread on top on each bowl of soup.

TURKEY SHORT CAKE
Make a rich biscuit dough and cut biscuits the size of a teaspoon. (Do not roll dough out any thinner than 1/2 inch). When baked split open and put a filling in each of following:
2 cups minced turkey
Few drops onion juice
2 hard cooked eggs
1/2 cup cream

1-2 cup milk
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
Make a cream sauce of milk, cream, butter and flour, add onion juice and minced turkey and finely chopped egg whites. Put the top of the biscuit back and pour a tablespoon full of cream sauce on top and garnish with yolk of egg pressed through a course sieve.

Creamed turkey baked in cups made of sweet green peppers is delicious.
Creamed turkey may also be baked in small ramikins and served with cream sauce combined with grated cheese or tomato sauce.

Muffin rings lined with pie crust and filled with cream chicken or turkey and served with mushroom sauce or cream sauce are delicious.
Turkey sandwiches may be dipped in egg and milk (just about a tablespoon of milk or cream added to each egg and beaten until thoroughly blended) and fried until brown (in butter).

Turkey roll is easy to make and delicious.
Roll out biscuit dough and spread with generous layer of creamed turkey and roll up like a jelly roll and bake until brown. Serve with a rich gravy or cream sauce.

EDISONS AND FORDS VISIT IN PITTSBURGH

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison made a brief stop in Pittsburgh, Pa., to visit relatives of Mrs. Edison while en route to Detroit from the Edison home in West Orange, N. J. Here they are shown, with Mrs. Edison looking over the automobile magnate's shoulder, as they left their private railroad car.

MISS BRANDON—

sworn in the affirmative. "He didn't discuss it fully," she replied.

"After his return to Fort Riley, did he not write you that his wife was in frail health?"

"No."

The first letters from Shepard, she testified, related to his wife's "wild parties and bills she had run up while he was away."

Miss Brandon lost her composure during the reading of a letter written by her to Shepard in Denver while she was visiting at the home of her parents near Midland, Texas, October 13, 1929, following shortly after she had been divorced, supported by her arms. A bailiff brought her in a light wrap. She had entered the courtroom coatless.

"Years make no difference if the spirit is young," she wrote, thanking him for several gifts and urging him to "write every single day."

She also told of hoping to meet him in Fort Worth under his plan to leave Denver for a visit with her in Texas.

Dialos

The subject of dialos came up in a previous letter made public in defense attorneys. In this missive written at her parents' home, she said: "My sister's baby, aged 11 months, is rather pretty and robust looking. He is a nuisance though like all babies—he gets into everything and pushes everything off of the dressing table, pulled all of my hand lotion and face powder in the bath tub this morning. My sister got her divorce the 10th of September."

Miss Brandon testified she received an engagement ring in October, 1929, a motor car from Shepard November 22, 1929, and flowers on Sundays and holidays from November, 1929, to March, 1930.

A quarrel and reconciliation growing out of attentions paid Miss Brandon by another man were brought into the testimony Class asked if the man was "Major Lyle C. White."

"Yes," she replied.

Thanks For Check

In a letter to Shepard addressed to a San Antonio hotel and dated October 30, 1929, she thanked him for a check and begged forgiveness.

"Dear Charles I received your letter a short time ago, and also the check you sent me," the letter said.

"I couldn't even say goodbye x x I love you, Charles, dear, and I shall always love you. If you love me, dear, please do not leave town I am terribly sorry."

"I am afraid you do not make allowance for the impulsiveness of youth. Please forgive me."

"I believe if you were my own age, you would understand my viewpoint."

"Did you receive a reply?" Class asked.

"No."

She said Major Shepard had questioned her regarding her vacation plans. She had said she was going home, but could not afford it. Major Shepard, she said, then offered to send the check for transportation.

The check introduced in evidence was for $50.

"Did you quarrel?" Class asked.

"It sounds like it," she replied in haughty tone.

"I am asking the questions. Class shut back.

"How long after this letter was it until you saw the major?"

"I believe it was the next afternoon."

"Did you make up?"</
